Conclave scheduled for Oct. 14

Pope's funeral set for Wednesday

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, so soon brought back for the somber ritual and challenging task of papal succession, on Saturday set the funeral of Pope John Paul I for Wednesday and the conclave to elect a new pontiff for Oct. 14.

As the cardinals met in the Apostolic Palace, a line of mourners in tears, prayers or reverent silence filed past the body of Pope John Paul as it lay in state three floors below in the palace's Clementine Hall. Tens of thousands waiting to pay their last respects — school children, nuns, peasants, tourists — formed a half-mile line in vast St. Peter's Square outside.

At 6 p.m. the body was carried by 12 pallbearers from the palace to St. Peter's Basilica in a procession of 20 red-robed cardinals led by a priest carrying a cross and two others holding candles. The pallbearers were flanked by Swiss guards in yellow and violet striped outfits. The Sistine Chapel choir sang psalms. The crowd applauded.

Inside the basilica, the body was placed on a catafalque at the main altar. It will be open to public viewing again beginning Sunday at 7 a.m.

The funeral Mass Wednesday will be said outdoors on the basilica's broad steps, the site of the requiem for Pope Paul VI on Aug. 12 and of the 65-year-old John Paul's ceremonial installation as 263rd pontiff of the 700-million-member church just four weeks ago.

In his last document, the text of which was released Saturday by the Vatican, Pope John Paul said he longed for "the most blessed life" in eternity after "the short and often arduous earthly pilgrimage." It was a letter in Latin sent Thursday to an East German bishop.

Twenty-nine of the 127 princes of the church took part in the first of the daily meetings of the Congregation of Cardinals to draw up funeral and conclave plans. Although almost 100 cardinals still had not arrived in Rome, those assembled acted swiftly in setting the dates, in contrast to days of waiting after the death of Pope Paul on Aug. 6.

The opening date for the conclave will be 16 days after Pope John Paul's death, just a day more than the minimum period allowed. The August conclave that elected Cardinal Albino Luciani as pope began 19 days after the death of Pope Paul VI.

This shortening of the preconclave period was attributed by Vatican experts to the cardinals' new familiarity with the elaborate electoral process and to the fact that many of the problems of the church had been discussed less than two months ago.

Vatican observers cautioned, however, that the cardinals' speed in setting the next conclave did not necessarily mean they had a front-running candidate in mind.

Most widely mentioned "papabili" — or possible popes — have the same basic characteristics as Cardinal Luciani had — they are Italian and pastoral, that is, not directly involved in the central church administration.

They include Cardinals Giovanni Benelli, 57, of Florence; Corrado Ursi, 70, of Naples; Salvatore Pappalardo, 60, of Palermo, and Giuseppe Siri, 72, of Genoa.

Siri and Benelli, formerly Pope Paul's right-hand man, are generally regarded as church conservatives. Ursi and Pappalardo are considered moderates.

But observers were not ruling out a cardinal from the Vatican bureaucracy — such as Sergio Pignedoli, Pericle Felici or Sebastiano Baggio, all considered front-runners going into the last conclave. And although every pope for the past four centuries has been Italian, the possibility of a non-Italian pontiff was not being discounted.

Election petition recorded

A petition was presented to the city secretary Friday by a group of voters in the city asking for an election to be held on the issue of building a hangar at the former Webb Air Force Base.

A copy of the petition, accompanied by a letter signed by Jack Watkins, was sent to John Hill, Attorney General and Bob Bullock, comptroller of public accounts.

City Manager Harry Nagel said Saturday that the issue they were discussing was officially published and a public hearing was held months ago. The entire legal papers were then turned over to bond attorneys and the legal time for a protest has long since passed.

"If this group of citizens do succeed in halting this construction, it would also completely halt the possibility of Lockheed coming to Big Spring, if they obtain the December contract. I noticed that none of the names on the petition was a person who has been working voluntarily and long hours trying to bring industry to Big Spring," he added.

The petition, with 567 signatures states:

"We, the undersigned, duly qualified electors of the City of Big Spring, hereby petition, under Article 2368a, (1) for an election to be held, and conducted in the manner provided for bond elections under Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended whether or not the City of Big Spring shall be allowed to issue, for any reason whatsoever without first having an election, Certificates of Obligations by the City of Big Spring."

The letter from Watkins sent to Hill and Bullock is headed "Re Certificates of Obligations by the City of Big Spring, Tex." It then says: "This letter is to advise you that on this date a petition, duly signed by more than 5 per cent of the qualified electors of the City of Big Spring was filed with Mr. Tom Ferguson, the City Secretary."

"Such petition calls for an election to be held and conducted in the manner provided for bond elections under Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended under Article 2368 a. 1., Sect. 8 (b) thereof."

Nagel said, "One citizen has already requested that his name be withdrawn, stating that he did not know what he was signing."

He also pointed out that apparently some husbands and wives signed for each other in identical handwriting, which is illegal on a petition.

Clyde McMahon, Sr., who has worked long and hard on obtaining industry for Big Spring said, "If these citizens delayed and did not appear at the proper hearing time and could now halt these proceedings, they would cost the City of Big Spring a million dollars immediately and no telling how much more in future growth. It's just sad."

Watkins said he was not averse to the idea of building a hangar or wooing Lockheed, far from it, but he did feel that the people should have a say-so in how their money is being spent.

For that reason, he said, he felt an election should have been called before the Certificates of Obligation are issued.

STARTING TO MOVE — Trains were starting to move out of the railroad yards here Saturday when a national strike by railway clerks was ended by a government order.

Hearing to be held Oct. 10

Union pickets honor order

Union pickets who virtually shut down the nation's rail transportation system for four days honored their leader's call to go back to work Saturday under a court order. Spokesmen for railroad lines across the nation said trains were beginning to roll.

"We had trains rolling within a matter of hours," Union Pacific spokesman C.R. Rockwell said in Salt Lake City. "We've got everything running that there is to run."

In Huntington, W.Va., Chessie spokesman Willis Cook said normal operations were expected to resume "very shortly. Everything has to get rolling again ... the coal mines, the shippers... all industry is involved in a thing like this."

The strike that began July 10 by the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks against the Virginia-based Norfolk & Western Railway grew to transcontinental proportions last week as the union threw up picket lines at 73 other carriers providing N&W with mutual aid pact financial assistance.

Railroad strike is of short duration

Trains were beginning to move out of a clogged Missouri Pacific railroad yard here this morning after settlement of the nationwide railroad strike for a 60-day "cool off period."

One engineer waiting to take a train out of the yard said, "It may take a week before all the trains get sorted out and back where they were going across the country."

The strike in Big Spring only lasted about 24 hours since the Missouri Pacific system was later getting involved than some of the train companies.

A lot of the rail cars that were delayed here held new automobiles and the dealers were waiting for them since the new models are being announced this week everywhere.

The only perishable items stopped in this railroad yard appeared to be a refrigerated box car of fruit, which

The clerks struck in a dispute over job eliminations due to automation and union representation of supervisory personnel.

The picket lines were honored and the movement of manufactured goods, raw materials, agricultural goods and Amtrak and commuter passengers on 200,000 miles of track came to a halt in most areas.

The picket lines started coming down Friday night following U.S. District Court Judge Aubrey Robinson's temporary injunction reinforcing President Carter's back-to-work order.

Railroad officials said perishable goods would get priority as shipping resumed.

"Reports coming in through the night and this morning to (clerks union) President Fred Kroll indicate that just about all pickets have been removed," Henry Fleisher, spokesman for the union, said in Washington Saturday. "The union is in virtually complete compliance with the court order. Reports from the field indicate great satisfaction with the anti-reprisal feature of Judge Robinson's order."

The union had asked Robinson to order railroads not to take reprisals against workers who struck or refused to cross picket lines, and until the judge agreed, Kroll would not order members back to work.

Carter, using the 1926 Railway Labor Act, ordered the 4,600 union clerks back to work and set up an emergency board to study the dispute. After 60 days, the workers could resume their strike if no settlement is reached.

Robinson set Oct. 10 for a hearing on whether the injunction should be made permanent for the duration of the 60-day cooling-off period.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: The rules

Q. I see lots of impatient people violate the rules while driving past school buses. The rules, please?

A. If the bus has stopped and has its flashing lights on, motorists should stop before reaching the bus. The lights means that the driver is loading or unloading students. The driver is not to move again until the bus is in motion, or the red lights cease to flash or the bus driver signals that it is OK to proceed. If the bus is on a different roadway or one separated from another vehicle by a median strip or fence, the driver of the other vehicle does not have to stop.

Calendar: Motorcross races

SUNDAY

Hi-Noon Motocross Races resume after four months at track northeast of town. Gates open at noon.

MONDAY

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will have a special called meeting at noon to elect new officers.

MONDAY

The Forsan Study Club will have an open meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the High School auditorium with Larry Bristo, director of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center speaking.

Offbeat: They're enough

BLUE SUMMIT, Mo. (AP) — Between Independence and Kansas City, there is the mile-square unincorporated area of Blue Summit and its 1951 Ford fire truck.

The volunteer firefighters once got a fire call and the truck wouldn't start. So they rolled it down a hill to get the engine running. And if that hadn't worked? They have a back-up unit — a 1947 International fire truck.

Tops on TV: Football, movie

At noon on Channel 2, the Houston Oilers play Cleveland and the Miami Dolphins vs. St. Louis Cardinals game is on Channel 7. The 3 p.m. game on 2 will probably be Oakland vs. Chicago Bears. For relief from football, you might try an ABC movie on Channels 4, 13 and 8 at 8 p.m. called "The Users." Tony Curtis and Jacklyn Smith star in the story of an aspiring actress who marries a fading but still powerful entertainer as a means of climbing Hollywood's social ladder.

Reserve seeks support

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A man who says he was fired from his job because he was on weekend duty with the Army Reserves has enlisted the support of the U.S. attorney's office in Minneapolis.

In his U.S. District Court suit, Clayton Kukacka, 42, contends he lost his job at the Fairway Foods Inc. warehouse in Northfield because he did not show up for work July 17, 1977. The suit says Kukacka, of New Prague, Minn., was on reserve duty July 16-17. He was to report to work by 11 p.m. July 17. However, the suit says Kukacka did some additional recruiting until about 9 p.m., told his employers he could not show up for work that night, and was fired the next day.

Biorhythms questionable

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Using biorhythms as a means of predicting whether your day will be accident prone "is highly questionable," says two University of Wisconsin-Madison researchers.

Biorhythm theory made its way into the working world as a means of forecasting accidents without earning proper scientific credentials first, said Professor Frazier Damron and research assistant Dan Leetz.

The biorhythm theory contends three rhythmic cycles determine a person's actions. The physical cycle runs 23 days, the emotional cycle 28 days, and the intellectual cycle 33 days. Each cycle has a "critical period" of about 24 hours when nothing seems to go right.

Blind man files suit

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A blind Ohio man has filed suit against General Telephone Co., claiming an information operator's refusal to give him a phone number caused him "rebuks, stress and humiliation."

Miller Thoss of Cleveland, who was in Clearwater, Fla., on business last May, filed the class action suit in U.S. District Court. He asks $100,000 damages and that the practice be declared illegal. Thoss says he tried to place a call from his motel room and repeatedly said he was blind but the information operator refused to give him the number of the business he wanted to call, the suit states.

Most women are working

NEW YORK (AP) — The majority of American women are employed for the first time in the nation's history, says a U.S. Labor Department regional commissioner.

Herbert Bienstock, regional commissioner of labor statistics here, said Friday that American women not at work nor looking for jobs found themselves in the minority for the first time in June. The total labor force participation of women 16 and over hit 50.1 percent for that month, Bienstock said.

Employment of women increased by more than 2.3 million in the year ending June 1978, he said. Women accounted for about 55 of every 100 Americans added to the national job total, he added.

Police beat Two televisions stolen

Larry Sheppard reported that two television sets were stolen from his home at 2806 Mac Auslan during the night Thursday. One was valued at $500 and the other at $100. Entry was gained through a broken window.

Gary Thornton at 1209 W 2nd told police that somebody took his billfold off him without his knowledge. It contained $105.

Jimmy Hopper Toyota told police that a motorist drove an old Chrysler in and left it and tried out a 1972 Corvette on Thursday and still wasn't back with it on Friday afternoon. Value of the stolen car was listed at $5100.

Larry Darden and John Darden are out on $1500 bond after being charged with theft of over $20 and under $200 when they were accused of placing packages of meat under their shirts and jackets at the Gregg Street Safeway.

An accident at 12:52 a.m. Saturday on 114 Cedar Road sent David Glenn Smith, Box 971 and Tony R. Bullard, a passenger in the vehicle to Malone-Hogan Hospital for possible injuries. The Smith vehicle collided with a light pole.

In minor accidents, at 2:12 a.m. Saturday on Bogartz Parking lot, vehicles collided. Drivers were Uvaldo Lopez, 605 NE 8th and Cheryl Hill Griffin, Rt. 1, Loraine.

Coy Selby, 805 Lorilla and Rodney Smith, 700 Willia, were involved in an accident at 8th and Creighton at 8:04 a.m. Friday. At 8:21 a.m., vehicles collided at 12th and Owens.

Drivers were John Dale, 605 Goliad and Ruth Bodke, 3521 Dixon.

Area residents are candidates

Election of three directors highlights Sweetwater Production Credit Association's annual meeting of stockholders October 6 (Friday) in the Scurry County Coliseum, Snyder. The meeting begins with registration at 9:30 a.m., followed by the business session at 10:30 a.m. A barbecued meal also will be served.

According to F.C. Shillingburg, the association's president, director nominees for Position 4 include T.L. Finley, incumbent of Loraine, and A.K. McCarley, Jr., Colorado City. Position 5 nominees are L.D. Echols, incumbent, and Lloyd Coffman, both of Lamesa. Incumbent Marvin Stander of Lenorah and Malcolm Tunnell of Stanton seek the Position 6 nomination.

Other main business items include the board of directors' report by Stander, the association's financial report by Shillingburg and election of nominating committee members for 1978-79 conducted by Buster Haggard, chairman of Stanton. Othell O'Kelly, director from Trent, will give the invocation and welcoming remarks will be made by Charlie Bell, PCA vice president of Snyder. Finley is scheduled to preside.

Erbin L. Crowell, representing the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, serves as guest speaker.

Entertainment before and after the meeting will be a regtime piano selections furnished by Dugan Daily, Roscoe.

More than 600 farmer-rancher members and guests from 14 counties are expected to attend.

For the record

The Mrs. Greenlees mentioned in a column in the Herald last week was not Mrs. Winifred Greenlees of Big Spring, but her mother-in-law, Mrs. W.G. Greenlees of Odessa. The Herald regrets the confusion of the two women which the story might have caused.

Middle East cease-fire brings silence in Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A cease-fire silenced guns in east Beirut Saturday after limited to exchanges of shelling and sniper fire.

The port of Beirut, where street-to-street gun battles broke out, was among the other districts engulfed in new fighting Saturday.

Reports conflicted on whether the Syrians had taken Hadath, a town of 40,000, or had pulled out after raiding rightist positions. The rightist radio described the embattled town as a "new Stalingrad" and said the militiamen were continuing to resist Syrian assaults.

For the first time, the Syrians conceded "heavy losses," blaming them on new rightist artillery stationed in the hills east and north of the capital. In one unconfirmed report, the rightist radio said a militia force in east Beirut surrounded 20 Syrians who raided a pharmacy for drugs and "wiped out" all of them.

The Syrians pledged they would continue to fight back "until the sources of (rightist) fire are completely silenced."

At Saturday SALT talks

Negotiators claim progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — American and Soviet arms negotiators claimed progress Saturday in White House negotiations for a new treaty to limit strategic bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

After four hours of talks under President Carter's direction and involving Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, the negotiating teams agreed to meet again on Sunday. This seemed to indicate the two superpowers were making a crash effort to achieve a breakthrough after six years of negotiations.

Carter, scheduled to travel to Cape Canaveral, Fla., at midday Sunday, to decorate a half-dozen astronauts, was not expected to participate in the session.

Nonetheless, the effort will move ahead involving negotiating teams headed by Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Gromyko.

In a brief exchange with reporters on the South Lawn, Vance said "there was movement which both of us agree is constructive."

Gromyko, standing at Vance's side, concurred.

Deaf children need more aid, angry parent says

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Deaf children need more instructional services and better-budgeted programs, an angry parent told the Texas Commission for the Deaf Board Saturday.

"If the Texas Commission for the Deaf can't get those services, then we will, the parents can," said Gail Lindsey of Austin, who has a 13-year-old deaf daughter.

Newly elected board chairman Gerry Gammage of Dallas emphasized the commission has a low priority for legislative funding.

"Not enough money is available to us for everything that needs to be done," said Gammage, who got into a shouting match with Mrs. Lindsey.

"You have not pushed and made yourself noticeable at the capitol" where legislative budgets are approved, she insisted.

"We don't get any money in this post. We don't get a per diem," Gammage replied.

"That's a cop-out," she retorted.

Current mental health counseling programs lack enough deaf interpreters, Mrs. Lindsey complained.

District judge acquits three

MULESHOE, Texas (AP) — District Judge Pat Boone, Jr., Saturday acquitted three men who were on trial for drug charges, but a jury will decide the fate of four other persons accused in the same case.

The trial was recessed until Tuesday morning when final arguments are scheduled. The case stems from a raid on a farm house in Bailey County, in far West Texas, last Dec. 23.

In all, 30 persons were accused of a scheme to make and sell the drug methamphetamine, or "speed."

Prosecutors say the drug operation started in Houston and was moved to New Mexico and then to Bailey County near the Texas-New Mexico border before authorities raided it last year.

Four defendants in the case have pleaded guilty, and the rest still face trial.

But among the seven who went on trial here Sept. 18, the jury will have to rule on only four of them. Boone granted a defense motion for a direct verdict of innocent for James Cunningham of Muleshoe, Ron Shirley of Clovis, N.M., and Craig Chaney of Houston.

The other four on trial are Wilford Gallegos of Muleshoe, Gary Leui of Martin, S.D., and Dee Carter and Jerry Clayton, both of Clovis, N.M.

Razing of old housing likely

STANTON — The city council will discuss the demolition of dilapidated housing in the city when it meets at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday at city hall.

The councilmen will also consider the granting to Texas Electric Service Company at 6.7 per cent rate increase, consider amendments to the utilities rates ordinance, discuss a sewer project with James Tompkins and look into the proposed sale of various urban renewal lots.

Prager's to close Monday

Prager's Men and Boy's Store will be closed Monday for the observance of Rosh Hashanah.

Some local citizens observing the holiday will attend services at the temple in Odessa, starting Sunday night and some will go to Abilene.

The observance of the Jewish holiday lasts from sundown Sunday through Monday for some with the Orthodox Jews also observing Tuesday.

The holiday marks the beginning of the Jewish New Year.

Carter opposed to bills raising sugar prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter says he's opposed to bills that would raise sugar prices paid to farmers above 15 cents a pound, an allowance he said would amount to a guaranteed profit for growers.

He also said he can't accept a Senate-passed bill that would remove his authority to expand beef imports.

And he said he believes the farm strike movement of last year "did a great service to agriculture and to the country."

The president made the comments in an interview with out-of-town broadcasters Friday. The White House released the transcript Saturday.

On the sugar bill, Carter said he "would like to see a bill passed," but said a House Ways and Means Committee measure "would be the maximum that I would accept on sugar prices."

The committee bill would raise sugar prices to 15 cents a pound and provides for no yearly increases. Two more generous measures, however, are coming up for consideration in the Senate and House.

A House bill approved by the agriculture committee would set prices initially at 16 cents a pound and provides for yearly increases above that. A Senate bill calls for a 17-cent price.

Carter said if the Senate bill prevails, "this would really be the only agricultural product where you set the prevailing nationwide price to accommodate the highest cost of production anywhere in the nation."

"I never promised any farm group, even when I was eagerly seeking their support during the campaign, that I would guarantee them a profit," the president said.

The Consumer Federation of America estimates that each penny increase in sugar prices costs consumers $500 million a year.

On beef imports, Carter said he won't accept a bill by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, to set quotas by formula, with no discretion left to the president.

The bill was passed after some cattlemen complained about Carter's decision to expand beef imports this year in an attempt to moderate a sharp increase in retail meat prices.

"I wouldn't approve the Bentsen bill as drafted," Carter said. "I think the president needs flexibility in controlling beef imports."

Carter said he didn't approve of blocking traffic or other illegal tactics used by some in the American Agriculture farm-strike movement.

But he said "I think the dramatization of the farmer's plight to the entire public, indeed the entire world, was a very constructive thing."

Deaths

Vaughn Harris

Vaughn Harris, who lived on a ranch north of Big Spring at one time, died Friday in a hospital at Andrews, a victim of cancer.

Services will be at 3 p.m. today in the Singleton Funeral Home Chapel in Andrews and burial will take place in an Andrews cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Dillar, Andrews, and Mrs. Riley Miller, Fluvanna; and several grandchildren including Jennifer Knight of Big Spring.

Public's interest not being effected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of government research on laboratory conception of humans isn't engendering the kind of public interest initially forecast, according to an official who is reviewing the ethical and moral questions involved.

"I'm puzzled," said Leo McCarthy, staff director of a federal advisory board contemplating research on test-tube conception.

In an interview, McCarthy said his Ethics Advisory Board to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has received only a few dozen letters from the public on controversial issue.

Despite widespread news media accounts of the board's consideration of the issue and its first discussions in mid-September, the panel has been getting only two to four letters a day, he said.

On Sept. 15, HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. had instructed the board to "stimulate a national debate" about whether the department should fund research on laboratory fertilization of human eggs and embryo transplants.

A baby girl was born by this method in England on July 25 and remains healthy.

Califano said at the time that test-tube baby research in this country "holds enormous promise." But he also said it raises questions "that reach to our most profound moral and ethical beliefs."

"Will this research lead to selective breeding, to attempts to control the genetic makeup of offspring or to the use of 'surrogate parents' where... rich women might pay poor women to carry their children?" the Cabinet officer asked.

Grazing land improvement bill approved by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation authorizing a 20-year, $360 million program to improve the condition of public grazing lands was approved by the Senate on Saturday. The bill also sets up a new grazing fee system.

The House passed a somewhat different measure on July 10 and a House-Senate conference committee will work out the differences between the two.

The Senate vote was 59-7. Backers of the new fee system, based on the economic value of land to the user, said it was designed to settle a debate over grazing fees that has been going on since they were first established in 1906.

But Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., speaking for opponents, said the proposed fees would not yield the fair market value of the land and amounted to "a subsidy the United States has no business indulging itself in."

The new fee system is established on a seven-year trial basis.

The Senate bill is less strict than the one approved by the House in that it requires environmental impact statements before improvements such as fences, cattle guards and stock ponds could be created on public lands.

The House called for completion of such a statement before any improvement causing an environmental impact could be carried out. Improvement having no environmental impact would not require a statement.

Presidio farmlands receive floodwaters

PRESIDIO, Texas (AP) — More levee breaks along the Rio Grande in the sparsely settled area around Presidio sent floodwaters spilling into farmland Saturday, including some 1,000 acres on the U.S. side of the border.

An American-side earthen levee about seven miles southeast of Presidio gave way early Saturday, causing flooding to three-foot depths. No injuries have been reported during the several days of flooding.

Other levees across the border near Ojinaga, Mexico, broke, adding to the already flooded valleys around that city of 10,000.

"Most of it is fields," said Bob Ybarra, a spokesman for the International Boundary and Water Commission in El Paso. "The river is still rising, although the levee breaks caused it to drop some earlier."

Ybarra said. The IBWC is a joint U.S.-Mexico organization that administers water projects along the Rio Grande. The highest of the levees in the water-control system reach about 30 feet. The Rio Grande was reported at 26 feet Saturday afternoon.

No danger was seen to the city of Presidio, where about 1,100 people live. Some evacuations of homes in low-lying areas were carried out without incident earlier in the week.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast Sunday for parts of New England and the Northeast extending south along the Atlantic coast into the Carolinas according to the National Weather Service.

Suggestions on how not to grow

One of our native wits once remarked "Those who can, play. Those who can't, coach." There are those who are never caught doing a constructive act who are great for giving advice or complaining.

Someone once put down on paper a few suggestions on how to ruin a community without even trying.

WHETHER ONE lives within a community which has a great density of population or in a place where the greatest excitement is going downtown Saturday nights to watch people get their hair cut, the suggestions apply. They are:

1. Never attend any meetings — just sit around and criticize about the way 'they' are doing things.

2. Vote against any kind of tax levy — no matter if it is to provide funds to pay for the first three blocks of paving on Main Street. The 'ins' just want your money.

3. Don't ever go to the school concert or ball game, benefit program or exhibit. Sit in a half trance in front of the television set. Don't let anyone tell you the culture in a community 40 miles away isn't better.

4. Limit your appearances in church to Easter and Christmas, and don't go then unless your wife or husband hand cuffs your wrist to her's or his. Once inside the house of worship, count the times you think the minister was wrong, then recite them for all the world to hear later.

5. Don't buy at home. Either order out of the catalog or fire up the family buggy and go shopping in the next county seat. After all, what do you owe the merchants in your own town? After all, donations made by those mail order firms and those out-of-town people who keep your charitable functions going.

6. If anything is projected for the betterment of the community, save your best verbal darts for it and try to shoot it down in flames. Whether you realize it or not, your motto has become: "If it's good, it could never happen here."

7. IF YOUR children rebel, blame the teachers for their lack of discipline. After all, what do we contribute to our education system for, if it's not for the biggest baby-sitting service in the world?

8. Keep the ethnic groups in their places. They already have too many rights that should belong to us alone.

Some communities grow, some don't. Those that don't invariably are populated by people who are suspicious of change and resist every waking hour to keep it from being forced upon them.

How many monuments have you seen built for persons who were long on talk and woefully short on performance? Such individuals are rarely remembered from one generation to the other.

Odd people

Around the rim

Walt Finley

I'm beginning to wonder about people who live in Massachusetts. A Cambridge couple, who belong to a religious cult, neglected their infant daughter and when she died, they threw her body in the trash.

They were acquitted by a judge who said, "Everybody has the right to be different."

And in Springfield, Mass., a 17-year-old boy stabbed his 71-year-old grandmother to death after they quarreled over her refusal to lock the back door of her apartment.

The boy told police he was concerned about her safety.

My landlady and neighbor, Mrs. A.G. Hall, overheard: "I don't think Richard Nixon should be persecuted but I do think those people in Kentucky went a little too far when they gave him a Good Citizenship award."

Pundit Pate Fowler, you know the candidate 4 president, noticed the following headline:

My hippie son, Kim Finley, a communications student in Santa Barbara, Calif., reports:

A tourist attraction in Los Angeles is the Watts Tower. It was built over a 33-year period by an Italian-born tile setter, Simon Rodia, who constructed it of seashells, tiles, bottles, dismantled pipes and bed frames.

The eccentric builder disappeared in 1954 and only his creditors know why.

Rodia owned dough.

Pea and 3 walnuts

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — In case you don't keep up with these things, the latest Pentagon toy being developed by the U.S. Air Force is the MX, which is a method of moving Minuteman missiles through miles of underground tunnels so that the Soviets won't know where they are. We're talking about $30 or $40 billion if the Air Force gets to build the system, which the general in charge describes as being like the "shell game where you have one pea and three walnuts."

Nobody wants to fool the Soviets more than I do when it comes to pinpointing our missiles. But the cost of the project seems so great that I think we should seek out alternate ways of accomplishing the same thing.

AT THE MOMENT the contracts for developing the "MX shell game" have been awarded to the Boeing and the Martin Marietta companies. I believe the Air Force made a mistake in turning over the problem to them.

The company which should have gotten it is Amtrak, which runs most of the passenger railroads in the United States. The beauty of turning it over to the Amtrak people is that they already have the equipment and the know-how to fool anyone when it comes to figuring out where one of their trains is at any given time.

Let us say you put a missile on an Amtrak train in one of the underground tunnels. Then the Air Force puts out a schedule at which site the train will be, on what day, at what time. They would make sure that the Soviets got a copy of the schedule as part of the SALT agreement.

OBVIOUSLY THE train would never be where the schedule said it would be, and the Soviets would go nuts trying to figure out where the missile train was. It would accomplish the same goal as the MX program at half the cost.

If the Soviets protested that we were not living up to the SALT agreement, the Pentagon could invite them to send over their top generals and have them ride on an Amtrak train to prove the Air Force has no control over how the United States runs its railroads.

Once the Soviet command realizes that it could never depend on knowing where a missile train is going to be, it would be deterred from launching a first strike on our Minuteman sites.

The advantage of the plan is that the money Amtrak received for this defense contract could be spent on new equipment and rails for its civilian passenger service above ground and we would no longer have to subsidize this mode of transportation.

When I made this suggestion to an Air Force general, he had one major objection to it. "The trouble is that if we gave the contract to Amtrak, not only would the Soviets be fooled, but we ourselves would have no idea where the missiles were."

"I THOUGHT OF that," I said. "What you could do is set up a hotline between Amtrak and Air Force missile headquarters. It could be attached to a loudspeaker and an Amtrak announcer would man it 24 hours a day. He could say, 'Missile launcher 104 scheduled to arrive in Cheyenne, Wyo. at 11 a.m. will now be arriving on track 9 at 4 p.m. this afternoon.' Or 'Due to a derailment outside of Philadelphia 'The Minuteman Limited' scheduled to leave tonight for Amarillo, Texas, has been canceled until further notice.' Or 'Amtrak is sorry to announce that its 'Nuclear Comet' which was to stop in Baton Rouge has now been diverted to Denver because of inclement weather.' Amtrak would keep you up to date on every change in its schedule."

Skin test value is doubtful

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For 30 years I have suffered recurring bouts of bladder discomfort, ranging from slight pain to unbearable attacks. I think the attacks are triggered by eating fresh fruits or vegetables and that it sometimes takes a week before I have symptoms. The doctor agrees with me. I wondered if there is a test to find out just which food is the cause, if any. If the attack came on quickly it would be easy to solve, but over a period of time it is difficult to tell which is causing it. — Ms. D.H.

Skin tests are of doubtful value in detecting food allergies. Dr. Claude Frazier, an authority on this subject, says test results have to be taken "with a grain of salt."

Your suspicions are probably justified. The reaction time might be delayed, so you have to keep a lengthy food diary over several weeks. There is an approach you can try to put you on the trail of the specific culprit or culprits. The following are prime food suspects in urinary tract reactions: eggs, milk, chocolate, tomatoes, food colorings and flavorings, wheat, citrus fruits, cola drinks and nuts. If you avoid these for a reasonable period and have no recurrence you may be headed toward a solution to your problem.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My mother has had a severe case of the shingles for the past few months. Now, three months later, she still breaks out with a few blisters. She has severe pain down her left arm. Her chest is very sensitive. Her doctor has her on pain pills, but they don't help much. She is 86, and has reached the point of despair. Any information you can offer would be appreciated. — Mrs. J.B.

There are certain combinations of drugs that can eliminate or lessen this so-called "post-herpetic neuralgia." Tranquilizers such as phenothiazine or amatriptyline (alone or in combination) are an example. Steroids (cortisone drugs) if used early are effective in avoiding pain. I doubt this is too late for your mother, and her physician might consider this. Unfortunately, as in your elderly mother's case, the recognition of the rashes as shingles is often delayed beyond the point of real help from drugs. She should see a neurologist.

Shingles is an unfortunate ailment, primarily affecting the elderly. The effects seem more pronounced and painful in them. Shingles, otherwise known as "herpes zoster," is discussed at more length in my booklet on the subject. If you want a copy of "Facts About Shingles" send 20 cents for printing and handling along with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of the Big Spring Herald.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor: All the Big Spring schools are now in full swing. The interest in sports is mounting as every coach is either working with his or her team, preparing for games or working in off-season programs.

This appears to be the start of a great year for all sports. Even though the Big Spring Steer football team has not been successful on the scoreboard yet, they have made tremendous improvement in each game they have played and they are anxiously looking forward to their first conference game.

The Steerette volleyball team is off to a great start winning their first conference match and looking forward to a conference championship this year. All the other coaches are just as enthusiastic about their teams' prospects.

The one thing that needs to be added is positive fan support in all sports, girls and boys. The Big Spring Steer Booster Club (the name was changed from Quarterback Club) is working this year to fully support all sports.

We are striving to contact everyone and sell each family a $5 membership. We are also selling Steer jackets, baseball caps and bumper stickers to show team support. Individual football player pictures are displayed in various concerned businesses. We appreciate all the united support given this year.

Let us work together and help instill pride in all athletics by giving positive support. This could be accomplished by:

- (1) Give individual athletics recognition, encouragement and a pat on the back;
- (2) Support the coaches and their programs;
- (3) Attend all the athletic events and wear black and gold when possible;
- (4) Join the Booster Club and support its activities.

We think we have a start for a great year and want this to be the most successful year in history for Big Spring athletics. We have some ambitious projects that need to be undertaken. To be successful, these projects will need a dedicated effort from each citizen of Big Spring. Let's work together for a great year.

Wayne Henry, Jerry Foresyth and Paschal Odum
Tri-captains, Booster Club

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Thank you for the article on cheese being one of the causes of blind spot headaches. I had them for years, and also was a big cheese eater — nearly all my life. Since eliminating cheese I have had no more headaches, which is certainly a wonderful blessing. — Mrs. M.O.L.

Fine, so long as you also took my other advice — to be checked for other possible eye diseases, as glaucoma, which might also be involved.

Dear Editor: I understand the importance of free speech and free press in our nation and I know that without those two principles Democracy would never survive.

But there is not some regulation to prevent John Tower from purchasing expensive television advertising and during that time making it appear that Bob Krueger has a bad record of absenteeism?

The truth of the matter is that since they became members of Congress, Bob Krueger's attendance record is five points higher than John Tower's overall record, 84 to 79 per cent. John Tower knows this, as do his colleagues in the Senate, yet, his campaign staff completely disregards the fact by placing false advertising on the air. I do not understand why the networks or individual TV stations allow such distortions.

And even since Jan. 1, when Bob Krueger began extensive campaigning in Texas, only four points separate the Krueger attendance record from the Tower record. Both are respectable in the 70's.

But what is ironical is that for five of his years in the Senate — 1972, 1970, 1968, 1966 and 1964 — John Tower's overall yearly attendance record was less than 70 per cent, and Bob Krueger's annual record has never come close to being that low.

The John Tower commercials, of course, also do not point out how he embarrassed the entire state in 1967, the very year after he was re-elected, by showing up to vote only 53 per cent of the time — the worst attendance record in the U.S. Senate that year.

If Bob Krueger's attendance record over the years had been consistently poor, instead of consistently good, or if both candidates had overall poor records, I could understand why this would be a campaign issue, but it is not. It is instead an orchestrated issue thought up by advertising and public relations people who work for John Tower who apparently did not know about John Tower's longtime record of absenteeism or who did not think the people would have sense enough to remember it. They are wrong.

Delano Shaw

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: What do you think 1 Thessalonians 5:18 means when it says "In every thing give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you"? Does it mean everything that happens to a Christian is caused by God, no matter how good or bad it seems? — B.M.C.

DEAR B.M.C.: A more modern English translation will clarify the meaning of this verse for you. "This" does not refer to "everything," but to the giving of thanks. In other words, it is God's will for us to give thanks, regardless of the circumstances. J.B. Phillips translates this verse this way: "Be thankful, whatever the circumstances may be. If you follow this advice you will be working out the will of God expressed to you in Christ Jesus."

When we learn to walk with God, trusting Him each day for every detail of our lives, we know we are never beyond His control. This does not mean we are exempt from difficulties and sorrows, and we may not always

'Tony the Ant'

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — As a young tough, Anthony John Spilotro used to brag that he would one day reign as the Godfather of the Chicago mob. His dream, for the most part, has come true. The pint-sized, hard-eyed mobster is now the reputed overlord of Mafia operations in Las Vegas.

The squatly Spilotro, known to his nefarious colleagues as "Tony the Ant," is currently the target of two federal investigations: the Internal Revenue Service wants him for alleged tax evasion and the Justice Department's Las Vegas strike force has targeted him in a racketeering probe.

SPILOTRO EARNED his reputation in the underworld as a button man for his late boss, Chicago Mafia leader Felix "Milwaukee Phil" Alderisio. His criminal career, however, goes back much further than that.

It began on Jan. 11, 1955, when he was arrested for stealing a shirt from a River Forest, Ill., haberdashery. He was convicted of the petty crime and fined $10.

understand why God has allowed them to come our way. Nor should we blame Him when things do not go the way we think they should; sometimes God permits things to happen to us, but this does not mean He caused them directly.

God can take every situation in our lives and use it for His purposes. It may be that we will learn to trust Him more because a certain difficulty has driven us to Him. It may be that our faith is strengthened because we see Him hand at work in our lives. We belong to Him, and nothing "shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:39).

We are thankful in every situation, even though we may not necessarily be thankful for everything. The Apostle Paul could say, "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content" (Philippians 4:11). Can you say that? Are you thankful constantly to God for all He does for you? Pray that God will give you a new spirit of thankfulness in all things.

Over the next five years, Spilotro was picked up by the police several times on suspicion of burglary. He was once asked to leave Belgium for "showing undue interest" in a jewelry store. Spilotro's name also surfaced seven times as a suspect in shooting and murder cases.

Spilotro stood trial for murder just once. In 1963, the mutilated body of a mob loan-collector named Leo Foreman was found in the trunk of a car. Ten years later, Spilotro and two other mobsters were indicted for the murder. The other defendants were Sam DeStefano, who ran the Chicago syndicate's loanshark operations, and his brother Mario DeStefano.

Sam DeStefano never made it to the trial. He was murdered before it began for reasons, it is believed, that were related to the case. Mario DeStefano was found guilty. Anthony Spilotro got off scot-free.

Spilotro may owe his acquittal to the unusual manner in which the trial was conducted. It was so unique, in fact, that the FBI investigated the trial judge, the late Robert A. Meier. No formal charges were ever filed, however, against the judge.

Remember Gerald Ford?

GOP will be the party of working man?

The GOP will be the party of the working man within six to eight years, predicts John Connally.

And Connally, treasury secretary in the Nixon administration, former governor of Texas, and a Democrat-turned-Republican, says Jimmy Carter will be a one-term president.

"Big John" will appear at a $25-a-plate dinner for Bill Fisher, Republican candidate for the 17th Congressional District, at the Abilene Civic Center at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 17.

The program will include a combination of political speeches and musical skits promoting the GOP in West Texas.

Connally will be introduced by Jack Cox, a candidate for governor in 1962, now committee chairman for Fisher.

Carter has failed to remedy excessive taxes and federal spending, said Connally, who is considered a possible GOP presidential contender in 1980.

He repeats in talks throughout the United States that the tax cut-conscious mood of American electorate is increasingly in line with GOP principles, but he stops short of promising a nationwide Proposition 13 to slash taxes.

"Proposition 13 is not an aberration," contends Connally of the California referendum that has triggered tax cut fever across the nation.

"They're voters lashing out in the only way they know how, and that is to curb a politician's access to money," he insists.

Connally emphasizes he favors an immediate 5 percent cut in all federal budgets.

In a speech at Midland Wednesday, Connally sharply criticized the natural gas bill which passed early that day in the U.S. Senate.

"It was a 'bad bill since its conception 18 months ago," he said.

Connally was at Midland Regional Airport to support Republican Jim Lacy's bid for the Texas Railroad Commission place. Connally said there are many "vicious, evil" features about the natural gas bill and that it "won't solve our country's energy problems and will discourage new exploration."

Connally blamed President Carter for going back on his word to Texans that natural gas prices would be deregulated natural gas prices.

IT WASN'T EXACTLY scientific, but a "poll" taken by the Young Americans for Freedom probably reflected true feelings of the State Republican Convention.

YAF distributed presidential reference ballots to delegates at random. Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan drew 68 percent support.

U.S. Rep. Phillip Crane of Illinois and former Texas Gov. Connally tied for second with 6.5 percent. Another Texan, George Bush, and income tax-cut advocate

U.S. Rep. Jack Kemp of New York each garnered 5 percent.

Remember former President Gerald Ford, who recently talked in Big Spring? Few GOP delegates did on the poll ballot, Ford only got 3 percent support.

***

"I HEARD there were a lot of perverts at the Democratic convention in Fort Worth," a staunch supporter of the GOP remarked.

"Is that true?" she pressed.

I certainly can not verify how many gays were at the convention. However, a few who whisked past me stayed busy glueing posters on elevator doors and dispensing drinks at a "booze room" in the Sheraton Hotel.

I'm told by a red-nosed source that only the "hospitality rooms" of U.S. Senatorial contestant Bob Krueger and Atty. Gen. John Hill in the gubernatorial race, outpoured the gays.

Liberal leader Billie Carr's "Swampwater Brunch" that blossomed just a few doors away from my room on the eighth floor of the Sheraton ended up in last place. Does this mean Texas conservatives are regaining power. No, that's not necessarily so. Billie charged $2 per person, plus $1 per drink for the event that started at 10 a.m. on the final day of the Demo confab.

***

A RECHECK of my notes reveals delegates killed two controversial minority resolutions, but approved a resolution calling for an end to construction of nuclear power plants and the transportation of nuclear wastes.

The delegates voted to table a minority plank expressing opposition to abortion, and tabled a minority report offering rights to gay individuals in the state.

The pro-life resolution was voted down with little debate, but the gay plank was the most excitement many delegates at the gathering saw during the two-day meeting.

Delegate Burt Meyers, Houston, introduced the pro-life resolution, saying it was time the Democratic Party realized that "unborn children have the right and should be given the chance to be born."

The gay rights resolution was voted down after delegates took over floor microphones in an attempt to block a motion to table the resolution, which called for repeal of section 2601 of the Texas penal code, which prohibits sex between adults of the same sex.

"These people have the right to be protected from abuse. There was a time when we spoke to blacks and said, 'We want to help you, but don't get close to us,'" a delegate in favor of the gay rights resolution squealed.

"Freedom begins at home, said delegate Ann Lee Ward, Dallas.

A delegate at one of the floor microphones moved to table the gay resolution after saying, "If I were a black or Mexican-American, I would be highly insulted to be placed on a par with a you-know-what."

The resolution calling for an end to transportation of nuclear wastes was in-

LADY WITH A HORN — Actress Bette Davis uses a bullhorn to speak to a crowd at New York's Columbus Circle Friday. Miss Davis was on hand as Paramount Pictures handed out 500,000 movie ad flyers to some 500 people who distributed them throughout the city to promote movies in view of the newspaper strike. The flyer contained a list of Paramount Pictures playing in New York which include "Death on the Nile" starring Miss Davis.

No solid evidence in killings

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — No solid evidence has emerged to link a man being questioned about nine murders to the killings, authorities said Saturday.

The Oklahoma City man, jailed Thursday on a charge of concealing stolen property, is considered one of several dozen suspects in the case, officials said, and will be investigated further.

The man has been questioned about the July killings of six employees of an Oklahoma City steakhouse and about the June murders near Purcell of three members of the Melvin Lorenz family, of San Antonio, Texas.

Oklahoma County Sheriff Gene Wells said he had "information from two different sources" linking the man to the nine murders. However, the accuracy of the information has not been determined.

No charges have been filed against the man in connection with the murders.

Meanwhile, the Oklahoma State Bureau of Investigation has declined comment on a New Mexico medical official's statement that OSBI officials have contacted him about procedures required to exhume the body of Melvin Lorenz, 12-year-old son, Richard.

In a telephone interview Friday, medical investigator Bob Inserra said he received a call from the OSBI Tuesday about procedures for exhuming the body of Richard Lorenz.

Inserra said an OSBI official "called and made some inquiries about procedures for exhuming the body (of Richard Lorenz)."

"They thought that was necessary. We explained you have to have family permission or a court order and also suggested alternatives — other places they might get fingerprints."

Counseling program is offered

A sick doctor means trouble for everyone. Patients, family and co-workers all can be hurt if a doctor cannot cope with the occupational hazards he or she faces every day.

In order to get help fast for doctors with problems, the Texas Medical Association (TMA) has started a counseling program for doctors overcome by the stress, fatigue, long hours and other occupational hazards that often are a large part of doctors' daily lives.

One of the program's main features relies on the public, physicians and health workers reporting when they know of a physician with problems. To make reporting easier, TMA has established a 24-hour phone line. A confidential recording takes essential information and ultimately the doctor with problems is contacted by another physician who confidentially helps the disabled doctor find help. Call the Physician Health Rehabilitation Hotline collect anytime at 512-477-5575.

County medical societies statewide have been handling similar complaints and requests for help for years.

Special dance course planned

The continuing education department of Howard College will be offering a course in jazz-exercise dance beginning Oct. 10. The class will run through Nov. 28. Classes have been scheduled on Tuesday from 7-9 p.m. during this eight-week period of time.

The class will be held in the Student Union Building and will cost $20 per student. The students must be at least 16 years of age or older. There must be a minimum of 10 people in the class.

The instructor for the class will be Helen Chambers. Mrs. Chambers is a recent graduate of Southern Methodist University. She received a degree in fine arts with a major in dance. While at SMU, Mrs. Chambers was actively involved in campus dance productions. She has studied dance for 17 years.

Mrs. Chambers will be teaching the Luigi form of jazz which has been used nationwide in different settings. The dance was created by a dancer named Luigi who was in a car accident. Luigi invented the dance method for regaining his skills in dance.

The dance form tones your body, helps build coordination, and encourages self-expression. It is a developmental form of dance that can help the beginner to the advanced. A wide range of music will be used in the dance class. The instructor has requested that participants wear leotards or loose fitting attire. Ballet or soft-soled shoes are required.

For further information contact the continuing education office at Howard College by calling 267-6311, extension 66.

Traffic light to disappear

A familiar old traffic signal will be changed to a flashing light Monday morning after the state discovered the signal "was not warranted."

According to Johnny Shortes, Big Spring city electrical engineer, the signal at West Highway 80 and FM 700 does not warrant a stoplight. The state came to this decision after it considered replacing the old light with a new signal.

Perhaps the demise of Webb AFB lowered the usefulness of the light, although the quickest routes from Webb to FM 700 did not pass the 80 and 700 intersection.

But whatever the reason, 80 will be graced with a flashing yellow light and FM 700 with a flashing red as of 9 a.m. Monday morning.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Roger Ragland's startling return to life after 12 hours of appearing clinically dead has renewed debate over what constitutes death in Texas.

The 19-year-old remained in critical condition Saturday in a hospital intensive care unit after suffering severe brain injuries Wednesday in a traffic accident. "He had all the neurological signs of brain death," said Dr. James Lindley, who examined the youth in the Brackenridge

Hospital emergency room.

Ragland's skull was punctured when he was pinned inside his truck. When brought to Brackenridge Hospital, doctors found exposed brain tissue, glazed eyes, a faint heartbeat and barely measurable blood pressure.

The youth seemed a good potential organ donor. Doctors received the family's permission to use Roger's kidneys in a transplant and then put him on a respirator to continue circulation through the body tissues.

The family had acknowledged his death and notified a funeral home.

Dr. Byron Neely, a neurosurgeon, noticed Ragland's legs moved about Thursday noon and then detected brain activity. He told the family that Roger needed an operation to remove pressure on his brain.

The surgeon removed part of the youth's frontal brain lobes, an operation which could cause minor personality changes but would not affect intelligence or motor functions.

Neely told the family after the operation Thursday night that "the next 72 hours will tell." Infection and tissue swelling are his worst threats.

Ragland's case is unusual because of the long period before brain activity resumed — a crucial question in determining death. Unlike some states, Texas has no legal definition of death.

Jordan, Syria out of step, Carter says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter says he feels the leaders of Jordan and Syria are out of step with their own people in opposing the Camp David summit accords.

"I think the people there want peace," he said, adding that other Arab leaders will discover this "when and if their leaders show the same courage" exhibited by the leaders of Israel and Egypt. Carter made the comments in an interview Friday with out-of-town broadcasters. The transcript was released by the White House on Saturday.

Carter also said threats of stepped-up terrorist activity by opponents of the accords are probably exaggerated.

He said he has seen threats that Saudi Arabian oil fields or U.S. installations around the world might be attacked because of the accords, but added that, "We will be vigilant about it."

"I think many people in the Mideast, even in other confrontation states, don't feel as deeply against the major move toward peace as some of the leaders indicate," Carter said. He was referring to Jordan and Syria, which with Egypt make up the states in confrontation with Israel during past Arab-Israeli wars.

Carter said most people were amazed at the "overwhelming roadside response" of Egyptians and Israelis when Egyptian President Anwar Sadat opened a peace initiative by going to Jerusalem last year.

"They thought there would be some animosity. But there was an overwhelming sense of appreciation that you finally brought peace to us," Carter said.

"I think some of the other nations would find this to be true, when and if their leaders show the same courage that has been exhibited by (Israeli Prime Minister Menachem) Begin and Sadat.

Syrian President Hafez Assad, meanwhile, has lined up with "rejectionist" Arab leaders who are opposed to any deal with Israel.

Saudi Arabia, while not technically a confrontation state, is also being wooed by the administration because of its financial and spiritual influence on other Arab nations.

SAN L. ANDERSON

A-R honors Anderson

San L. Anderson, pulling unit operator for Atlantic Richfield Co., recently was awarded a clock, symbolizing 25 years of service with the company.

The ceremony took place at a monthly safety meeting in Coahoma. Anderson is assigned to producing and drilling in the Coahoma area.

Making the presentation was Leonard E. Vandever, district production supervisor. Present at the meeting were office and field personnel from the Coahoma district.

Anderson has worked at the same location since his employment with Sinclair Oil and Gas Co., Sept. 4, 1953. Sinclair became Atlantic Richfield after a merger.

The award winner worked as a roustabout, then a truck driver, before assuming his present duties as unit operator, a job he has held for 11 years.

Prior to his employment by what is now Atlantic Richfield, Anderson served two years in the U.S. Army and was stationed in Italy. Later, the Coahoma employee attended Texas Tech and was awarded a B.A. degree in Journalism in 1951.

Ken Thompson earns saddle

Sponsors of the County Roping last Sunday afternoon were thanked today by the roping association.

Final top winners of the event included Kenny Thompson who won the saddle; David McGuire who won the calf roping and Hershel and Tom Romine who won the team roping.

The Howard County Ropers Association thanked all businessmen who donated prizes and contributed to making the event a success, despite the rain.

Man is charged on tax count

MIDLAND — A 38-year-old Odessa man, Roger W. Fawcett, was indicted Friday by a federal grand jury here on four counts of filing false and fraudulent income tax returns in a plan to get about $12,000 in tax refunds.

Fawcett is free on $25,000 bond.

Fawcett is charged with filing the returns under the names of Henry T. Connors, Alfred Tanner, Alvin L. Jeter and Gonzalo S. Murguia.

The offense for filing a false claim against the government carried a maximum sentence of five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Jamboree will help retarded

COLORADO CITY — A Country-Western Jamboree will be held in the Middle School on Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. with all donations to go to the Mitchell County Mentally Retarded.

There will be no entrance fee but donations will be taken.

Among the bands that will furnish music for the occasion are the Southern Drifters from Big Spring, the Reagan County Ramblers, Big Lake, Happy Strings, Merkel, Western Betweens from Snyder and Mary Ellen and the West Texas Travelers from Meadow.

Farm Harvesters, planters active

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Harvesting of cotton, and some harvesting of sorghum and peanuts, has been active across Texas, says Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Some planting of small grains has begun, and livestock conditions are continuing to improve in the wake of recent rains.

Cotton harvesting is generally confined to the Rolling Plains and North Central Texas, Pfannstiel said, with a little harvesting still under way in the Brazos Valley and Southwest Texas. As dry weather returns to the South Plains and Far West Texas, harvesting should increase rapidly.

Some sorghum harvesting is under way in the Rolling Plains and will spread into the Panhandle and South Plains as field conditions permit, he said.

Peanut harvesting remains active in Southwest Texas as well as in the Coastal Bend and East Texas. Harvesting is just beginning in in Central Texas.

Hay making has increased in recent days following good rains over southern and central areas a few weeks ago. Hay is still scarce, and producers are trying to make the most of fall cuttings.

Livestock conditions are continuing to improve throughout the state as grazing improves on the heels of recent rains. However, armyworms are damaging some pastures and ranges. Some culling of calves and cows continues, causing marketing to remain active. Prices have continued strong at most markets. In contrast, producers in Southwest Texas are restocking herds depleted by the season-long drought. Stocker cattle are continuing to be shipped into the High and Rolling Plains in anticipation of fall wheat grazing, said Pfannstiel.

Reports from district Extension agents showed the following conditions.

PANHANDLE: Moisture conditions have improved and should allow a good start for small grains and grazing. Only about 10 percent of the wheat acreage has been planted. Some late sorghum will also benefit. Corn harvesting will resume as fields dry. Stocker cattle continue to move into the area in anticipation of fall wheat grazing.

SOUTH PLAINS: Widespread rains should boost wheat plantings and improve grazing. A considerable amount of wheat has not yet been planted due to previous dry conditions.

Harvesting of corn, sorghum and sunflowers will resume as fields dry. Hot, dry weather is needed to mature the cotton crop.

ROLLING PLAINS: Rains in northwestern counties should benefit fall wheat plantings. Cotton continues to open, with harvesting getting under way in some counties. Most farmers will wait for the first frost to kill plants before harvesting. Mung bean harvesting is about complete in Foard County. Stocker cattle continue to move into the area in anticipation of fall wheat grazing.

NORTH CENTRAL: Cotton harvesting is active, but yields are low and dry conditions are fair to poor. Peanuts need additional moisture as do pastures and ranges. Pecan prospects are poor. Livestock are in good shape but forage conditions remain short. Small grain planting continues.

NORTHEAST: More moisture is needed for pastures and ranges. Winter wheat and oats planting continues. Watermelons are still being harvested. Pecan prospects are good. Livestock marketing remains active, with prices strong. Armyworms remain a serious problem in pastures.

FAR WEST: Rains should help grazing and small grains. But dry weather is needed for the cotton harvest. Pecans still look good, with early varieties beginning to split shucks. Livestock screwworm cases are increasing due to wet conditions.

WEST CENTRAL: Good rains will boost grazing and give small grains a good start. Cotton is maturing rapidly. Hay making continues, with armyworms active in many pastures. Insects are active in the pecan crop. Grazing conditions are improved, but moisture is needed.

CENTRAL: Moisture remains short. Peanut harvesting is beginning, and corn, sorghum and cotton are mostly in. Some small grains are up but still are unplanted. The pecan crop will be light. Hay prospects have improved.

EAST: Improved moisture will help small grains and hay. Some third cuttings have been completed. Armyworm damage has been severe in some pastures. Peanut yields and quality are fair to good. Fall vegetable planting is active. Livestock marketing remains heavy, with prices strong.

SOUTHEAST AND UPPER GULF COAST: Recent heavy rains have damaged peanut and soybean crops. Cabbage loopers are causing heavy damage to leafy crops in Montgomery County. Grazing conditions have improved but armyworms are a problem in many pastures.

SOUTH CENTRAL: Producers are wrapping up the cotton harvest in the Brazos Valley. Oats and wheat planting continues, with early plantings growing well. Forage and livestock conditions are improving but moisture is short in some counties.

SOUTHWEST: Late crops, range and livestock have benefited from rains. Most cattle are in good to excellent shape, with many producers restocking herds that were depleted by the season-long drought. Grazing conditions have improved but armyworms are damaging some pastures and ranges.

Unfinished work high for new pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The next pope will inherit a heavy burden of unfinished business — from doctrinal dissent to divisions over sexual issues.

In only 34 days on the throne of St. Peter, John Paul I gave just a hint of how he intended to steer the 700-million-member Roman Catholic Church, buffeted by demands for change by contending factions.

But if he contributed nothing concrete, Pope John Paul's constant smile and self-effacing style may have left a legacy of spirit for his successor to help him with the thorny problems of the contemporary world facing the ancient church.

"He carried with him the smile of God to lift humanity from the doubt and despair it finds itself in," Archbishop Aurelio Sabattani put it as he summed up the brief pontificate in a homily delivered at St. Peter's Basilica.

The wave of reforms launched by the Second Vatican Council has created problems of doctrinal dissent, priestly defections and a revolt over sexual issues, especially in the United States and Western Europe.

There is also controversy over the Vatican's financial balance sheets — already under John Paul there was an indication the Holy See may have a liquidity problem — while the next pope, whether he is Italian or not, will have to deal with the troubled relationship between the Holy See and increasingly secularized Italy.

The threat of schism is posed by traditionalists such as rebel French Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre who refuse to accept the liturgical reforms of the Vatican council. During John Paul's reign the Vatican spoke out strongly against reported plans by Lefebvre to open a seminary near the papal summer palace in Castel Gandolfo. There is no reason to believe the next pope won't be put to the test by the traditionalists.

On the other side of the fence, progressive prelates have been urging that reforms be carried further to provide for a sharing of papal deliberative power with the bishops, promoting the position of women in the church and pursuing unity with other Christians.

Pope Paul VI considered bringing bishops into the conclaves that elect popes, but then put a brake on the plan when he issued a new apostolic constitution three years ago reaffirming the restriction to cardinals.

Demands are increasing for an end to the ban on artificial contraception. Millions of Catholics simply ignore the ban, a problem which greatly troubled Pope Paul. A Gallup poll this year indicated 73 percent of U.S. Catholics disagreed with the pope.

Despite the widespread flouting, Pope Paul refused to budge, issuing only a few days before his death a strong defense of his Humanae Vitae encyclical of 10 years ago. He urged intensified research to improve the church-sanctioned rhythm method.

On Monday, the Vatican's daily newspaper L'Osservatore Romano published a further defense of Pope Paul's stand, a possible indication this was Pope John Paul's position too. His name, however, was not mentioned.

Other aspects of the sexual revolution — divorce, abortion, homosexuality, extramarital sex, sterilization — are causing divisions among Roman Catholics.

The only time Pope John Paul addressed one of these problems, he reaffirmed the church's stand on the indissolubility of marriages and called on priests to give top priority to saving troubled marriages.

The recent birth in Britain of a baby conceived outside the mother's womb has created a new moral problem for the church. Pope Paul was reported to have been preparing a position paper on the subject at the time of his death. Pope John Paul did not take it up, so again the burden passes to his successor.

U.S. abandons last foothold in Africa

KENITRA, Morocco (AP) — The United States quietly abandoned its last military foothold in Africa on Saturday with a low-key ceremony that ended a 36-year military presence in Morocco dating back to "Operation Torch," one of the turning points of World War II.

The signature of Navy Capt. William Parrish — commander of the American-run communications bases centered on Kenitra, 25 miles north of the Moroccan capital of Rabat — formally handed over to the Moroccan government all that remained of the multi-million-dollar installation.

Parrish and four other officers were the last in a succession of tens of thousands of American troops who have served here since Gen. George Patton's GIs stormed ashore Nov. 8, 1942 and captured Kenitra — then named Port Lyautey — from the forces of Vichy France after a bloody three-day battle.

There is no monument here to the 567 Americans who died in crushing the bitter resistance of French troops under the Vichy regime's Gen. Charles Nogues.

Greatly expanded and modernized by the United States, the bases at Kenitra and neighboring Sidi Yahia and Bouknadel were placed under nominal Moroccan command in 1965 to counter Communist and third world criticism. But they remained firmly under American control.

At the height of their importance in the 1950's, the bases served as a major U.S. arms depot, intelligence listening post, staging point and communication center, with a garrison of more than 2,000 troops and dependents. The bases were downgraded in 1965 to a "communications facility," but the number of American troops was only slightly reduced.

Anxious to keep a low profile, the troops and their families lived almost entirely on the bases with their own hospital, club houses, tennis courts and Olympic-size swimming pool.

In a much-publicized exchange with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, Morocco's King Hassan II blandly asserted there was no such thing as an American military base in Morocco. But the leftist campaign against the U.S. presence continued until two years ago when the United States decided to "disestablish" the bases costing more than $7 million a year to operate, and replace them with satellite facilities.

Sidi Yahia, the radio receiver station, was turned over to the Moroccans with a flag-lowering ceremony in December.

In the nine months since American troops left Sidi Yahia, the unguarded base has been looted of all usable equipment left there by the Americans. Refrigerators, light fixtures, door handles, virtually everything that could be moved, have disappeared. A gap in the fence is wide enough for trucks to drive in an out undisturbed.

RETURN SUCCESSFUL — Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce executive vice president Bill Albright and Rose Thomas, of the Chamber Convention and Visitors Bureau returned this week from the 41st Annual Conference of the Chamber of Commerce Executives Association of West Texas with several accomplishments to their credit. Albright was given the plaque commending him for his efforts as 1977-78 president of the Association, while Ms. Thomas was responsible for making a successful bid for the 1979 conference to be held in Big Spring.

Probably caused by a virus, it generally attacks children between two and six years old. After exposure its incubation period averages 16 days during which time a slight fever, headache or backache may occur. Then comes a series of rashes. It is important to call a physician. For scratching can cause an erysipelas infection or an abscess. Mouth lesions may affect the larynx. An adult attack can be more serious, so grown-ups should avoid exposure.

Two Customs officers claim

Tariffs coming up short

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Customs Service has failed to assess more than $500 million in tariffs to foreign truck manufacturers, claim two Customs officials whose book on the subject helped spawn a congressional investigation into the matter.

The investigation, being conducted by the General Accounting Office (GAO) at the request of the House Ways and Means Committee, is scheduled for completion by mid-October, according to GAO spokesman Jerry Ford.

A May 9 letter to Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats from Ways and Means Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., initiated the inquiry.

"chassis" to "truck" takes 20 minutes and costs $6, according to a Customs memo in the book.

The Treasury Department has had the matter "under active review...for more than a year," said Stephen Creskoff, a deputy assistant secretary in Treasury's enforcement and operations division, but no decision has been reached. "Since it is an administrative proceeding, I can't comment at all," he added.

Sal Carmango, director of Customs classification and value division, and Donald Lewis, deputy assistant commissioner in Customs' office of regulations and rulings, acknowledged that Customs Commissioner Robert E. Chasen has made a recommendation to Treasury on the matter but "we can't comment on the recommendation...that's up to Treasury."

"Although she does not personally participate in any Customs matters in connection with her law practice, there would obviously be an appearance of conflict of interest," continued Leonard Lehman, an assistant commissioner in charge of the regulations and rulings division, in a memo dated Nov. 8, 1976. "Obviously, anything but my total disqualification would constitute unethical conduct on my part."

Lehman turned the matter over to his assistant, Lewis, who, along with Carmango, advised Chasen.

"I find it hard, personally to deal with the possibility that you've lost all this amount of duty," said Carmango. "You haven't lost $500 million. The importers would have simply changed their procedure (to avoid paying the 25 percent duty on trucks)."

Kelly and Coke's book, however, is a compilation of legal briefs — including one on behalf of the United Auto Workers — Customs memorandums and exhibits consisting of opinions from federal, state and county officials backing the misclassification charge.

Incentive awards given to hospital personnel

The Veteran's Administration Hospital had their quarterly employee incentive awards presentation Thursday with Gary Dahl, personnel and incentive awards officer, making certificate and cash presentations.

Awards were given to groups and individuals to encourage participation in the efficiency and economy of the hospital programs and to offer incentive to meet management objectives.

Superior performance cash awards went to: Alphonse Mendez, Jr., Lab; Vernon L. Cuthbertson, Supply; Conrado O. Acosta and John W. Watkins, Nursing Home Care Unit; and Everette J. Horn, Lyndon G. Priest, Shirlee M. Carlile and Faustino Rios, all of the Engineering unit.

Quality increases went to Faye B. Moore and James L. Barnhill, Nursing Home Care Unit; Samuel E. Ainsworth, Lab; Martin T. Staggs and Terry T. Walton, Engineering; Doris B. Paschall; Dietetics; Miguel Sanchez, Radiology; Mary Tune, Chief of Staff; and Manuel Limon, Nursing.

For group superior performance, the Medical Administration Services (MAS) group of E.W. Seitzler, Victor B. Wrye, W.J. Thompson and Leroy Budke will split a $500 cash award. The Dental Service group of Coy Willis, Maurietta Callahan, Wanda Ford and Carolyn Yeager will split a $400 award.

Seitzler received a second award at the presentation, a 35-year service award. Others receiving service awards were Verdean M. Kirby — Engineering, 30 years; Jack Margolis — Chief of Staff, Ruben P. Torres — Nursing, Ireneo R. Carrasco — Nursing and Sixto Ramirez — Building Management, 25 years; Pascual Porras — Building Management, James Barnhill — Nursing Home Care Unit; Janet McCall — Rehabilitation Medicine Services and Miguel Ramirez — Dietetics, 20 years.

Popes' deaths stirs debate on health care

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The sudden deaths of two popes within two months has touched off a debate on medical care at the Vatican.

South African heart specialist Dr. Christian Barnard, in an interview with an Italian health magazine, said recently that Pope Paul VI's life might have been saved after he suffered a heart attack Aug. 6. The pope was 80 when he died.

"An acutely sick patient is given intensive therapy," the heart transplant pioneer told the magazine. "If this was not done for Pope Paul VI, I must say the doctors' behavior was unacceptable."

Dr. Mario Fontana, Pope Paul's physician and head of the Vatican Health Services, refused to comment on the type of care given the ailing pontiff.

Professor Luigi Alema, a leading Italian neurologist, has begun pushing for complete physical checkups for newly-elected popes and a change in Vatican policy to allow autopsies after a pontiff's death.

"I think something could have been done if he (Pope Paul) had undergone a complete examination of his state of health, like the Americans and the Russians perform on their chiefs of state," said Alema.

Fontana, who served throughout Pope Paul's 15-year reign, accompanied him on his travels and organized a prostate operation inside the Apostolic Palace in 1967. Fontana often stayed at the pope's summer residence to be close to the frail pontiff.

Fontana's deputy, Renato Buzzonetti, was the first doctor to be called to Pope Paul's deathbed. Their offices occupy a floor inside a Vatican building. They do not have the equipment of modern hospitals.

Neither doctor nor the 15 members of the Vatican's health service would comment on the desirability of using extreme methods such as heart surgery to keep a pope alive.

One of them, who asked not to be identified, pointed out that Article 17 of Pope Paul's apostolic constitution implicitly ruled out an autopsy. The article provides only for the papal chamberlain to officially ascertain the pontiff's death in the presence of witnesses and to draw up the official death certificate.

October marks new federal fiscal year

WASHINGTON (AP) — You've tooted no horns, worn no hats and heard no one playing "Auld Lang Syne," so you know the new year is still three months off. Right?

Wrong. The arrival of October marked the beginning of a new spending and taxing year for the federal government.

While your calendar shows three months remaining in 1978, the congressional calendar says otherwise. By order of the Congressional Budget Act, federal bookkeepers and bureaucrats are turning their calendar to a new year — known in government circles as fiscal 1979.

The fiscal year began in 1978 on Oct. 1, and runs through Sept. 30, 1979.

Only time will tell exactly how fruitful the new fiscal year will be, with the increasing numbers of congressmen resolving — with the Carter administration — to turn over a new leaf by doing more to hold the line on federal spending.

From a budget standpoint, one measure of success at this time next year would be the size of the 1979 deficit — the extent to which the government spends more money than it takes in.

During fiscal 1979, Congress wants the government to spend $487.5 billion, collect $448.7 billion in taxes, and operate at a budget deficit of no more than $38.8 billion.

The administration's recommendation to Congress, as revived in late July, was for a deficit of roughly $43.5 billion, compared with the president's original January call for a $60.6 billion deficit.

For just-completed 1978 fiscal year, Congress had figured, in its voting in September 1977, on running a $61.3 billion deficit. But government financing experts now estimate it will be closer to $51 billion.

The deficit had been $45 billion at the end of fiscal 1977 and reached a record $66.4 billion in fiscal 1976.

Fiscal 1969, when the government's tax-revenue collections were $3.2 billion ahead of its spending, was the last time the budget finished in the black.

MONOLOGUE FROM BED — NBC's Tonight Show host, Johnny Carson, delivers his opening monologue from a bed on stage in Los Angeles Friday. "I thought I'd try something new," Carson confides. "To begin our 17th season. People seem to catch me while they're horizontal, so now I thought I'd do the monologue for them while I'm horizontal." It was the 16th anniversary of the show Friday night.

ETERNITY I

Some people do not take eternity seriously. Whether or not you spend eternity in heaven with Jesus or in hell with the devil is up to you. But eternity is inevitable. I know that people have been saying that the end of time has been coming for hundreds of years. (I myself believe we have very little time left!) But suppose you were to get killed tomorrow or in the next twenty minutes, your eternity starts right there. Now I myself do not intend to spend eternity in hell, and you don't have to either, because Jesus loves us. He died for us at Calvary. That means that All our sins can be forgiven. All we need do is accept Jesus as our Savior.

So many people think they have to clean themselves up before they accept Jesus, or they are afraid their sin is too bad to be forgiven. God forgives All sin, and if you give your life to Him, He will help you clean up your life. And oh how much easier when God is helping you do it.

A lot of people don't believe in heaven or hell. They believe that when they die, that's all there is to it. I pray that they wake up and that God touches them, before they wake up in hell. If just living and dying was all there is, then I don't think there would be much use in being born.

I have been born again and washed in the blood of Jesus and when I go through a physical death I will live on in the Kingdom of heaven with my Lord and Savior. Praise God!

He is alive people, and He can be your Savior too. Not only in heaven but right here on earth. There can be such joy and peace within you in just knowing God is with you and protecting you.

If you want more out of life than just death, ask Jesus to come into your life right now.

'Speedy trial' law causes confusion among attorneys

The speedy trial law which went into effect July first was designed to hurry the guilty into the penitentiary and the innocent to freedom. No accused criminal has yet been freed in Howard County under the 120-day time limit assigned district attorneys to try cases.

But so far it has confused many prosecutors, angered others, and caused the district attorney in San Antonio to dismiss cases against six accused criminals, including three who were indicted for murder. A man accused of robbery was freed in Wichita Falls.

San Antonio and Wichita Falls are the only places where the law has resulted in the release of accused felons so far, but prosecutors contacted in an informal Associated Press survey say it could happen elsewhere, depending on how the law is interpreted by higher courts.

"Right now, nobody's too sure what it means," said District Attorney Steve Simmons of El Paso. "But I guarantee you after a few people start getting off for armed robbery the priorities will be set and you'll find the resources to try people."

In San Antonio, where three accused murderers and three persons accused of aggravated robbery, burglary and possession of heroin have been freed since the law went into effect July 1, District Attorney Bill White said the speedy trial act is unreasonable.

"The law has got to be changed," White said. All six cases were dismissed after prosecutors announced "not ready" for trial because they could not produce key witnesses.

"Our prosecutors have been ready for trial in every case," White said. "But the witnesses couldn't be located, and therefore we had no alternative than to ask for a continuance."

The Wichita Falls release involved a man accused of robbery four years ago. District Judge Stanley Kirk, who granted a defense motion for dismissal of charges, said, "If they're not going to try them in four years, I figure they're not going to."

Most prosecutors, even if they didn't like the new law, agreed that the wheels of justice need to be speeded up.

"The aim is a good idea, but it is a poorly drafted statute," said Assistant District Attorney Tom Cannon of Lubbock. "It has more exceptions than it ought to have. We're just going to have to wait for an interpretation from the Court of Criminal Appeals."

"It allows us to get to trial and puts the burden on the court to set a date," said District Attorney A.D. Clark of Tyler.

He said one question raised by the law was exactly when the 120 days expire and the state has to free accused criminals.

When the prosecution completes its investigation and has its witnesses lined up, it sends a "ready for trial" announcement to the court. But crowded court dockets could then force a delay beyond the 120-day deadline, and Cannon and other prosecutors including Ector County District Attorney John Green of Odessa wondered if those cases would have to be dismissed.

"The way the Court of Criminal Appeals has been writing laws for criminals, I don't know what they'll do," Green said.

"The way it's written, all the state's got to do is announce 'ready,'" said Green. "I don't think the law, the way it is written, is any good."

Green said most defendants do not want a speedy trial in the first place. "Defendants put off their trials as long as they can. They realize the more time that goes by the more witnesses forget," he said.

"If a guy is out on bond and we have a cinch case, he wants to stay out and steal some more before he has to go to trial," Green said.

A few said they like the new law as is.

"It allows us to get to trial and puts the burden on the court to set a date," said District Attorney A.D. Clark of Tyler. "The main advantage to us is an early trial means the evidence is still fresh and the events are still vivid in the minds of witnesses."

But some, like chief prosecutor Joe K. Hendley of Brownsville, said they were irritated that the legislature required trial within 120 days but did not provide funds for the additional manpower he said is needed.

"Instead of funding an increase in personnel, they left it at the local level. It makes it hard for us to come up with the money for additional prosecutors, secretaries, investigators," Hendley said. "They left us in a bind."

Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade agreed, saying, "The concept is good but they didn't create enough courts to allow to try people within that time frame."

The 120-day countdown begins with the arrest, and one way of getting more time is to delay the arrest until the case is prepared.

"Unless there is a danger of the suspect's absconding or an immediate threat to society, we would prefer police wait until they're nearly ready to file before making an arrest," said Bill Wright, district attorney in Orange.

Most prosecutors, like Palestine District Attorney Melvin Whitaker, have made formal "ready for trial" announcements in all their felony cases as a precaution against having any of them dismissed.

Several prosecutors said they have allowed dismissal of minor misdemeanor cases which did not come to trial in time, but the deadlines come sooner for less serious charges. Class A misdemeanors must be tried in 90 days, Class B in 60 days and Class C misdemeanors — such as minor traffic offenses — must come to trial within 30 days.

"The aim is a good idea, but it is a poorly drafted statute," said Assistant District Attorney Tom Cannon of Lubbock.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin gets its first chance to try one question next week when it hears the appeal in a drunken driving case.

The issue is whether the act affects cases pending before July 1, when the law went into effect. The defendant in the case on appeal, Linzy Wade of Austin, was tried and convicted July 7, five days after the 120-day deadline expired in his felony case.

HIGHWAY BACKERS — This group of Highway 87 enthusiasts were at a banquet at the Big Spring Country Club Friday night and include Ed Keeling, Brady, Travis Floyd, outgoing president; Joe Pickle, past president; Barney Wigand, Amarillo, incoming president and Cong. Tom Massey, San Angelo.

Ham radio class set

The Continuing Education Department at Howard College will be offering a course in novice amateur radio licensing beginning Oct. 6 and ending Nov. 10. A student will be able to take his licensing exam the last night of class to qualify for his novice license.

If a student passes, he will receive his license from the Dallas FCC office in approximately two weeks. The class will be held from 7-9 p.m. on Friday nights.

The cost of the recreational-hobby course is $50. This cost includes the course manual, oscillator instrument, telegraph key, maps, and other necessary material to pass the course. The student will keep all of this material when the class is finished.

The material is put out by Heath Kit who is the largest manufacturer of amateur gear in the world. A person must be at least twelve years of age to take this course. The minimal number of students to take this course will be 11 and the maximum number will be 30.

The instructor for the class will be Tex Millard. Mr. Millard has his general class amateur license, radio-telephone first class license, and his CB license. He has been interested in amateur radio and electronics for 20 years. He attended the Air Force electronic tech school while in the Air Force.

He was a flying radio operator for 3 years as a testing analyst in the electronics department on the F-111. He was the electronics teacher for Permian High School for two years. Mr. Millard will offer extra assistance if a student requires it.

morning and the group emphasized their original resolution to work for the IS 27 route to be along Highway 87 from Lubbock to Big Spring where it connects with IS 20 and on to Comfort where it connects with IS 10.

The two-day meeting included a talk Friday night at the Big Spring Country Club made by Congressman Joe Massey of San Angelo who said, "We may be closer than we realize and need to continue to work hard."

He was speaking of I-27 and a route, still to be selected. Just this week, the House of Representatives passed the 1978 Highway bill 376-28. This includes the highway to connect Lubbock to IS 10 with 90 per cent funding through the Federal Highway Administration and 10 per cent coming from the state.

Travis Floyd, president of the organization during the past year, was pleased that the passing of the funding by the House came on the eve of the annual business meeting here.

Other new officers elected Saturday include Lloy Wilkins, Raton, N.M.; J. Eddy Jones, Dalhart; Bill Albright, Big Spring and Ed

Keeling, Brady, vice presidents; Billy Willig, San Angelo, president-elect; Jim Eubanks, Amarillo, secretary and Floyd, past president.

Other outgoing officers were Grady Elder, San Angelo; Lancing Kothman, Mason and Tom Wheeler, Plainview.

Alan Bligh of Lamesa was named to draft a resolution for the organization in connection with the continued pursuit of obtaining IS status for 87 from Lubbock to Comfort.

The group also discussed a resolution from the Commissioners of 15 Western States asking that thought be given after the completion of IS highways to a primary expressway system.

Tax rate is set in Odessa

ODESSA — The Odessa city council has set a tax rate of 89 cents per $100 evaluation and approved a $20.3 million budget.

The tax rate had been $1.09 per $100 evaluation but the 1978 revaluation sharply increases the value of property within the city.

Red Sox win...

BOSTON (AP) — Dennis Eckersley posted his 20th victory with a five-hitter Saturday as the Boston Red Sox sent the American League East race down to the wire with a 5-1 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

With their seventh consecutive victory and 11th in the last 13 games, the Red Sox remained one game behind the New York Yankees. The regular season ends Sunday.

Eckersley, who has lost only eight games since being acquired from Cleveland just before the season began, boosted his Fenway Park record to 11-1 with the help of a four-run Boston first inning.

The 23-year old right-hander settled down after surrendering a two-out homer by Roy Howell in the first. He finished with nine strikeouts and one walk.

The Red Sox nailed down the decision quickly against Toronto's Jesse Jefferson, 7-16, with the help of Howell's error on a ground ball with leadoff hitter Rick Burleson in the first.

VICTORY KICK — Boston's Dennis Eckersley gives a victory kick at the conclusion of today's 5-1 win over Toronto. It was Eckersley's 20th win and kept the Sox pennant hopes alive going into the final day.

Phillies clinch NL East

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies, powered by Greg Luzinski's three-run homer and a pair of solo homers by pitcher Randy Lerch, clinched their third straight National League East title Saturday with a 10-8 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Phillies, who survived a four-run Pittsburgh ninth inning, will host the NL West champion Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday night in the opener of the league's best-of-five playoff series.

The combined 13-hit pitching of Lerch, 11-8, Warren Brusstar, Tug McGraw and Ron Reed finished the Pirates, who needed a four-game sweep of the Phils to gain at least a tie for first and had their home winning streak stopped at 24 games.

The Phillies had 16 hits, then survived the Pittsburgh burst in the ninth to take their title. Dave Parker had a two-run single in the Pirates' last-gasp rally.

The Phillies took the lead to stay in the sixth inning when Luzinski rapped his three-run homer off reliever Grant Jackson, 7-5.

Buckeyes subdue stingy Bears

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Freshman quarterback Art Schlichter passed 51 yards for one touchdown and ran 24 yards for another score Saturday, leading 13th-ranked Ohio State to a 34-28 football victory over Baylor.

The victory gave Woody Hayes his 200th career victory with the Buckeyes in his 28th season. Amos Alonzo Stagg of the University of Chicago was the only other major college coach to achieve 200 triumphs at one school.

Schlichter, who earlier had thrown a pair of costly interceptions, unloaded a 51-yard bomb to Doug Donley that gave the heavily favored Buckeyes the lead for good in the third quarter. Schlichter also ran 24 yards for the opening touchdown for Ohio State, 2-1-0. Baylor suffered its third consecutive loss this season. However, the Bears forged a 21-17 lead at halftime, stunning the 58th straight sellout crowd in Ohio Stadium.

Baylor quarterback Steve Smith tossed a pair of first-half touchdown passes, throwing 19 yards to Gordon Marshall and 15 yards to Mike Fisher.

Tony Laws ran three yards for the other Baylor touchdown in the first quarter.

Ohio State's veteran defense adjusted at halftime and shut out the Bears in the last 30 minutes while Schlichter hooked up with Donley, Paul Campbell ran 1 yard for a touchdown and Bob Atha booted a 34-yard field goal for the Buckeyes.

Baylor almost pulled off an upset in the closing minutes in a driving rain. Smith threw his third touchdown pass of the game, a 24-yard strike to freshman Bob Mitchell. Bob Bledsoe kicked the extra point to pull Baylor within 6 points with 1:49 to go.

Ohio State recovered Bledsoe's onside kickoff, but the Bears' defense forced the Buckeyes to punt. Baylor regained possession on its own 15 with 48 seconds remaining.

However, on the second play, Ohio State defensive end Kelton Dansler hit Smith at his own 3 and the Baylor quarterback fumbled. Mark Sullivan, the Buckeyes' middle guard, recovered at the 10 with 36 seconds left.

It was a bitter loss for Baylor, which has lost its three games by a total of 12 points this season.

Once Schlichter threw his second interception of the game and eighth in three starts as a collegian, Hayes reverted to his long-established rushing attack the rest of the way.

It worked well enough to run Hayes' record to 200-58-9. In 33 college seasons at Denison, Miami of Ohio and Ohio State, the 65-year-old disciplinarian has a record of 233-69-6.

Stagg did not reach his 200th victory until his 30th season at Chicago. The deceased coach guided 243 victories in his 41 years at the school.

Coogs forfeit two contests

ABILENE — Abilene Cooper High School forfeited the two football games it had won this fall when it was learned that starting safety Creighton Blahak was ineligible.

Oddly enough, those were the only two games in which Blahak had played.

University Interscholastic League Athletic Director Bill

Farney ruled that Blahak had used up his five years of eligibility. Blahak repeated the ninth grade, school officials reported.

In the two games in which Blahak appeared, Cooper defeated Brownwood, 38-22, and Wichita Falls High 42-14. Last week, Cooper lost to Haltom, 21-15.

P-P-K winners are decided

Local Punt, Pass and Kick competition was held at Memorial Stadium Saturday for area youngsters ages 8 to 13.

Winner in the eight-year-old division was Donnie Paige of Big Spring. Lathy Williams, also of Big Spring, captured the title in the nine-year-old division.

Toby Rackley and John Swinney, both of Coahoma, were winners in the 10-year-old and 11-year-old division respectively.

Jay Pirkle, Big Spring, was the winner in the 12-year-old division and Pete Valenzuela, Jr., Big Spring, was winner of the 13-year-old division.

These winners will compete in zone competition on Oct. 14 in Lamesa. The event will be held at 1 p.m. at Lamesa High School.

Sponsors for the local competition were Bob Brock Ford and the Morning Optimists Club.

HAPPY YANKEES — Reggie Jackson congratulates Graig Nettles, right, after Nettles scored in the first inning of Saturday's game at Yankee Stadium with the Cleveland Indians. Nettles and Jackson both scored in a big five run first inning.

Arkansas rallies by stubborn Tulsa

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas running back Ben Cowins topped 100 yards rushing for the 13th time in his career and scored two third-quarter touchdowns as the second-ranked Razorbacks rallied for a 21-13 victory over Tulsa in a battle of unbeatens here Saturday.

Tulsa, now 4-1, played the Razrbacks off their feet before a stadium-record crowd of 45,428 in the first two periods: with a mistake-free offense and a defense led by end Don Blackman.

Blackman set up a Tulsa touchdown with a pass interception and stopped an Arkansas drive with another interception as the Golden Hurricane gained a 7-0 halftime lead.

Arkansas tied it midway through the third period on a 24-yard scoring run by Cowins. That ended a 68-yard drive that began when cornerback Brad Shoup knocked down Tulsa running back Sherman Johnson for a 1-yard loss on a fourth and three situation at the Arkansas 31.

Quarterback Ron Calcagni made an important first down with a 6-yard run to the Tulsa 24. On first down, Cowins popped clean over tackle and went right past the final defender.

Arkansas' defense immediately forced a third-down punt into a 12 mph wind and the 31-yard kick gave Arkansas possession on the Tulsa 44. Cowins, who gained 118 yards in 21 carries, scored five plays later from the 3.

quarter and gave the Seminoles three touchdowns by the end of the third quarter.

But a Gerald Cook interception and an offensive holding penalty thwarted Woodham in the fourth quarter.

He hit an apparent touchdown pass to Jackie Flowers with 3:01 left, but the play was nullified when holding was called on an unidentified FSU lineman.

Houston is 2-1, while Florida State is 3-1.

Houston took a 14-0 lead six minutes into the game on Davis' 13-yard pass to tight end Garrett Jurgatis and King's three-yard run, with Jimmy Jordan throwing an interception on the Seminoles' only play.

A four-yard run by Randy Love and a 56-yard gallop by John Newhouse gave Houston a 27-0 lead with 10:15 to go in the first half.

Woodham then replaced Jordan and moved FSU for a quick score on Mark Lyles'

Davis leads UH upset

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Danny Davis used the triple option in awesome style as Houston scored on its first four possessions and held off a late Florida State comeback for a 27-21 victory over the 10th-ranked Seminoles Saturday night.

Emmett King rushed for 107 yards in the first half as Houston took a 27-0 lead. Davis completed seven of 10 passes for 79 yards and kept the FSU defense baffled with his sleight-of-hand ballhandling.

Reserve quarterback Wally Woodham came off the bench late in the second

Westbrook Basketball team has carwash

By SHARLA ROLLINGS
The Westbrook girls' basketball team had a car wash and bake sale Saturday, September 23, at Don's Chevron Station in Westbrook. Even though it was still muddy from previous rains, the team managed to make $274.50. With this money the team has agreed to buy traveling suits for out of town games.

Coach May took the team to Anthony's at Colorado City on Wednesday, September 27, to order overalls and material for shirts.

The members of the basketball team for this year are Jane Miller, Rose Mary Lopez, Lisa Anderson, Jana Shackelford, Teresa Dorn, Debbie King, Beth Geiger, Sharla Rollins, Grace Ellett, Pat Harris, Rosie Vigil, and Mary Beth King. The managers are Tina Bacon, Kathy Anderson, and Sandy Harris. The girls' first game will be November 2, with Paintrock at Westbrook.

Big Spring High Scholastic Aptitude Test will be given Oct. 14

By SCOTT CAMPBELL
Joe Horton, counselor at Big Spring High School has announced that sophomores, juniors, and some seniors will be able to join over one million other students taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT). The test will be given on Oct. 14 at Big Spring High School; the PSAT-NMSQT measures verbal and mathematical aptitude. Students may register for the test in the Guidance Office. The cost is $3 payable at time of registration. Good Morning World, a student devotional program, will continue this year in coordination with the Bible Club and Fellowship of Christian Athletes (huddle and cuddle). It will start at 11:30 a.m., Wed. in room 205. Willie Walker will give the program. Bible Club is also selling Christmas, crystal itchings for $3, address books for $1.50, and spiral bracelets and other jewelry for $1. Today, Sunday, Oct. 1, the Caprock Chapter of March of Dimes would like to invite any volunteers with some free time to attend a special MOD meeting concerning their annual haunted house project. If any student is interested in helping MOD and their haunted house project, the meeting will be at 2 p.m. at the Figure 7 tennis center.

The freshman class will continue to sell their fund raising project, stadium cushions, during all lunch periods. The price is $3. Support your Steer baseball team and buy some Hershey candy from any of the Steer athletes for 50c.

The junior class will start to sell mums; the price will range from $5-15. The class will also sell gold and black pom-poms on a stick for $1. There will be a brief but important Key Club business meeting Tuesday, Oct. 3 at 7 p.m. in room 144. All Key Clubbers are reminded to turn in calendars and or calendar money. The Key Club treasurer will continue to accept dues.

Garden City Bednar crowned queen

By NIKKI TIDWELL

Homecoming turned out to be an exciting week with the Bearkat Mamas giving surprise treats to the football players, making spirit signs, and the planning of the raging bonfire and a well-played football game with Miles.

Before the game Tina Bednar was crowned Homecoming Queen and Brad Calverley was named "Mr. Bearkat." At the half-time show the pep squad did a colorful routine. Danetta Schaffer and Rebecca Dennis, twirlers, also performed. Coming home king and queen were Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Bednar.

If you really want to support our teams this year here are two great chances. The booster club is selling red and white caps with Bearkat printed on them for $3.50 and the pep squad is selling red jackets with the school emblem on them.

Our volleyball team started the year with a victory against Sands, but also tasted defeat against Big Spring and Watervally. They attended a tournament in Watervally on Saturday, and Monday they will play Merton. Tuesday they play Grady for a district game.

Bright and Early next Thursday morning at 6:30 all Lions Club members will have a meeting where they will see a program on scouting presented by Mr. Phil Carbon. There will be a Beta Club meeting Monday during activity period. They will discuss the upcoming convention and elect new officers. The Juniors will meet Tuesday and the Freshmen on Wednesday.

Outstanding school board is named

(Special to the Herald)

SAN ANTONIO — The Board of Education of the North East Independent School District has been designated the "Outstanding School Board of Texas" for the 1977-78 school year. The announcement was made Sunday, September 24, at the Joint Annual Convention of the Texas Association of School Administrators and the Texas Association of School Boards.

Members of the 1977-78 North East Board of Education are: George H. Wenglein, President; Bernard S. Rose, Vice President; Tom T. Winn, Secretary; Charles R. Blank, Jr.; Donald W. Harris; Robert B. O'Connor; and Pat Shaw.

The North East board, nominated by Superintendent Ed L. West, was selected from among four "Texas Honor School Boards" chosen throughout the state. The remaining Honor Boards, all of whom were honored at the Sunday evening banquet session, are the Boards of Education from the Hallsville, Pasadena and Weslaco Independent School Districts.

Coach Tipping's math classes have been busy learning about rounding off numbers.

Coahoma High Class elections were held this past week

By JOURNALISM CLASS

Class elections were held during activity period September 20. The senior class elected Tracy Frazier, President; Jim Bob Read, vice president; Cristi Hudgins, secretary-treasurer; and Toni Hale, reporter. The junior class has not elected class officers. Elected by the sophomores were Bart Griffith, president; Lynn Brockman, vice president; Andrea Fowler, reporter; and Kim Thompson, secretary. Freshmen elected Brad Grandon, president; Stacy Swann, vice president; Gayla Paige, secretary-treasurer; and Bruce Meyers, reporter.

CVAE club met September 25, to elect officers. Those selected were president, Chubby Abrego; vice president, Robert Walker; secretary, Denny Islas; reporter, Alan Caldwell; parliamentarian, John Wilson; and treasurer, Clay Klits. Dues are set at $1.00 for members.

The Powder Puff football game was held September 28. Tim Childers, senior, was crowned the Powder Puff Queen at halftime. Other contestants were Sammie Buchanan, junior; Eddie St. John, sophomore; and Greg Harrington, freshman. The yells were led by the Red and White cheerleaders at the pep rally held during the morning break. The queen contestants were formally introduced to the student body at this time.

The juniors met September 27, to order and discuss new class rings. The rings are being ordered from the high school office. Mrs. Read and Mrs. Bohannon are beginning a special class, Awareness of the World Around Us, Through Knowledge and Education. Kindergarten through eighth grade will be in the program. It will be for children with special interest and abilities. A special room has been developed for the program. There will be different colorful areas for the special interest of the students. They will take field trips and work on creative thinking, art, scientific experiments, humanities, dramas, cooking, and typing.

The kindergarten circus was held Friday afternoon at the high school auditorium. The ringmaster was Allen Ward. Performing as dancing panda bears in the "Teddy Bears" were Greg Bodin, Eric Drewery, Christy Lancaster, and Jody Carper. Performing in the "Elephants" were Donna Berry, Susan Delgado, Nieberto Guzman, and Billie Gutierrez. Performing in the tightrope act called "Tea for Two" were Kimberly Willborn, Christopher Jones, Melaney Bryant, Tiffany Ward, and Gloria Ruiz. Other performers were Thomas Camarillo, Tammy Gossett, and Sherri Cox, giraffes; Shana Walker, animal trainer; Brad Richardson, lion; Oscar Gonzales, tiger; Cory Anderson, Rusty Ginetti, and Denna Kyle, clowns. Shannon Coots and Tina Miller were in "Monkey See, Monkey Do". The singing dogs in an act called "Bingo" were: Christy Nix, Stephanie Reid, Michael Rodriguez, Lillian Trevino, Jason Fowler, and Ginny Reagan.

All joined together in the grand finale "Stars and Stripes". The advisors were Mrs. Warner, Miss Tyes, and Mrs. Morales.

Primary and elementary went to the Howard County Fair Friday. Mrs. Scott's 3rd grade class entered charcoal drawings. 4B students were playground rangers for the week of September 18 to 22 to try to keep the playground clean. They made posters about playground cleanliness.

Non-credit course offered

MIDLAND — Six non-credit evening short courses are scheduled to begin at Midland College during the week of Oct. 2. The courses are offered to the public through the college's Department of Community Services, directed by James Bramlett.

Those interested in obtaining an amateur radio novice license in "Ham" radio may pre-register for Bryant Saxon's six-week course which begins Oct. 3. Saxon teaches basic radio theory, federal rules and regulations, and Morse Code. Classes meet 7-9 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday in room 100 of the Occupational-Technical Building. The license exam will be given at the end of the course. The fee for Ham Radio is $24.

A six-week study of Graphonalysis, taught by Dolores Guines meets Tuesday, 7-9 p.m. in room 106 of the Occ-Tech Bldg. Course covers the scientific approach to handwriting analysis; a tool used for learning more about personalities and mental habits. There is a minor expense for purchase of materials, and the fee for the course is $12.

A two-day course in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), taught by Carmen Edwards, demonstrates the basic life support procedure for victims whose heart and lungs have ceased to function. The course, which is approved by the American Heart Association, will be held Oct. 3 and Oct. 5, 6-10 p.m. in room 106 of the Occ-Tech Bldg. Only 16 students can be accepted in class, and the fee is $8.

Peggy Creelman's four-week course in Jin Shin Massage meets Wednesday, 7-9 p.m. in room 100 of the Occ-Tech bldg.

Forsan High Charles Stenholm speaks to students

By LUCY THIXTON

Charles Stenholm came to the big town of Forsan Friday and spoke to several classes. He discussed everything from farmers to the nation's defense — until he found out we weren't old enough to vote! No — seriously, we had a very interesting discussion.

The Junior Varsity team plays Greenwood Saturday at 6:00 p.m. at Forsan. The Junior High trounced over Loraine Thursday evening. School photographs have arrived and may be picked up in the Annual Staff Room. Due to loss of pictures and lack of payment, the full amount must be paid when pictures are picked up. The cost is $6.00. If you then decide to purchase only a portion of the available package, or to have re-takes, your money will be refunded.

Sands High Juniors can order senior rings Friday

By ANNUAL STAFF

The activities at Sands this week have been many. Among the activities were the senior portraits and the appointment of sponsors. The Junior High and High School sponsors were assigned to the classes this past week. The senior class sponsors are Mrs. Carlene Gibbs and Miss Debra Tate. The junior class sponsors are Coach Dickie Leopard and Coach Dennis Launary.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Mulanax will sponsor the sophomore class. Coach Stan Pulliam and Mr. Delmer Turner are the freshmen sponsors. The eighth grade sponsors are Mrs. Bilbo and Mrs. Shortes. Mrs. Lydia Arismendez and Mrs. Howell are the seventh grade sponsors. Mrs. Rodriguez and Mrs. Everett are the sixth grade sponsors.

Tuesday the varsity girls' volleyball team traveled to Loraine to compete in a district game. The varsity girls took the match with the score of 15-10 in the first game and 16-14 in the second.

The sponsor for the Beta Club this year will be Mrs. Murphy. She is also the Student Council sponsor. The F.H.A. sponsor is Mrs. Elmore, and the F.F.A. sponsor is Mr. McDonald.

Monday there will be an F.H.A. meeting after school and an officers' meeting during lunch.

Tuesday the juniors order senior rings, and Friday the seniors order graduation invitations.

Fall enrollment sets mark

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech University's fall enrollment of 22,745 has set a record, surpassing by 165 the former high of 22,580 for 1975.

The 1978 figure shows a .7 per cent increase over the 1975 total and a 1.7 per cent increase over last year's total, according to Dr. Robert H. Ewalt, vice president for Student Affairs.

The 1977 enrollment was 22,358 and the 1976 total 22,176.

This fall's unofficial figure is based on a head count at the end of the 12th class day, Ewalt said. "We are gratified with our increased enrollment and the new record, particularly at a time when college and university enrollments are leveling off in many areas," Ewalt said.

There are 12,803 males enrolled as compared with 9,942 females at Texas Tech.

By classification, figures show 7,717 freshmen, 4,382 sophomores, 3,555 juniors and 3,706 seniors. A total of 2,858 students are enrolled in the Graduate School. The School of Law has enrolled 527 students. Figures do not include the Texas Tech University School of Medicine.

By colleges the figures are Agricultural Sciences, 1,472; Arts and Sciences, 7,200; Business Administration, 4,572; Education, 1,759; Engineering, 2,935; and Home Economics, 1,483.

PACKERS CHEERLEADERS — These girls help cheer the Packers to winning their football games. They are Jana Whitehead, Anissa Bartee, Shawn Keyes, top row; Lisa Phillips, Linda Arroyo, Julie Miller, Melissa, Fuller Keri Myrick and Ginger Brooks. The girls are fifth graders from various elementary schools and some eighth graders at Goliad.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1978

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good time for doing anything of a dramatic or unorthodox nature since this could bring you much trouble, big expenses best avoided. You need to exercise care and patience with everyone, so take time to do those assuming unimportant things that are actually vital to the whole pattern of your existence. Being thorough brings best results.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are overworking and could undermine your health if you don't do something about it now. Take a more optimistic outlook on life.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A good day to visit old acquaintances and deriving pleasure therefrom. Bring pleasure to others with your warm smile.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Have a more optimistic outlook on life, despite conditions around. Extend a helping hand to those who need your assistance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Improve your health by being more active. Do some entertaining of people you like. Show that you have poise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to come to a better understanding with your mate. Avoid a tendency to be extravagant with others.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study better ways of increasing your abundance in the days ahead. Sidestep one thing that is detrimental to your progress.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are able to get others to see your side of things, especially at home and much can be accomplished. Make this a happy day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be sure to take no risks in motion today and avoid possible accident. Ideal time for pleasing the one you love.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A good day to study ways to have increased income in the future. Do some meditating that can be helpful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You had better keep those promises you have made to others or you could later regret it. Stop being so extravagant.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You come up with some new ideas that can be marvelous for expansion in the days ahead. Attend the social tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Now you know exactly how to get on the good side of higher ups and gain their backing. Show increased devotion to loved one.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who sees comedy in life, so be sure to direct the education along such lines as teaching and writing for best results. Don't neglect spiritual and ethical training early in life. A good person in this chart. The stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Mystery airs Monday on NBC...

"Secrets" reveals rotten heroines

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Secrets of Three Hungry Wives" is the sort of murder mystery where the whodunit is secondary to the whydunit.

The two-hour film opens with the murder of Mark Powers, a charming millionaire financier played by James Franciscus. Thereafter, the story is told largely in flashback.

By the time it draws to a climax, everyone has a motive and the victim's charming facade has been peeled away to expose such a rotten heel that you hope the killer, whoever it is, gets away with it.

It is a cleverly constructed story, written by Jo Heims, and even Franciscus confesses that when he first read the script he was kept guessing until the end.

"Secrets of Three Hungry Wives" also stars Jessica Walter as Christina Wood, Gretchen Corbett as Karen McClure, Heather MacRae as Lynn Briskin and Eve Plumb as Vicki Wood, Christina's daughter. Gordon Hessler directed. It airs at 9 p.m. EDT Monday on NBC.

"I've never played a character who was this subtly evil," said Franciscus. "I just finished a picture in Brazil where I played an evil man, but he was just outwardly bad. Once I played a Sammy Glick character who was thoroughly rotten.

"I enjoyed the bad men. Part of the joy of being an actor is leading all those different lives. Having played the good guy most of my life, it's fun to see what makes a bad man tick. At the end of the scenes the crew would hiss. It was hard to play him because he was so bad. I hated him."

Powers meets Christina when he leases a house from the real estate agency where she works. As we learn, he wants to establish residence in Connecticut just long enough to swing a land deal.

Christina declines when he asks her to dinner. Somehow she is able to see what is lurking beneath the charm. He tells her, "I find you coldly exciting... like an icy moon."

Determined to bring her to bed, he probes for her weak spot and finds it in her friendship for Karen and Lynn. He derisively nicknames them "the three hungry wives."

Through guile and trickery, he works Karen and Lynn into positions where he can disgrace them. Christina's dilemma is thus: Surrender to him and he will destroy the evidence. Or he will ruin her two closest friends.

"We see that his mother has made him into a woman-hater," Franciscus said.

"He's out to manipulate and ultimately destroy women. He does it with guile and clever maneuvering."

Consumers, check the library

By REBECCA TAYLOR
REFERENCE LIBRARIAN
Recent emphasis on consumer rights has led to an explosion of information on products and to regulation of quality. The Howard County Library is one of the best sources in the community for obtaining this data.

The Federal government is the major producer of both product information and regulation. The "Consumer Information Catalog" is a quarterly annotated list of free or low cost publications for consumers. Material available ranges widely, from "1978 Gas Mileage Guide" to "Your Child from 1 to 6". The catalogs are available free each quarter from the library and many of the publications are available to check out of the Vertical File.

Another regular government publication is "Consumer News". These flyers present bulletins on specific hazards, either under study or actually recalled. For example, the August first issue cites a recall for teething rails on cribs made by Okla Homer Smith Manufacturing Co. during the last half of 1976. The defective cribs were widely distributed by such department stores as Sears and Wards.

Three well-known magazines are devoted to consumer interests: "Consumer Reports", "Consumer Digest", and "Consumer Research". The three are similar in concept, but each has a different emphasis.

"Consumer Reports" is concerned primarily with safety and quality of merchandise. The Consumer Union tests or samples a wide range of products and publishes a detailed report of results on each brand and model. A few general articles on wise use and buying are included.

"Consumer Digest" has a similar format on a more limited scale. Products are ranked and tests described, but detailed results are not given. The main thrust of the "Digest" is for wise use of your money. Information on probable cost and possible discounts are given on most products reviewed.

"Consumer Research" does not cover a wide assortment of each product but describes in detail what the consumer should look for when shopping and how to make certain tests of quality in the store. This magazine has more articles on classes of goods such as "Choosing and Caring for Storage Batteries", than the other

Globe hosts English troupe
The Globe of the Great Southwest is proud to announce the return of The Oxford and Cambridge Shakespeare Company to present "The Comedy of Errors" by William Shakespeare on October 18, at The Globe Theatre in Odessa.

The company of actors is from England and represents both Oxford and Cambridge Universities. This same company performed to a capacity, "standing-room" only crowd at The Globe Theatre one year ago.

"The Comedy of Errors" is cast in a Casbah setting, with twenties music and costumes, and plenty of poetic licence to enrich the production.

two. Unlike the other magazines mentioned, this one does not have an annual buying guide.

A new publication called "HELP: the Useful Almanac" is designed to provide the consumer with information needed to lodge complaints or pursue adjustments of loss. Addresses and phone numbers of consumer organizations and; state, local and federal offices are given. Articles are devoted to regulatory decisions and trends and advise to dissatisfied consumers.

Community concerts offer quality entertainment

By EILEEN McGUIRE
Family News Editor

Big Spring and Midland Community Concert Associations have nine nights of exciting entertainment lined up for music lovers this year.

Admittance, however, is by membership only and memberships are offered just once a year.

During the past week, workers for the Big Spring association have been busy reminding last year's concert-goers that it's time to renew memberships. Renewal Week ends Monday.

The opportunity to enjoy performances by renown concertists is now extended to the entire community during New Membership Week which begins Monday and ends Oct. 7.

Memberships may be purchased at the association's Campaign Headquarters at the Settles Hotel. According to Jean Kuykendall, president of the Big Spring association, the booth will be manned from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

Those desiring more information may obtain the headquarter's telephone number from information. It will be listed as Community Con-

By joining the Big Spring association, members are automatically entitled to the reciprocal privileges shared with the Midland association. In both cities, all performances will begin at 8:15 p. m.

Big Spring concerts will be held in the Municipal Auditorium which has been refurbished for that purpose. Midland concerts will take place at the Midland High School auditorium.

Specific dates for Midland concerts will be announced later, but performances will include pianists Grant and Wind Duo, the National Folk Ballet of Mexico, the Young Americans' Salute to Richard Rodgers, jazz artist Dizzy Gillespie, and the Texas Opera Theatre.

Despite the impressive line-up of performers, the cost is less than that of attending a movie. Adult memberships are $12. Mrs. Kuykendall pointed out that if the member takes advantage of all nine concerts, the price is about $1.32 a concert. Students may join for only $6.

The cost is a little higher for members who desire seating in the center section. Adult Reserve is $16 while Student Reserve is $8.

The association is offering a special plan for families this year. Mom, Dad and one student may join for $30 and all other children — regardless of how many — attend free.

Also new this year is a membership plan for those who want to do more than attend concerts. Concert-goers who want to contribute something extra so that the association can do even more next year will be added to the patron list for $25 above the cost of the membership.

A member can become a sponsor for $75 or a benefactor for $125. Special recognition will be given to anyone contributing $500 or more.

Those contributing will be listed as Mr. and Mrs. if desired, according to Mrs. Kuykendall, and will be invited to attend a Patrons' Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Cohorn preceding the first concert on Nov. 10.

Mrs. Kuykendall said that the association has as its goal the issuing of 1200 memberships for this concert season.

"If we sell 1200 memberships, it's considered a sellout," said Charles Parham, vice president of the Big

In addition to Mrs. Kuykendall and Parham, officers of the Big Spring association are Vonna Lee Davis, secretary, and Frances Hendricks, treasurer. All four are board members.

Other board members are Mrs. Carl Bradley, Dr. J. W. Kuykendall, Mrs. G. R. Robinson, Charles Beil, Craig Fischer, Mrs. Hamlin Elrod, Mrs. Wesley Deats, Cliff Chapman, Mrs.

Nov. 10...Sofia Philharmonic Orchestra

The Sofia Philharmonic Orchestra of Bulgaria, visiting the west coast and western cities, is making its first American tour during the fall of 1978. For more than three decades Columbia Artists Management, who arranged the tour, has been privileged to present to American audiences brilliant concerts by many of the world's great orchestras. The Sofia ensemble is one of few yet to perform on these shores.

Sharing responsibilities as conductors during the tour will be the two eminent men who are the orchestra's regular leaders in Sofia — Konstantin Iliev and Dimitar Manolov.

Without exception each musician is a graduate of the Bulgarian State Conservatory, a fact that makes this a truly national orchestra. With considerable and impressive press and public recognition behind them, the musicians promise the kinds of performances which have brought them acclaim in much of Europe.

A Berlin critic reported in Neues Deutschland, "This is an homogenous orchestra composed of virtuosi who plays in an excellent ensemble." Rome's Il Tempo told readers, "They reached the peaks in the art of interpretation."

Nov. 20..... C.C. Ryder, Troubador

C.C. Ryder is a most versatile young gentleman of song, who has traveled the world for the past 15 years, bringing to all who have heard him the beauty, the sadness, the joy and boundless spirit of folk music.

Canadian born and bred, Ryder has a remarkable vocal range that enables him to sing out a big tune with effortless delivery, evoke a tear with the next song and dissolve his audience into laughter with the third.

Ryder offers calypso songs, foreign language ballads and many of his own songs in addition to favorite American folksongs of the past and present.

Wherever he goes, C.C. Ryder is warmly received. A reviewer in California said, "C.C. Ryder is a young folk singer and guitarist, who does a beautiful job of both."

Not only in my opinion, but also in the response of one of our largest and most appreciative audiences."

From Oregon: "C.C. Ryder sings to you and for you, not at you. His lyrics have meaning instead of has several things going for him. He sings well and plays the guitar as well or better than anyone in the business today. He has a light touch, an easy manner, and his sense of the dramatic is well-tuned to his song and its audience."

C.C. Ryder has an extensive background in musical comedy, repertory theatre and television. Most notably he wrote and performed an NBC animated children's educational show, "All About Me".

Once part of the nationally-known duo, The Talisman, Ryder has been a "loner" since 1965 and is proud to have shared the bill with Judy Collins, Buffy St. Marie, Richie Havens, The Voyagers, Jo Mapes, Josh White and many others.

He presently resides near Laguna Beach, California, where between concert tours he appears regularly in better supper clubs and restaurants.

C.C. Ryder offers a rare combination of excellent taste, fine voice and top showmanship!

April 2..... The Ronnie Brown Trio

Trained in the classics at Boston's New England Conservatory of Music, Ronnie Brown has become one of the nation's favorite nightclub performers, playing in such top spots as

New York's Embers Club and Basin Street East; the Dunes and Sands Hotels in Las Vegas; The Kulm Hotel, St. Moritz; the Clift Hotel, San Francisco; the Racquet Club, Palm Springs; and the plush "Mr. Stox" near Disneyland.

He has also served as music director for the Balboa Bay Clubs and as music conductor and arranged for Metromedia television shows in Los Angeles. 1975 marked his debut on the concert stage with three tours over the course of seventeen weeks throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Seldom has a group like this received the audience and critical acclaim accorded to the Ronnie Brown Trio. Performances feature Brown at the piano with string bass and percussion rounding out the group.

Praise has come to Ronnie Brown not only from the press but from his contemporaries. Al Hirt has called him "... one of the finest talents in the business."

Frank Sinatra, Duke Ellington, Ella Fitzgerald, Tony Bennett, Sammy Davis, Jr., Vicki Carr, Dave Brubeck, Stan Kenton and Dean Martin are among the nation's great artists who have worked with Ronnie Brown.

Joan Winchell in a Los Angeles Times review said, "... one of the nation's top pianists, bar none ... capable of playing anything", while Billboard, reporting on one of the first of his many New York appearances, said "... it is the intensity and excitement that has made him an overnight favorite of the Embers."

The excitement created by his music plus an outgoing personality and personal charm have made him a popular television guest where he has appeared on "The Merv Griffin Show", the "Lawrence Welk Show", NBC's "Today Show" and others.

Ronnie has arranged, composed, accompanied and conducted. He calls on this strong and varied background in his programming which spans the musical world, successfully offering selections by Chopin and Beethoven alongside contemporary works such as "Slaughter on 10th Avenue" or Ricard Addinsell's "Warsaw Concerto", Broadway show tunes and his own compositions.

This same variety has been reflected on the artist's recordings for the Columbia, Philips and Century labels.

May 19... Duquesne University Tamburitzans

For the past 41 years, the internationally famous Tamburitzans of Duquesne University has presented concerts throughout the United States and Canada, occasionally making a foreign tour to such places as South America, the Soviet Union or Eastern Europe.

These talented college students receive full scholarships for their participation in the group and perform approximately 100 shows each season.

A Tamburitzan is a typical American college student with an exceptional amount of musical talent and enough ambition to make an unusual effort to secure a college education.

His is a dual personality. As a performer on the stage he is an enthusiastic and lively personality who sings in a dozen languages, dances as many routines and plays an amazing array of instruments. As a scholar, he is a serious academic-minded student applying himself conscientiously to the task of learning.

The Tamburitzans' production has been likened to an European musical tour. In hundreds of colorful and authentic costumes, the students perform with brilliance; forming a kaleidoscopic impression of the most fascinating and romantic parts of the Balkans and neighboring lands.

costumes, folklore — all unfold in a busting array of color and high-speed precision.

This group possesses the remarkable faculty of summing up in a single performance the spirit of an entire people.

Five overseas tours have earned the Tamburitzans the right to the phrase "internationally famous".

Miss Posey weds Brigman in candlelight ceremony

Elizabeth Ann Posey of Dallas and Fred Louis Brigman of Maypearl were united in marriage in the First United Methodist Church, Hillsboro, Saturday evening. The Rev. Larry Van Zile officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Posey, Hillsboro, and Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Brigman, Maypearl.

The couple stood before an altar flanked with 15-branch candelabrum adorned with greenery. Trimming the altar rail were 10 votive candles, greenery and white ribbon. Arrangements of white gladiolus, white carnations and gypsophila decorated the candelabrum.

Nancy Devin at the organ provided traditional wedding selections, and soloist Linda Pool sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Posey was escorted to the altar by her cousin, Harold E. Posey, Denver, Colo.

The bride's gown was a Biljoy creation of white Qiana silk jersey with a Queen Anne neckline, empire waist and long slender sleeves. The back was styled with a wattleau train attached at the shoulders, and the A-line skirt fell to a sweeping train. Venice silk lace outlined the neck, sleeves and hem. Silk illusion formed the finger-trip-length veil which fell from a Camelot cap and was decorated with silk Venice lace. Satin stitching and silk Venice lace edged the veil.

The bride carried a classic cascade of white roses, stephanotis, English ivy and white satin ribbon.

In keeping with wedding tradition, the bride wore something old: a gold bracelet which belonged to her great-grandmother; something new: a gold and pearl necklace; something borrowed: a white linen handkerchief which her mother carried on her wedding day; and something blue: a garter.

Maid of honor was Sonya Fortenberry of Arlington. The bride's matrons were Kathi Williams, Longview and Eileen Bowles, Dallas.

The bride's attendants wore sleeveless floor-length gowns of dusty apricot Qiana jersey. The dresses had ruffled scooped necklines and empire waists. The attendants carried arm bouquets of yellow roses, gypsophila, leather leaf greenery and yellow ribbon.

Best man was Jimmy Atlas, Grandview. Groomsmen were Jerry Brigman, Fort Worth, and Dick Kyser, DeSoto.

Ushering were William Smith, Arlington, and Ransie Posey, Hillsboro. The groom's attendants wore brown tuxedos with yellow ruffled shirts and yellow rose boutonnières.

A reception took place at the Hillsboro Country Club immediately after the wedding. Registering guests was Colleen Bonney, Cedar Hill. She presided at a table draped with a white satin cloth adorned with wide lace and an arrangement of yellow, apricot and white carnations.

The bride's table was draped with a floor-length white lace cloth over a white underlay. The five-tiered wedding cake was decorated with Cornelli lace designs and tall yellow tapers centered the table. Silver appointments were used.

The groom's table was covered with a gold cloth overlaid with white lace. It held a chocolate horseshoe-shaped cake decorated with marzipan fruit. Coffee was served from a silver service, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white, yellow and apricot carnations.

Champagne punch was served from a silver bowl on a table laid with a white satin cloth encircled with greenery.

Serving guests were Patsy Rogers, Allen; Cathy Holmes, Arlington; Kathy Shearer, Arlington; Laura Veltman, DeSoto; Vicki Wadle, Duncanville; and Kathleen Bailey, Midlothian.

Yellow, apricot and white satin roses filled with rice were distributed to guests from baskets carried by Melissa Veltman, DeSoto, and Paige Smith, Arlington.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, received a B.S. degree from Texas Tech University, Lubbock and an M.A. degree from Southern Methodist University, Dallas. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority and is employed as a counselor for Cedar Hill Independent School District.

The groom is a graduate of Maypearl High School and Hill County College and received a B.S. degree from Sam Houston State University, Huntsville. He has worked on a master's degree at S.H.S.U., and is employed as a vocational agriculture teacher in the Midlothian Independent School District.

The couple will make their home in Maypearl.

Beautiful music from teenagers

By Robert Wallace Ed. D.

I know you'll enjoy these sensitive poems by three creative teens.

If you write and enjoy poetry, send your poem to me and I'll try to get it in print.

TIME — PRECIOUS TIME
 Time the bars which bind our days: The rhythm of a crashing wave: the gift each person strives to capture Each moment is fine dust never to settle in ones hand. Those who run to seek such treasure only see more pass them by. But they who watch in stillness see life in its richest moments; they live in the blossom of love and of life and fragrance. They see life in all its beauty in all its gentleness. They hold the precious dust of time. — Tera Lynn Buckalew 16, Torrance, Calif.

WIND SONG
 She came as with the wind As if by answered prayer. And like a whirlwind and a leaf Our lives became entwined. I love you wind. She kissed my heart she did, The whispering wind. She and the trees sang for me. A song of joy. I love you wind. You brought to me memories Of summer and the sun: And the same as she came she went, With the wind. — Eddie Reese 16, Snyder, Okla.

LONELY SOUL
 By the dark corner, In the gloomy shadows, Sittin' by the crumbling wall That's where you'll find her. The dark corner is her favorite place. You can see her meditate You can hear her crying out In the midst of the night. The gloomy shadows Are ever lasting, Obscuring her from sight For whom may pass by night. The crumbling wall Is her home and all she's got Insecure for it can't last She sits in fear and lonely solitude. There you'll find her, By the dark corner, In the gloomy shadows, Sittin' by her crumbling wall. Knowing no one ever cared. Waiting for her life to end. — Rox Breneman 15, Goshen, Ind.

Peaveys celebrate Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peavy of Garland marked their 25th year of marriage on Sept. 19. Mrs. Peavey is the former Wanda Joy Lawson of Big Spring and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Lawson, 1800 Nolan.

The anniversary couple were honored with a reception Sept. 16 at the fellowship hall of Miller Road Baptist Church, Garland. Hosting the festivities was their Sunday school class.

The Peaveys met while attending Wayland Baptist College and were married Sept. 19, 1953 in Big Spring by Brother Maple Avery who was pastor of East Fourth Baptist Church. Wanda had been an active member of the church since her childhood.

After moving to Garland, Paul went to work for Garland Furniture Company and is now co-owner and general manager of the firm.

The couple have four children, Kerry, Dianne and Sharon (Mrs. Bud Lord) attend Hyles Anderson College in Indiana. Marcie attends Parkcrest Elementary School in Garland.

The Peaveys have been active members of Miller Road Baptist Church since 1953 and have served the church in various capacities throughout the years. Paul teaches a Sunday school class for couples and an adult Bible study group. He is also chairman of the Board of Deacons. Wanda served as a choir member and soloist.

Among out-of-town guests attending the anniversary event were Wanda's parents. Also her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Salmon and their daughter Robin of Wichita Falls.

Area nurses invited to Austin conference

All area registered nurses and R.N. students are invited to attend the "Crisis in Texas Nursing" Conference in Austin on Oct. 14.

The conference is sponsored by the Texas Nurses Association Council on Crisis but non-members are also welcome to attend.

A bus has been chartered by TNA, District 24, and according to Lettie Lee, chairman of the council and director of the Associate Degree Nursing Program at Howard College, reservations are still available.

The roundtrip ticket is $25 and the bus will leave Oct. 13 and return Oct. 14. For more information, contact Ms. Lee, 267-6311, ext. 75.

The conference will take place on the University of Texas campus and a large range of subjects covering events in Texas affecting the current and future practice of nursing will be discussed.

Topics include "The Future of Midwifery in Texas", "How and Why Has the Rural Health Clinic Legislation Been Blocked in Texas?", "What Is Happening to the Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist?", "Is There Any Future for the Advanced Nurse Practitioner in Texas?", "How Hospital Nurses Make Independent Decisions", and "Are New and Added Restrictions Being Placed on the Role of the Nurses?"

Cup of coffee has stimulant

An average cup of coffee contains about 100 to 150 milligrams of caffeine, reports Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Caffeine — a chemical found in the leaves and beans of the coffee tree — acts as a cerebrospinal, circulatory and renal stimulant, she explains.

'Lonely, jobless, suicidal'

Displaced Homemakers help widow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Less than a year after her husband of 36 years died of stomach cancer, Cruz Bonilla found herself lonely, destitute, jobless — and suicidal.

"I had this little bottle of sleeping pills and I thought, 'Well, that's the answer,'" the 55-year-old Oakland, Calif., woman says.

But she gave herself one more chance by trying the Displaced Homemaker Center in Oakland. It worked.

The Oakland center, housed in a white bungalow on peaceful Mills College campus, is the first of about 15 such programs throughout the country for women who have suddenly found themselves "displaced."

"A displaced homemaker could be a woman who has been dependent on her husband's income throughout their marriage and loses that financial support because of divorce or the death of her husband," said Rep. Yvonne Brathwaite Burke, D-Calif., a prime backer of the project.

"Or it could be a man who has stayed at home to take care of his parents and loses his income — their support because of their death.

"Or it could be a mother who is no longer eligible for federal welfare assistance because her children are past a certain age."

Mrs. Burke is co-sponsor of legislation to amend the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act CETA of 1973 to secure aid for existing displaced homemaker centers and establish others.

She estimates there could be three million such people.

"The biggest thing women say when they come in here is 'I don't have any skills,'" says Aliyah Stein, associate director of the Oakland center.

"They have tremendous skills — they just don't know it."

Many of them have contributed technical and complicated abilities as a volunteer, or have done unpaid work in their husband's business, or have perfected household organization or culinary skills.

"An incredible lack of self-confidence — I'd say that's the biggest single problem," Ms. Stein says. The center puts a woman into an assertion training program, to develop confidence and self-pride.

Then come classes in job skills, writing resumes, interviewing, and handling finances.

The Oakland center has helped about 400 women a year since it opened in May 1976 as an experimental program.

Soil builders meet Monday

Winter Cultivation in cold frames will be the program of the Organic Soil Builders at their monthly meeting at 7:30 Monday night.

The group will meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Leonard, 2310 Roberts Dr., and the program will be under the direction of Johnny Johansen and Spencer Wolfe. For further information, one may call 267-5954.

heritage is "free." Ms. Smith used the example, "If heritage was a bank account, what part would you withdraw?"

The next meeting will take place Oct. 11 in the home of Ms. Harp.

Center Point Club meets

The Center Point Home Demonstration Club met at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Kentwood Center with Mrs. Kenneth Orr, president, in charge.

Sewing club tacks robe

The Sew and Chatter Club met Wednesday in the home of Twila Lomax with 10 members present.

Refreshments were served and the group tacked a robe for an ill member.

The next meeting will take place in the home of Mrs. H.V. Crocker, 1707 Benton.

Main items of business were plans for the upcoming programs for the fall season.

Janet Rogers, county extension agent, will present a program and discussion on accessories for the home at 2 p.m. Oct. 10, and at 2 p.m. Oct. 24, the club will tour West Side Day Care Center and the Industrial Park. A Thanksgiving dinner will take place Nov. 14 in Kentwood Center.

Xi Pi elects Sweetheart

Xi Pi Epsilon of Beta Sigma Phi met Wednesday in the home of Nancy Fulgham with Linda Harp presiding and Linda Coskey attending as a guest.

The social chairman, Melba Smith, announced plans for a pot luck supper to take place at 7 p.m. Saturday in the home of Stephanie Roll, 1809 Runnels.

The club will participate in the Midland Art and Craft Exhibit Oct. 13, and all members are urged to attend. It will take place in the exhibit building on Highway 80 East, and will include a luncheon at noon for $2.50.

Those planning to attend should make reservations with Mrs. Rogers or Lucille Petty, at 267-5486.

Twelve dozen cookies were sent to Big Spring State Hospital from the club this month, and Mrs. Petty won the door prize. Fifteen members were served sandwiches, punch and cake by Joy Birrell and Irene Smith, hostesses.

Ms. Roll, service chairman, thanked all members who manned the blood donor booth at the Howard County Fair recently. The chapter voted to make tray favors for the Veterans' Administration Hospital.

LVNs will meet Monday

The chapter elected Donna McIntosh as the Valentine Sweetheart. She will represent the chapter at the Valentine Ball Feb. 10, 1979.

Ms. Smith presented the program, "Living with Heritage." She pointed out ways that one can use her heritage. Members discussed facts about their own heritages that meant most to them. During the program it was stressed that cookies to be donated to the Volunteer Department at Big Spring State Hospital.

Optimists plan banquet

The Breakfast Optimist Club met Thursday morning in the Tumbleweed Room at Howard College with John Gee presiding.

Sidney T. Clark, secretary-treasurer, led the invocation, and Bobby Grant was a guest at the meeting, filling out an application to transfer to the Big Spring chapter.

The club's installation banquet will take place at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Cactus Room at Howard College, with a period of visiting, fellowship and "Baptist Happy Hour" from 7 to 7:30 that evening.

The John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 met at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday with Noble Grand Elizabeth Beck presiding and 26 members present.

The opening services were performed and an initiation ceremony for Rosendo C. Santellan and Melicia R. Santellan took place. They received the Rebekah degree.

Assisting with the initiation were Gladys Fiveash, noble grand; Ida Hughes, vice grand; Hazel Lamar, team captain; Brookie Martin, musician; Mary Cole, past noble grand; and Lida Boland, chaplain.

Also, LaVerne Rogers, conductor; Odelle LaLonde, warden; Elmo Martin, inside guardian; Alma Pye, Francis Loftis, Dee Martin, Mary Leek, Melba Sutton and W.C. Cole.

Refreshments were served by Ms. Fiveash and Ms. Boland, and members enjoyed talks.

Republicans raise funds

West Texas Republican Women held their annual fund-raising luncheon and bridge games Thursday at the Dora Roberts Community Center.

The group of women who attended enjoyed games of bridge throughout the day and were presented prizes of homegrown plants, pralines and homemade bread.

The luncheon served at noon included chicken and spaghetti, fruit salad, hot bread, iced tea or wine.

Money raised from the benefit goes to support Republican candidates during the November election.

Rosebud clubs get together

The Rosebud How-to-Grow Garden Club met with the Rosebud Garden Club at noon Tuesday at the Dora Roberts Community Center.

Hostesses were Lisa Hubbard, Sandy Jones and Edna Womack.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Womack gave a program on segment tables. There were five place settings demonstrated, each for a different occasion. A discussion on flower arrangements for tables was also held.

President of the Rosebud How-to-Grow Garden Club is Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Hubbard is president of the Rosebud Garden Club.

There were several new members and guests welcomed at the meeting.

The next meeting of the Rosebud How-to-Grow Garden Club will be at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 10 at the Dora Roberts Community Center. The Rosebud Garden Club will meet at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 24 in the DRCC.

Garden reception honors Brown-DeViney marriage

Virginia Beth Brown, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Milton F. Brown Jr., Del Rio, and Don Lavton DeViney, son of Mrs. Dawson DeViney, Big Spring, and the late Dr. DeViney, exchanged wedding vows at a nuptial mass in St. James' Episcopal Church, Del Rio, Sept. 16. The Rev. Brown, father of the bride, officiated.

The bride, who was escorted by her uncle, Ben Petmecky, San Marcos, chose an imported gown of white silk organza combined with applied Alencon lace. The gentle A-line skirt flared into a deep border of satin, outlined with Alencon lace, and flowed into a chapel-length train. Her chapel-length veil was attached to a Camelot cap of French applied lace and illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of white mixed summer flowers.

Kelly Andress, Del Rio, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Christy Bodart, Del Rio; Susan Guerra, San Antonio; and Debbie Hernandez, Lubbock.

The bride's attendants wore long dresses of forest green and carried nosegays of enchantment lilies and mixed flowers of burnt orange, in keeping with the bride's chosen colors of forest green and burnt orange.

Patrick DeViney was his brother's best man, coming in from Woodbridge, Va. Groomsman were Milton F. Brown III, San Antonio; Sam Jones, Miami, Fla.; and Charles Cox, Del Rio.

Ushers were Markey Marquis, Houston; Fredrick Brown, San Antonio; and John Little, Del Rio.

The church organist, Gail Gower, played as the professional, "Allegro from Suite Gothique," and as the recessional, variations on a theme from "Hyfrydol."

A garden reception took place at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. The formal table was laid in a fitted damask cloth and centered with a tall silver eperge of burnt orange flowers and tapers. Appointments included a silver punch bowl, the bride's cake and the groom's cake. An antique cutwork cloth of white covered the buffet table, which was centered with a three-tier eperge of burnt orange flowers and tapers in hurricane holders. Rice bags were distributed by nieces of the bride and groom, Monica Guerra, San Antonio, and Dyane and Dawn DeViney, Woodbridge, Va.

Music at the reception was provided by Freddy Morales, mariachis. Guests came from Houston, Georgetown, San Marcos, Laredo, Lubbock, San Antonio, Abilene, Virginia and Florida.

The bride is a graduate of Del Rio High School and attended Texas Tech University, Lubbock. The groom is a graduate of Texas Tech and received a master's degree from Sul Ross University, Alpine. He taught at Del Rio High School and is presently teaching art at Goliad Junior High School, Big Spring.

After a wedding trip to Padre Island and Mexico, the couple are at home at 1807 Winston, Big Spring.

Clubs, organizations to be listed in tabloid

Family News has begun work on the 1978 Clubs and Organizations tabloid to be included with the Oct. 26 edition of the Big Spring Herald.

Questionnaires to be filled out by presidents have been mailed to 180 organizations on whom we had an address. If you have not received your questionnaire, please check with last year's president and other members of the club as our information is not current.

If your organization was overlooked, questionnaires are available at the Herald.

The completed forms must be returned to the Herald no later than Oct. 10. Presidents will have their pictures taken for the tabloid from 1 to 5 p.m. Oct. 9 and 10.

Included with the mailed questionnaires and also available at the Herald are letters for club reporters containing information to help them in reporting club news.

The purpose of the Clubs and Organizations tabloid is to provide the public with information on who does what for Big Spring. It is a valuable reference source for individuals, organizations and businesses. We appreciate your cooperation in making it complete.

You're not smaller; Junior sizes bigger

If your newest pair of Size 9 pants seems a tad loose, don't celebrate with a hot fudge sundae. You're not getting smaller: Junior sizes are getting bigger, reports the October issue of Seventeen Magazine.

"Clothing manufacturers have been revising the sizes of their garments over the past two years," explains Frances Jankowitz, co-owner of Wolf Forms Co., a maker of torso dummies used in the design and fitting of apparel.

"Usually, we change our models to suit the current style of underwear," she says. "Now that women are wearing tight girdles, their waist and hip muscles are relaxed, and their measurements reflect this new freedom."

For example, Ms. Jankowitz once used a hip measurement of 34 1/2 inches and a waist of 24 inches for Junior size 9 dummies; now they have 36-inch hips and 24 1/2 or 25-inch waists.

Scout Family Weekend offers fun, fellowship

The Camp Committee of the West Texas Girl Scout Council extends an invitation to any registered Girl Scout (adult or child) and his or her family to attend the Family Weekend at Camp Boothe Oaks Oct. 13-15. The camp is located eight miles southwest of Sweetwater off FM 1809.

Fun and fellowship from Friday evening until 10 Sunday morning will center on special interests of the families registering. It all starts with a pot luck supper at 7 p.m., when each family brings a favorite dish to share with others at Oates Hall, the dining area.

The fee is $1.75 for each person and reservations should be made before Oct. 9 with the West Texas Girl Scout Council, 3165 S. 27th, P.O. Box 5586, Abilene, Tex. 79605.

A trophy is awarded each year to the council town having the highest total count present at the Family Weekend. Snyder families traditionally make, break and take the coveted award.

The Geilhausens of Haskell come each year and their four children are enthusiastic participants in every event.

On this year's agenda are nature, canoeing, fishing, volleyball, campfires, archery, outdoor cooking, arts and crafts and outdoor skills. There will be great fun for all who come.

BINGO MAGIC RULES

Game Series #BM30

1. Get a FREE BINGO MAGIC Collector Card at the checkout counter or store office. Get a FREE Game Ticket every day you visit a participating store. Limit one ticket per family per visit. No purchase necessary. Adults only eligible.

2. Each Game Ticket has four BINGO MAGIC markers. Each marker corresponds to a square in the Games on your Collector Card. Some Game Tickets will contain a Magic Disc. Place the Magic Disc in the space provided on your Collector Card. If you get 10 Magic Discs, they may be exchanged for 10 FREE Game Tickets, giving you additional chances to win (see odds chart). Some Game Markers will say "Magic! You Win $1,000!" This marker does not play on the Collector Card. This is an Instant Winner marker and you can collect your prize immediately from authorized store personnel.

3. All Magic Disc Winners qualify for entry into Grand Prize Drawings. Grand Prize Drawings will be held on November 3, 1978, and January 8, 1979. All Magic Discs Winners redeemed by October 28, 1978 will be eligible for the November 3, 1978 drawing. All Magic Discs Winners must be redeemed by December 30, 1978 to be eligible for Final drawing on January 8, 1979. All sweepstakes entry coupons not drawn in the first drawing will remain eligible for the final drawing. Two (2) Grand Prizes November 3, 1978 - $5,000 each. Two (2) Grand Prizes January 8, 1979 - $5,000 each. Final drawing date of January 8, 1979, is contingent upon game ending on or before December 30, 1978.

Odds to obtain 10 Magic Discs and qualify for sweepstakes 1 in 31
If you qualify - Odds to win sweepstakes 1 in 101,920

4. Place markers in correct squares on your collector card. EXAMPLE: If one of your markers is a "B-43" in the $1,000 Game, insert that marker in square numbered "43 under column B" in the $1,000 Game on Collector Card. You have a winning Bingo in the $1,000 and $100 game when you have matched a straight row of 5 numbers either down, across or diagonal. You have a winning Bingo in the $10, $5 or $2 Game when you have matched a straight row of 4 numbers either down, across or diagonal. No marker may be used to win in more than one row.

5. All markers in a winning row must be initiated by customer in the presence of authorized store personnel before submission will be accepted. $1,000 and $100 Winning Markers must be initiated in the presence of two (2) authorized store persons and approved by general office. When a winning combination has been verified by authorized personnel you will be awarded your prize after furnishing your name and address.

6. All game materials will be rejected and judged void if not obtained from and verified by authorized personnel or if any part of any of the game markers is illegible, altered, mutilated, miscut, misregistered, defaced, tampered with, forged, contains printing or other errors, or is irregular in any way. All game material submitted for verification becomes the property of game sponsor and cannot be returned. Liability for void ticket, if any, limited to replacement of ticket. Game sponsor not responsible for lost or stolen tickets. Game material void where taxed or prohibited by law.

7. Game will end upon distribution of all Game tickets, which may be before or after the scheduled termination date. Valid winning submissions must be claimed within seven (7) days after termination or prizes are forfeited. The offer to exchange ten (10) Magic Discs for ten (10) FREE Game Tickets expires immediately upon termination of Game. When and if verified claims for prizes in any category equal the number of prizes advertised for that category, then game as it relates to that specific prize category, shall immediately terminate without notice and any unverified claim submitted at or after that time shall be automatically rejected.

8. Only BINGO MAGIC game materials with series BM30 valid for this game. Employees (and their respective IRS dependents and immediate family members) of SHOP-RITE FOODS, INC., or of suppliers or any other company engaged in the development and production of Bingo Magic are not eligible to play. State, federal and other taxes imposed on any or all prizes are solely the responsibility of winners.

9. BINGO MAGIC Marker for any BINGO MAGIC Game void if it does not have on it:

- (a) Value of Game
- (b) Name of Game
- (c) Letter and Number Spelled Out
- (d) Letter and Number
- (e) Series BM30
- (f) Safety pattern background

BINGO MAGIC MARKERS FOR ANY BINGO MAGIC GAME VOID IF ABOVE SIX (6) ITEMS ARE NOT CLEARLY VISIBLE.

ODDS CHART

Odds vary depending on number of game tickets you obtain. The more tickets you collect the better your chance of winning.

ODDS CHART EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 1, 1978

PRIZE VALUE	NUMBER OF PRIZES	ODDS FOR 1 GAME TICKET	ODDS FOR 13 GAME TICKETS	ODDS FOR 26 GAME TICKETS PLUS 10 MAGIC DISCS
$1,000	35	192,428	14,802	5,345
100	349	19,298	1,485	536

INSTANT 1	37,620	179	14	4.9
TOTAL TWO PRIZES	47,077	143	11	3.9

This Game is being played in 75 participating Shop-Rite Food Stores located in New Mexico (32) and Texas (43). Previous series had 34 participating stores. All prizes and tickets have been increased proportionately such that the odds to win any prize remains essentially identical to the previous series.

Scheduled termination date of this promotion is December 30, 1978.

However Bingo Magic officially ends when all game tickets are distributed.

PLEASE READ!

These odds are in effect for one month after start. After one month updated odds will be posted in all participating stores and in Newspaper ads. Use Series BM30 Tickets only for all games on the Collector Card. Games must be played subject to Rules on the Collector Card.

Game program may be repeated by popular demand. The total number and worth of prizes to be awarded will depend upon the number of winning tickets actually redeemed.

Shower fetes

Karen Tibbs

A bridal shower in honor of Karen Tibbs, bride-elect of Jeff Wilson, took place from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the fellowship hall of Trinity Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. Roy Shaffer, Mrs. Tom Yeats, Mrs. David Pope, Mrs. Jesse Majors and Mrs. Floyd Williams.

Also, Mrs. Nathan Stallcup, Mrs. Bill Powell, Mrs. Bill Swindell, Mrs. T.C. Stockwell and Mrs. Paul Beasley.

Ms. Tibbs received a toaster and a handmixer as special gifts from the hostesses. Corsages of daisies were presented to the honoree, Mrs. Weldon Tibbs, mother of the bride; Mrs. J.M. Wilson, mother of the groom; and Anna Lee Young, grandmother of the bride.

Decorations were carried out in the bride's chosen colors of peach and yellow. A floral arrangement of peach gladioli and daisies in a milk-glass vase centered the serving table. Cake and punch were served from silver and crystal appointments, and Mrs. Robert Davis registered 30 guests.

Ms. Tibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Tibbs, and Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Wilson, will be married Oct. 20 in Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Dr. Claude Craven officiating.

Sewing class offered by extension service

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is offering a Basic Sewing Class Oct. 12 through Nov. 2. The classes will be every Thursday from 9 to 11 a.m.

This program is sponsored by the First United Methodist Church and the classes will be held at the church in the Youth Fellowship Hall. Sewing machines and other equipment will be provided.

This series of four classes is designed to teach basic sewing techniques. There is no charge for the class and it is open to all interested persons.

Free babysitting services are available at the church while parents attend the sewing class.

If you need additional information, please contact the county extension agent at 267-9469; the First United Methodist Church at 267-6394, or Frances Zant at 263-4651.

Tells His Secret, Loses Only Friend

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 20-year-old male and I'm gay. My best friend (I'll call him Bob) and I recently got into some heavy discussions and ended up confessing our innermost secrets.

When I told Bob I was gay, he became very angry and said he never wanted to see me again. Then he left.

I am not sexually attracted to Bob. He's my best friend and I don't want to lose him. Other than my friendship with him, I'm pretty much a loner.

Last year I was on the verge of taking my life, so I went to a suicide prevention center. They talked me out of going through with it, but now I'm considering suicide again. I've analyzed my situation and seriously wonder if my life is worth the pain of living it.

I look to you as a last chance, Abby. If your advice doesn't help me, I will just go with what I think is the best solution. Please answer soon. I can't wait much longer.

CONFIDENTIAL IN DETROIT

DEAR CONFIDENTIAL: Your former friend Bob has a lot to learn about homosexuality if he feels threatened by your confession, and ended your friendship for that reason. You haven't lost much. Friends worth having accept you as you are.

Please go back to the suicide prevention center. They do more than just talk you out of committing suicide. They have competent counselors who will help you get your head together. Go now, and write to me soon and tell me how you're doing. I care.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my parents are divorced. My mother has remarried and so has my father. The problem is, my father has had TWO divorces, and is engaged to be married again. That doesn't really bother me. It's his life and he's entitled to happiness, but Abby, he is 53 and his girlfriend is 23! And that bothers me.

I've talked to him about it, but it did no good. He says he doesn't want to be alone. I can understand that, but I wish he'd find a woman nearer his age.

Don't get me wrong. I like his girlfriend, it's just that she is younger than my older sister.

I love my father very much. What can I do?
WORRIED ABOUT DAD

DEAR WORRIED: Cool it. If you really love your father and want him to be happy, the best thing you can do for him is to accept his young wife, and hope for the best.

DEAR ABBY: Being an avid reader of your column, I have noted many different kinds of problems, but the one that has always puzzled me is the problem of the single woman in love with a married man.

She thinks if only he would divorce his wife, they would get married and live happily ever after!

Why doesn't that foolish woman realize that if the man does ditch his wife and marry her, she has no assurance that he will not repeat his unfaithfulness and dump her for someone else?

I think if those "other women" who are drooling over another woman's husband would take this into consideration, quite a few would take up their lines and go fishing in a clearer stream.

What is your opinion?
BOGART, GA.

DEAR BOGART: Love is a "mental disease." It doesn't respond to logic. A woman in love reasons that the timing was unfortunate, and she can succeed in a marriage where her predecessor has failed. Occasionally she's right.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (26 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212
