Phillips Schedules Ellenburger Test In Andrews Field

Phillips Petroleum Company will drill No. 1-XX University as an Ellenburger project in the Andrews, Northeast (Devonian) area of Northeast Andrews County.

The test will be drilled 687 feet from west and 680 feet from north lines of the northeast quarter of section 6, block 8, University Lands survey. It is one location east of a Devonian producer in the field.

The prospector will be drilled to 14,000 feet.

Hamon Prospector In Hockley Gets Clear Fork Shows

Jake L. Hamon of Midland and Dallas No. 1 J. E. Bowman, North-Central Hockley County wildcat, six miles north of Levelland found small amounts of gas and of free oil in two drillstem tests in the lower Clear Fork-Permian and is drilling on its objective to 10,000 feet to test the lower Pennsylvanian.

The first test in the Clear Fork to show petroleum was at 7,206-75 feet. The tool was open two hours. Recovery was 510 feet of free gas, 40 feet of free oil and 10 feet of drilling mud.

There were no signs of water. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was zero. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 200 pounds.

Another Test Run
Another test was taken at 7,270-7,345 feet. The tool was open three hours. Recovery was 450 feet of free gas, 30 feet of free oil and 110 feet of drilling mud. There was no water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was zero. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 30 minutes was 150 pounds.

The prospector is now making hole below 7,500 feet in lime and shale. Tentative top of the Clear Fork is at 5,900 feet. Elevation is 3,564 feet on the Kelly drive bushing.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of labor 21, league 720, Abner Taylor subdivision of State Capital Lands, Abstract 221.

Oil Flow Gauged At Skelly Project In Yoakum Sector

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Alton Webb, indicated San Andres discovery in Central-West Yoakum County four miles southwest of the town of Plains, flowed oil on production test through perforations at 5,165-5,198 feet and 5,224-5,244 feet.

During the last three hours of flowing, the project made 58.58 barrels of new oil through a one-half-inch choke. An additional one per cent acid water and one per cent basic sediment flowed out with the oil.

Testing continued.
This project is 330 feet from south and 2310 feet from east lines of section 475, block D, John H. Gibson survey and one and three-quarters miles south of the Branney (San Andres) field.

Four WT Counties Get Locations For New Prospectors

Drill site is three and one-quarter miles southwest of the Jameson (multipay Strawn) field and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 120, block 2, H&TC survey.

In South-Central Hockley County, Great Western Drilling Company of Midland has spotted No. 1-A Frances G. Burger.

It will be drilled to 10,000 feet with rotary tools for a test of the Pennsylvanian. Operations will begin at once.

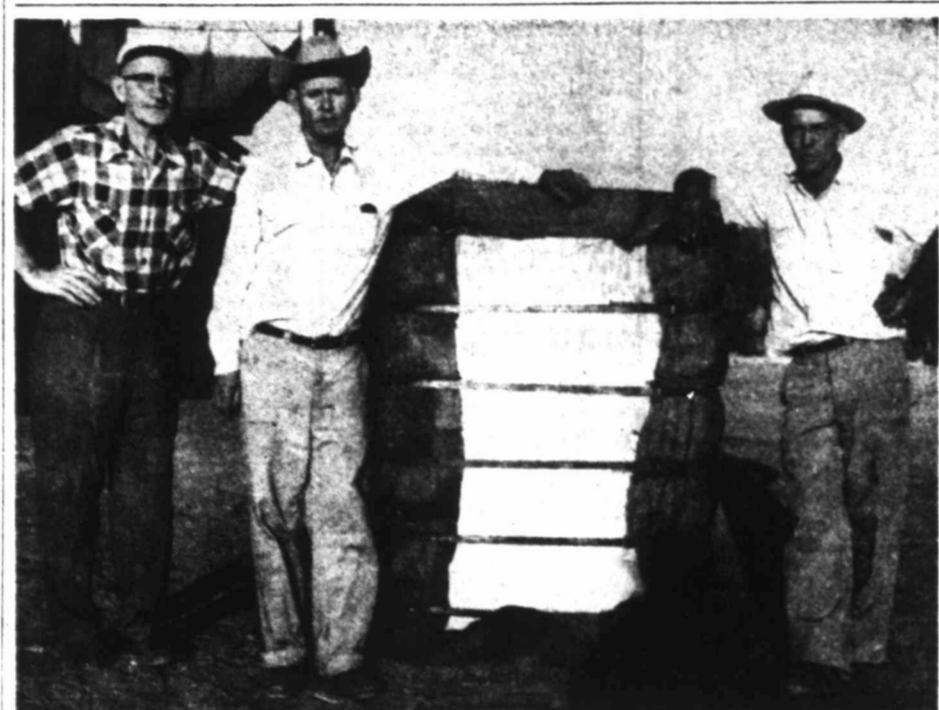

Location Given
Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of a lease which includes the west halves of tracts 8 and 10, league 24, McCulloch County School Land survey, A-157. Location is in tract 8.

That makes it three miles west and slightly south of the West Ropes (Canyon reef lime) pool and the same distance southeast of the Clauene (Clear Fork) field.

Witness Welches On 'Gunman' Tale

AUSTIN—F—Jim Wells County Commissioner W. R. Perkins of Alice accused District Judge Woodrow Laughlin Tuesday of "conspiring" with Duval County political forces in the use of hired gunmen in the 1950 elections.

Perkins denied on cross-examination, however, that he had tied Laughlin "personally" with gunmen at a Jim Wells County polling place in that election.

The hearing is on charges seeking Laughlin's removal.

"Were you trying to leave the impression with this court Monday that Judge Laughlin had anything to do with those gunmen?" Defense Counsel C. C. Small, Sr. asked.

"Indirectly, yes," Perkins replied.

"Small asked him to tell the court 'just how.'"

"Judge Laughlin conspired with members of the party from Duval County to see that those men were there on that date," Perkins said.

Small also questioned Perkins in detail about armed "bodyguards" Perkins had said Laughlin used at a 1950 political rally.

"Expressed Some Fear"

"Judge Laughlin told you somebody had threatened to shoot him and somebody else down there, didn't he?" Small asked.

"Somebody is always being threatened down there," Perkins replied.

Small insisted on an answer.

"He expressed some fear," Perkins said.

Small inquired if it were not usual for officers to stand around polls.

Dig This Taxpayer

Police officers, just like anybody else, must pay a fine if they are guilty of overtime parking in their personal cars.

That was made clear Tuesday by Judge Edwin T. Stitt, when a police officer appeared in Corporation Court with a ticket for overtime parking.

Judge Stitt told him the fine would be the customary $1.

"You mean a policeman has to pay a fine for overparking?" asked the officer.

"Yes, sir," explained the judge, "if you are not on official business or have some other good reason. A police officer is just like anybody else."

The police officer paid the fine.

Red Cross Says Communists Thwart Behind-Lines Mission

PANMUNJOM—(AP)—Another 126 Americans and 264 other UN prisoners of war streamed back to freedom Tuesday but the Reds said 400 of the POW's still in stockades may not come back because they have chosen Communist rule.

Allied sources confirmed that the Red statement was handed over at a meeting of the Prisoner Repatriation Committee in Panmunjom Monday night. There was no word of a breakdown of nationalities among the 400.

Tuesday's release of nine American officers and 127 enlisted men boosted to almost 2,000 the number of Americans liberated in three weeks of the prisoner exchange.

One hundred thirty-three more will be freed Wednesday.

Many Americans repatriated previously have told of some fellow captives who have elected to remain behind, either because they had turned informers and feared retaliation or had swallowed Communist propaganda.

Greenwood Farmer B. L. Smith Grows County's First Bale

Midland County ginned its first bale of 1953 cotton Monday afternoon, three days later than last year.

This year's bale, ginned at the Midland Co-Operative Marketing Association Gin, was produced by B. L. Smith on a dry-land tract of the O. R. Phillips farm, two miles east of Greenwood Community.

Smith picked 1,800 pounds of cotton from 40 acres to make the 380-pound bale.

The bale will be auctioned at 10 a. m. Wednesday, September 2, John Dublin, Jr., chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Agriculture and Livestock Committee, said Tuesday.

Weight of the 1953 bale also lagged behind that of last year, which was a 400-pounder grown by Clark Moreland, 24-year-old dry-land farmer nine miles east of Midland.

Moreland's bale, ginned at Phillips' Gin, brought $1.85 a pound, or a total of $740.

Ike Plans Texas Visit In October

DENVER—(AP)—President Eisenhower will meet President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico on the Texas Border October 19 to dedicate Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande.

Eisenhower's vacation headquarters also said Tuesday he will go to Kansas City October 15, to speak to the Future Farmers of America.

Two days later, October 17, Eisenhower will speak in New Orleans at the Louisiana Sesquicentennial Celebration.

The Summer White House said President Jose Antonio Remon Cantares of Panama will visit Eisenhower in Washington September 28.

Eisenhower's meeting with the President of Mexico will take place about 75 miles downstream from Laredo at Falcon Dam. Eisenhower will speak there.

Presidential Secretary James Hagerty said the border speech and the one in Kansas City October 15 probably will be major addresses.

Falcon Dam, which will serve the Lower Rio Grande Valley, was constructed jointly by the U. S. and Mexico under supervision of the International Boundary and Water Commission, under the 1944 water treaty.

The dam will create a reservoir with a maximum surface area of 113,000 acres.

The installation includes power plants on each side of the river capable of generating 31,500 kilowatts.

It is 26,294 feet long and rises 150 feet above the river bed.

New Zealand Backs India As Delegate

UNITED NATIONS—(AP)—New Zealand's Leslie Munro called on the UN Tuesday to ignore South Korea's threatened boycott and recommend the inclusion of India in the Korean peace conference.

Munro addressed the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee as more countries lined up in support of India. South Korean Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun said Monday his government would find it impossible to sit in the conference with India unless India was seated with the Communists.

Among those lining up behind Britain and her Commonwealth partners for India were Iraq, Ethiopia, Mexico and Syria. The Communist bloc also favors India.

Pyun and Col. Ben Limb, South Korea's permanent observer at the UN, declared Monday night: "The Republic of Korea finds it impossible to collaborate with India on the same side."

"If India wants to sit on the Communist side, all right," added Pyun. "We are not vetoing who will be at the peace conference. But we certainly can say whether we will be there, and we certainly may walk out or boycott the conference if the UN goes ahead and votes to seat India on our side."

612 Students Signed As Fall Registration Continues In Midland

A total of 612 students had registered by 11:45 a. m. Tuesday at Midland High School and the two junior high schools, officials reported.

Don Mitchell, Midland High School principal, said 270 youths already had registered and urged that juniors turn out for their registration, which is scheduled Wednesday and ends Thursday. Seniors with the last name initials from S to Z were due to register Tuesday afternoon.

Juniors with initials from A to D will sign up from 8 to 12 a. m. Wednesday and those from E through J should report from 1 to 5 p. m. that day.

Ninth graders continued to register in the two junior high schools Tuesday with initials from A to P due to start Wednesday.

Cowden Junior High School had signed up 162 students Tuesday noon, while San Jacinto Junior High School had 180 youths signed at the same time.

1,208 Texans Face October Draft Calls

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas' draft quota for October will be 1,208 men, State Draft Director Paul Wakefield said Tuesday.

The October call is 24 less than for September.

An ample supply of examined and acceptable men exists so no regularly scheduled physical examination call will be made in October, Wakefield said.

Local boards, whose quotas will be mailed in September, were instructed to call only men 20 or older, where possible, for induction.

Hall Hunt Swings Back To Mainland

KETCHIKAN, ALASKA—(AP)—The search for a missing New Mexico and Texas oil man and his four plane passengers swung back toward the mainland Tuesday.

As the search went into its second week, all clues along the South-eastern Alaska coastal islands have been exhausted in the large scale hunt for Ellis Hall, his wife, two daughters and a youth.

Parents Fear Midland Pair Lost Hunting

A widespread search was underway Tuesday for two Midland youngsters who disappeared from their homes Monday afternoon after picking up their air rifles and emptying their savings banks.

Objects of the search were Don Warren, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Warren, 2210 West Washington Street, and Riley Pape, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Pape, 2206 West Washington Street.

"It's the first time they've done anything like this," said Warren, "and we can't imagine what happened to them."

Both Warren and Pape conducted an aerial search of the area Tuesday morning on the theory the two youths had gone hunting and become lost.

"We searched all over the area north and west of Midland," said Pape, a private pilot himself and an employee of the Gunter Construction Company, "and we couldn't find a thing."

State-Wide Alarm
Police have broadcast a statewide alarm for officers to be on the lookout for the pair.

The older youth, who will enter the seventh grade at San Jacinto Junior High School this fall, is five feet tall, weighs 90 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes and was wearing blue jeans, a white T-shirt and tennis shoes.

The Pape boy, who plans to enter the fifth grade at West Elementary School, is four feet-nine, weighs 80 pounds, has brown hair and eyes and was wearing blue jeans and a blue T-shirt.

Warren, a truck driver for Superior Oil Company, said his son apparently left home around 1:30 p. m. while his mother was away from the house.

"He must have had about $12 since the money was missing from his savings bank," he added.

"They didn't take any extra clothes and we didn't find out until this morning that the air rifles were missing, too."

Moderate Showers May Be Forthcoming
Rains soaked parts of South Texas Tuesday as Midlanders had promises of thundershowers in the afternoon.

Weather forecasters looked for moderate rain for West Texas the next five days.

Showers added to bountiful rains of the weekend in South Texas Tuesday. Laredo was getting more rain added to the five inches received since Saturday night. The swollen San Antonio River was back to normal Tuesday after the Alamo City gaged 1.63 inches Monday.

Other Weather Bureau totals during the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday included Wichita Falls .99, Mineral Wells .14, Brownsville 1.23 and Palacios 1.51.

Boy Shot In Hand On Midland Farm

Orville Wilson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taft Wilson, who reside near Midland, was in good condition in Western Clinic-Hospital Tuesday after suffering a severe gunshot wound of the left hand Monday.

The accident occurred on the boy's farm home around 1 p. m. when a shotgun was dropped accidentally, officials said.

Her doctor said Peggy was born with a lesion of the heart which did not become apparent until several weeks ago.

Discounting stories that the baby was "in a race with death" when she was driven to Dallas, the doctor had this to say:

"We sent her, not as an emergency case, but to receive further evaluation to see if possible corrective heart surgery could be performed. She was not allowed to make the trip until her condition had improved considerably."

"If Peggy had been in critical condition we could have flown her to Dallas or anywhere else deemed necessary. Her congenital heart condition had not been severe enough to have kept the child from developing normally until she was involved in a car accident about five weeks ago and infection developed."

"After this the child had a progression of this condition which had resulted in complete inability to develop and function normally."

Peggy was placed in an oxygen tent a week ago.

The doctor said such a heart condition in an infant is extremely rare.

Peggy is reported in satisfactory condition at Dallas.

Headless Body May Prove To Be That Of Missing Solon

HAMMOND, IND.—(AP)—A headless body found in Lake Michigan Monday roughly matches that of missing Illinois State Rep. Clem Graver, police said Tuesday.

Dr. Peter Stecy, coroner, said the decomposed body had been in the water at least six weeks.

No trace has been found of Graver since he was abducted from his Chicago home June 14. He was a Republican who had been reported at odds with a powerful bipartisan bloc on Chicago's West Side.

Stecy said the head apparently had been cut off. The flesh on the hands and feet either had been cut off or torn off in the water, he said.

The body bore no other wounds or identifying marks. The only clothing was a fragment of an argyle sock around one leg. A silver chain was found around the stub of the neck.

Students Hit 'Em In Wallet

HOUSTON—(AP)—A careless student is to be invoked Friday by University of Houston students fighting a proposed new animal slaughter house on Calhoun Road.

Calhoun Road lies southeast and students swear, "within wind distance of the university campus."

Four slaughterhouses and a stockyard now operating along the road have long been a source of concern to students and university officials.

The call to fast where pork and beef are concerned came from Dick Proctor, student body president.

Midland Prisoner Reported As Dead

Cpl. Billy J. Wainwright, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newman Wainwright of 1805 Keith Street, is reported to have died while a Communist prisoner of war, the parents said Tuesday.

Young Wainwright came home on furlough in 1950 after 18 months duty on Okinawa. He then was shipped from Fort Lewis, Wash., directly to Korea, where he served with the medics in the Second Division. He was reported captured by the Reds Nov. 20, 1950, the parents said.

A telegram received by the Wainwrights from Major General William E. Gergin, adjutant general of the Army read:

"The secretary of the Army has asked me to express his deep regret that a name believed to be that of your son, Corporal Billy J. Wainwright, appears on a list of Americans submitted by the Communists who, according to their records, died while in their custody."

"This information has not been authenticated. Therefore a determination of his status will not be made prior to a thorough analysis of all available evidence including the statements of recovered prisoners. You will be advised promptly of any change in status."

Mr. and Mrs. Wainwright lived at Terminal before moving to Midland. He is a carpenter.

Corporal Wainwright has two brothers and three sisters. The brothers are Marvin of Midland and Earnest of Mexia. The sisters are Mrs. Delmar Welch of Canadian, Mrs. W. M. Chancellor of Dallas, and Mrs. Jimmy Spruill of Amarillo.

NOT A 'RACE WITH DEATH'

Midland Infant Seeks Aid For Rare Lesion Of Heart

A Midland baby, suffering from a heart condition, was taken to the Heart Center of the Texas Children's Hospital in Dallas Monday to determine if surgery is possible and will help her grow normally.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lowry of Midland took their 30-month-old daughter, Peggy, to the Dallas hospital on the advice of their physician. The 330-mile trip was made in their automobile with the child resting in a makeshift oxygen tent.

Peggy was hospitalized in Midland Memorial Hospital a week ago due to her heart condition and secondary pneumonia.

Her doctor said Peggy was born with a lesion of the heart which did not become apparent until several weeks ago.

Discounting stories that the baby was "in a race with death" when she was driven to Dallas, the doctor had this to say:

"We sent her, not as an emergency case, but to receive further evaluation to see if possible corrective heart surgery could be performed. She was not allowed to make the trip until her condition had improved considerably."

Rainy Season To Add Misery On Quake-Ridden Greek Isles

By PAUL HURMUS
ARGOSTOLION, GREECE—An impending autumn rains threaten new disaster to 130,000 earthquake victims on Greece's three devastated Ionian islands, American and British rescue officers said Tuesday.

They warned that only speedy completion of the Greek government's temporary housing program on the islands of Kefallinia, Zakynthos and Ithaca could stave off further widespread suffering when the rains begin in mid-September.

The Athens government announced last week it was prepared to spend "about 25 to 30 million dollars in the islands," laid waste by a series of destructive quakes that began two weeks ago.

The warnings of the possible new crisis came as Gen. Dimitrios Latsis, chief of Greek rescue operations, announced that an estimated 130,000 persons were homeless after the quake disaster.

The death toll has not been determined officially but the most reliable estimates place it around 1,000. Hundreds of other persons were injured.

Tremors Continue
Minor earth tremors have continued daily since the initial shocks. Although not strong, the tremors add to the islanders' fears that big quakes will come again.

Landslides reported that 80 per cent of the survivors, or 78,000 persons, now were housed in 4,175 tents. He declared that "another 5,000 tents will take care of all needs."

The Greek rescue chief's figure of those now housed in tents would mean an average of 19 persons to a tent made to shelter only eight.

Lt. Cmdr. Peter Stewart, chief of British relief work, expressed doubt, however, that "even 20 per cent of the population today is under shelter."

Workers reported that inhabitants of isolated mountain villages are sleeping out of doors and some of the women have displayed arms and legs swollen from unusually severe cold of the last week.

Repairs Won't Hold
U. S. Marine Corps officers working to repair Kefallinia's roads said they had been "virtually completely destroyed" by the tremors. Any emergency repairs, they added, "won't withstand the first rains."

Lt. Joseph A. Sherman of Portland, Ore., predicted that scores of mountain villages will be isolated again as soon as the first rains fall.

The group of Marine construction specialists will remain on the islands for another two weeks in an attempt to at least partially restore the road network.

Greek demolition teams moved through the wreckage-strewn streets of towns and villages on the islands Monday, removing bodies from the debris and demolishing weakened structures.

Reds Release Montana GI Reported Killed In Action

WASHINGTON—The Defense Department told a Montana father Tuesday that his son, Cpl. Henry H. Kern, whom he had mourned for a month as dead, is alive, free and soon to come home.

John Kern, a farmer living near Hardin, Mont., felt more bewildered than hopeful when he was told his son's name appeared on the twenty-first list of returned American prisoners of war in Korea, made public Monday night.

He said he had been notified officially July 19 that the 25-year-old corporal had been killed in one of the last actions of the war.

"We had received his Purple Heart," he said.

Defense officials doublechecked and a spokesman said there could be no doubt it was Corporal Kern who was released Monday—serial number and unit assignment identified him.

There was no doubt, either, that the elder Kern was notified his son had been killed. The spokesman said that came about in this way:

Eyewitnesses from Kern's own squad told of seeing him killed by the burst of an enemy artillery shell in the Chinese Communist offensive at Sangin-Ni. They said they were unable to recover his body.

The evidence went through the regular channels—8th Army to the adjutant general—and was considered conclusive. The grim telegram of notification to next of kin went out.

Tuesday the Adjutant General's office hurried to dispatch another message, officially notifying Kern that his son is alive and soon will be on his way home to his family, which includes five brothers and a sister.

"I hope this is right and the other wrong," the father told The Associated Press.

Major Gen. Floyd L. Parks, Army chief of information since 1946 with one brief interruption, will take command of the 2nd Army at Fort Meade, Md.

Lt. Gen. I. D. White, former commander of the 10th Corps in Korea, will take command of the 4th Army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Parks will be succeeded as chief of Army information by Maj. Gen. Gilman O. Mudgett, now deputy chief of staff of the Far East Command.

Army Announces Top-Level Shifts

WASHINGTON—Lt. Gen. John E. Dahlquist was named Monday as chief of Army field forces, with headquarters at Fort Monroe, Va. He has held the post on an acting basis since June 30.

In other shifts announced by the Army:

Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, Army chief of information since 1946 with one brief interruption, will take command of the 2nd Army at Fort Meade, Md.

Lt. Gen. I. D. White, former commander of the 10th Corps in Korea, will take command of the 4th Army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Parks will be succeeded as chief of Army information by Maj. Gen. Gilman O. Mudgett, now deputy chief of staff of the Far East Command.

Persistent Bandit Shows Discretion On Third Approach

DENVER—A Denver man has a persistent gunman.

He returned three times to rob an East Denver gasoline station Monday night, once while the attendant was telephoning police and again while police were closing in.

The first time the robber appeared, Milton J. Ritchie, the station attendant, grabbed for a pistol. The weapon discharged, grazing his finger. The bandit fled, Ritchie said, after he grappled with the man.

As he phoned police, the bandit came back, picked up his cap, pointed a gun at Ritchie and scooped up $25 in the cash drawer. A few minutes later, as police and nearby residents converged on the station, the bandit came back again. This time he only waved his pistol and fled.

Air Force Slates Release Of 12,500 Reserve Officers

WASHINGTON—The Air Force will have to drop about 6,600 reserve officers, it says, regardless of whether some of them may be inconvenienced by early return to civilian life.

About 12,500 reserve officers will be let out in the next 60 days, with an estimated 6,000 ending their service voluntarily, to make way for young men coming out of the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

The Air Force announced several weeks ago that the action would be necessary.

Air Force spokesmen said Monday night they have received reports that an undetermined number of the reserve officers being dropped will be put to some personal inconvenience. But they said no way out of the difficulty has been found under current strength ceilings and the obligation to make room for ROTC graduates.

Justice Department To Review Record In McMichael Case

WASHINGTON—The House Un-American Activities Committee said Monday it has sent to the Justice Department the record of its hearings on the Rev. Jack McMichael, to determine if anyone should be prosecuted.

Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) said in a statement the hearings clearly indicated that someone had committed perjury, and that the department should be able "to ascertain where the perjury lies."

McMichael, 36, is minister of a Methodist church at Upper Lake, Calif. At hearings here last month, he termed "liars and perjurers" four persons who described him to the committee as a one-time associate of Communists and as an attendant at Communist Party meetings.

The survey by the Institute of Judicial Administration, Inc., at New York University Monday reported these average delays for principal state trial courts in 97 cities.

The survey showed the most crowded calendar is in Brooklyn's State Supreme Court, where the wait is 83 months. The quickest legal action is in Oklahoma City's District Court, with a one-month delay.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Being married to a man doesn't give a woman the right to jump in and help him out every time he starts telling a story. Maybe you were there and can think of some story your husband is telling. But he'll appreciate it if you'll just let him tell his story in his own way. Be as good and as silent a listener when your husband is talking as you are when some stranger has the spotlight.

You wouldn't want YOUR stories fouled up.

WACO GI UPSETS CHINESE-

Fun-Loving Captives Drove Reds To Anger With Antics

By The Associated Press

Tales of Communist cruelties increased Tuesday from nine more Texas soldiers among men freed by the Reds.

Cpl. Leonard Wilmet of Fort Worth told how a lagging prisoner was struck with a rifle so hard that the rifle broke.

Wilmet, Cpl. James Burdett of Baltimore, and Cpl. John Beaudry of Willimantic, Conn., said prisoners who fell along a 300-man death march were bayoneted by the guards.

The young Texan and his buddies endured a march of almost 10 weeks to a Communist camp at Pyoktong.

Cpl. James H. Sweeney, 22, of Waco, and two other prisoners from Camp 3 told how they tormented their Chinese captors by riding imaginary motorcycles, playing non-existent pin ball games and pretending to catch fish without hook or bait.

"With the guys all acting crazy," said a Michigan sergeant, "the Chinese would get so mad they couldn't talk."

"Some of the fellows" would fish in the drainage ditches—just stand there with a pole in hand but no hook," said Sweeney.

The Chinese would take some of the jesters to a cave and keep them there until they "confessed."

"The guys signed the confessions and went back to raising hell," Sweeney added. The Texan came through Freedom Village in Korea with a pet magpie, Oscar. He brought him out for a friend who is to be freed later.

"One fellow had a crow," a pal of Sweeney's said, "but the other guys ate him."

"Death Valley" Sweeney and his companions were captured in late 1950 and spent four months in a mining camp called "Death Valley." There 1,600 Americans died in one winter, he said.

Besides Sweeney and Wilmet, the seven other Texans freed were Pvt. Rueben Ortega, Alpine; Cpl. Carl Peterson, Hermleigh; Cpl. Lindsey Slaten, Texarkana; Cpl. Theodore Boudoin, Jr., North Texas City; Sgt. Henry Valencia, Dallas;

Cpl. Evelyn Perkins, Longview; and Cpl. Johnnie Jayroe, Purdon.

Mrs. Carmen Valencia, mother of Henry, said Monday night, "We have been getting a few letters from Henry, but they wouldn't let him write much. He always did say he was getting along fine. But still we were worried. We never did feel he was safe as long as he was in the hands of those Communists. Valencia was captured late in 1950, wounded three times.

First B-36's Land At Japan Air Base After Pacific Flight

TOKYO—(AP)—A flight of B-36 heavy bombers landed at an American base here Tuesday after a non-stop trip from bases in the United States. The flight was made with "maximum security" in force.

The number of the monster bombers was not disclosed.

The planes landed at Yokota Air Base, used during the Korean war by B-29's bombing Communist targets. The B-36's were moved out Monday to Okinawa to make room.

Special guards were ordered for the field. Restrictions protecting details of the arrival of the B-36's even included bans on telephone calls.

The bombers had taken off Sunday. Even their points of departure were kept secret. A B-36 can fly at least 10,000 miles.

In Washington, the Air Force had said only that the flight was a training mission.

The intercontinental bombers, built to carry the atomic weapon, were making their first visit to Japan.

Demo-For-Ike Forfeits Job For Violations Of Hatch Act

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U. S. Civil Service Commission has penalized a former lieutenant governor of Mississippi, Sam Lumpkin, because it found he was a leader in the "Democrats for Eisenhower" movement while holding a federal-state job.

Lumpkin resigned by request last November 10 as director of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission, a job paying $9,350 a year. The Civil Service Commission announced Monday that he has been declared ineligible for reemployment by the state of Mississippi for 18 months from August 21.

The commission found that Lumpkin had violated the Hatch Act, which bars certain political activities by federal employees and state employees whose principal duties are in connection with activity financed in whole or in part with federal funds.

Four Others Sacked
The Employment Security Commission, a job placement agency, is financed in part with federal money. The Civil Service Commission also said four employees of the Internal Revenue Service at Aberdeen, S. D., have been dismissed for activities found to be in violation of the Hatch Act. All were accused of soliciting Democratic Party contributions from fellow employees.

The announcements were made in line with a new commission policy of announcing action in all Hatch Act cases deemed to be of general interest. Heretofore, the commission has released such information only upon inquiry about specific cases.

Lumpkin, now city attorney of Tupelo, Miss., was the first Mississippi Democrat of any prominence to support Eisenhower for the presidency. Conferred With Ike

The Civil Service Commission charged that, while a state employee, he was a candidate for presidential elector, made speeches for Eisenhower and served as a delegate and chairman of the Resolutions Committee at the Democratic State Convention in Jackson, Miss.

It also said that he led a state delegation to Denver, Colo., in August, 1952, and conferred with Eisenhower, then the GOP presidential nominee, "for political purposes."

Lumpkin has been mentioned recently for the post of U. S. attorney for Northern Mississippi. There was no official word as to whether the Hatch Act case would bar such an appointment. A commission spokesman said the Hatch Act case is a civil charge, punishable only by dismissal and ineligibility for reemployment by the state for a specified period of time.

Others Discharged
The four employees discharged in Aberdeen are Verna D. Anderson, bookkeeping machine supervisor; Laurence F. Kirkgasler, returns coordinator; Al Kraft, chief field deputy; and Verne E. Kelley, head of the Wage and Excise Division.

The commission also announced that the separation of Theodore W. Mueller as an internal revenue

Iran To 'Go Slow' On British Policy

TEHRAN, IRAN—(AP)—Iran's capital continued its slow progress toward post-Mossadeq normalcy Tuesday.

Shops in the big native bazaar again were open, the new government was reported cracking down on Communist and Nationalist backers of the ex-premier and there was talk of new parliamentary elections.

The new Prime Minister, Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, announced his government would continue negotiations ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadeq started with the Soviet Union 12 days ago.

Zahedi told newsmen Iran would go slow, however, in resuming diplomatic relations with Britain. The break by Mossadeq last October followed collapse of negotiations over the nationalized properties in Iran of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

"If this indifference to traditional values should spread to us, it would be the greatest threat to our liberties," Zahedi said.

But Zahedi said he would not renew a law Mossadeq pushed through six months ago offering Iran's oil at half the world market price. The law is about to expire.

The government cracked down Monday on bazaar leaders who had ignored Zahedi's call for a return to normal business and had kept the shops closed. Seven of the quarter's 12 top men were arrested. The other five brought flowers to Police Chief Mohammed Dafari, promised him their support and were received by the shah.

Soon afterward, the shops reopened.

The government also was reported to have raided centers of the outlawed Communist Tudeh Party, seizing stamps labeled "Iranian Republic" and vast quantities of Red propaganda.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

We doubt if the Indians would admit such a thing but their season seems to be one in which they adopted this philosophy: That the early bird always gets the worm but of what use are worms in this area. Why rush yourselves into the Longhorn League first place post when the whole championship is wrapped up in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

At any rate, the Tribe which figured as either first or second with Odessa in preseason predictions has contented itself—that is to say, seemed not to bother itself—with winning more than five games in any one streak nor putting on any special drive except to finish in the first division. This is not a knock at the Indians, nor of any club which operates the same. It's that there is no special incentive for a ball club in a league using the Shaughnessy system—to spend energy to stay on top all season long.

Top Placers Spoil With Prosperity

We doubt if San Angelo will be any the better off after September 8 for having maintained its front position for so long. Odessa of 1952 gained nothing, for Midland which finished third was the club which hung up the pennant when the race was over. While being first place for long has no particular advantage, it can be considered bad at the same time. One of the evils, they say, of staying out front is that a great ball club oftentimes grows stale because it has built a lead and coasted in. It still coasts when the playoffs start.

Sometimes back we figured just what the history of playoffs winners in the Texas League had been. And it proved to be that the

Lose 'em All And Still Be Fifth

The opposing managers are just dang well glad too, that time ran out on Pat Stacey's Roswell Rockets or his team would be the biggest menace in the Shaughnessy. No one denies Roswell hasn't been the hottest thing in Sports-Bills since the middle of July.

Midland fans hope the double victory over San Angelo Monday could prove new life in time for the series. The Indians need now to set up for the defense of its 1952 crown, no matter who winds up topside. Winning in the last days is the best way to go about it.

If nothing else, though, the two triumphs over Angelo mean the Indians will not be last place this season. Through Sunday, you see, Jay Haney's forces stood 16 and one-half games ahead of Odessa. The two were, as golfers say, dormie because Midland had 17 to play and Odessa 18.

followers won out about two times to one for the club which lead at the end. We can point out, also, that the regular season winner in the Longhorn League took the overall flag but twice in six years.

Even if San Angelo may be caught in the lethargy of a fore-most finish this season, let's not point up Midland's chances. For, the Indians just like the Colts and Artesia have been contented since mid-season that they were first division stuff. Only Carlsbad and unfortunate Roswell, if any, have put on kicks here and there to enliven the league. And you can bet that the Potashers are more in a frame of mind for the playoffs than any other.

hibition last weekend that profited—this game between the Baltimore Colts and Chicago Cardinals—was making its last stand. The Jaycees who put on the show, a thriller, hardly attracted anyone other than relatives. Jaycees and area coaches. Six thousand, mind you, were all that attended a game in which Texans Billy Cross, Bill Athey, Ken Jackson, Bill Syboda, Ogden Compton, John Hancock and Gabby Sims were standouts.

You then have to subtract the Austin, Waco, Amarillo, Dallas (including ex-Dallas Texan owner Giles Miller), Bonham, Canadian and Midland people to get a keen perspective of just how few Lubbock fans attended.

Ex-Crane Coach Harold Riley, incidentally, scouted the Cards to help out a future opponent, the 49ers. Peoc's ex-coach Don Moustes, who is at Plainview now with Riley, was on hand to help.

Indians Deal Colts Double Misery, 4-3 And 5-1

Selbo Clouts Grand Slam; Clubs Meet For Final Time

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—The Midland Indians, "first cousins" to San Angelo in 17 previous games this season, dealt the Colts a cruel blow Monday night by downing them twice, 4-3 and 5-1.

The double defeat combined with Carlsbad's 11-8 win over Odessa out the Colts' first-place margin to one and a half games, their slender lead since they took over the top spot from the Potashers some two months ago.

Midland had been able to win but five of the previous 17 meetings with the Colts and only two of those had come at Guinn Field. But one would never have guessed this the way Jay Haney's crew went after the San Angelo scalp.

The twin licks dampened any hopes the San Angelo nine might have had of clinching an early pennant. With 15 games left, seven of these on the road, the Colts will have to fight Carlsbad right to the wire.

Olen Selbo was the main thorn in the Colt hide as he smashed a bases-loaded home run off Ben Bonine in the third inning of the second game, sending the San Angelo southpaw ace to his seventh defeat against 17 wins.

Bobby Gregg, another Colt lefty, didn't have it in the first game, giving way to Lew Lozano in the fifth after the Indians had gone into a 4-3 lead. Gregg suffered his eighth defeat against 17 wins.

The Colts blew a 3-0 lead in the first game but were never in contention in the second after Selbo's grand slammer.

Threatened to make short work of Max Newcom, Indian hurler, in the initial contest, scoring once in the first and twice in the third. The first-inning run came on singles by Steve Follett, John Tayoan and Rudy Briner.

Charley Galina opened the Colt third with a walk, moved to third on a single by Follett and scored on Tayoan's single. Follett scored as Burns rapped into a double play.

From here on, Newcom shut the door as the Colts were able to garner but three harmless hits the rest of the way.

The Indians tied matters in the fourth, scoring three times on five hits. The first four men hit safely. Roger Dalla Beta getting a single. Haney a double and Selbo and Bill Brown one-run singles. Selbo scored the third run as Art Bowland hit into a force.

The winning run came in the fifth as Dalla Beta walked, moved to second on a single by Haney, to third on a fielder's choice and scored on Brown's single.

The Colts could do nothing with the offerings of Schaening in the second contest, threatening in the second and final inning. Bonine was sailing along in good fashion when the Indians landed on him for five safeties and all their runs in the third inning. Errors by John Jeandron and Dick Stone added to the southpaw's miseries.

Frank Casanova was safe on an error to open the frame and moved to second on a single by Quentin Basco. Schaening hit into a force at third, but Scooter Hughes singled Basco home with the first run.

GLEN SELBO
... Colt equalizer.

Schaening stopping at second. Stone, returning to the lineup after leaving the club over a week ago, fumbled Dalla Beta's grounder to load the bases. Haney forced Schaening at home, but Selbo poked out a Bonine pitch and hit it on a line over the left center field wall for a four-run clout.

After this, Bonine allowed but one hit but the damage was done. Sensational fielding saved the Indians possible embarrassment in the seventh as Brown took Tayoan's leadoff drive right on the fence. Burns followed with his homer and when Briner walked and Malgarini doubled, visions of a comeback rose in the stands. But Jeandron grounded out and Stone struck out for the final out.

The two clubs will meet for the final time this season beginning at Guinn Field at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Oil Guerra (16-10) will go for the Colts against either Ralph Atkinson (2-2) or Glen Selbo (0-1) for the Indians.

6 P.M. DEADLINE FOR NET ENTRIES

Entries for the first annual Midland Open Tennis tournament must be received by Morris Howard by 6 p.m. Tuesday, tourney officials warned.

Entry fees are $2 for singles and $3 for doubles. Howard may be reached by phone at the City Hall. Others who may register contestants are Bob Patterson (4-7686 or 4-5511), Bob Barnes (4-8865 or 2-2546) and Stanley Bellows (4-7441).

The tournament opens Thursday and continues through Sunday.

'Ashers Rout Oilers, 17-9

ODESSA—(AP)—Odessa Pitcher Wes Ortiz came out short on everything Monday night as Carlsbad outscored Odessa, 17-9, in an exhibition of 'why not to be a pitcher.' Ortiz was the only player of the two teams to go to bat and fall to get a hit. He was also the losing pitcher.

The two teams pelted the fence and beyond with 35 hits including six home runs.

Carlsbad got five more hits than Odessa and Oiler Manager Bob Martin committed two errors.

Dallas Near Cinch For Texas Pennant

By The Associated Press
The magic number for Dallas is nine. Nine victories in the last 16 games for the Texas League leaders and the pennant belongs to the Eagles.

Monday night the Eagles, with Jose Santiago pitching a 4-hit shut-out, took Shreveport 4-0 and increased their lead to eight games.

It was the fifth straight victory for Dallas, all at home where it is playing better than 800 ball. They have won 25 of their last 29 in Dallas.

Fort Worth clipped Beaumont, 6-4, and Tulsa's Howie Judson won his seventh straight, 2-1, from San Antonio. Oklahoma City dropped a game to Houston, 2-1.

Dukes Protect Lead By Nipping Hubbers

By The Associated Press
Albuquerque defeated Lubbock, 3-2, Monday, guarding its West Texas-New Mexico League lead. It was two straight for the Dukes over the second-place Hubbers and swelled the lead to four games.

A 17-run scoring rash over the fourth and fifth easily sent Clovis to a 19-10 win over Pampa. Plainview stopped Amarillo, 9-5. Borger dumped Abilene, 8-6.

St. Luke's, First Methodist Capture Playoff Victories

St. Luke's and First Methodist got off to a roaring start in the Church Softball League playoffs Monday night by downing St. Andrews, 12-11, and Bellview Baptist, 9-5, respectively.

St. Luke's and St. Andrews engaged in a slugfest with St. Luke's rallying from behind twice to capture the wild-scoring affair which ended as it started—with runs pouring across the plate.

St. Andrews went ahead, 6-0, in the top of the first with five hits, an error and a walk accounting for the tallies. Pitcher L. Stout of St. Luke's hit a three-run homer in the bottom half to narrow the count, and from then on, the battle royal was on.

St. Lukes scored again in the third on a pair of singles by Eddie McCullough and Frank Ford, but St. Andrews maintained the advantage with a brace of tallies in the fourth on an error and doubles by Pitcher Bob Pickens, Bolden and Kinyon.

St. Luke's tallied three times, narrowing the count to 8-7, in the fifth on an error, a walk, a double by McCullough and singles by Cheves and Mitchell.

Finally, in the seventh, Stout singled and scored on Ford's double to tie the game at 8-8.

St. Andrews scored three times in the eighth on hits by Hayes and Pickens, an error and a walk, but St. Luke's matched the victory away at the last moment as Walker singled, and after two outs, Stout singled. McCullough was on by an error, Ford walked, Cheves singled and Mitchell doubled to push over the winning marker.

First Methodist used a six-run third to assure itself of a triumph. A double by B. Nichols, three errors, two walks, C. Reagan's triple and O. Robinson's single turned the trick. Nichols also collected a single later in the game.

Bellview Baptist outthit their rivals 11-8, but couldn't seem to get the blows at the right time. Four of the Baptists collected all the hits with Leftwich getting four consecutive singles. Pitcher Raymond Massey had two doubles and a triple. Parker had a home run and a single and Easley collected two singles.

The four teams renew action Tuesday night.

35 Enter Qualifying For Amateur Places

A field of 35 golfers, with 11 from Midland and 13 from Odessa will contend here Monday in sectional qualifying for the National Amateur golf championships.

Former State Champion Billy Erfurth of Lubbock and former South-west Conference Champion Lee Pinkston of Abilene are among the leading golfers who'll battle on the Midland Country Club course for five positions in the United States Golf Association's national meet. The five who score lowest here in 36 holes of medal play will thereafter be eligible to compete in the 200-man National Amateur that is slated for the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club September 14-19.

Already another West Texan, Rex Baxter, Jr. of Amarillo is among 13 exempt players this year after he captured the National Junior Amateur in Tulsa several weeks ago. The West Texas area which qualifies at a one-out-of-seven ratio compared to the one-of-eight average for the nation produced one titlist in Billy Maxwell of Odessa in 1951.

Fred Hogan, USGA representative from Midland, announced the pairings for the sectional Tuesday with starting times. He said, beginning at 8:30 p.m. and at each six-minute interval following. The players move into second round play Monday afternoon to complete their 36-holes of contention.

Most of the USGA players will remain afterwards in Midland to enter the Midland Country Club Invitational, September 3-7, greatly enriching the club's first Labor Day tourney.

Almost all of the Midland players have some championship behind them; Buddy Branum for instance holds the Ranchland Hill Club title, Bill Hightower the Ranchland runner-up, Billy (Wendy) Green the Hobbs Junior, James Smith the Midland Country Club runner-up, Bob Wortman the Midland city championship runner-up and Bob French of Odessa, the MCC club championship.

The others from Midland are James H. Binford, C. W. Chancellor, Jr., Jay H. Floyd, David Moody and Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr.

Odessa will send 13, chief among them Bill (Red) Roden who is a former Southwest Conference champion from Texas and more recently the medalist in the Men's West Texas.

19-Year-Old Loses To Pat In Tourney

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Pat Garner, Midland's long ball artist, remained in the running Tuesday at the Women's National Amateur Golf Tournament at Providence, R. I., by defeating Mrs. Raymond Wightman of Warwick, R. I., 4 and 2.

Joyce Ziske, 19-year-old Wisconsin miss, scored the major upset of the tournament Monday when she eliminated Canada's Marlene Stewart, the British titleholder, on the nineteenth hole.

Joyce proved a one-day sensation in the tournament which has had hundreds of surprises in its previous 52 years of competition. Monday play saw 21 first round and 53 second round matches run off in the all-match play tournament.

Although most of the "name" players had little trouble in the opening round, the only six-time winner in the history of the tournament, Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare of Philadelphia, and Curtis Cup player Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., failed to survive.

Brooks Due To Win National Race With 12-Game Margin

By The Associated Press

Unless the Milwaukee Braves and Chicago White Sox can find a way to repeal the law of averages, Brooklyn should win the National League by 12 games and New York should win the American by nine.

A survey Tuesday of the remaining games of the top two clubs in each of the leagues showed:

1. The Dodgers should win 21 and lose 11 the rest of the season giving them a final total of 105 victories and 49 defeats.
2. The Braves should have a 17-13 record the rest of the way and an over-all standing of 93-61.
3. The Yankees can be expected to win 20 and lose 12 giving them 103-51 for the year.
4. The White Sox figure to win 19 and lose 12 which would leave them with 94-60 at the end.

This law of averages has been evaded in the past but not often. These are some of the hard cold facts the Braves must face.

They have 30 games left to play, divided exactly in half between first and second-division teams. So far this year they've won two and lost 24 against clubs now in the first division. This would figure to give them an 8-4 break the rest of the way. Against second-division foes the Braves stand 49-36. This is equal to a 9-6 split in the last 15 games, and a total of 17-13.

That won't be enough to make even a dent in the Dodgers' current nine-game edge Brooklyn.

Brooklyn has feasted on the also-rans this year, winning 54 of 74 meetings. This equals a 10-4 break and a total of 21-11 from now on.

Here's how the American should work out.

Chicago has 16 first-division and 15 second-division games remaining. The white Sox have won 30 of 50 against the first string so far, which should make it 10-6 the rest of the way. They've been only a shade stronger against the second division, winning 45 and losing 28. This would work out to 9-6 and a total of 19-12.

On percentages the Yankees should finish with a 11-8 mark in first division play and 9-4 against the rest.

Back to work Tuesday, the National League matches these tonight doubleheaders, Chicago at Brooklyn, Milwaukee at Philadelphia, St. Louis at New York and Cincinnati. In the American in single games are Philadelphia at Chicago, Washington at Cleveland, both night, and New York at Detroit.

TEE NOTES Ace, New Mark Pace MCC Play

By CHARLEY ESKEW

When it comes to golf tournament kickoffs—two in the case of the Midland area in two weeks—the Midland Country Club will challenge just about anyone.

First off, the club next week inaugurates its first Labor Day tourney with an eye toward making it a set-date annual event other than just the club's yearly invitational.

And to give the currently busy campaign a proper sendoff, a couple of performers have turned in freerackler exhibitions.

One unheralded golfer Lloyd Inzerarity who is not an entry at Odessa practically stole all of the noise from state-wide golfers playing the north course in preparation for the Odessa program. He moved into MCC's hall of fame by registering the course's hole-in-one.

Inzerarity ended the two-year drought of aces when he five-ironed his single shot on No. 16, a 152-yard three-par hole. The ball sailed to within four feet of the pin and bounded in.

Ernie Vossler, too one of Fort Worth's finest amateurs, might just as well be considered the favorite in the invitational since his weekend tour at MCC Vossler tied the amateur course record with a three-birdie, one bogey round—a three-under 69—Sunday as he used the course to become acquainted with West Texas conditions. He was one of several avoiding a heavy rush of pros and amateurs pushing in on the Odessa Country Club early.

125 Golfers Open Odessa Pro-Am Play

ODESSA — Some 125 golfers tee off Wednesday in the sweepstakes play preliminary to this week's Odessa Pro Amateur tourney and it may be the last time for some of the hardy amateurs and pro-amers right off the tournament trail—to look anything more than duffers.

After Wednesday, they find more pressure to keep their eyes on the $7,500 prizes than on the ball. At any rate, the Odessa meet, which extends through 73 holes of official Pro-Am team play up till Sunday, is West Texas' biggest name golfers show and represents one of the most lucrative competitions for both little and big pros in the area.

Bill Oliver, the host pro at Odessa Country Club, listed about 45 teams officially entered through Tuesday. He said the field should reach approximately 75 teams by starting time at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Already, bigtimers Ray Gaffard and Harry Todd of Dallas, Chuck Klein of San Antonio, defending Champion Bo Winger of Oklahoma City, Iverson Martin of Fort Worth and Elroy Martin of Houston were at hand to play. And one of West Texas' best bets—at least currently the hottest—also will enter, when Dick Turner of Amarillo moves here Wednesday. He completed a sweep to the Clovis Invitational crown in the pro division Sunday with a 2-up win over Warren Cantrell of Lubbock.

J. C. Hardwick, a Houston pro formerly from Midland, fell in the Clovis semi-finals and hurried back to combine with Ranchland Hill club champion, Buddy Branum of Midland, as one of the foremost teams here. Incidentally, it takes a lot of gold plate in the home collection for any of these amateurs to look bigtime in this star-studded field.

For instance, just about every junior shotmaker around will be entered—namely Rex Baxter, Jr. of Amarillo, the National and Hearst national junior champion; Dick Goerlich of Beaumont, the Texas junior champ and Juan Antonio Estrada of Mexico City, the Mexican national junior titlist.

Winger, the only player to win both as an amateur (1950) and as a pro (1952), will team this year with Don January of Dallas as the favored twosome. Other leaders are Klein and former Texas Champion Billy Erfurth of Lubbock, J. T. Hammett of Snyder and West Texas titlist Jack Williams of Plainview and Todd and Don Shumacher of Dallas.

Besides the Hardwick-Branum duo, the field includes from Midland, Pro Boyd Huff and his Dallas partner, Willard Crenshaw; Pro Abe Beckman and Wendy Green; Pro Jay McClure and Ross Burnner; Pro Shirley Robbins and his Fort Worth partner, Gene Gregston and Pro Walter Thompson and Red Worley.

NEW MEXICANS HERE

Weldon Gates, T. V. Carstairs and Ron Carson of Lovington, N. M., attended to business in Midland Monday.

Midland Resident Injured In Round-Up

Joseph S. Doakes, long-time resident of Midland, suffered minor injuries in the round-up this week. Doctors said his condition was not serious. Doakes' injuries were described as a series of bruises, contusions, and lacerations received when he stumbled over a lawnmower.

It is said that Mr. Doakes had gotten word that his old lawnmower, regardless of its age make, or condition was worth $300.00 to him on a trade for a new Jacobsen Power Mower during a round-up of old mowers by a local store. Joe had been struggling with this aged mower for a good many years. He had pushed it by main strength and awkwardness for more than ten years, when, about a year ago, someone gave him a worn-out gas engine which he installed on the thing. Instead of halving his troubles, this doubled them, because he not only had to push it, but he had to start it.

Anyway, when Joe heard that he could get $300.00 for the thing on a new Jacobsen, he became so agitated and excited that he fell over the decrepit relic getting his car out of the garage to go to the store.

We visited Joe in the hospital the other day. Told him that we had picked up his "junkie," and that when he got to the place he could get around, that we would deliver his new Jacobsen to him. Joe smiled painfully and said, "Thanks, chum, that old mower was my worst enemy."

We think our favorite nurse will like that story.

STENOGRAPHER SOUGHT FOR QUESTIONING IN BRUTAL SLAYING OF 14-YEAR-OLD GIRL

SOMERVILLE, MASS.—(AP)—A 25-year-old, "very pretty" stenographer was sought Monday for questioning in the slaying of 14-year-old Mary Di Rocco, whose bullet-punctured, slashed and partially burned body was found in the cellar of her home Monday.

Police identified the girl they are seeking as Mildred McDonald, an employee of the State Unemployment Compensation Division.

They said she kept company with Joseph Di Rocco, 25, the victim's brother, about three years until he married another girl last April.

Medical Examiner Andrew D. Guthrie said five slugs from a .22-caliber target pistol entered the Di Rocco girl's body—in the heart, the head, jaw, abdomen and left wrist.

In addition, he said, there was a slash on the girl's throat as if made by a razor or a sharp knife.

Heavy motor oil had been poured over the girl's body and newspapers and a magazine, placed around it, had been set ablaze.

Police said the motor oil did not catch fire because it burns only under extreme high temperature.

The burning papers caused only a slight scorch on the girl's side before the fire was extinguished by Robert Di Rocco, 17, another of the victim's brothers, who was attracted to the cellar by the smell of smoke when he arrived home.

Robert said he passed Miss McDonald on his front steps and chatted a few minutes before he entered his family's modest, two-family house.

He said she was just leaving the house and appeared calm as she strode away.

Angelo Di Rocco, the slain girl's father, said he went home to lunch and found Miss McDonald there with his daughter.

He said his wife was out shopping at the time.

The slain girl was a niece of Gabriel Piemonte, a Boston City councillor and former president of that body.

Police said discovery of a sixth .22-caliber slug in the mattress of a bedroom leads them to believe the attack on the girl began in the apartment and that she was slain from point-blank range when she ran to the cellar.

A police check showed Miss McDonald left her job two hours before she was seen in the Di Rocco home. She had told her superior she was not feeling well.

Her father is a teacher at the Northeastern Junior High School.

VA Sets 'Yardstick' On Parents' Incomes
 WASHINGTON — The Veterans Administration said Thursday $80 a month from considered sources is the "general yardstick" for determining eligibility of one parent to receive compensation for the death of a child from service-connected disabilities. For two parents living together the figure is $135. Income from other sources is not counted. Parents are entitled to such compensation only if they are dependent on the income. The VA is now checking on the status of all parents receiving compensation for service-connected deaths growing out of World War II. The "general yardstick," as one official described it, applies to all compensation cases for parents, whether the son or daughter died of service-connected disabilities in peacetime or wartime service.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

THE SARA-NEC SURVEY shows conclusively that people buy more homes than any other species of phylum cordata-especially when they see what we have on CUTHBERT. Rake-joint brick, this lovely home has 3 large bedrooms, 2 tile baths, spacious living and dining room combination, utility room, and attached garage. The entrance door leads into a hallway so that you do not pass thru the living room. Quiet carpeting thru-out, central heating, and luxurious draperies. Youthful but nice landscaping, tile fence, and nice paving. Priced at $19,500, you could move into it tomorrow for as little as $5,000 down.

Gremlins Were Pikers, Say Egyptians, Who Should Know

By ED POLLAK
CAIRO —(AP)—Remember the "gremlins," those troublesome goblins who, World War II flyers contended, were the cause of all their mishaps?

Well, it now seems fairly certain they came from Egypt. They were here for centuries before the last war. They still infest thousands of tiny villages dotting the banks of the Nile.

But here they call them "djinnns." Djinnns are feared and respected by most of the Egyptian country folk. They can be very nasty. But, if with proper treatment, they can also perform miracles.

Almost every day local newspapers have something to report about the djinnns. The djinnns have a long police record.

How To Break Lease
A family in a small southern Egypt town was awakened in the middle of a dark night by a furious bedlam. It sounded like hundreds of hammers beating huge gongs. The air was filled with screaming. "The djinnns!" cried the lady of the house. Through the night the whole family shuddered in terror, too scared to peep out of the door.

Next morning the family was visited by the landlord, who lived downstairs. He too had been disturbed by the djinnns. A "saint" was with him. The saint explained the djinnns were mad at the family and wanted them out of the house. The credulous tenants wasted no time. They fled to relatives living nearby.

Man-Child For Wife
It was several months before the man heard that his landlord needed the apartment for one of his daughters who was getting married. The djinnns had helped break a long-term lease.

In another village, a young woman, married for two years, was lamenting because she had borne her husband no child.

Her complaint reached another "saint." He assured her that the djinnns, if she did the proper things, would grant her a boy within the year.

She was ready for anything. The saint asked for a first payment of 50 piastres (about $1.40 U. S.). To buy food and presents for the djinnns.

Amid Smoke, Fire
Then he told the woman to come to a deserted cabin, near the village's fringes, on the next night, which, happy ones, was to be moonless. He recommended she bring all her jewels.

She was punctual. She had told her husband she was going to spend the night at her mother's. She brought along her big necklace and half a dozen of those thick bracelets, in solid gold, which women wear around their ankles.

The saint wrapped the jewels in a large handkerchief and put them in the middle of the empty cabin. Immediately thick smoke came out of the sauceman. A strong smell of incense spread all around.

She Couldn't Resist
The man called three times "O djinnns, O djinnns, O djinnns." He told the woman to walk 11 times around the sauceman. Then he left her. She was not to look into the sauceman until he came back, he sternly warned.

By late morning the woman couldn't resist any longer. She looked into the pan. The handkerchief was there. But her gold had changed into pebbles.

The angry husband told the story to a weary police officer. He sighed. It was the djinnns' tenth mischief in a week.

Adenauer Borrows American Technique

By ED POLLAK
BONN, GERMANY —(AP)—West Germany's tough, old Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, fighting for reelection at 77, is making his political opponents squirm with some campaign methods borrowed from the United States.

Taking a leaf from American presidential candidates, the Chancellor is criss-crossing the nation on a "whistle-stop" tour to let a millions of German voters see and hear him.

He's traveling in a bright red special train replete with all the trimmings of a U. S. presidential special—press agents, harried advisers, a radio telephone, bodyguards, teletype printers and a separate car for reporters.

So far, Adenauer has covered 3,384 miles. He is going 3,000 more before the election on September 6.

This doesn't count side trips by car. In a baggage car, the Chancellor carries two black Mercedes limousines. He roars off in these on frequent side jaunts.

DENVER —(AP)—President Eisenhower hasn't forgotten Paul Henry Haley, the six-year-old boy who physicians say will die of cancer.

The President began the friendship a week ago Sunday when he paid Paul an unannounced call after reading that the boy wanted to meet him. After the visit, Paul proclaimed that the President was a better man than Hopalong Cassidy. Later, a "thank you" note was sent to the President in the youngster's name. Now Paul is displaying this letter on official stationery:

"Dear Paul, "I was so happy to receive the nice message which your mother forwarded to me. I enjoyed my short visit with you and I send my best wishes for your speedy return to good health. "Take care of yourself. "Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

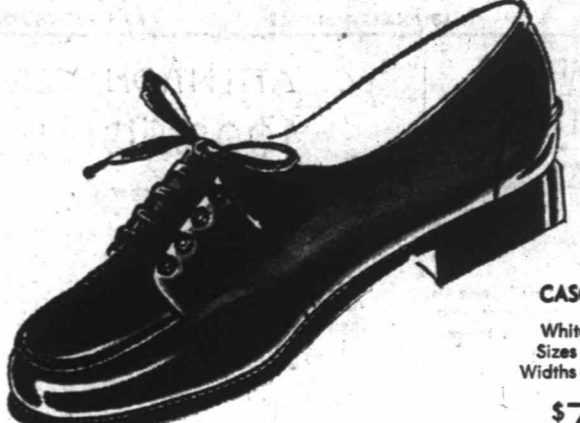

A number of the best cutting horses in the business will be twisting and turning for the $500 top money offered in that event. A $50 entry fee is required.

East German Reds Aim New Reprisals At Revolt Leaders

BERLIN —(AP)—A wave of new arrests in connection with Germany's June 17 revolt was reported Tuesday as the Communists announced an alleged leader of the uprising had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

The West Berlin radio said Communist Zone security police had arrested 64 persons suspected of taking part in the revolt. They were bagged in three steel plants and an artificial rubber plant.

A few hours earlier the German Communist ADN news agency announced that Gerhard Roemen, 26, had been sent to jail for life as a leader of the rebellion.

According to ADN, Roemen burst into Magdeburg jail brandishing a rifle, demanding the freeing of all prisoners and later threatened Russian tanks moving into his factory with his rifle.

The West Berlin radio also reported a new kind of East Zone revolt against Communist rule. The broadcast said 400,000 workers since June have refused to pay dues to their Communist trade unions.

Red authorities plan to stymie this financial rebellion by withholding union dues from wages, the radio added.

AEC Denies Cattle Injured By Radiation

ALBUQUERQUE —(AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission Tuesday said it had found radiation injuries on 21 horses owned by stockmen near the Nevada A-bomb proving ground.

But it denied a number of cattle belonging to one of those stockmen had died from such injuries and suggested "forage and water conditions were generally poor in the area this year and malnutrition could have contributed to the deaths of some."

Reclamation Goals Revised in Southwest After Budget-Cutting

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The reclamation construction program is proceeding at a rate calculated to bring irrigation water to 248,194 acres of land and add 297,250 kilowatts of hydroelectric generating capacity by June 30, Interior Secretary McKay said Monday.

This fiscal year's construction program is listed as a $174,089,789 undertaking. Actually, the bureau has only $154,960,332 on hand to do the work.

The difference comes about this way: Congress allowed maximum expenditures for various reclamation projects—including new funds and carryovers from past grants—which totaled $174,089,789.

Then it said it was imposing a general reduction of approximately 10 per cent on the overall program because "experience has shown that the Bureau of Reclamation will be unable to obligate up to the full amount of the approval program."

A summary of work projected by the bureau, along with allocations for this and other fiscal years included:

Rio Grande, New Mexico-Texas, $583,000: complete transmission system.

Middle Rio Grande, N. M., $1,580,889: complete emergency channel work and start work on drains.

A 20-year project to establish an aluminum industry is underway in the Gold Coast of west Africa.

Thomas' telegram: "Dearest Mom, Freed from the Reds at last. Feel pretty good for the shape I am in. Receiving excellent care. Don't worry."

"Each day brings me nearer to you. Love to the best mother in the world. God bless you."

Wild Spuds Loom As New Table Fare

DURHAM, N. C.—(AP)—Potatoes from the backwoods, real wild life, are pointed towards development of better spuds for the American dinner table.

Dr. Donovan S. Correll, a botanist from Duke University, says that out-of-way sections in Central America and Mexico have developed disease and frost resistant strains which would help potatoes on U. S. farms.

In his book, published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dr. Correll says that the potato had its origin in the Andes of Bolivia and Peru.

Correll has gathered wild potato relatives in Mexico which are being used in breeding investigations in the United States, Germany, Canada and Alaska.

Red China's Top Military Genius Fades Into Oblivion Veiled By Bamboo Curtain

HONG KONG —(AP)—In the midst of international concern over Red China's next move, now that her armies are free of battle in Korea, one mysterious question crops up. What has become of Lin Piao, once considered China's greatest military genius next to Chu Teh, commander in chief of China's Communist armies?

Is Lin Piao in disfavor with his Red bosses? Is he dead? Or is he somewhere deep in China's interior building up a massive army in preparation for a move toward the tempting targets of Southeast Asia?

Lin still is listed as commander of the huge Fourth Field Army and head of the Central South China

Administrative District, two of the biggest jobs in Red China.

But it has been many months since he presided at a central south regional meeting. Whenever the Fourth Field Army is mentioned, Yeh Chien-ying, military governor of Kwangtung Province, appears to be running it as deputy commander.

Lin was leader of the Fourth when it swooped down from Manchuria through the center of the nation and chased Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists out of Canton. Chiang was driven to Chungking, Kweichow and ultimately to Formosa.

It was Lin's swift hordes that kept Chiang on the run while other more publicized Red generals were capturing Nanking and Shanghai. After the Nationalist debacle in 1949, Lin seemed to be climbing politically. There were rumors he would replace aging Chu Teh as chief of staff.

But nothing happened. In 1951, it was rumored he was wounded by a would-be assassin as he debarked from a plane in Hankow, but he apparently recovered.

During all the fanfare about the "people's volunteer army" fighting in Korea and the new five-year plan for Red China, Lin was not mentioned.

Most observers here are wondering if Lin Piao's sun is past its zenith.

Vineyard Nursery Prepares To Meet Fall Planting Needs

Year around planting and a complete landscape service available any time are the specialties of the Vineyard Landscaping Company of Midland.

With cool weather just around the corner, George H. Vineyard, part owner of the firm, advises Midlanders to start planning their gardens ahead of Fall planting time.

Located on the Andrews Highway, the Vineyard Landscaping Company is prepared to supply Midland gardeners well. A complete nursery stock is on hand, including trees, flowering shrubs and container-grown roses. All of the plants in the spacious Vineyard growing room are developed specially to suit the requirements of West Texas weather and soil.

For in addition to the scientific landscaping work done by the firm, they provide for the needs of Midland gardeners in all phases—including plants, grass seeds, fertilizers, insecticides, and the nourishing peat moss for growing gardens. Garden tools are another featured item available at the Vineyard Landscaping Company.

Container grown roses are a specialty at Vineyard's, in a profusion of patent and standard varieties. The firm marked its first anniversary in Midland on March 15, more than a year of service encompassing "planning to planting," which is the byword of Vineyard's George A. Farlow and Vineyard are partners in the enterprise.

Vineyard, who spent 12 years in landscaping work in Big Spring, says that their supervised planting is all inclusive, whether one shrub or tree is being placed in the ground or 100—there will always be a supervisor on the job to see that it is done right.

The landscaping authority recommends that on all planting, peat moss should be employed to add organic and humus elements to the soil, which in West Texas, is lacking in proper plant food.

This is the ideal time to start looking for trees to be planted this Fall, Vineyard says. Customers may come to their field, pick out a tree while it still contains foliage, and have it planted later.

He added that discounts are given to civic club projects such as schools, parks, and churches. Residential and commercial planting and landscaping is done year around.

Free estimates can be obtained by telephoning 4-7989. Another service is delivery without charge of all plants.

The Vineyard Landscaping Company has as its continuing aim the beautifying of Midland homes through planting better gardens, renovating old landscapes and arranging new ones. Their slogan is "Home beautification is civic improvement."

Corn Borers Baffle Agriculture Experts

AMES, IOWA —(AP)—The corn borers have even the experts confused in Iowa this year. Harold Gunderson, Iowa State College extension entomologist, says the borers normally reach their egg-laying peak around June 17 and have finished laying by June 25. But this year the laying continued throughout July.

Farmers usually spray when they find 100 egg masses per 100 plants. But that rule doesn't apply this year because eggs laid early already have hatched. And Gunderson says the experts have no other rule to offer that will help the farmers protect their crop.

All great ideas and inventions have a starting point. With the Wright brothers and their airplane it was in 1878, when Orville was 7 and his brother, Wilbur, 11. One day their father brought them home a strange-looking toy airplane. The toy was soon broken but its principle fired their young minds.

As the boys entered their teens their mechanical bent led to experiments with all kinds of things. At 17, Orville made a woodworking lathe with marbles for ball-bearings. They also built a printing press, calculating machine, and "wireless telegraph" in home workshop.

Bicycles were all the rage in their home town of Dayton, Ohio. So the Wright brothers set up a bicycle shop. They soon knew more about bikes than anybody in town. They even made and sold nearly 1000. Such mechanical work was ideal training for things to come.

County Agent Kept Running As Farmers' Liaison Man, Troubleshooter, Fact Finder

County Agent Charley Green, like county agents throughout West Texas, has had his hands full helping farmers and ranchers of Midland County through the drought pinch.

And he's not through. The drought's still with us—and the need for aid is rising rather than falling.

Take the duties for example. They all take time and a lot of agricultural know-how—and an awful lot of patience.

First, Green's serving as a more than active member of the Midland County Drought Committee, helping the committee and the PMA office take application for emergency feed, and, on more than one occasion, helping out in unloading the feed from rail car to truck.

Green's been helping ranchers and farmers to figure rations which will help stretch dwindling feed supplies and he's been helping stockmen with livestock programs.

Spreads The Word

And he has been helping stockmen locate feed and pasture in other parts of the state—or even in other states.

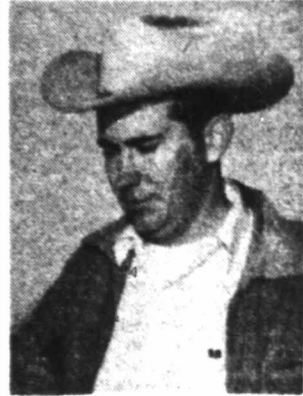

Whenever a tip on drought relief comes to Green's courthouse office, he notifies press and radio in order to work.

County agents are busy and early and late all over the drought area giving advice, encouragement and, whenever possible, assistance that will make the job of "sticking-it-out until it rains" easier.

4-H Club Work

At least 13 Midland County 4-H boys and girls are busy these days taking care of 13 lambs destined someday to be seen in Midland and other West Texas livestock shows.

County Agent Charley Green has been moving from farm to farm lately shearing the lambs—offering them a more pleasant time during the hot Summer months. The wool, that farmers and ranchers can use the information in their battle against the drought.

Rounding out his duties, Green advises farmers and ranchers on crops for planting when moisture is available, outlines the market situation and outlook and answers questions on literally hundreds of different problems.

And he never seems too busy to sit down with farmer, rancher or businessman for a chat on the Midland County picture.

Good Times And Bad

It's interesting to note that farm demonstration work got started during another emergency—50 years ago.

The invasion of the boll weevil pointed to a need for expert help, and throughout its history, in good and bad times alike, this services organization has provided assistance to the families of rural Texas.

In their search for the answers to the questions raised, county agents and their own experiences gained from supervising thousands of farm and ranch demonstrations which have utilized the best known production methods.

The county agents have received help from the specialist staff and from the rural people themselves who serve on various community and county committees. The agents, too, are supplying information on local conditions which has been most helpful in setting up programs aimed at lessening the effects of the disaster.

Science At Work

The list of all assistance given is a long one. But standing out above all, is the agents' desire to be of service in a time of need. If they don't have the answer, they know the facilities of the statewide A&M College System are at their disposal and help will be on the way when asked for.

Present day agricultural production is a highly complicated operation with scientific and economic factors affecting the final results. Economic conditions have added complications to the present drought emergency but the application of scientific methods, on the other hand, has tended to lessen the bad effects. Research work done on the Spur Experiment Station in soil and water conservation, at the Lubbock and Chillicothe Station on grain sorghum breeding, has meant much to Texas agriculture. These are examples of science at work.

Green says, isn't worth much, but it helps the lambs' growth to shuck their warm blankets.

4-H Club members who are feeding the lambs are Fay, Lloyd and W. D. Wimberly, who have five; Odie Faye, Otis and Betty Conner, who have three; Audie and Leonard Porter, who have two; James and Joanna Brooks, who are feeding two; Ronald and Donald White, who have two; and Albert Herington, who is taking care of one.

Computing Machines Adopt 'Initial Names'

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—(AP)—Computing machines have more "initial names" than departments in the federal government. Some of the new business machines being manufactured here bear such titles as WAC, SWAC, XRAC, UNIVAC and ELECOM.

And there is one called OMIBAC, the name of which was inspired by the Army infantryman's "Oh, My Aching Back." Spelled out in full, what it really means is "Ordinal Memory Inspecting Binary Automatic Computer." Don't ask what that means.

Economic Experts Form Nation-Wide Advisory Network

NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Times reported Monday the White House is setting up a network of economic experts at key points across the country to report on economic trends.

The Times, in a Washington dispatch by Charles E. Egan, said the experts are known for their business acumen and objectivity in assessing local economic conditions.

Egan said the experts, "chosen on a highly selective basis established by the opinions of bankers, businessmen, labor leaders and politicians in each city, will report on a monthly basis—more often if conditions warrant—to the White House on the economic trends in their respective localities."

The story said White House officials are reticent about discussing the new advisory setup.

Additional details given by the Times were these:

Undersecretary of Commerce Walter Williams will select the businessmen to serve on the group. He also will receive the telegraphed reports from the specialists and, together with other economic advisers to President Eisenhower, will evaluate the information received.

Fights Time Lapse

Williams, according to reports in Administration circles, eventually will be asked to give full time to White House duties. He is now spending half his time at the White House helping Sherman Adams, special assistant to Eisenhower, and the rest of his time as top assistant to Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

The main purpose of "the newest cadre of volunteer advisers to the White House . . . is to constitute a system of sensitive economic reporters at key points."

Members of the President's Advisory Board on Economic Growth and Stability have been dissatisfied with the time lapse between economic changes and their appearance in the form of statistics in government reports.

Need For Stronger Minority

One of the oddities of America's relations with the outside world is that we seem to know and talk a lot more about our distant friends than we do our close neighbors like Canada.

The Canadian election is an example. Compare the attention we gave that with the interest stirred by the June Italian election and the September voting in West Germany.

It might be better if we showed a more intimate concern for happenings north of the border. Canada is an acknowledged stronghold of democracy, and its political soundness and economic well being are matters of importance to us.

In this regard, the August 10 election can be viewed as pleasing to America, while at the same time it raised a storm signal or two.

It was pleasing because it returned to power by a resounding margin the Liberal Party which has governed the country with uninterrupted success for 18 years.

Furthermore, Liberal Party leaders have labored conscientiously to foster close trade and defense ties with the United States. Wartime cooperation between the two nations was a model of effectiveness.

The worrisome aspect of the victory is this: It was the Liberals' fifth in a row and represented the first time any Canadian political party had triumphed more than four straight times.

The Progressive Conservatives will have 50 seats in the Canadian House, against 171 for the Liberals. Actually this puts the two a bit closer than before the election.

The heart of democracy is the privilege of choosing between two or more instruments of government. When the scene is dominated by one party for a long time and the alternatives are not seriously considered, the privilege appears in danger of becoming an empty one.

Canadian government under the Liberals has been good. But, human beings were at the helm in all that span, and surely they could not have been perfect.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson (Copyright 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Ike anxious to keep Bernie Baruch from reverting to Democratic fold; Baruch warns senators about deflation; N. Y. City Republican criticizes Eisenhower housing policy.

WASHINGTON — There was an interesting backstage factor behind the President's long flight from Denver to New York to dedicate the Baruch housing project.

Bernie Baruch, the 83-year-old elder statesman, who supported Eisenhower last Fall, has been wavering. Irked at some of the Eisenhower economic policies, especially the increasing price rise and higher interest rates, Baruch has been reverting to his original Democratic faith.

And shortly before Congress adjourned, Elder Statesman Baruch held a secret breakfast conference with 16 Democratic senators at which he had some scathing things to say about the Administration's fiscal policies and the fact that the national debt was being increased by the treasury policy of paying higher interest rates on government bonds.

Baruch was particularly critical of Randolph Burgess, special assistant to the secretary of the treasury, who is in charge of floating government loans and who has recommended the increased interest on government loans.

Burgess is a former official of the National City Bank and Baruch told the Democratic senators that when he had learned of certain Burgess policies he withdrew his account from the National City Bank.

followed the policies of a man such as Burgess he could have no confidence in it.

Baruch also warned the senators that the United States faced a deflationary period, and that deflation could always be dangerous. However, he said that if the government was cautious and careful, we could weather the storm.

He laid special emphasis on the importance of building up our defense pacts with Europe and felt that NATO could be not only a steady influence from the point of view of defense but from the viewpoint of heading off too drastic deflation.

The 16 Democratic senators came away from the breakfast conference convinced that Baruch had returned definitely to the Democratic fold, that his economic wisdom was as sound as ever and that he had his fingers crossed about the Eisenhower Administration. Though the breakfast was supposed to be secret, news leaks quickly in Washington, and this was the biggest reason why Ike flew back from Denver to New York.

Baruch Slum Clearance During the Baruch dedication ceremonies, N. Y. City Planner Bob Moses, a Republican, let out some scorching criticism of Eisenhower housing policies right in front of the President.

"I take this occasion to plead for the courageous, clean-cut surgical removal of all our old slums," Commissioner Moses said just before Ike spoke.

"Unfortunately recent cuts by Congress have indicated a deplorable resurgence of hard-boiled reactionaries to whom acreage is more important than people. As a result, Baruch Houses, among others, have been cut in two."

Moses referred to the fact that the Taft public housing-slum clearance act, which Senator Taft championed so vigorously, was gutted shortly before he died, first by an appropriations cut, second by Eisenhower's appointment of ex-Congressman Albert Cole of Kansas, who when in Congress not only voted against slum clearance but made a speech calling it communistic.

Washington Whirl Europeans are more curious about Senator McCarthy than anyone since Adolf Hitler. The book "McCarthy: The Man, the Senator, the Ism," received the widest reviews in the history of British journalism and is now selling like hot cakes throughout England.

Publishers in Germany and Israel also have contracted to translate the book and put it out in those two countries. . . . The State Department is urging its foreign service officers to ship their household goods by air freight, pointing out that it actually costs less to fly a refrigerator from Washington, D. C., to Havana, Cuba, than to send it by rail or truck 100 miles to Richmond, Va. . . . American tourists have found that they can actually buy American-model automobiles in Europe and ship them home cheaper than the U. S. market price.

Explanation: the autos are built at European subsidiary plants, where labor is dirt-cheap. . . . Guards now have orders to stop bird-lovers from feeding the birds around government buildings. The order declares: "Feeding pigeons and other birds from the windows and other parts of buildings encourages them to roost in and about the building in great numbers and creates a cleaning problem."

The Joint Chiefs of Staff almost went through the roof when Attorney General Brownell announced that he was ready to prosecute any American POW's who collaborated with the Reds.

The joint chiefs feared exactly what they later learned happened—namely, the Communists showed Brownell's statement to wavering prisoners still in enemy hands and warned them that they would be tried for treason if they returned home. In this way, the Reds hoped to intimidate our weaker boys into going before the Armistice Commission and declaring that they wanted to stay with the Communists.

Tragic fact is that many of our boys were tortured or brain-washed into signing peace petitions, attending indoctrination lectures and even making propaganda broadcasts for the enemy. But the Army feels they should be given sympathy, not tried for treason. There are, of course, exceptions, such as those who spied on their own buddies in order to get favors from the prison guards. However, the joint chiefs fear Attorney General Brownell played right into Communist hands with his statement.

"But men love it so. Gavin showed me his rods, his salmonies and all the rest of it. He was like a boy—"

"Bless them all, they're just urchins at heart and when they are fishing they're usually out of mischief. When they're dressed up like tramps and wearing a four-day beard you don't need to worry about them. It's when they start to fuss about the way their tie is knotted or what the barber did to them that you should watch out. I don't think, though, you'll have to worry much about Gavin. He was really sored on women until you came along. His own brief marriage wasn't happy. A girl with too much money. Name was Janet Hall. She was killed in a motor-smash—she and some other man. The Waylands and their women—men Dieud."

"Avis, who said she had been commissioned by Peg to take the setter for a walk in order to keep her in trim for her walk-out party in Crosskeys, accompanied Lillith right up to the school gates, and her bright company was a help, a welcome distraction."

"Our Peg is throwing herself into the play like the reincarnation of Mrs. Siddons. Maybe she hopes to outshine you," Avis said. "In her own way she will, never fear. They're good, those boys and girls, if I do say it myself. And they're going to give their all to the better, too. This man they're sending to judge the entries, Garret Kane, used to be a brute even with the pros. When he was through there were lots of maimed, shattered egos—lying around that stage."

"A theatrical show, is he? We're having him out to our house after the show. I'm on the entertainment committee for the festival. He doesn't go around breaking glasses or chasing blondes or anything like that?"

"Not that I know of. He's sort of a craggy-looking specimen, built like a bull, hands like a navy and a voice like a frog. Still, some women found him fascinating as I recall."

"From your description he would be quite irresistible. I'm all prepared to be devastated by this monster."

"Nicknamed 'Slasher' Kane." "I simply can't wait."

SHE finished the page corrections after the rehearsal, sitting up until past 1, glad that she could again give her mind to the work in hand.

She took the page proofs to him next morning.

"My girl!" he said softly. "My Lillith! You know, you had me worried about you yesterday afternoon. I couldn't get it out of

Comments On H-Bomb Race—Don't Blame North Koreans For Atrocities—Bensons Like It Hot

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, director of Princeton's Institute for Advanced Study and the man who was in charge of building the first atomic bomb at Los Alamos, N. M., in 1945, gives as his own "casual, perhaps too rough guess" that Soviet Russia is about four years behind the U. S. in the development of the atomic munitions.

Writing in "Foreign Affairs," Dr. Oppenheimer declares further, "I think that the scale of their operations is about half as big as ours was" four years ago.

Applying this guess to the development of the hydrogen bomb as hinted by Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, Russia is about where the United States was in January, 1950, when President Truman announced that this country would proceed with development of the H-bomb.

In other words, in 1950 U. S. scientists had a pretty good idea that the H-bomb could be built, but they hadn't started to build the $1,400,000 Savannah River plant, and they hadn't made any 1951 and 1952 tests at Eniwetok.

UN Dues As the United Nations General Assembly reconvenes in New York for its special session on the Korean armistice and peace conference, it is revealed that as of August 1, only 15 of the 60-member nations have paid their 1953 dues in full to the world organization.

The United States, which pays 35 per cent of the UN budget of $48,000,000, is one of the 15 that has paid up.

The largest amount owed was that of Soviet Russia, almost $3,000,000 in arrears. The smallest amount owed is Burma's $8,000. The second largest balance due is Nationalist China's $2,400,000 for this year. China also is behind on its assessments for 1951 and 1952. Ten other countries owe for last year, and four still are behind on their 1951 payments.

Red Terror Dr. You Chan Yang, Korean ambassador to the United States, makes a general disclaimer that atrocities committed against American and other United Nations prisoners of war were the work of North Koreans.

"I should like to point out that these savages are not Koreans except in physical appearance," says the peppery ambassador. "They are second generation descendants of Koreans who fled into Siberia at the time of the Japanese occupation, and they have been indoctrinated with communism since birth."

Dr. Yang also declares that the original North Korean army was destroyed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces, and the civilian population of North Korea has been subjected since 1945 to the usual tactics of the "terror treatment courses" given such people by the Korean system.

Korean Rebuilding The U. S. Army is going to use American troops to help rebuild battered South Korea, but it won't be manual labor by ground troops and it will be combined with vigorous technical training for idle troops.

Communications outfits, for instance, instead of stringing wires and then tearing them down as in a normal training maneuver, actually will work at rebuilding South Korea's telephone system.

The same plan also will be applied to Army's Corps of Engineers. It will start rebuilding some of South Korea's battered roads, bridges, and railroads, just as though they were in training.

Port companies also will work on restoring the badly damaged South Korean harbor and dock facilities.

But the plan is to have South Korean Rebuilding

Koreans do all of the actual labor, with U. S. troops providing technical supervision and knowhow.

One problem which hasn't been settled yet is how to pay for the permanent equipment given to South Korea. The Army can't use up its own equipment which might be sorely needed later if combat is resumed. The Army also wants to show some budget savings as a result of the end of hostilities.

The present plan is to take equipment costs out of the $200,000,000 Congress allowed the President to transfer from military funds for Korean rehabilitation.

Bankers in Capital President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Administration isn't just a team of businessmen—it's also a team of bankers. This was reported by the American Bankers Association, which will hold its annual convention in Washington in September, for the first time since the depression year of 1934.

Secretary of Navy Robert B. Anderson of Dallas.

Deputy Secretary of Treasury W. Randolph Burgess of New York.

Administrative Assistant to the President Robert Cutler of Boston.

Director of the Budget Joseph M. Dodge of Detroit.

This Cabinet couple think the Washington climate is so mild they're actually bragging about it to their friends back home in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Benson simply reveres Washingtonian Summer sufferers that Utah is rated as second hottest state in the Union this year.

Washington? It's wonderful.

Newspaper radio broadcasts have revealed that out of 800 who have applied for commissions in the new Japanese Coastal Safety Corps—which corresponds to the U. S. Coast Guard—some 300 are former Japanese Navy officers and a third of this number held high rank.

Among the applicants is Capt. Tsurayuki Hashimoto, former commander of the Jap submarine I-GO 58, which the Japanese say sank a U. S. cruiser carrying an A-bomb.

Another is the former Cmdr. Tadashi Nakajima, founder of the Kamikaze corps of suicide pilots. Still another was Cmdr. Taisei Tieno, an Imperial Headquarters staff officer.

Since the Japanese Constitution prohibits the country from having a Navy, this Coastal Defense Corps is being built up as a new, first line sea frontier defense force for the islands.

my head that there was something amiss and I couldn't imagine what had occurred to upset you."

"It was nothing. Let's forget it." "Maybe I can't really forgive those things, she thought, but I can in time forget them."

He told her about his speech as they wrapped the proofs for mailing. "It was all I could do to keep them from rushing to the nearest phone to put in their orders for a copy of our book. I think, though, that a lot of them got the idea that the volume is called 'Korean Carousal' and has to do with the lighter aspects of war—wine-bibing, and the like."

"Which of course you were not familiar with."

"Huh!" He looked at her, his red head tilted. "Now am I wrong in thinking that has some, if not all, the earmarks of a dirty crack?"

"Oh! I'm sorry, Gavin." And she was.

He was all ready for the salmon-fishing excursion, wearing a green and red checked jack-shirt and corduroys and old army boots and a hat, battered, misshapen, water-marked.

She helped him pack his gear as Perry Nash, the postmaster, read the direction—"Author's Proofs for Printing Only."

"Lot of work to having a book out, eh?" said Mr. Nash, making out the registry receipt. "Ain't so easy as it looks, I'll bet."

"Indeed," agreed Lillith. "But it's interesting work. The book will be published June 24; Mr. Nash. I do hope you'll like it."

"I got a book already," sniffed the postmaster. "Postal Rules and Regulations. But I guess I can find time to read Mr. Gavin's Korean Carousal." The book Lillith didn't care how they pronounced it, just so they bought it.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

I'm sorry to say there was something wrong with both the bidding and the play of the hand shown today. Since everybody at the table was an experienced player, however, the mistakes are quite instructive.

South's opening bid of one heart after two passes was reasonable enough. He would not have opened the bidding as dealer or as second hand, but it was a good lead-director after two passes.

The double and the redouble were sound enough, and East had a normal response of two diamonds over the redouble. With a sound opening bid, South would have passed at his second turn. North's redouble stated: "I have a good hand, partner. Let the next bid come around to me because I may be able to double it." By failing to heed this request, South hoped to indicate he had a good heart suit but a hand that was ill-equipped for defense.

Once South had shown a good, strong heart suit there was no reason for North to show his spades.

He should have raised to three hearts, thus giving his partner the chance to play the hand either at game or at the nine-trick level.

South wasn't sure it was safe to pass three spades (it wasn't, since a heart lead at an early stage would give the defenders a heart ruff in addition to their four top tricks), and therefore South bid four hearts. West promptly doubled and the fat was in the fire—or should have been.

West opened the jack of diamonds, East put up the king, and South won with the ace. South led a low diamond and ruffed in dummy, and promptly returned a low spade from the dummy.

East wondered miserably whether or not to put up the ace of spades and finally decided to play low on the theory that his partner needed at least three spades for the take-out double. Hence South won with the jack of spades and could now afford to give up two hearts and a club, making his unsound contract.

East should have played his ace of spades even though he expected South to ruff it. There would never be a later chance to make a spade trick. Even if South were able to ruff the first spade, he would then have an additional club and would be unable to get rid of all of his clubs in time.

Neither side vul. North East South West Pass Pass 1♥ Double Pass 2♦ 3♦ 3♠ Pass Pass 4♥ Double Pass Pass 6 J Opening lead—6 J

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been: East South West North 1 Diamond Pass 1 N.T. 3 Spades Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades 8-6-3, Hearts K-9-4-2, Diamonds J-7, Clubs Q-8-5-3. What do you do? A—Pass. There is no reason to be alarmed, but there is equally no reason to take action with so poor a hand. If your cards were enough to produce a game your partner would have doubled one no-trump instead of merely bidding two spades.

Parole Violations May Be Pared Down

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—(AP)—The California Department of Corrections has begun an intensive supervision experiment in an effort to reduce the number of parole violators.

Fourteen experienced parole officers have been assigned to a special unit authorized by this year's legislature. Each will be responsible for about 15 paroled prisoners. Normally parole officers supervise 90 persons each. The close supervision will continue for 90 days. Then the paroled prisoners will be transferred to the regular program. The experiment was prompted by the fact that the parole violation rate is highest during the first three months of freedom.

New Flow Of Iran Oil Could Add To Industry's Problems

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—If Iran's oil, should it start flowing again into world trade routes, might prove as embarrassing to the oil industry as its stoppage proved in diplomatic circles.

Internationally operating oil companies long ago have increased production to more than make up for the loss of Iran's oil. They already are talking about ways to handle a possible glut of world petroleum supplies. Iran's oil would add to their distribution and quota problems.

It would be less than welcome to independent producers in America, who are seeking their own production cut back because of big supplies—and they contend, because of imports of oil from the Middle East.

Iran's oil won't be flowing again any time soon, of course. Even if the new government gets a firm hold, there still will be long and ticklish negotiations with England and the United States before the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's old properties could be put back into operation. Oil men here are far from sure the revolt in Iran will stick or that it spills out such an outcome.

Before Mossadegh seized the oil fields and the Abadan refinery, Anglo-Iranian was exporting 150,000 barrels of crude oil daily and some 450,000 barrels of refined products daily from its holdings there, valued at $1,500,000,000.

In the two years since Iran's oil industry closed down, the country has expanded its production in other lands and now has regained its loss completely.

Oil output in other Middle Eastern countries also was expanded recently. Much of it goes to new refineries in Europe. Some has been coming to the refineries on the Eastern Seaboard of the United States.

If Iran began shipping again, American and other companies operating in the Middle East might have the delicate problem of cutting output in these lands—thus stirring up resentment.

They might try shipping more here. But the Independent Petroleum Association of America has been urging Congress to limit oil imports to 10 per cent of the domestic demand, and could be expected to fight any increase of imports from the Middle East.

Domestic supplies are such now that Texas has just slashed permitted production in September by 119,691 barrels a day, the biggest cut since July, 1952. That will hit incomes of some independent producers further.

In spite of the embarrassment of making room for Iran's oil in world trade again, oil men would welcome the removal of the trouble there, of course. Like all Americans, they'd like to see Iran removed as a world trouble spot and possible prize for Russia. A quiet Iran might ease political tension in other Middle East lands.

Many doubt Iran will let the Anglo-Iranian company back in.

Creative Persons Termed Nuisances

BRISTOL, ENGLAND—If you want to be a success—make yourself a nuisance. That was the advice given by Sir Hugh Casson, designer of London's coronation decorations, to students at the Royal West of England School of Architecture here.

"It's the poets, artists, lunatics, maniacs and cranks who really get things done," he said.

You can cultivate the art of making yourself such a nuisance that you will get what you want from people, who will say, "all right—anything to get you out of the way."

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Crawfish House

Yesterday I was telling you about Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, and how he went crawling fishing with Uncle Bunkum who had come from the zoo for a visit with the folks at the monkey house.

A crawfish, you know, has legs that wiggle and kick, and on each of his front legs is a pincher that can catch hold of things and pinch if the crawfish wants to do it. He often wants to do it, too.

Mugwump had a wonderful time with Uncle Bunkum, catching the crawfish where the crawfish lived in the creek. They put the crawfish in the bottom of a bucket where it wigged and kicked and scratched around on the bottom.

Said Uncle Bunkum: "We'll take it home to keep at the monkey house all night." They carried the want one in the monkey house—maybe pinching people. The monkey house was never meant to be a crawfish house.

Many mothers feel that way. I mean they don't want crawfish in the house, or bugs and other things like that. If your mother feels that way about it, remember there's nothing you can do except to keep them out. Happy day!

BACK FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Robertson, 111 West Florida Street, have returned from a vacation trip to points in New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah.

GRANDCHILDREN ARE GUESTS

Sandra Sue and Don Spain of Hobbs, N. M., returned home Sunday after spending several days with their grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Rice, 1204 South Baird Street.

Twenty centuries ago, Eratosthenes, Greek astronomer, calculated the earth's circumference as about 24,900 miles. It actually measures 24,899 miles.

Mother Ringtail sang a little song to herself while she cooked, but suddenly she heard a noise. The noise was a scratching and scratching across the floor. And there was the crawfish out of the bucket. It was sitting back on its tail, while out in front of him he was holding a pincher this way and a pincher that way—waiting to pinch anyone he could.

Mother Ringtail almost dropped the plate of scrambled coconut cookies. She was frightened, you see, because she hadn't known that a crawfish was anywhere nearer than the creek. Certainly she didn't

Hunting Expedition Nets Unusual Game

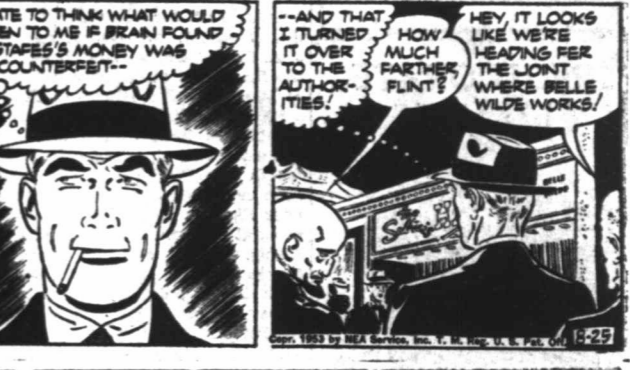

VANCOUVER, CANADA—(P)—A hunting expedition returned to Vancouver with an unusual catch—14 tons of sea lion meat. The five-man expedition left this port a month previously aboard the former minesweeper for a hunting trip along the storm-battered reefs off the coast.

Bill Dave, mink rancher led the party. The meat will be ground up into mink feed.

It is believed the gypsies came, not from Egypt as their name indicates, but from India, since their language, Romany, is Indo-Iranian.
