Veterans' News

Veterans Administration hospitals in the Southwest have been equipped with the newest type of portable, aluminum "lungs" in a move to reduce the threat of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis).

A modern adaptation of the "iron lung", the lighter respirator can be used in an airplane, automobile or train as well as in a hospital, Dr. Lee D. Cady, VA's medical director in the Southwest, said.

Dr. Cady said a patient can sit up, lie down, or even walk about in his room while wearing the new device, which covers only the chest.

While its chief use will be for polio victims, the aluminum lung can be used for artificial respiration in several other types of medical emergencies.

Wilfred M. Bailey, 22, one of the 4,000 students attending Southern Methodist University in Dallas under the VA educational program, has put aside his flying gear and Navy Cross to train for the ministry.

The stocky Texan was awarded the Navy decoration for his part in sinking a Jap aircraft carrier during the second battle of the Philippine Sea.

"I suppose," he said, "that becoming a minister always has been my plan. But it didn't completely formulate itself in my mind until I got out there above the Pacific. Seeing my comrades' names disappear from the roster, one by one, had something to do with it."

Bailey is serving as assistant pastor in a Dallas church. He will enter the theology school at Southern Methodist University next fall after completing preparatory work.

Less Livestock On Texas Market Than Last Year

Austin, Nov. 5.—Evidence of less livestock on the market in Texas during September is noticed in a report from the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas that 8,025 carloads were shipped in September, but that this total was 15 per cent below the August 1946 shipments and 24 per cent less than September 1945 shipments.

The largest monthly decrease was registered in shipments of hogs, which totaled only 89 carloads in September, compared with 317 in August.

Sheep shipments gained during the month, as the 2,052 carloads were 12 per cent above August shipments, but 21 per cent lower than the total reported last year.

Cattle shipments totaled 4,627 carloads, and were down 27 per cent from August, and 21 per cent lower than September 1945.

Voters Go to Polls Twice This Week; Amendments Carry

Local voters went to the polls throughout the rainy weather Tuesday to register their choices in the general election. As usual, the Hico box went Democratic, but there was quite a scattering of votes for the Republican ticket...

A write-in movement also developed in the commissioner's voting in the local box, causing a hot contest between Fern Jordan, Democratic nominee, and Bob Hancock, incumbent, who trailed in the Democratic primary.

An unofficial report from the four boxes of the precinct, however, gave the nominee a safe margin in totals from Hico, Fair, Carlton and Olin.

Two hundred and twenty-two ballots were counted, which is heavier than usual here in a general election.

All three of the amendments voted on Tuesday on the same ballot are reported to have carried here, as well as over the State. They were the amendment to enable payment for a building at John Tarleton College; one tagged the "Good Roads" amendment, which freezes highway tax funds for school and road purposes; and one giving authority for pensions and other benefits to State employees.

Thursday the voters went to the polls again to pass on another amendment to authorize the State to issue bonds totaling $25,000,000 and administer the resulting fund for eight years. The fund would be used for the purchase of land for sale to veterans of World War II. Through an error in passage, the amendment was submitted for a Thursday vote instead of at the general election Tuesday.

Only 67 votes had been cast up to 4:30, and indications were that this amendment also would carry in the tight voting.

Sunday, Nov. 10, Is Homecoming Day At Baptist Church

Hico Baptists are staging a Home-Coming next Sunday that promises to bring many old timers back to the home church, which dates back for a quarter of a century in the eighteen hundreds. Already numerous people who once lived here and held membership with the church have indicated that they plan to be on hand for the day...

The day's program will begin with the regular Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock in the morning, followed by the regular worship hour, at which time visiting old-timers will be greeted and made to feel their welcome.

The Rev. Otis O. Holladay, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Iraan, Pecos county, will preach the morning sermon. This talented and cultured young preacher began his life in this community and held his first church membership in the local church, and was licensed to preach by it about ten years ago. His wife and little daughter will accompany him.

A picnic lunch will be served at the church at the noon hour. A hundred pounds of barbecued meat has been arranged for to supplement the meal, and the church members will bring baskets filled with edibles.

At 1:30 in the afternoon another session will begin and then the visitors will have their say after being recognized. The speakers at this session will be several, among them Pastor Bob Jenkins of Bangs who was reared in this community and held membership here and was licensed to preach by the local church. The Rev. Walter McKenzie of Dallas has indicated his intention of being present at this time, as has Dr. D. D. Tidwell, teacher of history in Howard Payne College, Brownwood. Testimonies will be heard in this meeting from any who will speak, and good singing will also be had.

The evening services will conclude the celebration. At that time the Rev. Alvin Swindell of Rocksprings, Texas, a former pastor much beloved, will be the speaker. Other items than those mentioned will be sandwiched in through the whole day's program.

If the weather is favorable there is every reason to believe that there will be a large attendance, and a very happy time for the church and its pastor and members. One good woman has indicated her intention of coming all the way from San Antonio, she being Miss Constance Allen.

A general invitation is given to the people of the community and surrounding communities to attend any one or all of the services. So says Pastor O. D. Carpenter, and the invitation is echoed by all his helpers.

A total of $159.25 was made up at Hico, the chairman reported.

WITH THE COLORS

EX-TIGER FROM HICO STAR FOOTBALL PLAYER IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

Wheeler Field, T. H. October 28, 1946.

Dear Mr. Holford: Just a line to let you know that I am still in circulation.

I have been here in the Hawaiian Islands for about three months and so far like it very much. I am stationed here at Wheeler Field, and am assigned duties as Post Exchange Officer and Ground Safety Officer in addition to my flying.

I am sending an edition of the "Windsock" which is a weekly publication here on the field. As you can notice, I am also playing football and my "Hico High" training is a great help to me.

I often think of Hico and my friends there, and I am kept posted on the latest news by the Hico News Review that Mom sends me. I will probably be here for some time, and things will be swell when I get Opal and Randy over here with me, which will be soon, I hope. They are still in Waco with Mom and Dad.

Always a friend, O. D.

Letters from friends are always appreciated by the editor, especially the one above from a young man who will always remember Hico.

He modestly passes over his football playing in Hawaii in his letter, but the following remarks were found in an article in the paper he sent, carrying his picture looking natural as ever:

"Who is that Number 10?" is the question Wheeler Field's football enthusiasts have been asking the past few weeks. He is none other than 1st Lt. O. D. Cunningham, PX officer and football player extraordinary.

Lieutenant Cunningham, who is from Waco, Tex., played four years of high school ball at Hico, Tex., high school from 1936 to 1940. He spent two years as a center and in his last two seasons played fullback.

Cunningham's line plunges and offensive play have made him the hero of the Wingmen eleven. It was Cunningham who carried the ball across in the opening quarter against Schofield, and he did it twice in the final minutes of the Naval Receiving Station game. The husky fullback whose weight and power are his main assets, has improved steadily since his first game against Naval Air Station. He should reach his peak against Hawaiian Artillery Command Saturday.

"We broke the ice against Naval Receiving so our season should improve from now on. The team's spirit has improved greatly," says Lieutenant Cunningham.

Pvt. Vernon Lee Brewer, who is stationed with the 15th Air Force at Roswell, New Mexico, visited in Hico this week, while home to see his parents and family at Stephenville. Young Brewer, who had sea duty with the Navy during and after the war, has been in the army for about eight months. His wife and child make their home in San Antonio.

McLennan County Singers Ask Visitors To Meeting Sunday

McLennan County Singing Association welcomes the public to Waco at the Tabernacle Baptist Church the second Sunday in November (Nov. 10) at 11:30 a. m., according to President Carl McGinty.

Local singers will serve out-of-county singers lunch in church dining room, according to Pastor A. Reilly Copeland, who also invites the public to tune in on his Sunday broadcasts at 7:30 a. m. over WACO and KANB, and at 6:30 a. m. over KRIV.

By Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We, like many other parts of Texas, received a drenching rain Sunday afternoon, accompanied by some wind. However no damage has been reported from wind. And today (Tuesday) we have cold temperatures with a continued drizzle of rain, which has fallen since Sunday.

The Halloween Carnival Wednesday night of last week was enjoyed by a large crowd. Thanks to our faculty and others who had a part in making the affair a success.

Elzie Lee Parks, who was expected in from Fort San Houston Wednesday of last week, didn't arrive until Saturday. He accompanied his sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fulbright and baby and Miss Cleoyone Parks of Kerrville, home, where the Parks family enjoyed a pleasant family reunion over the week end, having all their children and grandchildren home for the occasion. Other relatives here to meet Elzie Lee on his return were his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Driver and family of Dallas. It had been several years since Elzie Lee had met his only brother, Audie, the latter being overseas and Elzie Lee going over before Audie's return.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Edwards are making preparations to take their little daughter, Betty Lou, to Houston next Sunday where she will receive treatment and training at an institution there for spastic children. Little Betty Lou who is eleven years old, has been a spastic victim since birth. Her parents have tried various forms of treatment, in an effort to help her, all of which has been an expense. Mrs. Edwards learned of the Houston institution and has also been communicating with Mrs. August Krueger of Meridian who is backing a move to obtain State aid for the treatment of spastic children, and at once began to make plans to take Betty Lou to Houston. Our sister, Mrs. Gladys Cox, who had been reading Mrs. Krueger's articles in the Star Telegram and knowing of Mrs. Edwards' plans, felt that she wanted to aid financially in the treatment of Betty Lou and felt sure many others would also, so she headed the list with $10.00, filled her car with gas and set out to give others an opportunity to have a part in this worthy deed. She found that her desire was met by an ardent response. She obtained about two hundred dollars in donations, the largest donation being $35.00 given by the Church of Christ at Fairy.

If there are any who failed to have an opportunity to help and you would like to have a part, you may leave your donations at the post office, Parks store, or with Mrs. Cox. May God bless everyone who helped, whether your donation was large or small, and may you be rewarded many times for your kind deed. Though the amount received will only cover a small portion of the actual expense, we feel sure that you have been made happier by knowing you have had a part. And too, let's not forget this little one and others in our prayers that they may be restored to normal health as your child and mine. And may God bless Mrs. Krueger—may she be rewarded by accomplishing the move she is backing to obtain State aid for treatment and training of spastic children.

Corporal and Mrs. Vernon Moore are here visiting in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Massengale. He has been stationed at Galveston and expects to receive his discharge in a few weeks.

Mrs. Printis Newman received word from her mother, Mrs. Deniece Pendleton of Cranfills Gap, last Friday telling her of the death of her little nephew, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pendleton of Dallas. The baby was their first-born and weighed eleven pounds. The mother was reported to be resting well. We extend sympathy to these young parents and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hutton of Hico and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blakley of near Fairy spent Sunday in the home of their daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hutton and Carolyn Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Jones and children, Neta Ruth and Johnnie, visited Friday night of last week in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, and Carolyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sellheimer and little son of Lund Valley visited here Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and brother, Teale Bell.

Misses Darline and Patsy Ann Hoover of Stephenville spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley and little daughter of Otton, Texas visited here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCoy and other relatives. Mr. Blakley stated he set out to find some cotton pickers and came so close, they decided to come on down for a short visit anyway. Mr. Blakley expects to make 50 or more bales of cotton, if weather conditions don't hinder the gathering of the crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Dickerson visited Saturday in the home of his sister, Mrs. Brittle Little.

The writer and husband were in Gatesville Monday for treatment at the Balze Clinic. We noticed on the way, branches broken from trees below Lanham, presumably by the wind Sunday afternoon, as it was reported to have been almost a storm in that section.

The athletic program in Veterans Administration hospitals is designed to hasten the return of veteran-patients to normal life.

Six Inch Sermon
By REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Paul Finds the Church at Philippi.
Lesson for November 10: Acts 16:11-15; Philippians 2:5-11.
Memory Selection: Philippians 4:13.

In the second missionary journey, Paul and Barnabas, disagreeing over John Mark, separated. The latter took Mark and went to Cyprus; Paul, choosing Silas for his companion, went through Syria and Cilicia "confirming the churches." At Derbe was found a young man named Timothy who had become a leader in the church there.

Paul planned to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit prevented, and he went to Troas, near the battleground of the Trojan war. There in a vision by night he saw the Macedonian calling for help. Thus the Spirit was leading him away from Bithynia to Europe. At this point in the record the "we" sections begin, indicating that the author, Luke, was with Paul and Silas.

Crossing the Aegean sea, Paul entered Europe. On the Sabbath, in Philippi, the disciples went to a place of prayer by the river, where certain devout women were accustomed to gather. Evidently there was no synagogue in the city. The men seemingly were not concerned to attend, and the first Christian church in Europe was composed of women.

In his Epistle to the Philippians, Paul wrote of the "mind of Christ." This was the mind to serve, as Paul indicates. Let us try to live more as Jesus lived, to love more as he loved, and to serve more as he served, because we first think as Jesus thought, this mind being in us "which was also in Christ Jesus."

Veterans who have been denied Veterans Administration benefits for which they have filed claims may appeal to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs for final decisions by the Board of Veterans Appeals.

SENIOR NEWS

Hallowe'en night seemed to have had its effect on everyone. School on Friday was used mostly for sleeping. Lee Roy seemed to have a slight hangover and Velton and H. C. were nursing flat billfolds. But over all was the quiet yawn of the sleepy.
The Tigers go to Eastland tonight to tangle with that team. Everybody is expecting a tough game, but we're betting on you know who.

Everyone that looked at the bulletin board this week came away much brighter. The notice which interested everyone so much was the one about "Holiday—November 11." We think a slight let-up in school is due as after we have been working so hard.

JUNIOR NEWS

We all had a big time Hallowe'en—also a lot of sleepy Juniors on Friday morning.

This week, we will have the ideal girl that the Junior boys have chosen from the characteristics of the Junior girls.

Their ideal girl would have the hair of Betty Dodd, the smile of Jeanette Dowdy, the teeth of Lucy Talley, she would wear the clothes of Louise Higginbotham, make the grades of Marlene Adams, have the eyes of Patsy Roberts, be energetic like Jean Caughey, be entertaining like Janelle Dowdy, be friendly like Joan Goughly, have the manners of Margie Lee Derrick, and have the personality of Mary Nell Battershell.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Who is that coming down the hall with those bright eyes glistening? There goes Ralph Ellis, so it must be Pat Meador. She has green eyes, dark hair and is about this tall and that short, so that makes her about right. I don't know why she always has such a good time on Saturday night, but then does anyone? Really, she is a likable girl and has many friends in high school and out.

Why doesn't someone create some excitement or kill someone, so I can put it in the paper?

FRESHMAN NEWS

This week Louise Barnett will be interviewed. Louise has light brown hair, and blue eyes. She is five feet three inches tall and her favorites are: Actor and actress, Robert Walker and Joan Leslie; food, chicken with dressing; dessert, chocolate cake; subject, homemaking; and her favorite color is blue. Louise is the timid type and is very sweet, which means she has many friends and no enemies.

F. F. A. NEWS

Hallowe'en this year brought many surprises to the F. F. A. boys. To start the day right, early Thursday morning, we discovered our sow had farrowed seventeen pigs.

Thursday night, the Homemaking girls and the F. F. A. boys had a party in the gym. Almost everyone was present and had a very good time. The F. F. A. boys wish to thank the ladies that planned and helped in the carrying out of the party.

NEW ATOMIC ELEMENT . . .
Discovery of the new element—neptunium 237—recently announced by Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, University of California. The new element lacks the rapid chain reacting properties of plutonium, however, and is therefore impractical for producing atomic bombs. Dr. Seaborg said it would be important for industrial use of atomic power

Hoffman for giving us some chairs. Also I am saying for the band and myself, thanks to the people for making it possible for us to have a band.

I have been told that I left out a member of the band when I turned in a list, last week. She is Betty Jo Heffner, and she plays the sax.

We enjoyed Mrs. Macy's visit to the band room. She played with us and is almost as good as Tommy Dorsey when it comes to the trombone.

Last, but not least, comes our thanks to Mr. Macy for his patience and fortitude in teaching us to play. Some day, we hope to show him that all his efforts were not in vain, no matter how he may feel now.

REFLECTIONS

All the goblins and ghosts have gone back to their cubbyholes, now that Hallowe'en is over, and we won't be worried with them for a whole year, but wait! What's this? Why, it's a cob-web-covered creature which looks like it might've been laid over from Hallowe'en. It's at least eight feet tall and it has large green eyes, fringed by long eyelashes which have been plaited and tied with cob-webs. It carries a crystal ball in one hand, a telescope in another, and a magnifying glass in the third. Its face is solemn and its look intent as though listening to a conversation which is being carried on at least twenty yards away. (It has extremely large ears). It takes immense steps and seems to be everywhere at the same time, but it appears to be hampered by infinitesimal characters, squeaking in their strident voices. "Leave me out of the Crystal Ball this week!" As you no doubt have guessed, by now, this is Zinzaga, who, although it sees all, knows all, and could tell all but doesn't, is out on the track of some gossip with which to regale you the following Friday.

WORM'S EYE VIEW

There has been quite a bit of discussion about the Worm's name and its pronunciation. It is pronounced Nil-won-lowi-in. But if anyone can offer a good nickname, turn it in to the editor of The Mirror and it will be considered.

If you have been wondering who the worm is viewing this week, you can stop right now. His sights are turned on a Junior, Walter Latham by name. Walter has red hair, freckles, and blue eyes, but there his resemblance to a more famous carrot-top ends. Mr. Latham is quite a football player and quite a character. Even with his red hair and all, we have yet to see him lose his temper. He's real friendly, and he whistles a lot, at girls of course. He's just bursting with personality, and his muscles are quite impressive too. But why are we going to all this trouble to let you know what he's like?—just ask that certain sophomore.

CRYSTAL BALL

Since no one liked last week's Crystal Ball without names, I'll put a few in this week. It has come to me in a round-about way that some certain people do not want their names in the paper. If this is true, I wish they would tell the editor instead of Margie Nell Land who is not even concerned.

Hallowe'en brought several spooks together. For instance, Pat M. and Ralph E. LaVerne P. and Ralph T. who were at the Home Economics-F. F. A. party.

One spook by the name of D. S. came from Stephenville to see D. L.

I see some ghostly looking figures together at the party at the club house Thursday. I can just barely make them out, but I believe its M. N. L. and B. E.; M. T. and N. G.; V. H. and her traveling salesman. It looks as if they are all enjoying themselves very much.

R. J. R. is wearing a certain girl's locket. They say she is from Fredell.
Wonder what's happened between B. J. and M. S. M. was with G. R. Thursday night. B. R. and B. B. were along also.
R. E. and P. M. were together again Saturday night and so were M. L. and B. E.; W. D. H. and D. H.
C. B. had quite a problem on his hands to keep F. J. B. quiet Saturday night.

Hico, Tex., Friday, Nov. 8, 1946.

This Week in WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Revelations and charges of John Rogge, special assistant to the attorney general and one of the American prosecutors at the Nuernberg trials of Nazi criminals, linking John L. Lewis, Sen. Burton Wheeler, former President Hoover and others with Herman Goering and other Nazi leaders with efforts of the Nazi government to defeat the late President Roosevelt at the polls, and for a negotiated peace, has official Washington in a jitter.

Rogge is not a novice. He was the government's prosecutor in cleaning up the Pendergast ring in Kansas City, in running down the Huey Long outfit in New Orleans and in other notable clean-ups. He has filed a report with the attorney general of the United States, which report has not been published. Officials here believe that Attorney General Clark should either make the report public, if there is documentary evidence to back it up, or that the attorney general should repudiate the charges if there is no such evidence.

Particularly at this time when Lewis has challenged the government with an indirect ultimatum of a coal strike against the government unless Secretary Krug reopens the contract with his miners, do persons here believe the picture should be cleared one way or another. If Lewis did attempt, as the Rogge charges say, to traffic with the enemies of this country, either to furnish them oil for the German navy or to interfere in an American election, then the time to know is now. If he did not, then he should be cleared.

Blackmailing the government seems to be epidemic in nature. One group having done it successfully, namely the cattlemen and packers, then it was natural for others to try it. Now the latest wrinkle is the pistol-pointing of the landlords at the government in a "renting strike" by apartment house owners in Seattle. And it appears they are gaining support elsewhere in the nation. Landlords, of course, have the legal right vested in their property rights.

Successful Parenthood

BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS Associate Editor, Parents Magazine

I WON'T pick up that paper—it's on Sally's side of the room." This is a familiar ultimatum in families where sisters (or brothers) have to share a bedroom. And yet dividing the space, giving each his own preserves, is the only way to prevent utter confusion. And it's the best way to divide responsibility for room care, too.

But there doesn't have to be an armed frontier between Sally's and Linda's quarters. Help them design the room so that the separate space of each combines into a unified and harmonious effect. This will prove the strongest incentive for each to do her share of the cleaning up. For example, instead of twin beds use twin couches in one corner up at right angles in one corner up at right angles in the other corner of the room. When made up with tailored covers this produces an attractive "conversation corner." A low table placed in the angle gives a further smart decorating touch. It's much more fun to make beds and pick up clothes when by doing so you can transform a bedroom into a grown-up studio. But this won't happen if only one couch is straightened up—so get busy, sister!

As much of the planning as possible should be done by the girls themselves. It will save floor scratches if instead of moving the furniture about, the whole thing is worked out beforehand on paper. First, measure the room and draw it to scale—one inch equalling one foot gives a workable amount of paper space. Then make paper figures of the furniture in the same size scale. Now comes the fun of shifting and rearranging until the very best and most convenient placing of the furniture is arrived at.

CARNEGIE MANSION TO UNITED NATIONS... View from an elevation of the palatial Carnegie mansion at New York City, which has been offered to the United Nations to serve as a club for delegates and an office building. The mansion, which covers an entire block front to mid to have cost $1,000,000. It has been kept fully staffed for 64 years since it was first opened.

NEVER TOO LATE... Typical of thousands of GIs is John H. Dahms, shown at left in 1927 during his freshman year at Yale university. Depression brought a recess in his college days—then the war. Discharged he returned to Brown company at New Haven. Last year he obtained a leave of absence to enter Yale. In photo at right he is shown at the Yale graduation in cap and gown. He has again returned to his former employment, with the addition of a college degree.

With farm land values still increasing at the rate of approximately one per cent per month, agriculture department leaders are fully aroused as to the dangers of such a continuance in the land market. As a matter of fact, land values today are 77 per cent above the 1925-29 average, well above the peak reached in 1920 when the boom took farm land to 70 per cent above their 1912-14 level.

The silver lining in this inflated land market is the fact that out of approximately 1,500,000 farms which have changed hands in the last five years, about one-half have been sold for cash and on financed purchases, down payments have averaged more than two-fifths of the purchase price.

Thus if the high wartime land prices prove to be above the long-term earning capacity of the farms sold, the high proportion of cash sales and substantial down payments will limit the total amount of farm distress. This fact coupled with the better credit and cash incomes of farmers generally may obviate the suffering which followed the collapse of the farm land market following World War I. But the boom and bust danger is still there for many farmers, when and if farm product prices and income drop.

PARIS SHOWS NEW COIFFURES

The hairdo to match the gown is the latest fashion wrinkle in Paris. The French capital's best dress designers cooperated with the leading hair dressers to put on a show when these models displayed the combinations. The coiffure at left was made to form a large "S" at the side of the head.

PEEK AT THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY NNWS Radio-Screen Editor

LEW AYRES' first picture since his discharge is "Dark Mirror" and it's by far the best role he's had since "All's Quiet on the Western Front." Universal is to be congratulated in offering this fine actor a meaty part to fit his new, mature personality. He really makes the most of his opportunity. The picture itself is a psychological thriller well enacted by Lew and Olivia de Havilland, who is bound to create quite a stir herself.

There was a great deal of adverse criticism hurled at Ayres when he refused to be drafted into killing men in the late war. No one stopped to realize at that time that he was actually making a brave choice... jeopardizing his life's work for his convictions. He could easily have donned an officers' uniform, as so many stars did, and parade about in safety. Instead, he made his feelings known to the public and chose to go into the medical corps, spending 22 months in the Pacific so he could help instead of kill. He emerged a hero and the same people who bitterly assailed him before now are showering him with accolades... a typical gesture of those who know they were wrong but have no other way of rectifying their mistakes.

Introducing T-Men

Elmer L. Irey, after 27 years as head of all law-enforcement activities of the treasury department and considered one of the world's greatest detectives, has signed a contract with Phillips H. Lord to do a series based on his experiences... the program will be called T-Men... Paul Milton and Palmer Thompson, radio writers and producers, have started a campaign to make Kilroy, the G.I.'s unknown hero, America's most popular individual character... Because no one knows who the original Kilroy is, rewards, fame and other inducements are offered on the Spotlight on American program.

Art Linkletter of NBC's People Are Funny, has written a book, "Out of My Head"... an apt title...

The KNOTHOLE

By ELLIOTT PINE NNWS Sports Writer

E. of Utah led the country in ground-gaining up to mid-season... reeling off 439 yards per game, both running and passing. Ernie Bonham, veteran right-handed hurler, was traded by the New York Yankees to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The 33-year-old pitcher was exchanged for... 27, a southpaw. Miss... Chicago bowler, has... the United States women's series consistently, with an average around 194.

Murrell Jones, Chicago White Sox first baseman, is trying to restore free movement to his left elbow by carrying a pall of sand around the house. Bucky Harris denies persistent rumors that he will manage the Yankees next year. He says that he is satisfied with his job as assistant to Larry McPhail, Yankee president. The 1947 Women's Amateur Golf championships will be played off in Detroit next September.

Pleasant hunters in South Dakota are complaining about prices... guides at $20 a day, compared with $5 prewar, hotel rooms and food three to four times 1940 rates. There are reported to be plenty of the big handsome birds though, as they weren't bothered so much during the war.

Not one error did Buddy Rosar commit while catching 126 consecutive games for the Philadelphia Athletics last season. He muffed a chance back in September, 1945, but since then he hasn't slipped once in handling 648 chances. This is a new world's record. Previous high for catching efficiency was set by "Shanty" Hogan, who played 121 errorless games in 1933 and '34. Another catching record was chalked up last season when Frank Hayes of the Chicago White Sox broke the consecutive game mark by playing his 312th.

Bowling officials expect that a million bowlers will sign up with the American Bowling Congress by the middle of November, if not earlier. The figure now stands around 950,000. The United States Davis Cup team will arrive in Australia November 18 for the world championships in tennis.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE" EXECUTIVE SHOULD BE ACCESSIBLE TO WORKERS

IN July, 1942, I wrote a column about how a business executive made himself accessible to his employees. That man was H. Ray Ellinwood of Burbank, Calif. I told how any worker, at almost any time, could get in to see him. No fuss, no feathers. The door swings both ways.

Well, since I wrote that column the number of his employees has doubled. But Ellinwood could not double the number of hours in the day. So this is the way he has solved his problem of trying to see all the employees who wish to talk to him.

Dale Carnegie

He solved it as an engineer would. He now has two small electric lights on the door to his office, each operated by a switch from his desk. When he turns on the green light it means "Available in a few moments."

When he turns on the red it means, "Urgent business; try again another time."

He has taken a further step in dealing with the people he must confer with; and without hurting anyone's feelings. He asks his employees, whenever possible, to write him a memo instead of coming to see him. Every memo gets prompt reply.

A "management meeting" is held every other Tuesday evening at which there are about 40 key executives present. Many problems have to be taken up, so he arrived at a way of handling them. Before the sessions begin he makes out a "discussion program" and puts it on the table in front of him, with, as he says, "the big berries on top." That is, the biggest problems to be discussed first.

Now these are all sensible methods for dealing with people and with work-problems that Ellinwood has worked out. Study them; put them to use.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"I'll be very busy this afternoon, dear—I have eighteen cavities to fill."

VETERANS' QUESTION BOX

Q. I am a Spanish-American war veteran and I get a pension. I am a man up in years and have been divorced some 10 years. If I remarried, would by second wife get any pension at my death? She is up in years too, but I was told she would not get a pension.—M. B., Baltimore, Md.

A. Under the general pension laws there is no limitation on the marriage date, but under the laws governing death from non-service connected disability one fixes marriage prior to Sept. 1, 1922, and the other to marriages prior to Jan. 1, 1938; so in your case, I do not think your second wife would be eligible for pension. You might, however, consult your nearest office of the Veterans Administration.

Q. I have a son who was killed in action in southern France. I would like to have his body returned. When will the government begin bringing the bodies home?—Mrs. S. M., Kenova, W. Va.

A. The quartermaster department has made no definite announcement as to dates. Would suggest that you write directly to the Memorial Division, Office of Quartermaster General, War Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Q. My son went overseas in March, 1944. In May he wrote for us to fix allotment papers and in June they began taking out of his pay and did until he died in December, 1944. Can we get that pay?—Mrs. B. W., Ponatec, Va.

A. I believe you can. Write to the Office of Dependency Benefits, War

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

West Texas educational institutions shared in the awards of surplus property, most of it given without exchange of funds at the request of FHA to further the facilities to aid veterans enrolled as students. TCU obtained a quantity of tables; McMurry College at Abilene received 1800 mattress covers, 150 clothes lockers, chairs, and wardrobe racks; to Abilene Christian College goes chairs and wardrobe racks; Wayland College at Plainview obtains lockers and cabinets, and Baylor University gets better than 1,000 mattress covers—all for free.

At a discount of 95 per cent, large stocks of surplus were sold this week to West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon; Texas Tech at Lubbock; Butler College, Tyler; Texas A. & M. College; Texas Christian University; North Texas Agricultural College, Arlington, and the University of Houston.

The small business man who runs the corner store is to come in for a more important share of surplus property disposals, starting in November, WAA in Fort Worth announced. Within the definition of "small business" are enterprises not having more than 500 employees. Both retailers and wholesalers are included in the group. The RFC has a buying priority immediately following the Federal Agencies and Veterans. Mr. Ralph Roberts of the Dallas zone office has been appointed representative to assist small businessmen to buy surplus and maintain contact with business groups and chambers of commerce all through the Southwest.

All roads in the Panhandle will lead to Hereford next Wednesday, November 13, as War Assets Administration opens the doors of the former war time Prisoner of War camp in a huge "site sale." Lumber, plumbing and heating equipment and supplies; electrical equipment and fittings, all stockpiles by WAA to offer for sale to aid in alleviating the critical housing shortage for veterans, will be offered November 13, 14, 15, 18 and 19 to holders of HH priorities. For the opening 5 days each holder of an HH priority will be limited to buying materials not to exceed an amount sufficient to complete construction of one five-room dwelling.

It will be "first come, first served" among the HH priority holders when the doors open at 9:00 a. m. Wednesday 13th. Veterans exercising a priority to build their own homes; contractors buying material to build a home for a veteran; or contractors buying material to construct homes for re-sale to veterans—all will line up according to their time of arrival at the Hereford POW Camp. A large number of POW buildings have been dismantled and the materials carefully stockpiled for this event. Should any materials remain beyond the initial 5 day selling period, it will then be offered to established sellers of building material who certify to WAA that all such material will be publicly offered for sale to eligible priority holders. There will be no limitation on quantities purchased after the opening five days.

Hico Man's Brother, Buried At Iredell

J. L. Mingus, brother of Frank Mingus of Hico, died Monday, November 4, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. P. Hill, at Teague. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Iredell Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. P. O. Pater. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery, Iredell. Pallbearers were Wick Simpson, Moden Tidwell, Sam Simpson, Marvin Tidwell, Cas Bowman, Charley Tidwell and Wash Mingus. Judson Lee Mingus was born in Palo Pinto County on August 22, 1864 to Mr. and Mrs. William Mingus. When he was a small boy the family moved to Bosque County where he grew to manhood. He was married to Miss Annie Gatewood in 1891 and to this union were born three children, two of them dying in infancy and the third, Mrs. Hill, with whom he has made his home in later years. He united with the Missionary Baptist Church in early manhood. Mr. Mingus made his home in Meridian for a number of years, where he was in the County Clerk's office and later connected with the First National Bank in that city. From Meridian he went to Abilene, where he was an expert accountant and later when the Republic National Bank was being organized at Dallas, he was one of the accountants who helped establish the bookkeeping system of that bank. Surviving besides his daughter at Teague and his brother here, are eight grandchildren, one great-grandchild, another brother, Coke Mingus of Abilene, and four sisters: Mrs. R. F. Duckworth of Hico; Mrs. Morgan Weaver of McKinney; Mrs. J. R. Clay of Springfield, Mo.; and Mrs. C. C. Crews of Alvord.

Hico Review Club Met Recently In Home of Mrs. Neel

The regular meeting of the Hico Review Club was held on October 24, at the home of Mrs. Paul Neel. Interesting talks were given by Miss De Alva Hammons on "Plastics, Gadgets and Inventions" and by Mrs. S. E. Blair Jr. on "New Industries in the South." Following a business meeting and parliamentary drill, the hostess served delicious refreshments of punch, open-face sandwiches, and cookies to members present. REPORTER.

Notes From Office Of County Home Demonstration Agt.

Many housewives are finding that ironing can be made much easier by using a wide, 20-inch board, constructed to fit over the regular ironing board.

Mrs. Florence W. Low, associate specialist in home management of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, has introduced the wide ironing board attachment to many homemakers in the state, and they've found that it saves a lot of effort normally spent in shifting articles about on a regular sized ironing board.

The wide board is not a replacement for the regular board, but it is a useful added feature, Mrs. Low says. Most suitable material to use in constructing the attachment is 1/8 inch plywood, sawed out to extend two inches beyond each end of the regular board. To hold the wide board in place, four wooden strips, placed underneath to fit the edges of the regular board, can be screwed in place. The attachment is easily put on and removed, and the wooden cleats hold it firmly in position, says Mrs. Low.

Most ironing boards now in use are approximately 14 inches wide, with a taper at one end. The advantage of a straight, long board, six inches wider than the average board, is easily seen, Mrs. Low says. Many homemakers have found it especially handy for ironing flat pieces, such as sheets, pillowcases, table linens and hand towels. It also saves a lot of "shifting" when ironing trousers, slacks and shirts.

Hints On Butter Making

Numerous letters from farm wives to the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service have contained inquiries as to why they're having trouble "getting the butter to come." Gladys Martin, acting assistant state home demonstration agent, says that failure to obtain butter after a prolonged churning period may be traced to several causes. One main cause of the trouble is that the cow is too far advanced in the period of lactation, and this can be partially remedied by adding to the churning some cream from a cow that is early in the fresh period.

Cow feed that produces hard fat is another cause of the trouble. Such feeds are cotton seed meal and timothy hay. More silage and other "juicy" feeds will help to overcome the condition.

Churning conditions can also result in failure to obtain butter, says Miss Martin. The cream may be too thin, too rich, too sweet or the churning temperature too low. If cream contains over 20 per cent butter fat, it is probably too rich for satisfactory churning. It is also sometimes necessary to raise the churning temperature to 65 or 70 degrees Fahrenheit to get butter. The churn shouldn't be too full, either, Miss Martin says. It is hard to get enough concussion to make butter in a churn that is over one-third full.

Sterilizing all utensils and generally producing the milk and cream under sanitary conditions is another measure that prevents the rosy fermentation of the cream that causes difficult churning.

Shrink Wool Goods At Home

If you ever had a new wool dress come back from its first trip to the cleaners a size too small, you will be interested in hearing this information from Mrs. Dora K. Barnes, clothing specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. Wool goods of any kind should be properly shrunk before it is made up, Mrs. Barnes says. This precaution was never more necessary than today, when wool fabric is scarce and often so high-priced. Pressing the wool with a steam iron is a simple and satisfactory method of shrinking, says Mrs. Barnes, if care is taken to hold and press with the weave and not to stretch or pull in the process.

But without a steam iron, first dampen the wool thoroughly and press it with a moderately warm iron under a press cloth. Telling the fabric in a wet sheet is a simple way to dampen it. Dip a sheet in water, wring it out and spread it on a table. Lay the wool material, flat and straight, on the sheet. Roll sheet and wool together firmly but not tightly, and allow it to stand overnight. Then press the wool on the wrong side under a dry press cloth. Don't pull or stretch the material. Many retail stores are now shrinking all wool goods before they're offered for sale, so there's a point to check in buying. But if the fabric hasn't been shrunk, it may be taken to a tailor or it may be shrunk at home, according to the method described above by Mrs. Barnes.

With the continued heavy rains we are feeling pretty bad about the hundreds of acres of peanuts that are depreciating fast. We would certainly welcome a few days of sunshine at this time.

Jim Witte and wife and John Hampton attended the horse show at Stephenville Monday and report a very nice show.

O. M. Evans, who has been suffering from a swollen hand as a result of a spider bite, is not doing so well at this time.

Will history repeat itself? 1941 was the grim year the State wept for its 1979 dead from automobiles. 1942 saw the addition of 99 Highway Patrolmen, and rural deaths alone were cut from 1300 in 1941 to 900 in 1942. In the face of present neck-to-neck death rates with the peak year of 1941 and a 92 per cent rise over last year of rural traffic deaths, the Fifth Legislature will give thought to increase of enforcement agencies. The Texas Safety Association advocates a staggered increase of Highway Patrolmen over a five year period.

Who Gets Off Easiest—Men or Women?

Maybe you saw that poll on who has the easiest life—men or women? Of course, the men voted the women did, and the women vice versa.

It would be the same in our town—take any family. Thad Phibbs envies his Missus spending the day at home, with no hot office to attend to. And Sue envies Thad his luncheons with the boys; and his evening glass of beer with friends (while she cleans up the dishes in the kitchen).

deep. Thad knows way deep down that the Missus has plenty of work running a house; and Sue knows Thad's friendly glass of beer is well-deserved relaxation after a long hard day's work.

From where I sit, most husbands and wives may grumble now and then—but they know in their hearts it's a case of live and let live, give and take, that comes out pretty even in the end.

Erath County REA
Receives Approval
Of Rate Reduction

The board of directors of the Erath County Electric Cooperative Association have received approval for rate reduction which will be put into effect on this month's billing, according to information from G. A. Tunnell, Manager, with offices at Stephenville.

The minimum will be lowered to $1.75 for 19 kilowatts, a rate reduction of 16 per cent, which they feel is a mighty good reduction after seven and a half years operation.

World War II Vets
Entitled to Purchase
WAA Typewriters

Fort Worth, Nov. 5.—If you are a veteran of World War II and want to buy a typewriter, listen—War Assets Administration sells typewriters only to veterans—no others. A veteran must first be certified by WAA, a simple procedure of presenting an honorable discharge. This certificate will permit him to buy one typewriter.

At this moment the Fort Worth regional WAA office has on hand several hundred more typewriters than there are veteran applications. So—

If you are a World War II veteran, and want to buy a surplus typewriter, apply at once to the WAA office in Fort Worth, in person or by mail, at the T. & P. building. WAA hasn't been issuing any certificates for typewriters since May 31—this chance to be certified is a change in policy and will last only until Dec. 1.

Other items on the veteran set-aside list, like typewriters for exclusive sale to veterans, include office furniture, wrist watches, sleeping bags and other hard-to-get items, on which certificates now are available.

Orders for sleeping bags—popular outdoor sports item—can be filled immediately, for as long as they last.

Approximately 350,000 women who served in World War II may receive benefits available to all veterans. Veterans Administration has announced.

LET'S KEEP OUR MINDS WOUND:

Our minds are like watches. They have to be wound every day. It's true that some minds are like one dollar watches—they must be wound several times each day. A person's mind is a perfect piece of machinery—an excellent piece of workmanship, full jeweled and all that, but remember, the driving power of the main-spring of our mental works is not perpetual motion.

Our interests in life and our enthusiasm over life's responsibilities and rewards all depend on some playful expectation or on some daring dream of achievement. The power behind one's mind is the interest that one takes in some unexpected pleasure or in some enthusiastic purpose.

The very moment we allow our enthusiasm to die down or the moment we fail to entertain no more thought of some expected pleasure or profit—the moment we lose interest in some future opportunity—that is the moment our mental machinery begins to slow down, and then our services—whatever they may be—will be as valuable as a sun-dial in some very dark cave. The instant that we feel our interest and our industry or our profession dying out we should begin twisting that button that connects with our mental works. We must stay interested or soon our hands will stop like a watch that has not been wound and a watch that is not running is perfectly useless in its purpose—as useless as a plaster-of-Paris idol. Get interested and then will come new ideas and greater ideas; get interested and right results will reward your enthusiastic efforts; get interested and much more enthusiasm will come—naturally.

WEEK'S BEST BOOK:

Theodore Strauss has written the week's best book—or I could easily say—the best book that has been written by anyone in a very long time. It's "Moonrise" and, in its 216 pages there is a lot of enjoyment.

The action of the story takes place in a small Southern town and the characters are so clearly defined that you feel, after finishing the book that they are all people that you have known well for a long while.

It's the kind of a book that one enjoys more when he reads it a second time and perhaps a third time.

Theodore Strauss writes easily and he has the knack of making the people he writes about come to life in their words and actions. "Moonrise" is a good book, and by that I mean that from the first page to the last you will be wonderfully entertained.

It is published by the Viking Press, New York.

When we lack enthusiasm, any time is the wrong time for real results.

Influenza Cases Increasing With Season's Advance

Austin, Nov. 5.—Reports coming in from various sections of the State indicate that the number of influenza cases appears to be increasing with the advance of the fall season, and during the past week 930 cases were reported in Texas.

Commenting on this situation, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said that most of these cases are mild and lend themselves to treatment readily. He pointed out that two cooperative factors are essential to victims of this disease: first, to call the family physician promptly when suspicious symptoms appear; and second, to take it easy for a reasonable length of time after the acute stage has subsided.

"It is essential to realize that influenza, no matter how mild the attack, calls for a period of convalescence, because serious complications can occur if this important fact is ignored," Dr. Cox said. "Influenza is not mass-controllable. However, those persons who maintain the highest possible health level at all times, increasing their resistance to communicable disease germs, will have a protective advantage over those more careless persons who continually abuse their health."

The State Health Officer declared that living by the laws of nature, getting plenty of sleep, daily exercise in the open, nourishing foods and good personal hygiene offers the best known bulwark against all respiratory diseases and added that avoiding habits of any and all kinds detrimental to maximum well being is a wise course to take in the pursuit of good health.

School Librarians
Invited to Abilene
For One-Day Clinic

Abilene, Nov. 5.—School librarians from West Texas cities will be in Abilene Dec. 7 for a one-day library clinic, sponsored by McMurry College, cooperating with the state department of education, Mrs. Rosita H. Holler, college librarian, announced this week.

"We are sending a personal invitation to J. E. Lincoln, superintendent at Hico, and other principals and superintendents of that community, to send the local school librarian, or other faculty member who is interested," Mrs. Holler said.

The program, which will open early Saturday with registration, will be planned to assist all school librarians, including those schools who do not have a librarian, or who have a person not trained in library science, in charge of their library service, Mrs. Holler said. She added that Miss Mattie Ruth Moore, director of school libraries for the state department, will be on hand, and will assist in outlining the program.

Speakers for the luncheon session will be selected for their knowledge and out-standing success in the school library field. The clinic will close early Saturday afternoon to enable those who wish to do so, to return home that evening.
