Illness Timed 'Just Right'

Aneurin Bevan's left-wing laborites in England have been urging Prime Minister Churchill to meet with Premier Malenkov of the Soviet Union whether the United States

But now Churchill has been ordered by his doctors to take a complete rest and he won't be engaging in any international conferences for a while-either in Moscow

We don't wish anyone poor health. Least of all the redoubtable and beloved old statesman of Britain. But we can't help observing that his illness couldn't be timed

At Bermuda he surely would have put the pressure on President Eisenhower to okay a four-power meeting with Russia. The French would have backed this play.

And if Eisenhower had gently but firmly pointed out that we had nothing to lose in any such conference with the Russians except our shirts, the temptation for Churchill to "go it alone" in one last effort to get peace in his time would have been almost overwhelming.

Bevan's arguments might not persuade the aged prime minister, but the vision of a place in history as the world leader in peace, as he was in war, might be the will o' the wisp to lure Churchill into negotiations with the Kremlin.

Pacific Railroads right-of-way on

The 10 feet sought is needed to provide the required 80-foot right-of-way set by the state for a four-lane thoroughfare.

The four-lane strip through Stanton would be part of the new highway which stretches to the city limits, and between the Midland and Howard County lines. The proposal, if okayed, would allow the city to trade the northern

25 feet of South Front Street, virtually abandoned street, to the T&P Railroad for 10 feet of rightof-way along the northern side of the railroad's present property line An unfavorable vote would force the city to decide whether to buy right-of-way for a highway around Stanton, or to move building fronts now on the northern end of the present Highway 80 and pay dam-
