INTO THE CREEK — This Coahoma School bus made a mighty effort to make its rounds today with Jean Moore driving but it went off the road into a creek two miles east of town during the early morning run. And there it will stay until it dries up, according to a spokesman at the school bus barn.

Coahoma bus slides into creek

By MARJ CARPENTER
Mrs. Jean Moore and a Coahoma School bus slid off the road into the creek this morning when she started on her regular bus route two miles east of Coahoma.

There was fortunately nobody hurt, although Mrs. Moore got quite a scare as the bus attempted to negotiate a turn on the rural road which was completely inundated by water from rains during the early morning hours.

The bus went out of control and whirled and swirled around into the creek where it hit bottom. Mrs. Moore managed to get one door open and get out in the slimey mud to the road.

Extra crews may be hired

Firm gains 'green light' to build hangar shell

McKee Building Systems of Levelland has been given a "green light" to build a hangar shell in the Big Spring Industrial Park, reassurance Lockheed Aircraft Service Co., needed in order to bid on an aircraft modification contract with the U.S. Navy.

A representative of McKee met with city officials this morning at city hall to assure the city council and the Big Spring Steering Committee that the contractors could hire extra crews to see that the Feb. 1 target date is met.

Lockheed, should it win the Navy contract, could use existing facilities at the park only for the initial phase of its operation but would all 90,000 square feet in the proposed building no later than the later part of February.

The McKee firm will expedite construction of the building for an extra consideration of $50,000. McKee must notify steel companies of its building needs no later than Oct. 1 in order to guarantee shipment in early December.

The bids on the government contract will be opened in Washington Dec. 1. Lockheed had requested that the bid opening be moved back to Dec. 15 but that request was denied.

Should Lockheed fail to win the contract, the time table for completion would be changed but work on the structure will proceed regardless. The consensus among civic leaders is that the building would prove attractive to prospective industry, even if Lockheed should not come.

The giant hangar will be built with the help of a $1 million grant from the government. Total cost, if all specifications are met, would amount to about $1.8 million. It is reasoned Big Spring's share of the debt could be retired inside five years through lease payments.

City officials called Lockheed officials following the meeting with McKee Building Systems representatives this morning to assure the California-based firm that building plans had been formulated and preliminary work on the structure would shortly get under way.

In other action taken by the city council and the steering committee at Wednesday's meeting, Mayor Wade Choate was authorized to contact members of the Texas congressional delegation in Washington to appeal to the General Services Administration to withhold half of the housing units in without a dissenting vote.

The action by the council and the steering committee was taken following a meeting with Jeff Brown, a member of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce's Housing Committee, who said local realtors, already concerned over a softening market, were troubled by what might happen if all 460 units were to be offered for sale at once.

FRAMED LACE — The morning sun sets a stunning backdrop for the silhouette of Queen Ann's Lace in southwest Virginia near Pulaski. The flowers seem to be saying goodbye to the summer sun, as soon the evening chill will bring frost and not far behind, winter's snow which will cover the fields of the Old Dominion.

"A real soaker" has pulled Big Spring and Howard County within a half inch of average rainfall for this year.

Four county agents report that the rain does more toward getting the land ready for next year than aiding in this year's crop. Some small cotton was inundated throughout the surrounding area, but the ground absorbed a lot of the moisture and will make it possible for many to plow up this year's small cotton for disaster payments.

Bob Benson in Mitchell County reported that they had a little more early rain than some of the other counties and will still make around 25,000 or 30,000 bales off 70,000 acres. This particular rain was from 1.5 to 3.3 in Mitchell County.

Bruce Griffith in Howard County said it will help the farm land and the runoff will also help fill up stock tanks. "The rainfall is wonderful for the rangeland," he added.

Joe Ed Wise in Dawson County said that the county which is often the largest cotton producing county in the world with 240,000 bales last season will only harvest around 70,000 bales this year. Last night's rain ranged from four inches in the Welch area downward to two inches.

Preston Faris at Martin County reported a good general rainfall of two to four inches. Jerry Hall, a farmer in the Ackerly area said there was four inches west of Ackerly in the area around Joe Gillespie's farm and 2.5 back east of town. The Flower Grove gin reported four inches.

A 3.85 inch reading at the Big Spring Experiment Station brought the year's total to 13.47 inches here, or .45 inches behind average.

Accumulated rainfall before 5 p.m. Wednesday was only 9.4 inches, and prospects continued to look bleak for the cotton farmers as the land was still too dry to be put up for the winter.

But a long, slow, delicious rain fell steadily across a three-county wide belt all night, and dramatically changed hopes in West Texas.

Owen Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said that the runoff could not yet be predicted because the rainfall was so slow, and so much soaking had taken place.

But rainfall reports run as high as five inches in some parts of the county, with most northern communities getting the lion's share.

The rain has apparently had an adverse effect on telephone exchanges beginning with 396-Elbow, Lomax, and other southwest county residents had "trouble on the line" after the 24-hour soaking.

Forsan reported only 1.5 inches of rain, while Glasscock County said its total barely reached .2 inches, an on-and-off sprinkling.

But with weather experts predicting an 80 percent chance of continuation of the rain through today and tonight and 30 percent Friday, the situation may change from joy toward concern before gray skies clear. Although Griffith says the county is "a long way" from wanting the rain to cease, another three inches could indeed be too much of a good thing.

Heavy rains prove blessing to inspection team at HC

The heavy rains which fell in the Big Spring area overnight proved to be a blessing to Howard College inspection teams, too, in that the moisture gave the new coliseum the severest of tests for leakage.

Inspectors fanned out over the huge structure this morning and discovered no new leaks. The news means that the Lane Company of Arlington, brought in to repair trouble spots within the building, can proceed with plans to seal leaks already discovered. Lane, it is estimated, has already repaired about a fourth of the leaks it had discovered and likely will be busy through much of next week completing its job.

Hoping for an Oct. 15 grand opening, college officials will run through its "punch list" about Monday to see if all deficiencies have been corrected.

A $40,000 sound system is being installed in the structure by Bales Sound of Lubbock. It likely will be completed next week. Representtatives of the Seco Company are due here next week to undertake work on staging and drapes.

The arena floor of the coliseum did not have a drop of water on it this morning, the inspection team was gratified to learn, despite the fact that rainfall in the area totaled about three inches Wednesday evening through this morning.

Bobby Bare Show

moved to auditorium

Bobby Bare Show will be in the City Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. today as a feature of the Howard County Fair.

Eddie Herm, speaking for the Four County Young Farmers, said, "Tickets will be available at the door and this show should be outstanding."

The show attendance will still be part of the Howard County Fair, which is having its problems with the rain this week.

Focalpoint

Action / reaction: Hazard for children?

Q. Is it legal for parents picking up their children at school to let their cars stack up into the roadway? Isn't this a hazard for the children?

A. It is not legal for a standing vehicle to block a roadway. All schools are very active at certain times of the day, and wherever you have a lot of vehicles and a lot of excited children, you also have a potential tragedy. Extreme care as well as careful regulation on the part of parents, teachers, bus drivers, and law enforcement officers is the best defense we have.

Calendar: Bare site changed

TODAY
The Howard County Fair continues with the 4-H Club omelet supper from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., followed by the Bobby Bare Show at 8 p.m. Opening play in the county domino championship begins at 6 p.m. in the north barn. Exhibits are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The Bobby Bare Concert has been moved into the City Auditorium. Doors open at 8 p.m. Performance begins at 8:30 p.m.

FRIDAY
Ray Darby, a Kiowa Indian whose great-grandfather was a scout for Custer, will perform at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. today at the rodeo arena. This replaces his Wednesday night show which was rained out.

The pet show of the Howard County Fair begins at 7:30 p.m., and play in the county domino championship begins its second round at 6 p.m. in the north barn.

Offbeat: Rain dance results

"I did a demonstration rain dance Wednesday," Ray Darby, Kiowa Indian, stated here Wednesday night, "and look what happened."

He rescheduled his Indian show at the Howard County Fair for two performances Friday night at 7 and 9 p.m.

Darby's great-grandfather was a scout and guide for Gen. George Custer. His show includes music, ancestral Indian dances and religious psalms. The show also includes comedy patter.

Tops on TV: Orphan joins 'Family'

The popular show, "Family," airs its premiere episode at 9 p.m. on ABC. Quinn Cummings, who did a fine job as the precocious youngster in the movie "The Goodbye Girl," is an orphan who joins the family, and then causes tension when she refuses to accept any form of affection. For animal lovers, "Nova" presents a fascinating look at the expanding roles and responsibilities of zoos around the world, 8 p.m. on PBS.

Outside: Rain

The forecast is all wet! Chances of more rain are 80 per cent today and tonight, and 30 per cent Friday. Flash flood warnings are out for the area, and the rain should continue, varying between a drizzle and a full-fledged thunderstorm. High today is expected to be near 60, dropping into the mid 50s tonight. High Friday is expected to be in the upper 60s. Winds are from the southeast at 10 to 15 miles per hour, but should slow to five to 10 miles per hour tonight.

Police beat Rain slows thugs' moves

The rainy weather may have been responsible for keeping Big Spring criminals indoors and out of action.

Furr's Grocery, 900 11th, was stuck with a forged Social Security check that was cashed sometime last week. The fake check was in the amount of $246.10.

A local woman called a friend to say that she would attempt suicide by overdosing on sleeping pills, Wednesday afternoon. Fortunately the woman was located in her car just west of the Ramada Inn by patrolmen, and rushed to Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released later that night.

In another unfortunate incident, 15-year-old Truman Lynn Davis, 610 San Antonio, is in critical condition in Odessa's Medical Center after the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car at the intersection of FM 700 and West Highway 80.

According to police reports, the youth was northbound on his bike on FM 700 when he rode through a red light at the intersection, 7:28 p.m. Wednesday. He was struck by a car driven east on Highway 80 by Louis B. Evans, 1201 Frazier.

Young Davis was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital with what appeared to be serious head injuries. He was transferred to the Medical Center later Wednesday night, where he is under the attention of a neurosurgeon in the intensive care unit there.

Four mishaps were reported Wednesday. A parked car belonging to Hamilton Witt, Coahoma, rolled across the street, and struck the side of the Dutchover-Thompson Furniture Building, 503 Lamesa, causing an estimated $800 worth of damages.

A vehicle driven by Gregg Merritt, 1602 Cole, struck a parked vehicle belonging to J.J. Fulesday, 4039 Vicky, in the driveway of the Merritt home, 8:04 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Mark A. Madigan, Sterling City Route, and Kelvin L. Rogers, 633 Settles, collided in the lot of Furr's Cafeteria, 4:17 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Ronnie G. Ille, 802 Birdwell, and Thomas G. Blakemore, Lubbock, collided at Fifth and Gregg, 4:47 p.m.

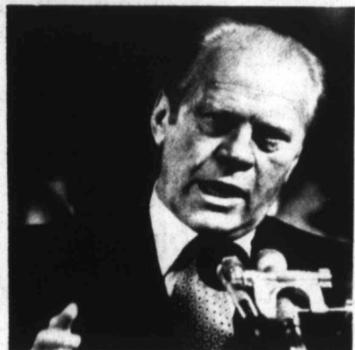

TRAGIC ACCIDENT — Officer David Caudle examines the wreckage of a bicycle beneath a car that was driven by Louis B. Evans, 1201 Frazier, on the rain-slicked Highway 80. The rider of the bicycle, Truman Lynn Davis, 15, 610 San Antonio, is in critical condition in Odessa's Medical Center. He was riding his bicycle north on FM 700 when the collision occurred, 7:28 p.m. Wednesday.

FORD TESTIFIES—Former President Gerald R. Ford testifies before the House Assassinations Committee Thursday in Washington as the panel continues its probe of the slaying of President John F. Kennedy. Ford served on the Warren Commission which also probed the slaying.

100 donate blood

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — More than 100 people volunteered to donate blood for a Presbyterian minister who has leukemia, blood bank officials said. The donations relieve the family of the Rev. Dr. John S. Brown of Ginter Park Presbyterian Church of the responsibility of paying for his transfusions.

Of the 116 people who volunteered about three-fourths gave blood, said Wendy Hosick, an assistant supervisor at the Richmond Metropolitan Blood Bank. "We have never, ever, since we have been in business, had as many people donate for one person in particular," she said.

Python strangles owner

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Doug Martin, 33, was strangled after a pet python more than 12 feet long overpowered him at his home during a feeding, Boone County authorities said.

Martin's wife told state police she found him unconscious in the basement late Tuesday, with a python coiled around his neck. Efforts to revive Martin failed, said state trooper Hobart Strange, a next-door neighbor summoned by Martin's wife.

In addition to three pythons and a boa constrictor, Martin also owned alligators, lizards, tarantulas, turtles and other snakes, authorities said.

Crude oil received

HOUSTON (AP) — The first shipment of crude oil from Alaska's North Slope to move by pipeline from the West Coast has been received at Atlantic Richfield's refinery in Houston. Earlier shipments to Gulf Coast refineries moved by tanker via the Panama Canal.

Company officials said Wednesday the oil flowed through a pipeline that formerly moved oil from northwestern New Mexico to the West Coast. That line connected to one linking New Mexico and Texas.

Deaths

Pearl Curtis

LAMESA — Services for Pearl Curtis, 76, of Lamesa, were held at 10 a.m. today in First United Methodist Church here with the Rev. Alvis Cooley, pastor, officiating.

Burial followed in Lamesa Memorial Park under direction of Branon Funeral Home here.

Mrs. Curtis died at 9:15 a.m. Monday in 15th Street Leisure Lodge here after a long illness.

She moved from Mitchell County to Dawson County in 1902, and was a 63-year member of the United Methodist Church.

She married H.L. Mitchell in O'Donnell in 1917.

Survivors include three daughters, Bernice Daniels of Lamesa, Mary Ella White of Little Rock, Ark., and Pearl Stone of Clovis, N.M.; two sons, L.J. and Herman; a sister, Lou Roy of O'Donnell, 15 grandchildren; and 11 great-grandchildren.

Chamber's program of action approved

The 1979 program of action for the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce was unanimously approved and election results to replace six retiring directors were canvassed at Wednesday's regular board of directors meeting.

Balloting for the six Chamber members nominated to assume directorships Jan. 1, 1979 showed that 94 percent of the Chamber members cast identical ballots with only a few members putting write-in candidates on the ballot. The incoming directors, Jimmy Taylor, Bill Draper, Oscar Zartuche, John Kee, Tom Watson and Bob Hurt, will attend an orientation session in October in preparation to serving on the Chamber board. The orientation is also open to any other Chamber directors whose terms do not expire Jan. 1, 1979.

The program of action for 1979 was formulated at a planning conference Tuesday which was attended by 11 directors. The program, in its entirety, will be printed in a booklet by the Chamber as soon as possible. Included in the program are a number of specific and general guidelines designed to stress areas of need within the city and the area where the Chamber could provide leadership or support in making improvements. The total community and the economic environment of the area are given consideration in the program.

The Education committee of the Chamber is making final arrangements for the Oct. 3 breakfast to be held at Howard College. Chamber officials are hinting at a "surprise" for those attending the affair, which honors new teachers in the area.

The Arts and Crafts Fair, an effort of the Cultural Affairs committee, is approximately three weeks away and only three booths were not taken at the time of the board meeting.

Skipper Driver, agriculture committee chairman, reported that the annual Agri-Business Appreciation Barbecue, held Tuesday at the Howard County Fair, was attended by more people than ever before. Final count on the number of plates served was 785.

Clyde McMahan and Winston Wrinkle were nominated by the Chamber for the Volunteer Industrial Developer of the Year award, given by the Texas Industrial Commission. The nominations were not announced until Wednesday. Although the two did not receive the award, they were given Volunteer Industrial Developer Citation in a surprise presentation at the board meeting.

Jack Redding of the Big Spring Industrial Team also expressed appreciation for the continuing efforts of Granville Hahn who was instrumental in getting several industries to locate at the Industrial Park. Hahn has more recently gotten another firm interested in a site at the park and talks are proceeding there. Redding called Hahn a "one-man industrial team" and said

TV to feature 'Potton House'

The "Eyes of Texas" television program, which can be seen on KMID-TV Midland Channel 2 starting at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, will include a segment on Big Spring's "Potton House," the Herald has been informed.

It's likely the syndicated program will include its filming of the World's Championship Texas-Style Domino Tournament held here in late July a week from Saturday, Sept. 30.

Wakefield named probation officer in Taylor County

Robert G. "Bob" Wakefield, who was chief juvenile probation officer for Howard County from November 1965 to October 1968, is the newly appointed Taylor County juvenile probation officer.

He was named Tuesday to succeed the resigned George Maxwell, effective Oct. 1. The juvenile board meeting in Abilene set serving as a parole officer for the Texas Youth Council from October 1968 until 1970. He was supervisor in the juvenile work — from detention home through parole — and lacks only his thesis in completing the requirements for a master's degree in corrections.

He was a juvenile probation officer in Nueces County (Corpus Christi) for 2 1/2 years prior to moving to Big Spring.

Wakefield has been employed since Sept. 1, 1977 as resident agent with the Insurance Crime Prevention Institute in Houston. For 16 1/2 years prior to that he was director of the Juvenile Service Bureau for the Deaf Park Police Department.

A 1955 graduate of Abilene High School, Wakefield had an office in the old Taylor County Courthouse while receiving as a parole officer for the Texas Youth Council from October 1968 until 1970. He was supervisor in the juvenile work — from detention home through parole — and lacks only his thesis in completing the requirements for a master's degree in corrections.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Harte-Hanks Communications, Inc., has completed the acquisition of an AM radio station, WLCY in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Company officials said the purchase price was $4.5 million.

Balanced budget is possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agreement by House and Senate conferees on a budget with the lowest deficit in five years holds out hope that the government's books can be balanced by 1981, the chairman of the House Budget Committee says.

Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., the committee chairman, said a balance could be met "if Congress continues to exercise restraint on spending and if the economy continues to be healthy."

Giaimo planned to seek a House vote almost immediately on the budget, but this would require unanimous consent to waive parliamentary delaying requirements. The Senate is set to act soon after the House.

The conferees, who had been deadlocked over financing a special public works program, compromised and agreed Wednesday on a fiscal plan projecting a deficit of $38.8 billion.

The agreement also would allow for reducing taxes at least $2 billion more than the House voted in a $16.3 billion tax relief bill. The Senate Finance Committee already is enlarging the tax cut.

BSHS musician nominated to 1978 All-American Band

Dedication, long hours of hard work, tough practice sessions and field drills sound like the schedule of a committed athletic star. But for Jim Griffin of Big Spring, these same daily rigors have paid off in a musical sense.

Griffin has been nominated for the 1978 McDonald's All-American High School Band. Griffin's nomination was announced by Vic Moore who operates the McDonald's restaurant at 1111 Andrews Hwy. in Midland.

The band was formed in 1967 to honor top-ranking musicians in the same way that outstanding young athletes are honored. A total of 102 school musicians are chosen — two from each state and the District of Columbia. The band performs under the direction of Paul Lavalle, former music director of Radio City Music Hall and director of the Band of America.

Annually, the All-Americans march in two celebrated parades — the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City, and the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, California. This year, the Band also will perform in a special concert at New York City's famed Carnegie Hall.

All nominees for the McDonald's All-American

High School Band are selected by their individual band directors on the basis of musical honors and solo contest ratings. Nominees who are selected to be members of the All-American Band will be notified in early October.

"Only outstanding high school musicians are considered," said Moore. "Jim's nomination to the Band is a real tribute to his musical talent and we're very proud of him."

Jim Griffin plays the clarinet in the Big Spring City Band, and was nominated for All-American honors by band director Steve Wagner.

SURPRISE AWARD — Jim Griffin, at the right, president of the Big Spring Steer Band, receive a surprise award at the high school assembly Wednesday as a nominee for the McDonald's Honor band which gets to march in the Rose Bowl parade, Macy's Parade and others. The presentation is being made by Roger Thurston of Midland's McDonalds. He said Griffin was one of two students in Texas nominated.

Resident recalls Dalton Gang

By MARJ CARPENTIER
Chester Cluck was raised in Coffeyville, Kan. and used to poke around in the walls of the bank hunting slugs in the bullet holes shot by the Dalton Gang during their final attempted bank robbery.

Chester and all the other young boys around Coffeyville in the early 1900s loved the tale and would pround around the area where four of the five Dalton gang and four townsmen died in a bloody gunfight.

That's the time the Dalton gang decided to rob two banks at once. Two of the Dalton brothers, Bob and Grat were killed along with two other members of their gang. Emmett Dalton was wounded but lived to be tried and serve time in the penitentiary.

The little boys in Coffeyville, who were the first generation after that bloody street battle, replayed it and relived it over and over.

They didn't turn out to be outlaws, despite their concern with the Dalton gun battle. In those days, there was no television, so kids fought their own old west tales in the streets.

Actually, Cluck was born at Noblesville, Indiana within the sound of the Indianapolis Raceway but moved to Coffeyville in 1905.

The Dalton Gang fight in Coffeyville was brought to the forefront recently with a television special. "It pops up every few years again somewhere," Cluck stated here this week.

Sixty-two years after the battle, the town opened a museum. The museum tries to depict all of the history of the area, but most of all it's a history of the Dalton Gang. One of the fellows who came back for that opening was a man named Jack Long of Dearing. He actually had peeked in the window of one of the banks during the robbery and Bob Dalton waved him aside with his gun barrel, telling him "Beat it kid."

On recalling the Dalton gang, Cluck pointed out that two of them at one time were deputy marshals. "I guess lawmen and outlaws weren't too far apart in those days after the Civil War. It was trying times for everyone."

Cluck moved to Tulsa where he worked with his brother-in-law at the telephone company and then came with Jack Cummings to Big Spring to work at the weather bureau which opened here in 1932. Big Spring only had a weather bureau that one year.

Cluck said they sent up weather balloons daily and during that year, "we recorded the coldest temperature Big Spring has ever had. I had to go up on the roof to send up the balloons and get the temperatures and all of that. I absolutely froze up there that morning."

"When I came down and reported six degrees below zero, my supervisor said I was crazy and sent me back up. I never hope to be any colder than that," Cluck recalled.

Cluck said that he and Jack both planned to spend just a little while in Big Spring. But, he met Lillian Clayton in the library and eventually married her.

So he stayed in Big Spring and worked at the old Bombardier Air Base. "We went through the days of the big secrecy about the Nordin bomb site. Those were exciting times," he recalled.

After the base closed, he ran a service station for Shell at Bell and Lancaster. Then for many years he had the station at 10th and Scurry for Humble.

He and his wife lived one year in Midland, but Cluck recalls, "Lillian didn't like it over there. She said nobody called her Lillian and one day her own little boy started referring to her as 'Mizz Cluck' and she thought it was time to come home."

Her family lived for many years on the corner of 8th and Gregg where a 7-11 Store now stands. She knows lots of Big Spring history.

But Chester has one on her — they never did have the Dalton gang fight in Big Spring. "Thank goodness," says Lillian.

Appeals Court upholds death sentence

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld the death penalty for Bernard Ferguson in the "savage, ruthless" murder of an attendant at a Killeen convenience store.

Ferguson, 17 at the time of the Jan. 25, 1977, slaying, was convicted of stabbing Randy Tingle four times in the back as Tingle lay face down in the store.

The appeals court said Wednesday expert medical witnesses testified that the size of the wounds was "compatible" with the knife having been twisted after it was thrust into Tingle.

An accomplice witness, Jody Persons, testified that just before Ferguson stabbed Tingle the last time, "That's enough," Persons said blood was gushing from Tingle's mouth.

Approximately $28 was taken from the cash register. Persons testified that on the way out Ferguson took a package of cookies.

Tingle pleaded with a caller to contact the police, who arrested Ferguson 3½ hours later as he and Persons arrived in a car at a Killeen residence.

Blood was found on Ferguson's jacket, pants, gloves and on currency found in his billfold. There also was blood on a knife found at the residence. The blood on the knife and jacket was shown to be the same type as Tingle's.

The appeals court rejected six alleged points of error, including Ferguson's plea that a sample of his blood had been obtained by unlawful search and seizure.

Tests established that blood on the knife, jacket and pants was not of the same type as Ferguson's.

"Given the wealth of evidence of appellant's guilt," the court said, "we conclude that the admission in evidence of the blood sample was harmless error beyond a reasonable doubt."

"The death penalty is a harsh penalty; it is especially harsh when assessed against a person who is 17 years of age as was the appellant when he committed the offense," the court said.

"However, in view of the savage, ruthless murder for which appellant was convicted and in view of the entire record, we cannot say that the death penalty assessed is unjust."

Crocheting class beginning at HC

A course in beginning crochet starts at Howard College on Sept. 26 at 7 p.m.

The course will meet on Tuesday evenings from 7-9 p.m. in the administration building annex, room A-4. The session will be for six weeks. Tuition is $14 which includes supplies for the first class period.

The course will cover the basic stitches, how to read crochet patterns, and how to design original articles in crochet. Special instructions will be given to left-handed persons.

The instructor will be Ms. Susan King of the Howard College English department who does needlework as a hobby. Her crochet classes in the past years have been very popular.

"Crocheted garments and articles for the home are very much in style now," reports Ms. King. "My students enjoy making these for themselves and for gifts. Some of my students have sold their crocheted shawls and purses, but most take the course for enjoyment and to learn a new hobby."

Interested persons may register at the adult and continuing education office in the Administration building. For additional information, call 267-6311, ext. 66.

Federal Fugitive identified

DALLAS (AP) — Bobby Johnson, a federal fugitive for 20 months despite the fact he reportedly drowned in the Gulf of Mexico early last year, has been seen alive and positively identified by the FBI.

James Geer, assistant special agent in charge of the Dallas division of the FBI, said agents positively identified the Wichita Falls grain dealer Aug. 18, living in Clarkston, Wash., under the assumed name Darrell Dean Olson.

However, the same evening, Johnson was apparently tipped that agents were in the area and fled Clarkston, abandoning the truck he was driving about 20 miles outside the town, the agent said.

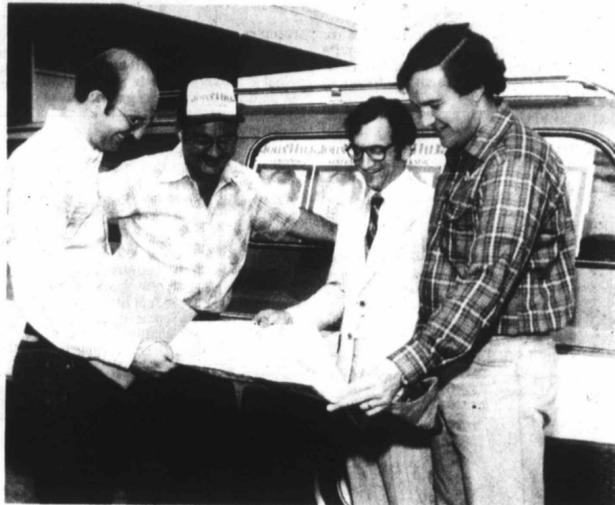

Geer said agents had been conducting interviews in Clarkston after receiving information about a vehicle linked to Johnson that was registered to an Irene M. Olson at Great Falls, Mont. Further investigation determined the woman had moved to Clarkston, Wash., and was living with a Darrell Olson. Agents had interviewed the woman in Clarkston the evening Johnson disappeared.

Prison's fund request okayed

Cong. Omar Burleson notified Big Spring City Manager Harry Nagel by mail Wednesday that the U.S. Bureau of Prison's request for funds in the amount of $5 million to operate minimum security correctional institutions in Big Spring and California had been approved by a Senate-House joint committee in Washington.

Burleson added that President Jimmy Carter was expected to sign the legislation within a short time, which means plans to activate the prison complex here is proceeding on schedule.

The funds would be for the 1978-79 fiscal year. If Carter approves the appropriation, work on the local compound could begin as early as Oct. 1 and the first group of prisoners would be sent here by July 1.

Mike Perrin, son-in-law of John Hill, who is the Democratic nominee for governor, was in Big Spring Wednesday in behalf of the campaign.

He was one day behind Hill himself who appeared at the local airport on Tuesday.

Perrin, a name familiar to University of Texas football fans, was defensive end on the Longhorns' 1968 Southwest Conference championship team. He was an Academic All-American and graduated with a degree in match with honors.

After being named Outstanding first year student in the University of Texas law school, he graduated in 1971 with the highest grade on the bar exam. He is in the Houston law firm of Fischer, Roach and Gallagher.

The entire Hill family is on the road again campaigning for Hill for governor and this week were especially plugging his anti-inflation

Abandoned dog was smiling

CAERPHILLY, Wales (AP) — An abandoned dog remained a week on a lonely hillside standing over a coat which carried its owner's scent before rescue came in the form of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Other rescuers had been driven away by the dog's snarls, but the society said the snarls were just the animal's way of smiling.

Heavy rains, cold front move over state

By the Associated Press

Very heavy thunderstorms were reported during the predawn hours across southern Andrews and northern Ector Counties. These thunderstorms were just a small portion of a large area of rain and thunderstorms that extended early today from the Abilene and Snyder areas southwestward across Midland-Odessa and across the Pecos River into the Davis Mountains.

The flash flood watch covered Brewster, Jeff Davis, Pecos, Presidio and Terrell Counties.

WEST TEXAS — Partly cloudy with chance of showers or thunderstorms south. Warming trend most sections Saturday. Highs in the 80s except mid 90s lowlands of the Big Bend. Lows in the 50s except lower 60s extreme south.

WEST TEXAS — Flash flood watch in effect today for southern portion of southwest Texas. Mostly cloudy and cooler. Decreasing cloudiness and a little warmer Friday. Scattered showers and thunderstorms through Friday.

Gluttony is a dangerous addiction

Ours is a consumer society. We are also a nation where it is quite fashionable to store up worldly goods, contrary to the teachings found in Holy Script.

It's one thing to amass and stockpile the things we sorely need to sustain human life. It's something else to accumulate more possessions than one could possibly use in a lifetime.

Most of us, it seems, have to have at least two of everything, whether it be telephones, Mercedes Benz or ice boxes.

TAKE A look in your clothes closets. Women who are prone to say they haven't a thing to wear obviously mean they haven't bought something for a presidential ball. The biggest problem many face these days is trying to find room to store the new raiment we do bring home. Gluttony is a dangerous addiction and should be combated as such. What is wrong with being seen in the same dress or the same pair of slacks twice within the same week?

Look into almost any garbage can in a well-to-do neighborhood and you're apt to find discarded staples that would be regarded as delicacies in many parts of the world — where the supply never quite meets the demand for food.

What we are doing, in order to appease our appetites for possessiveness, is stripping our forests, burning our fuel at a greater rate than it can be replaced, killing off our wild life in appalling numbers, razing the land and consuming our fresh water at too rapid a pace in order to satisfy needs created by new stations in life we think we've achieved.

In short, we think it is expected of us to show our affluence to all the world. We direct ridicule at the people of substance who prefer to live simply, offering little jokes like "they think they can take it with them."

IN THIS complex society we have built, there are getting to be fewer and fewer producers and more and more consumers. When that condition exists, the price we pony up for goods gets higher and higher.

Men of great wisdom will tell you that the less people own the more control they have over their lives and the greater chance they have to be happy.

It was H.D. Thoreau, the Sage of Walden, who once wrote:

"Most of the luxuries, and many of the so-called comforts of life are not only not indispensable, but positive hindrances to the elevation of mankind."

Many of today's garage sales are held because people have found they just don't have the room to store the things they've accumulated and the disposal of goods by any method often has a cleansing effect.

Our clutter occurs when the things we accumulate but don't need get in the way of things we do need.

Love affair

Around the rim

James Werrell

There's just nothing like a fair with all those chickens and hogs and vegetables and everything. I guess I first developed my love of fairs back when I was a little kid, and the whole family would row across the Ohio River to Kentucky to see the Bung Creek Fair and Exposition there. It was small, but it gave me the general idea of what fairs are all about.

Mom and Dad would usually set us kids loose right away in the "Grab-a-Duck" pen. We kids, who had never handled anything but collies, sea monkeys and the like, got a chance to lay our hands on something different.

Stopping Contest. In this contest, the officials would strip the grill and radiator off a pickup truck. Then men and boys over 16 could try to stick their arms in the fan and stop it before it got going really fast.

Losers in this event usually scored high in the wild deer riding contest where you were only allowed to hold on with one hand anyway.

THE MEN went for these rough-and-tumble events, but you could find most of the women over at the carp picking display. For this, the women would gather carp from the bottom of the Ohio River (the only kind of fish that can live in its waters), throw them in a big jar of pickle juice, and leave the jar in their cellars for a couple of years.

There was a furor among the ladies one year when the judges gave Busty Tooterall an honorable mention just because her carp was still alive.

Kids liked the bread dough-eating contest where each kid would sit around and let a piece of dough rise in his mouth. The last one to pass out for lack of air was the winner.

Mrs. Beulah Ruttle was always a big favorite at the fair. She sold little sweaters she had knitted to keep cats warm in the winter out of a booth called "Cardigans For Kitty."

All-in-all the fair was a wondrous occasion for the whole family. Displays and events such as the oatmeal spitting contest, the frog poke, the four-mile sack race, the crocheted bun warmer booth and too many others to mention here, helped make my childhood what it is today.

Fight looming

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — President Carter's chief inflation fighters are engaged in a crucial struggle with top regulatory officials over how much the country can afford to pay to clean up the environment.

The influential Charles Schultze, the president's chief economic adviser, has been leading a quiet effort to dilute or delay regulations that would protect the health of millions of Americans. The economic experts believe these regulations would fuel inflation by adding billions of dollars to the cost of doing business.

THE FAILURE to protect workers and consumers from devastating diseases, however, would be even more costly to the economy, environmental officials argue. They complain that the economists have singled them out while ignoring other costly issues such as the special tax breaks and outright subsidies that big corporations have wangled out of Washington.

Now we have learned that Schultze may have violated the law by personally putting pressure on environmental officials long after the deadline for public comment had expired. Schultze made several phone calls to Douglas Costle, the environmental chief, in an attempt to influence his agency's ruling on the amount of lead that will be tolerated in the air. The calls came well after the official deadline had expired.

Schultze asked Costle, according to competent sources, how he could convey his concern over the proposed lead standard. Costle carefully warned him not to raise any information that wasn't already in the public record or the regulations could be invalidated. "The game has to be played by the rules," Costle reportedly told him.

A spokesman confirmed to our reporter Vicki Warren that Schultze "has been in touch with Costle after the public comment period was over." He insisted, however, that Schultze had not violated the law because he didn't introduce any new information. The law, he noted, "is enormously complicated."

But other White House economists also lobbied with the Environmental Protection Agency over the lead standard more than two months after the comment period had ended. At a two-hour meeting in early August, the economic aides handed over a thick report which criticized the lead standard as too severe. The rules or public account comment were established, it should be noted, to prevent any improper pressure from industry executives or other special interests.

Most of the lead in the air comes from gasoline additives and is sprayed out of automobile exhaust pipes, although some billows out of industrial smokestacks. The problem is most severe in urban areas, where the lead settles on the children's playgrounds. High levels of lead also add to air pollution and make it difficult for persons with respiratory ailments to breathe.

The proposed lead rules would require an initial capital outlay of $620 million, followed by $140 million a year for maintenance. Industrial firms are bitterly opposed to any new regulations. But the Environmental Defense Fund may take Schultze to court over what it considers his illegal intervention on the issue.

Lead pollution is not the only issue in this high-stakes struggle between the environmentalists and the industrialists. An environmental regulations have come under increased scrutiny after one of Carter's quiet advisers, Robert Strauss, singled them out as a major cause of inflation.

THIS WAS followed by a backroom skirmish between the president's economic advisers and safety officials. The Occupational Safety and Health Administration tried to set limits on worker exposure to cotton dust. This was intended to protect 600,000 textile workers from brown lung disease. But Schultze, supported by wage-price adviser Barry Bosworth, tried to water down the standard. The backroom fight eventually involved the president himself.

One safety official later complained that the confrontation with his own White House colleagues "was harder than fighting the industry." The economic side of the White House won at least a tactical victory. The deadline was extended for four years, and the cost of controlling cotton dust was scaled down from $2.7 billion to $625 million.

The next battle involved pollution control in areas of the country where the air is already clean. This time, the wage-price control council intervened two months after the comment period ended. But the environmental agency didn't retreat from its strict standards to prevent the deterioration of clean air.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am in my forties, and single. A lot of people in my church treat me as if something must be wrong with me. Doesn't God love me just as much as he does my married friends? — O.B.

DEAR O.B.: Yes, He certainly does. God also wants to use you in your singleness. There are things you will be able to do for God that a married person would find difficult.

You should understand that people naturally tend to find friends among those who have similar situations and problems. Those involved in family life will seek out friends with the same problems and joys they have as parents and spouses. That is no reflection on you — it is a fact of life. I'm not saying that it should always be this way — I believe God would have those who are married be more open and loving toward those who are not.

I would encourage you to do several things. First, thank God that He loves you with an everlasting love. If you have put your trust in Christ, you belong to Him. You have been adopted into His family. "This is love: not that we loved God, but that he loves us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins" (1 John 4:10, New International Version).

Somoza or else

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — A well-known columnist came into my office the other day and asked, "Who are you for, Somoza or the Commies in Nicaragua?"

"Why do I only have a choice between a dictator and the Communists? Why can't I be for Lopez?"

"Who's Lopez?"

"I don't know who Lopez is. Let's say he's the guy in the middle who hates Somoza and can't stand the Communists."

"Because Lopez would get eaten up by the Commies. If you're for the American interests in Central America you have to be for Somoza."

"I DON'T WANT to be for Somoza. He's a tyrant and from what I read, a crook. He's milked the country dry for 40 years. I hope he gets bounced out on his ears."

"What he is and what he does is not our concern. Do you realize if the other side kicks Somoza out, the Commies will have a dagger pointing right at the Panama Canal?"

"Maybe so. But it's obvious Somoza can't hold on much longer, and we should see to it that Lopez is pro-American too. We're not going to do it if we keep training Somoza's national guard officers to shoot the Nicaraguan people."

"So what you're saying is that we should get in bed with Castro?"

"I'm saying no such thing. All I'm saying is that I don't see why we always have to support a military junta when the people want to throw the rascals out."

"IT'S QUITE simple. Most of the generals in South America have been trained at West Point, including Somoza. They speak good English and you can do business with them. You let the people take over and you'll have another Cuba in six months."

"Not if we support Lopez," I said. "The reason the Commies have a chance of taking over is because the people know we're on Somoza's side."

"You're living in a dream world," the columnist said. "Lopez doesn't have the strength to run a middle-of-the-road government."

"He would if we gave him as much military hardware as we've given Somoza. The only thing that's keeping Somoza in power is the stuff we've sold him. Why can't we give it to Lopez?"

"Because if we give the stuff to Lopez it will eventually fall into the hands of the Commies when they topple him. The only way Lopez can stay in power is by being anti-American."

"The people of Nicaragua are only anti-American because they know we support Somoza. If we said we were supporting Lopez we wouldn't get ourselves in a Marxist box."

"How can you be so sure of Lopez? We know what we've got with Somoza. He may be an s.o.b. but he's OUR s.o.b."

"SO THAT MEANS we have to support s.o.b.'s all over the world because it's in our best interests?"

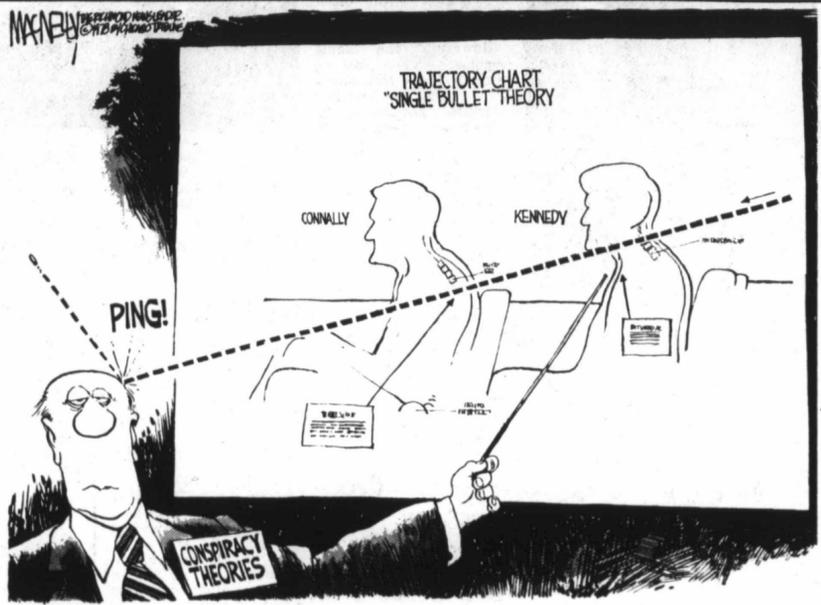

"Every time we don't we get another Allende."

"But he was elected by the people and we knocked him off."

"With good reason. We haven't had to worry about Chile since."

"I'm not going to support Somoza no matter what you say."

"Okay, but when Lopez nationalizes the United Fruit Co.," my friend said, "don't come crying to me."

Enema habit as bad as laxative misuse

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am desperate. I'm 62. I'm trapped by the enema habit and have been for 10 years. I've seen many doctors and had proctoscopes and four or five barium X-rays. All tests show nothing wrong. No one has helped. All said continue the enemas, that "they won't hurt me." But they do. I have stomach pain and I hate to get out of bed in the morning. Can you offer any suggestions? — Mrs. L.L.

Since all your tests show nothing wrong with your bowels I have to agree that you have the "enema habit." I disagree with those who say this cannot harm you.

The enema habit results from an incorrect notion of how bowels work. First of all, there is no need for a daily movement. Some may go five or even seven days until nature takes its course. Chronic use of enemas can destroy normal bowel rhythm. Remember that movement is stimulated by the presence of material in the lower colon. Remove that mechanically, as by enema, and you remove the stimulation.

It may not be easy for you to establish a regular pattern, but if you give nature a chance it can be done.

Try a bulky diet, featuring fruits and vegetables or bran products, or a daily ration of prune juice. This should help things along. Meanwhile, some of the medications you mention can be used to reduce the discomfort which you will undoubtedly have for a while. Glycerine suppositories may help. If stool impaction occurs, a small amount of mineral oil injected as high as you can will help. Don't panic if you miss a daily movement.

This program will not be easy in the beginning. But it took you 10 years to get into your situation. See my booklet on constipation for further reading. Send 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will you please tell us the simplest way to cure pyorrhea, also how to avoid getting it? — S.L.O.

This is primarily a dental question. Pyorrhea is inflammation and degeneration of the tissues supporting the teeth. Prevention is primarily a matter of good dental hygiene, correction of teeth misalignment, and removal of plaque material from the teeth and gums. A good teeth cleaning and the use of a toothbrush will help. However, some conditions make a person more susceptible to pyorrhea — such as diabetes and leukemia. Some drugs, as phenytoin (an anticonvulsant) can lead to it. So can a vitamin deficiency, particularly of C, or heavy metal poisoning, as from lead or bismuth.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me why my son will not tan? He will burn without suntan lotion, but after an entire summer he still has not tanned. You cannot tell he has had any sun. He is blond. His brother and father both tan, but he does not. — Mrs. H.K.

If he is blond, chances are he has fair skin. These people lack the cells that produce pigment changes, so instead of tanning they burn. Then, too, the lotion you mention covers the skin and screens out the tanning rays. Next summer he might try frequent, brief exposures without the screening lotion.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you define what an "adenoma" is? — H.F.

It is a benign tumor on any gland.

Headaches! You can beat them. Write to Dr. Thosteson, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for a copy of his booklet, "How to Tame Headaches." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Big Spring Herald

Mailbag

Dear Editor: I read in the Tuesday edition of the Herald a letter written by Rosemary Mathews concerning a letter from a Ms. Eileen McGuire.

The letter was against abortion. People carry on about the starving portion of our society, well can't they see that apparently the child is not desired, otherwise the abortion would not occur.

Would they have these children born to parents who did not want them or the responsibility they bring? Maybe the child would become subject to child abuse or hunger.

I agree that, unless the adults involved are willing to accept the responsibility for the act they committed they should not participate in it. Maybe the parents cannot afford the child or maybe they just plain out don't want it. Either way, I think the decision is entirely up to the woman carrying the child.

If given a choice, I think that the child involved would choose not to be born at all to being born and not being wanted, loved, and cared for.

Sandra Wells Hilltop Road

Dear Editor: I address this letter to all you folks who double parked Monday night at the fair. You turned a fun-time into a nightmare for an equal number of others. You must have had a great time while the rest of us waited on you.

My children and I had attended the afternoon circus, so we'd have time to take in the exhibits, have hotdogs, do the carnival and still get home for bedtime on a school night. When we tried to leave at 8:15 YOU were parked behind our car, completely blocking our exit.

My effort to find who owned the vehicle that blocked me was in vain. The police department told me it was "against local police policy" to give out that information. The sheriff's office, however, said they would be happy to tell me, but didn't have a

Disco ball announced

Xi Pi Epsilon, Beta Sigma Phi, met Sept. 13 in the Pioneer Gas Co. Flame Room with Jeannie Cunningham as hostess.

President Linda Harp conducted the meeting. Members are planning to attend the 1978 Area Convention to take place Oct. 13-15 in Abilene.

Ms. Harp announced plans for the annual Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Ball. It will take place Feb. 10, 1979 in the Dora Roberts Community Center. Music will be disco, and Xi Pi Epsilon will be in charge of decorations.

Members are invited to attend the City Council Salad Supper Oct. 5 at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. They are urged to bring guests to this affair, at which Crazy Bridge will be played.

The chapter will help man the blood donor booth at the Howard County Fair this year.

Xi Pi held its traditional Beginning Day Aug. 27 in the home of Ms. Harp. At that time yearbooks were distributed and the sorority year was discussed.

Ms. Harp presented a program on "Realizing Heritage." She discussed how each member had her own heritage and how she could use it. After the discussion, each member made up her own coat-of-arms using her own thoughts and values and then explained it to other members.

The next meeting will take place Sept. 27 in the home of Nancy Fulham.

Society has fair booth

The Genealogical Society of Big Spring met in the conference room of the Howard County Library at 7:15 p.m. Sept. 14. Sue Ann Damron, president, conducted the meeting.

Marie Hale gave a contribution for a memorial book to be placed in the genealogical section of the library in memory of Mrs. J.H. Greene.

Mrs. Stanley Reid, Stanton, gave a book of "Cemetery Records in Callahan and Eastland Counties," compiled by Mrs. Jean Reid, to the Howard County Library to be placed in the genealogical section.

"Genealogical and Historical Atlas of the United States," by Kay Kirkham, has been placed in the genealogical section of the library in memory of R.A. Roberts.

Final plans were made for the club's booth at the Howard County Fair, no. 44, which they will share with Daughters of the American Republic.

A report was given by Frances Kelly on the town hall meeting in the Pioneer Gas Co. Flame Room concerning public libraries. The meeting was sponsored by the State Library Association in order to get more publicity, support and involvement. It was said that local governing bodies support the local library more than in many other places; however, the library would like a greater participation from the public in the varied programs they offer, or suggestions that would afford better service.

The group discussed a genealogical workshop on archival research techniques sponsored by the Fort Worth Genealogical Society and the Texas State Genealogical Society. It will take place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday in the Kahler Green Oaks Inn, Fort Worth, and the fee will be $7.50 for both the workshop and lunch. Fee for the workshop only is $3.

Both the beginning genealogists and the more experienced researcher will be given specific instructions on the type and characteristics of holdings to be found in archives and how they can best use these materials to meet their needs. Anyone interested in participating should contact a member of the Big Spring club.

The next meeting will take place at 7:15 p.m. Oct. 12 in the Howard County Library conference room.

Club enjoys camping out

The Western Drifters Camping Club held their monthly campout beginning Friday at Hordes Creek, near Coleman.

Milton and Polly Brown were host couple for the weekend. The group enjoyed a potluck supper Saturday evening, and celebrated the birthday of Betty Gross.

All members were reminded of the monthly business meeting and potluck supper to take place Tuesday evening in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

The Sunday-morning devotion time was led by Brown. Guests at this time were Aaron and Charlie Mae Wells of Blackwell. The group was dismissed after the devotion and all enjoyed a lunch break at a rest stop on the way home.

Anyone interested in joining this club or the Good Sam Club is invited to contact Mrs. Vern Viggar, Tom Guess or Brown, who are club officers.

Club names brush tippers

The Big Spring Art Association met in the home of Bud and Letha Lewis Friday for an ice cream supper. Martha Conaway and Ruth Sweatt assisted with serving.

The group enjoyed viewing the couple's lapidary and art work, their backyard containing a goldfish pond, bird feeders, turtles and many collections.

A short business meeting was conducted by Roberta Ross. She announced that palette pins have been ordered and will arrive soon, and that the yearbooks have gone to press and will be ready for the October meeting.

Ms. Ross, Ms. Conaway, Corma Stoval, Adelle Smith and Paul and Ruth Sweatt stated that they would attend the Chet Kwiecinski Critique of paintings to take place in the Fine Arts Museum, Abilene, Saturday.

The paintings of Eva and A.B. Americo will be on display Oct. 1-15 at the Fine Arts Museum in Abilene, and "Texas Crafts" will be exhibited Oct. 18-Nov. 22.

An invitation from the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce was read to the club. They are invited to attend the Annual Railroad Arts and Crafts Roundup Oct. 28-29 at the Mitchell County Fairbarn.

Charlotte Northcutt and Carolyn Walker will conduct an art workshop in Colorado City Oct. 16-20.

Becky Smiley, art instructor at Howard College, surveyed the wishes of the group on classes to be offered at the college.

"Tipping of the Brush" awards went to Ms. Smiley, first, for a linoleum block print; second, to Arlys Scott for a pot of flowers; and third, to Ms. Stoval for a sea scene. The first place picture will be on display at Citizen's Federal Credit Union, second at State National Bank, and third at the Clip and Curl Beauty Shop in Sand Springs during October.

Jean Hensley will give a demonstration of palette knife painting at the next meeting, which will take place at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 17 in the Kentwood Center.

Dear Abby

Good Results From 'Telling' Advice

DEAR ABBY: Over the years I've read many letters in your column from people complaining that a friend, relative or neighbor habitually imposes on them. Then they ask, "What should I do?" And you always trot out your stock answer, "TELL THEM HOW YOU FEEL!"

Then I'd say to myself, "What a cop-out. Everybody knows that, but they're hoping Abby can offer some magic words that will make it easier for them."

Then I was faced with a very irritating situation. A couple I'd known for years made a habit of dropping by our lake cottage uninvited every Sunday morning. They'd even bring some of their friends and spend the entire day eating our food, drinking our beer, and using our towels which we'd find wet all over the place.

I finally got fed up and told this couple in no uncertain terms that they were not to come over unless invited!

At first they were hurt, but they got over it, and when we invited them they came gladly. We're still good friends, and now I'm sorry I didn't tell them sooner.

I just want to say that what appears to be a stock answer, "TELL THEM HOW YOU FEEL," shouldn't be dismissed as a cop-out. It's really the only workable solution to many a tough problem.

NEW YORK POST READER

DEAR READER: Thanks, I needed that. Telling someone how you feel doesn't necessarily mean telling them off.

DEAR ABBY: Is divorce contagious? I'm beginning to think it is. It seems to break out in large numbers in certain communities, and even in certain families.

If divorce is contagious, some smart scientist could make a fortune if he came up with a vaccine to prevent it. What are your thoughts on the subject?

YOUNG PROFESSOR

DEAR PROF: Divorce is not contagious, but it breaks out in certain communities because some people who have only considered it have gathered the courage to go through with it after friends and relatives have made the daring plunge. The only way to prevent divorce is to eliminate marriage.

Do you wish you had more friends? For the secret of popularity, get Abby's new booklet, "How To Be Popular; You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (25 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

TwEEN 12 and 20 Keep smiling

By Robert Wallace Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I am 14 years old and I've just moved to Modesto. When I say "Hi," to kids my age they stare at me funny and sometimes don't do anything at all.

Would you give me some advice on approaching kids here in Modesto, because either the kids aren't friendly around Modesto, or I am approaching them wrong. — Lisa, Modesto, Calif.

Lisa: I've been to Modesto and the teens I've seen acted like kids in every American city. Continue to smile and say "Hi." You'll make friends and lots of them.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 16 and have just found out that I have a 21-year-old sister who was given up for adoption at her birth.

I'd like to meet her but what I'd like to know is should I go see her (I know where she lives) without letting her know who I am or should I wait until she comes looking for me? — Connie, McAllen, Texas

Connie: First of all, you don't say what your parents think you should do.

If all is OK, drop your sister a note and ask if you might meet her. If she refuses or doesn't answer you, wait until you are 18 and then go see her.

Attorneys haggle over change of venue for Davis

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Attorneys continued to haggle over intricate points of law today as a change of venue hearing for millionaire Cullen Davis' solicitation of capital murder trial entered its third day here.

Defense attorneys Wednesday attempted to call State District Judge Tom Cave as a witness, but Cave refused to appear and presiding Judge Arthur Tipps said he would not force him to testify.

Tuesday, Cave voluntarily excused himself from the case, saying that though he was justified in continuing to preside, allegations by the defense could cloud the issue of his objectivity. Cave kept Davis in jail without bond for 15 months while the 44-year-old industrialist awaited acquittal on capital murder charges last year.

The defense had asked for a 10-day delay when Cave stepped down, because a new judge had to be appointed. Attorneys also asked for the official disqualification of Cave, who originally filed the motion for a venue change. They claim the motion was moot after he stepped down.

Davis' attorneys are seeking delays in hopes the prosecution will not be ready for trial by Oct. 20. State law says that a defendant must be released if the state is not ready for trial 60 days after his arrest. Davis was taken into custody Aug. 20.

Davis is being held without bond in Tarrant County jail, charged with attempting to hire a gunman to kill the judge presiding in his divorce case. During Davis' bond hearing, prosecutors also claimed he had a "hit list" that included the names of 15 persons, including his divorce judge, Joe Eidson, and Judge Cave.

Defense attorneys earlier had said they expected to conclude their questioning Wednesday, before becoming bogged down in a quagmire of legal points late in the day. More defense witnesses were to be called today.

Two attorneys called by the defense Wednesday testified that, in their opinions, a fair and impartial jury could be found to hear the Davis case.

Tight credit could collapse housing market

WASHINGTON (AP) — The booming housing market could collapse if the government squeezes credit any tighter, warns a top federal regulator.

In a rare breach of the normally united front presented by government banking and monetary agencies to the public, Robert H. McKinney, chairman of Federal Home Loan Bank Board, criticized the latest interest increase set in motion by the Federal Reserve Board.

"For the moment, the bank board will do all in its power to counterbalance today's action by the Fed," McKinney said in a statement Wednesday. "I sincerely hope that still further tightening by the Fed will not be necessary, as it may well be at the risk of a housing collapse."

McKinney's agency regulates savings and loans while the Federal Reserve Board — known in financial circles as the Fed — regulates many of the nation's larger banks.

McKinney contends the Fed's actions in tightening credit throughout the economy may divert money from savings and loans and will make mortgage money more expensive and harder to get.

A bank board spokesman, Robert Marshall, said the board can blunt the impact of higher interest rates on the housing industry by advancing funds to savings and loan associations and by reducing the amount of cash they have to keep on hand. But he indicated no decision had been made on exactly what the board might do.

The Fed controls the nation's money supply by the purchase and sale of government securities to those large banks and thereby sets the federal funds rate — the interest charged by banks on short-term loans to each other. When the Fed drives up interest rates for banks, it also indirectly influences other interest rates in the country.

Although the Fed never makes public its decisions until about a month after they are made, McKinney said he was told Wednesday by Fed Chairman G. William Miller that the Fed has set a new interest target of 8½ percent, up from 8%. The last time the interest rate was as high as 8½ percent was December 1974.

Miller later denied telling McKinney the Fed was pushing the rate to 8½ percent, but did not deny it is buying securities in New York to drive up the federal rate.

The Fed has been trying to tighten the money supply by driving up interest rates in an effort to slow inflation and to prop up the U.S. dollar on world money markets.

President Carter is also preparing an anti-inflation program, which he describes as tougher than the one he announced in April.

In a speech to the United Steelworkers union Wednesday, Carter said the program "will not penalize labor or any other group in our society. At the same time, it will be tough. I will ask for restraint and some sacrifice from all."

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department reconfirmed in a report Wednesday that the inflation rate was 10.7 percent in the second quarter, the highest in three years. However, the report indicated the economy is growing rapidly enough to prevent extensive layoffs.

Airline wants non-stop flight

The application made Wednesday with the Civil Aeronautics Board is the fifth outside California by the San Diego-based airline which is restricted to flights in California.

Business, labor trying to tilt system forcibly

NEW YORK (AP) — While not forsaking the immediate battlefield of wage-price negotiations, business and labor are now struggling with each other over more far-reaching and consequential issues.

The battle is little less than an effort by each to tilt the entire political and economic system into a position more favorable to its credos, and each is using all the muscle it can muster.

Labor's most conspicuous thrust has been in forcing resignations from the board of J.P. Stevens & Co., which the Amalgamated Clothing &

Textile Workers say has denied workers "social and economic justice."

With increasingly large investment and savings portfolios, unions also have threatened to withdraw millions of dollars from Manufacturers Hanover Bank, one of whose officers was on the Stevens board. Equally aggressive, business has stepped up its lobbying efforts, defeating labor on measures involving union picketing and right to work laws, and lessening the size of a minimum wage increase.

The new battlelines are based on philosophical bias and brute power. Both say their ideologies embrace the true essence of America. But to sell their views they rely on organization, numbers and money.

Each is highly aware of the new and renewed efforts to influence not just the immediate and surface issues, but the basic, philosophical approach of Americans to their system.

The lead story in a recent issue carried the headline "Union Counterattack Hits Rising Right-Wing Threat," and told of a drive "to get rid of the unions."

In The Federationist, an AFL-CIO magazine, Arch Puddington, executive director of the League for Industrial Democracy, maintains the renewed conflicts result partly from a decline in political party loyalty.

As expected, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and its lobbying foundation, and more stridently, the National Association of Manufacturers, are in the forefront of the back to basics effort.

Perhaps the only distinct, major area of economic agreement between the two sides — and it isn't solid — is on the matter of wage-price controls, which generally are viewed as intrusions.

While the business viewpoint — less Washington involvement, more free enterprise, lower taxes, more capital incentives — is currently in vogue, labor possesses in its pension funds a powerful counterforce.

These funds aggregate hundreds of billions of dollars, and while their control generally rests with corporate officials, labor might be expected increasingly to insist on an additional say in their use.

For swinging diplomats, two discs were provided in the recreation hall. Plus a disc jockey.

One of the energetic dancers: Simcha Dinitz, the Israeli ambassador, who found partners among the secretarial corps.

Movies also provided diversion. Hamilton Jordan, the principal aide to President Carter, saw "An Unmarried Woman" with Menachem Begin and his wife, Aliza.

The Israeli prime minister was asleep within five minutes.

Ezer Weizman, Israel's defense minister, watched "Patton," often seen at Camp David when Richard Nixon was president. As the guns of World War II echoed through the theater, Weizman remarked that if the summit should flop, "this is what will happen."

The international press corps assembled six miles away in Thurmont, Md., had, if anything, fewer diversions.

"We've been here so long," said one reporter, "they've put in sidewalks."

Indeed, coincidentally, a new concrete sidewalk was built along the street leading from temporary press headquarters to a motel bought out by American journalists for the duration of the summit.

The press contingent worked in Thurmont's American Legion hall, an impressive edifice with a busy bar in the basement.

Visitors accustomed to city prices were amazed at the Legion's anti-inflation tabs: 25 cents for a highball during the daily "happy hour," 12½ cents for a soft drink.

The last group of White House aides to leave the summit by helicopter included political adviser Jordan, chief speechwriter James Fallows and chief image-burnisher Gerald Rafshoon.

Their departure together served as a reminder that although peace was Carter's mission at Camp David, he could hardly be unmindful of the summit's impact on his own political fortunes.

Incidentally, Jordan had to be directed toward the proper helicopter. Instinctively, he looked first toward the craft he usually rides — the one with a big red "1" on the nose.

After an agreement crowned their summit exertions, Sadat and Begin joined Carter in telephoning the man who might have been the Camp David host had a few thousand voters felt differently 22 months ago: Gerald R. Ford.

From the left, they are Mrs. Doyle Baugh, Courtney High School class of 1935; Mrs. Verla Doggett, Stanton High School class of 1945; and Mrs. Diane Hull, Stanton High School class of 1961. Winner of the contest will be crowned prior to the Stanton-McCamey football game Friday night.

Sale of liquor and beer legal in Abilene finally

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The sale of liquor and beer was legal in Abilene today for the first time since Prohibition Days.

The Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission issued two permits for off-premise beer sales to Skinny Inc. Wednesday shortly after a decision by the Texas Supreme Court.

Another off-premise beer permit, one for sale of mixed drinks and a wholesale liquor distributor's license were approved later.

Texas' highest court said Wednesday that an Austin district judge had no right to interfere with an Abilene local option election over the sale of liquor and beer.

Wednesday's hearing in the Texas Supreme Court resulted from a June 17 local option election in Abilene on legal sale of beer and liquor. A July 10 vote canvass showed the "drys" won by a narrow vote. Then an Abilene district judge wiped out the July 10 vote on grounds that ballots from voting Precinct 19 were not counted and a July 20 canvass showed the "wets" won by a narrow margin.

Anti-liquor forces brought the legal fight to Austin and obtained a court order on Aug. 8 from District Judge Charles Mathews that voided the "wets" victory and said the July 10 decision for the "drys" would stand.

Both the "wets" and "drys" filed election contest suits in Abilene but neither has been set for hearing.

The Alcoholic Beverage Commission asked the Supreme Court to tell it what to do, specifically asking that Mathews' decision be cancelled.

"The mandamus is granted that Judge Charles Mathews issue an order setting aside his judgement of Aug. 8," the Supreme Court said Wednesday after hearing an hour and a half of argument. No motion for a rehearing would be considered.

"It concerns me that the counting of votes in Abilene is being interrupted by what happens here in Austin," said Associate Justice Jack Pope.

"Neither the attorney general's department nor the Alcoholic Beverage Commission cares whether Precinct One in Abilene goes wet or dry," said Assistant Attorney General Max Flusche, representing the commission. "We are here with the argument that this should be litigated in Taylor County not Travis County."

"We are here because the Alcoholic Beverage Commission made an arbitrary decision and took the latest vote canvass as a basis to issue permits," said Buck Wood, attorney for anti-liquor forces. "The only way we could perpetuate the dry victory (of the July 10 canvass) was to sue the ABC in Travis County."

"This court is deciding if Abilene is wet or dry," she said.

Hangin' Out

Seeing as how this is my first column, I've asked around to determine how I should start it off. Everyone says I should introduce myself, but I never have been too hip to introductions or the proper exits, so all I can tell you is that my given name is Nathan Poss. Some of you may know me, some of you may think you know me, and some of you may never have heard of me. The latter is probably the safest.

When Tommy Hart asked me to give this a try, I had very mixed emotions. By this I mean that my opinion of sportswriters started at one extreme and traveled to the other, but in the last couple of years has leveled off following a time of life when I began to be a more rational person. Well, maybe ration or maybe indifferent. In some instances the two words can mean the same thing.

As a child, I was the master of the sports page and numerous sporting magazines. I believed everything I read as the unbiased and non-sensationalized truth. It still had not occurred to me that the people in the press would fabricate the facts and sensationalize something very ordinary. My mother had always told me to tell the truth or something very bad would happen. Such naivete.

But through basic seasonings of life, my mind opened up to the fact that everything you hear or read, whether it be in the locker room or page one, is not necessarily true.

I became aware of this in high school, but I really came to understand the sporting press during my stay at Rice University in Houston. I must admit, my impressions of the sportswriter reached a low ebb during my first two years there.

I began to meet and perform against players that I had read about in the papers and in such magazines that many football fans consider gospel, "Texas Football." I realized that while some of it was the truth, much of it was just a matter of who the particular writer decided to write about and how he felt about glorifying or disgracing his subject.

The Houston press was very powerful, encompassing Houston and its suburbs, not to mention having influence in the state and around the nation. If the particular writer got along with a certain player or coach, he became, in many instances, a star. Never mind the guy sitting next to him that played just as good or was an equal coach. He remained an unknown to the public. The sad part of this is that most of the average fans fail to acknowledge the unknown player, while reaping adulation on the sportswriter's star. But such is life.

One person that taught me the pros and cons of the press through examples was a man named Al Conover. The head coach at Rice in my first three years, he was more of a friend than a coach. A fun-loving free-spirit, I might add. Big Al was the master of using the press. Sportswriters would nearly fight their ways to be the first to get a story on one of Big Al's outrageous antics. Some were prepared, and some were pure candid camera. The press and Big Al needed each other, one for a good story and the other for the school's publicity and his ego.

But there was one writer that made Conover to be the fool. He wrote some falsehoods and berated Al's intelligence. He gave his opinions, and then some. But Al would not be denied. He would have the last laugh.

The writer showed up at Rice Stadium one day for practice. He sat in the shade in the lower deck, underneath the towering upper deck that provided shade. Most of the players, including myself, had not descended to the hot turf below for yet another grueling workout. We sat, with this certain reporter in our midst, waiting for Conover to arrive. He did, without notice.

Big Al walked to within ten feet of the unassuming journalist, stopped and let out a loud bellow. "You sorry, no good bleep. I'll get you for writing that about me." Al then quickly pulled out a revolver filled with blanks and pulled the trigger. After the explosion and smoke had cleared from the air, the reporter was found trying to hide behind a big offensive lineman. Without mentioning the incident, Conover signaled for the team to follow him to practice.

To say the least, this particular writer never wrote anything negative about Big Al after that. He never wrote anything about Big Al, period.

I guess you could say that my credibility of sports writers at this time was a very negative one. But I gradually began to understand this breed as I came in contact with more of them. I began to understand that most of them are basically nice guys, like you or me. They had a job to do, and most of them really did try to be as objective as possible, whether they had worn a jack before or not. Like any other profession, a few bad actors can ruin the entire cast. Maybe I began to understand them because they gave me some favorable pub. Maybe not.

So do you understand why I had mixed emotions? I don't completely. Hopefully, I will have enough sense to run the stories that you want to read about on a national level. And hopefully I will be able to observe what's happening locally and write it correctly. I'm sure that at some time I'll hurt someone's feelings, but more than likely I didn't mean to. Just remember that a lot depends on your interpretations.

Bosox watch scoreboard, lose game

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox were so busy playing scoreboard baseball they forgot about the game on the field.

Before the Red Sox came to bat in Detroit, they were delighted to see that New York Yankee ace Ron Guidry had lost to lowly Toronto.

"We couldn't wait to get on the field when we knew Guidry got beat in the first game," said Jerry Remy, who had four of Boston's six hits in a 12-2 clobbering by Detroit Wednesday night. "Then we saw Toronto ahead 2-0 in the second game and we were really psyched up."

Meanwhile, Toronto handed Guidry only his third loss in 25 decisions, 8-1, in the opener, but the Yankees rallied for three runs in the ninth to win the nightcap 3-2.

With both Boston and New York having 10 games left, the Yankees lead the Red Sox by two games in the American League East.

Elsewhere, Milwaukee moved to within 5 1/2 games of the Yankees with a 5-4 victory over Kansas City, which now leads California by five games in the AL West. Minnesota beat Texas 5-3.

Rusty Staub and Lou Whitaker each belted three-run homers for Detroit.

Boston's Jim Rice, the major league home run leader, belted his 42nd, a two-run shot in the ninth.

Blue Jays 8-2, Yanks 1-3
Guidry, who entered the game with a 21-inning scoreless streak and seven straight victories, gave up a pair of unearned runs in the first, then gave up more than two runs in one inning for the second time all season.

"I thought I had good stuff," said Guidry, who allowed six hits and five runs in 12-3 innings. "They just hit the ball and found the holes. I thought I made good pitches on a couple of guys, but they fought them off and came back to get some good hits. Chris Chambliss and Graig Nettles also singled in runs in the Yankee ninth. The Blue Jays rapped out 13 hits in support of Mike Willis' six-hitter in the first game.

Brewers 5, Royals 4
Paul Molitor drilled a two-out single in the eighth, capping a two-run rally that pulled Milwaukee over Kansas City. Larry Hisle singled and came home on Sal Bando's two-out triple.

Jerry Augustine, 13-12, picked up the victory, retiring all seven batters he faced.

Twins 5, Rangers 3
Dave Goltz tossed an eight-hitter and Minnesota scratched for four runs in the fourth without getting the ball out of the infield to defeat Texas.

CATCHER IN THE RAIN — Kansas City Royals' catcher Darrell Porter uses his catcher's mitt as a rain hat during a conference on the mound in the first inning of Wednesday's game with the Milwaukee Brewers. Porter used the improvised rain hat to keep his glasses dry. The Brewers beat the Royals 5-4.

Chicano girls win in Abilene

A sixpitch softball team composed of all Chicano girls took first place honors at Abilene during a tournament held by the LULAC of Abilene. The girls beat out two teams from Abilene and one from Coleman to win the championship.

The twelve player roster included Pelu Martinez, Suzie Hernandez, Gloria Dominquez, Linda Smith, Mary Ann Gonzales, Pinkie Billalba, Sylvia Rodriguez, Lupe Gutierrez, Connie Ramirez, Dolores Hernandez, Cecilia Lujan and Margie Johnson.

Sylvia Rodriguez won the best infielder trophy for the tournament. Coach Tony Lujan, his assistant, Manuel Gutierrez and the girls would like to thank the following businesses for their support in sending this fine young team to the tournament. They are: George's Body Shop, Trini's Body Shop, Jimmy's Bar, Jabor's Dry Goods, Bill Morrison Super Save, Bear's Detail Shop, and Francisco's Restaurant.

TOUCHDOWN... Big Spring Steers' Greg Jones (33) and Ricky Myers (1) give the six-point signal as Ricky Cluck scores in last week's game with Hobbs. Cluck is across the stripe in the end zone behind Byron Harris (89).

Steers take aim on Tigers

By NATHAN POSS

The Big Spring Steers will travel to Snyder Friday night to end two streaks in the same game. The first is to break into the win column, following opening season losses to Andrews and Hobbs. The second is a six-game losing streak to the Tigers.

The Steers were a much improved club last week, winning in nearly every statistical category against their New Mexico foes, except the scoreboard. Turnovers and one crucial drive that came to a halt on the Hobbs one-yard line proved to be too much to overcome. The Steers suffered three interceptions and lost two fumbles, compared to Hobbs one lost fumble.

The Bovines will probably try to establish their running game early. Last week they went overland an impressive 54 times, with quick little Eddie Puga carrying 28 times for a career high 168 yards. Ricky Cluck is also a very capable runner at fullback, but has basically been utilized as a blocking back for Puga. When the Steers go to a T-formation on short yardage situations, sophomore Greg Jones will be the extra back.

If forced to pass, the Steers are hoping to have more success than last week. Quarterback Ricky Myers completed seven passes in 12 attempts, but three of those were to the opponents. Head coach Ron Logback is hoping that Myers will not throw to covered receivers, as two of the interceptions occurred when the Big Spring field general forced aeriels where his receivers were out numbered.

The Steers have a very capable crew of receivers. Joe Willie Jones was outstanding in the opener, but was held in check last week. Mike Evans and Mike Domino are other wide receivers in the Steer attack. Tight end Byron Harris, a 6'2", 195-pound tight end will also be used to keep the Snyder secondary honest.

Snyder will counter the Big Spring offense using a five-man front. Snyder has great confidence in their ability to make the big play by stunting, so don't be surprised if they try this. The Tigers play little technique, basically just throwing back their ears and going crazy. If the Steers can pick up their foes' stunts consistently, they will no doubt turn in some long gainers.

The Tiger defense will be led by tackle Morris Anderson, linebacker Wes Partain, and defensive backs Mike Forbes and Richard Crayton. Partain is a 175-pound senior who is the defensive signal caller and a returning starter. Crayton is an excellent player from his free safety position, and is probably Snyder's best athlete.

Offensively, Snyder will run a veer offense with two tight ends. Their favorite plays thus far are the counter options, utilizing the quickness of quarterback Clay Johnson. Snyder will be anchored up front by tackle Barron Land, guard D. B. Edmiston and tight end Scott Crenweige. All three of these seniors weigh at least 20 pounds.

Johnson, a left-handed quarterback, is the Tiger's best back and likes to run the pigskin. Fullback Don Chandler is used primarily as a blocker for Johnson and tailback Crayton. Crayton will be replaced at times by Bobby DeGrate, a 180-pound junior.

Snyder has not been very potent with the pass thus far, but when Johnson throws the ball it will most likely be aimed at Mitch Mackey. Others likely to be on the end of Johnson's aeriels are messenger flankers Bryan Vincent and David Lee.

The Steer defense has looked very good in spurts during the first two contests, but has yet to put together a good 48 minutes. They have been hurt thus far by the long run, and will have to nullify this weakness in order to play winning defense.

This will be the Bovines last non-conference tussle before hosting Abilene on October sixth. To state the obvious, a victory would help the team's self confidence immensely. The Steers improved noticeably in last week's contest, and if they progress as much this week and avoid those costly turnovers, a victory would come as no surprise.

Unsigned Gervin practices

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The San Antonio Spurs have trimmed their training camp roster to 14 by cutting third-round draft choice Gerald Henderson and free agent Marshall Rogers of Pan American. Meanwhile, disgruntled George Gervin, last year's National Basketball Association leading scorer who says he wants to be traded because of a contract dispute, was at practice Wednesday, but he refused to talk to reporters. The 6-foot-7 Gervin wanted the Spurs to renegotiate his contract. He reportedly turned down the Spurs' offer of $300,000 per year for eight years. The 6-3 Henderson was drafted last spring from Virginia Commonwealth. Rogers, who is 6-1, was the NCAA scoring champion two years ago and spent a season with the Golden State Warriors.

Miller 'bracing' for Steelers

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Browns fullback Cleo Miller will be wearing a special brace to protect a cracked bone in his right wrist for Sunday's game against the Pittsburgh Steelers. With running back Greg Pruitt in the hospital, Miller and Mike Pruitt are expected to start against the Steelers. Greg Pruitt was admitted to Cleveland Clinic Wednesday to give his injured left leg a chance to heal. The Browns say he will be in the hospital for several days, but is expected to be ready by Oct. 1.

Gregory to box prison inmate

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Eddie Gregory, the No. 1-ranked contender for the World Boxing Association light-heavyweight title, has signed to fight Rahway State Prison inmate James Scott in a 10-round bout on the prison Oct. 12. Gregory has a career record of 28-3-1, including 24 knockouts. Scott, 12-0-1, was a top contender for the crown before a 1975 parole violation stemming from a 1969 robbery conviction sent him back to jail. Scott was training to take on then-champion John Conteh for the title when he allegedly violated parole. He has fought twice in jail this summer, registering early knockouts in each.

ACU, Angelo 1-2 in NAIA poll

Texas college football teams pulled a one-two punch in this week's NAIA Division I Top 20 rankings, with Abilene Christian a solid first followed by Angelo State in second. Both Lone Star Conference teams have started the season with 2-0 records. Two other Lone Star entries earned mentions further down the list. Texas A&I, 1-1, claimed 11th place and Southwest Texas State, 2-0, was 18th. In the NAIA Division II ratings, Tarleton State, 2-0, was ranked eighth and McMurry 14th. The Abilene school also has a 2-0 record. Ranger, fresh from a 13-0 romp over Northeastern Oklahoma A&M, was at the top of the first football poll of the season by the National Junior College Athletic Association. Kilgore was sixth and Tyler 10th.

Phils power past Expos

By the Associated Press
The Philadelphia Phillies got a diet of fastballs from Dan Schatzeder. That's the kind of stuff big league hitters fatten up on. Especially hitters like Greg Luzinski and Mike Schmidt. "If they throw you enough of them and keep coming after you with fastballs, you can make an adjustment and maybe find your stroke," says Schmidt, who found his Wednesday night while helping the Phillies beat the Montreal Expos 4-2. Schmidt belted his 21st homer following Luzinski's 32nd in a game-breaking, three-run sixth inning at Montreal's Olympic Stadium. The power show by Philadelphia's two sluggers and a strong performance by pitcher Randy Lerch came at a most opportune time. Coupled with Pittsburgh's 5-1 loss to Chicago earlier in the day, it improved the Phillies' lead over the Pirates to two games in the National League East. Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3; the San Francisco Giants defeated the San Diego Padres 6-3; the New York Mets nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 7-6 and the Atlanta Braves beat the Houston Astros 3-2. Lerch, 10-8, scattered eight hits, including a two-run homer by Tony Perez, before getting relief help in the ninth from Ron Reed. Cubs 5, Pirates 1

Mike Krukow upped his record to 8-2 with a four-hitter and Bill Buckner drove in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly to lead Chicago over Pittsburgh. Reds 4, Dodgers 3
George Foster slugged his 34th home run and pitcher Tom Seaver drilled a two-run single as Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles and prevented the Dodgers from clinching a tie for the National League West championship. The Dodgers' lead is 7½ games with nine remaining. Their magic number for winning the division remained at three. Giants 6, Padres 3

Vida Blue ended a personal five-game losing streak and Jack Clark and Mike Ivie each rapped two hits and drove in a run as San Francisco defeated San Diego. Blue, 17-9, had not won since he beat the Dodgers Aug. 4 and had made eight previous starts in search of his 17th victory. Blue got relief help in the eighth from Randy Moffitt. Padre starter Eric Rasmussen, 14-14, lost his fourth straight game. Mets 7, Cardinals 6
Willie Montanez delivered a two-run, bases-loaded single to snap a 3-3 tie, then John Stearns and Elliott Maddox followed with sacrifice flies for a four-run seventh inning as New York beat St. Louis. Winner Kevin Kobel, 4-5, allowed eight hits before getting relief help from Jerry Kosman with two out in the seventh. George Frazier, 0-3, the second of five St. Louis pitchers, took the loss. Braves 3, Astros 2
Glenn Hubbard's two-out, ninth-inning single scored pinch-runner Ed Miller from second with the winning run as Atlanta beat Houston. With one out in the Braves' ninth, Joe Nolan singled and was replaced by Miller, who stole second while appearing in his first major league game.

Streck now exempt

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — For Ron Streck, life on the right side of the pro golf tour's tracks begins today in Napa's $200,000 event. Before last week's Texas Open, which he won by shooting the best back-to-back rounds in Professional Golfers Association history, the 24-year-old player had won $8,332 this year — $150,000 less than another former Tulsa University golfer, Nancy Lopez of the women's tour. Streck is now 156th on the money-winning list and in danger of losing his PGA tour player's card when the Texas Open began in San Antonio, and he barely made the cut with opening rounds of 73 and 67. Then came the sensational 63-62 finish which earned him $40,000. Streck is now 65th among the year's money winners but in at least one important respect he's the equal of leader Tom Watson, one of the many top headliners in the Napa starting field. He's exempt from the pre-tournament qualifying rounds he had come to know so well. Streck is assured of keeping his exempt status for at least one year and of playing in next year's Masters and Tournament of Champions. Streck won in Texas over a strong field, beating Hubert Green by one stroke, and the opposition also will be formidable this week over Silverado Country Club's par-72 courses. Lee Trevino, Masters champion Gary Player, PGA winner John Mahaffey and U.S. Open champ Andy North are here along with last year's Napa winner Miller Barber. The tournament is sponsored by Anheuser-Busch.

Whites take 14-0 decision

In seventh grade action Saturday, the White team defeated the black team by a score of 14-0. Neither team was able to score in the first half, despite penetrations by both. The White team advanced on one occasion to the Black two-yard line, only to be stopped by a tough goal line stand. The game remained a stalemate until late in the final period when the Whites scored twice in the span of two minutes. The Black team did score on a 50-yard quarterback keeper, but an illegal procedure penalty brought the ball back. Outstanding players for the victorious White squad were Mark Johnson, Allen Davis and Elijah Aldridge. Mike McKinley, Jerry Wrightsil and Eric Sherman rated the notice of the coaches of the Black team. The two teams will renew their rivalry on Saturday morning, October 21 at 10:00. The next outing for either team will be this afternoon when the Black team travels to Colorado City for a 5:00 tilt. The Black team is coached by Don Hise and David Tipping. The White team is coached by E. C. Robertson and Frank Ibarra.

SWC foes look tough

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer
The Southwest Conference foes from the Pacific to the Atlantic Saturday in search of intersectional football glory, but the odds-makers figure such ambition will get the nine league schools more lumps than laurels. Only four SWC schools remain unbeaten and three of them are ranked in The Associated Press Top Ten Poll. The unbeaten are No. 2 Arkansas, No. 6 ranked Texas, No. 9 ranked Texas A&M and unranked Southern Methodist. Only four of the SWC teams were favored. Arkansas was a 19-point pick over Oklahoma State, Texas was a four-touchdown selection over Wyoming, Texas A&M was a 16-point choice over Boston College and Houston was a 17-point selection over Utah. Southern Methodist, a upset victor over Florida last week, was a 17-point underdog to powerful Penn State. In other games, Oregon was a five and one-half point pick over Texas Christian, Arizona was a two and one-half point selection over Texas Tech, Kentucky was a seven and one-half point selection over Baylor, and Oklahoma was a whopping five touchdown choice over Rice. Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz said the Razorbacks could get a warm reception in Stillwater, Okla. Saturday afternoon. "Playing in Stillwater has been extremely difficult for Arkansas in the past," said Holtz. "OSU has a defense that has great overall quickness." Texas plays the school where Fred Akers was the coach until he answered the call to become the Longhorn mentor. "I expect they'll be all juiced up when they come in here," said Akers. The Texas Aggies, who had an off week after an opening victory over Kansas, will be trying to inflict revenge on Boston College which shocked Coach Emory Bellard's troops 32-24 at College Station in 1973. SMU Coach Ron Meyer will carry 25 freshmen into the Nittany Lions den at Penn State. "They think they can win and I hate to tell them any different," said Meyer. Texas Tech had an open week to prepare for its home opener and Coach Rex Dockery said "I was pleased that we were able to throw a scare into Southern Cal. I think our young players gained some needed confidence. Our games with Arizona the last three years have been wild. It seems like there are always a lot of points scored in our games." After the first two weeks of the season, the SWC is 3-4 against outside competition.

Risk of cancer high among WWII shipyard workers

BOSTON (AP) — The risk of lung cancer is unusually high among men who worked in shipyards during World War II, probably because of their exposure to asbestos and other possible cancer-causing materials, a federal study concludes.

In the study, conducted in coastal Georgia, researchers found that men who worked in wartime ship building and repair yards are 1.6 times more likely than usual to suffer the often-fatal form of cancer. The rate is far higher if the men also smoke cigarettes.

About 4.5 million American men held shipyard jobs during World War II.

In a review three years ago, the National Cancer Institute discovered a strikingly high rate of lung cancer on the East Coast between Charleston, S.C., and northern Florida and along the Gulf Coast, mostly in Louisiana.

The institute's latest study, published in today's New England Journal of Medicine, concludes that at least part of the reason for this trend is the shipyard work there more than three decades ago.

"Asbestos and possibly other shipyard exposures during wartime employment account for part of the excess mortality from lung cancer in certain coastal areas of the United States," the researchers wrote.

Asbestos, a fiber made from crushed rock, is used for insulation in shipbuilding. It causes lung cancer and mesothelioma, a rare cancer of the lining of the stomach or lung, but the diseases usually take 20 to 30 years to show up.

The researchers examined the records of 458 men who had lung cancer in coastal Georgia and found that 95 of them had worked in shipyards in Savannah and Brunswick during the war. Of 553 disease-free men, chosen for comparison, 80 had been shipworkers.

Although the overall lung cancer risk was 1.6 times higher among the shipyard workers, the rate rose dramatically when the men also smoked. The risk for men who smoked more than two packs a day was almost 20 times higher than normal. This is "indicative of a strong synergism between these two risk factors," the researchers wrote.

Lung cancer may not be the only worry of shipworkers. The study noted that places with wartime shipyards also have unusually higher rates of cancer of the throat and upper intestinal tract.

Dr. Joseph F. Fraumeni Jr., chief of the cancer institute's environmental epidemiology branch, said the researchers plan to study other areas with defunct wartime shipyards in the South, as well as Bath, Maine, a community with a still active shipbuilding industry.

Two Texans contracted Legionnaire's

DALLAS (AP) — Two of the 35,000 conventioners at the Veterans of Foreign Wars national gathering here in August contracted Legionnaire's Disease.

An inspection team from the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta visited several Dallas hotels Wednesday searching air conditioning systems, water coolers and other environmental items for clues to the illness' mysterious habits.

"We're still unsure as to how this disease is spread," said Dr. Stella Goings of the CDC. "The organism that causes the disease seems to like water."

Neither of the two cases involved a Texas resident, but Dr. Goings said identification of those afflicted would have to come from local authorities. CDC officials in Atlanta reported both were "appropriately treated and doing well."

Dr. Goings said two other pneumonia cases were "presumptive" Legionnaire cases, and six other pneumonia cases gave no signs of being Legionnaire-suspect.

The VFW convention ended Aug. 25. Since the incubation period for the disease is 14 days, the doctor said there would be no reason to believe latent cases will be reported.

Dr. Lowell Berry of the Dallas City Health Department said the disease is thought to be common, with some 15,000 to 45,000 cases occurring annually. Other outbreaks have been reported this year in New York City and Memphis, Tenn.

Court upholds contempt conviction

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey Supreme Court upheld the criminal contempt conviction of The New York Times and its reporter Myron A. Farber today for withholding notes in a murder case.

The high court ordered Farber to report back to jail on Sept. 26.

The case has attracted national attention, and its outcome could set a precedent on freedom of the press.

Farber and The Times were expected to appeal today's ruling.

The court disagreed with Farber's argument that he is protected by the First Amendment and New Jersey's shield law for reporters.

Farber was jailed for 27 days after he refused to give his notes to the judge presiding over the murder trial of Dr. Mario Jascavech, who Farber dubbed Dr. X in a series of articles for The Times.

The Supreme Court ordered Farber released while it considered his claim that the First Amendment and the state's shield law protect him from divulging his sources or turning over his notes to a court.

Farber, meanwhile, was served Wednesday with yet another subpoena for the notes he took while investigating a series of patient deaths at Riverdel Hospital in Oradell in the mid-1960s.

The subpoena, which seeks his notes on any interviews conducted with three physicians at the hospital, was the third served on the reporter since the Jascavech trial began in February.

Eugene Scheiman, Farber's attorney, said the reporter would not surrender the files.

After The Times published Farber's articles, Jascavech, the hospital's former chief surgeon, was charged with murder in connection with five deaths at the hospital. He was acquitted of two of the murders.

Farber completed his third day of testimony Wednesday as defense attorney Raymond Brown worked to support his contention that the reporter conspired with former Bergen County Prosecutor Joseph Woodcock Jr. and the New York City medical examiner, Dr. Michael Baden, to frame Jascavech for the murders.

Texas Cowbelles pushing beef during Howard County Fair

Members of the Tejas Chapter of the Texas Cowbelles is spending this week cooking rolled roast on a rotisserie in their booth at the Howard County Fair and offering a bite to anyone who visits the booth.

"We are just pushing beef," said one rancher's wife who was sitting at the booth Tuesday. "We've got all kinds of recipes for beef as well as a $25 beef gift certificate redeemable at any supermarket. The tickets go at 25 cents a chance."

The gift certificates, for anyone wishing to give them as birthday or Christmas gifts, can be purchased at local banks.

The Cowbelles are also selling a cook book and napkins which are printed with the brands of ranchers in Howard, Scurry and Borden Counties. The roasts cooked at the Howard County Fair booth was purchased at Lil Sooper Market in Coahoma.

Next week, the Tejas chapter will be working a booth at the Scurry County Fair.

Explosion injures family

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Five members of a Shreveport family were critically burned when their frame house exploded and burned, possibly as a result of a gas leak, authorities said.

The blast, which was still under investigation today, occurred Wednesday afternoon. The family had moved into the house only four days earlier.

A spokesman for Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. said the company's logs showed that a call about a gas leak was received only minutes before the explosion ripped through the five-room house.

Neighbors said a plumber had been working on a gas line at the house the day of the explosion. However, Bob Crenshaw of the fire department said there was no indication the plumber's work contributed to the explosion.

Victims of the blast were identified as Harry Vercher, 30, his wife, Lorraine, 32, and their children, Derrick, 4; Cherry, 6, and Shannon, 9, all in critical or guarded condition at the LSU Medical Center.

TSTA books workshop in Midland

MIDLAND — Cecile Russell, Amarillo teacher and state president elect of the Texas State Teachers Association, will speak at a TSTA district XVIII workshop for area teachers Thursday evening at Goddard Junior High School in Midland.

Registration and dinner will begin at 5 p.m., followed by a general session from 6 to 7:45 p.m. during which Mrs. Russell will speak. After that will come workshop sessions on such topics as political action, legislation, instructional services, teacher rights, human relations, and the 1978 membership campaign now underway.

Teachers are expected from many of the 26 local associations in District XVIII, which includes the counties of Andrews, Borden, Crane, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Pecos, Reagan, Terrell, Upton, Ward, and Winkler.

District and local leaders at the workshop will provide input for the association's 1978-79 programs and will receive information and materials.

Printus Burkhardt, principal of Midland's Rusk Elementary School, will preside. Burkhardt is president of TSTA District XVIII.

President-elect Vernon Vasbinder of Odessa and other district leaders will assist.

TSTA staff members who will consult with the discussion groups will be John Donaldson, Jack Kelly, Billy Show, Joe Seale, Harlan Woods, and Roger de los Santos of Austin; and Jewell Harris and Ken DeMore of the TSTA regional office in Abilene.

Hollis Moore's bail slashed

Following several motions presented Monday in 118th District Court, Hollis Moore's bond was reduced by District Judge Ralph Caton from $7,500 to $3,000. Moore is presently in custody in the Howard County jail awaiting appeal on two burglary convictions.

Blue cows part of mural on red building

NELIGH, Neb. (AP) — If you never saw a purple cow, you can at least see a blue one. Two, in fact. Two blue cows as extravagant as a Nebraska sunburst.

The cows are part of a huge mural which decorates two sides of an old brick building and is, to put it mildly, hardly the sight you expect to see driving through this remote village of 1,800 out in the middle of the Great Plains.

Suddenly, there they are: two mammoth cows, and on the other wall a huge red plow, a scene of Bunyanesque brilliance.

"The mural stops traffic, all right," Lynn Morrison said. "But to us, by now, it is as though it has always been there." Actually, the mural is just over a year old.

Lynn Morrison, who is president of the Neligh Arts Council, said the painting became a community project.

"I don't think there was a man, woman or child in town who didn't have paint in his hair."

The mural is the product of Sachio Yamashita, a Chicago artist who came to America from Japan a decade ago and began painting every large bare space he could find with the bold strokes and brilliant rainbow colors that are his trademark.

The Arts Council heard about Sachio and invited him to visit.

The building they chose for him, "the biggest and ugliest in town," was built about the turn of the century by local craftsmen of bricks made in Neligh.

For several days, Sachio sat on a bench on the courthouse lawn across the street and stared at the old pile of bricks.

Then he went home to work on his design. While he was gone, local volunteers raised a scaffold, wire-brushed and caulked the building, primed it with two coats of white

Sachio returned and chalked his design on the two walls:

On the east face of the building, the two cows, one up close, one behind. They stand beside a vertical belt of multicolored stripes, the artist's interpretation of a rainbow.

On the north face, the red plow rampant upon a tractorgreen prairie beside a field of impressionistic yellow corn beneath an orange sun, slightly lopsided, in a sky of pick-truck blue.

"It represents our heritage, which we are proud of," Mrs. Morrison said.

"The blue cows? Well, Sachio said the Angus raisers wanted him to make them black, the Hereford people wanted Herefords, and so on," Mrs. Morrison explained. "He decided to make them noncommittal blue."

Sachio supervised. He was the houseguest of the town. He ate here, slept there.

FOOD STAMPS GLADLY ACCEPTED!

Handicapped fights back

MIAMI (AP) — Barbara Freund was always one of the brightest in her class at Brooklyn.

By the time she was 12, she had skipped two grades and was busy helping slower classmates when she was not breezing through her own ninthgrade work. She prayed she could pursue a career of helping the handicapped.

But an automobile accident in 1966, as her family drove north from a Florida holiday, left her paralyzed and speechless. Her doctors said she would always be that way. They were wrong.

While her brain had been badly damaged and her thought and movement suppressed, she and her family drew from deeper resources.

"I felt in some way the accident was God's answer to my prayers," she says today.

Aching all over, Barbara learned to move her arms, to pull herself along, eventually to walk on legs that hung useless before. She learned to speak again, laboriously trying to make words over and over.

"My mother simply wouldn't let me give up," she said. "She kept saying to me, 'You can do it, you can do it.' I heard those words even in my sleep."

Returning to school, she was told she would have to start at the level of a 5-year-old. Some teachers had little sympathy.

"Can you imagine," she said, "I'd never made a grade lower than a 97. Now I was making zeros. It was heartbreaking. At night, I'd try to study and the next day I couldn't remember a thing."

Her family moved to Miami in 1967, and Barbara finished high school and Miami-Dade Community College. At Florida International University she majored in special education.

"I felt that there would be no problem in getting a job," she said. "I am a living example that people with disabilities can be helped."

However, when she looked for work she found her disabilities stood in her way. Her speech is still slow and her handwriting awkward.

"At first, this frustrated me," she said. "Then I decided to do private tutoring and sometimes I'm called to substitute teach. Now I'm not sure that I want to teach in a regular classroom setting. I have had so much success with the one-to-one tutoring I do."

There is more to Barbara's story. There is Sandy Levy, the commercial photographer she wed three months ago.

"I knew right away he was the one," she recalls of their meeting at a party.

Sandy ignored her that first night, but both turned up at another party. "This time, I plopped myself down next to him, and talked his head off," she said. Levy noticed.

"I saw the real Barbara," he says. "She was beautiful. I didn't see her handicap."

Appeals Court would expand under new law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals would be left intact and expanded to 26 judges under a decision adopted by a House-Senate conference committee.

The agreement reached Wednesday breaks an impasse which had stalled a bill creating 117 new federal district judgeships and adding 35 to the appeals courts.

The 5th Circuit Court, with headquarters in New Orleans, handles appeals from federal district courts in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 22, 1978

GENERAL TENDENCIES: If you are logical in your reasoning, you will be able to make considerable headway toward success on a grand scale. So keep this in mind and develop a more comprehensive plan of action than you had originally considered.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Improve relations between yourself and partners and friends and you become more successful. Repay social obligations and retain important friends. Don't criticize others so much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be meticulous about your work so that it attracts the attention of a bigwig and you gain fine benefits. Talk matters over with an official and get good advice.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Wind up the week's work efficiently and plan recreation later with good friends whose ideas are similar to your own.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Once you have completed your work, see to it that your home life is made more ideal, your house put in better order. Do some light entertaining at home, but invite congenials only.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You get the right information from a friend so that you can put a good plan to work in a most successful way. Take care of a community affair intelligently. Be practical.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show one who has power over your affairs that using good common sense will bring fine results. Try to spend more time in community activities.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have some highly inspiring ideas that should be put across without delay. Show that you have character and get good results with everyone. Avoid temptation to overstep.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Investigate what you do not understand and get the right answers, particularly where basics are concerned. Build up ego of kin.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) State your views clearly to a partner and then you can operate more intelligently together. Handling civic matters well brings you more prestige.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go to the most powerful individual you know and bring your talents to his attention. Show you are an excellent citizen and get fine results. Take no risks with your good name.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can reach a fine understanding with a new associate and accomplish a great deal today. Take that little trip with one you admire and get good results. Be careful of a gossip.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Talk matters over with kin and have a more harmonious relationship. Be more loving with mate and kin and get fine response.

CARD OF THANKS
FOR OUR LOVED ONE
MOTHER & GRANDMOTHER
Perhaps you sang a lovely song,
Or sat quietly in a chair;
Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers,
If so, we saw them there.
Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words,
As any friend could say;
Perhaps you prepared some tasty food,
Or maybe furnished a car;
Perhaps you rendered a service unseen,
Near at hand or far away;
Whatever you did to console the heart
We thank you so much,
Whatever the part.
Special thanks to Dr. Thomas, nurses at Hall-Bennett, and Rev. Craven.
Mrs. S.H. (Lucille) Mesker & Family
Wife of J.O. (Gertrude) Whitfield & Family

Twins fathered by two men?

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The birth of twins, doctors say, is a rare event - an 80-1 longshot. But twins were born near here recently under circumstances virtually unchronicled in medical history - each child was fathered by a different man.

The bizarre case came to light because the twins' mother filed a paternity suit against one of the men. To prove he had fathered the twins, she consulted Dr. Paul I. Terasaki, a UCLA immunologist who uses an advanced tissue typing system to determine fatherhood.

Since developing his tissue typing method, Terasaki has used it to settle more than 2,500 paternity cases. This one seemed routine.

The doctor matched the alleged father's tissue "fingerprints," identifying keys called antigens found in the white blood cells, with one of the twins. But the antigens of the second twin did not match.

"This was the first time we've ever encountered it," Terasaki said in an interview Wednesday. "We hadn't been expecting that. I was surprised."

The odds against his system being wrong, he said, were 140,000-to-1.

The phenomenon of twins having different fathers, called superfecundity, required very special circumstances.

Non-identical twins are formed from two eggs released simultaneously from the ovary and fertilized by sperm released during the same sex act. But for twins to be sired by separate fathers requires the eggs be released hours apart during separate acts of intercourse.

There are only seven such cases known to medicine.

To test his evidence that two men had fathered the twins, Terasaki confronted the woman and asked if she had had intercourse with another man at about the time she conceived the twins.

"She admitted she had."

"She accepted the possibility (of double fatherhood) readily," Terasaki said.

He then tested the antigens of the second man to the antigens of the second twin, and they matched.

Terasaki said professional ethics prevented him from identifying the woman, the two men or the location in the Los Angeles metropolitan area where the births occurred and the paternity case was filed.

The case has been dropped, however, and the mother has resolved her dilemma of child support, he said.

"One of the men is taking care of it," Terasaki said. "Both children."

Archie's chair enshrined in Smithsonian Institute

WASHINGTON (AP) - For nearly eight years on national television, Archie Bunker has held court from a rust-colored, wingback chair.

It has been his soapbox for tirades against Jews, Poles and blacks. A place to worry out loud about job and family. A launching pad for verbal strikes against his "dingbat" wife, Edith.

But as of today, Archie Bunker can stop worrying about protecting his throne from would-be usurpers, notably his son-in-law. His chair is now in the Smithsonian Institution as a cultural exhibit.

The public will be able to view the chair - encased in plastic along with the patterned armchair used by Edith - in the "Nation of Nations" wing of the National Museum of History and Technology.

"This was on the second floor to the left of George Washington," one guide said of the chair's location relative to a statue of the first president.

What the 1940s chair - old when acquired for "All in the Family" from California prop warehouses - are doing in the national museum was explained by S. Dillon Ripley, secretary of the Smithsonian.

"Museum people have a high regard for objects that tell a story," Ripley told some 800 persons at the exhibit opening Tuesday night. "By honoring these chairs, we give recognition to a popular television series that we hope has stimulated audiences to re-examine their values and prejudices, dreams and desires."

The chairs have been central to the story of the couple from Queens since "Family" premiered on CBS television on Jan. 12, 1971.

From their living room, actor Carroll O'Connor and actress Jean Stapleton have dealt with topics from the Vietnam War to inflation, menopause and racism - often in a simultaneously distasteful and amusing way.

As son-in-law Mike once tried to explain Archie to guest star Sammy Davis Jr.: "He's not so bad. He wouldn't burn a cross on your lawn."

To which Davis responded: "No, but he might stop to toast a marshmallow."

The comedies - or what Ripley suggested might better be termed "social commentaries from one family's living room" - have won the show 50 million weekly viewers, more than a dozen Emmies, financial security for creator Norman Lear and star status for O'Connor, Ms. Stapleton and former regulars Sally Struthers and Rob Reiner.

And protests, too, from Polish-Americans, the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and others offended by the Bunkers' words or deeds.

But Lear told those at the Smithsonian that having a positive influence on American viewers was the show's aim.

"We were happy tossing our pebbles into the streams of social awareness, and we will continue to throw more. Should an appreciable portion of the nation elect to join us at the water's edge, perhaps our combined efforts will be measurable."

Lear, 54, said that "Family" also reflected one of his late father's traits - "a territorial imperative about his chair."

His show became the first TV situation comedy that "examined social issues at the heart of American life," said Smithsonian curator Carl Scheele. "It changed the face of a lot of TV's approach ... I don't think television could revert to the pre-Archie Bunker era."

The museum's exhibit has the chairs separated by a small walnut end table, topped with a doily, a glass ashtray and a partially smoked cigar. Floral wallpaper forms the backdrop.

Nearby in the wing dedicated to America's ethnic background are a rainbow-colored Wurlitzer, the white gloves and blackface makeup used by Eddie Cantor and a reconstructed 1925 Italian-American kitchen, complete with replica steaming chicken.

"Family" cast members thought it was appropriate to put the chairs in the Smithsonian.

"It's better than being cast in wax," concluded Ms. Stapleton.

O'Connor, prevented from attending the ceremony and a White House visit by continued treatment for high blood pressure, used a long-distance phone hookup to say that admission to the Smithsonian "is really a great thrill to me. No other honor done to Norman and the rest of the cast can possibly equal that."

The show goes on, despite

STRUCTURAL STANDARDS BOARD
Owner or Owners, lessors, occupants and lienholders of record or the below named real properties, all located in the City of Big Spring, are hereby notified of a Public Hearing to consider demolition, order a reduction in occupancy load or vacation of structures and premises at each of these locations. Hearings will be held before the Structural Standards Board in and for the City of Big Spring, in the City Council Chamber of the Big Spring City Hall, Fourth and Nolan Streets, on October 3, 1978, commencing at 9:00 o'clock A.M., local time. These are Public Hearings. The Administrator shall present evidence of the Sub-standard condition of these structures and as owner, lessor, occupant, lienholder, or any interested person may present evidence on relevant issues. After hearing evidence from each interested person present the Board will make its findings and issue appropriate orders in each case. These findings may result in determination that the structure is not substantial; that a variance should be granted in order to avoid imposition of an unreasonable hardship; that an exemption may be granted to a provision or provisions of the chapter; that the structure is sub-standard and order repair or other suitable remedy within a specified period of time, and demolition of the structure if the repair or other suitable remedy is not timely effected, or that the structure be ordered demolished within a specified period of time.

Upper Colorado SWCD election called Oct. 2

An election for a director to serve in Zone 5 on the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District Board is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 2 in the District Courtroom, Borden County Courthouse. Gail, announced W.L. Wilson, Jr., chairman of the board. The election will be held at 7:30 p.m.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director's election, a person must own agricultural land within the subdivision where the election is being held. The person must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and the voter must be 21 years old.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 21 years of age and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district.

Zone 5 of the district includes all of Borden County South of U.S. Highway 180.

Wilson, a rancher in the southern part of Borden County is the present director and is eligible for reelection.

Purpose of the Upper Colorado SWCD, serving Borden and Scurry Counties with headquarters in Snyder, Texas is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purpose.

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

The man in the wet coveralls

with Marj Carpenter

Red Adair started fighting oilfield fires in 1936 at Eldorado, Ark. And Red Adair is now "THE" oilfield fire fighter in the world.

So it's no wonder that over 500 members of the Permian Basin section of the AIME group of engineers and their guests poured into the Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland Tuesday night to hear the words of Red Adair.

Adair told them, "more or less" that if you haven't had an oilfield fire, try not to get one. He pointed out that they were one of the few businesses in the world trying to do themselves out of business.

He had just returned from Sumatra where he put out a blaze in a gas well that produced 800 million feet of gas a day.

One of his films was on the fire oilwell fires that were deliberately started with time bombs in the Middle East. He said, "Give me a good honest blow-out any day." The film was produced overseas and a narrator with a clipped British accent showed flames blazing high into the sky and said firmly, "They realized that things were getting out of hand and they must have expert help."

This brought a roar of laughter from the group in Midland, many of whom had had experiences with oilwell fires.

The number who had known Red Adair along the way was amazing. Before his talk, people kept coming up to him and saying,

"Remember the Exxon fire near Odessa? or the Mobil fire at Coyansa? or this fire

RED ADAIR... fire fighter exquisite or that fire — and he remembered them all.

In one of the filmstrips, the narrator commented when the film showed Adair in an asbestos suit, "Red Adair doesn't think too much of asbestos suits. He prefers wet overalls."

Actually, Red Adair through the years has gone in close to the oilfield fires in wet coveralls. He usually wears red. Tuesday night was no exception. He wore a red coat.

He asked about a dog named Blow-out that was at a recent oilwell fire near Pecos. "That dog would run up there and look right down the hole," Adair recalled.

He got into the business full swing years ago with his father-in-law and later established a company of his own.

You could mention an oilwell fire and he'd give you the facts. Recalling one in 1961 near Coyonosa, in which another photographer and I walked hip deep through mud and oil to get pictures, I asked him about it.

"Oh yes," he recalled, "Seven killed on the floor and a bunch more burned out in the cotton patch..." and he was right.

During his talk, he said, "There are more blow-outs than there used to be. I hate to say this but I think we are failing to teach a lot of young men working in the oilfield to take care of the equipment. They're sure not teaching them in any schools and we're turning them loose in the field without teaching them any better."

Whenever you get into discussions about who is the best at various things in the world, you can get lots of answers. Best fighter? Mohammad Ali or Joe Louis? Best classic musician? Beethoven or Bach?

Best this, or best that... but best oilfield fire fighter? Red Adair. You never get another answer.

On the other four occasions I saw Red Adair I was at oilfield fires, so it was nice to see him on a less exciting occasion.

Just before his talk, it lightened outside the Country Club picture window as I was talking to Adair and when the flash of the lightning hit the corner of his eye, he turned suddenly and said, "Was that lightning?"

Something about any flash of fire catches his attention immediately. And it would yours too, if you had been around the fires that have been put out by Red Adair.

The best blaze extinguisher of two generations — Red Adair, whom I saw again this week — off the firing line when I was out ridin' fence.

Social Security representative will visit four towns in area
