Welfare department asking for increase

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Human resources commissioner Jerome Chapman says his agency's budget request is "realistic" but concedes the $735.2 million increase it contains is "fantastic."

Chapman, commissioner of the Texas Department of Human Resources — formerly the welfare department — presented the $1.68 billion appropriation request Monday to budget examiners for the legislature and the governor. The increase sought by the department would consume more than a third of the estimated $2 billion in growth revenue that the Legislature will have available for budget increases next year.

Lawmakers will approve a budget for the 1980-81 biennium when they convene next year. "We think it is a realistic budget, although we realize the dollars we are asking for are really fantastic. We think this is a hold the line budget, except in a very few 'initiative areas,'" Chapman said.

In the audience was Harry Ledbetter, budget review man for Attorney General John Hill, the Democratic nominee for governor. Chapman said over half the proposed increase — $423.2 million — was "dictated by external factors," including inflation, caseload growth in the Medicaid program and federal regulations.

He predicted a 10 percent inflation rate in services and a 20 percent annual increase in medical costs for which the department pays.

Ideas for new "initiatives" came from hearings around the state, Chapman said.

He listed as top priority $162.2 million for raising the average monthly Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) grant from $32.41 to $41.39 per person in 1980. He acknowledged this probably would increase the AFDC caseload, and said the average grant then would drop to $39.50 in 1981.

The AFDC caseload has been dropping, he said, and now stands at 301,954.

"Quite frankly, the grant level (set in 1969) is so low that most recipients find they can't live on it anyway," Chapman said.

AFDC families also receive food stamps, medical care and prescription drugs.

Chapman said the department wants to boost its staff from 13,665 employees to 17,577 in the next fiscal year, with about a fourth of the increase assigned to food stamps.

He said he expects more people to apply for food stamps because under new federal regulations, "the recipient no longer has to pay for the stamps."

He asked for 520 more employees to deal with child abuse cases and perform other "protective services."

The 1977 Legislature cut funding for this area, and Chapman said this "has produced intense pressure on the staff, such that we are having a significant turnover."

Health card law may be repealed

Gas rates increase delayed

By JAMES WERRELL
The Big Spring City Council has given itself 120 days to decide whether natural gas costs to consumers will rise here.

In answer to a request from Pioneer Natural Gas Company for approval of a rate hike the council voted to suspend the request for 120 days. The action took place at today's regular meeting of the council.

"Why is this rate increase necessary? It's the same story you have heard from other utility companies: the increased cost of doing business; in other words, inflation," said Dearl Pittman, Pioneer's district manager.

"If passed, the rate hike will result in an average increase of just under $6 a month for customers, according to Pittman. The increase to Big Spring customers would be slightly less than that in the 62 other cities affected because of the interim hike here in 1976.

The 120-day suspension will allow city officials to discuss recommendations from consultants hired jointly by the cities which could be affected by the hike.

Council members also approved a plat submitted by Roger Brown, local attorney, for the construction of a new housing complex. The complex, to be named Campestre Estates, will cover a 640-acre area west of the Big Spring Country Club and adjacent to Country Club Road.

A series of lots from three to five acres each will be sold at the site.

The first reading of an ordinance repealing health card requirements was passed today. The ordinance had required those involved in food services to take a blood test proving they had no venereal diseases or tuberculosis.

"We are one of the few cities to still require this. Studies have found that it's virtually impossible to pass many of those diseases on through food, and the ordinance is a little outdated," explained Harry Nagel, city manager.

Nagel also mentioned several new developments during his city manager's report to the council.

In addition to their meeting with representatives of El Paso Ambulance Service, city and Howard County officials will meet with firms from Dallas and Lubbock within the next few weeks, said Nagel.

The Big Spring Fire Department has handled ambulance calls in the 'Port to plains' highway project gets green light

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen said today that the Senate has approved his proposal authorizing construction of a highway demonstration project that would connect IS-27 in Lubbock with IS-10 to the south.

Bentsen, chairman of the Senate Transportation Subcommittee, said the provision is included in the 1978 Highway Act approved by the Senate late Monday.

Pending approval by the state, the Lubbock Highway, called a "Connector Primary" would provide a four-lane limited-access link between Lubbock and IS-10.

"These people of this area have fought for this 'port to plains' highway a long time. I am pleased that the Senate has agreed with my request to include in the highway bill an incentive to build it," Bentsen said.

"This is a demonstration project for a new 'Connector Primary' highway program I have proposed which would allow individual states to use funds for primary highways — at a 90-10 federal-state matching ratio — to build highways connecting with the interstate system," Bentsen continued.

"The program will provide an extra incentive to the states to augment their interstate system," Sen. Bentsen said.

The bill leaves it to the state, working with local governments, to determine the routes followed by the demonstration highways.

Dollar drops; gold price up

LONDON (AP)—The dollar dropped on European foreign exchange today and some dealers predicted that the modest recovery sparked by the Federal Reserve Board's increase in the U.S. discount rate was ending.

The price of gold was up. "I think the dollar has already gained too much for the amount of action taken by Washington," commented a London dealer.

The U.S. currency rose in Tokyo to 192.40 yen, then fell back in afternoon trading to close at 191.70. It closed Monday at 190.15.

city and county since Alert Ambulance notified the city that it would be unable to continue services.

"I am not making any estimates on how much this is costing the city, because if I did I would have to make it public. That would be foolish while we are in the midst of contract negotiations," said Nagel.

Nagel also presented a plan, which was approved by the council, to help stem the increasing amount of crime at Comanche Trail Park.

Four reserve officers and two cars will be employed to patrol the park for eight hours a day on Saturdays and Sundays. Cost to the city has been estimated to be $448 a week.

Proponents of an ordinance to prohibit drinking of alcoholic beverages in the park again addressed the council, and were again turned down.

"It is my understanding that the council has no desire to make such an ordinance at this time. The problem is enforcement of order in the park, and steps have now been taken to do that," said Mayor Wade Choate in reply to the request.

The city also decided to once again ask for bids for city property located at Gregg and 15th. This time, however, the city has put a clause calling for a minimum bid of $35,000 in its request.

The council approved a safety incentive program designed to slow the rising cost of workmen's compensation to the city. According to Emma Wiggins, personnel safety director, the city has paid claims of $58,000 and 73 accidents since Jan. 1.

Under the new program employees will be paid a bonus if they are able to avoid accidents.

"We estimate that for every dollar in incentive pay, we will make $2 back in insurance savings," said Nagel. "I am not advocating avoiding medical treatment if it is needed, but maybe we can avoid some of the less serious claims," he added.

In other business, council members:

—Approved a claim for damages submitted by Joe Horton, 809 Mountain Park. His car was involved in an accident with a city truck, July 26, resulting in $150 worth of damage to the auto.

—Approved minutes of meetings of the Big Spring Tourist Development Council and the Parks and Recreation Board.

Paul Feazelle selected assistant city manager

After meeting in closed executive session, the Big Spring City Council today named Paul Feazelle to fill the assistant city manager slot vacated by Jerry Foresyth.

Foresyth announced his intention of accepting a position as loan officer with Big Spring Savings and Loan Association, Monday. His resignation will become effective Sept. 1.

Feazelle was first employed by the city in December of 1974 as an administrative assistant. In June of 1976 he was named the director of health and community development for the city, and currently holds that post.

No replacement for Feazelle has been made at this time, but one of his staff members is expected to be promoted to the post shortly, according to Harry Nagel, city manager.

President of Kenya dies in sleep today

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—President Jomo Kenyatta, who 10 years after conviction as a Mau Mau terrorist led Kenya to independence in 1963 and then presided over one of black Africa's most effective and stable governments for 15 years, died peacefully in his sleep early today, the government announced.

Kenyatta was believed to be in his 80s, although he himself said he did not know his age. A government news bulletin said he died at the State House in Mombasa, a coastal resort.

Prior to the announcement, there were no indications that his health was failing. But last week he held a reunion for members of his family, a custom often observed by elderly members of the Kikuyu tribe who fear their lives are nearly over.

He was reported in a genial, happy mood, cracking jokes with photographers who recorded the occasion.

Vice President Daniel Arap Moi assumes the presidency under a section of the constitution which provides for the election of a new president within 90 days.

Prior to Kenyatta's death, public debate on his likely successor was illegal under Kenyan law. It was considered a treasonable offense punishable by death.

Because of this situation no obvious successor was allowed to emerge. But the leading contenders, according to political analysts here, include the finance minister, Mwai Kibaki, the attorney general, Charles Njonjo, and former Foreign Minister Njoroge Mungai, as well as Moi.

The government asked all Kenyans "to remain calm" and ordered all flags flown at half-staff until further notice.

Kenyatta, the herdboys grandson of a witch doctor, was among the last of a unique generation of African leaders who during the 1960s brought their peoples from colonial status to independence.

He turned out to be as successful a president as he had been a revolutionary, making friends with the British who had detained him for eight years as "a leader to darkness and death" in one of Africa's bloodiest freedom struggles, the Mau Mau rebellion. His middle-of-the-road economic and racial policies encouraged prosperity and stability in Kenya.

In later years as he aged, he became increasingly remote and a personality cult grew up around him. Young politicians became impatient with his gradual approach to the problems of a developing nation. But Kenyatta's shrewd and often ruthless maneuvering undercut any serious dissent.

His earliest days were shrouded. "I do not know when I was born — what day, what month or what year," he said.

Most authorities agree he was born between 1890 and 1895 in Kambu district, heartland of the Kikuyu, Kenya's dominant tribe and Kenyatta's power base for a half-century in politics.

Kamau wa Ngengi was his name when, in his stepfather's word, he was "a clever boy, playful and ambitious, who was given to running away and spending whole nights in the bush whenever anything upset him."

The youth immersed himself in tribal lore and once announced that a love spell he had tried "proved successful." He also walked six miles daily to a mission school where he helped with the chores after classes.

He was baptized in 1914 with the Christian name of Johnstone Kamau. But frequent wearing of the beaded belts, or kinyata, of the Masai tribe gave him the last name of Kenyatta, and he later took the African first name of Jomo, which means burning spear.

Action/reaction: Insurance 'game'

Q. Can the insurance company raise the insurance rates on your house without your consent? Do they all have a standard rate of insurance for your home?

A. A complete answer would require a thorough explanation of the insurance situation in Texas because insurers can be completely, partially, or not at all under the control of the State Board of Insurance. Under certain situations, the answer to both questions is yes, under others, the answer is no. The best bet is to ask your insurance agent, or if you don't trust him, ask a competitor about your specific situation.

Ordered integration causes 'white flight,' study shows

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A Rand Corp. researcher says that a new study, showing court-ordered integration in inner city schools has led to widespread "white flight" across the nation, backs up his previous prediction that white school enrollment in Los Angeles will plummet when the district's integration program begins in September.

The Rand study, to be presented Sept. 7 at an American Sociological Association meeting in San Francisco, looked at 54 school districts with enrollments of at least 20,000 students.

The report is written by David Armor, a social scientist at the privately run "think tank." Armor also wrote a previous study, commissioned last year by the Board of Education, which forecast the upheaval in Los Angeles school enrollments.

Armor's new study was based on birth rate and white out-migration statistics before and after integration programs were instituted in the 54 districts.

"The strongest effects were found in 19 cities that had over 20 percent minorities and available suburbs," Armor said Monday. The effects of integration were weaker in districts including entire counties, making relocation more difficult, he said.

For those 19 cities, Armor used demographic statistics to project what white enrollment levels would have been without integration and compared the results with the actual enrollment after integration.

He found that in all of the 19 cities but one — Springfield, Mass. — the actual drop in white enrollment in the first year of integration was at least 2 1/2 times as great as the projected drop.

But another social scientist cautions that it would be a mistake to generalize the results of the nationwide study to Los Angeles.

"The basic problem is that the social composition and housing market in Los Angeles are very different from most of the districts that were studied," Gary Orfield of the University of Illinois said in a telephone interview from Champaign, Ill.

Orfield was named to a panel of experts studying the Los Angeles busing plan by Superior Court Judge Paul Egly, who has jurisdiction over the integration work.

Orfield said many young white families are moving to outlying areas because they cannot afford housing within the district, not necessarily because they are fleeing busing.

City to drop employees

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The city will drop 750 more employees from its payroll in its effort to cut expenditures by $20 million, finance director Irvin Davis announced. The new cutbacks bring to 1,350 the number of city employees furloughed this summer, Davis said Monday.

He said more layoffs could result if cuts in jobs and services do not achieve the savings the city is seeking. Davis said the city also cut appropriations for several agencies by eliminating various contractual services and doing without some new materials and equipment.

Damage suit dismissed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Three damage suits stemming from the crash of a plane chartered by the University of Evansville have been dismissed by U.S. District Judge James E. Noland, who said he lacked jurisdiction.

The suits, which were dismissed Monday, were filed on behalf of the estates of three Evansville basketball players — Mike Joyner, John Ed Washington and Steve Miller. The entire 14-member team, along with Coach Bob Watson, were among 29 people who died in the crash last Dec. 13.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The operator of one of the United States' largest book store chains says he has received tentative approval to open three book stores in the Soviet Union during the 1980 Olympic Games.

Floyd Hall, president of B. Dalton Booksellers, said Monday that he and Boris Stukalin, chairman of a Soviet committee on publishing, printing and book trade, worked out the agreement last month. Hall said he expects to receive final word about the stores by early next year and that he planned to avoid carrying books critical of the Soviet Union.

Waitress goes 'undercover'

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — The state Supreme Court says topless waitresses at an Old Orchard Beach tavern must cover up under the resort town's ordinance banning commercial exploitation of nudity.

The ordinance was challenged as unconstitutional by Richard Gabriele, proprietor of the Bikini Tavern, which began featuring topless waitresses in 1976. He contended the ordinance would even prohibit a theatrical production such as "Hair" from being performed in a coffee house or dinner theater.

But the court said Monday that the ordinance would not prohibit "legitimate forms of expression in a theatrical context."

Campus securing bats

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Broom-wielding Oklahoma State University security officers have been attacking some uninvited guests at university dormitories — bats.

One student, Dale Porter, said he and other students had caught five or six bats in the last few days. School security officers joined in the bat battle Monday, when one of the mammals began swooping around a dormitory lounge area. None of the bats have been found to be rabid, but school officials hope to have all the creatures rounded up before the bulk of the student population arrives in the next two weeks.

Ranger depot, service may be discontinued

RANGER — The Missouri Pacific Railway proposes to discontinue agent service in Ranger and dismantle the Ranger depot.

Persons opposing the move have been asked to file protests with the Texas Railroad Commission in Austin.

Under the plan announced by Missouri Pacific, the Ranger station would become inactive after Aug. 28. The Ranger depot is 80 years old. Passenger service was halted in the mid-60s.

The Missouri Pacific proposes to accommodate Ranger customers through the Abilene Customer Services Center via computer. That means Ranger customers could have trains routed out of Abilene by using a toll-free number.

O. C. (Stubby) Warden, manager of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, said industry in Ranger would not only suffer from such a decision but it would have a negative historical significance on the community.

James Massey has been serving as the MP agent in Ranger, having functioned in that capacity since 1970. Massey said the Ranger depot handles 75 to 100 freight cars a day and goods valued at about $100,000 a month.

The Texas Railroad Commission has indicated that a public hearing on the application will likely be held within a week.

Martin County burglary same as in Forsan

According to Sheriff A.N. Standard, the Sunday evening burglary of Forsan School was a performance repeated the same evening in neighboring Martin County.

Standard cited a sheriff's report showing $125 in change taken and a safe door peeled open at the Grady School. The burglary apparently took place the same evening as the Forsan break-in. In both cases, the felons left few if any fingerprints, and the walk-in vaults in both school buildings had been entered by peeling back the steel facing on the outside of the door.

The burglary at the Grady building occurred sometime between 9 p.m. Sunday evening and 8 a.m. Monday morning.

Former astronauts meet for briefings

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Most of them were at the Johnson Space Center on a rainy Monday morning, those men who had brought the United States space program from a short suborbital flight in May 1961 to landings on the moon, to Skylab, to the space shuttle.

The 26 former astronauts met at the center where they had spent months in training for various missions in years past. For the next two days they were to be briefed on current and future space programs.

Many had been watched once by millions of television viewers in their bulky white spacemen suits as they walked in the black void of space or skipped across the dust of the moon.

"Let's face it. We are too old to hack it anymore."

"Yes, I miss the space program, but that was another chapter in life. It was exciting, but it had to pass."

James A. Lovell, on Apollo 8 during the first orbit of the moon, said he may have retired five years too soon, "now that there are women in the space program."

"That is going to be a very interesting thing and I am anxious to see how it works," he said.

The briefings will include reports on the space transportation system, the space shuttle program, Skylab, crew selection and training, and the U.S.-USSR joint space program.

Of the 31 astronauts invited only five failed to appear. They were Sen. John H. Glenn, D-Ohio, Sen. Harrison H. Schmitt, R-N.M., Frank Borman, James A. McDivitt and John L. Swigert.

Textbook committee reading

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — After five days of listening to homemakers, feminists, evolutionists, fundamentalists and other persuasions, the State Textbook Committee now must read some 40 volumes of materials.

In hearings that end today, the committee has heard critics assail and publishers defend almost $40 million in textbooks proposed for use in Texas public schools beginning in September 1979.

Reviewers and critics filed objections and responses prior to their committee appearances, which lasted from 15 minutes to several hours.

Committee members will recommend selections Sept. 11 to the State Board of Education, which approves a final list Nov. 11.

Among the hearing's Monday reviewers was Mrs. Janie Riddle of Houston, who deplored what she called a textbook's failure to show women in "traditional roles."

"These stories show women in careers outside the home," she said of a seventh grade supplemental reader, "The Big Ones" by Allyn & Bacon Inc.

Hard rock group booked at Bogart's

Plugger Wyld, a hard rock group from San Antonio, who have been gaining momentum in South Texas will perform at Bogart's in Big Spring on Friday, Aug. 25.

They claim to be a heavy-weight name in the music world and feature Paul Brea, Jaime Cantu and Tony Demaini.

These three musicians formed an alliance and targeted their bandit boogie style strongly throughout Texas and Oklahoma.

They have now been together since 1976 and their musical accomplishments have acclaimed them as the most wanted number one rock act in the San Antonio area.

They have performed in concert with such well-known rock acts as Epic Recording artists "Brownsville Station" and "Blackfoot."

Formerly known as "Padash", they recorded their first single disc "Rock 'N Roll Duel" and "Can You Hear the Wind" on Trinity Records.

They are now on their way to their first album, and claim to be stronger than ever.

This is one of their first appearances in this area of the state and are said to have a dynamic impact on their audiences with "crowd-pleasing showmanship."

Brea is the bassist, vocalist, plays the piano and is song engineer. He is originally from Baton Rouge, La. Cantu who is lead guitarist, vocalist and pianist, is from McAllen and Demaini, the drummer is from Misawa, Japan.

Monday they were in business suits or snappy sports coats and slacks, or, as in the case of Thomas P. Stafford, the Air Force blue uniform with the three stars of a lieutenant general.

All appeared in top physical condition, ready even now for another space shot.

But M. Scott Carpenter, who made three orbits during the fourth Mercury flight in May 1962, said,

Lubbock teachers to receive checks Sept. 29-not Aug. 25

LUBBOCK — Teachers new to the Lubbock Independent School District have been informed they will receive their first paychecks Sept. 29 — not Aug. 25, as some had been told when they signed their contracts.

The Lubbock teachers are ten-month employees who are paid over a 12-month period. Up to now, the salaries of the teachers have been divided into 13 equal payments but the practice of sending early checks to the teachers puts a "hardship on our payroll department," a spokesman for the school district said.

Buffalo Lake being drained due to unsafe dam conditions

CANYON — Buffalo Lake, approved by the federal government for recreational uses three months ago, is being drained today due to unsafe dam conditions.

Since the lake was approved for recreational use, 5,000 newly hatched large mouth bass have been turned loose in it. There is no way to save the fish, according to Fish and Wildlife Service officials, because of the heavy undergrowth on the lake's bottom and the size of the fish.

Waters from the lake will be channeled into Tierra Blanca Canyon, which flows through Palo Duro Canyon.

Recent rains have boosted the water level in the lake to within three feet of the spillway.

The lake was built in the 1930s by the Soil Conservation Service.

Weather

High winds, heavy rains hit N. Texas

By the Associated Press

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast for most of Texas today after heavy thunderstorms, accompanied by high, near-hurricane force winds drenched North Texas late Monday.

Rainfall amounts in North and North Central Texas ranged upwards to about .25 of an inch in the Dallas-Fort Worth area and slightly less at Waco.

FORECAST
WEST TEXAS — Clear to partly cloudy through Wednesday. Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms east, Panhandle and mountains. Highs 90s except to 102 Big Bend. Lows 60s except upper 50s mountains.

EXTENDED FORECAST
WEST TEXAS — Partly cloudy with chance of thunderstorms in the Panhandle. Continued very warm afternoons. Highs in the 90s except near 105 Big Bend valleys and east of the Caprock.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are expected in the forecast period, today until Wednesday morning from the Pacific Northwest to the upper Great Lakes, in the Southwest, the central Gulf and southern Florida. Cool weather is forecast from the Pacific coast to the central Rockies but most of the country is expected to be warm.

Teachers due consideration, too

The Detroit News focused attention on an incident which occurred at a middle school in Essex, Vt., which goes far to explain why American schools are having so much trouble maintaining school discipline.

After a boy has repeatedly made obscene gestures at her and used gutter language, his teacher, Donna Dulaney, turned him over her knee and proceeded to give him five whacks on the backside.

Instead of apologizing for their offspring's behavior, the parents of the student entered a complaint with the school board. If Miss Dulaney expected to be reassured by the trustees, she was in for a surprise. They read the riot act to her, reminding her that children have rights, too, after which they suspended her without pay for two weeks.

teacher that day, they would have thrown the little nipper out on his ear but school trustees rarely can be placed in such positions.

Fifty years ago, discipline might have been too harsh in public schools, although we've never heard a member of that previous generation voice complaints of such a thing. Today, discipline bids fair to become an extinct word in schools, mainly because nobody is prepared to stand behind those who try to do something to preserve it.

All too often, parents find their communications with their children have broken down completely, yet they are prone to react furiously against the system while defending their children's conduct.

No doubt feeling pressure from the constituency, school officials often display concern for the 'rights' of students to avoid punishment for his demeanor, but little concern for the right of the teacher to be treated with respect and the right of the offender's classmates to get an education without disruption.

Neither is much thought given to the humiliation a teacher must feel when officials fail to back him or her up following a confrontation with a troublemaker.

Classroom hooliganism is, of course, not limited to Vermont, or the northeastern part of the country. With increasing frequency, it is happening everywhere.

In Detroit recently, a student gathered papers into a pile on a classroom floor and started a fire. Routinely, the teacher ordered the student to the principal's office. Routinely, the office sent him back to class ten minutes later.

A STUDENT BY the National Institute of Education shows that school is one of the most dangerous places teenagers can spend their time.

According to a study, in a typical month a secondary school student stands one chance in nine of having his property stolen. His odds are one in 80 that he will be attacked.

The latter calculation of chances translates into attacks on 282,000 secondary school students by other pupils — not by teachers — in a typical month.

The Detroit paper says that since teachers are expected to absorb whatever a troublesome student might do, perhaps it's not even worth mentioning that in a given month 5,200 of the nation's secondary teachers suffered physical attacks, 9 per cent of who produced injuries requiring medical treatment.

As for Miss Dulaney, she'd best go to class combat-ready. It's obvious her chances of suffering injury increased with the school board's treatment of the matter.

Last year my very athletically-inclined cousin took up the sport of wrestling. Until then I had never heard him talk about anything but football. I had never heard of wrestling either. Arm wrestling, yes; but not wrestling. Now that's all he ever talks about.

The sport is a relatively new one compared to football or baseball. But it is becoming ever more popular.

Wrestling had its beginnings 20 years ago in a saloon in Petaluma, Calif. A local sportswriter was assigned to cover the match and was so taken with it that he approached the owner of the saloon about making it an annual event. The writer was Bill Soberanes and the owner of the saloon was Mike Gilardi.

Some of the rules of the sport that make it different from arm wrestling are: the registered contestants face each other, grasping the base of each other's thumb, with wrists perpendicular; the left hands are clasped in a finger curl contact position in the center of the table immediately below the upright forearms; the referee places the right wrists in such a position as to be above the center of the table and they must be in a straight position before the official start; the elbows must remain in elbow containers shaped in the form of a square with the side toward the center of the table being open; defaults consist of failure to keep the elbow in contact with the cup, loss of grasp of the thumb, release of the left hand or referee's special disqualification; and at least one foot must remain on the floor.

Now, a plug for my cousin.

REGGIE HAS won seven titles and finished second in the national competition last year. Also last year, he won the Houston Regional, the Texas State, the Gulf Coast Regional, the Southwest Regional, and the Midwestern Regional. All this led him to the national competition that was held in Buffalo, New York. He was defeated in the final round of the competition.

The season has just started for him this year. But, so far, he has reclaimed the Texas State title. He will be competing in the Gulf Coast and the Southwest Regional tournaments in the next two to three weeks. How he does in these will determine whether or not he will make it to the national competition again this year.

Also, this year he was voted to serve on the Board of Directors for the Player's Committee. He has done well in the sport and I thought he deserved a little recognition as does the sport of wrestling.

Begins in palace

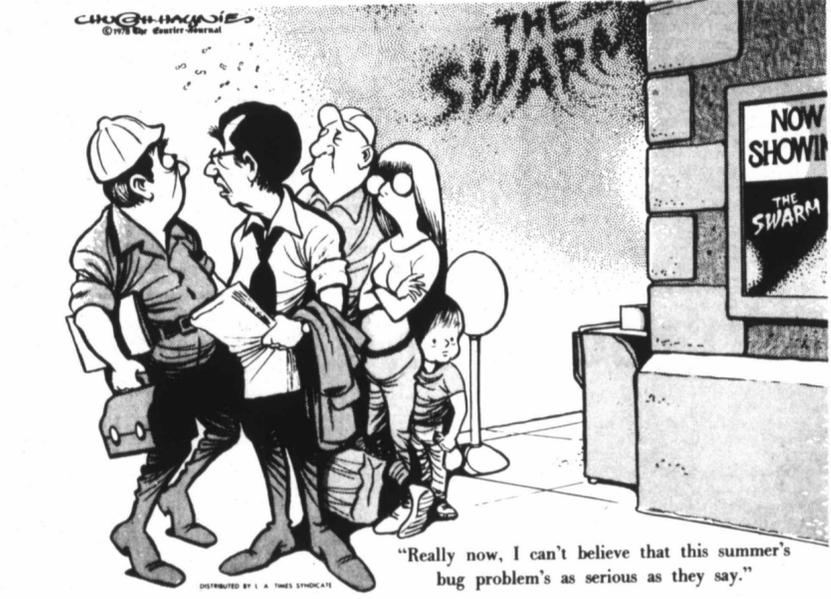

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — Behind the careful stroking of Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin the past few weeks, President Carter is moving toward a Camp David breakthrough to Mideast peace that belies the caveats from U.S. officials, including Jimmy Carter.

This is the essence of the Carter plan, now shaping up behind closed doors in Washington: acceptance of the raw outlines of Begin's own plan for self-autonomy by West Bank Palestinians as the foundation for assured Arab sovereignty after five years.

Private signals have been sent to Mr. Carter by the Israeli government almost, but not quite, spelling this out. Publicly, Begin opened the door to future Arab sovereignty July 24 when Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan committed Israel to discuss the sovereignty question at the end of five years.

Begin himself will not commit Israel to Arab sovereignty over the area, but his private talks with American Jewish leaders are pointed: start with my five-year self-rule plan; when it ends, I will no longer be prime minister; the momentum of successful self-rule can only lead to full Arab sovereignty, probably in a federation with Jordan.

"Really now, I can't believe that this summer's bug problem's as serious as they say."

IT IS HERE that the design of Mr. Carter's plan comes into focus. The U.S. not Israel, will act as Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's guarantor for Arab sovereignty following the five years of local self-rule; the U.S. will act as Israel's guarantor for West Bank security safeguards that Sadat himself agrees must extend far beyond the five years of self-rule.

This Carter plan makes a major concession to Israel by leaving out the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO). It requires a major concession from Israel by curtailing inflammatory Jewish settlements on the West Bank.

Point 20 in Begin's Dec. 28 self-rule proposals demanded virtually unlimited new settlements during the five years. But highly placed figures in the right wing of Begin's government feared that new settlements would be forbidden or sharply curtailed by the Camp David summit.

Consequently, on Aug. 13, they leaked a secret Israeli government plan for five immediate new settlements in an effort to engineer a preemptive decision. Instead, within hours after the leak, the Begin cabinet ordered the settlements "postponed."

Throughout this internal maneuvering in Jerusalem, the Carter administration was relatively dispassionate. That reflected the president's soft treatment of Begin, a key component of preparations for Camp David.

Until recently, any question about Israeli settlements caused a small earthquake in the White House. Settlements, according to the president and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, were "illegal" and "an obstacle to peace." Yet, when Mr. Carter was asked about the five new settlements on Aug. 13, he replied quietly: "Well, I wish they wouldn't create any more settlements." Whatever Vance's real reaction to five new settlements, he sent Begin a courteous, low-key message asking only that they be "reconsidered" in view of the Camp David summit.

Menopause MAY bring bone problem

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been taking estrogen for a long while — since my hysterectomy. If I quit taking it will it hurt my bone structure? Is it better to continue taking it on account of my bones? — D.V.C.

Because of your need for estrogen supplements I have to assume, that both your ovaries are removed along with your uterus. Hysterectomy is removal of the uterus. Surgery for removal of the ovaries is an oophorectomy. It is important to be precise on these points, which is why I repeat these simple facts so often. Hysterectomy alone does not alter the body's natural estrogen production.

Now, as to this business of bone structure. We're really not 100 per cent sure of the effect of decreased estrogen production on the bones. We do know, though, that osteoporosis often follows menopause and so we tend to connect the two phenomena. But other factors play roles — continued adequate protein and calcium intake, as well as exercise. Much menopausal bone-thinning can be laid to the relatively sedentary life middle-aged women tend to fall into. The fact is that not all post-menopausal women have these problems.

You should discuss your individual case with your doctor. If you decide to abandon the estrogen, it is best done gradually. If afterwards you develop backache or "dowager's hump," your doctor may want to resume the estrogen supplements. Other factors doctor may be considered, such as a family history of cancer. I believe most doctors are being far more conservative about prescribing estrogen than in former years. If you can do without it you are probably better off. See my booklet, "Make Menopause Easier," which may give you some perspective on these problems. For a copy, send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Francisco. To my knowledge the drug "D-Penicillamine" is in the investigational stage for rheumatoid arthritis. There were some encouraging reports at the meeting and some not so encouraging. The chief objection — reactions. The report from a workshop on the drug cautioned about the need for close monitoring. A rheumatologist might be able to tell you if any colleagues are using the drug on the investigational level.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: During a checkup at a hospital they found a spot on my lung. After tomography I was assured it was definitely not malignant. Is it possible to tell this way? — Mrs. O.D.

An isolated malignant spot on the lung usually has a telltale shape, but I'm not sure even tomography (a special X-ray technique) can rule out malignancy. Healed TB, sarcoidosis, or histoplasmosis, for examples, may produce lung spots. Bronchial washings, cell examinations, and bronchoscopy may be needed to pin down the cause of the spot. If X-rays are repeated in a few months, the doctor might be able to note any changes in the spot and tell much that way. Since the matter of the spot was raised, I suggest you have this done.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When my daughter was 2½ her vagina opening closed up. The pediatric surgeon who opened it said this was caused by a lack of estrogen in her system and prescribed AVC cream for it. She is now four and this has happened two more times. The cream has not worked. Can you tell me why this happening and what can be done to prevent it? — Mrs. J.K.

Labial adhesion in a little girl is not uncommon. The adhesion has to be freed and estrogen cream applied. But you can't rely on the cream alone. The lips have to be separated frequently and at bedtime is as convenient as any other. The condition will correct itself in time.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read with interest the letter from the woman with detergent burn. Sometimes we find out the hard way. A friend was covered with a rash over his body, and after numerous allergy tests they found his trouble was the cling-free material you put in your dryer. He stopped using it, and so the story had a happy ending. — E.A.J.

Just another item to add to a growing list of possible kitchen and laundry suspects in the search for causes of rashes. Thanks for your happy ending story.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis," write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

WASHINGTON — If you're one of the millions of Americans who likes to get back to nature and visit one of our national parks, you know how difficult it is to find accommodations. Each summer the reservations lists at the government-owned hotels and camps get longer, as do the lines of traffic inching bumper-to-bumper into the more popular parks.

Government bigshots and their VIP guests have no such problems when they want to get away from it all in the sylvan serenity of federal parkland. Unlike the ordinary taxpayers who support it all, these privileged few can check into one of five luxuriously appointed lodges maintained by the National Park Service in some of the most scenic locations.

CAMP HOOVER, deep in the picturesque woodlands of Shenandoah National Park, is one of the most popular of these rustic lodges. During the Nixon years, it was a favorite retreat for White House aides who sought to get away from the blistering heat of the Watergate scandals.

This dubious precedent hasn't discouraged bigwigs of either party from taking advantage of the camp's undeniable attractions, available only to the elite of the federal establishment. In the past two years, the rustic charm of Camp Hoover has soothed such Carter administration notables as Vice President Walter Mondale, State Secretary Cyrus Vance, Interior Secretary Cecil Andrus and Federal Energy Regulatory Chairman Charles Curtis.

Nor have members of Congress been able to resist an occasional weekend in the woods. In the past two years, Camp Hoover guests have included Sens. J. Bennett Johnston, D-

Brinkerhoff House, an elegant lodge with hodge stone fireplaces, high beamed ceiling and breathtaking picture-window views of Wyoming's Jackson Lake and the Grand Teton Mountains, has been host in recent years to Reps. James Santini, D-Nev., and Teno Roncalio, D-Wyo. "Worth Jack Anderson's abuse!" Roncalio commented in the guest register on one visit.

ANOTHER FAVORITE vacation spot for members of Congress is Fort Jefferson National Monument, located on the Gulf of Mexico in sunny Florida. The VIP guest register shows the names of Sens. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., and Ted Stevens, R-Alaska; and Reps. David Obey, D-Wis., Charles Rose, D-N.C., Dante Fascell, D-Fla., and Wyche Fowler, D-Ga.

Government bigshots also check in for VIP vacations at the Pink House at Cape Hatteras National Seashore, N.C., and a lodge in Maryland's Catoctin Mountain Park.

National Park Service officials stress that the privileged few must pay for their stay in the government lodges and insist that the rates are comparable to those in the area. The fees range from approximately $40 a night for two at Camp Hoover and Brinkerhoff House to $10 a night for two at Catoctin Mountain.

WHEN VANCE testified behind closed doors to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week, he strongly emphasized this fact: whatever happens at Camp David or after, the Carter administration would never, never use military or economic aid to pressure Israel.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me about the drug "Penicillamine" in treatment of arthritis? Is it being used? — Mrs. H.

There were several reports on this drug at a recent international rheumatology meeting in San

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My husband died not long ago and I started smoking marijuana shortly thereafter. It helps relieve the emptiness I feel, so I can't see anything wrong with it. Can you? — R.I.

DEAR R.I.: I know your heart is very empty because you have lost a loved one. However, you are not really solving the problem of your emptiness by numbing your senses with this drug. Instead, you are only temporarily masking the real problem. The emptiness is still with you, and always will be as long as you try to escape it rather than deal with it. There are several things wrong with your actions — such as the fact that marijuana is still an illegal drug — but the real problem is that you are avoiding the deepest issues of life.

For example, without realizing it, you are probably withdrawing from other people. One of the things you especially need right now is the friendship of others to help fill the gap left by your husband's death. But as long as you seek escape in drugs (or alcohol, as some other people do), you will never be able to establish strong personal relationships.

Your letter gives no indication that you have ever seriously considered Jesus Christ. You are not here on this earth by accident — God has put you here for a purpose. If you will turn from your pattern of living and turn to Christ as Savior and Lord, He will make you His child. He wants to guide you and fill you, and He also wants to give you the strength to meet your responsibilities every day.

God has a full life for you if you will turn your life over to His Lordship. You are on a path right now that will never bring you true happiness; instead, it may send you into eternity separated from God. But God points you to another way — His way. When we turn to Him we will know the truth of Psalm 16:11: "Thou wilt shew me the path of life; in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

For a long period of time the news media, A.P., with reports from the Dept. of Agriculture, the economic advisors, Barry Bosworth, Director of the Council of Wage and Price Stability, and Robert Strauss, the Chief Inflation Advisor have continued to brainwash the American people with propaganda about higher farm prices, especially food and beef prices being the No. 1 cause of inflation.

I believe that deficit spending created by the government bureaucracies is the chief cause of inflation.

The farmer is a consumer and also a victim of inflation. His margin of profit is small in comparison to what others make on his product. He cannot set the price on the product that sells. When he asks for a "parity" price, he is not asking for a guaranteed income but an equality of value in exchange of goods and services.

After competing with the elements of nature and low prices due to the manipulation of those who contend the markets, he receives 38 cents out of the consumer-spent dollar.

According to a report in the "South West Farm Press," Aug. 3 Texas A&M Agriculture Economists Dr.

Carl M. Anderson and W.E. Bill Black of College Station gave this analysis on how much the farmer receives of the consumer-spent dollar.

Out of the retail food dollar the "Marketing Costs are: Labor 29.0 cents — Packaging — 8.0 — Transportation (due to increase in cost of energy) — 5.0 — Corporate Profits (Businesses engaged in food marketing, processors, distributors and retailers) — 4.3 — Business Taxes — 2.5 — Advertising — 1.9 — Depreciation — 1.9 — Rent — 1.9 — Interest, Repairs & etc. — 2.5 — other — 5.0 — Total 62 cents.

The Farmers Production Costs is as follows: Feed — 5.6 cents — Livestock — 2.3 — Seed — 1.0 — Fertilizer and Lime — 2.5 — Repairs and operation of machinery and equipment — 3.4 — Hired Labor — 2.8 — Miscellaneous cash expenses — 5.1 — Depreciation — 5.6. Taxes — 1.4 — Interest on Mortgage Debt — 1.6 — Net Rent — 1.7 — Total — 33.0 cents.

Unpaid Family Labor — Management — Land — Ownership — Living Costs — Profit (or loss) — Total — 5.0 cents (Before taxes).

One other time, I had to back up and run at an article about a historic location four times before I got it right. It was the Fairview Store. And after I finally got it all right, some wayward driver missed the curve, ran through the building and they tore the whole store down. But at least by then it was historic.

The house at 410 Gregg with the beautiful window that is now a decorator's shop and noon luncheon cafe is one of those that I'm going to have to run at again. I've gotten interested in it more and more, as more and more people tell me and more varied things about it.

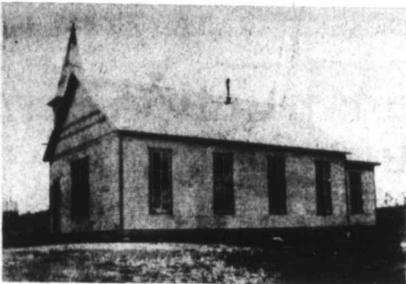

It's not really that hard to make mistakes in gathering history — not for me anyway. I can go out to the scene of a wreck ten minutes after it happened and hear people at the scene give three different reports. And when you talk to people who are talking about things that happened from 50 to 100 years ago, you can really get a lot of poppycock.

First of all, we have run the name of one family who resided at this residence as both Poffenbach and Poppenbach. Actually it was the Fred Poffenbach family who built the home. The picture above is their family, and they are all now dead except the girl with the hair ribbon seated at the left. She is now Mrs. Robert (Florence) Luker of Fort Worth and she wrote Mrs. Gerri Atwell, curator of Heritage Museum and told her that Fred Poffenbach Sr., born in 1870 died in 1947; his wife, Minnie, born in 1880 died in 1964; Katherine Poffenbach Correa, born in 1906 and died in 1963. Frederick Poffenbach, Jr., was born in 1912 in the house at Gregg Street and died in 1940.

The younger sister, Katherine married while at the University of Mexico and lived in Monterey most of her life and has two sons. The older sister remembers that the porch used to curve around on the south side of the house; but other than that, the house is the same.

The first record in the abstracts of the property is Dec. 1, 1883 when Texas and Pacific Railroad Co. sold it to George H. Stump. The price was $96 for that lot, now on Gregg Street. In 1885, Stump sold it to J. J. Haywood. On Oct. 28, 1888, Haywood sold it at a loss for $75 to Joseph Fisher.

Fisher made only $5 profit when he sold it Nov. 11, 1889 to J. B. Spearman, A. C. Denmark and J. E. Prince, trustees of the Baptist Church for $80. The little church shown above was built there. One of the pastors at that church was a Rev. G. H. M. Wilson. It was built in 1889.

There was a fire at the church. The property was then sold Dec. 2, 1908 by P. G. Stokes and S. H. Morrison, trustees of the church to F. M. Poffenbach for $700. This included the damaged building. Florence Luker recalled that some folks thought the stained glass window in the store came from the church but that it didn't. It was obtained by her father "somewhere."

The Poffenbachs lived there until 1919. This bears out what Mrs. Willard

Sullivan said. That is that Florence Poffenbach's picture is in the 1918 annual as a freshman, but not there the following year. The family moved to Sweetwater. Poffenbach was a postal clerk for the railroad in both places.

The deeds on Vol. 23, page 235 show that the Poffenbachs sold all of lot 6, Block 26 to S.A. Penix on Oct. 25, 1919. Penix was the county attorney. The price was $3,500.

One of the interesting items about Mr. Poffenbach, that has nothing to do with anything, is that he played the piano at the wedding on May 2, 1911 of Annabell Birdwell, daughter of the John Birdwells, to Dudley D. Darling.

The next sale of the property was Jan. 17, 1921 by S. A. Penix and his wife, Flora to Miss Verbena Barnes for $4,300. This included $3,500 cash and an $800 note signed by H. W. Caylor, the wellknown artist. Miss Barnes taught art and china painting. On Sept. 10, 1927, a second lien was taken out to Wm. B. Currie and S. B. Weaver for $2,000. This was released back to Miss Barnes on March 6, 1928.

Two more loans on the property were from A. C. Walker in 1932 and Dr. G. T. Hall in 1933 and on Jan. 25, 1934, Dr. Hall, as executor of the estate of Miss Barnes, sold the property to Guy B. Cravens. The Cravens family owned the property and lived there 43 years until it was sold Dec. 1, 1977 to Rick Kaufmann, whose wife is now operating the Fenestra Restaurant and Interior Decorating Shop at that address.

There's no fence at that address, but I've been riding something trying to get all this information down correctly. And according to the abstract and deed, that's the story — out where I ride fence.

Hope to be more successful

Davis awaits bond hearing

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Millionaire T. Cullen Davis goes before a district judge hopeful that today's bond hearing will prove more successful than one held here two years ago when a judge denied him bond, forcing him to spend 15 months in jail before being acquitted on capital murder charges last November.

Davis was arrested Sunday morning and charged with solicitation of capital murder. Tarrant County District Attorney Tim Curry said the 44-year-old industrialist attempted to hire the murder of District Judge Joe Eidsen through karate expert David McCrory. Eidsen is presiding over a 4-year-old divorce suit filed by Davis' estranged wife Priscilla.

Still pending against the softspoken oilman are one capital murder charge and two attempted murder charges in connection with a 1976 summer shooting spree at his $6 million mansion here.

Mrs. Davis was the state's chief witness at her husband's capital murder trial in Amarillo last year. He was tried and acquitted of charges he killed his 12-year-old stepdaughter Andrea Wilborn in a midnight shooting spree at the lush, hilltop estate Aug. 2, 1976. Mrs. Davis' lover, Stan Farr, 30, was also killed in the incident. Mrs. Davis and a chance mansion visitor, Gus Gavrel Jr., were wounded. Both survivors named Davis as the gunman, as did Beverly Bass, Gavrel's date that night. She escaped unharmed and summoned police.

Davis was initially charged with two counts of murder and two counts of attempted murder. He was freed on $80,000 bond. However, the two murder charges were upgraded to capital murder Aug. 20, 1976 and he was jailed again.

Ironically, Sunday's arrest came two years from the day he was re-arrested while boarding his gleaming Lear Jet at a Fort Worth airport. Davis said he was en route to Houston on business at the time.

District Judge Tom Cave conducted an explosive five-day hearing shortly after Davis was jailed and ultimately ruled Davis should remain behind bars until his trial.

Cave claimed his ruling was tantamount to a jury's verdict of guilty in the case. The prosecution had asked for a no-bond ruling, contending Davis killed his stepdaughter and would likely try to kill his wife if freed since she and Farr were his intended victims.

Davis remained in jail about 15 months before he was found innocent by a Panhandle jury Nov. 17, 1977. At his victory celebration, he referred to Cave as a "clown." The Associated Press learned that the district attorney's office has knowledge of a "hit list" provided by McCrory, who worked with police as an informant, tipping them to Davis' purported plan to have Eidsen and others killed.

Mahon endorses Kent Hance in 19th Congressional contest

LUBBOCK — Retiring U.S. Congressman George Mahon has endorsed the candidacy of fellow Democrat Kent Hance in the 19th Congressional District race.

Hance will be pitted against George Bush Jr., Midland, in the general election in November.

A telegram from Mahon will be read at a rally in Wolforth tonight, at which time State Sen. Hance and members of his family will be honored.

Mahon will end a 44-year career in Congress when he retires at the end of this year.

Mahon said he not only supported the principals of the Democratic party but had developed a personal friendship with Hance over the years. Mahon added he would not personally campaign for Hance.

The Wolforth rally for Hance will be held in the high school football stadium, starting at 8 p.m.

NOTICE TO TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

We are planning changes that will increase one daytime rate (to the United Kingdom) and reduce rates for most other overseas calls.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Company (AT&T) has filed a new schedule of overseas rates with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) which decreases the charges for most overseas calls and increases the daytime dial rate to the United Kingdom. Rates to Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands will not be affected.

The Company has asked that the new rate schedule become effective on November 15, 1978. The new rates will be applicable only to overseas calls billed within the United States Mainland.

The lower rates are based on reduced charges for overseas satellite circuits which AT&T leases from the Communications Satellite Corporation (COMSAT). AT&T, complying with an FCC request, is reducing its rates to give telephone customers the full benefit of the COMSAT reductions.

International dial rates to 47 countries

The proposed new international daytime dial rate for calls between the U.S. and the U.K. that are billed in the United States will be 25% higher.

For example, a three-minute daytime call that now costs $3.60 would rise to $4.50, additional minutes going up from $1.20 to $1.50 each. This new international dial rate will be about 17% lower than the day Operator Station rate. The existing $3.60 rate will still be retained, however, for night and Sunday calling.

Under the proposed changes, international dial rates would be introduced to 46 additional overseas countries, enabling customers to save from 11% to 25% compared with the cost of current day Operator Station rates.

It is important to note that customers calling from areas not presently equipped for international

Dial would still benefit from the lower dial-direct rates even though the call would have to be completed by the operator. However, if the customer requests special operator assistance or special billing, the Operator Station rate will be applied.

Dial rates for 17 additional Caribbean locations

The proposed changes would extend the application of dial rates, now limited to the Bahamas and Bermuda, to 17 additional locations in the Caribbean (Area Code 809). Customers would enjoy a reduction of 9% to 16% for all calls dialed and completed without the assistance of a telephone company operator.

Additional-minute rates reduced for most overseas calls

The additional-minute rates are being reduced from about 6% to 20% for calls to most overseas countries and areas.

Exceptions to proposed rate reduction

All of the above rate changes are applicable to all overseas countries and areas except the Bahamas, Bermuda, Cuba, St. Pierre and Miquelon.

All overseas calls to be discounted 15% during next 12 months

In addition to the rate reductions mentioned above, a temporary 15% discount will apply to all overseas calls. The purpose of the discount is to pass along to telephone customers the refund AT&T has received for satellite rentals from COMSAT. The 15% discount will become effective on November 15, 1978, and will expire on November 14, 1979, unless sooner cancelled, changed or extended.

The following examples illustrate typical rate changes proposed for overseas calling.*

Lo-Vaca may do it over again

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—Faced with a potential "Crystal City situation," Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. says it will suspend gas deliveries to Pearsall in 30 days unless the city pays $106,343 in back bills.

But even while Lo-Vaca vice president Don Newquist was briefing reporters Monday, a break in the deadlock between the company and the small South Texas town developed.

Near the end of the news conference, a telephoned message arrived that Pearsall wanted to negotiate and make a partial payment.

Like Crystal City, Pearsall owns and operates the natural gas system within its city limits.

Newquist said the company doesn't want "another Crystal City situation on our hands" and urged Pearsall to pay up before the debt gets bigger.

While he was talking, a Capitol employee brought in a note, and a company public relations man went to the telephone. He returned moments later with word that Pearsall city secretary Martin Garcia had requested a Sept. 6 meeting with Lo-Vaca and would bring a partial payment.

Lo-Vaca cut off Crystal City's gas last year after the town failed to pay $800,000 in past-due bills. Service been restored.

Newquist said Pearsall has given no reasons why it was withholding payment for February, March, May and June. He said as far as he knew, Pearsall was charging its gas customers the proper rate — a big difference from the Crystal City situation.

Crystal City had charged its customers a far lower rate, pegged to a contract signed with Lo-Vaca before the railroad commission allowed a floating rate.

Gays will continue to serve in military, Matlovich says

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard Matlovich, the center of a challenge to the military's ban against homosexuals, says, "No matter what happens, gay men and women will continue to serve in the military."

Matlovich, a 35-year-old former Air Force sergeant with an impeccable 12-year military record, is the subject of an NBC movie, "Sgt. Matlovich vs. the U.S. Air Force."

"It's a simple case of civil rights," says Matlovich, who was discharged in 1975 after informing his superior officer he was homosexual.

A decision on Matlovich's appeal to have his Air Force discharge overturned is expected soon from the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia. The losing side is expected to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The son of a retired Air Force sergeant, Matlovich now lives in San Francisco and lectures around the country on his struggle.

"Remaining in the closet encourages ignorance, fear

LEONARD MATLOVICH and self-hatred," Matlovich says. "I just want to live and let live. That means equal rights and protection under the law."

to Becker Ranch

Leland Wallace and Malcolm Patterson have returned from Willaw, Mont., where they delivered a bull out of the Wallace herd to the Becker Hereford Ranch.

The bull, identified at Diamond Choice 719, will be two years of age in December.

Wallace also purchased a straight-bred bull from Vaughn Terman and returned with it.

When the Big Spring visitors reached Willaw, it was 22 degrees and snowing. Wallace will conduct his annual stock sale at his place northeast of Big Spring Oct. 20.

Some details remain to be worked out but he presently plans to sell 30 bulls and 15 heifers.

Lamesa tax rate to remain same

LAMESA — The Lamesa Independent School District budget will be up an estimated six per cent for the new fiscal year but the tax rate will remain at $1.45 per $100 evaluation.

The balanced budget amounts to $3,878,311, compared to $3,635,586 for the last year.

Major expenditures in the budget are for salaries of $2,787,770.

Siboney's net income is up

Siboney Corporation reported revenues of $3,917,000 for the second quarter ended June 30, 1978, and net income of $129,000. In the same quarter in 1977, revenues totaled $4,310,000 and net income amounted to $73,000.

For the six month period ending June 30, 1978, the company reported revenues of $6,070,000, and a loss before provision for income taxes of $448,000. In the same period in 1977, revenues totaled $6,405,000, and the loss before provision for income taxes amounted to $365,000. A tax credit of $156,000 in the 1977 period resulted in a net loss of $209,000. No tax credit was available for the six months period in 1978.

The corporation's results of operations for the first six months of each year usually result in a loss because of the seasonal nature of the businesses of certain of its subsidiaries, particularly its asphalt emulsion business. Gamco Co., Big Spring, is a subsidiary of Siboney.

McVay employees receive raise

Wage negotiations between McVay Drilling Company and Local 826, International Union of Operating Engineers have been completed with a 94 cent per hour wage increase for Derrickmen and 84 cent per hour wage increase for Enginemen and Floormen effective Aug. 19.

A new pension plan was also negotiated in early August which provides for retirement at age 60. The new pension plan goes into effect Sept. 1 and is fully paid for by McVay Drilling.

McVay Drilling Company is operating five oil drilling rigs in New Mexico. Local 826 has represented employees of McVay Drilling Company since 1967.

BRUSH ON NO ROACH ...and kill those roaches

Old Fashioned approach kills the most roaches

Johnston's No-Roach (if you don't see it — ask for it) is different...and it's different for many reasons. No-Roach eliminates the need for frequent application...No-Roach is clean and easy to use. No need to move dishes or food when you use Johnston's No-Roach, simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around baseboards, sinks, table legs...behind cabinets and appliances...on shelves and inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and anywhere else cockroaches may breed. No-Roach dries fast to form an invisible path of death that kills cockroaches, ants, silverfish, spiders, all crawling insects — and best of all it continues to kill effectively for months. Available at Safeway, Furr's, Sav-U, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. Dist. by Winn Dixie, Ft. Worth.

NOW THAT'S FUNNY — David and Julie Eisenhower react to a newsman's questions with laughter Saturday after leaving San Clemente General Hospital with their new 4-day-old baby girl Jennie. Julie is the daughter of former President and Mrs. Richard Nixon and has given them their first grandchild.

Jennie Eisenhower makes debut with her parents

SAN CLEMENTE (AP) — and she clearly was non-plussed by it. As dozens of reporters, photographers and curious bystanders looked on, Jennie Eisenhower made her debut as a public figure Saturday, Opening her mouth to a full yawn, Jennie was rolled out of San Clemente Hospital in the arms of her mother, Julie Nixon Eisenhower.

"The baby couldn't be more healthy," said Mrs. Eisenhower as she was wheeled to a waiting car. "She couldn't be happier. We're very thrilled."

Jennie, the first grandchild of former President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, was born Tuesday. Nixon visited Jennie on Wednesday, and was impressed by her size and activity.

"My father thinks she has a good voice," Mrs. Eisenhower said.

"I'm really touched by all the people who sent flowers and cards," she said. "Jennie's got a lot of friends. She's a very lucky girl."

Dear Abby

Hubby Enchanted By Older Woman

DEAR ABBY: I'm 35 and my husband is 36, and my problem is his interest in a 66-year-old woman. Can you believe it? This has been going on for the last six years. They work together, and Jim gives her a ride to work and back. But that's not all—they talk on the phone every night, laughing and carrying on like two kids.

Since she doesn't have any means of transportation, Jim carts her around on weekends to do her shopping, errands, doctors' appointments, etc. She pays him back by cutting his hair and giving him manicures and rubdowns. She even clips his toenails!

This woman has been a widow for 20 years, and the only social life she seems to have is with my husband. Some of my friends have asked me if I'm "jealous," so I guess it's common knowledge that he and this old lady have something going.

What I want to know is, what can a 66-year-old woman do for a 36-year-old man?

WONDERING IN TEXAS

DEAR WONDERING: All she has to do is "be there."

DEAR ABBY: I answer the telephone in an office in a small Southern city, and my employers have instructed me to find out who is calling before they take any call.

Over the years I have been subjected to untold abuse when I ask, "Who is calling, please?" I've been told everything from, "It's none of your business," to "Andrew Jackson!"

Don't people realize that I couldn't care less who is calling—I'm only following instructions.

Then there are people who ask, "Is he there?" (There are three "he's" in this office.)

And there are those who call and say, "I'm the one who called yesterday." (At least 100 people called yesterday.)

Here's my favorite: "Didn't you give him my message?" (I just give messages, I can't make my employers return calls.)

Abby, this is just a sample of how dumb people can be on the phone. Please print this. It may make a few callers change their ways.

GULFPORT, MISS.

DEAR GULF: I'll print your letter, but don't expect miracles. Very few see themselves in my column—only others.

DEAR ABBY: We wonder how many other families living in the Midwest for the Northeast are blessed with relatives who live in Florida. Their letters are mainly weather reports. And whenever they visit, they take a special delight in bad mouthing the old hometown and state.

First of all, this state was good enough for them for about 55 years. Suddenly, it's the pits! Secondly, not everyone likes hot weather all year. It's monotonous. We happen to enjoy the change of seasons. But somehow, when we try to defend our town, it comes out sounding like sour grapes. HOORAY FOR MISSOURI

DEAR HOORAY: Whether one lives in Missouri or Florida, James Whitcomb Riley's little verse contains good counsel:

"It ain't no use to grumble and complain
It's just as cheap and easy to rejoice;
When God sorts out the weather and sends rain,
Why rain's my choice."

Are your problems too heavy to handle alone? Let Abby help you. For a personal, unpublished reply, write: Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Geneticists gather Heredity is discussed

MOSCOW (AP)—More than 2,000 geneticists from around the world are gathering here this week to discuss topics ranging from the heredity of minnows to the controversial issue of genetic engineering.

The conference marks the first time an international congress of genetics has been held in the Soviet Union, where only 30 years ago the fundamentals of modern genetics were officially derided as "bourgeois pseudo science."

Dozens of American scientists who signed up for the conference were expected to stay away to protest recent Soviet trials of dissidents and the Russians' refusal to issue visas for some Israeli geneticists.

In an open letter in Science Magazine, a group of leading American geneticists urged a Western boycott of the Moscow congress, citing the recent trials of Anatoly Shcharansky, Yuri Orlov and other Soviet dissidents.

Signers included two Americans who have earned Nobel prizes for work in genetics—Alfred D. Hershey of the Carnegie Institute and Howard Temin of the University of Wisconsin.

Another American group, including some scheduled to give major papers, announced it was withdrawing because not all the Israelis got visas.

According to a report from Tel Aviv, the Israelis have decided as a bloc to boycott the conference because visas were granted to only 15 of the 31 scientists who sought to attend.

About 200 Americans were expected to show up for the meeting, set to open Monday and continue through Aug. 30.

Soviet academician Dmitri Belyayev, general secretary of the current congress, has called genetic engineering the most significant scientific development in the five years since the last such conference at Berkeley, Calif.

A spokesman for the Soviet organizing committee, Professor Sergei G. Inge

Vechtomov, told a press briefing that, "The viral genetic theory of the nature of cancer is finding evermore confirmation. Therefore, use of the theories and methods of genetics promises to yield success in the struggle against malignancies."

Genetic engineering, also known as gene splicing, involves removing the genetic material DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid) from micro organisms or body cells, altering the genetic code in specific ways, then injecting the modified DNA back into living cells.

Life saved by Ala-teen
By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.
Dr. Wallace: It was the letter from Carol, whose mother was an alcoholic, that inspired me to write you. I hope you find what I say worthy of your column. Alcohol is a disease and needs to be treated but treatment cannot be forced. I, to, had an alcoholic mother and knew it. I used to cry, scream, and worst of all, accuse my mother of being an alcoholic. Then I met a girl from Ala-Teen who came to our school to lecture. I attended my first meeting against the wishes of my mom. Once there I shed my shame and was smothered with hope and help. They taught me to be patient and not to accuse. My life went from a nightmare to a daydream; my grades went up and through time, courage and patience my mom saw what Ala-Teen did for me and went to her first Alcoholics Anonymous meeting. She's been dry for over 9 months and is very strong. The love between my mom and me has grown tremendously. All I want to say is teens try Ala-Teen. My life was saved. So can yours. — Freda, Michigan City, Ind. Freda: Thanks for sharing your experience with us. Ala-Teen is a tremendous and respected organization.

Conservative businessmen calling for larger tax cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of the nation's businesses, usually among the most conservative witnesses to appear before Congress, are calling for a tax cut nearly twice the size recommended by the Carter administration and the House.

There are two catches, though. The Chamber of Commerce says corporations and investors should get a bigger share of the $30 billion tax cut it proposes and that the cut should be accompanied by a slowdown in federal spending growth.

"The time is ripe for Congress to limit 1979 outlays to $480 billion," which would permit a 7 percent growth in spending and still allow bigger tax cut without increasing the deficit, Jack Carlson, the chamber's chief economist, told the Senate Finance Committee on Monday.

Congress seems likely to limit spending to about $489 billion next year. But the chamber's philosophy on taxes seems to fit well with that of the committee. That panel is expected to enlarge the House-passed tax cut of $16.3 billion — though not to the chamber's $30 billion mark — and is a good bet to increase the share for business and investors.

The Carter administration says it is comfortable with the size of the bill passed by the House, but prefers that a larger share go to lower- and middle-income individuals and that the capital gains relief, aimed at helping investors, be reduced.

The tax on capital gains, which are profits from the sale of stocks, real estate and other assets, was the biggest stumbling block when the bill was in the House. Because the finance committee almost unanimously supports a lower capital gains tax, that issue is not as volatile in the Senate.

Carlson, speaking for the chamber, advocated a bigger capital gains reduction than was passed by the House. Roland M. Bixler, representing the National Association of Manufacturers, urged a separate reduction in the corporate capital gains tax.

They contend the tax is so high it stifles investment in business. As a result, they say, the economy and worker productivity lags and inflation worsens.

Farm Farm groups prepare status legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional agriculture committees won't get to work on it until next year, but four major farm organizations have prepared legislation designed to boost farmers' prices by forcing buyers to deal with them as a group.

The measure is an attempt to deal with farmers' status as the "odd man out" in the urbanized U.S. free-enterprise system.

Others in the marketplace, for example, are large enough to get the price they want or have a product that's not so perishable that they can't hold out for a better return.

Farmers generally have to take a price rather than set it. Government support prices do establish minimums for major grains, cotton, tobacco, peanuts, sugar and dairy products.

When there's little or no competition among buyers for a farmer's products, the "take it or leave it" rule becomes even harsher, says a background paper on the new bill by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Capper-Volstead Act exempts farmers from most provisions of the antitrust laws and allows them to form cooperatives and associations to market their products.

That law is currently being scrutinized by the Justice Department and other federal agencies questioning whether the broad exemption is fair to consumers.

Nonetheless, the bargaining proposal builds on it.

Capper-Volstead does not force buyers to negotiate with an association. The proposed new law would require them to sit down and bargain in good faith over prices to be paid the farmers and other terms of sale or contract farming.

The Farm Bureau, the National Grange, the National Farmers Union and the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives drafted and endorsed the measure, introduced in the House Aug. 15 by several representatives.

Those groups had said in February they were working on the idea as an alternative to the "full parity" demands of protesting farmers who spent weeks demonstrating and lobbying in Washington last winter.

Some types of farmers — notably producers of perishable fruits and vegetables in California — have already formed associations and gotten buyers that normally like to sign preplanting or preharvest contracts with individuals to deal with them as a group, using a model minimum contract for a particular crop or year.

Under the proposal, the agriculture secretary would certify associations that were comprised of and controlled by producers, have binding contracts with members to sell their products or negotiate the terms of sale and are large enough to effectively represent the growers of a crop.

Farm markets

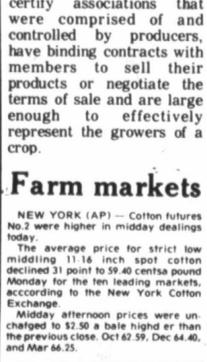

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were higher in midday dealings today.

The average price for strict low middling 1 1/16 inch spot cotton declined 31 points to 59.40 cents pound Monday for the ten leading markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Midday afternoon prices were unchanged to $2.50 a bale higher than the previous close, Oct. 62.59, Dec. 64.40, and Mar. 66.25.

Astros club Cubs

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston right fielder Jose Cruz hopes recent history doesn't repeat itself. Cruz, who has been flirting with the .300 mark the last few weeks, knocked in four runs with three singles and a home run to help pace the Astros to an 8-3 drubbing of the Chicago Cubs Monday night to snap Houston's six-game losing streak.

"It seems like every time I get close to .300, I fall back down," said Cruz, now batting .302. "This wasn't my best game of the season offensively. I had six RBIs in a game against Atlanta."

J.R. Richard and Joe Sambito combined on a six-hitter as Houston moved into a fifth-place tie with the Braves in the National League West.

Dennis Walling's RBI single and Jimmy Sexton's run-producing double staked the Astros to a 2-0 second inning lead against losing pitcher Rick Reuschel, 12-11.

Run-scoring singles by Richard and Sexton and Cruz's two-run single to right triggered a four-run fourth inning explosion as the Astros prevented the Cubs from narrowing Philadelphia's three-game lead over second-place Chicago in the National League East.

Cruz drove in the Astros' final two runs with his 10th homer of the season, a seventh-inning blast over the right-field wall against Cubs reliever Ken Holtzman.

Richard, 13-11, ran into control problems in the eighth as he walked four and surrendered a two-run single to Bill Buckner. Sambito, who signed his 1978 contract earlier in the day, uncorked a wild pitch to bring in the Cubs' final run of the inning before shutting off the rally by retiring pinch-hitter Mike Vail on an inning-ending grounder.

Rangers' red-hot streak blue and 'Jayded' now

TORONTO (AP) — Times have been frustrating for Willie Horton this season, but after spending four months with three separate teams the veteran slugger is hoping he's finally found a home.

"I just hope maybe I can finish out my career here," the 35-year-old designated hitter said after belting a two-run homer and adding a run-scoring single as the Toronto Blue Jays defeated the Texas Rangers 8-6 in a battle of the long ball.

Alan Ashby also contributed a solo home run for the Blue Jays in the American League baseball contest, played before a Canadian National Exhibition crowd of 16,901.

The Rangers got a three-run homer from Jim Sundberg and bases-empty shots from Bobby Bonds, Kurt Bevacqua and Al Oliver as Texas lost its third consecutive game.

Horton, who lives in Detroit, was with the Rangers this spring. But just as training camp opened, he was dealt to the Cleveland Indians, who released him three months into the season.

He was then signed by the Oakland A's but was shipped to Toronto, along with minor league pitcher Paul Hoffman, last Monday in exchange for slugger Rico Carby.

"I've felt comfortable since the first day I put on the (Toronto) uniform," said Horton, who went 2-for-4 in his first game before the Toronto fans after hitting 125 in seven games on the road. "It never takes me long to fit in. I never try to force my ways on anyone."

The Rangers had built up a 6-2 lead after 4½ innings on the four home runs with Horton's blast, his ninth of the season and first since joining the Blue Jays, accounting for Toronto's two runs.

Dave McKay led off the Toronto fifth with a single off starter Dock Ellis, and Tim Johnson's ground-rule double moved him to third. Mike Hargrove's error allowed the first run of the inning to score.

Roy Howell's grounder scored the second run, Horton's single delivered another and chased Ellis. Jim Umberger, 4-8, walked John Mayberry and pinch-hitter Otto Velez before Ashby's bloop single to right scored two runs and put the Blue Jays ahead 7-6.

Ashby added his eighth homer in the eighth in support of Tom Murphy, 5-9, who blanked the Rangers over the final 42-3 innings for the victory in relief of Balor Moore.

"On most days, four home runs is enough," said Texas Manager Billy Hunter, who saw his club drop seven games off the pace of idle Kansas City and California.

"Dock pitched super for the first three innings and then he just got tired. It was his first start since July 18," Hunter said.

Ellis retired the first eight Blue Jays before Johnson's two-out single in the third. The Toronto shortstop had three hits.

Moore was touched for all six Texas runs on nine hits while Murphy blanked the Rangers on three hits the rest of the way. The Blue Jays also collected 12 hits off Ellis, Umberger and Len Barker, who came on to get the final out of the Toronto eighth.

"It was a big home run for Willie and that two-out single of his in the fifth certainly helped out too," said Toronto Manager Roy Hartsfield.

Young Browns nip old Lions

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some have called rookie Mark Miller the Cleveland Browns' "quarterback of the future," but the youngster from nearby Bowling Green University may be changing the timetable.

Miller came off the bench in the second half Monday night to spark the sputtering Browns' offense and guide them to a 14-10 National Football League preseason victory over the Detroit Lions.

He completed his first six passes, including a 39-yard sprint-out throw to another rookie, wide receiver Keith Wright, that set up Cleveland's first touchdown.

Miller then directed the Browns on a long drive that ended with a rookie mistake — a pass into a crowd at the goal line — that resulted in an interception by Detroit's Bruce Rhodes.

The 22-year-old quarterback got a reprieve moments later, though, when veteran running back John Brockington, acquired last week in a trade with Kansas City, fumbled for the second time and Cleveland defensive end Mike St. Clair dashed 15 yards to the Lions' 1.

Fullback Mike Pruitt rammed the ball in on the second play and Cleveland led for good at 14-10.

"Miller was exciting," said Cleveland Coach Sam Rutigliano. "He has the ability to get away from the pass rush and he showed a lot of poise for a young kid who has only played four quarters of professional football. Miller is our backup quarterback."

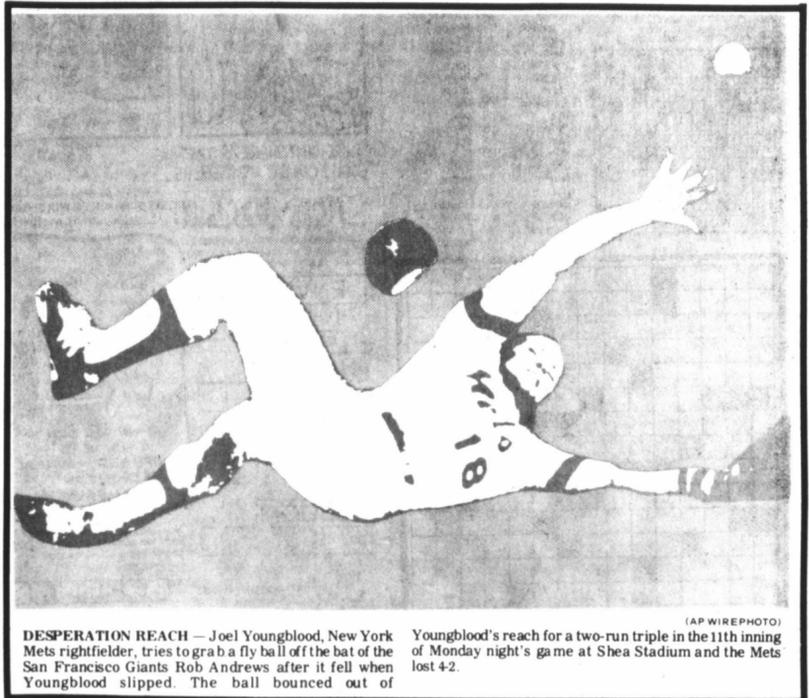

What made the 22-year-old Miller's performance all the more exciting to the slim crowd of 31,345 in cavernous Cleveland Stadium was the flat showing in the first half by veteran quarterback

Brian Sipe and the entire Browns' offense.

Sipe completed seven of 11 passes but wound up on the seat of his pants five times, for a total loss of 38 yards, and the offense wound up with 56 yards against the tough Detroit defense in the first half.

Cleveland's defense was about as tough, limiting the Lions to a second-quarter score on Greg Landry's 30-yard strike to David Hill.

"I'm very disappointed in our offensive line," Rutigliano said. "We had some young people playing and that, plus one guy (guard Barry Darrow) working back into shape after knee surgery, hurt."

DESPERATION REACH — Joel Youngblood, New York Mets rightfielder, tries to grab a fly ball off the bat of the San Francisco Giants Rob Andrews after it fell when Youngblood slipped. Lasorda's sons naughty

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Jovial, wisecracking Tom Lasorda admits he hasn't felt so low since June 5 when it appeared that his National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers were about to come apart at the seams.

"I feel like a man whose two sons just got in a fight," the snow-haired Dodgers skipper said after recovering from the shock of a fist-throwing, floor-rolling altercation in the locker room between two of his biggest stars, pitcher Don Sutton and first baseman Steve Garvey.

"Like any father, you wonder what's the best thing to do. Ignore it and hope the two guys come to their senses. Or bring them together and get it all out in the open.

"I am convinced of one thing — it's not going to sabotage our pennant effort. The NL championship and the World Series means too much to all of us. It was simply spontaneous combustion. Nerves get tender this time of year."

The scrap prior to Sunday's game in New York only goes to prove that it can happen in the best of families.

Nobody — not even a team like the Dodgers, held together by Lasorda's benign, paternal leash — is immune to human frailties.

A personality clash, fed by envy, apparently triggered the Sutton-Garvey confrontation, which has been seething for months. Only mature understanding by two class guys can erase the bitterness and restore harmony in the Los Angeles camp. The situation is not too dissimilar from that which threw the New York Yankees' clubhouse into turmoil — Manager Billy Martin's resentment of high-salaried outfielder Reggie Jackson, catcher Thurman Munson's jealousy of the favored newcomer, plus other minor frictions.

One must scratch the surface of the outwardly happy, dedicated Dodgers to find the source of Sunday's eruption. It could be the Biblical root of all evil — money.

Sutton and Garvey, insiders say, have had a cool relationship since Sutton was given the team's first long-term (four-year, million-dollar) contract prior to the 1977 season and Garvey came along a few months later to top it with a six-year pact at $333,000 a season.

In addition, Garvey, a pleasant, attractive personality, has projected an All-America image which a small core of his teammates has interpreted as "uppity" and "phony." Some have ostracized him and his pretty wife, Cyndy.

"There's nothing phony about Garvey," said Dodgers publicist Steve Brener. "He is what he is."

"A hell of a guy," said Joe Reichler, an aide to baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. "He has a star quality yet no big-headedness. He is much in demand for commercials and endorsements. He is very cooperative."

It's equally hard to say anything bad about Sutton, a top-drawer athlete, clever, witty, brassy.

Sutton ruffled Garvey's normally unflappable feathers when he said in an interview that outfielder Reggie Smith was the team's most valuable player but unsung because he lacked Garvey's Madison Avenue image.

When Garvey took umbrage and confronted his critic, the two came to blows. It took 10 players to separate them. Both carried minor wounds into the dugout. But the greatest pain was borne by Lasorda.

"This has been a tough season," the Dodgers' manager said, "but exciting. We fell six games back in June, went ahead and then fell back again in early July.

"I'll never forget that game with the (New York) Mets (June 5). We had an 8-2 lead going into the ninth and lost 9-8. We fell 5½ games behind the (San Francisco) Giants. I was so discouraged I came back to my office and buried my head in my hands. It was my lowest moment.

"Davey Lopes came in and said, 'Don't worry, skip. We'll be okay.' Then Ron Cey. Then Billy North. The whole team rallied. That's the way this team is. Nothing's going to throw us."

The dark mood vanished — then as now. In a lightning flash, Lasorda was swapping quips and record book teasers with friends.

"Here's one," he said, "who had the most saves in Yankee Stadium?" "Wilky Moore," someone guessed. "Johnny Murphy?" "Joe Page?"

Major league umpires may strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 52 major league umpires, claiming baseball officials have balked at discussing their demands for improved benefits and working conditions, have threatened to strike by the end of the week.

Attorney Richard Phillips, who represents the Major League Umpires Association, said he filed an unfair labor practices suit Monday against the National and American leagues with the National Labor Relations Board.

"The feeling on the part of most umpires is that at this point we will engage in a work stoppage in order to force the major leagues to desist from unfair labor practices," said Phillips.

"The NLRB will initiate its own investigation," Phillips said.

But the lawyer added, "It will be decided this week (by the umpires) whether to strike before the NLRB makes its decision. I don't think we will sit back and wait."

Phillips said the umpires' association executive board, which consists of four National League and three American League umps, would confer by phone, probably today and Wednesday, to make a final decision on the strike.

National League President Chub Feeney, contacted at the San Francisco Giants-New York Mets game in New York, said a strike "is not going to happen."

Bob Fishel, assistant to the president of the American League, confirmed the umpires' association had sent President Lee MacPhail a request to negotiate.

But, Fishel said, the wire had only arrived Friday and it was unclear whether the umpires were seeking changes in the current five-year contract or whether they were offering proposals for a 1981 contract.

Phillips said the umpires' demands are items not covered by the current contract, which was approved in 1977, but he claimed there were procedures for reopening negotiations.

He said the umpires have several demands, including three one-week vacations during the eight-month major league baseball season.

The NBA brought in minor league officials to work the early playoff games. However, an agreement was reached and regular officials worked later games.

"Now that temperatures and electric bills are up, your air conditioner needs all the help it can get!"

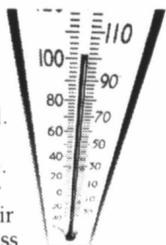

"Hot summer temperatures make your air conditioner work longer and harder. That's what drives up your electric bill.

But there are some things you can do to help. Change or clean your air conditioner's filter to let air flow freely. And trim grass and weeds from around the outside unit for good air circulation.

Inside, close blinds and drapes to help keep out the heat. And try to cut down on the number of times you open doors—an open door lets hot air rush in.

Keep your thermostat set at 78° or higher. To feel cool at this temperature, use a small portable fan to circulate air in the room.

For more ways to cut down high summer electric bills, get Texas Electric's free energy tips booklet. Just call Texas Electric or ask for the booklet on the comment portion of your bill."

LaCock foils robbery

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — One man was critically wounded during a struggle with Royals first baseman Pete LaCock after a robber allegedly pointed a gun at LaCock's pregnant wife Saturday night and threatened to kill her, police said.

Police said LaCock, his wife and two other couples were walking to their car parked near several discos on Kansas City's south side when they were held up by three men.

One of the robbers shot one of LaCock's companions, Gary Gullickson, 32, of Wichita, Kan., in the armpit during the robbery.

Police said LaCock, Gullickson and Ronald Baldwin, another Wichita man, chased the three more than a block and caught Alex M. Clark, 17.

Police said LaCock, who was questioned about the incident for seven hours Sunday morning, was not charged. Gullickson was listed in satisfactory condition.

Sambito signs Astros pact

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros relief pitcher Joe Sambito signed his 1978 season contract Monday, ending months of negotiation between Sambito and Houston General Manager Tai Smith.

Sambito, 26, made his major league debut with Houston in 1976 and leads the Astros in appearances this season with 49. He has a 4-6 record with eight saves.

LL 14's begin today

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Eight teams of young baseball players from around the world are entered in the 32nd annual Little League World Series, with four teams scheduled to begin the quarter-final round today.

The U.S. Eastern champions from Rockville Centre, N.Y., faced the Western team, San Ramon Valley, from Danville, Calif., and the European champions from the U.S. Air Force Torrejon Air Base in Madrid faced the Latin American winners, Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic.

Wednesday's quarter-final games will pit the Canadian champions from Surrey, British Columbia, against the perennially strong Far East representatives from Pin-Tung, Taiwan. Also, the U.S. Southern team from Lexington, Ky., will face the Midwest champs from Palentine, Ill.

Ryan's hope day-to-day

ANAHEIM (AP) — Nolan Ryan's availability to pitch for the California Angels will be determined on a day-to-day basis, the Angels said Monday after a doctor examined Ryan's ribseparation.

X-rays determined there was nothing major about the injury that forced Ryan, 6-11, to leave Sunday's game against Baltimore after seven shutout innings. The Angels won the game 1-0 in 14 innings.

Sanders' 'hardship' over

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Frankie Sanders, a first round National Basketball Association draft choice, went against his parents' wishes when he decided to plead a hardship case and turn professional.

In Sanders' case, hardship does not mean poverty. The No. 1 choice of the San Antonio Spurs, a 6-foot-6 shooter from Dayton, Ohio, and Southern University, said, "Our family has never been in need of money. We're just an average middle class family."

"In fact, my father wanted me to return to school." So did Southern University's followers. Sanders averaged 28.6 points and sank 57 percent of his shots as a junior guard last winter. He ranked fifth in Division I national scoring.

But the lure of gold and national glory was too much for Sanders.

"Some of the general managers in the league advised me that if I went this year, I was a first round pick," said Sanders. He was San Antonio chose him as the 19th player in the opening round.

Sanders showed off a pair of basketball shoes he was wearing in a Columbus summer league.

He will receive $8,000 from the shoe's manufacturer for wearing them this season. "I can't wear any other shoe this year. But that's OK because they're real comfortable," he said.

Sanders is looking for more than a starting berth with the Spurs.

"I want to win Rookie of the Year and I want to play on a championship team. Those are my goals," he said.

Remember Eddie Gaedel? Hint: He was 3'7" tall

By the Associated Press

Eddie Gaedel came to bat only once, and then, not even officially. But, because he was a part of a major league baseball game, his name dutifully is listed in the game's record books. The only tipoff to his unique slice of the game's history is the entry recording his vital statistics.

Next to his height, it says: 3 feet, 7 inches.

It was 27 years ago this week, in August 1951, when owner Bill Veeck interrupted the dog days of summer to send baseball's first — and so far only — midget up to bat for the late and rarely lamented St. Louis Browns.

You have to understand that the Browns didn't have to wait for August for the dog days. The Browns had those days in May. This was a bad baseball team. Worse than that, the Browns were boring. Veeck could endure bad. Boring, however, was unacceptable to the flamboyant showman who now owns the Chicago White Sox.

So Veeck decided to inject some pizzazz into the bleak Browns' show. The answer would be Gaedel, a willing little fellow, who signed a standard American League contract on a Friday and showed up as a pinch hitter two days later.

The Browns, playing at home against the Detroit Tigers in the second game of a Sunday doubleheader, listed Frank Saucier as the center fielder and had him leading off. He played the field in the top of the first, but when the Browns came to bat in the bottom half of the inning, he was not the first batter. Instead of Saucier, a large-sized birthday cake appeared at home plate where Detroit catcher Bob Swift and umpire Ed Hurley eyed it warily. On the mound, pitcher Bob Cain was properly curious.

"We thought it was just another one of Veeck's jokes," Cain said of the cake.

At the proper moment, the layers popped open and there was Gaedel, dressed up in his miniature Browns uniform. Cain, Swift and Hurley could hardly believe their eyes.

"I remember, the umpire went over the the Browns' dugout and asked to see a contract," said Cain. "Zack Taylor was the manager and he was ready. He had the contract in his back pocket. Then Hurley came out to the mound. He said, 'Bob, it's legitimate. You'll have to pitch to him. He has a contract.'"

Now came the strategy conference between pitcher and catcher. How do you pitch to a midget? "Swift started laughing," said Cain. "He said, 'Try to get a strike.'"

'The Champ's' camp is a big one

DEER LAKE, Pa. (AP) — It costs $5,200 a week to hammer and hone a fighter into shape for a heavyweight title fight — that is, if the fighter happens to be Muhammad Ali, always "The Champ."

Somebody else might get the job done for, let's say, a bargain rate of $500.

But not the great Ali, the pride of the universe. He goes strictly first class. He carries with him the largest entourage in the history of boxing.

One man does nothing but anoint that sleek brown body with oil. Another laces on his gloves. During a rope-skipping routine, two men are busy rubbing the sweat off two huge, floor-length mirrors.

Even skipping rope, the magnificent one likes to look at himself in all his splendor — and admire the handiwork.

Three other men do nothing but stand around like government G-men protecting a president. They're the bodyguards. "Watch it, please, not too close to The Champ."

An old pro football scout is at ringside, recording every move of the ex-champion on videotape, with sound effects and commentary. When the last of the day's routines are finished, Ali will curl up on a sofa and do a critique of himself on the screen — an electronic gimmick introduced for the first time for his Sept. 15 return bout against Leon Spinks in New Orleans.

"I see what I do wrong," says Ali.

Back in the kitchen, a special cook is preparing the evening "vittles" — no pork, just kosher beef, fowl, fruit and vegetables. Taboo: fattening, high caloric desserts.

"If The Champ ever retires," said one of the champ's hangers-on, "the government's unemployment figures will skyrocket."

"What do all these people do?" asked a visitor at this log cabin complex on the edge of the Poconos.

A good question — often asked, never adequately answered.

The entourage numbers about 20 — a few Muslims but mostly many old friends who have been with Ali since he came out of the 1960 Olympics to turn pro and twice win — but only once lose — the heavyweight crown.

The only white member of the group — with the exception of veteran trainer Angelo Dundee, who shows up about a month before the fight — is Gene Kilroy, formerly with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who does most of Ali's detail work — travel arrangements, staff assignments, even budget oversight.

One of the most interesting recent additions is Lloyd Wells, the video expert who wears two Super Bowl rings symbolizing his period with the Kansas City Chiefs under Hank Stram.

They call him "Orson," for Orson Welles, because he is a writer, producer, cameraman, director and commentator for the tape TV.

Moore's condition unsure

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "Mom would have called us," she's that type of woman," the 19-year-old daughter of former boxing champion Archie Moore says of reports Moore and his wife were injured in an automobile crash in Africa.

"That's why we're worried. She would have called us by now if everything were all right," their daughter J'Marie said Monday.

The six children of the former world light-heavyweight champion are waiting for news on the condition of their parents. The crash reportedly occurred sometime last week in Nigeria.

Moore has been in Africa for two years instructing Nigeria's Olympic boxing team. The first report, that Moore's spine had been severed, came in a State Department press release that never reached his family. Mrs. Moore reportedly suffered a broken wrist and internal injuries. However, State Department spokesman Tom Reston said Monday that Moore suffered serious back injuries, but did not break his back or sever his spine.

Reston said the former champion, whose age is variously reported at 61 or 64, is scheduled to be released Friday from a Nigerian hospital.

J'Marie said Mr. Jay that their aunt, Willie P. Moore, first heard from the State Department in a telegram that said the accident had happened. But the location and other details were unknown, she said.

Coyote-Mustang scrimmage reset

GAIL — The scrimmage between the Borden Coyotes and the Sands Mustangs, originally scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday, has been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, according to Coyote coach Randy Roemisch.

The scrimmage will be played in Gail.

Grady hires Tom Stalik

GRADY — A replacement for Grady girls' coach Allan Wootan has been hired, according to Head Football Coach Richard Gibson.

Tom Stalik, a three-year veteran coach from Muenster, will take over the duties as girls' basketball, volleyball and track coach.

Matthews takes Loraine post

LORAIN — Caddo Matthews, Colorado City head basketball coach from 1959-1970, has been named new assistant coach for the Loraine Bulldogs.

Matthews led the Cee City roundballers to a third place finish in the state tournament in 1968, and has been serving as county superintendent since 1970.

McLaughlin wins title

ODESSA — After 95 games of tennis Saturday, Kip McLaughlin of Big Spring had waded through three-seeded David Goo, the number one seed Grant Little of Austin, Rom Challipalli, and Paige Ragland to win the University Gardens Open boys 14 singles championship trophy.

In what was reported by many people as the finest match of the tourney, McLaughlin locked horns with Challipalli in a two and a half hour marathon match that ended with Kip winning 7-6 (5-3) in a tiebreaker in the third set.

Challipalli took the first set 7-5, but McLaughlin bounced back in the second, 6-2. Spectators gave the duo a standing ovation after the third set.

In the finals Monday, McLaughlin again went to the distance against Ragland. Kip dropped the first set, 6-3, but rallied for a 7-6 (5-4) tie-breaking victory in the second set. McLaughlin then tree-popped his opponent in the third, 6-0.

Earlier Sunday, McLaughlin and Aubrey Weaver had advanced to the semi-finals in boys doubles, but were defeated by the eventual tournament winners, Challipalli and John Cunningham.

'The Sultan of Smut' makes FBI wanted list

ATLANTA (AP)—Michael G. Thevis once called himself "a businessman in an unusual business." The Reader's Digest put it another way, titling him "The Sultan of Smut."

Raised by Greek immigrant grandparents in Raleigh, N.C., Thevis hitch-hiked here when he was 17 and two years later opened a bookstore. But his career did not blossom until he realized the public's appetite for sexually explicit literature could be translated into hard cash.

"I sensed that something was happening with reader demands in the early 1960s," he explained in an interview several years ago. "Books that dealt with sex don't stay on the shelves very long."

Thevis, now 56, became a millionaire with that idea but he also developed troubles. When he ambled out of an unlocked door at an Indiana jail while serving time on obscenity and conspiracy charges, he wound up on the FBI's most wanted list.
