THIS WEEK, A chapter of major league baseball will be finished with the closing of Comiskey Park in Chicago.

Residents of the Windy City may not expect a eulogy about their famed, 80-year-old ball park from, of all places, Friona, Texas.

But it happens that Ye Editor, a longtime baseball fan, happened to see his first major league game at old Comiskey Park on August 23, 1953.

That just served to convince that teenager that he wanted to become a sportswriter and cover major league sports, which he eventually did with the San Francisco Giants.

With the imminent closure of Comiskey Park, ye editor dug this week into his "treasure box," and found the game program from that August day 38 years ago when the White Sox engaged the Detroit Tigers in a doubleheader.

Two games for the price of one? This old refugee from the cotton fields thought he had died and gone to heaven, and stayed for all 18 innings, and enjoyed every pitch.

Maybe some of you old timers will recognize some of the players in the lineup that day. A couple have made the Hall of Fame, although most of them were just "everyday" players who probably were just making a living wage at their craft at that time before inflated salaries.

There were second-baseman Nelson (Nellie) Fox, one of the early "mighty midgests" of baseball at 5-10; shortstop Chico Carrasquel; and outfielder Minnie Minoso, one of the players who helped break the sports "color barrier," who went on to have a great career.

The pitcher in the second game was none other than Virgil (Fire) Trucks, who had made history the previous year by pitching two no-hit games in a single season. He won the game that day, 11-6.

Some of the other White Sox players were: Sam Mele, Jim Rivera, catcher Sherm Lollar, Ferris Fain, Vern Stephens, and Gene Bearden. The manager was Paul Richards.

For the Tigers, their great shortstop, Harvey Kuenn was the leadoff man, followed by Johnny Pesky, Ray Boone, Walt Dropo and Mike Souchack.

Probably not household words to many of my readers of today. I wish my late friend Ed White, Sr. were still around—he would know every last player I've mentioned.

That summer in New York, fans argued over which team had the best centerfielder. Joe DiMaggio was nearing the end of a great career with the Yankees; the young Willie Mays was holding forth for the Giants, and Duke Snider roamed center for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

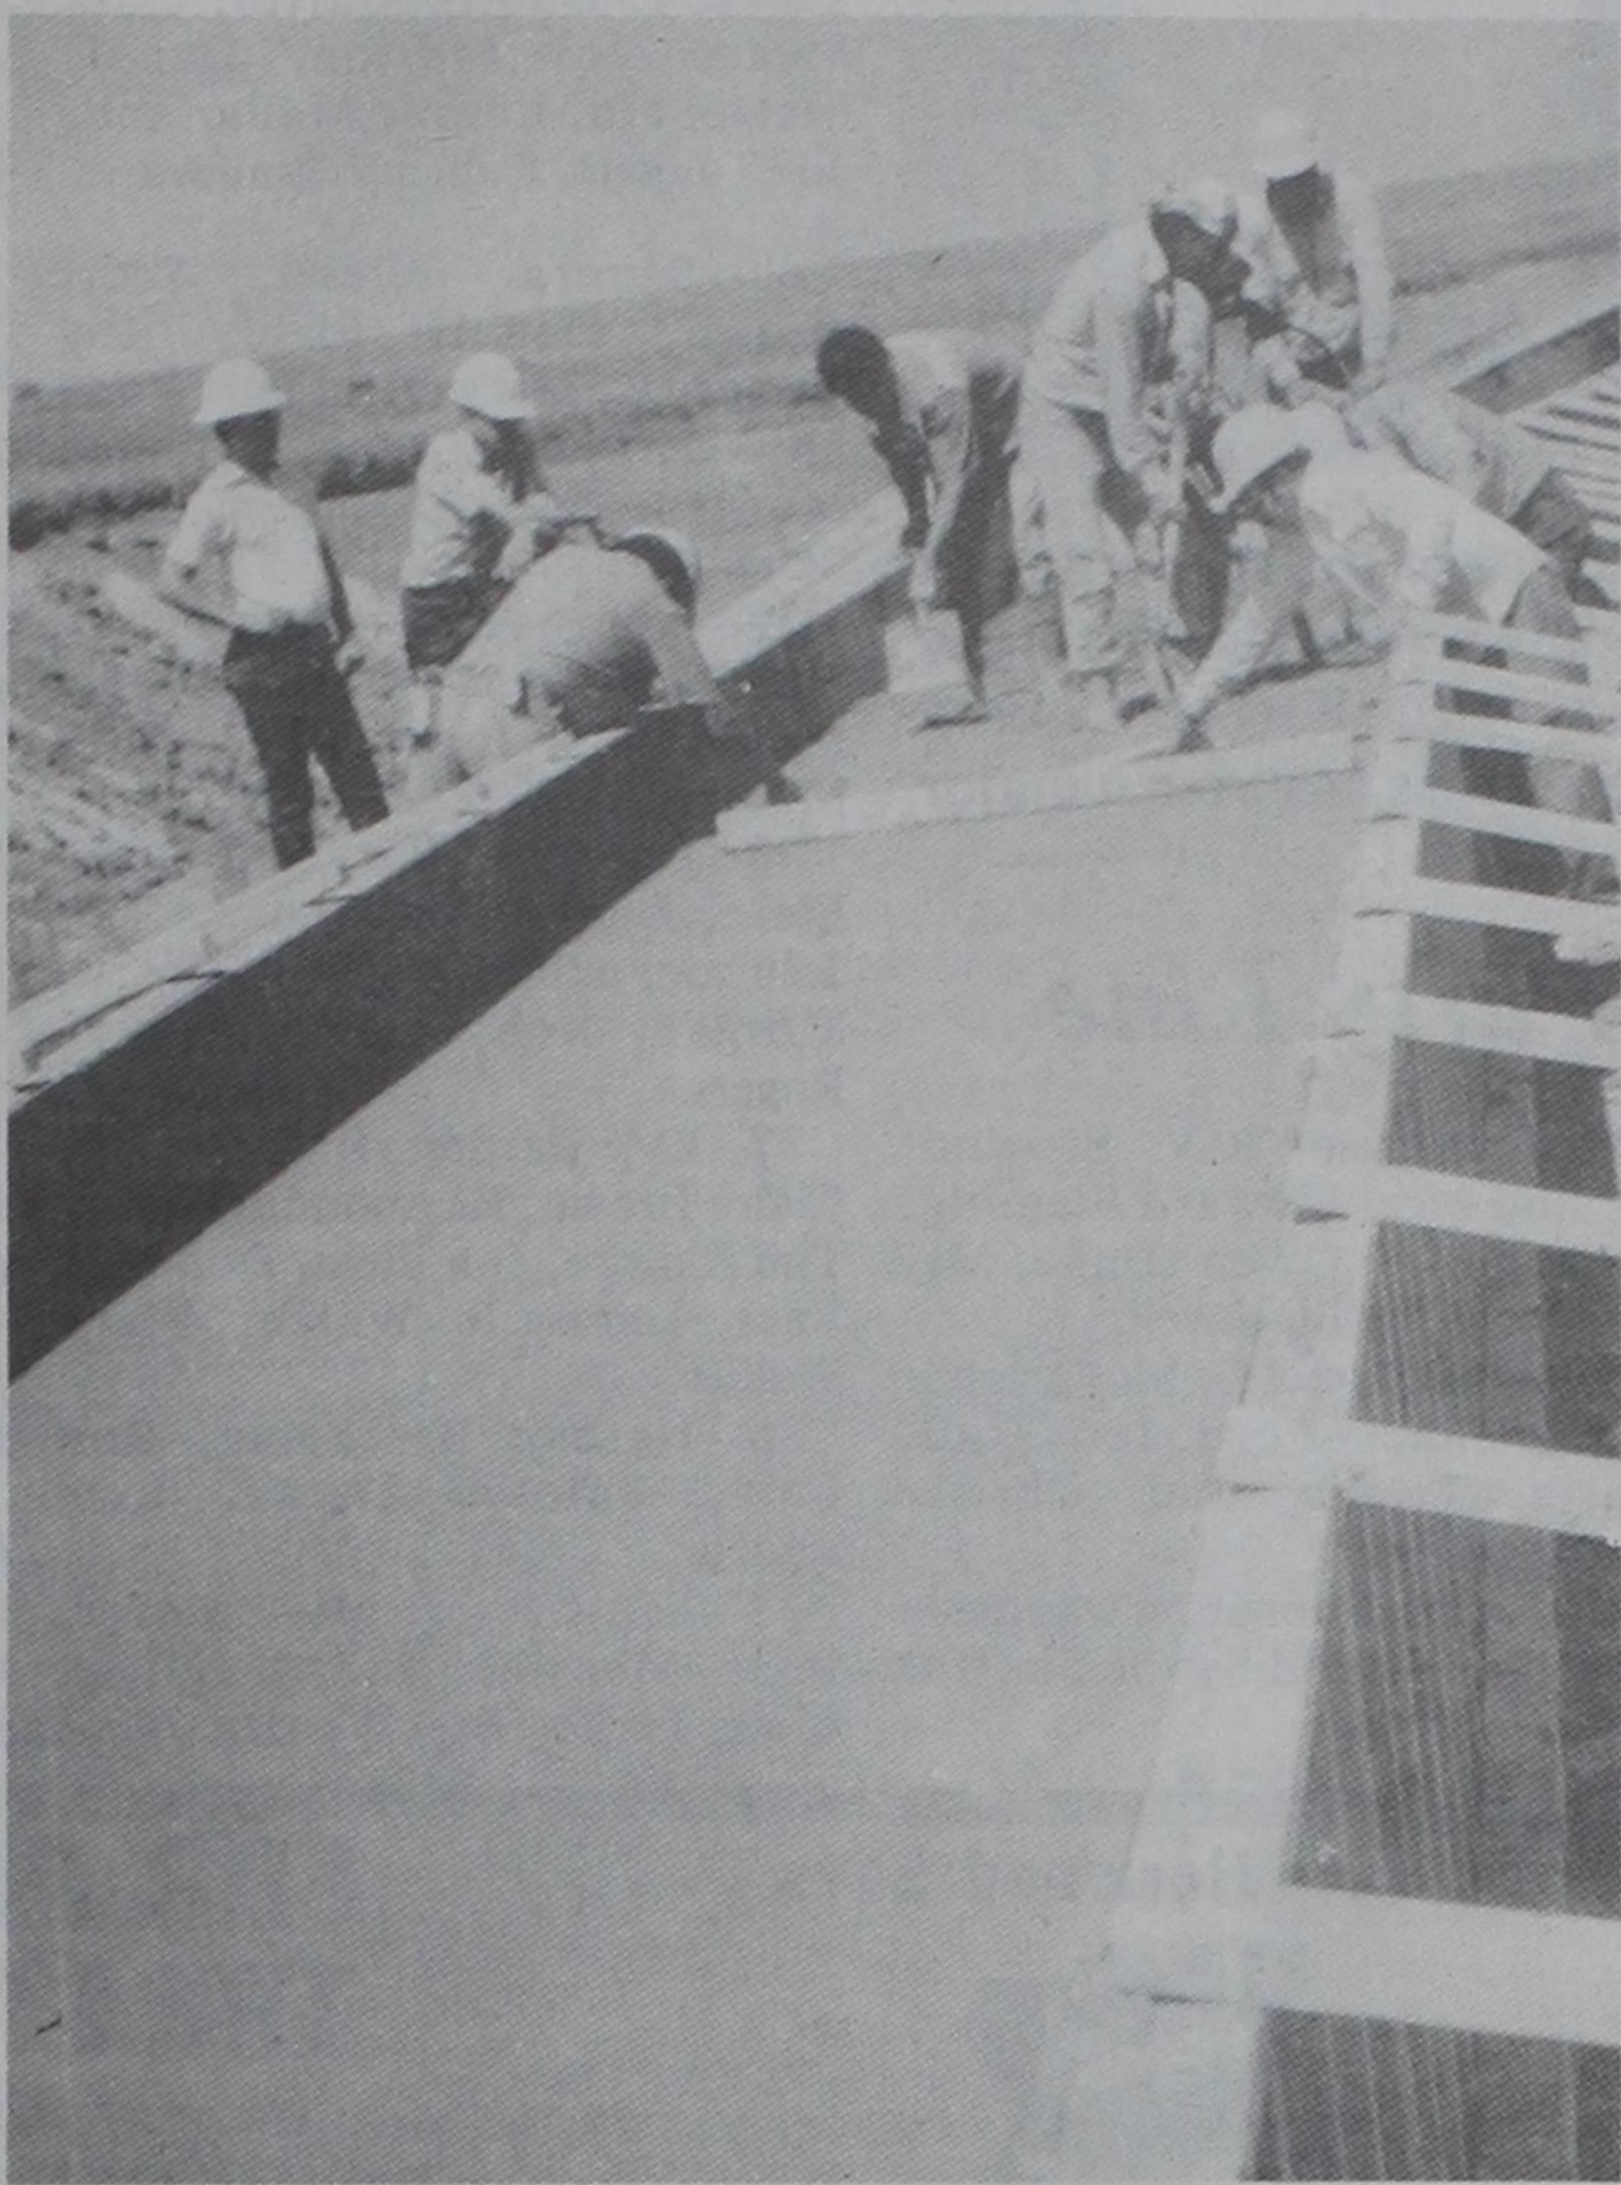

The next year, Bobby Thomson hit his famous ninth-inning home run for the Giants, to give his team the pennant and World Series berth in the playoff game against the Dodgers, after the Giants made their fantastic late-season rally.

The thing that stands out is that players stayed on certain teams for their entire careers. You could recite a major league team's lineup one year, and it most likely would be the same the next, unless a player retired, and then there would be a "rookie" breaking into the game.

Nowadays, the players bounce around from one team to another. Even my current hero, Nolan Ryan, has been with four teams. He's best known for his exploits with the California Angels, but also pitched nine years at Houston, plus his early years with the Mets, and now is in his twilight with the Texas Rangers.

Don't know what all this proves, except that "tempus fugit," and time even has a way of changing things.

Even down to the "young writer" that was going to have a career covering the big leaguers. Carol says I still do that, it's just on a smaller scale than the first couple of years.

ROAD WORK...Concrete work is well underway on the construction for culverts on the new (southbound) lanes of Highway 60 between Friona and the Deaf Smith County line.

Area Corn Harvest Getting Underway

Harvest on what might be the "most expensive" corn crop ever produced in the local area is underway, with observers voicing cautious optimism about the prospects for the crop.

"I think it may be quite a bit better than we first thought it would be," said Ron Smiley. He quoted figures for one farmer who had finished harvest and had averaged over 1100 pounds of corn to the acre.

O.L. (Mac) McMurtrey at Hub Grain Co. said the harvest was just getting underway.

"The average yield may be down a little from normal. I've heard some yields that went over 10,000 pounds per acre, and some down to 7,000, so the average might be 8500 to 9,000 pounds," McMurtrey said.

Up until the last week or so, most of the corn harvested had been for ensilage purposes, but the corn being grown for combining has matured and dried to the extent that it could be harvested.

Also, with temperatures returning to the high 80s and low 90s this week, it allowed much of

NASA Balloon Seen In Area Wednesday

Friona residents were treated Wednesday morning to a spectacular view of a helium research balloon as it floated aloft across the area at heights of up to 25 miles.

First spotted in the dark early-morning sky to the southwest, the balloon at first looked like an extra-bright star. It continued to be a bright object well past sunup, and was clearly visible throughout the morning hours except for a time when some high clouds obstructed the view.

By noon, the intriguing object was almost directly overhead to Friona residents, and later moved on in a north-easterly direction, and was photographed later in the day by the Amarillo news media.

The balloon is thought to be a helium research balloon of the type launched at Fort Sumner, N.M., by a scientific group affiliated with New Mexico State University and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

A number of people were able to observe the balloon through binoculars and telescopes, and could see four "feet" which protrude downward to the gondola that is loaded with scientific instruments.

The balloons never carry passengers. Instead, they tote state-of-the-art monitoring equipment used to study such things as ozone, the colorless gas providing protection from the sun's ultraviolet rays that some scientists believe is being destroyed by pollution on earth.

Observers could also see a pair of "sun spots" on the balloon, due to its transparent nature, as the sun was hitting the side of the balloon closest to the sun and going through to the other side.

Although the object appeared small to the naked eye, that was due to the fact that it was so high aloft. The balloons released at Fort Sumner are 350 feet high and 400 feet in diameter when fully inflated, and are large enough to contain a football stadium.

It is thought that the balloon seen Wednesday was similar to one that came to earth in a wheat field on the farm of Russell O'Brian ten miles east of Hub on March 16, 1962, and was photographed by the Friona Star.

O'Brian was one of the many viewers of the balloon on Wednesday, but didn't get to see this one quite as closely as the one in 1962.

The balloons represent an important part of the nation's ongoing effort to conduct atmospheric studies quickly and cheaply, without relying on rockets or the space shuttle.

An article recently in the Albuquerque Journal quoted a pair of scientists who are associated with NASA's National Scientific Balloon Facility.

Marvin Leventhal told the Journal reporter, "This is sort of a poor man's space program. Rocket projects cost tens of millions, even billions of dollars. The space shuttle takes years to get something on board. But a balloon and the helium to inflate it will

Bank Clears Property For Parking

Work has been underway for the past few weeks as the old Holiday House Motel has been razed on Highway 60.

Friona State Bank, located on the adjoining property, has been owner of the motel property the past few years, but the bank has no plans to build anything else on the property, according to FSB President Robert Neelley.

"We're just clearing the property, and will turn it into a parking lot for our employees," Neelley said.

probably run only a couple of hundred thousand. In the space physics game, that's chicken feed."

Leventhal reportedly has used such balloons to study supernovas, or exploding stars, and calls them "wonderful" for research.

The National Scientific Balloon Facility previously launched their balloons at a Palestine, Texas, site, between Dallas and Houston.

However, due to the possibility of the 3,000 pound gondola falling on people or houses, the launch project was moved to Fort Sumner in 1987.

Fort Sumner is located 57 miles west of Clovis, N.M., on U.S. Highway 60, which makes it roughly 90 miles west of Friona.

(Thanks to Edna Minyen of Bovina for providing the article from the Albuquerque Journal.)

Snyder Is Winner In Grid Contest

Bryan Snyder showed the "old pros" how to do it in the third week of the Friona Star Football Contest.

Snyder, entering for the first time this season, posted the best score in the last couple of seasons, getting 19 of the 20 contest games right, and easily claimed the weekly first prize check of $10.00.

Snyder's only miss on the 20-game slate was Green Gay-Kansas City.

Three contestants had scores of 18, and two of these won the other two weekly prizes, on the basis of their tie-breaker predictions.

Martha Clements took second place, after missing the Friona-Canyon score by 20 points. Cliff Stephens took third place, missing the score by 39 points.

Joy Morton was the other contestant picking 18 games, but she missed the tie-breaker score by 41 points.

All three of the contestants missing 18 games missed the same two games: Arkansas-Mississippi and San Diego-Cleveland.

Eight contestants had scores of 17, which would have been the high score either of the first two weeks. These were Tom Johnson, C.H. Veazey, Bobby Wied, Ruben Villanueva, Mark Zachary, Cory

Hamilton, Roddy Berend and Mitchell Smiley.

Thirteen contestants had good scores of 16 for the week. They were Rocky Lee, Lonnie McFarland, Raymond Delgado, Donita Martin, Ron Smiley, Clint Mears, Dianne Morgan, Charlie Morgan, Scott Brown, J. David Barnett, Dennis Field, Lance Looper and Jack Clark.

After three weeks of competition, Mitchell Smiley is leading the pack in the race for the grand prize, with a score of 45.

Roddy Berend is second at 44, and Martha Clements and Bobby Wied are tied at 43. Jack Clark, Mal Manchee, Kent Patterson, Ron Smiley and C.H. Veazey have scores of 42.

Contestants are vying for the grand prize of $100, to be awarded at the conclusion of the 13-week promotion.

Prairie Acres Party Line

By CAROL DELEON

We have had a pretty quiet week around here. Everyone has noticed and enjoyed the cooler fall weather. Some of the residents are looking forward to winter and some would prefer summer stick around a little longer.

The staff at Prairie Acres is looking forward to a new program that Vergil Ichtertz has volunteered to share with us. It will be a four week seminar on "Stress Management." (I don't know why anyone would think someone working at a nursing home would be under stress.)

This week I would like to thank: Paul Fortenberry for donating books for our residents to enjoy; the gentleman who gave us the pretty cabbage to share; the person who gave tomatoes; and Mona Sharrock for the clothes and craft items. I am very sorry that I don't have all the names of those donors, but I wanted to thank them anyway.

Hair care was done by the Friona Methodist ladies. Church services were provided by Calvary Baptist Church. They also celebrated the monthly birthday party with us Sunday. As usual, it was very much appreciated.

The following donations have been made to the Love Fund:

BY HOLDING UP HIS ARMS, THE BATTLE WAS WON!

THE FIRST BATTLE THE ISRAELITES ENGAGED IN, AFTER THEIR ESCAPE FROM EGYPT, IS RECORDED IN EXODUS: CHAP. 17. THE AMALEKITES THREATENED THEIR SAFETY WHILE ENCAMPTED AT REPHIDIM. MOSES TOLD JOSHUA TO PICK HIS BEST MEN AND DRIVE THEM OFF WHILE HE, MOSES, WOULD HOLD ALOFT HIS ROD ON A HILLTOP TO ENCOURAGE THEM. WHILE HE HELD IT HIGH, THE BATTLE WENT WELL BUT, AFTER A NUMBER OF HOURS, HIS ARMS TIRED AND DROPPED—THEN THE AMALEKITES BEGAN TO WIN. AARON AND HUR SAW THIS AND, SEATING MOSES ON A ROCK, THEY HELD HIS ARMS ON HIGH AND....

...ONCE AGAIN, THE BATTLE WENT WELL AND THEY CONTINUED TO HOLD MOSES' ARMS ALOFT THROUGHOUT THE LONG DAY UNTIL THE AMALEKITES WERE DECISIVELY BEATEN!

ASCS Approves Farm Programs For 1990-91

A news release from the ASCS in Parmer County stated that ASCS programs for 1990-91 have been approved.

Those serving on the board are Wesley Barnett, chairman; Jerry Don Glover, vice chairman; Vernon Willard, member and Martin Chandler, county executive director.

The county committee meets the second Tuesday of each month.

Emergency Feed Program: Parmer County producers are approved for the Emergency Feed Program if they have eligible cattle and have suffered at least a 40% loss in production of livestock feed. Other provisions of the program include:

1. You must have owned the cattle for at least six months or the county committee must determine if it is a part of your normal operation to not own livestock for six months at a time (must be evident four out of five years).

2. You must have a livestock feed loss (pasture, haygrazer, cane, etc.).

3. You must be purchasing livestock feed above normal.

Contact this office as soon as possible if you feel you might be eligible.

1991 Wheat Program: The program has not been finalized yet, however, the Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter has indicated that leave out requirements will be in the neighborhood of 10-20%.

Sodbuster/Swampbuster Provi- sions: Producers who desire to break out new cropland or prepare a wet land area for crop, should contact ASCS and SCS before work begins. If you violate the Sodbuster/Swampbuster provision, you will be ineligible for any program benefits on that farm or any other farm in which you have an interest.

Maintenance of ACR and CRP: This office will be making ACR and CRP maintenance spot checks until December 31. If you have any weeds that are subject to blow after frost, you are required to take adequate steps to prevent this problem. Loss of part or all of your payments could result for non-compliance.

Haying and grazing ACR and CU for pay: Before you hay or graze ACR or CU for payment acreages, you must come by this office to make a request. If the acreage has been watered since January 1, 1990 or will be watered before November 1, 1990, the acreage is not eligible to be hayed or grazed. If you have planted wheat or any winter crop on the ACR or CU for payment acreage you need to remember that the acreage cannot be grazed before November 1, 1990.

Failed acres: Any program crop that has failed due to hail, excessive moisture or any other reason must be reported on a form ASCS 574 prior to destruction or any other use of the land.

Proposed Furlough Notice: (Graham-Rudman-Hollins Act): A furlough is being proposed because the agency is under a sequestration order pursuant to the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (commonly known as the Graham-Rudman-Hollins Act). The schedule is planned to keep ASCS offices open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursdays of each week with Monday and Friday for furlough days, beginning on October 1, 1990. Newsletters will be sent out only if an emergency should arise.

County committee meetings will be delayed unless it is for an emergency meeting. If the furlough should go in effect we will try to serve your ASCS needs as prompt as possible.

1990 loan rates: wheat, $2.00 bu.; barley, $1.41 bu.; corn, $1.86 bu.; sorghum, $3.06 bu.

Graham-Rudman deduction of 1.4 applies to 1990 loans.

Chieftains Rocked By Potent Canyon Eagles

Say in favor of the Chiefs' game at Canyon, it was a fairly pleasant evening, and at least it didn't rain on the Chieftains and their fans, as it appeared it might do throughout the evening.

Instead, the Eagles rained a steady ground and air attack on the Chieftains that resulted in a 41-3 Canyon win.

Canyon scored on their first play from offense, a 55-yard pass and run play, and that pretty well set the tone for the game, as the Homecoming Eagles grabbed a 7-0 lead just 2:04 into the game, and Friona had the ball first for almost two minutes.

The Chieftain offense, which had averaged 367 yards in their first two games, was virtually stymied by the Eagles, who allowed only five first downs and 72 net yards to Friona.

Canyon scored twice more in the Eagles' first three possessions of the second quarter, to hike their lead to 21-0.

Friona had gained only one first down and had not been across midfield when the Chieftains took over following a punt at their own 41 with less than two minutes to play in the first half. Ismael Rocha returned the punt ten yards to begin the drive.

Rocha then went around right end for a 17-yard gain--his longest of the game and one of only three Friona runs over ten yards of the night.

Then quarterback Daniel Saiz connected with Rocha for a 14-yard gain to the Canyon 25 and another first down with just 24 seconds left on the clock.

Saiz tried three quick passes, one intended for Marcus Reyes, another over Corbin Riethmayer's head, and the third could have been a touchdown to Rocha except for an excellent defensive play by Canyon at the goal-line.

Coach Steve Williams sent kicker Mike Scott onto the field, and after a time out to regroup, Scott kicked a 42-yard field goal, his first of the season, right between the uprights, to get Friona onto the scoreboard at 21-3 with just two seconds left in the half.

Friona's hopes for a second-half rally evaporated somewhat when Rocha tried to field a Canyon punt at his own five-yard line midway through the third quarter, fumbled, and Canyon claimed the ball at the Friona three.

Two plays later the Eagles had hiked their lead to 28-3, and the rout was on.

Saiz hit Rocha for a ten-yard gain, but suffered a shoulder injury on the play and had to leave the game just as the third quarter was ending.

It became 35-3 late in the quarter on a 44-yard run by Scotty Powers, who was named class AAA player of the week by the Amarillo Globe-News for his outstanding game against the Chieftains.

With reserves in the game, Curtis Brady got his longest run of the game, 16 yards, but three plays later Friona fumbled the ball and that ended that drive.

Lumbrera Murder Trial Is Underway

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) - A woman accused of smothering her 4-year-old son told police she could have killed her son during a mental blackout, a police detective testified Tuesday.

Garden City police Detective Kendall Elliott testified that another detective, Michael Utz, suggested to Diana Lumbrera that she might have smothered her son during a mental blackout and could not remember killing him.

"She said that could have happened," Elliott said.

Mrs. Lumbrera, 31, is charged with first-degree murder in connection with the death of her son, Jose Antonio Lumbrera, May 1 at their Garden City home.

Mrs. Lumbrera, who moved to Garden City from Texas in 1985, also faces murder charges in Texas for the earlier deaths of three of her daughters. Grand juries in Texas are looking into the deaths of two other sons and a niece.

Elliott also testified Mrs. Lumbrera told police, "I didn't do it with a pillow." But he said during cross-examination she just as likely might have said, "I didn't kill my baby with a pillow."

Earlier Tuesday, doctors testified they believed the boy was smothered.

"I believe the child died from non-accidental means and that he died from asphyxiation and from being smothered," said Dr. Michael Shull, a pediatrician who treated the boy in the emergency room at St. Catherine Hospital.

The boy was lifeless and not breathing when Mrs. Lumbrera brought him to the hospital, Shull said.

Earlier, Dr. Lauren Welch, a Garden City surgeon, testified in Finney County District Court that the child had no vital signs when he was brought to the hospital's emergency room and immediately hooked to a monitor.

There were broken blood vessels on the child's face caused by the buildup of blood pressure against the walls of vessels and capillaries, he said.

The presence of the broken blood vessels and two other factors - evidence of food in the victim's stomach and no obstruction or signs of vomiting in the airway - led him to a diagnosis, Welch said.

"I was certain of his cause of death before he ever left the room. He had been suffocated," Welch testified.

Dr. Albert H. Gaines testified Tuesday he treated the child one day before his death for a slight respiratory infection that he said was not life-threatening. Hospitalization was not considered, he said.

In opening arguments Monday, the defense claimed the child died of natural causes.

Lumbrera's attorney, Michael Quint, had filed motions for a mistrial and a change of venue last Thursday, claiming that the prospective jury pool had been tainted by hearing other potential jurors refer to the deaths of Lumbrera's five children and a cousin's child in Texas, according to reports from Morris News Service, but the motion was denied.

The 12-member jury and three alternates were finally selected and Lumbrera's trial started Monday in Garden City as scheduled.

Lumbrera is also charged with three counts of Murder in Parmer County while a Bovina resident, and one in Bailey County. However, evidence on the Texas deaths won't be permitted in the Kansas trial, expected to last about another week. Investigations are continuing into the deaths of two more sons, one in Castro County and one in Lubbock.

One more Frionan, Bill Stewart, a retired business man, has joined the ranks of nonagerians. (We don't have very many in this category.)

His daughter, Billie Chandler, who lives in Santa Fe, New Mexico, came down and spent a few days and hosted an Open House in his honor in the family home at 903 West Fifth Saturday afternoon.

The serving table, from which cranberry punch and Swiss mocha were served, was centered with a balloon bouquet, which was a gift from Bill's granddaughter and great-granddaughter, Melanie Chandler and Nicole Dewey. The birthday cake was baked in nine small loaves. Each loaf was decorated in keeping with Bill's interests and hobbies.

Special guests were Fannie Meeks, Little Rock, Arkansas, the sister of Bill's wife, Willard; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Powell of Hot Springs, Arkansas and Howard Tillman of Lillbourne, Missouri, cousins of the guest of honor.

Also, Hix Knieff, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Knieff and Mrs. LaVonn Wommack of Daingerfield, Texas. Fifty-five persons signed the guest register.

Bill and Willard, natives of Arkansas, moved to Friona in 1948. He was a co-owner of Ethridge-Spring Insurance Agency many years.

Congratulations, Bill! The Friona Star staff joins your many friends in wishing you a belated, but no less sincere Happy Birthday.

Frank and Ethel Ruth Spring are at home. These two kind of divide their time between their home in Pagosa Springs, Colorado and the one in Friona.

It is always a treat to get to see them.

All six of the McFarland sisters got together for the first time in a long time Thursday. Charlene Jones came from Ruidoso and was a house guest in the home of Gerry Taylor several days.

On Thursday, their brother and sister-in-law, Robert Hines (who is better known as "Shine") and his wife, Elsie, came over from Tucumcari.

At noon Lora Mae McFarland, Ilene and Katy Osborn and Martha and Roy Clements joined the group for lunch. This was followed by an afternoon of visiting and playing bridge.

Afternoon callers in the Taylor home were M.C. and Ann Osborn.

Thanks to Rochelle White, the Parmer County Home Extension Agent, I learned something this week. Miss White called to tell me there are two dangers to the oven canning method described in last week's Town Talk.

One is jar breakage and the other is botulism, which she can explain much better than I can, so contact her if you need further information.

I'm always grateful for the reader response Town Talk receives.

Mildred May returned home early last week from Grapevine, Texas, where she had spent a long weekend visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Burton and daughters, Ellen and Jenna May. Mrs. Burton, the former, Dana Miller, is Mildred's granddaughter.

Recent out-of-town guests in the home of Inez Rule have been Mr. and Mrs. Boots Rule of Dolores, Colorado, who also visited in the home of his sister, Zay Beach and Mrs. Edna Bell of Truelock, California.

The Rules lived here before moving to Colorado about 35 or so years ago.

Olive and Meryl Massie had a very interesting trip earlier this month. They flew from Dallas-Fort Worth Airport to Gatwick Airport. Then spent some time as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Jensen and sons, Lars and Lau.

Mrs. Jensen, the former Annie Jensen, was Friona's first foreign exchange student and lived in the Massie home. She and her husband and sons have visited here several times since that time.

Lars, the oldest son, is a law student and Lau, the son who lived here one year as a Youth For Understanding student in the home of Jackie and Peggy Stowers, is still in the equivalent of our high school.

Olive reported, "We had such a nice time. I think England is one of the nicest foreign countries I've visited."

Raymond and Lillie Mae Hughes of Arapaho, Oklahoma, arrived in Friona Thursday afternoon for a visit with friends and former neighbors. They spent some time with me and also visited with Mr. and Mrs. W.V. Elmore, W.D. and Reba Buske and Homer and Frankie Lindeman.

This couple lived in and around Friona about thirty years before moving back to their native state about five years ago.

As they were departing Monday morning, Lillie Mae said, "We like Friona very much and would prefer to live here if it wasn't so far from our kids."

Marlene Drake returned home Thursday from Waco, Texas, where she had been visiting in the home of her youngest son, Bobby, and his children, David and Lacey. Other Frionans visiting with Bobby and the children recently have been two of his cousins, Erma Brown and Peggy Stowers.

Marlene reported, "We spent some time with Forrest and Linda Jo Davis Harding and enjoyed them so much."

Linda Jo is a native Frionan and grew up here and Forrest taught and coached here a few years ago.

Leon and Loretta Hartman and daughters, Amanda and Abby, left for their home in Mesa, Arizona, Monday morning after spending about ten days visiting in the home of Oleta Houser.

Other out-of-town guests on Sunday were Mrs. Bill Simpson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Simpson and children, Jared, Rebecca and Grace, of Amarillo.

Leon spent a couple of days last week attending to business in Midland and Oleta, Loretta and the girls spent one day visiting their Amarillo kin.

"Children mimic grownups. They ape us to the letter. Regardless of the time we've spent Trying to teach them better."

Were truer words ever spoken?

Mutual Fund Assets Reach $1 Trillion

The beginning of 1990 marked the year that, for the first time, mutual funds held by more than 30 million Americans reached a total of $1 trillion in assets. "This represents a more than 10-fold increase from the $95 billion in assets on January 1, 1980," reports The Investment Company Institute, the Washington-based voice for the mutual fund industry.

Institute president David Silver recalled, in his annual report, some of the significant events in mutual fund history:

In 1924 the first mutual fund was established in Boston. By 1933 it was evident that stricter regulations were needed throughout the securities industry. The Securities Act of 1933 met this need by regulating the registration and offering of new securities to the public. This included mutual fund shares.

The Securities Exchange Act of 1934 charged the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) with the task of providing a fair and equitable securities market. This was followed by The Investment Company Act of 1940, which structured the framework for the mutual fund industry.

These major pieces of legislation and the regulatory agencies they created still direct the securities industry, of which mutual funds are a vital part.

In 1940 there were only 68 funds with total assets of $448 million. It took another five years to expand the mutual fund industry to 73 funds. That year, in 1945, these funds had total assets of $1 billion.

It was not until 1951 that the mutual fund industry saw 1 million accounts and $3.1 billion in assets. That year there were 103 mutual funds.

Money-market mutual funds were introduced in 1972; it wasn't until 1977 that the first municipal bond fund was offered to the public. Tax-exempt money-market funds were introduced in 1979.

Just ten years ago the mutual fund industry consisted of only 564 funds with total assets of $100 billion. Two years later, in 1982, universal IRAs were introduced, and by mid-1989 IRA mutual fund assets alone accounted for $94 billion in mutual fund assets.

U.S. government bond funds and GNMA funds came to market in 1983. These funds played an important role in increasing the number of funds to 1,531 and raising total mutual fund assets to $495.5 billion by 1985.

This year the mutual fund industry topped $1 trillion in assets.

From the inception of the first mutual fund in 1924 until the mid-'70s, the mutual fund industry was considered an easy way for the small investor to participate in the stock market. Today, however, with a wider range of fund types—stock, bond and money market—mutual funds have truly become a universally accepted investment.
