Ranger investigation

with Marj Carpenter

Much has been said in recent weeks about Ranger investigations of shootings in the area. This is nothing new.

Back in 1885, there was a detailed investigation of a shooting in Toyah in which the first sheriff of Reeves County was shot by a Texas Ranger. The sheriff died. So did one Ranger.

Years later, handwritten files from a Ranger Capt. Gillespie as reported to W. H. King, adjutant general of Texas, became available.

I ran across some of that information one year while delving into the history of Reeves County. The county was named for a Gen. Reeves, who died of mad-dog bite. Reeves County was named after the state legislature and cut Pecos County in half because it was too large. That's how come Pecos is not in Pecos County, which confuses lots of folks.

Fort Stockton is the county seat of Pecos County. Pecos and Toyah had a big battle to decide which would be county seat of Reeves County. Pecos won, although Toyah claims they voted people who were dead and buried.

The first sheriff was a fellow named J. T. Morris. On Aug. 18, 1885, he sat down and wrote a letter to Ed Stallings of Midland which told him that he was going to Toyah and never expected to see Pecos again. He asked Stallings to meet him on the train the next day at Midland.

There was a base of Texas Rangers Co. E camped outside Toyah. This was because there were so many cattle rustlers, horse thieves, gun slingers and other criminals hanging around the Pecos-Toyah area. They had not been getting along with the sheriff who got angry because they would not furnish him with a horse and buggy.

There were seven Rangers at the camp including Capt. Gillespie, Sgt. Cartwright, F. W. DeJarnette, Cop. Hughes, Private Nigh and two others.

The sheriff rode over to Toyah on the train and got off the train roaring drunk. He remarked, "I run Pecos and dammed if I don't run Toyah too."

He became drunker as the evening progressed in a saloon called the "Favorite". He pulled his pistol on Sgt. Cartwright, and also a rancher named Jep Clayton.

He finally apparently became so drunk that he was carrying his gun around in his hand threatening everybody. Or so the old report reads.

The Rangers finally decided to arrest him and sent Corp. Hughes and Private Nigh into the saloon to carry out the arrest. The sheriff killed Nigh. Following this, several Rangers fired and the sheriff was killed.

Sam Lane, owner of the saloon, was the closest eye witness to the shootings. Everybody else scattered to at least 50 yards away.

The adjutant general received a signed statement which said, "We, the undersigned citizens of Toyah certify that on the evening of Aug. 18, 1885, J. T. Morris, sheriff of Reeves County, did come to Toyah and further certify that said Morris was considerably under the influence of whiskey and did, at different times, rudely display his pistol to the danger of all in his presence, that he did cock his pistol and draw down on Jep Clayton and Sgt. Cartwright, and went further by throwing the cocked pistol down on T. P. Nigh, calling the man ugly names without any provocation whatever.

"Morris acted in such a way that the lives of those about him were not safe. It did become necessary for State Rangers to effect, or attempt to effect, his arrest and to that end, Sgt. Cartwright, assisted by Corp. Hughes, Privates DeJarnette and T. P. Nigh did attempt the arrest of said J. T. Morris and that a general shooting followed, in which Morris killed Ranger T. P. Nigh and was himself killed by the other Rangers. We further certify that the killing of Morris was unavoidable under the circumstances."

Most of the signatures on the statement were T&P employees, many of whom may have been known in Big Spring at that time.

The signatures included J. K. Birm, butcher and stock raiser; Chas. M. Fields, hotel proprietor; C. N. Cooke, T&P telegraph operator; J. H. Woods, T&P employee; Stephen Darby, T&P roadmaster; F. W. Poole, T&P barn tender and J. C. Schooling, T&P night clerk.

And that was that. And that's the way investigations were in 1885 — out in the wild and woolly west in an area where I used to ride fence.

Texas National Guard unit will train in Germany

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Adjutant General Thomas S. Bishop said today that a Texas National Guard unit from Donna and Mercedes has been named to spend its two-week annual training period in Germany.

The major general said the unit is Company B, 3rd Battalion (Mechanized), 141st Infantry, which will participate in deployment training with the First Infantry Division.

"This is the first time a Texas Army Guard unit will participate in routine training in Germany with the active forces but we expect additional units to be nominated in the near future," Bishop said.

Exact dates of the training period will be announced later but it is expected to be in late spring, Bishop said.

The Rio Grande Valley company is an element of Texas' 49th Armored Division.

Bishop said the unit was chosen because of its high level of training and because it has a high percentage of men skilled in military occupation specialties and in weapons qualification. It currently is at 114 percent of its authorized strength.

DECISION TIME — Members of the Young Americans listen to the advice offered by one of their leaders in the musical, "West Side Story," which will be presented by the Big Spring Community Concert Association in the Municipal Auditorium at 8 o'clock this evening. The play blends book, music, lyrics and dance to create moods ranging from lyricism to tragedy, from exuberance to savagery and from humor to grief. In fact, it is a translation of the tragic "Romeo and Juliet" into the vernacular of a New York ghetto.

Five children drown in pond

ELKIN, N.C. (AP) — A town is crying. Five children, playing in the first snowfall of the winter, plunged through a crust of ice and drowned in the frigid waters of a farm pond.

"In terms of emotionalism, of children, I'd say this is about the worst I've ever seen," said Roy Kane of Elkin, a veteran of 40 years with rescue squads.

Kane was there in the darkness Saturday night when the bodies of Lisa Diane Hutson, 14, her sisters

Sheila Anne, 12 and Patricia Lynn, 9; and brother and sister Linda Wood, 12, and Brad Wood, 8, were pulled from the icy water.

The five children had gone out Saturday afternoon to play near their homes in woods and fields covered with a fresh, two-inch snowfall.

As darkness fell and there was no sign of the youngsters, Mrs. Wood called the local sheriff's department.

Search crews combed the rolling hills where the children had been playing. One group found tracks in some woods.

Another group searched a valley across the road from the houses.

About 9:30 p.m., a shout went up from a thicket of trees in the valley. A stocking cap had been spotted near a hole in thin ice that was stretched across a half-acre pond.

An hour and a half later, the bodies were recovered.

Variety acts to be offered

This year in Campus Revue the conclusion of the first act features selections from the famous musical, "West Side Story."

Written by Leonard Bernstein in the late 1950's, it is one of the most famous Broadway shows, and a popular motion picture. The opening number is the romantic duet, "Tonight," sung by Angela Schmidt and Larry Wheat.

Following it is the solo, "Maria," sung by Larry Wheat. Afterwards, the entire chorus joins in the Puerto Rican fandango,

"America," sung by soloists, Tammy Collier, Jerry Harmon, Denise Young, Gary Tibbs, Sherri Blalack, and Oscar Rubio. West Side Story is a 20th Century, "Romeo and Juliet."

The number is intended to show the frustrations, temptations, and habits of two New York chain gangs. It will be another one of the fabulous medleys done by the Campus Revue Cast.

Tickets are $5 and will be reserved. Production nights are Jan. 19, 20, 21, 26, 27, and 28. For tickets call 7-7463 or come by the high school auditorium lobby.

Investment firm nears takeover of Walls firm

Walls Industries, Inc. (OTC) has announced that negotiations have been completed with Oppenheimer and Co., a New York-based investment banking firm, for the sale of Walls' assets, subject to liabilities, for cash. The two firms had announced an agreement in principle in June 1977. In August 1977, Walls announced that the parties had not been able to finalize a definitive agreement as previously contemplated.

The announcement today said that Oppenheimer had revised its offer to provide Walls with the equivalent of $14.25 per share. Sam Walls, president of the Company, said that attorneys for the parties would begin to work on a definitive agreement to be signed within a few weeks. Approval of the transaction is required by Walls' board and would be submitted to stockholders of Walls for approval at their annual meeting in April 1978. If the sale to Oppenheimer is concluded, Walls intends to offer to purchase shares of the Company stock for $14.25 per share. Shareholder, who do not sell their shares to the Company, including principal stockholders, would remain stockholders of a new investment company having an initial net asset value of approximately $14.25 per share.

Walls designs, manufactures and markets apparel, principally insulated garments for the sports and utility wear markets, and will continue to be operated by the present management group.

In November 1977, Walls announced net sales and earnings for the 9 months ended September 30, 1977 of $25,901,321 and $2,770,740 ($1.76 per share) respectively, compared to net sales of $19,096,683 and net earnings of $1,956,212 ($1.24 per share) for the comparable period in 1976.

Walls maintains a sewing plant in Big Spring.

RECEPTION LINE FOR KENNEDY — Sen. Edward Kennedy shakes hands with women members of the Japanese religious group Soka Gakkai as he visits the head office of their newspaper Seikyo Shimbun in Tokyo Thursday. Sen. Kennedy and members of his family were in Japan on an unofficial visit.

Rug-maker shares know-how in book

Your husband's old suit, your child's pants or daughter's skirt, may all be recycled into a handsome braided rug. You will get your reward — a floor covering of your own design. Fourteen rugs and five years after her first one, Sally Clarke Carty decided to tell other people how to do it. Her book, "How To Make Braided Rugs," is a step-by-step, easy-to-follow roundup of braided rugmaking. She well remembers her own problems in trying to make rugs.

Rugs may coordinate an entryway and living room, the dining area of a kitchen with warm tile floor, bedroom, or living room. Mrs. Carty says. There are instructions for the dyeing of various kinds of materials. "Pattern can express individuality and I particularly like to work old clothes into a rug. It's a sentimental gesture," Mrs. Carty suggests. One chapter offers distinctive designs and how to do them. And there's plenty of opportunity to do custom work, says Mrs. Carty, who tells how to get into it. "How to Make Braided Rugs" is published by McGraw-Hill.

When I began I went to the library but could find only technical books. Then I found material written by people who did not know how to sew and sewers who did not know how to write. In her book she tells how to find the bulk wool, if that's what you want — it takes 2-3rds to 3-4ths pound of wool for each square foot of braided rug. A 3-by-5-foot rug takes 15 yards — about 8 to 12 pounds.

Make a choice of braid size — narrow is for more experienced braiders; wider width is easier to handle and goes faster. Pick the color, design and shape to suit your environment, Mrs. Carty suggests. Braided rugs can enhance a modern setting and, although most people think of them as colonial, the earliest recorded date is 1830, when New England mills mass-produced wool. The migration westward carried the rugs there. Wives in covered wagon trains made rugs from scraps of materials, while more refined floor coverings were made in New Hampshire and Massachusetts woolen mills. A wall-to-wall look may be achieved by measuring a room's width and making a round rug with that measurement as the rug's diameter. The rug will almost completely cover the floor.

Mrs. Nalley is honored Friday the 13th didn't keep Mrs. John (Belle) Nalley from attending a baby shower given in her honor at the home of Mrs. Tommy McMurtrey, 1517 Vines. Hosting the 7 p.m. shower were Mrs. McMurtrey, Mrs. Tommy Vernon, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Alma Averitt, Mrs. Don Brooks, Mrs. Lloyd Murphee, Eunice Kilgore, Mrs. Carl Bankston and Mrs. Lilton Trintham. Refreshments were served from a table covered with white lace and a blue underlay, centered with a stork. Diapers, mints and miniature babies were used as favors. Crystal appointments lent a touch of elegance to the affair.

Mrs. Nalley was presented with a corsage made of pink, blue and white baby socks, diaper pins and pacifiers. She is expecting her baby in February.

Clubhouse Scubba diver presents program

Fourteen members of the Coahoma Mary Jane Club met at the home of Mrs. W. Glyn Mitchel for their first meeting of the year. Mrs. Clovis Phinney was cohostess. During the brief business session, roll call was answered by each attending member relating their favorite participating sport or activity. The wide range of responses given varied from water skiing to camping and from coon hunting to spectator sports. Mrs. Thomas (Virginia) Ross was welcomed as a special guest of the group. Mrs. Ross presented a slide program on her scubba diving trips to the Island of Tahiti and to the Gulf of Acaba. Mrs. Ross also stressed in her program the importance of physical fitness, weight control and diet. The next meeting of the Mary Jane Club will be Feb. 9, with Mrs. Marshall Day and Mrs. Carroll Choate hosting. The meeting place will be announced at a later date. Mrs. Phinney and Mrs. Mitchell served refreshments from tables decorated in yellows and greens. Each table was covered with Mountain Weavers cloths and centered with green and white centerpieces. Silver and white appointments were used along with milk glass place settings.

Dear Abby

Doctor Can't Get Away From It All

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a very hardworking physician. Every year when we go on our vacation we run into the same problem, for which there seems to be no solution. We enjoy group travel, but as soon as the other passengers learn that my husband is an M.D., the "calls" begin. There were 170 people in our last group, and "the doctor" was constantly called to treat stomachaches, sprained ankles, infections—you name it, he had to treat it. He doesn't want to lie about his profession, nor would he deny his services to anyone in a life-or-death situation, but these calls for "the doctor" tie up our entire vacation. Don't suggest another type of trip because we love to travel, and except for this one disadvantage, group trips are really our bag.

DOCTOR'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Since you find group trips your "bag," periodic calls on your husband's medical "bag" appear inevitable. Why not get three or four of your doctor friends to join your group? The more hands, the lighter the burden.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the hostess who was upset because some of her guests brought their own "dinners" in a jar:
A HOSTESS' LAMENT
I've cooked a roast
And mashed potatoes,
Baked two pies
And sliced tomatoes.
Polished silver
And set the table.
I only hope that I am able To be charming
And keep quiet
If someone says,
"I'm on a diet."

MRS. OLSON IN ST. LOUIS
DEAR MRS. OLSON: Thanks—and I like your coffee, too.

DEAR ABBY: With your permission, I would like to publicly ask a question of those who feel that homosexuals should not be allowed in the teaching profession: Would you deny your child the opportunity to study music with Tchaikovsky? Or study art with Leonardo da Vinci?
TIRED OF BIGOTRY

DEAR ABBY: A pastor in our community gave much aid and comfort to the family of a person who recently died. The deceased had no connection with his congregation, but as a favor to us he performed the burial services anyway, and did a magnificent job. How can we properly acknowledge our appreciation to this pastor? We don't want to insult him by offering him money, but we happen to know that most pastors are not nearly as well off financially as most people think they are.
NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: Since the pastor acted as a "favor" to you, send him a letter of appreciation and enclose a check made out to him for services rendered. If he returns it, make a contribution to his church.

Only one big spring

The next time you hear an out-of-towner or oldster refer to Big Spring as "Big Springs", know that he or she is partially correct. The original name of the town was Big Springs, according to Heritage Museum curator Gerri Atwell, but was changed to the singular several decades ago. Actually, there is only one big spring, but several smaller springs gave the town its original title.
