Police beat Burglars hit restaurant

Burglars hit another local restaurant Wednesday night. Burglars had broken into Carlos Restaurant, 308 N.W. 3rd, Wednesday night, and it was reported later Thursday that intruders had also broken into Fina's Cafe, 200 N. Gregg, the night before. After lowering themselves through a rooftop air conditioner vent, the intruders stole 15 cases of beer and several eight-track tapes, and damaged a gumball machine, a cigarette machine and two pool tables inside. Loss was estimated at $428.

Police checked out a stabbing incident that occurred at a San Antonio Street residence, around 9:25 p.m. Wednesday. Officers talked with the victim, Ray E. Lawson, 409 W. 6th, at Malone-Hogan Hospital where he was being treated for three minor stab wounds. According to reports, Lawson told officers that he "didn't want to make a report" on the incident. Investigation of the incident will continue today.

Four mishaps were reported Thursday. Vehicles driven by Jeffrey Stovall, P.O. Box 231, and Ora Thixton, Midway, collided at 23rd and Gregg, 8:52 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Virginia Sosa, Southland Apartments, William Hale, 802 Creighton, and Donald Blackburn, 3704 Caroline, collided at 10th and Gregg, 12:17 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Ruth Dooley, 104 E. 6th, and James Craver, 1805 Duquoin, collided at Fifth and Gregg, 5:49 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Suzanna Orr, 2905 Macauslan, and Ronnie Dunlap, 3704 Connally, collided in the parking lot of the Ritz Theater, 2:55 p.m.

Elbert L. Strickland, Forsan, reported the theft of his 1972 Ford Torino, 1:45 p.m. Thursday. According to reports, a man took the car under the pretense of repairing it, and didn't give it back at the designated time. The auto was valued at $1,900.

A $120 bicycle was stolen from the front porch of R. H. Thomas' home, 1800 Johnson.

Thieves removed the radiator from a 1964 Oldsmobile belonging to T. A. Burcham, 902½ San Antonio. Loss was estimated at $35.

Unemployment dropped to 3.9 in Texas

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Unemployment in Texas dropped to 3.9 percent in mid-April, the lowest mark in four years, the Texas Employment Commission reported Thursday. "A sharp decline in total unemployment was realized as the number of Texans seeking work dropped from 280,100 to 229,800 at mid-April," said the T.E.C. "Persons unemployed by layoff were practically nonexistent during the month and this, coupled with a slowdown in the number of persons entering the job market, helped lower the total of unemployed for April." The March unemployment rate was 4.7 percent, compared to a year ago rate of 4.9 percent.

FAWNING OVER THE NEW ARRIVALS — Two does keep watch while their fawns get acquainted in an enclosure on George Thompson, Jr.'s farm at Plainfield, Ill. Both does gave birth on the same day, and one of them had twins. The third fawn was out of the picture. Fawns were sired by a buck deer also owned by Thompson.

Grayson commissioners finding it difficult to make budget

SHERMAN, Texas (AP) — Grayson County Commissioners today pondered how they would formulate a new county government budget without knowing how much income to expect from local ad valorem property taxes.

The county officials found themselves in the predicament when State District Court Judge W.C. Boyd issued a temporary injunction Thursday preventing the commissioners from certifying the 1978 tax roll.

The order, if upheld in a July 24 hearing, handcuffs the commissioners on most fiscal matters, since they cannot formulate a budget without knowing how much income the county will derive from ad valorem taxes.

The county's lawyers said they would appeal Boyd's ruling to the 5th circuit court of appeals in Dallas and said they were confident they would win. They claimed Boyd's decision went against previous rulings by the state Supreme Court.

Both sides in the dispute said it could take up to two years to finally settle the matter.

The injunction resulted from a suit brought against Grayson County Tax Assessor-Collector Ruth Wiley by a group of taxpayers, mostly farmers protesting high evaluations on their land.

The group, Grayson County Taxpayers Association, was formed in 1977 and raised $23,000 to take the case to the Supreme Court. It's suit accuses Ms. Wiley of "deliberately" omitting certain types of property from the tax roll, such as bank accounts and stocks.

The Taxpayers Association claims the law states that all property — such as boats, autos, furniture, jewelry, stocks, bonds, etc. — should be taxed and if it were, then property taxes would be lower.

State Rep. Bill Sullivant of Gainesville represents the taxpayers, along with Austin lawyer Adrian Overstreet.

The county's attorneys in the case, Roger Sanders of Sherman and Elvin Tackett of Bedford, said Boyd's ruling leaves them "caught between a rock and a hard place." But they said there is no cause for alarm because the county traditionally does not mail its tax bills until October with a Jan. 31 due date.

Sanders said state law prohibits banks from disclosing the names of depositors and the amount in their accounts, so the county cannot tax this property. He said the taxpayers' suit "is not going to change anything."

County Judge Les Tribble said the farmers protesting their land valuations don't understand "that the real villain is inflation here."

"The reason their property valuations are so high is because land has just shot up in value in the past 10 years. Land is priced out of reason around here these days — $600, $700, $800 an acre," Tribble said.

Many property values in Grayson County had not been reevaluated since well before the Great Depression.

Showers forecast to return to Texas

By the Associated Press

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms forecast for the lower Texas coast were expected to spoil an otherwise perfect clear, hot day across Texas.

Forecasters called for highs in the 90s today and most of the state would have sunny skies and continued hot temperatures.

Some low cloudiness and light, patchy fog was reported in the Hill Country early today, but most of the state had clear skies. Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 70s with extremes ranging from 61 at Marfa to 88 at El Paso.

Early morning readings included 73 at Amarillo and Wichita Falls, 70 at Texarkana, 75 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 76 at Austin, 69 at Houston, 75 at Brownsville, 76 at Del Rio, 75 at San Angelo and 74 at Lubbock.

Fights O'Hair appeal suit Florida man joins in AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Florida religious broadcaster has intervened in atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair's appeal of her suit contesting the motto "In God We Trust" on American currency.

"My purpose in joining in this case is to assure that the opposition to her motion is fairly and completely represented," said J.G. Whitfield at a Thursday news conference.

Mrs. O'Hair filed the federal suit Sept. 1, 1977, against the U.S. Treasury Department, alleging the motto displays a statement "antithetical" to atheists' "most deeply held convictions" in violation of the First Amendment.

U.S. District Judge Jack Roberts of Austin dismissed the suit April 17. He noted the U.S. Supreme Court and the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals have ruled the motto does not infringe on First Amendment rights.

Whitfield, a long-time gospel singer and religious broadcaster from Pensacola, Fla., came to Austin to file a motion to intervene in Mrs. O'Hair's appeal of the dismissal to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. The appeals court granted his motion to intervene June 5.

"If we got rid of the motto just because it has the word 'God' on it that would actually lead toward establishing a religion of 'no God,'" Whitfield said.

The motto has "been in our history so long that it is really ceremonial and patriotic," the gospel singer said. "It has no religious significance."

It would cost taxpayers into the thousands of dollars to erase currency dies and remove the slogan from money, he asserted.

"I have established an organization called the Religious Freedom Crusade, which will be used to fight Madalyn Murray O'Hair and this 'In God We Trust' suit," he said.

Whitfield said 100,000 persons have signed petitions backing his action.

Judge orders county to pay for surgery

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Convicted murderer Gary Hastings, who blew off half his face in a suicide attempt, scribbled a message of joy to his jailer after a judge ordered county taxpayers to pay for his plastic surgery.

Chester County Court Judge John Wajert issued the ruling Thursday. The surgery will permit Hastings to breathe and eat normally, but doctors say he will never look normal. Attorneys for the county estimated the cost of corrective surgery at about $5,000.

Hastings, 33, a former Delaware bank executive, was convicted in the April 26, 1977, shotgun death of his wife, Margaret, in her Chadds Ford home.

Hastings turned the weapon on himself afterwards and the blast destroyed the lower half of his face, leaving him unable to speak.

He wears heavy bandages around his grotesquely disfigured face. He breathes and eats through tubes.

Wajert ordered Hastings transferred from Chester County Prison to Chester County Hospital for the surgery, which will involve four operations.

The plastic surgery, to be performed by Dr. Roslyn Souser, is to include reconstruction of Hastings' nose, lower lip and parts of his mouth.

Hastings testified by handwritten notes that he owed $65,000 to Wilmington Medical Center for previous surgery. Furthermore, county liens on his assets after his conviction have left him unable to pay the debt or to finance additional surgery, according to Hastings.

Chester County Prison Farms warden Thomas Frame said Hastings scribbled on a note pad that he was "very happy" after the ruling.

According to Frame, the prison infirmary staff, comprised of a visiting physician, two registered nurses and two paramedics, has devoted about 40 percent of its time to Hastings' care since he became an inmate.

Here's a man who knows where he's going—and it's a good thing he does! Because even a small craft can founder pretty badly if it gets too far off course.

How about you? Do you know where you're going? If you're like many of us, you probably have your moments of doubt.

That's where the Church comes in. The teachings of the Church give us the basic understanding and philosophy we need if we are to do a good job of navigating our way through life. In the Church we learn the meaning of faith—and we learn, too, why our Faith has endured through the centuries. We come to realize the wonder and beauty of wisdom, kindness and tolerance.

If you feel that you've gotten off your course somehow... don't try to find your way back alone. Remember that your church stands ever ready to welcome you.

Guerrillas attack missionaries

BULAWAYO, Rhodesia (AP) — It was night in the Rhodesian bush and Guntvor Fallson, a Swedish schoolmistress, was in her bungalow when the dreaded knock sounded at her door.

It was the first inking of another guerrilla attack on another school, a death notice for two more missionary teachers.

When the 10 to 15 gunmen finished their raid, two young British women teachers were dead, caught in a single burst of automatic weapons fire. Miss Fallson, the 37-year-old vice principal of the Salvation Army's secondary school for black girls, survived with minor wounds.

The raid was the latest in a series of attacks on bush stations that left 19 white missionaries dead and closed dozens of mission schools and hospitals since December 1976. It was then that the retired Roman Catholic bishop of Bulawayo, Adolph Schmitt, 72, and two nuns were shot to death on a lonely road — the first to die in the guerrilla campaign against white missionaries.

The Salvation Army school had been kept open after guerrilla threats or raids closed four major missions run by the Roman Catholic, Anglican and Methodist churches in the surrounding area of southwest Rhodesia.

The raids and abductions of pupils occur in areas infiltrated by guerrillas of nationalist leader Joshua Nkomo and his political ally, Robert Mugabe.

The effect of the six-year guerrilla war on the vastly more numerous schools run by the government's black councils has been even greater.

Tony Smith, in charge of the government's still-segregated black state school system, says guerrillas have forced the closing of about 800 schools, and thrown 200,000 children — a fifth of the expected enrollment — out of class. Forty-five black teachers employed by the councils have been killed.

But to the Christian churches, the attacks are a cruel and puzzling response to nine decades of spreading literacy, medical care and Christian beliefs among 6.7 million blacks. In recent years missionaries have endorsed greater rights for blacks in Rhodesia.

Some churchmen claim the raids are an outgrowth of the indoctrination they say communist countries have handed guerrillas along with arms: wipe out Christianity before making Rhodesia a black-run, Marxist state.

Others maintain that many young militants look

Carter's trip to Panama on despite trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is flying to troubled Panama in a bid to translate the recently ratified Panama Canal treaties into improved relations with all of Latin America.

"We do not expect there will be difficulty," a U.S. official told reporters inquiring about possible violence following the deaths of at least two students in a bloody gunbattle Wednesday night half a block from the Panama City hotel where President and Mrs. Carter are staying.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said "normal security precautions" were being taken for the 22-hour presidential visit that ends Saturday afternoon.

The Pentagon plans no precautionary troop alerts in the Canal Zone, spokesman Thomas B. Ross said. But he added, "We are watching the situation closely." The United States maintains a 9,400-man military force in the Canal Zone.

The trip was scheduled so Carter and Panamanian leader Omar Torrijos could sign and exchange diplomatic documents indicating final acceptance by their countries of the two treaties ending U.S. control of the American-built canal by the year 2000. The treaties also guarantee the waterway's neutrality.

Italian president resigns; violence continues in city

ROME (AP) — Italy's ruling Christian Democrats, still reeling from the murder of party chief Aldo Moro, have been hit by the resignation of Italy's president, Giovanni Leone, because of accusations of corruption. Urban violence continued, meanwhile.

Leone, one of the group of Christian Democratic leaders that has run the Italian government since World War II, denied the charges of tax evasion and involvement in the Lockheed payoff scandal. But he moved out of the Quirinal Palace with no ceremony Thursday night, six and a half months before his seven-year term was to expire.

A bomb exploded early today at a city-run dairy in Rome, and others were discovered unexploded at the city's main prison, a Communist Party office and three other sites in Rome. The dairy bombing caused an estimated $33,000 in damage. There were no injuries.

In a message to the news media, a group calling itself Armed Revolutionary Nucleus claimed responsibility and said the bombing was a protest against government-approved price increases. There was no apparent connection with the Leone scandal.

In Milan today, stock prices plunged an average 2 percent in what brokers agreed was a reaction to the fall of the Italian president. Senate President Amintore Fanfani, another Christian Democrat and former premier, succeeded to the presidency temporarily.

A joint session of the two-house parliament plus 58 representatives of regional legislatures must start voting for Leone's successor within 15 days. A tough battle is likely, adding to the troubles of a nation frightened by terrorism and strapped by economic woes.

The largely ceremonial post is coveted because of the honor attached to it and because the president has the final word in appointing a new premier, which happens frequently since the average life of an Italian government is 11 months.

A two-thirds majority of the 1,010 electors is required for election on the first three ballots. After that a bare majority is enough. Since no party has a majority, a successful candidate must negotiate the support of other parties.

Moro, who had been slated to succeed Leone without significant opposition, was killed last month by his kidnapers from the terrorist Red Brigades. The Christian Democrats, with about 420 votes in the electoral college, want to hold on to the post. Fanfani, 70, a strong competitor when Leone was elected in 1971, may try again.

The Communists, the second largest party, may put up a candidate in the first rounds. But they are expected to trade their bloc of more than 350 votes for something that will enhance their already powerful position as the minority Christian Democratic government's most important parliamentary partner.

The third-place Socialists are expected to be the strongest challengers. They contend it has been traditional for the Christian Democrats to alternate part with one of the smaller parties.

upon missionaries as people who brought Christianity and education but tampered with tribal tradition, although well meaning, and instilled a sense of inferiority for some about Africa's past.

Hardest hit has been Rhodesia's missionary giant, the Roman Catholic Church. All but three of the slain white missionaries were Catholics. Guerrilla activity has forced the closure of nine of 38 major black Catholic secondary schools, including some of the oldest in the country.

The church pioneered biracial education in Rhodesia by desegregating its white schools about 15 years ago.

At its missionary peak, before a state ruling 10 years ago forced churches to hand over most mission primary schools to local councils, the Catholic Church controlled the education of about 200,000 children.

The Catholic hierarchy also has been the most outspoken critic of the white-minority government, replaced three months ago as a prelude to black rule by a biracial interim administration, which has not been accepted by the guerrilla leaders.

In the past year and a half, 11 Catholic priests and nuns have been deported — five fewer than the number whose deaths the military blame on guerrillas.

"There are some guerrilla insurgents who are much in favor of the Catholic Church as having stood up for the rights of the oppressed," the Rev. Richard Randolph, British Jesuit secretary of the Catholic Bishops Conference, said in an interview.

"There are other insurgents who have an antipathy for all organized Christianity, particularly the highly organized Christianity of the Roman Catholic Church," he added.

Anglican Bishop Robert Mercer of Matabeleland, whose vast diocese includes all of southwest Rhodesia, discerns a deliberate campaign against the churches.

"Their (the guerrillas') instructions are that a Marxist utopia is imminent," he said. "In this there must be no divided loyalties. Therefore the church and missions must be destroyed."

Mercer added that everytime a school is closed, "it is a victory for the terrorists and it means more children without schools. But you can't go on risking the lives of other people's children."

Finding oil 'a little like forecasting weather'

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Beaumont Cooley is one of an elite group of specialists whose informed hunches precede the highest-stakes poker game probably ever played — finding tomorrow's petroleum supply.

Cooley, 54, a kind of energy super sleuth, concedes his job — finding the world's oil and gas deposits — is "a little bit like forecasting the weather."

About 600 of these specialists are gathered in El Paso for the 19th annual Society of Professional Well Log Analysts symposium that ends today. Analysts from 15 countries, including the Soviet Union are attending.

"I guess what we do is a little bit like forecasting the weather," laughed Cooley, outgoing president of the analysts' group.

"This is why we have specialists. It's usually the well log specialist who takes data from a well, and analyzes it to determine if the well will produce, how fast and whether it is economically feasible."

The Alaska Pipeline from Prudhoe Bay provides an example of the work Cooley and his colleagues perform.

"Had the oil companies involved in that project not had the expertise that analysts offered, they likely would have not built that pipeline because it wound up costing them about $10 billion. Somebody along the line had to say there is enough oil there to warrant spending that kind of money."

Cooley who currently evaluates drilling efforts for Chevron Oil Co. from his headquarters in Spain, said his firm is presently committed to a $200 million joint exploration of the Mediterranean Sea.

The vast shale oil deposits in the mountains of Utah and Colorado are well known to producers, but Cooley said cost factors make such operations prohibitive.

With 28 years in the business, Cooley said he has become aware of the growing scarcity of crude oil. Like others in the industry, he's convinced the situation is not going to improve.

"Twenty-eight years ago, we were in a situation where we could produce more oil than we could burn," he said.

Three children drown near Galveston Island

ANGLETON, Texas (AP) — The bodies of three youngsters who disappeared in the hazardous currents between the western tip of Galveston Island and the mainland had been recovered today and the search continued for two others.

Sheriff's deputies and members of the Gulf Coast Emergency Rescue Squad searched through the night after the five disappeared while wading in the surf late Thursday afternoon after a pickup truck used on an all day outing became stuck in the sand beneath the San Luis Pass bridge on the Brazoria County side.

The bodies of Carol Masters, 15, of Sugar Land, Linda Zahn, 13, of Houston, and James Bowman, 10, of Houston were recovered about 100 yards from the shoreline.

Still missing were Carol's brother Leroy, 7, and sister, Lisa, 10.

Sheriff's Capt. Gene Smith said young Bowman's sister, Kelly, 16, was sitting in the stuck vehicle and saw the other youngsters in trouble.

"She ran out to the water to help but the current was just too strong," Smith said.

4-H Program

Miss Gaskins assigned to Poland

By CAROL HART
 Kayla Gaskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knott, will leave for Washington, D.C. Sunday in preparation for an extended stay in Poland. The trip is sponsored through the International 4-H Youth Exchange Program, a program Miss Gaskins describes as "a cross cultural experience."
 Miss Gaskins will spend two weeks in Washington undergoing a language training program. She will then be sent to Warsaw, Poland, where she will undergo more language training in preparation for an extended stay in the country. She will return to the states Dec. 14.
 "There will be seven from the United States in Poland," Miss Gaskins said. "We will be together in Washington and Warsaw, then we will be separated. We will spend part of the time with private families." She said the group may be separated in pairs.
 Miss Gaskins explained she did not know where she would be stationed in Poland, but believed she would be assigned to a state farm first. There, she and any other member of the exchange program stationed there will "do the work that needs to be done," on the farm.
 The International 4-H Youth Exchange program was begun to "promote greater understanding among all people," Miss Gaskins said. "I applied last summer." She was one of 16 applicants from Texas. Two were chosen to participate in the program.
 The International 4-H Youth Exchange Program is opened to people 19-25 years of age who have graduated from high school. "Most Texas delegates are college graduates," Miss Gaskins said. "An in-depth 4-H background or similar" is also an important criterion, she said.
 Many of the countries where program participants are assigned have 4-H programs or similar. Members of the program "emphasize the value of the 4-H and similar programs" in the countries to which they are assigned, Miss Gaskins said.

 American participants are "sent to about 37 different countries," Miss Gaskins said.
 The Gaskins are familiar with the program through several international participants who have stayed with them in Knott. Participants from Japan, India and Peru have stayed with the Gaskins three times during the past 10 years.
 Miss Gaskins was originally chosen to go to

Jack Horn family holds mini-reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horn, 505 Dallas, had a mini-reunion with five of their seven children during the past two weeks.
 Mrs. Gordon Eskridge and daughters Samantha, Jennifer, Jeanna and Rachel came to Edmond, Okla., to attend a McBride family reunion which Mrs. Horn was attending. The family later traveled to Big Spring. Mrs. Eskridge is the Horn's daughter.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pardue also attended the reunion, and returned to Big Spring with Mrs. Horn. Mrs. Pardue is the Horn's daughter. Pardue has been assigned to George Air Force Base in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Irwin, and Christy and Michael of Alexandria, Indiana, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horn, Houston, also came to Big Spring for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Horn, 1801 Grafa, daughters Naquai and Ralae, were also a part of the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ravelette, St. Louis, and Mrs. David Mohn, daughters of the Horns, plan to visit Big Spring with their families soon.

Westbrook news

Summer program underway

WESTBROOK — The summer Homemaking Program, under the direction of Mrs. Ather Ellis, will have a nursery school for four and five year olds beginning June 19th. It will be opened Monday through Friday mornings for one week. The hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the kindergarten department.
 The program will include play with other children, stories, music, films, rest periods and mid-morning snacks.
 The nursery school is a part of the Homemaking Program, which will further the study of child development.
 To enroll a child in the nursery program, contact the Westbrook High School, Mrs. Ellis, or a homemaking student.

 Mrs. Ellis attended an in-service conference for Homemaking teachers of Area II at Vagabond Hotel in Odessa June 6-7.
 The teachers attended three general sessions and two workshops featuring programs such as "Teaching Child Development and Family Living to Hispanic Students," "Behavior Modification," "Creativity in the Classroom," and "Integrating Sex Education into Home and Family Living."
 Guest speakers included Dr. Jack Adkisson, associate professor of education, Sul Ross State University, Alpine; Dr. Valerie Chamberlain, associate professor of Home Economics Education, Texas Tech University, Lubbock; Mrs. Gloria Rhoden, I and E Director of the Permian Basin Planned Parenthood, Odessa; and Mrs. Connie Steelhammer, chairman, Area II advisory council, Eastwood High School, Ysleta Independent School District.

FASHION CONSCIOUS — Sandy Stretcher, assistant county extension agent, uses Tessa Underwood as a model to display today's fashions to area 4-H members, Girl Scouts, their parents and sponsors in a program held Thursday in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room. Joann Guitart, who helped with the program, looks on. Standing to the right are Tanya Hollis, Sharon Tindol and Janet Hanson. The girls all volunteered as models for the fashion section of the Beauty Boutique.

Beauty Boutique conducted

Area 4-H members and Girl Scouts and their parents and sponsors attended a Beauty Boutique Thursday afternoon in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room. Sandy Stretcher, assistant county extension agent, coordinated the event.

The boutique was sponsored by the Howard County 4-H subcommittee and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The boutique began at 1:30 p.m. with Beth Bible and Rosemary Rios representatives from the Valtai Reeve's School of Beauty, explaining hair fashion tips to the audience.

Sharon Minyard, a representative of Thornton's, discussed skin and nail care. Mrs. Stretcher and Joann Guitart then displayed fashion accessories furnished by Grigsby's Rag Doll.

Kayla Gaskins, Knott, gave the audience some tips on modeling.

Big Spring participants place in competition

Several Big Spring participants won top honors in the grand competition contest of the Marching Auxiliaries of America summer camp Thursday morning.

The camp, one of several sponsored by the auxiliary, was held on the Howard College campus this week.

Arnie Aamodt, Victor Mellinger, and Richard Cook all of Big Spring won top honors in the rifle spinning competition. Connie Welch, Big Spring, won first in the majorette division.

Kent Cook, Big Spring, took top honors in the drum major division. In other categories, a group from Ozona, Peri Pennington, Rhonda Massey, Lisa Hohertz, Betty Flores and Mabel Delgado won first in flag squad competition.

Molly Womack was named Miss Majorette. She is from Ozona. A drill team from Merkel, Patricia Powell, Charlotte Watts and Angie Wells, took first in that division.

It is hoped that the camp will become an annual event, according to Terry Newman, dean of students at the college. "We expect a larger camp next year," he said. Approximately 40 students and sponsors attended the school.

Food quiz given

The Coahoma Home Demonstration club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Virginia Tinner. Mrs. Charley Parrish, vice president, presided. The devotion was given by the hostess.

The roll call was answered with a "hint for the freezer." A report was heard from the nominating committee for the coming year. These were approved by the members.

Sandy Stretcher, assistant county extension agent, presented the program on food and nutrition. A psychological food quiz was given.

Mrs. Stretcher won the door prize. Meetings will resume in September.

Knott reunion scheduled

The Knott Homecoming is scheduled at 4 p.m. Saturday, June 24, in the Kentwood Older Adult Center.

Those planning to attend are reminded to bring a covered dish. Games are planned. Tom Castle's band will provide music.

Salesmanship? Or Junk Phone Calls?

DEAR ABBY: I make an honest living soliciting new customers for a cleaning firm by telephoning people and advising them of our special introductory offers. But, Abby, I couldn't even repeat some of the names I've been called! Not only that, but I've had people hang up on me, telling me where to go and what I can do with my offer! You wouldn't believe some of the threats and curses I've been subjected to on this job!

It wouldn't take any longer to say, "Thank you very much, but I am not interested."

Please print this to remind people that telephone solicitors are human, too, and deserve a little courtesy and consideration. Thank you.

ABUSED BY THE PUBLIC

DEAR ABUSED: I do not condone rudeness for any reason, but judging from my mail, many more people resent telephone solicitation than appreciate it.

A businessman in Clackamas, Ore., wrote to the Public Utilities Commissioner in Salem, Ore., as follows:

"DEAR SIR:
I, as a very busy business executive, am writing to protest being called from my work to take unsolicited sales calls, and it is especially galling to find myself talking to a computer. We pay high telephone rates so we can use the phone in our business and have it available for legitimate calls. We very strongly resent the invasion of our premises via equipment we pay for by these sales, and especially computer calls. If I want to buy insurance and seek investment possibilities, I know how to contact the people I need.

While I would not want to restrict legitimate suppliers from being able to solicit our business via telephone, there must be some way to prohibit the invasion of our privacy by unwanted junk calls.

I am making it a practice not to buy anything from this type of call. Not only do these calls take my time and disturb my routine, but they take the secretary's time and tie up the line so that legitimate calls cannot get through.

Anything you can do to work toward the elimination of this annoyance will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
GORDON S. GLEASON"

For more on the subject of telephone solicitation, read on:

DEAR ABBY: You told readers who resent being called on the telephone by someone soliciting business to say, "Because you've inconvenienced me, I'll not buy your product or service."

I, too, am a salesman (insurance) who solicits by phone for many reasons. Some salesmen are too lazy to do otherwise; however, there are also valid reasons for telephone solicitation. First, our government has asked that we conserve gasoline, and secondly, I think a phone call is less of an intrusion than ringing someone's doorbell.

Abby, people who don't want to be bothered by soliciting salesmen should request an unlisted telephone number.

INSURANCE SALESMAN

DEAR SALESMAN: It costs money to have an unlisted telephone number. Furthermore, most people have a telephone for their own convenience—not a salesman's. And why must a private citizen be forced to choose between being bothered by a salesman who rings his doorbell OR one who calls him on the phone?

Forsan report Pioneer club meets here

FORSAN — The Pioneer Sewing Club met June 6 in the home of Myriene Rogers. There were thirteen members present and two visitors, Mrs. Jeff Green and Mrs. Lillian Chambers from Midland. Both are former residents of Forsan. Mrs. Chambers is a charter member of the Pioneer Sewing Club.

Various handicrafts were done by members. Members read a letter from the VA Hospital and one from the State Hospital.

Hostess for the afternoon was Opal Snelling. Refreshments were served, the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be June 20 at Myriene Rogers with Myriene acting as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Overton were in Levelland recently to attend a sheep sale. The date fell on their 22nd wedding anniversary, June 2.

Mrs. Emily Elrod flew to Houston June 9 to visit with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. H.K. Elrod, and daughter Mary Elizabeth. They attended Mary Elizabeth's first dance recital. Mrs. Elrod returned home on June 11 and she brought her granddaughter home with her for a visit.

German returned to home

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — A Montana senator wants immigration officials to compensate a young West German woman who was put on a return flight to her homeland when she arrived for a vacation with a six-month visa and a 10-month supply of contraceptive pills.

Heike Hagenbuecher of Ubersee, West Germany, landed in Denver last week for a vacation with Lee Sampson of Butte. The couple, both 21, met when Sampson was stationed in Germany with the U.S. Army.

Sampson says a 10-month supply of contraceptive pills and school records in Miss Hagenbuecher's luggage apparently made immigration officials suspicious. Sampson said his friend had no return ticket to Germany. He speculated that officials may have feared she was going to overstay her visitor's visa, possibly using her school records to get work.

Sampson appealed to U.S. Sen. John Melcher, D-Mont., who says the U.S. Naturalization and Immigration Service was high-handed.

"The service acted totally illegally," Melcher said Wednesday in Washington. "I want that girl returned here at government expense, and I want her compensated for her inconvenience."

Melcher is especially upset that Miss Hagenbuecher was ordered onto a return plane without a hearing.

"Everyone is entitled to a hearing, and this girl was denied due process," Melcher said. "I want this thing straightened out soon."

But Melcher said he does not expect an answer from the immigration service in less than a week. "Nobody here (in Washington) replies to anything in less than a week," Melcher said.

Sampson said he had arranged for Miss Hagenbuecher's trip to the United States and drove to Denver to meet her.

At the airport, he said, he was approached by a woman who identified herself as an employee of the Immigration Service.

"She asked me if I was waiting for a girl from Germany," Sampson recalled. "I told her I was, and she asked me if Heike and I were going to be married. I told her we had no marriage plans for the immediate future."

Sampson said the woman then told him Miss Hagenbuecher was being returned to Germany and the only thing he could do was "go before a judge and if you lose she will lose her visitor's privileges for one year."

"They would not let me talk to Heike to explain about going to court," he said. "The next time I saw her, I saw her head going through a crowd out to the plane."

'Proposition 13': like Carter's win

WASHINGTON (AP) — There used to be a bumper sticker and button slogan that read "For Carter Before New Hampshire."

It meant, in theory, that the bearer had supported Jimmy Carter for president before he was recognized as a winner. The closer he got to the White House, the more popular the slogan became.

And by the time he won, it turned out that Carter had more early season supporters than anyone had imagined. Now it is happening again, not with a candidate but with an issue. It's amazing the number of politicians who were for Proposition 13, or some kindred answer to a taxpayer revolt, before Californians voted 2-1 to sharply cut their property taxes.

They don't necessarily endorse the California measure chapter and verse, but they claim to have seen it coming and, frequently, to have done something about it. Or at least to have tried.

In Congress, there is a new crop of proposals for amendment of the Constitution to mandate a balanced budget, and of demands that federal spending be curbed. Most of them are Republican offerings, but it took Democratic votes, too, for the House to order a hefty cut in appropriations for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare. The reductions could add up to $1.8 billion if they get the rest of the way through Congress.

"I think President Carter addressed this issue in 1976," says Democratic National Chairman John White. "As a result of the budget deficiencies that have been built up since 1968... this is what President Carter ran about. Tax reform, tax relief, and it is a continuation of that agenda."

Carter said he hopes Congress will get the message of the California tax referendum, cut taxes and hold down spending.

"Our main concern about Congress is not unacceptable levels of spending too low, but too high," he said. Carter and White both said that the massive cuts mandated by California voters are likely to hurt lower income groups most dependent on government services. But he quickly added that he has no criticism of the vote.

"... I think everyone in the country has gotten the message," he told a group of visiting editors. "I certainly welcome this kind of experimentation in our country."

It was mostly money, but there also was a flavor of resentment against government and officialdom in the California tax vote.

"It started in '76," said White. "That is what the campaign of '76 was about." Republican Chairman Bill Brock agreed. "That's what elected Jimmy Carter," he said in a joint appearance with White on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

JUST LOOKING — Heidi, a seven-year-old St. Bernard, looks as though she's just paid a visit to the local taxidermist. Actually she's visiting a Prince George, B.C., a friend whose understanding masters have cut a hole in the fence so their dog can keep an eye on what's happening.

Small fish endangered Dam project stopped

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Officials are pondering what to do with a nearly completed $119 million dam the Supreme Court says cannot be finished because it would destroy the home of a three-inch fish.

"I guess if all else fails," quipped Gov. Ray Blanton, "I'll have our Department of Tourism look into putting together a campaign of private solicitations to buy the dam for a tourist attraction. We'll promote it as the world's largest monument to the world's smallest fish."

In a 6-3 decision, the court ruled Thursday that the Endangered Species Act prohibits the Tennessee Valley Authority from closing the gates of its Tellico Dam 25 miles southwest of Knoxville and turning the river habitat of the snail darter into a reservoir.

"There are alternatives other than scrapping the project, alternatives which may even produce better benefits for the people than the original project," TVA Chairman S. David Freeman said.

The alternatives mentioned thus far by TVA and other government officials include allowing the structure to stand as a "dry dam," knocking a hole in it or tearing it down altogether.

These would abandon the 16,500-acre lake the dam would have created and the envisioned shoreline industrial parks for easing high unemployment in the rural counties surrounding the project.

In an opinion dissenting from the court's majority, Justice Lewis Powell said he has little doubt that Congress will amend the Endangered Species Act.

"There will be little sentiment to leave this dam standing before an empty reservoir, serving no purpose other than a conversation piece for incredulous tourists," Powell said.

Chief Justice Warren Burger wrote, however, in the majority opinion that Congress' intent "was to halt and reverse the trend toward species extinction, whatever the costs."

A bill to establish a seven-member, Cabinet-level panel to review federal projects that would harm or destroy endangered species was reported out of committee and sent to the Senate floor last month.

The panel would have the authority to exempt such projects from the 1973 Endangered Species Act if it determined they were more beneficial than preserving the species involved.

The Interior Department says 11 projects were either under construction or being planned where there is such a potential conflict.

"There's no need for an amendment," said Zygmund Plater, a Wayne State University law professor who argued the court case against TVA. "There's no need for a solution to a problem that doesn't exist."

Plater has made the 3-year-old Davis vs. Goliath court battle between the darter's supporters and the giant government utility a cause celebre for conservationists in their fight against industrial development.

The 17-mile stretch of the Little Tennessee River is the darter's only known natural habitat and also is one of the region's few remaining unspoiled trout streams.

DAM PROJECT STOPPED — The Supreme Court ruled Thursday that work on the $116 million Tellico Dam project, outlined in photo and labeled, must stop in order to protect a rare and endangered species of tiny fish, the Snail Darter. The court ruled that the Endangered Species Act bars completion of the dam and Tellico Reservoir.

Carter helping Briscoe with a refusal

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — President Carter is making a political payoff to Gov. Dolph Briscoe and the Democratic Party in Texas by refusing to turn over documents sought as evidence by the Zavala County Economic Development Corp., says the head of the agency.

Thursday's comments by Jesus Salas came in reaction to Carter's claim Wednesday of executive privilege as the reason why he had refused to turn over the nine documents.

The documents were to be used as evidence in the agency's federal court suit, filed earlier this year, seeking reinstatement of an $855,000 grant from the Community Services Administration.

The 1976 grant was blocked by Briscoe, who said it would be used to create a "Little Cuba" in the Southwest Texas county.

"We respect the president's right to meet with his advisors, but it seems a little strange that the White House acted only three days after Carter's inaugural to respond to Briscoe's pressure and suspend the grant," Salas said.

"There is no question that the White House is making a political payoff to Briscoe and the Democratic Party in Texas. We thought Carter would be more forthright," added Salas.

"It's unfortunate that Carter has forgotten his promise prior to the election to have an open government. He now hides behind the rhetoric of executive privilege, just like Nixon did in Watergate."

The corporation was created by Zavala County Judge Jose Angel Gutierrez, a founder of La Raza Unida Party and a staunch political foe of Briscoe.

The $855,000 grant is part of a $1.5 million CSA grant to the corporation to create an agricultural cooperative, an import-export business and a savings and loan company.

Service operation aids companies in trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — A company on the skids often continues in that direction, its management either paralyzed into inactivity or panicked into reinforcing the very procedures that began the fall.

It is at that point that the company's financier, or perhaps its lawyers or accountants, calls on firms like Service Resources Corp., once described as a "have hatchet, will travel" operation.

Service Resources goes in and chops away, not it says at the sinew and muscle, but at the fat, which often means nonproductive personnel and hoary procedures. The outraged howls of management are ignored.

The company is trimmed down, refinanced, assigned management priorities and procedures. But, said Morton Sheer, president, "we stay around for a year to make sure they don't fall back into the old habits."

KIDNAPPING SUSPECT TO COURT — Kenneth A. Appleby, 27 of West Springfield, Mass., right, a suspect in the kidnapping torture and murder of several young men from New York City is led into Hampden Superior Court by a court officer Thursday in Springfield, Mass. Appleby's bail was reduced in the court hearing from $100,000 to $75,000.

Kidnapping suspect has bail reduced

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A burly, bearded pawnbroker with reported Nazi sympathies is sitting in jail today, suspected of luring young homosexuals from New York's Greenwich Village to torture sessions with leg irons and chains.

Out behind his tarpaper shanty, a backhoe is ripping through a tiny yard looking for bodies — perhaps as many as seven, according to one published report.

Kenneth Appleby, 27, whose friends described him as a "gentleman" and the "greatest human alive," was held on $100,000 bail on a charge of kidnapping.

Today police resumed their digging, bringing in a second backhoe to continue their painstaking search for bodies.

"We found nothing," police Capt. Richard Kulig said Wednesday after 10 hours of digging.

"We're looking for one specific body in particular, and there may be others," Matthew Ryan Jr., Hampden-Berkshire district attorney, said Wednesday.

Kulig also said police were considering bringing new charges against the pawnbroker after a hitchhiker told them he was forced to take drugs at a gunpoint.

Kulig said the hitchhiker approached police Wednesday and said he had been picked up by Appleby, who took him to his hut and then forced him to take drugs. The young man told them that he passed out, and when he awoke, he was being rushed to a hospital in a police cruiser for treatment of a drug overdose.

The New York Daily News reported today that five informants, acknowledged homosexuals, believed as many as seven Manhattan teenagers who were taken to Appleby's house "Never returned to the city."

Weekend march to honor

Padre's heirs return

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — About 200 years after a Spanish priest was granted a strip of land along the Gulf Coast his heirs are returning by foot to the island named in the padre's honor.

The weekend march from the Cameron County courthouse here will mark the latest effort by Padre Nicolas Balli's ancestors to claim Padre Island — land they say they legally own.

The dilemma is not a new one. Persons claiming to be Balli heirs have tried for decades to claim the now valuable property. They have been largely frustrated in the courts and spokesman Juan Gonzales of Brownsville said the weekend march will be a call for a new federal investigation.

"We can walk in there and kick everybody out," he said, indicating the Ballis feel they have been wronged in the courts. "Are we going to be nice about this or are we going to defend what is rightfully ours? It's up to the government."

The group claims that land legally granted by the king of Spain to Padre Balli has been illegally and unethically taken from them.

There have been previous federal investigations. A 1954 letter from the Department of State reported "each and every claim of this character to be wholly without foundation or merit."

But the purported heirs disagree on what they want. Gonzales wants it all.

"There can be no cash settlement now. We'll get justice from the government or we'll get it ourselves," he said.

He said there has been no thought as to how the land would be divided among the heirs if it was returned.

But Maria Estrella Perez, a Brownsville attorney, is taking what she sees as a more realistic approach. She does not foresee a day when the current landowners will turn over their property.

"I don't think that would happen even by some miracle," the lawyer, who also claims to be an heir, said.

Ms. Perez is aiming at cash payments set at current land values.

Macedonio Balli of Brownsville agrees. He said the government should act quickly in an effort to avert violence.

"I will not be the type to say, 'this is my land you get out of here,'" he said. "But they are making a march this weekend. What next?"

Jim Davenport and Nick Malant believe "next" should be more research by the claimants. Davenport is an abstractor and Malant is a title attorney here. Both have done extensive work in the often perplexing South Texas land situation.

Davenport said he has never seen an abstract of the island. He said such research might aid in answering the questions.

Both said the claimants will be hard-pressed to prove they are heirs.

"Padre Balli very good at his job. He baptised thousands of indians and gave them his name," Davenport said.

Ms. Perez agreed that "a lot of people claiming to be heirs are not."

Malant said many of the titles on the island are "questionable." He said it takes months and perhaps years of work to trace claims.

"If they sold the land they have nothing to claim," Malant said.

And even if those sales took place at the end of a gun barrel they might be hard to contest," he said.

"Sure maybe some of the sales were questionable but there's no one around to say. Unless you hold a seance."

Eleven-year-old faces surgery with courage

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two days before the open heart surgery, Dr. Linton Whitaker and his son sat down in the library of their home and studied medical diagrams and talked man-to-man about the operation.

The boy, who knew the odds, felt good about it all.

"I am confident," he wrote in his diary.

On Monday, Derek Whitaker died on the operating table, a victim of an illness of the heart called tetralogy of fallot.

He was 11 years old. He had chanced death over the prospect of riding out life in a wheelchair, but his heart, damaged since birth, failed to carry on the gritty fight.

Whitaker, a plastic surgeon who practices at Children's Hospital and the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, said his son's defective heart had been shutting off blood to a lung.

Derek showed "extraordinary depth" in understanding his illness and its implications, his father said in an interview Wednesday.

"He had tremendous drive," said his mother, Renata. "He wanted to excel athletically, as well as intellectually. He never had any sense of being incapacitated. In fact, his friends at school never knew about his problem."

School was prestigious Episcopal Academy where Derek was at the top of his accelerated class. He had wanted someday to be a cardiac surgeon and take care of those whose hearts, like his own, were not right.

But in the meantime, as if it were something important to be proved, he would play baseball. He practiced almost daily, drilling a ball against the bricks of the chimney attached to the large stone home in suburban Wynnewood.

Not long ago he wrote in his diary, "I didn't make the baseball team. So what! I'll show them yet!"

Monday's seven-hour operation took place at the cardiac center of the University of Alabama. It was the boy's third. The first came 30 hours after he was born; the second at age 6.

Doctors gave the boy a good chance of surviving surgery. But Derek's heart would not start again when the operation was over.

TGIFing...

Sometimes, the good judgment of Howard Smith, the AP's TV Sports columnist, leaves a great deal to be desired. More than "sometimes," let's say numerous times.

Exemplifying the reason I rarely use his stories in the paper was his recent comment about the Holmes-Norton fight. In discussing the fact that the bout was a rating success, Smith stated "It was a marvelous fight."

Marvelous! Marvelous!!! The only aspect of it that was "marvelous" was that Howard Cosell was strangely mute for much of it. Smith raved about the fight because it outdrew "such network mainstays" as The Fonz, Laverne and Shirley and Charlie's Angels.

Big deal. That's like saying tickets to an After-The-Pilling Dance given by Atilla the Hun outsold the Ice Age. Who would want to go to either one?

ABC estimates that 45 million people saw some portion of the fight. Yeah, and I'll buy my next used car from Nixon.

INDISCRIMINATELY SPEAKING

Hank Stram, who worked as an analyst for CBS during the 1975-76 NFL season and then made a two-year return to coaching, via the wheel-spinning New Orleans Saints, has rejoined CBS in the same capacity for this year.

Stram has been involved in coaching since his graduation from Purdue. He has been honored as either the AFL, AFC, or pro football's Coach of the Year on four occasions.

His pro coaching record stands at 131 victories, 97 defeats and 10 ties (21 of those losses in New Orleans). He ranks seventh among all coaches in the victory ranks and was third in wins among active coaches at the end of the 77-78 season, behind only Don Shula and Tom Landry.

A 416-page volume entitled "The Red Raiders — The History of Texas Tech Football," written by Ralph L. Sellmeyer and James E. Davidson, will be released this July by Strode Publishers of Huntsville, Ala.

The history of the Tech football program from the first game in the fall of 1925 through the 1977 Tangerine Bowl is included. It will sell for $9.95.

Can I order you a dozen Marj? — One of the most popular baseball players of the 1880's was a catcher-outfielder named Michael Joseph "King" Kelly, who played for Cincinnati, Chicago, New York and Boston. Kelly was a good hitter and a great baserunner. When he tried to steal a base, his fans would shout, "Slide, Kelly, Slide!" This made him famous.

One day, when he was sitting on the bench, an opposing batter hit a high foul ball that none of Kelly's teammates would have been able to catch. Kelly leaped off the bench and went after the ball. At the same time he was shouting to the umpire, "Kelly now catching!"

Kelly caught the ball, but the umpire refused to allow the catch. "It's not against the rules," Kelly was reported to have said. "It says in the book that substitutions can be made at any time." The ump still wouldn't call the batter out. But Kelly was right. That winter, because of Kelly, a new rule was written into the book stating that a player could not enter the game while the ball was in play.

Zisk booed

CHICAGO (AP) — Richie Zisk returned to the scene of his 1977 heroics and found the fans less than appreciative.

Uncomplimentary banners greeted the former White Sox slugger as he came back Wednesday night with the Texas Rangers for a two-game series with Chicago.

He was showered with boos when he came to bat and objects when he took his position in left field. Zisk said, "They booed me every time up. It was a little strong last night. But now I understand. I'm a professional and I understand," he said Thursday night after the White Sox swept the series with a 3-1 victory.

Why such a cool reception for the man who hit 30 homers, drove in 101 runs and batted 290 last season? Zisk says it's the $2.9-million, 10-year contract he got by signing with Texas as a free agent.

"It was vindictive. I left for the big money. That's the only reason they booed," he said. "All they can see is an athlete making big bucks. They have to work nine to five and it's tough to make ends meet."

But, he added, "you have to take care of yourself. I won't say the money wasn't a factor. It was. But there were a lot of personal things."

Bill Vecek felt he had to take care of himself so he didn't sign Oscar and myself. Oscar Gamble, who hit 31 homers for Chicago last season, went to San Diego as a free agent after Vecek, the Sox owner, did not sign him.

RECORD IN SIGHT — Nancy Lopez, the 21-year-old golfing sensation from Roswell, N.M., takes a breather Thursday during a practice round for the LPGA tournament at Rochester, N.Y. Nancy has four straight wins behind her and is trying for an unprecedented fifth victory.

Pin placements, wind, heat, rough lead Open

DENVER (AP) — Ben Crenshaw's 8 on the par-4 16th hole was testimony to it. So were Tom Kite's 7 on the par-4 18th, and the pair of double-bogeys that stung defending champion Hubert Green.

"I thought the golf course certainly had the upper hand on most of the fellows today," said Jack Nicklaus, whose 2-over-par 73 put him 4 strokes back of first-round leader Hale Irwin at the 78th U.S. Open Championship.

Difficult pin placements, a swirling wind and Cherry Hills' deep rough caused scores to soar Thursday. "If these conditions continue, 290 might win," said Nicklaus, who earlier in the week had predicted the winner would need a four-round total of less than 280.

Only four players bettered par, led by Irwin's conservatively played 69. Andy North, J. C. Snead and 18-year-old amateur Bob Clampett carded 1-under 70s.

"This country club golf course that I heard someone call it earlier in the week has turned into something more than that," said Arnold Palmer, who was commissioned to toughen up the layout for this year's event. "This course is playing very difficult."

Palmer, whose only Open title came at Cherry Hills in 1960, suffered a double-bogey 5 in a bout with the rough at No. 15 and finished at 76.

It could have been worse. PGA titlist Lanny Wadkins had a 77, as did Tom Weiskopf. Crenshaw, 1973 Open winner Johnny Miller and 1975 champion Lou Graham took 78s. Carding 79s were Steve Melnyk, Rik Massengale and Gil Morgan. Fuzzy Zoeller took an 80.

Then there was Bob Impaglia, a 25-year-old from Auburn, N.Y., who qualified for his tour card just last week. Impaglia's problems weren't as directly related to the course as to officials of the U.S. Golf Association.

NBA grappling with rules again

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The National Basketball Association has grappled once again with the sticky problem of the "illegal" zone defense.

This time, they've come up with new wording of the rule which prohibits zones and provides stricter penalties for violations.

Whether this will help on the basketball court remains to be seen.

"Wording is something you use to describe what is happening, and in basketball that can sometimes be very difficult," said Jack Ramsay, the erudite coach of the Portland Trail Blazers. "One man's zone, which is illegal, is another man's press, which is legal. This is something we hope to work out thoroughly with the referees before the start of next season."

The NBA Board of Governors, at its annual summer meeting which ended Thursday, voted to accept the recommendation of the league's Competition and Rules Committee and "put some teeth into the zone rule," according to committee Chairman Joe Axelson, president of the Kansas City Kings.

The key change in the rule is a note which states, "When a ball has passed center court, no defensive player can guard an area of the court instead of guarding an opponent."

Most teams which use zones use them in the form of halfcourt presses, where two players double-team the man with the ball and the other three guard areas of the floor. If the above note is enforced, that would not be allowed.

In addition, the league retained the defensive three-second violation, which prohibits a defensive player from standing within the key for three seconds if he is "making no effort to play an opponent."

Regarding penalties, the zone warning was eliminated so that the first time a violation is called, a technical foul is issued. The second violation brings a double technical, the third a double technical plus "action by the Commissioner."

"This is to get away from the teams which have played out-of-zone for eight to 10 minutes at a time," explained NBA Supervisor of Officials Norm Drucker. "You may trap and press all you want. However, every other man on your team must be playing a man; therefore, by definition, you will be leaving a man open. I don't think many teams can afford to do that for very long."

Drucker, a referee in the pro ranks for over 20 years, concedes that even with the language, the zone defense is a tough violation to call.

"A good man-to-man has some semblance of a zone in it, with switching and so forth," said Drucker. "We recognize it's something of a gray area, but we believe this gives us something more substantial to work with."

The addition of a third referee, another change approved by the Board of Governors, should make matters easier.

Lopez will be charging

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth fully expects Nancy Lopez to charge after one of her most cherished Ladies Professional Golf Association records.

"I'm betting on her not to fold," Whitworth said of Lopez' bid for a fifth straight victory this week, unparalleled in the LPGA's 28 years.

If she wins the $75,000 tournament that began today at Locust Hill Country Club, Lopez would break the tie with Mickey Wright, Shirley Englehorn and Whitworth as winners of four in a row.

Whitworth is the only one of the record holders who will witness Lopez' bid firsthand. Wright and Englehorn are not entered.

Pat Bradley was risking her championship in a field of 90 pros and six amateurs in the 54-hole event, which is sponsored by the Bankers Trust Co. of Western New York.

He had been cruising along with a 1-over 36 on the front nine when the USGA socked him with a 2-stroke penalty for slow play — the first such penalty ever leveled against a player in an Open. Impaglia promptly came apart, ballooning to a 47 on the back side for an 83.

Last minute trades shuffle players up

By the Associated Press

"You've been traded," Charles O. Finley said over the phone to the clubhouse. "I think you'll be happy where you're going."

"Where am I going?" "To the New York Yankees."

That's how Gary

Thomasson learned Thursday that the Oakland A's were sending him to the defending world champions of baseball for outfielder Dell Alston, infielder Mickey Klutts and "a substantial amount of cash."

Thomasson was in an Oakland uniform just ready to take batting practice before a game with the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park when he got news of the deal, one of several last-minute transactions before the major league trading deadline.

The A's were among the busiest of teams before the midnight EDT deadline, also shipping catcher Gary Alexander to Cleveland for outfielder Joe Wallis, who himself had been acquired only a few hours earlier by the Indians from the Chicago Cubs.

The Indians made three deals, adding some offensive clout with the addition of Alexander and Bernie Carbo from Boston in a late cash acquisition that beat the final gun by minutes. Earlier, Cleveland's wheeler-dealers had sent Mike Vail to Chicago for Wallis before completing the deal for Alexander.

The Cubs, meanwhile, also made a deal with San Francisco, acquiring pitcher Lynn McGlothen for outfielder Hector "Helty" Cruz and a player to be named later in lieu of cash.

Infielder Roger Metzger and outfielder Jim Dwyer also became members of the Giants. Metzger went to San Francisco from the Houston Astros for either a player to be named later.

Rangers fall to hot Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty days ago, the Chicago White Sox were buried in the American League West cellar with a 12-28 record, a distant 12½ games out of first place.

Today they are 29-30 and a mere 2½ games off the lead.

In that run of 17 victories in 19 games, Chicago has outscored its opponents 95-48, giving up an average of 2½ runs per game.

The yield was even less Thursday night when Steve Stone and Lerrin Lagrow shackled the punchless Texas Rangers on three hits for a 3-1 victory.

"The pitchers are pitching. We've had good defense. Everybody keeps asking me that (why the pitching is so good). I don't know," said Chicago Manager Bob Lemon.

"Maybe it's getting in rotation. At the beginning of the season it was cold. We'd have rainouts and guys would go five, six or seven days without a start."

"Everybody was down on us two weeks ago except us," said designated hitter Ron Blomberg, who belted a solo homer, his fourth of the season, and singled home another run. "We have 25 good ballplayers and everybody is carrying the team. Ron Schueler carried us yesterday. I had a good day today."

Texas has managed just seven hits in its last three games, including one off Kansas City's Rich Gale on Tuesday, and three each off Stone and Schueler, who beat the Rangers Wednesday night 4-1.

"If our ball club had the last three games had faced Bob Gibson, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, I could see seven hits in three days," said Texas' Richie Zisk. "But not against those guys. They're good pitchers but not in the class of those other guys."

"All I can say is we stink."

"They're trying and they feel worse about it than I do," said Texas Manager Billy Hunter. "It's just frustrating when you have the kind of talent we have and you look at the scoreboard in the fifth inning and it says no hits next to the Rangers."

That's what has happened in each of the Rangers' last three games.

Rookie Bobby Thompson got the first hit off Stone, a double with two outs in the sixth inning, and scored on Mike Hargrove's single. Stone had been untouchable until then, retiring the first 12 batters.

"I had very good control and I was throwing the ball exactly where I wanted to in every situation," said Stone, 6-4, who left the game after eight innings when Lemon told him his curve ball was starting to rise. Lagrow yielded only a walk to Zisk in the ninth.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1978

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Find out just where you do stand with others. By doing so you know exactly what your responsibilities are and the manner in which you can best handle them to everyone's advantage. Devise a better campaign of action.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Have more self-confidence in handling business matters. Avoid one who might be working against you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study contracts and handle them intelligently. Situations arise that can help you in your work. Be most careful in driving.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handling duties wisely will help you get what you want now. Take exercise or treatments that will improve health.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can make headway via social affairs since you make interesting contacts that way. Creative ideas should be studied well and bugs ironed out. Take time for interesting reading.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) There are situations arising at home which if not curbed now could assume serious proportions. Find the point of tension and get rid of it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make use of data that will help you to work more harmoniously with associates. Enjoy family and friends and much goodwill comes of it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Put in economy measures now so that you build up a reserve quickly for possible need later. Study a new outlet that will help you to have a greater income, also. Drive carefully.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Go after personal goals quietly and gain them easily now. See friends who really understand you. Fine things can come of this.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are able to solve problems conveniently and confidentially today. Show true affection for mate to get right results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you have to be with good friends today, take care not to make any snide remarks. Try to please them more instead of yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take care you do not risk your well-built reputation in any fashion now. Pay pressing bills and keep credit intact.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take a new attitude now and solve a problem that has been difficult to do in the past. Use more modern methods. You may have to take a trip soon, so make arrangements now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will carefully study every phase of confusing conditions and emerge with the solution and truth of all. Slant education along investigative lines, whether in laboratories, research files for the government, medical reports, etc. Add philosophy to school curricula early.

2 Promoters Are Getting in Way of Fighters

THERE'S THIS PROBLEM. You have two World Heavyweight Champions, and only one world. How, then, do you make one and one equal one? Simple. You just put Leon Spinks in the ring with Larry Holmes and let them fight it out. Not so simple.

The problem isn't so much getting Spinks and Holmes together as it is getting Don King and Bob Arum into the same ring. They are the promoters. They are so busy fighting each other, they get in the way of their fighting each other.

Bob Arum, contractually, controls Leon Spinks. Don King controls Larry Holmes, contractually, affectionally, jealously, and most any other way you can think of. Don King originally managed Larry Holmes, until it became indiscreet under the stuffy rules of boxing commissions which say that a promoter cannot manage a fighter he promotes.

Freed by Lincoln

So, Don King transferred ownership to his son, Carl King, figuring nobody would see the clever connection, but they did, so Don King elevated from trainer to manager, Richie Giachetti, a trusted and loyal King's guard.

Newsmen, trying to trace the deed on Larry Holmes, asked King the question: "Is Richie Giachetti the sole owner of Larry Holmes today?"

At which point Larry Holmes interceded with "Nobody owns me but me. Lincoln freed me."

That may be all very constitutional and conversational, but for operating purposes, it is essential to know who controls Larry Holmes' contract, and you can bet the answer comes up Don King in any computer with brain one.

So, you have two heavyweight champs, each controlled by a promoter who won't do business with the other promoter, ostensibly. Arum gladly would promote a Spinks-Holmes fight, some time into the future, without Don King being involved, and Don King would gladly promote the ecumenical match if Bob Arum would be so kind as to get lost.

Once before, a similar condition existed, and love brought together Don King and Bob Arum. Love of money. They joined forces in order to put over the All-Bugner fight, a closed circuit TV promotion out of Malaysia in the summer of 1975 you may recall. It was a detente of a slightly different nature; King had the fighters and Arum had the world-wide theatres.

"I gave him a $450,000 fee because of my great altruism," says Don King. "I thought he would do the right thing, but there is nothing honorable about Bob Arum."

That is one of the nicer things King says about Arum.

Somehow, I have intense faith that their mutual love of money will bring together Don King and Bob Arum eventually, thus melding the WBC and WBA championships into one. If all were to eliminate Spinks from the complex picture in their September fight, life would be simplified. All would be much easier to get into the ring with Larry Holmes. Toward that possible end, Herbert Muhammad, All's manager, was in Las Vegas last week, not just watching the Holmes-Norton wing-ding, but talking turkey with Don King.

Until all this is resolved, Leon Spinks will walk around with the WBA crown, which is made of black felt and has a convenient sweatband for filling things, and Larry Holmes walks around with his crown, which was created out of thin air for Ken Norton by the WBC, and which was won by Holmes with a flurry of fists in the 15th round the other night.

There is nothing much alike about the two present heavyweight champs except their skin-coloring and their paucity of formal education. Larry Holmes dropped out of 7th grade in Easton, Pa. He is, however, much brighter and wittier than Spinks. Some of this can be attributable to Larry's having lived 28 years to Spinks' 24, but mostly it is a difference in personality.

Holmes is warmer than Spinks, more at ease, more inclined toward candor. He supplies answers readily, even to explain that he has two daughters whom he loves very much, and no wives. "I've never been married, and I'm not going to get married," he says, with all the confidence he shows in the ring.

Easton Nice, Quiet Town

Misty, 10, and Lisa, 8, are looked after by Larry's widowed mother, Flossie Holmes, in Easton, P.A., as Larry says it. He loves Easton, P.A., and intends staying there. He is loyal.

"Why not?" he says. "It's a nice, quiet town, and I can raise my kids there."

Loyalty makes Larry Holmes feel comfortable. "The man put out money every week," he says of Don King. "He gave me $200 a week for nine months, and didn't take any of it back when I started to make it. I can't go to Bob Arum or Madison Square Garden. Arum didn't live up to his word on Norton. That's why the WBC was right to take away Spinks' title. I hope they do it to me if I ever run out on my word."

Grimsley wins 11th

By the Associated Press

Ross Grimsley, John Montefusco and Rick Rhoden all pitched strongly Thursday in leading their teams to National League victories on the West Coast. Surprisingly, Montefusco was not the most outspoken of the trio.

Despite pitching a complete game and striking out 11 in San Francisco's 6-1 victory over Philadelphia, the Giants' "Count" was out-talked by Grimsley several hundred miles down the California coast. The Montreal left-hander beat San Diego 3-1 for his 11th triumph of the year, tops in the majors, then spoke his piece regarding the club he signed with as a free agent last winter.

"Even though our hitters have been in a slump lately," said Grimsley, 11-3, "I still had confidence they would get me enough runs to win just like they've been doing all season.

"This team is better than the Orioles," he added, referring to his team last year. "If we had this outfield in Baltimore last year, we could have won the pennant."

That outfield consists of Andre Dawson, Warren Cromartie and Ellis Valentine, who smashed his eighth homer of the season to support Grimsley Thursday. In the only other National League contest, the Dodgers' Rhoden and Charlie Hough combined on a five-hit 3-0 shutout of the New York Mets.

Giants 6, Phillies 1

Montefusco likewise credited his mates for making him successful.

"I shouldn't have won five in a row," said Montefusco, 6-2. "The other guys carried me for a while, they were saving me. I was giving up five runs a game and still winning or getting no decision.

Larry Herndon's two-run triple in a four-run first inning and Jack Clark's two-run double in the second carried the Giants to the triumph and a 2½ game lead in the NL West over idle Cincinnati.

'Camp of Champs' coming

It's hard to beat a good summer training program when it comes to specialized development of all-around basketball skills. That's one reason why the annual Camp of Champs for boys fifth grade through junior varsity has been sold out for the past five seasons.

This year the camp is scheduled for July 17 to July 28 at Howard College in Big Spring with Harold Wilder again in charge as Director and Chief Instructor.

At the Camp of Champs the young player receives skilled instruction in individual offense, dribbling and ball handling, shooting, defensive positioning and team play, plus physical fitness and conditioning. There are chalk talks and league games at night in which the practical application of new skills under game conditions is stressed.

In addition, the camps include tournaments in bowling, ping pong, checkers plus movies and video tape of campers in action.

Boys can attend for one week or two. For information contact Harold Wilder, Camp Director, Howard College, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

World Cup action waiting

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Claudio Coutinho, coach of the Brazilian soccer team, says one way to win the World Cup is to keep his players away from Rosario as long as possible.

Rosario is an Argentine industrial town where soccer madness has gone through the roof. The whole place is in an uproar as Argentina plays its three second-round games there in a bid to reach the final.

Brazil has to face Argentina at Rosario Sunday in one of the most vital games of the championships.

"We shall go there as late as possible Saturday," a team spokesman said. "I don't want my players to spend too much time in that atmosphere. We shall stay where we are at Mendoza. It's quieter and more restful for the team."

Argentina downed Poland 2-0 at Rosario Wednesday, and Polish Coach Jacek Gmoch said the fervor of the crowd was worth two or three extra players to the home team.

"You won't find soccer fans like these anywhere else in the world," he said. "They know how to destroy opponents."

"Many of the people in the crowd have whistles, like the referee. Every time we got the ball the fans blew their whistles, and our players hesitated because they thought they were offside."

The second round of the tournament is being played in two groups, with the top team in each group going into the final at Buenos Aires' River Plate stadium June 25.

In Sunday's games, Italy meets Austria and West Germany plays Holland in Group A, while Argentina faces Brazil and Poland takes on Peru in Group B.

Borg keeps on winning

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — Bjorn Borg defeated Zeljko Franulovic 6-2, 6-2, 9-7 in the final singles match to clinch Sweden's Davis Cup quarter-final victory over Yugoslavia.

Earlier, Zoltan Ilin of Yugoslavia had defeated Sweden's Benny Svansson 4-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3 to tie the match at 2-2.

Meanwhile, in other golf...

GRAND BLAN, Mich. — Barney Thompson fired a 4-under-par 68 to take the first-round lead in the $100,000 Buick Open golf championship.

Bunched in second place at 69 were Rex Caldwell, Bobby Walzel, New Zealand's John Lister, Canadian Jim Nelford, Bill Calfee and Greg Powers.

TOKYO — Hisashi Suzumura of Japan shot a 7-under-par 65 and took a 1-stroke lead after the first round of the $116,000 Sapporo Tokyo golf tournament.

Bengals sign Kent Stater

CINCINNATI (AP) — Kim Featsent, a 12th-round draft choice who played wide receiver at Kent State University, has signed a contract with the Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League.

The 6-foot-1, 260-pound Featsent caught 117 passes for 1,662 yards and eight touchdowns during his four-year career at Kent State.

Third-round draft choice Ted Vincent, a defensive lineman from Wichita State, came to terms with the Bengals late Wednesday.

Browns ink first five

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, who suffered through great embarrassment when their No. 2 draft pick failed to sign last season, now have their top five choices in the recent National Football League college player lottery under contract.

The first-round choices, Southern California linebacker Clay Matthews and Alabama receiver Ozzie Newsome, signed Thursday.

Matthews, who was the Browns' initial pick, signed six one-year contracts, while Newsome — who will be used by the Browns as a tight end — signed four one-year contracts.

Those two top prospects join punter-quarterback Johnny Evans of North Carolina State, the second-round pick, and third-round picks quarterback Mark Miller of Bowling Green and running back Larry Collins of Texas A&I in the Cleveland fold.

The Browns failed to sign former Ohio State punter Tom Skladany to a contract after drafting him No. 2 in 1977.

Midland Cubs edge 'Rillo

Jim Buckner's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning gave Midland a 7-6 Texas League baseball victory over Amarillo Thursday night.

In other Texas League action, Jackson edged Shreveport, 6-5, Tulsa blasted Arkansas, 10-2, and El Paso edged San Antonio, 5-4.

Buckner's run-scoring single came one inning after Joe Hernandez homered for Midland to give the Cubs a 6-4 tie with the Amarillo Gold Sox.

Bob Healy's single in the eighth inning broke a 5-5 tie and gave Jackson the one-run edge the Mets needed for their victory over the Shreveport Captains.

The Tulsa Drillers rode the strikeout pitching of Dave Rithetti and the slugging of Blair Stouffer and Marty Scott in an easy 10-2 victory over the Arkansas Travelers. Rithetti struck out eight and brought his pitching record to 3-1. Stouffer had four hits in five trips to the plate and Scott's single allowed him to keep his hitting streak alive. He has now hit safely in 17 games. Pat Darcy was the losing pitcher. He is now 2-1.

Gleaners class sets plans

The Gleaners Sunday School Class of Baptist Temple Church met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Jean Culpepper.

Mrs. Olean Melton presented the devotional with each class member.

Grand musical due Saturday

A grand musical sponsored by the senior choir of the Galilee Missionary Baptist Church in Midland will honor the Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Williams on their third anniversary with the church.

The church is located at 2204 North Fairground Road at Oak. Special events have been held all week. Tonight, the Rev. I. S. Moreland from Mt. Zion in Abilene will give the sermon with others assisting in the service including the Rev. Vance McDonald from Morning Star Baptist in Big Spring and pastors from Lubbock, Ozona, Lamesa, Midland and Odessa.

Lunch will be served Sunday from 12:30 p.m. On Saturday night, special guests will include several Gospel singing groups from seven different churches.

Study shows too many clergy

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A study finds that most major Protestant denominations are facing a severe oversupply of clergy.

The trend toward excess clergy was found to be developing in 12 mainline, mostly white Protestant bodies, with the greatest oversupply in five of them — the Episcopal Church, United Church of Christ, United Methodist Church, United Presbyterian Church and Presbyterian Church U.S.

The job market for clergy is "tightening noticeably," says Jackson W. Carroll, Hartford Seminary Foundation researcher, who conducted the study with Robert L. Wilson of Duke University Divinity School.

Plans were discussed for visitation. Mrs. Winifred Wood and Mrs. Addie Hill were named to the nominating committee. Cohostesses were Mrs. Mable Cravens, Mrs. Dorothy Steele and Mrs. Wood. Mrs. Velma Roman was a visitor. The next meeting will be in September.

The young men and women of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints met for a luau, for their regular Wednesday night activity at 505 Dallas. The youth ate Hawaiian food, and then proceeded to get into a water fight. Summertime seems to be a natural invitation for water activities. Approximately 25 young people and their counselors and teachers were in attendance. The teachers and counselors and one or two young ones beat a fast retreat into the house when the water fight started. Other games were provided for those who did not choose to be drenched.

Mercy Ship helps Vietnamese

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A mercy ship to help Vietnamese boat refugees fleeing Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam is being launched by World Vision International, a Christian aid agency.

Its president, Stanley Mooneyham, says the 345-ton, 188-foot, LST-type landing ship will cruise the South China Sea and Gulf of Thailand, providing refugees with food, water, medicine, clothing and personal hygiene items.

He has traveled extensively throughout the Southwest, establishing groups in many areas. He is currently associated with Grace Gospel Fellowship in Calgary, Canada.

Terrell is from San Antonio and worked in Saudi Arabia prior to becoming a minister within the Southern Baptist denomination, pastoring churches in Louisiana and Oklahoma.

In 1969, he began interdenomination work in what has been called the Charismatic Movement.

Baby THROWN IN GARBAGE!

From Williamsport, Indiana, came this shocking story: "The body of a new-born baby boy was found, discarded as rubbish, at the Williamsport garbage dump. The body was found at 2:04 p.m., wrapped in two towels and a chenille throw rug, where it had been tossed on the dump near the intersection of U.S. 41 and Indiana 28. It is not known if the infant was alive or dead when it was abandoned."

What a black and bitter story! Who could have done such a thing? Do people capable of such things really exist? And what should be done to such unfeeling parents?

An Austin, Texas, mother and father left their three children, ages four through eight, at home while they went to Houston for the weekend. How can people be so negligent?

But, before we go on a tirade against these poor, shivered-up souls, could it be that you are just as guilty? Guilty of rearing children without knowledge of God and His plan that gives direction, meaning and purpose to life? What kind of parent would provide a home for eighteen years or so, and yet not guide the child regarding the rest of his life and eternity? What a tragedy that we teach a child how to make a living, but not how to live.

THE CONTINENTAL SINGERS
...will be coming to Big Spring soon

Hillcrest to host well-known music group

The 40-member "Continental Singers and Orchestra" will perform a live concert of contemporary Christian music in person on Monday, June 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Blending contemporary gospel music, spirituals, anthems, and hymn arrangements, this year's program, "Sing It With Love," will feature many of the most popular Christian songs being heard around the country today.

The 24 vocalists and 10-piece orchestra are completely self-contained, including their own sound and lighting equipment.

Performers are selected for the yearly 75-day summer tour by auditions from thousands of high school and college-age young people across the United States and in foreign countries. Auditions are held after each concert for future talent.

From their start in 1967, various editions of the "Continental Singers and Orchestra" have made more than 4,000 live appearances domestically and over 1,000 foreign appearances, before more than 2.5 million people. They have previously appeared in Big Spring.

This year, the "Continental Singers and Orchestra" will visit Russia for the first time. In addition to performing in every section of the United States, the summer tour includes Canada, 11 western European countries, and Great Britain, plus Poland, Yugoslavia, Israel, Fiji, Tahiti, Samoa, New Zealand and Bermuda.

They have recorded 13 record albums on the Word, Light, and New Life labels, plus their newest, "Sing It With Love," also on New Life Records.

"Continental Singers and Orchestra" are a presentation of Continental Ministries of Thousand Oaks, Calif., with Cam Florida, president.

Father's Day special set

The First Church of God, 2009 Main, is planning a very special Father's Day Sunday.

Baptist battle for steel works

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — American Baptist Church organizations have deposited $35,000 in an account in support of an interdenominational "Save our Valley" campaign to get Youngstown's Cambell steel works reopened.

The works were closed last September by the Lykes Corporation, leaving 5,000 workers without jobs. Protestant and Roman Catholic church groups are seeking to build up enough capital to convince the federal government to help finance reopening of the works, perhaps under community-worker ownership.

special recognition at the morning service. The Rev. Cliff Donaldson, associate pastor, will give the morning message entitled, "Two Dads."

There will be a Father-Son cookout on the church patio that afternoon at 5 o'clock prior to the evening service. A film called "My Son, My Son" will be shown at 6:30 p.m. Following the evening service, there will be a youth vs. adults volleyball game on the parking lot.

The members of First Church of God invite the public to visit any or all of the special activities on Father's Day.

"...AND SAID, VERILY I SAY UNTO YOU, EXCEPT YE BE CONVERTED, AND BECOME AS LITTLE CHILDREN, YE SHALL NOT ENTER INTO THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN, WHOSOEVER THEREFORE SHALL HUMBLE HIMSELF AS THIS LITTLE CHILD, THE SAME IS GREATEST IN THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN." MATTHEW 18:3-4.

Farm Research still being done on 'killer bees'

WASHINGTON (AP) —
Although some experts say that reports of "killer bees" in South America have been exaggerated, the Agriculture Department continues to spend money on projects to find out more about them and to chart their migration northward.
Since the early 1970s, the department has spent almost $250,000 in grants for studies of the bees, usually described as "Africanized honey bees" or hybrids which are more aggressive than their North American cousins.
The latest grant announced by USDA is for $50,821 to help researchers from the University of Kansas at Lawrence, to work in Venezuela to "assess the impact of the Africanized
honey bee on humans, beekeeping and agriculture."

Department and the Community Services Administration in July,
August and September.
Agriculture Secretary Bob
Bergland and CSA Director Graciela Olivarez announced the meetings
Thursday.
The two agencies budgeted $45,000 each to pay for the conferences. The money will pay the travel and overnight expenses for a delegation of eight farmers from each state. Those will be selected by a committee in each state.
Only one of the regional meetings will be attended by a state's delegation.

According to the department's Science and Education Administration, the money will finance the Venezuela project for one year.
Other grants for similar work in South America include a four-year project costing $125,000 announced in 1974, and another for $26,300 the same year to Brazilian scientists.
Earlier, USDA provided $40,000 to the National Academy of Sciences for a study of the bees, including a trip to Brazil by a team of experts in 1971. The report on the team's findings was made public in August 1972.
Reports written about the Africanized bees have included a wide range of language relating to their reputed ferocity and deadliness.
For example, the 1972 report described the bees as "both objectionable and dangerous" to humans and animals. But the scientists also warned against inflammatory news coverage.
"An unfavorable press will exaggerate the problem, as it has in Brazil," the 1972 report said. "The problem is likely to be magnified all out of proportion if the Brazilian bees get wide adverse press coverage."
The bee situation began in 1956 when some queen bees from Africa were introduced into Brazil with the intention of improving the European types of bees there. But some of the queens and their swarms escaped in 1957.
Those established the so-called Africanized hybrid bees which have spread gradually into other parts of South America, raising concern that they eventually may migrate into the United States.
A USDA insect report six years ago said that African-type bees produce more honey than the European types, which are also the basis of bee culture in the United States.
The USDA report said
further that some authorities believe "beekeeping in the United States could become obsolete" if the South American bees do come north and their aggressive behavior is lived up to.
More recently, the department has been more conciliatory about the African bees. Last January, it issued a report which said that "the ferocious insects featured in magazines and newspapers, on television and in movies are fiction.
The real bees behind the fiction are not that ferocious."
Further, the latest report said, the African-type bees have not been seen closer than 2,500 miles from the southern U.S. border and that at their present rate of migration would not arrive for 10 or 15 years, barring the entry of some hitchhiking bees aboard airplanes or ships.
"Although the sting of Africanized bees is no more

Proposal rejection turns to 'yes' after 33 years

CHICAGO (AP) — In 1944, Irving Signer asked Joan Harris to marry him. She said no. Thirty-three years later he proposed again. She said yes.

They got their marriage license Tuesday at City Hall after Joan flew in from Sydney, Australia. The wedding date is yet to be set.

It was in Australia that Signer, then a Army Air Force lieutenant on a month's furlough from a New Guinea B-24 bomber base, first met the "shy" Australian woman.

Although she married an Australian Army captain and had two daughters, Joan kept a picture of the uniformed Signer throughout the years. And he carried her picture.

Joan, now 54, eventually was divorced. Signer, 61, never married. He said he had a sick brother and took care of him, and later cared for his aging parents.

With his mother dead and his family obligations over, Signer decided to return to Australia to visit old friends and, maybe, find Joan Harris.

Joan and "Sig" had stopped exchanging letters years ago, when she wrote him of her engagement and rejected his marriage proposal.

The pair first met in Sydney at the boarding house of Annie Townrow, who always welcomed American soldiers. One night while everyone gathered around the piano and sang "Waltzing Matilda," young Signer met the beauty shop worker who had temporarily given up her rented room when Signer and three other officers arrived for their furlough.

"She was a good-looking little doll," he said. "A shy thing from the country. I liked her the first time I saw her."

They dated, but then it was time for Signer to return to duty. He called her from the airport to say goodbye. "I promised him I'd write. And I did," she said.

The war ended. Signer returned to Chicago, still thinking about the Australian woman, still keeping her picture, but knowing she had married. He did not know she had kept his picture, too.

When you get to Tarzan you're half way to Andrews and it's 12 more miles to the overpass that goes into Andrews county where it's 22 miles to Andrews and 15 miles to Telephone road.

Not that anybody gives a darn. But that's the way it is. And right along that county line is the school originally named for Henry Moore. It was later moved to Tarzan and after that it was moved to Grady. It was a two room building.

I think one of the students was named N.E. (Boozy) Gledening. I must say they sound like a tough bunch — with such names as Boozy and Flop, then, like I say, I know those big Munsell boys.

On the little rise where the school once stood, there is a rather tired hackberry tree and the remains of an old pile of coal. The school was heated by coal. And they didn't use up the last batch.

They called it a hill but it wasn't much of a hill. But neither is Ranger Hill much of a hill, out northwest of Stanton — on a little rise where a ranger shot somebody one day.

Out in Martin County — rich in history and early rural schools — on the edge of the county, where I certainly have hidden miles and miles of fence.

Ridin' fence

They called it Moore's Hill

with Marj Carpenter

Well, I thought I had written about the Moore School. And I did. It was a rural school out here west of the Lamesa Highway in the area between Big Spring and Fairview.

But it seems that over in Martin County, there was a rural school called Moore's Hill.

Now it was located two and one half miles south of the viaduct which is in between Tarzan and Andrews. It is just inside the Martin County line.

Are you with me? Probably not — but it's on the western edge of Martin County and the eastern edge of Andrews County and the northern edge of Midland County. But it was in Martin County.

All of the folks whose fathers were cowhands out on the Schaefer Ranch went to school out there. For instance — Flop Roberts, who works on that ranch now. Or Kenneth Munsell who works out on that ranch now.

Jim Munsell who works for Texas Electric in Andrews, also went to school out at Moore's Hill. The Munsells raise big old husky boys that make good football players.

We just imagine that Jim and Kenneth were probably pretty tough on the playground at Moore's Hill. But probably, Flop Roberts was too. There were a couple of Dewey Gilbert's kids went to school there and Aubrey McQuarter and Leah Edwards Robnett. So did Charles Bird. Now the Bird Ranch is still located between the overpass between Tarzan and Andrews. It has a big gate with pillars off to the north side of the highway that appear to go to nowhere. You sure can't see a ranch house. There is just a gate and a road into nowhere. That's the Bird Ranch.

One thing I'm familiar with is the Andrews highway. I rode down that fool thing from four to six times a week for two full years while my No. 3 child was finishing high school over there and I was over here. He vowed they were going to state in basketball and they did.

I remember saying "You better. After I do all that driving." But anyway, it's about 22 miles out here to the Stanton cutoff and then three more miles to Lenorah and then a few more to the Grady School and then you're in Tarzan.

When you get to Tarzan you're half way to Andrews and it's 12 more miles to the overpass that goes into Andrews county where it's 22 miles to Andrews and 15 miles to Telephone road.

Texas cities get more from city sales taxes

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas cities are getting 17.5 percent more from city sales taxes than they did last year, reports Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Houston received the largest check in the June allocations, a hefty $12.35 million, which brings the year's total to $40.8 million, a 20 percent increase over the same period last year.

Dallas' allocation of $20.4 million put the year's collections 11 percent of last year.

Bullock mailed checks totaling $60.9 million to 900 Texas cities on Thursday. The state collects the one cent city sales tax along with the four cents state sales tax then refunds the local share to the cities.

He said the checks raised

Rice Hotel sponsoring garage sale

HOUSTON (AP) — Memorabilia seekers and bargain hunters combed through the rooms of the old Rice Hotel today on the first day of what is being billed as the world's largest garage sale.

The 18-story structure located on the site of the first capital building of the Republic of Texas will be renovated into apartments by Portfolio Management of Texas.

An estimated 2.5 million items are on sale.

Lance Funston, Portfolio president, said he thinks the month-long sale will net about $1 million although the items have been appraised at about $3.5 million.

Funston was among those at a black-tie auction Thursday night who bid on 46 selected items. He paid $2,000 for an eight-piece place setting of gold flatware used by the President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy on the night of Nov. 21, 1963, the day before Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas.

A Steinway grand piano from the suite where the Kennedys spent several hours before their trip to Dallas fetched $3,250, the highest price of the evening.

Forced bottle return needed, spokesman says

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Consumers need the economic incentive of a mandatory bottle deposit to avoid littering highways with throw-away bottles and cans, an environmentalist spokesman said Thursday.

"One out of four beverage containers end up as litter," said Jim Morrisson of the Natural Resources Defense Council.

"That's 20 to 40 percent of roadside litter by count and 60 to 80 percent of litter by volume," he told a House subcommittee studying a proposal to ban throw-away bottles in Texas.

He recommended a 5-cent per bottle deposit.

A grocery industry spokesman said retail grocers would have to spend $51 million to cover additional labor and storage costs under such a law.
