Flowing Discovery Is Uncovered At Wildcat In Howard

A prolific flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian reef has been uncovered at Oceanic Oil Company, Charles C. Green and J. W. McSpadden No. 1 Winans, wildcat in North-Central Howard County.

Heavy flow of oil was developed on a drillstem test in the top of the reef from 8,140 to 8,170 feet. Tool was open two hours and 17 minutes.

Oil surfaced in three minutes, mud in six and oil in seven minutes. Flow was to pits 10 minutes. It was then turned to tanks where it made 90 barrels of oil the first hour and 118 barrels of oil the second hour. The flow was gauged through a .five-eighths-inch top choke and a one-inch bottom choke.

Operator reversed out a full string of oil after tool was closed. No formation water was found above or below the circulating sub.

Operator will run electric log surveys and then set five and one-half-inch casing on top of the reef which is at 8,140 feet, derrick floor elevation 2,696 feet. It is more than 140 feet high to nearby dry holes in the Pennsylvanian lime reef.

Flowing pressure on the above test was from 2,500 to 2,900 pounds and shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 2,250 pounds.

The operators own interests in 1,120 acres of leases surrounding the discovery which is 1,980 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 25, block 33, T-3-N, T&P survey and one-half mile south of the town of Vealmore.

Magnolia Stakes Three Projects In Pegasus Pool

Magnolia Petroleum Company has staked three new locations in the Pegasus field. Two of the projects are in Southeast Midland County and one in Northwest Upton County.

Magnolia No. 12-A John Windham will be drilled to the Ellenburger in the Midland County side of the field. Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 20, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey and 19 miles southwest of Midland.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 13,300 feet, beginning at once. No 12-A John Windham is the other Midland County test. It is scheduled to 10,700 feet with rotary tools for a test of the Pennsylvanian.

Drill site is 660 feet from south and west lines of lease in section 19, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey and 21 miles southwest of Midland.

In Upton County, Magnolia will drill No. 2-B TXL to 10,700 feet to test the Pennsylvanian.

It is located 1,980 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 31, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Ellenburger Oil Is Found At Test In SW Coke Area

Interesting shows for possible Ellenburger production have been found at Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and others No. 1 Counts, wildcat in Southwest Coke County.

Drillstem test was taken from 7,415 to 7,447 feet. Tool was open two hours. No gas or fluid surfaced while tool was down.

Recovery was 4,000 feet of gas in drilpipe, 15 feet of 47.5-gravity oil, 60 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 150 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud.

Flowing pressure was zero and 15-minute shut-in pressure 2,000 pounds.

More hole was being made. The prospector may be taken into the Cambrian.

The Ellenburger was topped at 7,430 feet by samples, minus datum point of 4,900 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and 7,871 feet from east lines of section 32, block Z, D&SE survey and 11 miles southwest of Robert Lee.

NW Garza Wildcat Shows As Well In San Andres Pay

Three-way Drilling Company and S&W Company of Midland and associates No. 1 J. R. Durrett, Northwest Garza County wildcat, four miles northwest of the town of Post and one and one-half miles northwest of the Garza (San Andres) field, has shown for a small pumping producer and is to be completed.

Dulles, Party Land In Korea 13 Hours Late

SEOUL—(AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived Tuesday night to confer with President Syngman Rhee on American-Korean relations.

Dulles' plane, carrying Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, and several of the secretary's top aides, landed 13 hours late after a flight across the stormy North Pacific.

By flying to Korea, Dulles fulfilled a pledge he made before the signing of the Korean truce—that a high-ranking American diplomat would visit the fiery South Korean president if Rhee agreed not to obstruct an armistice.

Dulles will visit Rhee at 10 a.m. Wednesday (7 p.m. Tuesday CST).

President Eisenhower's trip to Korea last December demonstrated his deep interest in Korea and that is an abiding interest, Dulles said.

"I hope and believe that these talks, conducted on a basis of mutual respect and mutual cooperation, will help insure that respite from war, how made possible by the armistice, will be transformed into an honorable and lasting peace for all Korea."

"I hope and believe that these talks, conducted on a basis of mutual respect and mutual cooperation, will help insure that respite from war, how made possible by the armistice, will be transformed into an honorable and lasting peace for all Korea."

"I have put aside heavy duties in Washington to come to Seoul to talk with Dr. Rhee as evidence to all the world that the United States highly respects the views of the Republic of Korea and that we intend to cooperate in the ways of peace as well as of war."

He added that "we shall try" to concentrate on a common effort toward the unification of Korea by "peaceful means."

There were anxious moments between 9 a.m. Dulles' original scheduled arrival time at Seoul, and an Air Force announcement more than two hours later that the secretary's plane had not left Shemya until 9:47 a.m.—12 hours late.

Presumably the delay was caused by stormy weather over the Aleutian route which the planes took from McChord Air Force Base Wash., although there was no official explanation.

Dulles is scheduled to confer five days with Rhee, unhappy partner in the Korean truce.

Before his departure, Dulles called the talks "a preliminary exchange of views with the government of the Republic of Korea" prior to the post-armistice political conference.

He will discuss with the fiery 78-year-old president a U. S.-Korean treaty to strengthen the war-torn country against the possibility of future Communist attack, and the American plan to make Korea a "show window of the free world" by using troops for rehabilitation.

The White House stressed Monday that combat troops would not be used for construction work. A presidential secretary said that instead, technical training and equipment will be used to speed reconstruction of South Korea.

Seal-Coating Starts On 100 More Blocks

The seal-coating of more than 100 blocks of city streets was started here Monday.

City Public Works Director J. M. Orman said crews of the contracting firm of Burleson & McWhirter began the job in the northeast section of the city.

The first streets to get the new coating, he said, will be Spruce, Pine and Pecan Streets between North Big Spring Street and North Lamesa Road.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—At the stroke of midnight, the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress wrote final to a mixed record of action and lethargy in helping President Eisenhower fulfill his campaign pledges.

But the lawmakers left behind for their second session beginning January 6—or a possible special meeting this Fall—an imposing list of key measures which will make or break their record.

Many of the hottest potatoes, including some of the President's recommendations, simply were left in the bin. Others, on the advice of the President, were handed to study commissions for closer scrutiny.

Eisenhower will give the nation his own estimate of this session's achievements in a radio broadcast Thursday, from 7:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. CST, to be carried by all major networks and possibly rebroadcast later.

Monday night he sent letters of "warm thanks and appreciation" to the House and Senate for the long hours they put in.

Official windup time for the Senate was midnight local time. Actually it ran 39 minutes longer, but the adjournment resolution made midnight the final hour.

The end came in the House at 11:07, just three minutes before Senator Morse (Ind-Ore) began a speech in the Senate attacking the Eisenhower Administration's power policy. About a dozen senators were still on hand at the final gavel.

But the end didn't come in the House before an angry debate over a resolution to open the way for members of Congress to give themselves a pay raise.

Matters Of Money

The House approved the resolution, 171-28—without a record vote—setting up a commission which would recommend the proper salary level for congressmen and members of the judiciary.

WELCOME GATE—GI's raise a sign reading "Welcome Gate to Freedom" at the processing center of the UN Freedom Village near Munsan, Korea. Personnel at the processing station now are ready for the first prisoner exchange, scheduled at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Texas time.

400 Allied Prisoners Near Freedom Gate In Panmunjom

PANMUNJOM—(AP)—Four hundred Allied war prisoners—70 of them Americans—come home to freedom in a few hours, opening the happiest postscript to the Korean War—"Operation Big Switch."

The big trade of Allied war prisoners for Reds begins at 9 a.m. Wednesday (6 p.m. Tuesday, Texas time).

The Reds are handing over 12,763 captives—3,313 Americans, 8,186 South Koreans, 922 British and 342 from nine other Allied countries. Four hundred will be freed daily, 100 each hour for four hours.

Some spent almost all 37 months of the Korean War in bleak prison camps in North Korea.

They'll return to freedom at this neutral center where Allies and Reds met for two years and finally wrote an armistice July 27—the ticket to freedom for the POW's.

The Allies are giving the Reds 74,000 prisoners—69,000 North Koreans—3,313 Chinese—at the rate of 2,400 a week and 360 sick and wounded daily.

On the eve of the great exchange, Red Cross representatives from both sides crossed the line at Panmunjom to begin inspection of prisoner camps and to comfort the home-bound captives.

Reds Given Lift

Thirty Allied members went north, the first time in more than three years that any Allied representative has gone into North Korea without fighting.

Thirty Reds came south under protection of UN military police, grinning like schoolkids at their first ride in helicopters.

Panmunjom itself rustled restlessly as "the hour" neared.

The Reds said the first group of 100 men to be freed would be sick and wounded—35 Americans, 50 South Koreans, eight Turks, two Filipinos, one Briton, one Australian, one Canadian, one Belgian and one South African.

An hour later, at 10 a.m., they'll hand back 50 South Koreans, 25 British, 10 Filipinos, seven French, seven Colombians, and one Greek.

The 11 a.m. group will include 35 Americans, 15 Turks and 50 sick and wounded South Koreans.

At noon, 100 South Koreans will be released.

Allied troops hurried through last-minute preparations to care for the freed captives.

Communist correspondents said the first Allied captives arrived by train Monday night at Kaesong.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Welburn Mayock, former counsel for the Democratic National Committee, said Tuesday he gave the Democratic Party $30,000 of a $65,000 cash fee he got in 1948 for obtaining a favorable ruling from the Treasury in an income tax case.

BONN—(AP)—The Bonn government has offered to sell Communist East Germany 25 billion marks ($5,879,000) worth of food to help ease the hunger crisis there, West German authorities said Tuesday.

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY—(AP)—The U. S. Army Tuesday lifted its ban on Army newsstand distribution of the publication Overseas Weekly, originally imposed because the paper featured "sex and prostitution."

MADRID—(AP)—General Franco Tuesday renewed his wartime claim that Spain should have Gibraltar, which Britain has held since it was seized from Spain in 1704.

General May Miss First POW Exchange

MUNSAN—(AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean apparently will not be among the first American war prisoners returned by the Communists at Panmunjom Wednesday.

The first group of prisoners to be freed by the Communists arrived at the Red armistice camp in Kaesong Monday night, and Communist correspondents said they had no knowledge of Dean arriving with the group.

Midland Dairies Hike Milk Prices

Milk prices have gone up a penny a quart, according to new prices posted by three Midland dairies.

Spokesmen for Borden's, Banner Division of Foremost Dairies, and Tennessee Dairies all reported one-cent wholesale price increases effective Monday.

All spokesmen attributed the rate increase to higher prices the dairies are paying the producers, according to the Production Marketing Administration schedule.

John Hassell, manager for Banner, reported the price paid to the producer has risen more than one cent within the last two months. Banner has continued to operate without passing on the increase, but the dairy no longer is to do so.

"We're only asking for a one-cent increase," he said.

H. B. Schauer, general manager for Borden's, said the situation was similar at his plant, explaining that the increase was inevitable as the production of milk was dropping off.

"There usually is a lot of milk throughout the country," he said, "from February through June and then it begins to taper off. Now that production is down to a low again the price naturally goes up. From all past indications and records there is a chance that the price may rise again before the first of next year."

F. C. Mote, general manager for Tennessee Dairies, said, "We had been charging below what we should have, but were unable to absorb any further loss."

A check with grocery stores showed that the retail price also was up a cent a quart on all three brands.

Hearing Announced On School Budget

Hearing on the 1953-54 budget will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, School Supt. Frank Monroe has announced.

Final Rites Held Tuesday For Senator

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Senator Robert Taft, one of the nation's leaders, was interred in the little community which has claimed him as its own for three decades.

His family and close friends were the only ones at a simple funeral service in the little slate-roofed Indian Hill Church.

Fifteen miles away in downtown Cincinnati, public officials and the public gathered in Christ Church for a memorial service.

Taft's body was brought back here Monday after a state funeral in Washington. He died Friday of cancer. An estimated 15,000 persons viewed the closed bronze casket Monday and Tuesday night in a funeral home.

The church choir sang the hymn "Fight the Good Fight With All Thy Might" in opening the services. The hymn was selected by the family as the senator's favorite. In accord with Episcopal custom, there was no eulogy.

Police Smash Gangs, Throw 150 Into Jail

BERLIN—(AP)—More than 6,000 Communists invaded West Berlin Tuesday and made three attacks on food stations in an effort to break up the free distribution of American food to East Germany's hungry.

West Berlin police called out reinforcements and beat back the columns of riot gangs with clubs and water guns in swirling street battles.

Dozens of heads were cracked, and about 150 Communists, including seven women, were arrested.

Police said they expect more attacks. They reinforced their guards around the free distribution centers and moved mobile guns up to strategic spots.

The invasions took place in the American and French sectors.

"We gave them a good beating," said a West Berlin policeman in the American sector.

The riot in the American sector was started by young Communists who infiltrated into a food station area in the guise of food-seekers. While standing in line they began jeering police and the Americans.

When minor scuffling with police broke out the infiltrators were joined by a body of young Communists who rushed across the sector border.

First Direct Attacks

The attacks by Communist storm columns were the first direct attempt to smash food stations in West Berlin. But during the last week the Reds have manhandled hungry Germans who returned home with American aid packages.

The Communists who have imposed a blockade on train tickets to Berlin in an effort to stop the floods of hungry from East Germany to the food centers.

Some 3,000 Red toughs stormed across the border into the French sector.

Another 3,000 attacked in the American sector and battled West Berlin police in a street fight.

Some 150,000 East Berliners defied Communist police threats and sporadic confiscation of food parcels Monday and visited the free food stations. Many more thousands swarmed over the sector border Tuesday despite Communist disturbances.

New Strikes Reported

West Berlin's American radio station told the Germans who are barred from coming to Berlin that the parcels would be held for them until they can get through the Iron Curtain.

New strikes and demonstrations against the blockade were reported in East Germany.

The East Zone police struck back, hunting down East Germans who had returned with the Western parcels, seizing the food and imposing fines and other penalties. Communist-controlled East German newspapers were filled with "blacklists" naming people who had received American aid.

But most East Berliners Tuesday appeared to be getting home safely with their Western food, even those who carried openly past police at the sector border.

Water Tank Foundation Bids Sought

Bids on construction of foundations and a booster pump station for a new 1,000,000-gallon water storage tank will be received August 24, City Manager W. H. Oswald announced Tuesday.

Construction of the huge tank and booster station will mark the final phase of a new water development program designed to bring adequate water to Midland with satisfactory pressures throughout the city.

Contract for the ellipsoidal tank itself was awarded last year and construction is expected to be started by the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company in November.

The tank will be located about a quarter-mile west of the northwest corner of Permian Estates, just outside the city limits.

The new tank will serve the area lying west of Powell Street. The city manager said these residents, when the tank is completed, will have the best water pressure in the city.

Foundations themselves constitute a major project. They involve the pouring of some 400 cubic yards of concrete designed to support 10,000,000 pounds of tank structure.

Bottom of the tank will be approximately 100 feet in the air, the highest elevation of any storage tank in the city.

Small Hotel Blaze Claims Eighth Victim

Named in the complaints were Edward Allen Cuppe, Lonnie Alton Sison, Leroy Ledford, Joe Bob Carriger and Frank Craft.

Craft, arrested Sunday night, gave officers a signed statement naming the other four as being involved with him in five other burglaries.

Charges were signed by Detective Sgt. Wayne Taylor.

Light Rain Showers May Produce Cool Weather For Area

Thunderstorms boomed in West Texas Monday night while Midlanders braced in a sandstorm propelled by 25-mile-an-hour winds.

The city cooled in mid-80 temperatures Tuesday morning after the mercury soared to 106 degrees late Monday. It was the highest reading here since early July.

Forecasters indicated light rain showers here late Tuesday afternoon on the wings of 25-mile winds. Clouds filled skies over Midland Tuesday morning.

The Weather Bureau at Dallas expects no important change in West Texas conditions through August 9. Its five-day forecast was issued Tuesday.

Heavy showers dumped more than two inches of rain in Southwestern Tom Green and Eastern, Erion Counties Monday afternoon. An estimated inch of water temporarily flooded downtown San Angelo streets. Lubbock measured .77 inch. Childress reported 1.04 and Mineral Wells an inch. Waco received 1.17 inches to top other sections of the state.

Temperatures were generally high in West Texas Monday. Readings included Presidio 107, Wink 105, Big Spring 104 and San Angelo 102.

Hottest Potatoes Are Left In Bin As Congress Closes Books For 1953

The House approved the resolution, 171-28—without a record vote—setting up a commission which would recommend the proper salary level for congressmen and members of the judiciary.

In the closing hours that included a pause for tribute to the late Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), Congress pushed through final agreement on a huge $31.2 billion dollar program to finance the spending of the government and the armed services in the year which started July 1.

The bill was trimmed but not enough to balance the budget.

The outlook is that despite the cuts there will be a whopping $3,800,000,000 deficit at the close of the fiscal year.

Next year's meeting will be able to start work much more quickly on the money bills. The Eisenhower budget for fiscal 1955 will be submitted in January. This year it was May before the new regime could finish its revisions of Truman's 1954 budget.

This is a listing of some major items left over for 1954:

1. National debt ceiling—The President and his legislative leaders decided Monday to take another look at tax collections in September, and then decide whether a Fall session would be required.
2. Tax revision—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has promised to have a comprehensive re-writing of the tax laws ready in January.
3. Broadening of social security (Continued On Page 12)

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

The too-apologetic person makes others uncomfortable. For the more he apologizes, the more others have to protest. So let others take you as you are and take what you have as it is instead of always having an apology ready.

Apologizing for a mistake is well and good, but apologizing for what you are and what you have makes everyone uncomfortable.

'Impulsive' Action

President Eisenhower has spoken many times of the need for revamping the country's whole tax structure to make it fairer, more balanced, more logical.

Congress, however, decided that it could not wait to wipe out inequity as it affected the movie industry. It canceled the 20 per cent special excise levy on movie tickets.

There can be no question the film industry needs that kind of relief. Nevertheless, granting it at this time will establish a bad precedent. For the relief claims may be almost as strong for numerous other groups now chafing under the excise tax burden.

There are other reasons why the move is unwise. The government needs the money. Congress has just finished extending a very unpopular levy, the excess profits tax, because it would be politically embarrassing to have that corporate levy lapse while income taxes remain unchanged.

It doesn't make sense, therefore, to chop off $120,000,000 in revenue unless substitute funds are somewhere in sight.

Congressional performance in the excise tax field has been pretty generally dismal. The excises were adopted as "wartime emergency" taxes. Naturally they were slapped on where the getting was good, in the entertainment field, transportation and communications, cosmetics, and some so-called luxury items like luggage and handbags.

As so often happens in such matters, the "emergency" never seemed to end. Year after year Congress has evaded the problem, leaving these fields inequitably burdened because they were a good source of revenue and that was the path of least resistance.

Now, characteristically, Congress takes sudden alarm when it feels pressure from one of the industries the excises have been hurting these many years.

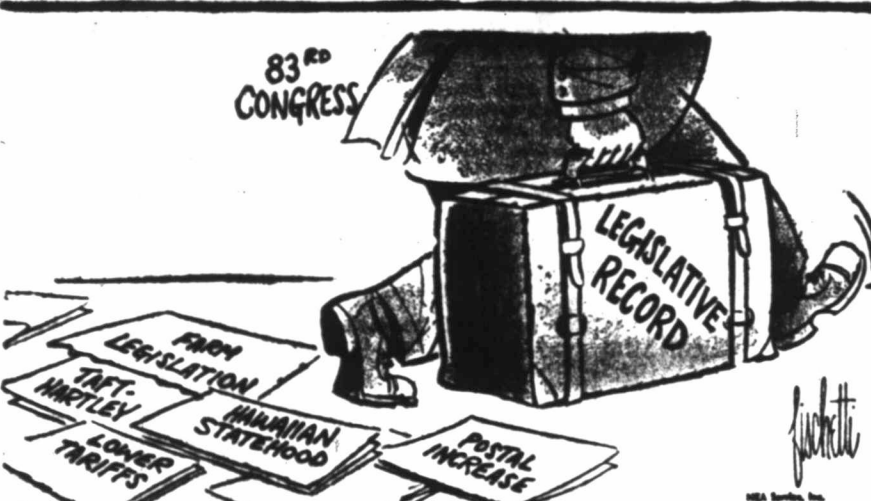

The whole case, from the "emergency" passage of the taxes through the long inaction to today's impulsive but partial relief, might be offered as a sterling example of how not to make and pass laws.

Turning in your government bonds comes under the head of very bad capital punishment.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Secretary Hobby wanted less funds for medical research; With four senators dead of cancer, Congress overruled Mrs. Hobby; Candidates for the presidency should have careful physical exams.

WASHINGTON—While Senator Taft was fighting for his life in a New York hospital, a matter involving a cure for cancer came up in Congress which disturbed his Senate colleagues.

Mrs. Ovesta Culp Hobby, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, sent a letter to Director Joe Dodge of the Budget Bureau indicating that her budget for cancer research alone be cut by some $5,000,000 and asking that her total budget of medical research be cut by $10,000,000.

It seemed to senators that this was a matter of balancing the budget at the expense of human life.

The proposed Truman budget for medical research was $70,000,000. But the efficient Mrs. Hobby, earlier in the year, had drastically cut this to $64,000,000. Disagreeing, the Senate upped the figure to $69,000,000.

It was this increase by the Senate which brought Mrs. Hobby's objection. Writing to Budget Director Dodge on July 11, she called attention to the fact that the Senate was voting more money for her department than the House of Representatives.

"The larger increases suggested," continued Secretary Hobby, "might tend to discourage participation by private or other non-federal funds. Therefore, the House level of appropriation in the medical research field would seem to deserve consideration."

Private Funds Inadequate Tragedy is that private fundraising for medical research never has been remotely adequate. Walter Winchell, who faithfully has plugged for cancer research for years, has only been able to raise $5,000,000 in that time. In comparison, Congress has voted approximately $20,000,000 for cancer every year.

Mrs. Hobby proposed that cancer money be reduced this year to $15,780,000, which was a cut of $4,220,000 from the Truman budget.

With Senator Taft dying and with three other senators out of four dead of cancer in the last three years—Wherry of Nebraska, Vandenberg of Michigan and McMahon of Connecticut—Congress in the end voted against Mrs. Hobby. They voted $20,287,000 for cancer—about what Truman had proposed.

Note—While proposing a decrease for cancer, Mrs. Hobby got President Eisenhower to write a letter to Senator Thye of Minnesota asking that Congress increase funds for her.

PETER EDSON'S Washington News Notebook

Tough Place To Work... Pass On Fireworks Bill... Senator's Women Problems... Labor Comments

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Assistant Secretary of State Walter R. Robertson is about as much of an "old China hand" as there is to be found around the State Department under the Republican Administration.

China has been the graveyard for more American officials' careers than any other section of the globe. It has made no difference what position any of these officials may have taken on the China question.

There is even one rather ominous story going around about Secretary Robertson. When he first was approached on taking the job as assistant secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, Robertson consulted his old friend General MacArthur, whom he admires greatly.

There seems to be considerable curiosity and concern, Senator Kerr concluded, "over the fact that neither the present Speaker Martin nor the former speaker, Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, get himself a wife. Perhaps the reason is that each man desires to be the 'head of the House'."

Anti-Labor Congress American Federation of Labor's League for Political Education has started a new weekly, four-page, typewritten newsletter to match a similar publication put out by CIO Political Action Committee for a number of years.

One comment in the printed and dummy won with the ace. Root drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and king, discovering that West still had the queen of spades. He then led a club towards dummy, and West hopped up with the King of clubs.

Bill mentally reviewed West's bidding. West had doubled for a takeout and had raised diamonds to the level of four. Root knew that West had started with three spades to the queen and a rather shabby holding in diamonds (since East had been able to drop the queen of diamonds as a signal on the first trick).

Obviously West had the ace-queen of hearts, and just as obviously West must have a singleton somewhere in the hand to give him some excuse for this strong bidding.

West assumed the singleton had to be in clubs, so Bill Root let West hold the trick with the king of clubs. This made it possible for declarer to develop the club suit without giving the lead to East. South's king of hearts was thus safe from attack.

If West led hearts, South would win a trick with the king of hearts. If West failed to lead hearts, declarer could eventually discard a heart on dummy's fifth club. Either way, the contract was safe.

American Visitor Discovers Belgian Economy Stabler

By J. H. Allison

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM—Here we are in Brussels—population 1,308,000. The people here are more German and not as industrious as the Dutch—nor as clean either. But they are all ready to take the foreigner's money.

Brussels has fine shops and the women tourists really are buying fine furs. A more stable economy is evident here, with better wages and prices not so high.

Other observations: On pigeon fights seems to be quite popular and pigeons are sold on quads on the big market square. Trading seems to be good in this unusual and interesting market place.

No Capital Punishment It is interesting to note, too, that there is no capital punishment for crime here.

The streets here mostly are narrow—crowded with pedestrians, cars and old-fashion bicyclers. Other observations: The people are not so bound-up in tradition and royalty worship as in England and Holland. The Germans took over completely here during the war. The government appears to be a bit more socialist.

Packard Earnings Double '52 Mark DETROIT—Packard Motor Car Company's sales and earnings for the first six months of 1953 were approximately double those for the same period of 1952.

Sales for the period were $22,251,062, as against $10,521,441 the first half of the previous year.

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE

A sick-hearted old gentleman was elected county judge and, the district judge dying, the governor appointed the old fellow to that place. His first case was that of a young man who threw himself on the mercy of the court. The testimony showed that the prisoner had squandered every penny his parents could spare and then when they had no more money, in a drunken rage, he killed them both. The old judge looked over his glasses at the defendant and said, "Now, son, you know you ain't been 'right'."

Beside the Laughing Water

A Romance by LOUIS ARTHUR CUNNINGHAM

THE STORY: In spite of everything, Gavlin Wayland had loved Lillith Greeme that he loved her. He doesn't know that she is the daughter of his brother's best friend's death in action during the war.

XIV "Not that first day—not when you saw me with Avis on the terrace there at Edgemere." "Even then. But I knocked away from it then. It bled me off my feet."

"You didn't show it. You didn't seem at all unbalanced; rather the reverse. I thought you didn't even see me or saw only a little school teacher wearing glasses and her hair in a bun."

"What are you afraid of? For there is something, isn't there?" "She knew the wise thing to do was to wash her hands clean of all this; that, otherwise, she was most certainly headed for trouble. But she was trapped, as much by her earnest appeal, as by her own wish to help him if she could."

"I'll do what I can for you, but you must promise me that there will be no more of this." "You're hard, Lillith. You ask a lot of me—maybe more than I like to promise."

"It had to be like that, Gavlin, if you want to see me again. This means much to me, believe me. I don't want to get tangled up in a lot of things, emotions."

Strange Trade Of Prisoners Leaves Questions Unanswered

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent
ON THE KOREAN TRUCE FRONT—To 10,000 American families, whose sons were captured or killed by the Communists in Korea, prisoner exchange "Big Switch" will offer no holiday from heart-break.
They will continue to hope without fact and pray without proof.

"MIA"—Missing In Action—still will be carried next to the names of many GIs, fliers and Marines and cloud with uncertainty the days and nights of their loved ones.
Uncensored Interviews
Besides the naked evidence of eye-witnesses, securely locked in Army files, common sense and uncensored interviews verify the fear that countless American boys were murdered or permitted to die through lack of proper medication, or still will be held in remote Communist cells after "Big Switch."
The latest MIA figures total 13,285. Our negotiators in Panmunjon secured the freedom of 9,313 Yankas.
There has been an official tendency during the long months of truce-seeking to blanket the frightful fate of our young men. This shouldn't be lightly criticized, for they were thinking of tomorrow as well as yesterday.
Evidence Locked Up
During the early part of the conflict, when we were deep in North Korea, I accompanied Army and Navy photographic teams which took thousands of feet of film recording the atrocities. We then planned to try Red warmakers for crimes, a la Nuremberg. But later, after setbacks, the photographic evidence was pad-locked.
The uglier truth is that the Communists were more considerate of British and other UN captives than Americans. A typical affidavit, offered by a Commonwealth trooper released during "Little Switch," told how he was originally caged with Americans. Later, the Chinese found he was from a British division. They apologized and shifted him to vastly improved quarters.
Look at these telltale figures: 3,313 Americans will be released, against 920 British. Yet at no time has there been a combat line with less than seven Americans for every British. In major battles, the U. S. units were under the most pressure.
Into Slave Labor?
In exchange of 12,763 soldiers, we are sending back 74,000 Communists. It's a strange trade.
Our negotiators time and time again expressed disappointment at the Communist figure, but they refuse to let the dream of peace be wrecked over this matter.
Americans previously released said there was no question but that many GIs were marched deep into China and USSR itself.
All this is a repetition of previous Soviet trickery. Long after the Russians said they no longer were holding Japs and Germans, hundreds escaped or were released—sick and broken; of no further value as slave labor.
As we move from military truce to political parley, the ghosts of the missing Americans will tap, tap, tap on the shoulders of UN diplomats.

FOREWARNED IS FOREARMED

NORTH SMITHFIELD, R. I.—(AP)—The effectiveness of a radar-equipped car designed to detect speeding motorists couldn't be proven in a demonstration Monday.
State police, motor vehicle officials and traffic safety leaders awaited an offender on which to test the mechanism on a four-lane highway. But all cars passed at acceptable rates of speed.
Two troopers, unaware of the test, were checking speeders one mile up the highway.

Sash Believed Worn By Virgin Mary Discovered

WORCESTER, MASS.—(AP)—Discover in Syria of a sash believed to have been worn by the Virgin Mary was announced Monday night by American Archbishop Mar Athanasius Yeshue Samuel of the Assyrian Apostolic Orthodox Church.
He said he learned of the discovery in a letter from Mar Ignatius Ephrem I, Syrian Patriarch of Antioch and All the East.
The letter said the sash was located in a fragile glass case beneath the altar of the centuries-old Church of Our Lady of the Girdle of the Virgin Mary, in Homs, Syria.
The glass casing disintegrated at touch, the letter said.
An ancient legend said the sash was in the church but specified no resting place. The church was built in 58 A.D. and altered several times but the altar has remained in place 1,894 years.

Democrats Propose Cancer Scholarships As Memorials To Taft

GI Named Sheriff In Kentucky County

WICKLIFFE, KY.—(AP)—An Army private was elected sheriff of Ballard County in Saturday's primary, but he won't wear his badge until he finishes his military hitch, including an assignment overseas.
Ernest (Billy Bob) Crice won the Democratic nomination and he has no opposition in the November general election.
The 27-year-old soldier announced his candidacy while on an eight-day leave earlier this year. That was the only time he spent in the county during the election campaign.
Crice said he will report to Camp Stoneman, Calif., where he will be assigned to the Far East. He has 18 months left of his two-year enlistment.
He said he would appoint a deputy to hold down the office until he returns.

Mexico To Divide Huge Hearst Ranch

MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—The secretary of Agriculture said Tuesday the huge ranch in Mexico of the late William Randolph Hearst will be taken over by the government and divided among small landowners.
The ranch of about 160,000 acres is located in the State of Chihuahua, which borders Texas and New Mexico.
Under Mexican agrarian laws, large ranches and farms may be expropriated and divided among small farmers. Original owners of the land are paid in long-term government bonds.

JULY POSTAL RECEIPTS UP

July receipts of $44,540.04 pushed Midland Post office revenue to $300,976.90 for 1953.
The July figure, said Assistant Postmaster Frank A. Smith, represents a 2.9 per cent hike over the same month last year, and an 8.4 per cent boost over June receipts.
Smith is serving as Midland post chief during the absence of vacationing Postmaster N. G. Oates.

Co-Op Meeting, Electric Show Slated In Stanton

STANTON—A gala two-limbed celebration in Stanton Thursday and Friday will wrap into one package the annual meeting of the Cap Rock Electric Co-Op stockholders and a star-filled Electric Fair.
Heading the notables' list will be Boso, The Clown, called one of America's funniest clowns. Bozo offstage is H. R. Ray, a 63-year-old native of Weatherford, who joined the old Bailey Circus while a lad and stayed in show business since then. He did, however, take two breaks for duty in World War I and II.
Next in line are cowboy and hill-billy music by the Black Mountain Boys, San Antonio TV entertainers; the famous General Motors science show and previews of progress; special movies, a trained animal act including dogs and monkey; and one of the largest exhibitions of electric appliances ever held in West Texas. And, of course, there'll be a ferris wheel for the youngsters.
The appliance show from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. Thursday will kick off the two-day event. The exhibits, also, will be on show from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Friday.

Then at 2 p.m. Friday, the stockholders will meet, followed by an amateur hour featuring members of Co-Op families.
The public, whether members of the Co-Op or not, are urged to attend the affair.
"We believe," said O. B. Bryan, Co-Op manager, "that every person who has a home with electric service in it from any source, or who plans on having electric service, will be greatly interested in the exhibit of appliances and equipment furnished by dealers of this area. And we hope they will come out and see these things."

PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

A lot of little things add up to a column:

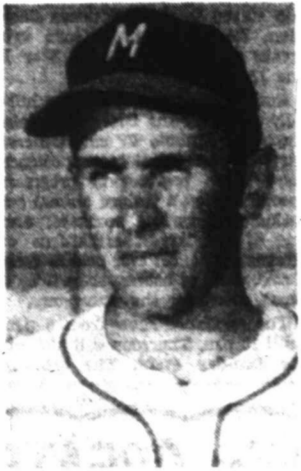

The deal the Midland Indians hoped to pull off this week would send Ralph Blair, National Defense Serviceman veteran, to the Temple Eagles. But Monday, the proposed date for his transfer found Blair still in Midland, nursing a most games-won-for-the-Indians record, eight, and no team to play for.

Blair happened to be the only Indian to chuck two shutouts this season...

They call him by a lover's name, new player Frank Casanova, but the recent addition from Big Spring is the biggest relief to the Indians tensions this season. Somewhat of a clown, Casanova announced his arrival into the Tribe camp his first day with a blast from a cow's horn, an item always with him.

He's the biggest laugh-getter with Midland since Ed Menapace left in the Spring...

Pennington Sidelined For Season

A single game, the one Sunday, prompts a lot of news: Don't you think Midland perhaps should have awarded the 1952 West Texas-New Mexico League pennant, to go with its own Longhorn flag of the same season, after whipping Carlsbad three straight times over the weekend? After all, Gene Wulf, Merv Connors, Goldy Gholson, Hank Williams and Bob Hobbs as well as Manager McLaughlin spent time with the Amarillo WT-NM champs last year...

Woody Pennington, for one, is "out for the season," Pat said, after a recently-sustained back injury. Woody came along in splendid fashion with the Miners, learning well as a starting second baseman under tutor McLaughlin. Where before he'd learned only a snappy pinch-hitter game while playing behind Scooter Hughes and Manny Tennes in the '52 Midland lineup, Woody grasped enough baseball as a Potasher to lead the league's second basemen in fielding averages before his '53 sidelining...

Little Man Scooter On Big Spree

The right-fielding Osorio brother, Pedro, who was beamed sometime back underwent a physical checkup in a local hospital through Sunday. rampage by Carlsbad Sunday in a hitless three trips. He swatted three homers, a triple and two doubles over the span of eight-games good for 14 runs driving in. Of quite another thing, in case you wondered Earl Perry isn't on the prowl for another manager's job although he was depicted as Artesia skipper in mid-season. "I'm not looking for anything," Perry said, "because once you're set in a play you don't want to leave. I like Artesia..."

Niedson's Hit Beats Colts

CARLSBAD, N. M. — Joe Niedson, former Big Spring manager, rejoined old teammates Monday night and slammed out a game winning two-run double to give the Carlsbad Potashers a 2-1 victory over the San Angelo Colts.

The loss cut the San Angelo lead to four games in the Longhorn League.

Niedson's double came in the second inning after Goldy Gholson and Elias Osorio had both singled for Carlsbad. It was one of only two extra base blows in the game.

The other was by Potasher John Treece who slammed out a triple.

San Angelo's lone tally came in the second inning also.

John Malgarini drew a walk, went to second on an infield out by Charley Galina, and scooted home when Dick Stone singled to center field.

After giving up the one run, Potasher Hank Williams settled down and hurled his way to his eleventh win of the year. Williams fanned five and walked four. San Angelo hurler Bobby Gregg walked three and fanned the same number.

A crowd of 2,100 saw the first of a two-game series between the two clubs.

Tuesday Gene Wulf will start for the Potashers. Either Ben Bonine or Gil Guerra will do the chores for the Colts.

Big Lead Blows Up In Oilers' Faces

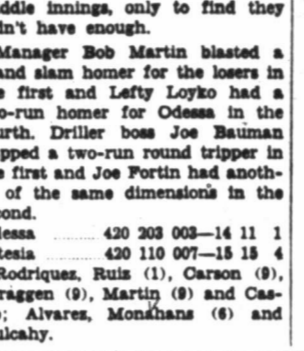

ARTESIA — — The stunned Odessa Oilers saw a six-run lead blow up in their faces as Artesia slammed in seven runs before a man was out in the ninth inning to come from behind and take a wild, 18-14 victory Monday night.

Leading 14-8 as the ninth opened, four Odessa pitchers couldn't get anyone out before the Drillers had blasted in seven runs and taken the victory. Included in the huge, free-swinging rally was a three-run triple by Armando Sanchez, a two-run double by Vince DiGiantomasso and Led Mulcahy's blast down the third base line that scored the winning run.

Orlando Zraggen, fourth of five Oiler pitchers to see service in the game, took the loss, while young Pat Monahans, coming on in relief in the sixth, got the win.

The two teams matched each other with four runs in the first and two in the second, but the Oilers steadily pulled away in the ROSWELL — — The Midland Indians continued to show life here Monday under the direction of Catcher Art Bowland as they routed the Roswell Rockets, 16-1, socking the game away in the first inning with a seven-run outburst.

Bowland, who took over management of the club Friday after Jay Haney drew an indefinite suspension for a fracas with an umpire, has a perfect record of four straight victories to his credit.

of the games. Max Newcom is scheduled to pitch the other. Bob Weaver and Juan Del Toro, both with 87 records, are scheduled to oppose them.

The first seven men the Indians sent to the plate Monday scored, and after a brief respite for Rocket reliever Rolando Muniz, the Tribe took up the work in the second, and waited until the sixth to inflict further damage.

Meanwhile, Jack Schaening had no trouble posting his fifth victory against two defeats. He permitted leadoff man Rocky Gonzales a triple in the opening inning, but after Gonzales continued on home as Scooter Hughes relayed wildly, he blanked the Rockets the remaining distance. He gave up nine hits, but was in trouble only once after Gonzales had scored.

Bill Brown hit his eleventh Midland home run and his thirtieth of the season in the eighth with none on base and Roger Dalla Betta followed shortly after with his seventh, also with none on.

Schaening got the backing of a wide-open 21-hit attack. Every man in the Indian starting squad got a safety, with 11 men notching hits off the trio of Rocket hurlers.

Oliver Ortiz couldn't get anyone out in the first inning as the Indians salted the game then and there with a seven-run spree. Lou Dawson and Mickey Diaz singled and both came in on Bowland's double. After Julio de la Torre had singled and Tex Stephenson walked to load the bases, Glen Selbo singled in two more. Hughes' first of two doubles got another and Schaening's single one more.

In the second, doubles by De la Torre and Hughes, wrapped around an infield single by Selbo, produced two more.

Muniz then held the Indians at bay until a four run explosion in the sixth. Six straight singles, by Diaz, Bowland, De la Torre, Stephenson, Selbo and Hughes did the trick.

Solo homers by Brown and Dalla Betta got another pair in the eighth.

The Indians wound up the devastating attack with a single run, engineered on a Rocket error, Frank Casanova's single and an outfield fly, in the ninth.

Schaening got the backing of sparkling play afield in taking the victory, and after the first pitch he delivered, had little trouble in subduing the Rocket batters.

Texarkana Advances Into Second Place In Big State Race

By The Associated Press

Texarkana took over second place in the Big State League Monday night, downing Longview, 6-3, with a three-run ninth inning.

The Bryan Majors knocked off Tylor, 6-2, and allowed the Bears to move up one notch.

The league-leading Wichita Falls Spudders, who can apparently do no wrong, topped Paris, 8-7, with five unearned runs in the seventh inning.

Temple beat Austin, 4-2.

Fain Named In $50,000 Damage Suit

WASHINGTON — — A $50,000 damage suit against Ferris Fain, brought by a man who said the Chicago White Sox first baseman struck him and caused him to lose six teeth, is pending here.

The suit was filed in federal district court Monday, but Fain, who himself had a gashed forehead, bruised left hand and scratched cheek, left Washington, reportedly for Philadelphia, before papers were served on him. He did not play in Monday night's game with Washington.

The plaintiff is James Judge, 28, an employee of the soldiers' home here.

He said the altercation took place shortly before midnight Sunday at a nearby Maryland inn.

James C. Toomey attorney representing Judge, said the disagreement began when Judge tried to cut in and dance with a woman acquaintance of his, then dancing with Fain.

Later, Toomey said, Fain dared Judge to ask her for a dance "if you've got the guts."

He did so, returned to his table when she refused, and then was struck in the jaw, the attorney contended.

Fain had no immediate comment.

Galveston Maintains Three-Game Margin

By The Associated Press

Galveston's favorite weapons, a big-inning and a good pitching effort, gave the Gulf Coast League leaders a 7-1 victory over Port Arthur and guarded the three-game White Cap lead Monday night.

The second-place Texas City Texans took advantage of last-place Lake Charles, 8-3.

Brownsville topped Laredo, 2-1, in a squeaker and Corpus Christi edged Harlingen, 4-3.

Friday Nominated As Likely Starter

HOUSTON — — The South was established as the favorite Tuesday in both of the Texas Coaching School All-Star games—basketball Thursday night and football Friday night.

A decided edge in backfield strength featuring the great Doyle Traylor of Temple and a brigade of big, fast, hard-running mates, made the South the choice to beat the North and run its dominance to four straight triumphs in football.

With giant Ellis Olmstead of Galveston terrific at the vit post position in the offensive of Coach Buster Brannon of Texas Christian and with smooth Jerry Mallett looking like a million on the scoring line, the South was a top choice in basketball.

The coaches were indicating their starting lineups in both sports as the squads went through practice a second day. Coach Johnny Vaughn of Mississippi thought these looked best on the offensive in football:

Coach Dallas Ward of Colorado liked these for his starting North team: Ends Mike Brady, Lubbock, and Charles Bradshaw, Center; Tackles Edmon Gray, Odessa, and Bobby Lockett, Breckenridge;

Plainview Advances Into Third Place Tie As Clovis Loses

By The Associated Press

Albuquerque and Lubbock, running one-two in the West Texas-New Mexico League, were both victorious Monday night and remain three games apart. It marked the second straight night both clubs won in the tight fight.

The only change in the league makeup occurred at third-place level. Plainview topped Pampa, 9-4, in 11 innings and moved to a third-place tie with Clovis.

The Pioneers were beaten by Amarillo, 22-5.

Albuquerque, behind Grover Blacksher, stopped Borger, 8-5, and made it "blue Monday" for the Gassers' new manager, Hershel Martin.

Lubbock drove over seven runs in the first two innings against Abilene and was then forced to add three more in the ninth, winning out, 10-8.

The quick success story in Milwaukee is positive proof that major league owners should see more of the country with the Braves' fans.

Milwaukee Sells Out; Fans Follow Braves, See Country

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The Braves may not be able to beat the Dodgers, but you can't beat their fans.

With the good burghers snapping up tickets like handfuls of tax free money, thousands of Milwaukee routers see the country following the Braves. Excursion engineers are having a wonderful time plotting new jaunts for Sudville addicts. A $99.50 package lured 500 of them complete with tin-pans, to Brooklyn, adding to the general din and confusion at Ebbets Field. They went home bitterly disappointed, but not less enthusiastic.

When the Braves returned to County Stadium, they found five dates of the 17-game stand already sold out, excluding 7,500 bleacher seats that are gobbled up before each contest. With space for most of the other engagements at a premium, rauid customers were purchasing perches for the September stay.

The total attendance for 39 home dates was 865,928. If the Braves continue to average 22,023, as they have, another 377,000 will be added and 1,242,928 will have seen Milwaukee games with a long September run to come.

Russ Lynch of the Milwaukee Journal first ran a thermometer "race" comparing this year's Milwaukee attendance with the measly 284,000 who paid to see the Braves

Plainview Advances Into Third Place Tie As Clovis Loses

By The Associated Press

Albuquerque and Lubbock, running one-two in the West Texas-New Mexico League, were both victorious Monday night and remain three games apart. It marked the second straight night both clubs won in the tight fight.

The only change in the league makeup occurred at third-place level. Plainview topped Pampa, 9-4, in 11 innings and moved to a third-place tie with Clovis.

The Pioneers were beaten by Amarillo, 22-5.

Albuquerque, behind Grover Blacksher, stopped Borger, 8-5, and made it "blue Monday" for the Gassers' new manager, Hershel Martin.

Lubbock drove over seven runs in the first two innings against Abilene and was then forced to add three more in the ninth, winning out, 10-8.

Westerner Coach Sees End Of Two-Year Victory Streak

HOUSTON — — Pat Pattison, coach of Lubbock's all-conquering Westerners, thinks his team's string will end this season—and quickly.

Lubbock will be defending state Class AAAA champion when the schoolboy football season opens next month. It will have two straight titles and 26 consecutive victories behind it.

But Pattison, here attending the Texas Coaching School, can't see the Westerners doing it again. And even if they do it won't be with an unbeaten record, he says.

He has two returning backfield starters—Jim Welch, all-state full-back, and Red Nolan, a fine half-back. But Nolan has just undergone an operation on his knee and probably won't be able to play before mid-season, said the Lubbock coach.

"I have two offensive linemen and three defensive linemen who were starters last year, and Nolan is the only one who plays both ways," moaned Pattison.

"Odessa, Pampa and Amarillo are going to make this the closest battle

Winter Pooh-Pooh Of Meyer Swap Backfires For Summer

By REN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

This might be an appropriate time to wonder what Steve O'Neill thinks now of that roundabout winter trade that sent Russ Meyer from Philadelphia to Brooklyn by way of the Braves.

The Phillies' manager pooh-poohed the idea at the time that Brooklyn had traded itself into the pennant. But with the season two-thirds gone, the temperamental right-hander's 11-4 record would look mighty good on the Phillies' pitching roster, which seems to consist almost solely of Robin Roberts.

And you can bet your bottom dollar the Braves wince every time they remember that they engineered the deal.

Meyer threw his second straight shutout at the Braves Monday night in Milwaukee, winning 1-0, in seven rain-soaked innings. He's beaten them four times this season against one setback. The victory moved the Dodgers 8 1/2 ahead of second-place Milwaukee in the National League pennant race.

During the winter the Dodgers had designs on Meyer but they weren't able to pry him loose from Philadelphia until Lou Perini and the Braves, then still in Boston, stepped into the trading picture. In a fast and involved deal the Braves got Meyer in exchange for First Baseman Earl Torgeson and cash and then shipped the pitcher to Brooklyn for infielders Jim Pendleton and Rocky Bridges. Bridges was swapped immediately to Cincinnati as part payment for First Baseman Joe Adcock.

Meyer has turned out to be the real prize in the package. His 11 victories loom large in the Brooklyn pennant picture. The Braves got themselves a good first baseman in Adcock but the big fellow is hitting only .269. Torgeson has improved his hitting from last year but still is a good distance short of the best at .277.

Pendleton has played only briefly in Milwaukee and is hitting .235. Bridges' current average is .224.

Meyer not only pitched a shutout Monday night, he batted in the winning run with a single in the seventh inning. With a runner on second base and two out the Milwaukee board of strategy ordered an intentional walk for Billy Cox and took their chances with Meyer, who hit a Lew Burdette pitch off Second Baseman Jack Dittmer's glove to drive in his first run of the season. He gave up four hits, struck out three and walked nobody.

Brooklyn has beaten Milwaukee 11 out of 15 games so far, including all six played in Milwaukee. Meyer didn't own exclusive rights to good pitching in the majors Monday night. At Washington Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox gave up just two hits in a 1-0 triumph over Johnny Schmitz and the Senators. And at Cincinnati Joe Nuxhall of the Redlegs limited Pittsburgh to five hits in winning, 5-0.

In other major league action, the St. Louis Cardinals whipped Philadelphia 8-3, and climbed within half a game of the third-place Phils. The New York Yankees smothered St. Louis' hapless Browns, 11-3.

Pierce's shutout was the fourth straight scoreless game in the Washington-Chicago series, which the two clubs split. The winning run scored in the ninth when Tom Wright was hit by a pitch, batted into shortstop Jerry Snyder while running on a sacrifice and continuing to third as the prostrate Snyder dropped the ball. He scored after a long fly.

Dick Smith got two of the five hits off Nuxhall, who was given a two-run lead in the first inning and a comfortable margin in the fourth when Andy Seminick homered with one aboard.

The Cardinals routed Jim Konstanty with four runs in the first and added three more in the second inning. Wilmer Mizell coasted with ninth when the Phils rallied with a two-run pinch-hit homer by Connie Ryan.

The Yankees maintained their five-game margin in the American League by battering St. Louis pitching for 18 hits. The attack included four triples and three doubles. Whitely Ford won his twelfth game against four defeats.

DISTANCE MEN—Willie Jones, Walt Droppo and Mickey Vernon, left to right, swat the ball for distance and drive in runs for the Phillies, Tigers and Senators, respectively.

Kit Carson, Hightower In Top Duel

Bill Hightower and Kit Carson, a former pro and former club champion, respectively, were squared off in the feature first round duel for Saturday's action in the Ranchland Hill Country Club member golf tourney.

Abe Beckman, Ranchland pro, announced the first round matches Monday with Carson, who won the event in 1951, leading a well-balanced lower bracket of the championship flight. Carson had carded a 72, one-over par for the 6,100-yard Ranchland layout, in Sunday's medalist qualifying.

Hightower, a former golf professional at Odessa, posted a 74. Another former titleist, City Champion Bob Wortman drew the fourth position, a lower bracket spot, after carding a 73 in medal play. He'll face Johnny Sherrod in Saturday's opening match.

Medalist Red Watkins, the only qualifier to beat par, drew Oddry Nelson as a first opponent. Watkins, the defending champion, scored a 69 Sunday.

Fewer Touchdowns On Tap—Ole Miss Coach Says Teams To Put Up Better Defenses

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

HOUSTON—(AP)—Don't look for games like your pappy played but there'll be a marked slump in the touchdown output this football season as emphasis goes on defense, says Johnny Vaught, coach of Mississippi.

The builder of top teams at Ole Miss asserted the one-planet system and decided: There will be fewer men on the bench, scoring will be lower and the split-T, which he coaches, will bloom larger.

Vaught gave his views on the gridiron situation at the Texas Coaching School here where he is lecturing on the split-T and coaching an All-Star schoolboy team.

He said there would be fewer men on the squads this year with abandonment on the two-planet system but that the real cut-down would come next year when coaches realized they needn't carry large squads.

"We are back on the right road financially," Vaught declared. "It was necessary in order to prevent college football teams from quitting. Athletic scholarships were costing too much money."

Scoring will be lower, Vaught observed, but it won't go back to the ear of one-touchdown, scoreless tie games because of the development of football with all the formations that have been devised.

One-planet won't halt the split-T formation, Vaught said, although it will lose some speed and finesse. He anticipated more split-T than ever before and said it would continue to spread for several more years—or until some new formation comes along.

"With the death of the two-planet system, we'll have more defense," Vaught said, "because you can make a mistake offensively and it may not hurt you, but if you make one defensively it means a touchdown for the other team."

He anticipates more injuries because of exposure and fatigue.

Loss Doesn't Dent British Tennis Fever

RYE, N. Y.—(AP)—Great Britain's women tennis players have taken their annual shelling at the hands of the United States, but they're not ready to throw in the towel.

"It's true this has been a one-sided series," said Col. Duncan MacAulay, captain of the British forces. "But it's wonderful competition. I think by all means we should continue it as it is."

There were suggestions in Great Britain recently that the international series in which Britain has won only four times since 1923 either should be abandoned or changed to make the humiliating defeats less frequent.

Sixth Sweep Recorded—Led by Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, holder of every major women's title, and Doris Hart, the Americans completed their sixth 7-0 sweep in eight years Monday at the Westchester Country Club. They didn't lose a set.

It was America's seventeenth straight Wightman Cup victory and the twenty-fifth against four setbacks.

Misses Connolly and Hart, two young women in a terrific hurry, won their second singles matches of the series by identical scores.

Miss Connolly, from San Diego, Calif., trounced left-handed Helen Fletcher 6-1, 6-1, while Miss Hart routed Angela Mortimer 6-1, 6-1. Saturday Miss Connolly had beaten Miss Mortimer and Miss Hart had won a close decision over Miss Fletcher.

The fifth singles point—and incidentally, the clinching one on Monday's carried-over program—was produced by Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, who downed Mrs. Jean Quertier Rinkel, Britain's most experienced player, 6-2, 6-4.

In doubles, the Wimbledon and U. S. champions, Misses Hart and Fry, toyed with Mrs. Rinkel and Miss Fletcher 6-2, 6-1. Miss Connolly and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., scored the other doubles win Saturday when the Americans assumed a 3-0 lead.

TUNNELL GAINS GROUND AS DEFENSE PLAYER—NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York football Giants are glad to see the signed contract of Emlen Tunnell, their ace defense back. Each year Tunnell gains more ground as a defensive player than do many of offensive performers. In 1952 Em gained 411 yards on punt returns, 364 yards on kickoff returns and 147 yards on interceptions. That's a total of 922 yards.

Mangrum Wins In All-American

CHICAGO—P—Pro golfs top money winner, newly crowned All-American Champion Lloyd Mangrum Tuesday appeared properly "bused" for a potential loot of $25,000 in the "World" Pro meet starting Thursday at Tam O'Shanter.

Mangrum, Tam's host pro, Monday pocketed $34,420 as he won the All-American prize to the $75,000 "World" Pro with a 13-under-par total of 275 three strokes ahead of Sammy Snead and Ted Kroil.

That moved the debonair Purple Heart veteran of World War II ahead of Ben Hogan, a notable Tam absentee as the year's leading cash collector with $18,786.

Mangrum will be favored to take the top $25,000 prize in the big "World" purse offered by his boss, George S. May. That would far more than double his earnings to date.

Mangrum Monday treated Tam just as a home pro should, banging a five-under-par 67 after rounds of 69, 68 and 71.

His 275 would have been good enough to win last year's "World," which forced a playoff at 276 between Julius Boros and Cary Middlecoff. Boros won the showdown with a 68 against Middlecoff's 70.

Kroil, who like Mangrum finished with 67, and Snead, stroking a final 68, collected $2,180 apiece. Fourth spot and $1,700 went to the 1953 PGA champion, Walter Burkemo, with 279.

Patty Berg will be favored in the "World" women's pro. Miss Berg won the All-American in the final round with a 78 for a 208 total, a stroke ahead of another capable pro, Louise Suggs.

Top gal amateur was Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., who wound up eighteenth in the All-American with 336.

Frank Stranahan, the handsome Toledo, Ohio, golf trail regular, who won his sixth straight All-American amateur crown, will be seeking his fourth successive "World" title.

Bantam Golf Links Under Construction

James Hudgins, 3909 Gaston Drive, has begun building a second miniature golf course in Midland with the 18-hole layout putter due for completion about the middle of August.

Hudgins recently contracted with the city for a permit to build the course and run an additional concession stand on the southeast side of Cole Park.

The new course—the other is at Pagoda Park—is being designed by Hudgins from ideas taken from some Fort Worth courses, Hudgins said.

He tentatively plans to hold an elimination tournament to celebrate the opening. It will stay in business, he said, the year round if weather allows.

City Softball Teams Restart Series Tuesday

A sandstorm blew out the first game of Midland's softball playoffs Monday night after Joe Ragadale had given his Tide Water team a first inning, 2-0 lead.

The game, at Wadley field, was postponed with the starting game of the five-game set rescheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The opponents, Tide Water of the American League and Western Inspection of the National, will match Bobby Tremble and Milt Montgomery as their starting pitchers once again.

In Monday's first inning, Ragadale started the underdog Tide Water off with a bang when he rapped a one-on homer over the wall.

Earlier Ragadale of the American League and Marvin McCulloch of Magnolia in the National League had been awarded trophies as the most valuable players in the city races.

Bolt Of Colleagues 'Surprises' McCan

By The Associated Press
Claude M. McCan of Victoria was all alone Tuesday on the Texas committee of the Production & Marketing Administration.

The other four members of the group of which McCan is chairman resigned Monday. All were appointed under Democratic Party administrations.

McCan, appointed under the Eisenhower Administration, said in Denver Monday night that the resignations were a "big surprise" to him. He declined further comment until he was more fully informed on the resignations.

The members who quit in a huff said McCan failed to call a regular monthly meeting of the committee in July. They also said recent decisions on state agriculture policies were made "without consultations of the other legally-appointed members."

McCan was appointed Texas PMA committee chairman by Secretary of Agriculture Benson just a few weeks ago. His appointment followed the resignation of B. F. Vance, College Station, who had held the position several years. Vance said Benson sent an emissary to Texas to ask him to resign and said the secretary's action was "motivated by politics."

The resigning members Monday were Howard T. Kingsbery, Santa Ana; Victor L. Cade, Lubbock; Gary B. Sanford, Timpson; and J. R. Adams, La Feria.

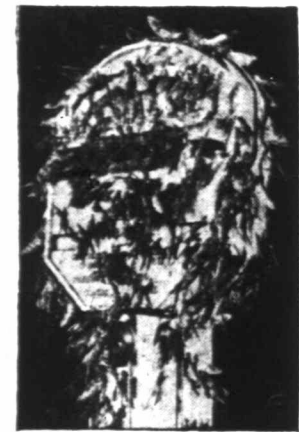

Farm Policies Involved
Kingsbery, Cade and Adams met in Dallas Monday and released the text of their resignation telegram to Benson. Sanford did not attend the meeting.

Decisions made by the state PMA committee affect marketing quotas on cotton and wheat and also affect soil conservation and price support programs.

Kingsbery told newsmen in Dallas, "If we're not going to be considered as a state policy-making committee, then there's no point in remaining on the committee."

McCan told the Associated Press in Denver, where he was on a business trip, that he knew only one of the other members. "And he's a friend of mine," he said.

McCan said he planned to go to Kansas Tuesday and then return to Colorado Wednesday night before returning to Texas.

Red Court Dooms German For Part In Indochina War

BERLIN —(AP)—A Russian zone Communist court reportedly has sentenced a young German to death because he fought the Reds in Indochina as a member of the French Foreign Legion.

West Berlin's anti-Communist League of Free Jurists, which has good underground connections in the Soviet zone, reported Tuesday that Hans Hastreiter, 25, was condemned "for espionage and using weapons against a peace-loving people."

Hastreiter is a West German who joined the Foreign Legion in 1946 and was captured by the Communist-led Vietminh in Indochina in 1949. He was sent back to Soviet East Berlin and released there in 1951, but when he returned later to the Russian zone to visit his wife, he was seized by the secret police on charges of spying.

NAM's National Sales Levy Proposal Draws Fire From Congress Tax Writers

WASHINGTON —(AP)— House Ways and Means Committee members Tuesday predicted the roughest sort of legislative sledding for a proposed national sales tax.

They commented after the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM), at a hearing Monday night, urged a uniform excise or sales tax at the manufacturers' level to put the nation on "a firm road to fiscal security."

There has been some talk that the Eisenhower Administration might join in a similar proposal at the next regular session of Congress in January. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has said he is considering that among other ideas. But hasn't made up his mind yet.

"We must honestly recognize the present federal tax system has failed us," NAM President Charles S. Sligh, Jr., told the committee.

He called for abolishing the present system of sharply varying ex-

MONROE REVIEWS CONFERENCE Three Keys Studied To Ease Nation's Teacher Shortage

Three keys to easing the nation's acute teacher shortage were studied and urged by delegates from 38 U. S. cities meeting at the twelfth annual work conference on problems of superintendents and other school officials July 6 to 24 at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

A charter of recommendations which summarized the discussions, said Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland schools, who has just returned from New York, pointed out that "a more adequate number of our ablest young men and women will become teachers if they are shown a profession with higher pay, better employment conditions and recognized professional status."

"Teaching can be made more attractive," Monroe continued, "with the cooperation and support of civic agencies and individuals in the various cities."

4. Regular work for better ways to improve the local economy and standard of living. This, the charter said, would mean cooperation between the schools and local industries, social, business and planning groups.

5. Making preparation of the school budget a year-around process, requiring the help of all school personnel—teachers as well as executives—and of all citizens. "Authorities should take action on the budget," the charter continued, "only after the community at large is given chance to have its say on it."

6. Continued emphasis on moral and spiritual values in the public schools should show the important place religion plays in the cultural development and present life of the American people.

7. Consider "policy-making the most important function of the American school board."

Finally, the superintendents endorsed "the Citizenship Education Project of Teachers College for its work in 'promoting, preserving and enriching the American way of life.'"

Other items covered during the conference included public school finance, personnel selection and development, school and community public relations and new research developments for improving administrative practice.

Superintendents who served on the charter committee were Anson B. Barber of Attleboro, Mass.; J. Crockett Farnell of Tampa, Fla.; W. Wednell Hoover of Rye, N. Y.; C. W. Richard of Powell, Wyo.; and Don J. Campbell of Parkrose, Portland, Ore., chairman.

Probers Study Reversal In Treasury Tax Ruling

WASHINGTON —(AP)—House investigators sought information Tuesday about a $65,000 fee a New York manufacturer said he paid in cash after getting a favorable income tax ruling from the Treasury.

William S. Lasdon of Katonah, N. Y., testified he paid Washington Attorney Welburn S. Maycock such a fee under those circumstances. Maycock was identified by John Tobin, counsel for a Ways and Means investigating subcommittee, as attorney for the Democratic National Committee in 1944 and 1948.

The subcommittee summoned Maycock for questioning Tuesday about the money and what he did to earn it. A witness testified Monday that high Treasury officials intervened in the case after government tax experts had recommended against a ruling Lasdon's favor.

The committee is looking for "undue influence" by top Treasury officials on tax case decisions.

Lasdon, president of the Nepara Chemical Company of Yonkers, N. Y., testified he paid Maycock $65,000 cash less than three months after Maycock took the case on a contingent fee basis.

Lasdon denied "any suggestion of a bribe or political contribution." He said he thought it "rather unusual" however, that Maycock asked payment in cash.

He said William Solomon of New York arranged a meeting with Maycock after Lasdon's own attorneys had failed to obtain a tax ruling, and in fact had advised against pressing his application on grounds it would be rejected.

Bill Relinquishing Claims On Texas Dams Is Approved

WASHINGTON —(AP)—A bill cancelling government rights to repossess after 50 years certain hydroelectric dams built with federal funds but operated by state agencies has been sent to the White House. It was approved Monday by the Senate.

Among principal backers of the bill were officials of the Brazos River Authority which operates Possum Kingdom Dam, built with federal relief funds in the early 1930's.

At hearings, it was pointed out that the reapture provision, which could go into effect after 1970 on a number of projects, handicapped state agencies in getting long term financing.

Mrs. Smith objected. As a member of the parent committee, she said she felt that "with only four senators left" on the subcommittee all of them Republicans, the resolution should be changed so that approval of a majority of the full committee would be required for the filing and printing of reports.

The three Democrats assigned to the committee walked out last month in protest against a subcommittee vote which gave Chairman McCarthy sole hiring and firing authority over the subcommittee's staff.

The resolution, offered by Acting Republican Leader Knowland of California, asked the Senate's permission that the subcommittee of which Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) is chairman be allowed to submit reports of its investigations to the Senate and have them printed at government expense during adjournment.

The parliamentary situation allowed the objection of a single senator to bar the resolution.

It was considered doubtful whether the arrangement Mrs. Smith insisted upon would have the effect of blocking any of the subcommittee's reports. Approval of a majority of the full committee, also headed by McCarthy, probably would not be too difficult to obtain.

Turks Fight For Ideal; Communism Means Devil

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

IZMIR, TURKEY — The Turk will fight!

And he is on our side! In loyalty to their command, and in fierce hatred of Communism, the Turks are our best ally.

By thousands, they volunteer for fighting in Korea. And once there, they have suffered extreme casualties. Why?

A Turkish colonel explained it to me:

"The Turks fight... We do not care if we lose our lives for the ideal."

To get an understanding of how a Turkish private—who receives no salary, wears a uniform most Midland service station attendants would not wear and shoes like the last pair you discarded—is forged into a fearless fighter, I asked to see a few drills at a barracks.

But Turks of the 65th Division here went all out.

They staged for me a demonstration which lasted a day and stretched over countryside of rugged terrain—much like Korea—down to a sandy beach of azure blue waters.

Here, the indefatigable Turks thrust off fighting raiment and jumped (many in their underwear) into the water for a swim.

And before the day was ended, I had an idea of what forces men into granite shape.

More Of Love Than Hate
I found it is more of love than hate.

For me, the day with the Turkish Army had begun at 7 a.m. With Lt. Ihan Ergin, Turkish information officer, I drove for an hour to a spot where we met waiting soldiers from the 65th Division.

Their convoy, stretching along the highway for a mile, looked like an American convoy. All of their jeeps and trucks and equipment were gifts from the U. S. A.

Col. Sami Erbilgin, unit commander—a man with a big stomach, nut-brown complexion and kindly eyes, greeted me. As the Aegean Sea lapped dramatically only a few feet away, he unfolded a map and began:

"I will present my boys with a problem, and you will see how they solve it."

From the map, I saw an area which the "enemy" was attacking and Turkish troops there were being pushed back. Officers then outlined a plan for our convoy to move off in five sections, traveling 20 miles per hour, to reach the fighting area and help other Turks defeat the attackers.

As the convoy moved off, I jumped in the back of a jeep for the rough-ride this side of a roller-coaster.

But between bumps, I noticed the countryside was a bit like the region east of El Paso... and that there were crops of wheat, tobacco, olives and figs.

Later the terrain became more volcanic. Nothing seemed to be sprouting but rocks. And at 8:30 a.m., we were "bombed" (three light models they use for crop-dusting in the states) but the planes came realistically close.

Luckily (or unluckily as the case may be) I was not one of the "dead" and my jeep jugged on interminably until I knew it must be lunch time. My watch unfortunately was right. It was 9 a.m.

At a hill where advance scouts had determined the enemy was entrenched, energetic Maj. Osman Ergenekon suggested I would get a better view from the top.

He led the way.

Like a deer, the wiry, agile major sprang over rocks and moved upwards with all the ease of an escalator. He never looked behind as I scrambled over the volcanic remains, attempting to curtail a billowing the skirt which floated into every brambly bush, and to stifle my heavy breathing.

Finally, Major Ergenekon turned around to observe:

"You didn't know Mt. Everest was in Turkey, did you?"

At the top position, we seated ourselves and with binoculars watched the five sections moving to fighting position and camouflaging equipment.

Then we made the descent to see how quickly and well they had set up guns and communications and were ready to fight.

The colonel, well pleased, came up and expressed approval of "my boys." He was beaming like a proud father.

This, then, I concluded, was the secret of why Turks are tough.

They are held together in a family fashion.

Symbolically, soldiers are looked upon as sons. They in turn consider their officers as fathers.

They sacrifice themselves readily on battlefronts because they feel they carry a family responsibility and must not disappoint their "brothers."

After "his boys" had repelled the enemy from their land, Colonel Erbilgin invited me to ride in his jeep the rest of the way to the beach area.

Along the way, he summed up his feelings:

"Each nation must decide how it stands. Turkey is for democracy and freedom.

"And Turkish soldiers do not care if we lose our lives for the common ideal.

"For the other side is Communism. And Communism is the devil."

In any fight with the devil, I am glad Colonel Erbilgin and his boys are on my side.

Fire Damp Cooks Meals In Belgium

BRUSSELS — That appetizing steak you ate tonight may have been broiled to a turn by fire damp—one of the Belgian coal mines' great killers.

A growing industry is paying off two ways—in eliminating the deadly gas from mines and providing healthful gas for cooking. Housewives in Brussels, Ostend and Liege are putting the lethal, fearsome "grisov" to good use.

Fire damp is coal-charged hydrogen which becomes explosive when mixed with air in the right proportion. A few years ago, it occurred to engineers that properly controlled it must contain potential energy.

Now there are 25 centers in the Clarierol, Mons and La Louviere mine areas collected the coal gas, some of it for factories, some of it for homes, after going through a cracking process which charges it chemically from a death dealer to fuel.

'Draft Age' Babies Missing After Latest Board Appeal

Midland may be due a slump in the rate of "draft-age" babies. Not one expectant father has appeared to proclaim the glad tidings to the Midland draft board since the new order came out paving the way for "expectant" deferments.

"Midlanders have just 21 days left before the August 25 deadline," Mrs. Nell Roberts, board clerk, said Monday. "After that, draft age men who become fathers are out of luck as far as deferments are concerned. Lots of men (and boys) already have become fathers. In fact, 10 per cent of the names on my list would be due draft calls except for the fact they've become fathers."

Men were reminded that expectant dads must present a doctor's statement giving the approximate date of the baby's arrival. And a birth certificate must be submitted within a reasonable time.

Failure to notify the draft board before August 25 means a 1-A tacked on the cards of hearty males.

NOT LOST, JUST FORGOTTEN—If young Billy White, of Meriden, Conn., grows up to have eight children, like his Dad has, maybe he'll understand how one of them can get lost in the shuffle. Right now, Billy thinks it's a rough deal. En route home from a New Hampshire vacation, Billy's dad stopped at a Topfield, Mass., gas station. In his car were Billy's mother, three of his brothers, an uncle, an aunt and a cousin. Billy went inside to get a candy bar. When he came out the family car was gone. Hours later and 100 miles away, police managed to flag down the car at Berlin, Conn., to inform Pop of his forgotten son. In the meantime, an uncle from Cambridge, Mass., picked Billy up and took him home.

Midland Fire Chief Cites Dangers In False Alarms

Melvin Little, chief of the Midland Fire Department, issued a plea Tuesday to stop children and other persons who have been turning in malicious false alarms.

A false alarm was phoned to the fire department at 9:30 a.m. Monday causing firemen to rush to a residence at 1403 West Michigan Street where they found that nobody knew anything about a fire or an alarm. The unidentified caller sounded like a child, firemen reported.

Four such malicious alarms have been given to the firemen within the past 30 days, he said.

"This sort of thing puts us in a predicament," said Chief Little. "We cannot pass up any alarm whether it sounds like a prank or not."

"There is always a certain amount of danger involved in answering any alarm," he continued, "since speeding firetrucks, like any speeding vehicle, are susceptible to accidents. But it would be too bad to have an injury for a useless cause." He cited the recent case of a false alarm in Houston which caused the death of two firemen and injury of seven more when a pumper and ladder truck collided.

"However," said Little, "we want to know about and investigate any alarm where the caller feels there is the slightest danger of fire. Even if a person only smells smoke, we want to know about it. We don't want to discourage alarms of the slightest suspicion of fire, if they are genuine."

MARGARET'S ROMANCE IS NOTHING UNIQUE—

Henry VIII Sets Shining Example Of How Kings Can Love Commoners

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

History is salted liberally with stories of royal passion, and peppered with tales of true love. Take King Henry VIII, who knew a good thing when he saw it, and married six of them. Pulling a wife out of the hat, consider Anne Boleyn. She was a commoner, daughter of a minor courtier. No great beauty, she is reputed to have been a pretty fair harpist, for whatever that's worth.

Ex-King Carol and Magda: He made her his wife on her "deathbed," but she lived to mourn at his funeral.

It took 13 years. King Henry was married at the time he went to a garden party and first saw Anne. Did that bother him? Not Henry. He set about to make her his mistress. Did she accept? Not Anne. Not for her the life of a mistress.

It took her 13 years, and some major league intrigue, but eventually she became, legally, Mrs. King Henry VIII—Queen Anne. The event is of something more than romantic interest, because when Henry annulled his previous marriage to Catherine of Aragon, it was one of the steps that broke England away from the Roman Catholic Church and set up the Church of England.

They did not live happily ever after. They had a daughter—who was to become the first Queen Elizabeth—but their son died in childbirth. Perhaps that was what made King Henry grow restless. His restlessness led him to Jane Seymour and led Anne Boleyn to the scaffold.

Another of England's great royal love affairs was that of King Charles II and Nell Gwynn. Here was a girl with what it takes and he took it. She was from the wrong side of the street, but she made up for her humble lineage with lots of wit, beauty, personality and plain, garden variety sex appeal.

By the time she was 10, she was a barmaid. Soon after, she was selling oranges at the Drury Lane Theater, and she sold so many that they made her an actress. Then she tried her hand at mistressing for a while, but went back to the stage.

King Charles II was the first British monarch to go to the theater, rather than commanding the theater to come to him. From his seat, one fatal night, he spotted Nell emoting on the stage. Love blossomed, and nothing would do but Nell was established as his mistress.

She Didn't Starve. Wedding band or no wedding band, it was an abiding love. This despite the fact that Charles collected mistresses like some collect butterflies. Nell was inexpensive, as royal mistresses go. She only wanted a small castle. It was a hardy love and it lasted until Charles died.

His last wish was: "Let not poor Nelly starve." Poor Nelly did quite well with an official pension.

In our own time, one of the greatest tales of love among the kingdoms involved King Carol of Romania and the red-headed beauty, personality and plain, garden variety sex appeal.

By the time she was 10, she was a barmaid. Soon after, she was selling oranges at the Drury Lane Theater, and she sold so many that they made her an actress. Then she tried her hand at mistressing for a while, but went back to the stage.

It was a tempestuous affair, but it lasted until death did them part. Magda was the daughter of a drug commission merchant. They met as children at a lawn party, but nothing much happened then. Several mistresses later, Carol fell in love with Magda, who by then was twice divorced.

He was the crown prince, and the king would not have his son and heir marrying Magda. She had three strikes against her—she was a divorcee, a Jewess and a commoner.

Quick, Momma, the antidote. They married him off to Princess Helen of Greece. But the antidote wasn't strong enough to counteract Magda's red-headed poison.

Carol went into a pleasant exile in France, with Magda. His father died, and his young son, Michael, became king, with his mother as regent. Then Carol divorced Helen, and dramatically flew back to Romania and seized the throne. He hinted that he and Magda had piff.

She Who Weeps Last. But the piff story was a pffoney. Magda came back, and there was more intrigue than you can shake a scepter at. There were even attempts on her life. But Carol steadfastly remained constant to his love.

Even when he was forced into exile again, Magda stayed by his side. And when it seemed she would die from a serious illness, they were married. She recovered, and it was she who wept at his death bed.

And so, if she's read her history, Margaret knows that her royal birth is no bar to real love. It may hinder it, but the rest is up to her.

Adhesions Bother Some Persons More Than Others

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

"Some time ago I had an appendix operation," writes Mrs. O., "and twice afterwards I had adhesions. What causes them?"

The writer of this letter is, evidently, one of those unfortunate persons really troubled by adhesions. What apparently happened in her case was that the acute appendicitis either ruptured and spilled infection into the surrounding tissues, or was severe enough to irritate the tissues even without rupture. This can happen with other internal infections as well.

Reporters Continue Survey Of Cotton

Three cotton reporters presently are making a survey of Midland County cotton fields to get a complete history of the acreage and determine next year's marketing quota.

Charles Champion, Midland County PMA office manager, said that approximately 25,000 to 30,000 acres were planted in cotton this last year. The reporters presently are working in the southeast part of the county, where the biggest portion of cotton is concentrated.

He said that the report is expected to be completed by August 25, and urged that farmers be present to help the reporters when they arrive or have a representative to help them.

The match industry says there are probably 29 million. And what is a prepubescent? It is a person who reads the match book cover before striking the match.

Hunting Of Pearls Resumes Along River

MCGREGOR, IOWA —(P)— They're hunting pearls again in the Upper Mississippi River near here after a lapse of almost 40 years.

Clamming and pearl-hunting was a boom industry here in the 1800's, but the river was "clammed out" several years ago. Now, fishermen report the clams are coming back.

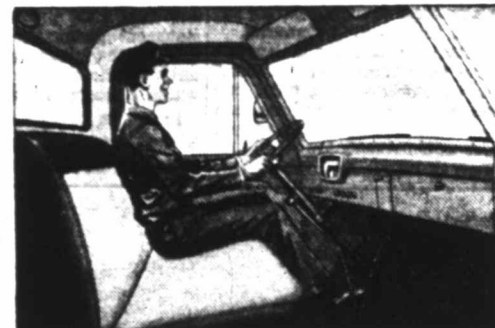

Two fishermen—Albert Langford and Norman Delphy—have reported finding large pearls. Langford sold his for $400, and Delphy's pearl brought $225.

Even if no pearls are found, the fishermen can always sell the clam shells. Pearl button factories pay two and a half cents a pound for them.

RUTH MILLETT SAYS— Magazines Now Assail Men Rather Than Stew Women

During the last few months American magazines have broken out in a rash of articles aimed at men, telling them how to get along with their wives, how to be better fathers and so forth.

It had to come. For sooner or later, and it happened to be later, writers for magazines were bound to run out of charges against the American woman.

RUTH MILLETT

They had bled her for everything from the high divorce rate to juvenile delinquency. Millett tagged her with "momism," railed at her for not doing more outside the home and also for not staying at home enough. They even charged her with responsibility for her husband's business success. After that there wasn't much left to blame her for.

And so having run out of advice for "Mama," "Papa" is beginning to get the treatment. At least it ought to give Mama a breathing spell, a chance to sit back for a while and stop worrying about being responsible for everything wrong in the American home.

At least, she can go back to reading something more relaxing than "Are You Wrecking Your Marriage?"

Turn To New Reading
She can nibble calmly at a chocolate while she reads a mystery story now that the "What's Wrong With" articles are being aimed at husbands instead of wives.

Raccoon Visitors Entertain Patients

ALTADENA, CALIF.—P—The patients at La Vina Sanitarium pay little for their zoological shows, but they get lots of entertainment. The show generally starts at dusk when four or five furtive raccoons steal onto the sanitarium grounds and look for the bounty of food that the patients leave for them.

If the menu is not their liking, the raccoons sample the food next door. If the raccoons want more food, the patients open their cookie or candy boxes.

After the handout, the little masked bandits scamper down the hill, and the evening show is over.

Russians Claim Power Lawnmower Invention

The Soviet Russian News Agency "TASS," in an official announcement of merit awarded the Grand Star of the Bolshevik, Russia's highest honor to Joseph Stalin Doakesinski for the invention of what is described as a power operated device for the trimming and leveling of grass.

It is to be presumed that this verbiage must indicate that, at last, the USSR has discovered the joys of the power lawnmower. We imagine that this tool will not be popular in the East, as it evidently will smack of capitalism.

We would like to get "Tass" straight on the matter, however. It was not Comrade Doakesinski who was first with the power mower. The first successful power mower was built in a backyard workshop in the United States of America, by a Norwegian immigrant boy, Knud Jacobsen.

Knud, even as you and I, thought that lawnmowing was too great a task, and set his mechanical skill to the perfection of an engine operated device to do the chore for him. As so often happens, those that saw his machine perform wanted one like it, and before Lenin could have said "Vodka," the Jacobsen Manufacturing Company was born and power lawnmowers have poured forth in a steady stream for more than thirty years.

We are proud to be associated with such a company and we invite you to try a Jacobsen Power Mower on your own lawn at our risk.

Air Force Builders Of Braces Are Busy

WRIGHT-PATTERSON AIR FORCE BASE, OHIO—(NEA)—The Air Force has two sergeants on the run here so that others may walk.

For out of this Air Force base come braces of all sorts, shapes, varieties and sizes to help the nation's crippled and paralyzed back to a useful life.

The overwhelmingly specialized job is done by two men—M Sgt. Herbert C. Nordstrom and his assistant, S Sgt. Warren A. Shaw. In the 18 months since their shop opened, they have turned out 500 pieces of apparatus.

Steel, leather, cloth. Most braces are made for American servicemen and veterans. But many have been sent to their dependents. Nordstrom and Shaw have worked on splints and supports for a 10-day-old baby and a 74-year-old grandmother.

Although some braces can be made in half an hour, the two specialists spent two and one-half weeks making a complex body-length job of steel, leather and cloth that will restore motion to a man left helpless from the neck down by a polio attack.

Nordstrom has been credited with designing and building a unique brace used in treating palsy of the hand. It straightens out the hand.

Tests Show Growth Gained By Weevils

COLUMBUS, OHIO—P—No wonder farmers have headaches. T. H. Park, an entomologist at Ohio State University, says one pair of weevils have 60,000 offspring in four months' time.

One hundred pairs of weevil parents plus their progeny can contaminate 1,400 bushels of wheat in four months so that the Food and Drug Administration will declare the grain unfit for human consumption.

Parks says the best defense against the pests is to clean and spray grain bins before harvest time and then spray walls and floors with five per cent DDT.

Future Generals Of Japan Learn How To Fight Yankee Style In U. S. Camp

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
FORT BENNING, GA.—The U. S. Army is training 60 Japanese "future generals" in the infantry school here and 100 more at other Army schools.

These young officers are the cream of the so-called Japanese National Safety Force, and in a few years are expected to be its top brass.

This official revelation by the Army strips most of the fiction, which the U. S. State Department and the Japanese government have tried to maintain, that the Safety Force exists only to quell civilian disorders. Most of the courses which the men are taking here and at the other schools deal with highly technical military subjects of little use to ordinary police officers.

Top Combat Record
The training program is an important part of the country's effort to strengthen its position in the Far East through the standardization of weapons and training among its allies.

The success of this effort, the enthusiasm of the students and the fact that most of the war-time antagonism toward the Japanese in the reactions of Maj. Seichi Ochi. Now nearing 40, Ochi has one of the most impressive combat reords in the class. He won his commission with the Japanese forces in Manchuria in 1938. During World War II he fought in Indo-China, Sumatra, Burma and the Philippines.

Rougher Training
He was a company commander on Corregidor. And he no doubt considers it a facet of our rapidly changing times that no one noted anything unusual when he and other members of the class were entertained recently in the Benning club's Corregidor Room, dedicated to the graduates of the infantry school who were slain in defense of that rock.

Ochi is impressed with the organization of the training which he is receiving. He will return to set up programs for the enlisted members of the JNSP.

"Your training here is more elaborate and thorough on technical subjects with more emphasis on weapons than we had in the old Japanese Army," Ochi says. "But we trained our troops harder, under conditions closer to those of actual combat and in rougher country."

Superior Effect
However, he believes that the net effect of the U. S. training is superior.

Since coming to the U. S. a few months ago he has cleared up one mystery of the last war which had been bothering him. That concerned the American troops' use of great quantities of ammunition. He says:

"I couldn't believe you could use so much ammunition against us without being wasteful. But now that I have seen this country, how huge it is, how tremendous some of your factories are and the great amounts of ammunition and guns you have, I understand why you felt free to use all you did."

Relieved And Pleased
Ochi, like the rest of his group, is reluctant to discuss international politics. But he says:

"Speaking for myself, I believe that the future security of Japan depends upon close friendship and cooperation with America. Our being here at Benning helps to further this."

He frankly admits that he and the others were not sure what kind of a general reception they would get in this country. But they are all relieved and pleased that the scars of World War II are apparently well healed. They have no complaints on the way they have been received here.

They rode across the country from the west coast in buses to get a closer look at the sights. Ochi was impressed with the "excellent state of sanitation which is maintained all over."

Most of Ochi's spare time is spent in the infantry school's vast military library pouring over the histories of World War II in Europe. He explains that during the fighting he never got accurate accounts of what was taking place on the other continent. As a professional military man he's interested in that important action.

Family In Tokyo
Ochi is married and has a young son. They live in a small town just south of Tokyo. His brother is a professor at Tokyo University.

All expenses but the actual cost of the course they are taking are being paid for by the Japanese government. The Japanese officers each get five dollars per day for personal expenses. From this small sum they've managed to hire an instructor from an Atlanta University to help them improve their English speaking and writing.

Interpreters are used during the course, which lasts 20 weeks. But the students are getting more proficient in English all the time.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Rolling Stone

One day long ago, when Willy Fox was only a little fox, he stopped beneath a tree to talk with Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend.

"Daddy Ringtail," said Willy, "when I grow up, I want to be very clever. I want to know as much as I can about everything."

Daddy Ringtail sat down on a rock to think about this. Willy sat down beside him, and Willy knew that Daddy Ringtail was trying to think of something that a little fox should learn.

"Willy," said Daddy Ringtail, "do you know about rolling stones?"

Willy said he wasn't sure, but he thought a rolling stone was a little rock that rolls along, and rolls along, and never stands still.

"That's what it is," Daddy Ringtail said, "and a rolling stone gathers no moss."

"No moss?" said Willy.

"No moss," Daddy Ringtail said. "It means that a rolling stone rolls on and on so busily, it never has time for moss to grow upon it."

Since Willy wanted to see for himself, he went with Daddy Ringtail to the creek, and "Look!" said Daddy Ringtail. "There's a stone that isn't rolling." Daddy Ringtail pointed down in the creek in the dark shade where water splashed merrily over a stone that hadn't rolled in a long time. The rock had moss growing on it. The moss looked soft like a baby's hair, except the moss was green, and a baby's hair isn't.

But Willy wanted to see a rolling stone, and there one came in the water. It rolled and splashed on the bottom of the creek where the water pushed and splashed it. "I want it!" cried Willy, and he reached to get it with his hands, but he couldn't. The rolling stone had rolled and splashed away down the creek before he could touch it.

But someday surely Willy will hold a rolling stone in his hand when he has stopped it from rolling. He will look at it close, and learn about it, because he wants to very much, and people can do almost anything they want to, if they want to badly enough. Happy day!

Snakes Give City Unusual Problems

CHATFIELD, CANADA—(AP)—The Chatfield area, 75 miles north of Winnipeg, lays claim to the most prolific snakes in the world—and the healthiest.

Every Spring, harmless garter snakes turn the town into something between a hangover and a nightmare, but it doesn't seem to worry Chatfielders.

A few snakes were reported in town this year but nothing to what it was three years ago. First signs of the invasion were reported on the highway, where numerous snakes, apparently sunning themselves on the gravel, were killed by cars.

Three years ago an attempt was made to wipe out the reptiles with chemicals, but it had no noticeable effect.

"We just had to learn to live with them," said A. B. Martin, municipal clerk at Inwood, a nearby village.

New Roach Poison Now Sold By Several Midland Stores

The housewife's most hated enemy is the cockroach. These crawling insects defy even the cleanest, best-kept homes. They'll enter through the smallest crack or crevice, hide in the woodwork, and roam the house at night, creating dirt and mess. To be rid of them, women have tried every trick in the book, without success. Now, at last, modern science has discovered a new way to kill roaches, with a product called Johnston's No-Roach.

Roaches and ants, pests that they are, are usually found near food and cooking utensils where you should not use bombs or sprays. And no need to either, when you can brush Johnston's No-Roach just where you want it, around cabinets and sink or wherever these bugs are found.

Johnston's No-Roach is colorless, odorless, and stainless. Insects that walk across the invisible coating become paralyzed and die within three hours. Then the coating remains effective for months to prevent re-

More Trees Added To Northern Woods

ST. PAUL, MINN.—(AP)—Minnesota, already a state of many trees, is getting more than 15 million more this year.

About 12,000,000 trees were planted on public lands, including state parks, forests, game refuges and highway right-of-ways. Almost 3,800,000 went to 3,000 owners for planting on private lands.

The trees were grown in nurseries operated by the Minnesota Division of Forestry. Most are conifers such as pines, spruce and cedar.

Along the armistice-line border between Israel and Arab Jordan a dozen Arabs and Jews are killed each day and scores of others are wounded.

This is Tulkarm. Many of its citizens have their homes in Jordan, their lands in Israel. Shots are exchanged. Hate breeds.

Tulkarm is a town in western Jordan, set atop a hill overlooking the plain where once bloomed the Biblical roses of Sharon. It is bright and white in the sunshine. But within its ancient walls it's black with hatred, violence and hopelessness. For Tulkarm is right on the armistice line dividing Palestine between Arab and Israel. The UN drew the line through forward army positions to end with uneasy truce the 1948-49 Arab-Israeli war. It wavers illogically. Sometimes it separates a man's house from his fields. Such a one is Assad Mahmoud Dag, who once lived off his two acres of wheat. Now his land is in Israeli territory and each day, during the harvest season, the broken man stands before his house and watches alien farmers reap the crop. Multiply Dag's case by 300 in Tulkarm and thousands in other border-sliced villages and you'll understand the bitterness, hatred and violence that bloody the border. Fatal "incidents" are common. The father of Dag was shot dead. His body was found just over the "line" in Israel. Perhaps he had gone merely to feel the family soil under his gnarled toes. No matter. The border guard who killed him was technically correct. So Tulkarm's old men brood in their hopelessness. And the young men sip in coffee shops—but their thirst is a thirst for bloody revenge.

TULKARM—Town of Hate and Hopelessness

This is Assad Mahmoud Dag and his family. Daily he looks across the line to land he once owned and sees strangers reap his crops.

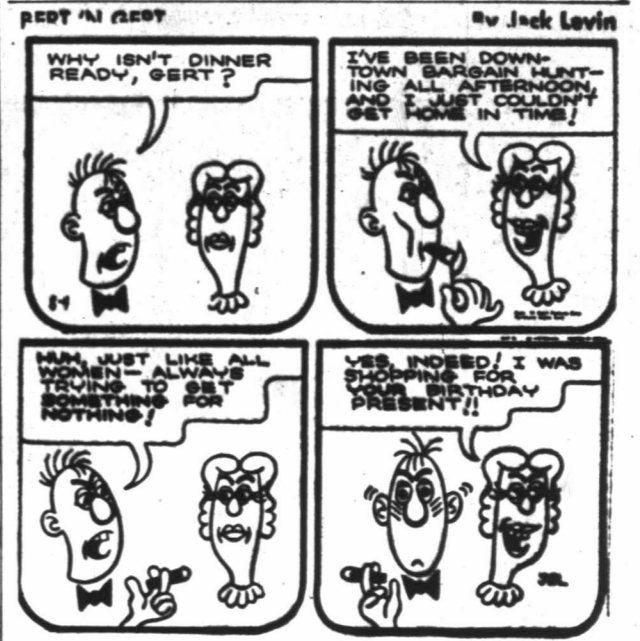

He sees strings of camels, laden with "his" wheat strapped to their sides like huge saddlebags, plodding off to market.

Tulkarm's girls are comely, coy and camera-shy. They are too young to know the hatred that poisons their elders . . .

... like these three. The boy at left lost his brother in a shooting affray with Israelis. The man in the middle lost his father and the old man lost a son. They want revenge.

Red Army Marches in Moscow's Red Square: Developments emphasize its powerful role.

Diplomat Hints Of Betrayal In Malenkov's Purging Beria

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS — With Lavrenti P. Beria purged, the Red Army becomes the new ruler of Russia.

Through a recent series of daring blood purges in the Ukraine, Georgia, Latvia, Hungary and other satellite countries, the secret police chief had been rapidly moving toward the seizure of power in the Kremlin.

Only Marshals Bulganin and Zhukov and other Red generals stood between Beria and total power. Georgi Moves First

One of the best informed Western diplomats, who has just arrived from Moscow, told me that Beria, in alliance with Malenkov, had been preparing a widespread purge of the Red Army. He believes that Malenkov betrayed Beria's plans and the military acted first.

By betraying Beria, Malenkov seems to have saved his skin for the moment. But for how long?

The consensus of Russian experts here is that the Kremlin coup signifies a reversion to Stalinism and the Cold War.

Russia Comes First

Two groups with diametrically opposed views on foreign policy and the nationality question inside the Red empire have been struggling for power inside the Kremlin walls. The "Great Russian" group headed by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov stands for:

1. A hard policy of "Russification" inside Russia and the satellites.
2. Dynamic expansion of Soviet power in Europe.
3. A tough policy against the West, especially toward the United States, which should be isolated from its allies at any cost.

The "Pro-nationalist" group headed by Beria advocated:

1. A multi-racial and multi-national development within the Red empire. (Beria himself was a Georgian)
2. A relatively soft policy in the West.
3. Cautious, long-term expansion in Asia.

These 'Soft' Touches

All of this throws new light on the mystifying series of developments which followed the death of Joseph Stalin in March. Almost immediately a strong tendency to discount Stalin seemed evident in many of Moscow's moves.

Numerous "soft" gestures such as the freeing of William Oatis, the agreement to let Russian wives of some Americans leave Russia, the slight easing of the Russian stranglehold on the satellites — all these seemed to be a new policy pushed by Beria, according to Moscow sources.

The new chief of the secret police, Sergei N. Kruglov, is a Great Russian general, long-time collaborator of Molotov and favorite of the army. The new developments definitely emphasize the Red Army's powerful role in the committee set-up left by Stalin.

Shake-Up In Soviet

With Beria eliminated, four men remaining in the Kremlin are in position to maneuver for Stalin's succession. They are Malenkov, Molotov, Gen. Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev, general secretary of the Communist Party.

Some experts believe that Molotov now stands out as Malenkov's strongest challenger. However, he is in his 60's.

What happens next in the satellites may well determine the trend. Will they be "re-purged" to eliminate Beria's pals? Only the other day two of Beria's MVD colonels were given top roles in Hungary succeeding the Stalinist Matyas Rakosi.

ROTARIZED WOMAN—Bruno Nagler, an Austrian engineer working at the Westchester County airport in New York, has come up with an invention that may make many people airborne in the near future. Called a heliglider, it weighs 65 pounds, climbs vertically like a helicopter and glides down like an old-fashioned autogiro. It straps on like a parachute, has a kite-like rudder in back and uses a 15-foot rotor blade and rocket motor for lift. Here Chris Cominelli tries on a motorless heliglider.
