

Ralph "Buy From" Boone claims he brought in the only true birdie recorded at Bluebonnet's July 4th golf tournament.

Ralph not only lost distance on his shot, but his ball fell back in the water. And to make things tougher, Sid made him play it where it lay.

Charley Hall's McGregor Mirror tells us that Raymond Gey, manager of a Barnes lumber yard in that Bluebonnet city, is the newly elected president of the Rotary Club there, which is entering its 27th year of service.

Raymond is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gey, of Carlton, and has many friends in this community who will appreciate the honor McGregor has bestowed on one of our natives.

This column acts as trouble-shooter on many occasions, and this week we find it called upon to run an errand for Sim Everett.

Cousin Hal, Sim states, proved himself a devout reader of the Hico paper by mentioning several items of news concerning local people.

But where the rub comes is that Hal was four-bits short in figuring the cost, which Cousin Sim went ahead and paid.

Bill Norton is a hard man to get along with when he wants to raise heck about something—like an error in an ad or something that should have been in the paper and wasn't.

Bill was in a mellow mood one day this week, after checking up on June business.

The complimentary part came in when he advised the editor confidentially that he didn't believe his increased advertising appropriation in the local paper last month hurt his business a bit.

The advertising bill of the nation last year amounted to $5,202,000,000, according to the annual estimate of Printers' Ink, a publication devoted to printing industry.

Newspapers, as one might suspect, had the largest single share of the total investment, $1,749,600,000, or about one-third.

The total for radio was estimated at $617,000,000 and that for magazines, of all kinds, at $512,700,000.

We figure no special comment on the figures reported but the advertiser who wants to get the most for his money can judge their importance for himself.

Hardly an hour passes during most any day now but that some one inquires, "What do you think about the war situation?"

This editor frankly admits that he hesitates to express an opinion. There was a time during the early stages of the last war when he had definite opinions, and usually put them out for free.

Now numbered in the group of editors of Central Texas, however, is a newcomer who has definite opinions, and has the background to give them authority.

H. R. Ekins, recognized big-time journalist and former overseas correspondent with a quarter century of experience handling international news, came to Goldthwaite a few months ago and purchased the Eagle, in which he literally writes his heart out with local news and three separate editorial columns.

Last week he analyzed the war situation, with connotations of its local importance, in such a masterful way that it makes sense. It isn't reading suggested for relaxation, but it contains food for thought, at least. If you want to be kidded, lulled into a false sense of security, read something else.

"No service can be rendered to this great nation of ours by sugar-coating the news. It is pure and simple honey to tell the American people that by fighting Red Koreans in Korea, we are preventing World War III. We are not doing anything of the sort. We are fighting World War III right now. It is an extension of World War II. With the defeat of Germany and Japan in 1945, there remained another enemy, Russia never was on our side on what was called World War II. Russia was on her own side only. We are

Local Bank's Assets Top $2 Million

Growth in the financial status of the community is reflected by the current statement of The First National Bank of Hico. This condition, which has been improving steadily for the past few years, seems to be general throughout this section of Texas.

Established in 1890, the local bank was chartered on July 11 of that year. Since that time, and more especially in the last decade, it has shown a steady growth. This increase is attributed to the livestock and agricultural conditions of the community, which are unusually good.

Directors are J. W. Richbourg, H. V. Hedges, Odis Petsick, T. A. Randall, and S. J. Cheek Jr. A message carrying an expression of appreciation for patronage accorded it, along with the condensed statement, appears on another page of this issue.

Meridian Paper Says Highway 6 Gap to Be Closed Within Year

Construction work on closing a gap in Highway 6 between Meridian and the Hamilton County line west of Iredell probably will get underway within the next six months.

Judge Hardwick told the Commission that the county has secured right-of-way from a point northwest of Meridian through Iredell toward the Hamilton county line and that right-of-way has been fenced off, and ranchers who have been having difficulty moving herds to pasture want the road built soon.

BIG POLITICAL RALLY PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

A. A. Brown, Democratic precinct chairman, has announced a political rally for Hico Saturday night of this week, July 15, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The local chairman said that arrangements were being completed for the accommodation of speakers and visitors, and that he had already received acceptance from a number of county and district candidates.

A similar affair held at the county seat last Saturday night created unusual interest, and new developments in various races are expected to be aired here as a follow-up in the campaigns for various offices.

Voters appeared listless at the beginning of the year when most candidates announced, and until last week there appeared to be little interest, especially since the threat of war dominated people's thoughts.

In this issue are messages from most of the local candidates, and a majority of them are expected to appear at the political rally.

Richard Tooley has agreed to arrange for a string band to aid in entertaining the visitors.

"Let's Talk Live Stock"

By TED GOULDY

Fort Worth, July 10.—Livestock trade opened on a brisk keynote this week and for the first time it was obvious that the trade was taking the "war news" seriously and was trying to plan operations accordingly.

Over the week end, there was enough long-distance telephoning between the livestock areas and the markets to almost heat the wires.

The general feeling seems to be that the Korean crisis is going to be with us awhile and whether it means full scale war or not, the demand for meat, leather and by-products is going to be large.

Stocker cattle and calves at Fort Worth were strong to $1 per hundred higher than last week's close. Some of the plain to just fairly good grades of cattle and calves sold at levels $2 to $3 above prices of a couple weeks ago. Fat stock was edging higher and boning types of animals, the canners, cutters, and sausage bulls were extremely active, fully $1 to $2.50 above values at the low point two weeks ago.

A report from the American Meat Institute over the week end pointed out that meat canning at the present time is up one-third. This means either canned meat products are increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds, or it means such products look like a good property in case of war. Probably the true picture lies somewhere between these two.

Supplementally fed steers such as those from Merle Waggoner, Wichita Falls, at $29 weighing 1,315 pounds and a string of 1,360 pound $28.50 steers from Luther Wright, Wichita Falls; and some 1,330 pound steers from McLung Land & Cattle Co., Johnson County, at $28, and some 1,087 pound steers from G. C. Robinson, Meridian, at $28, represent new high prices for this time of year at Fort Worth.

The joint Mexico-United States Commission for eradication of foot and mouth disease in Mexico had some news the other day. George Kirksey, special representative, in a news story, says:

"Utterly false rumors of a possibility of the border between the United States and Mexico being re-opened at some early date have been circulated. They are without foundation. There is no chance whatsoever of the border being opened in 1951 regardless of the success of the eradication program and there is every indication that the inspection campaign will continue on into 1952."

Rumors have been rife for months that the quarantine would be lifted soon and this official denial of the possibility is no doubt issued to protect over-eager buyers from drifting south of the border and contracting cattle in hopes they will be cleared and also to prevent the threat of these cattle coming into the country from becoming a factor in the market's behavior.

If and when that quarantine is lifted there will be a rush of buyers to the border and into Mexico that will resemble the land rush in Oklahoma when the Cherokee Strip was opened.

Northern Mexico cattlemen would like to ship their cattle to the U. S. because current prices would more than double their value overnight.

Sheep prices continue to improve. Spring lambs top at $28 now and yearlings and old sheep are in broader demand. Reports indicate that Southeastern U. S. lambs are about cleaned up.

In the Summer grass sections of Kansas, Texas cattle are doing very well, good rains and lots of water. Some Oklahoma spots carrying Texas cattle are a little dry.

Value of creepfeeding calves was demonstrated here again late last week. G. A. McClung had some 664-pound calves at $30 on the Fort Worth market.

Something new under the sun is revealed in Yugoslavia. Farmers are now required to deliver specific quantities of lard in 1950. In former program, the farmers had to deliver a specified number of hogs. Numbers of hogs were determined by size of farms. Apparently there is still some profit motive left in the collectivist states and some of the farmers were delivering "small" hogs.

Why do not some of our enterprising Americans find a bigger market for American lard in those areas of the world where lard is so keenly needed. It'd take care of a product that gets into the surplus category in this country very easily.

Speaking of hogs, they are up again at the opening this week. Prices 50 to 75 cents higher at Fort Worth, Kansas City 50 cents to $1 up, Chicago 25 to 50 cents higher. Top at Fort Worth is the highest since December, 1948, and the trade still would not be surprised if in the near future, hogs top at $25. August is usually the high month.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

This one Telescopes your Timetable

OF course you recognize it. Who doesn't know that those four Ventiports, that graceful sweep of fender-chrome, mark ROADMASTER—best of all the Buicks, unquestioned "big buy" of the fine-car field? But have you tried it? Have you matched this sweet-stepping bonny against the tall hills, and the call of the straight-away? Ever toiled it across town—and seen how Dynaflo's quick surge and smooth take-off slip you through traffic with minimum of foot-motion and maximum of timesaving? Ever known the good feel of a light and easy wheel, swinging almost at a finger's touch—the soul-satisfying lift in a big 152-hp Fireball engine just waiting for the release your toe-pressure gives it? Ever sampled that famous Buick ride—steady, level, unperturbed, soft with the special gentleness of coil springs on all four wheels, sweetly restful in both front and rear seats? There's no reason, really, to wait longer for such satisfying experience. There's a Buick dealer near you. He delights in showing off ROADMASTER. He'll arrange—unless all his demonstration cars have been snatched away from him by eager buyers—to put you behind a ROADMASTER wheel. Why not see him now—to find out what's finest in today's fine cars, and how little it takes to buy one?

To the Citizens of Central Texas:

Because of the vastness of this great State of ours and due to the shortness of time allotted to a political campaign, I have not been able to spend as much of my time in Central Texas as I would have desired during my race for Lieutenant Governor.

It was my feeling that I should spend most of my campaigning time in other portions of the State where I am not as well known and where I had fewer friends working in my behalf.

On my short visits to Central Texas, many have told me to spend my time in the far reaches of the State rather than here where I have so many loyal friends.

I sincerely feel at this time that I shall be in the run-off in this election, and I feel just as certain and sincere that my host of Central Texas friends placed me in that position. If you know of some friend who has not made up his mind how to vote in this race, ask him to vote for your friend, Senator Kyle Vick of Waco.

I believe each of you will realize that it will be to the great benefit of Central Texas to elect a Central Texan to this most important state office.

I shall attempt to see as many of you in person as I possibly can during the remainder of the campaign, but if I should miss you, please be assured that I regret it much more than you do.

Again thanking you for your wonderful support and assuring you it will never be forgotten, I am

Sincerely,

SENATOR KYLE VICK

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Charles Mohr to Mrs. Mary Stewart: "Here are some 'dated' expressions popular years ago, as per your suggestion in last week's I Remember column: 'What's the matter with Kansas?' (1898), 'Go chase yourself' (1908), 'Who's money now?' (1911), 'Snug as a bug in a rug' (1917), 'Ain't you the berries!' (1916), 'He that spareth the rod hateth his son' (1000 B. C.), 'Raspeberries!' (1921), 'It fits him to a T' (1532), 'So I took the 50 thousand...' (1926), 'See any green in my eye?' (1840), 'Applesauce!' (1927), 'Go West, young man!' (1851), 'And how!' (1926), 'Skedaddle' (1861), 'You know me, Steve' (1921)."

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: "Here are some more once-popular phrases, remembered at random: 'The boneyard is north' (to a person so old fashioned as to use a horse instead of a gas buggy), 'Tell your troubles to a cop. 'So's your old man!', 'You're darn tootin!', 'Where's Elmer?', 'Stop a minute, the fire's out', 'How old is Ann?', 'Keep your shirttail in', 'You and what army?' and 'Where do we go from here, boys?' I don't think the slang terms of kids today are as colorful or original as those of yesterday's youngsters."

From Gardner Campbell of Wakefield, Mass.: "I remember when the only forms of entertainment were local minstrel shows, dramas with local casts and programs of singing, piano selections and 'recitations.' Outside talent such as lecturers, singers, etc., were brought in by organizations and churches and the Sweetser lecture course really flourished in those days!"

(Continued from Page One) fighting Russia, and we have been engaged in a shooting war with Russia for the past two weeks. "It is pure and simple hokey to tell the American people that the United Nations is 'localizing' or 'confining' the war in Korea. In our effort to stop Stalin, we have the support of a number of nations, but the truth of the news is that the United States, as one of the last remaining islands of freedom, is fighting Red Communist Imperialism. Depending upon the fortune of battle, there may be lulls in the fighting from time to time, but for all practical purposes, we are embarked on a course that will continue to the final showdown. We must be honest about it. Just like Russia, America is girding for war. The life of every man, woman, and child in the United States will be affected—to the point that the war years of World War II will seem like a picnic as we look back upon them. "War is no time for pretense or fiction. Communists, whether in Korea, China, French Indo-China or in the Red satellite dependencies of Europe, are the instruments of the Kremlin. So are the Communists here. "The distressing part about the news of the past two weeks has been the fact that so many, who are charged with the responsibility of telling the American people the truth, have been assailed by doubt. Whether in Government, in journalism or in radio—which is not mature enough to be related with journalism—the officials, writers and broadcasters appear to have been fearful of telling American people the truth. The burden of the news has been that 'maybe, maybe, everything will be all right.' The risk has been admitted, but it has been called only a risk when, actually, the signal for the showdown came when we intervened with American arms against Red Russian arms in Korea. "This is not a dogmatic editorial. It has been written against the background of a quarter of a century of personal experience in the strong currents of world affairs. One of our first editorial comments in The Eagle's Aery on this page stated that Goldwaite was as good a place as any from which to have a perspective on the headlong rush of mankind to his destiny. It would be easy to say 'maybe, maybe, maybe,' in the manner of so many other commentators on events. But there is no 'maybe' about it. The certainty is that fighting will continue until it has been determined whether human beings in all countries are to be free, or whether they are to submit to the yoke of Red Imperialism. "That is why it is so essential to be honest about the news. We can win, although the price will be high. We can win better if we are not fooled or kidded—if we know from the very start that there will be war until the Red Dictatorship that operates in all countries, but which makes its headquarters in the Kremlin in Moscow, has been overthrown. "America is the world's only hope. We can have some helpers as we pass through the dark valleys ahead. But the helpers are weak. Without us, they would be in chains already. "The atom bomb and the hydrogen bomb have little to do with the case. They just happen to be the newest weapons of destruction. Man always has had new weapons for every war that he has fought—and man always has fought wars. The newest weapons make promise of destruction more terrible than ever before—but it is just as bad to die with an arrow through your heart as with a peizer counter kicking off radioactivity at your side. The most terrible thing is to die unprepared. We need not die unprepared if we can have honesty in the news. To have it, we must insist on being told the truth. To have the grimmest possible news sugar-coated is to have Americans treated like children. We are not. We are men who can and who must fight. But we must have honesty in the news of this portentous summer of 1950. Americans always are able to meet any challenge when they know what it is and whence it comes—even the grave challenge of global warfare. "To Doc Sellers, editor of The Rising Star Record, we are indebted for putting current personal opinion into words about a political matter that pops up every two years. "Doc says for the Record (or maybe vice versa): "We are glad that the Supreme Court allowed the name of J. E. McDonald to be placed on the ballot this year, although it was barred by the State Democratic Executive Committee. We want the people of Texas to have the opportunity of snoving McDonald so deep that he will never offer for state office again. We believe with what the people already know about the man and the adverse publicity he got in the newspapers and on the radio during his fight to get his name on the ticket that he will not again get by. The people of Texas have honored him with the office of head of the state department of agriculture for the past 20 years continuing to re-elect him although he admitted voting the Republican ticket. How any man can believe that it is right to be elected to office on the Democratic ticket in the primary and then vote with the Republicans in November is beyond us. Remember Mr. McDonald when you cast your ballot on the 22nd and let him have it. Take your choice of the other candidates."

DALE CARNEGIE

Appreciation Works Wonders G. M. WILES, New York City, told me a story the other day about his sister who unwittingly used the most valuable technique in accomplishing her aim. No doubt you, too, have unwittingly used just the right method in persuading someone to do what you want done. Often, intuition or instinct prompts the right method.

Miss Wiles is on the staff of the fine arts department of the University of Chicago. Among her duties is that of staging exhibits. But she doesn't always find exactly what she wants for her exhibits, nor can she always persuade the owner to let her have the art she wants when she does find it. This was the case this year. She wanted to build her exhibit around three unusual pieces of sculpture. The university owned copies of all three of these pieces, but a copy isn't the same thing as an original and it would lead ever so much more importance to the exhibit to display originals. The sculptor is an elderly man, and no doubt over the course of years had not found it wise to let his originals be on exhibit. Or so it would seem, for he didn't take kindly to the request. But Miss Wiles has that all-important trait, perseverance. She decided to go to see the artist in person, so she went all the way to Detroit, and arriving there made an appointment with the artist. Before the interview, she was shown through the artist's studio and was thrilled by what she saw. Finally came the moment for her "five-minute" interview. Five minutes? Why, that interview lasted two hours, with the result that the three pieces of sculpture she wanted were loaned to her, and the artist himself appeared on opening day with three of his friends. Maybe that wasn't a triumph for Miss Wiles! What had she done? She had evidenced genuine interest in that artist's work; she had been a good listener and had encouraged him to talk about his work. That was all. And that was enough! Appreciation works wonders, miracles.

NOTES FROM SUBSCRIBERS

"I'm missing my News Review, and it's just like missing breakfast," says a note from Frank McClure advising us to change his address to 1709 Baylor Ave., Waco. Like breakfast also, Frank, you will find that the NR must be digested to be effective. And don't forget again to tell us where to deliver it. "We are now in our new home at 714 Hickory St., Pecos," advises Mrs. J. L. Goodman in a recent letter. "I won't go so far as to say we are straight, but at least and at least, we are in. We are enjoying it and especially will enjoy having our Hico friends in to share it with us. So make it a point to come west for your vacation and reserve a part of it for a stopover with us." That's what we call sticking your neck out, Eugenia. Tell J. L. and Gay they may have company now most any time. Will Hooker, native son residing at Stephenville now, shows commendable continuing interest in his old home town by keeping his News Review subscription paid up promptly. Also appreciated is the annual chatty note accompanying renewal, a sample of which was received this week: "I am always glad to have the paper, but the names of the people mentioned that I used to know are fewer and fewer each year. I used to know them all. I've stumped my toe on every rock in ten miles of Hico when I was a barefooted boy, and had every watermelon patch in the neighborhood located by the time the melons were peanut size. Here's hoping we have a good melon crop."

Calvert Seeks First Elective Term As State Comptroller

Robert S. Calvert, candidate for State Comptroller, is a native Texan, born in McLennan County near McGregor, Texas and at an early age moved with his family to Brownwood, where he attended public schools and Howard Payne College. At the age of 20 Bob moved to Sweetwater, where he was employed first by the Sante Fe Railroad as clerk, warehouse foreman and cashier; then by the West Texas Electric Company as chief clerk; and later by the First National Bank as assistant cashier. In 1917 he enlisted in the United States Army. Following basic training at San Antonio and technical training at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., he served with the Air Forces in France and in Germany. After the war he returned to his bank position in Sweetwater. Among Calvert's many friends in Sweetwater was Geo. H. Sheppard, who became State Comptroller in 1930. Mr. Sheppard appointed Calvert to the position of financial statistician the same year. As head of the central accounting division for 14 years, Calvert gained first-hand knowledge of state financing. In 1944 he was made chief clerk, the position next in line and authority to the Comptroller. Following the death of Mr. Sheppard on Jan. 18, 1949, Gov. Beauford H. Jester gave recognition to a career worker who had advanced through the ranks, by appointing Calvert State Comptroller. After serving a year and a half as Comptroller, Calvert now seeks his first elective term. (Political Adv., paid for by a friend.) First Lieut. O. M. Bramblett Jr. and wife and children of Miami, Fla., who have been visiting in Waco with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, returned to Hico last Monday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bramblett, Sr. O. M. plans to leave Sunday for Scott Air Force Base in Illinois, where he will be in training for 10 days. Other recent visitors in the Bramblett home were Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Dusan and daughter, Pat of Plainview.

WHEN YOU VOTE FOR COUNTY JUDGE OF HAMILTON COUNTY HIS LOCAL FRIENDS ASK YOU TO CONSIDER W. EUGENE TATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Since our capable County Judge is a patient in the Veterans Hospital at Temple and is prevented from making a thorough campaign and meeting the people as he would like to do, this plea in his behalf is being presented by a group of local taxpayers. Judge Tate has held office for the past two terms, and we feel that he has made a record in taking care of county affairs that justifies him in asking for re-election. As presiding officer over Commissioners Court it is a County Judge's duty to keep the financial condition of the county on a sound financial basis. The cost of county government must at all times be kept in line with the people's ability to pay, and with the services received. Judge Tate's policies of the past have created respect for his business-like operation of county affairs. He can be trusted to adhere to his policies of the past, which have been effective in saving the county many dollars. In other matters that come under his jurisdiction, Judge Tate has shown commendable judgment, ability and courage. For the best interests of our county we believe he should be returned to office where he can continue to assist in the progress that seems to be in store for this entire section.

-Experience Is the Best Platform- Upon the Basis of Service and Efficiency Your Vote for Judge Tate Is Earnestly Solicited and Will Be Greatly Appreciated.

SCRIPTURE: The Book of Ruth. Lesson for July 16, 1950

THE ENGLISH language has a word not found in the original languages of the Bible; it is not in Latin, German or French for that matter. It is the word "home." But homes were not invented in England or America; the ancient peoples of the world had homes even if they had no special word for them. The story of Ruth is a home-story, a family tale. It comes from the times of the Judges, which were very rugged times indeed.

To read the Book of Judges you would think that everything was plots and wars and murder. There isn't a peaceful story in the book. And then comes the story of Ruth, to remind us that even in those terrible times there were happy people, people who minded their business and worked hard and stayed home and loved one another.

The bright spots in today's vast seas of misery are just what they were in Ruth's time.

"A home is a place to go when everything else has shut up" is not a true proverb. For if that is all it is, it is not a home. It is only a boarding house and not a very attractive one at that.

To this day, there are fewer divorces in the country than in the cities, and one big reason for that is that country families have to work together, while city families often have little in common. In the country everybody turns to and does something about the house, everybody helps everybody else; while in the cities where so much is done by machines and houses are very small, there isn't much a family can do together.

TO: Be found at your post of duty?
TO: Hold high His banner by faithful and loyal service in your church with time, talent and example?

"No matter what others are doing, my friend, Or what they are leaving undone, He is counting on you to keep on with the job Till the very last battle is won. He is counting on you to be faithful, He is counting on you to be true, Yes, others may work, or others may shirk, But—remember—He is counting on you!"

No one else can do the work He has for you to do, no one else can fill your place. Will you say today, "The LORD can count on me"?

Fact is, we nurse 'em along for every added mile because correct inflation and regular inspection for wheel alignment, brake adjustments and cuts and bruises can prolong tire life tremendously. Correct air pressure prevents side pull, dangerous swerving and irregular or rapid wear; makes your car ride more comfortably and with maximum skid resistance. So it makes good sense to buy your tires where you get them serviced... at the Sign of the Flying Red Horse.

TO THE PEOPLE OF HAMILTON COUNTY...

I wish to take this opportunity to thank each of you for the nice way you treated me when I made my rounds to your homes.

I have worked hard trying to see each of you and get better acquainted. Regardless of the outcome of this race, I want us to still be friends.

I was born and raised here with you people. I am 36 years of age, having spent 30 years of this time right here in Hamilton County among you. Three years and 7 months of the remaining 6, I spent in the service of our country. So I am not a stranger to you. I feel like I know you pretty well. I think I know the kind of Sheriff you want; one who will do his best to be fair and impartial. That's what I will do.

I need the help of each of you, so if you can vote for me, it will be a special favor, and I'll know that the people of Hamilton County have confidence and faith in a young man.

A PEEK AT THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

WITH THE REPORTED INCREASE of television's hold on night-time listening, trade circles believe the next major trend in radio will be the programming of top radio comedians in daytime shows... Bob Burns is rumored as a possibility in switching over to daytime broadcasting when he returns to the air next fall. Meanwhile, more and more movie stars are taking the plunge into radio to give it a badly needed hypo... Ruth Hussey is the latest to be considered for a top radio program... Radio vets Lum and Abner may not be back next season in order to devote full time to television.

PLATTER CHATTER
COLUMBIA — Frank Sinatra's latest is a new ditty that may go places once started... Called "When the Sun Goes Down," Frank treats it smoothly with the help of the Modernaires... On the flip Sinatra teams up with Jane Russell in "Kisses and Tears"... "Choo'n Gum" is given a cute work-out by little Toni Harper... "Flippy" is on the reverse... Frankie Yankovic gets in the "Hoop-Dee-Do" whirl by giving that number a light, airy rendition... It's backed by "Night after Night."

CAPITOL—Johnny Mercer has two good jazz numbers on one big waxing that should please his numerous fans... They're "At the Jazz Band Ball" and "She's Shimmeyin' On the Beach Again"... Joe Stafford and Gordon MacRae have teamed up again in a small-size number, "You Are My Love"... "Down the Lane" is on the flip... If you're western-minded you'll like Ken Cody's "Flickie-Minded Heart" backed by "Sleepless Nights and Endless Days"... And Jo Stafford comes up with a real hit-parader in "On the Outgoing Tide"... "Ask Me No Questions backs it."

MERCURY—Richard Hayco has a unique record in "The Guy With the Voodoo" with "Jug Band Boogie" on the flip.

HOUSE AND HOME

IF FLOWERS are conditioned before you make arrangements for them in vases and other containers, they'll keep fresh for a longer period of time. Garden flowers, such as asters, calendulas, marigolds, snapdragons and zinnias last much longer if they are allowed to stand overnight in water to which has been added sugar. Use one teaspoon of sugar for each quart of water. Iris and tulips will last much longer if they are picked in the bud and wrapped in wet newspaper immediately. Plunge the wrapped bunches into deep water which comes up to the blooms. Gardenias and camellias never drink water after they're cut. Place these in a cool place and cover them with wet tissue. Violets like water on their flowers. Bunch them first, then turn bunches upside down and immerse in water to allow the flowers to drink from blossom ends as well as stems. All green leaves should be conditioned by placing in buckets of water overnight before you arrange them.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Ice Cream Punch (Makes 1 quart)
1 cup orange juice
1/2 cup lime juice
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup sugar
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Combine fruit juice and sugar, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add ice cream and beat with rotary beater to blend. This makes a thick, creamy punch.

If you like to have big bunches of lilacs around the house, condition by immersing these in water deeply, using a big tub or bath tub. Let the water come up to the flowers. Add one tablespoon molasses to each quart of water in which you immerse peonies for conditioning. Flowers which are bleeders, like poppies, hollyhocks, pansies, milkweed and lupines should have the tips of their stems burned. Then plunge them into ice water to remain overnight. Coral bells, lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots should have two drops of alcohol added to their conditioning water.

FARM AND RANCH CHATTER

By LAYNE BEATY

WEAP, Fort Worth Every now and then a city or a community talks about fixing up a better place for farmers to market their products. It's a well-known piece of fact that we are capable of growing a whole lot more stuff than we can sell. And in spite of soil erosion, bugs, drouth and all those things, too. The big problem usually is not how to produce it, but what to do with it after we have it. Dumping of milk, eggs, potatoes and strawberries is never a very profitable or popular thing to do. Neither is selling them below cost of production. So when something comes along to help farmers get together with the best possible market for their produce, it is a step in the right direction. A humane act, no less. All this is a build up to our comment on the new facilities at the market square in Athens. Last year the sand and heat nearly ruined the farmers and truckers before it did the tomatoes and melons and blackeyed peas. So the merchants of Athens got their noggins and pocketbooks together and set up a program of improvements. The marketing of these truck crops is important to Athens since 1933, when cotton hit a nickel a pound and the blackeyed pea industry saw daylight. Lately Athens called itself "the blackeyed pea capital of the world." Last week we saw the new hard-surfaced-paved, if you please—market square in Athens, where blackeyed peas were being bought and sold by the carload. So were melons. No more dust and dirt. Pretty soon, it is expected, there will be lights for night operations. Perhaps later on, sheds to protect the tender vegetables from the summer sun. Fred Triplett, one of the hundreds of ranchmen and farmers in Texas who fly their own airplanes, came up to see us from his place in Hill county last week. Fred says farmers and ranchmen are using airplanes now just like they use pickups and cars. They haul feed and supplies, take the family on trips, spray dust, ride fence, inspect crops and lands and so on. He didn't mention using a plane to pull a cow out of a gully or a silo, but he could find the cow with a plane at least, if it were lost in a gully. Regarding television in rural homes, Fred related that when a private flier sometimes "gets lost" in unfamiliar territory, he often can observe the pitch of television antennas on farmhouses and figures that they're set to pick up the nearest TV station, and so head for their destination by that means of reckoning. Not too far from that subject, we read of a "tractor rodeo" for 4-H club boys in Ohio. The boys are judged on the way they keep their own tractors in condition all year. Then, using new machines furnished by the manufacturers, they show off their ability to maneuver a tractor and a side-delivery rake through an obstacle course, back a trailer into a marked-off spot, and set up a tractor for pulley work. Attention is given to skill and safety precautions. Times, indeed are changing.

Earl Huddleston Has Final Word for People of This Area

Am sure most of you know that I am offering again this year for State Representative. I feel that most of you people know me as I represented you several terms in the Legislature, but have not been in during the last two sessions.

I served during the depression back in 1933 for a while and then was out and went back in 1940 and was your Representative during the last war. If you choose me to represent you during the next two years I assure each of you that I will endeavor to represent you with your problems and all your interest which may come before the Legislature. It will be my policy to confer with you and try to carry out your wishes as near as possible.

I think we all realize that our state and nation are facing a critical situation and it is my opinion that it will take the united effort of us all to survive, so if you feel that I am the man to represent you in Austin the next two years I will be grateful to you and will give my best in serving you.

I hope each of you will take this as a personal solicitation because it has been impossible to see each person. I sincerely appreciate your past support and will again this time.

Sincerely,
EARL HUDDLESTON
(Pol. Adv.)

School Consolidations Are Increasing and Expected to Continue

Austin, Texas, July 10.—Consolidation of 1,920 school districts the first year Texas's new education laws were in effect has resulted in larger school units and a better school program, J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education declared here today.

Consolidations have made possible better building equipment and facilities, teachers giving instruction in fewer subjects and a vastly broadened program of vocational agriculture, trades and industries, and home economic instruction which means better schools for Texas children, Edgar pointed out.

The total number of school districts dropped from 4,412 in 1948-49 to 2,492 operating districts during the last school year. A total of 1,300 of these consolidations were mandatory under new school laws.

"Six hundred and twenty school districts, however, voluntarily merged with other districts," Edgar said.

Edgar also predicted that consolidations for the 1950-51 school year would total an additional 400, bringing the total number in the state down to approximately 2,000.

Most of the smaller schools in the state could not afford adequate library and laboratory facilities, or equipment and teachers for vocational agriculture, trades and industries, and home economics courses, Edgar pointed out.

"While there has been commendable increases in library, visual aid and laboratory facilities, there has been a tremendous expansion in the vocational departments," Edgar said.

"Vocational departments increased slightly more than 500 during the past year, making a total of 2,087 in the state," the commissioner declared. "The trend indicates that an additional 400 school districts will offer courses in agriculture, home economics and trades and industries during the 1950-51 school year."

"With Texas being an agricultural state and gaining rapidly in the world of industry, we on the state level of education certainly encourage our school districts to offer a diversity of courses to train their students to lead Texas in advances in agriculture, home building and trades and industries."

There it Was— Right in The Middle!

Easy Roberts mowed his lawn early last Saturday. Then he sat on the porch, and watched Handy Peterson cutting his grass.

The Roberts' property and the Peterson's border each other with no hedge or fence between them. So, when Easy notices Handy had left about a four-foot strip unmowed along the boundary, he walks over and asks why.

"That's your land," says Handy. "Mine ends here. See, it lines up with that oak tree across the road!" Easy didn't think so, so they went up and down looking for the surveyor's marker. Where did they find it? Right in the middle of their "no man's land!"

Well, they both grin and take turns finishing the job and then retreat to Easy's for a friendly glass of beer together. From where I sit, a little searching around for the truth of the matter often shows that the other fellow is as much right as you are—at which point the whole thing doesn't seem an important anyway.

Fairy

Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We have received almost three inches of rain since our last writing, which will insure us of a good corn and maize crop, and has also been beneficial to stock farmers, as stock water was running low and in some pasture, creeks had gone dry entirely.

We stated in last weeks news that the fruit crop was short in this section, which was a true statement generally speaking, but we have learned recently that the Rushing family, who now own and operate the old Clair Brunson farm four miles west of Fairy, have an abundance of peaches at their place, which are beginning to ripen. So we guess those late freezes and high winds must have missed a few orchards.

Several from here have been attending the Baptist revival meeting at Agee the past week, which was conducted by Rev. R. C. Tension of Hamilton, with Rev. L. W. Allen, pastor of the church assisting.

The Methodist meeting will begin at Lanham next Sunday with the pastor, Rev. Turpstra doing the preaching. All are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price of Austin spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cox. Their little daughter, Cheryl Kay, who had been visiting here for the past two weeks returned home with them.

Mrs. Beatrice Oglesby and brother, Louis Heyroth of the Lanham community visited Sunday afternoon in the home of their brother, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Heyroth.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and children and Mrs. Eunice Massengale were business visitors in Dublin Wednesday afternoon of last week and while there visited in the home of their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and family.

The farm dwelling of the J. T. Jacksons has been raised preparatory to erecting a new modern residence at the site. Seems the weather has been quite unfavorable for the past week, which is quite unusual for this season of the year.

The writer enjoyed a visit from her daughters and their families last Sunday. The occasion being to honor one of the daughter's birthday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison, Ruby Jean and Darrel of Dublin and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don. Sunday was the birthday of Mrs. Sellers, while Mrs. Allison's birthday was in June. We were receiving a much needed rain on her birthday, June 5, and in a few days entered the rush of harvest, so had been unable to get together for the occasion. We had just about decided something had prevented the Allison's from being with us Sunday when suddenly they walked in with a freezer of home made ice cream and a chocolate nut cake, which with the birthday pineapple cake, and pies, gave a finishing touch to lunch.

V. H. Heyroth and brother, Louis are doing carpenter work in Cleburne this week.

Miss Daphne Hoover of Stephenville spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover.

We are going to have to look twice to recognize some of our neighbors, since the Byrd Slaters are driving a new Chevrolet, the Lee Adams a Chevrolet and also the J. B. Cunninghams have a new car.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and children and the writer visited the John Burks Bird Farm near Clairette Tuesday of last week. The site is located in a live oak grove of trees near the Bosque river north of Clairette. It is quite interesting to see so many species of birds and fowls. A large earthen tank has been dug nearby, which is a beautiful sight with some five or six kinds of ducks and large white and black swans floating along its waters. Other species of birds are housed in small buildings with adjoining wire pens. There are several species each of Love Birds, Pheasants, Peafowl, wild turkeys, Geese, Pigeons, and many others.

Mr. Wilson, who was in charge on the day of our visit, turned out a flock of pigeons and had them fly up high and turn flips for us. He would signal them by throwing his hat in the air and they seemed to understand and really got on the job when he threw his hat up a few times.

The Baptist Vacation Bible School will begin July 24th.

The Baptist revival will begin July 30th, with Rev. L. H. Davis, pastor of the Hico Baptist Church, doing the preaching. All have a cordial invitation to attend.

A Final Message From ED FROST Candidate for Sheriff

TO ALL THE PARENTS OF HAMILTON COUNTY:

I take this means to contact you again and for the last time before election, I wish to communicate to you a little more on the subject of my interest in your children, should I be elected to the office of Sheriff.

I know that all parents are doing their very best to raise their children to make good citizens, realizing as I do, that the children of today is the framework of the backbone of the nation of tomorrow. Let us hope that you never have any trouble with your children, but as you know sometimes a child will get out of step to the point that you may need some outside help. Now what I want to emphasize to you is that if I am in the Sheriff's office I will be ready at all times to corroborate with you on any child problem. I have spent many years dealing with children and have been very successful.

It is my ambition to have the friendship of every child in the County, as well as your friendship.

Respectfully,

Senator Harris Is Running On Record, Which Is Open Book

Fred Harris, Dallas lawyer, is hammering at extravagant spending in his campaign for lieutenant governor.

The 40-year-old candidate says "it is a mark of danger when the government's tax bill exceeds the nation's food bill."

Harris' record shows that competition has dominated his life.

Four-Letter Athlete.

At Baylor, where he was graduated in 1932, he was a four-letter athlete, one of a handful in the Southwest Conference. He played professional ball with Wichita Falls in the Texas League, then returned to Dallas to practice law. Harris was elected a state representative in 1934 and served in the 44th, 45th and 47th Legislatures, opposing a sales tax constantly.

Pearl Harbor thrust him into his biggest fight. As a Navy Lieutenant, he was one of the 705 survivors of the Kamikaze attack on the aircraft carrier Franklin, which took 1,100 lives. Twice wounded, he also was decorated for bravery.
