VISITS BIRTHPLACE

This Week IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. (NWNS)—Labor leaders, led by John L. Lewis, have finally brought upon themselves legislation which will curb them much more than they have ever been curbed before. The senate, stirred up by public opinion, has at last agreed that it must do something—and the house is now in a mood to approve any curbs which get through the senate.
Although the new legislation is not basic, and does not establish a new government labor policy, it should realize that the public welfare still comes first with our government. It should also convince them of the fact that public opinion is still the strongest force in America—and that they cannot hope, in the long run, to put over any programs which are opposed by the public.
John L. Lewis' attempt to force employers to hand over health and medicine funds to unions has been thoroughly quashed by congress. Even the majority of pro-labor members of congress balked at the idea of permitting a union to tax employers. Congress has made it clear that whenever there is new taxing to be done it wants those taxes to flow to the public treasury.
Congress, because of its desire to close up for the summer, is not expected to try during this session to revise the Wagner act, but unless the labor-management picture is a lot brighter by next fall, complete revision of this law is anticipated. The Wagner act, originally passed for the purpose of promoting labor peace, is now considered by many congressmen to have been one of the chief factors in encouraging the strike epidemic.

Statisticians here are gathering together all kinds of figures to try to find how much production has been delayed by the coal strike and the railroad strike. The figures haven't yet been analyzed, but it is indicated that the damage done may take many months to repair. And the end is not in sight—over 1,000 new strikes are now on labor's program.

Although the labor crisis has overshadowed all other considerations here, there is much speculation on the navy's revelation that it has a new weapon which puts the atomic bomb in the horse-and-buggy class. From the little information that has been released, it seems that this terrible new weapon is a biological one—probably a means of destroying masses of people by the spreading of deadly germs. It is understood that this weapon—which those who know about are praying will never have to be used—is completed in every detail. So far as is known it is a discovery which is entirely an American secret.
During the war it was feared on many occasions that the Germans, in desperation, might start germ warfare, since they were known to have done much research in this direction. But apparently our new weapon is so powerful in its destructive power that no nation would consider inviting that type of war now.

HOUSE AND HOME

Potato salad season is at hand but you may not like this hot potato salad until the weather warrants a good chilled one. In either event, with potato salad less sandwiches will be needed.

Hot Potato Salad.

Three cups cooked diced potatoes, 4 slices bacon, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup vinegar, 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 egg, ½ cup sliced green onions, ¼ teaspoon powdered mustard.

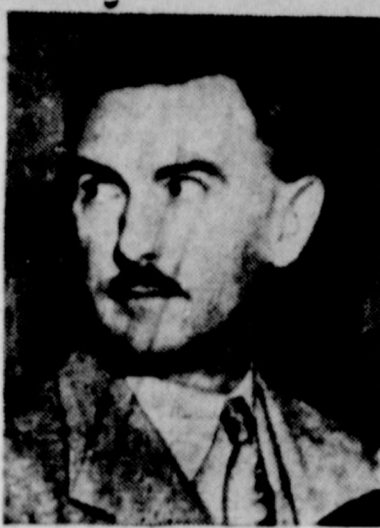

Fry bacon until crisp and drain off fat. There should be 4 tablespoons. Stir flour into bacon fat, cooking until bubbly and perfectly smooth. Add sugar, salt and mustard. When blended stir in vinegar and lemon juice and cook and stir constantly until thickened and smooth. Add slightly beaten egg and remove from heat. Add crumbled crisp bacon to dressing. Combine potatoes and onion and add to dressing. Toss lightly until well coated and serve at once.

Mashed potatoes make an acceptable substitute for toast and patty shells in many instances.

If you are serving creamed chicken or creamed fish, make nests of plain mashed potatoes and put the creamed food in them. Or add a well beaten egg to two cups of mashed potatoes, shape into nests on a well-oiled baking sheet and slip into a hot oven until delicately brown.

Mashed potatoes will make a good topping for a meat pie in place of biscuit dough. Here again you can add a well-beaten egg to the mashed potatoes before spreading them over the meat mixture in the baking dish. Or you can use the mashed potatoes plain and pour an egg slightly beaten with a little milk over the top before putting in the oven.

Instead of poached egg on toast, make nests of mashed potatoes on a well-oiled baking sheet, drop an egg in each nest and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 15 minutes or until egg is set. Season with salt and pepper and dot with margarine before baking.

STRIKES, BOMBS AND NYLONS

Intelligent American women are interested in what's going to happen about the United Nations, how the strikes are going to be stopped...

But if all feminine conversation was put end to end and measured, there is little doubt that the most discussed question of the day would be: "Where can I buy nylon?"

Perhaps this is as it should be. We, as a people may be wiped off the face of the earth if the United Nations doesn't work out. We may end up worse off than some of the European countries if labor continues to refuse to work.

But we can't spend all of our time worrying about those things which seem so incapable of solution. Better, now and then, to attack a lesser problem which may end in a personal victory.

CAN YOU NAME THEM?

We often wonder how many of our readers ever write their views on public questions to their representatives in congress.

For in our travels around this district we find that many voters not only admit never having had any contact with their spokesmen in Washington, but some don't even know the names of their two senators and one representative.

We believe a lot of the troubles in our country are due to this laissez-faire attitude on the part of the citizenry of the whole United States. Unless we tell our "servants" in Washington what we want them to do, we can't blame them too much when they do as they darn please.

INVESTIGATE WHAT YOU FEAR:

In the night, when all is silent around us, our imagination is increased, and we are more inclined to hear sudden and very strange and weird sounds — and often we fear.

Let a curtain roll up suddenly, making an unfamiliar noise and we are startled, alarmed and filled with fear.

But if we get up and investigate the cause of that sudden shock, we go back to bed and fall asleep.

The next night two or three curtains can roll up suddenly, or one at a time, and we will not turn an ear off the pillow. We understand.

Now true it is that we are not inclined to fear a lot of things that do not amount to much when we understand them better.

Understanding is a fear-destroying system that seldom ever fails to work.

It is more often anticipation of trouble than it is the realization of misfortune that unfits us for doing our best. Investigate what you fear. It helps.

Fear kills thousands of men, torments millions of men and buries alive countless numbers of men.

Fear deadens one's will, squanders all possible success, cramps men into a coffin here on earth — makes a mummy of a man.

Fear upsets your reason and breaks the contact in business, in the home, in pleasure — breaks the contact with life.

Three Groups of Eczema

By Dr. J. B. Warren

There are three groups of eczema. 1. Allergic eczema (being sensitive or allergic to certain substances). 2. Local eczema (eczema in one local part of the body due to that part of the body, usually hands or face, coming in contact with certain substances). 3. The form of eczema due to the way the body processes handle certain foods, or to an over-sensitive nervous condition. Treatment depends upon the cause.

Who would guess that one of the legendary figures of baseball is still in uniform? Well, he is.

Honus Wagner, who with Connie Mack shares the title, "Grand Old Man of Baseball," is coaching the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Honus has been in major league ball for 50 years. At 75, he is still able to show the young squirts a few things. Many sports experts consider him the greatest all-around player in history, with the possible exception of Ty Cobb.

The first 300 game in an American Bowling congress championship meet since 1941 was rolled by Leo Rodak of Santa Monica, Calif. This is the 10th perfect game ever bowled in the championships. It is the first such feat for a Californian.

Big money is the keynote of all sports events today. The class of the performers is secondary. It is expected that 5 billion dollars will be wagered on horse races this season, both at tracks and at handbooks. In the Kentucky Derby, more than $1,200,000 was bet on one race.

The Louis-Corn fight is likely to gross 3 million dollars, when 90,000 cash customers are packed into the arena. The $100 tickets are going in big blocks, and the cheaper seats are hard to get — that is, the $16 and $20 duets.

One of the most all-around sportsmen is Stanwood Baumgartner, now a sports writer on the Philadelphia Inquirer. During his career at the U. of Chicago he played baseball, football and basketball. He pitched for the Phillies and the Athletics for a time. Later he came into prominence as a wrestling referee.

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians is co-author of a manual for high school athletes. Byron Nelson, the golf whiz, claims that a fractured thumb that was improperly set threw him off his game and thus gave Sammy Snead the advantage in some of their contests. Col. Heinie Miller of the marines is 58, but is back at Maryland U. as boxing coach.

DEFEATS INFERIORITY COMPLEX WOULD you like to hear about a nine-year-old boy with a liability that might have helped to develop an inferiority complex? The story is about the son of Lee Shippey, Los Angeles columnist and author of "The Great American Family," a book which has received high praise and been translated into Braille both in America and in England.

Homer Croy's little daughter had a party in Hollywood. John Shippey was invited. It was his first big party and he had looked forward to it for days.

Lee piloted the boy to the party, but he did not discover until he was about to deliver him at the door that the lad was wearing his old shoes, and that one of them had a sole that was flapping open and shut like the mouth of a fish out of water.

Lee suggested going home, but John insisted that it didn't matter. So Lee gave in, though when he left the lad among the group of carefully dressed children, he felt sorry for him. He would probably be taunted in the cruel ways that innocent little children practice.

Sure enough, when Lee returned, John was surrounded by a group of little boys and girls emitting peals of laughter. Lee blamed himself for letting the boy stay.

But, to Lee's astonishment, the children were not laughing AT John, but WITH him. John was the lion of the hour, the hit of the show, the most popular child there.

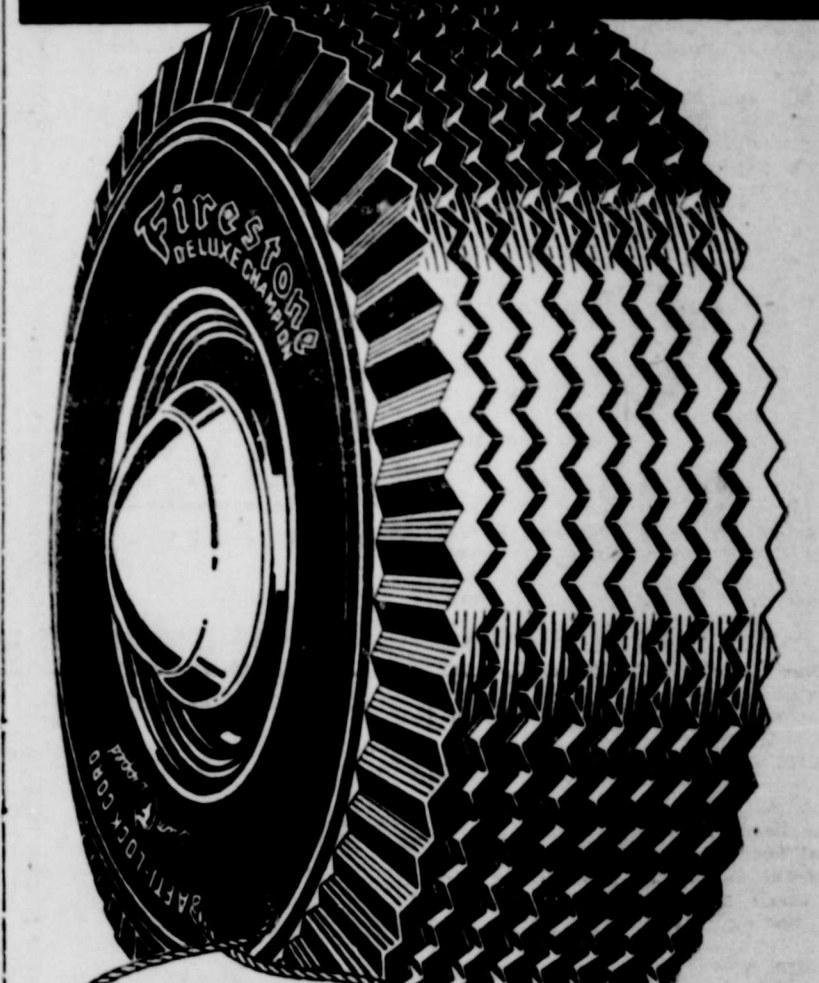

Laughs went up; a smart-alecky little boy made a derisive remark. It was then that John rose to the occasion and established a precedent for himself that I hope he follows all his life. He turned ridicule into applause. He looked at the humiliating shoe proudly and flapped the sole. The children laughed.

The children were fascinated. John could do something that no other child at the party could! Soon two other little boys were discovered diligently trying to loosen the soles of their shoes.

BABY SITTERS, INC. . . .

Five discharged servicemen, now attending Washington, D. C., schools, have gone into business as University Baby Sitters, Inc. John D. Fountain, 22, is catching up with his studies while minding Jane Springmann.

"Fallen Angel" Is Brilliant Trend In Screen Dramas

Acclaimed as setting a brilliant new trend in film dramas of suspense and shock, "Fallen Angel," the new 20th Century-Fox hit starring Alice Faye, Dana Andrews and Linda Darnell, opens Sunday at the Hico Theatre.

It was with "Laura" that 20th Century-Fox first threw Hollywood into a dither by wandering far afield from the straight and narrow in conventional mystery fields with its daring film treatment. The sensational success of that picture choked the all-too-ready cries of "I told you so" deep in the throats of the Hollywood and Vine cynics.

Today, "Fallen Angel" is carrying on from where "Laura" left off, with a net result that it is being hailed unanimously as the most gripping drama of desire and murder the screen has ever known—out-thrilling its memorable predecessor for sheer, shocking suspense by a wide, boxoffice-healthy margin.

Produced and directed by Otto Preminger (of "Laura" fame), "Fallen Angel" brings Alice Faye back to the screen for her first picture in two years—and in her first all-dramatic role.

Mrs. Joe Bush is invited to be the guest of the manager of the Hico Theatre at this show. Bring this reader.

"That Night With You" Is Romantic Preview Picture

A new combination of Hollywood stars is offered in "That Night With You," the musical film from Universal which comes to the Hico Theatre as Saturday midnight feature.

Franchot Tone, Susanna Foster, Louise Albritton and David Bruce comprise the quartet of stellar personalities. The picture was directed by William A. Seiter, a veteran of many major Hollywood successes.

The story in which Suzy, Tone and Louise and Bruce will be seen is one of the more delightful to emerge from Hollywood's film shops in some time. It is a timeless fable that breezes in and out of a variety of settings. These range from a New York penthouse to a wholesale food market, and include such interesting spots as a de luxe mountain cabin, a lunch diner and an ultra night club.

With the action comes an accompaniment of tuneful music. Some of this includes original arrangements of numbers by Tschalkowsky and Rossini, mingled with some brand new melodies.

Miss Foster not only sings, she also dances with a corps de ballet in several routines devised by Lester Horton, the well known ballet-master.

Mrs. S. E. Goodloe is invited to see this picture as guest of the Hico Theatre.

"San Antonio" At The Hico Tuesday Is Technicolor Hit

The southwest of yesterday majestic in its beauty and alive in excitement, adventure and romance, lives again on the screen of the Hico Theatre where Warner Bros.' new outdoor drama, "San Antonio," filmed in glorious technicolor, opens Tuesday night, and continuing through Wednesday with a superb cast of players headed by stars Errol Flynn and Alexis Smith. As translated by the camera lens from an original screen play by Alan LeMay and W. R. Burnett, "San Antonio" emerges as a colorful western film that is just right in every detail.

Briefly the story is concerned with an era in Texas history when her great nomadic cattle herds were preyed upon by highly organized bands of night raiders, in an effort to decimate the herds and ruin the men who owned them. Barbed wire and fences had not yet made its appearance on the free range of Texas and it was left to the ranchers themselves to defend both their lives and their lands from the predatory outlaws.

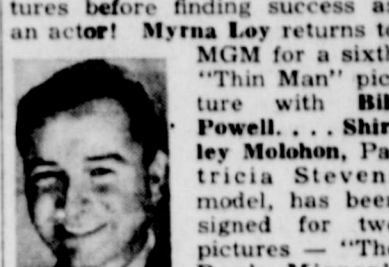

Buck Lively is invited to see this picture on Tuesday. Bring this ad.

When Durham's Cocci-Dine in their feed and drinking water can save them so easily. PEEK AT THE STARS

GARY COOPER is moaning low these days cause a piece of property he turned down last year at $20,000 is now valued at $120,000. . . . Preston Foster confided on the set of "Tangler," that he failed in 54 business ventures before finding success as an actor! Myrna Loy returns to MGM for a sixth "Thin Man" picture with Bill Powell. . . . Shirley Molohon, Patricia Stevens model, has been signed for two pictures—"The Dark Mirror" and Rita Hayworth's "Down to Earth."

Jack Owens

Jack Owens' latest song "Cynthia's in Love," was recently introduced by Perry Como on his Supper Club program . . . sounds like a hit for the popular cruising crooner. . . . Bob Atcher, CBS' singer of folklore, composed his theme song, which now draws more requests from fans than any other song in his repertoire. . . . Poems and pistols are the hobby of Franklyn McCormack, narrator on ABC's Hymns of All Churches. . . . His collection of 75 firearms includes guns of Wild Bill Hickock, Buffalo Bill Cody and Thomas Jefferson.

Jorja on Our Mind

More stars turning authors—Ida Lupino, Cornel Wilde and Robert Alda, all of whom have written screen stories. . . . Wilde, who has always harbored an ambition to play Lord Byron, worked painstakingly on an adaptation of the great poet's life, only to have producers clamoring to buy it. . . . for other actors. Watch that cute Jorja Curtright who made such an auspicious debut in "Whistle Stop."

Hildegard, NBC's chanteuse, will turn fashion columnist soon. . . . Eve Arden, of NBC's Village Store, has been chosen as the most "sanely" dressed woman in radio by the International Artists committee. . . . that is what we'd consider a rather dubious honor.

SINGING AT CARLTON

Next Sunday, June 9, at 2:00 o'clock the Carlton Singing Class meets for its regular slugging at the Carlton Baptist Church. Many good singers are expected, according to J. W. Jordan, and it is hoped that a good crowd will be on hand, he added. The general public has a cordial invitation to attend.

The new Silvertown tire with a wider, flatter tread puts more rubber where you need it—on the road! It has a stronger body with tougher cords and more of them plus two breaker strips to cushion sudden blows that send that hub cap flying on Jimmie Lynch's car. Result? A tire that's safer than prewar tires because it grips the road better when moving, hugs it tighter in stopping. A tire that in laboratory tests resists bruising better than prewar tires. A tire that actually OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

Adequate wiring is the key to full enjoyment of electrical conveniences to come

In planning your home of tomorrow make sure that the wiring will be adequate to take care of the many new appliances you will be using.

If your home is inadequately wired, you will be unable to enjoy the full measure of better living from your electric servants. Wiring that is too small drops voltage and makes your appliances work longer with half-hearted energy. Your appliances cost more to operate and give you less satisfactory service.

Discuss adequate wiring completely with your architect or building contractor. The difference between "skimpy" wiring and adequate wiring is small in cash, but great in satisfaction.

What Adequate Wiring Is and Does

Adequate wiring simply means an adequate service entrance, enough circuits of large enough wire and plenty of outlets and switches. Adequate wiring assures full-strength current at every outlet, freedom from blown fuses due to overloads, plug-in space for all your appliances and switches conveniently located for easy use.

Fairy

By Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We have had fair weather for the past few days and we've been informed that Edd Allison said the rainy season would end with last week. Well, we just hope he's right, as we're going to need some fair weather to save the grain crop in this section.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lewis was conveyed to a Waco hospital last week. He has been ill several days of a bone infection of the leg, which has developed white swellings. We've been informed. He also spent several days at the Hamilton hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Blount and their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howell (Buster) Blount of San Antonio spent from Friday until Sunday here visiting with old neighbors and friends and also with Mrs. Guy Blount's mother and brother, Mrs. Webb and son, J. D., of near Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Dooley Whitaker have moved from the Miller farm to the Sibley ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice Edwards visited last Sunday at Hico in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Allison and family.

Buster Glenn has returned home after spending several days at Mineral Wells for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Britton Willford of Hamilton were recent visitors in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Willford.

Mrs. Curtis Marshall of Los Angeles, Calif., stopped for a short visit in our home and also visited in the home of our sister, Mrs. Gladys Cox, Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Marshall will be remembered as Mrs. Vera (Beah) Broyles Smith. She and Mr. Smith formerly resided in the Mt. Pleasant community where she and Mrs. Cox were neighbors, and too she was one of our girl friends.

She came down to visit her mother, Mrs. Joe Broyles, who has been very ill at the home of her daughter of Stephenville. Mrs. Marshall was enroute to the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Broyles, of near Lanham. She plans to go on to Houston to visit in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Smith and promised to come back by and pay us a longer visit before returning home.

It had been more than 25 years since we had had the pleasure of being with her and she thought she might have us a bit confused as to her identity when she walked up to our door, but we readily recognized her. We enjoyed her short visit so much and hope she will be able to keep her promise and pay us that longer visit.

Mrs. V. H. Heyroth of Gatesville visited here Sunday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. A. L. Newman, and other relatives. Her husband accompanied her to the home of his brother and sister, Louis Heyroth and Mrs. Beatrice Ogleby of near Lanham and visited with them. Ruby Jean Allison of Dublin returned with Mrs. Heyroth to spend a few days with Mrs. Heyroth's little granddaughter, Barbara Jean Newton, who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Heyroth.

Rev. and Mrs. Oran Columbus and small daughter, Mr. Jim Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brunson and Mrs. Brittle Little visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Brummitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Parker and little son visited with relatives at Agee last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nolan and family of Blue Ridge were visiting Sunday in the Marvin Nolan and Horace Moore homes.

Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and little daughter, Carolyn, visited last Sunday in the home of her husband's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones and family of Lanham.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison of Dublin spent Sunday night here. Their small son, Darrel, who had spent the past week here returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Grimes and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richardson attended singing at Hico Sunday afternoon.

Duffau

By Elmer Gleescke

Farmers are very busy in the corn, cotton, peanut and grain fields this week. All we need is continued sunshine such as we enjoy this week. The grain is spotted, of course, and most spots are very light.

Henry Killion and wife of near Dublin visited Mrs. Killion's son, Paek Brown, and family Sunday.

W. E. Ledbetter and family of Carlton visited Mrs. Ledbetter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eck Bell, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Adolph Cowan of Ellenville and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cowan of Breckenridge visited in the E. E. Burgan home Sunday. Also Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parker of Fort Worth spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Burgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burgan.

Alva Deskins and family visited George Bowie and family Sunday. The Deskins live in Abilene.

The following visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Elkins Sunday: Earl, a son of Dallas; Mrs. Clara Duzan, a daughter, and Mrs. Lucille Benson, a granddaughter, both of Hico.

Stanley Roach made a trip to Fort Worth with a load of hogs Monday.

J. C. Kilcrease is in the Stephenville Hospital where he underwent a minor operation.

We understand we will soon lose the W. A. Jenkins family, who bought the Fallon store and after a few weeks sold out to the Anderson brothers of near Dublin. They have bought some property in Hico where they will reside as soon as possible.
