Skelly Completes San Andres Opener In Yoakum Sector

Skelly Oil Company reported potential test on a flowing San Andres discovery in Central-West Yoakum County.

The new field opener is No. 1 Alton Webb. Operator reported a calculated 24-hour potential of 349 barrels of 33.8-gravity oil, plus five barrels of formation water.

The potential was based on an actual 18-hour flow of 184.44 barrels of oil through a 24 64-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 977-1. Pay had been acidized.

Location is 330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 475, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

This project was drilled to 11,800 feet in barren Devonian.

The new field opener is four miles southwest of the town of Plains and one and three-quarters miles south of the Branahay (San Andres) field.

Small Discovery In Sight At Test In NE Lynn Area

Sunland Oil Corporation of Fort Worth and associates No. 1 M. M. Bruster, Northeast Lynn County wildcat, was bottomed at 3,788 feet in Permian dolomite with pumping equipment being installed.

This prospector indicated as a possible small discovery from the section at 3,783-3,770 feet. The interval had been swabbed at the rate of two barrels of fluid per hour, 50 per cent oil and 50 per cent sand and acid water.

Five and one-half-inch casing is cemented at 3,775 feet.

Location is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 1274, block 8, ELARRR survey, J. R. Bowles Survey, and two miles southwest of Southland.

San Andrews Flow Found In Cochran

San Andres production has been developed at Leland Pikes and others No. 1 Lloyd Evans and others, located in Central-West Cochran County, four miles south of the Bledsoe (San Andres) field.

The project was flowing at the rate of 10 to 11 barrels of oil hourly through choke of unreported size and from open hole section at 4,820-4,926 feet, plugged back total depth.

The pay section was acidized with 7,000 gallons. Testing continued with the well making considerable gas. Total depth is 4,926 feet.

Location is 860 feet from north and west lines of section 15, block Y, pal survey and four miles south of the town of Bledsoe.

San Andres Wildcat Set For SE Terry

Signal Oil & Gas Company and W. C. Murphy Drilling Company, both of Midland, are to start operations at once on their No. 1 A. J. Akers, a slated 5,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Terry County.

The prospector will be 12 miles southeast of Brownfield and 660 feet from west and 700 feet from south lines of section 10, block M, TT survey, (D. H. McNairy).

The projected destination of 5,500 feet is calculated to take the project into the San Andres-Permian lime.

Borden Project Is Taking Test

The Double "U" Oil Company No. 1-A G. E. Spindler, Northeast Borden County wildcat, two and three-quarters miles south of the Flu-vanna (Mississippi) field, topped the Mississippi at 8,206 feet on a datum of minus 5,524 feet.

The project deepened to 8,240 feet in lime and is now taking a drillstem test on the section at 8,200-40 feet. Samples from the zone covered by the test did not show any signs of oil or gas.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,650 feet from east lines of section 464, block 97, H&TC survey.

So far this prospector has not had any possibilities of making a producer.

Howard Prospect To Test S-D Zone

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1-A Tom Spencer, Central-North Howard County wildcat is to plug back to about 9,980 feet and test the section between 9,850-9,981 feet which recovered 2,490 feet of clean oil, 1,000 feet of water blanket which was cut with oil and gas and 180 feet of drilling mud.

U. S.-Backed Program Gets UN Approval

UNITED NATIONS—(AP)—The UN General Assembly gave an overwhelming endorsement Friday to an American-backed plan for the Korean peace conference despite vigorous Russian opposition.

The plan provides that only countries who fought under the UN banner should represent the world organization at the parley.

The vote was 43-5. The Soviet bloc cast the negative vote. India did not participate.

India averted a certain defeat by withdrawing as a possible participant just before the voting.

With United States backing, the Assembly recommended that Russia could take part in the conference "provided the other side desires it." This means that, if Russia goes, she will have to sit on the Communist side with Red China and North Korea.

South Korea will sit with the UN delegation.

The action concluded the work of the special Assembly meeting which opened two weeks ago to choose UN representatives at the peace conference.

India Withdraws
The Assembly directed the United States to arrange the time and place of the conference after consultation with both sides. The meeting must be held by October 28, under armistice terms.

Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon, in announcing India's withdrawal, referred to the strong opposition by the United States and the Latin American bloc in the Political Committee and said:

"I think the purposes of peace are best reached by not forcing the resolution on India in this Assembly."

His move drew applause from U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and other opponents of India. Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky sat still.

"Generous, Statesmanlike"
Lodge welcomed Menon's move as the gesture of a "great representative of a great leader of a great nation." He said the decision of India was "generous and statesmanlike."

Under the plan approved Friday, the Korean peace conference will include:

1. The 16 UN members which supplied troops under the UN banner—the United States, Britain, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Colombia, Ethiopia, France, Greece, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, New Zealand, The Philippines, the Union of South Africa, Turkey and Thailand.
2. South Korea.
3. By implication, the Communist belligerents—North Korea and Communist China.
4. The Soviet Union, "provided the other (Communist) side desires it."

12 Counties Lose Drouth Feed Status

FORT WORTH—(AP)—A reshuffling of Texas counties eligible for federal drouth relief started Friday. The State Drouth Disaster Relief Committee, meeting at College Station, ordered a halt on taking applications in the 12 Texas counties included in the program August 18.

The Tarrant County Drouth Relief Committee, meeting Friday to pass on the applications for cheap feed received since Monday, found their work brought to a sudden stop.

McCan Asks Halt
A telegram from State Drouth Committee Chairman Claude McCan of Victoria told the committee to take no more applications.

The telegram said no applications would be approved from Tarrant or the other 11 counties included in the August 18 list.

"Due to improved pasture and moisture conditions . . . the state committee will not authorize shipment of foods to any of those 12 counties," the telegram stated.

A possibility is that other counties will be removed from the program as showers continued to fall over the state and conditions in many counties were reported greatly improved.

The 12 counties in the Friday action are Tarrant, Johnson, Cooke, Denton, Bosque, Aransas, Bee, Comal, Coryell, Karnes, San Patricio and Wilson.

FINAL FROLIC TOO PROLONGED

TOKYO—(AP)—Five returned American war prisoners were to fly home Friday night—but only four took off.

The fifth one?
"Well," explained the Air Force, "this guy got a pass today and went AWOL."

The other four included Sgt. John Rhoton of Roby, Texas.

Downpour At Corpus Christi Floods Homes In Some Areas

By The Associated Press
Floodwaters swept through low areas of Corpus Christi Friday after a downpour that dumped more than four inches on some parts of the coastal city since midnight.

Streets in low areas were blocked and police reported a number of houses with the muddy water seeping into their first floors.

The torrential rain continued a pattern of downpours that has hit South Texas the last five days.

The Corpus Christi Weather Bureau warned that flooding conditions could be expected to continue Friday night in Kingsville, 40 miles southwest of Corpus Christi, and in Fairburn, 30 miles southwest of Kingsville. No further flooding was expected in San Diego and Alice, due west of Corpus Christi, unless heavy rains resumed.

At Roma, almost 300 miles southwest of Corpus Christi, the normally placid Rio Grande rose 12 feet in seven hours and still was rising as runoff from Mexican rains surged downriver to the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Rain measurements in Corpus Christi at 8 a.m. Friday showed 4.81 inches since midnight at Cabannis Field just outside the city limits; 3.4 at the official weather station, and 2.34 in the downtown section.

The Central Power and Light Company reported 4.9 inches at Premont, in Southern Jim Wells County, during the night. Fairburn total 4.72 overnight, for a total of 7.92 in the last 10 days.

Weather Bureau totals for the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a.m. Friday also showed .79 inch at Austin, Laredo with .67, Brownsville .36, Fort Worth .13, Cotulla .17, San Antonio and Waco .02, Palacios .01. Showers also fell in Houston, Beaumont, Del Rio, Galveston, Lufkin, and College Station.

Near mid-morning Friday, rain was reported falling in San Antonio, Alice, Palacios and Brownsville. The water entered about 150 homes in Bishop.

Alice, Bishop and Kingsville were hit by flooding streams Thursday. The water entered about 150 homes in Bishop.

"AFTER ALL, HE ISN'T A FISH"
CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—An unidentified man Friday demanded that police require buses to move through flood areas more slowly. He complained that every time a city bus went down his street, waves from the bus put six inches of water in his front room.

The request was relayed by police to the bus company by radio.

Owners Of Property Needed For U. S. 80 Receive County Bids
The first offers to purchase right-of-way needed for the widening of U. S. Highway 80 east of the city were mailed Friday by Midland County.

County Judge Clifford C. Keith said the offers were based on appraisals submitted earlier in the week by Cecil Boies, appraiser for the county.

"Five letters went out this morning," said the judge, "and others will be mailed out within the next few days."

Approximately 25 property owners are involved in the land needed to widen Highway 80 into a four-lane divided roadway from Midland to the Martin County line.

Three Persons Hurt, One Seriously, When Cars Hit At Terminal
Three persons were injured early Friday when two automobiles collided on U. S. Highway 80 at the entrance to Midland Air Terminal.

Most seriously injured was Joe L. Carey, 28, 3225 Delano Street, a geologist for the Midstates Oil Corporation. He is in Midland Memorial hospital with head injuries and body lacerations.

Treated at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa and released were Burton Clifton Deason, 19, of Odessa, and Burrell Harrell, 18, of Terrell.

State Highway Patrolman Herbert Hale said both cars were headed east when the vehicle driven by Deason attempted to turn left into the Terminal entrance. Carey, alone in his car, was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting the other vehicle.

Midlanders Depart For Legion Meeting
Three Midlanders were scheduled to leave Friday for St. Louis, Mo., to attend the national convention of the American Legion.

Heading the group are Ben Gay, commander of the Woods W. Lynch Post here, and Red Steele, delegates to the convention from the 16th District of Texas.

Also going is Mrs. Gay, president of the Legion Auxiliary in Midland.

Telephone Strike Drags On As Company Parley Stalls, Dallas Chief Backs Water
Midland's 200 telephone workers stayed off their jobs the ninth straight day Friday as union-company talks sagged in St. Louis and a Dallas union official backed down from his "beat hell" exhortation.

Negotiations, however, continued between striking CIO Communication Workers of America, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and federal conciliators.

At the same time, Midland union chiefs announced plans for a mass meeting at 3 p.m. Saturday in the county courtroom here.

Purpose of the meeting, said Don Connally, Local 6127 steward, is "to let people know what's going on, to see how we're standing and if everybody's getting along all right." Similar meetings will be held in other Midland area cities. The meetings will be open to the public.

The strike began August 20, when operators, clerks, installers and repairmen walked out in six states and three pickets around Bell exchanges. In all, 53,000 workers were affected, 23,099 in Texas.

Union and company negotiators were deadlocked Thursday, and after a three-hour meeting, Federal Conciliator A. E. Johnson said, "The status is unchanged." One of the federal mediators had said the "situation is not too hopeful."

All agreed it looked like a long strike.

Thursday's meeting was the first company-union meeting since Monday, when a deadlock developed over a company-proposed clause which the union termed a "no-strike" provision and "yellow dog" clause.

In Dallas, T. E. Webb, Texas CWA-CIO director, asserted the policy of the union was to conduct strikes "in an orderly and peaceful manner without resorting to any violence whatsoever . . ."

G. E. Terry, a local president, had admonished Dallas union members previously to "beat hell" out of workers who crossed picket lines if they annoyed or approached pickets in any way.

Terry said later: "Under no conditions did I mean to imply that violence be undertaken—on the picket line or outside the picket line."

In Vernon, two union members were arraigned on charges of simple assault after a reported attack on a Bell employee there Monday.

Frank Field, one of the union members, pleaded guilty and paid $37.25 in fine and costs. John Nichols, Jr., entered no plea and was freed on a $300 bond.

Field and Nichols were accused of threatening David Cook, an installer and repairman, in an alley behind the Vernon exchange.

Cook, who did not work the next day, told police two men ripped his shirt, threw his tools away, and threatened him.

Wichita Falls members of CWA voted Thursday to picket homes of phone people who worked.

Freed POW Tells Of New Development

PANMUNJOM—(AP)—A returned U. S. prisoner said Friday the Communists told his camp they would return all captives, including those he asserted were convicted of "germ warfare" or other "crimes" which carried sentences of "no repatriation."

The report came as the Communists turned back 144 more Americans, who told of continuing brutality and torture behind closed doors right up to the armistice.

Lt. Roy Boyd of Winnetka, Ill., said the Chinese commander at his camp told prisoners a few days ago the Reds would return all prisoners, adding that this "includes criminals and men convicted of germ warfare."

Previous reports said men sentenced to jail terms extending beyond the armistice for "crimes" were coming back, but the fate of officers and men convicted of "germ warfare" was in doubt.

Peiping has asserted that under terms of the Geneva Convention for treatment of war prisoners, the Communists had a right to withhold from immediate repatriation men convicted of "crimes." The United Nations said the armistice agreement calls for the return of all willing prisoners.

Long-Termers On Way
Boyd said he knew of 20 to 25 men now at nearby Keesong, where prisoners are assembled for exchange, whose sentences ran as high as 15 years.

"Everything indicates they will be repatriated," he said.

Among those returned Friday were Americans captured early in the war. Some said they had been beaten and tortured almost until the truce, July 27.

The Communists also turned over four British, two South African.

Texan Takes Life On Busy Highway 80

A middle-aged Dallas insurance adjuster apparently committed suicide Thursday in plain view of hundreds of motorists traveling busy U. S. Highway 80 one mile east of Barstow.

The man was identified by state patrolmen as James Bogle, about 45 years old, of Dallas.

His lifeless body was found inside the automobile, parked along the side of the highway, about 1:30 p.m. by Patrolmen Herbert Hale and Bud Newberry.

"We saw the car there about 8 o'clock yesterday morning," reported Hale, "and figured the driver was just taking a nap."

"When we saw the car still there about 1:30, we stopped to investigate."

A garden hose had been taped neatly to the exhaust and inserted through a rear ventilating window into the tightly closed vehicle.

The motor still was running in the 1952 model automobile. Officers said the man apparently had been dead five hours.

Cotton Auction Set Wednesday

Midland County's first bale of 1953 cotton will be auctioned at 10 a.m. Wednesday on the south side of the courthouse here.

The bale was produced by E. L. Smith on a dry-land tract east of Greenwood.

Smith picked 1,800 pounds of cotton from 40 acres to make the 380-pound bale, ginned last week at the Midland Co-Operative Marketing Association Gin.

In the auction, the bidder will pay only the difference in his bid and the previous bid. For example: The bale weighs 380 pounds and a bid of 50 cents a pound is made. Next bidder raises the bid to 52 cents and pays $7.60.

Gas Plant Worker Injured Seriously
RANKIN—Condition of John Valdez, 45, of Rankin, who suffered chest and other internal injuries Thursday at the Phillips Petroleum Company Pembroke plant four miles south of Hadacol, was described as serious Friday by hospital attendants here.

Valdez was pinned between a truck and small building while pouring concrete. A septic tank caused in beneath the heavy truck, causing the accident.

A Newm W. Ellis ambulance from Midland brought Valdez to the Rankin hospital.

Family To Welcome POW From Midland At San Francisco

Sgt. Lee E. Merworth, 23, Midland soldier who is arriving in San Francisco Saturday after being held prisoner by the Communists for 21 months in North Korea, will be greeted at the dock by members of his family.

His father, H. H. Merworth, 2102 West New Jersey Street, a brother, Owen, and a brother-in-law, G. L. Burnet of Midland, left here by automobile Tuesday for San Francisco. Plans call for the four to drive back home as soon as the soldier can be processed.

Sergeant Merworth is due to arrive Saturday aboard the troopship General Haas. Cpl. Billie Jones of Kermit, another released POW, will be on the same ship.

The Merworth family was jubilant upon receiving a Department of Defense telegram Tuesday telling of the soldier's arrival.

A barbecue and family reunion has been planned for Lee's arrival in Midland.

"There won't be anything fancy," the family said, "we just want him home so we can see him."

A brother, Roy L. Merworth of Midland, said "I think I've lost a little weight waiting for Lee to come home. I sure do want to see him again."

Barring complications, the family figures that Lee and his father should be driving into Midland sometime Wednesday or Thursday.

Dads Ordered—Sons Obeyed In The Field

Anytime someone starts telling you sons of America "brass hats" have it easy while serving with the armed forces have them look at the record for Korea alone. On the list of honor they'll find, among others: General Van Fleet's son, James, Jr., a bomber pilot, who has long been listed missing on a raid over North Korea. Selective Service Director Gen. Lewis B. Hershey's son, Gilbert, a Marine, landed at Inchon, fought at the Chosin Reservoir, and was severely wounded on his second tour of duty. Truce Negotiator Vice Adm. Turner Joy's son, David, an Army lieutenant, served in the front lines of Korea. Adm. John Carson's son, Ralph, a Marine lieutenant, was awarded the Navy Cross, posthumously, for gallantry at the Pusan perimeter. Maj. John Eisenhower is on his second tour in Korea. Allen Dulles, Jr., a Marine observer, son of Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency and a nephew of the secretary of State, won the Navy Cross and Purple Heart. The record shows that they, like other Americans, are ready to serve whenever called to duty.

The Men:
Pass the make-up kit marked "Super-Gruesome."
Vincent Price, of the big moviegoers on the "House of Wax" that they've had since Lon Chaney took off his mask in the first "Phantom of the Opera," has decided to help himself to more hair-lips, blood-shot eyes and decayed nostrils.
Price wasn't sure that he wanted to do another horror picture, but he's signed to play the lead in Bryan Foy's new 3-D chiller, "The Mad Magician."
"Horror pictures are wonderful and fun, but I don't think I run the risk of being typed as a monster," Price shrugs. "The day when Boris Karloff could save Universal with one scare movie is over. This is the era when you can't do too many pictures of one type."
But Price is sure of one thing. "If 'House of Wax' had come at the beginning of my career, I'd have been stuck in horror pictures all my life. As it is, I've established myself in comedy and that's all that saves me."

Let the amateur casting director holler — Humphrey Bogart isn't losing any sleep over complaints that he's not the spitting physical image of the Captain Queeg described by Author Herman Wouk in his best seller, "The Caine Mutiny."
Bogey's got some unprintable words to hurl at anybody who objects.
"I don't care what Queeg looked like or what people think he looked like," Bogart growled. "I don't give a hoot what anybody thinks, whether I'm right for the part or whether I look like Queeg."
"I suppose people had opinions about 'Gone With the Wind,' too. But you don't hear anybody today saying that Vivien Leigh was wrong for it."

Comedy has taken a box-office beating of late, but Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, the behind-the-scenes gents behind the new Danny Kaye film, "Knock on Wood," are knocking on elm, birch and pine and they will break the jinx.
"They turned out 'The Road to Utopia,' 'Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House,' and 'Callaway Went Thataway,' but those laugh hits, as Panama explains, "came before this comedy slump."

14 Texans Return To Freedom Friday

By The Associated Press
Fourteen more Texans were freed Friday in the Korea war prisoner exchange.

As the 14 came grinning and shouting back to freedom in Korea, others released previously were arriving home.

One joyous reunion occurred Thursday night in Dallas. Mrs. Ola Esters had met every train from San Antonio for two days in hopes of greeting her son, Pfc. Mitchell Conway. He was among the first Texans freed and came to Dallas from the San Antonio processing center.

"There he is!" she shouted. "Oh! I see him—I see him!" Conway, his big grin making a missing tooth doubly conspicuous, stepped down from a bus, collided with his mother, grabbed her up, and gave her a very big hug.

The 14 Texans released Friday brought to 154 the number exchanged.

They included Pfc. Reuben Kimball, Jr., of Baytown, who went absent without leave early in the war because he wanted to fight. Kimball is the son of Reuben Kimball, Sr., of Baytown.

Kimball was refused permission to join front-line fighting in Korea in July of 1950. So he picked up a pair of 45's, a couple of buddies and took off for the front. He was captured a few days later.

Others newly released were Sgt. Gilberto Nava, Houston; Cpl. Donald Short, Pattonville; Cpl. Frank Durant, Alpine; Cpl. Ramon Martinez, Crystal City; Cpl. Lupe Rodriguez, San Antonio; Sgt. Ricardo Cortez, Brownsville; Cpl. Andrew Mendoza, Westmore; Lt. Billy Po-shnee, San Antonio; Sgt. Carol McEntire, Hughes Springs; Lt. Ernest Reid, Irving, and Sgt. Roy Jenkins, Dallas.

First Bezar Casualty
San Antonio's first casualty of the Korean war, Sgt. George Longoria, 25, reported missing in action in July of 1950, was among those newly released.

News of the release of another San Antonian, Cpl. Jose Hinojosa, 23, sent his sister, Rose, 22, into hysterics. She was put under a doctor's care. The young woman was recuperating from an appendectomy.

The Defense Department had said news Thursday for the parents of one Texan captured in Korea. Sgt. Thomas Crayton, husband of Mrs. Fannie Crayton of Austin, was identified by the Communists as having died in a Korean prison camp.

Knowland To Seek Aid Program Review

TOKYO —(P)—Senator William F. Knowland, majority leader of the U. S. Senate, said Friday Japan should return... warned there must "be no Far Eastern Munich"... and asserted he will ask Congress to review the entire military aid program "based on results and not on talk."

"I will support further assistance only to those nations who by action and by purpose have demonstrated they want to work as a team in effective defense of their people against Communist tyranny and Soviet imperialism," the California Republican said.

Knowland issued a statement on returning from a visit to Hokkaido, the Japanese island nearest to Russian-occupied positions of Sakhalin and in the Kuriles.

Knowland flew Friday to Pusan, Korea, to begin a week-long study of Korea and to confer with President Syngman Rhee. He was met by South Korea's prime minister, the U. S. ambassador to Korea and other officials.

Crewmen Escape Unhurt As Bomber Plows Into Plains

ROSWELL, N. M. —(P)—Eleven airmen escaped unhurt Thursday night when their four-engined B-50 bomber landed wheels up on gently rolling plains 335 miles southwest of Tatum in Southeast New Mexico.

The plane, of the 97th Bomb Wing at Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, and piloted by Lt. Chester Walter, was on a training flight.

Walter said two engines went bad and he could not maintain altitude. He was helped on the emergency landing by bright moonlight.

The crash was reported to Walker AFB at Roswell by a crew member who talked about two miles to a phone in a country store. The crew returned from Walker to Biggs Field Friday.

Communist Chiefs 'Cooknap' Culinary Expert All The Way

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
BELGRADE —(P)—For king or Communist, there's no substitute for a good cook. And even in Redland, rank has its privileges.

Man's mind may be affected by a political ideology. His stomach usually remains impersonal.

That's why here, even in Communist Yugoslavia, the age-old practice of servant snatching still operates with no holds barred.

Recently Vice President Edward Kardelj, in charge of foreign affairs, dropped in for dinner at a restaurant frequented by Yugoslav bigwigs.

The meal was excellent, the cooking superb, the sauce divine. Kardelj called for the cook, a young woman of German ancestry who had learned her spices in various Balkan countries.

A shade short of the usual diplomatic approach, Kardelj pulled his rank. "You will work for me," he said.

The cook demurred. She had a boy friend in the neighborhood, and a contract with the enterprise operating the restaurant.

"It will be arranged," said Kardelj. It was. A van arrived a few days later to collect the cook and her luggage. She was ensconced in Kardelj's kitchen. All was well and Kardelj, as well as well fed, Well fed for a few months, that is.

Then the cuisine-proud foreign minister invited Marshall Tito and Tito's third wife, Jovanka, to dinner.

The meal was fit for a king—or a Communist ruler. Kardelj beamed, but not for long. The cook now works in Tito's kitchen.

End Of Political Era

The late Edward J. Flynn, long-time boss of the Bronx Democratic machine in New York, was one of the last of a vanishing breed.

Flynn rose to real power in the national Democratic Party, and served for a time as national chairman under President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was perhaps a prototype for the old-style boss.

At his zenith, Flynn was a genuine kingmaker. In company with two of his fellows, Boss Frank Hague of Jersey City and the late Boss Ed Kelly of Chicago, he engineered the nomination for vice president of Senator Harry S. Truman at the 1944 Democratic convention.

But, as time went on, Flynn's power slowly crumbled, as did Hague's and Kelly's. The sources of his great political strength began to dry up.

At base, that strength was founded on a simple formula: The big city machine took care of its voting constituents when they got into trouble of any kind whatsoever. The organization supplied food to the needy, got Emma a nice bed in the county hospital, sprung Johnny when he stole a car for a lark.

In return for these services—available 365 days out of the year—the politicians asked only one favor. They asked that citizens express their gratitude by voting as requested on election day.

Seldom did the grateful constituents let them down. And here lay the machine's open secret, the source of miraculous majorities like 400 to two in precinct after precinct.

Most of these machines happened to be Democratic. It was a strange twist of irony, therefore, that the very success of the Democratic Party from 1932 to 1952 contributed heavily to sapping the machines' fundamental strength.

The Democrats put welfare legislation on the books—social security, unemployment compensation, new credit arrangements, and the like. Jobs eventually became more plentiful, though you always can get an argument on the question how much the Democrats had to do with that.

For a long time, out of habit, a sense of loyalty, a desire to reward "party" in the larger meaning, the city constituents went on voting as before.

But gradually the pattern changed. A lot of the voters were fairly well off, and many grew conservative in mood. Some moved out to the suburbs. Loyalties shifted. New problems developed that were too big for the old machine to handle.

Strong organizations often remained, but they seldom could deliver the staggering, automatic majorities of old. In 1952, many of them from coast to coast took a brutal licking at the polls.

With the passing of the Ed Flynn's, a wild, gaudy political era, not wholly respectable but always exciting, is slowly slipping into history.

Message To Malenkov

The remarkable resiliency of the American economy has been shown once again. Through the Korean war, as through World War II, we produced both "guns and butter," although many gloomy forecasters said each time it could not be done.

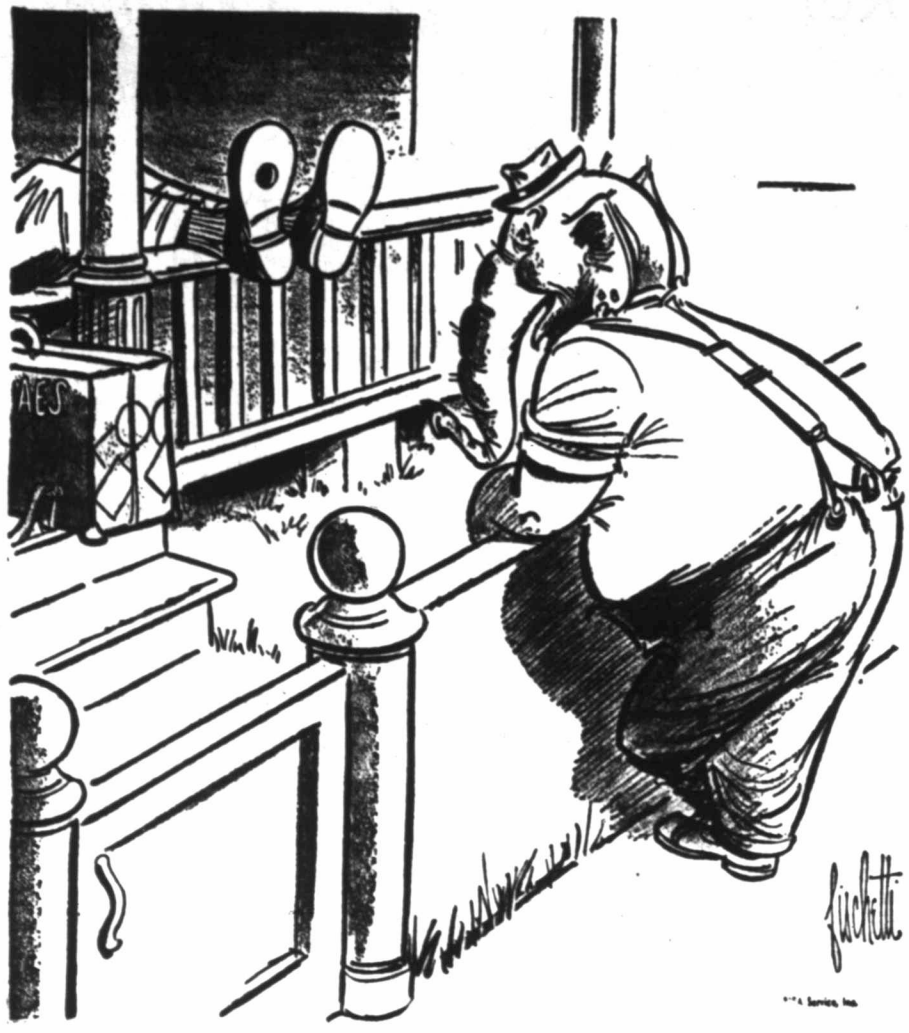

In the year ended June 30, 1950, five days after the Korean war broke out, this country spent $12,000,000,000 on arms. In the year that closed this June 30, our armament outlays totaled $44,000,000,000. Yet this heavy investment in defense did not come out of our civilian hides.

For the total gross national product—the sum of all the goods and services produced in the country—climbed from $286,000,000,000 in calendar 1950 to a rate of $363,000,000,000 this June. Obviously the full story for 1953 is not told. A "rate" is not a year's performance; the pace may not be maintained. But all signs point to a production record not far off that indication.

In 1950, as in World War II, we feared raw-material shortages. But they did not seriously materialize. We have unearthed new supplies of iron and copper, albeit largely on foreign soil. We also have developed new techniques for making better use of the leaner, lower-grade stores still left at home.

Moreover, we have boosted capacity in many basic industries like steel, aluminum, machine tools, oil refining, electric power. Most of these industries today can put out far more than ever before in our history, not excluding World War II.

"Well, Well—Look Who's Back!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: H-Bomb defense plans speed up; Pentagon limits officer lunch hours; Draft status of McCarthy aide to be reexamined.

WASHINGTON—Now that Russia has the terrible H-bomb, civil defense authorities are rushing plans to evacuate every major city in the United States at the first warning of an air attack. For the stark truth is that Soviet bombers, streaking low over our radar at night, cannot be stopped.

While it's been decided to evacuate major cities, a lot of other problems remain unsolved and undecided. One of the biggest problems is how to get the advance warning in time to organize a mass evacuation. Even on short notice, however, civil defense experts still think the best solution is to alert the population to flee out of town as fast as possible.

Boom shelters can be built to withstand the force of an atomic blast, but the scorching, searing devastation of a hydrogen explosion can reduce a city the size of New York to charcoal in one blow. As a result, civil defense authorities have decided it is no use to build shelters, more practical to concentrate on mass-evacuation plans.

In fact, civil defense already has tangled with the military behind the scenes over what to do with the people once they are evacuated. Civil defense planners prefer to let each individual work out his own problem, and drift back into town at his leisure after the danger is over.

Military leaders want to organize the construction and factory workers, however, so they can be whisked back into town at once to rebuild the blitzed factories or to resume production without delay if the town is spared.

Surprise Raids Are Easy Meanwhile, it is our air raid warning net that has civil defense officials worried. The Air Force has built an invisible wall of radar across the Canadian border and down both coasts. Each major city also is ringed with radar and anti-aircraft guns. Only gaps are along our Southern frontier, which is relatively safe from Russian long-range bombers.

However, it's revealing no secret that Soviet bombers, flying low at night, could escape detection until right on top of the radar screen. Only then would our radar-guided night fighters start seeking them out and attacking them one at a time. While this grim game of hide-and-seek was going on, the majority of the bombers would be certain to get through to New York, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Washington—particularly if they crashed the radar wall at scattered points.

Of course, Air Force scientists are working feverishly in secret Boston laboratories to find a foolproof air raid warning system. They have invented one device, which should give the United States several hours advance notice of any suspicious flights over one route enemy bombers might take to the United States—provided the new device works. However, scientists fear that electronics equipment can be depended upon only half the time in certain climates.

No Attack Seen As for the likelihood of a Soviet H-bomb attack, our experts are convinced the Russians have not yet consolidated the H-bomb ingredients into an actual bomb, although this is just a matter of time. Our own scientists have built a bomb, which is so large it barely can be squeezed into the bomb bay of our biggest planes. However, it will be difficult to drop the bomb without destroying the plane that carries it.

Russia's long-range bomber, the TU-4, can be modified to carry an H-bomb in time. Meanwhile, the Russians could convert submarines into makeshift H-bombs that could be exploded along our coast, spreading radioactive spray that would kill all life for miles inland.

The Navy has posted picket ships, equipped with sensitive sonar devices, along the coast to listen for marauding submarines. However, even the Navy acknowledges that this sonar barrier is not foolproof. Until a better warning net is invented, the Air Force argues that the best defense against a Russian H-attack is the power to retaliate. Only the Air Force has the means to deliver A-bombs and H-bombs to the Russian heartland. Just as Russian planes can penetrate our defenses, Air Force planes can get through the Russian defenses by saturation raids—namely, hitting Russia from several sides at once.

Yet it was the Air Force, our first line of defense, that took the entire $5 billion defense cut. Note—The Russian H-bomb explosion has jarred Secretary of Defense Wilson and Deputy Secretary Kysie into thinking they may have made a mistake cutting the Air Force so drastically.

No Pentagon AWOL'S Top brass around the Pentagon are having trouble these days getting the afternoon off. With such efficiency experts as Charlie Wilson and his assistant, Roger Kyes, in the driver's seat, even high ranking officers have to watch their working hours.

Last week at a luncheon of the seventh annual convention of the Air Force Association, Toastmaster Jimmy Doolittle rose after Roger M. Kyes had given the main address and exceptional service awards had been presented to three top aircraft designers and builders: Donald Douglas, James Kindelberger, Frederick Rencher.

"In conclusion," said Doolittle, "I have been asked to announce that there is a bus waiting at the Sixteenth Street entrance to take officers back to the Pentagon." McCarthy's Aide The draft board is taking another look at Senator McCarthy's playboy sleuth, David Schine, who was made manager of his father's hotel chain at the tender age of 23 so he would be "essential" to the business.

Schine finally registered with a Los Angeles draft board, although his home is in New York, and was called up for a physical in October, 1951. He arranged to take the physical in New York, but was pronounced 4-F partly because of a "schizoid personality." This is described in the dictionary as "disintegration of personality."

Yet young Schine, as McCarthy's chief consultant, has been sitting in judgment upon his fellow Americans. The draft board now is sitting in judgment upon him again, re-examining his military status.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service When the opponents announce that they intend to make a sacrifice bid, you are foolish to let them have a bargain. Since they are handing you a blank check, it is up to you to fill in a nice large amount.

In today's hand the first round of bidding was very informative. East could tell that his partner had heart support and some side strength for the tree raise. It was quite possible, perhaps even probable, that West had a singleton spade since the opponents had bid that suit so vigorously.

It was also probable that West had the ace of clubs and some way of taking care of East's losing diamonds. As it happened, however, East didn't worry himself about possibilities or probabilities. He knew that he wouldn't have to play the hand at six hearts. North had already announced his intention of sacrificing in spades against any high heart bid. The vulnerability being what it was, it was practically impossible for North to change his mind if East promptly bid a small slam.

East therefore jumped to six hearts with great assurance and speed. South passed miserably, suspecting that he might have two spade tricks, but not daring to take any action. North had no defense against a vulnerable slam, and therefore carried on by making the sacrifice bid he had already promised to make.

East was quite happy to double six spades. He hadn't been sure of six hearts anyway (and wouldn't have made it, of course), but he could be sure of scoring a nice profit against six spades.

The play showed East to be quite correct. East won the first trick with the queen of hearts, cashed the king of hearts, and then switched to the king of diamonds. He next took the king of clubs, followed with the ace of diamonds, and then carefully led a third diamond. West naturally ruffed, forcing dummy to overruff. Now South had to lose a second club trick, for a penalty of 1,100 points.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been: East South West North 1 Diamond Pass 1 NT. 2 Spades Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades Q-6-3-2, Hearts K-J-4-2, Diamonds none, Clubs A-J-5-3-2. What do you do? A—Bid three diamonds. This is clearly a cue bid, since you would not dream of showing a real diamond suit at this stage of the bidding.

Your intention is to show control of the diamond suit, strong support for spades, and a mild hope that the combined hands can produce a slam.

Beside the Laughing Water

A Romance by LOUIS ARTHUR CUNNINGHAM Copyright 1953 by NEA SERVICE, Inc.

XXXV THEY wanted to wait for Garret Kane, but he would have none of it. "I won't be long," he promised. Anyway, I think we're all so happy tonight—you at your girl's success and I at the end of my long journey—I to show prize with a little loss of sleep. I'm so happy to meet old friends! You Lesley—I always think of you as that little redhead with the big blue eyes who lifted me out of my chair at the Empire, and you, Gavin—sure shall have quite an old-time get-together tonight, I promise you." And he hurried away.

Peg joined them, rid of the make-up, looking fresh and radiant in a pale blue evening gown. She suggested her mother, kissed Lilith and Gavin and Archer Fenn.

"Well, darling, you've done it." Avis did not try to hide the pride she felt. No easy wide-cracking dismissal of Peg's triumph. "I haven't been so proud of you since your picture won the prize in the baby contest. We had to buy so many of them though. Mr. Kane was very pleased with the show and with you. In fact, he thinks you're wonderful. I gave him a kiss."

"Oh, mother!" "I think he's wonderful and had been dreaming of marrying him. Now I find he's married. He's bringing his wife along to our house. And we had better get there will be no one there to greet them."

"It was lovely, Peg," Lilith set next to her in Gavin's car, while Avis rode home with Archer. "I loved every bit of it." She had watched a good part of it from the back row in the audience with Avis and Gavin and Archer Fenn. "You were riding high on the wave, I could tell from the start, and I didn't have to worry about you. Also, you quite outshone me and avenged yourself for what you thought I did to you when I played the part last week." "I wasn't trying to. You don't really think I was, do you?" "Not really." "I knew I had to—had to go down pretty deep into myself if I wasn't going to falter and stammer and blow my lines and disgrace the whole school and you and all of us. I did what you told me. I just forgot about everything but Diana and it was the queerest thing—so queer it still frightens me—I was Diana. Everything I did seemed to be her doing; it was her words I spoke and even her thoughts that came to me."

"I know, it's what you call 'giving a part' and it's not in the power of many to lose themselves like that." Gavin laughed: "You need a cherry-phosphate with an added dash of syrup." "Who is Mr. Kane's wife?" Peg ignored him. "No one mentioned that he had one. She wasn't at any of the plays." "She just flew down from Montreal tonight," said Lilith. "I don't know who she is." "Probably one of the witches from Macbeth," contributed Gavin. "There was no plane from Montreal this evening that I know of—she must have come in on a broom."

THERE was a good fire burning on the hearth and lights were soft. "I wonder," Gavin said, taking the Scotch that Avis brought him and winking at Peg's tall gingerale, "what the Slander is going to dish out to us. I defy any of you to hazard a guess about his wife that will come within leagues of being near the reality. What do you say, Avis?" "A blonde, of course. All hard-boiled, cave men fall for blondes. Look at Samson, look at Humphrey Bogart." "A redhead, I'd say, since she

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Reopened Davies Case Tests Security Program

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The case of John Patton Davies, Jr., U. S. foreign service career officer, now is being run through the State Department's security wringer for the third time.

On the first two rounds, in July, 1951, and November, 1952, Davies was cleared of any suspicion of disloyalty. The re-evaluation of his case is being made now in compliance with President Eisenhower's executive order of last April. It called for the review of all cases of government employees who had been cleared under the old "loyalty" procedure of the Truman Administration.

Because of the prominence of John Davies, the success of his new Eisenhower security program may be judged largely on how it handles his case. Actually, Davies is only one of some 500 present State Department employees who had been given previous loyalty clearances, but whose records now are being reviewed.

Davies, 45, has been one of the more controversial figures in the State Department for almost 10 years. He was born in China of American Baptist missionary parents. On his graduation from Columbia in 1931, he went right into State Department foreign service and has risen in the ranks to his present position as counselor of embassy at Lima, Peru.

Previously, he had been political affairs officer for High Commissioner John J. McCloy in Germany, first secretary to Ambassador (now Undersecretary of State) Walter B. Smith in Moscow and wartime political adviser to the late Gen. "Vinegar" Joe Stilwell in China. That was where he first got in hot water. Frequent Charge Made

The most frequent charge made against Davies was that he was pro-Communist and anti-Chiang Kai-Shek. The quotations from Davies' China reports most frequently used against him are these statements of 1944:

"We should not now abandon Chiang Kai-Shek. . . . But we must be realistic. We must not indefinitely underwrite a politically bankrupt regime. We must make a determined effort to capture politically the Chinese Communists, rather than allow them to go by default to the Russians."

Partly because Gen. Pat Hurley, then President Roosevelt's special ambassador in Chungking, asked for Davies' recall, he was transferred to Moscow in 1945 and served there two years. Then he was transferred to Washington for a three-year assignment to the State Department's policy planning staff.

While here, Davies got in his second hot water. It was turned on by a statement given to Nevada Senator Pat McCarran's internal security subcommittee investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations in 1952. Lyle H. Munson, now a New York publisher but formerly a Central Intelligence Agency official, testified Davies had called Munson to the State Department and proposed a special group of six people be set up in separate office, possibly in New York, to advise CIA on Russian policy and strategy.

CIA turned down the idea. As related by Munson, the group Davies proposed would consist of the late Agnes Smedley, Anna Louise Strong, Edgar Snow, Mr. and Mrs. John K.

body asked me." This from Peg. "Tall and willowy and ever so cool and remote, and who will look on us as a lot of rude provincials and lift the haughty eyebrow and say, 'How divinely quaint.' It's always the homeliest men who have the loveliest wives, look at old Fizzle-puss Gavin there and Lilith."

"Okay, Diana! That'll be enough from the new luminary of stage and screen. No mere star—a veritable flying saucer. What's your guess, Lilith?" "I'll pass, I think. I know him probably better than you do, Gavin, but frankly I find it hard to picture the wife of his boom."

"And you, Archer?" "A lady wrestler," decided Archer. "One who could hold him in a stout half nelson while she took the housekeeping money from his pocket."

They were all wrong. The woman was Poppy Ewart.

THE door of the cottage opened from a small porch directly into the living room so that, when Avis opened it in answer to the bell's soft trill, there was nothing at all to slow up Poppy's entrance. She burst upon them full-blown, as darkly, sensuously beautiful as ever, as poised and smiling and assured. She wore her favorite color, a rich velvet, burgundy red, tight-bodied, with deep neckline, a white fur cape flung over her shoulders, a white flower in the thick black updo of her hair, capped by a diamond-studded comb.

Poppy never simply walked into a room as ordinary mortals do. For her the grand entrance, the spectacular arrival to the fanfare of trumpets, the crash of cymbals and roll of drums. It was stately, theatrical, but with her it was effective. Up to now. Even Poppy was slowed a little in her sweeping advance by eyes that hit her with their chill, unbending hostility, by the sudden complete silence that fell upon the Waylands and the wide-eyed, incredulous amazement that Lilith made no effort to hide.

"A blonde, of course. All hard-boiled, cave men fall for blondes. Look at Samson, look at Humphrey Bogart."

Daddy Ringtail And Uncle Jackknife

Uncle Jackknife really was nobody's uncle. At least nobody knew whose uncle he was. Everybody called him "Uncle" because he said to do it. Everybody called him "Uncle Jack" because his name was Jack. Everybody called him "Uncle Jackknife," because he carried the great big knife with him all the time. To make matters simple, everyone always called him "Uncle Jackknife," and nothing else.

"Sir!" asked Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, who had listened while Uncle Jackknife said what to call him.

The old man answered: "said to call me 'Uncle Jackknife,' and nothing else."

"Sure," said Mugwump. "Sure, Mr. Uncle Jackknife and Nothing Else."

"No, no, no," said the old man impatiently. "My name is not 'Nothing Else.'"

"But you said for me to call you 'Nothing Else,'" said Mugwump, a little surprised.

"No, no," the old man answered. "I mean for you not to call me anything else by 'Uncle Jackknife.'"

DOWN HE GOES!

But he's a game little tike, this youngster so well-padded on the North side. Even though his pillow doesn't keep him from falling, it does cushion his falls while he learns how to balance himself, how to stroke, and swing.

It will be that way with his life, too—and yours. As you grow older you often feel the need of something to cushion yourself against the jolts that come suddenly in everyday living.

Since you learn to skate only by skating, and to live only by getting into the thick of life, you have to expect these mishaps.

If you cushion yourself with the true knowledge of God and His ever-present love and watchful care, you will feel these blows less.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jet Pilot Seeks Anonymous Man Who Helped Him As PW

By SANKY TRIMBLE
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(P)—A jet pilot too tough for the Reds to crack is looking for a man whose name he doesn't know to say thanks for a memory.
That memory literally pulled Lt. Col. Thomas Harrison of Clovis, N. M., through months of imprisonment, cruelty and torture as a prisoner of the Chinese Reds.
Harrison's search is for a man, once an Albuquerque contractor, whom he met only casually three and a half years ago. The Air Force officer asked The Associated Press to help find the man.

"I don't know who he is, but I would appreciate it if you would help me find him so that he would know that he gave someone a lot of help when he needed it," Harrison wrote.
Harrison wrote that after he lost his left leg when shot down in North Korea, his right leg became infected and he was afraid he would lose it too. He said there was no one to talk to, nothing to do but lie and stare at his prison cell ceiling.
God Answered Prayer
"Naturally I began to worry about my future and tried to remember all that I could about artificial legs. It was very little. As a result, my mental condition became very bad. I knew the worst thing that could happen to me was to despair. As long as I could maintain hope I could make it. I prayed and prayed hard.
"God answered my prayers. When I felt the worst, I suddenly remembered an incident which happened at Sandia Base (Albuquerque) in May, 1950."

Harrison related he and his wife, Doris, were at a dance and were introduced to a tall blond man who later danced with Doris.
"I noticed he did a pretty lively fox trot," Harrison recalled. "When he returned to our table, he unexpectedly said: 'You would never believe I have an artificial leg,' and raised his trouser leg to prove it."
Harrison says, "It was a small incident then, but now I credit that incident with giving me the inspiration which helped me pull through a very difficult situation."

Panama To Ask Hike In Canal Zone Rent

PANAMA, PANAMA—(P)—A delegation called Friday for the United States to press Panama's demand for more U. S. rent for the canal zone. Backing them, thousands rallied in downtown Panama City Thursday night.
Negotiations between Panama and the United States on revision of the 1904 Panama Canal Zone Treaty will begin in Washington September 10.
Under the 1904 pact, the United States paid $250,000 in gold annually for the 10-mile-wide strip of land bordering the canal. A later treaty made the annual payment $430,000.
Thousands of persons jammed the Cinco de Mayo Plaza for the mass rally Thursday night. President Jose Antonio Remon, accompanied by the archbishop of Panama and six ex-presidents of the nation, led a march that preceded the rally.
The tone was friendly to the United States but speakers insisted that Panama was not getting enough rent.

G-Man Hoover Defends FBI From Attacks By Governors

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Any investigations the FBI makes about civil rights are done as duties prescribed by the Department of Justice, Director J. Edgar Hoover asserted Thursday.
His remarks were in reply to criticism from the governors of Texas, Pennsylvania and Virginia. All protested recently that such investigations were an invasion of states' rights.
Hoover's utterance: "The investigations by the FBI in the field of civil rights have been made pursuant to an act of Congress."
"It makes little difference whether the act of Congress was passed in 1866 or 1953, so long as it is the law of the land. The Attorney general has not only the right but the duty of establishing as a matter of policy that the FBI should investigate the alleged violations of such acts..."
Hoover said that, in the cases of

Big Brothr Is Watching

CLINTON, OKLA.—(P)—Donald Gowdy, of Berger, driving a speedy foreign car, told troopers who stopped him for traveling 90 miles an hour that he was racing a small plane.
The plane turned out to be highway patrol's Beechcraft, with trooper Art Hamilton dutifully clocking Gowdy's speed from the aid.

Eisenhower 'Loafs' On Colorado Ranch; Will Fish Saturday

FRASER, COLO.—(P)—President Eisenhower, enjoying his first fulltime vacation in more than a year, "just loafed" Friday at a secluded ranch here in the Colorado Rockies.
The President drove from Denver Thursday to the ranch of Aksel Nielsen, an old friend. He intends to stay through next Tuesday.
White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen accompanying Eisenhower the Chief Executive had decided to wait until Saturday to do any trout fishing.
A sore elbow which developed while he was fishing at Pine, Colo., last week was keeping the President from St. Louis Creek, which flows through the ranch area.
"He is going to do nothing but just loaf today," said Hagerty.
Reporters were not permitted at the ranch itself Thursday or Friday, but were told they could enter the area Saturday.
With the President are Nielsen, retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, board chairman of Continental Can Company; Charles H. Tompkins, a Washington friend, and Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Sports— PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

The Indians, entertaining Rowell Friday night, can sit back and cry to Pat Stacey's Rockets. "Do your dangdest"—the Tribe now is in.

Their victory over Carlsbad Thursday gave Midland's men, winners in four of their last five starts, a clinch playoff spot with the Rockets trailing 13 games back. Only 12 games remained as the Indians assured themselves of a Shaughnessy post a fifth time in seven years.

Betha this one was the weirdest. Midland can finish up this season without a pitcher winning 10 games. Eddie Jacobs, of course, had garnered 11 before he departed in June but only Freddie Rodriguez and Romario Soto, with nine victories, and Jack Schaening and recently-departed Ralph Blair, with eight, have come close since.

ONLY ONE FOUND A HOME
They will offer an even bigger contract to 1953's three 20-game winners. If, by misfortune, Rodriguez, Soto and Schaening misfire in pitching assignments the rest of the season.

No matter what their marks say, however, the Tribe pitchers are in good enough shape to gather in the Longhorn League playoff pennant a second straight year. For the six on hand have at times spun games to equal just about anything in 1952. They just didn't have the time this year to be considered among the loopy's best.

Soto, for instance, is the only one to begin and end the season here. And once upon a time, from April to June, he was groomed as a reliever, consequently being stuck awhile with just three victories to his credit.

Even during Spring, the Midland management foresaw all its pitching troubles and thereafter worked hard to solve them. First one moundman, then another, tried, until the six winners now came along with 11. Blair with eight, Fred Smith with three, Bill Winn with two, and Ben Quintana, Don Daley and Dick Young with one each came along to total all the Tribe's victories.

A half-dozen or more, too, put in bids without luck.

MALONE STANDS ALONE
Over the league in general, the pitching hasn't been up to snuff and only Audie Malone of Carlsbad, if memory serves, has gained the only 20-game mark to date. Six won that many last season.

From here and there:
E. F. Crim of Henderson, the state representative who set the Odessa Country Club course record of 64 in turning up for the Pro-Am, didn't fire a shot in actual play. His teammate, Pro Frank White, fell ill and was forced to withdraw.

Crim, incidentally, recounts that one of the hottest legislative subjects in Austin is his golf game—as compared to that of Big Spring's Oble Bristow, a representative who presided over the West Texas Golf Association in 1952.

VOSSLER WANTS MCC CROWN
Midland Country Club golf officials, currently recruiting entries for their own tourney from the Odessa amateurs, find out that Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth still is their best bet. Don January of Dallas, whom they hoped would enter here next week, is debating over a trip to Alexandria, La., or Big Spring, and Rex Baxter, Jr., of Amarillo, the National Junior champ, has chosen the Pampa Labor Day meet.

Even though Vossler will attend the Midland competition, he has been quoted as saying (by Jay Mc Clure of MCC) he's kicking himself for not getting in Midland's UGMA National Amateur qualifying. Vossler will play at Dallas where the ratio is nearer the national average of one qualifier for eight entries while at Midland, where he recently equalled the north course record, the ratio is one for seven.

Wink, Kermit, Monahans Top Early Football Slate

The paper towels are ready and so are the coaches who need them. Naturally, we're speaking of the coming football season which opens in this area September 4 with Eldorado visiting McCamey.

Officially, the high school grid season opens September 1 when coaches throughout the state may issue uniforms and begin practices. McCamey and Eldorado thus have three days in which to prepare for their opening game.

This contest opens a 67-game inter-sectional schedule for District 5-A, 7-AA, 8-AA teams. District play for these area teams begins October 23.

Between now and October 23, Wink, a perennial 5-A power, Kermit of 7-AA and Monahans of 8-AA are involved in the top inter-sectional battles.

The first comes September 11 when most teams in the state are scheduled to get their first games under their belts. It pits Wink against Monahans.

A week later, Kermit's Yellow Jackets hosts the Wink eleven, and the third week in the season is scheduled to bring one of the biggest clashes of the year when Monahans visits Kermit.

Both Monahans and Kermit have new coaches, F. O. Scroggins leaving the Lobos' fold and being replaced by Joe England, while Neal Dittman departed from Kermit with Max Jones, formerly of Iraan, taking over the chores.

Lions, Giants Match Doak, Rote In Dallas

DALLAS—(AP)—Doak Walker and Kyle Rote show off for the home folks Friday night in a duel due to draw upwards of 40,000 fans when the National Professional Football Champion Detroit Lions meet the New York Giants in an exhibition game in the Cotton Bowl.

The two gridgers who won their fame at Southern Methodist University—part of the time as teammates—will head the professional clubs that play for the Dallas Salesmanship Club. Part of the proceeds will go to a boys' camp.

In addition to the duel of Walker, versatile halfback of the Lions, and Rote, who plays a similar position with the Giants, a couple of the game's greatest passers also will be shooting the works.

Bobby Layne, quarterback of the Lions, will match pitches with Chuck Conerly, ace thrower of the Giants. It will be the second duel of Rote and Walker, although the former has been in pro football two years and Walker three. They met back in 1951, when the Lions and Giants played here in an exhibition game.

Oliverio Ortiz, Rocket hurler, was touched for 14 hits but held a 3-2 lead going into the bottom of the ninth. Charley Galina of the Colts led off with a double, but Steve Follett fanned. Ortiz balked Gregg, running for Galina, to third, but John Tayoan popped out for the second out. Then came Burns' single scoring Gregg and Walker's miff of Briner's long smash.

Roswell scored first in the initial inning on a walk to Ricky Gonzales, a single by Bill Wollett and an error.

The Colts tied it in the second on singles by Briner, John Magarini and Ben Bonine, who captured his eighteenth win against 10 defeats. Roswell moved ahead again in the fourth on singles by Wayne Crawford and Buddy Grimes and a double by Walker. Another run in the fifth made it 3-1 as Gonzales led off with a single and scored on Wollett's double.

Three oil hits plated a run in the seventh, the singles going to Magarini, Galina and Follett. Roswell 100 110 000-3 11 1 San Angelo 010 000 102-4 14 3 Ortiz and Valdes; Bonine and Briner.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Nino Valdes' upset victory over Ezzard Charles and Don Cockell's conquest of Harry (Kid) Matthews has resulted in a drastic reshuffling of the heavyweight division's top 10.

The monthly Ring magazine ratings released Friday by Editor Nat Fleischer have Charles, the former heavyweight champion, in the No. 2 challenger's spot instead of the No. 1 post which he has held for so long.

Roland La Starza, who gets a crack at champion Rocky Marciano's crown at the Polo Grounds September 24, has been advanced to the No. 1 post. Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia has been upped to the third position, with Valdes fourth.

Then came Tommy Harrison, Oakland, Calif.; Bob Satterfield, Chicago; Heinz Neuhaus, Germany; Cockell, Earl Walls of Canada, and Matthews.

For the first time in years, foreign fighters hold four of the berths in the dreadnaught division's top 10.

Colonials Stage Rally For Non-Pro Victory
WICHITA, KAN.—(AP)—The Washington Military District Colonials, defending titlist, had to come from behind Thursday to defeat unheralded Springfield, Mo., 6-5, in the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament.

In other games, the San Diego Naval Air Skyraiders edged the Springfield, Mass., Westinghouse Nine, 4-3, and Wichita's Boeing Bombers from Kansas blasted Columbia, Tenn., 9-1.

Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger, Abilene, Pampa, Plainview and another team to be obtained would be in one 10-team league.

Carlsbad, Artesia, Roswell, Hobbs, Clovis, Albuquerque, El Paso and another team would be in the other circuit.

If the Longhorn League finishes with the teams standing as of Friday, Midland probably would open the playoffs at Carlsbad.

Colts Down Rockets, 4-3, Widen Lead

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—Glenn Burns, lady luck and Midland moved San Angelo within hailing distance of the season-long pennant in the Longhorn League Thursday night as the Colts edged the Rowell Rockets, 4-3.

Burns tied the score at 3-3 in the ninth inning with a two-out single that plated Bobby Gregg from the third. Lady luck then moved in with an assist when Rocket Right Fielder Edmund Walker dropped Rudy Briner's long fly, Burns scoring all the way from first with the winning run.

Midland entered the picture with its second consecutive win over Carlsbad, 5-1, to move the Colts to a strong three and one-half game lead over the Potashers with only 12 games to go.

Oliverio Ortiz, Rocket hurler, was touched for 14 hits but held a 3-2 lead going into the bottom of the ninth. Charley Galina of the Colts led off with a double, but Steve Follett fanned. ## Tribe Whips Ashers; Rockets Here Friday

Miners Bow To Rainey's Eight-Hitter

SCOOTER HUGHES' fielding ledger-main at shortstop, Mike Rainey's clutch pitching and everybody's hustle proved too much for the Carlsbad Potashers to fight successfully Thursday night as the Midland Indians captured their second straight triumph from the second-place Longhorn League team, 5-1.

Hughes' deft fielding set off a series of fine defensive plays with everybody in the Tribe lineup contributing at least one good play.

The victory enabled the Indians to even up their season-long rivalry with the Potashers at 11 games apiece. It also tore a hole in Carlsbad's flag hopes.

The Potashers left town Thursday night wishing they never had arrived in the first place. Their place will be taken by the Rowell Rockets at 8 p.m. Friday.

Hughes started right in on robbing the Potashers of potential hits. In all, three blows were ticketed for safeties until he intervened. He stabbed a low liner over second to retire Gene Grant to open the game, raced in behind the mound to throw out Don Riley, and then went deep into the hole to toss out Merv Connors with Lou Dawson making a fine pickup at first base. All that was in the first inning.

He continued to make plays throughout the game that kept the 906 appreciative fans applauding, and in the ninth, made one of the finest catches of the season in Indian Park. Connors again was the victim. He lined a shot through the hole between short and third, but Scooter raced onto the grass, dived and speared the ball with a back-handed stab.

But Hughes wasn't the whole story. Rainey pitched himself out of several jams, and the Indians ran the bases like wild men and otherwise played like sane men to build up a lead that Carlsbad threatened only once.

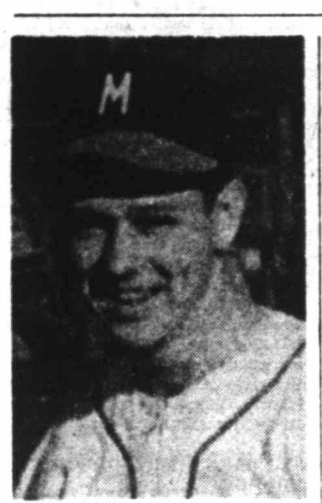

Midland scored unearned runs off Don Farnall in the second. Roger Dalla Beta was hit by a pitch with one down, and Hughes bounced into an apparent double play that ended with both runners safe as Gene Grant dropped Goidy Oholson's throw.

Quentin Bascow drew a walk to load the sacks, and Rainey hit a liner to left with Dallas Betts scoring. Hughes and Bascow then worked a double steal, and both scored as Ike Jackson threw into left field trying to catch Hughes at third.

John Treese and Bob Hobbs singled in succession in the Carlsbad fifth, and Farnall sacrificed them to third and second, respectively. Grant singled to center, scoring Treese and moving Hobbs to second, but Hughes started a double play and Rainey struck out Connors to end any further damage.

Midland, after going hitless against Farnall from the second to the sixth, caught up with the right-hander then. Tex Stephenson opened with a double but was trapped as Bill Brown bounced back to Farnall. Art Bowland then doubled Brown home and scored on Hughes' single a moment later for the fifth Midland tally.

Hughes, who had to be charged with an error the night before when his relay to first on a double play try hit Hobbs, who hadn't moved out of the way, handled 13 chances flawlessly.

Drillers Spot Oilers 6 To 1 Lead But Rally For 9 To 6 Decision

ODESSA—(AP)—Spotting the Odessa Oilers a 6-1 lead after the first inning, the Artesia Drillers came from behind for a 9-6 victory Thursday night.

Tight relief pitching by Bob Presley was mainly responsible for the Driller win, the big right-hander coming on in relief of Fidel Alvarez in the first and pitching shutout ball the rest of the way.

After the Drillers opened with a run, the Oilers scored six in the bottom of the first, three of the runs coming on Roman Loyko's homer and another on a circuit clot by Art Neal.

Joe Bauman, Artesia manager, hit a two-run homer in the fourth and Artesia went ahead to stay with three runs in the sixth inning. Two more in the eighth made it 9-6.

Orland Zraggen went all the way for Odessa and drew the loss.

Turner-Ellis Lead At Pro-Am Outset

ODESSA—Boyd Huff of Midland and his amateur partner, Willard Crenshaw of Dallas, found themselves in a familiar position, second, to start the second day's play of the Odessa Pro-Am.

Huff and Crenshaw had finished in a runner-up tie with three others Wednesday in the swiftest event of the five-day Odessa tournament. And things were no different for the pair again Thursday. Huff, the Midland Country Club professional, and Crenshaw played the first quarter of the 73-hole meet in 34-31-63, one under par for the outgoing nine and six under beginning.

Ahead of them when play began at 9 a.m. Friday was the duo of Dick Turner of Amarillo and Wesley Ellis of San Antonio. The leaders embarked with a 10-under 62, equal to anything that defending champion Bo Wintinger and Billy Maxwell turned in as they went around the 6,861 yard course in a record 251 last year.

BOYD HUFF ... Second again.

Hubbers Win, 5-0, Behind Three-Hitter

By The Associated Press
Lubbock's Charley Garmon topped West Texas-New Mexico League play Thursday night with his superlative three-hit, 5-0 shutout of Pampa.

Unfortunately, for Garmon and the second-place Hubbers, league-leading Albuquerque also won, 7-4, over Clovis.

Plainview capped its fourth straight game, smacking over Abilene, 10-2.

Amarillo bowled over Borger in both ends of a doubleheader, 9-4 and 17-5.

Bums Writing New Record Book On Way To Pennant

By The Associated Press
On the way to their second straight National League pennant the Brooklyn Dodgers are writing a flock of personal all-time best performances into the history of the colorful club.

The second straight flag—a virtual certainty now with a nine and one-half game lead and 26 games to play—will be a record in itself for the Dodgers. Although they've never been able to do it in successive years.

With luck the 1963 club also will produce all-time Brooklyn leaders in home runs and runs batted in.

Gil Hodges hit 40 homers in 1951. With 28 so far, the big first baseman will have to hustle to top that, but Duke Snider with 33 and Roy Campanella with 32 have a good chance.

The club record of 130 runs batted in—last equaled by Babe Herman in 1920—definitely is in danger since Campanella has 115, Hodges 111 and Snider 103.

The Dodgers, who beat Chicago, 7-5, Thursday, may find those home runs handy if they get into an extra-inning World Series game with the New York Yankees. The Yanks lost their second of 11 overtime contests, 4-2, in Cleveland Thursday night when Wally Westlake homered for the Indians in the eleventh inning. The only other extra-inning loss by the Yankees this year also came on a home run—by Billy Goodman of Boston on May 8.

In other action Thursday the St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Giants, 6-3, in the National League; the St. Louis Browns won a pair from Philadelphia, 5-4, and 3-1, Washington swamped Detroit, 12-5, and Chicago downed Boston, 6-4, in the American League.

The Cardinals came from behind with four runs in the seventh inning to whip the Giants. The attack in that frame included a pair of triples, both misjudged by Giant outfielders, and a home run by Rip Repulski.

Virgil Trucks won his eighteenth game of the season at Chicago after weathering an early Boston barrage that produced two runs in the first inning.

The Senators pounded Ralph Branca and Dick Marlowe for eight consecutive hits, one short of the American League record, in the first inning at Detroit and went on to an easy triumph. One of the blows in the first inning explosion was a three-run homer by Gil Coan, his first of the season.

Vic Wertz homered in the ninth inning with a man on base for the Browns' first game victory over the Athletics.

Mike Garcia went all the way for Cleveland against the Yankees and picked up his sixteenth victory, giving him an outside chance of cracking the 70-game mark for the third straight year.

Milwaukee, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati in the National League weren't scheduled.

Midland Resident Injured In Round-Up

Joseph S. Doakes, long-time resident of Midland, suffered minor injuries in the round-up this week. Doctors said his condition was not serious. Doakes' injuries were described as a series of bruises, contusions, and lacerations received when he stumbled over a lawnmower.

It is said that Mr. Doakes had gotten word that his old lawnmower, regardless of its age, make, or condition was worth $30.00 to him on a trade for a new Jacobsen Power Mower during a round-up of old mowers by a local store. Joe had been struggling with this aged mower for a good many years. He had pushed it by main strength and awkwardness for more than ten years, when, about a year ago, someone gave him a worn-out gas engine which he installed on the thing. Instead of having his troubles, this doubled them, because he not only had to push it, but he had to start it.

Anyway, when Joe heard that he could get $30.00 for the thing on a new Jacobsen, he became so agitated and excited that he fell over the decrepit relic getting his car out of the garage to go to the store. We visited Joe in the hospital the other day. Told him that we had picked up his "junkie," and that when he got to the place he could get around, that we would deliver his new Jacobsen to him. Joe smiled painfully and said, "Thanks chum, that old mower was my worst enemy."

We think our favorite nurse will like that story.

San Angelo Justice Says Midlander Died Of Self-Inflicted Shot

The wound which caused the death of a Midlander Thursday in a San Angelo hotel was ruled "self-inflicted" Friday by San Angelo Justice of the Peace J. B. Holberg.

Holberg in returning his verdict said Jeff Clark Wilkinson, 54, "died by gunshot wound, self-inflicted."

The verdict was handed down after conferences with sheriff and police personnel and study of an autopsy report submitted by a San Angelo physician.

Wilkinson was found shot through the head in his room Wednesday. A .45 caliber Colt pistol was found on the dead man's chest.

Holberg established time of death as 1 a.m. Wednesday, 15 hours before he was found by a hotel employee.

Wilkinson's Midland address, determined from papers found in a pickup truck he had stored in the hotel garage, was 1310 1/2 South Main Street.

Police said relatives told them Wilkinson was suffering from a heart ailment several years. The autopsy revealed he also had a lung ailment.

Wilkinson's body was forwarded to Lubbock for funeral services and interment.

Survivors include the widow of Midland; a brother, Glenn Wilkinson of Lubbock, and a sister, Mrs. W. H. Vaughn of Worland, Wyo.

SOMERVILLE, MASS. (AP)—Mildred McDonald, 25, the pretty stenographer who admitted she killed the young sister of a man who left her to marry another, may not have to undergo a first degree murder trial.

handful of casualty notifications because their best efforts to date have failed to locate the next of kin which each serviceman registers when he puts on his uniform.

The largest daily casualty list of the Korean campaign was made public on Oct. 8, 1950. The 1,211 names in that list represented casualties during the landing at Inchon, the first battle for Seoul and the breakout of the Pusan perimeter.

The size of the lists mailed at least five days each week from the Pentagon generally have reflected the intensity of the fighting in Korea. On some days, however, an overworked clerical staff in the Pentagon press section was unable to check and duplicate all of the names sent in by the services and the daily lists were therefore cut short.

Names thus left over would be added to the next day's list.

Although the Pentagon has discontinued both its weekly summary of casualties and the daily lists, the checking and rechecking of casualty information will go on for months and possibly years until the Defense Department closes its books on the third costliest foreign war in U. S. history.

Since the cease fire, there has been a steady increase in the total of deaths and a corresponding decrease in the number of current missing. The return of prisoners at Panmunjom has not only cut the number of missing, but also provided information from which the services have determined that some men previously listed as missing are dead.

After all possible information has been obtained from the Communists and all reports of returned prisoners have been correlated, the men then still listed as missing will be declared dead.

Alabama Outlaws Union Monopolies

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. Gordon Persons signed Friday the bitterly disputed bill outlawing the union shop and similar labor-management agreements in Alabama.

Persons said he approved the bill "because I believe in free labor and free enterprise."

The bill makes it unlawful to require an employee to join a labor organization in order to hold his job. It also prohibits the mandatory checkoff of union dues.

Thus it would outlaw the union shop, maintenance of membership, or any similar contract provisions which require union membership as a condition of employment.

The main body of Indian troops, about 5,000, is enroute to Korea aboard troopships and is expected to move into the demilitarized zone about September 7.

Bryan said the Indians may arrive at Panmunjom by helicopter, circumventing South Korean objections to landing on South Korean soil. A spokesman said they would be transferred from their ships to an aircraft carrier and flown in from there.

Prime U. S. Reds Nabbed By G-Men In Dramatic Climax Of Long Chase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two fugitive Communist leaders and three alleged satellites, charged with harboring them in a remote mountain hideout, were swept up in a dramatic capture Thursday by FBI agents posing as campers.

A fourth follower was picked up late Thursday night, 100 miles away. All were jailed quickly—one of them in Alcatraz Prison in San Francisco Bay.

Sixteen FBI agents in camouflaged blue jeans caught Robert George

Thompson and Sidney Steinberg in a cabin 8,000 feet up in the rugged Sierra Nevada, about 200 miles east of San Francisco.

Three-Year Handicap
Their arrest climaxed a relentless two-year manhunt.

Thompson, one of the 11 top Communist leaders convicted in 1951 of violating the Smith Act, was rushed to Alcatraz. He disappeared two years ago when ordered to report to Federal Court in New York for commitment for a three-year prison term.

He will serve that three years at another prison, the FBI said.

Steinberg, indicted with 21 other "second string" Reds in 1951 on similar Smith Act charges, was jailed here on $100,000 bail. He will be arraigned for removal proceedings to face trial in New York. Price Goes Up

Steinberg protested the bail was excessive. U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesch replied "It isn't for a fugitive for such a long time, since 1951."

The other three captured in the Sierra hideout were locked up in San Francisco County Jail on $35,000 bail each. The FBI identified them as Carl Edwin Rasi, 40, a Minnesota Communist leader; Samuel I. Coleman, 42, of New York described as a veteran Red and leader in the Communist underground since 1951, and Mrs. Shirley Keith Kremen, 21, a reported leader of leftist activities in Los Angeles.

Hours after the first five had been arrested, FBI agents picked up Patricia Blau, 42, near Stockton Calif., and charged her with harboring the fugitives.

Name's Not The Same
The FBI said an automobile found in the mountain retreat was registered under one of Mrs. Blau's six aliases. She was described as a Canadian-born Communist organizer who was naturalized in New York last year.

No Mere Fiddling
The 16 agents caught the fugitives by surprise in their two-story cabin not far from Yosemite National Park. They met no resistance.

Steinberg declined to admit their identity, but in each case it was established by fingerprints.

Thompson was using the name of John Francis Brennan. He had driver's licenses from Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Steinberg was going under the name of Joshua Newberg and carried a business card as a violin teacher.

Socony Man Says U. S. Oil Industry Needn't Fear Iran

NEW YORK (AP)—The oil industry has nothing to fear from the return of Iranian oil to world markets, George Holton, chairman of Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, said Friday.

"The return of Iranian oil obviously would intensify competition in the world oil markets, in which there is no present shortage, but an industry which has thrived on competition through the years should have no fears of it now," he said.

Holton added that "whatever problems of adjusting supply to demand may arise, they will be nothing like the problem of making up the loss of Iranian oil which was met successfully two years ago."

B-36 Operation Big Stick Termed 'Realistic Exercise'

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Air Force Friday night said the giant B-36 bombers flown to Japan this week under warlike secrecy are teaming with other planes in a "realistic combat type" Far East exercise within 700 miles of Vladivostok, a Russian stronghold base.

A mass flight of B-36's, capable of carrying atomic bombs anywhere in the world, landed near Tokyo Tuesday after a trail blazing flight across the Pacific.

A second flight landed Friday for the exercise.

The Far East Air Forces said heavy and medium bombers, reconnaissance aircraft and fighters are participating. The number is secret.

These undoubtedly include planes and pilots that fought over Korea before the truce.

Maj. Gen. Walter Sweeney, Jr., commander of the 15th Air Force Strategic Air Command, is in Japan directing the missions.

An Air Force spokesman said there was "no significance" to the nickname "Operation Big Stick." The operation is described officially as a training mission.

It was not known how long the planes would remain in the Far East, but they are expected to return to the United States soon.

The B-36's which arrived Tuesday already have departed for an undisclosed destination.

during a three-hour drillstem test. Interested observers think that formation is Siluro-Devonian. Had No Shows.
The project is bottomed at 10,092 feet in Ellenburger. That section made only salty sulphur water, with no shows of oil or gas.
Top of the Ellenburger is at 9,980 feet. Elevation is 2,707 feet.
This prospect is 14 miles north of Big Spring and 494.8 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 14, block 32, T-2-N, T&P survey.

oil and 106 barrels of salt water per day. The flow was through a one-half inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 923-1.
Production is through perforations opposite the sand section at 4,876-97 feet, after acid and fracture treatment.
The well is bottomed at 5,048 feet, having been plugged back from 5,320 feet.
Location is 330 feet from north-east and northwest lines of lot 9, J. S. Stumpf lease in section 30, block 33, H&TC survey and five miles southeast of Barstow.

After the tool was closed operator reversed out an additional 55 barrels of oil. Gas volume was at the rate of 280,000 cubic feet per day.

Released Dakota GI Finds Wife Married To Second Husband

MITCHELL, S. D.—(P)—The release of a South Dakota soldier who had been a Communist prisoner in Korea led to the disclosure Friday that his young wife had remarried in the belief he was dead. The second marriage later was annulled.
Mrs. Ralph Meier, 18, wife of Cpl. Ralph Meier, was married to Herald Kapsch, March 3, 1953. She had married Meier Nov. 8, 1950, shortly before Meier entered the Army. Meier was captured Dec. 31, 1951, and released Wednesday.
The record of the annulment proceedings shows Mrs. Meier testified she "heard from a boy in Korea last fall" that her husband had been killed in a Communist prison camp.
"I still think he's dead," she testified.
The annulment proceedings were brought by her second husband. The record shows he testified he "would rather see this marriage go on, but they say we have to have it annulled."
Kapsch testified he understood Meier was dead when he married the girl.

Heat Wave Continues Grip On Eastern Half Of Nation

By The Associated Press
More hot and dry weather was on tap Friday in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation.
No general cooling or rain appeared in sight for at least a couple of days in the hot belt, which extended from the Plains states to the Atlantic Seaboard.
Weather records for the date again were broken in many cities Thursday. Temperatures soared into the 90's over most of the central part of the country for the third straight day.
St. Louis and Louisville sweltered in readings of 98. It was 97 in Cincinnati and Cleveland. The East also got 90-plus temperatures with 96 in Philadelphia, 94 in Washington and 93 in New York. Boston escaped hot blasts and reported a cool 69.
Water shortages continued to plague suburban areas of Chicago. In Detroit the City Water Board appealed to users in the metropolis and 39 adjoining communities receiving water from the Detroit system to stop all nonessential use. Serious drops in pressure were recorded at the system's three main stations.
Partly cloudy weather prevailed Friday along the Gulf Coast, in the northern Rockies and the Pacific Northwest. Light rain was reported in the areas. Temperatures gener-

Laughlin Removal Hearing Recesses

AUSTIN—(P)—Defense counsel in the removal proceedings against District Judge Woodrow Laughlin of Alice waived cross-examination of the prosecution's last witness Friday, and the hearing was recessed until Tuesday.
Defense testimony is to begin then. Senator William Shireman of Corpus Christi, counsel for 11 South Texas attorneys seeking Laughlin's removal, said agreement to test the prosecution's case was reached in chambers of Supreme Court Master D. B. Wood, who is conducting the hearing.
He said defense agreed not to cross-examine former District Judge Sam Reams, Shireman's last witness, and prosecution testimony was rested on condition that Reams' testimony before a State Bar committee could be entered into the court record.
The bar committee conducted an investigation into charges against Laughlin last Spring.
Judge Wood then recessed the hearing until 9:30 a.m. Tuesday to allow defense time to prepare for presenting its testimony.
Reams, now a Houston attorney, was beaten for reelection last year in a bitter election. South Texas political boss George Parr supported Laughlin, the opponent of Reams.
Reams testified Thursday.
He was the third person who has served as district judge to testify in the hearing that he does not consider it ethical for a judge facing indictments to select the judge to try the case.
Such a selection is one of the charges against Laughlin.
Jim Wells County Attorney Sam Burris testified he still has "undisclosed information" bearing on the Jacob Floyd, Jr. murder case.
He said he had not taken it to a grand jury yet because it is not ready for disclosure.

Exchange Club Sees Pack Trip Scenes

A larger-than-usual number of Exchange Club members were on hand Thursday to see color slides shown by Phil Yeckel of his July pack trip through the Green River-Wind River Range country.
The slides, presented during the club's regular noon meeting in Hotel Scharbauer, featured unusual shots of trout-filled streams and beautiful mountain scenery. Mr. and Mrs. Yeckel, their son, and Olin Prather spent eight days on the trip, camping above the timber line and getting a chance at excellent trout fishing.
Two of the fishing pictures stood out. One was of a golden trout as it turned in the water to strike at a fly, and the other was taken as the trout struck the lure.
