

Some missionary work seems to be in order.

During the war, service guys and gals encountered some trouble in educating citizens of other parts of the world as to the correct pronunciation of their home town, insisting that it be called with a long vowel, like the word hike which they were going to do at first opportunity—and not to rhyme with lick, which no squarehead or slant-eye was going to do to us.

But never in their travels did they report encountering ignorance of the existence or location of the bonny town of Hico.

Now comes some correspondence which proves that a campaign may be necessary to familiarize people right here in our home State with the town on the banks of the beautiful Bosque.

A former citizen wrote a piece to "Letters From Readers" in the Dallas News, which started it all. Here's the original article on "Vacation in Texas":

I agree with your editorial about vacation paradises in Texas. There is Hico, a spot little known in that regard but a real paradise for sinus and allergic sufferers, relieved by dry altitude and low barometer, with beautiful scenery of hills and valleys; the Big Bend Park and the tall Davis Mountains with the big glass for looking at the stars; the Magic Valley with the prettiest scenery in the world and the coming site of concentrated wealth from oil and orchard; a state of plains and mountains and valleys and sea coast, with the added wonders of the Mexican border. Where else can you find it equal?

ALBERT C. JOHNSTON, Service Mutual Bldg., Waco, Tex.

Whereupon a DN reader (we don't know yet how a copy of that staid publication got over to Fort Worth) popped the 864 question to Mr. Johnston, as follows:

2109 North Houston Fort Worth 6, Texas June 16, 1947

Mr. Albert C. Johnston Service Mutual Bldg. Waco, Texas

Dear Sir: After reading your article on places to "Vacation in Texas," I should like to know the location of Hico. The Magic Valley is no doubt the Rio Grande Valley and I know the Davis Mountains and Big Bend Park are in the Western part of the State. I am a Texan born out of State and am not aware of its many beautiful spots. Thanking you for a reply, and with kindest regards, I am

Yours very truly, KATHERINE F. BARRY.

To which our standard-bearer and former citizen made this apt and able reply: Dear Mrs. Barry:

It is a pleasure to answer your inquiry as to Hico's location. Hico is a small city in the northeastern part of Hamilton County near the corner of Hamilton, Erath and Bosque Counties. It is on the highway and Katy railroad between Waco and Cisco. In early days railroad men used to refer to the route as "Waco, Hico, Cisco." It is some 75 miles west of south of Fort Worth, 29 miles from Stephenville, about 70 miles northwest of Waco. Its altitude is about 1300 feet. So far as I know it has never been developed as a vacation resort; but for certain purposes it seems to me to be ideal.

Some years ago I was ordered to go to the country to die. My wife went with me to a small place near Hico. In a year's time a falling eyelid was restored to where I could read the small print of the Dallas News without glasses; and my health gradually returned. The three years spent there was one of the bright spots of my memory; and I could not resist this opportunity to put in a word for Hico, which then, and I suppose now, had a very fine citizenship. We were on a small place some 200 feet higher than the town, and across the river from it. It hardly ever rained where we were. When the rains came, the clouds usually followed the river and missed us. There are hills, and even small mountains around the town. Located as it is near Waco, Fort Worth and Dallas, with its altitude and cool nights in the hottest summer, I have often wondered why it has not been so developed. Some allergy sufferers are relieved by dry high climates. For them this country would be a God-send.

Respectfully, ALBERT C. JOHNSTON.

Inspection of the vehicles may be made Friday, June 27, and Monday, June 30, with sales during July 1 and 2. Admission qualifications will be discharge papers or accepted proof of honorable World War II service. WAA location sales officials declared that veterans attending the sale will be able to inspect, complete purchase and drive their vehicles home before the holiday.

Amvets want preservation of veterans rights in acquiring war surplus as aggressively opposed to those who want to scrap all priorities, according to Ray Sawyer, national Amvet commander who conferred at Grand Prairie with zone and regional War Assets Administration officials recently. After looking over the Grand Prairie WAA plant and visiting a veterans' sale in the warehouse, the Amvet chief said he was well pleased with reports on WAA's handling of surplus in Texas. "You're doing a good job. Don't let criticism get you down," he said on leaving.

Seven to eight million dollars' worth of surplus government owned paints, clear and pigmented lacquers, enamels and related products are being offered at low fixed prices on a national sale through War Assets Administration. These products generally are best suited for use as production or maintenance finishes in the industrial field, it was said. Information on the paints and lacquers is available through the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie WAA office.

A surplus item with the government but which was critical to the German war machine in the last months of the war is represented in bearings now offered through War Assets Administration until June 30. You will recall the effective work of the 8th Air Force bombers in placing the German bearings works out of commission. Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie WAA office has made available ball, roller, tapered and anti-friction bearings.

Wholesalers led all other groups of buyers of surplus property in the Southwest during May purchasing 42.4 per cent of all goods sold, according to a monthly report analysis released by the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration. Dirt-Breaking At New Whitney Dam Set for July 5th

WHITNEY, June 17.—One of the most impressive gatherings of state and national dignitaries ever assembled in Texas, and certainly the largest crowd of spectators ever to visit this section is expected to be on hand July 5 for formal ground-breaking ceremonies to mark the official start of construction on Whitney Dam, key project in a proposed series of 13 dams on the Brazos river and its tributaries.

Headed by Governor Beauford Jester who has accepted an invitation to participate on the program, United States senators and congressmen, state representatives, army engineer corps heads, members of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District, military officials, editors of the vicinity and many other notables have been invited and many already have signified their acceptance. Bob Calvert of Hillsboro, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, former speaker of the House of Texas Representatives, will be master of ceremonies at the dedication.

Honor guests will be feted at an invitation barbecue preceding the public ceremonies to be held in the afternoon at the damsite.

Chambers of commerce of six adjacent cities—Hillsboro, Itasca, Cleburne, Meridian, Clifton, and Waco—are joining the Whitney Chamber of Commerce to plan arrangements for the big day. Will Bond, president of the Hillsboro Chamber of Commerce, is general chairman; E. Q. McMahan of Whitney is secretary.

Whitney is buying itself already in preparation for the July 5 celebration which will be held five miles southwest of here where work already is well under way on construction of the earth dam on the eastern end of the project. One-way roads to and from the damsite are being laid out, marked and improved; the site of the dedication ceremony is being cleared for the thousands of expected visitors to park cars; plans for decorating the city are being mapped, and Mayor Fred T. Basham is proclaiming a general clean-up period for the city itself between now and July 5 to make the city more attractive to visitors routed through here.

Health Officer Gives Pointers On Control of Polio

Austin, June 17.—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in certain sections of the State.

At one time it was generally believed that this infection was transmitted primarily by discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis may be another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must include clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate house-flies, mosquitoes, and rodents to destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems, and secure safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is necessary to install and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should maintain those standards approved by the Texas State Department of Health. These include maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained, these pools should be closed to the public.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from filth and insects. All food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitation standards.

Approved milk supplies, rodent control measures, high sanitation standards, and strict personal hygiene are all important. Polio cases should be quarantined for 14 days and excreta from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is illness. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches and theaters be closed.

Hico Woman Among Members of TSCW Class of '07

Special to The News Review:

DENTON, Tex., June 17.—When Texas State College for Women observed its annual homecoming this year members of the Class of 1907 celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary by returning to their Alma Mater. Among the group was Mrs. Lusk Randaals of Hico.

Contrasting their class of 27 members to this year's graduating class of 312, the group recalled college days when they were honored at the Homecoming Banquet. Of the original class, 23 members are still living.

The sponsor of the class, Dr. Rebecca Evans, Denton physician, attended the celebration. Dr. Evans was college physician in 1907 and a member of the college's original faculty. The college opened its doors in 1903.

A short report given by one of the members at the Homecoming revealed a total of 48 children among them, no divorces, and seven daughters had finished college at TSCW.

Buyers and Raisers Stressing Quality And Care of Eggs

Poultrymen of the Hico territory are cooperating admirably in efforts to build up and retain the quality of eggs produced and marketed here, according to statements from local produce buyers.

This is a two-sided proposition, they say, and they are especially optimistic over the possibilities of upholding Hico's reputation for quality eggs with a continuation of present efforts on the part of their customers.

Heavy consumption of eggs is continuing in the post-war period, and there is a nation-wide movement on foot to hold this gain for the advantage of poultrymen in the United States. During January and February eggs were consumed at an annual rate of 40¢ per capita, which is considerably above previous figures of 35¢. In fact, some estimates show that egg consumption has been running at the annual rate of 40¢ since last October.

While planned flocks, proper equipment, care in handling and packing, and frequent marketing will gain advantages even in isolated cases, still it is only through a concerted effort on the part of poultry raisers in the State and Nation that the greatest results can be obtained.

In an effort to impress their customers with the importance of quality production and timely marketing, local produce buyers for some time have devoted a great deal of their advertising space to publicizing these advantages. Currently Knox & Talloh are sponsoring an interesting series of "Practical Pointers That Will Prove Mutually Beneficial" in their regular weekly advertisements in the News Review. This series of messages was prepared by the American Institute of Poultry Industries, and presents suggestions on improved production and marketing that, if followed, will profit producers and buyers alike.

Hico has been famous for a number of years for the quality of eggs shipped from here, and local buyers are willing to go the limit to assist in retaining and increasing this reputation.

Heavy Interest In Golf Tournament Here June 27-28-29

Ray Cheek, general chairman for Bluebonnet Country Club's 1947 golf tournament, to be held on the local 9-hole sand-green course next week end, reported this week that everything would be in readiness for the annual event.

Considerable enthusiasm has been displayed since announcement of the dates. Ray said, and replies have been received from many scattered points indicating that the titleist, J. H. (Doc) Brinkley of Fort Worth will have a tough time upholding his reputation.

L. D. Hardin, Spud Cason and Bob Haeffle are among those who have promised to come down from Cowtown, and while attending the Breckenridge tournament last week Ray contacted others who said they might be here. He is also expecting Jack Vickrey, local star athlete of former years, to come up from Beaumont and show contenders a good time.

Qualifying rounds will be played at the Bluebonnet course Friday, June 27, when the medalist will be decided. Score made at other courses, certified by the professional and mailed in time, will be accepted. Entrance fee is $4.00.

Match play in all flights starts Saturday morning. Driving and approaching contests will be held Friday afternoon, preceding the Calcutta Pool and barbecue that night.

Coal fired and natural gas ranges and baking ovens are among hardware items contained in a sealed bid lot sale by War Assets Administration until June 23. Information is available through Customer Service Center at the Grand Prairie WAA Office.

Bert Childers was saying, it's funny how so many of our wartime habits stick with us.

Bert likes plenty of butter on his bread, but even now he can't get over spreading it like it was scarce as hen's teeth. And as a war-worker, Bert used to stick to a temperate glass of beer on time off; and he still holds fast to beer and moderation.

Same way with Bert's wife. She not only has no trouble saving used fats, and waste paper. She's learned from wartime necessity to save every single thing that might possibly be used again.

From where I sit, it's mighty good that so many of these common-sense habits like thrift and moderation have stayed with us. Because they belong in America—along with tolerance, and mutual respect for one another's rights. They're habits that have helped to make this country strong and neighborly and free.

Butane or Propane SYSTEM

Ready for Next Winter?

The Texas Butane Dealers Association asks every domestic butane or propane gas user to take stock of your present system. If your tank cannot furnish gas enough to serve you through the four winter months without refilling, you may find yourself without heat this winter.

New industries developed during the war now demand tremendous amounts of butane and propane gases throughout the year. On the other hand, domestic users of gas burn four to seven times more in winter than in summer. Because of tremendous demand, your dealer is able to furnish you very little more gas in winter than in summer. In order to "level off" this high winter load, heating gas users must plan now to tank up far ahead with a four month's supply.

By doing this you can be absolutely sure of your supply. It's "Winter Insurance," just as the farmer has always stored grain early for winter use. Housewives do their canning in the summer. Your gas will already be in your tank when you need it most. And by taking less time for your dealer's services, he can supply you and your neighbors more efficiently and more economically at the time when winter rains usually hold up gas delivery.

Before you buy any system, consult your local gas dealer. He is your friend, he knows butane-propane, and he will cooperate in every way to help you prepare for winter now.

Infected First Teeth May Cause Enlarged Tonsils

By Dr. J. B. Warren

OPEN UP, KID!

It has been shown that there is a definite relationship between the infected (septic) first teeth and the chronically enlarged tonsil. The enlarged tonsil shows that it has been weakened by infection from first teeth and so allows organisms to enter the throat and cause general infection. This means that infected first teeth should be removed before removing the tonsils.

Successful Parenthood
BY
MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

Children Should Try To Understand Parents

AS a Father's Day theme we'd like to write about both mothers and fathers, for nowadays the head of the family rarely thinks of himself as the whole show, the way novels tell us he did in Victorian days. (Though we've always believed that Mother was back of this build up to compensate to the male because the government of half the world, and the manners of still more of it, were in the hands of a woman!)

Moreover, what we'd like to say isn't addressed to our readers in their role of parents, but in their much older status as children. For there comes a time in every young adult's life when he should begin thinking about his parents as if they were his children instead of his mother and father. By reversing the relationship in your own mind it is easier to grasp that from now on it is your job to try to understand your parents—they've been trying to interpret your needs for nearly thirty years and it's time for reverse lend-lease.

But it isn't just material needs we refer to, for if parents have been frugal and built up a competence they can in old age be independent financially, but still starved for attention and that sense of importance to one's family without which most human beings feel lost.

True, in this generation the war brought grandparents an extension of active service, for many a new family has lived under the grandparental roof in recent years. But you can't accept such exceptional generosity as older parents have shown toward the young people of this generation and then, when you get on your feet, resent their continued interest in your affairs. These haven't been normal times in which to start a family, and if your parents made unusual sacrifices to give you a start, be glad and willing to make sacrifices later on, not only to provide them with comfort, but with a sense of continuing worth.

THE Bible speaks more of filial devotion than of any other human relationship. Nor is it left to the general commandment of loving others as we do ourselves, but has a special commandment of its own, "Honor thy Father and thy Mother; that thy days may be long—." This promise of long life is no mere reward of virtue. It is based on the sound psychological principle that having a heart full of gratitude for those who have nurtured you makes for both mental and physical health.

As you grow in knowledge of yourself you may discover mistakes your parents made in their guidance, or lack of guidance, of your childhood and youth. But you can't help yourself by blaming your parents. The healing emotion is one of understanding—try to see your mother and father as the young parents they once were, limited in experience and resources, possibly so wounded by an unhappy childhood of their own that they resented being parents at all. Forgiving them, understanding their limitations, loving them, this is the "honor thy Father and thy Mother" which leads to length of days.

"Showboat" Moves Toward Second Week At Fair Park Casino

Winning acclaim from the great crowds that viewed its opening days, "Showboat" moves toward its second great week at the State Fair Casino at Dallas. Launching the Starlight Operetta season with signal success, the fine musical has drawn accolades from the crowds that have taken their seats in the remodeled Casino to see the great Kern-Hammerstein production. First week praise on the show seems evenly divided between the great acting and singing of the star cast; the fine musical score of Jerome Kern, interpreted by Casino musical director, Giuseppe Bamboshek; the singing and dancing choruses of the stellar production and the magnificent setting of the Casino stage.

All performers have drawn high praise with special applause going to Pamela Cavness as Magnolia; Norwood Smith as Ravenal; Harlan Briggs as Captain Andy; Louise Lorimer as Parthy Ann; Chick Chandler as Frank; William C. Smith as Joe; Helen Dowdy as Queenie, and Clara Alden as Ellie. Maxine as Julie has also received top praise.

Interest in seeing the excellent show is running high in Dallas and the surrounding areas. The stellar musical will conclude its two week run on the night of June 29th. On the following night, June 30th, the second in the great season's parade of hits, "Blossom Time," moves onto the Casino stage. This operetta of life in old Vienna will open a seven-day run on that date. Starting in the Franz Schubert-Sigmund Romberg musical story will be Metropolitan Opera star, John Brownlee. With Mr. Brownlee will be such other top names as Ann Andre, Edward Kane, Xenia Bank, Joe Macaulay, Rollin Bauer, Anthony Blair, and Mary Dyer. Also featured will be the magnificent dancing of prima ballerina Miriam Seabold. As in the case of the current production, "Showboat," interest in "Blossom Time" is high among theatre-goers.

ADVERTISING INCREASES
Austin, June 17.—Advertising income in Texas newspapers saw its second consecutive increase in April as income rose 2 per cent above the March level, according to reports from 27 Texas newspapers to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.
The March-to-April gain is especially significant in view of the 24 per cent hike chalked up in March over February income and placed April 1947 income 23 per cent above April 1946 figures.

Various regional offices of WAA cooperate with each other in disposing of stocks of surplus property that might be "slow" in one area and in sharp demand in another. This practice resulted in the sale of 70,000 gallons of outside white paint to a Texas dealer recently. The paint was located in the inventory of the Spokane WAA regional office, where its sale was rated as "slow." This paint was in "tight" demand in the Grand Prairie region, where a customer was seeking the product. Correspondence between the two regional offices effected the sale and delivery of the 70,000 gallons to a Texas dealer.

When there's one catcher for two pitchers

It doesn't take a baseball expert to know that if two pitchers throw to one catcher, each must wait his turn. The same holds true for telephone switchboards. Present limited central office facilities enable us to "catch" only a given number of calls at a time. With present record telephone traffic, users must sometimes wait a few seconds before completing a call. We won't be able to "catch" everyone at once until additional equipment becomes available.

You Have A Right to be Proud of Your Car's Performance

The things men talk about most are—their kids, their fishing experiences—and their cars! You won't have to speak of yours as a "sad sack" if you have us service it regularly and keep it running in apple-pie order. Warm weather is really with us now, and that calls for a general check-up, a change of oil, and tire conditioning. Better drive in and get an expert opinion on what you can expect of your car... and what it needs to make it a car you can speak of and drive with pride!

It costs less than you think to cook the modern way—Electrically

TODAY'S faster, more efficient electric ranges — bring economical electric cooking within the reach of almost everyone.

The oven of a modern electric range uses current only about one-third of the time to maintain average baking and roasting temperatures. Surface units cook on low heat (one-eighth of high heat) up to 75% of the time in many cases. The deep well cooker will cook a meal for five for two cents or less.

See the new ELECTRIC ranges now on display at your appliance dealer's or at our office.

If you are using electricity for refrigeration, lighting and the average number of small appliances, the chances are that all or most of the current used by your electric range will be billed on the bottom step of your electric rate, which means that electric cooking will cost you little if any more than less modern methods.

Come in and get the full story about the low cost of carefree electric cooking today!

Fairy

By Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We still have hot, dry weather in this section. All row crops, gardens and grass land are needing rain. The harvest will soon be over. The yield of wheat is low, due to rust striking the grain during the rainy season in the spring.

We are glad to report Ted Arrant much improved and expected to be able to return home the first of the week.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Driver has been returned home from a Temple hospital; with little hope held for its survival. It is ill of very low blood pressure. We sincerely hope there will be a change and its health be fully restored. It is two and a half months old.

June seems to be the most important month of the year for the writer and members of our family. Our kiddoes and their families were with us Tuesday of last week in celebration of June birthdates and events, June 5th being our daughter's, Mrs. D. E. Allison's, birth date; June 6th being the wedding anniversary of our daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers; June 9th being our husband's birthday; June 10th our son, Hersal's birth date, and June 13 being the wedding anniversary of the writer and her husband (you see, it's no wonder we've been out of luck all these years); June 14th the birth date of our little granddaughter, Carolyn Ruth Sellers. June 2 is also the birth date of our sister-in-law, Mrs. T. L. Betts, and June 9th is the birth date of our sis, Mrs. Gladys Cox, and Gwendolyn Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Roe of Fort Worth spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Grimes and family. Mrs. Dan Fulbright and little son of Kerrville spent several days here last week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Parks and family. Mrs. Sybil Flowers and son, Farrell, of Fort Worth have been visiting here in the home of her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goyne, and her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. E.

Whitson, and daughter, Mary Ona Miss Zella Goyne, who has been making her home with her niece, Mrs. Flowers, accompanied them and will remain here for an extended visit with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goyne, and daughters, and to be with the children while Mrs. Goyne is away for summer college work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adams and children, Marlene and Jimmy, of Hico visited here last Sunday in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Richardson, and Jerry. Miss Marlene remained to visit a few days longer.

Misses Daphne and Pat Hoover of Stephenville spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover. Their parents accompanied them back to Stephenville Sunday night, going by way of Dublin where they visited in the home of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and children, Darrell and Ruby Jean, of Dublin spent Father's Day here visiting with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and family, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richardson and other relatives.

Joe Betts spent a few days last week in Fort Worth visiting his mother. She accompanied him home for the week end and they motored to Eastland Sunday afternoon and visited a few hours with their sister and aunt, Mrs. Lucy Burden. They were met there by another sister and aunt, Mrs. O. L. Jacobs, who returned home with them and spent Sunday night visiting in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richardson, and niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and Carolyn, and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Richardson and Jerry. She returned home early Monday by bus. We are glad to report Mrs. Burden recovering rapidly from a paralytic stroke she suffered some time back.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Akin of Stephenville spent Sunday here with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Akin and family.

Mr. Carl Blacklock was ill again Saturday night, and a physician was called. We have heard no further report from him, but hope he has improved.

Darrell Allison of Dublin is visiting here this week with relatives. Miss Rosemary Blakley of Henrietta, Okla. is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Nat Grimes and daughters, Otha Mae and Olla Frances, this week.

Those who were visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Grimes and daughters were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Jackson and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wade B. Roe. Mrs. Roe is the former Miss Oleta Fay Grimes.

Carl King and family of Ballinger visited Chester Wood over the week end, and spent some time seeing after the interest of his farm near Fairy.

Keep Eggs Where it's COOL and MOIST

The back porch or kitchen is no place to keep eggs. The cellar probably is the best place, unless you have a cave. An egg is two-thirds water and the shell is porous. If eggs are left where it is hot and dry, the air will draw moisture out of them.

Veterans' News

Widows and near relations of World War II veterans living in 57 foreign countries and seven United States territories and possessions are receiving monthly National Service Life Insurance payments totaling nearly $700,000, VA reported this week.

Although veterans today may select any person, firm or legal entity as a beneficiary, nearly all of the 7,003 living beneficiaries abroad were receiving payments on policies which matured more than nine months ago—when the selection was limited to wives and near relatives.

More than half the beneficiaries—or 4,067—reside in the Philippine Islands. They receive $561,000 a month. Another 856 live in Puerto Rico, 472 in Hawaii and 458 in Canada.

England has more beneficiaries than any other nation in the Eastern hemisphere, or 146. Ireland is a close second with 134.

Other beneficiaries, in each case numbering less than a hundred, live in Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, France, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Scotland, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, Algeria, Egypt, French Morocco, South Africa, Arabia, China, Palestine, Syria, Turkey, Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Peru, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Islands, Alaska, Samoa, Canal Zone, Guam and the Virgin Islands.

Veterans must secure authorization from the Veterans Administration before going to a local dentist for dental treatment at government expense. VA officials have warned.

Unless prior authorization has been granted, VA can not pay for this treatment.

To secure authorization for outpatient dental treatment, veterans must establish their dental defects as service-connected. This necessitates the filing of a claim. VA pointed out that most dental conditions are assumed to be service-connected if application for treatment is made within one year after discharge. In many of these cases, VA can authorize outpatient treatment prior to adjudication and rating of the claim.

Where applications are filed later than a year after discharge, the claim must be adjudicated and rated as service-connected before any dental treatment can be authorized by VA Regional Offices.

Where VA dental clinics are not feasibly available, treatment by private dentists on a fee basis may be authorized by VA in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Eight out of every ten students studying abroad under the GI Bill are enrolled in educational institutions in five countries, according to the Veterans Administration.

The five countries are Canada, Mexico, Switzerland, France and England.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear a physician should be called immediately.

MAKE MINE WHITE

Here's something we'll bet you didn't know. The color of clothes you wear has a definite effect on how much you're bothered with mosquitoes. Yes, sir, the U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologists say they've run experiments on it . . . and if you spend all summer slapping mosquitoes, maybe you should get out of that black dress or blue suit. The entomologists found that black, blue and red attract mosquitoes right and left, with black taking first place in drawing the insects.

White and yellow were the colors that the mosquitoes liked the least, so maybe those of us who find mosquitoes a particularly big headache will want to come out in those colors this summer.

These mosquito tests were made up in Oregon, where the insects are reported to be almost as big and thick as Texas mosquitoes. USDA entomologists lined up seven men with different colored shirts. The men acted as mosquito bait while the entomologists counted and checked for set periods of time. During one half-minute test, 1,499 mosquitoes of one species were caught on a black shirt, in contrast to only 520 on a white shirt. The USDA report didn't say whether the man in the black shirt lived through the tests.

LIME AND LAWNS

Every spring many people in Central and West Texas make the mistake of applying lime on lawn grasses to promote good growth.

Lime is not a fertilizer, as many people suppose, but a material for "sweetening" acid soil. Miss Sadie Hatfield, Extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College, explains that lime will be helpful to lawn grasses only if the soil is definitely "sour." Sour soils are largely in East Texas, where rainfall is heavy and the soil has a high vegetable matter content. Liming lawns in East Texas probably will help to some extent, the specialist says, but it is safe to say that nowhere in Central and West Texas does soil need lime for better lawns.

Most Texas soils already have enough, and in many cases too much lime for the healthy growth of lawn grasses. A smart procedure in liming lawns is to make a check on whether crops in the area are limed, as they are in East Texas. If crops need lime, then the lawns need it, Miss Hatfield says.

In sections where lawns do need lime, it is often applied at the wrong time and in the wrong way. Landscape gardeners have found that acid lawn soils are sweetened to best advantage when lime is applied in late fall, so that freezing and thawing during the winter can help work it into the soil.

QUALITY FROM COOLING

Extension dairymen at Texas A. & M. College pass on a tip to us about cooling milk. They point out that rapid cooling plays a big part in producing good quality milk . . . and if we are going to keep those bacteria that ruin our milk from developing, we've got to get the temperature down to 45 degrees Fahrenheit within two hours after it comes from the cow. If our milk is cooled . . . not only will souring be cut down, but good flavor will result. The Extension dairymen say that warm milk picks up off-flavors and bad odors much faster than cool milk does.

Water is still one of the best ways to cool milk. A can of milk in cold water will cool 21 times faster than it will when standing in air cooled to the same temperature as water. Some of us don't use enough water, however. It takes eight gallons of 50 degree water to cool one gallon of milk down to 45 degrees. Plenty of water in cooling is always a good rule to follow . . . if we want to do the job right.

Here's a word about stirring milk, too. Stirring does cause milk to cool a little faster, but it also results in introducing more bacteria. We can get around this advantage by having the water level above the milk level in the can . . . and merely tilting the can without taking off the lid.
