INFERNO — Flames soar several hundred feet in the air as a warehouse, crumpled by the explosion, flames up at the scene of an oil refinery fire here. At least four died in the blast at the Conoco Oil company facility 10 miles north east of Denver.

Leaking fumes cause explosion

DENVER (AP) — A series of thundering explosions ripped through a Continental Oil Co. refinery today, killing at least four persons and injuring at least 11 others, police said. Billowing fireballs rose over the white storage tanks of the refinery and bulk storage plant just northeast of Denver in Commerce City.

Several of the injured were hospitalized in serious or critical condition, and a Continental spokesman said damage could run to between $5 million and $10 million.

Robert Alexander, Continental's manager at the refinery and storage plant, said the initial explosion — heard throughout the Denver metropolitan area — was touched off by leaking flammable fumes. He said the source of the ignition was not known.

The Denver bomb squad was sent into the refinery area after the Adams County Sheriff's Department received a call from a man who said he was a Conoco employee and had placed a bomb near a storage tank.

However, police said no bomb was found.

Alexander said 13 men were working in the refinery when the blast occurred, at least nine of them in the area of the explosion. Some of the workers said they had noted leakage of fumes in the area before the blast, Alexander said.

State should help pay power bills for poor?

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — State government should help pay electric bills for the poor and elderly, the Public Utility Commission staff recommended today in a comprehensive report on Texas electric rates.

Another key recommendation was adoption of time-of-day electric rates that would price energy according to when it was used — similar to long distance phone charges.

The 266-page report culminated six months of research and three weeks of public hearings in June. The three-member utility commission will receive the staff report and can accept, reject or revise its recommendations for submission to the Texas Legislature in January.

The Legislature ordered the commission to study the general structure of electric rates in Texas. Pending federal energy legislation also would require state review of rising electric rates.

State human resource agencies could develop an energy assistance plan, the staff said. State funds would be channeled directly to utility companies.

A direct assistance program would help those most in need, the report said, while lifeline rates and energy stamps could aid middle income consumers. The energy payment program would require legislative approval.

"It will be expensive to implement, but the cost of subsidized electric rates could be substantial also," the report said. "A percentage of the poor would not be reached, but some would not be under most lifeline rates, also."

Lifeline rates are below-cost charges to cover a fixed amount of electricity and are aimed at helping low-income customers.

The staff said lifeline rates would force other utility customers to subsidize the lower rates and would not follow the commission's policy of cost-based rates.

Time-of-day pricing instead would be equitable to all consumer classes, the report continued.

HOMES FALL IN LANDSLIDE — Homes in a section of fashionable resort community of Laguna Beach, Calif., lies in bottom of ravine after a landslide early Monday sent them tumbling down a hillside. In all, 49 homes worth up to $300,000 were destroyed or damaged. Several people were injured and dozens of families were forced to flee their homes in nightclothes when the rumbling slide hit Blue Bird Canyon before dawn, authorities said.

Fat's in the fire, men

Portly police lard it over flabby firefighters

By BOB BURTON

What's blue, has 196 legs, 98 stomachs, draws a paycheck from the city for protecting 30,000 people, and weighs eight and one-half tons?

If you said the Big Spring fire and police departments, you were right on the numbers.

Averages taken in preliminary testing for an extensive fitness program reveal some heavyweight facts about our public servants. The average policeman stands five feet, six and one-half inches tall and weighs 236 pounds. This average includes three women in the 52 officers participating. The total body weight for the police department is 9,956 pounds, 2,573 pounds of which is "excess body fat," according to the YMCA. The heaviest officer weighs 305 pounds.

The fire department hardly fares better. The 46 officers total 7,735 pounds with no women participating. Excess body fat is estimated at 1,817 pounds. The average fireman stands five feet, eight inches tall and weighs 225 pounds.

The police department has pledged to lose 920 pounds in the fitness program, while the fire department has pledged 800 pounds.

Classes begin today at the YMCA with the full approval of Chiefs Stanley Bogard and Alvie Harrison.

Said Recreation Director Jerry Zambrano, "Our program is designed to produce fitness as well as loss of body weight. Probably 65 per cent of the officers we tested are below acceptable standards on their heart and lung exercise results. We hope to improve that."

IRS reports show

Income tax situation not any better

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there were such a thing as an average American taxpayer, he or she or they would have earned $13,263 last year and paid 13.7 percent of it in federal income taxes. That meant working the first seven weeks of the year just to come up with the $1,814 due Uncle Sam.

Those who earned less had to work a shorter time to pay their federal taxes and those who earned more had to work longer, sometimes a lot longer.

For example a person with an income of $50,000 or more a year probably owed at least 31.1 percent of it in federal taxes and was still working for the government when May 1 rolled around.

But there is no "average" taxpayer

— just millions and millions of ordinary people lumped into categories by Internal Revenue Service computers.

The IRS said Monday that on 85.2 million 1977 returns processed so far, taxpayers reported $1.13 trillion in adjusted gross income. Of that, $154.6 billion went for federal income taxes.

The income and tax of the "average" taxpayer — which could be a couple filing a joint return — is found by dividing the total income and total taxes paid by the total number of returns processed.

But since the report includes so many individuals with so many different factors affecting their lives and tax returns, the mythical average taxpayer does not fit precisely into some of these further breakdowns provided by the IRS report:

— Those 42 million taxpayers making under $10,000, by far the largest group, accounted for less than two-tenths percent of the total adjusted gross income reported and paid 5.9 percent of the taxes, or $9.2 billion. Paying 4.7 percent of their income in federal income taxes, they had to work about 2½ weeks to get the money.

— The 14.1 million taxpayers reporting from $10,000-$15,000 income accounted for 15.4 percent of total income and paid 10.6 percent of the taxes, or $16.5 billion. In a 9.4 percent bracket, it took them about five weeks to work out their taxes.

— The second largest group of returns, 27.7 million, was from taxpayers reporting $15,000 to $50,000 income. That broad and varied group loosely referred to as the middle-income level accounted for 57.5 percent of the income and paid 60.2 percent of the taxes, or $93.2 billion. In a 14.3 percent bracket, they had to work 7½ weeks or more to earn their federal taxes.

— Those 1.3 billion reporting income of $50,000 and over accounted for 15.4 percent of the income and paid 23 percent of the taxes, or $35.7 billion. In a 31.1 percent bracket, they had to work about 16 weeks to pay their taxes.

In 1976, the average taxpayer gave up about 13.5 percent of his income for income taxes, only slightly below the 1977 level of 13.7 percent.

Economic climate 'good'

Deposits in County's four banks record dip

Deposits in Howard County's four banks have dropped 3.2 per cent during the third quarter of the year but are up 6 per cent over a year ago.

Deposits totaled $125,671,064 at the close of business Sept. 30, 1978, compared to $129,776,395 for June 30, 1978, and $118,572,276 for Sept. 30, 1977.

The county's economic climate remains good, despite the drought which gripped the area much of the summer.

Loans, totalling $83,905,321, are up 1.2 per cent over the second quarter and 16.7 per cent over a year ago.

Deposits in all banks are up over a year ago and have increased by about 20 per cent at the Coahoma

State Bank. Bill Read, Coahoma State president, attributes the sizeable gain there to "hard work," he said.

The First National Bank remains Howard County's largest, with deposits totaling over $56 million and loans over $43.5 million.

Two of the county's banks — Coahoma State and State National of Big Spring — are planning moves.

Read said that Coahoma's new banking facility will probably be opened about Dec. 1. Work is progressing steadily on the State National's new quarters at Ninth and Main, with no target date for opening announced.

Action/reaction: Why here?

Q. I have checked up and down IS 20 and few towns, if any, charge a fee of any kind for police to escort funeral processions. When former President Gerald Ford visited here, no charge was made for the escort service there, was it? When parades take place, like those sponsored by the Brown Berets and the Rodeo Association, no escort fees are charged. Why should the bereaved be ripped off?

A. There were so many funerals that it was getting to the point that an assigned police car was used once or twice daily and taken off their regular beat. The police department heads asked the city council about it and they suggested charging and allowing off-duty police officers to conduct the escort. On-duty officers conduct parade escorts but there are only about four annually and close to 500 funerals a year. The department is in the process of doing a survey on other area cities and how they solve this problem.

Calendar: VFW meeting

TODAY
The Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet tonight at 7:30 in the VFW Hall on Driver Road.
Meeting of the Big Spring Association of Retarded Citizens will meet today at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center at 7:30 p.m.
Big Spring Squares, weekly lessons 8 p.m. at the Club House on Chaparral Road.

Tops on TV: Baseball, 'Carrie'

The annual battle to get into the World Series starts with the first game in the American League playoffs matching New York Yankees and Kansas City Royals at 7 p.m. on ABC. Or if you like chillers try the movie "Carrie" on CBS that will start terrifying at 8 p.m. on CBS.

Offbeat: Read on Read-a-Thon

Big Spring has had Bike-A-Thons, Tennis-Thons, and Rock-A-Thons to raise funds for charity, but the very first local Read-A-Thon is scheduled during the month of October.

The event is being held at Elbow Elementary, sponsored by the Elbow Home Demonstration Club. The funds raised go to Multiple Sclerosis, Permian Basin Chapter.

Children in grades one through five will be asking for donations for so much per book that they read during the month.

Purpose of the program is twofold — to raise funds for combating MS and to encourage more reading.

Court strikes down protection policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Workers who think they have a legal right to refuse tasks they believe too dangerous had better think again, the Supreme Court says.

The nation's highest court turned down government pleas Monday and left intact decisions barring the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration from protecting such workers.

A federal trial judge in Georgia and the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals have ruled that OSHA cannot bar employers from firing employees who refuse to do work they reasonably believe endangers life or limb.

The decisions cost ironworker Jimmy Simpson his job. Simpson was fired in 1974 after refusing to work during high winds on a high-rise building skeleton in Carrollton, Ga.

Because Simpson had not first notified OSHA officials, the federal courts ruled OSHA could not order Simpson's employer to reinstate him and pay back wages.

Government lawyers told the Supreme Court that such decisions leave workers "with the cruel choice between their safety and their job."

Now, if the Carter administration wants to augment OSHA's authority it will have to go to Congress in search of an amendment to the 1970 law that created the federal agency.

In a busy first day of its new term, the Supreme Court dealt also with death row appeals from six states.

The court once again called into question the validity of Arizona's capital punishment laws, but refused to disturb death sentences handed down in Arkansas and Utah.

down appeals from condemned murderers in Georgia, Nebraska and Florida which did not raise broad constitutional challenges.

In the Arizona case, the court set aside the death sentence given convicted murderer Ronald Bishop, and told the state Supreme Court to study the constitutionality of Arizona's laws in light of a decision last July in which the justices struck down similar laws in Ohio.

In other matters, the court: —Said it will decide whether police may stop motorists at random to check drivers' licenses and car registrations even when no wrongdoing is suspected.

—Agreed to decide in a case from Nebraska how far state parole boards must go in providing due-process rights to prison inmates seeking parole.

handed down 12 death sentences so far this year, including four in one week.

New wing of Death Row in Texas may be opened if prisoners mount HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Texas' Death Row is getting so crowded with prisoners condemned to die that correction officials say they may have to open up a new wing of Death Row.

"They're coming in hard and quick" said Department of Corrections spokesman Ron Taylor. "At some point we're going to have to open up a third cell block to house all these people."

But at the same time Taylor predicted Monday that Texas will begin carrying out executions next year for the first time in 14 years.

Taylor said there are now 100 persons in state custody who have been sentenced to die, "plus probably another dozen in county jails who have been sentenced but have not yet been transferred to us."

Taylor said some have been on Death Row for four years, and appeals are beginning to run out. Texas has not executed a prisoner since July 30, 1964, when convicted murder Joseph Johnson of Houston was electrocuted. The electric chair has been replaced by a method of execution yet to be used — lethal injection.

"It looks like there's a good possibility for an execution in 1979," Taylor said. "My guess is it will be late spring or early summer."

Texas houses its condemned prisoners in single-person cells in the Ellis Unit, about 18 miles north of here. If the trend continues, Ellis' Death Row stands to grow even more crowded before the executions start. Texas juries sentenced 17 persons to death in 1974, but sent 24 convicted killers to death row last year. Houston juries alone have

Congress finally curbs diplomatic immunity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Halla Brown was a professor of medicine at George Washington University in 1974 when a cultural attache at the Panamanian embassy ran a red light at a Washington intersection and smashed broadside into her auto.

The accident left Mrs. Brown paralyzed from the neck down. She spent the following 19 months in hospitals in New York and Washington. By the end of 1975, her hospital bills totaled more than $200,000.

The driver of the other car paid none of her costs. He faced no charges in court. He faced no penalty at all because he had diplomatic immunity.

Such incidents, long complained of but seldom as extreme as in Mrs. Brown's case, finally prodded Congress to pass legislation curbing diplomatic immunity for lower-ranking embassy personnel.

President Carter signed the bill Monday, meaning that in 90 days more than 10,000 foreign embassy workers, most of them in Washington and New York, will be subject to most of the same obligations as U.S. citizens.

"It means that many embassy employees will be subject to some of the same laws as you as citizens and responsible for their unofficial acts," said Rep. Joseph L. Fisher, D-Va., a sponsor of the bill.

Technically, the bill repeals a 1790 law that has governed diplomatic immunity virtually since the nation's independence. The repeal allows the United States to apply immunity provisions of the Vienna Convention of 1961 and brings U.S. laws in line with those of other countries.

The repeal is not total. Top-ranking diplomatic officials and their families, estimated at about 8,000 persons, still will have full immunity from civil or criminal prosecution, although they will for the first time have to carry automobile liability insurance.

Kerry Dumbaugh, a Fisher aide, said the measure provides varying levels of immunity to embassy employees.

The main impact of the bill will be on lower-ranking embassy employees, who for the first time will be liable for such things as parking tickets, leases and bad checks, in addition to damage suits, provided they're not acting in an official capacity. This group includes administrative and technical staff members and their immediate families, service staff and private servants.

They still will be immune from criminal prosecution, however, and the definition of "official action" in civil cases is unclear.

Fisher became involved with the bill after a 19-year-old highway worker was run down and killed by a Senegal Embassy limousine in his suburban Virginia district.

Sheriff refers shooting death to district attorney

GEORGETOWN, Texas (AP) — Sheriff Jim Boutwell says he plans to refer the shooting death of a Fort Hood soldier by deputies from a neighboring county to the district attorney for presentation to a grand jury.

But Boutwell said in his opinion the shooting death early Sunday of Spec. 4 David Samuel Fullington, 21, of Algonquin, Ill., was clearly justified.

He said deputies who fired at him mistook the glint of a metallic object near his hand for a gun. The glint came from handcuffs placed on Fullington when he was arrested earlier for drunken driving.

Boutwell said Fullington, who stole a state police car and went on a wild joyride before he was killed at a roadblock just inside the Williamson County line, was endangering lives.

He said the soldier must have been "on a spree" when he drove a stolen Department of Public Safety squad car across fences and over pastures, ramming one deputy's squad car and running several officers off the road.

"He crossed the center stripe, charging cars head-on, both police and civilian. I really don't know what else they could have done," said Boutwell. "They did everything they could to stop him. We're just lucky that some innocent people weren't killed."

Fullington was stopped for speeding and drunken driving on Texas 26 near Burnet about 2 a.m. in a car with three other soldiers. The DPS officer cuffed Fullington's hands behind his back, put him inside his squad car and went to search the other soldiers.

Boutwell said Fullington apparently sat on his hands and wiggled them under his legs so that his hands were in front, allowing him to drive off in the DPS car.

There appeared to be conflicting reports on the shooting when officers were questioned about it Sunday. Burnet County Sheriff Roy Hilliard said his deputies opened fire as Fullington crashed through the roadblock, while a DPS spokesman said officers fired on him only after he raised a hand and they saw what they believed to be a gun.

"As near as we can determine, both events happened," Boutwell said. "The officers did open fire on him in an attempt to stop the car" after it crashed through the roadblock, but apparently Fullington was not hit.

"There were numerous bullet holes in the stolen police vehicle, and deputies shot out a tire or two," Boutwell said. The car made it through the roadblock, but swerved off the road and ran into a fence.

"When officers approached, he put the car in reverse, and attempted to back away," Boutwell said. "He was ordered to halt. At that time he raised his hands to the top of the steering wheel. The officers saw a glint, which they assumed to be a weapon. As it turned out it was his handcuffs. Nevertheless they fired at that time, and Fullington was killed by a single bullet to the head."

"Losing Hair? Try This At No Risk"

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss...and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss...but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in the family," it is certainly not proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. If you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair...now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days—at their risk—if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail. ADV.

Coin honors founder of women's movement

NEW YORK (AP) — The man on the penny freed the slaves. The man on the nickel wrote the Declaration of Independence. On the dime is the man behind the New Deal, on the quarter the Father of His Country, on the half-dollar the man who asked what you could do for your country.

Now — quick — what do you know about the woman on the dollar?

Her name is Susan B. Anthony, she lived in the 19th Century, and she was instrumental in gaining women the right to vote. She didn't live to see the victory, but she spent a half-century fighting for the woman suffrage finally won with the 19th Amendment.

She is a hero to today's women's movement — was, in fact, there at the founding. Now Congress has approved putting her likeness on a new dollar coin, and President Carter is expected to sign the bill soon.

Her tactics were speaking, writing, gathering people in conventions, and, always, traveling — to the frontier and through the big cities and across the Atlantic. Her weapons were the podium, the printing press, the petition, and the quick retort to ridicule.

Some of her views might disappoint today's feminists as prim or cautious. But others would bring cheers from the most militant.

For at the same time, she was an abolitionist, a Quakerborn spinster who advocated temperance, a crusader for the rights of women to hold property and to work for a fair wage. She defended the sanctity of marriage and frowned on "promiscuity," but crusaded to change the institution of marriage and make it fair to women.

In her day, she was famous for her stern expression, her tightly combed gray hair, her long, dark dresses, her ever-present red shawl — and her single-minded determination to advance her cause.

Often, she was criticized as a radical who went too far.

After the Civil War, she made enemies of former allies among the abolitionists, by insisting that if women did not gain the right to vote, then freed black men should not be enfranchised either.

She called her newspaper "The Revolution" and in 1872, she tried to test the law by voting in Rochester, N.Y. She became a cause celebre when she was arrested, tried and convicted — but not sent to jail, thus thwarting an appeal.

Miss Anthony was born in rural Adams, Mass., in 1820, and lived later near Albany, N.Y., Rochester and New York City.

When she was young, a man didn't need a wife's consent to apprentice away their child, and her wages legally had to be paid to him.

When she died on March 13, 1906, many things had changed. Women were voting in Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho and Utah; marriage and property laws were changing; younger women were there to take the reins.

And women would finally get the right to vote nationwide in 1920.

So now Susan B. Anthony takes her place beside Lincoln on the penny, Jefferson on the nickel, Franklin D. Roosevelt on the dime, Washington on the quarter, Kennedy on the half-dollar — a complex woman with a single purpose.

Early Big Spring resident celebrates 80th birthday

A surprise birthday dinner and party honored Ruth Carter Allen on her 80th birthday Sept. 11. The party was hosted by her children at her home.

All four of Mrs. Allen's children were present for the occasion. They are Nathan Allen Jr. of Graham, Edith Fuqua of Colorado City, and Doris Sanders and Jo Carlile of Big Spring.

Mrs. Allen is the daughter of a pioneer ranch family, the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe G.

Carter Sr. of Glasscock County. In 1914, her parents built a home on Gregg Street and moved to Big Spring so their children could attend school. The couple were one of the first subscribers of the first newspaper published in Big Spring.

Who's a fella to believe?

By Robert Wallace Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 13 and confused. I'm a boy who has just become interested in girls and I am going steady with one who goes to my church and school. I love and care for her very much.

Last week several of her friends came up to me and said she was saying bad things behind my back. I asked my girlfriend about this and she said she cares for me and she never said anything bad about me.

Who should I believe? I can't make up my mind. — Bob, Seattle, Wash.

Bob: Believe your girlfriend.

owns a bike. What should I do? — Donna, Columbus, Ohio

Donna: If the time comes when a "biker" who also drives a car asks you out, have the young man meet with your dad and promise to never have you on his two-wheeler. Then both of you keep the promise.

Write to Dr. Wallace, TWEEN 12 and 20, in care of this newspaper. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Local artist selected to enter circuit show

Becky Smiley, Howard College art instructor, received recognition for her talent at the Big Country Art Association's Regional Meeting of Texas Fine Art Association in San Angelo on Saturday.

One of Ms. Smiley's paintings was selected to be entered in the circuit art show which will be held in Big Spring in December. The painting was one of 300 entered in the show by artists throughout the area.

Another local artist, Martha Conway, netted some good results at the show. Her talent was recognized through the sale of a painting.

An art demonstration was given by Charles Pruitt of Midland.

Dear Abby

State Tough On Teen Marriages

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the 15-year-old girl who is begging her mother to let her get married. In some states, the decision to allow teenagers to marry does not lie with the parents.

For example, in the state of Washington, no child under the age of 17 may marry with or without parental consent without a court's permission. Kids between 17 and 18 require permission. After 18, they require only a witness.

In one case, a 15-year-old girl was pregnant by a 17-year-old boy. Both his family and hers tried to get the judge to let them get married. At first he refused because he talked to the kids and didn't think they were sufficiently "sincere." Only after they attended several months of counseling did the judge feel they were ready for marriage, after which he gave his consent.

Another case: A 16-year-old girl asked for permission to get married because she was pregnant. The judge refused, saying that wasn't a good enough reason. The girl had her baby, waited until her 18th birthday, and then got married.

Many parents feel it is their right to give or withhold permission to marry, but the state of Washington says differently.

B. IN SNOHOMISH, WASH.

DEAR B.: At first I thought someone was giving me a "Snoho" job, but a call to a Washington lawyer confirmed your facts. Thanks for the information.

DEAR ABBY: I have a suggestion for people who would like to leave their worldly goods to favorite relatives and special friends.

DO NOT write: "I want Sister Diane to have the gold brooch I got from Aunt Sophie." DO WRITE: "I want my sister Diane to have my 14 kt. gold brooch in the shape of an owl with diamond eyes." (If you have more than one gold brooch, no one may remember which one your Aunt Sophie gave you for your 16th birthday 55 years ago.)

Or, better still, if you don't have one of those instant cameras, borrow one and take a picture of every valuable item you own — and write the name of the person you want to have it on the back of the picture.

That way there will be no misunderstanding.

MRS. M. IN L.A.

DEAR MRS. M.: Good idea, but very few people are prepared to accept the fact that they can't take it with them — or indeed, that they are even going!

DEAR ABBY: Several years ago we wanted a third child. We joyously welcomed a 3-year-old child into our existing family. My husband, our social worker and I were certain the adoption would be a happy one. It wasn't.

I still feel the pain of the six months that child was with us. So much had happened in her little life that the adjustment could not be made. At the time of our anguish, I read every book and article I could find about adoption. No one mentioned the pitfalls or even the possibility of an unsuccessful adoption — only the glowing accounts of the "happily-ever-after" successful adoptions.

I have been tempted to publish the story of our failure, but I hesitate because I don't want to discourage others from adopting children who desperately need a loving home.

One of the most difficult things we had to deal with was a problem no one mentioned — the sexually abused child. As I write this I can still hear the child's screams as my loving husband tried to hold her. We finally understood when she told us in detail how "that bad man" had hurt her.

We had hoped that our patience, kindness and love would help. Perhaps it did — but not enough.

YANKEES TAKE TITLE — New York Yankees Graig Nettles embraces relief pitcher Rich Gossage after they defeated the Boston Red Sox 5-4 to win the American League East title in a playoff game Monday at Fenway Park.

In Fenway drama Yankees dent Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — Reggie Jackson, still in full uniform with No. 44 on his back, walked into the Boston Red Sox clubhouse, carrying a bat in one hand and a can of beer in the other. Jackson, the New York Yankees' millionaire slugger, was a gracious winner Monday after 162 games in which they built a 99-63 record identical to Boston's, the Yankees hung on for a 5-4 victory over the Red Sox in a one-game playoff, just the second tiebreaker in American League history.

"You guys could have done just what we did," Jackson told the Red Sox. "I didn't think my homer would end up being the winning run. I didn't want it to be the winner, not with us ahead 5-2.

Royals await Yankees again

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals and New York Yankees, who've traveled this road before, meet in the opening game of the American League championship series tonight, marking this year the third in a row that these teams have battled in the pennant playoff.

Redskins raid Cowboys

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was, according to Washington defensive captain Diron Talbert, a matter of shutting down the National Football League's No. 1 offense, and especially the NFC's leading rusher, Tony Dorsett.

Talbert remembered, when reminded, that the Cowboys were the top scoring team in the NFL. "But basically, we pursued Dorsett and we tackled him. We stopped his long runs."

"It was kind of sloppy," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "We have no excuses. We just didn't put it in there."

COWBOYS STOPPED — Dallas Cowboy Tony Dorsett (33) takes a hard shot in football action between the Washington Redskins and the Dallas Cowboys Monday night in Washington. Hitting Dorsett is Redskins Harold McLinton (53) top of picture.

The Redskins won their fifth straight game against no losses before a sellout crowd, including President Carter, taking a two-game lead in the NFC East on Mark Moseley's field goals of 52, 42 and 27 yards. Dallas, the defending Super Bowl champion, is now 3-2.

Two weeks have now gone by in the Pee Wee Football League, and already things are tightening up. Saturday the Cowden Cowboys shut out the Tomco Packers 14-0. The defending league champs displayed a stingy defense throughout the contest to win handily. Leo Williams' Cowboys are now 1-0-1. The loss was the season opener for Bob Schooler's Pack.

second half Dolphin quarterback, Tommy Gartman, turned right end and scampered 50-yds. Untouched for the tieing T.D. Gartman climaxed the day's scoring when he plowed into the end zone for the 2-pt. conversion. After Saturday's game the Dolphins stand 1-0-1 while the Bulldogs record is 0-3-0.

Washington Redskins kicker Mark Moseley (3) kicks one of the three field goals that accounted for the total nine points that Washington scored to beat the Dallas Cowboys Monday night in Washington. Shown attempting to block the kick is Cowboys Thomas Henderson (56).

Booster Club cancelled tonight

The Big Spring Booster Club will not meet tonight. The club which normally meets at 7:30 on Tuesday night, will not convene because the Steer football team did not play the past weekend. A regular meeting will take place again next Tuesday, the tenth of October at the regular time.

Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach threw what the Cowboys thought was a completed pass to Drew Pearson near the goal line, but the official ruled it out of bounds.

"I thought I caught the ball," said Pearson. "I caught the ball on the shoulder pad and got hit by (Redskin cornerback Joe) Lavender. He hit me and then I was sent out of bounds. I thought I saw an official say it was good and then another official overruled him. That's the way it goes."

From Oilers Shipp resigns post

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers offensive coordinator Ken Shipp, one week after an argument with starting quarterback Dan Pastorini and having some of his responsibilities assumed by head coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips, has resigned.

offensive planning. "King (Hill) will handle the passing game, (Joe) Bugel will handle the runs and I'll oversee the whole thing," Phillips said.

Shipp, who prefers a more conservative, ground-oriented style, often had a different philosophy from Pastorini, who likes to throw game-breaking bombs to wide receiver Ken Burrough.

"I hate to see it because he is a good football man and I am the one who hired him," Phillips said. "But the way he feels, he thinks it would be the best for all concerned for him to step aside."

Pastorini stalked out of practice last Tuesday after Shipp had criticized his play calling in a 10-6 loss to Los Angeles. Pastorini returned Wednesday but Phillips announced he would take a more active role in the Oilers' offensive game plan.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 4, 1978

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have good ideas that could result in more income. But the evening finds a sudden and dramatic condition happening that requires that you maintain calm and poise or trouble follows.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is best time to handle credit and business affairs since later you are apt to be confused. Have a good talk with one who is close to you. Come to a better understanding.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Talking affairs over with associates yields fine benefits now. A civic affair is working out to your benefit, but don't spoil it by wrong action.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Schedule your work early and get fine results. Be more cooperative with co-workers. Think along more constructive lines. Don't neglect health problems.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan recreation arrangements early so that all goes well later. You can take a chance during daytime hours that would not be advisable later in the evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be patient and tactful with those at home and get fine results. Avoid strife there, especially in the evening. Give your undivided attention to a business venture that interests you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Discuss mutual ventures with groups that are amenable to your ideas. Plan how to best handle reports and important documents.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be more accurate in your plans for the future. Be cautious in making plans for improving your property.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan how to make conditions around you more pleasant and right and get to work at it. Do some entertaining that can bring new and worthwhile friends into your life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan the future more wisely, whether alone or with the aid of an adviser and live a richer life. Talk ideas over with loved ones.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Look to a clever friend for right answers to problems, then work on reports, statements. Being gregarious during the day is best, but enjoy solitude later in the evening.

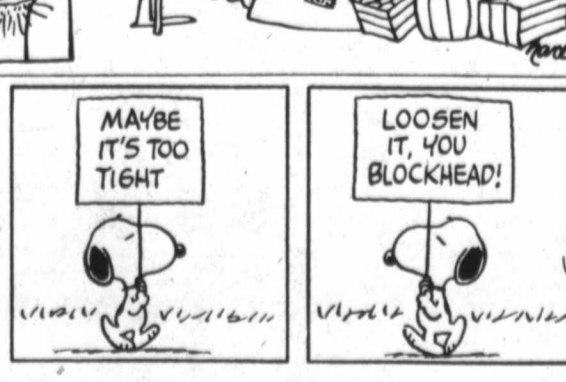

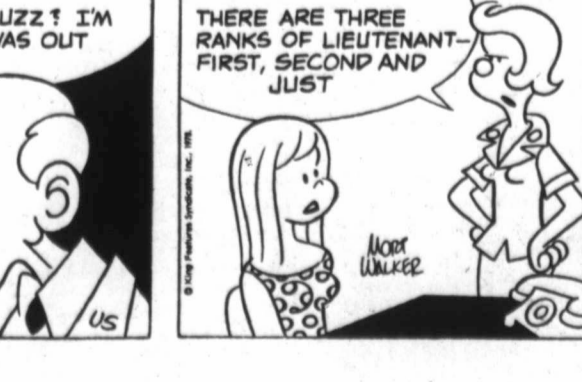

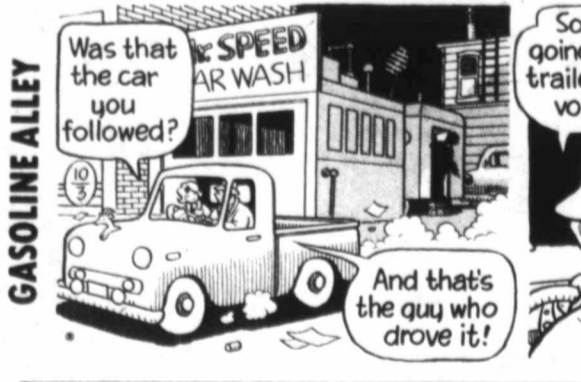

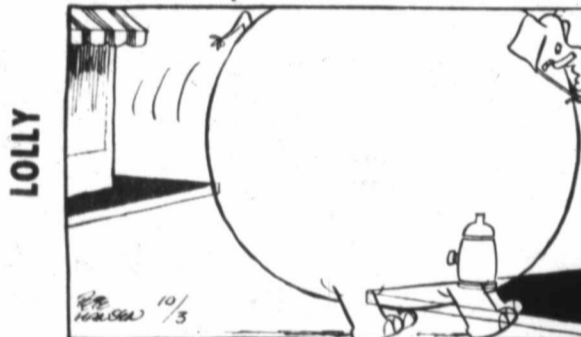

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Seek the approval of bigwigs and put your finest talents to work properly. Get involved in civic work that can be helpful to you and to others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Look into a new outlet that can help you to grow and advance, but be sure it is one that has proved itself. Plan that trip you want to take, also. Contact local allies.

Steer netters sweep matches

The Big Spring tennis team combined to win two matches in action last Saturday.

The Steers beat always tough Andrews by a combined score of 12-6. The boys carried the load in this match, winning eight of nine matches, with the girls winning four of nine.

The girls outscored Fort Stockton by a score of seven to two in the other matches to lead the Steers to a 10-8 victory over the Panthers.

Coach Wendell Sadler was happy with his netters, but noted a need for improvement. "We played a lot of good tennis on Saturday and really came through with some impressive matches. However, again Ft. Stockton we were beginning to tire a bit and that equalized many matches.

Twins owner's comments Kuhn asked to investigate

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn has been asked to investigate allegedly racist remarks made by Minnesota Twins owner Calvin Griffith in Waseca, Minn., last week.

The 66-year-old Griffith triggered a storm of protest with his off-the-cuff comments on blacks, sex and salaries at a meeting of the Waseca Lion's club.

The Minneapolis and St. Paul Urban League chapters Monday asked Kuhn to investigate the remarks. The chapters suggested that "maybe next season the Minnesota Twins play in an appropriate place where Calvin Griffith will be appreciated, which could be called the Johannesburg Twins. We would suggest that he and South Africa were made for each other."

In his talk at Waseca, Griffith reportedly said that "Twins slugger Rod Carew was a 'damn fool' for signing a contract for $170,000, that catcher Butch Wynegar's performance suffered because he got married and that he moved the Twins from Washington, D.C. to Minnesota in 1971 when he found 'you only have 15,000 blacks here.'"

After learning of the comments, which were published in the Minneapolis Tribune Sunday, Carew vowed never again to play for the Twins.

Griffith said he would try to explain his remarks to Carew and other players who were offended. He said his comments were misinterpreted and made in jest. Griffith added he is confident he can "get the people's minds straightened out" about the statements.

One of the two black members of the Minnesota Legislature, Rep. Ray Pleasant of Bloomington, has demanded that organized baseball reprimand Griffith and apologize to the area.

Pleasant mailed a clipping of the news story to Kuhn and American League President Lee MacPhail.

Assuming Griffith's quoted comments are true, Pleasant said, Griffith and his baseball organization "are no longer welcome in Minnesota."

"It goes without saying that we anticipate some kind of reprimand from the baseball industry," Pleasant wrote to Kuhn and MacPhail.

Pleasant also suggested that the people of the area "deserve a replacement franchise."

The Twins office was swamped with phone calls complaining about Griffith's remarks Monday.

However, Griffith received support in Waseca from Lion's president Ken Lenz. Lenz said the comments were taken "out of context."

"It was said in jest, without malice and certainly not bigoted," Lenz said. "I wasn't offended by it and don't know anyone who was."

Homer Rice new Bengal coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Homer Rice, a newcomer to pro football but not to its wide-open style, is head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals today, five months after joining the National Football League club.

The 51-year-old Rice was a surprise choice Monday as a replacement for Bill "Tiger" Johnson, who resigned under pressure less than 24 hours after the winless Bengals suffered their fifth straight defeat.

Rice, who 10 years ago turned down an offer to become head coach at the University of Oklahoma when Jim McKenzie died, was selected over two former NFL head coaches Mike McCormack and Charley Winner.

He is under contract to coach the remainder of the season. Johnson, under fire as the Bengals staggered to their worst start ever, departed after a Monday morning meeting with general manager Paul Brown.

"We mutually agreed that something had to be done," said Brown, in a prepared release.

Rice said one of his first priorities is to "bring the troops back together."

The Bengals, who suffered a humiliating 28-12 loss Sunday to previously winless San Francisco, have lost six straight games over two seasons — one shy of the club's longest losing streak.

Johnson, 52, was in the final year of a three-year contract after succeeding Brown, an NFL and college coaching legend. Johnson, a former All-Pro center with the 49ers, had served as Brown's top assistant for nine years. He finished with an 18-15 record in the NFL.

Brown said Johnson "is a fine, proud man and he put the welfare of the club first and agreed that a change could help our situation."

Johnson, after inheriting an 11-3 team that Brown took the playoffs in his final season (1975), saw the club slip to 10-4 in 1976 and 8-6 last year after being touted as a Super Bowl challenger. His failure to take the team to the playoffs triggered mounting fan criticism.

Runnels fers win again

The Runnels Yearlings of coach Jane Upton won their sixth consecutive victory of an undefeated year last night when they defeated Andrews by a score of 15-6, 15-12.

Melody Choate and Amy Ragan each had seven points for the victors. Coach Upton had praise for the net play of Teresa Alexander and Shauni Woodridge.

Runnels will try to improve on their unblemished record when they participate in the Denver City Tournament this weekend. They will open play at 11:00 Saturday morning against Andrews.

SHARING SOUTH TEXAS MEMORIES with Johnny Rodriguez

Remember the Silver Dollar bar and the Purple Cow in Bandera? Remember how people used to fall down the stairs there? Remember where everybody waded in the creek at Concan?

Johnny Rodriguez, recording artist and singing star, was laughing with this column writer as we compared South Texas memories.

Employ Handicapped Week observance is urged

He said his first guitar was "a little dime store plastic job and I went around plunking and singing." Even today, Johnny — when he is accompanying himself with the guitar — sings a little stronger than when he was walking around the floor of the room with a portable microphone.

No sales tax for TESCO residential customers

Residential customers of Texas Electric Service Company will not have to pay state sales tax on electricity beginning next month because of tax reform measures passed by the Texas Legislature last summer.

The 4 per cent state sales tax on residential gas and electric bills was repealed during a special session of the 65th Texas Legislature.
