BODY REMOVED — The body of one of the four young men who died in a plane crash in Lubbock Monday evening is removed from the wreckage. The four were reportedly on a sight-seeing tour of Lubbock when the plane crashed in the median of U.S. Highway 87 while attempting to land at a nearby airport. It took rescue workers more than one and a half hours to remove all the bodies.

Plane crash kills four

(Compiled from wire and local sources)
LUBBOCK — A sight-seeing trip turned to tragedy Monday night as four young men were killed when their small plane crashed into a highway median — narrowly missing a busy strip of liquor stores.
 No one was injured on the ground. Authorities said the single-engine Cessna did not endanger any vehicles on U.S. 87 south of this West Texas city since traffic was light at the time.
 Pilot Stephen Frank Douglass of Lubbock had told airport officials he and Raymond Wesley Needham, 21, of Dallas, William Peter (Pete) Davis, 21, and Kevin Lee Gerald, 21, both of Andrews, were going on a sight-seeing tour.
 Authorities were trying to determine late Monday if the victims were Texas Tech University students.
 Officials said Douglass was making a second attempt to land the plane on an ice and snow-covered runway at a nearby private airport when it hit a power line and slammed into the grass-covered median separating the four-lane highway.

 Authorities said the crash site was about 60 yards from the nearest building.
 Eyewitness Raymond Rauls, 22, said the plane slid off the runway on Douglass' first attempt to land at the Town and Country Airport. Douglass was able to guide it back into the air, however.
 He said the plane began shaking violently in midair while Douglass was circling to land, hit the power line and crashed.
 "You could just see it," said Rauls. "It was like the whole thing just started falling apart in mid-air. After it slid off the runway, he took it back up and looked like he was going to try it again. But the next thing I saw it just slammed into the ground."
 The plane was virtually ripped in half, observers said. It didn't catch fire, however.
 Authorities speculated that the first landing attempt caused structural damage to the plane's wing.

 One of the two Andrews youths had recently told his parents that he was flying every chance he got and was hoping to start taking flying lessons.
 Both Davis and Gerald were often visitors in Big Spring. They graduated from Andrews High in 1974 where Gerald was a quarterback on the Mustang football team. Neither youth ever played in a football game in Big Spring, other than freshman basketball games, because the two towns began rivalry in the fall of 1974, after they graduated.
 Services are pending at Singleton Funeral Home in Andrews for young Davis and Gerald, both of whom were seniors at Texas Tech. The Davis funeral will be at the First Presbyterian Church and the Gerald funeral at First United Methodist.
 Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and also is survived by a brother and sister. Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Gerald and is also survived by a sister.

First in 61 years Texas Ranger killed

DENTON, Texas (AP) — A Texas Ranger was shot to death and a Denton County man jailed without bond here today following a shootout during a drug raid at nearby Argyle.

Denton County Sheriff Kenneth George identified the ranger as Bobby Paul Doherty, 41, of Fort Worth.

It was the first time a Texas Ranger has been shot to death in the line of duty since 1917, a Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman said.

Charged with capital murder of a police officer was Gregory Arthur Ott, 27, who was arraigned before Denton County Judge J. Ray Martin. He was ordered held without bond.

Records at North Texas State University in Denton show that Ott graduated magna cum laude in psychology with a minor in philosophy last December. This semester he was doing graduate work at NTSU toward a master's degree. He attended San Antonio public schools.

Ott is the son of Dr. Bruce F. Ott of Bell Mead, N.J.
 Sheriff George said two persons had been arrested, but only Ott was charged immediately.

Officers said Doherty was first treated at Westgate Hospital in Denton and then taken to John Peter Smith Hospital at Fort Worth where he died of a .38 caliber gunshot wound in the head.

 Sheriff George said Doherty, two undercover DPS narcotics officers and Denton County Sheriff's Capt. Dwight Crawford and deputies Bailey Gilliland and Ron Douglas were attempting to purchase 50 pounds of marijuana from the residents of a home at nearby Argyle where the shooting took place. He said Doherty had not entered the residence at the time of the shooting and was near the back door.

Space epics beaten on Oscar ballots

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two dramas about relations between women, "Julia" and "The Turning Point," scored top honors in the 50th annual Motion Picture Academy nominations today, beating a pair of highly popular space epics.

20th Century-Fox was the big winner in the Oscar sweepstakes, with 11 nominations apiece for "Julia" and "The Turning Point" and 10 for the biggest box-office hit of all time, "Star Wars."

Another film of intergalactic travel, "Close Encounters of the Third Kind," followed with eight nominations.

As expected, the race for best actress proved to be the strongest. The nominees: Anne Bancroft, "The Turning Point"; Jane Fonda, "Julia"; Diane Keaton, "Annie Hall"; Shirley MacLaine, "The Turning Point"; and Marsha Mason, "The Goodbye Girl."

Surprisingly, Miss Keaton was named for a comedy rather than her heavy dramatics in "Looking for Mr. Goodbar."

Miss Keaton's director and co-star in "Annie Hall," Woody Allen, was nominated for best actor, along with Richard Burton, "Equus"; Richard Dreyfuss, "The Goodbye Girl"; Marcello Mastroianni, "A Special Day"; and John Travolta, "Saturday Night Fever."

 The winners will be announced at a nationally televised awards ceremony April 3.

The nominees for best picture of 1977: "Annie Hall," "The Goodbye Girl," "Julia," "Star Wars" and "The Turning Point."

A surprising omission was "Close Encounters of the Third Kind."

Other major nominees:
 Supporting Actor — Mikhail Baryshnikov, "The Turning Point"; Peter Firth, "Equus"; Alec Guinness, "Star Wars"; Jason Robards, "Julia"; and Maximilian Schell, "Julia."

Supporting Actress — Leslie Browne, "The Turning Point"; Quinn Cummings, "The Goodbye Girl"; Melinda Dillon, "Close Encounters of the Third Kind"; Vanessa Redgrave, "Julia"; Tuesday Weld, "Looking for Mr. Goodbar."

Direction — Woody Allen, "Annie Hall"; Steven Spielberg, "Close Encounters"; Fred Zinnemann, "Julia"; George Lucas, "Star Wars"; Herbert Ross, "The Turning Point."
 Foreign Language Film — "Iphigenia" (Greece); "Madame Rosa" (France); "Operation Thunderbolt" (Israel); "A Special Day" (Italy); "The Obscure Object of Desire" (Spain).

Hears drug charge

Senate holds secret session

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, after clearing its visitors galleries and locking its doors, held a secret session today to discuss charges that Panamanian leader Omar Torrijos has been involved in drug smuggling.
 Guards required everyone in the public and press galleries overlooking the chamber to leave after Vice President Walter F. Mondale observed that the closed session was about to begin. A security officer dismantled two telephones in the press section even though no one was allowed in there.
 Earlier, security guards had checked to make certain that equipment being used to provide live broadcast of the public debate was disconnected.
 About a dozen senators were on the floor when the doors were closed, including Bob Dole, R-Kan., who had requested the closed session, and Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, which has custody of classified files dealing with the narcotics trafficking allegations.

Majority Leader Robert G. Byrd, D-W. Va., set in motion a quorum call to summon absent members. Byrd declared that it would "a live quorum," meaning that it would continue until a majority of senators were present.
 The last secret session was July 1, when the Senate debated the neutron bomb.
 The closed session came as the Senate continued debating the two treaties that would relinquish control of the Panama Canal to Panama by the year 2000.
 Dole said Monday he would move to make public the charges involving Gen. Torrijos and members of his family.
 Dole's statement came after he examined a classified report on the information to be put before the closed-door session by the Senate Intelligence Committee.
 Byrd cautioned during Monday's debate that Senate rules strictly prohibit senators and their employees from disclosing classified intelligence material, unless the Senate approves such disclosures.

 "The need for such strictures is obvious," said Byrd. "We are dealing in the realm of national security."
 In asking for the secret session, Dole said he still has questions about the allegations despite a statement from the head of the Drug Enforcement Administration that Torrijos "has never been a target of investigation."
 "Well, that is fine," Dole responded. "But should he have been the target of investigation?"
 Commenting on the range of allegations the committee looked into, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., the chairman, responded that "we read some of this stuff in the newspapers. Some of it is true and some of it is false. We tried to ferret out the facts."
 Material from the DEA files previously leaked to the media included unverified agent field reports.

Joe Christie campaigns in city

According to Joe Christie, a lot of hats went in the air when he resigned as Texas Insurance Chairman last September to run for the U.S. Senate. But, he observes, "that just shows I have a ten-year record of landing on the side of the people when the heat's on."
 He visited Big Spring and attended a reception this morning at the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.
 Christie, a West Texas native, has declared himself in the race for the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat presently held by Sen. John Tower. In order to get into the race for the nomination against Rep. Bob Krueger, Christie ended his four and one-half years as Chairman of the State Board of Insurance. That, he says, is when the hats went up.
 "I have proven my record against what I regard as a key campaign issue — waste in government. I cut $500 million off the insurance rates as chairman of that committee, and I took a lot of heat for it. But waste like that is what encourages inflation and deficit spending."
 Christie also says he was the first candidate to speak out in favor of 100 per cent parity for the farmers and ranchers of the nation. "There is a lot of confusion over a definition of the word. I believe that after a farmer has overcome the odds, that is bad weather, insects, poor management, I believe once he has over come that risk he is entitled to a fair profit."
 Christie said in regard to oil, "I would have voted for the Bentsen bill because it had built-in protection for the Texas consumers as well as the oilmen. I was raised in the oil business, and my father spent 58 years as an oilman in this part of Texas, so I know the need for incentive through deregulation."

 "I would not have voted for the Krueger bill because it was a poorly written piece of legislation. Because of the insistence of some eastern congressmen, Krueger accepted some amendments which stripped the bill of its protective feature."
 Christie was born and raised in Eastland County, and he says he is an El Paso resident now.
 His six years as a state senator, Christie believes, will stand him in good stead in Washington. "The Texas State Senate is the best training ground in the world for the U.S. Senate. We have the most able politicians in the country here. If a man writes his record of achievement in the Texas Senate, then despite the wider scope, he should find the same kind of mix in Washington. You're still dealing with people."
 Christie talks tough about cutting the fat out of the bureaucracy, but he resists any comparison between himself and the cost-cutting promises of Jimmy Carter when he was on the campaign trail.
 "Congress is the place where cost-cutting has to occur," he insists, "the bureaucracy has historically ignored Presidents because of their transience. Only the Senate can get it alone — both through approval of Presidential appointments and through the fact that we handle their paychecks."
 "The state asked last year that each department spend ten per cent less money and use five per cent less people. My agency was the only one which complied. I believe that this is the difference, that Carter cannot bring the pressure to reduce waste, but that each agency must be headed by someone with a commitment to more efficient spending. Appoint someone with concern and then grade their papers at the end of the year at appropriations time. This approach will work. And if the committee heads would not promise to reduce that waste, I'd bust 'em."

 "My Democratic opponent called on the president to cut his budget by $10 billion, but he sets a poor example because the latest report has him the biggest spender of the Texas delegation."
 Christie's optimism over the campaign is tempered with a desire to get to work. "I will approach the Senate the same way I did the state. I'll have a good staff, do good research, listen to all sides, and then offer my opinion and stick to it."

REFUGEES TRAINED TO FIGHT — Refugees are given military training recently at a camp at Jijiga, in the part of Ethiopia held by Somali insurgents. According to the Somali guerrillas, the refugees fled to the camp from the area of Harar, after strikes by Ethiopian air forces destroyed their villages. Jijiga, was once the headquarters of Ethiopia's 10th Mechanized Division.

Lackey sentenced to die

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — A state court jury has sentenced Clarence Allen Lackey to death for the July 1977 slaying of a 23-year-old Texas Tech University medical school secretary. The nine-man, three-woman jury, which returned a guilty verdict against Lackey on Saturday night, deliberated about an hour and a half Monday night before deciding on the death sentence. The alternative under the Texas capital murder law would have been life in prison. The body of Toni Diane Kumpf was found near Lubbock. Her throat had been slashed. Lackey's mother and sister were in tears Monday night when the death sentence was returned, but Lackey showed no emotion. Under state law, appeal in death sentences is automatic. The case had been moved to San Angelo on a change of venue.

Carter gets support

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter won bipartisan support from congressional leaders today to do "whatever he needs to do" to end the marathon coal strike, according to the leaders who met with Carter. Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee, after meeting with Carter, told reporters: "I think the president must do whatever he needs to do." Carter is holding off on strong action to end the lengthy coal strike while administration officials assess mine owner response to a tentative contract agreement reached by the United Mine Workers and a major independent producer, the P&M Coal Co.

Egypt recalls diplomats

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Spyros Kyprianou offered today to meet President Anwar Sadat to try to heal the rift caused by the shootout between Egyptian and Cypriot forces at Larnaca airport Sunday night. The Egyptian government suspended diplomatic relations with Cyprus after Egypt's abortive commando raid to capture two Arab terrorists at the airport. Egyptian Information Minister Abdel Moneim Sawy said in Cairo that Egypt was bringing home its entire diplomatic mission from Nicosia and had asked the Greek Cypriot government to take all its diplomats out of Egypt. But he said this was "neither a freeze nor a break in relations."

Big money decisions face city dads today

The Big Spring City Council was to make decisions about some very large sums of money at a special meeting 2 p.m. today. Council members will accept a bid for the construction of the metal portion of the new Lockheed Air Services hangar estimated to cost $1.8 million. Also, in order to cover the possible costs of the hangar, the city will consider giving permission to issue $2.2 million worth of Certificates of Obligation. The city has simultaneously applied for a grant of $1.3 million from the Economic Development Administration to help cover the hangar's cost. Two more items of business will be handled during the meeting. Council members will consider the second and final reading of an ordinance that would change the zoning of a city block from Multi-Family to Retail. The block bordered by Bell, Lancaster, 16th and 17th would be the site of a shopping center. The city will also advertise for bids for the partial renovation of the Big Spring Auditorium. The renovation will include the repainting of the inside of the building.

Odessa constable charged with making false report

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — An Ector County constable, who claimed he was beaten to prevent him from revealing information about the death of a Mexican-American jail inmate, faces misdemeanor charges of making a false report in connection with his story. The charge was filed Monday against Leonard Garcia Jr., 33, after a weekend investigation by Midland and Odessa police. Garcia pleaded innocent Monday before Midland County Judge Barbara Culver, who set a $2,500 property bond. Garcia, who said he had information about the death of Ector County jail inmate Larry Lozano, was found early Friday in a water-filled ditch near the Midland

Regional Air Terminal. His car was nearby. Garcia told Midland police he was beaten by three men after he left one of two Odessa bars he had frequented that night. Odessa police confirmed to the Odessa American, however, that witnesses in those two bars had not seen Garcia. Garcia was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital with "a broken rib and multiple bruises," a hospital spokesman said at the time. The constable told newsmen he had three broken ribs but Midland police talked to the doctor who took X rays and was told Garcia had what appeared to be a "cracked 11th rib." Lozano died Jan. 22 in what Ector County Sheriff

Elton Faught has claimed was a suicide. But there have been at least two autopsies made and no official ruling has been handed down. The case is still under investigation. Mexican-American leaders claim Lozano was beaten to death. Ector County District Attorney John Green has said that Garcia "knows nothing about the Lozano death." Garcia was appointed to the precinct constable's post last year and is a candidate for the post in this year's election primary. Filing a false report to police is a Class B misdemeanor that carries a maximum sentence of six months in the county jail and a $1,000 fine.

Hill's tax win praised

Representative Luther Jones of El Paso, heading a West Texas caravan for John Hill's gubernatorial campaign which came into Big Spring Monday, praised Hill for his victory in the Howard Hughes inheritance tax case. Jones said "Attorney General Hill could not have won the case if he had been an absentee attorney general. The Howard Hughes case was a tough one to win, because the Hughes empire was against Attorney General Hill every step of the way."

"They wanted Hughes declared a legal resident of Nevada, where there are no inheritance taxes," Jones said during his stop here on a 600-mile jaunt through this part of the state. Jones is Hill's El Paso campaign coordinator and made a swing from El Paso to Alpine to Fort Stockton and then on Monday stopped at Pecos, Monahans, Odessa, Midland and Big Spring in behalf of the Hill campaign. At the same time, the statewide caravans featured Betsy Hill in Corpus Christi area, Graham Hill in the Texarkana area; Mrs. Melinda Hill Perrie around Orange and Port Arthur and Mike, out of Pampa.

"Attorney General Hill has been busy with the business of his office, so we are all campaigning for him," Jones stated here Monday. Bob Miller, local attorney who heads Hill's campaign here, said that Hill plans to be here sometime in March. Jones added, "I hope the people of Texas will look at the long hours of preparation it took Hill and his staff to win the Hughes case and compare that with the incumbent governor's absenteeism. Hill could not have won the case if he had the governor's record of absenteeism." "The governor has not tended to his business," Jones added, and continued, "The result has been mismanagement so widespread that there are state investigations by many agencies." Jones' "Texans on the Hill Side" caravan is one of five which are headed for Dallas where they will all meet on Thursday. While in Big Spring, Jones also emphasized that "Hill

Contracts extended by Lamesa trustees

LAMESA — The Lamesa School board extended contracts of administrators, discussed personnel policy and discussed the impending breakfast program to be required of all schools when they met Monday night. Administrators approved include O.W. Follis, athletic director on a two-year contract; Gene Barkowski, high school principal, two years; Ken McCraw, Middle School, two years; Wayne Smith, elementary, two years; Neal Roberts, elementary, two years and Lee McAllister, elementary, one year.

The board also clarified policy concerning teachers who are paid extra for extra duty such as coaching or other programs. If they resign from a portion of the assignment, they must reapply a new for will put education first in Texas and plans no new taxes, but will choose teacher pay raises over such projects as 600 miles of highway improvements." The group touring for Hill visited in the courthouse, with the press and at the farmer's strike office.

Choate, Hall make it official

Mayor Wade Choate and Councilman Harold Hall have officially filed with the city as candidates for reelection in the April 1 election. Choate will, of course, seek reelection as mayor of the city, while Hall will run for a fourth term on position one of the council.

Police beat Crime rolling along

Crime in Big Spring rolled right along with the theft of wheel covers from two different cars Monday. Officials at the Jack Lewis Buick and Cadillac Dealership, 403 Scurry, reported that four wire wheel covers were ripped off of a new Cadillac on the lot. The covers were valued at $381. Four chrome mag-wheel covers were stolen from a car on the Bob Brock Used Car Lot, 500 W. 4th, early Monday morning. Loss was estimated at $160. Thieves also hit a pickup belonging to Sackie Birto, Route 2, sometime Sunday. Birto had left the truck for repairs at a local service station, and when he came to pick it up, he found that it was missing its distributor cap and eight spark plug wires. Loss was estimated at $50. Vandals slashed a tire on a car belonging to Janet Headding, 1605 A. Lexington, while it was parked in the lot of the Ramada Inn. The tire was valued at $60. Vandals also smashed the windshield of a pickup belonging to Mrs. Jerry Currie, 2805 Crestline, sometime Sunday night. The damage was estimated at $150. Bertha Payton, 810 N.W. 4th, reported that lodgers had left one of her rent apartments at 631 N.W. 4th, a shambles. According to reports, the renters had put holes in walls and screens in the apartment, and stole the double bed mattress and dining room table.

Airport meet due Thursday

A meeting of all privately owned aircraft and interested personnel is scheduled for 7 p.m., Thursday in the City Hall Council Room.

Harry Spannaus, Big Spring airport director, will discuss plans for the new Big Spring Municipal Airport and will answer questions pertaining to services available to private aircraft owners.

Deaths

Newell C. Beard, 75, was found dead at his home at 602 Drake Monday morning. Funeral services are set for 10 a.m. Thursday at the Coahoma Church of Christ with burial in the Snyder Cemetery under the Pickle Funeral Home. Mr. Beard was born May 6, 1902 in Ira and grew up in Scurry County. He spent most of his adult life in California, moving to Big Spring seven years ago. He was a retired construction worker. Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Larry (Janie) Pherigo, Coahoma; a son, Robert Beard, Citrus Heights, Calif.; 11 brothers and sisters including J. B. Price, Sand Springs; 10 grandchildren; and 11 great-grandchildren. Grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Red Eads

PLAINVIEW — Services for Earl B. (Red) Eads, 78, a former Big Spring resident, were held at the Plainview First Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Monday. Burial followed in Plainview Memorial Park. Mr. Eads died Friday in a Plainview hospital. Eads moved to Big Spring in 1922 as a cotton buyer, living there only one year before moving to O'Donnell. He had been a ginner in Plainview since 1942.

FAVORITE FEMALE PERFORMER — Actress Suzanne Somers smiles and gestures broadly during the nationally televised "People's Choice Awards" Monday in Los Angeles as she accepts the "Favorite Female Performer in a New T.V. Program for 1977" award.

Hope, Wayne chosen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Perennials Bob Hope and John Wayne won "People's Choice" awards for the fourth straight year while actresses Carol Burnett, Mary Tyler Moore and Barbara Streisand shared the spotlight in the women's categories. Results of the nationwide survey of viewers over 12 years old, conducted by the National Family Opinion Inc. were announced during the nationally televised 1977 "People's Choice" awards show Monday night. Hope won the all-around male entertainer award and Wayne outpolled Robert Redford and Burt Reynolds for the favorite movie actor prize. James Garner of the television series, "The Rockford Files," was named favorite male TV performer, with Alan Alda of "M-A-S-H" and Robert Blake of "Baretta" runners-up. Miss Burnett coupled her favorite all-around female entertainer award with the favorite TV variety program award given to her longtime series, "The Carol Burnett Show." Miss Moore and Miss Streisand were runners-up to Miss Burnett for the all-around award. The favorite female TV performer award went to Miss Moore, who outpolled Miss Burnett and Angie Dickinson of "Police Woman," while Miss Streisand picked up favorite movie actress honors, trailed by Sally Field and Diane Keaton. "Eight is Enough" pulled in the most votes for favorite new TV program, and favorite new TV dramatic program.

Embarrassment feared

NEW YORK (AP) — A policeman who took his life with a shot through the heart believed his 23-year career was ruined because of charges that he took part in a boisterous, drunken party while guarding the mayor's mansion, his colleagues say. Officers described 44-year-old Thomas Cain on Monday as solitary and serious-minded — and tortured by the possibility that his spotless service record might be damaged by the charges.

Cop's cop takes his own life

"It had a traumatic effect on him. I finally took him to a PBA lawyer who told him he had nothing to worry about, he was going to be cleared. I just wanted to quiet him down," said Officer James McVetty. Policemen's Benevolent Association representative. Cain's suicide was discovered after he failed to report Monday morning for a hearing into the mansion incident. Officers sent to his Queens studio apartment found his pajama-clad body lying on the sofa. Neighbors told officers they heard a sound that may have been a shot at 3 p.m. Sunday. A handwritten suicide note was found nearby, addressed to his sister. It described Cain's "embarrassment" and "humiliation" over the charges. Cain was divorced six years ago, McVetty said. He had two children, a son, 16, and a daughter, 14. Cain and two other officers were under investigation on charges of raiding the mansion's liquor supply early on Jan. 20 while assigned to the mansion's guardhouse. Phone calls to the guardhouse, authorities said, met with "lots of laughter and a lot of obscenity." An anonymous letter to police brass later charged the three were too drunk to sign out when their shift ended. None of the officers' names were released in the investigation, but Capt.

William Visser, Cain's commanding officer, said that "everyone knew who they were. It became a laughing stock." Officers who worked with Cain described him as tall, grey-haired and distinguished. Cain had just earned a master's degree in psychological counseling from Fordham University. "He was a good thinker," said one officer. "Sensitive. All the men feel very depressed about this. I guess you see a reflection of yourself."

Because Cain went to school, he worked the midnight to 8 a.m. tour of duty. He never had a regular partner. Cain earned a score of departmental citations for meritorious service, and he was third on the list of officers scheduled for sergeant's school. "He was a great cop," said a young officer. "You figure an old timer doesn't make arrests, but he did. He was a very active cop. A cop's cop."

SUICIDE COP — New York police officer Thomas Cain killed himself Monday, his colleagues said because he felt his spotless 23-year career had been ruined by charges that he had taken part in a drunken party while on guard duty at the mayor's mansion.

William Visser, Cain's commanding officer, said that "everyone knew who they were. It became a laughing stock."

Officers who worked with Cain described him as tall, grey-haired and distinguished. Cain had just earned a master's degree in psychological counseling from Fordham University. # Morticians board failing public?

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The state agency that licenses and regulates undertakers is too close to the undertaking lobby, the Sunset Advisory Commission's staff says.

It also reported to the commission Monday that the State Board of Morticians does a poor job of protecting the public and has had two or more conflict of interests situations.

"The staff has determined that functions currently performed by the board are not meeting objectives of protecting the public from health hazards and improper business practices," the report said.

Board duties could be absorbed by the State Health Department, which regulates the preparation and transportation of deceased persons, the staff said.

Commission members will recommend life or death for some two dozen state agencies, including the undertakers board, when the Legislature convenes next year.

The staff report said consumer complaints to the board deal mainly with price and quality of service.

"However, the board has taken the position that these types of problems do not lie within its jurisdiction. Yet, despite the pattern of the public's complaints, the board has not sought modification of its law," the report said.

One yardstick used by the staff was whether an agency had recommended new laws to benefit the public rather than the occupation it regulates.

But the morticians' board picture is clouded by the fact that the board's lawyer is the registered lobbyist for the Texas Funeral Directors Association, the report said.

The staff observed that the board took no action on 14 out of 16 consumer complaints filed last year but did refer nine of them to other agencies.

Two complaints the agency said it referred to the attorney general never were received, the report observed.

Bone-chilling 11 at Dalhart noted

By the Associated Press

A cold burst of Canadian air left early morning temperatures chilly, but forecasters called today for warmer temperatures and clear to partly cloudy skies.

Early morning temperatures ranged from a to a chilly 47 at Brownsville in the Lower Rio to a chilly 47 at Brownville in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The cold Canadian air entered through the Panhandle early Monday and had cleared the entire state during the night.

Temperatures appeared even more chilly at most locations because of the brisk northerly to northwesterly winds left behind the cold front. Skies were mostly clear, but some high clouds were reported in South Texas and around Midland and San Angelo.

There was no precipitation in the forecasts.

Some early morning readings included 15 at Amarillo, 19 at Wichita Falls, 16 at Texarkana, 22 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 31 at Austin, 25 at Lufkin, 31 at Houston, 38 at Corpus Christi, 46 at McAllen, 36 at Del Rio, 30 at San Angelo, 31 at El Paso and 15 at Lubbock.

Forecasters called for partly cloudy skies in West Texas and fair skies in Central and East Texas and partly cloudy skies in South Texas. Highs were expected to range from the 30s and 40s over the northern half of the state to the 50s in South Texas with a few readings approaching the lower 60s in the lowlands of the Big Bend country of Southwest Texas.

Warning labels pop out on Saccharin products

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food and drinks containing saccharin now must warn consumers that the artificial sweetener could cause cancer.

While the labels must be in place today on all products shipped across state lines, the warning may not appear on products previously on store shelves.

The statement reads, "Use of this product may be hazardous to your health. This product contains saccharin which has been determined to cause cancer in laboratory animals."

The Food and Drug Administration last April proposed banning use of saccharin because of tests showing it caused bladder cancer in male rats and because limited human case studies indicated the sweetener had a role in human cancer.

Congress passed a law last November that delayed the ban for 18 months, required warning labels on saccharin products and authorized further tests.

The federal government is scheduled to begin next month an 18-month, $1.4 million study to get better information. Previous studies are inadequate, several government agencies said last January.

The study will look at cases of 3,000 bladder cancer patients to try to determine which factors contributed to the disease.

Retreads offer big savings in energy

The so-called "Texas tea" we pump out of the ground does much more, once refined, than go into gasoline tanks.

Much of it is used to manufacture automobile tires. Seven gallons of crude oil go into the production of the average new automobile tire. On the other hand, only two-and-a-half gallons go into the recycling of a used tire.

This choice item of energy-saving information emanates from the Tire Retread Information Bureau, who has a natural interest in the situation. The bureau notes that Americans saved an estimated quarter-billion gallons of crude oil last year by purchasing 34 million retread tires.

This is one resource that is not in short supply, and likely won't be for some time to come. Some ten to 20 million of the estimated 200 million worn-out tires discarded every year can be salvaged through the retreading operation.

To get usable tires back into the economy, the bureau encourages civic groups to conduct regular collection and recycling drives. The proceeds benefit organization treasuries, and the energy savings, of course, benefit everyone.

Another plus for the retread is that it is being made so much better than it used to be. A retread turned out by a competent firm offers many thousands of extra miles of life to the tire. The cost of the retread, too, should appeal to those who want nothing but the best and safest in the way of tires for their vehicles.

To the unpracticed eye, such tires look like new ones coming straight from the manufacturer.

Out to lunch Around the rim

Troy Bryant

What do you do on your lunch hour?

For many people, lunch hours are no more for eating lunch than doggie bags are for dogs.

One man I read about spends his lunch hour running up trees.

The restaurateur drives to a park and walks eight feet up the trunk, does a back somersault and lands on his feet.

Sometimes he takes a girl with him and says, "See how I flip for you?" He says it's a lot more impressive than buying sandwiches.

Another man just runs on his lunch hour, saying that he hasn't eaten lunch on his lunch hour in ages.

An informal survey of Herald employees reveals a wide variety of midday activities.

DUSTY RICHARD does one of two things: If she goes home, she reads her husband's magazines and if she stays in town she continues on an endless search for a good restaurant in Big Spring.

Dusty added that she doesn't look at the pictures in the magazines "...because they make me jealous."

Marj Carpenter says she usually pays bills or watches "All My Children" on TV if she isn't covering a luncheon meeting of some kind.

She sometimes misses up to three weeks of the soap opera. "But I never miss anything," she says.

Both James Werrell and Danny Reagan take the opportunity to feed the fish in their aquariums. Heagan also chases his cat during this time.

Peerless leader Tommy Hart says he takes the opportunity to do any chores that need doing at home, but also takes about 15 minutes to lie down and rest his eyes.

Eileen McGuire says, "I do my part to bring peace to the world by quieting the growling of my stomach and I also strive to sample the infinite variety of all that life has to offer by dining at a different hamburger joint every day. Sometimes, I even eat onions."

LAURIE REESE always goes home and watches her favorite soap opera, "All My Children."

Ad chief Oliver Cofer says he usually goes home and eats and reads, except on Tuesday when he goes to Rotary Club and throw biscuits.

In the composition room, most of the girls eat lunch in the coffee shop here in the building, but that doesn't keep them from keeping up with what happens on the soap operas. One of the girls, Bertina DeLeon, says, "Every day one of us has the day off, so when we eat lunch, the girl who was off the day before tells what happened. That way we can keep up with 'One Life to Live,' 'Ryan's Hope,' 'The Young and the Restless,' and 'All My Children.'"

What do I do on my lunch hour? I usually zip over to Signal Mountain where my flying saucer friends are waiting and I have a close encounter of the third kind. We can usually make several planets before my hour is up. (One time I was late getting back to work because some film studio wanted to use my friends in a movie.)

Good bad lawyers

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Warren Burger has enraged lawyers by saying that 50 per cent of them are not competent to practice in a courtroom. The American Bar Assn., reacting angrily, said only 20 per cent of the lawyers now involved in courtroom litigation are unqualified for such service.

The Chief Justice, who has been complaining about court loads in the past several years, is trying to figure out ways of resolving the traffic jam. While I am in sympathy with him on the issue, I'm not sure what he wants to do about it. If his figure is correct, and most of us are willing to take it on face value, the next question is, "Should we prevent from taking trial cases those lawyers who are incompetent and leave the courtrooms open to those who know what they're doing?" I would assume that is what Mr. Burger is driving at.

IF IT IS, then I'm afraid he's wrong. It isn't the bad lawyers who are screwing up the justice system in this country — it's the good lawyers. The competent trial lawyers know how to postpone a case and string it out twice as long as necessary. They know how to file every conceivable motion, and eventually make every known or unknown appeal. A competent first-class lawyer can tie a case up in knots, not only for the jury but for the judge as well. If you have two competent lawyers on opposite sides, a trial that should take three days could easily last six months, and there isn't a thing anyone can do about it.

I know many competent lawyers and while all of them hope justice will prevail, their idea of justice is to win the case no matter how much it costs the client or the state. It is they who are jamming up the courts and making it difficult to hold a fair and speedy trial.

On the other hand, an incompetent lawyer is a friend of the court. In many cases he will present his case so badly that it is no problem for the judge to throw it out on the first day.

A trial lawyer who doesn't know what he's doing has no idea how to stall. He knows none of the fine points of the law that would force a judge to recess for 48 hours to study them. He is incapable of questioning a witness for any length of time and, because he does not know how to cross-examine a witness, he usually says, "I have no questions, your honor," thus speeding up the wheels of justice.

A bad lawyer is actually a boon to society. His fees are usually lower because he doesn't know how to sustain a trial to keep the clock running. A judge has no compunction to shut him off when he presents irrelevant evidence. A good lawyer can usually prove irrelevant evidence is relevant, and in doing so make a fool out of the judge.

Judges love incompetent lawyers because they have no fear of being overruled by a higher court since the case probably won't be appealed.

BUT WHEN A competent lawyer is litigating, the judge is doubly careful on every ruling he makes so he won't look like a dummy when the good lawyer goes over his head to appeal.

So, while Mr. Burger's heart is in the right place, he is making a big mistake by advocating that incompetent trial lawyers be kept out of the courts.

It is the able lawyers who should not be permitted in the courtroom since they are the ones who are doing all the damage.

It was William Shakespeare who wrote in "Henry VI": "The first thing we do, let's kill all the lawyers." In the interest of speeding up justice I think this should be amended to apply only to competent trial lawyers. I believe the bad ones should be allowed to live and multiply.

How do you spell: "RELIEF" ... from the fuel crunch?

Hair lice needs stubborn treatments

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My children are being kept out of school due to nits on their hair from lice. I've treated their hair with everything I can get, including medicine from the doctor. I've disinfected, washed and boiled clothing, towels, bedding, and brushes. My children don't want to go back to school because of the embarrassment of ridicule. I'm desperate. Help. — Mrs. K.S.

Are your youngsters the only ones in the school plagued by lice? I doubt it. If it occurs after treatment, it means re-infection. Most lice medicines are quite effective.

Although your children are being kept out of school, they probably play with some of the same children (from whom, I might add, they may have picked up the lice to begin with). Do they interchange hats, combs, towels in showers?

Lice is becoming a major health problem in our schools. It is one that has to be approached on a broad front (school or system-wide) or infection and re-infection will continue to plague individual mothers like yourself. Another thought: you may be making a single application of the medicine then letting things go for a while. Often, the treatment must be repeated, even after the first seems to have done its work. Check with the local board of health, which should be able to give you specific directions about treatment. No reason for it not to work. Sounds like you have done all the other things right — boiling, etc.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For the past four years, every spring I've had a lot of trouble with my sinuses. Would penicillin help? — G.J.

A seasonal occurrence strongly suggests an allergy. Skin tests for spring pollens can help confirm this. Penicillin may not be advisable, particularly if you have an allergy. Other antihistamines might help, either that or appropriate hyposensitization to the offending pollen.

Also, you could have a problem not directly related to an allergy. I am thinking of a chronic sinus infection that is exaggerated by a mild allergy. See my booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble." For a copy, send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed, envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 62, retired, and play 18 holes of golf three days a week — walking. I'm 5-foot-9 and weigh 205 pounds. What would account for the fact that when I get home from golf I develop a severe pain in my feet, mainly in the heels. After I force myself to hobble around, the pain leaves. — F.T.

You may be overdoing things.

Cut down to nine holes or hire a golf cart. Most important, however, is that you lose some of that 205 pounds. Much too heavy for your dimensions. With your weight, you could be irritating a bursa under the heel bone. Weight reduction will help that along with a padding in the shoe.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A doctor at the clinic where I took my 10-month-old son for his checkup told me to wrap tape around his thumb to stop his thumb-sucking, that if I don't now I won't be able to later. Does it mean an emotional problem? For some reason the tape idea goes against my better judgment. Would you please give me your opinion on this tape-wrapping? — M.F.

It goes against my better judgment, too. Forget the emotional problem malarky. There are millions and millions of former 10-month-old thumb-suckers who managed to "break the habit" sufficiently early in life.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife is 49.

Two years ago she had a scrape job and has not had a period since. Can she still get pregnant? — Anxious.

I presume by "scrape job" you mean a dilation and curettage (D & C) At her age, and without a period for two years, she will not get pregnant.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You have said that the best exercisers do not work in reducing the bustline. Can you give me any methods that do work? — T.R.

Two. Weight loss and plastic surgery. Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is also vital to human life. For this reason Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Why do Christians talk about Heaven so much? I don't see any reason to believe there is life after death. We ought to concentrate on living right now. — N.M.

DEAR N.M.: Christians talk about Heaven because they are convinced it is real and some day they will go there. They know it is real, because God sent His Son Jesus into this world to tell us about eternal life and make it possible for us to be forgiven of our sins so we can go to Heaven. Christians also know Heaven is real because Jesus Christ came back from the grave. Jesus said, "I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (John 14: 2-3).

If death ends it all, there is really very little meaning to life. But the Bible says our lives have eternal significance and value. "And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever" (1 John 2:17). If this life is all, we would have to say, "Vanity of vanities; all is vanity. What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?" (Ecclesiastes 1:2-3). But the Bible gives us hope for the future. "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord" (1 Corinthians 15:58).

Yes, we should be faithful in our responsibilities right now. The Bible says, "Live life, then, with a due sense of responsibility, not as men who do not know the meaning and purpose of life but as those who do. Make the best use of your time." (Ephesians 5:15-16, Phillips Translation). But we also should prepare for eternal life. Your letter indicates that you are not prepared to die, and this is a serious matter. But God loves you, and He will forgive you your sins and make you ready for Heaven if you turn to Christ as your Lord and Saviour.

Calamity feared

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — The natural gas industry has invested billions in transporting and storing precious but dangerous liquid natural gas. But unfortunately, many of the shipping routes and storage sites lie in densely populated centers where a leak, a fire or an explosion could create a holocaust.

The General Accounting Office, one of the toughest watchdog agencies in government, has warned that most of the storage facilities are located "within lethal distance of many major U.S. cities, especially on the East Coast," states a confidential memo.

Yet tests show, according to the government auditors, "that many of the so-called safety design features may fail totally in the event of hurricanes, earthquakes or other natural disasters or sabotage."

The industry, with billions at stake, has now reacted to this criticism by launching a fierce counterattack on the General Accounting Office.

ACCORDING TO A confidential memo prepared for House Energy Chairman John Dingell, D-Mich., "industry pressure is growing to temper or completely suppress the GAO's explosive report on the dangers of liquid natural gas. Although GAO officials will not openly admit it, sources within the agency report that pressure is mounting to unprecedented levels."

The industry has turned its big guns not only upon the GAO's watchdogs but upon the Coast Guard's shore patrols. Congressional investigators say that the Coast Guard's efforts "to evaluate and control the danger" from tankers hauling liquid natural gas "have been stalled for more than five years."

It would cost the industry a fortune to relocate storage facilities or construct new ones. The natural gas companies, therefore, have much to gain if they can face down the government.

But worried officials are taking a hard look at the liquid natural gas hazards. New York City's former Fire Commissioner John O'Hagen is quoted in the congressional memo as warning that mass evacuation of the city's boroughs would be necessary to deal with a liquid natural gas catastrophe. Yet the memo notes that the evacuation "would be an impossible task and amounts to having no emergency procedures whatsoever."

In Boston, "failure of transport or storage facilities could pour a ... highly explosive cloud over the urban communities of Everett, Chelsea and Somerville," warns the memo chillingly.

THE DANGER of a disastrous collision at sea, igniting a giant, flaming fireball, is also a real possibility. The confidential memo, citing an international study, states that an average of "one of every four tankers in service has a collision every year."

Footnote: A spokesman for the Interstate Natural Gas Association acknowledged that industry representatives had pressed the GAO for copies of its critical report. "But," he insisted, "there hasn't been what I would call pressuring." An official of the American Gas Association suggested that the criticism could have a positive effect. "The industry is worried about providing the fuel safely," he assured our associate Jack Mitchell.

MYSTERIOUS LETTER: confidential communique, which could shed new light on two celebrated political deaths, has come into our possession. It's a fascinating letter, dated Aug. 28, 1975, between the intelligence chiefs of Chile and Brazil discussing how to deal with dissidents.

The letter spoke of the concern they shared over the possibility that the Democrats might take over the White House in Washington. The letter noted that the Democrats were giving "continuous support" to Chilean dissident Orlando Letelier and Brazilian political leader Juscelino Kubichek.

Both men later met violent deaths. Letelier, a former Chilean cabinet minister, was killed in September 1976, when a bomb blew up his car on Washington's Embassy Row. Kubichek, a former president of Brazil, died a month earlier in an auto crash. There is no evidence of foul play.

The two men were specifically cited as foes in the strange, secret letter from Manuel Contreras Sepulveda, then director of Chile's dreaded DINA secret police, to Gen. Joao Baptista de Oliveira Figueiredo, who is still head of Brazil's intelligence forces.

"I share your concern," wrote Contreras, "about the possible victory of the Democratic Party in the next elections in the United States. . . . We are also informed of the continuous support that the Democrats are giving to Kubichek and Letelier, which in (the) future might have serious influence on the stability of the southern cone of our hemisphere."

The letter shows the two governments were working together to menace enemies of both dictatorial regimes. "The plan suggested by you to coordinate our action against some church authorities and well-known Social Democrat and Christian Democrat politicians in Latin America and Europe has our full support," added Contreras.

The document wound up by advising Figueiredo that Chile planned to deport several political prisoners to Europe and suggested a joint surveillance operation. "We will forward to you, as we receive it, the information on the political activities of these persons and their possible contacts with the Brazilian exiles," the Chilean official told his Brazilian counterpart.

Footnote: Our associate Larry Kraftowitz showed the letter to the Chilean embassy. A spokesman disputed the authenticity of the document but declined further comment. Sources who have been totally reliable in the past attest that the document is authentic.

Flammable insulation investigated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many of the 750 known manufacturers of cellulose insulation don't know if their product is either flammable or corrosive, the chairman of the Federal Trade Commission said today. FTC Chairman Michael Pertschuk said that with the current insulation boom, consumers must be especially careful of the material they install in their houses.

He was among those scheduled to testify today before a House Commerce subcommittee investigating unsafe insulation and the problems associated with the proliferation of manufacturers. Pertschuk said an FTC investigation already has found: —In Birmingham, Ala., insulation that was sold door-to-door from the back of a trailer burst into flame in a customer's attic after being touched with a hot lamp cover. —Insulation from a firm called ATI Manufacturing Inc. was found to be flammable after it was installed in a college dormitory. An FTC injunction now bars the firm from producing insulation that fails to meet federal flammability standards.

In another case, the subcommittee found two men in Denver, Colo., who sold their customers newspapers and chemicals, along with machines which supposedly combined the two into nonflammable cellulose insulation. Not only was the material flammable, but the machines broke down after a short period of use.

And in Denver, the federal Community Services Administration helped finance re-insulation of 100 homes of low income persons. The insulation turned out to be flammable.

In addition to the attention given flammable cellulose insulation, "Corrosive material is like a time bomb waiting to explode," Pertschuk said. Cellulose insulation, now produced in large amounts because of shortages of the more standard mineral wool variety, becomes corrosive after sustained exposure to moisture. After contact with walls, flooring or beams, Pertschuk said, "it could result in serious structural damage over time thereby endangering the occupants of the homes." He estimated that insulation of various types was installed in 6 million homes in 1977 compared with 2.6 million in 1976.

There were an estimated 140 manufacturers of cellulose insulation in August 1977. The FTC chairman said there is nothing inherently unsafe with cellulose insulation, as long as it is made under standards which insure inflammability and protect the material from corrosion.

Use This Method To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, TEXAS — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss and grow more hair.

Have you faced the fact that you have a hair loss problem? Hair loss occurs so gradually that men and women often ignore it. Until it's too late. Even though you see yourself in a mirror every day, many of you won't admit to abnormal hair fall.

If you think, honestly, that you might be in this category, look at a picture taken a year ago — three years ago. Notice a difference? If so, now's the time to stop your hair loss. You could be going bald.

If it appears that you are already losing hair, whatever your daily hair routine is, if you continue to follow it, your hair will probably gradually thin away to nothing. But it doesn't have to happen. Often hair fall is NOT normal.

Now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that not only stops hair loss, but actually grows hair! And you don't even have to take their word for it. You can try their treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself. Naturally they wouldn't offer this opportunity unless it worked. But it's impossible to help everyone. The great majority of cases of excessive hair falling and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But if you are not already slick back, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness seems to "run in the family," it's certainly not proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

If you have thinning hair, the Loesch treatment may be the answer for you. If you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop hair loss and grow more hair, do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days — at their risk — if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially by mail. Adv.

As head of the Criminal Division, Civiletti is involved in all of those cases.

Senate Democrats, who considered what they called the politicization of the Justice Department a major issue when Republicans controlled the White House, are gearing up to defend the Carter administration's role in the Marston case and in running the Justice Department generally.

Wallop cited the Marston firing along with the investigation of alleged Korean attempts to buy congressional influence and Justice Department investigations of present and former FBI officials as among the issues about which he wants to question Civiletti.

Wallop, expected to take the lead among committee Republicans in questioning Civiletti, said, "We are taking a highly placed official of the Justice Department and making him more highly placed."

Asked if he thought Marston was a possible witness, Wallop replied, "Absolutely."

A well-placed source, who declined to be named, said Marston has indicated his willingness to appear.

Civiletti, a former Baltimore attorney, is assistant attorney general in charge of the Criminal Division. If confirmed, he would become the No. 2 official under Attorney General Griffin B. Bell.

The Civiletti nomination provided Republicans with an opportunity to gain further public exposure of their objections to the firing of Marston, a Republican, who was investigating two Democratic congressmen and allegations they profited from federal contracts to expand Hahnemann Hospital in Philadelphia.

The two congressmen are Reps. Joshua Eilberg and Daniel Flood.

Firebombing claim voiced

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — A burning gasoline can allegedly thrown by a Jewish militant group damaged the garage of an Egyptian World Bank official early today, the second such incident within a week.

Saad El-Fishawy, 54, special adviser to the president of the World Bank, said in a telephone interview he was unaware of the incident until a news reporter phoned him at 4 a.m.

The reporter told of receiving a call from the Jewish Committee of Concern, which claimed responsibility for the incident.

A man claiming to speak for that organization telephoned the Associated Press and other news agencies. He told the AP, "Egypt's request for U.S. jet fighters at a time when its people are starving proves that Sadat still seeks Israel's destruction."

The United States has asked Congress to approve sale of jet fighters to Egypt's President Anwar Sadat.

Police and fire investigators went to Fishawy's home, but Fishawy said the fire burned itself out by the time he discovered the gasoline can. The garage door was burned and glass was broken, Fishawy said.

The caller from the Jewish group said Fishawy was an Egyptian diplomatic official. But Fishawy said his World Bank job has nothing to do with world politics. He said he oversees relationships between the bank and member countries.

Last Wednesday, the same Jewish group claimed responsibility for a similar incident in Bethesda, Md. at the home of another Egyptian World Bank official. Damage was slight.

Republicans plan to quiz Marston

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans plan to demand that David Marston, fired as U.S. attorney in Philadelphia, be called as a witness at confirmation hearings on President Carter's nomination of Benjamin R. Civiletti to become deputy attorney general.

Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., said Monday the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings starting today on the Civiletti nomination should be used to examine all aspects of Justice Department operation since President Carter took office.

Wallop, expected to take the lead among committee Republicans in questioning Civiletti, said, "We are taking a highly placed official of the Justice Department and making him more highly placed."

Asked if he thought Marston was a possible witness, Wallop replied, "Absolutely."

(AP WIREPHOTO) HOLED UP — Mary Regina Conner, a 71-year-old reclusive widow is taken into custody Monday after keeping police at bay from her Quincy, Mass., home with a shotgun for 12 days, threatening to kill herself and anyone who approached. Detective Guido Pettanelli grabbed her when she opened the door of her home early in the afternoon.

Arrest ends 12-day seige

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — A Valentine heart on the door of Mary Regina Conner's neat little white bungalow added a warm touch.

But two police officers stepped carefully into the doorway to arrest Mrs. Conner for assault Monday following a 12-day siege in which she threatened to shoot anyone who tried to enter, authorities said.

No shots were fired by the reclusive widow, who at one point also threatened to shoot herself, police said. Officers found a loaded shotgun and two rifles in the bungalow.

Police believe Mrs. Conner was trained to shoot by her late husband, Eugene.

A retired telephone worker, Mrs. Conner had little to do with her neighbors, who say she became even more reclusive after her husband died 1 1/2 years ago.

His car sat in the driveway unused, and his widow, dressed in his old clothes, never left her property, according to Sally Turell, her closest acquaintance.

Authorities said the standoff began when Mrs. Conner argued with some neighborhood children over how much she should pay for snow shoveling.

Eleven days later, detectives Guido Pettanelli and Kevin Murphy knocked on Mrs. Conner's door after they tried to telephone and got no answer.

When she opened the door, Pettanelli grabbed her wrist and took her into custody, charging her with assault for allegedly using a shotgun to threaten a neighbor's son and several other boys.

No other charges were filed in the case. Mrs. Conner was sent to a state hospital for observation.

Two classes in Microwave cooking slated at HC

The continuing education department is offering two classes in microwave cooking March 14, from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. and March 16 from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

It will be held in the Texas Electric Reddy Room in the Texas Electric Company building. Enrollment is open, but everyone needs to pre-register in the dean of occupational education office in the Horace Garrett Building before class time. The cost is $6 per class.

Ms. Sandra Killough, Home Economist for TESCO, will be the instructor. The course will feature techniques of microwave meal planning, recipe conversion, meat cookery, browning, and defrosting with an emphasis on how to get good results.

Howard College and TESCO are co-sponsoring the course.

The higher you set your thermostat, the higher your energy consumption.

"Try lowering the temperature in your home to 68° this winter. You'll save on your heating bill!"

A setting of 68° during the winter is the one Texas Electric recommends for both comfort and energy efficiency.

For each degree above 68° the energy used for heating your house is increased by approximately 4% per degree.

As shown by the chart the difference between the recommended thermostat setting and 74° is 24%.

At 78° the increase in energy usage is 40% or more.

Clearly, the lower you set your thermostat the lower your heating bill is going to be. And after last winter, one of the coldest on record, we think a lot of people are going to be trying their best to use less energy.

Remember to change the filter in your heating system regularly, too. A dirty filter causes your heating system to work longer and that costs you more. Check the filter at least once each month.

All forms of energy are costing more these days. If you're serious about saving energy and money, request a copy of our energy efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill.

BROTHER DOMINIC — It's a miracle indeed, says comedian Jack Eagle, who has made more money playing a friar in a Xerox television commercial than any other role in his show business career.

Mr. Cholesterol paid to weigh 210 pounds

SEATTLE (AP) — Mr. Cholesterol is paid to stay fat.

But actor-comedian Jack Eagle says the 210-pound weight required in his contract with Fleischmann Margarine is one of the few drawbacks in a booming career in television commercials.

The contract says Eagle, who stands 5-foot-4, must stay between 200 and 220 pounds for three years. As "Mr. Cholesterol," Eagle conveys what Fleischmann wants consumers to think will happen if they try other margarines.

Eagle is also "Brother Dominic" for Xerox, a little monk whose abbot gives him a seemingly impossible copying task. A Xerox machine floats down from above, and the abbot looks to the heavens, exclaiming, "It's a miracle!"

But that commercial, too, presents a small problem. "It's a little tough on my son, who is 9 years old," he said. "People ask him what his father does for a living and the kid answers: 'He's a monk.'"

In an interview, Eagle said commercials in the last two years have earned more money for him than all his previous work in show business.

"Frankly, I never made as much money in my life," said Eagle, who is in his late 40s.

Eagle said his weight worries him, but not desperately. "I keep in fairly good shape and I have a good philosophical base. But eventually I'll have to lose weight. I know that," he said.

He got his start in show business at the age of 15 as a trumpet player. "People used to say I was a funny trumpet player. Now they say I play trumpet funny." He started doing commercials about 15 years ago.

"At that time the agencies didn't like to send out comics, because people weren't using them. But I got a Robert Hall commercial. Did a great job for them, didn't I? They're now at that big pipe rack in the sky," he said.

Eagle does other commercials — "I was the guy O.J. (Simpson) jumped over in the Hertz commercial, and I was a perfect face for Gillette's Trac II, in addition to the Xerox thing" — but Brother Dominic has the impact.

Eagle remembers appearing at a hotel in his friar's robes when some people arguing at a meeting asked him for a few inspirational words.

"I told them 100 years from now nobody would ever know they ever had that meeting. They realized that, thanked me and compromised."

Superintendent hired at Sands

ACKERLY — Dale Everett, 46, high school principal at Colorado City, was hired as superintendent of the Sands schools at Ackerly.

Eddie Hearn, member of the school board, made the announcement this morning. He replaces M. B. Maxwell Jr. and will begin duties July 1 on a two-year contract.

Everett has been principal at Colorado City six years and prior to that was assistant principal at Irving High four years. He and his wife have three children.

American Motors plans foreign auto combine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American Motors Corp. President Gerald Meyers says the nation's fourth largest auto producer will sign a far-reaching agreement to combine its assets with a foreign automaker sometime this year, the Los Angeles Times reported in today's editions.

plants in the United States, and sale of those cars through AMC dealers.

"We will make this happen" during 1978, Meyers said of AMC's association with a foreign-car company, the Times reported.

He was quoted as saying the agreement would be a "combination, alliance or affiliation" rather than a merger.

"We're talking about something bigger than the 1954 merger of Nash Kelvinator Co. and Hudson Motor Car Co., which created American Motors," Meyers said, according to the Times.

Meyers said AMC management is expected to remain unchanged, according to the Times. He did not name a company, the Times said.

Speculation in the auto industry has focused on France's Peugeot and, to a lesser extent, Italy's Fiat as likely AMC partners.

AMC is in the midst of a sales slump, and it had been speculated the company might drop out of the car market altogether.

In its most recent fiscal year, the auto firm's slim profits came mainly from its Jeep recreational vehicles and buses. Automobile production operated at a loss.

Sales of new AMC cars accounted for only 2.2 percent of the U.S. market last year, down from 2.9 percent in 1976.

The Times said it interviewed Meyers at a meeting of the National Automobile Dealers Association in San Francisco.

Marine charged in killings, dies at hospital

CAMP PENDLETON (AP) — Lance Cpl. Armando C. Vasquez, 20, of El Paso, Texas, charged with killing two other Marines last month, died at the base hospital Monday night of an apparent heart attack, a Marine spokesman said.

Vasquez was accused of fatally stabbing two patients at the hospital with a pair of scissors Jan. 20 and also slashing a security guard.

Vasquez, shot twice by a military policeman during the incident, had been in the hospital's intensive-care unit after undergoing surgery for 45-caliber bullet wounds.

He was charged with two counts of premeditated murder, one count of assault to commit murder and two counts of assault.

Vasquez was a truck driver who joined the Marines in 1975.

It'll be time for cool sooner than you think

Sure it's been cold lately. It's February. But before you can turn around, it will turn as hot as a two-dollar pistol.

One thing about Hester and Robertson Mechanical Contractors. They'll help you out whether it is hot or cold. They offer installation and care of both heating and cooling equipment.

But if you are starting to think about the hot spring and summer days, you might want to check out their Carrier air conditioning systems.

They have the round one and also the compact type. The distinctive appearance of Carrier air conditioners tells the world you've got the best no matter which model you select.

Carrier offers quiet, dependable air conditioning. Take the coils. Being curved, they expose more surface to the outside air. These units don't have to work as hard so they're quiet and exceptionally efficient.

When your air conditioning system is powered by a Carrier condensing unit, your equipment has been extensively tested under desert conditions of 125 degrees beyond industry standards of 115 degrees. A high percentage of Carrier equipment is purchased by businesses who know that the reputation for quality is unexcelled.

Kids fighting in Ogaden War

FIYAMBIRO, Ethiopia (AP)—Children in oversized, cast-off uniforms clutching wooden rifles are a common sight in the brushfire wars that periodically erupt across Africa.

But in the rebellion to end Ethiopian control of the Ogaden Desert and join it to Somalia, the children are not playing soldier. They are actively engaged in combat, to avenge the deaths of loved ones and to help turn the dream of Western Somalia, the rebels' name for the Ogaden, into a reality.

Three such youngsters seen here in the mountains and valleys on the rebel side of the Fiyambiro battlefield appeared to be at that awkward age between childhood and adolescence.

Wearing brown uniforms, they crouched in the bush facing Ethiopian positions on an opposite ridge. Across each boy's back was an automatic rifle about half his size, a weapon the Russians supplied to the rebels' backers in Somalia before the Kremlin switched its support to Ethiopia.

"As is our tradition, they want revenge for the deaths of their parents," said Mohammed Hassan, a field commander for the Western Somali Liberation Front. "They have all received military training."

Hassan explained that the Ethiopians killed the boys' parents when they recaptured hilltop Fiyambiro temporarily last month and executed persons suspected of working for the Liberation Front.

Hassan did not say how many armed children were under his command, but he indicated there were more in the area, one of two main battlefronts in eastern Ethiopia where guerrillas are battling an Ethiopian army counter-offensive to reclaim the Ogaden.

The people of Fiyambiro, like most of the people in the Ogaden, are ethnic Somalis, Moslem nomads like the people of neighboring Somalia, with no cultural ties to the Christian Ethiopians to whom the Ogaden was ceded by the colonial powers in the 19th century.

Liberation Front officials here said thousands of the Ogaden's nomads are receiving military training at 40 camps in the "liberated" zone conquered by the rebels since the war erupted in mid-July. They said thousands of others have been armed with weapons supplied by Somalia or captured from the Ethiopians.

At Jijiga, a former Ethiopian tank and radar base in the northern Ogaden, visiting reporters toured an Ethiopian army camp converted into a refugee center.

About 800 refugees from Ethiopian bombings of Somali villages around Harar, 45 miles to the west, were housed in the camp amid the debris of the battle fought in Jijiga last September.

Women stood in groups watching their men learn to field-strip rifles. The men ranged from adolescents to the elderly.

Their weapons were mixed, Soviet Kalashnikov rifles and American weapons captured from the Ethiopians.

"I walked five days from my village to reach here and join the front," said Bakar Wadai, one of the older men. "They killed my family."

He said he came from a village where one of the two strongholds in which the Ethiopian army was besieged until it launched its counter-offensive last month.

Bakar Wadai said the Ethiopian air force repeatedly bombed his village earlier this month, and the five members of his family were killed in one of the raids.

After military instruction, the men and boys at the refugee camp are sent back to their home areas or dispatched to other fronts to fight. They appear determined to defend their new freedom from Ethiopian rule.

Bundy may be tied with disappearance

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Theodore Bundy is suspected in the beating deaths of two college sorority sisters and sought for questioning in dozens of other killings — now is wanted for questioning about the disappearance of a 12-year-old schoolgirl.

Lake City Police Chief Paul Philpot said Monday that a man using a stolen credit card later found in Bundy's possession was in Lake City, about 100 miles east of Tallahassee, the day Kimberly Leach vanished from her school.

Philpot said he would ask Tallahassee authorities to allow his investigators to question Bundy, 31. "We feel we have sufficient evidence to talk to him about it," he said.

The girl disappeared about 9 a.m. on Feb. 9. She had been seen at her first class, and returned after class to retrieve a handbag. She did not show up at her second class.

Philpot said a man checked into a Lake City motel on Feb. 8 and paid for his room and a meal with a credit card, later found to be stolen.

The card was among those recovered from Bundy when he was arrested last Wednesday in Pensacola. Bundy, who had escaped from a Glenwood Springs, Colo., jail on New Year's Eve, was apprehended driving a car stolen in Tallahassee. He was returned to Tallahassee for questioning about the car and credit cards.

Bundy had been awaiting trial in Colorado on a first-degree murder charge in the 1975 death of a nurse who was raped and killed while on a skiing vacation.

He was previously convicted of the abduction of a Salt Lake City, Utah, woman and sentenced to 15 years.

Authorities around the country want to question Bundy, recently placed on the FBI's most-wanted list, about more than 30 slayings and kidnappings, all involving young women, that started in California in 1969.

In Tallahassee, Leon County Sheriff Ken Katsaris said Bundy was a suspect in the Jan. 15 bludgeoning deaths of two women at Florida State University's Chi Omega sorority. He say Bundy lived in Tallahassee from early January until Feb. 12 in an apartment about one mile from the Chi Omega house.

A VOTRE SANTE — Stefany Walsh, soon to begin teaching a wine-appreciation course in Big Spring, toasts wine lovers everywhere. Originally from Boulder, Colo., Ms. Walsh said that she had brought eight books from her wine library to help answer any questions her students may have. In her right hand is an 1814 bottle of Madiera, which Ms. Walsh says "will not" be sampled at the class.

While visiting Big Spring friends

Wine expert offers tasting class

By DUSTY RICHARD

Wine has held a special place in the human heart since before the time of Christ, and it seems likely that we will go on drinking it as long as vineyards grow grapes.

Most of us starting out drinking those classics — Mogen David, Boone's Farm and Annie Greensprings — but as we matured so did our tastes, and we moved up to Cabernet Sauvignon, Auslese and the like, haphazardly buying a bottle here and there.

Now in Big Spring is Stefany Walsh, originally from Boulder, Colo. She is visiting her good friends, Keith and Jeanne Bristow, and while here she plans to teach a course introducing the amateur oenophile to the pleasures of the noble grape.

Ms. Walsh has studied wine for over 10 years, and was born into a Portuguese wine-growing family.

"I have wine in my blood," she said.

She lived in Europe for a year, sampling the delights of vineyards from Bordeaux to Champagne; took wine courses in Madrid, Spain; traveled through wine-growing regions in Mexico, Latin America and South America; studied the wines of California and Michigan while there; took college courses on wine in Boston, Mass.; attended wine auctions throughout the U.S.; and has organized other wine-tasting classes and parties.

She would like to start a class in Big Spring because "I think it'll be fun and informative."

Among the things that a participant in the class can expect to learn about are the basics of reading a label, wine values in the American market today, overcoming intimidation when buying a wine or ordering wine in a restaurant, the storage and serving of wine, starting his own wine cellar, how to use wine books as references, the ground rules of wine, and which rules about wines can be broken.

"One thing that I will emphasize is that you don't have to be a snob to enjoy wines. Wine is made for pleasure — it adds to company and to a meal."

She said that such a course is good for both the beginning wine lover and the more experienced.

"Some people think that if they know a little, they know it all — but wine is infinite — every bottle is new. Even experts taste every bottle as if it were the first."

During the six-week course, which will meet one night a week, each class will cover a different topic and area of wine. Some of the topics planned are vintage years and proper glass ware, and among areas of wine to be studied are sparkling and fortified wines, wines from Argentina and Spain, California wines, and the basic red, white and rose wines.

"We will learn how to read a label in order to buy a good bottle of wine for $5. You just need to know the basics..."

At each session, students will sample wines along with breads and cheeses that appropriately complement the tastes of the wines, and Ms. Walsh will hand out graphs, vintage charts and mimeographed sheets.

Every student will be encouraged to contribute his or her own knowledge of wine to the class, said Ms. Walsh.

Ms. Walsh said that she is limiting enrollment in the class to 14 people, because she wants it to be an intimate and informal experience for everyone.

"I want everyone to enjoy himself."

At the last class, she said, any student wishing to bring a bottle of wine to share with the others will be allowed to do so, and she will also conduct a blind wine-tasting.

The course, meeting from 7 to 10 p.m. each Wednesday night beginning Mar. 1 at the Blue Room of the Dora Roberts Community Center, will cost $35 per person, which includes all the wines, cheeses and breads to be tasted.

To register for the course one should call Ms. Walsh at 267-8383, or write her in care of Jeanne Bristow, 1 Bennett Circle, Big Spring, 79720. Deadline for registration is Feb. 28.

"The first rule for everyone to learn is to drink what tastes good to him."

Cooking with wine improves food flavor

More and more men these days are discovering the joys of cooking. After all, some of the world's best chefs are male. That fact, coupled with the return of women to the job market and the trend toward more egalitarian U.S. households, has introduced increasing numbers of American men to the kitchen.

Interestingly, men are often highly creative cooks. Less bound by cooking traditions than women and often more adventurous eaters, they enjoy experimenting. Frequently when they're creating, they like cooking with wine.

It is not an exaggeration to say that wine will improve the flavor of almost any dish. And there is nothing mysterious or difficult about its use in cooking, if you keep a few important facts in mind.

When choosing a wine for cooking, it is important that the wine you select be a good one and that it stands up to the heat of the kitchen.

Many ordinary table wines and expensive vintage wines are fine for drinking but their delicate flavors are utterly lost during the cooking process and the taste of dishes prepared with other table wines can vary from preparation to preparation.

What is required for cooking is a good wine, to be sure, but one that is robust enough to retain its essential flavor after the cooking process. The flavor of the dish should be consistent and uniform every time it is prepared.

Wines especially selected and prepared for use in cooking are always a good choice. Holland House Cooking Wines are fine wines whose character and flavor do not evaporate.

An added bonus is that cooking wines, once opened, offer far longer cupboard life than table wines.

And food taste tests conducted recently at four major American universities known for their hotel and restaurant administration programs — Cornell, Purdue, City University of New York and Florida State University — showed that in 9 out of 17 recipes, dishes prepared with cooking wine were preferred to those prepared with fine table wines. On the whole the tests clearly demonstrated that cooking wines are as good or better in meal preparation than their more expensive counterparts.

Try your own taste test with the following recipe.

BEUF BURGANDY

Serves 6-8

3 pounds lean chuck or round sirloin, cut into 1-inch cubes

2 1/2 cups Holland House Red Cooking Wine

1/4 teaspoon garlic powder

1/4 teaspoon thyme

1/2 bay leaf

1/4 cup oil

3 tablespoons flour

1 envelope dehydrated onion soup mix

1 1/2 cups water

5 small carrots, cut in 1-inch chunks

18-ounce can small onions

1 4-ounce can or 1 dozen fresh mushrooms, sauteed in butter

Heat oil in heavy skillet, add beef and brown slowly on all sides. Remove beef to casserole and sift flour into oil remaining in skillet. Add onion soup mix and water; cook and stir until mixture boils thoroughly. Pour over beef, cover and bake in a slow oven at 300 degrees for 2 hours or until beef is very tender.

Meanwhile, cook carrots in small amount of boiling salt water. Drain onions and mushrooms; add all vegetables and wine to beef. Bake 15 minutes or until vegetables are thoroughly heated.

'Sexual sleuths' may be cause of last year's decline in VD

ATLANTA (AP) — Sexual sleuths, tracking gonorrhea and syphilis from partner to partner, helped make 1977 the first year in two decades in which the number of cases for both venereal diseases declined.

But gains in the war on VD could be wiped out if fighters fall prey to the complacency that stifled past efforts, warns Dr. Paul Wiesner, director of venereal disease control at the national Center for Disease Control.

The 1977 figures are 996,883 gonorrhea cases, down from 1,002,096 the year before, and 20,447 primary and secondary syphilis cases, down from 23,724. Wiesner said the drop had a lot to do with another figures — the $32 million Congress spent on VD control last year, the most ever.

"The figures reflect the control effort," Wiesner said in an interview. Compare graphs of federal grants with those of incidence of sexually transmitted diseases "and you'll see that as one goes up, the other goes down," he said. Wiesner noted that President Carter has proposed continuing the $32 million appropriation.

He said much of the grant money has gone to hire and train sexual sleuths "to work with people who might have been infectious and exposed to other people."

"They have to be sure those people get treated before they spread the disease through new sexual contacts. They have to assist them to get their sex problems treated."

Most important, he said, there's the tricky problem of getting them to identify sexual partners.

"You have to be able to relate to people," Wiesner said. "And you need training that takes a lot of time and a lot of money."

The federal money goes to states and big cities based on factors that include poverty levels and reports of VD in those areas, Wiesner said. State and local clinics often concentrate on diagnosis and treatment, and when they combine with federally supported prevention efforts "it does a lot to heighten the awareness by the general public," he said.

Gonorrhea and syphilis have declined at various times in past years, particularly in the 1960s, Wiesner said. "But they made the mistake of talking

More multiple wage families

There are more multiple-earner families than single-earner families in the United States. Married women returning to the labor force is the chief cause, says Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Dr. Wallace: I am 18 and have a problem with my parents. I am attracted to kids 16 and under and for some reason they are attracted to me. My parents say these kids are too young to be with me and Mom and Dad don't like it.

These kids seem to like me a lot and their parents don't mind. In fact, some say it will do the kids good to be with me.

Why do these kids like me and what should I do about my parents?

Ron, Colorado Springs, Colo. Dear Ron: Many younger kids are attracted to older persons such as you, because you represent strength, independence and "worldly" wisdom.

I see nothing wrong with spending time with kids and even the latest decreases have only chopped totals back to about 1970 levels.

Growing population, apparently increasing sexual contact among young Americans and decreasing reluctance to report what were once haltingly referred to only as "social diseases" are all factors that logically would lead to rising reported incidence.

Outstanding women profiled, woman's new role discussed

The new world of women's equality must not be a woman's world exclusively anymore than the old world was. It was pointed out. For successful leadership, there is need for both sexes to contribute harmoniously according to their special aptitudes. Because there is a moral crisis in our world, women must fight to save the moral and spiritual faith in which our nation was founded.

New officers were elected for the 1978-79 club year. They are Mrs. Chesley McDonald, president; Mrs. D.O. Gray, vice president; Mrs. Horace Reagan, secretary; Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., treasurer; Mrs. Ted Hatfield, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Norman Read, parliamentarian.

The new officers will be installed in May.

The next meeting will be Mar. 16 at the Tumbleweed Room at Howard College. This is Federation Guest Day and all seven Hyperion club members are to be guests of the 1905 Hyperion Club.

"Why am I a club member?" will be the subject of the program.

It was pointed out that the new status of women embraces many opportunities. Women are taking their places in all areas of national life, but with this new status comes enormous responsibilities. The voice of women can be effective and constructive and each should emphasize preservation and manifestation of the spiritual and moral values in danger of being lost in

Dear Abby

Widow Proud Of Husband's Name

DEAR ABBY: Two months ago I lost the sweet and gentle man to whom I had been happily married for 31 years. With our three children grown and into happy marriages of their own, we were looking forward to traveling to all those wonderful faraway places we couldn't see until our "retirement years." And of course we had planned to grow old together.

Suddenly all these hopes have disappeared. I am not bitter. I realize that many couples weren't blessed with as many happy years as we have had.

Not only is my complaint so "petty" I'm almost ashamed to mention it, but it is directed to many of my well-meaning friends who have written to express their condolences.

Each day I want to shout from the rooftop, "Please, good people, stop addressing my mail 'Mary E. Jones.' Legally, yes; socially, I'm still 'Mrs. James R. Jones!'"

I was always so proud to be his wife; I am just as proud to bear his name as his widow.

Please tell them for me, Abby. Everyone I know reads your column faithfully. Thank you.

NEW WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: Although I've mentioned it in my column many times, I will publish your letter as a reminder to those who have forgotten (or never learned) that a widow is always addressed (socially) as "Mrs. (her husband's name) Jones."

DEAR ABBY: My mother has been divorced for 15 years. She's 63 and a nice-looking woman. Last month the man with whom she has been going for two years moved in with her. (He's also divorced.)

She says they love each other but if they get married they'll lose their welfare and Medicare benefits.

I am married and have a wonderful family. I disapprove of my mother living in sin with this man and have refused to visit her. She lives only a few miles from me.

She said if I loved her, I would "understand" and visit her. I've told her that she is welcome to come to my home, but I'm not going to hers.

Do you think I'm right?

CONN. DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: You have a right to disapprove of your mother's lifestyle, but it's not your place to "judge" and punish "sins." That's the Lord's job. ("Hate the sin but love the sinner.")

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (24 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

Horsehide and what?

Tempus fugit... Translated straight from Latin, the phrase means "time flies"...

Though the Howard College Hawk Queens aren't the official number one team in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference...

In what Coach Don Stevens calls "a very tough" tournament, five teams from the Queens' conference and three from the northern league have been selected to compete for the right to advance to the National Tournament in Kansas City, Kan.

The Queens' first game is Monday at 4 p.m. against Ranger. The mens' Regional tournament follows immediately on March 2-4.

SQUEEZE THAT LEMON!

There's this story going around about University of Texas head basketball coach Abe Lemons that evidently started him on his road to the top of the humor charts among major college coaches.

Offense has always been the name of the game for Lemons, and one wintry evening years ago after Abe's Oklahoma City University team had just lost an offensive struggle by the score of 132-126 or something, the following scene supposedly took place.

One of the writers asked Lemons: "Coach, how do you describe your defense?"

"Aw, we just call it our Sieve Defense," Lemons said, watching as a dozen sportswriters took his words down on pads.

"And why do you call it that, Coach?"

"Well, it sorta reminds you of a sieve, the way we let the other guys leak through."

"Uh, coach, how do you spell that?"

"C-I-V, I guess," Lemons said. "Hell, I don't know. I have enough trouble coaching it."

REMARKABILITIES "I'd have to say I gave it the old college try, except I never went to college..." Philadelphia 76ers DARRYL DAWKINS, after playing a good game.

"When I lived in the Valley, I used to see cars with window stickers that said 'The University.' Whether you like it or not, people in Texas know what that means. They're sure as hell don't think of Howard Payne..." ABE LEMONS.

Hectic SWC race concludes tonight

The Southwest Conference's basketball season comes to a chaotic conclusion tonight and it may take a Philadelphia lawyer and a math professor from Massachusetts Institute of Technology to figure out the final pairings for the league's postseason tournament.

Texas and Arkansas are scrapping for the coveted "bye" into the stamina-sapping tournament which starts Saturday.

Should Arkansas defeat Texas Tech in Fayetteville and Texas lose to Southern Methodist in Austin, Arkansas would receive a bye to the championship game March 4.

However, should both teams win Texas gets the bye even though both teams would finish with 14-2 regular season marks.

SWC By-article IX reads: "If teams tie for first place in the regular conference season a conference winner shall be determined by: 1. The records against each other... 2. Records against the next highest team(s) to them shall be the second criteria."

Texas and Arkansas split in their two meetings. However, Texas lost to Baylor (which will finish in at least a tie for fifth place) and Arkansas lost to Houston. Texas beat Houston twice.

Houston has finished the conference campaign with an 11-5 record. Tech is 10-5, Baylor 7-8, SMU 6-9, A&M 4-11, and both TCU and Rice 2-13.

In other league games Tuesday night, Baylor is at TCU and Texas A&M is at Rice. A&M has clinched seventh place.

The first round of the tournament Saturday will pit No. 2 against No. 9, No. 3 against No. 8, No. 4, against No. 7, and No. 5 against No. 6.

The four surviving teams will start round-robin play at The Summit in Houston March 2. The two winners will play Friday night and the winner of that game will play either Arkansas or Texas.

Any ties after Tuesday night will be decided by a coin flip in the SWC office. The Saturday afternoon wild card television game will not be determined until Wednesday morning.

FOOTBALL National Football League SEATTLE SEAHAWKS... RICHMOND—Announced firing of Carl Stone, basketball coach...

Vengeance mine, sayeth the Hawk

By DANNY REAGAN Sports Editor

The foul taste of a 101-77 embarrassment a month ago must have still been in the mouths of the Howard College Hawks Monday night...

In their 1978 home finale, the locals returned the favor of a lopsided defeat, and drubbed the visitors 90-72.

Head Coach Wilder sent his club into the contest with the intent of giving up the perimeter shot to the shorter Plainsmen in order to dominate the backboards. The strategy worked. Big Joe Cooper (6-10 1/2) and sky crew almost doubled the FPC crew in the carom column.

Another major factor in the win was the effort of Russell "Second Half"

Big Spring Herald BIG SPRING, TEXAS, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1978 SECTION B SECTION B

Sublet, who, with a 28-point output in the first half, quickly changed his nickname to "First Half" Sublet.

The Houston Kashmere product's play from the floor was ineffable. He hit 12 to 14 from the field and four of four from the free throw line during the first 20 minutes of play.

Double-teamed for almost the entire second half, he was held to only four additional points.

The third and telling key to the victory was 90 per cent team shooting from the gratis stripe. The Hawks sunk 26 of 29 attempts from that line. Frank Phillips could only manage two of seven.

Sublet's hot hand aided a somewhat shaky first half for the local squad. Board dominance by Cooper and Eugene Williams set up the fast break frequently, but most of the resultant shots just weren't falling for anyone but Sublet.

Twelve straight points by Sublet in the second quarter foiled a maneuver by FPC to get the Hawks out of their effective zone defense. The visitors tried a four-corner stall.

To counter, Howard went into a 1-3-1 trap. The locals doubled the ball, chased it around and proceeded to pull out ahead again, outscoring the Plainsmen 28-16 in the second frame. When FPC abandoned the ineffective stall, HC went back to their highly-effective 2-3 zone.

Williams, Cooper, Allen Bonds and Robby Randolph, all starters, picked up the pace in the second half when Sublet was blanketed. Coop's presence was pervasive. He was everywhere, and while FPC was over-playing Sublet, he popped in 10 quick points.

Tennessee freshman Robby Randolph also had an opportunity to make the crowd gasp with his patented 30-foot jumpers. The all-starter from the Volunteer state, finished the night with 13 points.

Johnny James, Elmer Johnson, R. Q. Tolliver, Elroy Green and Ralph Miranda all saw action as well for the locals. James rested the big men and kept the rebounding chores up to par, while Johnson and Green gave the FPC guards fits.

Howard College travels to Clarendon tonight for a make-up game and end regular season Thursday night in Snyder against Western Texas. Wins in those two games would automatically put the locals into the playoff picture.

Forsan fems blush Lee

By MARJ CARPENTER

The Forsan Queens showed the Midland Lee Rebels what B Girl's basketball was all about here Monday night in a practice game in Steer gymnasium with Forsan winning 50-37.

The Rebels and their fans were noticeably upset over being defeated by such a small school, even though Forsan has a long history of girl's basketball while the AAAA program is only entering its second year.

Valerie Stevens poured in 18 points for the Queens with Julie Poyner and Jaylene Sanders scoring 12 each in the contest. Monica Dyess and Lisa Day also got on the scoreboard, but the real victory was at the defensive end of the court.

Valerie and Christie Adams, Lucy Thixton, Marka Highley and Kathy Harrell battled unmercifully snatching rebounds and blocking shots.

The two teams were neck and neck in the opening quarter, with Midland Lee leading at the end of it 10-8. By the half, the Queens had settled down and pulled up to a 26-22 point lead which they never lost again.

At the end of the third period it was 36-28 and the game ended with a 50-37 score. The battle for the ball in mid court got fierce during the contest and lots of traveling was called on both squads as they snatched and grabbed at the round ball.

The Queens from Forsan now play a practice game against the A team champion Hawley squad in Roscoe Thursday night. They are still awaiting the zone championship game between Sands and Klondike to know who they meet next.

Earlier in the season, Forsan lost a game to Klondike by two points during tournament action.

FORSAN SCORERS

Table listing Forsan scorers: Valerie Stevens (18), Julie Poyner (12), Monica Dyess (12), Lisa Day (12).

BYE BYE BASKETBALL — It looks as though both teams are waving farewell to the ball here after Jaylene Saunders got off a successful shot for Forsan early in the contest when Midland Lee was winning. The smaller Forsan won the game 50-37.

Hawk Queens fly past FPC women

By MARJ CARPENTER

The Hawk Queens are still leading their league after a decisive victory over Frank Phillips Monday night, but they may have lost the services of one of their spunkiest players for the balance of the season.

The Queens stormed by the Frank Phillips squad and led 44-15 at the half. They kept a solid 40-point lead all the way to the end when they were 83-42 and all of the Queens had seen action.

But a fluke injury late in the game may have cost them the services of Letha Strickland, a high scoring Queen from Forsan. She kneeed suddenly under her own goal and turned to go forward, and fell.

Coach Don Stevens said she may have torn the cartilage in her right knee although it had "popped back" and they were "waiting to see." She had knee surgery on her left knee last season.

The team left early this morning to go to Clarendon to play a makeup game at 2:30 p.m., still leading the league 8-2 and with a seasonal record of 23-5.

'We'll take it!'

The Marquette Warriors are back in college basketball's No. 1 position and Coach Hank Raymonds isn't about to turn it down. "Coaches are hypocrites when they say they don't want the No. 1 rating," Raymonds said following the Warriors' 75-53 rout of Xavier of Ohio Monday night. "That's why you play the game. If you can't be No. 1, then you want to be No. 2."

INJURED QUEEN — Letha Strickland is helped off the court by Kelly Cartwright at the left and Bev Strickland, sister of the injured player in a Hawk Queens game here Monday night. Letha may be out for the season.

COOP MOVE! — Howard College Hawk center Joe Cooper (43) makes his move around a Frank Phillips defender Monday night during the locals' 90-72 win. Russell Sublet (32 points) can be seen in the right background.

Foyt recovering nicely

ONTARIO, Calif. — A.J. Foyt is bruised and sore following his accident in the Daytona 500 Sunday, but will be ready to go in the Twin 200s at Ontario Motor Speedway March 5, a U.S. Auto Club spokesman reported.

Billy Saxon told officials of the Ontario Motor Speedway that Foyt, 43, who suffered a bruised shoulder and other cuts Sunday in Daytona Beach, Fla., plans to race in both the stock car and championship car portions of the Twin 200s here March 5.

"Tony (A.J. Foyt Sr.) called this morning to advise us they were entering their stock car," Saxon said. "The crew drove all night from Daytona and arrived back in Houston this morning with both cars and A.J. flew in later."

Williams wants Spinks

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frankie Williams, an undefeated light heavyweight whose amateur victims included Leon Spinks — the newly-crowned heavyweight champion — wants to pick a fight with the Spinks brothers. And he isn't particular. "We'll fight Michael or Leon — and give him all that weight he's got. We want one of them," said 64-year-old trainer Jimmy Brown, who worked with Ezzard Charles for 23 years.

Williams, 24, may be Cincinnati's best home-grown boxer since Charles reigned the heavyweight division 30 years, dethroning Jersey Joe Walcott and Joe Louis. And Brown sees a lot of striking resemblances between Charles and Williams, whose father was a sparring partner of the former champion.

"I look at him some days and almost cry. He reminds me that much of Ezz," said Brown, who has produced about 20 national amateur champions. "People say I picked up Ezzard's style because dad fought him so often," said Williams, who won the 178-pound national Golden Gloves title in 1975. Spinks was the AAU champ that year.

Williams is 5-0-1 since turning pro last March.

Dallas open to NBA team

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Mayor Robert Folsom said Monday that the city would be open to a National Basketball Association team that might wish to move here before an 18,000-seat downtown arena is completed in early 1980.

Folsom said, "If a team wanted to move here before the building was completed we would be receptive." Moody Coliseum on the Southern Methodist campus and the Dallas Convention Center would be two possible sites.

Warriors take top spot

The major college basketball teams are engaging in their own version of king of the hill these days. In the latest Associated Press voting, reflecting games through Sunday, there is a different No. 1 team for the third week in a row.

Two weeks ago Kentucky stood at the top of the heap, a position they held consistently for the first half of the year, before relinquishing it to Arkansas last week after a loss to Louisiana State. But Arkansas lost to Houston Saturday, which paved the way for Marquette to take over as No. 1.

Horton ponders filing suit

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-Tigers star Willie Horton of the Texas Rangers thinks Detroit center fielder Ron LeFlore tarnished his image in LeFlore's new book "Breakout" and Horton is considering filing a lawsuit, says a local TV sportscaster.

"He told me by phone he has contacted his lawyer, Charlie Dye of Los Angeles about it," Al Ackerman of WXYZ-TV said Monday.

"Willie said on page 132 of LeFlore's book, LeFlore said Horton did nothing to encourage him when he came to the Tigers because LeFlore was taking the publicity away from Horton as the team's top black star."

Blalock captures Orange

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Jane Blalock battled heavy rain and cold temperatures to fire a 2-under-par 70 and capture the Orange Blossom Classic of the Ladies Professional Golf Association.

The 32-year-old Blalock outlasted veteran Gloria Ehret to win by two strokes. Ehret, a former LPGA champion, turned in her best finish since 1975.

Ponies, Buffs meet tonight

LAMESA — The Sands Mustangs, winners of district 9-B, will play the Foran Buffaloes, 10-B champs, tonight at 8 o'clock in Lamesa's Middle Gym to determine the bi-district champion.

Sands went through regular season with a 30-1 record. The Fillies from Ackerly, 29-3 on the year, will face the Klondike girls, 24-6, Thursday in the same gym to determine who gets to meet the Forsan Queens in the girls' bi-district game.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGNER INSTITUTE
FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1978

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's Full Moon brings considerable activity. Get rid of what has been pending and difficult to complete in the past. Also, think out new ways to succeed in new areas.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get busy at confidential matters and get rid of anxieties that have been plaguing you for some time. Adopt a new attitude toward your work and get better results.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Deepen friendships with new contacts you have made and something good will come of this. Be very correct in social activities and get the most from them. Get business matters working properly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle civic matters well and get ahead faster thereby. Your head is full of good ideas for improving career and fixing credit so it operates better for you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Fine new ideas occur about how you can get ahead in your particular avenue of expression. Get out and make new contacts of work. Take time for reading and be better informed.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Handle all monetary affairs with others conscientiously and get your affairs in better order. Get the advice of an expert if you are uncertain about anything.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know what it is you want most personally and make right plans to gain it. Plan some time to be with friends, but don't get into any arguments.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get at personal affairs that are important to your future welfare. Complications may arise but you soon clear them up. Watch reputation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get together with friends and interesting acquaintances. Gather information that has been difficult to obtain before this. Be active and increase happiness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Try to improve relationships in the business and social world but don't make any changes until evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) First make sure that the new set of conditions you want to set up are right for you and then full speed ahead. Make your surroundings more charming and functional.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study every angle of any agreement made and be sure to handle wisely. Wait for another day to make important decisions. Don't do anything ridiculous where romantic ties is concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) There is a new development concerning one you do not care for at all, but do nothing hasty. Evening will see the matter solved satisfactorily. An angry partner has to be treated with kid gloves.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be able to whittle ideas down to a practical level and make a success of them. Give an intelligent education where attention to detail is taught as well as best systems of operation. Permit to express self early and to work with the hands.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Sealed Proposals addressed to Mr. Ralph Williams, President, Board of Trustees, Klondike Consolidated Independent School District, Dawson County, Texas, shall be received in the library, located in the High School Building, Klondike Consolidated Independent School District, Dawson County, Texas until 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 13, 1978, at which time they will be publicly opened and read aloud. For the furnishing of all labor, materials and performing all work required for the replacement of the gymnasium floor for the gymnasium located at the Klondike High School and for the furnishing of all labor, materials and performing of all work required for the replacement of roofs on existing school buildings for the Klondike Consolidated Independent School District Dawson County, Texas in accordance with Plans, Specifications and Contract Documents as prepared by Huckabee and Donnan, Architects and Planners, Andrews, Texas.
 Lump sum Proposals will be received for each of the General Construction.
 A Cashier's Check, Certified Check or acceptable Bidder's Bond payable to the Klondike Consolidated Independent School District in the amount of not less than 5 per cent of the largest possible total for the bid submitted must accompany each bid.
 Attention is called to the fact that the contractor must comply with all Federal, State and Local Labor Laws. The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the Klondike Consolidated Independent School District, Dawson County, Texas, and furnish performance and payment bond in the amount of not less than 100 per cent of the contract price, conditioned upon the performance of the contract.
 Attention is called to the fact that the Owner is exempt from the payment of the State Sales Tax normally levied against material costs. In order to take advantage of this exemption, materials and labor costs must be identified by the successful bidder. In developing this division of labor and material costs, the bidders are cautioned to include all costs and allowances, not representing direct material costs with labor. The contract sum, as identified by the Base Bid shall not include any allowance for the payment of State Sales Tax on materials required to complete the work. The successful bidder, upon award of the contract, will be furnished with a permit number which will enable him to purchase the required materials without payment of such taxes.
 Specifications and Plans may be obtained from the Architect in accordance with the stipulations set forth under Deposits and Refunds. The bidder acknowledges the right of the Owner to reject any or all bids and to waive any informality or irregularity in any bid received. In addition, the bidder recognizes the right of the owner to reject a bid if the bidder failed to furnish any required bid security, or to submit the data required by the bidding documents, or if the bid is in any way incomplete or irregular.

with Marj Carpenter

This column is really to forewarn you that I am going to write three features Thursday, Friday and Sunday about three of the Texas prisons.

This is after visiting them over the weekend with a vocal group from the First Baptist Church called "His Children."

Their presentation inside the walls and the effect it had at three different units in Gatesville and Huntsville will be the subject of the stories.

This group has been making prison tours now for several years and was the first group ever let inside of Mountain View Prison for women last summer.

For one thing, this group of young people will never be anxious to get into any kind of trouble that might end them up in prison.

For another, they are reaching out trying to help somebody other than their own group.

Certainly Joe Whitten, their director, and the church who sponsors them are to be commended. Also a part of the program from the start have been Johnny and Ceil Biddell. Johnny drives the bus and also runs the sound effects for the Gospel singing group. Ceil helps sponsor the girls and on this trip was helped by Vaughn Henry.

Van Johnson has enjoyed the tours through the years enough that he went back this year and sang with them again. He is now a Tech graduate and psychologist at the Big Spring State Hospital.

David Wright, who is attending Baylor, drove across to Gatesville to join the group at a ranch where they spent the night. He was just getting over the flu that seems to be invading so many colleges, so he didn't sing with them but it was impressive that he wanted to come back and be with them.

The singing group this year includes Larry Wheat, Casey Green, Janet Gary, Mark Warren, Shawna Henry, Lisa Warren, Julie Underwood, Pat Hamilton, Lavelle Bradford, Mark Jones, Melinda Priddy, Kim Preston, Melodie Holmes, Julie Miller, Richard Bumgarner, Joe Hicks and Johnson.

This column is not going to tell about the experience since I plan to go into that in detail in the three articles, but simply to commend this group known as "His Children" for their hard work and effort.

That's a tough trip. And they take it all in stride. This old lady with a bad back kind of felt like she had turned into a school bus seat by Sunday night and I thought I might have to be carried on home sitting at a 90 degree angle.

But it was worth it. Of course everybody had to find out that Whitten is as bad a poet as he is a good player of spades and he goes down the highways and byways making up rather bad poems as he goes.

But this group is certainly to be commended for their efforts and I'll talk more later about the effect.

But I found a couple of fences that I sure don't want to live behind over the weekend when I was out ridin', ridin', ridin'...

TPHA presents awards to media

DALLAS (AP) — Mary Jane Schier of the Houston Post and Sara Lowery of KPRC-TV in Houston have been named as recipients of the Texas Public Health Association's highest awards for media excellence.

The awards are given annually to newspaper, radio and television journalists.

Mrs. Schier's entry in general coverage provided the most outstanding coverage of public health issues in Texas during 1977, the TPHA said. TPHA spokesman said the articles selected from an entire year's production "are consistently superior in the quality of writing and content."

Ms. Lowery was cited for "Born in Houston," a story on the birth process. Peck said the program was "sensitive, compassionate, informative and especially cinematic."

Seven other newspaper journalists and four broadcast journalists received media awards. They included:

—Gregory Graze of the Dallas Times Herald for general coverage.

—Terri Anderson of the Plano Star-Courier for her article, "Natural Death Act." Peter Applebome, Corpus Christi Caller, an honorable mention for his article, "Cancer."

—Roy Appleton and Hilary Hylton of the Corpus Christi Caller for their series "The Outsiders." Peter Silva was cited for his photos accompanying the series. Peter Applebome and Edith Back, Corpus Christi Caller, received an honorable mention for their series "The Quiet Killers."

—Vicky L. Langham and her staff of the Rockford

Pilot received the non-daily newspaper award. An honorable mention went to Donna Wallingsford of the Wharton Journal-Spectator.
 —Jeanie Stokes, WFAA radio in Dallas for "Operation Cry Wolf."

You're in clover when you're in Health-tex®

Everything's easy and sunny and fun with Health-tex clothes. The way they play—sturdy and kid-proof. The way they look—colorful and neat. The way they feel—downright comfortable. The way they're priced—exceptionally modestly, especially considering the long wear you get, usually by every child in the family. The way they wash and dry—by machine, with few needing the iron. That goes for the single knits, doubleknits and wovens, the dresses, slacks, overalls, jeans, jackets, creepers and everything. For boys, Size 3 months to Size 8, and for girls, Size 3 months to Size 6x. Some styles for older girls available.
