

THIS AND THAT

By JOE SMITH DYER

GREAT MEN:

It is a general thought that all great men are dead. This is a mistake. Some of the greatest men are still living. They are men whose greatness will only be exceeded by the greatness that is still to come. It is a mistake to go about tearing down old tomb-stones in order to locate great men. One of the world's greatest dangers is to make miracles out of past works and belittle or criticize present achievements. The results accomplished in the great war will be looked upon by coming generations as the most marvelous in the history of man.

Why worship at the tomb of Caesar?

Why weep at the place where the ashes of Solomon are scattered?

If the more recent results of Schwab, Ford, DuPont and many others do not make the memories of the dead ones look like counterfeit coins, my measure of value is miles off.

The old tops of long ago were long on whiskers but short on electricity, transportation, radios and miracle drugs. It is enough to make us laugh to think of comparing some of our modern men and their achievements with the old guys who wore a G string for an evening dress.

If the "great men" of long ago were so wonderful and great, why did they keep up their sleeves so many necessary inventions? The me of yesterday were great simply because the people of that era were down upon their knees.

HUMAN NATURE STUDY:

A certain judge indignantly inquired of a prisoner:

"Are you trying to show contempt for this court?"

The prisoner replied:

"No, I am trying to conceal it."

Few there are who can completely conceal contempt for those they consider useless, but any self-respecting person should exercise that contempt only on exceptional occasions and then as little as possible.

Like yourself, I believe that the majority of people show proper respect, true regard or honorable consideration, but there are those whose second nature is to scoff and sneer and talk behind your back.

There is no action in human nature that will so quickly arouse anger as when we show contempt.

It may be that most people consider that contempt implies a belief that the other person is no good, and such a slur, without words, no nature will stand unless that nature is backed with an intelligence above — much above the average.

True, there are those who make us feel that we would like to trample them under our foot, or sock them in the eye, but the bruise that will never heal is that look we get, or that look that we give — that withering look of silent contempt.

So here is something to think about.

Last week I watched two men trying to evade each other's glances. Finally, one of these men caught the other man's eye and gave him that look — that look of silent contempt and hate. It was a look that suggested cruelty and meanness. It was a slaughter-house look.

This incident made me do a little investigating and what I found was just what I believe.

He who is always showing contempt is sure to be — contemptible.

THE BOOK SHELF:

"Captain Grant" is a novel by Shirley Seifert that heads the list in reading interest. It recreates the youth, young manhood and the marriage of Ulysses S. Grant and from it emerges a strong and handsome person—the Cadet who becomes a sensational soldier of the Mexican wars.

This story has many of the good things that make Shirley Seifert's other books "Immortal Wife," such a good seller a few years ago. It is published by J. B. Lippincott Co., New York.

"Honeyfolding Time" by Virginia Dale is a gay and good-humored story about a boy and a girl in a town in a time when a sleigh ride was an invitation to scandal and it took a lot of courage and determination to dispute the idea that man was born to be the leader and woman to follow him. It is a clear revelation of small-town hates, feuds and ignorances of some fifty years past. Harper & Bros. are the publishers.

"The Other Side" by Storm Jameson. This is a story of Marie Von Leyde who was a French girl during the occupation of her native country. She went to Germany to live with her husband's family. "The Other Side" tells what happened to her when the Allied forces took over. She is despised by the French and not trusted by her husband's people, and the climax comes suddenly when she runs across a German plot to assassinate a British mission. It is published by MacMillan Co., New York.

"Arch of Triumph" by Erich Maria Remarque. Of this I can only say that it is to date the year's most outstanding novel. It is destined to become a classic among books. Read it. Appleton-Century Co., New York, Publishers.

With all our progress, it still remains lamentably true, in large part, that greatness in thought (not action) must wait for the greatest imagination; so it may be said that all great men are not dead. They must wait.

School-Agers Show Livestock Kings at State Fair of Texas

DALLAS, May 28. — School-age exhibitors of livestock will be kings of the show the first four days of the State Fair of Texas, to be held in Dallas Oct. 5-20, with all barns and pens placed at the disposal of 4-H, Future Farmer and other youthful showmen.

R. L. Thornton, president of the State Fair Association, announced this week that the Junior Livestock show would be held Oct. 5-8, with the senior division following on the ninth. He stated that this was a new streamlined procedure that would make more room in the arenas for exhibitors of both groups. Also, he pointed out, this shortened exhibiting time would enable boys and girls to return to school with a minimum of time lost.

This is the first year, according to Ray Wilson, chairman of the Junior Farm and Ranch committee that is planning the younger-aged exhibits, that boys and girls have had all facilities turned over to them to house and show their livestock.

Wilson stated that the plan was adopted in order to alleviate the crowded conditions that have resulted in former years when animals to be shown in both the junior and senior divisions were brought in at the beginning of the Fair and kept until the last days.

Plans call for the judging of animals entered in the junior division to be completed by noon of the fourth day. During the afternoon of the same day the livestock will be marketed and the exhibitors will be free to return to schools or to follow a program of their own making.

Roy Rupard, fair secretary, stated that the premium list and instructions would be ready for distribution about July 1.

The Selective Service Board wishes to call the public's attention to the fact that all boys becoming 18 years old are still required to register on their birthdays.

The office is closed on Saturdays and Sundays so if the birthday falls on one of those days the boy should register the following Monday. Any boy who has failed to register because he thought it no longer necessary must report to the office and register at once.

No 18 and 19 year old boys are being processed for induction at present, but they can still volunteer if they wish to do so.

"Beebe", Coming to Hico Theatre, Is King Of Pacific Island

W. H. Shugart, PhM3c, USNR looked back at the crude native huts with their conical, sloping roofs of thatched grass . . . Like a dream, he thought, it's the kind of thing you read about but never expected to happen. And yet it did . . . to me.

"Beebe" is the stage name that Shugart, who will perform at the Hico Theatre at 11:30 p. m., Monday, June 3rd, pulled out of a tall silk hat along with a couple of rabbits about 15 years ago, and the name has stuck ever since. The "king" part . . . that's another story.

As you've probably guessed by now, Beebe is one of those hokus pokus boys. But early in '44 Beebe discovered that his Uncle Sam had a couple of tricks up his sleeve, too, but instead of pulling things out of a hat, he used a fish bowl. The result . . . Beebe found himself spirited away to the South Seas as a Navy photographer and sent ashore on Parasite Isle. His job was to take pictures of the island, but what he found was an audience magicians dream about.

After Beebe had been changing the color of silk handkerchiefs making eggs vanish and the like for three or four days, the natives, who hadn't seen a white man since Robert Louis Stevenson gave John Silver a jolly roger, put their woolly heads together. The King of the islands also took a liking to Beebe and his feats of magic and adopted him. From that time on the natives respectfully addressed him as "King Beebe".

"It wouldn't have been so bad, either," recalls Beebe. "In some ways I could have stayed there but the Navy had other plans for me. But you never know," he adds with a voice that was at once joking and full of conviction, "if I ever get tired enough of civilization, I may go back to my south sea island kingdom."

Law Enforcement Conference Declared Successful by FBI

SAN ANTONIO, May 28 (Sp)—A greater spirit of unity for effective law enforcement was shown in the nine law enforcement conferences just concluded than has ever been known in peace time. M. W. Acers, Special Agent in Charge, FBI, San Antonio announced today. These conferences brought together officers responsible for law enforcement in the 60,000 square miles covered by the San Antonio office of the FBI. The strongest evidence of the interest and enthusiasm of the officers is revealed in the fact that ninety-seven and four tenths percent of all law enforcement agencies in this territory were represented at the discussion of present day police problems. Acers continued.

The nine conferences which were held at Hearne, Waco, Raymondville, Fredericksburg, Llano, Austin, Uvalde, Laredo and San Antonio, brought together 960 officers representing 230 law enforcement agencies.

The Texas Department of Public Safety, under the direction of Colonel Homer Garrison, contributed materially to the successful conferences in making Captain Fred Olson, Texas Rangers, available for a series of lectures. Colonel Garrison addressed the Llano Conference.

The Fall FBI-sponsored conferences will be held in October and November 1946, Acers announced. Upon invitation of officers in their respective territories, these conferences will be held at Giddings, Temple, Harlingen, Boerne, Lampasas, Austin, Carrizo Springs, Laredo and San Antonio.

TWO BOYS FROM IREDELL JOIN PEACETIME ARMY

Two Iredell High School boys joined the new peacetime Regular Army through the Waco Recruiting Office, according to information furnished by Allison J. Dick, 1st Lt., assistant station commander.

Bobbie Joe Montgomery, 17, Box 127, Iredell, Tex., joined the Army Air Forces for three years to go to the Caribbean Theatre of Operations. He gave this reason for joining: "I am interested in Electrical Engineering and I think the Army Air Forces will help me."

James Chaffin, 17, Iredell, Tex., student at the time of enlisting volunteered for the Army Air Forces for three years. "I am interested in Airplane Engineering and I think the Army will help me get an education," he stated.

Today Ends Drive For Americanism Endowment Fund

Reports from collection sources for the Americanism Endowment Fund, sponsored by the American Legion, indicate that the current drive for funds is not meeting with the success that had been hoped for. Friday, May 31, was set as the final day for the campaign, and a great stimulus is needed in order that Hamilton County will make a decent showing.

B. D. Corrigan of Hamilton County Chairman for the drive stated at the outset that no high-powered solicitation would be conducted, leaving the matter rather to the consciences of true American citizens of which he feels this county is composed. However he would like to see greater response to the plea which has been issued on the basis of the merits of the proposition.

Collection centers over the county were named in a recent half-page advertisement in the county newspapers. At Hico the money may be left at the First National Bank, the Hico News Review, or with Heater Jordan or Frank Fallis. Prompt action is vital, or Hico will have failed to support a cause that has for its aim the promotion of Americanism forever.

Much Fruit, Little Wood Growth, Says A&M Horticulturist

COLLEGE STATION, May 29.—Prospects for a bumper fruit crop are good over all parts of Texas, according to C. R. Heaton, horticulturist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

But, like the farmer who was saddened by his wonderful potato crop because there were no culls for the hogs, Heaton says the heavy load of fruit is using up so much plant food that there is a slow growth of limbs and twigs.

Next year's fruit crop, he points out, will be borne on the new wood now forming.

Since there will be lots of fruit on the market anyhow, Heaton recommends that fruit be thinned out from 4 to 6 inches. He suggests leaving the better quality fruit, removing the fruit that has been damaged by hail, brown rot, peach scab, or curculio. This will throw some strength to the new growth of limbs and twigs and will result in a high percentage of large, quality fruit.

The orchard should be cultivated at a shallow depth as often as necessary to protect the busy trees from competition with weeds and grass.

Many sandy soils are short on nitrogen and a top dressing of a pound of nitrate of soda or ammonium sulphate per tree in late May or early June will help hold fruit and promote growth.

If the trees show they need it—by light colored leaves or slow wood growth—a 200 pound per acre application of a balanced fertilizer, such as 5-10-50 is needed.

Grange Plans for Square Dance At Hamilton June 1

Ollie McDermitt of Hamilton was in Hico Wednesday advising those interested of plans the entertainment committee of the Hamilton Grange, of which he is a member, is making for having another one of those "rollicking, old-fashioned square dances" that the Grange is famous for.

Fiddlers and square dance callers are being sought in surrounding communities to compete in the contests. Cash prizes will be awarded. There will be square dancing for those who enjoy it and plenty of good fiddle music and good cheer for everybody, McDermitt said.

This old-time party, to which admission is free, will be held at the Perry County Club on Saturday night, June 1, from 8 to 12 o'clock.

DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY IN MISHAP WITH TRUCK

Curtis Wright, driver for J. E. Thompson, Texas Company consignee at Hico, escaped injury last Saturday and the truck was undamaged when it fell through a small bridge in Erath County.

Wright was making a delivery at a place on the Altman road, two miles beyond the Simpson Johnson ranch, and the front wheels of the truck were already across the bridge when the rear end broke through the weakened structure and dropped down into a position which required the services of Lewis Chaney's wrecker.

CANNING COLLECTION TO BE HELD NEXT TUESDAY

By —
Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We received another heavy rain Wednesday night of last week. However, farmers have been taking advantage of the fair weather the past few days working out their row crops.

Our hearts were made sad last Tuesday night when we learned of the tragic death of Sammie Davis of Hico. The Davis family resided near Fairy for many years. Sammie was a member of the Fairy basketball team here in '35-'36 and is the third member of the team to be called by death, the other two members being Odom Russell (killed in action) and Woodrow Williamson (from appendix operation). Sammie had many friends here who were deeply grieved to learn of his untimely demise. Funeral services were held at Hico with interment in the Fairy cemetery. We extend our sincere sympathy to his grief-stricken parents and other relatives in this dark time of sorrow.

Our school closed here last Friday with a barbecue dinner. A large crowd was in attendance to enjoy the program for the day. Closing exercises were held Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Columbus and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brunson attended singing at the Church of Christ at Gustine last Sunday week.

Milton (Mutt) Blakley, who has spent a short time at home from his studies at John Tarleton College, will return next week to enter the summer semester. He is majoring in Electrical Engineering.

The Air Dome Community shows will not show here any longer due to insufficient support as they show in a topless tent and the weather conditions have greatly hindered attendance.

Miss Elsie Lee Parks returned home last week after a week's visit with her sisters, Mrs. Dan Pulbright and little son, and Miss Cleoyne Parks of Kerrville.

Mrs. J. O. Richardson and Mrs. Brittle Little attended singing at Littleville Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and family of Dublin spent Sunday night and Monday here visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Allison. The children Ruby Jean and Darrell, remained for a longer visit.

FOOD FOR THE HUNGRY

Whatever the reason, government officials charged with the duty of getting wheat to the famine-stricken people of Europe ought to be ashamed of themselves for having failed to meet the small quota set for this relief.

According to figures released by Chester C. Davis, chairman of the President's Famine Emergency committee, exports of wheat and flour are now almost 500,000 tons below expectations.

We don't know the explanation.
But we do know that the failure to do our part is not because of the people's unwillingness to sacrifice.

We would like to see less talk about how people must get along with less and more about how the government is going to carry through an adequate plan to get more food to Europe right now.

Candidates For Congress Differ On Unions

The hottest issue in the Congressional race is the regulation of the labor unions. It is "hot" because a candidate faces the bitter and underhanded opposition of the war-wealthy unions if he takes one side, and the wrath of the plain citizens who are being hurt if he takes the other. Either way, he will lose votes.

It is interesting to see how our Congressional candidates differ in the way they have met this issue — in their willingness to take a definite stand on one side or the other, and in the stand they have taken. If any six of the eight candidates have so far published their platforms, and here is what each chose to put in print concerning his views on the labor unions (in alphabetical order):

Blanton

I am for the repeal of the National Labor Relations Act, which has put the working man and the whole country at the mercy of a handful of professional racketeers, whose lust for power knows no bounds.

I am against the closed shop, as a denial of the fundamental American freedom to work, and as an instrument of oppression in the hands of the unscrupulous.

I am against picketing for the same reason.

I am for requiring strict accounting for union funds.

I am for making unions responsible on their contracts.

I am for making union officials subject to the anti-racketeering and anti-trust laws, from which they are now exempt.

I am for requiring the democratic control of unions by the rank and file of on-the-job members.

The lack of democracy within unions lies at the root of all our labor troubles.

I am against creating any more tribunals to decide labor disputes

FREEDOM FROM LAWS

James C. Petrillo — who holds the questionable distinction of having had a congress pass a law for the sole purpose of controlling him — is now showing the government that it will take more than one law to keep him in his place.

For congress only told him that he couldn't compel the employment of unneeded musicians in the broadcasting business. It didn't tell him that he couldn't stop television's progress by forbidding members of his union to work in television.

So James Petrillo, spurred on by receiving such high honors from congress, is now really going to town. If he continues at the present rate, we imagine it won't be long before children will have to pay tribute to his musician's union before they dare to play Yankee Doodle on a mouth-organ.

EMOTIONAL CYCLES

Every man and woman, according to a study made at the University of Pennsylvania, experiences cycles of emotional ups and downs which have very little to do with the events of the moment.

According to these studies, as well as others made in the past, those cycles can be charted — it is possible to keep a record of your state of mind, analyze your cycle, and soon know that you can expect a period of mental depression or unexplained exaltation pretty much on schedule.

We like to think, for example, of the understanding wife who,
when her husband comes home grouchy and tired, will say, "Quiet, Junior, remember Daddy's in his depression cycle."

The speed of the jet plane and other things of the modern times still doesn't keep a woman from taking 39 years to reach 30.

We already have too many boards and commissions. What we need are fair laws for our present courts to enforce.

Bradbury

Strikes cannot be stopped by loud talking or political speeches.
Intelligence and courage are needed. When I go to Congress I will not be the representative of the labor unions as such, or of industry, but of all the people no matter what their occupation or profession.

Burleson

Burleson's eleven point platform doesn't mention labor unions.

Herring

If elected, I will do my utmost to establish between Labor and Management a permanent and sound basis for settling disputes, granting full and enforceable justice to the grievances of either party, possibly by the establishment by law of an unbiased Arbitration Court of qualified and well-paid judges, whose decisions would be backed by proper and just law.

Sandefur

Labor-Maintenance of the principles of collective bargaining, with a sharing of responsibility by labor, industry and the government; the promotion of live-and-let-live attitude between capital and labor, with the rights of the public to be recognized and protected.

Wagstaff

Labor has the right to organize and bargain collectively and to strike if necessary. In all industrial disputes there should be a compulsory cooling off period, and Federal mediation should be employed before any strike is permitted to begin. The principles of the Railway Mediation Act have proven to be successful in preventing strikes, and the provisions of this law should be extended to all industries.

THAT ATOM TEST

We have heard predictions that the atom bomb test, planned for July, will do everything, from causing a huge tidal wave which will destroy the Pacific coast to bringing an end to the world.

But the experts testifying before the senate naval committee have made it clear that the only things which will be hurt are the ships on which the bombs are dropped.

After reading the testimony of men who ought to know what will happen, we feel that it will be perfectly safe, on the night of the big event, for the American people to go calmly to bed without even pulling the covers over their heads.

POOR LITTLE RICH BOYS

The FBI has discovered a rather amazing bargain being offered by big-time black market operators — they are selling $1,000 bills for $750. Their purpose, however, is not altogether altruistic.

For the racketeers who have made millions out of the black market have suddenly discovered that it is almost impossible for them to get rid of their stolen money without being detected.

Because of orders issued by the FBI, they can't take these bills anywhere to be broken down into smaller denominations without giving a full report of themselves.

There are approximately 15,000 separate parts in a modern automobile, we are told — and we really believe it, as there have been occasions when we have heard from each of them.

Said the angler to his friend—
"The fish I caught was too small to fool with, so I got a couple of friends to help me throw it back into the river."

It's an ill wind that blows a saxophone next door.

It's better to go broke than never to have loved at all.

Know Your Candidates

It is not too early to begin studying the political attitudes of the men whom we expect to vote for in the next elections.
Sidney Hillman's CIO-PAC and William Z. Foster's Communist party are already well acquainted with the politics of the prospective candidates, and their votes will go solidly for those who represent their respective views upon what the American form of life should be.

Up until the last few years in our country we did not have to contend with strange, foreign political ideologies.
We had our own theories, which were invented by Messrs. George Washington, et al., and we prospered under the form of government which these patriots had so laboriously evolved. So except for local reasons, it did not make such a great deal of difference whether the American voter knew much about the policies of the man he was sending to the senate or to the house of representatives.

Today this is all changed and now Americans are forced by new circumstances to vote in future elections for those who represent either the American idea of freedom or some imported idea of "democracy" in which the state is supreme.

The man is blind who does not grasp the trend in this country, and the voter is stupid who pulls levers in a voting booth because they are all on one line.

It is also time for American newspapers which believe in our constitution as it is today to start telling their readers what national policies the coming candidates advocate.

With but a modicum of attention from now on, the American citizen and the American newspaper can still retain their freedom.

Research Plans Divulged by the War Department

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Hitherto confidential plans that mark the beginning of a fantastic era of research, including supersonic aircraft, space ships and bases, have been announced by the War Department.

Plans call for the construction of an Air Engineering Development Center as soon as funds are made available, according to Maj. Gen. Curtis LeMay, deputy chief of air staff for research and development.

"We are entering a new age of development — a very extensive age," Gen. LeMay said. "We can no longer depend upon letting small contracts to companies for the development of our weapons. We must now furnish the tools for doing this work."

Gen. LeMay emphasized that the AAF did not have adequate facilities to meet development demands during the war. "Not until after the collapse of Germany was it apparent that this action had placed the nation years behind in some of the fundamental phases of aeronautics," he said.

Immediate planning, he pointed out, must be projected far beyond the possibilities known today for pilotless aircraft, winged missiles, jet propulsion, radar and atomic bombs. Such planning must include the following fields:

1. Supersonic aircraft, piloted and pilotless; winged missiles having velocities approaching the meteoric.
2. Nuclear energy applications of propulsion of aircraft and missiles, as well as for other atomic devices which may evolve in the future.
3. Flight and survival equipment for use above the atmosphere, including space vehicles, space bases and devices for use therein.
4. Detections, control and destructive apparatus, including the utilization of the energies represented by all spectra. (Light, heat, magnetic and all other forms of energy and forces which may exist in the various densities of the several masses or space areas in which men could be concerned, must be exploited thoroughly and continuously.)

5. Aircraft and missile operating technique development.

Your attic is a HEAT TRAP without ventilation

COOL breezes replace heat with attic ventilation

Remember those stifling hot nights last summer, when you sat outdoors until late, hating the idea of going into the hot house to bed?

This summer can be different if you install an attic ventilating fan before extremely hot weather arrives. An attic fan draws in cool, refreshing air through the windows, circulates it about the house and blows hot, stale air out through the attic vents. It makes your entire house as cool as a breeze-swept, shady, open porch. You can retire early and enjoy a comfortable night's sleep no matter how torrid the weather.

A limited number of attic fans are available now for immediate installation. See your electric appliance dealer or this company for full information about this low-cost way to summer comfort.

Gay Film Romance Opening Sunday At the Hico Theatre

A warm and moving comedy-romance, posing the provocative question of teen-age marriage, is Warner Bros.' "Too Young To Know," which opens Sunday at the Hico Theatre. Starring the gay and lovable sweethearts of "Hollywood Canteen," Joan Leslie and Robert Hutton, the film is sometimes poignant, sometimes happy, but always tender salute to today's youngsters-in-love.

Adapted from Harlan Ware's successful Saturday Evening Post serial, "Too Young to Know," tells the timely story of a youthful couple's whirlwind courtship, their romantic elopement and their after-the-honeymoon adventure. Their joy and their tears are heart-warmingly recorded as, together, they face a future entirely different from what they had expected.

With a supporting cast that includes such capable performers as Dolores Moran, Rosemary DeCamp, Harry Davenport, Arthur Shields and Barbara Brown, "Too Young to Know" was directed by Frederick De Cordova and produced by William Jacobs. Scripted by Jo Pagano, the film was photographed by Carl Guthrie, A. S. C.

TRIBUTE TO MARGIE HALL LAKE

There was no happier person on earth than Margie Hall Lake. She wasn't one of those girls that go around with a smile on their face for the benefit of the public. On the contrary, she was happy at just being in a frame of mind that she could smile and like to smile. Yes, Margie Hall Lake was happy with just being alive.

People said she was killed. If Margie could return to speak for herself, how she would have laughed at that. Margie wasn't killed, nor did she even die. People like Margie don't die easily. They always leave something behind them. Something that people look at, close their eyes and remember some little incident that fairly shouts "Margie." Margie left a memory behind her that will remain eternally vivid in the minds of those who knew her. And too, she was one of those girls that folks just had to know if she was within shouting distance. She was active, friendly, confident of herself, unashamed, and took turns at being gay and meek. Margie Hall Lake was a typical American girl. She liked people and reaped the reward, the only reward that she wanted. People, in turn, liked her.

An overturned automobile closed the pages of her book of life on earth, but the memories that she left behind her are far more indelible, and stamped deeper in the hearts of her friends than she herself could have placed them by being present. She was admired and loved by those who knew her, was one of those rare cases that fail to leave behind them a single acquaintance who could say, or would say one single word that was not in her behalf. Underneath her charm and beauty, she possessed a heart that was as big as all outdoors and as plain as any heart could be. Few things failed to make her happy, nothing ever seemed to make her unhappy. She loved her life and loved the people that she spoke to on the streets, some of them dear friends, others only folks that she had met but once before, but Margie loved them all.

A single glistening patch of golden sunlight streamed across the carpet of the room in which she lay. Her eyes were closed in final restful sleep, and unrestrained tears sparkled like the stars in Margie's own small firmament. Her friends and relatives shared alike the grief that all who knew her knew. She's happier now, and it's safe to say that she's making new friends, gaining new respect, and a host of new admirers of Margie Hall Lake. (2-tfc) A FRIEND.

CERTIFICATES WILL BE AWARDED NEXT OF KIN OF U. OF TEXAS HEROES

AUSTIN, May 22.—Handsomely bound certificates will be presented by the University of Texas to the next of kin of ex-students who died in the service of their country or its allies in World War II.

To complete the list of the war dead Assistant Registrar Max Fichtenbaum has invited parents, widows and other next of kin to send names of former students to his office. The information should include the name of the student, the years he attended the university and his parent's names.

The certificates will be signed individually by the president of the university and the chairman of the board of regents. They are bound in orange leather, faced with white silk. The cover will bear the university seal, a stamped design of the library-administration building tower and a superscription.

The names of war dead also will be inscribed on a bronze tablet which will be installed at an appropriate place on the University campus in Austin.

Fichtenbaum urged that next of kin submit names of war dead immediately to hasten issuance of the certificates and preparation of the tablet. The university is also compiling an official list of all other students who served this nation and its allies in the war and these names may be also sent to the registrar's office.
