MASS SUICIDE SCENE — This view shows the area of People's Temple at Jonestown, Guyana, where cultists committed mass suicide Saturday.

Authorities said some poisoned themselves and others used guns.

Cultists commit mass suicide

GEORGETOWN, Guyana (AP) — Guyanese troops searched the jungle today for hundreds of American cultists who fled from a mass suicide in which more than 400 others died, some shot but most poisoned by a mixture of Kool-Aid and cyanide.

The U.S. Defense Department was flying about 200 troops to Guyana to get the bodies of the dead in the Jonestown agricultural settlement which the Rev. Jim Jones and members of his People's Temple established in northwest Guyana four years ago.

The American troops included 29 identification experts. The troops were bringing helicopters to facilitate the transport of the bodies, and the Guyanese government waived a law requiring autopsies in homicide cases so that transfer of the bodies to the United States would not be delayed.

The bodies of Jones and his wife were among 409 corpses which a police spokesman said Guyanese troops had counted in and around the meeting hall in Jonestown. One reporter who visited the scene said it "looked like a garbage dump where somebody dumped a lot of rag dolls."

Jones and several others had been shot, presumably by themselves. The others had drunk Kool-Aid into which the camp doctor mixed cyanide.

Also found at the camp was a half million dollars in cash and some jewelry. Unconfirmed reports also said a half million dollars in gold and hundreds of Social Security checks had also been found.

Fifteen survivors were reported found, three in the camp and 12 who came out of the jungle. Estimates of the missing ranged from more than 375 to more than 775. An exact estimate was not possible because reports of the settlement's total population ranged from 800 to 1,200. Most were from California, the headquarters of the sect.

Jones, a former San Francisco city official, ordered the mass suicide Saturday after members of the cult attacked Rep. Leo J. Ryan, D-Calif., and U.S. newsmen who visited Jonestown to investigate reports that inmates of the settlement were being brutally treated and that would-be defectors were prevented from leaving.

Ryan and his party were attacked as they were boarding two planes at the Port Kaituma airstrip, eight miles from the settlement. Ryan, three U.S. newsmen and a woman fleeing from the settlement were killed, and 10 others were wounded.

One of the survivors found in Jonestown, a 36-year-old teacher named Odell Rhodes, said after Ryan left the settlement, Jones announced by loudspeaker that he had ordered the congressman and the journalists with him killed.

Rhodes said the suicide was ordered after the killers returned to Jonestown with word that some of Ryan's party had escaped to report what happened and what they had found in the settlement. The survivor said the settlers had been rehearsing suicide for months so that they could kill themselves if their way of life was seriously threatened.

The body of the 46-year-old cult leader was found on the stage of the meeting hall, near the chair from which he preached. He was wearing black pants and a sport shirt, and there was a bullet wound in his head.

The hall was packed with bodies, and more were piled up outside. Charles Krause of the Washington Post, who visited the camp as the representative of the foreign press, reported:

"From the air, it literally looked like a garbage dump where somebody dumped a lot of rag dolls."

The Guyanese police said they arrested two of the survivors who came out of the jungle, but no charges were filed against them immediately. Presumably the police believed they were believed implicated in the killing of Ryan and his companions.

In Washington, the State Department set up a task force to inform the families of the cultists as soon as the department learned the identities of the dead and the missing.

Some of the waiting relatives went to the locked headquarters of the People's Temple in San Francisco Monday. About 25 members of the cult were inside, guarded by police to protect them.

Voluntary controls beneficial?

Labor leaders not convinced

DALLAS (AP) — Area labor leaders attended a briefing Monday by members of President Carter's Wage-Price Council, but came away unconvinced the administration's voluntary controls will benefit their cause.

The federal panel met with management in a mild morning session, then spent the afternoon trying to placate union representatives.

Deputy Director Robert Russell and wage specialist Sean Sullivan outlined the program before opening the floor to remarks and questions.

Gene Freeland of the Dallas AFL-CIO office set the tone when he told Russell with some vehemence that the 7 percent average annual wage ceiling is mandatory in that management would enforce it.

"Find me one employer who won't ... and I'll tell you about Santa Claus."

Freeland said. "The extremely poor will come out of it extremely poor, and the extremely rich will come out of it extremely rich."

Attending but not taking part in the give-and-take was Charles Haddock, a representative of the Teamsters whose members will be voting on a key master freight contract in the first quarter of next year.

Haddock said it had been proposed from the floor at a local meeting that the union seek a 43 percent pay boost in the first year of their new contract. "I doubt that 7 percent will cover the fringes," Haddock, who left the meeting early, said he doubted if any of the union representatives present favor the Carter program.

"We should be prepared to endure more strikes," Russell told the management representatives, although he said he was not predicting more strikes.

Sullivan said the master freight and petrochemical industry contracts coming up in the first quarter would set the tone for labor acceptance of the voluntary program.

The briefing was the first of a series of regional sessions scheduled across the country.

The question of enforcement came up during the management session, and Russell had a ready answer. He said Carter plans to publicize a list of industries not complying with the standards, and government agencies will be prohibited from doing business with "violators."

Price guidelines ask businesses to hold annual price increases to one-half of a percentage point below the average rate of increase in 1976 and 1977.

"If a union elects to strike for higher wages, do we have to choose between getting 'squeezed' by the unions or 'squeezed' by the government?" asked Marvin Russell of the Levington Ship Building Co. in Orange, Texas.

"It's a moral dilemma," Sullivan said.

Carter's grassroots samplers weren't caught unaware by any of the questions, although their answers in most cases failed to satisfy the questioners.

Dick Twedell of the local Meatcutters Union, expressed concern over equity, noting that some workers earn $4 hourly while other earn $10.

"You're offering us an unattractive dose of castor oil ... I hope it isn't strychnine," Twedell said. "Unless there are some adjustments, you're not going to get the cooperation of the meat cutters. Our union wants to cooperate, but we're not going to be the only ones who pay."

Russell did not rule out changes in the program, saying a re-examination of benefit maintenance is already in progress. He also said the program contains a "gross inequity" clause meant as a catch-all for individual cases.

Carter's program also includes plans to reimburse losses via tax rebates, and Doug Reece of the AFL-CIO office asked Russell for assurances that Congress would go along with that.

"I would not be so silly to suggest that this is a certainty," Russell said. He said the administration's Congressional liaison had been "encouraged" by their reception on Capitol Hill. He also said the Internal Revenue Service had proclaimed the rebate plan "workable."

Several labor representatives expressed concerns about rising medical costs, and the council team said medical costs would get "special attention" from the administration.

Questions from industries whose wage hikes have been less than 7 percent focused on whether or not they would be allowed to catch up under the program.

New superintendent of BSSH will be honored Wednesday

By MARJ CARPENTER

Dr. Grace Ferguson arrived this week at the Big Spring State Hospital, as the new superintendent of the facility, and brought with her an air of quiet and dignified authority.

She will be honored at a reception from 2-4 p.m. Wednesday upstairs in the Harrison Building hosted by the Big Spring State Hospital executive committee to meet some of the community leaders.

But she was known by the employees to be on the facility five minutes after she arrived.

The state hospital has been without a fulltime director since the summer of 1977 and the employees were delighted to see one arrive.

She brings with her years of experience in her field. She holds both an M.D. and M.P.H. degree. In her long list of accomplishments is a 26-year period where she served with the Cornell Medical Center and was also in private practice in New York City. At one time she was psychiatrist for the New York Family Court System and she said, "There was nothing that one did not see or hear about in that position."

She came most recently from New Orleans, La., and her husband, who is a cardio vascular surgeon is still practicing there for the time being.

She and her husband came through Big Spring a couple years ago on the way back from Albuquerque and "we did a little shopping here," she related. She added "I think my husband still has a pair of blue jeans from here."

She grew up around Salt Lake City, actually in Brigham City, Utah, where she graduated in 1942. Her first degree in basic biological sciences came from the University of Utah.

She recalled that when she graduated from the University of Utah School of Medicine in 1948, it was difficult to find an internship appointment for a woman. She ended up at the Swedish Covenant Hospital in Chicago as a rotating intern.

Her first residency was in the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center where she was junior assistant resident psychiatrist and then assistant resident and finally provisional assistant to out-patients.

Her private practice was in New York from 1952 to 1975 and in Houston from 1976 to 77. She was also psychiatrist for the Texas Research Institute of Mental Science in Houston.

Dr. Ferguson said she had heard of the late Preston Harrison, longtime superintendent of the BSSH, but had never met him.

Her publications have included one on "An Experimental Psychiatric Clinic in a Family Court with Diganostic Impressions" and three others.

Dr. Ferguson is certainly qualified — no question about that. The thing that is most interesting about her is her combination of full authority and knowledge, coupled with a quiet ladylike dignity.

Dr. Ferguson has arrived at Big Spring State Hospital. The employees already know it. Wednesday, after the reception, the community will know it. And before too many weeks have passed, the patients will know it.

The state hospital again has a fulltime superintendent, who will be living on the grounds and dedicating a lot of time, coupled with ability and experience to her new position.

Focalpoint

Action / reaction: Cold subject

Q. Winter's not far off, and someone at work was talking about his car's freeze plug. What was he referring to?

A. Freeze plugs are metal alloy "corks" in the water jacket of the engine block. The plugs pop out to relieve pressure if water in the block should freeze, to prevent the block from cracking. But don't count on freeze plugs alone to protect your engine block. Keep the proper mixture of antifreeze and water in your car for cold-weather driving.

Tops on TV: The Pirate

The Pirate is a movie from the bitter pen of Harold Robbins, focusing upon Baydr Al Fay (Franco Nero), a native Israeli raised by a powerful man of Arabian descent. While controlling the vast oil fortunes of Egypt, his daughter undergoes a "radical" change.

Budget Board votes in new construction

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Legislative Budget Board has voted to include the first phases of construction of a new $83.5 million state prison in its recommendations to the 1979 Legislature.

Slated for completion in 1985 — if lawmakers appropriate the money — the new prison would house 2,000 inmates.

Board approval is a major boost, since the board includes the House speaker, lieutenant governor and several influential senators and representatives.

The board approved the first $42.4 million of the prison's cost as part of a $275.6 million budget package for the Texas Department of Corrections for fiscal 1980 and 1981.

Also in the budget proposal was $13.1 million to finish work on another prison, the 2,000-inmate Beto Unit.

The budget would add nine doctors and 10 dentists to the TDC staff, so there would be one at each of the 14 units, plus 35 medical attendants to provide 24-hour coverage seven days a week.

A federal court suit currently being heard in Houston alleges that inmates receive grossly inadequate medical care.

The budget approved by the board for submission to the Legislature also would add 612 prison guards to restore the ratio of one corrections officer to every 11 inmates.

Inmate population jumped from 20,862 to 24,615 between September 1977 and September 1978, and the department of corrections estimates it will reach 30,818 in 1981.

Location of a new prison unit has aroused controversy over the past two years. The Texas Board of Corrections negotiated purchase of a large tract in Hidalgo County earlier this year, but Attorney General John Hill ruled it would be illegal.

The appropriations pattern approved by the budget board would — if passed by the Legislature — narrow the choice of sites to land owned by TDC already or adjacent to existing prison locations.

Some legislators can be expected to oppose the large appropriation for a new prison because of past controversies over prison location or for ideological reasons.

A prison lobby, Citizens United for Rehabilitation of Errants (CURE), maintains that the existence of additional prison space will encourage the imposition of prison sentences rather than probation and other "community-based" alternatives.

Depression cited as major problem in nursing homes

DALLAS, Texas (Spl.) — Of the one million people in the United States who are living in nursing homes, most are elderly, white and poor, and three-fourths of them are women. And women are three times more likely than men to suffer from depression, the nation's leading mental health problem.

Those facts were reported Friday by Dr. Janice Wood Wetzel, assistant professor of social work at The University of Texas at Austin, when she addressed the 31st annual meeting of the Gerontological Society in Dallas. Her topic was "Person-Environment Interactions with Aging Depressed Women in Institutions."

"Experts generally agree that depression statistics would be increased considerably if the many elderly now misdiagnosed as suffering from organic brain syndrome were correctly assessed as depressed," Dr. Wetzel pointed out.

"Even so, depression is one of the most pervasive problems, reflected in the prevailing helplessness and hopelessness of the (nursing home) residents... Social scientists have found institutions to be guilty of accelerating, rather than reducing, the symptoms of helplessness and hopelessness in the elderly."

In a research study of 100 white women (half of whom were depressed and half non-depressed) between the ages of 21 and 67, Dr. Wetzel examined such factors as the individual's tendency toward dependence or independence, her relation to her environment and the occurrence of depression. No difference was found between the older (55-67) and younger (21-54) groups.

Dr. Wetzel suggested that depression results from the interaction between one's predisposition to independence or dependence and environments which are incongruent with one's needs. Citing examples in her research findings, she said that depressed women are most often dependent and lack interest in the world beyond their families.

Adding that dependent women prefer non-autonomous family environments, she said those women become depressed when they do not experience such environments.

Turning to the opposite personality types, Dr. Wetzel

Tween 12 and 20 Dad is asking too much of son

By Robert Wallace Ed. D.

Arnold's dad wants him to join the military after graduating from high school. Guest writers Henry Cruz, 17, of San Mateo, Calif., and Mona Tucker, 18, of Weirton, W.Va., both feel dear old dad is asking a bit too much.

Dear Dr. Wallace: I am a senior and will soon graduate from high school. My father feels I am to become a man, I should immediately join the service. I respect my father, but I don't want to hurt his feelings, but can't do what he asks. What would you do? — Arnold, Weirton, W.Va.

Arnold: Unless you have immediate employment after graduation, show your father that you have made plans to attend junior college or a technical or trade school. Show him your manliness by stressing good school grades and by planning for your future. — Dr. Wallace

Hello Arnie: I think your dad is way off base to think you would become a man just by being in the service. He lived his life, now it's your opportunity to make the decisions that will affect yours. If he felt the military was such a good deal why isn't he in it now? Think for yourself. — Henry, San Mateo, Calif.

Hi Arnold: It bothers me very much for your father to suggest that you immediately join the service after you graduate from high school. I'm not against the military service, I just feel it should be purely voluntary. A human life is precious and to waste several years doing something one does not want to do is simply foolish. Hopefully you will do what's best for you. Good Luck, — Mona, Weirton, W.Va.

Smoke on your neighbor in 'puffer's paradise'

MADRID (AP) — It is a country where smoking is allowed almost everywhere and cigarette sales rise every year.

While many parts of the world concentrate on stopping smoking — France bars it in post offices and California voters weigh banning it in all public buildings — Spain remains a puffer's paradise, a place to blow smoke in your neighbor's face or even that of the health minister.

"We are not a nation of heavy smokers," insists the government tobacco monopoly Tabacalera Inc., citing annual per capita consumption of 1,689 cigarettes, more than 30 packs below what it says is the European average.

But blue smoke somehow seems to curl up almost everywhere in Spain, from the state dinners at King Juan Carlos' palace to the cigarette dangling from the mouth of Communist leader Santiago Carrillo.

Spaniards, plus the more than 30 million tourists who visit the country each year, smoke in stores, taxis, hallways, hospitals and even sometimes in gasoline stations, despite signs prohibiting them from doing so.

Spain's national airline, Iberia, has yet to designate no-smoking sections on its domestic flights. Not a single cigarette package in Spain carries a health warning. Each night after 9:30 p.m. the alleged bedtime hour for Spanish children, cigarette advertisements appear on the nation's television screens. Hundreds of Madrid billboards invite Spaniards of all ages to savor the taste of a best-selling U.S. brand.

But government health officials claim a nationwide no-smoking drive launched more than one year ago is making progress, although slowly, and they point to a slight drop in cigarette sales during the past summer as one indicator.

However, from 1973-77, sales of Spanish cigarettes with dark tobacco rose more than 20 per cent, far above the population growth rate, and sales of cigarettes with lighter tobacco doubled.

With implied advice that no one really should give up smoking altogether, the Tabacalera advises: "Smoke less, enjoy it more." Included in its tips to smokers is one to stub out the cigarette when half smoked a habit destined to boost overall sales.

This Old Goat Needs a Nanny

DEAR ABBY: To the lady who wondered why men in their 50s and 60s marry women in their 20s and 30s: Most men have not shopped for many wives, so they lack experience and expertise. Generally, they've had more experience shopping for cars.

When buying a car, who would opt for an old, used model when he could get a new, unused model for the same price? In an old model, the bumper sags, the frame is crooked, the paint job is poor and the pickup is gone. And if it's 60 years old, it usually comes with a crank.

If you print this, please sign me "Only Kidding in Lincoln, Neb." My 60-year-old wife would kill me if you used my name.

ONLY KIDDING

DEAR ONLY: If you're comparing a woman to an automobile, a restored antique is worth many times more than a new model.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps I can tell you why older men prefer younger women. I'm a widower, 60, a college graduate, physically fit and financially well off. I enjoy dancing, skiing, tennis, golf, hiking, hunting, fishing, swimming, and the company of women.

Few women in the over-40 age group enjoy outdoor activities. Most are overweight and not in good enough condition to participate fully.

I admit that the older woman is more receptive sexually, but she is less responsive. And, after all, half a man's enjoyment is in the response he receives from his partner.

SANFORD, FLA.

DEAR SANFORD: My mail is running two to one in favor of the younger woman, but read on for an opposing view:

DEAR ABBY: I am a man in my 50s and, believe me, I find little of interest in young women. They can scarcely express themselves without the interjection of "Oh, wow," or a constant scattering of "You know's." I am content to leave these conversational cripples to their peer group.

Give me a warm, intelligent, mature woman in my own age group any time. One who's interesting, affectionate and fun to be with. Unfortunately, I've had no luck finding a woman my own age; they're either all socializing with each other, or they're completely occupied with their grandchildren.

I'll keep looking, however, because in my book, autumn leaves are the most beautiful of all.

BIG DADDY

DEAR DADDY: With your attitude, I'm surprised that you're not deluged with autumn leaves of all colors, shapes and sizes.

Benjamin Franklin, in a letter to a young friend, pointed out the many advantages in taking an older woman for a mistress. To paraphrase Franklin, who reportedly was quite a ladies' man: "Older women are preferable in affairs d'amour because they're more experienced, more discreet, there's no chance of children, women age from the neck down, all cats are gray in the dark, and, lastly—they're so grateful!"

Son born to Smiths

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Smith of Senora announce the birth of their first child, a son, Cody Brett, born at 1:07 p.m. Nov. 2 at Senora. Cody weighed 6 pounds 14 ounces and was 19 1/2 inches long at birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Crittenden, Garden City Rt. 1, are the infant's maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Smith, 1605 Lancaster, are the paternal grandparents.

Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Starns, Dublin.

What a pretty primping place!

Lives there a woman who doesn't like to pat her hair-do when the doorbell rings? And lay down her purse when she picks up her coat? For both—and more—you'll love this Tell City hall commode and mirror. Beautifully grained solid hard rock maple makes a handsome first impression. Tucks into less than two square feet of space. And keeps a lot of clutter out of sight. Come see this pretty pair. They're just what every hallway needs.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning is fine for coming to a new understanding of your most desirable longings and to put them into policy form so they are more easily obtainable. Don't be discouraged. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Spending more time on a new project sees it working well. Don't neglect to pay an important bill and keep out of trouble. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) The early hours of the day are fine for creative work. Later, look into new avenues of expression that can add to your income. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study your relationship with allies and know how to improve it. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Analyze your monetary structure and figure out a way to improve it. Sidestep one who is a detriment to your progress. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use direct method in stating your aims to others and gain their cooperation. Obtaining advice from financial experts is wise. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan how to improve your daily routines so you can accomplish more. Sidestep one who likes to waste your time. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Know what your personal aims are and how best to go after them. Handle your routine duties with more enthusiasm. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle civic duties that will stamp you as a responsible citizen. Strive for more harmony with family members. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure to obey every regulation that applies to you at this time. Take time to improve your appearance. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Know exactly what your obligations are and then carry through to the best of your ability. Evening is fine for social fun. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Strive for a better relationship with associates. Express your finest talents to the right audience. Show that you have wisdom. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have much work ahead of you, so delve right into it without delay. Then make long-range plans for the days ahead. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who with a magnificent goal for life, and should be given the right education needed to attain it. There is some musical talent in this chart. Be sure to give good religious and musical training. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Top newsmen killed with congressman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The three newsmen killed with Congressman Leo J. Ryan in an ambush in Guyana had received numerous awards for their reporting and photography. Don Harris, 41, and investigative reporter for NBC television in Los Angeles, came here from Dallas in 1973 to work for the local NBC affiliate as a reporter and co-anchor for the weekend news.

N. Carolina will end 70 'dry' years

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina ends 70 years of brown-bagged bottles today, welcoming liquor by the drink to 96 lucky restaurants with mixed-drink licenses. Two-ton trucks were packed with spirits for their one-time run from an Alcoholic Beverage Control warehouse to the restaurants, ABC officials said.

Some restaurateurs planned to wait until their regular opening time at lunch to serve their first rounds, and others planned special celebrations later in the day. Some didn't plan to wait at all. "We're supposed to get our shipment by 8 or 9 (a.m.) or so and we thought we'd go ahead and start serving as soon as we get it," said Bill Green, manager of Benedictines Restaurant. The state General Assembly passed a local-option liquor-by-the-drink bill in June, ending a 70-year ban and leaving Oklahoma the only state still barring all forms of mixed-drink sales. In less than six months — "the most hectic working time I've ever seen," an ABC agent said — regulations were established, applications reviewed and licenses granted.

Farm Credit chief topic of meet here Nov. 30

Small Business Administration officials will meet in Big Spring Thursday, Nov. 30 at 7 p.m. to discuss the recently passed Farm Credit Act. The meeting is open to all farmers and ranchers in Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties. The purpose of the loans are to provide a low interest credit for losses sustained to area farmers in 1978. The items of interest will be centered on eligibility, repayment and terms, computation of losses and other questions relative to was honored by the Texas Associated Press Broadcaster's Association in 1973 for exposes of inadequate airport security and scandalous emergency hospital admissions practices. He was working for station WFAA at the time. He also won a local Emmy for his reporting during riots in Washington, D.C., following the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark subpoenaed 22,000 feet of film he had taken during the riot, claiming it contained incriminating information. Harris at first turned over outtakes to his news director at station WTOP, but he quickly got them back and dumped them in the Potomac River.

Harris later said he destroyed the film because much of it was obtained on the promise that it would never be used against the subjects in court. Harris grew up in the south Georgia town of Vidalia. He was known as Darwin Humphrey then, but took the name Don Harris because it was easier to say on the air and easier for people to remember, said his uncle, Dr. A.J. Morris. Harris lived in Woodland Hills with his wife and three children.

Greg Robinson, 27, had been a photographer with the San Francisco Examiner for the past three years. A graduate of San Francisco State University, he had won several awards for his photographic work and currently has a one-man show on display in San Francisco.

He was divorced and had no children. Robert Brown, 36, had been a cameraman with NBC News since April. Previously he had worked on a free lance basis for ABC and CBS. He was born in Orange, N.J., and graduated from Franklin University in Franklin, Ind.

He lived with his wife, Connie, and daughter in Los Angeles.

Weather Freezing rain falls in Texas Panhandle

By The Associated Press Light freezing drizzle coated streets and highways in northern and eastern sections of the Texas Panhandle early today, prompting the National Weather Service to issue a travelers advisory. Fog covered much of the state during the early morning hours, making driving hazardous over a wide area. But forecasters said the freezing drizzle would change to drizzle during the morning. Most of the state was to have cloudy skies, cool to cold temperature readings and light rain or drizzle.

Forecasters said the freezing drizzle would change to drizzle during the morning. Most of the state was to have cloudy skies, cool to cold temperature readings and light rain or drizzle.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are expected in the forecast period, today until Wednesday morning, for the Pacific coast. Snow is expected from the northern Rockies through the northern Plains. Rain is forecast from the central Plains to the central Gulf. Except for the Southwest most of the country will be colder.

Gonna take a Big Springa choo choo

with Marj Carpenter

Trains have always fascinated me. That's why when I got the opportunity to see a Missouri Pacific Railroad Company system timetable book, I really sat down and read it.

You probably are saying, you really have to be some kind of nut to read a timetable book, I really sat down and read it.

You probably are saying, you really have to be some kind of nut to read a timetable for kicks.

But there's all kinds of interesting information in there.

For instance, page 56 lists the Baird Subdivision in the Rio Grande Division. Who cares?

Wed., between the Centennial Yard, which I presume is in Fort Worth, and Big Spring, which is in big black bold letters (as it should be since it's a good old railroad center) there are a lot of switch locations named.

They sure aren't all towns, although at one time they may have been.

The table lists Centennial Yard, Iona, Earls and Weatherford. Now Weatherford and the old courthouse in the middle of the street and the wonderful farmer's market with all those pumpkins and apples and corn and squash, I'm familiar with, but who ever heard of Iona or Earls?

Then next, it lists Preble, Bennett, Brazos (that's in East Texas), Santo, Judd, Gordon, Strawn and Tiffin.

After I read that list, I just knew I was completely off on the wrong railroad track, because I never heard of any of them. But they probably mean something to railroaders.

Then the next three in a row were familiar sounds, there was Ranger, on good old Ranger hill that used to be so steep that vehicles and trains had a hard time getting over the top. Next was Eastland and Cisco. One of those was the home of the first Hilton Hotel—I never can remember which one. And Cisco has themselves a junior college that we play in basketball from time to time.

Good, I thought, Everything is familiar. But the next two listed say Dothan and Jayell. Come on, there's not even a siding sign to that affect, I think to myself.

But then comes Baird and Clyde. I can't think of Baird without thinking of the many folks around here that came from Baird—like Tom Ivey. He can tell you old Baird tales.

And Clyde is next, and I've heard of that place, home of Billie Sol.

Then there's Holder and Abilene, in light letters, like it should be since Abilene is insignificant on the railroad. Next is Bagdad (isn't that in Egypt?) and then Tye (we had a Congressional candidate from there). Next is Merkel, and we all know what's at Merkel. There's a Smokey Bear that issues lots of tickets, or coupons at that location. You're better off riding a train there.

Next is Trent, Eskota (that sounds like a disease) and then Sweetwater, home of a pretty lake. Then there's Roscoe where German farmers raise good crops and one year grew lots of pretty sunflowers that brought them no money.

Next is Loraine, home of the Bulldogs and George Mahon. Then comes Colorado City, home of the Wolves (I'm sorry, Coahoma) and the lakes and then Dome. Dome? Where in the world is Dome? The table doesn't mention Westbrook, but does list good old Iatan where the red mud and the rattlesnakes almost earned it the name of Satan (only it came out Iatan on the telegraph).

Next is Coahoma. And years ago, after a shootout down by the railroad, conductors use to warn you that you were taking your life in your hands if you got off at Coahoma. Somebody told me

Exiles expect Castro to free captives

HAVANA (AP) — A delegation of Cuban exiles expects a "dramatic announcement" that most of 3,000 political prisoners said to be in Cuban jails will be freed by President Fidel Castro.

that warning was for me cause I didn't pick the Coahoma Bulldogs. They're still the winningest team in this county, folks.

Then it says Ziler (and I couldn't decide whether that was at Sand Springs or at Cosden, and then Big Spring).

If you go on to Toyah, you go through Morita, Stanton, Dix, Chub, Midland, Bounce, Pegasus, Solo, Odessa, Arcade, Duro, Metz, Monahans, Wickett, Pyote and Pecos.

Now I've been to Stanton, Midland, Odessa, Monahans, Wickett, Pyote and Pecos, but I sure don't remember those others.

If this column bored you, it's because you're not a railroader. And some of my favorite folks around Big Spring are present railroaders and retired railroaders. To them each of these locations holds a memory—out where I ride fence.

Delegation members also voiced optimism two other issues could soon be resolved: reuniting Cuban families and permitting visits by family members to and from the United States.

Houston "Earlers" rally past Dolphins

HOUSTON (AP) — It was supposed to be Earl Campbell vs. Delvin Williams, a battle of two super running backs.

It was no contest. "I don't try to compete against anybody or compare myself to anybody," said Campbell, Houston's soft-spoken rookie. And there was no way anybody could compare anybody with him after he ran roughshod over Miami Monday night.

His four touchdown runs, his 199 yards, 81 of them with barely a minute to play for what turned out to be the winning score in the Oilers'

35-30 victory — all those were merely surface numbers, not indicative of just how great this Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Texas may be.

His explosive performance vaulted him from fourth to first in National Football League rushing with 1,143 yards, 13 more than Williams and just 29 fewer than the rookie record of 1,172 set four years ago by San Diego's Don Woods.

His four touchdowns — from 1, 6, 12 and 81 yards — gave him 12 for the season, just one shy of the rookie record set by Cookie Gilchrist in 1962.

And as the names were tossed around — Woods, Gilchrist, Williams, and the bigger ones like Brown, Simpson, Payton and Dorsett — Campbell's voice became almost plaintive.

"Please, please," he begged, "Don't put me on the spot. I don't set goals for myself now. The game I had tonight, I didn't plan it. That one yard that would have gotten me 200, that didn't matter as long as we won. If I hadn't gained the 56 to go over 1,000, that wouldn't have mattered just so's we won.

poised to put the game away. "After the safety we got the ball in good position and didn't get anything," said Griese. "That was the key series. They have a good defense and you're not going to score every time you get the ball."

Horner nabs Rookie of Year

ATLANTA (AP) — This has been a year Bob Horner will relish for a lifetime.

"What else can happen in a year?" the slugging third baseman of the Atlanta Braves wondered Monday after being named the National League Rookie of the Year by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

"That's absolutely fantastic," said Horner, who began lifting weights Monday to rehabilitate his left shoulder following corrective surgery on Oct. 3.

"That caps off a year that I'll probably never forget the rest of my life — getting married, college Player of the Year and Rookie of the Year," he added.

Horner, the No. 1 choice in last June's free agent draft, played only half a season to win the award, which is decided by the votes of two BBWAA members in each of the league's 12 franchise cities.

Horner received 12½ votes to beat out shortstop Ozzie Smith of the San Diego Padres and pitcher Don Robinson of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the only other players gaining support in the balloting. Smith had 8½ votes and Robinson 3.

"They were both real good candidates for the award, too," Horner said. "I wished them all the best, but I'm happy to win it myself."

BSHS swimmers place second

The Big Spring High School Swim Team participated in a Tri Meet with Abilene High and Abilene Cooper on Saturday in Abilene. The Cooper Cougars won 9 of the 11 events and had a score of 56 to 24. The Steers won over the Eagles 45 to 13. The Steers claimed wins in the 200 medley relay, 50 meter free style, 100 free style, 500 free style, and the 100 back stroke. The 10 boys competing in the meet were Morgan Wake, Bill Hart, Kirk Nelson, Randy Stukel, Russell Stukel, Sky Hart, Doug Horton, Bill Davey, and Chuck Williams.

The Big Spring girls were defeated by Cooper and Abilene High with a score of 40 to 27. The girls competing in the 400 free style relay. The eight girls competing were: Carrie Little, Ellen Karwedsky, Cathy Miller, Marie Bonewitz, Ann Barno, Lisa Fleckenstien, Gay Greenfield, and Lisa Lloyd.

The Steers next meet will be a Jr. Varsity with Midland Lee, December 1, at the Big Spring YMCA.

Penn State, Alabama head for Sugar showdown

By The Associated Press
A matchup between the nation's two top-ranked teams in the Sugar Bowl for the national championship?

It could happen if second-ranked Alabama beats Auburn Dec. 2 in its final game of the season. A victory by the Crimson Tide would make them the Southeastern Conference representative in the Sugar Bowl, against No. 1-rated Penn State, on New Year's Day in New Orleans.

The Nittany Lions, the nation's only major unbeaten team and atop this week's Associated Press college football poll with 1,306 points, accepted a Sugar Bowl bid last week. They play their regular-season finale Friday at home against 15th-ranked Pittsburgh.

In the weekly balloting, by a nationwide panel of 66 sports writers and broadcasters, Penn State, 10-0-0, received 59 first-place votes in finishing first by an overwhelming margin for the second week in a row in The Associated Press' major college poll.

Alabama, 9-1-0, collected three first-place votes and moved from third place into the runnerup spot with 1,213 points. Both Penn State and Alabama were idle last weekend.
Southern California, which clinched a Rose Bowl berth with a 17-10 victory over UCLA last Saturday, advanced to third place with two first-place votes and 1,152 points. Only two points behind the Trojans was Orange Bowl-bound Oklahoma, which routed Oklahoma State 62-7. The Sooners retained fourth place with the other two No. 1 votes and 1,150 points.

Houston, idle last week, climbed from sixth to fifth with 1,025 points, and Michigan, which beat Purdue 24-6, advanced from seventh to sixth with 1,015 points.
Nebraska, Oklahoma's Orange Bowl opponent but a 35-31 loser to Missouri last week, slipped from second to seventh with 880 points.

Defending national champion Notre Dame, a 38-21 winner over Georgia Tech and recipient of a Cotton Bowl bid, vaulted from 10th to eighth with 797 points.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Defensive back Glenn Blackwood has fractured his wrist and is the third Texas co-captain to be sidelined this season with injuries.

Blackwood was hurt Saturday as Texas trounced Texas Christian 41-0 and accepted an invitation to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso against Maryland Dec. 23.

The San Antonio senior ran into the stadium wall on a sideline pass near the Texas goal.

Halfback Johnny "Ham" Jones and offensive guard Jim Yarbrough — two other co-captains — already are on the injured list.

"What looked an easy ball game was really rough," Texas Coach Fred Akers told a news conference Monday.

Wide receiver Ronnie Miksch, the team's second leading receiver, hurt a knee and also may miss Texas' final two games against Baylor and Texas A&M.

Sophomore Vance Bedford will replace Blackwood, Akers said, but no decision had been made on Miksch's replacement. "We have a lot of faith in him (Bedford). He's a good, young football player," said Akers.

In addition to Blackwood and Miksch, running back Leroy King bruised his shoulder and suffered a hyperextended knee; running back Adrian Price pulled a leg muscle; linebacker Doug Shankle sustained a bruised knee; linebacker Bert Vasut bruised his shoulder; and punter Russell Erxleben was hit with a helmet and had five stitches taken in his chin.

Akers said Texas players chose the Sun over the Fiesta, Liberty and Bluebonnet bowls, and one reason was that they could play and get home for Christmas.

Also, Akers said, the Sun "has a reputation for tremendous hospitality — they really make you feel wanted" — and it will be nationally televised to approximately 30 million viewers.

Canto defends title

HOUSTON (AP) — Miguel Canto defended his World Boxing Council flyweight championship for a record 13th time by scoring a split decision over feisty Thai contender Tacomron Vibonchai.

Ranked No. 5 by the WBC, Vibonchai finished strong Monday night but could not overtake the champion's strong early lead.

Canto, from Merida, Mexico, suffered a head cut after an unintentional clash of heads midway through the fourth round.

Canto raised his record to 59-3-3 while the Thai contender dropped to 32-3-2. Vibonchai, 25, weighed in at 111 1/2 pounds to the 29-year-old Canto's 111 1/4.

Veteran referee Zack Clayton scored it 145-142 for Canto, and Mark Tessman added a 146-141 card for the champion. Bill Yeager split the vote by calling it 145-142 for Vibonchai.

In other fights here Monday night, a crowd of about 8,500 at Sam Houston Coliseum watched former world bantam and featherweight champion Ruben Olivares, 126 1/2, of Mexico City defeat Isaac Vega, 125, also of Mexico City. Vega was unable to answer the bell for the start of the third round.

CHILLY WINNER — Alberto Salazar of Wayland, Mass., crosses finish line Monday for University of Oregon in winning NCAA cross country meet in 20-degree weather, wearing long underwear and gloves.

UPENDED — Miami Dolphins' wide receiver, Duriel Harris (82) upended by Houston Oilers' Greg Stemrick (27) in the second quarter of the NFL game at Houston Monday night. Harris picked up 21 yards on the play.

Cotton Bowl happy with Notre Dame

DALLAS (AP) — The Cotton Bowl was placed in a quandary by the wild college football upsets of last Saturday and the New Year's Day Classic was lucky to get Notre Dame — a team that had lost two games — for its guest team, a member of the selection committee said Monday.

"It was not a situation we jumped into; it's a situation we wound up with. We were tickled to death to get what we have," Field Scovell said.

There has been a long relationship between independent Notre Dame and the Cotton Bowl. In fact, the Fighting Irish won the national championship last year by defeating Southwest Conference champion Texas in the bowl.

Notre Dame came out of decades of a no-bowl policy in January 1970 to lose to a Texas team that won the national title. The Irish came back the next year to beat Texas.

Notre Dame has a tremendous national following and the appearance of the Irish but guarantees a lofty television ranking.

Houston is expected to be the SWC host representative. The Cougars just have to win one of their last two games. The Cotton Bowl is already sold out, said Jim Brock, executive secretary of the bowl.

Monahans defeats BSMS fish

The Big Spring freshmen girls' basketball team lost a 35-34 decision to the Monahans ninth graders last night. It was the first game of the year for the locals. Alice Wheat led the Steer fish with 20 points, followed by Cissy Doss and Sandy Puga with ten and four, respectively.

Sands conquers Grady

SANDS — The Sands Mustangs won all three of their basketball encounters with the Grady Wildcats last night.

The Sands junior varsity boys took a 54-38 win over their counterpart. Henry Sanchez scored 20 points to lead the team, with Dennis Martin chipping in with 14. Cortez led Grady with 10.

The Sands varsity girls scored an easy 54-19 victory. Elva Arismendez scored 14 points to lead Sands, and Jill Floyd tallied 12. Nelson led Grady with eight.

The Sands varsity boys capped the night with a 77-53 romp. Sands was led by Larry Feaster with 23 points. Van Gaskins and David Hall added to the victory with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Ronald Chee scored 14 to pace the losers.

Forsan JHS sweeps Coahoma

FORSAN — Forsan Junior High School took both ends of their games with Coahoma Junior High last night. The Buffalo girls won a narrow 18-16 contest. Vickie Baggett scored 10 points for the winners.

The Forsan boys, led by Robert Eggleston's 16 points, took a 25-18 win over the baby Bulldogs. J. Robinson led Coahoma with six.

Garden City JHS, Sands split

GARDEN CITY — Garden City Junior High split two matches with Sands Junior High in action last night. Sands won the girls' game by a convincing score of 38-17. Lisa Fryar led Sands with 12 points. Garden City was paced by Stacy Wilkerson with five points.

The Garden City boys took a 28-18 win over the Sands Junior High squad. Archie Sanchez led a balanced scoring attack with nine points for the winners. Layton was high point man for Sands with nine.

Soviets conclude tour at Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Soviet National basketball team concludes a 13-game exhibition tour against American colleges by playing the University of Arkansas tonight in Little Rock's Barton Coliseum.

The Soviets defeated the Kansas Jayhawks Monday night, 87-84. They were led by Andrei Lopatov, a 6-foot-10 forward, who scored 19 points and grabbed seven rebounds before fouling out in the second half. Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton said the Razorbacks are the underdog but noted the game doesn't count on the season record books.

The Jayhawks trailed 48-35 at the half after committing 15 turnovers and hitting only 15 of 47 free throws. But they began chipping away until they tied the game 83-83 with 2:21 left on a pair of free throws by guard Darnell Valentine.

Families waiting in fear, anger for news of dead

By The Associated Press
 The fathers and mothers, daughters and sons of those who followed the Rev. Jim Jones waited today with fear, resignation, anger — and a question: were the people they love among the more than 400 twisted bodies in Guyana?
 "Where's my mother?" screamed Margie Henderson as she flailed at a chain link fence at the People's Temple headquarters in San Francisco. "Shoot me, shoot me like you shot them!" she raged.
 Her words were the words of thousands.
 The kin of the People's Temple waited: Timothy and Grace Stoen, for word of their 6-year-old son; Samantha Tucker of Tulsa, Okla., for news of her 86-year-old mother; and Mike Carter of Boise, Idaho, whose children and grandchildren — nine in all — went to Guyana.
 In Washington, the State Department set up a task force, and for some families, the waiting ended. But the agency said it had no complete list of the dead — killed by poison or gunshots — or the living. Some 500-900 cult members were unaccounted for, and had apparently fled into the dense jungle.
 The days of death in Jonestown, Guyana, began with the fatal shootings of California Rep. Leo Ryan, who had gone there to investigate the cult, and four others. They ended with the deaths of Jones and hundreds of his followers.
 Some of the waiting relatives went to the People's Temple headquarters in San Francisco Monday, where about 25 cult members stayed behind locked doors and police guard.
 "We want to make sure that nothing will happen to them," said Deputy Police Chief Clem DeAmicis, adding there was no indication the temple members might try suicide. "My feeling is that they are not interested in doing away with themselves," he said.
 Outside, the people waited, and they talked.
 "There was a Hitler building up here in the heart of America — right here," said Johnnie Harris, 20, who was seeking word on his 32-year-old daughter, Vera Young, a cult member for eight years.
 Others were less bitter. "I was favorably impressed with the social and humanitarian causes of the church and their integration efforts," said the Rev. William Power Clancey Jr., who said his son, Timothy, gave up drugs after joining the temple.
 "But I see it now as a one-man cult," the minister said. "I had no idea it would end like this."
 In Oklahoma, Samantha Tucker's thoughts were of her 86-year-old mother, Mary Rogers, who went to Guyana several years ago. "It wasn't any surprise," Mrs. Tucker said of the deaths. "I know they were supposed to if anything ever happened to him (Jones.)"
 For 74-year-old Mike Carter, the State Department had this message: his two sons, Tim, 30, and Michael, 20, were alive, but their wives and Tim's child were dead. The fate of Carter's daughter, her husband and his two other grandchildren was not known.
 In Berkeley, Calif., where one family has set up a deprogramming center for People's Temple members, the hundreds of deaths fulfilled their worst fears.

"Try lowering the temperature in your home to 68° this winter. You'll save on your heating bill!"

A setting of 68° during the winter is the one Texas Electric recommends for both comfort and energy efficiency. For each degree above 68° the energy used for heating your house is increased by approximately 4% per degree. As shown by the chart the difference between the recommended thermostat setting and 74° is 24%. At 78° the increase in energy usage is 40% or more. Clearly, the lower you set your thermostat the lower your heating bill is going to be. And after last winter, one of the coldest on record, we think a lot of people are going to be trying their best to use less energy. Remember to change the filter in your heating system regularly, too. A dirty filter causes your heating system to work longer and that costs you more. Check the filter at least once each month. All forms of energy are costing more these days. If you're serious about saving energy and money, request a copy of our energy efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill.

Bearded teacher loses once again

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled once again against a teacher fired by the Kerrville school district in 1969 because of his beard.

Gene Ball, who refused to shave off a Van Dyke beard, lost his latest plea Monday.

This ancient "hair" case has been meandering through the courts for years, to the U.S. Supreme Court and back.

On this round, the 5th circuit upheld U.S. District Court Adrian A. Spears of San Antonio — but for different reasons.

Judge Spears had dismissed Ball's suit on the ground that Ball, in winning a state court award of a year's pay, failed to pursue his claim for reinstatement at that time.

The 5th circuit sustained the dismissal on another ground. It said Ball's beard failed to raise a substantial federal question.

At the time, Ball was an untenured teacher and could have been dismissed for any reason or no reason at all, the 5th circuit said.

The beard could not have become a constitutional issue unless the dismissal had resulted in pinning a "badge of infamy" on Ball, the ruling added.

"But public knowledge that Ball's refusal to shave his beard clearly bore no such taint," the 5th circuit said.
