Potential Underway
At Wolfcamp Opener
In Central Andrews

The Texas Company was taking potential test Wednesday at No. 1-H Parker, flowing discovery from the Wolfcamp in Central Andrews County, one and three-quarter miles northwest of the town of Andrews.

Operator perforated five and one-half-inch casing from 8,596 to 8,608 and 8,623 to 8,636 feet. After acidizing with 300 gallons, operator swabbed one hour and the well kicked off and flowed 165 barrels of load oil in two hours and 45 minutes then made 150 barrels of new oil in three hours and 15 minutes through a 25/64-inch choke. Tubing pressure was 330 pounds and gas-oil ratio was 597-1.

Operator put the important discovery on potential test following the above gauge.

Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 15, block A-46, pal survey.

Delaware Opener
Is In Prospect At SW Winkler Wildcat

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-39652 U-Tex, wildcat in Southwest Winkler County, is drilling below 5,105 feet in Delaware sand and after a drillstem test of that section from 5,099 to 5,105 feet.

Tool was open one hour. No water blanket was used. Gas surfaced in one and one-half minutes and oil in 30 minutes. The project flowed four barrels of new oil in 30 minutes through a two percent basic sediment. Gas-oil ratio was 105-1.

Recovery was 5,050 feet of oil and 40 feet of salt water. Flowing pressure was 1,980 feet and 15-minute shut-in pressure was 1,995 feet.

Location is nine miles west of Wink and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block 20, University survey.

Discovery In Sutton
Misses Eilenburger; Finds Hickory Sand

Ashland Oil & Refining Company and Felmont Oil Corporation flowing discovery from the Strawn-Pennsylvanian lime from the zone at 4,977-5,026 feet has reached 3-792 feet in a sand thought to be the Hickory-Cambrian and is making more hole.

Testative top of the Hickory sand has been picked at 5,740 feet. Derrick floor elevation is 2,290 feet.

The No. 1 Wallace found no Eilenburger. It went from the basal Pennsylvanian into the Hickory sand.

No Recent Tests

It has not tested since it flowed at the rate of 40 barrels per hour from the zone at 4,977-5,026 feet. Interested observers think it has oil pay down to approximately 5,050 feet. Those sources think that the project would flow no water between 5,060 feet and 5,055 feet.

It is expected that the wildcat will shortly run casing and start production tests on the Strawn pay.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 67, block 14, T&W&O survey. It is 17 miles southeast of Sonora.

Buffalo Completes
Delaware Discovery
In NE Reeves Area

Buffalo Oil Company No. 1 Herman Lindley has been completed as a small pumping discovery from the Delaware sand in Northeast Reeves County.

Operator reported a daily potential of 55.24 barrels of 34.1-gravity oil plus 62 per cent water.

Production is from perforations at 3,406-3,410 and 3,422-3,432 feet. Pay was fractured with 3,000 gallons.

Location for the new field opener is 330 feet from south and west lines of section 8, block 56, T-3, T&P survey and eight miles southeast of the town of Oria.

NW Midland Tester Enters Eilenburger

United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Company No. 1 M. F. (Forrest) King, Northwest Midland County wildcat, four miles northwest of the city of Midland entered the Eilenburger at 13,394 feet according to a pick from samples.

The project has an elevation of 2,868 feet. It is now making hole below 13,428 feet in Eilenburger dolomite.

That formation has not yielded any shows of oil or gas so far.

This wildcat has found slight

Ike Admits Truce Outlook Cloudy

Tax Writers
Okay Excess
Profits Levy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday approved President Eisenhower's proposal for a six-month extension of the excess profits tax.

Committee members reported the vote was 16 to 9. It was a smashing triumph for the Administration, after weeks of delay and often bitter maneuvering over the bill.

The committee approved a straight six-month extension, to next January 1, killing all efforts to amend or soften the tax.

Foes of the extension made a last ditch try to head off the Administration by attempting to tack on a cut in personal income taxes to take effect October 1.

But this maneuver also was voted down in the committee, as Administration forces held complete sway.

House GOP leaders planned to bring the bill to the floor either Friday, Saturday or next Monday.

Committee members said they did not recall the party line division over the vote.

President Eisenhower, in a radio appeal to the nation May 19, urged that the tax be continued for six months only, to January 1, to raise an estimated $800,000,000 in revenue.

Panel Members Yield

The tax expired June 30, but it can be renewed retroactively.

At the outset, the Ways and Means Committee, led by Chairman Daniel Reed (R-NY) seemed little impressed. Reed and other members said the tax harshly discriminated against some firms and actually cost more revenue than it produced, by stifling business growth.

When some committee members began to yield, Reed blocked any committee action by calling off all sessions of his tax-writing group.

House GOP leaders then set the stage for the drastic step of bypassing the tax committee and forcing House floor action on the bill via the Rules Committee.

A few minutes before a scheduled close, party-splitting battle over this procedure, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) and others shifted their stand and bowed to the Administration's request.

Reed, refusing to surrender an inch, still would not call a committee meeting specifically to act on the profits tax. But he did yield half an inch—he convened his committee Wednesday with two other bills on the agenda. This provided the opportunity for Simpson and others to move to take up the profits tax.

Senator Taft Has Surgery

NEW YORK—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft Wednesday underwent an exploratory operation involving the abdominal wall.

A New York hospital bulletin said: "He stood the operation well and his condition is good."

The hospital said physicians from Cincinnati and Washington were present at the operation upon the Ohio Republican.

Taft, the Senate majority leader, had been treated previously in hospitals at Cincinnati and Washington.

Taft gave up the active floor leadership of the Senate several weeks ago. Senator Knowland (R-Calif) took over the job from him.

The senator has been suffering from a serious hip ailment. He has been using crutches.

He is expected to remain in the hospital two weeks.

Wall Street
Plans To Get County's Ear

Plans for widening West Wall Street appeared to be picking up steam Wednesday as County Judge Clifford C. Keith announced the project will be discussed Monday at the regular meeting of the Midland County commissioners.

Judge Keith said the project had been placed on the agenda after he and County Commissioner Earl Ray conferred Tuesday afternoon with City Manager W. H. Oswalt.

Oswalt disclosed Tuesday that he had ordered a survey of property owners along Wall Street to determine which right-of-way will be dedicated and which must be purchased.

Less than one acre of right-of-way is needed for the project, on which the State Highway Department is ready to begin work.

Plans for the project call for the widening of the U. S. Highway 80 route from Andrews Highway to the intersection with West North Front Street.

Judge Keith indicated the county commissioners will discuss the financing of the acquisition of the needed right-of-way from $350,000 in highway bonds sold last month.

The bonds were voted principally for the purchase of right-of-way needed for the development of U. S. Highway 80 into a divided four-lane highway east of Midland to the Martin County line.

But, Judge Keith said, it is hoped there will be funds left for use on West Wall Street, if the commissioners approved such an expenditure.

Rules Panel Votes To Ask
More Election Probe Funds

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Rules Committee Wednesday voted to ask the Senate for an additional $160,000 to carry on an investigation of New Mexico's senatorial election last year.

Chairman Barrett (R-Wyo) of an Election subcommittee told reporters the money, if granted by the Senate, should finance the investigation until next year.

Otherwise, he said, the subcommittee will run out of money by September.

The Rules Committee vote was taken at a closed meeting. Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) said the vote was five to three. He did not say how the various members voted.

Barrett said it is planned to carry the city tentatively plans on selling during the 1953-54 year, $850,000 in water and sewer bonds, $250,000 in street improvement bonds, $200,000 in park bonds and $70,000 in fire station bonds.

Immediately involved is a new street program, which includes 60 blocks of streets already requested.

The city's share of this program can be financed by borrowing from other funds but this can be done only with the assurance that later sale of bonds can provide funds for repaying these "loans."

Thus the recommendations of the finance commission will determine whether the new street-paving project.

South Korea Asks Three Days Notice
As Reds Announce 'Ready' For Truce

SEOUL—(AP)—The Communists said Wednesday they are ready to negotiate the final details of a Korean armistice even though South Korea objects violently.

A letter from the Red high command replying to Gen. Mark Clark's June 26 proposal to sign an armistice now was delivered by liaison officers in a five-minute meeting at Panmunjom.

It laid down what appeared to be some tough conditions for Communist acceptance of a truce negotiated in two years of hard bargaining. But observers said the Reds might waive some of these when the talks resume.

There was no indication, however, that stubborn President Syngman Rhee of South Korea would accept a truce which fails to guarantee unification of his war-battered nation.

South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai told newsmen that South Korea wants three days notice before any armistice is signed. He did not elaborate.

South Korea's absentee delegate to the UN Command truce team, Maj. Gen. Ohn Duk Shin, said the signing of an armistice without the agreement of South Korea would be "an irreparable historical blunder on the part of America."

Ohn said Rhee was in full agreement with his statement.

The Reds said the UN Command must: (1) "Take effective steps" to assure South Korean compliance with armistice terms;

(2) Recover 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean war prisoners set free or orders of President Rhee last month; and

(3) "Shoulder the absolute responsibility" for seeing that none of the 8,000 anti-Red prisoners remaining in Allied stockades escape.

The Communist letter said, "Our side agrees that the delegations of both sides meet at an appointed time to discuss the question of implementation of the armistice agreement and the various preparations prior to the signing of the armistice agreement."

"The date for the meeting will be discussed and decided by the senior delegates of both sides through liaison officers."

Discord With Korea's Rhee
Brings Crisis

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday no man can foretell exactly how efforts to obtain an armistice in Korea are going to come out.

In carefully restrained comment, Eisenhower said there is a misunderstanding between the United Nations and South Korean President Syngman Rhee. He described that situation as unfortunate since the hearts of both South Korea and the United Nations are in the same fight.

Reds Relent
As Workers
Strike Again

BERLIN—(AP)—Thousands of resentful East Berlin industrial workers staged this sidown strikes Wednesday. The Russians, apparently fearful of another bloody revolt, met one of the workers' demands by announcing restoration of intracity travel.

The workers were demanding also that hundreds of their comrades arrested in the anti-Communist rebellion of June 17 be released from jail. The workers staged the sidown strikes in Soviet-operated plants and the "people's owned" mills and factories.

Radio Berlin said the elevated and subway trains would run on normal schedules Thursday and all persons would be permitted to cross the border in either direction without special passes. This removed the last restriction placed on the East Sector of the divided city by the Red Army under martial law imposed after the June 17 rioting.

Earlier reports of the situations touched off speculation that a new workers' march on the government would materialize, much in the manner of the June 17 uprising which shook the Red world and brought Soviet armored legions pouring into East Berlin.

Her appointment had been protested on the ground her husband had been active in behalf of Patrick J. Hurley, defeated Republican candidate for the Senate.

The Senate probe stems from charges of voting irregularities filed by Republican candidate Patrick J. Hurley. Incumbent Senator Chavez (D-NM) was declared the winner in the contest by more than 5,000 votes.

Thousands of South Koreans paraded through the streets of Seoul crying for the UN Command to fight on until Korea is unified.

President Eisenhower's truce envoy, Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, met with Rhee again Wednesday in an effort to win his support of a truce. He declined comment after the secret conference, but indicated he would meet with the South Korean President again.

The meeting Wednesday was the tenth session in 13 days since Robertson flew here from Washington. The talks reportedly are stalled on Rhee's insistence that the U. S. agree to resume the war unless a post-armistice political conference progresses toward unification of Korea within 90 days.

Actor John Agar Joins AA's, Starts Down Comeback Trail

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—"I am not an alcoholic. I am not a drunkard. I never have been."
 These were blunt words from John Agar, who is trying earnestly to rebuild his personal life and movie career. Both suffered severe setbacks because of his arrests on drunk driving charges. Having served time for his offenses, he says he is determined to stay out of future trouble.
 "I made a couple of mistakes," he admitted. "I've paid for them. Now I want to forget them."
 He spoke frankly about his past problems and future hopes. Does he drink now?
 "No," he replied. "And I don't miss it at all." He attends regular meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous, in accordance with court order.
 Agar indicated that he never was more than a social drinker, although he has gone overboard on some well-publicized occasions. He said that some people got the idea he was a drunkard because of his eyes. They are perennially bloodshot.
 Started in Army
 "It's a condition that started when I was in the Army," he explained. "I've had 160 different allergy tests to find out what causes it. Nobody has been able to determine."

 "Possibly it is caused by dust. When I first got into the Army, I was a physical instructor up in Washington and spent hours on big, dusty fields. Then I got into the engineers and went to bulldozer school. After a day of training, my face would be caked with dust."
 Agar is a Johnny-come-lately to the acting profession. Son of a meat packer, he expected to enter his father's business. That was before the war and before his ill-fated marriage to Shirley Temple. Her boss, David Selznick, decided Agar could be an actor and gave him a start in the movies.
 Does he ever regret having become an actor?
 "Not for a minute."
 But he might have avoided a lot of trouble if he hadn't, I suggested.

"I also would have missed a lot of pleasure. What happened to me could have happened to anybody, whether he was an actor or not. The only difference is that when it happens to an actor, everybody reads about it."
 In Films To Stay
 Agar's career is getting back on its feet with the aid and support of his wife, Loretta, and his mentor, producer Hal Makelin. The latter made "Man of Conflict" with the actor at the height of his troubles. The producer took Agar under his wing and is promoting a career before and behind the camera. Agar is learning all phases of film production.
 "I'm in this business to stay," said the actor, "and I want to learn about the production end as well as acting. My ambition is to become a character lead which is the ambition of any actor." He allowed that he couldn't go on playing the all-American boy forever.

Rosemary, Jose Mum On Rumors Of Wedding Bells

DALLAS—(AP)—Actor Jose Ferrer and singer Rosemary Clooney would say nothing Tuesday night about reports they would be married.
 Each said, "I cannot comment."
 Ferrer, an Academy Award winner, gave the same answer when asked about the Mexican "quickie" divorce awarded Phyllis Hill Ferrer, his actress-wife, in Juarez, Mexico, Tuesday.
 Miss Clooney has been here since Monday to meet disk jockeys and others about her recordings. She also has attended rehearsals and performances of "Kiss Me Kate," the state fair musical which opened Monday night, starring Ferrer in his first singing role.

The MATURE PARENT

Irresponsible Mother May Be Demanding Dad's Sympathy

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE
 THIS column recently discussed the problem of Henry's mother. At 17 she married an irresponsible young man whom her family disliked. After Henry's birth, he deserted her. Now remarried, she's unhappy because her new husband resents her little boy.
 I suggested that the feeling stemmed from the impression that Henry represents an evil experience in his mother's life. I urged that he be replaced by the realization that it was Henry who equipped his mother to choose a good man for her second husband.
 A reader is wroth with my adjective. She thinks Henry's stepfather is no good, but cruel to withhold sympathy from the child.

 I don't think he's withholding it. I think he just doesn't have any to give Henry. I think any sympathy he can feel has been monopolized by Henry's mother.
 Few of us emerge from marital desertion with love for the deserter in our hearts. We hate him. In our hating state, we don't ask ourselves, "Why did I find irresponsibility so attractive that I was compelled to marry it?"
 No indeed. It's easier to think of ourselves as an abused, noble victim. It's more comfortable to imagine that our "love" has been deceived than to acknowledge that we were drawn into the deception by some confusion in ourselves.
 So when our deserter deserts, we place the entire burden of our disaster upon the other fellow.
 In this attitude, of course, our fundamental refusal to take responsibility is again exposed.
 In my opinion, it is this young wife's fear of acknowledging her share in her disaster that has developed the constraint between her child and her husband.
 For if we're an attractive young woman, it's not hard to make a man who loves us regard us as the tragic victim of another man.
 Under such circumstances, we scarcely can expect our champion to feel sympathy for the child of the man who has represented such evil in the life of his "poor darling."
 No, I think that too many demands already have been made on the "sympathy" of Henry's stepfather. The word means "to suffer with." It's everyone's fascination with past suffering in this situation that has put a little boy on the defensive in his home.
 If there are any more demands to be made, let's make one on Henry's mother. Let's say to her, "Work for the day when you can acknowledge your own irresponsibility. That will be the day you'll begin to free your child from his pain and humiliation."

Betty Grable Plans Summer Of Racing

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Free from a movie contract for the first time in 13 years, Betty Grable is in no hurry to go back to work.
 "I probably won't do a picture until Fall," said the box office queen, who was granted a release from 20th Century-Fox last week. She explained that she was too busy following her successful race horses at Hollywood Park. She'll spend the rest of the summer near the Del Mar track with her two daughters. Her husband, Harry James, will join the family for a five-week vacation between band engagements.
 Miss Grable said she wouldn't sign at another studio unless she had rights for outside pictures, records and other appearances.
 "Television? I don't know yet," Betty replied. "I never plan ahead on things like that. I just let nature take its course."

New Super-Sabre Jet Passes Tests

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The YF-100 super-Sabre jet has passed its maiden flights and the new super-sonic fighter "does everything we hoped," says George Welch, veteran North American aviation test pilot.

 Welch said flatly, "It's the best I've wrung out in 13 years of flying."

RUTH MILLETT SAYS—

Two Suggestions May Help In Tiff Over Babysitters

A wife with two small children says that because they can't afford baby-sitters in the evening, and their parents have made it quite clear they have no intention of baby sitting, she stays at home nights with the children while her husband goes anywhere he pleases. She wants to know if there isn't some better solution to their problem.

Sure, there is. The one Grandma used. She didn't turn down an evening invitation because of the children. She took them along with her.

More and more of today's young couples are finding that the old-fashioned solution works for them and they have started giving and accepting "come and bring the children" invitations.

Others prefer to work out with a friend or neighbor some kind of agreement whereby one couple can leave their children at the other's house one evening and on another evening the arrangement is reversed. That way both couples can count on "free" baby-sitting.

Either plan is a little more complicated than for the mother to just sit home night after night. But either one is certainly a lot more fun for "Mama" and a lot fairer, too.

So why not talk the matter over with your friends and neighbors and work out some scheme whereby you and your husband can get out together at least one night a week?

If you don't, by the time your children are old enough to do without a baby-sitter your husband may have the firm conviction that it's not necessary for you to get out at night.

Don't be a martyr about a situation you can change. Do something! (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Golf Association To Award Master Points In Bridge

The Ladies Golf Association of the Midland Country Club has received authorization from the American Contract Bridge League to award full master points in bridge, officials have announced.

Friday will be observed by the association as the first in a series of full master point days, scheduled for the second Friday of each month.

The association holds duplicate bridge sessions at 1:10 p.m. each Friday, following luncheons served at 12:15 p.m. Fractional master points are awarded each Friday, except on the full master point days.

On full master point days, if there are as many as seven tables of players, the awards will be 1.50 for each player who wins high score, .75 per player for second high, .40 per player for third, .20 per player for fourth and .10 per player for fifth place. For smaller numbers of players, the awards are slightly lower.

Each player is to bring her own partner, or telephone Mrs. R. L. Spencer, No. 2-3158, and players will be paired. Reservations for the luncheons should be made at the clubhouse.

A Difficult Situation

Warren Lee Pierson, head of the U. S. Council of the International Chamber of Commerce, found during the recent ICC Congress in Vienna that European businessmen are doing a lot of thinking about East-West trade.

Many Americans do not believe Western Europe should sell so much as a bar of soap to Russia and the satellite countries. They would like to see a complete boycott of the Soviet economic empire.

Unfortunately, some of these same folk do not want the United States to take more goods from Western Europe, and wish to see sharp reductions in American financial aid to that area.

This amounts to saying we want the Europeans to stand on their own feet, but we don't want to give them anything to stand on.

The economic experts long since have agreed that these nations must trade abroad to live; they need raw materials and wider markets than they have at home. A unified Western European market would be a vast improvement over the present several separate economies.

Before the war, Eastern Europe was the natural economic complement of Western Europe. The East's raw materials and farm products were exchanged for the West's manufactured goods.

Europe turned to America and other continents to fill its needs. But the natural exchange relationship was missing. We did not want to buy much of what the Europeans had to sell.

Eventually both America and Europe wearied of the aid program. Enlightened leaders on both sides called for "trade, not aid" to meet the problem on a lasting basis.

That's why Europeans, tired of the uncertainties of the American prospect, whether it be trade or aid, are turning more and more to dealings with the East.

They do not wish to sell strategic goods to the Communists, although their definition of "strategic" tends to be looser than ours. But they do believe they will be on sounder ground if they can widen trade with countries which have what they need and will buy what they have to sell.

Obviously we in America cannot have our cake and eat it, too. We cannot keep our barriers up and at the same time insist the Europeans not trade with their natural outlets to the East.

It just takes time to prove to yourself that you never should have worried about things that turn out okay.

Putting friendly advice together, maybe the best way to cure a cold is to buy a drug store.

Quoth The Raven

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Elder Statesman Baruch doesn't like Treasury's hike of interest rates on U. S. bonds; like prefers talking about golf; Secretary of Treasury Humphrey tried to get General Vandenberg fired.

WASHINGTON — Gaunt, gray Bernie Baruch, the elder statesman Democrat who threw his weight to Eisenhower last fall, is sore at Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey and his assistant Randolph Burgess. Furthermore, he doesn't care much who knows it.

What Baruch is sore about is hiking interest rates on government bonds to almost the same level as industrial securities. While the increased interest rates may be a fine thing for the bigger banks—Burgess is an executive of National City Bank—it has increased the national debt by a billion dollars already, also has upped commercial interest rates all over the nation.

About the time the Treasury floated its last loan at the recent record interest rate of 3-1/4 per cent, Allied Chemical put out a commercial loan at 3-1/2 per cent—only a quarter of a point higher than the government. Ordinarily gilt-edged commercial securities command interest rates of at least a point higher than government bonds.

All of which lead Bernie Baruch to remark: "John Snyder begins to look better and better as secretary of the Treasury." Golf vs. Immigration. A group of senators and congressmen were invited to the White House to witness the presidential signing of the Korean Veterans Naturalization Bill.

Obviously we in America cannot have our cake and eat it, too. We cannot keep our barriers up and at the same time insist the Europeans not trade with their natural outlets to the East. If we don't want East-West trade, then we have to be realistic about the alternatives.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Don't be started out of your wits by bidding of the North player in today's hand. He overbid his hand by about the value of a king.

"We were the only team to bid this hand to game," comments Paul M. Hummel, of University of Alabama. Curiously enough, South actually made this strange contract despite the fact that he was apparently doomed to lose two spades, two diamonds and a club.

"West opened the king of clubs," says Mr. Hummel glibly, "and the hand plays itself. The first club is ducked, the second round is taken with the ace, and dummy's third club is ruffed.

"Three rounds of trumps are taken, ending in dummy. A spade is led and passed to West. He returns a club, which is ruffed the spade ace is cashed and another spade put West in for a fatal lead from his diamonds. The thirteenth spade is on the board for the fulfilling trick."

It seems like magic, and you begin to wonder if declarer played the hand very brilliantly or if the defense was not quite up to par. Which do you think was the case?

Both are actually true. Declarer played the hand brilliantly, to be sure, but West could have defeated the contract by the proper play at the proper time. See if you can find the key defensive play.

When West is given his first spade trick, he should look ahead and see what is going to happen. Instead of leading a fourth round of clubs, West should lead the king of diamonds.

If he doesn't make this play, West will have to lead diamonds eventually anyway. By leading the king of diamonds at once, West forces out dummy's only entry to the thirteenth spade. Now South is sure to lose two spades, one diamond and a club.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Spade 2 Clubs 3 Dmnds. Pass?

John W. Ford, head of the State Department's Security Office, now estimates that 2,000 State Department employees never have been given any security or loyalty check and another 2,000 have had only inadequate checks.

The long job of bringing all these security records up to date is under way. The job never really may be completed for all in the future, whenever an employee is up for promotion or transfer to a new post, his security record will have to be rechecked and new data added.

John Ford admits that his Security Office often has been accused of using police methods in handling loyalty cases and morals cases.

So They Say

A stalemate truce is to be preferred to a stalemated war where our boys are being killed.

I kept hoping. The Irish have a prayer for that—"Please, St. Anne, get me a man."

A diner who pays for his meals has rights, but too few exert them.

We should hit them (Reds in North Korea) with everything we've got and finish up this war.

Senator Willis Robertson, suggests time limit on Korean armistice talks and if unproductive we should take positive action.

"That's a fact," said Jess Williams. "He wouldn't try it without Toby and his injuns."

"Then Toby'll be back," Pete said, thinking aloud, rather than talking to the old outlaw. "What's more, Zad will know that Nate and I will be back, and he'll want us to see Betty if he can capture us. His mind runs like that."

"Listen, Jess, if we're to help Betty you've got to tell me all you know."

"I don't know much," the old man said. "Late years I ain't done nothin' much except run this ranch for Zad, and try to protect Betty as much as possible. Course, I know what's been goin' on, and how Zad has got rich workin' with the injuns and a few white outlaws robbin' emigrants."

"That's not much help. I already knew that."

"I know something about the slave trade too," Jess said shamefacedly. "It's somethin' even Zad ain't proud of, but he does it to keep Toby in line."

"I don't think he'd be above anything, but what about it?"

STATE DEPARTMENT CLEAN-UP

Defining 'Loyalty,' 'Security' Is Clean-Up Squad's Problem

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — The question of how many disloyalty—how many Communists and fellow travelers there have been and still are in the U. S. State Department—brings forth some involved explanations.

Records of the State Department's Loyalty-Security Board, now winding up its affairs under the directive of President Eisenhower's new security order, give one answer. It is that no proof ever was presented to this board of any case of actual Communist Party membership among State Department employees.

This flat statement has to be qualified immediately, however, by pointing out that card-carrying party membership was not required of many of the most active Communist workers.

President Truman's original loyalty program was set up March 31, 1947. Under this program, employees could be dismissed from government service on grounds of disloyalty to the U. S.

In 1951 this program was enlarged to a security program. Employees could be dismissed if they were found to be security risks.

President Eisenhower's new Loyalty-Security order of April, 1953, sets up still more stringent criteria for discharge of government employees on both grounds.

The distinction between loyalty and security is a little difficult. Brig. Gen. Conrad E. Snow, head of the State Department LSB during its entire life, has defined them this way: "Loyalty" he says, "is a state of mind. A 'security risk' is a fact."

It is impossible to tell what is in anyone's mind and whether he has secret disloyal thoughts or not. But a security risk can be determined. A person who is disloyal is a security risk. But a person may be a security risk for reasons other than disloyalty.

In the period of a little more than six years under the Truman loyalty-security program, the State Department handled 1,084 loyalty cases involving 775 individuals.

The total number of State Department loyalty and security dismissals is 35.

This is not, however, the full story. Of the 775 individuals involved in the 1,084 cases, 173 resigned or were otherwise separated—as by death—from the State Department, before any final decision of their cases was made.

The purpose of the new Eisenhower loyalty-security program is to eliminate all suspects by full investigation before they become government employees.

John W. Ford, head of the State Department's Security Office, now estimates that 2,000 State Department employees never have been given any security or loyalty check and another 2,000 have had only inadequate checks.

The long job of bringing all these security records up to date is under way. The job never really may be completed for all in the future, whenever an employee is up for promotion or transfer to a new post, his security record will have to be rechecked and new data added.

John Ford admits that his Security Office often has been accused of using police methods in handling loyalty cases and morals cases.

"Mebbe you seen a Navajo named Juan Chee down there? He's a scout for the slave traders, Renegades from his own people, but the last one I wrote about bear. He hangs out around Two Rivers, and when there are slaves enough Zad makes the deal, and Toby delivers 'em some place where Chee has his people waitin'.

Zad meant to sell Walter to 'em, although he's older than they are. They run 'em into Mexico. "A fine business! Is there any chance at all Barnes will try to sell Betty to Chee?"

"He can't. He's promised her to Toby."

"You're sure Betty ain't in Two Rivers yet?"

"I know she ain't."

DETE was at the end of his rope. Searching for the girl in a territory that covered hundreds of square miles would be useless. Toby was too smart to be slipped up on. He asked, "Does Zad himself know where she is?"

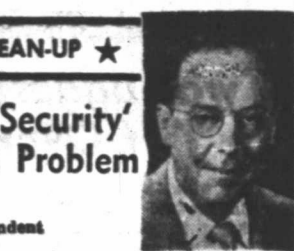

"I doubt it. But if he did you couldn't make him tell if you broiled him over a slow fire, Jess said to Toby."

It was hard for Pete to accept defeat, especially when it meant what it did. But another successful raid on Zad Barnes' stronghold seemed hopeless, and there was faint hope that it could possibly do any good.

He wished that Cass Dean wasn't down there. He had warned her, but she still couldn't know what kind of people she was living among. If she angered Barnes she too would probably be traded to Toby or Juan Chee.

At least Cass Dean's need for help was not so urgent as Betty's, and had the cases been equal he realized that Betty would still have the preference. Cass had gotten herself into her predicament out of sheer perversity.

He could expect Nate back soon for the man would waste little time after he learned that his daughter was a prisoner, and he

This often is considered the State Department's Gestapo.

Ford denies this stoutly. He is a young Foreign Service officer of 33, with experience in Latin America and Europe before he was assigned to the security office.

Psychiatric Approach. The approach, he says, is that of a psychiatrist. It is sympathetic. Rough stuff is put. The effort is made to maintain the confidence of the people being examined. He gets letters from some people, fired on loyalty grounds or as security risks, thanking him for the consideration shown them.

To critics of the State Department, it still is showing too much consideration. Instead of allowing so many employees to resign, more should be fired outright, for stated causes, they say.

Security isn't a question of just loyalty, and it isn't a question of morals, as Frances Knight of the Security and Consular Affairs administration explains it.

It is more a question of suitability for government employment in foreign relations. People who aren't suitable for the work shouldn't be hired or, once hired, they should be fired. And all doubts should be resolved in favor of the government.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail If I Were King

Happy day now, and welcome again to another adventure with Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend. He lives far away in the Great Forest, and one fine day when the sun was bright and the air was warm, whom should he meet but the Huffen Puffen.

"Happy day, Huffen Puffen!" Daddy Ringtail said to the friendly wolf. "Happy day" is the forest way of saying "Hello."

"Happy day to you Daddy Ringtail," said the Huffen, and he laughed and chuckled to say it. "Happy day now to everyone!"

"Huffen Puffen," Daddy Ringtail asked with a laugh, "what is it that makes you so extra special happy today?"

The Huffen wanted to answer until an elephant had passed them by on his way to the Whispering River for water. Then the Huffen sat down on a log that was lying there by the Elephant Path. He waited for Daddy Ringtail to sit beside him. "Daddy Ringtail," said the Huffen. "I have been thinking, I have, of the happy things I would do if I were king."

The Huffen's eyes were shining as he said it. Daddy Ringtail could see that the Huffen was thinking of wonderful things he would do if only he were king.

"Why, Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "once you were king of the Uphill River, but the business of being king was none too good, because the uphill water in the Uphill River had already flowed on up and away."

"Yes, the Huffen remembered the day that he had been king of the Uphill River that wasn't any more, but he was wishing now to be king of all the world. Then he would do some things, he would. Oh yes he would!"

"Now, now, now," Daddy Ringtail said. "Huffen Puffen, just what would you do—if you were king?"

The Huffen leaned forward there where he sat on the log. His eyes twinkled and sparkled with the thoughts he was thinking. Said he: "I would do what I could, I would, to make the world happy for everyone. I would never say a cross word, and I would always be gentle and kind. These are the things that I would do—if I were king."

"Oh, the Huffen didn't know, before Daddy Ringtail told him, that anyone can do these things of kindness without ever being a king at all. The Huffen chuckled to hear it, and a "Happy day!" said he.

Radio Interests Control TV Field

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A survey of the new television station grants made in the first full year after lifting of the freeze showed Wednesday that established radio interests still dominate the field.

The Federal Communications Commission has issued permits for 374 new TV outlets since it resumed the processing of applications on July 1, 1952.

Only 73 of these stations, or 19.2 per cent of the new grants, went to interests having no radio connections.

Of the 108 old stations which operated during the TV freeze, 100— or 92.6 per cent—were owned by the owners of radio stations—only eight—7.4 per cent—by nonradio interests.

Summer Theater Begins Work On Performances Booked Here

All is in readiness now for the opening of West Texas' first Summer stock theater which will present plays with leading actresses and actors in Midland and San Angelo.

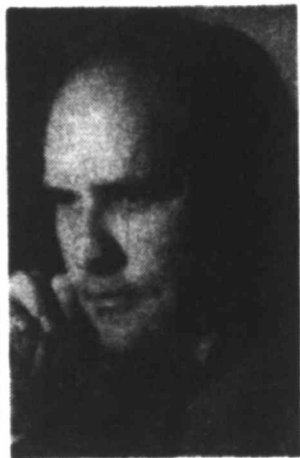

Ross Van Nibroc is here to map out details for staging of the performances. He arrived here this week from Hollywood and will direct and produce all six plays.

Van Nibroc said John Carradine has selected "The Silver Whistle" to star in, rather than the "Merchant of Venice" as was announced previously.

An air conditioned auditorium has been booked, headquarters for Entertainment Arts, Inc., will be located in Midland, and a new schedule of performances has been arranged for Midland audiences, says Arnold Coty, principal stockholder of Entertainment Arts, Inc., sponsor of the new theater program.

Van Nibroc was associated with the Stratford-on-Avon players in England five years. He has directed such stars as Jane Cowl in "Lilac Time" and "The Last Mrs. Chaney" and Gertrude Lawrence in England and the United States in "Susan and God" and "Lady in the Dark."

The director has worked with the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera Company since its origin, in the production and direction with Gene Mann of such shows as "Carmen Jones," "New Moon," "Show Boat" and "Girl Crazy."

Coty said arrangements have been completed for the Midland performances to be held in the San Jacinto Junior High School auditorium, which is air conditioned.

Four performances of each play will be presented here weekly, he said. "We will give one matinee performance of each play, with a percentage of the proceeds going to the Women's Auxiliary of the Midland Memorial Hospital.

The new schedule means that plays will be presented Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights each week with a matinee held every Wednesday afternoon.

Actors for the first play, which will be "Affairs of State," are expected to arrive in Midland this weekend to start rehearsals, Coty said. Otto Kruger will star with Della Salvi as leading lady. Dates for the play are July 21-23.

All plays will be opened first in Midland and later in San Angelo.

Play Schedule

The schedule for the remaining performance is as follows:

July 28-30—Agnes Moorehead to star in "Elizabeth the Queen," with the Midland opening to be the debut for a transcontinental tour of the show.

August 4-6—"Personal Appearance" starring Penny Singleton of Blondie fame.

August 11-13—"Bell, Book and Candle," the actors to be named.

August 18-20—"Love Me Lightly" starring Alan Mowbray.

August 25-27—"The Silver Whistle" starring John Carradine.

Van Nibroc said casting notices for the first play will be announced the first of next week, whereby Midland persons who desire may offer themselves for participation as stage hands and actors in minor roles.

Malodorous Mate From Mail Order House De-Married

DETROIT—(AP)—Jose Rizo Rodriguez, 29-year-old Mexican, admitted slugging his mail order senora because she said he "stinks."

Carmen Camejo, twice-married mother of four, said Rodriguez' ad in a Mexican newspaper talked big. But she told Recorder's Judge Martha W. Griffiths Tuesday that she left her bridegroom, disillusioned after 72 hours of marriage, because: "He had no car. He had no home. And he stinks."

Rodriguez retorted: "I have no car. I have no home. But I don't stink. I bathe every day at the YMCA."

Rodriguez won a suspended sentence and Carmen got transportation back to Mexico.

Polio Incidence Low In Southwest States

DALLAS—(AP)—Only in the Southwest—in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma—is the number of polio cases this year less than that in 1952.

Aim Of Diabetes Treatment Is To Eliminate Urine Sugar

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

In response to several recent requests, some features of the important disease, diabetes, are discussed again. Diabetes is a disease caused by failure of certain cells in the gland called the pancreas, in the abdomen. When normal these cells prepare a substance which is emptied into the blood stream and regulates the use of sugar.

which is sweet contains more sugar than is desirable for a diabetic. Persons who try to treat themselves for diabetes are taking a grave risk. It is impossible to know whether the disease is being controlled or not without careful testing.

CDA Chief Advises More Tests Of Atom Effects On Buildings

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson says the government hopes to learn more about the effect of atomic bombs on residences in following up experiments linked to the recent Nevada atom blasts.

He told a House Appropriations subcommittee his agency wants to spend $477,000 to build two-story houses and row brick houses for future blasts. His testimony, given last month, was made public Wednesday.

In recent tests, dummies were used to test the probable effects of atom blasts on humans, and Peterson said the results underlined the government's emphasis upon family-type air raid shelters.

"It would seem odd that the country that has been spending at the rate of $0 billion dollars a year for every type of defense has been spending nothing to learn how to defend Mr. and Mrs. America in their homes and on their main streets," he said.

Signs Of Business Upsurge In Europe Point To Savings For U. S. Taxpayers

By WALTER BREDE, JR. NEW YORK—(AP)—Signs of a business pickup in Western Europe may hold hope for the U. S. taxpayer—if the Kremlin doesn't upset the applecart.

U. S. businessmen recently returned from Europe tell of humming factories, hardening currencies and almost full employment in many a country whose industrial plant was little more than a shambles eight short years ago.

The Guaranty Trust Company of New York tells of a "great spurt in the construction of dwelling houses and public buildings" in Western Germany.

Production, sales and employment continue to advance vigorously," it says. The letter also notes that the gold and dollar reserves of Britain's sterling area "increased by $48,000,000 in May to $2,321,000,000."

The Tax Foundation, a private non-profit research concern, says the recovery of Western Europe has advanced to the point where "it may be possible to reduce our foreign aid program somewhat without weakening our military and economic position."

The Foundation lists two indications as evidence that war-wracked Western Europe is getting back on its feet. Industrial production has been at or above pre-war levels for two years.

Despite a sharp rise in population, per capita consumption of farm products is ahead of pre-war in all of Western Europe except Austria and Ireland.

European recovery has other implications. Heavy fuel oil processed in big new French refineries is underselling the U. S. product in U. S. ports.

German aircraft manufacturers have served notice they intend to undersell British and American producers once a West German aircraft industry is re-established.

The encouraging fact remains that a prosperous, economically agitating Europe should be less of a load on the U. S. taxpayer's back, and perhaps a more dependable military ally.

Mother Who Tried To Kill Daughters Is Judged Insane SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—(AP)—The wife of a Baptist minister, Mrs. Betty Louise Griffith, 77, who police say admitted she tried to beat her two baby daughters to death with an electric iron, has been declared insane.

She was committed to the Patton State Hospital Tuesday by Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine on the recommendation of two psychiatrists.

The daughters, Kathleen, three, and Genevieve, two, are recovering in a hospital. Their skulls were fractured, Mrs. Griffith was quoted by officers as saying the children prevented her from going with her husband, the Rev. Wilbur J. Griffith, pastor of a church at nearby Palm City, on his various church duties.

Doctors Find 110-Year-Old Veteran 'Sound As A Dollar'

HOUSTON—(AP)—Walter W. Williams, 110-year-old Confederate veteran and the oldest of five who survive the Civil War, was found sound as a Yankee dollar Tuesday by Veterans Administration doctors.

The little, wrinkled man with fading sight and hearing hurried to get back to his 20-acre isolated farm near Franklin in Central Texas.

"I don't like towns," he said. Chief Medical Officer R. S. Wolfe said Williams' physical condition was surprisingly good for a man of his age.

There had been some question about legality of examining a former Confederate in the VA clinic. Doctors said they would put him through the tests for humanitarian reasons.

"Frankly, we were medically curious about him," Dr. Wolfe said. "You don't get a chance very often to study a man that old."

Williams needs help to walk, but doctors say his blood pressure and cardiogram tests are "remarkably normal." They fitted the old soldier for a truss for a hernia and recommended plenty of mineral oil and vitamins. No special diet was necessary.

Williams lives with his 80-year-old second wife. They got homesteaded and returned to the ramshackle farm after a brief stay with their children in Houston recently. Williams still likes a chew of tobacco before breakfast. He spends most of his time sitting on the porch of the old farmhouse.

Sergeant Leaves 10 Children In Orphanage CINCINNATI—(AP)—An Army sergeant, scheduled to return to Korea next week, has placed his 10 motherless children in an orphanage home.

The General Protestant Orphan Home said Tuesday that Sgt. Elmer A. Day's children represented the largest family group ever admitted to the home. His wife Blanche, 34, died two weeks before he was able to get to her bedside from Korea.

British Researcher Predicts Chemicals Will Prevent Cancer LONDON—(AP)—A leading British researcher said Wednesday doctors eventually may be able to prevent cancer through chemical treatment alone.

Addressing the annual meeting of the British Empire Cancer Campaign, Prof. Alexander Haddow, director of the Chester Beatty Research Institute, said researchers are familiar with hundreds of chemical agents, capable of inducing cancer, and how they work.

"A full understanding of this remarkable process by which normal cells are transferred into cancer cells will surely lead to the discovery of the means by which the process may be regulated, controlled or even prevented or reversed," he added.

Government Lists 25 Books Removed From ILA Libraries

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A list of 25 book titles removed from government information libraries overseas because their eight authors are "presumed to be Communists" was made public Wednesday.

The writers named were Earl Browder and William Z. Foster, successive leaders of the U. S. Communist Party; Ilya Ehrenburg, Soviet propagandist; Trofim Lyssenko, Soviet scientist; Maxim Gorki, Russian revolutionary writer; and John Reed, Agnes Smedley, and Anna Louise Strong, American writers.

Gorki, Reed and Miss Smedley no longer are living. These were the first names to be given out officially in the controversy over removal of books from the overseas libraries in the wake of a demand by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that what he termed "30,000 Communist books" be taken from the shelves.

The State Department told a House Appropriations subcommittee only 29 copies of the 25 titles were in the libraries, and that these were removed on orders from Washington.

The testimony, taken last month in connection with hearings on the budget for the State Department's International Information Administration (IIA), which runs the libraries, was made public Wednesday by the subcommittee.

Richard A. Humphrey, acting head of the IIA Information Center Service which operates the libraries, gave the testimony that the eight listed authors were "presumed to be Communist."

"My wife and I have just moved out of a fairly big house which we cannot afford to keep up, working for the government, and we bought a little house," Johnson told a House Appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public Wednesday.

"We found a whole lot of books and manuscripts we did not know what to do with and we burned them."

"I have rather a great sympathy for a little fellow who is a librarian up in Sydney, who sees some books he knows ought not to be there. Even so, he was reprimanded, and nobody else is going to burn any books."

Retiring ILA Boss Bares Own Project Of 'Book-Burning' WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. Robert L. Johnson, retiring head of the International Information Administration, says he has burned some books himself.

"I have rather a great sympathy for a little fellow who is a librarian up in Sydney, who sees some books he knows ought not to be there. Even so, he was reprimanded, and nobody else is going to burn any books."

Four Persons Die In Freeway Crash LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The worst crash on the Hollywood Freeway since its opening two and one-half years ago has left four men dead and four others injured.

Traffic was jammed for two hours by the spectacular crash which involved a big salvage truck and four other vehicles near the Grand Avenue crossing during the busy going-home period Tuesday.

Dead are Del Beach, 45; Chester N. Packwood, 49; Robert C. Reed, 56, all believed aboard the truck, and Ralph Ward, 32, driver of one of the cars. All were Los Angeles residents.

Police said the truck jumped the center division and crashed head-on into Ward's convertible, sending it spinning into a pickup truck and also involving two more cars.

Loan Difficulties Cut Home Building DALLAS—(AP)—Difficulty in getting long-term home loans has resulted in "the most serious crisis we have faced since the war," says the president of the Dallas Home Builders Association.

"Builders are shutting down all over town," said William H. Brown, adding that his own firm has dropped plans for 175 homes. He said project-type homes in the $12,000 and under class are affected most seriously.

"This is something that can't be cured overnight," Brown said. "It's tied in with the nation's whole money policy." He said home builders here in growing numbers are cancelling plans for housing projects.

He said the net effect of the series of directives sent to the libraries since the book purge started was that:

"No material will be used in the American overseas libraries put out by any person who believes in communism; that every precaution will be taken not to utilize material which carries the Communist line."

A larger number of books have been purged in accordance with a new blacklist, sent to the 188 libraries, which has not been made public. Local librarians removed still larger numbers in what officials have termed overseas execution of directives from Washington.

Source Of Books Unknown Dr. Robert L. Johnson, retiring head of the IIA, said last week all copies of some 300 titles had been removed. Other sources said Tuesday that new directives had cut the blacklist to 50 titles or more.

Officials disclaimed in their published testimony any knowledge as to how the listed 25 titles got on the shelves in the first place. They said the volumes may have been inherited from the former Office of War Information, the Army, the American Library Association or acquired locally. It was conceded possible that the books may have been slipped on the shelves by unidentified persons.

The banned books were listed thus in a report dated June 23 (with the libraries from which they were removed in parentheses):

Browder: "Communism in the United States" (London); "Tehran, Our Path in War and Peace" (London); "Tehran, Nuestro Sendero en la Guerra y en la Paz" (Montevideo). The latter work, listed separately, obviously is a translation of the one before it.

Ehrenburg: "The Tempering of Russia" (New Delhi, Damascus, Medan).

Foster: "Pages from a Worker's Life" (Mexico). Gorki: "Cain y Arkinio" (Managua); "In America" (Tripoli); "Los Vagabundos" (Managua); "Twenty-Six Men and a Girl" (Tansier).

Lyssenko: "Heredit and Its Variability" (Mexico). Reed: "Insurgent Mexico" (Mexico); "Ten Days That Shook the World" (Manila); "Como Tomaron el Poder las Bolcheviques" (Mexico); "Battie Hymn of China"

Miss Smedley: "Battie Hymn of China" (Mexico, London, Cairo, Taipei, Hanoi, Montevideo, Medan); "China en Armas" (Montevideo); "Daughter of Earth" (Montevideo); "Hija de la Tierra" (Montevideo). The latter work obviously is a translation of the preceding one.

Miss Strong: "I Saw the New Poland" (Mexico); "Peoples of the USSR" (Naples, Hanoi, Djakarta); "Porous Lucha China" (Managua, Montevideo); "Rio Salvia" (Managua, Montevideo); "Soviet Farmers" (Johannesburg); "The Soviets Expected It" (Mexico); "While the River" (Madrid, Tangier, Montevideo).

Dr. Johnson, in describing confusion over interpreting the book removal directives sent from Washington, said there were two or three instances in which "eight or 10 books were actually burned." He said a directive was sent immediately saying no more books should be destroyed.

Johnson testified he was trying to set up a committee of about eight persons, including newspapermen, educators and librarians to "try to find out which books are appropriate."

Stabilizer Talks Of Canceling All U. S. Rent Controls WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rent Stabilizer Glenwood J. Sherrard has told Congress he is studying the possibility of recommending elimination of all federal rent controls as soon as possible.

Controls in most areas are due to expire July 31, but under the law will continue in critical defense areas until June 30, 1954. Sherrard said these would total about 50 areas of the country.

"At the present time," he told a House Appropriations subcommittee, "I am working on a study to see if we cannot have the whole thing closed up by presidential order."

His testimony, given last month, was released Wednesday.

Japanese Demand Return Of Islands

TOKYO—(AP)—A resolution demanding the return of Russian-occupied islands off Hokkaido and American-occupied Okinawa was approved by the lower house of Parliament Tuesday.

The resolution, proposed by both the government and opposition parties, urged the government to speed negotiations for the return of former Japanese islands of Habomai, Shikotan and others forming an integral part of Hokkaido.

These islands were occupied by the Russians at the end of World War II and never were formally ceded to Russia under the peace treaty.

The separation of Okinawa, Amami-Oshima, Donjon and other islands off Southern Japan, formerly an integral part of Japan, caused "inconveniences" to the people, the resolution said.

Nixon Tour Is Newest Step In Ike's Good Will Program

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON —(P)— President Eisenhower seems to be a firm believer in the there's-nothing-like-getting-acquainted school of public relations, both locally and worldwide.

He's been practicing it himself at home since he entered the White House. Even if he wanted to go abroad, he's been too busy here to go. He's been sending some of those closest to him.

Vice President Nixon is the latest to get his marching papers. He'll leave in the Fall for the Far East and South Asia.

Others who preceded him as good will ambassadors were Secretary of State Dulles, Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen, and the President's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower showed how much stock he put in the personal acquaintance idea almost from the start of his presidency, when he began inviting members of Congress to White House breakfasts.

These were in addition to the regular and frequent conferences he held with Republican leaders in the House and Senate for getting his programs through Congress.

Practiced At White House
 Then he began holding stag dinners in the White House for men distinguished in various fields of American life, like business, labor, politics, religion, publishing.

These groups, in batches of a dozen or so, put their feet under the White House table at the same time. If they hadn't met before, they became acquainted there, with one another and the President.

Months ago, Eisenhower sent Dulles and Stassen on a fast tour of the West European capitals, where they met the heads of state face-to-face, discussed their problems, expressed sympathy, sought to build up good will.

They were hardly home before they left on the same kind of mis-

Father Of Three Midlanders Dies

SAN ANGELO—Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in Johnson's Funeral Chapel here for V. G. Dittmore, 74, retired farmer and father of three Midlanders, Pete Dittmore, V. G. Dittmore, Jr., and Mrs. Ellis Russell.

He died Tuesday at his San Angelo residence.

Dittmore had lived in Tom Green, Coke and Hamilton Counties since 1887, and was active in civic affairs at Robert Lee.

Survivors include his widow; three sons, Earl Dittmore of Odessa, Pete and V. G., Jr.; four daughters, Mrs. Ora Groff of San Angelo, Mrs. Virginia Donica of Odessa, Mrs. Irma Cotten of McCarney and Mrs. Russell, two brothers, Claude Dittmore of Tennyson and Raymond Dittmore of Conroe, and eight grandchildren.

sion to the Near East and Southern Asia. The President was reported pleased with what they told him when they returned.

Latin America couldn't be overlooked, so Eisenhower sent his brother to South America, where he is now. And Tuesday, the White House announced the news about Nixon.

The vice president and his wife, accompanied by State Department officials, will go to the Orient, perhaps in October. As the White House announcement described it: "The purpose . . . will be for the vice president . . . to become acquainted with the leaders of the countries visited, to hear their views, to gain first-hand impressions, to carry the sincere greetings of the people of the United States . . . and the personal greetings of the President . . ."

No doubt the reports brought back by those personal ambassadors—on the problems, attitudes and expectations of the countries visited—should be invaluable to Eisenhower in shaping his foreign policies.

And the people of the countries visited cannot but be impressed by the effort Eisenhower is making to get to know them and the interest he is showing in them. These expeditions can hardly make enemies and should make friends.

The Russians probably are concerned about it, just as this country would be if the Communists sent their foreign Minister Molotov around the world to have private talks with heads of state everywhere.

In the long run, though, since these heads of state are practical men, this country will be judged by what it does for them, or about them, more than by pleasant conversations.

And no matter what plans Eisenhower may develop as a result of these foreign visits, Congress will have a major voice in making the final decisions on what plans are carried out.

Witnesses Tell How Reds Infiltrate Nation's Clergy

NEW YORK —(P)— The House Un-American Activities Committee says witnesses, one an "intimate acquaintance of Stalin," have named several American clergymen as members of the Communist party.

The witnesses were said to have given the group "information of extreme importance" about Communist infiltration of the clergy.

Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich.) acting chairman at two days of New York hearings, announced the testimony Tuesday. He emphasized the committee was not probing clergy or churches but was trying to expose Reds "whether in the clergy . . . or any other group."

The probe is being pursued here Wednesday with Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio) sitting as a subcommittee of one to hear two witnesses. Full committee sessions were adjourned.

Clardy did not identify those named in the testimony, nor did he say how many persons were involved. He said the information would be checked and—if verified—then made public in accord with a committee policy "to forestall all possibility of smearing and defaming innocent American citizens."

Clergy Infiltrated
 A prepared statement by the committee said it had received testimony on how Communists planned to and did infiltrate the ranks of clergy in the United States.

Witnesses giving the information were identified by Clardy as Benjamin Gitlow and Joseph Kornfeder, who was said to have been an "important Communist party functionary" and intimate of the late Soviet Premier.

Gitlow was described as a charter member of the American Communist party who broke with the Reds. Kornfeder and Gitlow testified at closed sessions Tuesday.

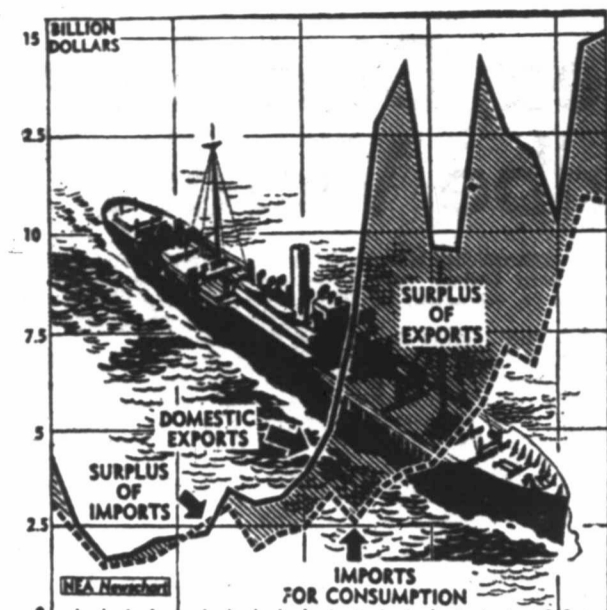

Roosevelt Testifies
 The committee statement said that in a closed hearing Monday night it received "illuminating testimony" on Communists among the clergy from Col. Archibald Roosevelt, son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt.

Clardy said Roosevelt's testimony would be made public as soon as it is transcribed.

Asked by a reporter for a Communist newspaper whether he would attack a clergyman found to be a Communist, Clardy answered: "I would not attack him. I would expose him."

Definite Pattern
 The committee said two other witnesses testified at a closed session Tuesday were John E. Marqusee, 25-year-old Cornell University law student described as a former Communist, and Vladimir Petrov, identified as an anti-Red Russian once imprisoned in a Soviet concentration camp.

Scherer said Marqusee testified that the Communist party had a definite pattern for the infiltration

RIDING HIGH ON SEA OF FOREIGN TRADE—Newshar above illustrates U. S. foreign trade from 1930 to the present. During the 22-year period, only in 1936 did imports exceed exports, but after that exports held the upper hand. Exports rose to high of over $15 billion during 1952, while imports declined slightly. Ohio Republican Threatens Fight On Treaty Limitation

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) declared Wednesday he is "getting a run-around" in his efforts to obtain action this year on a proposed constitutional amendment to limit treaty-making powers.

"It begins to appear that Administration leaders are stalling by one delay after another and appealing to the Senate Republican Policy Committee not to bring the amendment up in its present form," the Ohio senator said in an interview.

"If the Senate doesn't get a chance to act on this matter, I'm going to take my fight to the country and explain just who is responsible for the delay."

The Policy Committee may meet later this week to discuss compromise language Attorney General Brownell has been drafting, as well as to receive any suggestions for changes Secretary of State Dulles may make.

Dulles has contended that in its present form the proposed amendment would prevent the federal government from making international agreements governing narcotic traffic and other matters without first consulting the states.

President Eisenhower has said he doesn't believe any treaty can supersede the Constitution but that if it would quiet the fears of anyone to make that sort of a simple statement in an amendment, he would support the move.

However, the President said he never would agree to anything that interferes with his constitutional rights to conduct foreign affairs.

Bricker's proposal, listing 63 other senators as co-authors, would amend the Constitution to declare that "a provision of a treaty which conflicts with this Constitution shall not be of any force or effect."

The Ohio senator has said this is necessary to prevent treaties from overriding domestic laws.

Bricker said he had offered to compromise with Administration leaders by merely listing executive agreements along with treaties in this section, thus dropping a provision which would have given Congress power to "regulate" all such agreements not submitted to the Senate for ratification.

"That would eliminate any contention that Congress is trying to interfere with the powers of the President," he commented.

Senator Knowland of California, the acting GOP leader, said he hoped some compromise could be worked out. Knowland said the Policy Committee, which he heads, will have to decide later whether to bring the measure before the Senate if no compromise is reached.

Army Contract Inspectors Reveal 'Do-Nothing' Orders

NEW YORK —(P)— The chairman of a congressional probe committee says "pretty strong recommendations" to Congress may develop from hearings on the inspection of material being sold to the armed services by private firms.

The prediction comes from Representative Hess (R-Ohio), head of the Defense Activities subcommittee.

Judge Prescribes Jail As Refresher To Jaded Memory

SAVANNAH, GA. —(P)— A 78-year-old Savannah man is in jail here because he says he can't remember where certain securities he allegedly owns are located.

Federal Judge A. B. Conger Tuesday ordered Andrew Kjar, of suburban Bona Bella, to jail to refresh his memory.

The government claims Kjar owes $130,000 excise taxes on alcoholic beverages he allegedly imported in the 1930's. It was awarded a judgment in 1949 and has been trying to collect ever since.

Kjar insisted he doesn't know where the stocks are. He says his memory is bad because of his age. He said he hasn't had any income for 14 years.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

For many of this country's 25,000,000 overweight adults, reducing diets have become a dominating influence. But the frightening fact is that many of the most popular diets are extremely dangerous.

Why not try the Barconrate way and reduce safely, easily and without starvation diet?

Just get from your druggist a four-ounce bottle of Barconrate (with appetite curb tablets). Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on label. These take according to directions. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to reduce, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Mrs. G. T. Hicks, 610 Whiting Ave., San Antonio, Texas, wrote that she "Thinks Barconrate is wonderful and lost 50 pounds taking it."

Twenty former or current inspectors of ordnance material in defense plants in the New York district testified Tuesday as the subcommittee split into four groups.

Half of the witnesses had no complaints, Hess said, but the other half provided interesting testimony about defense plant operations.

Hess gave this partial summary of the hearings:

One witness testified he was detailed as a $4,200-a-year assistant to an inspector at a New Jersey plant, only to find that his superior had nothing to do. "He was sent there, in effect, to help do nothing," Hess commented. The chairman did not identify the plant.

Another witness testified he had nothing to do except "sign a sheet" saying he had inspected a certain defense item. Hess commented that the man, who was paid about $5,000 a year, "didn't have to inspect at all—company inspectors did that."

Other witnesses told the probes they were qualified for special jobs, but were assigned to other types of work. When they protested, Hess said, they were told to "just keep your mouth shut and stay where you are."

Names of the witnesses will not be disclosed, Hess said.

The subcommittee Tuesday began four days of closed hearings in an investigation of possible irregularities and influence peddling here.

Twenty former or current inspectors of ordnance material in defense plants in the New York district testified Tuesday as the subcommittee split into four groups.

Half of the witnesses had no complaints, Hess said, but the other half provided interesting testimony about defense plant operations.

Hess gave this partial summary of the hearings:

One witness testified he was detailed as a $4,200-a-year assistant to an inspector at a New Jersey plant, only to find that his superior had nothing to do. "He was sent there, in effect, to help do nothing," Hess commented. The chairman did not identify the plant.

Another witness testified he had nothing to do except "sign a sheet" saying he had inspected a certain defense item. Hess commented that the man, who was paid about $5,000 a year, "didn't have to inspect at all—company inspectors did that."

Other witnesses told the probes they were qualified for special jobs, but were assigned to other types of work. When they protested, Hess said, they were told to "just keep your mouth shut and stay where you are."

Names of the witnesses will not be disclosed, Hess said.

Rodriguez, Diaz Star In 6-5 Tribe Victory

By ABE WEINER
Reporter-Telegram Sports Staff

A pair of Cuban roommates, Fred Rodriguez and Mickey Diaz, made Jay Haney Night a whopping success before 1,175 fans who saw the Midland Indians defeat San Angelo for the third time this season, 6-5, Tuesday night.

Rodriguez worked beautifully throughout, sat the Colts back on their horses with six hits, but six errors—two by himself—cost him three of the five runs he yielded. With that much aid from the Midland fielders, the Colts built up a 5-0 advantage for former Tribesman Bill Winn, who was limiting the Indians to five hits and no runs through five innings of play with his tantalizing slow stuff.

In the sixth, however, the Indians snapped out of their hitting lethargy and slapped Winn for a pair of runs, and they came right back in the seventh to score four times and wrap up the triumph for both Rodriguez and Haney.

Rodriguez' performance was far better than the score would indicate. He gave up a solid home run smash to John Tayoan in the second and a double to Steve Follett in the third after Charley Galina's walk, but otherwise he was master of the Colts.

They touched him for two bunt singles in the fourth, Tayoan got a blow to left in the sixth and Follett did likewise in the ninth. Otherwise, walks and errors kept him in hot water. He gave up five walks while striking out eight.

After Follett's double in the third, First Baseman Glenn Selbo erred on Rudy Briner's bouncer and Galina and Follett scored. Briner was out trying to steal second, and Glenn Burns and Tayoan went down swinging.

The Colts added two more unearned runs in the sixth. Tayoan singled to open and Rodriguez threw John Malgrini's sacrifice over Selbo's head, permitting the runners to move to third and second, respectively.

Even then, Rodriguez might have averted the runs had Selbo not erred on receiving a double play throw from Scooter Hughes. Both runners counted on the play.

Selbo made up for his miscues, however, by starting the Indians' sixth inning rally, leading off with a double. Julio de la Torre hit his third double of the night to score him, and came home moments later on Diaz' ground out.

After Rodriguez had grounded out and Tex Stephenson struck out in the seventh, Roger Dalla Betta came through with a triple to right field. Selbo promptly singled him home, and De la Torre drew a walk. That ended Winn's tenure on the mound and brought on Gil Guerra, who walked Lou Dawson, batting for Bill Brown, and thus was charged with the loss.

Hughes got a scratch hit to short, scoring Selbo and that's when Diaz took a hand. He waited for a low pitch and belted it for a double along the right field line to score De la Torre and Dawson.

Rodriguez still was in hot water despite the lead. He retired the Colts rather easily in the eighth, but walked Andy Morales, batting for Guerra, to start the ninth. However, Dawson scooped up Galina's booming grounder and tossed to Hughes to start a double play. John Jeandron singled to left, but Rodriguez got Briner on a pop up to Stephenson in left ending the game.

De la Torre continued his rampage on Longhorn League pitchers. He clubbed out three doubles to extend his hitting streak to 26 games and to boost his batting average to .388—just 10 points shy of Art Bowland's leading percentage. De la Torre also crept within two runs of taking over the team's leadership in his department. He leads the club in hits with 106, is tied with Brown for most home runs with nine, and leads in runs batted in with 65.

Bowland, incidentally, is sidelined with a blood clot on one of his legs—a result of being spiked in a play at home in the recent Artesia series.

Ralph Blair is scheduled to open Wednesday night against the Big Spring Broncs.

Walls' Ring Rating Soars After Kayo Win Over Layne

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The National Boxing Association, which contends television is doing the fight game no good, pointed proudly Wednesday to the fact that two of the ranking boxers in its Summer ratings have never appeared before TV cameras.

Fred Saddy, chairman of the NBA's rating committee, singled out Earl Walls, a heavyweight from Canada, and Pappy Gault, a bantamweight from Spartanburg, S. C., and said, "Neither has ever appeared on TV but both loom as possible title timber."

Walls made a rapid climb into eight place among the heavyweights while Gault held down the No. 3 position among the bantams.

Walls made his big jump on the strength of a surprising one-round knockout of Rex Layne, who had been rated near the top of the big boys.

Gault, recognized North American bantam champ, is bidding now for a title go against champion Jimmy Carruthers of Australia.

Col. Harvey L. Miller, executive secretary of the NBA, pointed to the collapse of a number of TV favorites who muffed golden chances against top rated opponents.

Chief among them in Chuck Davey, the former Michigan State boxer, who has sunk to the NBA's "honorable mention" class among the welterweights as a result of the shellacking handed him by Champion Kid Gavilan.

Michigan State pitcher Chuck Gorman was a member of state championship baseball and golf teams while in high school in Lansing.

Zubak Spoils Atkinson's No-Hit Bid

ODESSA—(AP)—Odessa and Big Spring split a Longhorn League double-header Tuesday night, the Oilers taking the first, 7-3, and Big Spring winning the second, 6-2.

Barney Batson got Odessa off to a good start in the first game with a first inning home run with Leo Eastham on base. Eastham followed it up with a solo homer in the third inning. Jim Carson was the winning pitcher, allowing but three hits.

Ralph Atkinson came within two outs of hurling a no-hitter as he hurled the Broncs to victory in the nightcap. Paul Zubak spoiled it with a seventh-inning single. Odessa got one other hit.

Two home runs aided the Big Spring cause. George Murphy got a four-master in the third and Bronc manager Joe Niesdon hit one in the sixth. The bases were empty each time.

ONE-MAN FORUM— Jay Calls Turn On Pitcher

By ABE WEINER

A superstition, says the erudite Noah Webster, is an irrational abject attitude of mind toward the supernatural. . . . But to Jay Haney, it's "a hunch." And Haney's hunch proved to be 100 per cent correct and not the least bit irrational Monday night when he selected Fred Rodriguez to pitch on "Jay Haney Night" against the San Angelo Colts.

You see, the Midland skipper recalled another night for him several years ago when he was managing Lamesa in the West Texas-New Mexico League. On that occasion Lamesa fans presented him with a new automobile and his Lamesa team gave him a victory over Abilene.

How does Rodriguez figure into the picture? Simply enough, he was the Abilene pitcher who was charged with the defeat that night. So, you see, Mr. Midland Skipper figured that since Rodriguez lost once on a "Jay Haney Night," he certainly should win on another. Nothing irrational about that, Mr. Webster.

The people of Midland paid tribute to a great guy Tuesday night. Jay received over $400 in cash and bonds and countless other gifts, including gift certificates for clothes, $100 worth of dancing lessons from Arthur Murray Studios, a caddy cart from "the boys"—the Midland Indians—and many other items.

It was just a little over a month ago—June 3—that Jay received his one and only boogie before a Midland crowd. This column at that time pointed out that "you just flat have to admire the guy" for standing up in the face of such treatment and saying he was going to continue to play the game his way. We're glad to see that Midland fans have changed their minds.

One of Haney's gifts was the following epistle (several greenbacks attached):

ADVICE ON HOW TO MANAGE A BALL CLUB

1. When you are leading the league, keep doing what you been doin'.

2. When you are in the first division, be sure and beat all the second division clubs.

3. When you are having a little trouble winning, just ask anybody in the neighborhood what to do.

4. If nothing else will help, just ask anybody sitting in the box seats around first base 'cause everyone I've heard talk have bound to have been big league managers sometime or another.

All kidding aside, the fans are with you, and we will be helping all we can in the playoffs.

Signed: A HANEY FAN

"You can put out down right now in the newspaper that I gonna heat home run tonight."

It was Julio de la Torre speaking. He had just learned that this corner had wagged Lou Dawson and Ralph Blair that Julio's string would be stopped by San Angelo Tuesday night (the Colts had stopped two other Indian hitting streaks).

Julio isn't a man of his word. He didn't get a home run. Just three doubles!

When Scooter Hughes played a double-header against Odessa with a high temperature and collected five hits in seven trips, Roger Dalla Betta quipped:

"I think I'll go sit on a stove and run a temperature myself."

Apparently he did, because since that night he has:

1. Drove in the three tying runs against the Oilers the following night.

2. Hit a home run against Big Spring Saturday.

3. Drove in the winning runs against Big Spring Sunday.

4. Collected three hits and drove in one of Midland's run against San Angelo Monday.

5. Started Tuesday night's winning rally with a triple after two were out.

Brooks Stores scored twice in the bottom of the sixth inning Tuesday night to take a 6-4 American Legion victory from the Hornets.

Tight defensive play by both sides was the feature of the game.

The Hornets went three-up in the third on a pair of hits and a couple of walks, but Brooks knotted the count in their half on only one safety intermingled with walks and errors.

The Hornets scored again in the third but Brooks came back with the tying marker in the fourth, setting the stage for the winning rally.

Hollody Gregory of Brooks got a single and a triple in three trips while Bobby Brown got two singles in three times up for the Hornets.

Lonnie Howard was the winning pitcher and Jack Harris the loser.

Gold Sox, On Move, Tip League-Leaders Again In WT-NM

By The Associated Press

Amarillo continued its mastery of league-leading Lubbock Tuesday night with a 4-0 victory over the West Texas-New Mexico League's top club.

Big Nelson Reeves completely humbled the Hubbers, setting them back on two hits. The Gold Sox, who have won six of the eight games played with Lubbock, knocked off Bob Gale, crack Lubbock hurler. It was Gale's second loss of the season.

Second-place Clovis smacked over Abilene, 7-0, with Roy Parker pitching a three-hit shutout. The Pioneers racked up Abilene hurler Al Richardson for 14 hits.

Albuquerque stayed within fighting distance by downing Pampa 6-4.

Joe Hinchman, although allowing 11 hits, won his fourteenth game of the season for the Dukes.

Borger stopped Plainview 10-7. Plainview Shortstop Bobby Brown handled 10 putouts at his position and a WT-NM League record was established.

Brown's total was three more than the previous record.

Persley Rules As 2-1 Choice Over Cuban Orlando Zulueta

NEW YORK—(AP)—Art Persley is a 2-1 favorite to make Cuba's Orlando Zulueta his thirteenth straight victim at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

The odds belle the ratings. The 25-year-old Cuban is ranked fifth in the lightweight division. Persley is tenth.

But Persley is coming and Zulueta may be going. The 29-year-old Red Cross, La., negro has been waiting a long time for his chance to move and he's finally getting it.

This is Persley's first main event in the Garden and the 8 p.m. (EST) 10-rounder will be telecast coast-to-coast by CBS. A good showing not only would move the broad-shouldered Persley higher in the rankings but also could put him in line for a title shot with Champion Jimmy Carter.

His 12 wins in a row makes the hustling Persley the most consistent fighter among the top 135-pounders.

In his last showing, a 10-rounder with Percy Bassett on May 18, Persley easily outclassed the interim featherweight champion. That victory propelled him into the rankings for the first time.

His record in the book is 39-2-2. He hasn't been beaten since Luther Rawlings flattened him in three rounds June 8, 1951.

Zulueta's record is 43-18-9. In four fights this year he stopped Raw-ings in five, split two decisions with Wallace (Bud) Smith and drew with Joey Brown. The slender Cuban has a fast left, a good right, and takes a good punch.

Homers Boost Bums' Margin

By BEN FLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

"Just look at those Bums. Tink where we'd be if we had some pitchin'. Even widout pitchin' we win it easy."

That's a Brooklyn fan's view of the National League pennant race and while it's a little early to say that anybody is going to "win it easy," he's not far wrong on the pitching. It has been pretty poor.

To hide this defect the Dodgers have unlimbered their home run artillery. They hit for the circuit six times in winning a pair from Pittsburgh Tuesday, 5-4 and 9-5, and set a National League record of blasting at least one out of the park in 21 consecutive games.

In neither contest did the starting Brooklyn pitcher stay the distance. They usually don't. In 76 outings the Dodger mound staff has turned in only 23 complete games.

The twin triumphs edged the Dodgers two and a half games ahead of the second-place Milwaukee Braves, who won a single encounter from Chicago, 4-1. The St. Louis Cardinals outlasted Cincinnati, 7-6, and the suddenly improved New York Giants won twice from Philadelphia, 5-3 and 9-1.

The Philadelphia Athletics broke an eight-game losing streak with a two-run ninth inning rally that brought a 5-4 decision over the New York Yankees.

The Yankees' two nearest pursuers both profited. Second-place Cleveland moved to within five and a half games by handing the St. Louis Browns their twentieth straight home defeat, 6-3, a major league record.

Chicago used a pair of Detroit misuses to score in the ninth and beat the Tigers, 3-2.

Skinny Brown of the Boston Red Sox pitched the day's only shutout with the Washington Senators as his four-hit victims, 2-0. Jerry Lane, making his major league debut, allowed just one run in eight innings before being lifted for a pinch hitter.

Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Jackie Robinson hit home runs in Brooklyn's first game at Pittsburgh but Carl Erskine left under fire when Preston Ward made it close in the ninth with a grand slam home run for the Pirates.

In the second game Preacher Roe, one of the weakest hitting pitchers ever to lift a bat in the majors, hit the first home run of his long career in organized baseball. Before it was over Billy Cox hit a pair.

An infield single by Gus Zernial and a long fly by Pete Suder drove in the winning runs for Philadelphia against the Yankees. With the bases loaded and one out in the ninth Zernial bounced a fast hopper at Pitcher Allie Reynolds. It looked like a double play but the ball hit Reynolds on the left arm and bounded away, permitting Ed McGee to score from third. Suder followed with his drive to the outfield that brought home the deciding tally.

American Softball Clubs In Zany Night

Talk about turnabouts! Consider the city's American League softball games when the loop closed out its final round of scheduled play Tuesday.

Schlumberger, for instance, hung up its spikes after 19 straight defeats—beating Gulf, 11-9, in the final. First place Tide Water, too, sustained a third defeat in a 20-game season when Conoco prevailed, 11-8.

And zaniest of all, Bell Telephone was coasting along with a 3-2 lead over Texaco going into the fifth inning, only to see the Oilers bat out of the light pitchers duel with 12 hits for 19 runs that frame.

Texaco won out 21-3, needless to say.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS
by the House Doctor

QUESTION
How can I keep the shingles on my roof from blowing up and off in windstorms?

ANSWER
Apparently you have asphalt composition shingles on your roof. If this is the type of shingle which you do have and they are in fairly good condition, it is very easy to remedy this problem by using a little of shingle stick and applying it under the tab of every shingle.

QUESTION
I wish to paint my kitchen wall. At the present time I have wallpaper and it is spotted up with grease. What should I use to keep the grease from bleeding through?

ANSWER
The best way to prepare the wall is to paint the wall with a good rubber base paint. This is also a washable paint but if you would like to apply an oil base paint apply it directly over the rubber base paint.

Travelers Rally, Clip Rotary Nine

A rallying Travelers Pony League team backed up the no-hit pitching of Dennis Patton over the final four innings to overtake the Rotary nine for a 7-3 victory Tuesday.

Rotary collected all five of its hits, with Larry Goetz hogging two of them, for a 3-1 lead through two innings.

Patton though hurled shutout ball the rest of the way.

Douglas Hatfield then clinched matters with a two-run homer for the Travelers in the seventh.

Wally Grabs PGA Crown By 2-1 Win

BIRMINGHAM, MICH. (AP)—Wally Burkemo, the new Professional Golfers Association champion, is a 34-year-old ex-sergeant whose most noticeable characteristics are a shock of unruly blond hair and an upright swing.

He beat Felice Torza, the little "Tiger" from St. Charles, Ill., 2 and 1, in the PGA finals Tuesday.

Torza, the stubborn "chiller" who had cooled off one "hot" golfer after another, matched him almost stroke for stroke during the morning round over the 6,465-yard, par 42-35-71 Birmingham Country Club course.

But at the start of the afternoon 18, Burkemo cut loose, shooting birdies on the first two holes. He won the third straight by chipping stiff for his par on the third.

Both he and Torza agreed those holes just about settled it, although the "Tiger" didn't yield until the thirty-fifth hole. The other decisive blow, Torza said, came on the twenty-sixth hole. There Torza was right in front of the green in two shots and Burkemo, in trouble off the tee, was 100 yards farther back. Wally fired an iron shot so close to the pin that the putt for a birdie-four was a formality.

Eagles Win, 9-4

Ralph Clemmons and Benton Castleberry each shared hitting honors with two apiece to pace the Eagles to a 9-4 victory over the Lions in the South Little League Tuesday.

Frank Blaylock had two doubles for the losers.

Conoco, Phillips Nines Meet In First Of Softball Make-Ups

The JayCee Athletic Committee, sponsors of the city softball leagues, announced the loops' makeup schedule to complete the season within the next week and thus clear the way for a quick start into the playoffs.

Martin Allday of the JayCees said Wednesday that nine games will be made up with most games holding an important part in determining which three clubs will compose the forthcoming Shaughnessy playoffs.

Western Inspection of the National League and Tide Water of the American League, however, are cinch first place winners in their respective circuits after grabbing long leads. Both lost only two games and held enough margin to coast through the regular schedule which winds up Wednesday night.

The final games Wednesday include two regularly scheduled, Rotary vs. Rendesvous and Texaco vs. Southwestern Bell, and one make-up Continental vs. Phillips.

The slate for the other eight scheduled games are:
Thursday—Magnolia vs. Phillips, 6:30 p.m., Rotary vs. Western Inspection, 8 p.m. and Rendesvous vs. Humble, 9:30 p.m.

Monday—Texas vs. Tide Water, Rotary vs. Phillips, Humble vs. Magnolia, at the same time, in order.
Tuesday—Phillips vs. Rendesvous, 8 p.m., and Rotary vs. Phillips, 9:30 p.m.
The Humble-Magnolia game opens with one strike on the leadoff batter for Humble in the fourth inning after it was reset at that point following an early season protest. Phillips led at the time of the protest by 8-0.

High Crime Rate Brings Warning From FBI Speaker

More than 100,000,000 citizens of the United States will be the unpleasant victims of hoodlums within the next generation if the nation's crime wave continues its present rate of increase, Charles W. Brown of El Paso told Midland Lions at their regular meeting Wednesday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

Brown, special agent in charge of the El Paso office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was the guest speaker at the luncheon. He was introduced by State Rep. Hulon Brown.

The speaker discussed the crime picture in the United States today, citing figures showing the rapid increase in crime since the war years.

In 1946, a major crime was committed every 18.7 seconds, he declared. Today, a major crime occurs every 15.2 seconds. The number of crimes increased from a grand total of 1,685,000 in 1946 to more than 2,000,000 in 1952, according to the FBI agent, who discussed the responsibility of the FBI and local law enforcement agencies in combating the upswing in the nation's crime rate.

Nine Million Criminals He said that in 1924, the FBI's Identification Bureau in Washington, D. C., had 810,000 fingerprint cards, as compared to more than 127,000,000 today. He explained that out of the tremendous number of individuals who have been fingerprinted, approximately 9,200,000 are known criminals, who have created the greatest crime wave in the nation's history.

Numerous old gangs have been reorganized, he stated, and many new ones have been formed. He cited the actual organizing of gangs of youths between the ages of 12 and 17 years from whom adult gangs recruit new members.

"An aroused public opinion concerning the entire crime problem is necessary if the challenge is to be met," the speaker declared. "Until this is done, crime in the United States will continue its upswing."

Vice President Robert Pine presided at the meeting in the absence of President Duke Jimerson, who is attending the annual convention of Lions International in Chicago, Ill. A report on the success of the club's Fourth of July celebration was given by Carl Hyde.

Midland Radar Operator Describes Vain Winter Try At Cutting Seaway To Nome

A Midland radar operator was aboard two of America's sturdiest icebreakers which failed last winter in an attempt to cut their way by sea to Nome, Alaska—and apparently sailed within less than 40 miles of Russia.

Coast Guardsman Bill Burton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Burton of Midland, was a crewman on the Coast Guard cutter Northwind, which, with the Navy ship Burton Island, made the 47-day expedition and sailed close to the Chukotya Peninsula of Soviet Siberia. Distance from Red territory has been set at less than 40 miles, though the Coast Guard has declined to say how close the ships came to Russia.

New Try Scheduled The vessels were operating in the Bering Sea, which lies between Alaska and Siberia.

Burton, who telephoned his father Tuesday night from Seattle, Wash., said his ship will leave Wednesday night for another try at the ice-breaking job.

One crewman was killed, he said, and another injured in an ice-blasting accident during last winter's attempt.

Several of the men, he continued, suffered frost-bitten faces, and "all of us had to wear heavy face masks."

The Coast Guard said the ships made two tries at chopping and blasting their way to Nome, the Associated Press reported Wednesday. The first, along the Western coast of Alaska, had to be abandoned when the ships couldn't pierce the giant ice floor.

River Engineer Says Texas Drouth On Wane

AUSTIN —(P)—Drouth on the wane? The Lower Colorado River Authority has figures to indicate it is—just as one of its consulting engineers predicted for 1953.

C. L. Dowell, LCRA chief hydrologist engineer, keeps a lot of records and figures on the Colorado.

For instance, he can tell you that if there were no dams on the Colorado the river's flow past the Austin gauging station in 1950 and '51 would have been only 25 to 28 per cent of normal.

And that in 1952 the flow rose to 87.2 per cent of normal—a calculated total flow of 1,606,000 acre feet.

So far this year, prospects still are looking up. Dowell has just finished his calculation for the first six months of 1953. His figures: 466 million acre feet.

That's 18 million feet more than he figures for the first six months of a year ago.

"We're looking for some big rains to help out more before the year is over," he said.

He has his expectation on two factors: Big rains that often come in the fall—like last September's torrential downpours in the watershed.

And a long-range forecast by Abraham Streiff, who built all the LCRA dams and studied weather cycles on the side.

"He hasn't missed yet," Dowell recalls. And some of Streiff's predictions date back into the '20's.

Streiff told Dowell Colorado runoff would begin to rise in 1952, that it would be pretty good in 1953 and '54, that it would be high in '55 and '56.

Dowell's figures so far follow that trend exactly.

Streiff, now working in New York, contends that Texas weather runs roughly in seven-year cycles, ranging from bad drouth years to peak rainfall years and then back to drouth again.

Two years ago he told The Associated Press the floods would begin to come back to the Colorado River in 1953. Last September's flood was the first in years—four months ahead of the Streiff schedule.

"There's a certain rhythmic recurrence, a certain systematic sequence that makes it possible for us to forecast with reasonable assurance just what to expect in the way of rainfall and runoff for years ahead," he said in 1951.

He emphasized the "reasonable assurance" and noted conditions might not always conform locally to the overall pattern.

"You may get rains during a dry year at one place and a dry spell during wet years in another place, but if you study the area as a whole you'll find the cycles," he said.

Dowell, who corresponds with Streiff, says they both still are counting on the cycle sticking to its pattern.

Polio Incidence In Texas Increases AUSTIN —(P)—Eighty-one new cases of polio were counted in Texas as last week—the highest seven-day tally so far this year.

The State Health Department said the upsurge—18 cases more than it counted the previous week—was not an rise was just about "A seasonal rise was just about," health officer George W. Cox commented. He said he hoped the jump would impress on people the "constant need for strict summer-time sanitation."

The new cases brought the state toll so far this year to 562, still far below the count for the same period last year.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

LOVE IS THE GREATER PART of valor, or home-ownership is the greater part of security. Start your security program by owning 3303 Cunningham Drive. Only 6 months old, it has 2 bedrooms, nice living room, and convenient kitchen. ONLY $300 down (no closing costs), and make payments of $53 monthly. Priced at a low $6,950.

STAR LISTINGS
WELL ARRANGED 3-bedroom home in the 2800 block of Delano, corner of Powell, Carport and storage space. Paved street. Priced at $11,500, with FHA loan already established. Shown by appointment only.
UNUSUALLY LARGE 2-bedroom stucco, located at 1011 North Main, 1100 square feet. REDUCED to $9,250 for quick sale.
THIS 3-BEDROOM beauty has one of the most beautiful yards in town. 2 full baths and many other nice features, including location ONE block from school. It is in excellent condition and has a tile fence. The purchase price of $16,000 is very reasonable.

HOW MUCH MORE WONDERFUL when winter comes because Midland will have TV, and in this home, you'll have a wood burning fireplace in the living room. Located in Grafaland, this recently constructed brick home has 2 bedrooms and a large paneled den, 2 tile baths, separate dining room, and attached kitchen. The superlatively attractive kitchen has an off-setting breakfast room (pine paneled), pantry, and washer connections. Huge closet space, lots of carpeting, and well designed. Tile fence, and nicely landscaped. Priced at $21,900.

MY RECIPE FOR HAPPINESS. First you take a little dream, then you add some plans, materials, and a paved street. You let them simmer while you choose your colors. Then PRESTO! A BIG HOME... with 3 bedrooms, tile bath, huge living room and dining area, wonderful kitchen, generous closets, and an attached carport with a separate utility room. We put in insulation so we take the padding out of the price which is only $10,750. ONLY $1656 down including closing costs. And imagine, your little dream has grown to almost 1100 sq. ft.

MOTHER WILL CAST BLESSINGS on the architect of this brick home which fronts 80 feet across the street. Less than a yearling, it has 3 wonderful bedrooms, private den, 1 1/2 baths, and 2 air-conditioned bedrooms. CENTRAL HEATING with central controls, and the luxury of quiet carpeting throughout. Nicely landscaped, high tile fence, and philanthropic water well. Designed so that you don't have to go. Drive the living room when entering. $28,900.

FATHER WILL KICK HIMSELF because he did not call sooner to see this larger-than-most homes. 3 nice-sized bedrooms, spacious living room with dining area, large kitchen with YOUNGTOWN cabinets and pantry, and tile bath. The attached garage with its storage room easily converts into a huge den. Enough space to equal eleven full closets! Oak floors, mahogany doors, and all in immaculate condition. You do not pay one cent (I would say "red" cent, but I'd be called a Communist) over $1,700 down. No closing costs. Assume 4% loan. Priced at $11,800.

THE 3 MOST IMPORTANT THINGS to remember when buying a home are: 1) Location, 2) Location, and 3) Location. So, let's try Harvard Street. Designed with a comfort that is almost a luxury of quiet carpeting throughout. 2 bedrooms and den paneled, with oak block floors), ceramic bath, spacious living room and dining room combo, and 2 carports attached. Central heating and air-conditioning, wood-burning fireplace, and softly carpeted. The 80 foot lot is nicely landscaped and fenced in privacy. The tile bath upon living, make it comfortable one in this home. Priced at $18,900.

I'LL BE FRANK, and you put up the ERNEST money! Being un-corny, tho, here is magnificence at a miserly price. Constructed of Austin stone, this home has 3 bedrooms, 2 tile baths, we-are-entertaining-at-home type living room, and a pine paneled (hand waxed and rubbed) kitchen with a separate breakfast or dining room. Ideal traffic arrangement with clay tile on the hallway floor. Central heating, automatic features, and nicely carpeted. The twin carports are attached, and there is a 15 foot storage room. It's only 3 months old, yet it has large trees and grass. $18,950.

IF YOU ARE DOLLAR-CONSCIOUS (and we all inescapably are), then remember this caution: Oil prices are up, steel is up, wages are soaring, etc. Everet, and building materials and costs have never been known to suffer from a price drop. Buy today so that you will not have to borrow tomorrow.

Telephone Cable Reaches Out Toward Permian Estates Area

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has started installation of underground cable at Wall Street and the Andrews Highway Junction, Bill Yeatts, district manager for the company, announced Wednesday. The cable was shipped in June and is the first step in bringing telephone service to the Permian Estates, one of the largest major construction jobs ever undertaken in West Texas, Yeatts said. In a move to better the existing schedules for giving service in the Permian Estates as a result of a meeting between telephone officials and Permian residents last week, Yeatts said the placing of all poles now is 30 per cent complete and will be 100 per cent complete by July 20. Anchor placing is 20 per cent complete and will be finished by July 25.

Efforts to improve shipment of cable also have resulted in improving existing schedules to the extent that all cable will be received by the middle of October.

"These dates represent as firm an estimate as can be obtained at this time," the district manager said, "and barring unforeseen circumstances, they will be met as planned."

The start of the cable project means that service will be furnished in the fringe areas (those areas nearest existing service) by October 1. Between that time and January 15, when all telephones will be installed, waiting applicants will be served as fast as aerial feeder cable can be shipped and spliced into service in their respective areas, Yeatts explained. Telephones and cable behind homes will be installed in many cases prior to the actual splicing into the larger feeder cable. At the time of the meeting with the Permian residents, the date that company officials could give for starting installation of telephones was Jan. 1, 1954, to complete sometime during the first quarter of 1954.

"This much improved schedule represents the best efforts of many people in our company to bring service to Permian Estates at the earliest possible date," Yeatts said.

WEST TEXAS SUPPLIES ANSWER—

Grass Fires? No; There's Not Enough Grass To Burn

By The Associated Press

No grass. No grass fires. It's not really that simple, of course. But because of West Texas' drought, there isn't much grass. So there haven't been as many—or as big—grass fires this Spring and Summer as usual.

Naturally, there are other reasons. But in a survey the reason repeated most often was: "There just isn't enough grass to burn." Midland, Lubbock, Big Spring, San Angelo and Abilene are typical of cities in the heart of the drought area where lack of grass is considered the big reason.

J. R. Julison, assistant fire chief at Wichita Falls, agreed, but he listed five other factors as well. (1) Spring showers, though light, in the Wichita Falls area helped prevent fires; (2) new fire prevention signs on the highways have been heeded; (3) better fire-fighting equipment and greater cooperation between ranchers and nearby towns; (4) ranchers have worked together, stationing fire guards around pastures; (5) fire departments throughout the area have developed greater efficiency.

At Fort Worth, Tarrant County Agent Jack McCullough, added another reason. He said people are becoming more aware of farmers' needs for grass and are being careful.

Farmers Plow Fire Breaks
In several areas, including Fort Worth and Abilene, farmers were reported taking the precaution of plowing wide fire breaks around their land, especially on roads and highways.

Eastern Tarrant County grass died out last year, and has been free from fires this year. Western Tarrant County has a good stand of grass, but firemen say there have been few fires because there have been few thunderstorms to touch off the dry grass with lightning.

Grass fires have been reported almost daily in the Borger area since June 1, and the number has increased sharply since July 1. However, there have been no serious fires near Borger. The largest—touched off by fireworks—burned 40 acres on a ranch east of town July 4. Borger firemen said some people may be taking care, but mostly the area has just been lucky.

A series of fires near Bryan, outside the drought-disaster area in Southeast Texas, led fire marshal Sam Noto to warn: "The grass looks green, but it's dry enough to burn." Dry Weather Is Asset

On the other hand, Lubbock firemen have found the dry South Plains weather an asset in keeping fires down. They answered about 15 grass fire calls between January 1 and July 1—an average of one every 12 days. Last year, when more rain fell, firemen answered about 100 calls in the same period of time.

The firemen said it's obvious that because of lack of rain grass hasn't grown as tall or as rapidly as usual, and they worked around to the No. 1 reason: Not enough grass to burn. At Midland, firemen agreed with County Agent Charles Green that—yepp, he said it, too—there "just isn't enough grass to burn." But they added that "people are probably a little more careful, too, due to drought conditions."

At Sherman, firemen have been averaging one minor grass fire daily, and conditions are reported ripe there for serious fires.

But at Paris, in North Texas, few grass fires have been reported. Marshall Fire Chief Carl Bechtold said grass fires have been increasing daily, but spasmic showers have been a help. He said the area is approaching tinder stage and more rain is needed.

ELEMENTARY, DR. WATSON

LITTLETON, COLO. — (AP) — You've heard of the fellow who "put his foot in it." Deputy Sheriff William Maragos found him Tuesday.

The sheriff was investigating a break-in at Petersburg grade school. He saw a series of barefoot tracks in wet paint on the school-room floor. He just looked around town until he found a 12-year-old boy with paint on his feet. The boy said he was there and implicated four other youngsters.

Sympathetic Sleepwalkers Offer Tips To Leaf-Picker

ENID, OKLA. — (AP) — Advice from sympathetic sleepwalkers all over the nation has been pouring in to the Enid police department after a 27-year-old housewife, still snoring, was found up a tree near her home covered only by an occasional leaf.

She was awakened by her husband and the two fell into a life net spread underneath the tree by the fire department.

A woman in Lillian, Ala., advised the husband to place a wet rug or a pan of cold water near the bed. The theory is his wife, who sleepwalks in the nude when the moon is full, will wake up when her feet touch the water.

And an elderly gentleman from York, Pa., says the best way to stop sleepwalking is to place the women's shoes on the floor with the toes facing the wall. Then, he says, when the sleepwalker climbs out of bed and puts on her shoes, she can't go anywhere because she already is standing against the wall.

The distraught husband is searching for a remedy — aware the moon will be full again in about three weeks.

Midlanders See Street Riot In Rome Instigated By Reds

A Communist-inspired riot rocked Rome, Italy, following the execution of the Rosenbergs in the United States.

And Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Shannon of Midland were right in the middle of it—observing the street rioting from inside a photographic shop, less than 50-feet away from the club-swinging battles.

It was one of the highlights of the Shannon's trip which took them to England, France, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. They attended the annual convention of Rotary International in Paris and the coronation in London. Dr. and Mrs. Shannon returned to Midland last Saturday after a two-month absence.

Describing the riot, Dr. Shannon, a past president of the Midland Rotary Club, said demonstrations against America had been conducted most of the day, with the street fighting breaking-out in the late afternoon. Only Italians were involved in the 20-minute scrap in which scores of persons were knocked down "and hauled off." Strolling along the block in which the rioting occurred, Dr. and Mrs. Shannon stepped inside the small shop to observe the unscheduled activity. They returned to their hotel when order had been restored. "Marvelous Trip"

"It was a marvelous trip," Dr. Shannon said, "and I learned things about Europe I never dreamed of."

He was impressed with the efficiency of crop-growing in Germany, Belgium and Holland, but said most other countries he visited are "150 years behind the United States."

"And if you think coffee is high in Midland, you should order a cup in Europe," the Midlander stated. "And the worst part, it is no good either."

Dr. Shannon said that from his observations, he believes most European countries are making fairly good use of Marshall Plan aid.

He termed the Italian women the most attractive and best dressed in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Shannon liked Switzerland the "best of all," and hope to go back there someday.

Poor Little Gyp, Or Stinky, To Stay In Pen Two Months

Poor little old Gyp, caught in the middle of an extended court battle, faced a lonesome future Wednesday.

Two families are fighting over him and the children of both families are ready and willing to give him the love and affection most little dogs expect.

But Gyp—or maybe he's Stinky—must remain in the Midland Humane Shelter at least two more months.

Last week, a six-man jury summoned by Justice of the Peace L. C. Stephenson, awarded the dog to Rebecca Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mason.

But Gyp had to go right back

Italian Premier Struggles To Organize New Cabinet

ROME — (AP) — Premier Alcide De Gasperi grappled again Wednesday with the unwanted job of trying to resolve Italy's growing government crisis. He sought to line up enough support to give him a new cabinet with a reasonably stable future.

The 72-year-old leader of seven postwar governments tried to sidestep the task Tuesday but reluctantly yielded to President Luigi Einaudi's insistence that he attempt to take hold anew of the governing reins.

After a three-hour conference with the President, De Gasperi emphasized that he has not formally accepted the mandate — he has "a possibility of accepting if I find I am able to form a government."

Wednesday, he resumed discussions with political leaders in the hope he can drum up sufficient support for his pro-Western, middle-of-the-road policies.

De Gasperi's reluctance pointed up the seriousness of the political crisis that has been developing since the June parliamentary elections drastically trimmed the big majority previously held by the premier's Christian Democrats and three small allied center parties. The balloting left the center bloc with only a 16-seat margin in the Chamber of Deputies and a 13-seat majority in the Senate.

Adding to the Premier's troubles, his weaker allies have been hesitant to cooperate fully with any new government he may form.

Lawyers Claim Four Errors In Conviction Of Lubbock Slayer

VERNON — (AP) — Defense attorneys singled out four points in asking a new trial for Walter E. Whitaker, Jr., given the death penalty June 27 for the strangulation slaying of his Lubbock girl friend.

The 21-year-old Hartford, Conn., youth was convicted in the January 8 death of Joyce Fern White, 18. He helped officers dig up her body from a shallow grave in a field near Lubbock.

In their appeal filed Monday, Whitaker's lawyers asserted:

1. Evidence was insufficient to show more than a case of murder without malice;

2. The verdict was contrary to law, and the law of murder with malice was improperly submitted to the jury;

3. The court erred in permitting a pathologist to testify because the autopsy was incorrectly ordered;

4. The court erred in instructing the jury not to consider the defendant's oral statements on the issue of insanity unless they found other corroborating evidence.

ODESSA — Ector County voters have turned thumbs down on a $690,000 road bond issue, unofficial returns Tuesday indicated.

County Commissioner Tine Davis said the unofficial vote was 1,000 for and 838 against, short of the two-thirds majority required to pass the issue, called to provide some 34 miles of new roads and widening of old roads in the county's four precincts.

SAN PEDRO, CALIF. — (AP) — An albacore tagged by the California Fish and Game Commission last August 4 five miles east of Catalina Island showed up on a Japanese fisherman's hook 324 days later.

The commission's laboratory received word Tuesday that the fish was caught 530 miles southeast of Tokyo. It was 30.4 inches long when it was tagged and 33.2 inches when caught. The commission estimates the fish averaged better than 15 miles a day in its 5,000-mile swim.

WHAT THEY WRITE HOME ABOUT—

Lawmakers Reveal Vital Data On Lore Of Capitol

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Paper clips . . . bird calls . . . cuspidors . . . land's sakes, what won't these congressmen dig up next? The weekly newsletters your legislators dash off to the home folks often provide remarkable nuggets of information. Today's output says higher than usual in oddity content.

Take those paper clips, for instance. Rep. Oakley Hunter (R-Calif.) has this to say:

"Taxpayers who have demanded an end to waste and duplication in our government will be happy to learn that in the last three months the General Services Administration, which does most of the buying for the government, has decided to buy ink in standard two-ounce bottles like everyone else does—instead of demanding one and three-fourths-ounce bottles, which cost more money."

Instead of 10 different types of paper clip, GSA has decided four will do the job and that 10 types of metal clothes locker will suffice instead of the 136 varieties GSA has been demanding. These revisions alone are expected to save hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Disappearing Cuspidors
Then Rep. Charles R. Howell (D-N.J.) reports on a problem that never may have occurred to you: How do the guides who conduct sightseers around the Capitol know in advance whether the Senate is going to be in session?

Simple, says Howell: "They glance down the corridor leading from the Capitol rotunda to the Senate chamber. If they see two large cuspidors outside the main Senate entrance, they know the Senate will be in session that day."

Finally there is the matter of the quorum call—a ringing of bells to summon enough senators or House members to transact official business.

Rep. Norris Cotton (R-NH) tells of a colleague who was entertaining an overly talkative woman constituent. Seems she chattered on about the wonders of Washington at such length that he wanted to get away from her, so in desperation he cocked an ear and said:

"Excuse me, I think I heard a quorum call."

"I'm sure you did," gushed the visitor. "Isn't it wonderful that you have so many lovely birds in Washington!"

UN Troops Smash Chinese Onslaught

SEOUL — (AP) — Victorious American and South Korean infantrymen mopped up the remnants of two Chinese regiments Wednesday after smashing the onslaught of some 6,000 Reds on the western front.

The battles, which opened at 10:45 p.m. Monday, dropped to a sporadic stage Wednesday as Allied infantrymen crept through an intense Chinese barrage to rout out the last Red survivors.

Troops of the ROK 2nd Division had just about cleared off their position on Arrowhead Ridge by noon, but the U. S. 7th Division still was working on small knots of Chinese who have holed up in old bunkers on the western slope of Pork Chop Hill.

Southwest of Porkchop, a new action flared as the Communists slammed neighboring Outposts Berlin and East Berlin just before midnight Tuesday. Heavy artillery fire punctuated the attacks.

Rocked back after dawn, the Reds regrouped and surrounded East Berlin briefly, but Allied defenders sent the assault force reeling again by noon and secured their positions.

After a partial lifting, mist and drizzling rain closed down over the front again in what appeared to be the final stages of the five-day storm that turned the battlefield into a quagmire.

The haze slowed ground support missions by the Air Force, but during the night B-26's got in their heaviest strike in almost a week, attacking Red convoys, a switchyard and Red front positions.

Off the east coast of Korea, skies cleared and the mighty U. S. battleship New Jersey slipped in near shore and lambasted enemy build-ups north of Anchor Hill.

Husband Charged In Wife's Slaying

Hutto is in Williamson County, about eight miles west of Taylor.

Scouts Hit Trail To Summer Camp Site Next Sunday

El Centro District Boy Scouts again will start enjoying outdoor life Sunday when the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains "opens for business" Sunday after a two-week rest.

"I imagine there'll be more than 100 boys, mostly from the Midland area, who'll go to the ranch Sunday," P. V. Thorson, Scout chief here, said Wednesday. "They'll spend a week up there and return home the following Saturday."

At least 500 boys made the trip to camp during the first four weeks of the season, Thorson pointed out. This is, he said, an average figure on ranch records.

The ranch will open its doors July 19 to negro Scouts, who'll also spend a week in the mountains. Midland has a negro Scout troop and Cub Scout pack.
