Clements, Tower win by thin margin

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas oilman Bill Clements was elected Tuesday as the first Republican governor in Texas in more than 100 years and veteran John Tower, also a Republican, claimed a similar thin victory over U.S. Rep. Robert Krueger in the U.S. Senate race.

The latest unofficial returns from 250 of 254 counties, with 203 complete, showed Clements with 1,154,848 votes and Hill with 1,134,848.

A spokesman for Hill, in Austin, said Hill would have no immediate statement. But the spokesman conceded the 20,000-vote gap would be difficult to surmount with the remaining, outstanding ballots.

Tabulation was complete in all of the most populous counties. Tower, facing his most serious challenge since election in 1961 to replace Lyndon B. Johnson in the Senate, edged Krueger, a Shakespearean scholar and two-term congressman.

The latest unofficial returns from 250 of 254 counties, with 203 complete, had Tower with 1,122,401 votes and Krueger with 1,105,416 ballots.

Texas solidly lined up behind a so-called "tax relief" amendment, the product of a special summer legislative session. Although voters favored the proposal by as much as a nine-to-one margin early in the evening, the ratio shrank closer to five-to-one by morning.

Five of the eight other amendments on the ballot were early winners. Republicans took advantage of their healthy totals in the major races to add at least one new seat to their numbers in Texas' 24-member congressional delegation.

The GOP gains, however, did not include a win by George W. Bush of Midland in a key West Texas race to succeed retiring Democrat George Mahon. The 32-year-old son of former CIA director George Bush conceded before midnight to Democrat Kent Hance, 35, of Lubbock.

Hance, a state senator and West Texas native, charged the Connecticut-born Bush was an outsider.

The retirement of Mahon, 77, the dean of the U.S. House, caused one of eight vacancies in the state's 24-member delegation. The turnover guaranteed that Texas would send the most freshmen to the House since 1896, when it elected 10 newcomers.

Clear, autumn weather attracted more Texans than expected to the polls. Political forecasters said a heavier turnout would benefit Democrats in the Lone Star state, where the GOP maintained a low profile until recent years — Clements' election would mean the first Republican governor in more than a century. The forecasters perhaps did not bank on the heat of the two major races. Personalities became more important than issues.

In the fight to occupy the governor's mansion, Clements hollered "dirty tricks" while Hill charged his opponent did not have enough experience in government.

The Senate race generated enough hostility to cause Tower to decline a handshake with his opponent at a well-photographed Houston luncheon. Charges and countercharges of what actions became a "gentleman" flew fast and furiously.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a Democrat from a prominent Houston publishing family, rolled up a quick and substantial lead over commodities broker Gaylor Marshall.

Democrat Mark White, former secretary of state, took a thinner edge in his bid to succeed Hill as attorney general. His opponent, Republican Jim Baker, would not concede easily.

Incumbent John Poerner chalked up a victory for the Democratic ledger in his bid for an unexpired Railroad Commission term. His lead over Republican James Lacy was unshakable.

Mack Wallace, a railroad commissioner, and State Treasurer Warren Harding faced only token opposition.

Returned to office unopposed were Comptroller Bob Bullock, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown and Land Office Commissioner Bob Armstrong.

State Supreme Courts went without opposition to Democrats Joe Greenhill, Franklin Spears, Sam Johnson, Charles Barrow and Robert Campbell. Appeals court justices unopposed for election were Wendell Odom, Sam Clinton and W.C. Davis.

Stenholm captures 17th seat

Charles Stenholm, 40-year-old Jones County farmer, is going to Washington as the Congressman for the 17th District, winning by a decisive 66,936 to 31,256 vote.

Howard County followed the trend with every box going for Stenholm. Every one of the 33 counties also went to the Stamford farmer.

This is history for the 17th District because they have had the same Congressman, Omar Bursleson, for 32 years. He also was 40 and from Jones County when he first went to Washington as Congressman for the 17th District.

"I am overwhelmed," Stenholm said Tuesday night as the votes began to pour into his headquarters. The first four absentee boxes showed the Abilene box with a slim lead for Fisher and the others heavy for Stenholm.

The first absentees reported included Taylor, Jones, Fisher and Howard counties. Later, when he had gone to St. Ann's Parish Hall for a victory party, he learned that he captured every box in Howard County.

"I am so grateful to the voters and to my workers over there," he said, "Tell them Cindy and I say thank you."

Stenholm continued, "I have appreciated the tremendous amount of help and the overwhelming support of this district. I now will get about the job of trying to be the Congressman they elected."

In most of his district, the vote was more heavily Democrat than in many parts of the state. But not so in Howard County where Stenholm led handily, but Bill Clements and John Tower also led the ticket.

Bill Fisher, who refused to give up early in the evening at his headquarters in Abilene, even though the Stenholm group was already celebrating, conceded around 11 p.m.

The only time Fisher was ahead in the race was right after the polls closed and Taylor County announced its absentee vote which was 725 for Fisher and 706 for Stenholm.

That was the last thing they had to cheer about as the evening progressed. Rural areas went heavy for Stenholm, with some as high as 4-1. Big Spring, which Fisher had worked hard for, was more than 2-1 for Stenholm.

Stenholm had worked at it more months and his name was better known. He had worked hard in a primary campaign and a primary runoff before Fisher really got his campaign into high gear.

One Republican said Tuesday night in Big Spring, "It might have been better if the GOP had opposition in the primary. It would have made their candidate better known."

As it turned out, Stenholm's toughest race was in the Democratic primary when he came in second among eight candidates. He overwhelmingly defeated Dusty Rhodes in the runoff and it had been anticipated that the race would be extremely close.

Stenholm also talked by telephone Tuesday night with his local chairmen, Frog Koger and Clyde McMahon as well as Jim Baum, who ran third in the original primary and later endorsed Stenholm.

Stenholm and John Poerner and Mack Wallace, running for railroad commissioners, along with Bill Hobby, Democrat candidate for lieutenant governor carried every box in Howard County.

Republicans make history

By MARJ CARPENTER
For the first time in Howard County history, voters backed a Republican candidate for governor when they polled 3,597 votes for Clements in comparison to 2,676 for John Hill, Democrat and Attorney General of Texas.

Statewide, the gubernatorial hopeful also still held a lead over Hill with one county yet to be counted. The vote in the governor's race is the one by which political parties determine the number of county delegates to the State Party Conventions. Local Republicans gained strength and local democrats lost strength in the tabulations here Tuesday.

Margaret Ray paces ticket

Margaret Ray, county clerk for Howard County, led in number of votes for uncontested candidates in the election here Tuesday.

She polled 5,207 out of a possible 6,506. Many uncontested candidates did not fare this well.

Peggy Crittenden, district clerk, was up high with 5,151 and Bonnie Franklin, treasurer had 5,090.

Jim Gregg, the newly elected District judge and C.R. Crim, county surveyor had an identical 4,960. Mike Ezzell, state representative, was listening from a hospital bed where he is suffering from a virus. He polled 5,084 in this county. State Senator Ray Farabee had 5,081.

County Judge Bill Tune totaled 4,840 and Lewis Hefflin, Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, Place 2 had 4,044. Lulu Adams had 577 for J.P., precinct 2. Robert C. Smith had 3,819 for constable, precinct 1, unexpired term.

David Barr had 1,174 for commissioners, precinct 4 and Paul Allen 1,886 for commissioner, precinct 2.

Bob Dickenson, associate justice, Court of Civil Appeals, 11th district, unexpired term, received 4,801.

Republican chairman, stayed at the county clerks office until the votes were in and left with a big smile.

For Congress, Howard County joined District 17 in backing the Democrat, Charles W. Stenholm with 4,344. Bill Fisher, Republican, had 1,961.

Howard County also backed Senator John Tower with 3,225 as opposed to 2,999 for Democrat Bob Krueger. Louis DeLeon had 95 and Miguel Pendas had nine votes in the county.

For lieutenant governor, Bill Hobby, Democrat, had an overwhelming 4,455 and Gaylor Marshall, Republican collected 783 with Andrea Doorack with 28. This race has already been conceded to Hobby.

Mark White led in Howard County and won in the state, the post for attorney general. In Howard County, the Democrat candidate collected 3,357 as against 2,954 for Jim Baker Republican with Agnes Chapa getting 43 votes.

Big Spring and Howard County backed John H. Poerner of Hondo, the Democrat candidate for the unexpired term for railroad commissioner over their neighbor, Jim Lacy, of Midland, Republican candidate.

The total vote was 4,005 for Poerner and 2,149 for Lacy. They also voted strongly for Mark Wallace, Democrat over the Socialist Party candidate, Jana Pelusch. The county was 5,269 to 112.

Another Democrat voted favorably by Howard Counts was the man with his name on their registration card.

Mark White, the secretary of state who signed the voter registration cards, led the ticket in Howard County for attorney general with 3,357 votes over Jim Baker, Republican with 2,954. He was also leading statewide. Agnes Chopa had 43 votes.

In the state treasurer race, Warren Hardin polled 5,370 in the county with Derrick Adams, Socialist with 145.

Reagan Brown, uncontested for commissioner of agriculture polled 5,022 with Bob Armstrong collecting 4,088 for commissioner of the general land office and Bob Bullock had 4,927 for comptroller of public accounts.

KENT HANCE

Hance wins 19th District election

Along about midnight, George Bush Jr. of Midland conceded defeat to Kent Hance of Lubbock for the 19th Congressional seat vacated by the House Dean George Mahon.

The race was close and when the Midland and Ector county vote came in and early Lubbock returns showed the vote split, Bush had early hopes for victory.

But as the final Lubbock tally came across the boards, the race swung to Hance.

The total today with three small boxes out was 52,890 for Hance, former state senator and 46,922 for Bush.

Replacing Hance in his state senator post was E.L. Short of Tohoka, who won in the Primary and defeated a Republican candidate in Tuesday's election.

Short was a former state representative.

Hance said today, "There were two main factors in our victory. One was the fact that I had prior experience and the other was the large organization of volunteers that helped me overcome the big media blitz and dollars poured into my opponent's race. I want to thank everybody that helped me in this campaign."

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Walk talk

Q. Doesn't the average person use his legs more than he or she realizes?

A. That's true. All of us perhaps should walk more than we do but in a year's time each of us will hike a distance equivalent to that between New York and Los Angeles. And housewives walk a great deal more than that.

Calendar: Dinner theatre

TODAY
Dinner theatre, Student Union Building, Howard College. Production is "Angel Street," directed by John Gordon. Tickets, $6 person.

THURSDAY
Big Spring school trustees will meet at 5:15 p.m. and appoint a local textbook committee.
College Heights PTA is conducting a sale of cards, stationery and gifts in the main lobby of the school from 8 a.m. until 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. to 3:15 p.m.

Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society, 12 noon, Brass Nail Restaurant.

Tops on TV: 'First you cry'

That hunk, Nick Nolte, makes an appearance tonight in the NBC offering "Return to Macon County." Nolte and Don Johnson play racing enthusiasts who run into some trouble when they travel through rural Georgia on the way to a competition. Nick competes with Mary Tyler Moore in a rare dramatic appearance as newswoman Betty Rollins, who wrote a bestselling book about her bout with breast cancer. The movie is "First You Cry" on CBS. Both begin at 8 p.m.

Offbeat: Box 13 Knott funny

"Box 13 is the last one in," somebody hollered out in the county clerk's office Tuesday night.

Not only is Box 13 the number of the questionable box in Duval years ago in the Lyndon Johnson-Coke Stevenson race for the Senate, it also is Knott, the home town of the "famous" triplets Franklin, Delano and Roosevelt Shaws as well as brother Larry, strong Democrats.

The Shaws chuckled as they posted the final box. Box 13, like nearly every other box in the county had gone for two Republicans, John Tower and Bill Clements.

In Box 13, Bill Clements beat John Hill 35-33 with Mario Compean getting two votes. In the Senate race, Tower posted 37, Bob Krueger, 30 and Lous DeLeon, 4.

"Oh well, we won't have to bring in the Rangers," quipped Larry Shaw, election judge for Box 13.

Texas echoes cry of voters elsewhere

DALLAS (AP) — Texas voters echoed the cry disgruntled taxpayers everywhere Tuesday. They overwhelmingly approved the so-called "Tax Relief Amendment" and sent a message to Austin that they too feel overburdened by taxes.

"When the Legislature convenes in January, its members will bring with them the message that Texans demand wise use of their tax dollars and a policy of fiscal responsibility," Gov. Dolph Briscoe said Tuesday night.

Voters also stitched six additional amendments to the patchwork fabric of state law that already had been revised 266 times.

One of the nine proposed changes, Proposition 2, to the state's 102-year-old state Constitution failed to meet voter approval Tuesday. And Propositions 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

serve the government," said Dohlen.

However, State Rep. John Bryant of Dallas said he favors tax relief but opposed the amendment because it will not provide that relief.

"People want tax relief. But when they put it on the ballot and it's not tax relief but they call it tax relief anyway, people are going to vote for it," said Bryant.

The eight propositions on Tuesday's ballot were left over from 15 proposed amendments proposed by the 1977 Legislature. Five of the first seven offered were approved in November 1977.

About a million and a half voters cast ballots on the tax amendment and the other eight proposals.

Proposition 1, which marched to passage with a better than two-to-one margin, encourages state purchases from the handicapped and removes competitive bidding requirements for those purchases.

Voter rejected Proposition 2, which would have granted cities and other political subdivisions authority to issue revenue bonds to build facilities to attract industry. The bonds would have been retired by selling or leasing the facilities.

Proposition three, which appeared doomed in returns early today, would have given cities power to issue tax increment bonds for redeveloping blighted areas. The bonds would have been retired by taxing the increased values of redeveloped property.

The fourth proposition, approved by a margin of slightly less than two-to-one in Wednesday returns, exempts solar and wind power energy devices from taxation.

Of the six propositions passed, No. 5 had the narrowest margin of approval. It extends the jurisdiction of justice of the peace courts from $200 to $500 and allows the Legislature to expand it to $1,000.

Voters easily passed Proposition 6, which allows the Legislature to enlarge the size of the present 14 three-judge state courts of civil appeals.

Proposition 7 also passed by a wide margin. That amendment abolishes the State Building Commission and building fund. The Legislature already has

State Rep. Tim Van Dohlen of Goliad, the author of the tax amendment, hailed passage of the package. "I think it indicates a real public concern about the size of government. I think it shows a desire of people for government to serve the people and not for people to

Burglaries dip, thefts climbing in Big Spring

Burglaries were down, but thefts were up in Big Spring during the month of October, according to figures released by the police department today.

Only 60 burglaries were reported during the month, compared to 69 for September. Thefts, however, rose by 31 per cent, from 40 to 58.

One robbery occurred in October, compared to none during the previous month. Auto thefts rose from 15 to 16.

Assaults were down for the month, from 17 in September to 16 in October.

All in all, the total case load dropped by nine per cent. Clearance of cases increased from 66 per cent in September to 70 per cent during October.

The average case per detective was lightened from 33.57 to 31.28.

Howard County voters beg for tax relief

Howard County voters joined the rest of the state in begging for tax relief with 4,561 for and 970 against.

In Amendment 1, Howard County voted 3,879 for and 1,229 against deleting the reference to deaf and dumb asylum.

In a close vote, Howard County voted against political subdivisions issuing revenue bonds 2,706 against and 2,420 for. This was backed by the local Chamber of Commerce. In a resounding against, they voted 3,231 nos and 1,940 for the towns issuing bonds for lighted areas.

Howard County voted for the amendments four through eight with vote totals of 3,386 to 1,790 for solar-wind powered energy devices; 3,067 to 2,436 for justices of the peace over civil cases; 3,192 to 1,869 for increasing the number of justices for the court of civil appeals; 3,068 to 1,892 for the repeal of the state building commission and fund and 3,578 to 1,574 for bonds for fire-fighting purposes.

Three couples gathered at the Liberty National Bank in Lovington, N.M., recently to help Mr. and Mrs. Al Strawn of Lovington celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

The four couples all had several things in common. All had been married half a century or more. The four women were all sisters and all had been residents of Big Spring at one time.

The other couples were Mrs. J.H. Irion, Hobbs, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sullivan, Big Spring; and Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Bond, Eunice, N.M.

The Irions were the first to marry in 1922. The Sullivans walked up the aisle the following year. The Bonds took their vows in 1924. The Strawns were wed in 1928 in Midland.

The four women were the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. L.M. Bradshaw. A one-time manager of the Burton-Lingo Lumber Company in Midland, the patriarch of the family died in 1953. His wife, Lizzie, succumbed in 1958. Both are buried in Trinity Memorial Park here.

Seven girls and two boys were born to the L.M. Bradshaw family. The oldest boy was M.C. Bradshaw, who died in 1968 in New Jersey. The youngest boy was W.B. Bradshaw, who now resides in Bay Cliff, Tex.

Two other sisters, Pyle Bradshaw of Big Spring, and Mrs. S.A. Waits, Roswell, are still living. The other sister was Mrs. H.W. (Lena Mae) Goodpastor of Weslaco, who succumbed in 1952.

While the family was residing in Midland, Tot Bradshaw returned to Big Spring to study the art of photography under the tutelage of the late George W. Miller. Tot and Pyle later started a studio of their own and were in business here many years.

Campaign 1978: One last wicked turn

AUSTIN — The 1978 Texas political campaign — so long and so hard on its participants — took one last wicked turn Tuesday night with a low vote count that left the outcome of the two top races in doubt.

For supporters of gubernatorial candidates John Hill and Bill Clements, and Senatorial candidates John Tower and Bob Krueger, Tuesday night passed in worried optimism, as leads see-sawed.

There could be no outright cheering or crying. Too many things were up in the air.

Krueger, U.S. House member from New Braunfels, faced an extra agony. About the same time the polls closed at 7 p.m., when it finally was impossible to sway a single voter, his voice all but disappeared.

Krueger, nervously grim but expressing confidence, visited with life-long friends at a party in New Braunfels at about 9 p.m. He had to write out an optimistic statement to the crowd to be read by a campaign aide.

He said he was saving his voice for a victory statement in Austin, where he went for the rest of the night. But, the closeness of the race gave him plenty of time to rest his voice.

Krueger, Hill, and Mark White, victorious candidate for attorney general, all gathered with supporters at Austin's historic Driskill Hotel for what was planned as a giant victory party for democrats.

"It looks real good," Republican U.S. Sen. John Tower said from his room at the Trade Winds Motel in his home town Wichita Falls. In the company of his wife Lilla, and his three daughters, Marian, Penny, Jeanne, and Lilla's son John Bigar, Tower awaited word of voter results.

At the Driskill, Hill and White parties were across the hall from each other, and supporters jammed the hallway to see returns on a large television screen.

Hill was jammed into a large suite a fee fee away from the parties, flanked by reporters, friends and family.

He, too, was confident, and looked relaxed, although he said he hadn't slept a wink Monday night.

When he arrived at the hotel, before polls closed, he chatted lightly with those in the lobby and stopped at a piano to sing a few bars of "The Eyes of Texas."

Deaths

Faye Lonsford

Services for Faye Lonsford, 54, who died at 7:50 p.m. Sunday, were at 2 p.m. today in Sheppard Chapel of Memories with Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of Larry D. Sheppard Funeral Home.

W. Townsend

William N. Townsend, 77, died Tuesday evening at his home in Mesquite.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mr. Townsend married Affie Jayne Burton May 13, 1932 in Lamar County. He farmed at Sudan from 1932 until retirement in 1957, when he moved to Big Spring. Mrs. Townsend died May 29, 1975. Mr. Townsend had lived in Mesquite since August of this year. He was a member of the 11th and Birdwell Church of Christ.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Wakefield, Paris, and Mrs. Marie Collins, Fort Worth; and three brothers, J. T. Townsend, Paris, Eugene Townsend, Lakeside, Calif.; and Leon Townsend, San Angelo.

J.B. Lilly

J. B. Lilly, 78, died at 10 p.m. Tuesday in a local hospital after a 10-month illness.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Aric Dickey, minister of the Sand Springs Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

U.S. Senate

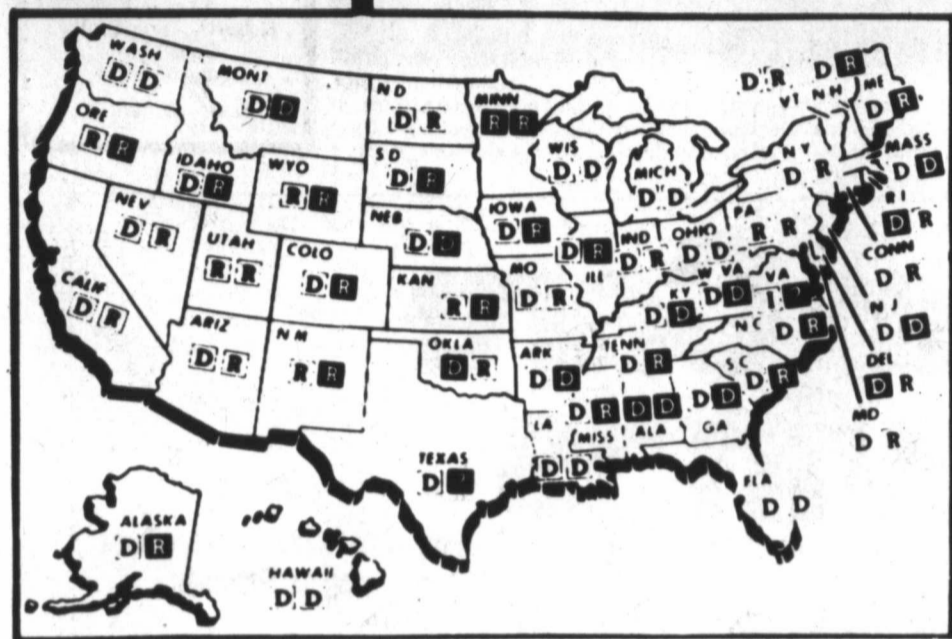

Economic proposals passing

Republicans gaining ground

RESULTS OF SENATE RACES — Maps indicate the distribution of Senate seats by party before and after Tuesday's election. As of this morning, the Senate races in Texas and Virginia have not been conceded. EDS: An updated map will move when the Texas and Virginia results are final.

Seven senators — five Democrats and two Republicans — lost their seats in mid-term elections that whittled away at the Democrats' solid control of Congress and state governments.

The final count from New Hampshire gave Republican Gordon Humphrey a narrow victory over Sen. Thomas McIntyre, the Democratic incumbent.

In Texas, Republican Sen. John Tower and his Democratic challenger, Rep. Robert Krueger, awaited the results of a long ballot count that showed the lead changing back and forth throughout the night.

Humphrey, a pilot for Allegheny Airlines, made McIntyre's support for the Panama Canal treaties a major point in his campaign. Mirroring voter discontent with economic conditions were ballot proposals to limit taxes or put a lid on spending in 16 states. Ten won approval, four were defeated and two were undecided.

Either tax or spending limits, some of them not binding, won in Alabama, Arizona, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nevada, North Dakota and Texas and lost in Arkansas, Colorado, Nebraska and Oregon.

The results of related questions in Michigan and South Dakota were inconclusive. It appeared Republicans would pick up three seats in the Senate and at least 12 in the House. They fared better in the 36 gubernatorial races, where incomplete returns indicated a net Republican gain of seven statehouses.

But Democrats will retain commanding majorities in both houses of Congress and at the state government level.

Voters in 38 states were asked to decide some 200 issues, ranging from school integration to capital punishment to homosexual rights.

In Massachusetts, voters endorsed by a 3-1 margin a prohibition against assigning children to schools based on race and in Washington state they were approving a proposal to dismantle Seattle's busing program.

In California, they voted 3-to-1 for a measure expanding the list of crimes punishable by death and Oregon voters favored reinstating the death penalty for certain crimes by a 2-1 margin.

In Dade County, Fla., nearly 60 percent voted down a local gay rights provision similar to one they repealed last year.

But in California, 57 percent of the voters were opposing a proposal that would order school boards to fire or refuse to hire teachers who commit or advocate homosexual acts. And in Seattle an effort was failing that would repeal a local ban on housing and job discrimination against homosexuals.

Leaders of both parties were quick to claim victory from Tuesday's results.

Six incumbent senators, including Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., the only black member, lost their seats and two others were in tight races.

The governors of five of the nation's most populous states were re-elected.

Among the surprises was the defeat of Gov. Meldrim Thompson Jr. of New Hampshire by Democrat Hugh Gallen, who managed to equal the incumbent's fervent opposition to any new state taxes. Thomson, a conservative Republican, won a third term two years ago with 57.7 percent of the vote.

One of the Republican statehouse gains was in Pennsylvania where Richard L. Thornburgh scored a surprisingly easy victory over Pete Flaherty in the race to succeed Gov. Milton Shapp, a Democrat.

Democratic Govs. Hugh Carey of New York and Edmund G. Brown Jr. of California, and Republican Govs. William Milliken of Michigan, James Rhodes of Ohio and James Thompson of Illinois all won re-election.

Computer problems delayed for several hours the News Election Service tabulation, forcing reliance on slower backup systems and delaying the vote totals sent to newspapers and broadcasters.

Even with Republicans picking up two seats in the Senate, Democrats would have a 60-40 majority. With eight House races undecided, Democrats won 270 and Republicans 157.

In the last Congress, Democrats had a 62-38 edge in the Senate and a 285-146 margin in the House, with four vacancies.

Six senators — four Democrats and two Republicans — lost their seats and two others were locked in tight races.

Eleven of 16 states pass tax or spending limits

Cut our taxes and stop spending our money. That was the message from voters in 11 of the 16 states where Tuesday's ballot included major money proposals. Tax or spending limits were defeated in four states. Voters in Michigan rejected two money questions and were almost evenly divided on a third.

Limits on property taxes, patterned on California's Proposition 13, were approved in Idaho and Nevada, although the Nevada measure must be endorsed by voters again in 1980 to become law. A similar proposal was defeated in Oregon.

Two of three proposed constitutional amendments involving taxes and spending were defeated in Michigan. Voters rejected plans to cut property taxes and change the system of school financing. A proposal to link state spending to personal income was leading, but by a very narrow margin.

Tax or spending restrictions were approved in Alabama, Arizona, Hawaii, Illinois, Massachusetts, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota and Texas, as well as in Idaho and Nevada. Money proposals were defeated in Arkansas, Colorado and Nebraska, in addition to Oregon.

Here is a look at the issues that were decided:

ALABAMA: A proposal to lower assessment rates on most classes of property to blunt the effect of a court-ordered property reappraisal was approved by a 55-to-45 margin.

ARIZONA: A proposed constitutional amendment to limit state spending to 7 percent of personal income was approved by a 3-to-1 margin.

ARKANSAS: A measure exempting drugs and groceries from the 3 percent sales tax was defeated, with 56 percent of the voters saying "no."

COLORADO: Voters rejected a plan to replace a flat 7 percent ceiling on annual spending with a lid tied to the population and the Consumer Price Index. Fifty-nine percent of the voters said "no."

HAWAII: A constitutional amendment linking spending to economic growth and requiring refunds or credits to taxpayers in the event of a 5 percent general fund surplus for two consecutive years was approved by a 2-to-1 margin.

IDAHO: A measure limiting property taxes to 1 percent of market value was approved by a 56-to-44 margin.

ILLINOIS: An advisory referendum asking voters if they favored a mandatory ceiling on spending won by more than 4-to-1.

MASSACHUSETTS: A measure designed to prevent property tax boosts for homeowners was approved by better than 2-to-1. It was aimed at offsetting a court ruling prohibiting assessment of businesses at a higher rate than residential property.

MISSOURI: A proposal allowing the legislature to lower property tax rates in the event of a statewide reappraisal won by a 2-to-1 margin.

NEBRASKA: Proposition 302, a constitutional amendment limiting political subdivisions to 5 percent annual spending increases, was defeated. The vote was 54 percent to 44 percent.

SOUTH DAKOTA: Voters approved — 53 percent to 47 percent — a proposal to require a two-thirds vote of the legislature or a public referendum before taxes are increased.

TEXAS: A "Tax Relief Amendment" linking state spending to the growth of the state's economy was approved with almost 85 percent of the vote.

Voters message to lawmakers

Get inflation under control

NEW YORK (AP) — Voters across the nation sent their lawmakers an unmistakable message on election day: Overhaul the federal budget, if necessary — but get inflation under control.

An Associated Press-NBC News poll indicates that voters are uneasy with the half-trillion dollar federal budget, and even in this era of Proposition 13 politics, the majority consider budget cutting far more important than tax reductions.

In addition, the voters are willing to see their favorite government programs and services cut, if that will help slow inflation's march.

The poll reveals that Democrats did better than Republicans in appealing to the austerity-minded electorate. Republicans have always campaigned for federal spending cuts, but this year the GOP also embraced a cross-country federal tax-cut effort that failed to spark wide defection from the Democratic Party.

The AP-NBC poll was conducted as voters left polling places in 1,200 locations throughout the nation. Nearly 35,000 persons were surveyed, the largest single-day public opinion survey in history.

Three out of four voters said they cast their congressional ballot without a thought toward President Carter, but 27 percent said the president's performance in office influenced their vote. Still, despite his energetic coast-to-coast campaigning effort, Carter had little impact overall. The number of people who voted for Democrats due to Carter's influence was matched by those who cited the Carter influence and then voted Republican.

Because candidates from both major parties had declared their allegiance to austerity and tax cutting along the campaign trail, the economic issues had little discernible impact on the overall balance between Democrats and Republicans in Congress.

Four years ago, in the Watergate-year election that swept many Democrats into office in previously GOP districts, the Democrats earned 58 percent of the nationwide vote. Incomplete vote totals indicate the Democrats will approach that figure again this year.

Asked what single issue they think the 96th Congress ought to tackle first, 35 percent of those surveyed cited inflation, while 24 percent said "cuts in federal spending." Tax cuts and crime problems were far down the priority scale, at 11 percent each.

And, asked to suggest the best blueprint for reining in inflation, spending cuts topped the list — preferred by 48 percent of voters surveyed — followed by imposition of wage and price controls, favored by 23 percent.

The public's economic restlessness reflects a widespread feeling that the economy is in trouble.

Forty-four percent of those interviewed said they expect the nation's economy to take a turn for the worse in 1979, while only 14 percent predicted better days ahead. Some 33 percent said they expect things to stay the same.

Finally, the poll says that apathy afflicts voters and nonvoters alike. While millions of Americans avoided the polls all day Tuesday, the survey indicates that one of every three voters agrees with this dim view of the electoral process: "No matter who is elected today, this election, like most others, won't make my life any better or worse." But 52 percent disagreed with the statement. Presumably, they're hopeful.

As with every sample survey, the results of the AP-NBC News street poll can vary from the opinions of all voters because of chance variations in the sample.

For polls with about 35,000 interviews, the results should vary no more than 1 percentage point either way simply because of sample error.

That is, if one could talk to all voters in country, there is only one chance out of 20 that the results would vary from the findings of this poll by more than 1 percentage point.

Busing, gambling among them

Over 200 referenda voted on

Voters in 38 states spoke their mind when they marked their ballots: they don't want school children bused, they don't want gambling legalized, they want the most vicious criminals put to death. And more.

Citizens of these states voted on some 200 referenda, constitutional amendments and initiatives — issues that ranged from whether they would restrict construction of nuclear power plants to whether they would buy their dentures from makers as well as dentists.

Here is how key issues on ballots around the country did Tuesday:

ABORTION: In Oregon, a measure to prohibit using state money to finance abortions for women on welfare was narrowly rejected, with 52 percent of voters opposing the prohibition.

BUSING: Massachusetts voters, undeterred that their decision could not alter Boston's federally-ordered busing program, emphatically endorsed a prohibition on assigning children to schools based on race. With 25 percent of the vote counted, they favored the prohibition nearly 3-to-1.

In Washington state 67 percent of voters endorsed a proposal intended to dismantle Seattle's busing program. The plan bars transferring children to any but the nearest school; its approval was expected to provoke a court challenge.

CRIME: California voters approved 3-to-1 a measure to expand the list of crimes punishable by death. Oregon voters by a vote of 2-to-1 favored a measure reinstating the death penalty for certain crimes.

GAY RIGHTS: Homosexuals didn't make any gains in Dade County, Fla., but they were holding their ground in California and Seattle.

In Dade County, nearly 60 percent voted down a local gay rights provision like one they repealed last year. Fifty-seven percent of California voters opposed requiring school boards to fire or refuse to hire teachers who commit or advocate homosexual acts. In Seattle, with 33 percent of the vote tallied, an effort was failing that would repeal a local ban on housing and job discrimination against homosexuals.

SMOKING: A plan that would bar or restrict smoking in almost every public place was rejected by 55 percent of California voters.

REPUBLICAN CONTENDER — Ed Bethune of Searcy, the Republican candidate for 2nd District congressman, was in a close house race with Democrat Doug Brandon late Tuesday for the House seat being vacated by Rep. Jim Guy Tucker.

Iran government arrests former secret police head

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The military government arrested the former head of Iran's dreaded secret police and others then sent tank rumbles to Tehran's bazaar area as reports circulated the opposition was mounting another mass demonstration today against the 37-year rule of Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi.

The reports said supporters of exiled Moslem holy man Ayatollah Khomeini had called for the protest rally near the bazaar, flashpoint of much of the political turmoil which has left at least 1,000 dead in this oil-rich nation since January. The reports could not be confirmed.

The military police arrested Gen. Mentullah Nasiri, former head of SAVAK, the secret police, along with 34 other officials Tuesday in a clear attempt to defuse some of the boiling opposition to the shah. Under Nasiri's tenure, the secret police had been accused of widespread use of torture.

Azhari, whose military police are still seeking to arrest 17 other former top officials.

Charges against the wanted men range from corruption to misuse of power and authority, but initial indications are that the arrests that have already taken place and the warrants would do little to stem the swirling opposition to the shah.

Retired air force Gen. Ali Mohammed Khademi, dismissed as managing director of the national airline, Iran Air, in August, died of a gunshot wound in a hospital Tuesday. Hospital officials said they believed the wound was self-inflicted, but the general's family said he was the victim of assassins' bullets.

Khademi was a member of the minority Bahai Moslem sect. He and many of his co-religionists were ousted from the Sharif-Emami government as a conciliatory gesture to the Shiite Moslems, who comprise more than 90 percent of Iran's 34 million population, including the shah.

The capital is bristling with troops and armor deployed by Iran's first military government in 25 years. A 9 p.m.-to-5 a.m. curfew is in effect, most newspapers have ceased publishing because of censorship, many stores are shuttered or gutted, and gasoline supplies have been cut because of a week-long strike by 37,000 oil refinery workers.

The strike has shrunk daily oil production from six million barrels daily to two million and is costing the shah's treasury more than $400 million in crude oil export revenues. Some experts say the cutback is quickly drying up the worldwide oil surplus of the past year, but others say strategic stockpiles in America and other big consuming nations can still make up the difference.

I would like to express my appreciation to my many friends and supporters during the primary and general elections this year. I pledge to work hard for your continued support in the future.

Sincerely
Robert C. (Bob) Smith

The opposition to the shah is spearheaded by Moslem traditionalists who demand an end to the shah's Westernizing reforms which they say contradict the teachings of the Koran, and political activists, striking oil refinery workers and others want an end to martial law and other concessions.

Prime Minister Jaafar Sharif-Emami quit in the face of renewed rioting Sunday after little more than two months in office. He was replaced by Iran's chief of staff, Gen. Gholam Reza

HMO confab scheduled in Del Rio Dec. 7-8-9

The nation's "first of its kind" Conference on Health Maintenance Organization (HMO's) will be held on Dec. 7, 8 and 9 at the Hotel Hilton Palacio Del Rio in San Antonio. The Conference is designed to increase and update the awareness of employers and regulatory agents of benefits that can be gained by participating in an HMO plan for health care.

The meeting is jointly sponsored by the Texas Health Maintenance Organizations Association and the U.S. Department of HEW.

In a recent statement Secretary of HEW, Joseph A. Califano, Jr., announced his intentions to launch a massive information campaign that would alert the nation as to how an HMO plan offers employers and employees a meaningful and competitive alternative in the health care market and how an HMO can be set up locally. James Scoggins, President of the Texas Health Maintenance Organizations Association, said that this Conference will deal with what an HMO offers as an exciting and innovative approach, how it operates, what advantages it gives participants in the plan and how major employers can benefit from sponsoring an HMO of their own.

A Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) is a prepaid health care system where physicians enter group practice to effect maximum economies of operations. This concept began in an effort to develop a viable, economic and competing alternative to the ever-rising health insurance costs confronting employers in today's market. Recently several of these organizations received widespread attention by significantly decreasing the amount of dollars spent on needless medical expenses while increasing the health status of its membership through coordinated and preventive health care.

Scoggins added that the Conference has assembled the nation's best "experts" in HMO's as the panel of speakers. The people who make this new approach happen will be on hand to answer questions.

The Conference will focus on the questions and concerns of employers, labor leaders, potential HMO sponsors, regulatory agents and other HMO staff members throughout Region VI which includes Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. Attending participants from this five state area will have the opportunity to hear directly from these experts in medicine, government regulatory agencies and HMO management on how HMO can help them to assure quality economic coverage and care for their employees.

The San Antonio Conference begins at 6 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 7, at the Hilton Palacio Del Rio, and will conclude Saturday, Dec. 9, at 1 p.m. More information about the Conference can be obtained by contacting James M. Scoggins in San Antonio, Texas, 512-732-8271.

Beverly Beil is member of TCU Concert Choral

FORT WORTH — Big Spring resident Beverly Beil, a sophomore music education major at Texas Christian University, is among members of the TCU Concert Choral who will present their first concert of the season next Monday.

The 46-member group — most selective choral organization on campus — will perform works by Mozart, Bach, Brahms and other noted composers. Some program pieces will be sung a cappella style while others will be accompanied by piano or orchestral instruments.

Originally known as the TCU A Capella Choir, the Concert Choral was renamed after its repertoire was no longer exclusively unaccompanied. Nevertheless, its members still are selected more carefully than those of the University's three other choral groups. The reason, according to director Ronald Shirey, associate professor of choral music, is that the Concert Choral performs "the most exhaustive and most difficult music in terms of range, intonation, response and all-around musicianship."

Members of the group are chosen through auditions held at the beginning of each school year. They rehearse three days a week and annually perform on tour in Texas and surrounding states.

Post office open Friday

Although local banks will be closed Friday in observance of Veterans Day, the Big Spring Post Office, in accordance with U.S. Postal policy, will observe the day according to the calendar.

"That means," said Postal Superintendent John Gee, "that we will be open Friday, and will observe the holiday on Nov. 11, the actual date historically."

"Mail will not be delivered Saturday, although clerks will sort and box what mail we do receive," Gee explained.

Davis' adopted daughter on 'hit list,' agent says

HOUSTON (AP) — Testimony in the murder-for-hire trial of millionaire Cullen Davis disclosed Tuesday that the defendant's adopted daughter Dee was among those on an alleged "hit list."

Dee, 20, is the daughter of Davis' estranged wife Priscilla by the first of her three husbands.

Her name surfaced during defense cross-examination of FBI agent Ron Jannings, the lead-off witness in the state's case against the 45-year-old Fort Worth industrialist.

Jannings returned to the stand today for additional questioning by defense lawyer Richard (Racehorse) Haynes.

Davis is accused of masterminding a scheme to kill his divorce judge Joe Eidson, one of some 15 persons on the alleged enemy's list.

The judge was not harmed.

According to testimony Tuesday, the list also contained the name of Fort Worth businessman A. J. Paschall and an unidentified "Mexican friend" of Paschall.

An FBI informant said previously the list included three state witnesses who testified last year in Amarillo, where Davis was acquitted in the slaying of his young stepdaughter.

The fact that Dee's name was on the list points up the "absurdity" of the whole case against Davis, contended defense lawyer Steve Sumner of Dallas.

"Three's absolutely no rhyme or reason for Cullen to have Dee on a hit list," Sumner said. "We just learned about it when we got Jannings' notes."

Jannings, meanwhile, refused Tuesday to answer Haynes' questions regarding a mystery figure the defense has injected in the case.

"When was the last time you saw David Binion?" Haynes asked.

"I respectfully decline to answer..." Jannings replied.

"Did you meet with David Binion...?" Haynes continued.

Prosecutors objected, the judge overruled them and Jannings then asked to speak privately with Ray Woods of the U.S. attorney's office.

After a brief meeting outside the courtroom, Woods told the judge the

At one point, State District Judge Wallace Moore sent the jury out and permitted Haynes to ask two questions concerning Binion, neither of which was answered.

Haynes wanted to know if Jannings accompanied another FBI agent and a representative of the district attorney's office to Binion's "place of business" to talk with him.

Haynes also asked if Jannings attempted to find out from Binion what the man had told a defense representative in connection with this case.

A short time later, the judge ordered a recess. When newsmen asked prosecutor Tolly Wilson about Binion he replied, "Ask Haynes."

Said Haynes, with a grin, "I'm not telling you and if my troops tell you, I'll kick their shins."

Another defense attorney said he could not comment on Binion.

Sitting at the counsel table and watching the whole episode with a bemused grin on his face was the defendant Davis.

He quipped, "If my attorney says he doesn't know the answer to something, he's probably right."

Tuesday's session was abbreviated to permit jurors to vote and to allow a defense attorney to argue in Austin for Davis' release on bond.

Haynes spent most of the day questioning Jannings about inconsistencies in his testimony at a bond hearing last summer in Fort Worth and his remarks to this jury.

questions posed by Haynes were not germane to this case. He said if Haynes intended to pursue the Binion matter he must file an affidavit with the U.S. attorney's office.

Defense lawyers have identified Binion only as a car salesman with a Houston firm and "apparently an FBI informant."

In response to newsmen's questions, defense lawyer Phil Burleson said: "We contend David Binion is the person Priscilla Davis tried to hire to kill Cullen."

The defense contends Davis was framed by Mrs. Davis and others. He is accused of soliciting a gunman to kill the presiding judge in his lengthy and bitter divorce case.

Dollar stalls in Europe

LONDON (AP) — The dollar came under heavy selling pressure in Tokyo today and started with losses in Europe, stalling for a second straight day President Carter's currency rescue hopes.

Gold bullion prices headed upward for a second day.

Following Carter's announcement a week ago of a tight money policy dollar rates clawed their way back to levels last seen a month or two ago but far short of where they were at the beginning of the long slide more than a year ago.

For example the dollar's bottom against the West German mark last week was 1.7625 marks per dollar. At midmorning today the dollar was being quoted in Frankfurt at 1.8888 marks, down from 1.8970 Tuesday and 23 per cent lower than in August 1977.

Despite help from the Japanese central bank the dollar fell more than a yen at Tokyo, closing at 1.88.40, compared to 189.125 Tuesday. The dollar has lost 22 percent against the yen this year.

Ridin' fence

The old politicians

with Marj Carpenter

"Marj, do you want to go to Uvalde with me to a birthday party?" U.S. Deputy Marshall Ralph Gilliland said one day in Pecos.

"Who's party?" I asked.

"Well, I was thinking about taking you down to Cactus Jack's," he answered.

"Oh my goodness yes, I stated and the next day we went. We arrived late in the evening and I had taken my Brownie camera because the news camera was in use. I took this picture and hoped for the best.

It was in November 1960 and John Nance Garner, former vice president of the United States was going to be 92. He had six more birthdays after that and died just before his 99th birthday on Nov. 7, 1967.

But a lot of folks thought at that point that he would be having his last one. And both then Vice President Lyndon Johnson and former President Harry Truman were expected to be present for the event.

When we got down there and got out of the car, Mr. Sam Rayburn and Governor Price Daniel were also in the group. They were all standing in a line when I shot the picture shown above and I remember being upset because I only had a Brownie.

MR. SAM, HARRY, CACTUS JACK, LBJ and PRICE ... at a birthday party

Everybody was worried that Cactus Jack would not live much longer. But by the next year in 1961, it was Mr. Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House, who was dead.

I remember going down the street in Pecos hunting then-Congressman Slick Rutherford to get a comment from him on the passing of Mr. Sam.

None of the group in Uvalde that day could predict the future. None of them knew at that point that Lyndon would become President in November 1963 when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

John Nance Garner, whom they were all worrying about, was to live to see them bury Mr. Sam and see Lyndon ascend to the Presidency.

Garner was born near Detroit (Texas — not Michigan) on Nov. 22, 1868. He died at Uvalde, which was home. He was the 32nd vice president of the United States serving in the office during the first two terms from 1933-41 of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

After studying at Vanderbilt, he practiced law in Uvalde and was county judge there. He served two terms in the state legislature and was elected to Congress in 1902. He became House minority leader in 1928 and speaker of the house in 1931.

He was more conservative and isolationist than

Meal program

grant approved

AUSTIN — The Governor's Committee on Aging Friday approved a $99,320 federal grant to the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, Midland, for establishing a new meal program for the elderly in Howard, Dawson and Martin counties.

The grant was one of 29 totaling $9.1 million awarded around the state to agencies providing meal and social service programs for elderly Texans.

Roosevelt and he was kind of a compromise candidate for the South at the 1932 Democratic convention. He became disenchanted with New Deal politics around 1926 and in 1941, he retired and went home.

But Cactus Jack had by then become the first really prominent Texas politician. And his birthday parties became quite the thing down around Uvalde.

That may be one reason that Uvalde didn't bat an eye when one of their own, Dolph Briscoe, ran for governor. By then, they were assured that they had produced at least one famous politician.

I decided to write this old tale today because another political year has just ended. And politics, like everything else has changed.

But whether you are Democrat or Republican and happy today or sad, the picture above represents an awesome gathering of some real political politicians.

I looked up the word politic and it said "shrewd, artful, expedient, judicious." The word political says "Pertaining to the science or art of politics."

The group shown above knew all about shrewd, artful, expedient and judicious. They knew all about the science and art of politics.

And this picture was made in the early days of television before they started going everywhere to televise everything. A gathering of this caliber today would definitely draw the TV cameras.

But that day under the oak in Cactus Jack's back yard, only a couple radio people and a few invited reporters attended.

And there was lots of reminiscing and lots of plans for the future . . . out where I was lucky enough to be riding fence on a November afternoon.

Pakistani shopping spree

DALLAS (AP) — Texans pride themselves on the fact that they are pretty unflappable. But diamond-studded big spenders with a drawl may have been outdone Monday night by a self-acclaimed Pakistani who dropped an estimated $3.5 million for baubles, furs, wine and tips.

The mustachioed man, flanked by two towering bodyguards, waltzed into elan, an exclusive restaurant-club Monday night, ordered a bottle of $75 a bottle Dom Perignon for everyone in the house, then demanded a dance contest and awarded the two winners a check each for $500,000.

"I just grabbed a girl, more or less at random," said one winner, Mike Christensen, a 26-year-old wine sales representative. "We just boogied for a couple of songs."

He also tipped his personal waitress a check for $1 million. Both checks were drawn on the First Union National Bank of Washington, D. C. Bank officials could not be reached for comment.

The man, who identified himself as F. Masood Kahn, was believed to be either the son or the brother of a high-ranking Pakistani government official, but since relation to government doesn't necessarily mean wealth, the astounded folks holding his checks began checking out his story Tuesday.

The hot-tempered visitor, who walked out of a jewelry store when the manager refused to sell him the store, called Craig Stultz, manager of elans, to complain when reports of his philanthropic antics became public.

"It's either the most fantastic thing that's ever happened, or it's the biggest hoax in history," Stultz said Tuesday. "Things are checking out on him. If he were passing bad checks, you'd think he'd get the hell out of town."

American Express officials remained quiet about Kahn's $2,365 elan's bill and the $10,000 tip he tacked on for the club's employees.

Stultz said recipients of the money were obliged by their benefactor not to identify themselves or the tipper.

Earlier in the day, Kahn supposedly bought a fistful of diamonds and a closet-full of clothes from Titcher's in Northpark. Then his entourage strolled down to Neimans where some say he bought every precious jewel, every fur in size 12 and all the Wedgewood in stock.

The more conservative say the man with a red carnation only spent $1 million in Neimans.

"He was a very cold person," Christensen said. "Didn't even shake hands or anything."

But $3.5 million or no, not shaking hands in Texas is just downright unfriendly.

Public invited to ceremony

Mayor will welcome pageant guest Friday

Mike Faulkner has been named Master of Ceremonies for the Saturday night Our Little Miss Big Spring Pageant in which 25 local girls will compete.

The event is open to the public and will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Howard College Auditorium. Admission is $1. A special performer will be the reigning "World's Our Little Miss" Tina Payne of Houston. She'll be arriving by private jet at the Big Spring Airport at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Greeting her will be Mayor Wade Choate who has named her "The Yellow Rose of Texas" and will present her with a key to the city. The public is invited to the short ceremony.

Performing with Miss Payne at the Saturday evening pageant will be Gina Hofbauer, reigning "Texas Ideal Miss", and J.J. Dowd, a Texas "La Petite". Miss Hofbauer, 15, began her climb to the Ideal Miss Title as Cooke County's "Our Little Miss" and talent winner. She was also a talent winner in the state competition.

Other past titles held by her include "Miss Livin Doll", "Best Nine Year Old" and "Best 11 Year Old." She ranked in the top ten in the World's Ideal Miss Pageant and has won 86 trophies and six crowns.

Miss Dowd is the five-year-old sister of Miss Hofbauer and a pageant success in her own right. She is Cooke

Study supports connection between saccharin, cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration, which has been seeking to ban saccharin, apparently has been bolstered by a National Academy of Sciences report that concludes the popular sugar substitute "must be viewed as a potential cause of cancer in humans."

Donald Kennedy, FDA commissioner, called the report released Saturday "a comprehensive, objective and thoughtful evaluation" whose main conclusion "fully reinforces that reached earlier by FDA."

In the spring of 1977, the FDA tried to ban saccharin, which is now the last artificial sweetener allowed to be sold in the United States. But Congress imposed an 18-month moratorium on any FDA action pending further study. The moratorium expires May 23, 1979.

The academy study, done at the request of Congress, said further laboratory studies to establish the carcinogenic — cancer-causing — potential of saccharin are not needed under existing law.

Studies with laboratory rats show the sweetener is a "low potential" carcinogen when compared with other known cancer-causing agents, the panel said.

But the academy added, "Although the direct carcinogenic potential of saccharin in humans may be weak, its possible action as a promoter of cancer may be more important."

The Atlanta-based Calorie Control Council and its advertising agency, which represent the diet soft drink industry, deplored the report.

"It seems incredible that the conclusions would go so strongly against the extensive and growing body of scientific evidence supporting saccharin's safety," the council said in a statement. "We expect common sense and the best interest of Americans will prevail when the evidence is fully examined."

The academy said researchers have not yet learned how to accurately use animal studies to predict how dangerous specific carcinogens are to humans. It added that none of the studies of human bladder cancer victims has been good enough to detect the effect of saccharin.

However the panel said, "Although saccharin would be expected to be of low potency in humans, even low risks applied to a large number of exposed persons may lead to public health concerns."

The panel estimated that between 50 and 70 million people use the sweetener.

Some recommendations regarding the future of saccharin are due to be included in a later academy report on the government's food safety policies.

Keep drinking age at 21

By Robert Wallace Ed. D.

Of all the teen poll questions, this one asking if the drinking age should be lowered to 18, brought the greatest response. As I write this column, 2,740 teens have responded and the mail is still coming in.

Before I presented you teens with this question, I told 10 school teachers the proposed question and asked their thoughts on the results. Nine of the 10 thought the majority of the teens would say the drinking age should be lowered to 18. How wrong they were.

The results of this poll again show that teens are responsible citizens who can make mature and intelligent decisions if given the chance.

As stated, 2,740 teens responded and 1,891 (69 percent) thought the drinking age should remain at 21, while 849 (31 percent) thought that 18-year-olds should be legally allowed to drink.

Female responses totaled 1,706, and 1,245 (73 percent) of these said keep the drinking age at 21, and 461 (27 percent) opted for the lower 18.

Male responses were 1,034, and 682 preferred the present age 21, while 452 (34 percent) wanted to see the age lowered to 18.

Let's hear what the teens had to say about the subject: From Denise Groncki, 15, Petaluma, Calif.: Yes. If a person is old enough to vote on issues concerning our country, he should also be considered mature enough to drink.

From Teri Foreman, 16, Hot Springs, S.D.: No. Most people can't handle liquor at 21 so why make it legal at 18?

From Lauri Maloney, 16, San Rafael, Calif.: Yes. Most 18-year-olds drink to act mature and because it is illegal. If the drinking age was 18, it would be no big deal and they might stop.

From Pam Tompkins, 15, Florence, Ala.: We have too many drunks on the road already.

From Charissee Riley, 14, Sacramento, Calif.: No. It is a proven fact that states that have lowered the drinking age have more drunk driver accidents.

From Mary Bratzman, Dubuque, Iowa: I think the drinking age should be 19. By then you should be out of school and on your own.

From Tom Payne, 20, Oakland, Calif.: Yes, why not? I've been drinking for three years and I've only been drunk once.

From Anita T., 15, Payette, Idaho: No, at 18 teens are at an age when parties take place. I'm afraid that too much beer and hard liquor would flow.

And I thought you all would enjoy Jane Albusche's answer from Placerville, Calif., who wrote, "One person who would be delighted by such a law is my mom — she is always wishing I could pick up my dad's beer!"

I am awarding a Tween 12 and 20 T-shirt to Millie Hightower of Seattle, Wash., who said it best: "Teen alcoholism is already a tremendous national problem. Why add to it by making alcohol legal at 18. For every mature 18-year-old drinker, there would be two who are not. ..."

Dear Abby

Alter a Lifestyle To Fit the Kids

DEAR ABBY: I think your advice to ME IN MALIBU was way out of line. Six years ago I met Bill. We fell in love and became roommates. Between us we have a total of eight children ranging from 9 to 19. We've never tried to hide our lifestyle from them. They accept us and we accept them. The two youngest live with us. (One mine, one his). They go to a private Christian school nearby, and the school authorities have never made a fuss over our lifestyle.

We teach our children morals and values and let them know that the ultimate choices are theirs to make.

If my honey ever told me to "get lost" for a while so his children wouldn't learn the realities of our relationship, he would never see me again.

When we are ready, we will marry. No pressure, no coercion or ignorant comments from others will hasten our decision.

As Christians, it's our consciences we must live with — no one else's.

I'M WITH YOU IN MALIBU

DEAR I'M: I hear what you're saying, and I respect the candor and sincerity of your views. Perhaps I'm bending over backwards to preserve the time-honored institution of marriage, and to urge parents to set good examples for their children to follow.

Mature people understand that living together isn't always raunchy, and because they have a profound respect for marriage, they don't rush into it hastily. But I fear that very young children may feel that marriage is not really important to a family. And that disturbs me.

DEAR ABBY: Please print my letter so other mothers won't make the same mistake I made. After 19 years, I realize the error of naming our son "Junior" after his father. When he was a baby, it was no problem. We called him Billy and his father was Bill.

When he got older he decided Billy was too babyish, so he asked us to call him Bill, which wasn't too bad — we called one Big Bill and the other one Little Bill. That worked out fine until Little Bill soon got bigger than Big Bill.

Now it's worse. It's Young Bill and Old Bill and you can imagine how thrilled father is to be Old Bill at 44!

Not only that, but their voices are identical, and they are constantly being mistaken for one another on the telephone. And their mail gets mixed up, too, when there is no "Sr." or "Jr."

It's a pain in the neck. I should have named him Lawrence, like I wanted to. I've always loved that name. Phooey on these Juniors!

TOO LATE NOW

DEAR TOO: Thanks. New mothers, take note.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BIRD IN A GILDED CAGE": Chastity belts for MEN? It would seem far more practical to just lock up the whole man.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of an incident: After not having spoken to me in almost three years, my sister recently sent me a copy of an insurance policy she took out before she took an airplane trip, naming ME as the beneficiary.

Do you think she's trying to tell me something? COOS BAY, ORE.

DEAR BAY: Yes. She still lacks the courage to start talking to you, but in the event of her death, she'd like her money to talk for her. In other words, she's not as mad at you as she used to be.

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters For All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (25 cents) envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Party fetes officers of Rebekah Lodge 284

Norma Newton, junior past noble grand of Rebekah Lodge No. 284, hosted a party Friday for all her officers of the lodge in the home of Mildred Collins, 1725 Purdue.

Cohostesses were Marion Savell and Ms. Collins. Refreshments of chips, dips, cheese, crackers, cake, jello, hot minted apple juice and tea were served to the 20 members present.

A bible engraved in gold with Ms. Newton's name was presented to her, and she gifted each of her officers with a ceramic flower plaque.

She thanked all members for helping make her term as Noble Grand a success.

Texas Star Club meets

The Texas Star African Violet Club met in the home of Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales Thursday at 7 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Bill Rogers, and the club voted to decorate the third floor at the Veteran's Administration Medical Center Dec. 5.

They will take 12 dozen cookies to Big Spring State Hospital.

A program on a method of leaf propagation was presented by Mrs. Cass Hill. She also spoke on how to graft violet leaves together.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party in the home of Reba Baker. Thirteen members were present.

Bulgarian orchestra performs here

Members of the Big Spring Community Concert Association should mark their calendars for the Friday night performance of the Sofia Philharmonic Orchestra of Bulgaria. The performance begins at 8:15 p.m. at the Big Spring Municipal Auditorium.

Visiting the west coast and western cities, this is the orchestra's first American tour. The tour was arranged by Columbia Artists Management who has been presenting many of the world's great orchestras to American audiences for more than three decades.

Without exception, each musician in the orchestra is a graduate of the Bulgarian State Conservatory. The orchestra has considerable and impressive public recognition behind it and promises the same kind of performance for the Big Spring audience that has brought it wide acclaim in much of Europe.

Musical selections range from old classics to popular contemporary works.

Wheat prices to be strong

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government experts are optimistic that wheat farmers will continue to see relatively strong market prices in the months ahead, mainly because of large exports and heavy participation in the Agriculture Department's reserve program.

A report Tuesday said a 12 percent smaller wheat crop this year also is a big factor in the improved price outlook.

New proposal would control use of cancer-causing endrin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Use of a potential cancer-causing pesticide, endrin, would be sharply curtailed by a new government proposal now under consideration.

But the Environmental Protection Agency said Tuesday some uses of endrin would be allowed to continue, provided additional safeguards are met in an application.

After reviewing endrin for more than two years, the EPA proposed that its use "be allowed to continue on wheat and apple orchards, and on cotton in some areas" as long as safety precautions are taken.

The EPA's conclusions have been forwarded for further comment to its scientific advisory panel and to the Agriculture Department; Velsicol Chemical Corp. is the only U.S. maker of endrin; environmental groups; and other interested parties, the agency said.

Comments from those will be considered before a final decision is reached on the use of endrin, the EPA said. Douglas M. Costle, EPA administrator, said his agency has "concluded that for some uses the risks of endrin outweigh most of its social and economic benefits."

"Endrin has caused birth defects in laboratory animals and may pose the same danger to humans," he said in a statement. "Endrin also is a threat to wildlife, and is acutely toxic to fish."

Although the export program where it will remain for three years or until prices rise enough to trigger release of the grain on the open market.

If the supply situation tightens further over the next several months, wheat prices "could approach the $3.29 per bushel release level" set in the reserve's formula, the report said.

The department said the Soviet grain harvest this year set a new record of 230 million metric tons, nearly 18 percent larger than the 1977 production.

One effect of the huge harvest will be to cool off Soviet grain imports at least slightly in the coming year, the department said.

Sales of wheat and corn to the Soviet Union in recent years have been an important factor in a thriving U.S. farm export business. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

The report said Soviet wheat production this year was about 115 million metric tons, compared to 92 million in 1977 and the department's estimate a month ago of 110 million metric tons.

Coarse grains such as corn were estimated at 103 million metric tons against 93 million in 1977 and 100 million metric tons estimated last month. The remainder consists of 12 million metric tons of "miscellaneous grains" such as rice, buckwheat, beans and others which the Soviet Union includes in its total grain figures.

Officials said it appears the Soviet Union will import about 15 million metric tons of grain from all foreign sources in 1978-79, down one million tons from earlier projections.

The Soviet Union bought about 14.8 million metric tons of wheat and corn from the United States in the year that ended Sept. 30, up from about 6.1 million tons in 1976-77.

Under a long-term agreement, the Soviet Union must buy a minimum of 6 million metric tons of wheat and corn combined each year, and can buy up to 8 million tons total if it chooses. If more than that is wanted, the United States must give its approval.

Recently, U.S. officials informed Moscow that it could have up to 15 million metric tons of wheat and corn in 1978-79 but the Soviets have not indicated how much they may actually buy. A similar clearance was given a year ago.

The EPA recommended that "all uses of endrin on cotton be stopped in those areas where contamination of water is most likely to occur," Costle said.

The agency defined those areas to be all states east of the Mississippi River plus Louisiana, Arkansas, and parts of Texas and Oklahoma.

Endrin is used on only 1 percent of the acres planted to cotton in the United States, the EPA said.

Another report raised questions about future grain purchases by the Soviet Union.

The department said the Soviet grain harvest this year set a new record of 230 million metric tons, nearly 18 percent larger than the 1977 production.

One effect of the huge harvest will be to cool off Soviet grain imports at least slightly in the coming year, the department said.

Drought, rain reduce deliveries of CRMWD

An ironical combination of drought and rain have reduced deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District through the first three quarters of the year. Through the period, deliveries of 15,641,112,000 gallons are down by 1,854,326,000 or 10.6 per cent.

All of this is represented in reduced deliveries to oil companies. For the nine-month period, they received only 3,423,857,000 gallons for oilfield repressuring, down 2,115,645,000 gallons from the same period a year ago. This is due primarily to curtailed deliveries for part of the year, and a complete cut-off of surfaced water from Lake Thomas after May 1 when there was only minor runoff into the reservoir.

On the other hand, belated but generous rains in October cut municipal demands by 59 million gallons in amounting to 897,664,000 gallons. It was the first time in seven months that the cities had taken less than a billion gallons of water.

For the first nine months, municipal deliveries stood at 12,217,264,600 gallons, up 261,220,000 gallons or 2.19 per cent for the period.

Municipal deliveries included Odessa 389,350,000 gallons, down .88 of one per cent; Big Spring 194,350,000, down 8.34 per cent; Snyder 65,651,000, down 16.58 per cent; Stanton 6,832,000, down 13.09 per cent; and Midland 241,459,000, down 6.62 per cent.

PTA planning gifts sale

Tomorrow is the last day to save on cards, stationery and gifts at the College Heights Parent-Teacher Association sale, reports Diane Bailey, president.

The card booth will be open Thursday 8:00 to 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 to 3:15 p.m. in the main lobby at the College Heights Elementary School, Goliad at 18th streets.

"We urge everybody to take advantage of this chance to save 25 per cent off the retail price on our large selection of cards while helping the College Heights PTA earn money for its project," said Mrs. Bailey.

Most cards are priced 75 cents to $1.85 per box, and stationery 75 cents to $1.30 per package. Orders are also being taken, with payment not due until the shipment arrives in late November.

Fee for the clinic is $25 for a 20-member band, or $1.50 per individual.

Jim Rice cops AL MVP

NEW YORK (AP) — Forced to choose between two awesome statistical seasons, the Baseball Writers Association of America chose slugger Jim Rice's numbers and named him the American League's Most Valuable Player over pitcher Ron Guidry.

And, surprisingly, the result announced Tuesday wasn't really close. Rice received 20 of the 28 first-place ballots cast and finished with 352 points. Guidry took the other eight first place ballots and totaled 291 points. Larry Hise of the Milwaukee Brewers finished third with 201.

Because of the way they had dominated their individual departments, Rice at bat for the Boston Red Sox and Guidry on the mound for the New York Yankees, there was speculation that the MVP battle would be a tight one. But the suspense hardly interfered with the routine activities of the twostars.

Rice, in Las Vegas for a tribute later this week to former heavyweight champion Joe Louis, spent the afternoon playing golf. When he returned to his hotel, he learned of the MVP vote.

"I just got back from shooting 79. That's more important," he said. "The MVP vote was a month ago. I couldn't change anything. I'm thrilled about it, but I couldn't just sit around and wait to hear."

Guidry, the unanimous winner of the AL Cy Young Award last week, spent the day hunting near his home in Lafayette, La.

"My congratulations go to Jim Rice," he said. "Definitely, his statistics were worthy of the MVP. To finish second in the vote to a player like Jim Rice is not disappointing and by not receiving this award this year gives me something to gun for in 1979."

"To all the sports writers who voted for Jim Rice, I congratulate them on naming a deserving individual, and to those writers who voted for me, I thank them for their support."

Rice earned the MVP award with a spectacular season at the plate. He led the major leagues with 46 home runs and 139 runs batted in. He also had 406 total bases, becoming the first American Leaguer in 41 years to go over 400. He also led the majors in hits with 213 and in triples with 15. He finished with a .600 slugging percentage and batted .315, third in the AL.

Guidry was the master of mound. The slim left-hander posted a 25-3 record with nine shutouts and a 1.74 earned run average. His winning percentage of .893 was the highest for any 20-game winner in baseball history. The nine shutouts tied Babe Ruth's record for an American League left-hander, and Guidry's ERA was the lowest for an AL southpaw since 1914 when Dutch Leonard had a 1.01.

Guidry's MVP bid was probably hurt by the Cy Young Award. Since 1956 when the BBWAA introduced the Cy Young to honor the best pitcher in each league, only five hurlers have swept both that honor and the MVP. They were Don Newcombe in 1956, Sandy Koufax in 1963, Bob Gibson and Denny McLain in 1968 and Vida Blue in 1971.

After Guidry, the highest pitcher in Tuesday's vote was Milwaukee's Mike Caldwell, who finished 12th, behind last year's MVP, Minnesota batting champion Rod Carew.

In the weeks before Tuesday's announcement, Guidry had bristled at suggestions that his MVP bid would be hurt because he is a pitcher and not an everyday player like Rice.

"How can you call it MVP if you don't include pitchers?" Guidry had said. "We're still athletes. We still do our jobs. If the MVP award is for hitters only, they ought to call it the Ty Cobb Award or the Rod Carew Award. If they want to leave out pitchers, they ought to put an asterisk next to it and say 'Pitchers: Generally not included.'"

FIREBALL SONODA — Japanese Foreign Minister Junao Sonoda hurls the first pitch Saturday in the Cincinnati Reds opener in Japan, but batter Pete Rose doesn't look impressed. Landry blames Dallas slump on Baltimore

DALLAS (AP) — Tom Landry blames it all on Baltimore. He pinpoints the opening game slaughter of the Colts as the launching pad for undue optimism about the defending National Football League champion Dallas Cowboys.

And he points at the Colts' upset victory over Washington Monday night as a second chance for the Cowboys in their desperate bid to overhaul the front-running Redskins in the National Conference Eastern Division.

everything was running wild like we couldn't be beaten. I didn't feel that way."

Landry explained Tuesday that the Colts were crippled and the game just wasn't a true measuring stick.

"We are fortunate to be where we are," said Landry, noting Dallas' 6-4 record was now only a game behind Washington. "We are in striking distance. But catching Washington won't be easy."

Landry said he still had no idea why his team was so slow starting in the first quarter.

"We've been getting a lot of theories and I appreciate 'em," Landry said with

Defenders highlight "Above the Call"

Area teams suffered through a dismal week with an overall record of 2-4-1, but two teams remained in contention for their district titles. There were many performances, both in winning and losing, that were worthy of being considered "Above the Call."

Stanton Coach David Thompson could not single out any one performer in the Buffaloes 72-0 romp over Anton. Everybody got a chance to play, and they were all outstanding. Stanton puts its title hope on the line this Friday night when they travel to Seagraves to battle the always tough Seagraves Eagles.

Sands led the entire game, but Dawson rallied to tie the game in the late stages. Despite the disappointing tie, they were many bright spots for Coach Dickie Leopard's Mustangs. Halfback Van Gaskins and quarterback David Mosley were the leaders and receive the award this week. Mosley did a good job on offense, scoring one touchdown and executing the attack well. Gaskins had two touchdowns that were very important in their time. Both also played defense.

Brown gaining prominence at NC State

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Brown, who stands sixth on college football's all-time rushing list, has come a long way since his freshman year when he almost quit North Carolina State because he wasn't seeing much action.

The only ground-gainers ahead of Brown are Tony Dorsett, Archie Griffin, Ed Marinaro, Terry Miller and Earl Campbell and the 5-foot-10, 199-pound senior from High Point, N.C., has a good chance at finishing his career No. 3 on the major college charts.

With three regular-season games left, plus a possible bowl appearance, only Dorsett with 6,082 yards and Griffin with 5,177 seem out of reach. Brown has 4,304 heading into Saturday's game against second-ranked Penn State, a team he shredded for 251 yards last year.

After four varsity games as a freshman, Brown had exactly one carry from scrimmage and zero yards rushing. But since that time he has been extremely durable, never missing a game and even leading the Wolfpack in receiving the last two seasons while becoming the top rusher in Atlantic Coast Conference history.

Brown's 251 yards against Penn State last year, a North Carolina State record and also the most ever against the Nittany Lions, didn't come easy, either, and Brown expects to be a target for revenge come Saturday.

Penn State tackle Bruce Clark was quoted last Saturday after the Lions held Maryland to minus 32 yards rushing that "one of our goals is to hold Ted Brown to minus yardage."

"Nothing's impossible," Brown said, "but if our offensive line is doing a great job I don't think that will happen. And I've been fortunate to have great offensive lines in my four years at N.C. State.

thwarted by a fine Cotton Center team, but Wildcat Coach Richard Gibson still was proud of his troop's performance. He was especially pleased with the play of quarterback-safety Jimmy Mitchell. Mitchell rushed for 77 yards on seven carries offensively, also returned punts and kickoffs. He rounded out a noteworthy performance by making nine tackles on defense.

Coahoma took one more step toward the showdown with Colorado City with their win over Ballinger, and linebacker Cecil Walker was definitely one of the main reasons. The 160-pound senior led the Bulldog defense with 23 tackles in the contest.

Despite the lopsided loss to Abilene Cooper, one Steer that played an excellent game was offensive tackle-defensive end Matt Harris. It was the second week in a row for the 210-pound senior who performed admirably throughout the game on both sides of the line.

Due to the loss to Seagraves, Forsan boss George White could not single out anyone for this week's award.

Restic heads list

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame's Joe Restic, Jr., son of the Harvard football coach, and 10 other collegiate football players were named Tuesday as National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar Athletes for 1978.

The announcement of the 11 seniors was made by Vincent dePaul Draddy, the Foundation's chairman of the board. The players qualify for $1,000 graduate fellowships if they pursue advanced degrees.

In addition to Restic, a free safety for the Fighting Irish, the other scholar athletes are: Robert Bookmiller, an offensive tackle from Virginia Military Institute; Charles Correal, a center from Penn State; William Crowley, a linebacker from Yale; Jeff Delaney, a strong safety from the University of Pittsburgh; Robert Dugas, an offensive tackle from Louisiana State University; Thomas Foertsch, a defensive tackle from the Air Force Academy; Stephen Fuller, a quarterback from Clemson; Christopher Garlich, a linebacker from Missouri; Christopher Mott, a guard from Arizona State, and William Shoup, a cornerback from Arkansas.

The players will receive silver bowls at the Foundation's 21st annual Hall of Fame dinner Dec. 5. END ADVSP.M. EST TODAY

Steer V-baller beat OHS: set stage for showdown

The Big Spring Steer girls' volleyball continued their quest for the District 5-AAAA championship last night when they defeated the Odessa High Broncos. It raises both the varsity and JV record to 6-0 in second half action.

In the Junior varsity tilt, Big Spring emerged victorious by scores of 14-12, 12-5. Hollie Peurifoy and Missey Baker led the winners with six points each.

The varsity, coached by Carole Bartasek, played an excellent game in completely dominating the Broncos by scores of 15-2, 15-2. Bartasek praised the entire squad, commenting that every facet of the girls' game was outstanding. "We were spiking well, had good overall court coverage, and good backcourt play," Penny Ray and Karen Kimble led a balanced attack with six points each, followed closely by Kathy Birdwell and Debbie Wiggins with four apiece.

Tomorrow night, the Steers play their most important volleyball match of the year. They host the San Angelo Bobcats, who are also 6-0 in second half action. If the Steers win, the Bobcats would have to play Midland Lee for the first half title. If the Bobcats win, they will represent the district in the state playoffs. Game time is 6:00 for the JV's, with varsity action slated immediately after.

Aggies close doors

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — The Texas Aggies will work out behind closed gates beginning Wednesday in preparation for their Nov. 18 Southwest Conference football game against Arkansas.

The Aggies, 2-0 under new coach Tom Wilson, have the week off to prepare for the Razorbacks.

Wilson said "starting tomorrow our workout will be closed."

Wilson gave no specific reason, although he has added new plays to the Aggie I-formation offense every week since he took over from resigned Emory Bellard.

Tennis results

STOCKHOLM — Adriano Panatta and Tom Gullikson each fought off second-set match points and advanced to the second round of the $175,000 Stockholm Open tennis tournament night.

Panatta scrambled to a 3-6, 7-6, 7-5 victory over Dick Stockton, while Gullikson outlasted South African Johan Kriek 6-7, 7-6, 7-5.

HONG KONG — Defending champion Ken Rosewall, seeded fourth, beat Australian countryman Mark Edmondson 6-1, 6-3 in the opening round of the $75,000 Hong Kong tennis tournament.

Meanwhile, top-seeded Jimmy Connors withdrew from the tournament because of an injured ankle.

OLDSNAR, Fla. — Top-seeded Martina Navratilova defeated Zenda Liess 6-1, 6-3 in first-round play in the $75,000 Florida Women's tennis tournament.

LOS ANGELES — The 1978 World Team Tennis champion Los Angeles Strings are folding, team owner Jerry Buss announced.

The New York and Boston franchises had already folded following the past season, leaving seven teams in the WTT.

Bowling World Cup

BOGOTA, Columbia (AP) — Daniela Gruber of West Germany led 16 survivors into today's women's quarter-finals at the 14th Bowling World Cup.

The 32-year-old out-averaged the men's field Tuesday when she rolled an eight-game total of 1,583, including a high game of 223, to boost her total for the 16-game qualifying to 3,042.

Birgitte Lund, the Copenhagen secretary who won the Cup in 1975, slipped out the lead and into second place with 2,937.

The top 16 scorers from the original field of 37 women advanced to Wednesday's action. Among the top scorers was Nikki Gianulis, the U.S. collegiate champion from Suisun, Calif.

The men continued their qualifying games today with Eric Gardner of Oslo, Norway, in the lead with a 16-game total of 3,105. The 24-year-old bank cashier shot 1,541 for eight games Tuesday. Kanemori Fukuhara of Japan was second with 3,026 and Georg Winter of West Germany was third with 3,021.

Atlanta to camp refs

SUWANEE, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons will get acquainted with National Football League officials early next season.

Falcon Coach Leeman Bennett said Tuesday he plans to hire officials to attend the team's training camp in hopes that next year's team won't suffer as many penalties as this year's.

On Sunday, Atlanta was penalized 17 times for 125 yards during a 21-10 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

"I wonder about the consistency of the officiating — how one team can have 17 and the other team can have seven. But I won't deny that every one of the penalties they called was there," Bennett said.

Meadowlands

NEW YORK (AP) — Giants Stadium at the Meadowlands Sports Complex in East Rutherford, N.J., has been chosen as the site of Soccer Bowl '79 — the North American Soccer League championship.

The game will be held either Sept. 8 or 9, NASL Commissioner Phil Woosnam said. Foxboro, Mass.; Detroit; Washington, D.C.; and Vancouver, British Columbia, were other cities that made bids for the game, he said.

Soccer Bowl '78, held at Giants Stadium, drew a NASL championship record crowd of 74,901.

CARS EVERYWHERE — Cars are everywhere in turn four during an accident that occurred during the final laps of the Dixie 500 at Atlanta International Raceway Sunday. Involved were Terry Labonte, Corpus Christi, Texas (92); Dick Brooks, Spartanburg, SC (90); Darrell Waltrip, Franklin, Tenn. (88); Dave Watson, Milton, Wisc. (37); and Benny Parsons, Ellerbe, NC (72).

Tech pair nabs Player of Week

By the Associated Press
Texas Tech cornerback Alan Swann may be a freshman but he's simply the hottest defensive player in the country at his present pace.

Swann, who played last year at Odessa Permian High School, has intercepted five passes and recovered a fumble in the last three games.

He intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble Saturday as the Red Raiders whipped Baylor 27-9 to earn The Associated Press Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week award.

The Offensive Player of the Week accolade went to Texas Tech's raging fullback, 6-foot-2, 244-pound James Hadnot, a converted tight end.

"Swann has really helped pickup our defense," said Tech Coach Rex Dockery. "He has a knack for coming up with turnovers."

At least Swann doesn't have to tackle Hadnot this fall.

Hadnot is the leading rusher in the SWC to show the wisdom of Dockery's move.

Mavericks split with Monahans

Last Saturday the Goliad Mavericks split a twinbill with the Monahans 7th grade football teams at Blankenship Field.

In the first game, the Goliad White Team defeated Monahans by a lopsided score of 48 to 6. Scoring for the Mavericks were Elijah Alidride, Blake Ford, Mark Johnson, and Holston Banks. The entire offensive and defensive teams were outstanding. Goliad's Todd Strong intercepted 2 of the 3 passes in the second half to halt any offensive drives that Monahans tried.

In the second game, the Goliad Black Team was defeated by Monahans 30 to 18 in a see-saw battle that saw Monahans put it away in the 4th quarter. Scoring for Goliad were Pete Crabtree, Marty Rodriguez, and Eric Sherman.

Sands whips Ira twice

The Sands girls' volleyball teams won their season openers last night over Ira in low scoring contests.

The Sands Junior High Colts won by a 26-14 margin. Sands was led by Laurie Mosley, Lisa Fryar and Melinda Bearden with six points each. Kellner was the high point girl for Ira with seven.

The Sands varsity Mustangs, led by Jill Floyd's 15 points, decisioned Ira by a score of 42-36. Linda Cooley was high point lady for Ira with 14.

The Sands varsity returns to action this Saturday at 3:00 in the Odessa Clinch. They meet Union in first round action.

Smith, Carlos find societal roles

By The Associated Press
Ten years and three weeks after the two American sprinters shocked the Olympic Games with a black-gloved, clinched fist salute from the victory stand in Mexico City, Tommie Smith and John Carlos have blended into society — more respectful than resented.

Given the same circumstances and the same stage, Smith and Carlos insist they would do it again. But it is a page in history that has been turned and consigned to the past. The world moves on.

The world moves on for Tommie Smith, 33, parent, school teacher, administrator — an intelligent, sensitive man who chose the role of educator to that of a professional football player.

The world moves on for Carlos, also 33, father of three, embittered for a while, temporarily a drifter but now dedicated to helping underprivileged kids in the Los Angeles area.

shotgun measured by other events of the time," says Smith. "I am not sorry it happened. I am at peace with myself."

"It's been tough — I was ostracized," says Carlos, a more militant and outspoken man. "I was run out of track. I never got a fair chance in pro football. Now I hope to organize a national youth league — to help underprivileged, mixed-up kids everywhere."

On Oct. 16, 1968, Smith, from Lamore, Calif., won the Olympic 200-meter race in 19.8 seconds, world record time, with Carlos finishing third.

When the two rangy sprinters took the podium to accept their gold and bronze medals, they wore black scarves around their necks and a black glove on one hand.

As the American flag was raised to the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," they fixed their eyes on the ground. After the medals had been hung around their necks, each raised the black-gloved fist in a defiant salute.

Gasps of surprise rolled through the huge stadium crowd. The U.S. Olympic Committee, after a few hours of deliberations, issued a public apology, deploring what it called the "discourtesy" shown by the athletes. Two days later, pressed by militant President Avery Brundage of the International Olympic Committee, the USOC suspended Smith and Carlos and ordered them to leave the city.

Smith joined the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League in July, 1969, and stayed with them 2½ years. In 1972, he was named assistant athletic director and head track and field coach at Oberlin College in Ohio where he remained until this year when he took a similar post at Santa Monica Junior College.

Carlos came home to continue his track career at San Jose State. He signed but never played football with the Philadelphia Eagles.

He worked at odd jobs for as little as $60 a week before landing an aide's post with a Los Angeles city councilman. Lately he has been working with playground kids in the Los Angeles area and pushing for a John Carlos Youth League.

Famed boxer Tunney dies

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, whose legendary battles with Jack Dempsey highlighted boxing's golden age, is dead at the age of 80.

His son, John, a former U.S. senator from California, said Tunney died Tuesday night of blood poisoning. He had been hospitalized for several weeks at Greenwich Hospital for circulatory problems.

Tunney defeated Dempsey twice, the first time in Philadelphia on Sept. 23, 1926, when he took the heavyweight crown on points.

The pair met again the following year at Soldier Field in Chicago where a crowd of 104,943 paid $2,658,660 to see Tunney successfully defend his title. That gate stood as a record until this year, when the second Muhammad Ali-Leon Spinks fight took in about $5 million at the New Orleans Superdome.

Tunney received $990,445 for the rematch to $447,500 for Dempsey but he gave promoter Tex Rickard the difference in order to get a check for $1 million. He had the canceled check framed.

In the seventh round of the second fight, Dempsey cornered Tunney and smashed him to the canvas with a series of blows to the jaw. Dempsey, sensing victory, forgot to go to a neutral corner and referee Dave Barry refused to begin the count until he did.

After a delay of about five seconds, Barry began to count and by the time he reached 9, Tunney was up.

Fight fans have argued ever since about whether Dempsey's failure to obey the rule cost him the title but Tunney said he would have won anyway.

"I know I was the beneficiary of the 'long count' but it wasn't my idea," he once said. "I was down but I wasn't out."

He said he first heard the count at 2. "I could have gotten up any time after that but I preferred to take the benefit of the full count."

"That was the only round he won," said Tunney. "Everybody forgets that I knocked him down with the first punch of the next round. After the long count, which couldn't have been more than 14 seconds, I had a chance to exhibit my ring generalship."

Tunney defended his title only once more, knocking out Tom Heeney in July 1928 in New York. He then retired, having won 56 fights, 41 by knockout. He had only one draw and suffered only one defeat.

"I had all the money I needed," he said. "I had not the slightest desire to continue fighting until my ears began to buzz. I wanted to settle down."

NORTH CAROLINA'S FIRST BLACK SHERIFF — Former NFL football player John Baker waves to supporters in Raleigh Tuesday night after it was announced that he had been elected sheriff of Wake County. Baker is the first black sheriff elected in North Carolina.

Caesar's Palace hosts "A Night with the Champ"

By The Associated Press

They're calling it "A Night With the Champ." It's a fancy soiree Thursday evening in the lavish ballroom of Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas — black tie, dinner $500 a plate, celebrities up to your eyebrows and gorgeous women in slinky satin sashaying to the tune of ringing slot machines.

Nice. But even that is not sufficient tribute to Joe Louis. They ought to declare a national holiday.

As time passes, as heavyweight boxing champions come and go, as the nation's mores and social structure continue to undergo radical change, the image of the Brown Bomber grows in stature.

He was one of the greatest — if not the greatest. His life shall always stand as a beacon for those who come after him — a quiet, simple man who faced up to the severest pressures of an ugly era in American history, degraded by fans, betrayed by associates and ultimately abandoned by many of his friends.

The world's champion, he gained a fortune, then lost it through his own naivete and bad advice. He was harassed by the Internal Revenue Department. His once staunch heart began to give way under strain and his health deteriorated.

He never publicly complained. Throughout his trials and the turbulent civil rights uprisings of the 1960s, he never lost his national pride. "Don't do it, you ought to compete for your country," he told black athletes, threatening an Olympic boycott in 1968.

Answer: Where you might sleep when you're put up for the night - THEATRIC

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, NOV. 9, 1978

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is not good for any forceful actions but you can plan the afternoon's activities in a sensible manner and make rapid progress. Secrets come to light later in the day.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Think of the best possible way to spend this day and then follow through in a positive manner. Improve your health.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try not to be forceful with anyone today and then all goes well with you. You can easily gain personal aims now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you are more cooperative with an associate, you can gain the support you need. Handle a business matter wisely.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study a plan whereby you can advance more quickly in your career. Try to be less critical of others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Figure out a better way of handling present responsibilities. Let those of whom you are fond know of your devotion to them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Showing consideration for associates now will be appreciated. Evening is the best time to have a long talk with mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be sure to schedule your time and activities well so you can accomplish more. Use tact in dealing with associates.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Making early arrangements for the recreation you want to enjoy later is wise. Take no chances where your reputation is concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Morning is the best time to handle an important business matter. Try to establish more harmony at home tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Stay away from arguments today and you keep out of trouble. Take time to improve your health and appearance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make long-range plans to improve your monetary affairs. Use care in motion today and avoid possible mishap.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Morning is not ideal for going after personal goals, but afternoon is fine. Sidelstep one who could be detrimental to your progress.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those highly sensitive young persons who should be told the truth at all times for best results during lifetime. Good spiritual and ethical training is a must here. There could be an artist in this chart.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

“Satisfaction Always”

Kmart's pledge to you, backed by 79 years of dedicated service

Kmart[®]
THE SAVING PLACE

The K mart Story . . .

It started back in 1899 with Sebastian Kresge and a nickel-and-dime store that never sacrificed quality for price, but always came through with a bargain. Kresge's policy of "Satisfaction Always" became the foundation of a business that grew, and grew, and grew! In 1962, from those hundreds of Kresge stores, a new concept evolved . . . and the first Kmart discount store was opened. With the same high quality—plus lower-than-ever, discount prices—and savings in dollars, not dimes! There were other discount stores, but none quite like Kmart . . . and the public soon caught on to the BIG Kmart DIFFERENCE—Satisfaction Always! Today, more than 1,200 Kmart stores in America pay tribute to Sebastian Kresge and his integrity — with every piece of merchandise that meets our Testing Lab's standard for quality, and passes over our counters to bring our customers savings, quality, and that original promise of satisfaction always, backed by sincerity and a tradition of 79 years of promises kept!

We Honor . . .

K mart Takes Credit for Your Savings

Cash is no problem at Kmart! With an approved credit card, you can shop easily, conveniently — and never miss out on a sale! And, for large appliances or major purchases, just ask about our installment credit service.

Coast-to-Coast . . .
More than 1,200 K mart Stores!

The Fastest Growing Mass Merchandising Chain in America

That's right! In 16 years, the Kmart idea of highest quality products at lowest, discount prices has spread—coast to coast, and continent to continent. Today, there are over 1,300 Kmart stores around the world—more than 1,200 of them in the United States. This year approximately 150 more Kmarts will be opened offering one-stop shopping, thrift, and fun for all the family. Our low-profit, big-volume merchandising plan of selling famous-name, first-quality products and our own tested brands means huge savings, backed by our pledge of "Satisfaction Always". Every purchase must give satisfaction or K mart will replace it or refund the money—promptly, cheerfully, with no runaround! So come to our newest Kmart "saving place"—join the millions who have discovered the K mart adventure and found it rewarding!
