

Waco's worries are Hico's worries—at least in one respect.

The water supply of the thriving metropolis on the south is menaced by silting of Lake Waco, according to an article in last Sunday's Dallas News by Roy Roddy, Agriculture Editor of The News.

The bad part of it is that Bosque Valley farmers and natives of this whole section should be even more worried about the picture of our future if we keep sending our best soil down the river.

Those who look ahead and put some thought into the probable economic outlook for their children who stay in this area may want to read what Mr. Roddy said:

WACO, Tex., Nov. 8.—A negligent agriculture in the watershed of the Bosque Rivers is hastening the natural processes of erosion and consequently is threatening the future growth and existence of farm markets in the City of Waco.

This artificial acceleration toward social suicide has pitched to Waco a water problem so serious that it haunts officials and businessmen day and night. Silt already has spelled the doom of Lake Waco, chief source of the city's water supply.

Completed in 1930 from the proceeds of a 40-year $2,000,000 bond issue, Lake Waco lies below the confluence of the North and South Bosque Rivers, above the junction of the Bosques with the Brazos Drainage area of the two rivers flowing into the lake covers 1,662 square miles in McLennan, Bosque, Coryell, Hamilton, Erath and Somervell Counties. Engineers believe this watershed is far too large for the size of the lake.

Silt fills Lake Waco

Silt encroachment started immediately after the lake was completed. A Soil Conservation Service survey in March, 1935, revealed that the lake had lost almost 15 per cent of its original capacity of 38,378 acre feet of water. A second survey in 1936, eleven months later, showed further loss had raised the percentage to 19.42.

No surveys have been made since 1936, but several years of high rainfall and runoff have occurred since that time. On the basis of the two surveys, Lake Waco has lost about 4 per cent of its capacity annually since its construction. About 70 per cent of its original storage capacity has been displaced by sediment," one SCS official reported Saturday.

A SCS crew will complete a third survey of the watershed soon. Starting at Stephenville in Erath County, the crew will work downstream through Meridian in Bosque County to Waco in McLennan County, T. O. Priddy of Waco, district conservationist of the McLennan County SCD, said.

Basin Used for Grazing

Approximately 40 per cent of the entire basin is utilized in grazing. Land that should carry from one to five head of livestock on every forty acres is heavily overstocked. Conservation practices prevail on only 20 per cent of the land. The earth is bare. Due to the long drought, the basin is set to discharge another devastating slide of silt into Lake Waco. With nothing to retard the rainfall, the city may suffer another flood in the long series that have lashed it during the last fifty years.

During past breaks in the gravity line that carries water from the lake to the city's filters, Waco has taken water from the Brazos River. But that source has not proved satisfactory, said Fred H. Husbands, manager of the Waco Chamber of Commerce. A municipal lake offers the only practicable solution to the city's problem.

Such a lake, or its equivalent, must be formed in the near future, for officials believe that Lake Waco will be gone entirely, long before the bonds that authorized it are mature.

Second Lake Considered

Federal authorities are considering construction of a second Waco lake in connection with the Whitney Dam and reservoir project upstream from Waco. This second lake, which would fit with the Whitney Dam into the Brazos flood control program, would be formed by another dam immediately below the present Lake Waco dam. Waco citizens, hoping for early authorization, believe the project will assure them of an ample water supply. But what about the rate of sedimentation in the new lake, if and when it is completed?

"Through neglect, we have already ruined the best sites on some of our smaller streams. Each man could name several dams that have been ruined or impaired by silt. It is up to all of us to protect these irreplaceable resources," Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said at Phoenix, Ariz., last week.

The soil must be tied down. Society cannot enter into an interminable process of building expensive flood control systems, only to have those systems ruined by the agriculture they are designed to protect. Each system will prove more costly and less effective than its predecessor. The cheapest way out, specialists agree, is to begin where the run-off starts, on the top of the first slope in the watershed. Then each individual landowner should fall in line, all the way down the watershed to the sea.

Veterans' News

Nearly 2,000 World War II veterans in the Southwest are being paid compensation for deafness due to military service and require special rehabilitation measures, the Dallas Branch Office of the Veterans Administration has found.

VA made the survey of its eight regional offices in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi on the occasion of National Hearing Week November 9-15, sponsored by the American Hearing Society and endorsed by President Truman.

The southwestern veterans are among 42,000 World War II servicemen throughout the country receiving compensation for hearing disabilities.

The number of deafened veterans being rehabilitated by VA's southwestern offices includes 688 by Dallas, 86 by Houston, 230 by Lubbock, 465 by San Antonio, 205 by Waco, 72 by New Orleans, 93 by Shreveport, and 117 by Jackson, Mississippi.

Approximately 2,000,000 veterans whose secondary education was interrupted by the war may, in most cases, obtain high school diplomas by taking tests given at Veterans Testing Service agencies located in all parts of the country, VA reports.

The agencies, organized by state departments of education and not by VA, are being established in or near every community with a VA regional office or guidance center.

VA vocational advisers can furnish veterans with the address of the nearest VTS agency, as well as information on procedures for applying for credits and diplomas.

Each veteran in training under the GI Bill will receive a notice from the Veterans Administration with future subsistence checks advising him not to cash the check if he believes he is not entitled to the full amount of the payment.

The notices are designed to help eliminate subsistence allowance overpayments and the necessity for refunds by veterans, VA said.

The notice informs the veteran that, according to VA records, he is still in training. It urges the veteran to contact his nearest VA office before cashing the check if he has stopped training or has any reason to believe the check represents an overpayment on his account.

If the veteran is entitled to a part of the money, VA said it will make every effort to adjust his records and issue another check without delay.

Scouts Go On Hike — But It Develops Into Wiener Roast

A few of the Scouts were absent at last Thursday's eleventh meeting, but most were present. When seven o'clock came we started marching out toward the City Park.

When we got to the home of Mr. Fred Jones and came up to a camp fire, we sat down around it. We sang several songs, including "America."

After this boys were sent out in pairs in different directions and were told to meet together. Most of them got together and played a while. Finally we heard several wolf calls and we went back to the camp fire.

When we got there we discovered several pounds of wieners and marshmallows to go along with them. We had bread, onions and mustard spread to make hot dogs. We roasted the wieners and marshmallows.

When everyone was through we left, and as we went by Mr. Jones' house we gave him fifteen rabs for the wiener roast.

On the way home we ran a Scout Pace, which is 50 paces walking and 50 running. When we got home we formed a Scout Circle and repeated the Scout Oath, and left for home.

Three Hunnert and Sixty-Nine Dollars We Should've Said!

Pardon, please! In a report last week from the committee that sponsored the Halloween Carnival, this paper reported "a highly satisfactory profit of three dollars and sixty-nine cents."

It should have read three hundred and sixty-nine dollars which is all the more satisfactory, as you can easily understand.

The linotyper who made the error in transcribing the neatly written and correctly worded report which came in plenty early, pleads guilty. But who ever heard of a linotyper operator never making an error?

The fact still remains as we correctly reported it—the carnival was a success in every way. And the sponsors, faculty and students of Hico Public Schools are duly grateful.

Roping Contests At Carlton Wound Up With A Big Bang

At the last roping contest of this season at Carlton last Saturday, Mark Mansell won first, James Boatwright won second, and Allen Lewis won third, according to a report by Jess Reeves.

Best time of the day was made by Allen Lewis, 9.8 seconds.

The largest number of ropers and the biggest crowd attended this last roping of any previous contest. Plans are being made now to start this contest early next year and to get it into some private individual's hands for a better show Reeves said.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Metropolitan Papers

Folks here were burned up over an article on Our Town I reprinted from a city paper. Made us sound like a bunch of "hicks" who whittled sticks and wore chin whiskers. (Last person I saw with chin whiskers was passing through on his way east.)

So I ran an editorial on how we spoke of city "slickers"—as over-dressed wiseacres, only interested in making money, and spending it in night clubs.

Fact is, if we got to know each other we'd probably find we're not much different, underneath. City folks work hard; like to come home at night to their families; and relax with a moderate glass of beer, like we do.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if you live in an apartment house or on a farm—work in an office or a cornfield—the American tradition of quiet home life, temperate habits, and neighborliness is common to all of us.

For the Longer Evenings Ahead

Keep bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes clean. You'd be surprised how much dust and dirt hold back light from your portable lamps and fixtures. Just by washing bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes you can get up to 30% more useable light. (Disconnect portable lamps before washing and be sure bulbs and bowls are dry before re-connecting.)

Brush or clean lamp shades regularly. If lamp shades are dirty or turning yellow inside, you may be losing as much as 50% of the light you're paying for. Clean or brush lamp shades regularly. If they are too dark or discolored, relime them or replace them with fresh new shades with white or very light linings.

Fill empty sockets and replace blackened bulbs. Bulbs that have turned black with age rob you of light. Replace them with bright new bulbs of the right size and you'll get a lot more light at little or no increase in cost. Fill empty sockets, too. They're eye strain breeders.

SENIOR NEWS

Everybody enjoyed the football game, even though it was rather cold. We are still working trying to get an annual this year. Everyone seems to want one.

JUNIOR NEWS

This week we will have a description of the Junior Class. J is for Jolly—Charles Gollightly. U is for uncertain—All Juniors. N is for noisy—Paul Allen. I is for innocent—Bobby Bates. O is for obedient—Mamille Par-rack.
 R is for rowdy—Marie Ramey. S is for smart—Betty Knight. Don't you agree? No comment!

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Everyone enjoyed the game Friday night, even though we almost froze to death and lost the game. This week we will tell you a little about Mary Moore. She has black hair, brown eyes and dark skin. She goes with a certain Junior and they make a very cute couple. Her favorites are: Actress, Ingrid Bergman; actor, Spencer Tracy; food, pickles; dessert, devil's food cake; hobby, sewing. Everybody was glad the girls and boys got to ride back together Friday night. Think everyone enjoyed it. (?)

FRESHMAN NEWS

We were all glad to get out of school Tuesday for Armistice Day. The football boys played a good game last Friday, even though they were defeated.

The second year Homemaking Class had a fashion show last Friday. The girls had made some very nice dresses.

POEM OF THE WEEK

Mary, Mary, quite contrary, How does your homework go? The radio singing and the telephone ringing— No wonder your grades are so low

HOMEMAKING II NEWS

Well, we had our style show last Friday. Everyone seemed to enjoy it but the Homemaking girls. The mothers were later served with coffee and cakes at the Cottage. We want to thank Shirley Seago for playing for us.

F. F. A. NEWS

Five of our officers attended the District Banquet at San Saba last week. One of our members, Clinton Spotts, is a district officer.

The boys got their gifts that we are loaning out next Friday. We are also going to loan out our sow. At our meeting we voted on buying feeder pigs. We bought three so we will feed out five.

SPORTS

The Hico Tigers went over to Glen Rose Friday night, and came back with a losing score of 27-0. Glen Rose had a large team, and didn't score but one touchdown in the last half, which they had a hard time doing.

The Tigers will play Strawn next Friday night, November 14, at Strawn, and the Tigers sure hope to beat them.

WOMEN'S EYE VIEW

Nilly wishes they would have style shows more often. Nilly decided on the best dressed girl without a bit of help from anyone (of course he is no judge of sewing, but he knows a smooth brunette when he sees one).

Now Mary Moore is the pretty Sophomore girl who had on the gold colored dress at the style show. Believe me, she's some dish! If she would only stand a little straighter and seem a little more enthused over things she would be Nilly's idea of an ideal girl. The only trouble is that Mary already has a boy friend and Nilly already has a girl friend. I wish they would have another style show soon. Nilly might be able to find an ideal girl next time. But until I do find that dream I'll just stick by Mary.

CRYSTAL BALL

Oh, what a vision! It's Joan Malone, Glen Rose, Mildred Ellis, and Charles Gollightly, Billy E. and Jimmie B.

Friday night I see these coming back from Glen Rose: Bulldog Hill and Patsy Tooley, "Jasper" and Nell, Pat D. and Logan E. Pat M. and "Dub" P., Billy Loden and Barbara M., Joy Ann G. and Clynton Roberson, Bobbie J. R. and Patsy Salmon, Mary Moore and Odell Terry, Mary S. and Joe M.

Saturday night I see Patsy Tooley and "Stub" Funk, Betty Hicks and Earl Simpson, Bulldog Hill and Dorris Herrin, Mary Nell B. and Bennie Wood, Patsy R. and Wendell K., Joan G. and Ray K., Betty G. and Paul A., James Leeth and Dolores Roberson.

Why were Jean Caughey and Jeane Gilbert so downhearted Saturday night? Jeane, could it have been "that cat" a hold of Walter? My vision is fading fast, but was that Katherine Walker and Rolline C. sitting together in class while the teacher was gone?

ARMY WILL EXPEDITE DEPENDENTS' MOVEMENTS

Washington, D. C.—Army personnel undergoing transfer from Italy to the European command will be joined as promptly as possible by families now in the United States and for whom transportation has been requested, the Department of the Army has announced.

Owing to uncertainty over the duration of the stay of U. S. forces in Italy many officers and enlisted men of the first three grades have been without their families for extended periods. The withdrawal of American troops from Italy and the transfer of many to Germany and Austria makes it possible to expedite the reunion of these men with their families.

MARRIED LAST SUNDAY

Mrs. Mave Hollis of Hico and Mr. R. L. Gillentine of Wellington

ceremony was performed by Rev.
J. L. Ray, pastor of the Hico Methodist Church, with only close relatives in attendance.
Those present were Mr. and Mrs.
Jack Hollis and daughter, Judy, of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hobbs and daughter, Barbara, Dallas, and Miss Mary Helen Hollis, student at Tarleton College, Stephenville.

By HELEN HALE

THERE are tricks to removing spots and stains, but you can have success if you know just what to do and get after the damage is done.

Here are the spots
which usually respond to carbon tetrachloride, a chemical which may be obtained at the drug or grocery: cream and coffee, grease, oil, lipstick, paint and chewing gum.
Wipe the stain with a pad moistened with the cleaner.

For butter and its substitutes, remove as much of the food as possible with a knife; then apply carbon tetrachloride with a pad. Or, use Fuller's earth, a powder that is sprinkled on both sides of the fabric, allowed to stand 1/2 hour and then brushed off. Repeat, if necessary.

Grease and oil spots on washable fabrics usually respond to warm water and soap which contains naph-thyl kerosene. For non-washable fabrics, use carbon tetrachloride by the pad method.

Candle wax on washable fabrics
may usually be removed by rubbing with turpentine or lard, and then washed in warm suds. On nonwashable material, place blotters on both sides of the fabric and press with a warm iron. Remove the remaining stain with a solvent;
sponge, if color remains with denatured alcohol.

Never use hot water first on egg stains as this sets the spot. Wash with warm water after cold water treatment.

Chocolate and cocoa stains on washable fabrics respond to soap and water treatment. If the material is white, and the stain still persists after this treatment, use javelle water. For colored materials with a fast dye, soak stained portion in wood alcohol with a few drops of ammonia. For non-washables, try carbon tetrachloride.

Blood stains need cold water first,
then sponging with hydrogen peroxide to which a few drops of ammonia have been added. For heavy materials, use a paste of starch and water. Brush off when dry.

- The corn picker is the most dangerous of farm machines.
- Soybean straw that is plowed under will just about maintain the organic matter and the nitrogen content of the soil.
- If your hens are not producing an average of 15 eggs per bird per month they are "boarders" and should be eliminated.
- Soil organic matter is a product of its environment. Climate more than anything else determines the amount that is present in the soil.

"The Egg and I" Debunks Joys of Chicken Farming

"The Egg and I" the movie version of Betty MacDonald's best seller which has been read by more than 25 million persons, comes to The Hico Theatre next Sunday and Monday, with Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray in the starring roles of Betty and Bob.

One of the most hilarious pieces of Americana ever concocted, the picture recounts the adventures of a honeymooning couple who try to wrest a living from a mountain-wilderness chicken ranch.
Miss Colbert discards her trademark glamour and literally goes back to the soil, even to the point of dunking herself in the odoriferous mud of a pigsty while she wrestles with "Cleopatra," the temperamental sow.

MacMurray, as the slow-witted,
pre-occupied husband who is unable to recognize the fact that his wife is working herself to death in a struggle with yesteryear's inconveniences, has a role exactly tailored to his style.

The book has been produced by Universal-International on a lavish scale. A spectacular forest fire which burns down the ranch just when the honeymooners think they have won their struggle is one of the highlights.

Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride play Ma and Pa Kettle, the earthy, shiftless, prolific neighbors whose doings are a constant succession of king-size laughs.

The screenplay by Producer
Fred Finklehoffe and Director
Chester Erskine follows the book with commendable fidelity but manages added suspense by the addition of a story line, in which Louise Albritton plays the other woman with designs on Mac-Murray.

Cast of the picture includes:
Billy House, Richard Long, Fuzzy
Knight, Johnny Berkes, Vic Patel, Esther Dale, Donald MacBride,
Samuel S. Hinds, Elizabeth Risdon, and Isabel O'Madigan.

Patrons of the local theatre will have a special interest in the picture through the fact that so many of them have been through similar hardships in their diversified undertakings.

Produce-dealers in Hico are cooperating with the theatre management by urging in their advertising that all poultrymen and their families see this hilarious film.

DROP IN ENLISTMENTS DISTURBING TO ARMY

Washington, D. C.—The Army General Staff is greatly disturbed by a further drop in enlistments. Although Chief of Staff Dwight D. Eisenhower and Army procurement officials have been concerned for some time over the failure to enlist 30,000 men a month, they felt that the situation might improve. This optimism was dispelled when reports from the field showed that enlistments totaled only 21,159 during September. This was 1,967 short of the August figure.

Chris Rohne, Cranfills Gap banker, visited Tuesday evening with his daughter, Miss Geraldine Rohne, in the home of Mrs. May D. Bates. Miss Rohne is home economics teacher in Hico High School.

We had unsettled weather over the week end. A very good rain fell north of the mountains here, with only a slight trace of rain at Fairy.

Again our hearts are saddened to learn of the death of Mrs. Joe Broyles, who has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Denise Anderson of Stephenville, for the past few years. Burial was set for Tuesday afternoon, at the Broyles family lot in the Fairy cemetery. A more extended notice will be given next week.

The Tox-Eliminator treatments, if taken in time, may forestall a surgical operation.

Most eminent authorities contend that 90 per cent of all chronic diseases are due in most cases to pollution of the blood stream by improper function of the colon, over-taxed kidneys, etc. In most cases a functional disorder causes congestion. To get at the very bottom and basic cause of a large number of ailments that have heretofore resisted the best efforts of all branches of healing, I have installed the remarkable new Tox-Eliminator, Tox-Eliminator treatments, by removing the disease producing materials at their foundation in the colon, enable the body to stop further damage and rebuild damaged parts, restoring them to normal. Causes of irritation and numerous infections are removed. Tox-Eliminator treatments are pleasant and not embarrassing. They have no disagreeable features whatsoever, nothing that might offend a person of the most fastidious taste and sensitiveness.

THIS NATURAL DRUGLESS THERAPY ACCOMPLISHES THE FOLLOWING

- 1—Cleanses colon thoroughly and in a harmless manner.
- 2—Massages the bowel and gives necessary tone to tissues involved.

IREDELL ITEMS

by Miss Stella Jones, Local Correspondent

Mrs. F. L. Bates

Mrs. Cardella Bates was born February 22, 1898 in Comanche County, Texas, and passed away Monday, November 3, at 11:30 in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bakke.

She was married to Mr. F. L. Bates August 5, 1922. To this union were born two daughters, Geraldine and Illeen.

Mrs. Bates became a Christian at the age of 15 and joined the Midway Baptist Church. At the time of her death she was a member of the Macedonia church. She was a faithful member; only a few times she would be absent. She was a good Christian woman, and she was a great lover of home.

She was a great helpmate to her husband and she was a devoted wife and helpmate. Her family misses her very much; they know she is at rest. I had the pleasure of knowing her. She was of a friendly turn.

In conversation with her daughter, Mrs. Bakke, she said up till three months ago her mother had always been healthy. When she got ill everything was done for her that could be done.

Besides her husband she is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Oris Bakke and Miss Illeen; two grandsons, her stepmother, Mrs. J. R. Carroll, four brothers and four sisters, and a host of other relatives and friends.

The funeral of this beloved woman was held Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the Baptist church. Mr. Rounsaville of Hico had charge of the funeral arrangements. Rev. Potter of Linden conducted the funeral. He was her pastor at the Macedonia church and he brought a beautiful message. A large crowd of friends and a larger crowd of relatives were present to pay to their friend and loved one their last respects, for she had many friends.

The following were pallbearers: W. T. Dunlap, T. M. Davis Jr., Mr. St. Jones, W. T. Musick, Ingald and Otto Bakke. The floral offerings were large and beautiful. Some of the ladies of the Ruth Class were flower girls.

Interment was in the cemetery east of town.

Out-of-town relatives present for the funeral included: Mrs. J. R. Carroll, her stepmother, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carroll of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Glover, John Ben Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Edith Carroll, Dublin; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pharms, Walnut Springs; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Carroll, Dublin; Melven Carroll, Dublin; Mrs. Wyche Walker, Dublin; Mrs. J. O. ### STADIUM TO BE ENLARGED

Austin, Nov. 10.—When the University of Texas Memorial Stadium is enlarged seating capacity will be 66,000. Tentative plans are for the stadium to be enlarged before the 1948 football season.

Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District News

The following farmers, whose farms are south and southwest of Carlton in the South Carlton Conservation group, have taken advantage of the weather and soil conditions to construct water disposal systems which will aid in keeping their soil in place when heavy rains start by slowing down the flow of water and by shortening the slope so that large volumes of water will not be concentrated on cultivated land; by diverting water from uncultivated uplands and thus keeping it off of cultivated fields; and by shaping, smoothing and sodding to permanent grass outlet waterways so as to take care of water when it leaves the terraces:

Virgil Battershell, 2100 feet of channel type terraces and 1100 feet of grassed waterway covering 3 acres of land.

Joe B. Sharp, 1100 feet of small ridge type terraces.

Jim F. Pierce, 4700 feet of channel type terraces and 1100 feet of grassed waterway covering two acres of land.

James E. Young, 4200 feet of channel type terraces, 1200 feet of diversions and 650 feet of waterway covering two acres of land.

Jim D. Wright, 2400 feet of diversions, and 1950 feet of terraces.

John Tillinghast, ten miles north of Hamilton in the Spurline group has completed 900 feet of large ridge type terraces and 1500 feet of diversions. Mr. Tillinghast had the assistance of his commissioner, Mr. Fern Jordan, and his equipment operators, Messrs. W. A. Proctor and Carl Anderson.

John O. Guest, 11 miles north of Hamilton in the Sunshine group, has completed 4450 feet of channel type terraces.

Unemployment Part Of Waste Caused by Nation's Fire Loss

Austin, Nov. 10.—"Can you afford to be without employment if your business or place of employment goes up in flames?" asks Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

Although 51,000 store fires in the United States last year resulted in more than $32,000,000 property damage, actual loss cannot be determined because there is no way to measure lost jobs and lost wages, reduced savings and reduced volume of trade throughout a community.

"Employees play a large part in keeping a store fire-safe," the Commissioner asserts in urging every employee to look for and help correct fire hazards, not only to keep his place of employment safe, but also himself, his job and his salary.

Careless disposal of cigarettes and matches is responsible for the greatest number of store fires, the Commissioner says, and employees should obey "No Smoking" signs and be sure every cigarette is out before it is thrown away. Matches should be broken in two before they are thrown away and shouldn't be used to search dark places or struck near explosive or flammable materials.

He suggests that electric cords should never be hung from nails or hooks, run under carpets or fastened to a wall with tacks. Wiring should be installed by an electrician and worn or frayed cords on appliances should be replaced.

Employees can also help prevent fires by seeing that lamps of proper wattage are used and that no contact is made with cloth or paper shades or other combustible material. Hall says blown fuses should be replaced with new fuses of proper capacity, and electric irons should always be disconnected when not in use and placed on metal or asbestos pad when heated.

As rubbish and litter are causing increasing numbers of fires, closets, cellars, halls, basements and storerooms should be kept clear of all accumulations, and goods in storage rooms should be neatly arranged with proper spacing and ventilation. Plenty of space should be allowed around sprinkler heads, and fire doors should be kept clear of stored goods. Spaces should be cleaned out under counters and metal containers provided for waste paper. Oily rags should be stored in tightly covered metal cans or burned after using.

"Good housekeeping is of prime importance in all phases of fire prevention, and store basements should especially be kept clean as this is where 50 per cent of all store fires start," Hall states.
