

'Silly symbolism'

Carter will lead war on inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's new anti-inflation campaign, pegged to another call for voluntary wage-price restraint, aroused little enthusiasm today — and some jeers from the very people he asked to set an example.

"Silly symbolism," snapped Jerry Wurf, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

With inflation already threatening to heat up again, Carter said the administration would take the lead in voluntary restraint by seeking to hold the next round of wage increases for federal workers to 5.5 per cent in October.

Carter also said he would freeze executive salaries in the government, veto inflationary legislation, reduce government regulations that add to industrial costs, act to hold down the price of lumber in housing construction, push legislation to contain hospital care costs, and take administrative action if necessary to curb spiraling oil imports.

Carter named Robert S. Strauss, his special trade representative, as a special counselor on inflation.

But in a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors and at a followup news conference, the president warned that it was a myth that the government alone — by this and other measures — could halt inflation.

"Let me be blunt about this point," he said. "I am asking American workers to follow the example of federal workers and accept a lower rate of wage increase."

"In return, they have a right to expect a comparable restraint in price increases for the goods and services they buy."

His goal, announced previously in his economic message in January, is for industry and labor to hold price, wage and salary increases "significantly below" the average rate of 1976-77.

Carter's prescription for combating inflation — running at an annual rate of 8.4 percent so far this year — promptly drew fire from union leaders of the federal workers he suggested should lead the battle.

FRIGHTENED AND HOT — Leonard Arnold would alternate between crying for help and sitting in silence as he pondered his plight after one fixture slipped and fell against him with only his head and one arm out at the top.

PINNED DOWN — The trapped man was apparently scavenging in the dump near the North Service Road off Highway 350 and IS 20 when he became trapped Tuesday afternoon between two cement fixtures.

Offbeat: Vows on the bow

NEW YORK (AP) — Although Janine Harness wanted a wedding on the high seas, she has settled for an unofficial ceremony on the Hudson River.

The groom, Ernst Grubenman, paid $12 Sunday for the wedding aboard a Circle Line tourist boat on the Hudson.

While the ship circled Manhattan, Captain Ed Weber performed his first marriage ceremony.

The exchange of vows on the ship's bow was broadcast over a public address system to about 250 passengers. Afterwards, the 19-year-old Bogota, N.J., woman and her 22-year-old groom, a Swiss national who works for an airline, broke open a bottle of champagne.

Circle Line provided free hot dogs as the craft bobbed past the Statue of Liberty and up the East River on its three-hour circuit.

Since Weber was not empowered to join the couple in matrimony, they said they had taken official vows the night before in Bogota.

Fair skies and warmer temperatures are due in Big Spring through the weekend. High today and Thursday should be in the mid 80s, low tonight in the upper 40s. Winds will be south-westerly at 15 to 20 mph today, decreasing tonight to 5 to 10 mph.

HELP IS COMING — David Cauble (left) and Dusty Choate (right), try to get the trapped man to cease crying for help, assuring him that they can't move the cement but that a wrecker is on the way.

RELEASED — Arnold is carefully laid out on a flat piece of cement by Patrolmen Dusty Choate and David Cauble, assisted by a man from a local wrecker service. He is now hospitalized at Malone-Hogan for possible chest injuries.

But it takes some doing

Trapped man finally rescued

By MARJ CARPENTER
"Hellppp" rang out from the dump just beyond the Texaco Service Station on the North Service Road at the intersection of Highway 350 and IS 20.

A woman attendant kept hearing somebody cry for help. She looked toward the dump where earlier she had heard a hammer pecking away at something.

She could only see a man's head and his red cap. She called the police. At the same time, a driver with a truck filled with trash pulled up. He went over and found Leonard Arnold, 2505 West Highway 80, trapped between two cement slabs.

Apparently one of the slabs had fallen against him and trapped him with thousands of pounds of weight. The young truck driver tried to pull the cement away but could not budge it.

The trapped man alternated between cursing and pleading "Get this off of me, d— it" and then would add, "Please, get this off of me. G—D— it."

The would-be rescuer could not budge the cement. He backed away, waiting for the police. Patrolman David Cauble arrived next and when he saw he couldn't move the cement he began to order a wrecker and an ambulance on his walkie-talkie radio.

The trapped man became even more frightened and hollered at the policeman, again alternating between cursing and pleading "Hellppp" rang out over and over.

Cauble said, "I'm trying to get you help, man." A wrecker arrived and the victim was quickly removed after the wrecker pulled off the top pillar of cement.

Officers carefully laid him down and waited for the ambulance. Arnold is hospitalized at Malone-Hogan Hospital for possible chest injuries.

Patrolman Dusty Choate, second officer at the scene, said "Apparently he was hammering, trying to get scrap iron loose from the cement. He's lucky it didn't fall and mash him completely."

BFLF is set up for case

The American Agriculture Movement has set up a "Battered Farmers Legal Fund" to help cover the miscellaneous expenses involved in fighting the criminal charges filed against 284 farmers who protested on the Hidalgo International Bridge March 1.

"It is possible that attorney fees will not be charged, but there will be many other expenses to be paid anyway," said Mike McCathern of the Texas State AAM headquarters in Hereford.

Anyone wishing to donate money can make their checks to the "Battered Farmers Legal Fund," and mail it to me at the Texas State AAM headquarters, 1108 W. Hwy 60, Hereford, Texas 79045.

Key decision hits landlords

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — In a precedent-making decision of major importance, the Texas Supreme Court ruled today that landlords owe their tenants liveable houses, duplexes and apartments.

Such an "implied warranty" gives a tenant the right to sue if his or her rented quarters are unsafe, unsanitary or otherwise unfit for living — even if the landlord made no promise of liveability.

In Hidalgo Bridge arrest case

'Racehorse' Haynes to represent farmers

By CARLA WALKER
Richard "Racehorse" Haynes has agreed to serve as defense attorney for the 284 farmers arrested after the March 1 protest on the Hidalgo International Bridge.

"I contacted Mr. Haynes after the incident," said Bill Wischkaemper, Lubbock attorney who has donated his time to serve as legal advisor for the American Agriculture Movement. "At the time, he said he would be glad to take the case, and the fees will be discussed if and when the criminal charges come to trial."

"I personally have my doubts that the charges will be tried. The original charges — a class A misdemeanor — were to be pleaded May 23, but the charges were lessened to a class C misdemeanor, and no date was set for the hearing," Wischkaemper explained.

"The case against the farmers is very shaky, in my opinion, for two reasons," the lawyer continued. "I was on the bridge myself, and saw what happened. First of all, under Texas law, if the demonstration was peaceful, the farmers weren't in violation of the law, even if they did obstruct the bridge, until after a lawful order to clear the bridge was issued. At the time of the order, the farmers backed up to the walkway, and began to leave the bridge.

"It was after the farmers had complied with the orders, and were moving that law enforcement officials began to fire tear gas into the crowd. If the charges were to be proved, the farmers who, according to police 'resisted', would have to be identified from film footage which actually lends more support to farmers than to police. "In regard to the civil suit filed by the Texas Civil Liberties Union in behalf of the farmers, I feel there is an extremely favorable chance of winning it," Wischkaemper stated. "Jerry Goldstein, a San Antonio lawyer is taking the case, representing the TCLU and the farmers. Even if the farmers are judged to be in violation of the law — which is unlikely — there is a question of whether or not the officials used excessive force to move the farmers off the bridge and into the buses to be transported to the McAllen jail."

The suit, which names McAllen Mayor Othal E. Brand, the McAllen city commissioners, Hidalgo County Sheriff Birg Marmolego, McAllen Police Chief C.D. Mussey, and "Officers and policemen of the departments" involved, asked for $70,000 in damages for each farmer arrested. It also seeks to get a law on obstruction of a public passageway declared unconstitutional.

Four local farmers were among the 284 arrested March 1, and they do not yet know if they will be required to testify in the civil action, which according to Wischkaemper, could be tried six months or a year from now.

"We were not wrong," said Marion Snell, Ackerly farmer who was allegedly beaten during the incident. "We did everything they (law officials) told us to, and were following orders when they began to throw the tear gas."

Hidalgo County and McAllen city officials alleged that the farmers refused to obey clear orders, and would not disperse from the bridge. Criminal charges filed against the farmers were for "blocking a public passageway."

Travis Reid, of Coahoma, gave an account of the incident from the farmers' viewpoint.

"The three other Howard County farmers and I arrived on the bridge about 8 a.m., but there was no traffic at that time. The McAllen mayor came to the bridge, and told us that there would be more traffic around 1 p.m., and that we could come back then," Reid stated.

"We went to a hotel where farmers were meeting, and the mayor came there at about 12:30 p.m. and again told us we could go on the bridge, and that he would be out there to help us stop trucks. We went to the bridge, but the mayor wasn't there."

"One truck, carrying melons raised and imported from Mexico by the mayor, stopped in one lane of the four-lane bridge. The driver got out of the truck, taking the keys with him, and left. We didn't see him again. Several trucks stopped momentarily but went on."

"The police began to tell us to get on the sidewalks, but with the wind, and the fact that the man talking was hard to understand, it was a moment before everyone understood," Reid said.

"We backed up to the sidewalks, and they began telling us to disperse and leave the bridge, which we started to do. I had taken only a few steps, when the officials fired a smoke bomb. We began to walk faster, but before I had taken four steps more, they began firing tear gas canisters," Reid alleged.

According to the farmer, the

Desegregation in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 15 years of racial struggle in the streets and government offices may finally be leading to integration in Chicago's classrooms, with presentation today of a $386.6 million desegregation plan.

School Superintendent Joseph Hannon is presenting the board of education with the five-year plan proposing that more than 200,000 students be drawn into attractive new school programs scattered throughout the city.

Career, bilingual, traditional and accelerated programs, as well as open enrollment, would be offered in hopes that students would voluntarily board buses to integrated classrooms.

Russians assail CIA

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Soviet government accuses the CIA of holding Arkady N. Shevchenko under duress and is demanding he be handed over to it. But the Soviet U.N. official's lawyer says he is in voluntary seclusion and will stay there until Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim returns from Europe, probably this weekend.

The State Department had no comment on the Russian charge, made Tuesday in a statement by the Soviet U.N. mission. But a U.S. spokesman said earlier that "the United States in no way attempted to influence" Shevchenko's decision not to return to Russia.

Shevchenko, the top Soviet employee of the United Nations, left his $76,000-a-year post a week ago because of "differences with his government," a U.N. spokesman announced Monday.

'Federal grizzly bear'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate debate is expected soon on a bill that would pay almost $99,000 to the family of a camper killed six years ago by a grizzly bear in Yellowstone National Park.

"It was a federal grizzly bear," says an aide to Sen. James Allen, the Alabama Democrat who shepherded the measure through the Senate Judiciary Committee last month.

"I can't see blaming the bear or blaming the Park Service," says Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., who plans to oppose the bill in debate.

The measure would compensate the estate of Harry E. Walker, an Anniston, Ala., resident when he was killed in June 1972 at a age 25.

"One truck that stopped momentarily on the bridge had come — according to the driver — from some 300 miles deep in Mexico, where the produce — onions — had been grown and packaged," said Reid. "Yet the sacks said 'produced in Hereford, Texas.'"

The farmers pointed out that products grown outside the U.S. are sprayed with potentially dangerous chemicals such as DDT, which are banned in the states. Recent tests of vegetables from Mexico have shown that the produce — after being washed and placed on supermarket shelves — had four parts per 1000 or DDT plus traces of two other harmful chemicals. Five parts per 1000 of DDT is judged to be harmful and dangerous for human consumption.

"The bridge was not blocked, with only one lane of four stopped by the melon truck, and we did not tell the man to leave his truck there. He simply disappeared with the key," alleged Reid.

"Many farmers had basketball size bruises from being struck by the tear gas canisters, which were fired straight into the crowd. Other farmers — men and women — were beaten by police and the incidents are recorded on film. I think we have a very solid civil case, and I think we can win it."

Suspicious justified

Two underage car thieves were arrested a mile east of Big Spring because their duped chauffeur appeared to be living beyond his means.

The stolen car, a 1977 Pontiac Bonneville, was stopped 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, by State Trooper Ben Lockhart.

According to Lockhart, he first pulled the car over "because that guy (the driver) just didn't look like he owned a '77 Bonneville." As it later turned out, the man was merely a hitchhiker picked up by the kids to front for them, posing as a parent on their trip west.

"The guy had 35 cents and a comb in his name. Besides, he didn't know the ages or middle names of those two who were supposed to be his kids," said Lockhart.

The "stepfather" was set free this morning, while the two young car thieves were held for Grapevine authorities.

Overall, pastures as of April 9 were rated in "fair to good" shape, the department said Tuesday in a weekly weather review.

Police beat Suspect nabbed

A 17-year-old male suspect in the burglary of Knights Pharmacy, 900 S. Main, was arrested 1:25 p.m. Tuesday by Detective J. D. Carter.

According to Carter, investigators found two bottles of pills across from the burglarized pharmacy in the lot of the new State National Bank. And they became suspicious when a car drove slowly past the scene, possibly in search of the lost drugs.

Officers tailed the car and found that the passenger had a cut hand, again building suspicion because blood had been found near the pharmacy's broken window. Both driver and passenger were arrested, but the driver was later released, apparently uninvolved in the burglary.

The suspect is being held in Municipal Jail under $10,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Bob West.

In an obliquely related incident, another 17-year-old local man was arrested for suspicion of possessing drugs thought to have come from an earlier theft at Knight's Pharmacy. After obtaining a search warrant, Detective John Burson scoured the suspect's car and home 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, and came up with substances thought to be opium and codeine.

The man is being held in Municipal Jail under $25,000 bond set by West. Charges of felony possession of a controlled substance will be filed sometime today, according to Burson.

David Rawls Jr., 1600 W. 2nd, discovered 17 1/2 sticks of dynamite in a plastic trash bag, hidden beneath some brush in a wooded area in Jones Valley, 6 p.m. Tuesday. The dynamite was in very unstable condition, and has been stored in a Webb AFB munitions bunker, according to Police Capt. Sherrill Farmer.

Police have not yet traced the owner of the explosives.

Two rocks were thrown through a front window to gain entrance to the Howard County Insurance Building, 204 Rannels, Tuesday night. Once inside, the burglars picked up a gumball machine, broke its glass globe on the sidewalk outside, and made off with the button.

The gumball container was valued at $75, and damage to the window and a glass top desk inside was estimated at $425.

A panel board saw was stolen from the yard of Higginbotham Lumber Company, 209 E. Grand, sometime between noon and 3:45 p.m. Tuesday. The saw was valued at $225.

Five cases of beer were ripped off from the Hernandez Grocery Store, 604 N.E. 9th, Monday night. The brew was valued at $30.

Seven mishaps were reported Tuesday.

Tuition credit debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation giving an income tax credit for college tuition payments is headed for the House floor and a possible confrontation with President Carter.

The House Ways and Means Committee approved the bill Tuesday after first deleting tax credits for tuition paid to elementary and secondary schools. As passed, it provides up to $250 a year credit against college and other post-secondary school tuition.

Carter summoned Democratic members of the committee to the White House for a confrontation today over the tax credit, which he opposes.

Spokesman Rex Graman said the president would discuss his displeasure with tuition tax credits. He said the discussion also would include Carter's tax reform proposals, which are now in hearings before the committee.

The tuition bill, which may go to a House vote in about two weeks, faces strong objections from those favoring and those opposed to the aid concept.

Carter and some congressmen object to any tuition credits. Supporters of private schools, mainly parochial schools, want tuition credits restored for lower school levels.

The fight is certain to be renewed on the House floor and in the Senate, where a bill providing bigger credits and including elementary and secondary tuition is pending.

In an appearance before the American Society of Newspaper Editors Tuesday, Carter stopped just short of flatly saying he would veto tuition credit legislation.

"My present intention would be to veto any bill that was costly and which was unconstitutional," he said.

"All of the proposals I have seen in the Congress so far are both costly and unconstitutional, especially as they apply to elementary and secondary schools."

Carter said he doesn't favor tuition tax credits "under any circumstances, even at a very slight level, adding that the credits would increase in time and that they are detrimental to education, channeling aid to families less in need of it.

The bill as approved by the House committee would provide tax credits of 25 percent of the cost of college tuition up to a maximum of $250 a year by 1980. The program would end after that unless extended by Congress.

Man's probation here revoked

Manual Renteria, 21, 1200 Grafa St., was revoked from probation Tuesday in 118th District Court and sentenced to eight years in prison.

The sentence was handed down by District Judge Ralph Caton under the deferred adjudication provision. Renteria was placed on five years probation in 1975 on charges of burglary of a motor vehicle.

The revocation came in connection with recent burglaries of Pinkie's Liquor Store on Highway 87.

Deaths

Curtis Rogers

COLORADO CITY — Curtis E. Rogers, 80, of Colorado City died at 6:27 a.m. Tuesday in New Mexico after a brief illness. Services will be at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at 22nd and Austin Street Church of Christ.

Gary Dennis, minister, will officiate. Burial will be at 3 p.m. in Rest Haven Memorial Cemetery in Midland.

Born June 15, 1897, in Bosque County, he moved to Mitchell County in 1905. He lived in Midland from 1963 until returning to Colorado City in 1972. He was a retired farmer. He was a member of the Church of Christ. He married Millie Bodine Aug. 3, 1916, in Mitchell County. She died Feb. 16, 1927.

He married Lois Hoover Jan. 30, 1928, in Colorado City.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Opal Turnbow of Portales, N.M., and Verta Hardegree of Colorado City; two sons, Paul of Denver, Colo., and Noble of Big Spring; two sisters, Lora Philbrick of Odessa and Rubsy McClain of Marysville, Calif.; Worth and Olin of Portland, Ore.;

15 grandchildren; and 20 great-grandchildren.

A son, Bill, died Dec. 9, 1972.

Grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Mrs. Anderson

Mrs. Stella Anderson, 89, died at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in a local hospital.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Dr. Jimmy Law, pastor of College Baptist Church, and Rev. Elra Phillips, Methodist minister, officiating.

Burial will be in Mount Olive Memorial Park.

Mrs. Anderson was born April 7, 1889, in Howard County, and was a lifetime resident of the county. She married Thomas Frank Anderson in Big Spring, and he preceded her in death Feb. 2, 1950.

Mrs. Anderson was a Baptist.

She is survived by four sons, Clovis, Bob, and Floyd Anderson, all of Big Spring, and Ben Anderson, San Angelo; a sister, Mrs. Henry Biggs, Sand Springs; seven grandchildren; one great-granddaughter; and one niece.

Woman witnessed bloodied Lozano

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — A woman held in the Ector County jail the night inmate Larry Lozano died has told an inquest jury that she saw a uniformed sheriff's deputy hold the bloodied inmate's head to the floor while two others pressed their knees into his back.

Mary Chandler Thomas testified Tuesday that she saw "five or six" uniformed officers, including a game warden, go into Lozano's cell the night of Jan. 22.

One officer carried a fire extinguisher and another carried a doubled-up belt, she said. They went in the cell to quiet Lozano's yelling, she testified, and said she heard a scuffle ensue.

She said she heard one of the uniformed men say, "We'll teach that Mexican son-of-a-bitch to hell."

A six-person jury, including one Mexican American, is hearing testimony on the death of the 29-year-old inmate. It will determine if Lozano died as a result of self-inflicted wounds or homicide.

Justice of the Peace Virgil Lumpsee today ordered Texas Rangers to clear the courtroom of spectators at the request of the district attorney. Reporters were allowed to stay.

The request came after spectators made loud sounds of disbelief when a jailer testified that he got help from other authorities because he feared Lozano would kick down the door of his padded cell.

Another jail inmate at the time Lozano died testified today she heard scuffling noises from his cell, and later saw deputies jumping on Lozano and kicking his face while he lay in a hallway.

Witness Vicki Day also said that she never saw Sheriff Elton Fought in the jail during the alleged beating.

Another prisoner, Eddie Montgomery Jr., backed up Miss Day's testimony on the beating, and added that Lozano challenged deputies to subdue him.

Fought has maintained Lozano was mentally ill and killed himself by beating his head against the thick door glass in the padded cell. West Texas Mexican-American Leaders claim Lozano was beaten to death by officers.

Ms. Thomas said that after the scuffle in Lozano's cell, she looked out the window of her cell, which was a few feet away, and saw a handcuffed Lozano lying on the hall floor with a cloth over his head.

"I'm not sure there was a blanket, but there was something around his head," added Ms. Thomas who was being held on forgery charges.

After a short time, she said she saw the deputies standing around Lozano, one pressing the inmate's bloodied face to the floor and two others pressing their knees into his back.

She said she never saw any officers actually beat Lozano.

Earlier, medical examiner Dr. Frederick Bornstein of El Paso, whose autopsy report said Lozano's death was "homicide," said Tuesday that he cannot judge whether the death was "legal or illegal."

"This human being, Larry Lozano, was killed by another human being," testified Bornstein, hired by the Lozano family to conduct a second autopsy.

In his autopsy report, Bornstein had declared that Lozano had been beaten to death. He said his autopsy report showed 92 visible injuries.

But Tuesday, he said further study indicated that Lozano suffocated because of excess pressure to his neck.

In other developments, District Attorney John Green said Tuesday he plans to subpoena Texas Attorney General John Hill to testify at the hearing. Green claimed Tuesday that Hill is concealing material evidence.

Richard Orr, a free-lance reporter for the San Angelo Standard-Times, testified he sent Hill's office tapes he had made related to the case.

Hill denied the accusation in a statement released from his Austin office.

Deletions from ballot would be complicated

Despite the late filings of campaign expenditure and contribution statements by four candidates in the May Democratic primary, removal of their names from the ballots may require more than simply filing a lawsuit in 118th District Court.

Section 14.08 of the Texas Code reads "only by proceedings of quo warranto" may the name of any candidate be removed from the ballot. The law also provides that "quo warranto proceedings...may be instituted by the complaint of any citizen..."

But Texas Jurisprudence states that "quo warranto is instituted on behalf of the state" and therefore can only be brought by a private citizen through the attorney general, district attorney, or county attorney.

While candidates Bill Bennett, Billie Carr, Lulu Adams, and Robert McIntosh did miss the Thursday filing date for their campaign expenditures and contributions, their delay is not proof that they attempted to influence or deceive the public.

Billie Carr, candidate for county judge, filed her statement Tuesday, listing $340 in expenditures and no contributions. Bennett and Adams have filed their statements earlier this week, leaving McIntosh the only candidate who has not complied with the requirements.

Angel Oyler

Angel Oyler, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen F. Oyler, of Big Spring, died Sunday night in a local hospital.

Graveside services were Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Colorado City Cemetery.

Survivors include the parents; a brother, Danny of the home; a sister, Bethany, of the home; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fiveash, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Oyler of Colorado City; and the paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Oyler, Colorado City.

Good news in Minnesota Freeze alerts issued

By the Associated Press
Tulips and the baseball season may be in full bloom as a sign of Spring, but the last vestiges of winter just won't go away.
Snow, up to 3 inches of it, was forecast today for northern Minnesota with high wind warnings posted over the Dakotas and a freeze warning in effect in Idaho.

The chilly weather was seen as a good sign to residents of Minnesota's Red River Valley. The freeze was expected to slow the melting of ice and thus was expected to slow the rapidly rising river before it could spill over any of the dikes that were put up to hold it back.
Skies were clearing along the East Coast following rain showers that fell from the lower Great Lakes and the coastal states across New England through the Carolinas.

As with the Red River, what may have seemed on the surface to be nasty weather actually may have helped improve things in the South. Foresters and firefighters who have battled wildfires in the Southeast's parched woodlands for weeks say new rains in the region may mean the worst is over.
Rainfall of an inch or more fell over much of Alabama and Georgia on Tuesday. Substantial showers also hit Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina.
The region had been without rain for almost a month before Tuesday's showers. The National Weather Service said Georgia, for example, is almost six inches below its

5 advance to region

Big Spring High School has five students who will advance to regional competition in University Interscholastic League after placing high in district competition.

The high school as a whole got fourth with 60 points behind Lee, who was first, Permian second and Abilene High, third. Midland was fifth, San Angelo sixth, Odessa High, seventh and Abilene Cooper last.
Donny Knight and Hardy Wilkerson placed third in debate even though losing only one match on a split decision and will advance to regional competition.
Jan Whittington placed first in prose, Karen Kelley, first in typewriting and Glenn Margolis, last year's state champion, placed first in spelling and plain writing. These students will advance to regional.

Chris Shortes got third in news writing, which is just out of going into regional competition since only the top two advance in journalism events.

Love's trail is very dim

A 1972 Ford pickup recovered by the Ozona Sheriff's Department Monday may have provided the latest clue to the whereabouts of the elusive Hershel Floyd Love.

According to Sheriff A.N. Standard, "There was nothing at the scene to either confirm or deny suspicions that Love may have taken the truck. It is just a presumption, but knowing that he arrived in Big Spring in a stolen vehicle, it seems likely that on his way out he might take another."

Love, a convicted burglar, and another convicted felon, escaped from the Llano County jail March 21. In the early morning hours of March 22, the pair were spotted in Big Spring.

Ishmael Flores Umana, wanted for murder, was arrested the evening of the 22nd, but Love, a four-time escapee, was never located. Law enforcement officers pointed to the theft of a pickup from the Shamrock station on south 87 March 23rd as a possible indication that Love had left town.
The truck was discovered abandoned near Ozona Monday. It would not start and was towed into town.

Hearing Tests Set For Big Spring

Big Spring — Electronic hearing tests will be given at the Belton Hearing Aid Service office on this Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Factory-trained Hearing Aid Specialists will be at our office at (606 Johnson) to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which may be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest methods of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing tests will be given Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at (606 Johnson) in Big Spring. If you can't get there on Friday or Saturday, call (263-6181) and arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

Kidnappers dosing Moro with drugs?

ROME (AP) — A leading Italian neurologist says former Premier Aldo Moro's Red kidnapers are probably dosing him with the kind of psychic drugs reportedly used by the Russians on captive dissidents.

Prof. Alessandro Agnoli said in an interview he based his conclusion on changes in the handwriting of the 61-year-old president of the ruling Christian Democratic Party.

Agnoli said he compared Moro's handwriting in letters he wrote before the Red Brigades abducted him March 16 and the two letters and an eight-page statement by him released by his terrorist captors.
"There is an odorless and tasteless drug, Laloperidole, which is reportedly used on Soviet dissidents."

Credit-crazy consumers having one last fling?

DALLAS (AP) — Credit-crazy consumers are either ignoring bad economic forecasts or they're having one last fling. And it might pose a significant inflationary problem, says the head of one of the nation's leading credit reporting firms.

J.E.R. Chilton III, chairman of Chilton Corp., which provides services nationwide, said his company has experienced a record surge in demand in March for credit reports from banks, retail stores and other credit grantors.
"Following a record high volume for March, we also are experiencing new record days in early April," Chilton said Tuesday. "It has taken us by surprise since this record high volume indicates that, contrary to predictions, consumer credit spending will be up significantly.

"This could well have an inflationary effect on the economy," he added.

In March, Chilton processed more than 1.5 million credit reports, up 12 percent from March 1977 and only slightly below the record level reached last November, traditionally the biggest month for credit reporting.

"People are clearly seeking credit with a vengeance," said Chilton. Chilton confessed, however, that it's hard to tell how all this forecasts for retail sales, consumer credit or even the inflation rate.
"Our volume normally begins an upswing in March," he said. "But the full strength of this current trend is totally new to us and it appears to contradict reports that consumers are growing more reluctant to spend based on concerns for the economy."

"We can trace some of the credit surge to faster purchases and spring vacations. Yet the fact remains our volume hit still higher record levels on five separate days following Easter," he added.
As to when Chilton's credit reports are going, he said, "New car sales are booming and bank credit card issuers are making an intensive push for new business."

Based on the present rate of growth, outstanding consumer credit should easily pass $235 billion by the end of 1978, after only reaching $200 billion in late 1977.

There has also been a record level of accounts placed for collection by the company's subsidiaries in this field.
"This is an extremely unusual occurrence in our experience," said Chilton.

Shower slated Thurs., April 27

The community shower for the John Best family will be held in the Coahoma Elementary School Cafeteria at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, April 27, Coahoma Mayor Joe Swinney announced this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Best recently became the parents of triplet boys, born a week ago today in a Lubbock hospital.

The mother has been allowed to return to her Coahoma home and the infants may be transferred to Malone-Hogan Hospital sometime today.

Weather Storms expected along Texas coast

By the Associated Press
Shower and thunderstorms activity was expected to continue today along the Texas coast.

The activity was to follow a night of activity during which significant rainfall was reported along the coast and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Brownsville recorded 1.33 inches between 6 p.m. Tuesday and 4 a.m. today. The National Weather Service said other points in the area got significant rainfall.

Elsewhere around the state, some shower activity was expected in East Texas. Skies in the western half of the state were expected to be mostly fair. High temperatures were expected to range from the 60s along the coast to the 70s and 80s over most of the rest of the state.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s, but Marfa in Southwest Texas recorded a bone-chilling 26-degree reading during the predawn hours.

Some early morning readings included 46 at Amarillo, 47 at Wichita Falls, 50 at Texarkana, 51 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 56 at Austin, 48 at Lufkin, 55 at Houston, 52 at Corpus Christi, 55 at Brownsville and Del Rio, 50 at San Angelo, 51 at El Paso and 44 at Lubbock. Rain was reported at Beaumont-Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, San Antonio and Victoria. Alice reported both rain and fog.

America still has a lot of muscle

Perhaps American industry doesn't know the dollar is all but dead overseas.

The U.S. economy remains a tremendous phenomenon. Our gross national product is roaring along at a $2 trillion annual rate.

Japan's GNP is a distant second to that of America's, roughly one-third. West Germany's goods and services amount to only one-fourth the U.S. aggregate.

It's interesting to know that America's gross national product was even larger than officially figures—possibly as much as $200 billion larger.

THIS IS the recent informed estimate of the turnover of that portion of total national economic activity that is underground (unreported to tax men and other official watchers and regulators) and therefore not figured when the official final figure becomes known.

If the estimate is anywhere near the mark, this subterranean economy, as it has been named, is as large as the reported economies of Britain and Italy and, from all indications, is thriving.

This subterranean economy, to some extent, represents illicit activity—organized and unorganized crime. To a greater extent, however, the activity itself is legitimate but conducted on an off-the-book basis. That would include waiters and waitresses who are slow to report tips, street vendors and semi-skilled craftsmen who 'moonlight,' and members of prestigious professions who have been known to accept cash and never get around to reporting it on the books.

CASH IS THE key to the subterranean economy. So says Peter M. Gutmann, professor of economics at the City University of New York, whose study of the situation has been analyzed in the Wall Street Journal and Business Week magazine.

There has long been talk of a cashless society but Professor Gutmann says he has found a rising use of cash and estimates that a third of the cash currently in circulation is going into the subterranean economy.

There are some interesting implications, if such indicators reflect the facts. In addition to a gross national product ten per cent larger than the official figures show, there may be significantly less unemployment that is indicated statistically. The overall unemployment then would look considerably less ominous than the current rate of six per cent plus.

If there are great numbers working and not reporting it, that means considerable tax money is being diverted from the public coffers—possibly enough to make up current deficits in the federal budget.

Emotional assault

Around the rim

Eileen McGuire

A spaniel, a woman and a walnut tree—the more they're beaten, the better they be.

Shortly after moving to Big Spring, I read an account in the Herald of a woman who was assaulted by her husband.

The police were summoned by a neighbor to a home where a man was threatening his wife with a shotgun. When the police arrived, they found a woman with a large gash on her head, a recently fired shotgun propped in the corner of a room and a shotgun hole in the bedroom floor.

The woman claimed she received her injury when she blacked out while standing on a chair. Her husband, she insisted, was in the front yard talking with a neighbor when the accident occurred.

IN TEXAS, a woman needs either witnesses or strong physical evidence to press charges against an abusive husband. She had both, but chose to continue living with the situation.

Her case was not unusual. Marital violence sometimes ends in divorce, sometimes in murder, but for most women, it's a way of life that goes on and on.

Domestic troubles constitute the majority of all police calls, but few arrests are ever made. Though it is against the law in every state to physically attack another person, if the assailant is married to the victim, the law is unlikely to be enforced.

A large part of the reason is that the beaten wife usually doesn't want the law enforced. Wife-beating is not only a physical assault, it's an emotional one. In many cases, the woman is made to feel that she deserved the beating. In others, a woman humiliated by her husband dreads the further humiliation of others finding out. Therefore, wife-beating is often unreported and if it is discovered, by a neighbor for example, it is denied by the victim.

Wife-beating, one of the most covered-up crimes, is also one of the most common-place crimes. Wife and child abuse taken to the extreme account for one-third of all murders in the United States.

Child abuse is easier for society to combat because the child has no choice over intervention. Also, doctors are required by law to report injuries treated in a child suspected of abuse. If he attempts to intervene in a case of wife abuse, the only result will probably be an irate husband and one less patient.

Wife abuse has been incorrectly labeled a lower-class phenomenon because middle-class couples take greater care to conceal it. It's, in fact, a crime that cuts across all class lines and most men who participate in it get away with it, because no one has the authority to stop them.

The police are reluctant to get in-involved in family disputes of any kind—that is, unless someone slips and accidentally beat another family member to death. When they do get involved, it often turns out to be a waste of time and tax dollars, because victims are reluctant to "tell" on their husbands.

If a woman does "tell" on her husband and has enough evidence to back up her story, she can file a complaint resulting in his arrest. That's not too comforting though since he'll be out on bond in a couple of hours and madder than ever. And unless she has some place to go, she'll be waiting for him, in his castle, to receive her just punishment—another beating.

MANY WIFE-BEATERS truly love their wives, even to the extent of threatening them with death should they leave. When an abused wife leaves her husband, it is not a normal separation that follows.

Her family and friends may not want to take her in, forcing themselves into such an explosive situation. And even if they do open their homes to her, she may prefer not to involve innocent loved ones in the displays of violence that are sure to come.

There do exist around the country, a very few shelters for abused wives but unless she is lucky enough to live near one, or has at her disposal the means to travel to one, she will either prepare herself for a painful divorce or face a painful marriage.

If she does leave her husband, she'll still be exposed to him if there are children involved.

As long as he doesn't harm the children, most courts will enforce the husband's right to visit the children even if the visit is made for the sole purpose of harassing the children's mother. And until the divorce is final, any abuse he inflicts on her is still considered a family dispute.

WIFE-BEATING, which is not illegal unless severe, magically becomes assault after the divorce judgment is decreed. By the time the "waiting period" has passed, however, the now ex-husband has had time to adjust to the divorce and has better things to do than beat up his ex-wife. The danger has passed and he has gotten off scot-free.

All involved are victims. The man who beats his wife usually is the product of violent parents. The woman who stays with a wife-beater runs the risk of her sons growing up to inflict the same violence on their wives and her daughters growing up to accept, even expect, violence from their husbands.

She also runs the risk that someday, when beating her isn't enough, her husband will turn on her children.

If she wants to end the cycle, it won't be easy, but in the long run, it'll be easier than living with the consequences of not ending it.

No inflation czar

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — President Carter personally threw cold water on naming an anti-inflation "czar" to ride herd on his cabinet with the power and responsibility to carry out long-awaited proposals to dampen rampant inflation.

The idea surfaced out of White House staff discussions on how the Carter administration could dramatize its fight against inflation—which has become the President's No. 1 political problem. As presented to Mr. Carter, the staff proposal suggested that the anti-inflation war needed "a forceful person, with high standing in the country and good relations with both labor and business."

But objections were sounded by two high administration officials: Charles Schultze, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, and Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal. They argued that a "czar" to tell them how to run their own anti-inflation policy would create bureaucratic confusion (besides threatening their power).

THEY MAY have a point. "Czars" don't always work out all that well. But in persuading Mr. Carter to veto the proposal, Schultze and Blumenthal may have cost the President an invaluable political asset: the chance to convince angry consumers harassed by rising prices that he means business. For example, an outside "czar" would have far more freedom to attack the government's high-rise pay and retirement policies than cabinet members.

That advantage of the "czar" proposal was appreciated in the Commerce Department which in the end was the only major agency not to oppose the idea. But against the Schultze-Blumenthal combination, Commerce Secretary Juanita Kreps did not stand a chance.

A footnote: the suggestion for a czar specifically mentioned Harvard Business School Prof. John T. Dunlop, an esteemed labor-management expert and former Secretary of Labor, as the "prototype." But Dunlop himself would not have been chosen, he is regarded by the Carter men as too abrasive and impolitic.

GOP TREADS SOFTLY

THE SENATE Republican Policy Committee's hard-hitting critique of President Carter's foreign and military policy, now receiving finishing touches, will tread softly on the country's most politically sensitive issue: Arab-Israeli peace.

With President Carter a target of criticism from many Jewish Americans, it would be only natural if the Republicans sought political capital out of the President's discomfiture. One easy way: woo Jewish votes by accusing Mr. Carter of tilting toward the Arabs at the expense of Israel.

But barring last-minute changes, that course will not be taken by the policy committee (headed by Sen. John Tower, who is seeking reelection in Texas).

The reason: among many non-Jewish American voters, feeling is running high against Prime Minister Begin for insisting on Israel's right to retain Jewish settlements and refusing to withdraw from the West Bank; meanwhile, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat remains high in American popular acclaim. The Republicans sense the extreme delicacy of this unfolding political equation and fear in all-out endorsement of Israel's position could boomerang.

REAGAN RUNNING? FRIENDS OF RONALD Reagan report he is more enthusiastic than ever about a last-hurrah run for President of 1980—so far confounding the widely-held theory that he would back away as the presidential year approached.

Reagan, 67, has informed close associates that if he runs, he will announce it soon after the 1978 mid-term election.

"I know what you're probably thinking, officer, but I only took her to dinner! And, really, does she look like a girl who would...?"

Early activity? Post coronary trend

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Just what is the thinking today about post-heart-attack? Is it true that getting back into a routine one had prior to the attack can help the patient recover more quickly? — Mrs. O.R.

I would not say that getting back into the old "routine" would help matters, because often the old routine helped bring on the heart attack.

I think you are referring to studies that have shown benefits of getting a heart attack patient "mobilized" as quickly as possible.

This is all very much an individual judgment call, but physicians are beginning to reevaluate post-heart-attack care and are tending to encourage activity as soon as possible after hospitalization.

In one study (in England) 142 male heart-attack victims were observed after a mean bedrest period of 5.4 days (79 per cent were discharged from the hospital within 16 days).

Most (86 per cent) returned to work within 24 weeks, most to their former employment. One plus noted as a reduction in so-called "cardiac neurosis," in which post-heart-attack victims become overly concerned about their heart status, to their own detriment. The study included a positive follow-up program of advice about dieting, smoking and other risk factors.

This seems to support the idea that the best post-heart-attack care may be right in the patient's home and that reasonably prompt return to activity can bring more rapid and more effective recovery.

But, as I said before, it is still a judgment call the individual doctor must make based on the patient's history, etc.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would the symptoms of angina be a dull aching pain in the chest or a sharper one? I am concerned about certain symptoms I've had recently, and have been told it may be angina. — L.W.

It's a moot question at this point since any unusual pain in the chest area should be considered a sign something is amiss, whether angina or other heart-related ailments. In fact, the pain of angina is more likely to be a dull, aching type rather than sharp, and it need not be limited to the chest. It can move to the neck, upper back or arms, most commonly the left. The point for you to bear in mind is the angina can be distinguished from other causes by simple tests in your doctor's office.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How effective is estrogen in preventing osteoporosis, which as I understand it is a thinning of bone substance? — Mrs. A.K.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor: Joey Lucas wrote a letter to the editor which appeared in Friday's Herald, complaining about the lack of involvement by the Big Spring Jaycees in the Special Olympics (a program of training and athletic competition for mentally retarded children.)

Lucas stated that the Jaycees' help to Special Olympics has been minimal. Perhaps that is true. We have only done what we were asked to do...help with manpower on the meet. If that help was not appreciated, then so be it.

Last year, we were approached to purchase the T-shirts for the children, which we agreed to do. We were never re-contacted. We have again voted the money for the T-shirts and instead of waiting for Mr. Lucas to call, we have mailed him a check for the approximate amount, something he failed to mention in his letter. I might also mention that the sum sent was equal to about 8 per cent of his goal.

When Lucas first contacted us this year it was to demand that we fund his entire project ($1,600), since we had "raised all this money using the name of Special Olympics." He was extremely irate and spoke to three different members of the Jaycees, apparently without listening to any of them.

In our recent Trash Bag Sales project, designed to help fund the $200,000 Kiddieland we are building at Comanche Trail Park, part of the sales pitch by the telephone solicitors included projects the Big Spring Jaycees have been involved in over the years. One of several mentioned was Special Olympics.

Actually, the inclusion of Special Olympics was done by only one

It is quite effective under certain circumstances, chiefly in a younger woman who has undergone surgical menopause (surgery to remove ovaries). It is also somewhat effective in older post-menopausal women.

salesman out of the staff of three who was doing the pitch by memory and added Special Olympics. When this was discovered, it was removed from the pitch because, while technically it was true, we hadn't been very heavily involved in Special Olympics.

The balance of our Trash Bag proceeds is currently on deposit in a Kiddieland account, dedicated to buying equipment. It is interesting that the only outside project we chose to include with a donation was Special Olympics.

Our first piece of equipment (15,000 for Kiddieland is ordered and should be here the first week in May and we have much work ahead of our chapter. Let us hope that we shall not have to constantly watch our flank. Let me assure Lucas that, if he should contribute 8 per cent of our goal on Kiddieland, we would be most happy to give him positive recognition.

In conclusion, the Big Spring Jaycees would heartily recommend the Special Olympics to those in our community wanting to do something really positive for mentally retarded children.

On the other hand, we would remind those persons in the community who bought trash bags from us that Special Olympics is only one thing that was possibly mentioned when you were called, and then only as an example of what we do.

Further, we would suggest that the "financial difficulties" of the Special Olympics could better be alleviated by working with organizations, rather than "orpedoeing them in the press."

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: A few days ago a casual friend of mine committed suicide. I played in a bowling league with him and knew he had some problems, but now I feel guilty because I didn't do anything to help him. Are my feelings of guilt justified? — S.J.

DEAR S.J.: It is perfectly natural that you have some feelings of guilt if you knew that you could have done more for your friend than you did. Often we are embarrassed when we know that someone has a problem, so we try to avoid it, hoping it will go away. Sometimes, I know, a person may need more help than we are capable of giving. But I believe that many of us could often be helpful to others if we would be more direct in offering our help.

You will, of course, want to confess your neglect to God, and seek His forgiveness. Remember that He has promised to forgive us our sins when we sincerely confess them to Him and repent of them.

Although there is nothing you can do about this person, remember that there are many other people like him in the world. I believe that God will use this experience to help you to become more sensitive to others. The problem, really, is that we do not love others as we should, and we need to pray that God will increase our love and concern. Incidentally, if this man had a family, it might be that God could use you to help them during this difficult time.

The Bible says, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ" (Galatians 6:2). As a Christian, you have a special responsibility and opportunity to show the love of Christ to others.

English pilot lands here to visit friends

By MARJ CARPENTER
 Captain Donald Bullock of London, Eng. flew into the Howard County Airport Tuesday night in an old A-26 bomber and landed to visit with an old friend.

Capt. Bullock is helping gather World War II vintage planes for the newly organized Cavalier Air Force in England, set up in the same style as the Confederate Air Force in America.

He said, "Actually I am making a memorial flight of the Cavalier Air Force operated by Euro-World in London."

Capt. Bullock said that the B-17 they have obtained earlier has been dedicated to the 8th Air Force and that this A-26 will be dedicated to the 9th Air Force.

"Most Americans do not realize that 79,000 American airmen were killed during World War II. We appreciate those chaps," the captain added.

He said the newly-formed Cavalier Air Force also includes some German Messerschmitts and Sea Furies and other planes such as the T-28.

"This particular plane had been sitting for quite a while in Peru. I brought it back to San Angelo where Charlie Day helped him get it back in flying order. Day also works on planes for the Confederate Air Force."

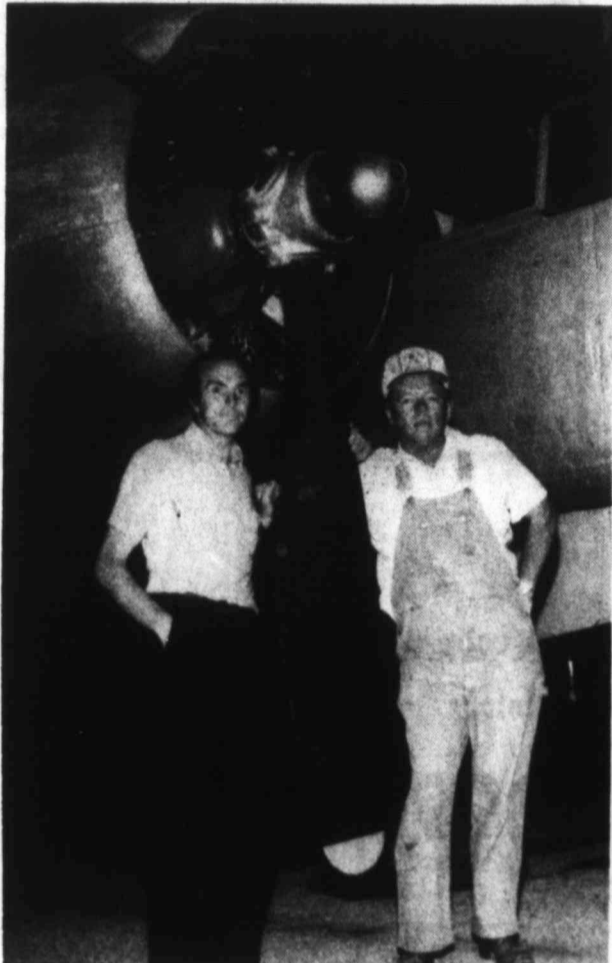

"The Cavaliers were the rebels, so to speak, in the English Civil War in the 1600s," Capt. Bullock added. "We thought it a similar name to your Confederate Air Force."

Bullock and R. E. McClure, head of Trans-Regional Airlines here, flew together on many flights in the Algerian Desert in 1971-72 when working for the Air Services.

McClure recalls that they flew together all over the world to such points as Algeria, Nigeria, Alaska,

Australia, India, Iran, and many other countries. The captain's mechanic and co-pilot, Patrick Tricker, fell off a ladder at Terminal in Midland Tuesday and broke his ankle. The captain was awaiting the arrival of a co-pilot from St. Louis to accompany him back to England. "I think my co-pilot now is going to be a female," Capt. Bullock said. He will fly back by way of Maine, Newfoundland, Greenland and Iceland, and on to London.

VINTAGE PLANE — Capt. Donald Bullock of London flew into Big Spring Tuesday night in an A-26 bomber from World War II which he is flying back to England for the Cavalier Air Force. R. E. McClure (R), head of Trans-Regional Airlines, used to fly with Bullock in Algeria.

Roy Watkins renamed school board prexy

New school board member Bert Harris was sworn in, ex-members Jim Bill Little and Don Reynolds departed, and Board President Roy Watkins was elected to his ninth year as president at Tuesday's board meeting. Little and Reynolds were presented with plaques commemorating their service to the school district. Supt. Lynn Hise told each person that their unselfish work was greatly appreciated.

The other newly elected board member, Charles Beil, was unable to attend the meeting.

Also elected to posts on the school board were Delbert Donelson, elected to vice president and Al Valdes, elected to secretary.

The canvassed election returns showed Beil receiving 859 votes, Harris receiving 705, Tom McCann receiving 606, and Paul Spence receiving 359. One write-in vote was cast for Jack Watkins.

In other action, the board went into executive session with attorneys Guil Jones and Mike McKinney to discuss the present status of the school district's non-compliance with HEW regulations.

Said Watkins after the session, "We are not going to take any official action. But we received a request from HEW to prepare and submit a plan which might meet with their approval. Since the receipt of that request, our attorney, Dick Milstead, has been stricken with a heart attack."

"Tonight, Guil Jones has helped out, filling in for Mr. Milstead, but I recommend we seek a delay in filing the plan until our attorney is again back in the picture."

The board also approved a student suspension handled by the administration involving possession of marijuana. Supt. Lynn Hise told the board that their approval was needed on suspensions for more than 10 days.

D.A. Brazle, J. O. Hagood and Billy T. Smith were appointed to the district Board of Equalization.

The board accepted a bid from Bob Brock Ford for a van for school use in the amount of $5,111.69. Other bids were from Chevrolet for $5,210 and General Motors for $5,175.

Board approval was given for the annual Messengersinger trip, this year to be taken to Corpus Christi for the Buccaneer Music Festival. The choir would miss two days of school, April 27 and 28.

The Steer Band also informed the board of their plans to attend Six Flags the weekend of April 30. Hise said that administrative approval would be given as no school would be missed.

The board agreed to hold their second meeting this month at noon in one of the school buildings. Tentative date set for the meeting was Wednesday the 26th.

Raise for city employees will be discussed

TESCO PRESIDENT BILL MARQUARDT
 With Edison Award medallion

Texas Electric given coveted Edison Award

Texas Electric and its sister companies have been presented the electric utility industry's highest award, the Edison Award, for their fuel-changing program.

The award was presented in Houston at the 46th annual convention of the Edison Electric Institute (EEI).

The Texas Utilities Co. system was recognized by EEI for "demonstrated foresight and aggressive action" in reducing its dependence on natural gas, for development of lignite as a low cost fuel alternative, and for "exemplary reclamation of the land mined for lignite."

EEI said these are "highly constructive steps in making the best use of fuel resources, meeting energy needs and accomplishing environmental goals to the benefit of its customers and service area."

The first lignite-fueled generating unit operated by Texas Electric and its sister companies went on line in 1972. Up until that time the companies generated all their electricity with natural gas and oil.

The five lignite-fueled generating units now in operation generated 28 percent of the electricity used by TESCO customers last year. That electricity would have cost customers $48 million more if it had been generated with market-priced natural gas.

Two more lignite-fueled generating units are scheduled to begin operation this spring, and three other lignite units are under construction.

In addition, Texas Electric and its sister companies are building a nuclear-fueled power plant southwest of Fort Worth.

"The credit for this tremendous honor goes to our dedicated employees," tesco president Bill Marquardt said.

"We were able to undertake this ambitious fuel-changing program only because our employees had earned the public's confidence and respect," he said.

Other companies in the Texas Utilities system include Dallas Power & Light, Texas Power & Light, Texas Utilities Fuel Co., Texas Utilities Generating Co. and Texas Utilities Services, Inc.

Dear Abby
Has Doubts About Lover

DEAR ABBY: A year ago I met a very handsome gentleman in a shopping center. (We have identical cars and I was trying to open his car with my key.) There was a strong mutual attraction from the moment our eyes met. We sat in his car and talked for hours. He's 42 and I'm 40. He is separated from his wife (no kids). He lives with his mother, so we can't meet at his place. I'm divorced and have two kids. My mother lives with me, so we can't meet at my place.

On our first date he took me out for a romantic candlelight dinner. Afterwards, we went to a motel. He was wonderful with the preliminaries, but after that he fell asleep (I thought it was the wine).

On our first weekend trip, we stopped at a motel and he asked for twin beds. I was shocked. You guessed it... a repeat nonperformance! So far we've been in 11 motels and it's been the same story. A promising buildup, but no performance. He always has an excuse. Either he's too tired or he has a lot on his mind.

He says he wants to marry me, but I don't want to marry a man who can't satisfy me. What should I do?
BEWILDERED IN BALTIMORE.

DEAR BEWILDERED: Level with him. And ask him to level with you. If his problem is impotency, he should see a physician and do whatever he can to remedy the situation. Many doctors are learning much about sexual dysfunctions from their university medical school's human sexuality program. I recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: READY TO EXPLODE described my situation perfectly. For years my husband would not come to the table when dinner was ready. I tried everything I could think of to convince him that it was important to me and the children that he sit down and eat with us. Then one day, in desperation while waiting for him to come to the table, I began practicing my piano lesson.

The effect was dramatic; he immediately stopped what he was doing, came into the dining room and sat down ready to be served. I couldn't believe it.

The next night I repeated the process with the same results. Today he is always on time for dinner.
NO PADEREWSKI

DEAR NO PADEREWSKI: Beautiful! (And for those of you who don't have a piano, get a bugle.)

Boy may make love, but not be in 'in love'

Dr. Wallace:
I'm a 15-year-old girl who considers this guy my boyfriend but I don't know what he considers me. One night we made love and since then he hasn't spoken to me. I called him and he was really mean to me.
Please help me! I'm miserable.
Katie, Sacramento

Dr. Wallace:
I've got a neat boyfriend and my mom likes him a lot. Last November I was restricted for getting a D in math and couldn't date him at all. The restrictions were partially lifted and I was allowed to see him on weekends if I improved on my D.

Since then, I've made the girls' basketball team and all the girls tell me I'm the most valuable player.
I've studied real hard in math, but I still don't understand it. The course is introduction to algebra and I know I will wind up with a D.
If I do I'll be working my fanny off in solitary until June, no boyfriend or no basketball. If I don't see him until June, I know some other girl will get him.
Please help me.
Debbie, Covina, Calif.

Dear Debbie:
Many excellent students are weak in certain disciplines and this could be your problem. Go to your guidance counselor and have her look up your math IQ. If it is low, your counselor might just intercede in your behalf. If it's normal or high, you've been giving me a con job, too.

Beauceants donate clothes

The Social Order of the Beauceant met at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Masonic Hall with Mrs. M. A. Parsons presiding.

Donations of clothing were made to Big Spring State Hospital, and new members welcomed. They are Mrs. Mark Sutphen, Mrs. Robert Baker and Mrs. Eugene Smith.

All members are to bring reports of any benevolent work they have done since August to the next meeting, which will be Apr. 24.

Refreshments were served to members and Sir Knights by Mrs. R. L. Lee and Mrs. J. B. Langston.

Alliance tea attracts 50

According to Mrs. O. S. Womack, president of the Big Spring Alliance of Clubs, 24 clubs participated in the alliance's April 9 membership tea.

The tea was held from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Dora Roberts Community Center and attracted about 50 individuals interested in the clubs represented.

Visitors were welcomed at the door by alliance officers Mrs. Womack, Mrs. Charles Beil, vice president; Mrs. Paul Guy, secretary, and Mrs. Tommy Hart, treasurer. They were registered by Mrs. A. C. Moore.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with an off-white, linen cloth and centered with a spring bouquet. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Presidents of the alliance's member clubs took turns serving.

Guest clubs included the Child Study, Lions Altrusa, Music Study and Sew and Chatter Clubs.

Mind your own business

Frankie Boyd, local attorney posed the question, "Can You Mind Your Own Business?" Saturday at a meeting of Beta Kappa Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International.

The occasion followed a covered-dish salad luncheon at the Sterling City Community Center.

Ms. Boyd's answer to that question was, "Of course you can." She suggested that members have a will prepared, keep a family record book of information such as Social Security numbers, credit card numbers and addresses of companies, a list of insurance policies and a list of where important documents such as wills and birth certificates are kept.

One should list assets and liabilities and seek information on making wise investments, she said. While women supposedly control approximately 47 per cent of the nation's wealth, much of the wealth has been received from men who left the actual control of the money to other men through trusts. Trust officers tend to preserve rather than increase assets, and learning to invest would better prepare women to control their own money.

Ms. Boyd mentioned the previous difficulties women had in buying houses and in obtaining credit. Laws passed in recent years have improved women's status in this regard. She encouraged women to seek the professional help they need and to consider going into business for themselves.

New officers were elected in the following business meeting. They are Fern Alexander, president; Jean Wilder, first vice president; Doris Hultbregte, second vice president; Anna Walker, recording secretary; and Carol Stephens, corresponding secretary.

Luncheon hostesses were Leora Barrett, Evelyn Douthit, Mildred Mitchell and Jo Dell Myrick.

Hallie Barber of Sterling City was the guest.

Founder's Day announced

Beta Omicron of Beta Sigma Phi met at 7:30 Monday night in the home of Ruth Penner.

Sue Drake, with Permian Basin Planned Parenthood, was the guest speaker for the evening with a program on medicine.

Social committee announced that members and husbands will have dinner at the Brass Nail Apr. 22.

Founders Day will be at 6:45 p.m. Apr. 27 at Big Spring Country Club. At this time Girl of the Year and Pledge of the Year will be named.

Special guest at this meeting was Staci Renee Taylor.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Apr. 24 in the home of Lauretta Glass.

Vets, ladies elect officers

New officers were elected for 1978-79 when the Veterans of World War I and its Ladies Auxiliary held their 19th District Spring Convention at Kentwood Center Saturday.

New barracks officers were Marion B. Irland, Big Spring, district commander; J. W. Tidwell, Lubbock, second vice president; V. C. Barber, Big Spring, chaplain; and L. R. Mundt, Big Spring, quartermaster.

The auxiliary elected Jennie Barber, Big Spring, president; Mary Forrest, Lubbock, senior vice president; Eula Mae Phillips, Big Spring, junior vice president; Maxie Irland, Big Spring, chaplain; Maybell Miller, Lubbock, guard; Lennie Hardesty, Crosbyton, treasurer; and Mary Waddell, Big Spring, conductress.

The morning joint session was called to order by C. D. Phillips, Commander of Barracks No. 1474, aided by Mrs. Barber, auxiliary president.

Sid Lowery, district commander, gave the response to the welcoming address and introduced the department officers. They are Chaplain Roper, Brownwood, Commander J. Hail, Abilene, and William Braley and John Hardesty, past commander of the Odessa post.

Naomi Lowery, district auxiliary president, was unable to attend, so Bernice Micallef, district five president, introduced the department officers. They are Camilla Roper, Brownwood, department soloist and representative for Lydia Prescher, department president of Dallas; Mrs. Forrest, patriotic institution; and a visitor, Mrs. Hail, past president of the Abilene auxiliary.

Jack Powell, V.A. Hospital administrator, introduced by Dene Sheppard, volunteer coordinator at the hospital, gave the main address. He discussed the government's plans for the future of the V.A. Hospital operation and the coordination of V.A. Hospitals in the district.

A memorial service for departed buddies and auxiliary members was led by Mrs. Irland and her assistants, Jessie Broughton, Gladys O'Barr, Virginia Bryant, Gladny Flynn, Cordelia Castle, Frances Averitt and Mrs. Waddell. Mrs. Roper sang, "How Great Thou Art."

A buffet lunch was served to about 80 members and guests at tables decorated by Ms. Flynn, Ms. Younger, Lillian Patton and other members of the decorating committee.

The next meeting will be held in the fall.

Mrs. Kenneth Harmon gives birth to a son

Mabel Harmon, 607 Runnels, has a new grandson.

The baby, Ryan Wayne, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wayne Harmon at 8 a.m., April 10, weighing 8 pounds, and 10 ounces.

He was born in a hospital in Tampa, Fla. where his father, formerly of Big Spring and recently transferred from Lubbock, is employed by American Petrofina Inc.

The baby's mother is the former Tillie Garrett and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Garrett of Lubbock.

grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. Garrett of San Antonio.

Ryan will be welcomed home by his two brothers, Barton Wayne, 15, and Christopher Todd, 3.

There's 'trash' in Houston Police Department 'We've got to get rid of it'

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Jim McConn says there is "trash" in the Houston Police Department "and we've got to get rid of it."

"We are going to clean the department out from our own end as far as we can by demanding resignations and by firing people," McConn said Tuesday at a press briefing in wake of the FBI arrest of Assistant Police Chief Carroll M. Lynn.

Lynn, a former police chief and the highest ranking Houston police official ever to be accused in federal court, was free on a $50,000 bond on charges of obstruction of justice in an alleged extortion plot.

Lynn, 45, was charged Monday with asking for $45,000 to stop prosecution of John Vincent Holden, a one-time Houston oilman, charged with violation of securities regulations and mail fraud.

Authorities said Tuesday an attempt was made Jan. 15 to kill a Securities and Exchange Commission accountant working on the investigation of a firm in which Holden, 52, was once associated.

According to Richard Hewitt, the SEC regional administrator, and Houston police reports the incident occurred at the Houston apartment of John E. Arnold, 35, who was working on the investigation of Tri-State Oil & Gas.

Eleven days later, on Jan. 26, a federal indictment was returned alleging securities violations against Holden, a former sales manager for the firm.

Police reports said a man knocked on Arnold's front door about 7 a.m. and got Arnold to open the door by saying he had a package to deliver. The man produced a pistol, reports showed, and forced Arnold into the house, saying he was going to kill him.

A house guest drew a gun, investigators said, and the intruder fled after firing a shot. No one was hit. Arnold refused to discuss the incident Tuesday night and referred all questions to the U. S. attorney's office.

Meanwhile, U. S. Attorney C. A. "Tony" Canales said Tuesday Lynn knew in January the federal government was investigating his alleged solicitation of a bribe.

He said Lynn was called before a grand jury in late January to testify about his alleged involvement in the case.

Canales said he reasoned that since the jury did not indict Lynn, the former police chief "must have thought the heat was off."

In his strongly worded comments about a "clean-up" of the police department, McConn said, "We are trying our damndest to make this a good police department."

He predicted more action on police officers but he said he knew of no specific internal investigations going on.

"We still have outstanding officers," he said. "And there is a handful, quite candidly, that are not outstanding. They will either toe the line or the attempt will be made to get them out of the department."

"I don't like to use the word 'purge' but I think it is time we realized that our police department has some problems—we've got to get rid of the trash in there, and there is some trash, obviously."

McConn said his remarks were not directed on Lynn because the courts must make the determination whether he is guilty or innocent.

In an affidavit filed by the FBI before U. S. Magistrate H. Lingo Platter, Lynn was accused of telling Holden and his attorney, Gerald Birnberg, that he could arrange to have the charges dismissed with a payment to Leonel Castillo, a former Houston city controller and now the U. S. Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

The FBI affidavit quoted Lynn as saying the Castillo could pressure Canales to stop the investigation.

An FBI spokesman said there is no evidence that Castillo or Canales were involved in the alleged scheme.

From his Washington office, Castillo branded the claims as "bizarre... preposterous."

He said he registered "mostly surprise and dismay" upon hearing of Lynn's accusations.

"It's even more bizarre in the fact that I never met the businessman (Holden) and haven't had any contact with Carroll Lynn since 1974," Castillo said he had heard of the "super-scum" from a female employee in Birnberg's office.

"I immediately called Tony (Canales) and told him what I had heard and he said he would get right on it," Castillo said. "The whole story is riddled with inconsistencies. It's total fabrication."

Confronted with Lynn's accusation that Canales "owed Castillo a political favor in regard to Canales' appointment to the U. S. attorney's post," Castillo said, "Sen. Lloyd Bentsen made that decision and only Lloyd Bentsen."

"And I can think of 50 more people who have more influence with the senator than I do," he said. "It's safe to say that Tony has more influence with Senator Bentsen than I do."

A Bentsen aide said the senator, after seeing newspaper reports out of Houston, stated: "It's a lie." Castillo also laughingly denied Lynn's affidavit which mentioned "hit men" on the payrolls of both Castillo and Canales.

"We have a few people who are chunky, but no one who is armed or carries any weapon," he said.

Police Chief Harry Caldwell has suspended Lynn and two of his assistants, Sgts. C. A. Hightower and D.D. Baker, until the investigation is completed.

In another strange twist to the case, Birnberg was shot in the hand as he entered his home the night of April 3. Police said four shots were fired at the attorney.

J. M. Donovan, a Houston police homicide detective, said investigation of the shooting has been turned over to federal authorities. He said police involvement in the case ended because Birnberg refused to answer certain questions without first talking to federal officers.

Meanwhile, Caldwell, in a video-taped message to all police patrol officers, Tuesday urged them to "hang in there and keep your heads up. You have nothing to be ashamed of."

David Sheetz, president of the Houston Police Officers Association who appeared with Caldwell, said the recording was made because police morale is low.

He said officers had not had time to recover from the shock of recent news involving police and U. S. Justice Department investigations of cases involving police officers.

"I'm convinced we have reached the top of the mountain," Caldwell said in the recording. "What I want you to do is continue to hold your heads up high and be proud. We are hacking our way out of this jungle. I know it's hard and difficult. It's going to be a rough period of time."

Policemen's publicity problems

Difficult times ahead

HOUSTON (AP) — Just a few hours before the arrest Monday of the highest Houston police official ever charged in federal court, Chief Harry Caldwell told a police awards luncheon there were still difficult times ahead for the beleaguered department of the nation's fifth largest city.

"The last months and the coming months will spell out difficult times," the 47-year-old career officer said. But he added that whenever someone undertakes "housekeeping" in an organization, there will be adverse publicity.

Assistant chief Carrol Lynn, who also attended the ceremony, was arrested shortly afterwards by FBI agents and arraigned before a federal magistrate on charges of obstruction of justice in connection with an alleged $45,000 bribery scheme.

Lynn, who served as chief of the force from January 1974 to June 1975, is free on $50,000 bond. He and two other officers were suspended with pay until completion of the investigation.

Although no one has gone as far as echoing the remarks of then-Mayor Oscar Holcombe in a 1947 speech to the city council when he said the police department was "woefully inefficient... honeycombed with feuds... without discipline... and worse than a South American army," the department's reputation and the morale of its officers is suffering.

When Caldwell moved into the chief's post in June 1977, the scandal surrounding the death of Mexican-American prisoner Joe Campos Torres while in police custody was breaking.

Three former police officers were recently convicted by a federal jury of a misdemeanor beating charge and a felony civil rights violation charge in connection with Torres' death by drowning in a bayou that runs through downtown Houston. Their five-year suspended sentence on the felony charge has drawn fire from the U. S. Attorney's office here.

Federal investigators are looking into the shooting death of a 17-year-old Louisiana youth officers said pulled a gun on them. The gun found at the scene of the shooting was later traced to the police property room.

The department's own Internal Affairs Division is looking into another shooting incident involving a teenager who police said had been

And last year, Deputy Chief Wallace Williams, who ran a private security agency on the side, was convicted of making false statements on his income tax returns. Williams, who scored highest in a civil service examination that advanced Lynn and Caldwell and two other officers to assistant chief positions in 1976, is appealing the case.

David Sheetz, head of the Houston Police Officers Association, said although the rank-and-file is dismayed by what is going on in the department, the cop on the beat is at least satisfied that "the big fish" are not immune from prosecution.

The majority of cases of alleged police misconduct since the 1960s have involved patrolmen or low-ranking officers and charges of brutality against minorities.

Prior to the institution of a state civil service law in the early 1950s and the abolition of the spoils system, charges of vice and gambling shakedowns plagued the department.

When Caldwell, who is currently finishing his doctorate, recently told officers they could no longer wear cowboy boots on duty, a hue and cry arose about Texas traditions.

This weekend!

This weekend is a very important one for local athletes, and support from Big Spring sports fans would be greatly appreciated by the Steer coaches, because of that fact. Actually, there should be little nudging needed. The Steer track team will only be 40 miles away competing in the District 5-4A meet Friday night, and the Steer diamond men will be home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for a new beginning of league grappling.

The District track meet finals begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday, in Midland, and that late starting time, which will play havoc with the Saturday morning papers, will be just right for the fans. A few anticipated high place finishes by the locals should also be just right for the fans.

Tommy Collins' mixers will be given a second chance to prove what kind of salt they are made of Saturday, and the close finish in the first half of loop infield wars indicates that they will have as good a chance as anyone to bring home the bacon in the second go-around.

That is, of course, if I know my onions. INDISCRIMINATELY SPEAKING —Of probable interest to the basketball coaches at Coahoma, Forsan, Stanton and other points within range, the Lone Wolf Basketball Tournament will be held Dec. 7-9 in Colorado City, and Cee City Coach Mike Hart wanted me to remind any Class A or AA schools that there are still places left for boys and girls teams.

—Evangel College Football Coach Mike Bartik offered a bunch of praise recently to ex-Steer Danny Ferrell (BSHS '75), who is a junior running back for him. After the final spring scrimmage for the EC Crusader's April 1, Bartik hit on the "rugged" 6-1, 170-pounder: "He was outstanding." Short but sweet, Ferrell rushed 40 yards on seven carries, including a 14-yard scamper through a very good defensive line.

—Just as a brief reminder, the "Arenicbia-Hardisty Invitational Handball Tournament" will be held at the YMCA on May 12-14.

All entries must be received on or before Monday, May 8. Entry fee is $10, and contestant applications can be obtained from Herb Shipp, Big Spring YMCA, 801 Owens, Big Spring, Tex., 79720.

REMARKABILITIES —"The Red Sox get out there and tell people they are a good team. Take some of the pressure off us and put it on them. Their lineup, their pitching, all very good. Let everybody know that." —REGGIE JACKSON, to a group of reporters recently.

"The way I see it, a hundred victories will be enough. And I think we can win that many." —SPARKY ANDERSON, Cincinnati Reds' manager.

"Don't challenge Reggie Jackson to any more fights. He might punch your head off." —RALPH HOUK'S advice for 1978 to old teammate Billy Martin.

"Curt Ellis Clary said Ray Kroc, the McDonald's magnate who owns the Padres, fired Alvin Dark because he found him eating in a Burger King." —DICK YOUNG.

Steers horned in 8th frame, 1-0

SAN ANGELO — Re-runs not only seem to be cropping up on the television this time of the year, but on the baseball field.

The scene was a classic one for the Steers during the first half of District 5-4A. It was the bottom of the 8th, the contest scoreless. San Angelo loaded the bases on a single, a walk and an error on catcher Tony Mann after a bunt.

With Deja-Vu watching, Bobcat David Whitfield popped a hop shot to first baseman Johnny Mize, "who booted it," according to start against the Eagles Saturday. Mike Gomez, designated hitter for shortstop Kevin McLaughlin, was the only local to send the ball past extra-inning territory. He popped a two-bagger. Second baseman Tony Rubio, the leading local hitter (.333), garnered two singles, and Johnny Mize and Jacobo were the only other local hitters to tag one-baggers.

"We played good defense throughout," said Collins, "even though, in the end, that's what outdid us. We had many, many chances to score. Like one time, with runners on first and third, no outs and the top of the order coming up. But we didn't, and that's an indication of how things went."

"Overall, we played pretty well, enthusiastic... but we just didn't hit the ball," Collins concluded. The Steers, now 8-12 on the season, finished first half district play in the cellar with a 1-6 record. Before beginning second half competition Saturday at home against Abilene High, the locals travel to Ranger Junior College Thursday.

Ricky Torres and Ricky Myers are expected to see hill action against RJC, while newly-crowned strike-out ace, Larry Smith will

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, APRIL 12, 1978

Astros notch first win of year

HOUSTON (AP) — Los Angeles Manager Tom Lasorda put it best: "Tonight he could have beaten the '27 Yankees."

Lasorda referred to Houston ace J.R. Richard, who had just two-hit the defending National League champions 1-0 Tuesday night for the Astros' first victory of the season and the Dodgers' first defeat.

"You won't see better stuff than he had tonight," Lasorda said. "I hope he pitches as well this weekend."

The Astros, who had lost their first five games of the season, meet Cincinnati this weekend in hopes of redeeming themselves after losing their season opening four-game series in Cincinnati.

Brasher makes 2nd team list

ACKERLY — Suzie Brasher, a 5-7, senior guard for the Sands Fillies, garnered second team All-State honors in Class B girls' basketball, it was learned recently.

Suzie was a starter throughout the season, and a key to the Sands' blanketing defense.

already, he should become the best pitcher in the National League.

Richard, who registered his fourth career shutout over the Dodgers, said he never once thought about pitching a no-hitter.

"My job is just to go out and get them out and pitch the best I can," the towering 6-8 pitcher said. "I didn't talk to anyone on the bench. I just wanted to keep my concentration strong."

Richard's pitching also was strong, especially in the latter innings.

The weather was fine, however, for White Sox reliever Pablo Torrealba, who allowed just one hit in blanking the Blue Jays over the final three innings.

A's 2, Mariners 0 Gary Alexander hit a two-run homer in the first inning and Pete Broberg combined with relief pitchers Bob Lacey and Elias Sosa for a five-hit shutout as the A's blanked the Mariners for the second night in a row, before a sparse gathering of 1,890 in Oakland.

Twins 8, Angels 1 Rookie Roger Erickson tossed a seven-hitter for his second victory of the season for Minnesota. The Twins broke the game open with five runs in the fifth inning, including home runs by Mike Cabbage and Roy Smalley.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat the Toronto Blue Jays 9-5, the Detroit Tigers defeated the Texas Rangers 6-2, the Oakland A's blanked the Seattle Mariners 2-0 and the Minnesota Twins whipped the California Angels 8-1.

Cooper homered in the first inning to start Milwaukee's onslaught. Thomas' two-run homer in the third off Catfish Hunter gave the Brewers a 3-1 lead and Cooper's two-run double in the fourth knocked out the Yankee starter.

Sixto Lezcano added an RBI double off Rawly Eastwick in the fourth and Thomas belted his second two-run homer in the eighth.

'Coop', Sublet ink with Tulsa

Howard College sophomores Russell Sublet and Joe Cooper signed national letters of intent today with the University of Tulsa in Oklahoma.

Assistant Hurricane Coach Leroy McClendon, who was a former assistant to Hawk Coach Harold Wilder, was in Big Spring this morning to sign the pair of roundball stars.

Cooper and Sublet have played on the same team since their high school days in Houston, when their team, Kashmere, won the state championship.

Tigers chew Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Dave Rozema isn't phased by the specter of a sophomore jinx.

"You hear it a lot about what happens to pitchers in their second year in the big leagues and that's why I got such a good start," said Rozema.

Rozema, the American League Rookie Pitcher of the Year in 1977, limited the slugging Texas Rangers to only six hits and a 6-2 Detroit Tiger victory Tuesday night.

Rozema's battery mate, catcher Milt May, crashed a three-run homer off of Doc Medich, making his Ranger debut.

Medich, who is a surgeon in the off-season, couldn't get his curve ball to behave and the Tigers coned his offerings for eight hits.

The only damage to Rozema came on Richie Zisk's ninth inning homer but that didn't surprise the Detroit righthander.

"That is the third homer he's hit off me in three games," said Rozema. "They have all been solo blasts. You make one mistake on him and it's see you later... I hear that same cracking sound everytime I pitch against him."

Rozema surrendered four home runs the last time he faced them in 1977 — an excellent year when he posted a 15-7 record.

Detroit Manager Ralph Houk was elated with Rozema's outing because the youngster had been bothered with a sore arm.

"It's always an occasion the first time a pitcher goes out," said Houk. "Everything is always different that first time out."

Medich found that to be true. May and right-fielder Tim Corcoran each touched him for three hits as Medich lasted only four and two-thirds innings. Ranger Manager Billy Hunter said "I think I left him in too long. The players did okay, but the manager was lousy."

L.A. & IOC iron out diffs

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Negotiators for the city of Los Angeles and the International Olympic Committee have ironed out their differences, paving the way for the 1984 Summer Olympics to be held in the California city.

The final decision will be made at another IOC meeting in Athens May 17-18. Los Angeles Olympic planners and IOC members ended their talks Tuesday, saying they had overcome the misunderstandings that could have blocked the Los Angeles bid to host the Games.

Los Angeles is the only city to make a formal bid for the 1984 Summer Games, but that didn't prevent speculation before these talks were held that the Olympic committee might consider other cities as hosts.

Participants said among the agreements reached was that the 1984 Olympics could be held in the second half of July or the first half of August because Los Angeles could not comply with a committee request they be held in late August.

Walton named Player of Year

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bill Walton, the center of the Portland Trail Blazers, has been named Player-of-the-Year in the National Basketball Association by The Sporting News.

In a poll of 176 NBA players, Walton was the overwhelming choice for the honor. It was the first such honor for the leader of the NBA champions.

San Antonio Spurs star George Gervin, who won the NBA scoring championship, was runner-up in the voting. Rookie Walter Davis of the Phoenix Suns placed third.

Named to the NBA All-Star team were Walton at center, Portland's Maurice Lucas and Philadelphia 76er Julius Erving at forwards, and Gervin and Denver Nuggets star David Thompson at the guard positions.

Davis also was named NBA Rookie-of-the-Year by the magazine. Marques Johnson of the Milwaukee Bucks was runner-up.

Hall gets new pact, raise

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The University of Kentucky has offered basketball Coach Joe B. Hall a new five-year contract and a pay raise.

The offer was made Tuesday at a banquet honoring Kentucky's NCAA basketball champions.

Texas League opens action

San Antonio's Marv Garrison provided the heroics for opening night Texas League baseball action when in the eighth the San Antonio pitcher cracked a three-run homer, breaking a 1-1 tie with Midland and giving the Dodgers a 4-1 victory.

Winning pitcher Mike Tennant, (1-0) went 8 2/3 innings, scattering three hits and striking out 11. Midland's only score came on a seventh inning solo homer by Brian Rosinski.

Bucks eclipse Suns

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks, after trailing throughout the game, eclipsed the Phoenix Suns with a 32-point fourth quarter Tuesday night to take a 1-0 lead in their best-of-three National Basketball Association first-round playoff series.

Marques Johnson, with 10 points, and Brian Winters, with 8 points, sparked Milwaukee's closing-quarter drive for a 111-103 victory. The Bucks caught Phoenix at 85 with 10:04 to go and racked up a 22-8 edge in the first nine minutes of the last quarter.

The series resumes Friday in Milwaukee and the third game, if necessary, will be Sunday in Phoenix.

The other three first-round series get underway tonight, with the Atlanta Hawks at the Washington Bullets, the New York Knicks at the Cleveland Cavaliers and the Los Angeles Lakers at the Seattle Super-Sonics.

Winters, who led Milwaukee with 31 points, said that even though the Bucks trailed early, "We got some pretty good shots."

"In the second half, we rushed the ball up the floor and when we did have to set up we ran the plays pretty well. We got the good shots."

Milwaukee can now wrap up the series at home, but Coach Don Nelson was far from claiming victory. "I don't believe you ever have the upper hand in a playoff," he said.

Johnson had 24 points and Dave Meyers 22 to round out the Bucks' main offensive threat.

Coach John MacLeod of Phoenix said: "We had some good shots but the ball wouldn't drop. Milwaukee dominated the second half. We'd have a 7-point lead, they'd miss a shot, get the ball back and put it in the hole. That's the kind of thing that breaks your momentum."

Milwaukee led 109-91 with 2:02 to go. Phoenix narrowed it to 103-97 with 1:34 left but Winters and Johnson connected to put it out of reach.

'I'm absolutely drained' -- Player

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — A bone-weary, emotionally-exhausted Gary Player made a promise:

"I'll be all right by Thursday."

Perhaps he will. But now the tough little South African is suffering the after-effects of his spectacular victory in the 42nd Masters Golf Tournament.

"I'm absolutely drained," he said Tuesday after arriving for the $225,000 Tournament of Champions.

"I'm not even going to play golf. Just get a massage and a little lie-down."

"But," he quickly added, "I'll be fine on Thursday."

That's the day the first round of this exclusive, winners-only event will be held on the 6,855-yard, par-72 La Costa Country Club course.

Sports in brief

BOXING — A fight between Ken Norton, the World Boxing Council heavyweight champion and Larry Holmes was expected to be announced today.

The fight reportedly is set for June 9 in Las Vegas. The fight was delayed again, this time because the 34-year-old boxer is in the hospital with acute viral hepatitis.

The former heavyweight champion's May 14 fight with Kallie Kneozet of South Africa has been postponed indefinitely.

TENNIS — Second-seeded Chris Evert beat Beth Norton 6-1, 6-0 in the first round of a $125,000 women's tennis tournament.

In other opening round matches, Laura DuPont surprised eighth-seeded Greer Stevens of South Africa 6-3, 6-1; third-seeded Tracy Austin overpowered Carrie Meyer 6-3, 6-0 and sixth-seeded Rosie Casals defeated Lesley Hunt of Australia 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

NATIONAL LEAGUE — In other first round action, fourth-seeded Manuel Orantes of Spain won the first two sets before Chris Lewis of New Zealand was forced to retire with an ankle injury. Jose Higueras, Spain, beat Ulli Pinner, West Germany, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2; Antonio Zugarelli, Italy, ousted Tom Leonard 6-0, 6-2; Ili Nastase, Romania, stopped Zeljko Franjovic, Yugoslavia, 6-4, 6-2; Corrado Barazzutti, Italy, defeated Peter Fleming 6-1, 6-4; and Gianni Occhipio, Italy, eliminated Dick Crealy, Australia, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

PHILADELPHIA — The National Football League Management Council and NFL Players Association said the deadline for free-agent players to obtain matching salary offers from potential new clubs has been moved back two days to April 17.

BASKETBALL — Former Cleveland Indians pitcher Bob Feller has filed a $2 million lawsuit against a Cleveland physician who had Feller arrested for allegedly using his airplane without permission in January.

The charges against Feller by Dr. Richard Altman were later dropped, but the former ballplayer maintains in the suit, filed in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court, that the arrest caused him "humiliation, ridicule, loss of business and income."

Hurler's best friend

In 12 seasons as a major league hurler and nine as a pitching coach, Roger Craig always thought a double play was a pitcher's best friend. All along he was one out short.

"You always hear that the best play in baseball is the double play. There's no way. I found out different tonight," Manager Craig said Tuesday night after his San Diego Padres nipped the Atlanta Braves 3-2 with the help of a bases-loaded triple play.

It came in the second inning with the game scoreless. Atlanta loaded the bases against Bob Owchinko on singles by Dale Murphy and Rod Gilbreath and a walk to Pat Rockett. Braves pitcher Phil Niekro grounded to third baseman Bill Almon, who tagged Gilbreath to start an around-the-horn triple play.

"I figured it would just be a regular around-the-horn double play," Almon said. "I thought, 'Oh, good, we'll get out of this with just one run scoring.' It happened so quick. It took a couple of seconds and I realized we were out of it with no runs scoring."

Elsewhere, Cincinnati and Los Angeles both suffered their first setbacks of the young season, the Reds bowing to the San Francisco Giants 3-2 and the Dodgers falling to the Houston Astros 1-0. The Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 4-2 in the only other National League game while Montreal at Philadelphia was rained out.

Giants 3, Reds 2 Jack Clark's two-out solo homer in the eighth inning off Dave Tomlin saddled Cincinnati with its first setback and prevented the Reds from setting a club record for most consecutive victories at the start of a season since 1900.

The Reds took a 1-0 lead off Bob Knepper in the first inning when Pete Rose doubled and Joe Morgan singled. Darrell Evans and Terry Whitfield hit solo home runs in the fourth off Tom Seaver — the fourth and fifth of Tom Terrific in two starts — to give San Francisco a 2-1 lead.

HAPPY HARRELL — Forsan's Kathy Harrell can be seen breaking into a big grin after coasting to an easy win in the 800-meter run last Friday in the girls' District 7-B track meet. Her time was 2:43. She and Zena Clark (background), earned a berth in the regional meet to be held in Levelland. Zena came in second with a 2:48.1 time.

Farm 'Don't be stampeded'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, who has taken a lot of heat from protesting farmers for months, says Congress should stiffen its backbone against militant lobbyists.

But Bergland told a meeting of farm magazine editors Tuesday that he would not want people stopped from coming to Washington and putting pressure on government officials, including Congress.

"It's in the American tradition," Bergland said. "I'm just saying to my friends in Congress — don't be stampeded."

Thousands of protesting, angry farmers protesting the American Agriculture protest movement have lobbied Congress and the administration since last fall for higher prices. A farm bill giving them part of what they want is awaiting final House action.

The Senate earlier this week approved the measure 49 to 41 over the strong objections of Bergland and a threat by President Carter to veto the measure if it is sent to him.

Bergland told the farm editors that he had received a telephone call from a person "who told me that the small-business world is going to emulate what has been done in the American Agriculture movement" to get some changes made in labor reform legislation now in the Senate.

"It's now quite widely known that you can put the Senate in full flight by doing certain things," Bergland said.

PRIZE WINNING PORKER — Richard Batla, 12, is not much larger than the barrow that got a Reserve Grand Champion award at the San Angelo Stock Show.

Richard Batla, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Diemer Batla, Garden City, took home honors for the Reserve Grand Champion of the San Angelo Stock Show with his light weight Duroc.

Glasscock 4-H entries do well

Batla and a number of other Glasscock County 4-H Club members did well at the show. Wayne Hirt took a second in the light weight cross division, followed by Kevin Hirt who took a third. Denise Schwartz took a sixth in the division, while Dorothy Schwartz snagged a seventh. Kevin Hirt was also a Pig Showmanship winner.

Blagrove wins tractor event

Derwood Blagrove, of Ackerly, took a first place in the 12,000 stock division of the Southwest Championship Tractor Pull, held in Fort Worth in March. Blagrove was awarded $400 of some $5,150 awarded in various divisions.

Texas water: Big money, big business

EDITOR'S NOTE — In Texas, water is big business, and getting bigger. More people, less water, higher costs. Billions of Texas dollars are linked to water, directly or otherwise. This special report, one of a series, examines the economics of water and water-related projects and industries.

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — They say money talks. If that's so, it is probably talking about Texas water.

And it's saying $$$$$$.
Bigger and bigger dollars. Billions, actually, when one pauses to consider the economics of water and its role in the go-go Texas lifestyle of the 1970s.

Don Thurman of Arlington, a water quality expert for the state health department, calls water the "most used, most abused and most taken-for-granted product around."

And it's becoming one of the most expensive. "The days of cheap water are over," admits Harvey Davis, executive director of the Texas Department of Water Resources, the architectural agency for water planning.

"Water cost my father $2.50 per acre foot for irrigation," says retired water engineer Harry Burleigh of Austin. "Today it's 15-to-20 times that. How long that kind of spread can go on, I don't know. Nor does anybody else."

Ali to shill for Ford Co.

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. plans to put a little more punch into peddling its parts.

The car maker has hired Muhammad Ali to proclaim that Motorcraft Parts, manufactured by Ford and sold through its dealers and independent parts stores, are "the greatest."

Terms of Ali's one-year deal with Ford were not disclosed.

Production of television and radio commercials as well as print ads starring the former heavyweight boxing champion will begin in about a week, said Robert Rodriguez, advertising manager for Ford's Motorcraft Division.

A random sampling of water-related projects, problems, industries and proposals across Texas reflects the magnitude of money being spent or generated by water.

For instance: —At present, experts say the cost of building additional reservoirs at sites already selected will be $2.1 billion between now and the year 2020.

—In 1968, it was estimated that Cooper Lake in East Texas would cost $29 million. The lake is less than 20 percent complete and the projected cost is now $63 million.

—Using 1973 dollars, engineers said they could construct the Lakeview reservoir in the Dallas-Fort Worth area for $105 million. They put the figure now at $235 million.

—A pipeline linking a small East Texas town to its nearest available water supply, about six miles, carried a $180,000 price tag.

—State officials say the Choke Canyon reservoir near Corpus Christi and the Stacy Dam project in West Texas could cost $80 million apiece.

—In Brown County (Brownwood), the water district recently proposed a 117 percent hike for some customers, and the situation there is not unique.

—City officials at Taylor, population 13,373, must upgrade their water quality and are, like other cities, pondering a multi-million dollar decision: improve the underground supply or switch to surface water.

—At tiny Northfield, near million annually.

One can not estimate the millions that Texas cities have spent and are spending on water treatment facilities. But with ground water declining, water recycling will increase, hiking future costs, perhaps drastically.

In Fort Worth recently, city officials said water rates would escalate 35 percent unless they can torpedo proposed new federal regulations governing drinking water.

To bring the water up to the new standards, they said, would require the city to install $30 million worth of new equipment, and would hike annual operating costs by $3 million.

The director of the Dallas Water Utilities Department said special treatment equipment would cost his city $75 million and would add $12 million a year in operating costs.

Midland said it would cost $1.08 million to comply, Port Arthur $5.7 million, Houston $40 million.

"Our customers would be billed an additional $36 per year," a San Angelo water official estimated.

Dr. Herb Grubb of the Texas Department of Water Resources said the 10 major water-using industries in Texas produce $17 billion annually in various goods.

Agriculturally, Texas produces some $5 billion in farm cash receipts for food and fiber, much of it traceable to irrigation water, he added.

Millions of dollars are generated by commercial and sport fishing, and water is a vital link in secondary crude oil recovery.

Even water recreation benefits total almost $20 could hoist costs to $300 an acre foot.

At that price, you could hardly afford to drink it.

Jay Tapp, a Houston building consultant, volunteered a harsh assessment of water economics, asserting that a water importation program could hoist costs to $300 an acre foot.

At that price, you could hardly afford to drink it.

Judges named for contest

Judges for the second annual Petroleum Industry Essay Contest sponsored by Drill Bit magazine have been announced by Donald Hart, publisher.

They are: Kenneth F. Karr, Odessa First National Bank; Darrell Smith with Texas Oil & Gas Corp.; John Paul Pitts, John Pitts & Associates; and Ed Thompson, vice-president of Permian Basin Petroleum Association.

The contest is open to high school seniors in the Permian Basin area. Contestants have been asked to write on one of four topics related to the oil and gas industry: "The petroleum industry's role in the free enterprise system," "The future of the petroleum industry," "The effect of energy cost and supply on the future," or "Is deregulation of oil and gas prices in the national interest?"

Submissions are to be out more than five double-spaced typed pages and must be mailed to: Essay Contest, Drill Bit Magazine, Box 510, Midland, TX 79701 by midnight April 15.

Winners will receive cash awards and plaques which will be presented at the May 12 luncheon sponsored by PBPA. Awards for the three top entries are $125 to the first place winner; $100 for second place and $75 for third.
