Like a trip in space?

SARATOGA, Calif. (AP) — Any spectator could buy a trip into space for $10,000, if a retired space engineer's private rocket project becomes a reality.

This word came Sunday from Robert Truax, 60, who was technical manager of Evel Knievel's unsuccessful 1974 rocket motorcycle attempt across the Snake River.

Truax is seeking backers for an $800,000 project to launch 25-foot rockets to the altitude of 50 miles, with a passenger squatted in the nose cone.

"Once we have a couple of successful launches, the cost per launch would be less than $10,000. If anyone wanted to be an astronaut and could dig up $10,000, I'd sell him a ticket," Truax said in an interview.

"It would be like climbing Mount Everest — one of those things you'd want to do before you die. Once we show it's reasonably safe, I think there are quite a few people who would do it."

The project would also attract attention for advertisers, he said: "I'm looking for someone who's selling chewing gum, cigars, beer bottles or whatever."

Truax is building a "boilerplate model" or "hard mockup" of the vehicle. It would be powered by four surplus space missile rocket guidance engines fueled with kerosene, high pressure helium and liquid oxygen.

After tumbling slowly in space, the capsule would parachute gently into the ocean.

Truax said a height of 50 miles qualifies as "space" under an agreement reached by the U.S. Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

He calls the effort "Project Private Enterprise," with "Enterprise" in italics to mean the U.S. space shuttle. He said his capsule could beat the Enterprise in being the first reusable space shuttle.

It would take about $150,000 to build two rockets, the first to be tested without passenger, he said. The rest of the $800,000 would be spent on a test site, the testing itself, and tracking and recovery — radar, boats and aircraft.

Truax seems to have convincing credentials. A Naval Academy graduate, he said he organized the U.S. Naval Rocket project before and during World War II.

As the first director of the Air Force space program in 1956, Truax said he was responsible for the "spy in the sky." He also organized and directed the advanced developments division of Aerojet-General Corp. in Sacramento.

He said he is credited with originating the "Polaris" concept, and is a former president of the American Rocket Society, now the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Although seeped in technology, Truax nevertheless has a sense of humor. "There will be several panic buttons, but the fail-safe one will not be hooked up," he deadpanned.

There's already a volunteer to be the first passenger. He is Marty Yahn, 30, of San Jose, who is in the reclaimed metal business. "I would like to do it because it has never been done before," Yahn said.

He said he has never been involved in stunts, but wants to "make a name for myself."

Truax said the vehicle would weigh 3,200 pounds. The motors would supply 4,000 pounds of thrust for about 100 seconds, pushing it to more than 100,000 feet altitude.

After the rockets drop off, the capsule would coast on up another 30 miles.

Truax said he hasn't decided on a guidance system, but it would be similar to one used on some official space projects.

If fired over the Pacific Coast, the capsule should fall within a five-mile square area about 10 miles out.

Truax said he would like to launch from Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, but the nearby populated areas would probably prohibit it.

Different advertisers could sponsor various stages of development, and all would attract widespread attention, he said.

Also, the television networks have indicated — "but not in writing, unfortunately" — that they would pay as much for the rights to the first passenger flight as the whole project would cost, he said.

The possibilities include launching the first female astronaut. Truax said he's looking for someone who could command public attention and support, "like Farrah Fawcett-Majors, for example."

And some foreign country might want to be the third nation to put a man in space. Truax suggested Iran, Brazil, Canada, or some other country "that wanted to give the image of forging ahead."

Non-union work worries miners

By the Associated Press
Hoping to further crimp non-union coal production, striking miners from West Virginia and Ohio plan to drive in a caravan into the eastern Kentucky area where a retired miner was shot and killed.

The miners were to meet today in Middleport, Ohio, and drive to Prestonsburg, Ky., arriving after an afternoon funeral for Mack Lewis, who was shot Friday near a picket line at a Diamond Coal Co. mine.

Police have charged an off-duty company watchman, Ralph Anderson, with murder. They said they doubt the slaying was linked to the nationwide strike by 160,000 members of the United Mine Workers union,

Man turns gun on himself

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Laredo man being chased by police on Interstate 35 in Austin apparently shot himself in the head, Austin police said today.

The wounded man was identified by police as Xavier Steve Murillo.

Lt. Pete Taylor said he was driving parallel to a car in a high speed chase Sunday night while attempting to stop its driver for questioning in a suspected narcotics case.

"His car veered into the center guardrail, came back over and hit a couple of police cars and slid to a stop," Taylor said.

Taylor said the man behind the wheel dropped down just before the car hit the guardrail.

"I thought he was falling down because he thought we were going to shoot at him," Taylor said. "But that must have been when he shot himself."

Murillo was shot once in the head.

Taylor said the chase began after he saw a man throw a package from his car as a marked patrol car drew up behind a speeding vehicle. Police later found the package and said it was thought to contain heroin.

which entered its 35th day today. Contract talks in Washington between the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association have broken off.

Kentucky state police said they are adopting a wait-and-see attitude towards the caravan. But troopers in Alabama said they were preparing for possible violence at non-union coal mines planning to open today.

"Knowing there is a chance of a problem, we are here to protect lives and property," said Lt. Roy Smith, a state police spokesman.

In Indiana, papers were to be filed in Spencer Circuit Court in connection with gunfire and vandalism Saturday in Rockport and Boonville.

State police arrested 194 men after the B&M loading dock in Rockport was stormed by 400 to 500 men Saturday night, causing about $800,000 in damage. No one was injured. One of the men was arrested on a weapons charge.

In Boonville, a fire at the Dale Bland Trucking Co. Sunday destroyed six coal trucks and caused about $375,000 in damage. No one was hurt.

In Mercer County, W.Va., the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms is investigating an explosion last Tuesday which destroyed 1.5-foot section of Norfolk & Western Railway track near Ada.

Five men, including the president of a union local, were charged with conspiracy and using an explosive device to destroy railroad tracks. ATF agent Kenneth Vicchio said he believes the incident was related to the strike.

In Washington, UMW President Arnold Miller has sent his bargaining team home, complaining that the BCOA refused to negotiate.

In a telephone interview Saturday, Miller told radio station WVVA in Wheeling, W.Va., that miners are prepared to stay out six months if necessary to obtain the kind of contract they want.

"The men know they are going to suffer, but they've suffered before," Miller said.

President renews import fee threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, who has won a new commitment from the head of the Senate energy committee for "a whole new effort" to break the impasse on energy legislation, is nonetheless renewing his threat to impose oil import fees if Congress fails.

Energy Secretary James Schlesinger met with Carter on the eve of the secretary's departure today to Morocco and Saudi Arabia for discussions on energy and development. A Schlesinger spokesman said oil prices are likely to come up.

Schlesinger heard from Carter about his talks with Saudi leaders during his recent overseas trip. In turn, Schlesinger told the president about a meeting he had Friday with committee Chairman Henry M. Jackson, a key figure in the congressional impasse.

"Sen. Jackson told me to report to the president that he and his colleagues will make a whole new effort to end this impasse," Schlesinger told reporters, referring to a deadlock on whether to end the ceiling on natural gas prices.

Because of that deadlock, Congress went home last month without completing action on the president's energy package. Carter has placed the energy legislation at the top of his agenda when members of the House and Senate return to work Jan. 19.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Convenient

Q: In annual subscriptions promoted by you, why is the monthly and yearly rate the same? Why not give a 5 per cent reduction on yearly payments.

A: The Herald already discounts home delivered subscriptions considerably. If you bought 22 daily and 4 Sunday issues at regular newsstand prices, you would pay $4.70. We deliver the newspaper to your door at 70 per cent of the cost as if you went and bought it yourself. The main advantage for subscribers to yearly pay as opposed to monthly is the convenience of not having to pay the carrier boy each month, according to Herald Circulation Manager Chuck Benz.

CUTTING THE RIBBON — Bill Baum shivers in the morning chill as his father, 17th Congressional District candidate, Jim Baum, Judge Lee Porter, and Evan Evans (right) watch Wade Choate cut the ribbon to officially open Baum's campaign headquarters. The office is located at the corner of Third and Runnels in Big Spring.

Baum headquarters open

Plight of farmers cited

By CARLA WALKER

Using sidecutters, Big Spring Mayor Wade Choate cut the ribbon this morning to officially open the Jim Baum campaign headquarters at the corner of Third and Runnels in Big Spring.

"I asked Wade to use the sidecutters to dramatize my concern for the plight of the farmer," said Baum. "I want to voice my support for the American farmers' movement and their demands for parity."

"Agriculture is the backbone of the 17th district, and I think that when Congress next meets, they should increase the loan to 75 per cent of parity with mandatory acreage control and support of agriculture products in the export market," Baum stressed.

Another of his concerns, according to Baum, will be the problems of middle income families. "I want to voice support of the middle income family," said Baum. "I am a middle income earner myself, as are many within the 17th district."

Choate read a number of telegrams from people throughout the 17th District and expressed confidence in the personal appeal of Baum to voters in the district.

"The people I have spoken to are anxious to meet the candidates," said Baum, "so I intend to conduct a door to door drive in at least 73 cities within the 33 county district to meet the people."

Judge Lee Porter described Baum as an "honest, reliable man" who understands the district and its problems, while Evan Evans, Howard County Democratic Party chairman said it will be a "credit to all of us on May 7 when we know what part we have had in putting Jim Baum in Congress."

Baum noted that his campaign is going to be an uphill climb. "When I announced three months ago, my name was certainly not a household word in 33 counties. Since that time, I have gone to places where people gather in those counties," said Baum, "and I feel that I have competent people in 27 of those counties who are working to get me elected."

"I am going to begin my door to door drive this afternoon in the Kentwood addition," Baum stated. "I need Big Spring's vote and help as much as the rest of the district's help. I cannot say how much I appreciate the support I have already had. It is uphill to Congress, but with your help, I can make it."

Governor applauds efforts of BS steering committee

Gov. Dolph Briscoe was elated over the progress of the local steering committee and the possibility of obtaining Lockheed Aircraft at Webb AFB.

A delegation of five civic leaders traveled to Austin Friday to discuss efforts with the governor. Briscoe assured the local delegation that he would continue his efforts to attempt to help Lockheed get the contract necessary to place the facility in Texas.

He also discussed the possibility of obtaining an M.D. Anderson regional cancer branch here, stating, "They have one in McAllen and it would take some state funding but is a definite possibility."

He encouraged the local delegation to also continue their attempts to locate the Texas Tech School of Medicine teaching center.

Visiting the governor were State Rep. Mike Ezzell, Snyder; Mayor Wade Choate, Judge Bill Tune, Harry Nagel, city manager and J. Tom Graham, publisher of the Big Spring Herald.

IRS won't develop new computers for tax returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is stopping development of a new computer system for monitoring tax returns because it could threaten civil liberties, an administration source said Sunday.

Instead, the Internal Revenue Service will expand its current computer system, which has better controls against the invasion of citizens' privacy, the source said.

The source, who a knd not to be identified, said, "The IRS had to do something because the caseload was getting heavier. It was a question of which way to go."

The new system would have cost more than $800 million by 1986, while improvements to the existing system would cost several million less in the same period, according to IRS figures.

However, the decision to halt the project was based on the privacy issue, not the cost, the source said.

The new Tax Administration System (TAS) computer was proposed by the IRS more than three years ago.

Nominee concerned about Eagleton's ability to cope

Says McGovern of 1972 race

Health stories muted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern says Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton would have defied him and refused to withdraw as his vice presidential nominee in 1972 "if I so much as hinted publicly" at concern about his ability to cope with the stress of national office.

McGovern now says that was the concern that finally convinced him Eagleton should quit the Democratic ticket. But he says Eagleton's price for withdrawal was a guarantee that his health would not be blamed.

In his newly published autobiography, "Grassroots," McGovern writes that he complied because he had no power to force his running mate to withdraw.

"I did what I had to, but the Eagleton matter ended whatever chance there was to defeat Richard Nixon in 1972," says McGovern, whose Democratic ticket was defeated overwhelmingly.

Sargent Shriver took Eagleton's place on that losing ticket.

Eagleton withdrew as Democratic vice presidential nominee on July 31, 1972, a week after he had entered hospitals in 1960, 1964 and 1966 to be treated for nervous exhaustion and fatigue, and on two of those occasions had undergone electric shock therapy.

McGovern also writes that Eagleton threatened to turn against the ticket he was leaving and "fight me" during the campaign if the health issue was raised later to explain the vice presidential switch.

McGovern quotes two doctors who had treated Eagleton as saying privately they were concerned about his ability to withstand the stress of the presidency should he ever succeed to that office. McGovern does not name the doctors.

Eagleton would not discuss the McGovern account, but disputed it indirectly by saying that the fairest and most objective version of the episode is that of author Theodore H. White in "The Making of the President-1972." White wrote that Eagleton volunteered to withdraw after trying unsuccessfully to persuade McGovern that he should stay.

In addition, White's book reports that McGovern said after talking to the doctors that "the bill of health was clean."

Eagleton, re-elected to the Senate in Missouri by a landslide two years after the vice presidential episode, suggested that he may yet have the last word. "Should I ever write my autobiography, it will no doubt include my recollections" of 1972, he said.

McGovern recounts the chaotic and confused series of staff and personal contacts through which he learned of his running mate's medical record, and his own mishandling of the problem. At one point he had said he was 1,000 per cent for Eagleton and had no intention of dropping him. But the pressure for a change in the ticket intensified steadily.

Finally, on July 31, Eagleton and McGovern met in a Senate anteroom, joined by Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, a mutual friend.

Swinney Marital woes triggered in bid for car

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Simon Peter Nelson reportedly learned that his wife planned to divorce him only hours before his six children were found bludgeoned and stabbed to death in their beds.

Nelson, 46, was scheduled to be arraigned today in the killings, which Winnebago County Coroner John Seward said occurred late Friday or early Saturday.

Police said the children were found in several rooms of the Nelson home on a quiet, middle-class street. The bodies of Roseann, 5, and her sister, Jennifer, 12, were found in their bedroom, beaten and stabbed repeatedly.

Their four brothers, Matthew, 7; Andrew, 9; Simon Peter Jr., 10; and David, 3, were similarly slain, said police Capt. Richard Anderson. The family's pet dachshund was found with its throat slashed.

Investigators said the children had been killed, apparently as they slept, with a rubber mallet and a hunting knife.

Michael Weldon, Nelson's employer and friend, said he returned from a vacation to the office of Management Recruiters Inc. last week to find Nelson completely changed in his attitude toward his troubled 14-year marriage.

"He said the whole thing started to come to a head over the weekend before," said Weldon, "and that Ann had set down rules. There were certain things he was doing that had to stop — drinking, overweight and facial hair."

Ann Nelson, 38, had gone to her attorney about a divorce but had been advised to get away and think things over for a couple of days, according to the Rockford Morning Star.

With her husband's knowledge, she had checked into a Milwaukee motel on Thursday morning. But the next day, she called the lawyer and told him to proceed with the divorce, the Star reported.

Weldon said Nelson left the office abruptly Friday.

Nelson later arrived at the motel, and around 6 a.m. a desk clerk telephoned police saying there was trouble in Mrs. Nelson's room.

Police said they found Nelson beating his wife in the bathroom, and they arrested him.

On Mrs. Nelson's advice, Milwaukee police called authorities in Rockford and told them to break into the Nelson home, where they found the children's bodies.

Police beat Pharmacy entered

Knights' Pharmacy reported a break-in, after police officers discovered the side door kicked open in the early morning hours this morning.

Bob Knight was still tabulating the loss this morning which apparently included a large number of barbiturates and other drugs.

Ironically, the same business had reported to the police Friday afternoon that closed to $400 in assorted drugs were missing in a theft, which no apparent entrance gained from the outside.

Lt. Claude Morris, head of detectives for the city, said police were attempting to determine today if the theft and burglary were related or separate incidents. Total loss was not yet available.

Bonds were also officially set today by Municipal Judge John Richard Coffey on three adults arrested on drug charges over the weekend.

Bond was set for $25,000 on Cynthia Mesker, 20, of 1812 Main on a charge of possession of controlled substance. David Lee Mesker, 27, of the same address, faces two charges on possession and sale of controlled substance with two bonds set at $25,000 on each count.

The bond on Gholam Hossein Zaheri Khaveez, 21, of 506 S. Bassett in Eastland, was set at $15,000 by Justice of the Peace Bobby West. The charge on Khaveez is also possession of controlled substance.

Elizabeth Ramsey at 2907 Navajo reported a burglary at her residence with a fur cape valued at $800, a slide projector, a coin collection and a shotgun reported missing. Total loss was estimated at $1400.

Lena Wicks at 808 NW 5th reported a stolen portable television, a clock and other items with total loss around $300.

An attempted entry was reported at Saunders Company. Police arrested two youths Saturday for possession of marijuana and two more for possession of drug paraphernalia.

Fran Coates at 704 W. 8th reported damage to a glass door at that address reported broken at 511 Abrams. At nearby 601 Abrams, a screen was damaged during the night Saturday.

A bicycle was reported stolen from Kenny Young at 1404 Aylford, valued at $89.99. Frank Hagen at 603 W. 15th reported somebody punched a hole in the vinyl siding at his residence, broke a window in the house and broke the windshield of a vehicle in the garage.

A cigar box containing wallet and keys was taken from a car belonging to Phillip Basham, parked at 11th and Birdwell at the Church of Christ.

Accidents included one at 9:23 p.m. Saturday at the Sonic Drive Inn involving Susan Swan, 411 N. 5th and Bill Little, 5 Coachmen Circle. Another at 9:06 p.m. at 1400 S. 1408 involved Karl Evans, 1466 Princeton; Lorin McDowell, Garden City Route and a vehicle that left the scene.

One at 9:41 p.m. at 20th and Gregg involved Steven Kuykendall, 2608 Rebecca and Dale Vela, 402 NW 11th.

An accident at 3:52 p.m. at the Sonic involved vehicles driven by Ray Gonzales, 1009 1/2 W. 8th and Darlene Billingsley, Sandra Gail 59.

At 11:34 p.m. Saturday at 1608 11th, two vehicles collided. Drivers were Barry Dunham, Sterling City Route and Charles Andrews, 2807 Clanton.

On Sunday morning at 7:14 a.m., an accident occurred at 502 Dallas when a vehicle driven by Jerry Scott Hughes struck two parked vehicles belonging to N.A. Rudd and Mildred Rudd, both of whom reside at 502 Dallas.

Striving for warmth

LONDON (AP) — The British have been working on two inventions aimed at keeping folks warm — charcoal underwear and electric suits.

The U.S. Defense Department has ordered 27,500 "undercoveralls," at about $20 each, which are made from a fine charcoal and designed to keep out cold and protect airmen from poison gas, germs and radioactive fallout.

The black, one-piece underwear was developed at the topsecret Porton Down gas and germ warfare research plant in western England.

In Credition, two 15-year-old schoolboys developed the electric suit, which works like an electric blanket.

An electric element is fitted into the lining and a lead wire plugs into an outlet. It costs about two cents a day to run.

Paul Longthorpe and Peter Comont said the suit restricts movement, but they designed it especially for the elderly, who often die of hypothermia — low body temperature — during immobile periods.

The boys said they spent about $11 to make the suit. They said General Electric is looking at their idea.

Has blunt slogan

ELIZABETHTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Grace Brown, a 69-year-old widow, can be as blunt as her slogan buttons which seem to shout at you: "You Smoke, I Choke."

Since January 1976, Mrs. Brown says, she has sold or given away 10,000 of the buttons to persons who can't get up the courage to ask a nearby smoker to snuff his butt.

At times, requests for buttons come addressed with just the slogan and Mrs. Brown's zip code. They get delivered.

Sitting in a rocking chair, the slender woman speaks quietly, almost sweetly — until she talks about confronting smokers. Then she tenses up, her voice rising.

"Am I militant? For this I am. When it comes to smoking, I'm aggressive. No, wait, that's not the word. I'm persuasive."

"I've been sickly all my life. I've had open heart surgery. Life is so precious I won't jeopardize it. It's in self defense."

McGovern also writes that Eagleton threatened to turn against the ticket he was leaving and "fight me" during the campaign if the health issue was raised later to explain the vice presidential switch.

McGovern quotes two doctors who had treated Eagleton as saying privately they were concerned about his ability to withstand the stress of the presidency should he ever succeed to that office. McGovern does not name the doctors.

One apparent victim of the windstorm was a bridgekeeper blown into the Manatee River at Bradenton, Fla. Search parties were still scouring the area this morning.

Snow stretched from West Virginia up through sections of New York State; from Minnesota south to North Carolina.

Klan action

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Jackson police say a thread of similarity runs through several recent cross-burnings in the city, the latest at the office of a weekly newspaper that published articles critical of the Ku Klux Klan.

Authorities were summoned to the offices of the Capital Reporter Saturday night after a passing fireman saw a burning cross leaning up against the building.

The cross-burning marked the fifth in Jackson in a little over a month, according to Lt. Gary McGee of the Jackson Police Department.

He said a message wrapped around a brick tossed through the newspaper's window purported to be from the Klan, and was similar to that left in an earlier burning.

McGee said the printed note attached to the brick read: "You are being watched by the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

Police said the fireman shoved the cross away from an electrical box, and called authorities.

Firemen extinguished the cross, which had burned electrical cables in the utility box it was leaning against.

Authorities said power was cut off at the newspaper and a neighboring printing company, although the only major damage was caused by the brick tossed through the big plate glass window.

The publisher of the newspaper, Bill Minor, said he believed the incident was connected with recent stories run by the newspaper.

Local arrangements were made by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Skinner was born May 2, 1888 in Mason. She was a retired nurse and had been a Big Spring resident since moving from Waco in 1965.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Victor (Dorothy) Sharp, Big Spring; two sons, Robert Marchbanks, Bowie, and Francis Marchbanks, Los Angeles, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Lola Richardson, Irving; three grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Alcantar

Mrs. Ysabel Alcantar, 75, died at 12:40 a.m. today at a local hospital following an illness. Rosary will be at 504 N.W. 6th at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, with the funeral mass set for 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Father Bernard Guley of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church will officiate.

Born June 25, 1902 in Mexico, Mrs. Alcantar came to the U.S. and Big Spring Feb. 4, 1913. She married Andres Alcantar on June 8, 1929 in Big Spring. He died in November, 1976.

Mrs. Alcantar was a member of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Survivors include four sons, Andres, Jr., Eligio, Guillermo, and Frank, all of Big Spring; three daughters also of Big Spring, Mrs. Pablo (Margaret) Rameriz, Mrs. Vivian (Juanita) Aguirre, and Mrs. Rudy (Lupe) Rameriz; one brother, Emelio Gonzales, Big Spring; a half-brother, Raymondo Monus, Big Spring; 42 grandchildren; 48 great-grandchildren; and 15 great-great-grandchildren.

Dog show has room for public now

For the first time, the Big Spring Kennel Club will have room enough at its annual show to invite and really welcome the public.

Don Bailey said at a recent meeting of the Greater Big Spring Rotary Club that since the Jan. 21 show will be at the fairgrounds instead of at Webb Air Force Base, there would be plenty of room for the public to view the 1,250 dogs expected for the show.

BAILEY, WHO has been active in the local kennel club for a number of years and who has held many club offices, said that the annual show brings about 1,500 persons to town.

The show now is well established, being in its eighth year, and Bailey said that it has the reputation of being one of the best in the nation sanctioned by the American Kennel Club. Big Spring is known as a red carpet show, he said, adding that entrants report that they are treated better here than any place else. Bailey explained how dog shows work, and he advised persons who do not know much about them to begin by watching the obedience trials.

DOG SHOWING is one of the few sports where professionals and amateurs compete side by side, and Bailey said that some professional dog handlers earn $250,000 and more a year.

A town the size of Big Spring doesn't usually have a dog show, he said, and space problems in the past prevented much publicity to attract the public.

This year is different. Everyone can go out and take a look at the 110 different breeds of dogs which will be on show here.

Jaworski's complaint

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — Despite the cries of outrage from famed investigator Leon Jaworski, the deal to return here the indicted Tongson Park is the last best hope to prevent the Korean scandal from splitting the U.S. and South Korea, with shattering implications in the Far East.

The deal struck after months of hard negotiating by the Justice Department returns Park as a prosecution witness, not only with immunity from prosecution himself but with no obligation to testify before Congress. That has led Jaworski to condemn the Carter administration for selling out congressional interests.

However, the Justice Department has informed Jaworski, special counsel for the House investigating committee, there is nothing in the deal that bars Park from testifying on Capitol Hill. Indeed, Park's American lawyer has hinted that is precisely what will happen.

THIS ARRANGEMENT is admittedly imperfect. But the alternative would be probable congressional passage of an amendment to the defense appropriations bill cutting off all U.S. funds for South Korea. Added to President Carter's decision to pull U.S. ground troops from South Korea, this would remove effective barriers to invasion from Communist North Korea and split two old allies.

But Jaworski, a national hero as Watergate special prosecutor, is not particularly interested in global politics. Asked by a member of Congress for an opinion, he has declared that an amendment barring Korean aid, similar to the Vietnam war's Cambodian-aid ban, is strictly legal and would be upheld in the courts.

Jaworski's fury at last week's announcement of the U.S.-Korean bargain of Tongson Park contrasted sharply with his opposite number: Milton Kramer, special Korean scandal counsel for the Senate Ethics Committee. Kramer termed the arrangement "far from ideal" but praised the Justice Department for having "protected our interests" — that is, the congressional interest. Similarly, the Senate Committee will send an official "observer" to Seoul with Justice Department prosecutors when they go there to question Park.

JAWORSKI, HOWEVER, refused the department's invitation to do the same. It was not the first such refusal. Deputy Atty. Gen. Ben Civiletti specifically invited Jaworski to accompany him to Seoul with other Justice officials last October when they started bargaining on the Park deal. Civiletti told Jaworski then that the Justice Department could not negotiate on behalf of the House committee. Jaworski declined the invitation.

Jaworski has ignored the clear intent of a statement given by William J. Hundley, Park's lawyer here, to United Press International last month. Hundley said that even though testimony before congressional committees was not part of the U.S.-Korean deal, he is "prepared to live with" testimony by Park to both the House and the Senate committees.

"Leon is acting strangely," a Senate investigator told us. "He seems to be back in those glorious days of Watergate, when the issue was not Nixon's crime so much as Nixon's cover-up. Leon's instinctive reaction to this deal is insuperable."

GIVEN PARK'S ROLE as secret agent of a foreign government out to bribe U.S. Congressmen and the fact that Jaworski's predecessor quit the House committee with a cover charge, Jaworski's suspicions are understandable. But the alternative of all-out pressure on Seoul by banning all U.S. aid might backfire on the U.S. even more than on South Korea.

Consequently, the Carter administration could not sit back and wait for an anti-Korean explosion on Capitol Hill.

Cyclic edema: Knotty problem

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you explain idiopathic cyclic edema? I have it. Is it caused by kidney problems? Bad veins? Or what? Why hasn't my doctor given me diuretics? —M.S.

It's a knotty question and difficult to be specific about without more information. "Edema" means you retain fluid (swell). "Cyclic" means this happens on a periodic (cyclic) basis. "Idiopathic" means the cause, in your case, is not known.

Edema causes are relatively easy to pinpoint with laboratory tests and observation. For example, some women retain fluid prior to menstruation because of hormone activity at that time. It's cyclic, but not idiopathic. On the other hand, there are on-going conditions that can cause it — varicose veins, constricting undergarments, hot weather, inefficient lymph vessels (as after breast removal), heart disease (congestive failure), liver damage, or kidney disease — anything, in short, that interferes with normal circulation and fluid removal by the veins and lymph system.

You mention kidneys. If kidneys are involved there might be puffiness in the face, high blood pressure, presence of albumin in the urine, or other signs.

When known causes of edema are eliminated, the term "idiopathic" is used to describe it, even though the basic problem remains — the inability to remove fluid from tissues normally.

With most women (a woman is usually the patient), sodium (salt) retention is involved. Diuretics (water pills) promote sodium release by the body. But sodium retention isn't always involved, so diuretics are not always helpful or necessary, and, in fact, may be harmful. Diuretics are also used cautiously if there is kidney or liver disease.

For these women, conservative treatment is tried — exercise, diet, weight reduction, elastic stockings, limb elevation, and the rest.

You may be in for further testing to try to pinpoint the systemic cause or combination of causes of your cyclic edema.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am interested in finding out about Mediterranean anemia. — Mrs. S.P.

Another name for it is thalassemia. It's an inherited disease involving a lowered red blood cell count and low iron content. The name originated with the earliest cases found among persons living in the Mediterranean area. It is now known to affect all racial groups.

The symptoms and the outlook for patients depend on how severe the anemia is. In mild forms there is no untoward effect and patients live normal lives.

There is no known cure, but control is possible. Blood transfusions may be needed in the severe cases, but transfusions are kept at a minimum to avoid iron overload. That can be as damaging as the anemia itself. For the same reason patients should avoid using over-the-counter iron and vitamin supplements unless specifically told to by the physician.

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — Mobil Oil, the most audacious of the great petroleum plunderbunds, has promoted public enlightenment through its Town Hall discussions and TV documentaries. But in defense of its capital gains, the company has also specialized in distortion.

Some of its saucy advertisements, purporting to set the record straight, have now bubblegummed in its face. Rep. Thomas Downey, D-N.Y., was so outraged over Mobil's misrepresentations that he recently wrote a peppery private letter to the company president, William Tavoulares.

The congressman accused Mobil of waging a multimillion-dollar campaign to deceive the American public on the issues. The four-page letter had some zingers. "Mobil Oil has seriously misrepresented the truth" was one. "Your boldly stated scare tactics appear to have little substance" was another.

HE ACCUSED Mobil of participating in "a carefully orchestrated campaign cynically aimed at protecting the prerequisites of monopoly control." The money spent for the advertising, Downey suggested, could be better spent finding ways to conserve our diminishing energy resources.

We can confirm, from our own experience, that Mobil is slick at twisting the facts. A while ago, we reported on the oil companies' efforts to wangle special favors in Washington. Mobil struck back with an advertisement in newspapers from coast to coast.

The ad declared that the Federal Trade Commission had "refused to grant the favor the (oil) industry was supposed to have sought."

This gave the impression that we had reported otherwise and, therefore, had committed a grievous error.

In fact, here's exactly what we reported: "Each of the Big Ten oil companies has also sought special treatment from the Federal Trade Commission. They have asked the FTC to reach requests for their corporate records, which the FTC has refused to do."

As the next move in the same shell game, Mobil tried to make it appear that government spokesmen had been obliged to correct our mistakes. Declared the ad: "Spokesmen for two other government departments are quoted as denying his charges."

The ad neglected to mention that we were the ones who had solicited and published the denials. Our exact language: "Spokesmen denied that the Transportation and Interior departments have given the oil companies special treatment. Each request for a waiver is judged on its merits, said the spokesmen for both departments."

FINALLY, THE ad charged that a reference we made to Mobil was "Wrong." We reported: "Mobil tried to get the Interstate Commerce Commission to lift the profit ceiling quietly on offshore oil pipeline operations. In this case, the ICC refused to deal with Mobil on the q.t. and directed the company to go through regular, open channels."

Calling this "nonsense," the ad urged us: "Please, Mr. A — stop snapping at the wind."

Yet the ICC confirmed that Mobil had made an informal approach. In stuffy, official language, the ICC said the same thing we did. Declared the commission: "Mobil... suggested that the traditional rate... should not apply to offshore pipelines... Mobil was also informed that if they should desire a formal commission proceeding in this matter that they could file a petition."

Mobil's little exercise in deception was, clearly, deliberate and dishonest.

Others who have criticized the company have received similar treatment in Mobil ads. For instance, Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., issued a report charging that Mobil's actions last winter constituted "intentional withholding of gas supplies from the interstate market."

And Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., cited evidence that "Mobil took 26-cent offshore gas which could have been used to meet its interstate supply obligations and sold it for $1.90."

Both congressmen were raked over the coals in a two-page ad, which was published in several newspapers. The congressmen responded with a point-by-point rebuttal, concluding:

"SELF-SERVING ADVERTISEMENTS clearly make no contribution to finding the answers (to the energy problem). Mobil simply attempts to capitalize on the disastrous weather conditions we have been experiencing to further expand its already fabulous profits."

Footnote: When we questioned a Mobil spokesman, he first said Rep. Downey's arguments were dangerous and anti-intellectual. Then he backtracked. He said he didn't want to comment until he had read the entire letter. Then he asked that his views not be used. We told him his comments were on the record.

Around the rim

Danny Reagan

This is another in a series of tri-annual "Reader Participation" rims. It is brought to you in the hopes that you, the reader, have nothing better to do. If, on the other hand, you have something better to do, by all means do it. This is important, but nothing that can't wait until after you have read the sports section.

Read the following vanilla story. Don't worry about remembering any hidden meanings or the names of states that have dams in them. There's nothing Jungian about this. It's not a test. Just read it. Trust me.

STORY: "What the Weewells are weawwy wike"

There's only one thing that can beat my cat or my wife's singing voice in the "rim-inspiring" category, and that's the Werrells... Jamie and "John Denver" Werrell, to be exact. Oh sure, they hide cigarette butts under my furniture, but that's nothing compared to their more "public" doings.

You know they have five cars? On a stack of Bibles I tell you this. No lie. The two of them, semi-normal James "Devil Mountain Nose" and Gretchen "Last Bloody Ditch" have five cars. And no, these aren't your everyday basic-transportation automobiles that sane people own. They have a Volkswagen, a Volvo, two Peugeot station wagons and a '58 Caddy in a pear tree.

And they insist on driving all five of them everywhere they go. It's not right. There are people in India who haven't even seen a '58 Caddy. (The Hoover Dam is located between Nevada and Arizona.) One good thing about it. The distaff side of the family finally found a use for that cavernous, amplified megaphone God gave her for a mouth.

As she steers the two Peugeots with her hands, running along in between the two vehicles at speeds topping 2½ miles per hour, she yells ahead to the unmanned Volvo in first gear, manipulating the steering wheel by sonic booms alone. An incredible feat, even for her.

In the meantime, James has tried unsuccessfully to start the Cadillac, has given up, and gone inside to drink a beer and watch his ninth viewing of Star Trek's "The Trouble with Tribbles." The Volkswagen slipped out of gear, rolled down the parking lot and was last seen daring Robert Conrad to knock a splintered guard rail off one of its fenders.

And then, all of a sudden, as the explosion ripped away most of Earth's atmosphere...

STOP: DO NOT CONTINUE UNTIL THE INSTRUCTOR LOOKS THE OTHER WAY

There, that wasn't so bad now, was it? You are now ready for the physical participation in this rim. It is a "Connect-the-dots" rim, and you the reader, (notice "reader" is singular), must connect the dots yourself to form a drawing suitable for framing or giving away to a dear friend.

The above half of this rim is set in wide margins. You may have noticed this as you read it. If not, please don't continue with this idea-venture. Counting every line, there are 37 lines up there. You will only need 31 of them.

READY? BEGIN! Your starting point will be the last letter in line 16, "y" of "everyday." Working your way upward and to the left, have your pen or pencil follow this trail:

"Starting point" up to last "y" in line 12; then up to the last "t" in line seven; over to next to the last "e" in line four; then last "y" in line three; then next to the last "d" in line two; then the sixth "t" in line two; then the first "s" in line three; and down to the first "g" in line four.

Stop! Rest for a minute. Is your picture beginning to take shape? If it is, you are definitely doing something wrong. Rested up? Okay... continue.

NOW, FOLLOW your line down to

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Ill health has made me almost helpless and I can no longer do the many Christian activities I used to. Can you suggest anything with which I can occupy my mind? — J.T.

DEAR J. T.: These could be the most fruitful and satisfying years of your life. Remember that God is just as concerned about you now as He has been throughout your life, and He wants to bless you and use you. The Bible says, "I will be your God through all your lifetime, yes, even when your hair is white with age. I made you and I will care for you. I will carry you along and be your saviour" (Isaiah 46:4, Living Bible).

What can you do now? First, turn your mind more and more to the things of God. Possibly your area has a Christian radio station, which can be a means of blessing to you. If you can still read, remember to set aside a time each day to read the Word of God.

But most of all I encourage you to have a ministry of prayer. How tragic when we think that prayer is inactivity, while only work if activity! Prayer is work, although it is also our true place and power. Remember what the Bible says: "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much" (James 5:16).

I urge you to begin drawing up a list of items for prayer that you can bring before the Lord each week. Contact some missionaries and get their prayer letters.

Dear Editor, I could not believe my eyes when I read my Christmas day edition of the Herald and found almost half a page devoted to those poor, unfortunate, creatures who had to spend Christmas day on death row.

I think the very least we could have done was take them out for the day and bought them a really slap bang up Christmas dinner at a nice restaurant. After all they didn't steal someones money. All one of the poor unfortunate creatures did was murder three people in cold blood without a moments hesitation. One of his victims was a shopkeeper, and we all know what running a business is like these days, so he probably did him a favor, and who knows what misery he saved the two teenagers he killed. After all if they had lived to grow up they could have been really unhappy!!

And by all means let's not look up the families of all the victims of these creatures and find out what kind of Christmas they had!

Neither do we want to look up all the helpless old people who had no Christmas at all because they are too terrified to leave their homes to shop for food and medicine, much less Christmas gifts.

If all these little sordid details are made public, society might begin to believe that these poor unfortunate creatures are where they deserve to be on death row.

I, for one, don't think they should have to spend Christmas on death row year after year after year. I say go ahead and execute them so this won't

NUPTIALS PLANNED — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Funderburk, Mesquite, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Greta June, to Al Valdes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Valdes, 626 Caylor. The couple plans to be married Feb. 4 in the Oates Drive Baptist Church, Mesquite, by the Rev. Calvin Morgan, uncle of the bride.

Mrs. Angel describes six Biblical gardens

The Big Spring Garden Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. D.S. Riley, 505 Hillside Drive. Mrs. Norman Read co-hosted the meeting to which 15 members and one visitor attended.

Following refreshments, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. John Balch, president. Mrs. Read worded the devotional and opening prayer.

A program entitled "Gardens and Plants of the Bible" was presented by Mrs. Clyde Angel. Her presentation included descriptions of the six Biblical gardens, the first being the Garden of Eden, "perfect as the Master Gardener, God, planned and planted it."

The second garden was Naboth's Garden, "taken from him by the wicked Queen Jezebel." Third was David's Garden, "surrounded by trees of figs, olives and pomegranates."

Fourth was the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, "one of the Seven Wonders of the World" and fifth the Garden of Gethsemane, was illustrated by Mrs. Angel with pictures of ancient olive trees in the garden.

The sixth and final garden was the Garden of Arimathea, "where Jesus was resurrected from the tomb and the message went forth: 'He is risen, He is not here.'"

According to Mrs. Angel, many plants mentioned in the Bible are still with us today; many of which were symbols in Biblical days. For example, corn, wine and oil was the symbol for plenty while evergreen trees represented eternal life.

Rejoicing was symbolized by palm leaves, she told the group.

Officers for the 1978-1979 were named by Mrs. O.T. Brewster, chairman of the nominating committee. They are Mrs. John Balch, president; Mrs. John E. Hogan, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Stripling, second vice president; Mrs. Bill Sanders, recording secretary; Mrs. Sam Anderson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ernest Greer, treasurer; and Mrs. Norman Read, parliamentarian.

Mrs. W.G. Wilson expressed gratitude to those who brought old hose to be used in therapy projects at the V.A. Hospital. Thanks were also given the club for decorating a floor of the hospital for Christmas.

Plan work stick to it

Big Spring Credit Women International met at the Settles Hotel Thursday noon.

Following a short business meeting, Dolores Hull presented a program on efficiency in the office. She stated that efficiency can be measured by a comparison of production with cost in energy, time and money.

Suggesting that an office worker should have a work plan for each day and then stick to it, she closed by saying that setting down basic duties from day to day, keeping a chart and knowing what must be done during the day, can help one achieve greater job efficiency.

Approach subject with caution, warns author Homosexuality difficult on parents

By TONY LEDWELL
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — David Kopay, a 10-year veteran of the National Football League, told his parents he had decided to come out of the closet and join the gay civil rights movement. It was a conversation of anger and tears. Kopay and his father, threatening to kill him, asked bitterly, "Who the hell do you think you are?"

That emotional drama has been repeated in thousands of American families: a wrenching moment when parents are confronted with the reality of having a homosexual son or daughter.

For most of the estimated 10 million gay Americans, disclosing their lifestyle to their parents is a painful rite of transition.

For the parents, it is an equally difficult time. Many of them may have suspected for years, a lot of them never wanted it confirmed and most were shocked or at least disappointed.

"Telling your parents that you are gay violates their expectations," said Dr. Charles Silverstein, a New York psychologist. "They become lonely and confused. They don't know where to go for information."

Betty Fairchild, now living in Denver, learned nearly seven years ago she had a gay son.

"When he told me, I felt like it was the end of the world. I did think that was one of the worst things that could happen," she said. "It made me sick for weeks, carrying this secret around."

She gradually came to terms with it and in 1974 organized Parents of Gays in Washington, D.C. The organization now has more than 30 chapters around the country.

Another mother, who lives in New England, said that when her son told her he was homosexual, "I had to go to the dictionary to look it up." She has not spoken to him since.

"Parents are perhaps the most isolated," Silverstein notes. "They have no one to go to. You can't tell the relatives. You can't tell the neighbors. You would not believe how important the neighbors are to some people."

Silverstein is the author of "A Family Matter," a book written expressly for parents coming to terms with a homosexual child.

He advocates a careful and cautious "coming out," a phrase used by gays to indicate a new openness about their sexual preference, but he readily admits it may not be the best idea in some families.

"Families carry all sorts of secrets," he said. "Telling them could trigger the old responsibility game. Who is to blame for this? The husband may think the wife has made the child gay."

The American Psychiatric Association no longer labels homosexuality a sickness and most programs emphasize parental support and love, regardless of whether they approve or accept the son or daughter's lifestyle. Many psychologists agree

Miss Tucker joins her family for Christmas

For many, Christmas is an occasion that brings families together and the William M. Tuckers, 1106 Mulberry, are no exception. For them, the highlight of the holiday season was the homecoming of their daughter, Kimberly, who spent Christmas week home on leave from the Army.

KIMBERLY J. TUCKER

Miss Tucker returned to Ft. Huachuca, Arizona, Dec. 30 after a reunion and Christmas celebration with her parents, brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Tucker Jr. of Midland and 5-year-old niece Brandi.

A 1975 graduate of Big Spring High School, Miss Tucker attended Howard College before leaving for basic training at Ft. McCullan, Alabama, in October, 1976.

After basic training, she received technical training in two fields, electronics at Ft. Jackson, South Carolina, and microwaves at Ft. Gordon, Georgia.

She served as Hometown Recruiter's Aid for a month last June while home during leave before being transferred to Ft. Huachuca, located at the base of the Huachuca Mountains, where she works in the administrative capacity of the communications field.

She also attends Cochise College, named after the famous Indian, nights where she is completing credits for her associate degree, majoring in psychology.

Miss Tucker's father is employed by H.W. Wright Oil Co. and her mother, June, is a hairdresser.

Epileptics Can Lead Normal Lives

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying that "epilepsy is the only common disorder where the sufferer is more handicapped by the attitude of society than by his disability." I know it's true because I have lived with that problem for many years.

I am enclosing your column of June 18, 1968, which contains more helpful information about epilepsy than anything I've ever read. I hope you agree that it deserves a rerun.

ONE IN BROOKLYN

DEAR ONE: I do. And here it is.

DEAR ABBY: One day last week a little neighbor boy was here playing with my son. Fortunately I was present when the playmate had an epileptic seizure. I took him home and told his mother what had happened. Abby, she turned on me as if I had accused her child of some crime. She said, "What do you mean, EPILEPTIC? Once in a while he has a little fainting spell but he'll outgrow it. Besides, it can't be epilepsy because we have never had any insanity in our family!"

I tried to tell her that I knew an epileptic seizure when I saw one because my younger sister had had many. I also tried to tell her that it had nothing to do with "insanity," and with medication, epilepsy could be controlled. I even told her how happily married my sister is today. I did all I could to educate this woman, but she insisted she had no need for my explanations, so I left.

Abby, it seems incredible that we still have people who think epilepsy is something to be ashamed of. I hope you will print this letter with a few facts of your own to wake up people like my neighbor.

SYCAMORE LANE

DEAR SYCAMORE: The notion that epilepsy is something to be ashamed of dates back to biblical times, when illnesses that couldn't readily be diagnosed were attributed to witchcraft, insanity or the work of the "devil."

It is a safe estimate that about one out of every 100 Americans has epilepsy. The exact cause is not known, but it can be the result of prenatal influences, infectious diseases or brain damage.

Although the "tendency" toward it can be inherited, it is not considered a hereditary disorder. In recent years medication and drugs have become extremely effective in controlling epilepsy. With proper care, most epileptics are able to attend school, hold down a job, eventually marry, and live normal lives. I hope your neighbor sees this. For her sake, but especially for her son's.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOST FAITH" IN PAMPA, TEX.: Perhaps a lesson in "faith" can be best illustrated in this way:

A mother had just received word that her only son—a bright, handsome young man of 22—had been killed in the war. Her pastor tried vainly to console her in her grief. "Where was your God when my only son was killed?" she cried. "The same place He was when HIS only son was killed," the pastor quietly replied.

If you feel left out and lonely, or wish you knew how to get people to like you, my new booklet, "How To Be Popular; You're Never Too Young or Too Old," is for you. Send $1 along with a long, self-addressed, stamped (24 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Laaky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Farm Farmers plan to meet in Lamesa on Tuesday

The tractors are going to Lamesa Tuesday with a group of Howard County farmers leaving the Ackerly area at 8 a.m. They will gather in the local delegation is also planning to join the national strike by flying to Washington D.C. Jan. 17 and staying for seven or eight days.

Varied agenda awaits PCG directors Jan. 18

The board of directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. will hold its first 1978 meeting Jan. 18 at 3:00 p.m. in Lubbock's Hilton Inn.

On the agenda will be a discussion of the current cotton supply-demand and marketing situation and possible ways to improve 1977 and 1978 crop income; a proposed new federal crop insurance program; upcoming PCG county meetings, and provisions of the 1978 cotton program.

PCG has two directors elected by and from each county, one a producer director and the other a cotton-related businessman. They are elected for two-year terms on alternate years, and 1978 is the year for the election or reelection of businessman directors.

Election meetings in each county are scheduled by that county's directors at a time and place of their choice.

The first two of these election meetings are scheduled in conjunction with county Soil Fertility Days in Hale and Swisher counties on January 24 and 25, respectively.

Regarding 1977 and 1978 crop prices, PCG officials report they are working to secure increased credit for potential foreign customers and exploring the possibility of substantial improvements in the Commodity Credit

Exporters increasing use of grain trains

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — With hundreds of grain-laden trains rolling across Nebraska hauling commodities to ports on the West Coast, a major change in the way crops from the Nebraska get to market may be in the works.

Major factors in the switch from Gulf Coast ports to the west are newly reduced freight rates on certain commodities, uncertainty by foreign buyers over the Panama Canal and increasing congestion at storage and loading facilities along the Gulf Coast, according to a copyrighted article in the Omaha World-Herald.

In addition, Gulf Coast ports were congested and grain elevators already overloaded before two big elevators were destroyed by explosions last month.

Some grain buyers say the explosions reduced grain handling ability on the Gulf Coast by 25 percent.

Previously, some of the grain produced in western Nebraska was sold only in nearby Colorado as cattle feed. Now, with the reduced rates for multiple-car loads, grain buyers, and exporters are increasing their use of transcontinental trains.

Some of the lower freight rates are passed along to farmers, but there is disagreement among buyers as to how much farmers stand to gain from the switch from south to west.

The benefit may be as much as 10 to 15 cents on the bushel, while others say it

Lamesa at the Forrest Park Community Center starting at 8:30 a.m. with a press conference at 9:30 a.m.

The local delegation is also planning to join the national strike by flying to Washington D.C. Jan. 17 and staying for seven or eight days.

The city is already booked up with farmers and they could only obtain 20 rooms from the Haskell delegation at a local motel.

However, some of the area farmers are determined to go and may fly up and rent Winnebagos to stay in during the protest there.

The local group filled the auditorium at Garden City last Friday when Sen. John Tower R-Tex. appeared there on his tour.

Sen. Tower expressed sympathy to the farmers and pointed out that the Labor Union had brought up the cost of so many items that are necessary to farmers.

This was not exactly what most of the group was wanting to discuss, according to one observer. They are wanting a bill which will make it against the law to sell farm products for less than 100 per cent parity cost.

Student loans going unpaid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is trying to collect $416 million in unpaid student loans and it says a breakdown shows students in California and Texas are the worst offenders.

The U.S. Office of Education said that the $416 million figure reflects student loans that have not been paid back during the 10 years prior to Oct. 1, 1977.

The latest state by state breakdown, dated June 30, 1977, showed $318 million in defaulted loans with the average amount being $922. That breakdown showed that better than two out of every five defaulted loans were recorded in either Texas or California.

The Department of Health Education and Welfare has announced a campaign to get the money back.

The government said according to the June figures 86,606 persons defaulted loans in California for a total of more than $100 million, while 40,571 persons defaulted in Texas for a total of more than $31.3 million.

The state-by-state breakdown used the students' last known address, the department said.

While the new rates do not apply to wheat, Buelzow said the railroad hopes to have a new multiple-car wheat rate in effect before the first 1978 crops are ready for harvest. Even lower rates to the West Coast are available for shippers who use 50 or 75 cars, he said.

Another major carrier of Nebraska grain to the West Coast is the Burlington Northern Railroad which has different requirements than the UP and does not run grain trains.

"We have reduced rates for 15-car orders that equal the UP's 25-car rate," said Larry Kiser, assistant vice president-grain.

Hustle 3 Hard-hitting title

By Bill Albright
Executive Vice President,
Big Spring Area Ch. of Commerce
Industrial Growth and Development

The new Year slipped quietly amidst a flurry of football games. The books were closed on 1977 and made ready for the auditor. The curtain was lowered on the drama of accomplishments for the last year, as the players study their parts for 1978. The gavel was passed from Roger Brown, attorney, to Ray Don Williams, financial leader, and your Chamber of Commerce moves ahead to a new and exciting era in the never ending quest for economic improvement.

PROGRESS 78! That's the unpretentious hard-hitting title of the chamber theme for this bright new year. And we're not waiting for it to happen; we're making it happen.

In addition to President Williams, the other officers who have accepted their responsibilities are: vice president, Robert H. Moore III, attorney, treasurer, Bill Read, bank president and executive vice president, Bill Albright, part time columnist. These four plus Past President Brown comprise the Executive Committee of the Chamber.

New Board members include Skipper Driver, rancher and insurance; J. Tom Graham, publisher; Benny Kirkland, firm manager; Tom McCann, firm president; and Ken Perry, company president.

The other Board members are John Arrick, banker; Richard Atkins, retailer; Johnnie Lou Avery, administrator; Daryle Hohertz, architect; Jack Redding, utilities manager; Andrew Swartz, retailer; and Walter Wheat, retailer.

Officials invited to serve on the Board as members ex office are Wade Choate, mayor; Bill Tune, county judge; Dr. Charles Hays, president Howard College; Bill Pollard, president Roy Watkins, president, Big economically expanding judging from last year's District.

With leadership like that, Progress . . . 78, will be a lot more than words on paper. It will be a driving force that will 'maintain the momentum' in moving our community to unparalleled achievements in 1978.

"What ever happened to Big Spring?" . . . is the title of a project to promote the image of an economically expanding community. This project will need some "people power" assistance. For a very special part of the promotion, Main Street, between 3rd and 4th (on the east side of the court house) will be blocked off on Friday, January 13, from 3:45 to 4:15 p.m. As many folks as possible will be asked to assemble for a "mass picture" and the "sounds of the crowd". So if you plan to be downtown on Friday, I hope you'll join the throng for a few minutes and be a part of the response to "What ever happened to Big Spring?"

Prof charged with murder

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A University of Texas Health Science Center professor has been released by authorities after being charged with murder in the holiday slaying of a teenager.

Dr. Carl J. Pauerstein, 45, was released Tuesday on a writ of habeas corpus issued by 14th District Court Judge Hippo Garcia. The physician was charged earlier before a justice of the peace who set bond at $25,000.

Pauerstein, a professor of obstetrics and gynecology, was charged with killing Kevin Coats, 18, on New Year's Eve.

Police said the shooting occurred after Pauerstein's 16-year-old son and another boy ran into Pauerstein's home and said there were "some guys outside after them."

Police quoted Pauerstein as saying the youths outside his home were yelling that they would kill his son. He said he was telling the youths to leave and waving a pistol in the air when it accidentally discharged.

Scout troop achieves several of its goals

Within the last six weeks Scout Troop 187, sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, has earned several goals for itself at the beginning of this scout year.

Eight boys earned the historic trails award. They went to Ft. Belknap in Young County. They had made arrangements with the historical group there and were given a service project that had been long awaited by the group who had been restoring Ft. Belknap.

The boys assembled $2500 dollars worth of steel shelving for the Ft. Belknap archives. They were given the history of Ft. Belknap by Dr. Kenneth F. Neighbors who is in charge of the restoration project.

Boys working on the project were Randy Menges, Paul Brown, Phillip Harrison, Larry Turk, Bobby Procter, Greg Mitchell, Billy Clayton, and Jeff Hurlbut.

Troop 187 is a very unique troop, considering the fact that Turk, Procter, Mitchell and Clayton live in Snyder and Hurlbut lives in Garden City. It spans three counties.

Three boys from this troop completed and earned their "50 Miller" award during the Christmas holidays. They hiked from Snyder to Big Spring taking five days and four campouts to accomplish this.

They did more service project work at this time. They cleaned debris, unsightly and hazardous material from the side of the highway, and developed campsights for other scouts when they camped at night. The boys who completed this award are Phillip Harrison, Paul Brown and Randy Menges.

Several boys from Troop 187 earned their Instructor Badges for instructing other boys in knot tying. They also earned their "Paul Bunyan Axman" award, for demonstrating proficiency with an ax.

Larry Turk went before the board of review, and passed his Eagle test. He will be awarded this at the next Court of Honor.

Scoutmaster of Troop 187 is Larry Turk of Snyder and his assistant is DeWayne Wallace of Big Spring.

Watson one-strokes it

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Despite a round of 63 and a quick victory already in the bag, Tom Watson has a lot of work to do.

"I'm glad that's over," he said Sunday after a too-close-for-comfort triumph in the kickoff event of the 1978 PGA Tour season, the Joe Garagiola-Tucson Open.

"It's too early in the season for this kind of thing."

He had to manufacture a hard-won final round of par 72 to secure a one-stroke victory over challenging Bobby Wadkins, finally winning with a par to Wadkins' bogey on the final hole at the sprawling, cactus-studded, 7,305-yard Tucson National Golf Club course.

"If I don't start driving the ball better, I'm not going to have the season I had last year. Even winning the tournament, I don't feel the Tom Watson of January, 1978 is playing as well as the Tom Watson of January, 1977."

Watson didn't win a tournament in January of 1977, but he was setting the groundwork for Player of the Year honors. Before the season was over he'd beaten Jack Nicklaus in dramatic, head-to-head confrontations in the British Open and Masters, won three other American titles, topped the money-winners with $310,000 and had the lowest stroke average on the tour.

Mentally and physically tired, he took 2½ months away from the game at the end of the year, devoted himself to flying lessons and came to Tucson with a bright, cheerful attitude and a certain doubt about what he was going to pull out of his golf bag.

"I was nervous during the first round," he said. "You have to wonder to yourself,

"Have I lost it all?"

He answered that question with a 63 and finished out the week at 276, 12 under par. He collected $40,000 from the total purse of $200,000 and immediately returned $1,000 to the sponsoring Conquistadors for use in their local charities.

Wadkins, the younger brother of PGA champ Lanny Wadkins and seeking his first title in four years of tour activity, twice tied Watson for the lead and went to the final hole needing only a par to force a playoff. He made bogey instead, missing the green with his second shot. That finished at 71-277, good for the $22,800 second place check.

"I'm very disappointed about 18," Wadkins said. "I hit my (second) shot just absolutely perfect but I must have got a bad bounce."

Howard Twitty chipped in for a birdie on the final hole for a 68 and a 278 total that put him third alone. The group at 279 included Lee Trevino, Charles Coody and Keith Fergus. Coody and Fergus each shot 70 in the warm sunshine, and Trevino had a 71.

Fans mob Carter

DENVER (AP) — It should have been a slow day. With their weekend practice closed to the public, the Denver Broncos figured to wrap up their major work in relative obscurity.

But as Rubin Carter left the locker-room facility following the practice session, he was accosted by several hundred autograph seekers, who had braved chilly winds in the parking lot for a glimpse of their heroes.

"These people are crazy," said Carter. "But I think you have to understand that they've waited 18 years for the Broncos to get where they are now. They're very emotional fans, and I think our play on the field sometimes is a reflection of that emotion."

Carter, a 6-foot, 254-pound nose tackle, is one of Denver's on-field crazies. A tremendously quick and strong player, Carter creates havoc in the center of the action.

In the Super Bowl Sunday, he'll try to get by Dallas center John Fitzgerald and another blocker or two in an effort to crush running back Robert Newhouse or another quarterback Roger Staubach.

"It won't be easy," said Carter, a third-year pro from Miami, Fla. "Dallas has a lot of weapons. Staubach, Newhouse and Tony Dorsett all are threats."

"And we also have to respect Staubach as a runner. We'll probably be using a slightly different strategy than we used against Oakland. Kenny Stabler isn't likely to take off and run, but Staubach is, and it's important that we contain him."

Carter lines up in the middle of Denver's three-man front, usually just opposite the center. In New Orleans, he'll be faceto-face with Fitzgerald.

"He's a good center," said Carter. "He has a lot of flexibility in the type of blocks he uses. One time he'll try to block me high, and the next time low. He varies the way he plays, which is exceptional for a center."

But the Bronco defensive linemen won't be home free by beating Fitzgerald. "You get double-teamed a lot by the guards, and sometimes in passing situations you face a tripleteam," said Carter. "That's the way it is sometimes in the 3-4 defense. You have to sacrifice yourself."

"All linemen want to make a lot of sacks and tackles, but if you play in the 3-4, you're not going to get many. We've accepted that. It doesn't matter to us, as long as we win."

Carter says the Cowboys "run the I-formation as well as any team. They send Newhouse up the middle. He's very quick at hitting the line. He'll try to read which way I'm blocking on Fitzgerald and then run to the opposite hole."

Second choice! Who's counting?

HONOLULU (AP) — Dave Turner and Ricky Odom were second choices for the game — replacements for two players who won the original coveted invitations.

But the two late additions were definite first choices as they won the outstanding player awards in leading the West to a 42-22 victory over the East in Saturday's Hula Bowl.

Turner was added to the West roster after Heisman Trophy winner Earl Campbell of Texas opted for the Senior Bowl and then was sidelined by a Cotton Bowl injury.

The San Diego State running back gained 56 yards rushing and 45 yards receiving to lead the West offense.

Odom, a Southern California defensive back, was a substitute for Howard Samson of Arkansas, who broke his arm in the Orange Bowl. He intercepted three passes, one of which set up a West touchdown, and had the most tackles.

"I play every game like it means a lot," said Odom. "I didn't want to have a mediocre game."

The West had a poor start, giving up two touchdowns on miscues and unable to penetrate into East territory.

But the Westerners scored three second-quarter touchdowns after Odom's end-zone interception and recovery of two fumbles to forge a narrow halftime lead.

"We had a meeting at halftime and decided to stay with the same plays," said Turner. "Only in the second half things started opening up for us."

The West added three more touchdowns in the third quarter and held the East to a single fourth-quarter touchdown, an end-zone recovery of a blocked punt.

East Coach Dan Devine of Notre Dame said that after the first quarter outburst, his team lost its momentum.

"Once it starts going the wrong way, it's hard to control," he said.

But West Coach Jim Stanley of Oklahoma State saw it a little differently.

"Our kids were a little more hungry," he said. "Both coaches leaned toward an aerial offense."

Win 39th straight at home

Blazers rock and roll over Jazz

By the Associated Press

Elgin Baylor calls it "chemistry."

"They play together like champions," notes the New Orleans coach, "that's about the best way I can describe it."

Whatever combustible mixture it is that Jack Ramsay has cooked up, the Portland Trail Blazers have it in abundance this season. And they improved the best record in the National Basketball Association with a 122-100 victory over the New Orleans Jazz Sunday.

"We're putting our talent together," said Lionel Hollins after leading the defending NBA champions to their 39th straight homecourt victory, dating back to last season.

The victory, the 31st in 36 games for the runaway leaders in the Pacific Division, was led by the ubiquitous Hollins, who not only scored 27 points but held high-scoring Pete Maravich in check.

Hollins was also the hero in Portland's comeback victories over Chicago and Detroit.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Boston Celtics 94-91; the Denver Nuggets trimmed the Chicago Bulls 109-104; the Washington Bullets nipped the New Jersey Nets 99-98; the Indiana Pacers beat the Los Angeles Lakers 104-103; the Seattle SuperSonics whipped the Golden State Warriors 99-91 and the Milwaukee Bucks turned back the Kansas City Kings 133-123.

76ers 91, Celtics 91

Lloyd Free scored a game-high 20 points to lead Philadelphia over beleaguered Boston. The Celtics, who trailed by 15 points at halftime, challenged in the fourth period, but Free tossed in four field goals and one free throw to help the 76ers pull away.

Nuggets 109, Bulls 104

David Thompson scored 23 points and rookie Anthony Roberts provided 18 points in a reserve role as Denver beat Chicago. Denver's sixth victory in a row gave the Nuggets a fivegame lead

Ali meet a knockout

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Muhammad Ali Invitational indoor track meet, first competition of the 1978 indoor season, was nothing less than a knockout.

The Ali meet produced three world records and several other outstanding marks Saturday night, which was surprising considering that this midyear between Olympic Games is traditionally an off season for U.S. track and field.

If Saturday night is any indication, perhaps 1978 will be an exception.

Setting the records at the Long Beach Arena were Houston McTear, who clocked 6.54 seconds in the 60-meter dash; Mike Tully, who cleared 18-feet, 4 inches in the pole vault, and Herman Frazier, who zipped to a 1:01.3 time in the 500 meters.

In addition, Paul Cummings set an American record in the 1500 meters with a time of 3:39.4 in finishing second to Kenya's Wilson Waigwa. Greg Joy just missed what would have been a world record of 7-7 in the high jump and Tommy Haynes leaped 26-6 to win the long jump.

Sands hot!

Sands cagers tucked away another victory with the defeat of Loop teams Friday.

Boys varsity downed Loop 77-49, giving the team a 20-1 season record. High scorers were Martin Nichols with 21; David Hall, 15; Van Gaskins, 12; David Long, 9; and Bill Wiggington and Larry Feaster with 8 each.

The girls varsity fared equally well with a 78-47 trouncing of Loop. The team now holds a 20-2 record, and is a frontrunner in the race for district honors.

High scorers were Jill Floyd with 27, and Jody Kemper and Susan Martin with 20 each.

Both squads go into action 5 p.m. Tuesday at home against Klondike.

The 1,500 and long jump marks were better than any established last year.

McTear defeated an outstanding sprint field in setting his world record. Among the also-rans were Olympian Steve Riddick, two-time NCAA champion Harvey Glance, World Cup 100-meter champion Steve Williams and Olympic 200-meter champion Don Quarrie.

McTear's time eclipsed the 6.57 record set by West Germany's Gerhard Wucherer in 1972.

Tully cleared five heights, beginning with 16-6, on his first try in breaking Dan Ripley's mark of 18-3¾. Tully did not attempt a higher height.

Kings clean court

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The slumping Kansas City Kings have cleaned house by sacking Coach Phil Johnson — and Joe Axelson says some players may be next.

"I can't put my thumb on what's wrong with the ball club. I know Phil worked very hard, but the chemistry just wasn't there," Axelson, team president and general manager, said Sunday.

The 36-year-old Johnson, along with assistant coach and chief scout Dan Sparks, was sent packing after the Kings stumbled to their seventh straight loss, 110-93, to the New York Knicks Saturday night.

Assistant General Manager Larry Staverman assumed temporary coaching duties, and Axelson said the Kings would wait until the end of the season before seeking a permanent replacement.

Johnson was the National Basketball Association's coach of the year in 1974-75 when he led the Kings into the playoffs, but Kansas City followed with two straight losing seasons and was 13-24 this year after the loss to Waigwa's winning time in the 1500 was 3:38.6, the second fastest indoor clocking in history. Favored Filbert Bayi of Tanzania ran a distant fourth.

Haynes defeated World Cup and Olympic champion Arnie Robinson in the long jump. Villanova won the 1,600-meter relay in 3:08.6, only 2 off the world record. Joy settled for a 7-4 jump in winning the high jump. And Villanova's Mark Belger outkicked Kenya's Mike Boit to win the 800 meters in 1:48.7.

Among winners in the women's events were Francie Larriau, who clocked 4:22.6 in the 1500 and Jodi Anderson, who sailed 20-9½ in the long jump.

Knicks.

"There are some factors missing," Johnson, who was in the first year of a two-year contract, admitted Sunday. "But they don't seem like a whole lot until you look at them from an 11-man roster standpoint."

Axelson concurred, saying that the management realized that Johnson was not solely responsible for the team's lastplace showing in the NBA's Midwest Division.

"We're not all that choked up about how two or three of them (players) have been playing," said Axelson. "We had been sitting tight but now we're going to look. If we can make a trade, we're certainly interested. We're not necessarily going to keep all the players we have."

The Kings had been expected to make a run for the playoffs this season, after trading for guard Lucius Allen and center Tom Burleson and drafting rookie guard Otis Birdsong out of Houston.

But Allen has been ineffective most of the year because of illness and injury.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1978

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Some drastic and unexpected conditions arise to cause you deep thought as to how best to handle them. Take it easy and do nothing of a drastic nature. Evening brings you the good will and the active assistance of good friends and interesting acquaintances so join with them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't be forceful with others and you avoid trouble. Update wardrobe and make a good impression on others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be very clever in the handling of any civic work or career matter, and don't take any chances that could bring danger. Be wise to the ways of others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Not a good time for pursuing a new interest. Don't accept new acquaintances on face value. Screen them well before accepting them.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be very precise in paying your debts and making collections, and keep credit high. Not good to be with a loved one during the day, but evening can be a fun time.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Partners are in a bad mood now but later you can have a fine understanding. Do not take any risks with other persons or there can be trouble. Keep your credit good.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Organize your work early so that you have time to get it done smoothly and without loss of precious time. Take time to meditate during free time. Take more interest in sports.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) The early part of the day is not good for recreation, but evening is just fine since the planets are favorable. Don't permit a loved one's crankiness to get you down.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care you do nothing to make a tense situation at home any worse. Don't make decision now as your thinking is unclear.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Any risks you take in motion could prove costly and painful. You need more cooperation from partners, but this does not come until late in the day. Take no risks with money.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study money affairs well and reach right decisions. Wait for a better time to set up a better budget.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Not a good time for some unpredictable but clever act on your part. Wait for another time for such. Handle correspondence you have been neglecting.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be with a trusted adviser or quietly plan how to make your life more successful, and avoid pitfalls. Improve health and good looks and go out socially. Feel more sure of yourself.

Ridin' fence
A cowboy in Denver
 with Marj Carpenter

What's the first thing you think of when I say a Cowboy in Denver?
 The Dallas Cowboys, of course, and the Denver Broncos - scheduled to meet in the Super Bowl Jan. 15.
 But that's not who I'm talking about. I'm talking about a cowboy going to Denver on the 13th to fight bulls and broncs, or whatever.
 If that hasn't confused you, I'll have to stop and admit that it's Quail Dobbs of Coahoma.
 He was back in Coahoma during the holidays but he is heading for the Denver Rodeo Jan. 13.
 And Quail assures us that he will be the rodeo clown next summer.
 "I'm trying to work up a new act," he laughed. "Big Spring rodeo crowds are so darn good to me that they always laugh but I owe it to them to change it up a bit."
 Quail is one of the best known rodeo clowns on the circuit and was included in the movie "The American Cowboy" a few years back when they were telling about the rodeo game.
 He changed roles when his longtime faithful rodeo partner died last year and he used a new mule in the show last summer. That mule will be back.
 Rodeo clowns are listed by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association as "the protector of the cowboy and the entertainer of the crowd."
 They put the protector first, because that is what the rodeo clown is to the rodeo participant.

Actually they are bullfighters, only of course, they don't kill the bull like in Spain and Mexico - that's illegal in America.
 In America, if anybody gets killed, it's more likely to be the cowboy or the clown. There aren't any cruelty to animal laws about that.
 The bullfighting clowns are the track stars of the rodeo. They are out in the arena to distract the unpredictable bull from a downfallen cowboy. Pick-up men on horseback can't be used around bulls.
 Sometimes bull riders get hung up when their hand becomes caught in the rope and they are dragged, virtually a prisoner of the bull. The clown moves in to free the cowboy's hand and focus the attention of the bull on himself.
 But Coahoma's Quail is one of the best. And he's going to Denver as a Cowboy on Jan. 13. I'm not sure Cowboys are going to be too popular in Denver after Jan. 15 so it's better to go before.
 But Quail's one of the people I enjoy talking to when out around Coahoma or on the edge of Big Spring ridin' fence.
