Seaboard Wildcat In Dawson May Be Major Discovery

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware may have a major discovery from the Pennsylvanian reef lime at its No. 1 Herman Pettaway, Southeast Dawson County wildcat.

The tester has already proven 98 feet of reef lime pay. It has had flowing oil production on three drillstem tests and the zones covered by the last two of those tests yielded large amounts of petroleum.

The last test was at 7,932-83 feet. The tool was open one hour and 20 minutes. Gas surfaced in five minutes and mud came to the top in 15 minutes.

Flows Oil
Oil flowed out in 17 minutes. The fluid was run to pits for three minutes to clean. That flow was not gauged or estimated.

It was then turned to tanks for one hour though a three-eighth inch tubing choke. In 60 minutes of flowing the wildcat made 452 barrels of oil.

After the tester was closed 40 barrels of oil was unloaded from the drill pipe. Then an additional 15.48 barrels of oil was reversed out of the pipe.

No Water Signs
Recovery from below the circulating sub was 360 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure during the test was between 2,875 pounds and 3,300 pounds shut-in bottom hole pressure. After 15 minutes was 3,450 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 296-1.

The prospector then cut a core at 7,933-8,008 feet. That core was being pulled at last report.

Previous Tests
This wildcat topped the reef at 7,880 feet on a datum of minus 4,989 feet.

A drillstem test at 7,884-7,910 feet flowed 11.4 barrels of oil in an hour through a one-inch opening on tubing.

A test at 7,910-33 feet produced a total of 89.64 barrels of oil during a one hour and 45 minute drillstem test.

Location is 15 miles southeast of Lanessa and 1,980 feet from south and 1,500 feet from west lines of section 40, block 34, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Wildcats Scheduled To Start At Once In Midland, Ector

Three wildcats have been announced in the area northwest of the city of Midland, two in Ector County and one in Midland County.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Anderson-Fricker Oil Corporation will dig No. 1-X David Fasken in Northeast Ector County, 13 miles northwest of Midland.

It is 1,880 feet from north and west lines of section 31, block 41, T-1-N, G&M&B&A survey.

Stanolind will drill No. 1-AG Midland Farms nine miles west and slightly north of Midland and in Northeast Ector County.

It is 860 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 23, block 41, T-1-S, T&P survey.

In Northwest Midland County, five and one-half miles northwest of the city of Midland, Stanolind will dig No. 1-AP Midland Farms. It is to be dug 1,980 feet from south and 860 feet from east lines of section 1, block 40, T-1-S, T&P survey.

All three projects are to go to 5,600 feet, starting at once.

Texaco Is Running Casing At Tester In Scurry Sector

The Texas Company was running five and one-half-inch casing at No. 213 Fuller, wildcat in Northeast Scurry County, after finding free oil on a drillstem test from 7,500 to 7,533 feet.

Subsequent tests failed to develop oil, but salt water was found on test from 7,560 to 7,585 feet.

Tool was open one hour on the test from 7,560 to 7,533 feet. Recovery was 2,440 feet of gas in drill pipe, 25 feet of oil and 55 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

Next drillstem test was from 7,535 to 7,560 feet. Tool was open 45 minutes. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water.

Had Salt Water
The water test from 7,560 to 7,585 feet was open 90 minutes. Recovery was 80 feet of drilling mud and 120 feet of salt water.

Operator will run five and one-half-inch casing in order to make production tests on the section from 7,500 to 7,533 feet.

This project previously was reported as preparing to plug and abandon. Before the orders could

Hurricane Lashes Atlantic Coast

Raging Winds Rake Carolina, Virginia Area

NORFOLK—(P)—A hurricane smacked the North Carolina and Virginia coastal areas early Friday and moaned on north.

The big blow packed winds of 80 miles an hour or more near its center and spun gale winds of 40 or more to a distance of 140 miles. It was expected to hit Southern New Jersey in the afternoon and have some effect on the Eastern Seaboard as far north as Massachusetts by nightfall.

Metropolitan Area Braces For Big Blow

NEW YORK—(P)—The northeastern coast "battered down the hatches" Friday for gale force winds expected to strike later in the day in the northern thrust of the season's first big hurricane.

Dangerous winds and abnormally high tides were predicted in storm warnings issued for the area from Cape May, N. J., to Cape Ann, Mass. The New York Weather Bureau displayed its storm warnings, but said there was a "slight indication" that the storm coming up the Atlantic coast might turn out to sea earlier than expected. However, it said that if the storm continues its present course, strong to gale force winds will strike the New York area during the late afternoon.

Winds approaching gale force hit Atlantic City, N. J., and kicked up a strong surf that pounded the beaches at that resort. Heavy rain accompanied the winds, and dangerously high tides were expected. Mitchell Air Force Base on Long Island shut down all of its air operations.

In Boston, the Weather Bureau said gale force winds and abnormally high tides will strike Cape Cod and the coasts of Connecticut and Rhode Island Friday night.

Shortly before noon the New York Weather Bureau said conditions indicated the "hurricane will pass 100 miles southeast of New York City sometime tonight."

Red Cross chapters on Long Island began alerting their disaster personnel to prepare for emergency service.

Randall To Direct Foreign Policy Panel

DENVER—(P)—President Eisenhower picked Clarence Randall, chairman of the Inland Steel Corporation, Friday to head a new study commission on foreign economic policy.

Upton, a Republican, will serve until January, 1955. The remaining two years of Tobey's term will be filled in the 1954 election.

Upton in 1911 was elected to the state House of Representatives. He was a delegate to the state constitutional conventions of 1918, 1930, 1938 and 1948. Upton was chairman of the GOP state committee in 1936 and vice chairman from that year through 1952.

Upton has been president of the State Bar Association and a governor for the American Bar Association. He is senior member of the law firm of Upton, Sanders and Upton.

Thompson Says Oil Reserve 'Not Half Enough' For Needs

WASHINGTON—(P)—Ernest Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, told Congress Friday the United States does not have even half enough ready reserves oil producing capacity for security.

To preserve incentives for the search for new oil sources, Thompson said, it is essential to continue the 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance.

"Revenue, however badly needed, cannot be considered when our national security is at stake," he said. "Come war, there would be no time to hunt for places to drill oil wells."

James Jones of Bradford, Pa., an independent oil spokesman, said continuation of the tax depletion allowance was essential to thousands of small operators faced with high costs and financially hazardous production operations.

Jones and Thompson were among about 20 witnesses representing large segments of the oil and mineral industries before the House Ways and Means Committee in support of continued or enlarged tax incentives.

The committee, concluding more than two months of hearings on the tax laws, was considering depletion allowances now granted oil and mineral producers for income tax purposes.

Foreign Oil Denied
Thompson, representing the big Texas oil producing industry, told the committee that men venture into risky drilling largely because of the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance. He went on to say: "Remove that incentive, and our domestic supply of oil will shrivel, and we will become, in my opinion, dependent upon foreign oil within a very short time. Come war, foreign oil, of course, could be denied us."

Jones, representing the National Stripper Well Association, said 60 per cent of all oil wells in the country are stripper wells—those which produce oil through secondary recovery methods after natural pressure is exhausted.

UN Demands Reds' Answer On Holdbacks

PANMUNJOM—(P)—The UN Command asked the Communists officially Friday if the Reds plan to hold back any Allied prisoners "sentenced to confinement for any reason" from the Korean war prisoner exchange.

Returning Allied POW's have said others were left behind, jailed on phony charges. There has been no official report of the number.

The UN made its first official demand for an answer in a meeting of the joint UN-Red repatriation commission at Panmunjom.

The Reds gave no answer. Col. Louis Friedersdorff, chief Allied representative, asked confirmation that the Reds would send back all prisoners who insist on repatriation.

As the Commission met, 84 Americans and 323 Allied captives rode eagerly from Red captivity to freedom at the exchange point.

907 Americans Returned
Fifty more Americans are scheduled to be freed at Panmunjom in Saturday's exchange, along with 50 British and 300 South Koreans.

The 84 Americans who returned Friday brought the U. S. total freed in 10 days of the exchange to 907 of 3,313 the Reds said they held.

The Reds also returned 74 British, one Canadian and 247 South Koreans, eight of whom were listed as although classed "able-bodied" by the Reds.

The Americans who came back Friday added to the stories of callous mistreatment in Red camps—murder and beatings and near-starvation and turncoat Americans who went over to the Reds.

They also told of other Americans, the tough "reactionaries"—men who refused to buckle to the Communists. Some of these die-hard Americans, they said, were convicted on trumped up charges in courts-martial as late as July 28—the day after the armistice was signed and the shooting stopped.

"Like Another World"
"Coming back here is like coming into another world," said Cpl. James R. Young, 21, of Queen City, Texas.

"I haven't got a good word to say for the Chinese," he added.

Most of the men from Communist Camp 1 at Changsong echoed his sentiments.

Others in the shipment included the first group from the Reds' Camp 3, also at Changsong. Their stories struck the same bitter note of brutality in North Korea.

Young told how three American "reactionaries" were tried by the Chinese on "armistice day"—presumably for beating up a "progressive."

Young said one of the Americans was sentenced to two and one-half years, one to two years and one to six months in jail.

All three were told they would not be repatriated, Young said.

Showers Possible In Midland Area

Partly cloudy skies took the edge off the August heat in Midland Friday with temperatures expected to remain in the 90's. The possibility of light showers in the Midland area was forecast by the Weather Bureau.

The thunderstorms are expected to be accompanied by gusty surface winds and blowing sand with visibility in places restricted to three miles.

Woman, Brother-In-Law, Die In West Texas Family Fight

WHEELER, TEXAS—(P)—A farm woman was shot to death late Thursday and her slayer, who was her husband's brother, was beaten to death with the same murder weapon a few minutes afterwards.

Bus Walker, 44, husband of the dead woman and brother of the man slain, was charged with murder in the beating death of Cash Walker, 37.

County Attorney Ed Pool said Friday Bus Walker was released from jail after posting $2,500 bail. Sheriff George Dorman said the younger Walker brother, Cash, came to Bus Walker's home about 6 p.m. Thursday while Bus was in a near-by field at work.

Mrs. Walker, 42, mother of five, was in the house with four of her children including Bobby Henderson, 21, a Marine on leave.

GREEK CITIES DESTROYED—Greek officials estimate 1,000 persons on the islands of Ithaca, Kefallinia, and Zakynthos have died in six days of vicious earthquakes. These buildings in City of Vashti, on the island of Ithaca, have been reduced to rubble and highways are litter-strewn from the force of the quakes.

Fire, Misery Follow 11 New Earth Shocks

PATRI, GREECE—(P)—Eleven more earth tremors shook the Ionian Islands of Kefallinia, Ithaca and Zakynthos Friday. Landslides, fire and death stalked the survivors, already stricken by modern Greece's worst earthquake disaster.

The new tremors were of subsiding intensity, and air-sea aid and rescue units from many nations were reaching the scene.

Still there was no accurate account of dead and injured. American officials said they believed a Greek government estimate of almost 1,000 killed was too small.

Adm. Lord Mountbatten, Mediterranean commander of NATO naval forces, flew over Zakynthos, the main city on that island, and reported he saw "a large part of a cliff fall in the sea."

Fires raged over the city of 25,000, he reported, and oil and gasoline storage drums were exploding. He added:

"Although two or three modern buildings in Zakynthos are surprisingly undamaged, the rest of the town is in even a worse condition than Argostoli. It has been gutted by fire in addition to receiving serious earthquake damage."

British and Greek sailors formed fire fighting parties. British Navy planes dropped relief supplies along the coast. The fire fighters, Mountbatten said, were menaced by exploding grenades the fishermen kept in their cottages.

Argostoli, naval base and chief center of Kefallinia was a ruined city whose silence was broken only by the sea.

Films Of European Tour Shown Civic Club Members Here

Bill Chancellor showed more than 120 slides of his tour of Europe, punctuating the show with narration about the times, the customs and habits of the people.

The slides included scenes from Italy, Switzerland, France, Germany and England. Also, some views from their ship, the SS Constitution, then on her maiden voyage, were shown.

American aid to the foreign countries in somewhat a waste of money, Chancellor explained. The rich of each country, he said, are giving to aid their people—but are certainly not sacrificing any luxuries.

Chancellor pointed out that he had learned more about history and religion during his three and a half month tour than he had in years of American life.

Tower Adds Wide Screen

A new wide screen has been installed in the Tower Theater here to provide Midland moviegoers with a more pleasing view of movies shown there.

Dimensions of the new wide view screen are 24 1/2 feet by 17 1/2 feet, making it approximately eight and one half feet longer and five and one half feet higher than the old screen.

Delmar Aday, manager of the Tower, said that the new type screen, which is coated with metallic paint, was installed primarily to give a greater picture image for three dimensional movies but also is an improvement for conventional movies. New equipment at the theater also includes high intensity lamps to make the movies brighter and more clear.

New three dimensional pictures coming to the Tower within the next six weeks include "Second Chance," "The Maze," "The Stranger Wore A Gun," "Sangaree," "Inferno," and "Devil's Canyon."

Children Haven't Reason To Follow Crowd's Edicts

"You just can't make your children different." That idea, frequently expressed by parents today, is largely responsible for teenagers getting the upper hand with their parents.

So long as parents are sold on the idea that it is a crime to make their children different in any way from the crowd, the crowd is going to run their parents. They'll demand and get things their parents can't afford by pleading that "all the other kids have such-and-such."

They'll demand and get privileges they aren't old enough to have on the grounds that all the other kids get to stay out until such and such.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stewart Hughes of Midland are now on a trip to Washington, D. C., New York, N. Y., and Manassas, N. J., following their wedding Friday in the Matthews Memorial Church in Fort Worth.

The Rev. Thomas Sterck officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride is the former Dorothy Weatherford of Fort Worth, daughter of Mrs. Ed Weatherford of Fort Worth. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Hughes of Bloomsbury, N. J.

Imogene Kieckhoff, organist, furnished the nuptial music. The candlelight ceremony was read before a background arrangement of palms and baskets of white asters.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Clifford A. Johnson, wore a dove gray suit with a pale pink hat dotted with seed pearls, and carried a pale pink orchid on a white Bible. She chose gray lizard accessories.

Mrs. Clifford A. Johnson of Fort Worth was the matron of honor and Otis L. James served as best man. Mrs. Johnson wore a wedgewood blue silk linen dress with silver beaded collar and navy accessories. Her bouquet was of pale pink asters.

After August 23 Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will be at home at 1109 East Maple Street.

COWBOY'S LAMENT—

Styles Will Compete With Steers At Texas State Fair In October

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor
On the theory that any woman would rather look at a new dress than a prize steer, officials of the State Fair of Texas this October will elevate fashions to the high status of cattle in the Lone Star state.

Deep in the heart of Texas, this is a bold move. Oil wells, maybe.

Mrs. Wallace Gives Program For Altrusans

Mrs. Grace Wallace of the Altrusa Information Committee directed the program when the Altrusa Club held a luncheon meeting Thursday in Hotel Schlarbauer.

She spoke on "Classification and Membership in Altrusa." It was announced that the club will celebrate its fifth birthday with a dinner meeting August 27 in the home of Mrs. Floyd Coleman, Terminal.

Attending the Thursday meeting were 19 members and a guest, Mrs. Louisa Pearson of Corpus Christi.

Andrews Ministers Name New Officers

ANDREWS—The Rev. Everett S. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist Church here was elected president of the Ministerial Alliance of Andrews.

The organizational meeting was held at the Means Memorial Methodist Church.

Other officers elected were the Rev. N. S. Daniel, pastor of the Methodist Church, vice president; the Rev. John Mac Donald, minister of the First Christian Church, secretary; and the Rev. Frank Foster, pastor of the Fullerton Baptist, program chairman.

Nydia Club Plans September Social

The Nydia Club, Daughters of the Nile, discussed plans for a social Thursday at a meeting in the home of Mrs. A. L. Carroll, 2609 Roosevelt Street.

Mrs. J. B. McCoy, president, presided. The party, which will be for members and their husbands, has been set for September.

It was requested all sewing for the Strikers Hospital be completed by the September meeting. Mrs. McCoy, assisted by Mrs. Carroll, gave the lesson.

Others attending were Mrs. H. B. McNeil, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Roy Gardner, Mrs. Robert Currie and Mrs. Allen Watts.

But when a thing like a feminine frock seeks to compete with the dignity of a blue-ribbon bull, it's serious business.

It took a high-powered group of Texas women, naturally, to convince the fair's high brass that fashion will elevate fashions to the high status of cattle in the Lone Star state.

Deep in the heart of Texas, this is a bold move. Oil wells, maybe.

So this year there will be a fashion roundup, and Texas designers will be honored along with cattle raisers and horse breeders.

Prime movers in tossing over tradition are members of Dallas Fashion Arts, an organization of women interested in "elevating the standard of fashions in the Dallas area."

Members include designers, manufacturers, merchandise experts and newspaper women with a deep enthusiasm for made-in-Texas clothes.

The girls get together once a month for lunch, and talk shop. The shop talk is mainly clothes, so the luncheons are popular.

La Merienda Has Luncheon

Mrs. W. G. Moxey and Mrs. W. H. Land were hostesses Thursday at the bridge and luncheon meeting of the La Merienda Club in the Diamond Horseshoe.

Mrs. James Daniel won first; Mrs. E. B. Dilley, second; Mrs. W. G. McCampbell, third, and Mrs. James Peck, game prize. Guests were Mrs. F. H. Pannill, Mrs. W. L. Crothers, Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. A. W. Ball, Mrs. V. O. White and Mrs. Earl Johnson.

Others attending were Mrs. H. F. Lougren, Mrs. C. H. Atchison, Mrs. John V. Norman, Mrs. E. L. Zihlman, Mrs. Louis A. Barth, Mrs. Allen J. Watts, Mrs. J. R. Cantrell, Mrs. T. S. Edrington, Mrs. J. V. Lindsey, Mrs. Frank W. Reeves, Mrs. J. L. Knoles, Mrs. F. A. Nelson and Mrs. Harry C. Trimble.

'Hot Flashes' Stopped or strikingly relieved

In 63-80% of cases in doctors' tests you may be suffering needlessly from "hot flashes" and irritable, restless feelings of "change of life." In doctor's tests, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Tablets brought relief from such functionally-caused suffering in 63% and 80% respectively of the cases. Complete or striking relief!

Try modern-acting Pinkham Tablets. Both Pinkham's Compound and Tablets are modern in action! But, thousands of women are changing to new, improved Tablets (with added iron). They're easy to carry and take... and give truly wonderful relief. Get a bottle today. Get relief from those distressing, nervous, "out of sorts" feelings of "change of life." (Spend) too, for functional pain of monthly menstrual periods!

It acts through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve distress of those awful "hot flashes!"

The Good News Continues

Good news continues to come from Midland governmental units, and citizens of the city, county and school district continue to grin in approval.

The city last week unveiled its proposed budget calling for decreased operating expenditures and no increase in the tax rate.

Then, last Monday the Commissioners Court reshuffled the Midland County budget for next year, coming up with only a 10-cent increase in the tax rate instead of the 15-cent hike as previously announced.

But that is not all. Trustees of the Midland Independent School District decided to go along with the current $1.35 tax rate even in the face of a $315,000 budget increase. Increases in assessed valuations are expected to provide adequate funds to finance the year's budget.

So, the taxpayers actually come out with only a 10-cent tax increase from the three taxing units—and that is pretty good for this day and time.

It all goes to show what can be done with a little tightening up here and there and with increased economy and efficiency being practiced all the while. It may be that still further reductions can be made and if so it is hoped that budgets will be reduced along with tax rates in the future.

Projects and services of the three units—county, city and school—apparently will not be hampered or curtailed by the actions of the governing officials. That is as it should be.

Midlanders generally are ready and willing to foot the bill for capital improvements and for the very best of services, but at the same time they are interested in economy and efficiency in government from the grass roots level to the nation's capital.

It actually isn't a matter of money—it is a matter of good government. That, after all, really is what counts.

Wink Has New C Of C

Wink, the enterprising little city in neighboring Winkler County, is the latest West Texas city to organize a chamber of commerce with a full-time manager.

The new Wink Chamber of Commerce is functioning full force, too, with a comprehensive program-of-work already having been adopted and put into action.

Wink long has been noted for its championship football teams, fine citizens and oil production, but now the proud citizens have banded themselves together in a community-wide effort to further improve their community and to make its overall attributes well and favorably known throughout the section and state.

Congratulations to the City of Wink upon the founding of its new and alert chamber of commerce.

Hydrogen Bomb Or Just Plain Gas?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: U. S. officials skeptical of Russian H-bomb claim; No Russian plane large enough to transport H-bomb; Movie moguls claim Ike let them down.

WASHINGTON—One week after Premier Malenkov's surprise announcement that Russia has the hydrogen bomb, U. S. scientists and intelligence experts have come to the flat conclusion that this is not the case.

Russia, they conclude, simply does not have the H-bomb. Nor is there a scintilla of evidence to prove that an explosion faintly resembling a hydrogen blast has been touched off.

Reason for such a positive conclusion is that it is impossible to set off either a hydrogen or an atomic blast without filling the air with radiation. These particles drift great distances. Regardless of distance, however, Allied planes, policing the atmosphere around the Soviet Union, scoop up samples of the air which tell the complete story of how big an explosion is, when it took place, and its general location.

The height of the radiation tells the size of the explosion. The wind drift gives its location. The texture of the particles tells what kind of explosion it was—whether accidental, an A-bomb, or a hydrogen blast.

Four Russian Explosions As it now stands, we have conclusive evidence that four atomic explosions have taken place inside the Soviet Union, and we know pretty well their nature.

On the other hand, and drawing a line between the explosion of an H-bomb and possession of a hydrogen device, our scientific agencies pretty well accept the fact that Russia probably has some kind of a hydrogen device which could be exploded. However, we equally are convinced that the Russians do not have a hydrogen bomb which could be put in a plane and carried to an enemy country.

Reason for this conclusion is that the hydrogen explosion which we touched off in the mid-Pacific last year and which blew up an entire island, was not a bomb. It was called a hydrogen house, and though it contained all the ingredients of a bomb, it was exploded from the land, not the air.

So far we have never dropped a hydrogen bomb, and probably won't even put one together until shortly before it is to be dropped.

Even if the Russians have been able to squeeze the right ingredients into an actual H-bomb, however, they don't have the planes to carry it. Our H-bomb, when finally completed, will be so large it will require certain changes even of our biggest long-range bombers; and the Red air force has no planes, so far as we know, as big as our B-36.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When it is used properly, the suit-preference signal can be of great assistance to the defender. In general, a player who wants to use this signal plays a higher card than necessary (when not trying to win a trick) to indicate strength in a high-ranking suit, and plays a low card to indicate strength in a low suit. We can see one way for the signal to operate in today's hand.

West opens the three of spades, dummy plays low, and East wins with the king. East returns a low spade, South hopefully finesesses the nine, but West covers with the ten. If declarer takes this trick with dummy's ace of spades, the defenders have no chance to signal. If declarer refuses the second round of spades, however, West should lead the suit again in such a way as to indicate where his re-entry happens to be.

In this case, West's entry is in hearts, the higher ranking of the two red suits. (It is obvious that declarer will go after the clubs, and East will have to guess whether to return a heart or a diamond to allow West to run the rest of his spades.) To indicate that his entry is in a high suit, West returns the queen of spades even though dummy has only the blank ace of spades left.

East has no trouble in noticing that West has played a higher spade than necessary. When East wins the ace of clubs, he will return a heart, and West will defeat the contract.

If East and West were not using this signal, East would probably return a diamond after taking his ace of clubs. Then South would make his contract with five clubs, a spade, and three diamond tricks.

You South, hold: Spades 7-5, Hearts A-Q-7-3, Diamonds Q-3-3-2, Clubs K-7-4. What do you do?

A—Bid three diamonds. With 11 points in high cards, one point extra for the queen of your partner's bid suit and one point for the doubton, you can well afford to show a sign of strength. Since your distribution is balanced you avoid going past the level of three trump.

Stanton, Courtney Schools Will Open For Term August 31

STANTON—Public Schools in Stanton and Courtney will open August 31, according to O. W. Winstead, superintendent of Stanton schools and H. F. Collins, superintendent of Courtney schools.

The earlier than usual school opening date had been planned in Stanton for some time but announcement was delayed until it could be considered certain that the rebuilding of classrooms would be ready for classes on the August 31 date.

Winstead said a general faculty meeting would be held at 8:30 a.m. August 27.

Registration dates were scheduled as follows: August 28—Freshmen at 9 a.m.; sophomores at 10:30 a.m.; August 29—Juniors at 9 a.m.; Seniors at 10:30 a.m.

All elementary pupils will register August 29 at 9 a.m. Winstead pointed out that all school buses will run for the first time on August 28 for elementary children. However, the buses will not be run for high school registration.

First graders must have their birth certificates with them before they can be registered officially.

SCHOOL AIDE—John O. Rodgers of Georgetown has been named new director of special services for Midland public schools. He and his family will move to Midland September 1.

Republicans Have No Plans To Abolish Foreign Aid

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Republican Administration has no intention of liquidating U. S. foreign aid program after all. This perhaps is the best news this country yet has given the rest of the world.

In the final rush and confusion of the last weeks of Congress, a report got out that Congress ordered Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen to submit plans for winding up all foreign aid programs by June 30, 1954. It never happened.

What did happen is that Congress had told Administrator Stassen to submit plans for complete reorganization of all foreign aid programs. There now are more than a dozen different foreign assistance laws on the books. As each new crisis has arisen over the last six years, Congress has been asked for and has passed a new aid program to deal with it. The result is that there is today a great multiplicity of measures which create confusion not only at home, but abroad.

President Eisenhower took the first step towards simplifying the hodgepodge by his reorganization plan number seven, announced June 1. It pulled together Mutual Security Agency, Technical Cooperation Administration which handled Point Four aid to underdeveloped countries and Institute for Inter-American Affairs. The new consolidation is called Foreign Operations Administration, or FOA.

Congress approved this plan and then topped it by telling Stassen this was an interim plan for this year only. When Congress comes back in January it wants a draft on a new bill to put all foreign aid programs under one roof.

Not Abolishing Foreign Aid There was no thought of abolishing foreign aid next year or any other time. It was just that Congress wanted the whole business reorganized and simplified so as to make some sense under a single policy.

Shortly after President Eisenhower announced his reorganization of FOA, Administrator Stassen started a study of foreign aid agencies.

He has brought to Washington a three-man evaluation team to study efficiency. It consists of Walter J. Finks, vice president of Minneapolis-Honeywell; John L. Moore, comptroller of University of Pennsylvania and Leslie M. Gravin, director of Governmental Research Institute, of Hartford, Conn. All have worked with Director Stassen before but have had no previous connections with foreign aid programs.

This team has been holding hearings all over Washington, asking foreign aid people what they do. It will make its first report before August 15. Reshaping of foreign aid operations should begin to emerge slowly thereafter, since Stassen moves rather deliberately.

Cut Expenses 15 Per Cent Congress this year cut foreign-aid administrative expenses by some 15 per cent. This may cause a reduction in force of 500 or more and there is considerable uneasiness in FOA as to who will be fired.

Otherwise, foreign aid did not do so badly, budget-wise, as first appearances indicated. The emphasis was shifted noticeably. Europe, which got 73 per cent of all foreign aid last year, gets only 53 per cent this year. Aid to Asia was stepped did. I was very familiar with the play.

"One would think," came from Miss Stanton—money and banking—"that you'd been born in a trunk. Isn't that the quaint way they say that one has the stage in one's blood? And the way you acted the part of that hard young girl—"

"Would make one think I'd been a hard young girl myself?" "Oh, Miss Grame—nothing like that. It was just that it really did give us a shock to see our very proper English instructor suddenly turning by the alchemy of the footlights into a creature of another world. Really, it frightened me—like Dr. Jekyll turning into that dreadful Mr. Hyde."

"I DON'T know whether to feel flattered or abashed," said Lilith. "I was on the London stage briefly and, I assure you quite respectfully, under the name of Lenley Gray—"

"Now I recall you!" Miss Tait let her glasses drop almost into her teacup. "You played the part of Diana at the Empire in London during the last year of the war. I saw you. I loved the play. But, my dear child, why didn't you tell us who you were? Here, all this time, we've had a celebrity in our midst—"

"But I'm not. I left the stage after Crosskeys finished its run. I shall never, I think, go back to it. Tonight, of course, I had no choice. I couldn't let the company down and Peg Wayland wasn't able to go on. She will play the part at the Drama Festival, play it quite as well as I did—probably better, for she will bring to it the freshness that I may have lost."

"Oh, never," said Miss Tait. "Here now, have some tea with us. And tell us—we don't wish to pry—but you and Gavin Wayland—"

"I think you know it already," said Lilith wearily. "Mr. Wayland and I are engaged. We hope to be married in St. Bride's Chapel on June 24. You are all invited, of course, and I do hope you will come."

Chamber Of Commerce Unit Pledges Cover-Crop Advice

The fact that 50,000 acres of naked Midland area farm land may be stripped further by sweeping winds this Winter was sounded Thursday at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee studying cover crop possibilities.

Possibly 50,000 of the 70,000 acres of cultivated land in this area, committee members pointed out, have not been planted with cover crops. Lack of cover for this land, they said, will leave it open for almost constant erosion and serious damage.

The board members discussed types of cover crops that could be planted, "if," they said, "there is enough moisture to take care of it."

No definite action was taken, but aid and advice to farmers in the erosion battle was pledged.

Conservation Report

The Midland meeting followed a report by the Soil Conservation Service of greatly improved soil moisture conditions in some drought-ridden areas of Texas and Oklahoma which markedly lessen prospects of widespread wind erosion.

Deaconess To Tell Of Work In American Missionary Program

Ida Bilger, deaconess of the Methodist Church and director of Bethlehem Center, Richmond, Va., will speak at the 7 p.m. services of St. Luke's Methodist Church Sunday in a program of specific interest to women.

Miss Bilger, especially trained for her work at Scarriet College, Nashville, works under the auspices of the Women's Society for Christian Service. The Bethlehem Center's mission is service to minority racial groups in the United States.

During her visit here Miss Bilger is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thorne, 3100 Ohio Street.

Also on the evening program at St. Luke's, with services being held temporarily in Sam Houston Elementary School, will be special music by the Youth Choir.

Preceding the service the Methodist Youth Fellowship will conduct a three-point program of supper, fellowship and worship at 6 p.m.

BUSINESS VISITORS

J. D. Tolliver and Frank Clark of Alpine attended to business in Midland Thursday.

Read The Classifieds.

First, he said, farmers and ranchers have the "know how" to prevent widespread erosion; owners cooperating with soil conservation districts are using sound erosion control practices on hundreds of thousands of acres of farm and ranch lands; owners have more and better machines with which they control erosion; larger areas have irrigation facilities available for growing plant cover; and finally, farmers and ranchers have too much "horse sense" to let the conditions return.

In the Panhandle and in northwestern Oklahoma, sizable areas have accumulated moisture for wheat planting next Fall, but too many farmers are turning under an effective stubble mulch before sufficient moisture has been trapped to sustain a stand of wheat.

Attitude Of People

Range grass, Merrill said, is growing rapidly in areas which have received moisture in the last five weeks. Some 86 counties in Southwest and South Texas have received no effective moisture and not enough to relieve the record drought conditions.

Merrill said one of the most encouraging signs has been the new attitude of people in the drought areas. Farms and city residents alike have seemed to realize the threat that drought, with wind erosion, has brought to their communities and are determined to get protective and soil-improving cover on their lands.

In the South Plains, a drive to get plant cover on exposed lands is being spearheaded by a committee of businessmen, soil conservation districts and agricultural leaders. Charles Maedgen, president of the Lubbock National Bank, heads the advisory group. With "For Land's Sake, Cover" as a slogan, the group is sponsoring a week-long publicity crusade urging the use of soil conservation practices to produce cover for insufficiently protected lands.

Conditions Of 2's

In Brownfield, center of one of the most troublesome areas in the wind erosion season, J. O. Gilliam, president of the State National Bank and Trust Company, has launched a drive against the single-crop system of farming which leaves land exposed to winter winds.

Merrill rounded out his report with five reasons why he doesn't think there should be a return to the wind erosion conditions of the 1930's.

Americans Near Top Of Himalayan Peak

SKARDU, KASHMIR—(AP)—An expedition of nine Americans struggling toward the 28,260-foot summit of Mt. Godwin Austen was reported Friday to have reached the 25,000-foot level after fighting through severe storms.

The Himalayan peak, also known as K-2, is the world's second highest mountain.

The latest message from the expedition said preparations were being made to set up its seventh advance camp. Success or failure in conquering the peak is expected to be known within a week and will depend largely upon the weather.

An earlier message said a blizzard halted progress about two weeks ago at 23,300 feet.

The expedition has not used oxygen equipment yet and will try to reach the summit without it, according to the latest reports.

HOPE BORN OF LOVE — Parents Refuse To Believe Report Prisoner Sons Died

By The Associated Press

Parents of many of the 18 Texans among the first Americans reported to have died while under the yoke of the Communists Friday refused to believe their sons were dead. They clung to the hope the Communist list was faked.

"I want to know for sure if my boy is dead," said Mrs. John Kirkpatrick when told her son, Ardell, was dead. He was reported missing Feb. 12, 1951.

"I have not heard another word until this telegram came," Mrs. Kirkpatrick said. Ardell's father died about six months ago.

"I want to know for sure," his mother repeated in her two-room house in South Bonham, "so I can get this trouble off my mind. I have worried and wondered . . ."

that he was dead. His father, 65, and partially paralyzed from a recent stroke, said: "I just had hope—a lot of hope, too. I just figured he was alive, somehow."

"We all had felt like he was coming back some day," Fogle's brother, Esker, said. "It was just a conviction, I guess."

In Corpus Christi, it was another story of hope.

Said Mrs. Maria Muro, Sgt. Roberto Rodriguez' sister: "We have waited three long years without a word from Roberto. Now they say he may be dead. We do not want to believe that and we will not believe it until we have proof."

"And in Robstown the same story: 'Some reports have mistakes,' said Eliseo Vergara hopefully. "It might be that he is not dead; he may live. That is the way—feel," he added. His son, Eliseo, was reported missing in February, 1950.

In Fort Worth, the news affirmed what Mrs. Eddie Terry had been "feeling." "I told my husband," she said Thursday, "that some way, some how—even if it was just a scrap of paper—we would've heard from Jimmy if he was all right."

They never heard from Jimmy, only from the Communists.

The family of Pedro Villereal of Robstown wants to wait for more word from the Army before accepting their son's fate. "They're supposed to get his identification tags to be sure he is dead," said the father, "and we won't believe he is until they are sure."

Drouth Puts Only Sour Note In U.S. Business Picture

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—Businessmen looking for the first signs of the Fall turn-up feel a little better Friday.

Several sources report retail trade is starting to shake out its Summer dullness.

Rising sales of back-to-school items are reported by Dun & Bradstreet.

Chain stores generally report better sales this Summer than last. Department store sales are running two per cent higher than in mid-August a year ago, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

Another indicator is the rise in loans to business by the banks. Increasing volume for the second straight week is reported by New York member banks of the Federal Reserve System.

Business loans are due to turn up around this time of year as businessmen prepare for the Fall season. Some of the biggest borrowers this week are commodity dealers, and the textile industry.

Many textile men report business picking up. Some makers of men's suits report they are operating at the highest rate in several years, and some are looking for additional skilled workers.

Hum Of Construction

The construction industry hums. Spending on new construction may hit a record this year, the Department of Commerce believes. The Federal Reserve Board reports that consumer intent to buy new houses still is high—although the desire for a new home is one thing and getting up the money for it is another.

The pickup isn't uniform across the country, of course. Drouth-hit areas aren't sharing in any business boom. Stores and manufacturers who sell to farmers report slower business.

Declining farm incomes have piled up inventories of farm machinery in dealers' hands. International Harvester reports. It has laid off several thousand of its workers.

New Law Tightens Ban On Exports Of Atom Materials

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government now can take more drastic action if atomic energy materials or other non-exportable goods are sent abroad.

President Eisenhower in Denver Thursday signed a bill strengthening the existing law.

One change allows a vehicle, ship or plane used to export such goods to be seized even after the article has been smuggled out of the country.

In addition, customs officials now are allowed to retain seized property without obtaining a warrant, although the owner can file a claim.

LONDON—(AP)—Rola, a lion Prime Minister Churchill gave the London Zoo, mauled the head keeper of the lion house Thursday.

Charles Hitchcock, 46, had 11 stitches taken in his hand. He was back on duty Friday, heavily bandaged.

U.S., Britain Split On India's Role In Political Conference

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Both the United States and Britain stood their ground Friday in a split over the proposed seating of India at the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Indian sources conceded, however, that the United States appeared to have the most support among the 16 countries trying to work out a joint proposal on the composition of the conference.

Britain and Canada both feel strongly that India should be among those chosen to represent the world organization at the parley. Most of the others were reported either indifferent or on the side of the United States.

The final decision, however, will be made by the 90-nation UN General Assembly, convening here Monday.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., brought the split into the open Thursday night, declaring that the UN should be represented only by countries which fought for it in Korea.

That would bar India, which sent only a medical unit.

Lodge insisted the United States has nothing against India, but feels the armistice agreement made it clear that the UN should be represented by countries which had armed forces under its flag.

The British declined to comment, but they were understood to feel strongly that both India and Russia should sit at the conference, along with those who did the fighting.

The British reportedly believe India, which has chosen contact with Communist China and which authored the UN resolution on which the Korean armistice was based, would be a constructive force in the parley. The British also feel that exclusion of Russia would be "unrealistic."

Lodge said he had no objection to Russia attending the conference if it sat on the side of the Communist belligerents—Red China and North Korea—and not with the UN representatives.

No Agreement Yet

Lodge acknowledged that the United States and its 15 Allies had reached no definite decisions in their two long private sessions Wednesday night and Thursday. He said they would meet again Saturday morning.

Diplomatic officials in Washington disclosed that the United States has proposed tentatively a seven-nation delegation to represent the UN—the United States, Britain, France, Canada, the Philippines, Thailand and Colombia.

These sources said the Americans are willing to add such countries as Australia and Turkey, which sent troops to Korea, but want no more than 12 nations on the UN delegation.

India's UN delegate V. K. Krishna Menon, apparently annoyed by the fight, told newsmen that India is no "candidate" for membership in the conference.

"This is not like a race for office," he said.

He maintained that, under terms of the armistice agreement, the Communists are free to choose any countries to represent their side.

Russia's views on the controversy remained a secret.

Red Cross Invites Quake Relief Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Red Cross invites contribution for relief of earthquake victims in Greece.

The Red Cross said Thursday all its chapters would accept financial gifts to be transmitted to the Greek Red Cross.

It also allocated $40,000 for blankets and $10,000 for antibiotic drugs to be provided the sufferers.

SAFETY MEASURE'S CAT'S MEOW—Tom Letter, of Topeka, Kan., gives his three kittens a safety lesson before turning them loose to play. The 11-year-old boy made the "Careful-Cat Crossing" sign himself, to warn motorists that his kittens' lives are precious. He started this safety campaign after his pet cat was killed last winter.

Rufus The Hornbill Becomes Character In St. Louis Zoo

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rufus, the restless hornbill that took a flyer on Wall Street, is just another character now in the St. Louis Zoo birdhouse and is likely to have an uncomfortable time resting on his laurels.

Rufus arrived Thursday night as part of a shipment from New York including another hornbill and three noisy and bald-pated capuchin birds from the Guianas.

Big-beaked Rufus is confined in the same quarters with Jabbo, the myna bird, that talked himself out of a job, and Caesar, the huge condor that was humiliated and deflated by Cleopatra.

Rufus is the strange-looking bird, native to the Philippines, who caused a flurry in the New York financial district last week. He escaped from a Manhattan dealer and flapped from one skyscraper to another. After leading a humane society agent on a futile two-day chase, Rufus trapped himself in a house when it began talking too much, shouting "Quiet" right back at the office workers, and confusing them with a realistic imitation of a ringing telephone.

Caesar, a powerful condor with a 10-foot wingspread that once fatally ripped two eagles, was the terror of the birdhouse. But Caesar lost his confidence along with a portion of his sharp beak with the arrival of his mate, Cleopatra.

Caesar's bill was dulled with an electric grinder for Cleopatra's protection. She immediately took over more than her share of the horse-meat and now rules the roost and her hen-pecked husband.

Rufus has been renamed "Sell High" in honor of his financial district adventure. His companion hornbill is known as "Buy Low."

West Berlin Abandons Plan To Halt Food Distribution

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin's government Friday abandoned plans to halt its food distribution to East Berliners for 11 days and announced the giveaway would continue without pause.

The City Senate said the American-sponsored parcels of food would be given out daily to all Soviet zone residents who come for them. Earlier, the Senate had planned to continue supplying only East zone residents from outside Berlin and to hold up distribution to East Berliners beginning Sunday while the program's facilities were reorganized.

Since the venture started July 27, almost 2,500,000 parcels of lard, sugar, canned milk and dried vegetables have been given to Easters. The hungry braved tough Communist police controls and counter-measures to smuggle the coveted packages back home.

The Senate denied reports, published in America, that the British and French had objected to continuing the U. S.-financed program because of fear of Russian reprisals. A British spokesman also said he knew nothing of any such objection.

A French official said: "Certainly we've not been too heartily in favor of the entire idea, but we've not protested about it nor do we intend to."

Allied officials said that when the food distribution was undertaken, some British and French authorities had expressed concern that it might boomerang against the East Germans.

But these officials said West German and American authorities convinced their reluctant colleagues that the anger of the East Germans, as illustrated by the June 17 revolts, was of such magnitude that the Communist regime would feed slowly in trying to combat food handouts.

Construction Opens On Hardware Store

Workers for Stonehocker Construction and Lumber Company started work Wednesday on the new $100,000 Basin Supply Hardware Store, located on the Andrews Highway.

Completion date for the structure, which will be beside Lloyd's Furniture Store, has been set for approximately six months from now.

The building, which is to be one-story and of semi-fire proof construction, will contain approximately 15,000 square feet of floor space. The walls will be of brick and tile with the concrete floors covered with asphalt tile and quarry tile.

Central air conditioning and heating and acoustical plaster ceiling will be installed.

Michigan State Fair To Stay Simon Pure

DETROIT (AP)—Manager James M. Hare said Friday the State Fair September 4-13 will have no gaming concessions.

"There won't be even a weight-guessing booth," said Hare smugly. "We got along nicely last year without gaming ventures. Now we don't want any questionable enterprises."

Hare cited figures showing that revenue went up last year.

10 Texans Listed As Dead In Communist POW Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department identified Friday 123 more Americans reported by the Communists to have died in enemy prison camps in Korea.

Nine were Air Force members. The others were Army men.

The Communists told the United Nations in Korea a total of 1,022 American servicemen died in captivity and that 147 escaped from Red prison camps.

The Pentagon identified 121 Americans, all Army men, Thursday, in the first list of men the Reds said had died. Additional names will be made public until the Communist-supplied list is exhausted.

In notifying the families of the listed Americans, the Defense Department has stressed the complete unreliability of Communist statements about prisoners, adding assurances that the men will continue to be carried as missing in action until every means has been exhausted to determine their actual fate.

The latest list, all Army personnel except where Air Force is indicated, includes these Texans:

Pfc. Fred Beddington, Windom, Set. Guenther Burrer, Fredericksburg.

Pvt. Jimmie Gaitan, San Antonio.

Pfc. Henry Gonzales, Houston.

Pfc. Roberto Rodriguez, Corpus Christi.

Pfc. James Wagner, Houston.

Sgt. John Wheeler, Delimita.

Pfc. Leo Williams, Dallas.

Air Force Texans:

Airman Thomas Evans, Jr., Fort Worth.

Capt. Grant Simpson, Austin.

Security Council Honors Retiring General Bradley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retiring General of the Army Omar N. Bradley has the "appreciation and commendation" of the National Security Council.

The council, made up of high officials who keep check on U. S. defenses, adopted a formal statement to this effect Thursday and ordered a copy sent to Bradley, who steps down Saturday as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Vice President Nixon, presiding over the council in place of vacationing President Eisenhower yesterday said, "General Bradley has been known as the 'GI's general' and lately as the 'general's general.' Certainly now he is 'our general.'"

For the quota step to carry, it must be approved by two-thirds of farmers voting. If quotas are not approved, the price support rate will drop from 90 to 80 per cent of parity, approximately from $2 to $1.20 a bushel.

Polling places were established in each of Texas' wheat-producing counties.

LAUGHING POPLARS

The trees whose wavering branches droop to the earth are called weeping willows. Why not call these tall fellows, with the firm upward-reaching branches, laughing poplars?

People are like trees. Some droop listlessly under the burden of their own existence. They spend most of their days weeping.

Others stand upright and firm, undaunted by life's threatening storms. They can laugh, and their laughter spreads courage through the world.

Trees never change. The willow remains a willow; the poplar, a poplar.

But people do change. For centuries the Christian religion has been turning man's sorrow into joy, his weakness into strength.

Start worshipping every Sunday, and discover why churches are the back-bone of our civilization!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship among men, and the source of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The proper use of the word 'soul' can always be gained by substituting the word 'God,' where the deific meaning is required. In other cases, use the word 'sense,' and you will have the scientific significance."

Egyptian Spokesman Raises Hopes For Suez Settlement

CAIRO, EGYPT—(AP)—Hopes for a solution of the Anglo-Egyptian dispute over the Suez rose Friday after Vice Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser said Egypt is willing to make the giant base available to the West in an emergency.

Nasser said in an interview Thursday night the West could use the base providing Egyptian sovereignty was honored. He insisted that Egypt should have the final say-so on when non-Egyptian troops should be admitted.

This point has been a major factor blocking agreement over evacuation of the 80,000 British troops now defending the 104-mile waterway.

Nasser denied earlier reports Thursday that Egypt had decided to break off current informal talks with Britain over the canal zone's future.
 His statement was the first public expression by a responsible official that Egypt might allow the West back in the Suez under certain conditions. It was received with enthusiasm by British circles in Cairo, which had been worried by the earlier reports of a breakdown in the Anglo-Egyptian contacts.

However, it was not considered a commitment that Egypt would join the Middle East Defense Organization (MEDO) proposed by the West. The Egyptians have insisted that this will not be brought up in the discussions with Britain.
 The Egyptian viewpoint is that unless they have final say in determining future use of the Suez, the British would return and "begin another occupation."

Two More Children Found Suffocated In Old Ice Chest

HAVERTHILL, MASS.—(AP)—Two youngsters suffocated in a discarded ice box Thursday night, bringing to 11 the number of children who died in that manner throughout the country in two days.

The latest victims were Michael T. Rogers, four, and Edward P. Ferguson, three.

A search party found their bodies entombed in an abandoned ice box on a dump about 300 yards from the Havert Hill home of the youngsters' parents.

Four children died in Richmond, Va., in that manner Thursday and five youngsters died in Proctor, Ark., Wednesday night.
 About 200 policemen, firefighters and volunteers had searched for the Havert Hill youngsters for about six hours before Lucien Duval, 33, an uncle of the Ferguson boy, lifted the ice box lid and saw the two unconscious forms.
 Duval said tearfully: "I just got through reading about those other kids dying in ice boxes, so a companion and I decided to take a look."
 Firefighters tried desperately, but in vain, to save the boys' lives by artificial respiration and the administration of oxygen.

Okinawa Sits Tight In Typhoon's Path

TOKYO—(AP)—The great American base at Okinawa directly in the path of a violent Pacific typhoon, was "just sitting tight" Friday as weather experts plotted the northward sweep of the howling storm.
 A spokesman for the U. S. Ryukyu Command said that unless the typhoon changes course, it will roar over Okinawa late Saturday night.
 "We're just sitting tight to see which way it will go."

Okinawa, a key U. S. air base in the Far East, is under a condition three alert, which means preliminary precautions are being taken.
 The typhoon, described by the Tokyo Weather Bureau as the greatest it ever has recorded, has winds of between 170 and 180 miles an hour at its center.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

The Midland youngsters who spent their Summer by joining rather than trying to beat the heat—in track workouts—will get to enter as a team in the Southern Olympics at Houston next week.

They—the 10 or 11 youngsters eligible for the 15-state Southern—received quick response to a publicized appeal for funds to meet travel expenses. And they now plan to depart early Tuesday for the August 20-22 relays.

Theirs has been a rough, and admirable, Summer.

Track Is Rough Way To Spend Summer

In the first place, track at best is a Spring sport or one for cooler climates than that of Midland. But the boys, most of whom were members of the team which gave up 1952 plans for the Southern because of the polio scare, went about forming a winning combination in the face of untold difficulties.

Because they liked their sport, they ignored the fact that they had no team sponsor. And there was little promise, when you think of expense money, of competition beyond that of the district Junior Olympics at Odessa two weeks ago. They organized their own workouts, found a volunteer coach in

We Lose No Sleep Over Dream Team

Just to prove that when two "bat the breeze" about baseball for a long Summer, the opinions wind up about the same, look how the sports staffers here would name their Longhorn League all-star team.

First base, Joe Bauman of Artesia; second base, Ozzie Alvarez of Artesia; third base, Julio de la Torre of Midland; shortstop, Scooter Hughes of Midland; left field, Glenn Burns of San Angelo; center field, Buddy Grimes of Roswell; right field, Leo Eastham of Odessa; catcher, Les Mulcahy of Artesia; right-handed pitchers, Audie Malone of Carlsbad and Len Ruyle of Artesia; and left-handed pitchers, Bobby Gregg of San Angelo and an argument to follow.

Who would be the second lefty to vote for? Abe Weiner chooses Jim Carson, the Odessa whom Jack Russell of San Jacinto Junior High School and a supervisor in the Rev. A. B. Lightfoot. After determined drills in 100-degree weather they emerged as champions of the district and now even promise more. Their eyes are set on whipping the record—a second place—won by Midland's 1951 entry in the Southern.

A real stout-hearted group—Jerry Wilton, Gerald Watts, Phillip Hubbard, Dale Jobe, Buddy Whitley, Larry Cooper, Jimmy Hicks, Stanley Lightfoot, Arthur Mayhew, Johnny McNeil and Charles Frick, all of whom will compete as 14-15-year-olds, and Clinton Noble, of the 16-17 group.

Track Is Rough Way To Spend Summer

Shreveport thought enough of to buy this week, while your agent here likes the southpaw with the league's best strikeout record, Marshall Epperson of Carlsbad.

At any rate, those were the department's ballots when President Hal Sayles started his annual canvass to choose the league's outstanding team. There were other things to name also, Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player. Agreement again, almost. Vice President of Artesia, Ike Jackson of Carlsbad and Romarico Soto of Midland rank one, two, three in the rookie voting with Les Mulcahy of Artesia and Glenn Burns of San Angelo the top two.

One of us thought of De la Torre in the third MVP spot, the other chose Art Bowland of Midland.

Anybody else want a fight?

Indians Overcome 10-Run Oiler Lead For 12-10 Win

By ABE WEINER

Reporter-Telegram Sports Staff ODESSA—There is no task greater than teaching a young child patience, they say. If so, someone must have been a real master at teaching the Midland Indians, for Thursday night they waited through three frightful innings and then retaliated in kind for a 12-10 victory over the Odessa Oilers.

During three frames, the Indians were mere sitting pigeons for the right-handed slants of new arrival Bill Blackburn, but the pigeons turned into bloodthirsty hawks in the fourth when they rocked the Odessa hurler for four runs to make up for some of the 10 runs they spotted the Oilers in the first and third innings.

In the Odessa fourth, Mike Rainey came in to quieten the boisterous Oiler hitters, and the Tribe settled down to the task of finishing making amends for shaky infield play and poor pitching in the previous frames.

Odessa gained its advantage by boxing Max Newcom's ears in the opening inning and continuing its assault on Romarico Soto. It wasn't until Rainey entered the fracas that their attack was stifled. Rainey pitched three-hit ball for four and a third inning before Jack Schaenling hurled the last two outs.

Here's what happened: Odessa scored seven times in the first inning on seven hits and a walk off Newcom Soto with errors by Art Bowland and Roger Dalla Betta and Scooter Hughes lending a hand.

Raul Dieppa led off with a single, and Leo Eastham flied out. Lefty Lovko walked, and Barney Batson scored Dieppa with a single, continuing to second as Bowland missed the throw home. Bob Martin doubled both runners home and scored on Roberto Fabian's single. When Art Neal singled, Soto relieved Newcom.

Blackburn doubled all three runners home and continued to third on Hughes' overthrow. Dieppa beat out an infield hit before Eastham and Lovko were retired.

In the third, Lou Dawson erred on a throw from Hughes, and Hughes dropped Bowland's throw to catch Neal stealing. Blackburn singled to set the stage for Dieppa's home run that made it, 10-0.

Midland scored four in the fourth. Blackburn, who had struck out six of the first 13 men he faced, walked Julio de la Torre and Glen Selbo to start out. Bowland popped out, but Bill Brown singled, scoring De la Torre. Selbo scored and Brown continued to third as Eastham let the ball through him in right field.

Dalla Betta then singled Brown home, but was forced at second by Soto, who scored on Hughes' double.

The Indians got rid of Blackburn in the fifth as the Oiler hurler walked Dawson and De la Torre to open. Reliever Joe Ruiz got Selbo to force De la Torre, but Bowland singled Dawson across. Brown was safe on Dieppa's error to load the bases. Ruiz then wild pitched with all runners advancing.

Dalla Betta flew out to Loyko in deep center with Bowland scoring the third run, and Brown came home when Neal overthrew first on Tex Stephenson's pinch-hit ground-

er. In the sixth, the Tribe scored on Diaz' bunt single, Dawson's line single to right and a wild pitch by Wes Ortiz, who had relieved Ruiz after Dawson's blow.

The Tribe tallied twice in the seventh to go ahead, 11-10. Dalla Betta and Rainey singled success-ively, and Hughes was safe on Martin's error with Dalla Betta scoring. Diaz forced Scooter at second, but Dawson walked and Ortiz forced the winning run across by passing De la Torre.

Midland added an insurance run in the ninth as Rainey opened with a single, took second on Hughes' sacrifice and scored on Diaz' single to center.

Ralph Atkinson goes after his second victory against no defeats in Tribe livery Friday with Orlando Zraggen due to oppose him. The Tribe will be seeking its twelfth victory this season. Last year, Midland won but six of 20 from the Odessa club. Game time is 8 p.m.

PREPARATION—Gib Dawson of the University of Texas, left, ripped off a 10-yard gain during one of the inter-squad scrimmages by Coach Bobby Dodd's College All-Stars. Dodd's group went through drills at Lafayette, Ind., to prepare for their game with the Detroit Lions at Chicago's Soldier Field Friday night.

Air-Minded All-Stars Tackle Pro Champions Friday Night

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO—If you came to a brick wall, would you bash your head against it trying to get to the other side or climb over it?

The All-Star Football Game Friday night is something of a parallel. The collegians under Head Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, are expected to try to beat the Detroit Lions, 1952 National Football League champions, through the art of passing.

They have many experts of the gridiron on their side, including Red Grange. Grange frankly says he doesn't see "how these kids can beat the Lions."

There are others who think the 14-point spread is too severe. The star of Friday night's game could easily be Tommy O'Connell of Illinois, who will pull on a Chicago Bear uniform as soon as it's over.

O'Connell rewrote the Big Ten record book in passing last season and starred in the post-season East-West game.

The All-Stars have power in the sharp thrusts by Buck McPhail of Oklahoma and Andy Kosar of Tennessee.

Watch for such fellows as these: Ed Bell of Pennsylvania, J. D. Kimmel, 235, Houston; Harley Sewell, 200, Texas; Bill Athey, 225, Baylor; Don Rhoden, Rice; Bill Forrester, Southern Methodist.

A field of 15 cars is expected to enter the seven events at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at the stock car races sponsored by the Midland Stock Car Association.

The races, held each Tuesday at the new Permian Speedway, a quarter-mile oval west of the Texan Theater on Highway 80, feature cars from both Midland and Midland area cities.

"We're looking for cars from San Angelo and Abilene next Tuesday," Woody Woodard, association chief, said Thursday. "And there may be more from other cities. We'll have at least 15 cars."

The association hopes to have an improved track and better lighting by Tuesday, Woodard pointed out. A grandstand has not been erected, but a crash fence is up. Cars may park within 20 feet of the track.

Potashers Down Colts, 6-5, On Hobbs' Rap In Fourteenth

SAN ANGELO—(P)—Bob Hobbs, hitless in five previous trips and with three strikeouts chalked up against him, powered a Gil Guerra pitch over the wall in the fourteenth inning Thursday night to give the Carlsbad Potashers a 6-5 victory over the San Angelo Colts.

The victory, achieved before 1,054 sit-tight fans, moved the New Mexico club to within two and one-half games of the Longhorn League leading Colts.

West Seeks Revenge In Cage Game

SAN ANGELO—(P)—The East-West All-Star basketball game of the six-man coaching school will be played here Friday night.

The West team, out for revenge of a 34-33 defeat suffered here last year at the hands of the East, is coached by C. O. Cash of Mobeetie. M. G. Birchett of Prairie High School at Cleveland will coach the East.

The All-Star football game will be played Saturday night. Seventy-one coaches registered as the eight annual convention opened Thursday.

Main lecture Friday will be a discussion of the Interscholastic League by Dr. Rhea Williams, director of athletics, Interscholastic League.

Officials Expect 40 In Tennis Tourney

Last Entries Due To Sign Saturday

City officials and directors of the second annual Midland Tennis Tournament scheduled for August 18-23, said Friday they expect about 35 or 40 players to make up the field when Saturday's last entries are taken.

Bryan Elder, the tourney chairman, issued a last call for players to meet the 12 noon Saturday deadline for entries. He said about 40 netters would compete in the tourney of which the city has accepted sponsorship after the Midland Jay-Cees conducted the first meet in 1952.

One of the more attractive events, Elder said, will be a new division set up in this year's plans. There was no bracket for mixed doubles last time but "it's going to be one of the most popular divisions when all the entries are in."

The other divisions were filling up with stars in earlier registration this week. Myrt Baker of the registration committee announced. Among the players on line are Chick Harris, a former Southwest Conference champion from Rice, Stanley Bellows from Princeton, Arch McColl from Oklahoma University and Bob Barnes, Charles Davis and Stanley Fox.

Meanwhile, Elder announced the officials for the tournament, with these committees:

Registration—Chairman Myrt Baker, Jesse Armstrong, Jim Scurlock and Ross McAlpine; awards—Chairman Bob Barnes, Morris Howard and Stanley Bellows; publicity—Chairman Morris Howard, Martin Allday, active in charge, and John Drummond and Dick Saxe; seeding and placement—Chairman Bob Patterson, Frank Ford, Stanley Bellows, Jim Wolfe and Pat Boles; referees—Co-Chairmen Joe Fraley and Stanley Fox, Jess Armstrong and Ross McAlpine.

Eight events will be on the program, men's veterans singles and doubles; women's singles; men's singles and doubles; junior boys' singles and doubles; junior girls' singles and doubles and mixed doubles.

STEAM—Joe Adams rares back for a mighty serve as he practiced this week for the Midland Tennis Championships which opens August 18. Adams is one of an expected 40 entries who'll compete for the city crown.

Clergyman Denies Russian Claims

Last week this column ran a feature on the Russian claim of the invention of the power lawnmower. Details were given about the presentation of high orders to one of the comrades for his excellent work in perfecting this labor saving device.

We refuted the claims of the USSR by showing how an immigrant boy, Knud Jacobsen, was the actual father of the first successful device of this nature.

We understand that further substantiation of our story was given to the people of Midland from the pulpit of one of the local churches. It is not to be wondered that the clergy would rise to the defense of American craftsmanship and the power mower.

This church maintains a large lawn area in top condition with a Jacobsen Barium Mower that has given yeoman service for three years. The church well knows that the operation and maintenance of this mower has been at a ridiculous low figure, considering the vast expanse of lawn that must be mowed.

You, too, can have all the joy of this bourgeois invention. You, too, can attend church next Sunday knowing that your lawn has been easily and quickly manicured with one of these sleek Jacobsen Power Mowers. Why not swap struggle for stroll? Why not swap push for pew? Why not swap work for worship? Get a Jacobsen.

National Nine Wins, 8-0, In All-Star Game

Excellent pitching and good hitting gave the National League All-Stars an 8-0 victory over the American League Thursday night as the JayCees city softballers closed out their season with a festive night.

Milton Montgomery, Jack Dunlap and Barney Hightower combined on a two-hit shutout over the Junior circuit, with Montgomery and Dunlap allowing no hits through the first five innings.

The American League's Ray Whiteside singled and Bill LaRoche doubled in the sixth, before Hightower settled down to retire the side the rest of the way without further damage.

While the senior circuit's trio was whitewashing their foes, the National League pounded Charles Wise, John Atwood and Bobby Joe Trimble for 11 safeties and eight

Yanks, Bums Making Series Loom As First 'Token' Affair

By BEN FLEGAAR
AP Sports Writer

It looks as if it's going to cost more to commute between the World Series ball parks this Fall—but only because they've raised the subway fare in New York City.

After seven nickel series and three dime classics (the fare went up to 10 cents in 1948, this year's big show appears set to be a "token" affair. Tokens replaced cash when the fares were hiked to 15 cents last month.

Barring miracles the participants will be the New York Yankees, for the fifth straight year, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, for the second time in a row.

The Chicago White Sox and Milwaukee Braves continue to put up game, but most probably vain, fights from their second place spots. The schedules and the standings are against both of them.

Chicago trails the Yankees by seven games and the two clubs play each other only five more times. Milwaukee is seven and a half behind Brooklyn with just four games remaining against the Dodgers. For both would-be contenders this means they have to rely on help from the rest of the league and no such help is in sight.

The Yankees whipped Washington 6-1 Thursday night after Chicago had turned back third place Cleveland, 7-3, in a 10-inning daylight battle. Brooklyn came from five runs behind for the second straight game to edge the New York Giants, 9-8, in 10 innings. Milwaukee was scheduled.

In other action Philadelphia squeaked Boston, 1-0, and St. Louis nipped by Detroit, 1-0, in 11 innings in the American League. Cincinnati walloped Chicago, 10-2, and Pittsburgh shaded Philadelphia, 4-3, in the National.

Steady Eddie Lopat continued his mastery over Washington in posting his tenth consecutive victory against the Senators. The six-hit triumph was his twelfth of the year and his fifth this season against Bucky Harris crew.

Virgil Trucks pitched and batted his way to his tenth victory since joining Chicago in Mid-June. After a home run by Cleveland's Larry Doby with two out in the ninth had tied the score, Trucks singled home the deciding run in the top of the tenth. Minnie Mincos led the 12-hit Chicago attack with a triple and three singles.

Joe Coleman gave up just three singles to Boston in winning his first game in Philadelphia in four seasons. Coleman also scored the only run of the game, riding home on Joe De Maestri's single after he had opened the sixth inning with a double.

The Browns got the lone run at St. Louis when Vic Wertz doubled and Vern Stephens singled in the seventh. Red Garver absorbed the loss after giving up only three hits in the first nine innings. Marlin Stuart who replaced Lou Kretlow in the seventh, picked up the victory.

Roy Campanella of Brooklyn has hit 21 home runs this season but he hadn't connected in the Polo Grounds until Thursday night. With two men aboard and the Dodgers trailing by four runs in the seventh Roy poked a Hoyt Wilhelm pitch into the lower right field seats. In the ninth with two out and the Dodgers a run behind he lofted another Wilhelm delivery off the scoreboard in left field for another homer.

Carl Furillo connected with Wilhelm's first offering in the tenth and drilled it into the upper left field seats for the run that won the game. Clem Labine, last of six Brooklyn pitchers, received credit for his second victory in the Dodgers' last two games.

Home runs figured heavily in the scoring at Pittsburgh, too. Frank Thomas blasted a pair for the winning Pirates and Earl Torgeson got one for the Phils.

Ted Kluszewski got four hits and four runs. Willard Marshall hit his fourteenth home run and the Cubs contributed four errors as Cincinnati routed Chicago.

That'll complete the cycle.

He already has the USGA Junior championship and the Hearst National Junior in the bag. Now he's seeking the International Junior Chamber of Commerce title.

Minor Breaks Hint French Strike Wave Passing Peak

PARIS—(AP)—France settled down Friday to a bitter struggle between striking labor and economy-minded Premier Joseph Laniel. With millions already off their jobs, the walkouts spread to civilian workers in the nation's arsenals, army hospitals and quartermaster outfits.

Only 80,000 workers were involved in the 24-hour walkout at the military installations, but they dramatized the unions' determination not to stop until Laniel abandoned plans to trim government payrolls and to retire the age for the civil service.

With no end in sight, the nation's railroads still were paralyzed, her gas and electricity service diminished and her communication system tied in knots.

Employees in these and other government services, more than a million workers, were out for an indefinite period. Their ranks were swelled Thursday by more than three million others in numerous activities—public and private—who quit for 24 hours to support the civil servants' demands.

Business Resumes

But Thursday's response to the strike call was only partially effective, indicating the wave might have reached its peak. Banks and insurance companies remained open, as did department stores. The stock market functioned. So did most other private businesses, though all have been slowed by the lack of communications. Only in the metal working industries was the strike generally effective.

There still was no sign of any move to end the walkouts. The adamant unions already have widened their demands to include a call for a general wage increase. And Laniel, a hard-headed multi-millionaire textile manufacturer, insisted he would not be pressured into revoking his cost-cutting decrees. The government made no step to even negotiate.

'Operation Strike'

U. S. Army and Air Force units in France set up their own "Operation Strike" to cope with the upheaval. They flung their own network of planes and buses across the nation, keeping food, mail and personnel moving to fill their various needs.

Convoys of American vehicles brought in fresh milk and other perishables from Holland and Germany. Army buses and Air Force planes hauled stranded soldiers and mails to France, Britain and Germany.

The unions continued a tieup of the Paris subway and bus system into its third day. One independent union balked at the continuance and a few subway trains operated. But Parisians had to depend mostly on taxis and almost 1,000 army trucks, which continued to haul civilians about the city.

11 Ex-Prisoners Take Rest In Hawaii Enroute To Homes

HONOLULU—(AP)—Eleven liberated American war prisoners landed at Hickam Air Force Base Thursday night, homeward bound from North Korean prison camps.

They were aboard the second homeward POW plane from Japan since the exchange of prisoners began 10 days ago.

The group included two Hawaii boys who were swept into the arms of waiting families.

Seven of the men, looking thin and tired after their Red captivity, were carried off the plane on stretchers. Two Red Cross nurses draped flower leis on them as the litters were carried to a waiting ambulance.

One of those aboard, Sgt. Law-

Democrats Ponder Chance Of Netting More Senate Seats

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Democrats, laying plans to try to recapture the Senate next year, are placing high hopes on Michigan and Kentucky.

The Michigan seat of Senator Ferguson and the Kentucky post held by Senator Cooper are at the top of their stalk-the-GOP list.

Democratic campaign leaders concede that some of their senators will have tough battles.

That is particularly true in three Midwestern states where the governor and second senators are Republicans. The three Democratic senators involved are Humphrey of Minnesota, Douglas of Illinois and Gillette of Iowa.

The mathematical odds are against a Democratic return to Senate control in 1954. More seats held by Democrats are at stake.

With the appointment Friday of Republican Robert Upton to succeed the late Senator Tobey (R-N.Y.), the Senate lineup now is 47 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Independent.

There is one vacancy caused by the death of Senator Taft (R-Ohio). A slim Democratic margin would be maintained next session, pending the 1954 elections, if Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, a Democrat who doesn't always agree with his party, appoints a Democrat to succeed Taft.

In the November voting next year, 35 places will be contested, 22 now Democratic (assuming that Lausche names a Democrat) and 13 Republican.

Kentucky is traditionally Democratic, but that party's strategists here admit they are faced with a powerful vote-getter in Republican Senator Cooper, assuming he seeks reelection.

The Democrats feel it would be a cinch to regain this seat if former Vice President Alben Barkley could be induced to run. Other possible Democratic candidates are Gov. Lawrence Wetherby and former Senator A. B. Chandler.

In Michigan, traditionally Republican, the Democrats feel they have a top candidate in Gov. Mennen Williams, who has not said yet whether he will try for the Senate.

Officers Await Lab Findings In Shootings Near Amarillo

AMARILLO—(AP)—Further questioning of Walter Ellis, former Air Force major wounded in a strange double shooting last week, was planned Friday. Officers awaited laboratory tests on evidence in the case.

Ellis, of Newark, N. J., who had a bullet removed from his head Thursday, was reported in good condition Friday.

He was found sitting in a water hole on a lonely ranch near here last Saturday. About 150 yards away was the body of Mrs. Matilda Taylor, former Tulsa waitress. Both had been shot once in the back of the head.

Ellis has been unable to talk coherently most of the time. He told officers the last he remembered was target shooting at a thermos bottle with a .38 caliber revolver.

The revolver was found near the woman's body.

Officers said paraffin tests on the hands of both Mrs. Taylor and Ellis showed no traces of nitrate. They said the tests were not conclusive since Mrs. Taylor's body had started to decompose and Ellis' hands had been submerged in the water for possibly 24 hours.

19 Cast Members Assist In 'Drunkard' Production

Nineteen cast members will assist with the Summer Mummer production of "The Drunkard," which will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the American Legion Hall.

Included in the cast will be Mrs. J. Henry Wilkinson, Jr., as a pious mother; Nancy Bass as Mary, her dutiful daughter; Mrs. Charles Dixon as Lawyer Cribbs, a miserly villain; A. Weiler Cole as Edward Middleton, a young collegian.

William L. Adam as William Dowton, a heroic son of the soil; Jane Hasencamp as Agnes, his half-witted sister; Mrs. Henry C. Hall as Miss Spindle, a wealthy spinster; Myron C. Anderson as the keeper of the bar; George Lindsey as Jimmy, son of Mary and Edward; and Richard A. Connolly as Arden Renelaw.

Also assisting will be Karl Koch, Bruce Shadle, Orwin Bellerjeau, Dave Collins, Fred Kittler, Dan Page, Claude Neely, Bill Shaner and Malcolm Gibson.

"The Drunkard" and "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" are being presented by the Summer Mummer on alternate weekends this month.

French Diver Sets New Depth Record At 1,148 Fathoms

PARIS—(AP)—Capt. Georges Houot piloted his bathyscaphe to a new record depth of 6,888 feet Friday, the Department of Marine said.

The descent was near Toulon where the little self-powered diving machine has been operating for a week.

The depth is near the maximum to be made in the Mediterranean which has few deeps beyond that.

With Houot was his engineer, Pierre Willm.

A descent into depths of the ocean beat the record of American explorer William Beebe, who went 3,026 feet in 1934.

Two days ago Houot and Willm first broke the record with a 5,082 foot plunge in the contraption, a refurbished version of the one Belgian Prof. Auguste Piccard turned over to the French Navy.

Volume Of Mail Zooms Before Congress' Probe Into Juvenile Delinquency Begins

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The letter penned by a mother of nine children read:

"If some of these parents would talk to the children instead of about them, there would be less crime."

Another letter, from a man in California, said it is generally agreed that "Children brought up in Sunday school are seldom brought up in court."

From Tennessee came a letter suggesting that most juvenile delinquency is "traceable to the beer parlors, saloons and places of that character."

The letters are among many offering help and advice and wishing Godspeed to Senator Hendrick-

Navy ships joined Greek naval units in evacuating injured and carrying food, water and supplies to the survivors. Italy also readied a relief ship to sail for the islands.

The Canadian Red Cross announced an emergency supply of 250 cases of clothing stored in Geneva, Switzerland, already was enroute to the islands.

Denmark, Switzerland, Italy and Turkey prepared emergency Red Cross relief supplies and other aid. Yugoslavia sent a gift of prefabricated houses.

The U. S. Navy organized a relief armada of ships and planes. The heavy cruiser Salem, flagship of the U. S. 6th Fleet, arrived at the disaster area Thursday and the fleet's five big transports were due Friday.

The transports carried a reinforced battalion of Marines to aid in the rescue work, equipment for distilling water and large stores of food and medicine.

U. S. headquarters in Europe gave the Greek quakes "overriding priorities over all other U. S. operations in Europe." All U. S. military exercises on the continent were canceled.

Freed Prisoner Describes 'Murder A Mile' By 'Tiger'

FREEDOM VILLAGE—(AP)—A liberated American prisoner told Friday of a "murder a mile" death march in North Korea as a column of prisoners was taken north in late 1950 by a North Korean commander they called "The Tiger."

"We lost a man a mile for at least 70 miles by murder," said Pfc. James Hunt of Russell, Pa.

Hunt said that when a prisoner would drop out of the column "he would be shot." The Tiger was "responsible for the killings."

"He personally shot an Army lieutenant and the whole column of us witnessed it."

Hunt said the Tiger blindfolded the lieutenant and shot him with a

Officers Baffled After Two Women, One Naked, Slain

DECATUR, GA.—(AP)—The bullet-pierced bodies of two women, one nude, were found Friday in a back bedroom of a neat brown shingle house here. Their deaths baffled investigators.

County Police Chief Hoyt Sutton said the two, one with a police record and the other with an entirely different background, had been dead at least three days when neighbors called authorities.

Police found Mrs. Lois Fears, 43, owner of the house, lying sprawled on a bed with several bullets in her body. On the floor by the bed was the unclad body of Mrs. Evelyn

Scattered 'Demonstrations' Interrupt Telephone Service In 13 Texas Cities

By The Associated Press

Union and telephone company men met Friday in Dallas with a federal conciliator, trying to reach contract agreements and prevent a threatened strike of the General Telephone Company.

A strike threat continued over huge Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

"Demonstration" walkouts in 13 Texas cities were held Thursday by General Telephone employees, members of the CIO Communications Workers of America, CIO.

"It isn't a strike," asserted Rex Harp of Dallas, president of CWA-CIO Local, which represents General's 2,500 employees in about 25 cities of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

"They are demonstrations," Harp went on. "We have authorization from our union members to call a strike. We can call a strike at any moment, but we're not going to do it if it's humanly possible to avoid it."

He said Thursday's "demonstrations" were at Lamesa, Littlefield, Brownfield, Paducah, Matador, Ralls, Post, Trinity, Tahoka, Abertown, Baytown, Dickinson and Dallas, and in Hobbs and Carlsbad, N. M.

General operates also in Texarkana, Sulphur Springs, San Angelo, Jacksonville, Clarksville, Del Rio and some other places.

Bell Talks Show Progress

Negotiations for a new contract between CWA and Southwestern Bell Telephone Company were on a more amiable level in St. Louis. The two and one-half-month-old talks showed "a little progress" Thursday, Bell officials said. Bell employees want wage increases on a par with what they term a national settlement pattern of seven and one-half cents an hour. The company offered three and one-half cents.

Harp said General's employees are asking wage increases of seven and one-half to eight cents an hour but have been offered only 5.7 cents in hourly boosts.

CWA and Bell held talks in Dallas to discuss air conditioning of the Waco exchange.

time to steer clear of the storm's path. Most small boats were snugged down in protected harbors.

Striking Norfolk at 6 a.m. the hurricane moved steadily northward and headed for Southern New Jersey, where it was expected to be in the afternoon. Hurricane warnings were displayed north to the Massachusetts coast.

Blow Eases At Norfolk

The Norfolk Weather Bureau said shortly after 6 a.m. that the winds had begun to diminish, dropping to 35 miles an hour with top gusts of 56 miles per hour. The wind had reached its peak at Norfolk at 4:30 a.m. with an average of 53 miles an hour and a top gust of 78 miles per hour. At Cape Henry the average velocity was 55 miles an hour. The hurricane itself bears wind near the center and gales extend outward 140 miles.

Police reported hundreds of power lines and telephone wires and a score of trees were blown down.

One store window was smashed and several signs were knocked down.

Policeman Electrocutted

T. D. Barrow, 42, a policeman, was electrocuted when he touched a high tension wire blown down by the storm.

Refugee Kills Self After Slaying Two

GARFIELD, N. J.—(AP)—A once-wealthy Austrian refugee, apparently distracted by war-year losses and Nazi concentration camp horrors, strangled his wife and attractive teenage daughter Friday, and then hanged himself.

A son, 14, told police he fought off three frenzied attempts by his father to strangle him, leaped to safety through a living room window and ran to the home of friends.

Dead were Alfred Cheature, 42, machinist; his wife, Margaret, 36, and his daughter, Sylvia, 18.

The deaths came shortly after Sylvia had returned home after receiving an American Legion award in a city-wide oratorical contest.

Bennett, 35, a visitor. She had been shot through the back. The ceiling overhead was peppered with pistol shots.

There was no sign of a struggle. Sutton said obviously the two were slain by someone they knew and trusted or by a gunman who surprised them and shot them down before they could resist.

The police chief said that records at nearby Atlanta shows Mrs. Fears served a year for blackmail in 1927. Later, he added, she was convicted of transporting a stolen car and on several occasions of morals charges.

Extensive Tax Law Revision Promised

WASHINGTON — Rep. Daniel Reed (R-NY) said Friday a comprehensive revision of income tax laws, giving a break to millions of taxpayers, will be the first order of business for House tax writers at the January 6 session of Congress. Reed, chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, declared.

"We want to reduce drastically the many unfair restrictions which the present tax laws impose on our taxpayers."

Two tentative decisions already have been reached which would have wide effect, Reed said.

One would help out fathers whose children work at part-time jobs, he said, and the other would simplify the system of declaring estimated income tax liability.

Reed said a change in the law is planned which would allow children, especially those of college age, to earn more than $600 a year without costing parents their income tax dependency credit.

Streamlining the present complicated system of filing declarations of estimated tax due, Reed asserted, would remove many penalties he called unfair. He said it would also relieve about a million taxpayers of the necessity of filing such estimates.

Water Emergency In Rankin May End Within One Month

RANKIN — Mayor A. E. Ivy said Thursday Rankin is expected to be "over the hump" in 30 days in the present water emergency here.

The city will buy surplus water from the Upton County watering system for the county park here. The county already has started drilling test wells.

Last week, the City Council announced an emergency in the water supply and asked voluntary restriction of consumption. Citizens have cooperated and the car washing business has been halted, Ivy said.

The average daily consumption is between 150,000 and 200,000 gallons "but we could use twice as much."

A $260,000 county bond issue was approved in April for drilling of wells and construction of a pipe line for the park.

Standage's job is to place coded tags on aircraft locator boards. Accompanying him is his guide dog, "Mitzl."

Classes will be 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday and Wednesday. Oil field users of diesels with the General Motors converters as well as other firms interested have been invited to send representatives to the classes. Allison torque converters will be dismantled and reassembled during the course of the school. Lunch will be served.

Teamsters Union Reported Talking Of Deserting AFL

CHICAGO — AFL leaders hung out a welcome mat Friday for the seceded carpenters union but said nothing would be done to woo them back into the Federation fold.

In fact, AFL President George Meany said orders would go out in about a week or so to all AFL state and city federations and trades councils to cut the carpenters from membership.

The 823,000-member carpenters union, led by William Hutcheson and his son, Maurice, pulled out of the AFL Wednesday in protest against the AFL's okaying an agreement with the CIO to stop raising their membership.

Dave Beck, a fast-rising labor leader, has been reported in some quarters as flirting with the idea of pulling the million-member teamsters union of the AFL and into an alliance with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, an independent union.

State Bar, Texas Attorney General Join Ouster Effort

AUSTIN — The State Bar of Texas and the attorney general were aligned Friday with efforts to remove Judge Woodrow Laughlin from his 79th District bench in South Texas.

Bar officials voted Thursday to set up a special five-member committee to intervene in the case against the Alice judge. His court serves politically explosive Jim Wells Brooks, Duval and Starr Counties.

The bar panel was directed to enlist the aid of the attorney general and hire other counsel if necessary. Attorney General John Ben Shepperd agreed at once to act.

"Since the State Bar is a state agency, it is our duty under the Texas laws to represent them in a suit such as this, x x x We shall be ready Monday."

The hearing in the dismissal proceedings begins Monday before Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown. The Supreme Court chose him as master in chancery to take evidence.

Judge Spikes Use Of Fifth Amendment By Subversives

DETROIT — Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, revoking the citizenship of an admitted ex-Communist Thursday, questioned the use of the Fifth Amendment to protect suspected subversives.

Said the judge: "There are those in this country who undoubtedly believe the Fifth Amendment should justifiably be utilized whenever the occasion presents itself."

"For ordinary crimes prohibited by our Constitution or acts of Congress — yes. But we (the court) are not fully convinced it was the intention of the founding fathers that the Fifth Amendment should be available where one's loyalty to the Constitution becomes suspect."

Judge Picard made his observations in revoking the citizenship of Gus Polites, 53, of suburban Dearborn, a hat salesman.

The government said Polites was at one time "agitation and propaganda director of the Greek faction of the Michigan Communist Party."

Polites admitted he was a Communist from 1923 to 1928. Invoking the Fifth Amendment, he refused, however, to say whether he now is a Communist. This was at his denaturalization trial.

Judge Picard said Polites swore to support and defend the Constitution when he was admitted to citizenship. Now, however, he insists upon exemption from testifying whether or not he is a Communist, the judge said.

Old Era Ends, New Begins As Joint Chiefs Swap Jobs

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON — An old era ends this weekend and a new one begins with the changing of the guard in America's top military command.

It means President Eisenhower is ready to direct a sweeping new study of the armed forces' makeup and missions in relation to the destructive fury of guided missiles and atom bombs.

In brief Pentagon ceremonies Saturday morning, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, 57, will take over the duties of chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS), succeeding Gen. Omar N. Bradley, 60, who had held the post four turbulent years.

A few minutes later, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, 58, will become Army chief of staff, replacing 57-year-old Gen. J. Lawton Collins.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, 55, already has taken office as Air Force chief of staff, succeeding Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, 54, retired.

The new Joint Chiefs of Staff will be completed Monday when Adm. Robert B. Carney, 58, becomes chief of naval operations, succeeding Adm. William F. Fechteler, 57.

The first big job of the "new team" will be to study the composition and missions of the Army, Navy and Air Force and to take another look at the strategic planning which has guided the nation's defense buildup since the start of the Korean War in mid-1950.

Old Army Recommendations — The recommendations from this study are expected to influence: 1. The size of the Air Force and the makeup of its wings.

2. The role which the Navy will play in strategic air warfare. The changeover in command was not a case of President Eisenhower replacing men who were cool to him — because the old Joint Chiefs were friends who had served under him in Europe, Bradley, in particular, was close to Eisenhower and was one of his architects of victory in Europe.

But politically, the President pleased a good many Republicans who had come to identify the JCS closely with the Truman Administration and the criticized conduct of the Korean War.

Air Strength Studied — Part of this criticism stemmed from the fact that the JCS supported former President Truman when he removed Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Far East command in historic disagreement over policy two years ago.

The Air Force has been openly unhappy over the trend which seems to be taking form in the defense situation.

Secretary of Defense Wilson has temporarily "frozen" the goal of the Air Force at 120 wings pending the new JCS study to determine how many wings this nation should have for a balanced offense and defense. A wing has 30 to 75 planes, depending on their combat mission.

More Punch Per Plane — The Air Force fought for the 143-wing goal set by the old JCS but Eisenhower trimmed five billion dollars from the Air Force budget and backed Wilson in his wait-and-see policy. Congress sided with the President in this.

Eisenhower has argued that three planes with atomic bombs carry as much destructive power as 2,700 World War II planes loaded with the old conventional type bombs.

This statement seemed to indicate the President isn't satisfied with the Air Force arguments that 143 wings represent the rockbottom strength needed for national security.

Neither has the Air Force been happy with the Radford appointment. The admiral fought the expanded B-36 bomber program while defending the construction of super-carriers. He has been an advocate of broadening the Navy's role in strategic warfare—the system of bombing enemy war and production centers to destroy their ability to continue fighting.

Views Are Mellowed — In the role of JCS chairman, Radford will be in a position perhaps to tip the scales in favor of the Navy in any renewal of this Navy-Air Force feud. But Radford has said time has mellowed the strong views he held four years ago.

The new JCS lineup has a background of combat experience in the Pacific and Far East which would be invaluable should the Korean War break out again—or if another Asian conflict were touched off.

Collins and Fechteler will undertake new assignments. Bradley is stepping out after 42 years of Army service to become chairman of the Bulova research and development laboratories. He will continue to draw a five-star general's pay and allowances of $19,548 for life if he wishes.

McCarthy Increases Accusations In GPO

WASHINGTON — Senator McCarthy (R-Wa) said Friday more than one government printing office employe is involved in an investigation of possible leaks in top secret documents.

McCarthy, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, called four more witnesses to a secret hearing Friday in the inquiry.

Edward Rothchild, 42, bookbinder at the government printing office and his wife were witnesses before McCarthy's subcommittee Monday.

McCarthy said Rothchild was cleared by the loyalty board. He has declined to say whether the bookbinder is the employe against whom he said charges of Communist activity have been made in the testimony.

WEEKEND TRIP — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Westmoreland and children, Robert and James, left Thursday for a holiday at Red River, N. M. They were joined in Clovis, by his brother, Carl Westmoreland and family.

Security Of State Secrets Strengthened By New Rules

WASHINGTON — Hundreds of State Department employes may be screened under new security standards, even though many of them already have been investigated.

Adoption of the new regulations was disclosed Thursday. They call for reopening of many old loyalty cases and full investigation of most employes not already thoroughly checked.

Department Security Officer R. W. Scott McLeod said recently he had found 2,000 cases in which there had been no investigation and 2,000 more in which he considered the investigations inadequate.

Officials judging the loyalty of employes are directed to consider behavior and associations that tend to show "the individual is not reliable and trustworthy" and to consider such factors as:

Criminal, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct; habitual drunkenness; drug addiction; sexual perversion; membership in or "sympathetic association" with Fascist, Communist, totalitarian or subversive groups; or sympathetic association with individuals in such categories or with secret agents of foreign nations.

An accused employe is entitled to a hearing by a board of three persons, who must not be officials of the State Department. The accused has a right to his own lawyer, to introduce evidence and to have witnesses cross-examined if they appear. But information from confidential sources may be withheld from the accused person.

SHOULD IT BEEN BUT IT WASN'T

SAN FRANCISCO — San Francisco is being sued for $38,650 because a stop sign wasn't where a woman driver thought it should be.

Martha Alexander asserted Donald J. Kevane's failure to halt his car at an intersection resulted in a collision March 26.

The suit said Kevane should have stopped even though a stop sign there had been knocked down in a previous accident.

Mrs. Alexander said she assumed he would stop and hit him broadside when he continued into the intersection.

She claimed the city was negligent in not replacing the stop sign.

Auto Firm Executive Cites Midland Growth

Midland got a "plug" recently from K. B. Elliott, vice president in charge of sales and advertising for the Studebaker Corporation, who lauded growth and progress of the Southwest, and particularly Midland, at a meeting in Dallas of Studebaker dealers.

Midland, Elliott noted, has grown from a small city of 10,000 plus to a city of more than 35,000 population. An over-average rate in car sales was reviewed by the Studebaker executive, who said Midland's industrial and executive pattern is acknowledged as being far ahead of markets much larger in population figures.

Elliott was in Dallas with Paul Hoffman, chairman of the Studebaker Corporation board, Harold S. Vance, president and W. E. Roberts, regional manager for the Dallas branch of Studebaker.

The Studebaker official is the father of Miss E. J. Elliott of Midland.
