Supervised Farming Is Considered Asset to Agriculture Students

By DOYLE LOVE

Young Bill was a country lad, his cheeks of tan and his calloused hands told that. He was attending his first class in a town school. It was a class in vocational agriculture. The teacher, as he finished a few preliminary remarks, asked, "Are there any questions?" Bill had a question. He wanted to know what was meant by a supervised farming program. Here is the answer that Bill's teacher gave him.

"In vocational agriculture you study in the classroom, work in the farm shop, and go on field trips to learn how to farm. Some of the things that you learn about farming here in school you will want to apply on your home farm. The things that you put to practice at home will be known as your supervised farming program. One part of your program might be the buying, the caring for, and the marketing of a sow and litter. In addition to that you might cull the laying flock or test the dairy cows for butterfat production. You might start a farm shop and a farm library. Yes, you might do dozens of other things, which all combined, make up your supervised farming program. One part of your program is often referred to as a project. An example would be a sow and litter project."

The aim of vocational agriculture is to train present and prospective farmers for proficiency in farming. Farming cannot be taught by studying out of books. Good books and bulletins are needed, but farming must be practiced to be understood. We learn to do by doing. We learn to farm by farming.

The application of knowledge is essential. If one studies in the classroom how to cull a laying flock the sooner he applies this knowledge, the better. If he never applies it, he can never say that he knows how to cull poultry. A boy may study in the classroom all the jobs pertaining to the raising of a litter of swine; yet that does not guarantee his ability to manage the raising of a good litter. Someone said, it probably was a vocational agriculture instructor, "Nothing is learned—really learned—until it is used habitually in life situations."

Many of the farming activities of a boy enrolled in a vocational agriculture class will be under the supervision of his agriculture teacher. Thus, this work is called supervised farming program. It is a definite part of the course. One of the factors determining the grade in vocational agriculture work is the kind of a farming program you have planned and in operation. Here are some reasons why you will want a good supervised farming program:

1. It may make some money. Agriculture students often make $25 to $100 on their first year's project. Some boys have made over $1000 with their supervised farming project during their three or four years of vocational agricultural work.
2. It teaches you to do many farm jobs in the correct way.
3. It provides an excellent avenue to establish in farming.
4. It provides an opportunity to learn how to earn, save, spend and invest money.
5. It may make your school work more interesting.
6. It gives you an opportunity to have livestock and equipment of your own.
7. It may give you an opportunity to compete for school, community, or state honors.

The cooperation of the parents and son is an important factor in the success of the supervised farming program. The father or mother can advise and help the boy with various problems. Many approved practices will need to be discussed jointly by the Ag teacher, the boy and the parents before being applied on the farm.

Every boy should either own his projects in full or be in partnership with someone else. He should pay all expenses necessary in carrying on the work. He should receive his share of all profits and stand his part of all losses.

Animal projects should, as a rule, be housed separately from the main herd. If a boy is to receive greatest benefit from his work, the project must be in a pen or field where he has complete charge of feeding and managing.

It may not always be advisable to separate heifers or cows from the main herd. They may be permitted to run in the pasture or on the range with the father's cows.

A good, live farm boy will not be satisfied with just an average supervised farming project. He will want to have the best possible. A farming program is based on size, quality of work, neatness, completeness and accuracy of records, and improvements made in farming practices. It should include the three types of work; production projects, farm betterment projects, and supplementary jobs.

FORT HOOD OFFICER SCROUNGES SCRAP FOR USE IN ORDNANCE VISUAL TRAINING

Fort Hood, Texas, Aug. 22—If you see a Colonel strolling around with a slightly rusted transmission or a badly bent differential under his arm, don't be too alarmed, he's not crazy, there's a method in his scrounging.

Lieutenant Colonel Arthur M. Cory, 4205 Ramsey, Austin, is currently conducting "Operation Cutaway," a program of creating ordnance visual aids for training Organized Reserve Corps personnel in the Fourth Army five state area. He uses unserviceable units and other Army vehicles which are no longer of value to the Armed Forces.

From these he creates cutaway transmissions and other automotive functioning parts with pretty yellow-green and red gears to show what happens when a vehicle is operating. (With a gadget like this you might even be able to convince friend wife that rubber gears aren't really necessary when she tries to shift, smoke a cigarette, and dry her finger nail polish all at the same time.)

The project really started when Lieutenant Colonel Cory, who as a civilian, is an instructor of English at the University of Texas, was on 90 days Active Duty with Texas Military District in Austin last year. He presented his plan of using unserviceable materials for creating visual training aids for reservists to Colonel Paul B. Malone, Senior Army Instructor at TMD, who was enthusiastic over the possibilities of the project. The two colonels were successful in convincing

Flag races, girls' barrel races, box races and possibly a bald-headed man's race will be featured at the horse show to be held Sunday at Kal Segrest's ranch, across the road from the Bluebonnet County Club.

The local landowner, recently elected as Constable in an Oak Cliff precinct, is issuing an invitation to all cowboys and people interested in horses to come out to the annual event Sunday morning, bring their lunch and stay all day. Refreshments will be served to guests, and those interested in participating in the races are invited to bring their horses and enter.

At 1:00 p. m. there will be an organizational meeting to form a horse and bridal association of all Bosque valley towns, as far away as Waco. Mrs. L. E. Roberson, Clairette Pioneer, Passes Away Here

Mrs. L. E. Roberson of Clairette passed away in the Hico Hospital August 14, where she had been a patient for two days. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, August 15, at 3 o'clock in the Clairette Methodist Church.

Interment was made in the Clairette Cemetery beside her husband, who died March 9, 1943. Trewitt Funeral Home of Stephenville was in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Roberson was born March 21, 1871 in Coryell County, Texas, the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell. She had been a member of the Methodist Church since she was a very young girl.

On November 1, 1894, she was married to L. E. Roberson in Duffau, where they lived until 1907, when they moved to Clairette. They have made their home there since that time. The couple were the parents of 10 children, eight of whom survive her: J. E. H. Roberson and Mrs. Lucille Mayfield of Clairette; C. W. Roberson of Stephenville; Mrs. Cleone Salmon of Carlton; Mrs. Alto White of Fort Worth; L. E. Jr. of Stephenville; R. Lee Roberson of Pecos, and T. B. Roberson of Haskell.

Other survivors are 32 grandchildren, 9 great grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Joe Galloway of Coryell.

Rev. Wilburn Salmon of Pasadena, California, officiated in the funeral of his grandmother. He and his wife and three children are visiting relatives and friends in Texas and he was at the hospital with his grandmother in her short illness. Rev. Salmon is pastor of the Greenwood Baptist Church in Montebello, a suburb of Pasadena, and at the same time is a member of the graduate school of the Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena. Mrs. Salmon has relatives in and near Stamford, Texas.

Rev. Salmon was assisted by Rev. E. W. Holt, pastor of the Clairette Methodist Church, and Rev. W. L. Connell.

Fairy
By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We received a light rain last week which has been beneficial to grasslands and has brought us cooler temperatures. At this writing (Tuesday) we have good indications of more rain.

The Church of Christ meeting closed Sunday night, with good attendance throughout the meeting. Visitors attended from Hamilton, Hico, Iredell, and Cranfills Gap.

Mrs. Ralph Spencer of Lubbock returned home early Sunday morning after a week's visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover, and her sister, Miss Daphne of Stephenville. Trauttt New of Fort Worth spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie New, and family. Immediately upon arrival he received notification to report to San Antonio for a physical check-up. He is in the Army Reserve. He planned to return to Fort Worth the first of the week and resign his position and arrange his personal affairs preparatory to entering active service.

Another of our young men, Arnold Gleason, who was a captain in the Army Reserve, had to report Monday of this week for a physical check-up. Arnold is a prominent young farmer of the Fairy community.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Heyroth were business visitors at Gatesville last Saturday and while down in that section visited in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Guy Lockhart, and family at Pidcock.

Walter Porterfield has returned home after spending a week at Garland and Dallas, where he was doing carpenter work.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers were in Meridian Sunday night where they visited her sister, Mrs. Raymond Jones of Lanham, who is a patient at the Holt Hospital. They report her some better. Her illness is due to poison from bad tonsils.

Those from here attending the singing at Clairette Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. John Abel, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pitts, and the writer who was accompanied from Hico by Mrs. Dora Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Driver and family have moved into an apartment at the late Dr. Young residence. Mrs. Sills also has an apartment there. We understand Mr. Driver will operate one of the Fairy school buses.

Members of the Baptist church congregation of the Agee community gave a miscellaneous going-away shower Tuesday night at the church for Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Akin and little daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edwards and little son who live near Fairy but are leaving soon to make their homes elsewhere. We understand the Akin family will move to Louisiana while the Edwards family are moving to an oil field below Houston. Mrs. Edwards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Smith, formerly of Lanham, reside there. We regret to lose these fine citizens, but hope they prosper in their new locations. The Akin family, who live on what is known as the old Ford place, are expected to leave the last of the week. The Edwards family, who reside on what is known as the old Leeth place, expect to leave within the next two weeks. All attended church at Agee.

The writer visited at the Hico Hospital a while Sunday afternoon with members of the Giles Driver family who are at Mr. Driver's bedside. We were very sorry to learn he wasn't doing as well and is now thought to be suffering of a spinal tumor or infection and preparations were being made to have him examined by a bone specialist at Waco. Mr. Driver has been ill for the past three months, being paralyzed from the waist down, and had recovered sufficiently to be up in a wheel chair part of the time and was brought out to his home Sunday for a visit in his son's home. Then Saturday X-rays showed the new ailment. We sincerely hope this can be controlled and he will soon be on the road to recovery. The Driver family live in the Dry Fork community.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warnkin of San Antonio have returned to reside with her nephew, Nona Brunson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bishop seem to be progressing nicely on their new home.

The hot days have really burned up the gardens and other crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Roberson, Mrs. Dorothy Erick and sons, and Mrs. L. E. Roberson visited a while last Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Garner and baby of Seiden.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Bob Clark has improved some.

On Monday morning, Aug. 14, around 3 a. m., this writer received a call from the Hico Hospital that her mother had passed away. It was a message I could hardly believe, as Mama seemed to be feeling some better late Sunday evening. I took her to the hospital Saturday morning about 8 o'clock. She was ill and did not rest any at her home Friday night, but her illness never seemed critical. On Monday, as her doctor told her, she could, she enjoyed visits from her children who knew that she didn't feel good but all believed her improved a little. It came as a great shock to her eight children. One son, R. Lee of Pecos, had not received any word that she was ill, and it was indeed a shock to him.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. BOBBIE L. ROBERSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Bobbie L. Roberson, age 79, were held at the Clairette Methodist Church August 15 at 3 o'clock. She was born March 21, 1871 in Coryell County, Tex., the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Mitchell of The Grove, near Gatesville. On Nov. 1, 1894 she was married to L. E. (Lewis) Roberson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Math Roberson of Duffau, where they lived before moving to Clairette in 1907. They had made this their home since that time. They were the parents of ten children, eight of whom survive. They are: Herman Roberson and Mrs. Lucile Mayfield of Clairette; C. W. and L. E. of Stephenville; Mrs. Cleone Salmon of Carlton; Mrs. Ora White of Fort Worth; R. L. of Pecos, and T. B. of Haskell. All were present for the services.

Other survivors are 32 grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Joe Galloway of Coryell, Texas, and a host of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Roberson had been a member of the Methodist church since her marriage. She was a charter member of the Penny Club for several years up until the club disbanded just before World War II. While a member of the Penny Club she went by the cemetery (it was almost grown up in weeds) en route to a neighbor's home. It was her very own suggestion that the club start a project to raise money and hire someone to keep the cemetery clean. The suggestion met with the approval of the members and they worked in various ways to raise money for this purpose and to build a new fence. After the club disbanded those who were interested kept on donating every year and this work at the cemetery is still being carried on. I feel sure my sweet mother was the "Mother" of this good work. She loved to see that the cemetery was kept clean.

Rev. Wilburn T. Salmon of Pasadena, Calif. officiated at the funeral of his grandmother. He is pastor of the Greenwood Baptist Church in Montebello, a suburb of Pasadena, and at the same time is a member of the graduate school of the Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena.

Rev. Salmon was assisted by Rev. E. W. Holt of Bunyan, Mrs. Roberson's former pastor, and Rev. W. L. Connell, her present pastor.

Hobart Cox of Proctor had charge of the singing. Rev. Chester Sylvester of Carlton sang a special hymn. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Interment was made in the Clairette Cemetery beside her husband who died on March 9, 1943.

The Trewitt Funeral Home of Stephenville completed the arrangements. Pallbearers were R. N. Pittman, Telefus Cawyer, W. J. Oxford Jr. and John Ficke of Stephenville, Aubrey Duzan of Hico, Taylor Childress of Haskell, John Alexander and Les Dowdy of Clairette.

Relatives and friends attending were from Austin, Houston, Waco, Fort Worth, Seymour, Alexander, Dublin, Hico, Stephenville, Carlton, Pecos, Haskell, Putnam, Abilene, Baird, Seiden, Fairy, California, New Mexico, and other places.

Draft Boards Flooded With Useless Inquiries From Ineligible Men

Austin, Aug. 22.—Some men registered under the World War II draft act now past 40 and 50 years of age are attempting to advise old local boards of changes of address and status although these draft boards have been out of existence for years.

As a result these cards and letters are flooding present local boards and Selective Service headquarters here.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service advised today that "these men no longer have to advise of any change of address or status, as the law under which they registered was terminated by Congress in 1947."

The only men who are obligated to keep local boards advised are those registered under the Selective Service Act of 1948, which became law on June 24, 1948, the state director pointed out.

"Any man who has registered with Selective Service in 1948, 1949 or 1950 is obligated to advise his local board of address and status changes," General Wakefield said. "Any man who registered with any local board prior to those years is not required by law to do so."

The state director said that every man should ask himself the question: "Should I be registered under the Selective Service Act of 1948?"

The answer, says General Wakefield, is simple. If the man was born on August 30, 1922, or after, he is required to be registered, provided he is not under 18. If he was born prior to August 30, 1922, he is not required by law to be registered under the Selective Service Act of 1948.

Males are required to register on their 18th birthdays or within five days thereafter.

Like the fellow who stood up at a funeral when the minister was late and said, "I'll take this opportunity to say a few words about Texas," there are people who do virtually the same thing in regard to the Brannan plan and the Taft-Hartley act.

As further proof that travel is broadening, we offer that the championship steer, Judge Roy Bean, from Pecos County, weighed 121 pounds more after an airplane tour of the country than at the time of winning the International Livestock Exposition judging last November.

Some interesting work in cool season grasses is going on at the Denton agricultural experimentation. Check up on Kentucky fescue and western wheatgrass. They are high in protein content.

Folks around Stephenville like to think of their town as the poultry capital of Texas, because headquarters of the Texas Poultry Improvement Association are there and because of the great work done in that field by the Tarleton State College.

The next county south is a big poultry center, too, and Hamilton County is rightfully proud of its standing in this billion dollar industry of Texas.

Then there is Gonzales county, where poultry accounts for a stated twenty million dollars in farm income a year.

But at Hamilton county the emphasis is on eggs, at Gonzales it's on broilers, at Brady and other places on turkeys, and it could be that Stephenville is more rightfully called the "poultry capital" of Texas, because all phases are strongly represented there.

We may hear from some other sections about this.

The Texas Home Demonstration Association holds its annual meeting in Big Spring next week at the same time as the Texas State Grange convention in Greenville, and the American Institute of Cooperation at Stillwater, Oklahoma.

We don't know how we can make all these, but they are important gatherings.

We have an idea we could get next to more free fried chicken at the Grange meeting, notwithstanding the galaxy of good cooks in the THDA. It's just that the ladies are going to be doing something besides cooking at Big Spring.

And regardless of what you think about co-ops, they are doing things and are having a note-worthy bearing on our local and national economy.

We won't bother to ask you what you think about women.

It wouldn't be practical for us to say whether there are more germs, insects, fungi, microbes and other such varmints now than there used to be, but anyway we hear more about them.

With an eye on the pink bollworm, we shan't be surprised any year now to hear that cotton pickers' sacks have to be sterilized before pickers move from one county to another.

One editor friend of ours who prints this column now and then writes to say we should dwell longer on a subject instead of bringing up so many different things in one column.

Trouble is, we've always found it hard enough to keep from exposing our ignorance in just short paragraphs. Longer treatment of a topic might be hazardous.

Back in school when there were "book reports" to be written, we often got our grade with the comment from the teacher that it was an "exceptionally fine report to be written by one who hasn't even read the book."

The government owns 110 million pounds of dried eggs it doesn't seem to be able to sell. It's no way to show respect for those hens who gave their all in the war effort and the peace effort, but maybe the powdered cackleberries could be used in livestock feed or cosmetics, or maybe to build hard surfaced roads. Or perhaps as a fertilizer in the egg plant raising sections.

THE FEELINGS OF A CANDIDATE ——— JUST BEFORE ELECTION

Some of you have at one time or another, been a candidate for some public office,—and to you there is no need explaining the feelings at the last moment. But to most of you it can be said that this is an experience unlike any other. The candidate knows of many facts and he combats them one against the other in an attempt to ascertain the results of the voting public.

He knows that first, all who are eligible should vote. He knows he would rather lose by a large majority and have the voters VOTE if he is going to lose at all,—because then he feels that the voice of the people had been exemplified to maximum and their choice was made. Too—he would rather win the same way, than by a small margin and know only the minimum voted.

He wonders if he made his qualifications known as he believes them to be and if he missed any who expected him to call.

In this race for County Judge—there have been problems portrayed, and many many conversations. The problems have been of a nature to present a challenge worthwhile to honest and fair representation in fulfilling the office of County Judge. John M. Pederson WANTS that challenge and has no doubt solutions based upon that same honesty and fairness can be reached to mutual accord. Of the conversations—all have been a pleasure.

My convictions as stated in the past are the same, and you will find no instance of deviation throughout the term of office.

My solicitation of your vote has been a pleasure and I earnestly again, ask for it next Saturday in the race for County Judge of Hamilton County.

GAINS MASTER'S DEGREE IN TCU SUMMER SCHOOL
Miss Oleta Hughes is one of the 108 candidates for master's degrees from the Graduate School at Texas Christian University this summer. The school's summer commencement will be Monday evening, August 28, and the degree of master of education will be conferred upon Miss Hughes.

Miss Hughes taught in the primary grades in Ozona, last year, and plans to return there the end of this month to resume her teaching duties. She is in Hico now, preparatory to going back, and also plans to attend the commencement exercises at Fort Worth next Monday.

The class totals 315 persons to receive degrees. Together with the 584 degrees conferred in June, Monday's class brings TCU's 1950 total graduates to 899—the largest total of any year in history, by a margin of just four over the 1949 total of 895.

Forced Air Central Gas Heating makes summertime out of Winter

Winter preys on your children's health. Dangers lurk in drafts... on chilly floors... in unheated rooms. Now, with the many new types of forced air central gas heating systems, any home can be as healthy in winter as in summer.

Through a system of ducts and registers, forced air central gas heating delivers fresh, warm air to every nook and cranny... and returns cold, stale air to the out-of-doors. There are no chilly floors or drafts which cause discomfort and may cause dangerous colds. No heat hangs at the ceiling or wastes itself when you are asleep or away. There's no overheating when "just a little heat" will do.

Forced air central gas heating gives your children the health protection at home that authorities insist they have at school.

You have only to talk to a heating contractor or a Lone Star Gas Company heating specialist to see how practical and how little it takes to put one of the new forced air central gas heating systems in your home. See him—won't you?

Why not, today?

Central gas heating can be installed in a closet, or in the attic, under the floor and in a wall. Here certainly is the heating system for modern living.

Did you know that in 1943 the County assessed value was	$ 8,311,600.00
Did you know that in 1950 the County assessed value was	8,807,035.00
AN INCREASE OF	$ 495,435.00
Did you know that in 1943 the total tax rate in Hamilton County for all purposes was (for $100.00 valuation)	$ 1.92
Did you know that the same rate for 1950 is	2.92
AN INCREASE OF 52%—OR	$ 1.00
Did you know that in 1943 the total warrants outstanding in Hamilton County was	$ 21,640.00
Did you know that in 1943 the total bonds outstanding was	74,000.00
Did you know that the total outstanding debt in 1943 was	$ 95,640.00
Did you know that on January 1, 1950 the total warrants outstanding in Hamilton County was	$ 78,000.00
Did you know that on January 1, 1950 the total bonds outstanding in Hamilton County was	41,000.00
Did you know that after retiring warrants and bonds from 1943 to January 1, 1950, the present outstanding debt was	$ 119,000.00

Why this increase in assessed valuation? Why should the tax rate be increased 52%? Why after retiring $54,140.00 in warrants and bonds should the outstanding debt on January 1, 1950 be $23,360.00 higher than that of January 1, 1943?

Let's elect BUSS GORDON County Judge and get the answers, and have a conservative business administration in the County Judge's office.
