THING OF BEAUTY — When the temperatures began to tumble the latter part of the week in the Big Spring area, exposed water began to freeze. The conditions posed problems for some home owners but created a thing of beauty with the fountain at the Colorado River Municipal Water District headquarters here. The cold was due to relax its grip on the area this weekend.

Good business barometer

Help needed in UW drive

Howard County United Way officials are taking their appeal directly to the people in a last effort to raise the $143,500 objective.

They are asking those who have received pledge cards and have not taken the trouble to return them and those who have never been contacted to respond to the appeal.

The drive is only about 70 percent complete and unless friends of the campaign rally solidly behind the push the 1978 drive will fail.

What does failure mean in a case like this? For one thing, it could be embarrassing to a community which has always "taken care of its own." For another, it will most certainly mean that all agencies sharing the money raised in the campaign will have to operate with reduced budgets for the entire year and that would be a tragic thing for those dedicated to helping the underprivileged and the indigent.

Charles Beil, president of the 1978 UW drive reminded that donations to the United Way are tax-deductible. A lot of people perhaps do not realize that, he pointed out.

The extent of giving in community invariably is a good business barometer, according to Daryle Horhertz, general chairman of the drive. A community hesitant to support a drive like the United Way sometimes is a tipoff that community is in a depressed state, timid about making plans for the future. People here do not appear to have a negative stance, he said.

Big Spring raised $141,000 last year without difficulty, Hohertz said, exceeding its goal by three percent. There was only a modest increase in this year's objective, all caused by the ravages of inflation.

Unless there is an increase in the number of donations, the 1978 drive could fall short by as much as 20 percent.

Those willing to contribute to the cause should fill out the form printed here and forward it and their checks to the United Way office, Box 24, Permian Building, Big Spring 79720.

Success in the drive would provide Big Spring and Howard County with about the best Christmas present possible — a realization there was job to be done and the response that was inspired by that challenge.

Four students die in bus-truck wreck

ROBY, Texas (AP) — A student at a small West Texas high school recalls the school principal yelling "Look out!" just before a truck came roaring onto U.S. 180 from a farm road Friday and plowed into the side of their school bus.

"Then I was lying on the ground near the front of the bus," said Wandell Williams, a 15-year-old freshman on McCaulley's basketball team. Four of his schoolmates were killed and 20 others injured, six critically, in the accident Friday afternoon 11 miles east of this West Texas community. The bus was taking McCaulley's boys' and girls' basketball teams to a tournament at nearby Hermleigh, Texas.

Jerry Decker, whose daughter Debbie was critically injured in the accident, said the bus was so torn up "you couldn't tell it was a school bus except it was yellow."

"The body of the bus was cut off. I went around the bus and the tallest part couldn't have been as tall as I am," said the 5-foot-7 Decker.

The principal, Doyle Bell, and the school's superintendent, Edd Farmer — who doubled as coaches for the basketball teams — both were injured, Bell critically. Except for Farmer's 10-year-old daughter, all the other occupants of the bus were members of the boys' or girls' high school basketball teams.

The dead were identified as Britt Jeffreys, a sophomore; Rita Wilkerson, a freshman; Bonnie Pippin, a senior; and Lolita Perales, a senior.

Many of the students were related. Jeffreys' sister and four cousins were injured, two critically, and a brother and sister of the Wilkerson girl were injured, one critically.

The Department of Public Safety said the injured were taken to five area hospitals — 11 to Snyder, five to Abilene, four to Rotan and one to Sweetwater. Two of the injured at Snyder were transferred later to Lubbock. Williams, taken to Sweetwater's Rolling Plains Hospital, will undergo surgery Monday for a leg injury.

Workers from a cotton gin nearby brought burlap cotton bagging to drape around the injured until ambulances could arrive. Temperatures were around 20 degrees and a light snow was starting to fall.

"If that gin hadn't come through with that cotton bagging, a lot more of these kids might have died," Rannelseld said, pointing out the wind chill factor was below zero and light snow was beginning to fall.

Rannelseld said the truck, driven by William Dixon of Snyder, Texas, ran a flashing light and rammed the bus from the right front side. Dixon, employed by Cardinal Survey Co., of Odessa, was critically injured. Rannelseld said the truck had been going south on Farm Road 611.

The bus was cut in two by the grinding crash and students were either thrown from the wreckage or trapped inside the bus, which landed on its top near the highway intersection. Julie Farmer, a fourth-grade student, said she was sitting behind her father as he drove the bus. She was treated and released from Fisher County Memorial Hospital at Rotan, 14 miles from the crash scene, with cuts and bruises.

"I'm all right but my head hurts," she said from the hospital, where her father was hospitalized with injuries not believed serious. She nodded when asked if she saw the truck coming.

All the windows of the bus were shattered on impact. The bus was in two pieces about seven feet apart. The cab of the truck was severed and lying 20 yards from the rest of the truck.

The curious were still gawking at the death scene at dusk Friday. Pieces of the bus and truck were scattered on the ground. School papers and other debris were strung about, littering the countryside, and the smell of fuel still hung heavy in the air.

One piece of paper, soaked with blood, lay near a fence.

"Merry Christmas," it read.

Chill factor drops to five below zero

"I couldn't even work the kettle this morning," Brigadier Robert S. Hall of the Salvation Army said Saturday. "There was hardly anyone on the street."

At 7 a.m., Saturday, the thermometers here had a reading of ten degrees. The chill factor dropped to five degrees below. Moisture froze on the windshields of cars left outside and, in some instances, motorists found they couldn't start their cars. Exposed pipes froze over.

The brave souls who did venture out were driven back indoors by the elements.

Brigadier Ball said that there wasn't more than six people that he could see from the Salvation Army kettle house at Woolworth's on downtown Main Street when he left just before noon. He said the temperature was still below 20.

The freezing drop created other developments for the Salvation Army ministry. An unusually high number of transients took refuge in the Salvation Army Lodge Friday night.

A total of 14 people filled half of the lodge.

"It's just too cold to ride freight trains. You'd freeze to death," explained Ball as one reason for the unusually high number of guests. He also said, "It's just too bad to sleep outside."

Out of money hitchhikers may have to stay over two days when it's extremely cold and wait for a weather change.

There was a trace of snow in the area Friday but the moisture evaporated as soon as it hit the ground.

By Saturday afternoon, the temperatures had climbed back up well past the freezing mark, inspiring lots of Christmas shoppers to head for the stores.

Today's forecast calls for the temperatures to get into the low 50s. The Friday weather was a low for the season and perhaps a record low for the date.

In Lubbock, the temperature retreated to zero.

Kin of BS couple safe in Turkey

By MARJ CARPENTER "I never thought I'd be so glad to hear that my kids were in Istanbul, Turkey," Mrs. A.A. Graumann said here Saturday.

Her daughter, Beth and her husband, W. Richard Rehn, were on the next to last plane to fly out of Tehran Friday night.

She said that the company that Rehn worked for decided Friday that employees should leave and that when their plane took off, they had no message or assistance from the tower.

The airport was later reported closed. The Rehns are at the Sharton Hotel in Istanbul sharing a room for two with four other couples "and happy to be here," they told their parents by telephone.

They were each allowed to take out two suitcases. Mrs. Graumann said here today that apparently some 231 persons got out in the last two loads.

The company called the Graumanns here to advise them of the whereabouts of their children and said that there were still some employees in Tehran.

The Rehns had originally thought they were going to London and on to New York, but were thankful to be in Istanbul.

No word had yet been received here Friday by Mark Wheeler's family. His wife and child flew out of the area several weeks earlier. A Lt. Col. (ret.) Allen Short, formerly of Webb AFB, is known to still be in Tehran where he works for Lockheed.

Evers is named director of VA Medical Center

Garland E. Evers is the newly named Director of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Medical Center, effective Nov. 26. He replaces Jack Powell who resigned the position earlier this year.

"My purpose in coming here is to provide leadership and direction to the VA Medical Center so as to insure the best possible level of health to the veterans in the 5 counties of the state of Texas and the one county of New Mexico that we serve," Evers said.

The new director transferred from the VA Medical Center in Allen Park, Mich., where he had served as assistant director since February, 1976.

He began his association with the VA in June, 1958 as a resident in hospital administration at VAMC, Richmond, Tenn., and later served as administrator for a state hospital. He resumed employment with the VA in July 1963, as management analyst at VAMC, Battle Creek, Mich., and served in that capacity for the following nine years at VAMCs in Louisville, Ky.; Pittsburgh, Penn.; and Washington, D.C. Mr. Evers was selected for the assistant director training program in 1972 in Washington, D.C. and was appointed as the assistant director for the VAMC at Fort Howard, Md. after completing the management training program in 1973.

He went to VACO in February, 1974 to serve as Hospital Administration Specialist, DM&S Field Operations, Region six, serving Iowa and Nebraska hospitals.

Mr. Evers received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Richmond in 1949 and his Master's degree in hospital administration from Medical College of Virginia in 1959.

He is a fellow in the American College of Hospital Administrators and a contributing author to "Health Planning for Emerging Multihospital Systems."

He is married to the former Pauline Ridout and they have a daughter, Renee, age 11. They also have a son, John who is attending International School of Law in Washington, D.C.

"My family and I are delighted to be here," Evers said. "The people of this area have made us about as welcome as anyone could. The area is so unique and so different from anything that we have experienced that it is fascinating to us—fascinating in a good sense—and we like it."

Evers says he is proud to serve the veterans as the medical director, and hopes to operate the hospital in a way which will best serve the veterans.

"These veterans who come to us for benefits have earned them through personal sacrifice and service to our nation and all of us as citizens. The Congress and the people of this land have seen fit to reward them in this manner," Evers stated.

"My intent," the new director continued, "is to take the resources provided to the Big Spring VA Medical Center and use them to the absolute maximum value for the veterans in this section of Texas."

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: TV on school bus?

Q. We would like to know if it is not against state rules for a school bus to have a TV or radio in use while the school bus is transporting children. If such is the case, why would a superintendent and a board of trustees allow such a thing. (Note: This inquiry did not concern an incident involving a Big Spring ISD vehicle).

A. Local school officials say they have never heard of such a regulation, that limiting or barring the use of such instruments likely would be up to the bus driver. The final authority would be Gabe Gilley, Director of Transportation, Texas Education Agency, Austin, whose business telephone number is (512) 475-2631.

Former Big Springer 'steals show' at Democratic convention, Carter, Kennedy debate budget cuts

By WALT FINLEY

A talk by former Big Springer, Sue Duncan, now a Brownfield school teacher, produced cheers at the Democratic mid-term convention Saturday in Memphis, Tenn.

"She stole the show" during the opening session of the agriculture committee, Larry Shaw, Knott farmer and alternate delegate from the 30th Democratic senatorial district, said Saturday night.

Attorney General John Hill also addressed the farm panel.

President Carter, taking his case directly to restive Democrats at the conference, pronounced the meeting a success.

"I'm not so sure about that," Shaw said. "The president, slipped right past me. I didn't even see him until a Secret Service agent bumped me."

"Carter made a pretty tough speech pledging a hard line on fighting inflation. A lot of folks here are not so sure his plan will work."

A few hours after Carter left the convention for Washington, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts warned delegates against trying to balance the budget "at the expense of the elderly, the poor, the black, the sick, the cities and the unemployed."

Kennedy warned that the Democratic Party "cannot afford to tear itself apart over budget cuts in basic social programs."

The Massachusetts senator appeared at the convention to appeal for support for national health insurance — a program Carter also backs but with a much slower timetable for implementation.

Kennedy told the health care panel that "we cannot accept a policy that cuts spending to the bone in areas like jobs and health, but allows billions of dollars in wasteful spending for tax subsidies to continue and adds even greater fat and waste through inflationary spending for defense."

Earlier, in face-to-face sessions with delegates, Carter also announced he will press for "a drastic cut" in U.S. and Soviet missile forces as the goal for the next round of arms negotiations.

Shaw said Carter vowed in his speech Friday night to the opening convention session to try to balance domestic and defense needs and, failing that, to err on the side of the needy in American society.

But despite the dissent, the convention is expected to end today with delegates supporting Carter's stand on virtually all issues.

Shaw and his wife, Bertie, are expected to remain in Memphis until Monday afternoon.

And away we go with Memphis missiles — sometimes called "hot shots."

Billy Hobby's problem is his image. A lot of legislators still think of him as the man who sits in when Gov. Dolph Briscoe is out of the state.

Hobby's nice guy idea tells us why there aren't more women candidates in Texas. Has anyone ever heard of a nice gal campaign?

The legislature next year will have millions in new money to hand out. That wouldn't be chicken feed if it were old money.

State liquor control agents have the choice of raiding private clubs in any area they wish. That's the Texas version of local option.

If OU can get a second shot at Nebraska, John Hill wants to know why he can't have another shot right away at Bill Clements.

In the final hours before the general election, Texas Republicans were asking animal lovers to help them keep thousands of Democrats from stamping a poor, defenseless rooster.

Howard County Democrats shouldn't forget to thank President Carter for his help during the recent campaign. He refrained from setting foot inside West Texas.

Governor-elect Clements never has felt any hint of aging — until he heard that Arkansas had elected a 32-year-old governor.

Two trucks collide near US 20 ramp

An 18-wheel tractor-trailer truck, owned by Crowbar, Inc., collided with the rear of another tractor-trailer truck, owned by Westinghouse, Saturday afternoon at the entrance ramp of IS 20, east of the US 87 intersection. Both trucks were heading east.

Charles Sparks of El Paso, driver of the Crowbar truck, said that he was going about 45 mph. He believes his truck is totaled.

Sparks and Clarence Masters, also of El Paso, were taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital. Masters was treated for two broken ribs and scalp lacerations and released. Sparks is in satisfactory condition with a back injury.

Varied agenda awaits courts

Commissioner's Court regular meeting Monday morning at 9 a.m. in the Commissioner's Courtroom will include opening bids on building a new warehouse, a discussion concerning the county trapper, a discussion concerning the Big Spring Emergency Medical Service Advisory Council, and the approval of a State Department of Highways and Public Transportation resolution.

Lubbock hosts press meeting

The West Texas Press Association will hold its mid-winter convention at Lubbock's Hilton Inn Feb. 23-24.

Advance registration for members will be $20, for non-members $25. Those waiting until they arrive to register will be charged an extra $5 in each case.

A golf tournament planned in conjunction with the convention will be directed by Tom Blakemore and Tom Roy.

Harold Hudson, Fred Barbee, Lyndell Williams, Bob Hamilton, James Roberts, H. M. Baggerly, George Baker and Dr. Sam Richards of Texas Tech's School of Medicine will be on the program.

Reservations should be sent to Bob Craig, secretary-treasurer, WTPA, Box 339, Hamlin, Texas 79620.

A reception and dance will be included on the program.

Weather Temperatures below freezing in state

By the Associated Press

The coldest weather of the winter struck Texas early Saturday sending the mercury plunging below freezing over almost all of the state.

Fair skies and cold air left from a passing winter storm combined early today to send temperatures plunging to below freezing across all but extreme South Texas.

Temperatures plunged below zero in the Panhandle and the mercury barely hovered above freezing at 33 at Corpus Christi on the Gulf of Mexico in South Texas.

Only the Lower Rio Grande Valley escaped below freezing temperatures, but readings dipped to 37 at Brownsville and McAllen, extremely cold readings for a semi-tropical area of Texas not accustomed to such temperatures.

Forecasts called for a slight warming trend for most of the state for today and Sunday, but warned of the possibility of freezing weather in deep South Texas by early Sunday.

Highs today were to range from near 30 in the Panhandle to about 50 in the Big Bend country of Southwest Texas. Most of the state, however, had readings in the 40s by mid-afternoon.

There was no mention of precipitation in the forecasts.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 20s and 30s with extremes ranging from seven below at Dalhart in the Panhandle to a chilly 37 at Brownsville and McAllen.

Some early morning readings included one at Amarillo, 15 at Wichita Falls, 25 at Texarkana, 26 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 27 at Abilene, 25 at Lufkin, 30 at Houston, 33 at Corpus Christi, 27 at Del Rio, 16 at San Angelo, 17 at El Paso and six at Lubbock.

WEATHER FORECAST — The National Weather Service forecasts rain Sunday in the Northwest for parts of Oregon and Washington. Snow flurries are also predicted for parts of Idaho and Montana.

Grant OKed by city

Marta-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The Governor's Criminal Justice Council Approved Friday a $38,462 grant to Big Spring to provide training to curb increases in major crimes.

Crime increased 31 percent between 1971 and 1975 in Big Spring and special training is needed to curb the rash of burglaries, assaults and thefts, a summary of the grant says.

The grant will establish a major crime task force consisting of two officers and a secretary. The task force will collect information from patrol officers and conduct investigation and surveillance of suspected criminals to assist in a crime crack-down.

Information gathered by the task force will be maintained in special files and made available to officers on a need-to-know basis.

Task force goals are to decrease burglary, theft and assault by 3 percent.

In 1977, there were 848 burglaries, 188 assaults, 694 thefts. During the first nine months, 144 narcotic violations were recorded.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is expected to approve the council's recommendation within two weeks.

Eastern's list of candidates for graduation includes 21 associate degrees, 176 bachelor degrees, 76 master degrees, and one education specialist degree.

Thirty-nine students will graduate with honors. Honor notations — include summa cum laude (3.80 to 4.0 cumulative grade point average), magna cum laude (3.70 to 3.79), cum laude (3.60 to 3.69), and graduation with honors (3.30 to 3.59).

Ms. Cox will receive a master of education degree in elementary education.

Clements says bilingual program wasn't helpful

By SCOTT CARPENTER

Marta-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Mexican-American high school graduates are worse off because of the state's bilingual education program, Gov. elect Bill Clements said Thursday.

He said the current system perpetuates Spanish as the primary language of the Mexican-Americans which hurts them when they seek jobs or enroll in college.

Teachers in the Rio Grande Valley are extremely concerned, Clements said.

He wants the legislature to establish a transition year, probably after the fourth or fifth grade, when English becomes the primary language in the classroom.

"When bilingual education is given from kindergarten or first grade all the way through elementary and secondary school with Spanish as the primary language we have handicapped the student for the rest of their lives," Clements told an Austin civic club.

"I accept and believe that any high school graduate who is not fluent in English will be handicapped," he said.

WAITING IN THE RAIN — Families of political prisoners stand in the rain outside Tehran's Ghaz prison as they wait for inmates to be released. The Shah of Iran has ordered the release of a number of political prisoners in a bid to diffuse tension. Guards armed with submachine guns are visible on the balcony above the steel gates.

Rockwell painting sold

NEW YORK (AP) — "Self Portrait," a 1925 painting by Norman Rockwell, has been sold for $42,000, breaking the old auction record of $32,000 for a work by the artist, who died Nov. 8 at age 84.

The painting, sold Friday, depicts a young boy dressed in a tattered and oversized overcoat and pair of shoes. The youngster poses sternly for a profile photograph while pulling a string on a camera sitting a few feet away. A small dog peeks from behind the boy's legs.

According to the auctioneer, Christie's New York, the 33-by-27-inch work was reproduced on the cover of the April 18, 1925, issue of Saturday Evening Post.

Legion disapproves

WEST WARWICK, R.I. (AP) — The local American Legion post voted its disapproval of a local Roman Catholic elementary school's revision of the Pledge of Allegiance that includes anti-abortion language.

West Warwick Post Commander Ambrose J. Hughes said Friday the veterans voted "to oppose by the fullest effort and concern" the version of the pledge taught at St. James Roman Catholic School. For the past year, students at the school have been reciting a version that ends with the phrase "with liberty and justice for all — born and unborn."

Utility company barred

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — Vermont's largest electric utility has been barred from charging consumers for its $12.5 million investment in five nuclear power plants planned for New England. The state Public Service Board cited lengthy delays — some indefinite — in the construction of the plants.

Officials of Central Vermont Public Service Corp. had no comment on Friday's ruling, which came in a decision granting the utility an 11.9 percent rate increase. The ruling bars the nuclear plant investment being included in "construction work in progress" charges, which allow utilities to include future expenses on current bills.

Five killed in home fire

NEW CASTLE, Del. (AP) — Five people were killed when a fire apparently started by a burning cigarette swept through a home in this Wilmington suburb early Saturday, authorities said.

Maryann Barker, who escaped along with her 18-year-old son, Gary, said she was awakened about 2 a.m. by shouts from her husband, Peter, 45. Authorities said Barker died when she went upstairs to try to rescue his two teen-age daughters, Patricia and Debbie, who were killed along with their grandparents, William and Anna Flanagan, both in their 80s.

Woman injured is escape

Two other people also were injured in the blaze that raged through a several streetlevel stores and upper-floor apartments on Albany's town square, officials said.

Five buildings were destroyed, before firefighters, aided by fire units from two nearby communities, brought the flames under control.

A fire in a closet at Sandra Gale Apartments No. 48 was reported at 10:25 a.m. Thursday morning. Three pumper trucks were dispatched. They arrived at 10:28 a.m. Fire Marshall Ricky Womack speculated that children playing in the closet caused the fire.

Heavy damage occurred to a house at 612 Colgate Thursday afternoon. Three pumper trucks were dispatched at 2 p.m. They arrived at 2:02 p.m. An electric light bulb had ignited a dog house under the eave of the house and caught the roof of the house on fire, speculated Womack.

McCaulley is in shock following bus accident

The tragedy which struck McCaulley, when their school bus was struck by a truck Friday afternoon while they were en route to a basketball tournament at Hermleigh, has put that small community in shock and grief.

The school is very small and almost the entire high school student body was on the bus when it was hit at the intersection of US 180 and Farm Road 611 11.2 miles west of Roby.

The bus was traveling west on U.S. 180 and was driven by a school superintendent and basketball coach Edd Farmer, 72 wellknown by many Big Springers.

According to Albert Mataway, state trooper, the truck driven by William Dixon, 21, of Snyder was traveling south on the farm road and collided with the bus at the intersection.

There is both a stop sign and a flashing signal directing traffic on that farm road to stop.

husband formerly worked at Webb AFB.

Farmer, who is injured and in the Rotan Hospital, is in shock and suffering a possible broken shoulder. His young daughter, Julie, 10, who was riding in the seat behind her father in the bus, was the only person on the bus not seriously injured.

The toll included four dead at the scene and 11 critically injured late Friday with six more seriously injured and two in stable condition as of Saturday morning.

One family, the Jeffreys, were particularly hard hit with one dead and four hurt of children belonging to two brothers.

The injured were in hospitals in Abilene, Rotan and Snyder with many of them first going to Rotan.

The young truck driver's wife works at the Snyder Daily News and was said to have run out of the office when she heard a Cardinal Truck was involved, saying, "My husband was driving one from Hamlin this afternoon."

The bus was apparently cut completely in half and students were prostrate all over the cold ground. Persons were reported to have obtained cotton sacks from a nearby cotton gin to keep them from freezing.

There is no information as to when school will resume or how the small community will recover from the shocking tragedy.

People adjust to threat of disaster

Inhabitants of some cities learn to live with the threat of disaster. Ever since San Francisco had its big earthquake back in 1906, doom-sayers have been predicting that the city will eventually fall into the sea. Not many San Franciscans have moved away because of the threat. Italians insist on building their homes around the foot of Mount Vesuvius in Italy, even though it is still considered an active volcano capable of monstrous mischief. London has a problem it is coping with, too. The largest city of Europe is in danger of being flooded, but the population apparently doesn't care or realize it. LONDON HAS LIVED for years with the threat of the Thames River bursting its banks when the next extra-high tide coincides with a driving wind. Planners expect the flood to come before the Woodwich flood barrier is finished four years hence. When the London City Council spent $200,000 on a try-out of air raid sirens and flood publicity, nobody moved.

To an extent, that is what the planners wanted, since they feared heart attacks on the streets if the crowds rushed, as they were supposed to, for high buildings. The fact is, however, the people didn't change strides because the sirens are no longer piercing enough, it seems, to cut through the noise of traffic in London. Even researchers in the Strands, ready to question passers-by on their knowledge of flood procedures, were unsure whether the faint whine in the distance was a siren or a woman in distress. LONDON OFFICIALS know that increasing the volume of the World War Two "moans" would cause discomfort and nausea to those nearby. The fiasco brought home the worrying fact that if London had been so noisy 35 years ago, much of the population would never have realized the German blitz was imminent. Now, more so than ever, man has a habit of tuning out the discordant sounds he doesn't want to hear.

Dastardly criminal

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — One of the most dastardly criminals in America today is the "hit-and-run parker." Almost everyone has been a victim of a hit-and-run parker. You go into a shopping mall or an underground self-parking cellar and do your errands. When you return you discover the side of your car has been bashed in, or there is a large gash in the radiator grille, or the bumper in the rear has been pushed three feet into the trunk.

YOU LOOK AROUND desperately to see if the guilty car is still in the parking lot. Obviously it isn't. The mad hit-and-run parker has struck again!

I went to see Chief Inspector Renfrew at the police department who is in charge of the Hit-and-Run Parking Division.

He showed me a chart and said proudly, "Hit-and-run parking is the largest growth in the country. It's risen 400 percent in the past three years. There was a time when someone who had smashed into someone else's car in a parking lot or on the street would leave a note on the windshield with his or her name, address and telephone number. But I haven't seen that happen in ages. Now it's smash, bang and 'Let's get the hell out of here.'"

"Have you ever caught a hit-and-run parker?" I asked Inspector Renfrew.

"No, but we've been close a few times," he said. "Once we had a man staked out in the basement of the Kennedy Center who saw a Chrysler smash into a new Buick. The Chrysler took off and my man followed in hot pursuit. Unfortunately, he smashed into a Chevy as he was backing out, so he had to leave by another exit so no one would know he had done it."

"IF YOU HAVEN'T made any progress in solving hit-and-run parking accidents," I asked, "why are you still in business?"

"Because we're getting closer all the time," he said. "For example, we now have a profile of the average hit-and-run parker. She's either a man or a woman, middle-class, respectable and usually votes for the law-and-order candidate. Her weakness is getting into a parking space without going over the yellow lines. She has trouble backing up, and panics easily when she sees anything moving in front of or behind her. When she wants to go forward, she will put her car into reverse; when she wants to go backwards, she'll put it in drive. When the car is perfectly positioned, she'll put her foot on the gas pedal."

"You keep saying 'she.' Does this mean the hit-and-run parker is usually a woman?"

"I wouldn't say that, but a recent survey of automobile body shops around the country indicates that more women than men are sneaking in to have their cars repaired."

"But they have more time."

"That's true, but we find a majority of them tell the body shop owner they'll pay in cash on condition that their husbands never find out about it."

"That's good sleuthing," I told Renfrew.

"The thing that really has us confused," the inspector said, "is that nobody wants to admit that they were in a moving accident any more. Therefore, when someone in the family comes home with a dented fender, that person always says it happened in the parking lot."

"What should a person do if he actually catches a hit-and-run parker in the act of smashing into his car?"

"Look around for a witness. Otherwise, it will be his word against hers."

"But aren't people reluctant to get involved in someone else's hit-and-run parking accidents?"

"Most are, unless you promise to give them your parking space in exchange for testifying in court on your behalf."

"Poor dumb animals! You wanna know who REALLY won...?"

Special heart fibers control beats

By Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: Please tell me something about fibrillation of the heart. I have had this infrequently for some time, but recently it has become more frequent. I get up and move around and it soon stops. Is this serious? It is kind of frightening. — Mrs. L.C.W.

The normal heart beat stimulus originates in the upper right chamber (auricle). It is transmitted by way of special fibers, resulting in the contraction of the lower chamber. Variations arise when the signal for beating originates elsewhere in the heart wall. If this happens, irregularities arise in heart rhythm—fibrillation. Common causes include rheumatic fever, defects in valves or arterial hardening.

The irregularities can be temporary, but when they persist they must be treated. You mention having episodes in the past. Such episodes can be due to premature contractions which can result from nervousness or excessive use of such stimulants as coffee, liquor or tobacco. This will give a sensation of skipped beats.

Since your irregularities seem to be more frequent of late, it is essential for you to have an electrocardiogram done. Auricular fibrillation poses dangers because it means not enough blood is being pumped into general circulation with each contraction. Clots may form on heart walls. Medicines can control these irregularities.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I would like to know if prolonged use of Tofranil to control a child's bedwetting could cause harmful side effects. We have been using this for months now, yet if it is missed for one night the bedwetting is resumed. Any advice? — Y.T.

It is time to reevaluate this treatment. Two months is sufficient time to tell whether the drug (the generic name is imipramine) is effective as treatment. From your letter it would not seem to be the long-run answer. If the drug is discontinued, that should be done gradually. I hope this youngster has been checked for a number of possible physical causes of bedwetting. A urinary tract disorder or infection, or such diseases as diabetes mellitus, can contribute or be the prime cause. See my booklet, "Bedwetting: How to Stop It." It may provide you with other clues. For a copy, send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Ruble care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Ruble: During our last lovemaking I was on the brink of a climax when I had a stabbing pain in the lower part of my head in the back. The pain was intense. My husband rushed me to a hospital where I was given pain medicine and some for nausea. I was never told what had happened to me. The next time the same thing happened, but was not quite so bad. We are afraid now to try again for fear it will happen. I am 26 and in good health. I hate to think this part of our marriage is over. Can you explain it and how to avoid it? — Mrs. S.S.

I usually get this kind of complaint from male readers.

During orgasm several changes occur in the body. There may be an increase in heart rate, a rise in blood pressure, and varying degrees of muscle contractions. If all of these occur together and are intense enough, the muscles of the neck and upper back may become especially strained, enough to cause an aching. None of the orgasm reactions can be really controlled at the time, so the only suggestion is to try an analgesic (such as an aspirin) prior to intercourse. This should not have to mean an end to your sexual enjoyment.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I would appreciate any information on tuberculosis, specifically how contagious it is. How should one carry on a relationship with a TB patient? — E.H.

Tuberculosis is still with us but is much less of a threat because of new drugs to treat it. Thus, patients are no longer kept isolated in sanitariums for long periods as formerly. Isoniazid, ethambutol, and other drugs readily suppress the TB germ.

Nevertheless, the patient should be taught to muffle his cough. There is no danger if the patient is on treatment. You can clean his house, do his dishes, etc. Anti-TB drugs have to be continued for at least two years, even though the germ is inactivated quickly. You might have a TB skin test to be sure you were not infected prior to the time the patient's treatment began.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Ruble, in care of the Big Spring Herald, for a copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Dear Dr. Ruble: It is my understanding that women who have been sterilized have an easier time at menopause. Is this true? — Mrs. P.W.

Not true. Dear Dr. Ruble: I am a divorcee. My problem is not wanting sex. I have a very small bust. I was wondering if the lack of hormones is the reason I don't care for sex. — P.E.

CONFIDENTIAL TO D.W. — Moderate drinking of alcoholic beverages, as you describe, has nothing to do with irregularities in your menstrual periods. Seek another cause.

Do you often have a "stomach ache"? If so, your stomach may not be the real trouble spot. Dr. Thosteson's new booklet, "Stomach and Other Abdominal Pains: A Checklist" tells you why. For your copy, write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple — write to Dr. Thosteson, in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Dr. Ruble welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My mind is full of questions as to what is right and what is wrong for a Christian. How can I know what is right, particularly as to how a Christian girl should dress? — M.L.

DEAR M. L. — The Lord Jesus realized that every Christian would need to know the difference between right and wrong, between truth and error. This is one of the reasons He sent the Holy Spirit into the life of every Christian. When Jesus was preparing to leave this earth and to send the Holy Spirit in His place, He said this of the Spirit: "When he, the spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth" (John 16:13). As soon as you become a Christian by believing in the Lord Jesus as your Savior and Lord, as the One who has provided fully for your salvation and who gives you everlasting life, then the Holy Spirit enters your life to abide with you. Within you there is the One who will guide you into all truth.

The Holy Spirit will use the Bible to teach you and to instruct your mind as to what is right and what is wrong. You need your Bible so that you can check on your doubts to see if there is a scriptural basis for them. So far as dress is concerned, you will find the Bible is much more concerned with the kind of life you live, the kind of person you are, than with what you wear. God will change you as a person, and as He does so you will find that you change your way of life and, very probably, your way of dress as well. You will no longer be concerned with drawing attention to yourself, but with letting Christ shine through you.

Around the rim

Walt Finley

An elephant was drinking from an African river when he spied a snapping turtle asleep on a log. He ambled over to it and kicked it all the way across the river.

"Why did you do that?" asked the giraffe.

"Because," replied the elephant, "I recognized it as the same turtle that took a nip of my trunk 50 years ago."

"What a memory," said the giraffe.

"Yes," the elephant agreed modestly, "turtle recall."

Merit questioned

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — You know this is the Investigative Age when gentle, grandmotherly Esther Peterson becomes the subject of an official investigation.

The Civil Service Commission is scrutinizing Peterson's activities as head of the Consumer Affairs Office to see if she dotted every "i" and crossed every "t" required by the regulations. In a talk with us, Peterson admitted she had committed some technical violations and said she was sorry for that. But penitence and good intentions haven't been enough for the Civil Service Commission. Motivated by President Carter's declared intention of cleaning up corruption in the civil service system, the commission is pushing ahead with the probe.

THE BUREAUCRATIC brouhaha centers around Rod Leonard, a consumer advocate Peterson hired earlier this year as a $47,500-a-year consultant. Civil Service regulations bar consultants from direct administrative action, like giving orders to civil service employees or ruling on promotions.

The technically correct procedure is for the consultant to give the official he works for his expert advice. Then it is up to the official to take the appropriate action. But Peterson, in her zeal to streamline the moribund consumer office, formally designated Leonard as her deputy, and Leonard apparently stepped over the line into forbidden territory.

He denied promotions for four employees, and that did it. An official grievance was filed, and the investigative machinery of the Civil Service Commission was cranked up.

Why an investigation is necessary is not clear, since no one is denying the error.

"Esther made a mistake in not getting him formally designated as deputy," a spokesman said. "No question that Esther was in violation. She just wanted to get the job done." He suggested that nervous subordinates feared her new broom might stir up the cobwebs in their particular corner, and were out to discredit her on a technicality.

dercover state drug agents. Since then, he has been forbidden by court order to discuss his case. We have learned from other sources, nevertheless, that the 62-year-old doctor is still being hassled by state authorities.

To avoid the strain of an adversary hearing before the New Jersey State Board of Medical Examiners, "Doc" Sinderbrand agreed to cop a plea and accept a six-month suspension and $13,000 in fines. But at the last minute the 15-member board backed off from its part of the plea bargain. The board now insists on a full year's suspension, a financially ruinous punishment that Sinderbrand has rejected. At his age, it would make more sense for him simply to retire.

MEANWHILE, THE DOCTOR is scheduled to go on trial next Monday in Atlantic County Superior Court on criminal charges of indiscriminately prescribing drugs. Judge Emanuel Greenberg issued a gag order to keep Sinderbrand and his lawyer from talking to us. Greenberg insists he did it to insure a fair trial, though he admitted that he rarely invokes such bench orders.

As we reported previously, Doc Sinderbrand's "take" from his alleged drug pushing amounted to his standard $10 fee for each of about 10 visits by the two agents. There was also a case of grapefruit, which the agents claimed to have brought Sinderbrand from Florida. He thought it was a gift; the state insists it was payment for illicit drugs.

Sinderbrand's troubles, ironically, started with a computer error that led state drug officials to believe he had suddenly and drastically increased his drug orders. This led state enforcers to the subterfuge that resulted in Sinderbrand's entrapment by undercover agents.

The Sinderbrand case is not unique, we have learned. Last May Dr. William Ittlesman, a respected 60-year-old Dunellen, N.J., family doctor, was accused of having prescribed dextroamphetamine for five "college students" without adequate medical examination. They turned out to be undercover agents.

Ittlesman says he did give the bogus patients heart and blood pressure tests and charged his standard $15 fee.

Upheaval brings changes to Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Powered by religious fervor and long-repressed political discontent, the winds of change are transforming Iran, replacing abundance with shortages and reducing Tehran's flashy neon night life to drab nothingness.

Eleven months of political upheaval have left many scars on this oil-rich Moslem country, once an oasis of stability in the turbulent Persian Gulf region.

Iranians face new frustrations and the nervous feeling that the worst probably lies ahead.

They can't go to the movies because devout Moslem protesters have burned or smashed most of the theaters, claiming the movies spread unwelcome Western decadence.

Bars that haven't been burned by Moslem protesters have discreetly closed their doors. The casinos were closed months ago.

The land of plenty has become the land of shortages and long lines.

"It's hurry up and wait," a housewife complained bitterly. "It's a struggle to go shopping. It's a struggle to buy heating fuel and gas for my car."

Iran is the world's second-largest crude oil exporter, but because of wildcat strikes at refineries, Iranians wait in line for hours for a half-tank of gasoline.

Going to the movies was a favorite pastime, but by last count 108 of Tehran's 115 theaters were burned or smashed beyond repair. The giant Broadway Theater survived because of a heavy police guard.

Many restaurants have switched off their neon lights. Liquor is no longer served because restaurants that served it were singled out by protesters and pillaged.

Thirsty Iranians who don't observe the Moslem ban on alcohol now must go to one of the capital's luxury hotels or private clubs, which serve as clearing houses for rumors. Conversation often centers on how to get your money out of Iran, no simple matter since currency controls were imposed Nov. 15.

At the root of it all is Moslem anger over Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi's drive to westernize Iran. Devout Moslems say the granting of freedoms to women, the redistribution of church lands and other reforms begun in 1963 undermine Iran's traditional Moslem society.

The orthodox Moslem protesters have been joined by political dissidents demanding greater political liberty.

The women's liberation movement here is now on the line, and Western-educated Iranian women say their gains may be lost if fanatical Moslem leaders have their way.

The country has been wracked by almost daily demonstrations since January, and between 1,000 and 2,000 persons have died.

The shah has pledged to his 34 million subjects to end deeprooted corruption. He sent 64 relatives out of the country in September as charges of corruption swirled about them. His wife, Empress Farah, and three of his four children remain at his side. Crown Prince Reza is in Texas for jet pilot training.

Good News From Happy Camping

BIG SPRING, TEXAS — Sometimes it's hard to know how to react when this nation sets another record. As the Wall Street Journal states, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics now tells us that the consumer price index hit the 200 mark in October, meaning that prices are now twice what they were in 1967.

This astounding fact prompted me to compare Mobile Scout's prices of eleven years ago to those of today. Surprisingly, we are off the mark. From 1967 through our most recent price revision of November 6, we have averaged about a 70% increase, which is 30 points below the consumer price index. One other point, the 1968 models had smaller square awning windows, 20 lb. bottles, single holding tanks, no converter, no Thermabond floor, and even a front awning was an option. There still is a bargain somewhere, and especially at Happy Camping, 2801 West FM 700.

To economy of state

Exports increasingly important

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Export sales of Texas agricultural products are now at the $1.76 billion level. That's about 30 percent of our agricultural output and a sizeable part of the State's total economy.

In specific crops, international sales represent an even larger share of the market: 60 percent of Texas soybeans, 68 percent of rice, 44 percent of cotton, and 35 percent of sorghum is exported.

Scientists with Texas A&M University and The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have cooperated with producer groups and USDA to expand our international markets.

For example, the Sorghum Producers Association, through the U.S. Feed Grains Council, recently sent a team to Southeast Asia to present information on the quality of U.S. sorghum.

The team consisted of Mr. Elbert Harp, Executive Vice President, Sorghum Producers Association; Dr. L. W. Rooney, professor of cereal chemistry with the Experiment Station at Texas A&M; and Professor John Beal, a nutritionist with the Kansas Experiment Station.

In Korea, Taiwan, Philippines, Malaysia, and Hong Kong, many potential customers — animal nutritionists, feed manufacturers, agronomists, economists, grain buyers, and government officials heard clear, factual presentations on the properties of sorghum and its proper use in livestock feeds.

The disadvantages as well as the advantages of using sorghum were presented in detail. The team was able to present a favorable image of U.S. sorghum because it could draw upon the latest research accomplished in the U.S.

Considerable time was spent answering questions relating to high-tannin types of sorghum compared to yellow sorghums. Sorghum quality is widely misunderstood and considered to be poorer than it is because many buyers have had bad experiences with high-tannin sorghums sold by other countries, such as Argentina.

The combined information on the basic chemistry of the sorghum kernel along with the latest nutritional data made a good first impression. But additional follow-up work will be necessary.

A week after the seminar in Taiwan, the Feed Industry Association of that country placed a tender for bids for 800,000 to 1,200,000 bushels of sorghum per month. If these sales materialize, they could increase sorghum exports by 14.4 million bushels annually, which would increase total exports by as much as 6 percent.

Markets are available, Rooney said, but they must be developed by long-term educational programs.

In this regard, much has been done, and more remains to be done, in international market development by the Texas Agricultural Market Research and Development Center.

Scientists with the Center at Texas A&M University are doing research designed to explore opportunities for expanded producer-to-producer trade in different countries.

One comprehensive, recently published study, "International Cooperative Coordination in World Grain Trade," was done cooperatively by scientists at the Center and the Economics, Statistics, and Marketing Division of the Experiment Station and Texas A&M.

Evaluation of market development aspects of nutrition-improvement programs, using low-cost, nutritionally improved foods, has been the object of part of Nichols' research. Future research is expected to analyze factors influencing consumer demand for improved processed-food products in developing countries.

But another aspect of Station marketing knowledge and influence concerns educating policy makers in analyzing effects of foreign imports and the need for effective controls.

For example, under current laws, beef imports are not curtailed until they can damage glutted domestic markets.

included Japan, the countries of the European Economic Community (EEC), Brazil, Spain, Portugal, Taiwan, and South Korea.

Drs. Ron Knutson, Mike Cook, and Tom Sporleder alerted buyers in each of these countries to the advantages of using Texas as a source of grain and cotton.

Already, as a result of the visit of economists to Japan, a trade delegation from that country visited Texas A&M University for more information.

Texas A&M has the potential for becoming a center for training people in international trade and marketing; the Department of Agricultural Economics is expanding instruction in these areas.

Research on consumer food product marketing in four countries, South Korea, Sri Lanka, Jamaica, and Guyana has been conducted by Dr. John Nichols, marketing economist with the Experiment Station and Texas A&M.

In Davis trial Secretary tells of rendezvous

HOUSTON (AP) — It was the best-kept secret since Pearl Harbor, if not quite as devastating. "This ain't their bomb," sighed prosecutor Jack Strickland. "I don't have any idea what that's going to be, but we haven't seen the last of this."

Indeed, attorneys defending Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis on a murder conspiracy charge suggested last week's disclosures merely scratched the surface.

"I think there will be more," grinned defense attorney Phil Burleson.

The defense ended its first week of testimony with a Dallas divorcee telling of an alleged mid-July rendezvous among three principals in the murder-for-hire case.

It was the same trio the defense contends conspired to frame Davis, 45. If the jury believes the story by secretary-receptionist Dorothy Neeld, it must conclude that the defendant's wife, Priscilla, FBI informant David McCrory and Pat Burleson all lied.

None admitted the July meeting. The defense says it will show that Burleson, 42, the go-between for McCrory and the FBI, schemed with Mrs. Davis and McCrory to implicate the defendant in a plot to kill his divorcee judge.

"All were having financial difficulties," attorney Burleson said, "and all had a reason to attempt to get Cullen in a compromising position to enhance Priscilla's position in the divorce case."

In a weeklong series of surprises, Mrs. Neeld, 37, supplied the topser.

She said it was 11:50 that July morning when she saw McCrory in the reception area outside the Davis-owned Dallas company where he worked. She said he was pacing nervously.

Saying she was "curious," Mrs. Neeld said she watched through a window as he climbed into a burgandy-colored Lincoln or Mercury containing two men and a platinum-haired blonde. "She looked like Priscilla Davis," Mrs. Neeld said of the woman, seated in the back seat and wearing sunglasses.

The witness identified a photograph of Pat Burleson in court and said he was the man, also wearing sunglasses, perched behind the steering wheel.

She did not identify the second man in the car, but attorneys noted out of court that Mrs. Davis' lawyer, Ronald Aultman, owns a burgandy Lincoln town car.

"These are ridiculous insinuations, that's all I can say," Aultman told newsmen in Fort Worth.

A month after that alleged rendezvous, officers seized Davis outside a phone booth and lodged the charges against him.

The state's case revolves around audio and video tapes of an encounter that same August day between Davis and McCrory, 40.

"I find the woman's story to be incredible...another in a long series of coincidences," Strickland said. "Obviously, it's testimony that's going to be explored further."

"I'm not convinced that anything that has happened in the case so far has damaged the integrity of the tapes."

ENJOYING THE FISH — The veterans in the Nursing Home Care Unit of the Big Spring Veterans Medical Center are enjoying a new 60 gallon fish aquarium, the idea of Mary Smith, standing. M.C. Foster enjoys sitting and watching the fish, as do other patients. "We had a small fish tank," said Smith, "and the patients enjoyed it, but it was hard to care for and not lighted or large enough to enjoy a variety of fish. I requested the larger tank because I thought the patients would enjoy it more, and I feel like they already have gotten a lot of enjoyment out of it."

AT VA Medical Center Free gifts for patients

The American Legion Auxiliary has once again coordinated the efforts of a number of service organizations to offer a free gift shop for patients at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Medical Center.

"I think it is just fantastic," said Dorothy Woods, one of only two women patients at the VAMC during the week of the gift shop.

"As I understand it," said Mrs. Woods, "The various volunteer organizations pooled their resources and set up what was practically a department store."

"The patients came down — and those who couldn't go on their own were transported down by a volunteer — to pick out gifts for every member of their immediate family," Mrs. Woods continued. "None of the gifts were junk, either; some were quite expensive, but the gifts, Christmas wrapping, wrapping for mailing, and mailing was all completely free to the veterans. It didn't cost us one penny and it felt so good to be able to send things home even though we are shut up here."

Some 150 patients used the free gift shop, according to Annie Branson, Veterans Administration Volunteer Service representative for the American Legion Auxiliary, and total expense of the 590 gifts and paper and mailing costs came to $8,175.35.

The ALA provided the volunteers to keep the gift shop open four days and be sure that every veteran, at the hospital had the opportunity to use the service. The gift which traveled the farthest from Big Spring went to Lawrence, Mass.

Organizations contributing to the gift shop were the

DON NEIVAR THOUGHT GIFT SHOP WAS GREAT ... with VAVS representative Annie Branson, left, deputy rep. Charlotte Young American Legion and Auxiliary, 16, 17 and 19th districts, two Veterans of Foreign War Posts and Auxiliaries, the Slaton Post of the Catholic Daughters of Texas, the TSA MO JO, two World War I Barracks and Auxiliaries and seven individuals.

Some of the groups donated gifts, ranging from blankets, bedding and clothing to cannister sets, hairdryers and children's toys, all of which were either homemade or new and all of top quality. Others donated money, which was used to buy the wrappings and pay postage.

The patients were also surveyed as to the types of gifts they would prefer to be offered in the shop, so that improvements can be made in the service next year. The ALA has offered the gift shop to patients for a number of years.

"I think it is the most beautiful idea in the world to remember the veterans' families as well as the veterans," said Mrs. Woods. "It made Christmas a lot brighter for us all."

Clements confident of future victories

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov.-elect Bill Clements told Republican leaders Saturday the party can count on winning future elections only if it serves all Texans, regardless of party.

He also said he will be working under different conditions and a higher standard than an incoming Democratic governor would face.

"We have a burden of performance no Democratic governor would have. A Democratic governor would be allowed certain mistakes ... that would be tolerated by the press and the people of Texas. We don't have that freedom. We don't have that tolerance," Clements said.

"That means we have to do a better job," he told the State Republican Executive Committee.

Longoria governor-for-a-day Saturday

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Sen. Raul Longoria, D-Edinburg, a 17-year legislative veteran who believes Mexican-Americans are "systematically short-changed" by the Texas political system, took office as governor-for-a-day Saturday.

Longoria took the oath of office from Texas Supreme Court Justice Jack Pope, then was honored with 19 window-rattling cannon blasts fired by National Guardsmen clad in uniforms of the 1840s.

A crowd of friends and well-wishers filled the Senate chamber and later honored Longoria at a reception and barbecue.

Longoria is president pro tem — assistant presiding officer — of the Senate, and as such, ranks behind Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby in order of succession to the governorship.

Hobby and Gov. Dolph Briscoe ostensibly were out of the state so Longoria could have his day as governor. Longoria goes out of office as president pro tem when the Legislature convenes Jan. 9. A new president pro tem will be selected by the Senate. The post rotates among the senators, based on seniority.

Longoria said in a speech that Texas' three most serious problems that "should be faced without delay" are poverty, education and political doors that he said are closed to ethnic and racial minorities.

"As a person of Mexican descent, I cannot overlook the fact that Hispanics have been pushed aside in the political process. ... Hispanics have been systematically short-changed," he said.

He said to remedy this, Mexican-Americans "must be appointed to positions of responsibility for which they are qualified."

Longoria was a House member from 1961 to 1973, when he became a state senator representing Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo and Jim Wells counties.

Education board asks for $500,000

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The State Board of Education voted Saturday to ask the Legislature for $500,000 to help overcome deficiencies in reading, writing and mathematics among minority students.

School districts would use the money for special training for teachers who work with black and Mexican-American children.

The board cites statewide standardized tests that showed blacks and Mexican-Americans ranked lower than Anglos in basic skills.

"This statewide assessment revealed that the average performance of ethnic minority students was substantially lower than the performance of other students in Texas schools," the board said.

Ruben Hinojosa, board member from Mercedes, said the $500,000 was inadequate, amounting to only about $2 per minority child.

"Within the limits of political reality, asking for $500,000 might be a good start, but if we ask for more, they might not give us anything," said Mary Ann Leveridge, board member from East Bernard.

The board also voted tentatively to reverse a decision by the Troy Independent School District near Temple to suspend a senior, Tim Green, in April because his hair touched his eyebrows and his collar.

A final decision will be made later — probably next month — after a new set of fact findings and legal conclusions is prepared.

Education commissioner Marlin Brockette had thrown out findings of Associate Deputy Commissioner Robert Montgomery that the Troy school board acted improperly in suspending Green.

But the state board voted to support Montgomery's conclusion.

Board member Virginia Currey of Arlington called the Troy board's position "a very perverse and obstinate insistence on obedience for obedience's sake."

"If we worried more about reading and writing ... instead of whether hair touches a collar, we would be better off," Mrs. Leveridge said.

The board voted to join with deans of schools of education, local superintendents and the Texas State Teachers Association in reviewing the whole question of teacher education and certification.

An attorney general's opinion that the board could approve — but not disapprove — teacher training programs in Texas colleges precipitated the problem.

In opting for a perhaps lengthy study that could delay action until 1981, the board set aside its proposed legislative request for full power to disapprove teacher training programs and to establish rules for teacher certification.

Teachers now are certified only once, but there have been calls for periodic re-certification.

The TSTA's legislative committee has proposed creation of a 25-member commission — consisting mainly of teachers — to set and enforce certification standards.

Board chairman Joe Kelly Butler of Houston said he "couldn't be more enthusiastic" about creation of a joint task force.

"The goal is that we get out of this with a system of teacher education and certification that we all are in basic agreement with and that can be changed in 10 years if it is not working," said board member Jane Wells of Austin.

Aggie exes influential

By DAN MALONE
 Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Legislators who attended Texas A&M University have moved into positions of enormous power this decade.
 Aggie joke tellers say that's good news for Texas A&M and bad news for Texas.
 Texas A&M certainly won't be hurt by the 16 Aggie Legislators in the Texas House and Senate.
 Aggies hold the reigns to the appropriation process in the house and senate, which should mean Texas A&M financial needs will get special attention.
 The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and three of the five senators on the conference committee which wrote the 1978-79 appropriations bill are Aggies.
 Although there may be changes during the 1979 legislative session, Aggies are expected to maintain their hold on top leadership positions.
 If the House, the Speaker, Speaker Pro Tem and Dean are Aggies, Chairman of House Committees on Appropriations; public school finance and elections are Aggies too.
 In the Senate, Aggies are chairmen or vice-chairman of Senate committees of state affairs, calendars, rules, jurisprudence, energy and the subcommittee that considers gubernatorial appointments.
 The 13 Aggies in the 1971 Legislature were a non-descript lot by comparison. Few leadership positions were reserved for Texas A&M graduates then.
 Aggie-power is unquestionably on the rise in state government.
 Behind the names of the 16 Aggie legislators trails a list of titles and positions which reads like a Who's Who in State Government.
 The nine Aggies elected to the 1979 House of Representatives are:

Rep. Billy Clayton, D-Springlake, served two-terms as Speaker of the House. Clayton has far more votes than needed to win reelection to an unprecedented third consecutive term.
 In 1971, Clayton chaired the House committee handling county legislation. He was vice-chairman of the House banking committee.
 Rep. Richard Slack, D-Pecos, is Dean and Speaker Pro Tem of the House. In 1971, he was vice-chairman of the House appropriations committee.
 Rep. Bill Prenal, D-Bryan, is chairman of the House appropriations committee and vice-chairman of the calendars committee which sets hearing and voting dates for all House bills.
 In 1971, Prenal served as vice-chairman of the House Finance Committee.
 The others were not in the House in 1971.
 Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, is chairman of the House committee on public school finance.
 Rep. Susan Gurley McBee, D-Del Rio, is chairwoman of the House election committee.
 Rep. John Sharp, D-Victoria, begins his first term this January. As a former budget examiner for the Legislative Budget Board, Sharp is expected to play an important role in the House budget process.
 Reps. Bo Crawford, D-Berument, and Foster Whaley, D-Pampa, are newly elected members of the Aggie delegation to the House.
 W. Tip Hall Jr., D-Ponder, won election to his first full term this year. Hall also served in the special legislative session this summer.
 Seven Aggies serve in the 1979 Senate. They are:
 Bill Moore, D-Bryan, one of the state's more powerful senators, has been chairman of the state affairs committee for many years. He is also one of five senators on the conference committee which wrote the appropriations bill.

 Tom Creighton, D-Mineral Wells, is being mentioned as a possible 1979 chairman of the senate finance committee, which writes the senate version of the appropriations bill.
 Although Texas A&M claims Creighton, his office says he "doesn't claim to be an Aggie." Creighton attended A&M for one semester before transferring to the University of Texas.

State agency research report shows

Police standards not equal

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A deputy sheriff must meet a 240-hour training requirement, but state law exempts his boss from certification rules.

That inequity should be changed, a state agency research report has recommended.

"At present, elected sheriffs and constables are the only categories of peace officers not subject to the training and certification requirements established by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education," the study says.

Speaker Bill Clayton requested the report from the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations staff.

The standards commission certifies officers in 277 police departments and 254 sheriff's offices.

Some sheriffs may have been certified earlier in their career, but a constitutional amendment probably would be needed to extend training requirements to all sheriffs, the study said.

An additional 80 hours of instruction should be included in basic law enforcement training requirement, the intergovernmental commission report recommended.

"Most municipal and sheriff's academies now provide more than the 240-hour minimum," the study said. "Additional study on basic procedures, provisions of the penal code and code of criminal procedures, investigation and cultural awareness have been suggested."

Psychological testing and screening should be encouraged by local departments, the study continued, but additional research is needed in that area.

"Probably the percentage of all cities in Texas that use such screening is considerably less than 57.7 percent, since this testing approach is used most often by large police departments," the report said.

The Abilene Police Department has used psychological tests for police applicants for 16 years. Dallas, Austin and Alvin are among other cities with extensive testing programs.

Pay appears a major concern among law enforcement officers, the report said. The average monthly pay for a starting officer in Texas is $733, compared to $851 nationally.

The turnover rate is 15 percent annually among officers. Cities with higher salaries have less turnover, the study showed.

"Although pay appears to be the most immediate concern, it appears that much consideration also needs to be given to providing career growth opportunities within agencies," the commission recommended.

The report also recommended:

- Management training for department heads.
- Merit pay be authorized.

No more politics for Archer Parr?

SAN DIEGO, Texas (AP) — There are rumors here of fresh campaign posters that say "Re-Elect Archer Parr" — even though the former Duval County judge goes on trial Monday on charges of misusing equipment entrusted to him by the local voters.

But at least one veteran of the George Parr years in Duval says Archer Parr now wants no part of politics in a county where politics is the favorite pastime.

"I know what the press, the lawyers and the judges think," said Walter Meek, 78, who grew up with George Parr — the late Duke of Duval.

"They think Archer will come back and rally up the old party. But he's not in any mood for it. He's learned a pretty valuable lesson — especially at his age," Meek said.

The lesson came in the form of a tough 40-month stint in federal prisons. Parr, 53, had been sentenced to 10 years in prison for lying to a federal grand jury.

Several sources close to the case say Parr served "hard time" because he is a former county judge — a post that earns no respect among convicts.

Thin and pale from a bout with tuberculosis, Parr was released from a Texarkana, Texas federal prison last Wednesday. Texas Rangers armed with orders from a state judge quickly whisked Parr to Brownsville to face state charges of official misconduct and theft.

On Monday, Parr returns to the county-line courthouse he presided over for 16 years. This time he'll be the defendant as the state tries to prove he used county employees and equipment on his private ranch.

After a Thursday hearing before State District Judge Darrell Hester in Brownsville, there was talk of a plea bargain. The deal would keep Parr out of state prison — and out of the county his uncle George molded into a private kingdom.

The agreement reportedly would place Parr on probation for 10 years. The aim of the probation would be to keep him out of Duval County politics. A courthouse source said one provision would bar Parr from living in Duval County.

On Friday, courthouse officials in Brownsville awaited word from defense or prosecution lawyers about the proposed deal. The phone calls never came and the judge made reservations in a motel near here.

Lawyers who have kept an eye on the Parr case say the deal may not be dead. The state has said it will first pursue a pair of theft of services charges that could carry a 20-year prison term and a $10,000 fine.

Some observers say the probation deal might look good to a prison-weary Parr.

Gerald Carruth, assistant state attorney general leading the prosecution, said the state has a definite game plan if there is no plea bargain.

"If we go to trial we will be seeking prison time for Mr. Parr," Carruth said.

Defense lawyer Nelson Sharpe of Kingsville said Friday Parr is ready for trial. Sharpe has said the new speedy trial law will be the basis of the defense. That law requires trial within 120 days of an indictment.

An assortment of complications, including Parr's federal prison term, could cloud the speedy trial issue.

Hester will also hear a series of defense and prosecution motions here Monday. The state wants the trial moved from here and the defense wants the judge to order mental competency tests for Parr.

While Parr has had little to say about his future plans, Sharpe said the former judge has no political ambition.

Meek agreed, saying times and attitudes have changed here since George Parr ended an era in 1975 by killing himself.

Committee wants task force on rules

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A House study committee wants Gov.-elect Bill Clements to appoint a Task Force on Governmental Rules to help straighten out the state government bureaucracy.

In a report to the 1979 Legislature, the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments said Friday the incoming governor and the legislature should have tighter control over the rule-making powers of state agencies.

The 100-page report particularly asks the new governor to create a task force that would try to:

- Reduce the overlap and duplication among the rules of various state agencies.
- Simplify rules and reduce paperwork.
- See that rules are written in "plain English."
- Encourage public participation in rulemaking of state agencies.

"I've talked with Gov.-elect Clements about this and have an appointment to go over our report with him in detail," said Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, D-Victoria, chairman of the committee.

"Actually this is closely in keeping with his discussion of regaining control over the bureaucracy."

The report recommended that the Legislature "develop procedures for making legislation granting rule-making authority to state agencies more specific as to the limits of state agency power to govern by regulation."

It recommends creation of a Joint House-Senate Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules to strengthen the legislature's review and evaluation of state agency rule-making.

Another recommendation would require that state agencies proposing new regulations "provide the public with data and information about the public benefits to be expected from adoption of the rule and the economic costs to the private sector resulting from implementation of the rule."

Carter proposes cutbacks in military pension plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — As part of its anti-inflation program, the Carter administration is considering a proposal to cut back automatic cost-of-living adjustments in military and civil service pensions.

The proposal would scrap the current twice-a-year boosts in the federal pensions, substituting a single yearly increase parallel to the annual inflation adjustments made in Social Security benefits.

The proposal could save taxpayers — and cost the pensioners — as much as $400 million to $500 million a year depending on the rate of inflation, officials estimate.

It could thus give further impetus to President Carter's pledge to trim the government's $39 billion deficit to less than $30 billion in the fiscal 1980 budget that he will submit to Congress next month.

But the move also is sure to infuriate pensioners and their various lobbying organizations, who fought bitterly against the adoption of the present cost-of-living adjustment formula in place of a more generous one considered earlier. The administration officials, who asked not to be named, said President Carter has not made a final decision on whether to seek the cutback.

But they pointed out that the move would be consistent with anti-inflation pronouncements calling on all groups in America to make sacrifices in the interest of combating rising prices.

"I think they're pretty serious," one Civil Service Commission official said. "I think it's going to be part of the budget, if it isn't already."

If Carter decides to seek revisions in the pension plan, the action would complement another controversial set of proposals to trim future pay raises for federal blue-collar and white-collar workers.

As reported earlier, presidential advisers say Carter is convinced that federal workers tend to be paid more than civilians doing the same work, and has ordered aides to draft "pay reform" proposals.

Bodies of suicide victims removed from base

DOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Del. (AP) — Some of the bodies of victims of the mass suicide and murders at the Peoples Temple commune in Guyana were to be removed from Dover Air Force Base today, according to base spokesmen.

Release of the bodies had been delayed while Delaware officials and representatives of the State Department ironed out legal problems concerning their identification.

Maj. Robert Groom, base information officer, said local morticians would pick up between six and 10 bodies today and more bodies later in the weekend.

Most of the bodies are expected to be shipped to the West Coast, the home of many commune members before they moved to the South American settlement.

William Torbert, a Dover mortician, said about 10 local funeral homes would be taking care of the bodies. He said some families had requested cremation.

The first of the 911 bodies of American members of the cult who died at Georgetown and Jonestown, Guyana, arrived on Thanksgiving aboard Air Force cargo planes.

Mary Ann Bader, a State Department spokeswoman in Washington, said she expected further body shipments later in the weekend.

VALERIE ANDERSON

Publication honors BS resident

Valerie Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Estelle Anderson of 2008 Scurry St., Big Spring, has been included in the 1977-78 edition of Who's Who Among High School Students.

The publication is authorized by Education Communications of Northbrook, Ill. Valerie, a 1977 graduate of Big Spring High School, is now a freshman in Computer Information at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Valerie played base clarinet in the high school band here, was in the Girl Scouts, served as vice-president of Youth Fellowship at the Big Spring First Church of God and was a member of the Future Homemakers class and the Latin Club.

She was offered a scholarship in music at Ranger Junior College. Scholastically, she ranked 190th in a class of 350.

Chamber gives 100 percent

Bill Albright has announced that the Chamber Staff has made it possible for the Chamber to be a 100 percent Employer in the United Way Campaign. This is another first for the Chamber and for Big Spring.

The employees are Tammy Worthan, VOE Student; Tracy Logsdon, secretary; Rose Thomas, Convention and Visitors Bureau; Claudene Floyd, office manager; Carol Hutchinson, assistant manager and Bill Albright, executive vice president.

Rotarians now selling ducats

Big Spring Rotarians are now selling tickets for their film series, "Passport To Adventure." Jerry Foresyth and Russ McEwen are handling details for the Rotary club. The Greater Big Spring Rotary club is also a sponsor.

The films will include Finland and Lapland on Monday, Jan. 15; Russia — winter and summer on Thursday, Feb. 1; Iceland on Thursday Mar. 8; Storybook Germany, Thursday Mar. 15 and Egypt on Thursday, Mar. 29.

Screenings will be at Howard College auditorium and all films will start at 7:30. A narrator who shot the film will describe the travels.

Family season tickets are $30 with single ducats priced $12.50. All Rotarians and Skipper Travel have tickets for sale.

Mailing tips offered by local postmaster

Postmaster Frank Hardesty is reminding customers that for the best service this Christmas season they should use ZIP Codes, place their return address in the upper left corner of the envelope and use proper postage.

"By following these suggestions," Postmaster Hardesty says, "customers will be assured good mail service this holiday season."

Fire contract tops agenda

The Dawson County Commissioners Court will meet Monday at 10 a.m. at the County Courthouse.

Among items on the agenda for the meeting will be consideration of a fire contract between Dawson County and the City of Lamesa, re-appointment of a County Health Officer, and reports from the auditor, treasurer, senior citizens, South Plains Health Unit and the fire department. Also, the Commissioners will hear Wayne Smith of the Museum Board and Bowen Cox of County Welfare.

Spring Postmaster says, that families "double check" envelopes and cards to be certain that proper postage is affixed. Envelopes without postage will be returned to senders, if possible, or delayed by postage-due procedures.

When the return address is placed on envelopes bearing holiday greetings, it also helps remind friends of one's current address.

And, if the family to whom a holiday message is sent moved more than a year ago it cannot be forwarded. With a return address, Hardesty says, such letters are returned to the sender with a notation that the forwarding order has expired.

Also, use of transparent cellophane or masking tape on packages is discouraged. Not only does it tear easily and gum up mechanized equipment, but it also allows wrapping paper and address labels to come off, Hardesty noted.

Use of proper package wrapping and placement of an address label inside the package will help to insure that your mailed gifts arrive at their proper destinations, Hardesty concluded.

FHA budget running out of money for loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing "an unprecedented demand" for rural housing loans, the Farmers Home Administration says its $2.8 billion budget is in danger of running out of money to help needy families.

Gordon Cavanaugh, administrator of the Agriculture Department agency, said Friday he has ordered state offices to use their limited funds sparingly in areas of greatest need and "to reach lowest-income applicants."

Cavanaugh said he also has directed field offices of FmHA, as the agency calls itself, to:

- Maintain a tighter accounting at the state and county levels to provide a better day-to-day count on funds loaned and amounts remaining.

—Set up reserves for "severe hardship" families that have no other options for housings except for FmHA loans or those that will suffer "severe financial loss" if their loans are not approved immediately.

"All FmHA offices will continue to accept applications for housing loans," Cavanaugh said in a statement. "Local offices will notify new applicants in writing if there will be a delay in processing their loans because of a lack of funds."

The program involves loans made available directly by FmHA to low and moderate-income families. The $2.8 billion available in the fiscal year that began Oct. 1 is at a record level, up $192 million from the 1977-78 program.

FmHA raises funds for the program by selling securities in the private money market and then lending to qualified borrowers to build or acquire housing.

From sneeze to wheeze quick switch for many

The breath-taking progression from sneeze to wheeze to a frantic gasp for air is a quick transition for many people with asthma.

But asthmatics and potential victims can breathe easier about this possibly fatal problem if they get prompt, early medical treatment. Controlling allergy is good preventive treatment since allergy leads to asthma in many cases. One estimate says 40 percent of people with nasal allergy ultimately get asthma to some degree.

The same irritants that cause a runny, stuffy nose make the lung lining do the same thing. This lung congestion can cause the coughing, wheezing and shortness of breath characteristic of most asthma attacks. Sometimes inherited factors or body make-up also give a person the overly sensitive lungs necessary for asthma. If a person has such lungs, many things can trigger an attack. Lung infections, vigorous exercise, emotional stress, strong fumes and cold air can be culprits, according to an article in the December issue of Texas Medicine, the Texas Medical Association's monthly journal.

Many steps can be taken to prevent allergy and asthma from reaching serious stages. A physician can give tests to determine specific things a person is allergic to and then recommend oral drugs, injections or avoiding certain substances. Such steps may help prevent asthma entirely. But if it does occur, oral drugs and sprays can control many attacks.

Despite run of bogies

January hangs on

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Don January of Dallas bogeyed four holes Saturday in the third round of the $210,000 Mexico Cup Golf Tournament to barely hang on to a 3-stroke lead over scrambling David Graham of Australia.

January shot a 1-under-par 71 on the 7,238-yard Club de Golf Mexico course while Graham turned in a 3-under 69. January went 13-under par for 54 holes at 203. Graham had a 206, 10-under par.

January tied the course record with a 64 Friday to take a 5-stroke lead over Graham, whose 66 had led the opening round. But the lanky Texan had trouble on the back nine on a cool, windy day although he had turned in a 2-under-par 34 on the first nine.

Bob Byman of Boulder, Colo., shot a blazing 66 for a 54-hole score of 208 that tied him with Bobby Watkins of Richmond, Va., 8 strokes back of the leader.

Graham finished with a spectacular 60-foot putt for a birdie on 18, one of 30 putts he used.

"I didn't play the par 5s all that well, but I drove the ball well and I had a couple of lucky breaks," Graham said.

"I made a scrambling par on 14 that might have been a big factor. I was six or eight inches off the green and made the putt for par when I was staring at the bogey," he said.

January moved 16-under par after five birdies and only one bogey through 112 holes. But he bogeyed the 13th, 15th, and 17th while Graham was picking up his birdies on the 11th, 13th, and 18th.

The Australian, who now lives in Del Ray Beach, Fla., sunk a 10-foot putt on the second hole for a birdie, a six-footer on No. 7, a 10-footer on No. 11th and a putt from 12 feet on No. 13. He missed putts of six feet on both eight and 12 for his only bogeys.

His 18th hole was truly spectacular. His drive on the 326-yard, par-4 hole stopped behind a tree in the left rough. He hit a curling one-iron to the top edge of the green, then rolled the twisting putt slightly downhill into the cup.

Tauneyiki Nakaji of Japan shot a 69 for 209. Juan "Chi Chi" Rodriguez of Puerto Rico and Leonard Thompson of Bay Hill, Fla., were tied at 210, 6-under par.

Americans win doubles to take cup lead play

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif. (AP) — Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, a pair of smiling, clockwork strategists, beat Britons Mark Cox and David Lloyd 6-2, 6-2, 6-3 Saturday to give the United States a 2-1 lead in the five-match Davis Cup championship round.

"We made up our minds to keep moving and don't stop," Lutz said of the American duo's intense aggressiveness and nearly impenetrable defense. "We should wrap it up in the first match tomorrow."

Vikes are defeated by Lions

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Gary Danielson threw a Detroit record five touchdown passes Saturday, three to Leonard Thompson, as the Lions shocked the Minnesota Vikings 45-14 in the National Football League.

The Lions' point total was their largest since 1967 and it was the most points given up by the Vikings this season. The loss blunted Minnesota's bid to capture its 10th division title in 11 years.

The Vikings entered the game tied with Green Bay for first place in the National Conference's Central Division, the Vikings fell to 6-1, while Detroit raised its record to 6-9.

Danielson completed 26 of 33 passes for 352 yards. The five touchdown passes broke the team record of four held by six others, the last being Earl Morrill in 1963.

Danielson, who threw five interceptions in a loss a week ago to St. Louis, threw two scoring passes each in the first and second quarters to give Detroit a 28-7 halftime lead.

The first came on a screen pass to Horace King at the line of scrimmage. The fullback broke three tackles, cut in and ran 34 yards for the touchdown at 8:42.

King also caught a 5-yard TD pass from Danielson in the fourth quarter when the Lions put the victory away.

The score was followed moments later when rookie cornerback Luther Bradley intercepted a Fran Tarkenton pass and returned it 76 yards for a touchdown.

Pittsburgh rips Colts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Terry Bradshaw, passing with precision on a frigid, snow-covered field, threw for three touchdowns to lead the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 35-13 victory over the Baltimore Colts Saturday in a National Football League game.

Amid temperatures in the mid 20s, both sides slipped and shivered as the Steelers raised their record to 13-2, insuring them the homefield if they make it to the American Conference title game.

The Colts fell to 5-10 as their white uniforms blended with the playing field, kept covered by a half-inch of snow in a light, but incessant downfall.

Bradshaw, who hit 11 of 19 passes for 243 yards, threw a 31-yard touchdown pass to John Stallworth, a 12-yarder to Randy Grossman and a 29-yarder to Jim Smith.

The Steelers, who clinched the AFC-Central title the week before in Houston, led 21-7 at halftime with the help of two short touchdown runs by Franco Harris.

Angelo State reaches playoff semifinals

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — Arthur Gutierrez ran for a career high 111 yards and Wylie Turner intercepted three passes to lead Angelo State to a 35-3 win over Western State of Colorado Saturday in an NAIA Division I semifinal game.

The victory sends Angelo State into the NAIA finals Saturday Dec. 16 in McAllen, Texas, against Elon College of North Carolina. Elon defeated Grand Valley of Michigan 13-7 Saturday in Burlington, N.C.

Angelo State took a quick 14-0 lead in the first quarter on a one-yard run by Jerry Aldridge and a 65-yard pass from quarterback Mark Embry to wide receiver Alvin Garrett.

Western State cut the lead to 14-3 at half on a 37-yard field goal by Mark Neeley.

Angelo broke the game open in the third quarter with two more touchdowns on a four-yard run by fullback Gutierrez and a 14-yard scoring pass play from Embry to Johnnie Jackson.

Reserve running back Anthony Johnson ended the scoring in the final quarter with a two-yard run, and Turner sealed the victory with two interceptions in the fourth quarter.

Western State's quarterback Charlie Thompson suffered six interceptions and completed only six passes. Embry threw 21 passes and completed nine for 158 yards.

Aldridge also topped the 100-yard mark for Angelo

Delaware deflated

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — Brandt Kennedy's 45-yard field goal try sailed off to the right with nine seconds remaining and Eastern Illinois escaped with a 10-9 victory over Delaware Saturday afternoon for the NCAA Division II national football championship.

The Panthers scored their winning touchdown on the third play after safety Kevin Jones recovered a fumble. One of four Delaware lost during the game — at the Blue Hens' 19 in the third quarter.

Quarterback Steve Turk was sacked for an seven-yard loss the first play, but came back to hit flanker Scott McGhee on a 25-yard pass play to the one, where Foke Cobb punched it in.

Eastern Illinois, rallying behind first-year head coach Darrell Mudra for its first winning season in 17 years, finished with a 12-2 record after going 1-10 in 1977. Delaware finished at 10-4.

Dan DiMartino gave Eastern Illinois a 3-0 lead with a 28-yard field goal midway through the first quarter, and Kennedy tied it for Delaware with a 19-yarder later in the stanza.

Cornerback Vince Hyland intercepted Turk's pass and returned it 51 yards to the Eastern 31 late in the first half. Nine plays later, Jeff Komlo hit Mike Mills for an eight-yard scoring pass to give Delaware a 9-3 lead.

Delaware threatened midway through the fourth quarter, but Jones intercepted Komlo's pass at the four.

The Blue Hens got their final opportunity after Eastern Illinois punted to the Delaware with 1:36 left in the game. Komlo completed four of seven passes to move Delaware to the Eastern 28.

Officials can be scratched Arkansas wins a point

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference announced Saturday plans to add so-called "neutral" officials to its roster, giving the University of Arkansas a breakthrough in what the Razorbacks have claimed was unfair treatment in a league dominated by eight Texas schools. "We recognize that psychological problems exist in Arkansas with the officials," said SWC Commissioner Cliff Speegle. Speegle said the SWC will add "neutral officials."

defined as "persons residing in any state who did not attend a Southwest Conference school..." Also, any SWC football coach will have the right to scratch officials. That number is still to be determined.

"We've had that rule in basketball but a football coach hasn't had that opportunity in 12 years," said Speegle.

SWC President Albert M. Witte of Arkansas said the new roster procedures for officials pleased Arkansas Athletic Director Frank Broyles, a constant critic of the league officiating crew.

"Broyles indicated that was a step in the right direction," said Witte.

Broyles said last month that the Razorbacks leaving the conference was "premature," but added "our fans are beleaguered."

Broyles added "the big item is officiating and has been all along...we should use officials from other states."

Witte said Saturday "it was a very healthy meeting...short and happy."

In other action, the SWC voted unanimously to continue its contract with Mutual Radio after the radio network admitted its 1978 product was not 100 percent.

"Mutual admitted their performance was not up to what they wanted it to be," said Witte. "They also agreed there were serious production problems and said there would be personnel changes."

Mutual is under contract to the SWC for four more years. "It took a year for a shakedown," said Speegle.

In the last four or five games, Mutual made a valiant attempt not to lose plays.

The SWC also raised its price for football tickets from $8.00 to $8.50, keeping within President Carter's inflation guidelines, Speegle said.

On another matter, Speegle said North Texas State's bid for admittance to the SWC was "not discussed by our institutions."

The SWC awarded one more year of eligibility to the following athletes: Mike Burly, track, Texas; Tim Campbell, football, Texas; Vance Lee Vaughn, track Baylor; Willie Williams, football, TCU; Mike Clark, indoor track, Arkansas; Mark Olbert, football, Texas Tech; Benny Harris, football, Texas Tech; Roger Cunningham, basketball, Texas; Mark Martingoni, Texas; Herbert Neely, TCU football.

The SWC approved the transfer of David Sann, golfer, from Houston to TCU, Chris Norton of Texas A&M, track, to Houston and Sammy Bickham, football and baseball, from Baylor to SMU.

Speegle said that the SWC did not receive a firm offer for televising its postseason basketball tournament at Houston in early March.

"For me, it was sheer hell," said Roger Maris, whose 61st home run Oct. 1, 1961 erased a mark that most baseball men felt could never be touched.

Aaron has added a few pounds since he retired at the end of the 1976 season to become a vice president and director of player development for the Braves.

Maris, crew-cut, built like a football guard, retired in 1968 and settled down to a profitable beer distributorship in Gainesville, Fla.

Each now 43, with contrasting backgrounds and personalities — Aaron, blackskinned, outgoing, a widely sought banquet speaker, and Maris, quiet, jealous of his privacy — the two baseball immortals seemed to find a common ground in recollecting the agonies which accompanied their feats.

BILL WALTON

Walton eyes comeback and offers

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Bill Walton is swimming, lifting weights and getting physical therapy for his tender left foot while he weighs offers from San Diego and Golden State that might make him the highest-paid professional basketball player in history.

"February 1 is what we're shooting at," Walton said Friday as he paused in a training regimen designed to get him back into action before the current National Basketball Association season with foot injuries.

The 6-foot-11 Walton led the Portland Trail Blazers to the 1976-77 NBA title and was voted the NBA's most valuable player in 1977-78 by fellow players despite missing the last third of the season with foot injuries.

Disagreement with Portland team officials over whether he was rushed back on the court, leading to a stress fracture in his left foot, ended with a decision last summer to leave the Trail Blazers. They agreed to trade him to the team he chooses.

"I don't negotiate in the press," Walton said when asked what kind of contract he seeks in his talks with the owners of the San Diego Clippers and Golden State Warriors.

For owner of Saints

Game something special

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — For owner John Mecom Jr., the National Football League game between his New Orleans Saints and the Houston Oilers Sunday has a special significance.

"I've grown up with the Oilers," said Mecom, a Houston resident. "That makes it especially sweet when we beat them."

"In some ways, I'm like a player who's been traded. One time, we thought we'd push to buy the Oilers, but that fell through."

"Like a player who's been traded, it turned out to be the best thing that ever happened to me."

But Mecom said he's making no special plea to the Saints players for a victory.

"The last time I made a point of telling them how I felt about a game, Atlanta beat us 62-7," he said.

Houston comes into the game 9-5 and needing a sweep over New Orleans Sunday and San Diego next week to clinch both a playoff berth and the home field advantage. The Oilers could split and still make the playoffs, but would probably lose the home field edge.

"I'm glad they have San Diego where they are, so when we beat them we won't eliminate them," Mecom said.

To beat the Oilers, the Saints must stop running back Earl Campbell, the NFL's leading rusher with 1,306 yards and an average of 4.9 a carry.

Campbell goes into Sunday's game with a set of broken ribs, as does quarterback Dan Pastorini. But both are counting on playing.

"With him (Campbell) in there, they really win it," Saints Coach Dick Nolan said. "He sees the hole and he really accelerates."

New Orleans moves largely on the arm of quarterback Archie Manning, who has slipped behind Roger Staubach of Dallas as the NFL's top-rated quarterback. Last weekend, Manning hit rookie wide receiver Wes Chandler for two touchdowns, and running back Chuck Muncie got a third touchdown by plunging off tackle.

Broncos, Patriots vie for vital victories

By the Associated Press

The Denver Broncos and New England Patriots are just one victory away from divisional championships — and neither can afford the luxury of looking ahead to that final weekend in the National Football League season.

The Broncos, gunning for their second straight American Conference West crown, can clinch it Sunday by defeating the visiting Kansas City Chiefs. The Patriots, who haven't won a division title in 15 years, can lock up the AFC East by beating the visiting Buffalo Bills.

The Broncos, six-point favorites, and the Patriots, favored by 11½, let Sunday's games get away from them, they may find themselves in the uncomfortable position of fighting for their lives when the 16th and final regular-season weekend rolls around.

The Broncos, 9-5, close the regular season next Saturday against the Pittsburgh Steelers, already the AFC Central champion and the winningest team in the league this year. The Patriots, 10-4, have the honor of playing the season's final Monday night game, Dec. 18 in Miami against the Dolphins, their only contender for the AFC East title.

This Sunday's other games are Washington at Atlanta, Dallas at Philadelphia, the New York Jets at Cleveland, St. Louis at the New York Giants, Green Bay at Chicago, Houston at New Orleans, Oakland at Miami, Tampa Bay at San Francisco and Seattle at San Diego. On Monday night it's Cincinnati at Los Angeles.

Today, Baltimore was at Pittsburgh and Minnesota visited Detroit.

The Broncos beat Kansas City and the Patriots beat Buffalo in their first meetings of the season, but in both cases the victories were anything but easy. The Chiefs dragged Denver into overtime before succumbing 23-17 while the Bills gave New England all it could handle before losing 14-10 on the second of Horace Ivory's two touchdown runs.

Maris, Aaron find they didn't have it so good

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The two men who erased baseball's most celebrated achievement — the home run records of the great Babe Ruth — met by chance at the annual baseball meetings and found they shared a lot of bitter memories.

"It should have been one of the most pleasant times of my life and it turned out to be the most dreadful," said Hank Aaron who shattered Ruth's career mark with his 715th home run in Atlanta on April 8, 1974 and went on to hit 755.

"For me, it was sheer hell," said Roger Maris, whose 61st home run Oct. 1, 1961 erased a mark that most baseball men felt could never be touched.

Aaron has added a few pounds since he retired at the end of the 1976 season to become a vice president and director of player development for the Braves.

Maris, crew-cut, built like a football guard, retired in 1968 and settled down to a profitable beer distributorship in Gainesville, Fla.

Each now 43, with contrasting backgrounds and personalities — Aaron, blackskinned, outgoing, a widely sought banquet speaker, and Maris, quiet, jealous of his privacy — the two baseball immortals seemed to find a common ground in recollecting the agonies which accompanied their feats.

Staubach to get rest

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles, victimized by Minnesota's star quarterback Fran Tarkenton last week, will have to defend more against the run than the pass in Sunday's crucial game against the Dallas Cowboys, if they wish to stay in playoff contention.

"We've got to play our best football of the season," acknowledged coach Dick Vermeil, whose 8-6 club still has a shot at a wild card berth, providing their two challengers, Washington and Atlanta, both falter in their final two games.

The Redskins and Falcons, with identical 8-6 records, shared Sunday at Atlanta.

Dallas, which clinched the National Football League's East division, is planning to give quarterback Roger Staubach a little passing rest against the Eagles because of a swollen finger.

"Roger won't throw a lot," reported Cowboy coach Tom Landry, who might even be prepared to bench him early to prevent any more serious injury.

"I'll be much quicker to substitute," Landry said. "We have some backup people who need work but I'm not going to substitute and jeopardize our chances of winning."

Tarkenton threw 56 passes in leading the Vikings to a 28-27 victory, with the go-ahead touchdown coming in the final two minutes on a goal-line pass that end Ahmad

Rashad took away from cornerback Herman Edwards.

"I really didn't feel that I had to explain what happened," Edwards said a few days after the game, still upset about the defeat. "The dude just made a great catch."

"One week you're a hero," said Edwards, who made a game-saving catch against Green Bay. "The next week you're a goat. That's the way it is with cornerbacks. One week you're in the dreamhouse, and the next week you're in the outhouse."

Philadelphia lost to Dallas 14-7 in an early season encounter on Cowboy turf, but the Eagles were in the game right up to the final whistle.

Vermeil is looking for a different outcome this time:

"We've been successful in playing Dallas tough, but we got to figure out how to score points on them to win. They've got one of the toughest defenses in football."

If the Eagles beat the Cowboys, and then knock off the New York Giants in the season's finale (also at home), their only other worry is Atlanta.

If Atlanta wins both its games it would get the wild card spot because of a better won-lost record versus common opponents.

If the Redskins win two, the Eagles get the playoff spot because of their better divisional record.

If Atlanta loses both and the Eagles and Redskins each finish 9-7, Philadelphia gets the shot at Super Bowl glory.

Bell will don Ranger togger

CINCINNATI (AP) — Third baseman Buddy Bell heard the news he'd been traded to the Texas Rangers by the Cleveland Indians while driving to the airport to pick up another Indians expatriate, Dennis Eckersly.

"It's always a shock to find out you've been traded, but there's been so many rumors about me being traded that it wasn't unexpected," said Bell at his suburban Montgomery, Ohio, home.

The Indians traded pitcher Eckersly to the Boston Red Sox last year. Bell said the old friend came to visit.

The Rangers traded shortstop-third baseman Toby Harrah to get Bell. Harrah, 30, hit .229 and 12 homers with 59 runs batted in last season. Bell batted .282 with six home runs and 62 runs batted in.

In another deal Friday, the Rangers sent reserve infielder Jim Mason to Montreal in a trade for minor-league outfielder Mike Hart. A switch-hitter, Hart hit .320 with 19 homers and 95 RBI last season at Denver. Mason had only 105 at-bats for Texas last season.

Bell, son of former Cincinnati Reds centerfielder Gus Bell, had "dreamed" of being traded to the Cincinnati Reds but did not expect that to happen. He wanted to replace Pete Rose, who signed with the Philadelphia Phillies.

But the 27-year-old veteran of seven years in the majors, all with Cleveland, said he is just as happy going to Texas.

"Texas has a very good ballclub and I know they'll be a contender. They've acquired Jim Kern and Sparky Lyle, and they've got good starters. I know Al Oliver and Richie Zisk are good ballplayers," he said.

The Indians got shortstop Toby Harrah, 30, who hit .229 and 12 homers with 59 runs batted in in 1978. Bell batted .282 with six home runs and 62 runs batted in.

Houston Stratford half-back Craig James came to play football and lost little time proving it.

Craig rambled 81-yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage Friday as Houston Stratford's playoff express rolled over LaPorte, 36-14, in a class 4A quarterfinal playoff game.

And before the night was over, Craig had ripped the LaPorte defense for 174 yards, two more touchdowns, a 36-yard field goal and two extra point conversions.

Rick Blackman snatched a touchdown pass and ran for two others as defending state champion Wylie continued its quest for back-to-back titles with a 28-0 class 2A quarterfinal win over Pittsburgh.

Wylie's tenacious defense held Pittsburg to 57 yards rushing and just four first downs on the night.

Eric Dickerson raced 73 yards for one of his three touchdowns and rushed for 224 yards to power Sealy to a 32-7 thrashing of West.

Oklahoma filly horse to watch in Futurity

VINTON, La. (AP) — The $244,000 Old South Futurity — the richest horse race in Louisiana — goes off at Delta Downs Sunday, with 10 2-year-old quarter horses set to streak 400 yards for an $85,400 winner's purse.

Oh Oh Lady Oh, owned by R.W. Nicholson of Fort Gibson, Okla., turned the fastest qualifying time, clocking :20.27 for the 400-yard sprint.

The filly has won four of six starts and has earned $21,871.

But the big horse in the race is Flying Passem, a gelding owned by Mrs. F.M. Bowman of Alvin, Texas. Flying Passem placed eighth in the $1,280,000 All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs in New Mexico on Labor Day.

Flying Passem, which had the third fastest qualifying time, :20.34, has earned $102,855 with victories in four of 11 starts.

Magic Injun has more victories than any of the 2-year-olds in the race Sunday, with victories in seven of 12 starts and earnings of $46,086, the second most earnings of the entries in the feature race. Magic Injun, owned by C.T. Fuller of Robert Pawelek booted a 21-yard field goal to give Falls City an early lead. And on the ensuing kickoff, Falls City dumped a Lexington return man in his own end zone for a safety.

Fullback Dennis Varvel rambled for 161 yards and one touchdown as Franklin walloped Hawkins 20-6 Friday night.

Vonnie Hise and Mark Wallace combined with a stiff north wind and a seven degree temperature in Lubbock Friday night to cool Stratford's previously hot playoff hopes.

Hise sprinted for 128 yard and three touchdowns and Wallace scored two others as Haskell clobbered Stratford 34-8.

Kennedy, trailing 22-0, rallied for 14 second half points and appeared on the move with 40 seconds left. But Opel intercepted a John Villanueva pass at the Randolph 24 to kill the threat and preserve the win.

Karl Cooper dashed 14 yards for a touchdown to give Lexington a narrow 6-5 victory over Falls City in a class A quarterfinal game.

Myron Jolly scored one touchdown for Wheeler and Kent Vise added another with just five seconds remaining in what had been a bruising defensive struggle.

HONOLULU (AP) — Defending champion Jeff Wells heads a field of more than 7,000, including nearly two dozen world class runners, in Sunday's sixth annual Honolulu Marathon.

Cindy Dalrymple, who won last year's women's title in 2:48:07, will have competition from Marty Cooksey, Patti Lyons, Gayle Barron, Nina Kuscsik, and several other females with world class status.

LUBBOCK — Traditionally cast as a villain, the coyote stands condemned of killing cattle, sheep, goats, chickens and desirable wildlife. However, studies have shown that the coyote is an effective rodent and rabbit control which helps the landowner harvest and store more food and produce more meat for the table.

The abundance or scarcity of the coyote's natural food such as rabbits, rodents, and other prey determines how frequently a coyote will visit a chicken house or raid a sheep pen.

When times are hard, visits by the coyote may be often, but during times of high rabbit or rat populations, the coyote pays his way.

The coyote has been trapped, poisoned, shot, runover, chased and harassed for many years. While this attempt to eradicate the coyote has failed to reduce his numbers, it has reduced the old, weak, and foolish from his ranks resulting in swift and cunning animal producing more of their kind while expanding their range nationwide.

The coyote can add another determined hunter to the list of his pursuers as the price of coyote pelts continues to increase in value.

Hunting coyotes with sight dogs or trail dogs has been a sport for years, but the use of a predator call and an accurate rifle is relatively new spanning about the last 20 years.

The expense of handling, feeding and transporting hunting dogs has been a deterrent to the new coyote hunter while the cost of a predator call is within every hunter's reach.

The coyote or predator call has improved over the years with many brands and varieties on the market. The new calls are not necessarily more effective, however.

For oysters Parks and Wildlife closes Coastal Bay

AUSTIN — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission Wednesday (Nov. 22) ordered the closing of the entire Galveston Bay system to oystering, effective Dec. 15, because of extreme scarcity of harvestable oysters.

However, commission members indicated they will review the situation in their January meeting and decide whether to continue the oystering ban.

Staff biologists of the department told the commission that oyster production is approximately 80 per cent below normal this year, due to three years of poor reproduction and high salinities resulting in disease and predation losses.

The staff had recommended closing the public reef in the bay for a year, but commission members asked for further studies into the situation between now and the January meeting so the bay possibly could be reopened earlier.

Commissioner John Green of Beaumont voiced concern that oyster lease holders who had invested time and money to transplant oysters to lease sites would suffer financial hardship if some harvest were not allowed on leased areas.

The commission discussed closing only a portion of the bay system, but law enforcement officials told the commission that a partial closing would create enforcement problems.

C.E. Bryan, head of the department's shellfish programs, said coastwide value of landings in fiscal 1978 has slipped from $3.8 million last fiscal year to about $2.7 million. Sampling this year showed the numbers of marketable oysters were 42 per cent to 85 per cent below the previous season, depending upon the specific area of the bay being sampled. Galveston Bay accounts for about 75 per cent of total landings on the Texas Gulf Coast.

The closing applies to all waters of the Galveston Bay system, which includes Trinity, East and West Bays. It also takes in some areas already closed to oystering for health reasons.

The oystering season, which already is underway in that area, will be closed Dec. 15.

Commissioner Green emphasized that the commission is striving to protect a valuable resource while at the same time attempting to avoid economic hardship on any particular segment of the commercial fishing industry. He added that he felt some accommodation should be made to allow the lease holders — who account for 20-30 per cent of the Galveston Bay harvest — to realize some return on their expensive oyster-transplanting investments.

YOUNG AMERICAN — Young American tennis star Tracy Austin heads for the ball in women's doubles action in the $125,000 Gunze World Tennis Tournament in Tokyo Saturday. Tracy paired with fellow American Kathy May in a battle against Martina Navratilova of the U.S. and Betty Stove of the Netherlands.

Trapping can be legal

LUBBOCK — Trapping has been recognized as an efficient means of harvesting fur bearers and controlling predators when it is conducted according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department rules.

Trappers can enhance their welcome on private property by following some of the unwritten rules such as: avoid setting traps in areas where domestic animals may be caught; check their traps regularly, preferably in the early morning; dispose of animal carcasses properly so as not to offend others; assist farmers, ranchers and other landowners who are having problems with predators; support strict enforcement of regulations set by Texas.

Getting permission from the landowner to trap appears to be the most important item on the list of any responsible trapper. The approval to trap from the landowner will most likely include suggestions as to the best areas to set the traps and locations of the highest populations of animals.

Record striper caught

DENISON — A 32 lb. 12 oz. record striper was caught in Toledo Bend and weighed 30 lb. 6 oz.

As more Texas anglers fish for the stripers in state lakes, it will not be long before the record will again be broken with an excellent chance the fish will come from either Texoma or Toledo Bend.

To a special friend

with Marj Carpenter

Manuela Navarette of Port Davis now Mrs. J.H. Garcia of Big Spring has an old book called "Border Skylines" written about 50 years of "tallying out" on the Boys Camp Ground.

It is written by Will F. Evans, wellknown Davis Mountain country historian. The flyleaf bears a message to her father, Juan Navarette. It says "Juan Navarette, my good friend who has always been a good and honorable man, your friend Will F. Evans."

It was dedicated to the founders of the Boys Camp Meeting, which is still attended annually by people all over West Texas, including a large group from Big Spring. The book opens with the old Cowboy's Prayer, "O Lord, I've never lived where churches grow; I've loved creation better as it stood that day you fashioned it, so long ago and looked upon your work and called it good."

Evans maintained that the history of all of Texas concurrently is the history of its religion. He gives a background of the area of which he writes pointing out that Fort Davis was built in 1854. And says "sixteen miles away is the Boys Camp Meeting Ground."

The Rev. W.B. Bloys and the Rev. L.R. Millican were two old cowboy preachers who were dearly loved in the wide expanse of West Texas.

The very first Bloys camp meeting was held Oct. 10, 1890 when folks came from all over the Cattle Country to hear Rev. Bloys around the campfire. This was before the last skirmishes with the Indians in that area. The last big Ranger-Apache fight had been a decade earlier in the Diablo Mountains northwest of Van Horn. The report back to Adj. Gen. Jmhn B. Jones said after the battle, "the people of Fort Davis are well pleased with what we have accomplished."

The event is held annually in Skillman Grove. It was not so long after Texas had gained admission to the Union of States that Henry Skillman, a veteran frontiersman, had obtained a contract to carry the mail from San Antonio to Franklin, which is now El Paso.

Long before the Civil War and the stage coach routes, Skillman's light spring-wagons carrying both passengers and mail and drawn by Spanish mules, made scheduled trips to and from the far western part of Texas. Skillman often accompanied his drivers fully armed. He was ambushed near the grove which later bore his name.

He jumped out behind a grove of oak trees and began to fire with his rifle. He shot the lead "Buck" and killed him and the other Indians fled.

The grove, where the peaceful camp meetings are now held, was actually named, then, because of a battle. Skillman was later killed in the Civil War as a captain of the Confederacy at Presidio in 1864.

When those oldtimers up there — like the Navarettes tell you how to get to the camp meeting site, they will say, "Well you can go from Kent by way of the X Ranch, Rock-pile Ranch and down HO Hill. Then you go by the Finley Ranch, Kelly Ranches and on down Barrel Spring and the Oscar Medley Ranch."

If you look blank, they might say, "Well take the X Ranch road at the rock-pile junction and follow the Nunn road up Nunn Hill past the Locke Ranches, the Observatory and Fort Davis." Or they say, "Get on Highway 17 at Toyahvale and go up Limpia Canyon."

The original ranch families who prepared the food for the first camp meetings still prepare it today. And it's grown into quite an operation. And Manuela Navarette Garcia and her late father had a lot of memories of that area.

The names like the Means, the Evans, the Robinsons, the Prudes, the Finleys, the Kellys, and others mean a lot to them.

And to a lot of other West Texas cowmen, many of whom I have known — when out riding fence.

Program to provide meals five days weekly for aged

A new program, called the Nutrition Program for the Elderly, will provide hot meals five days weekly for persons 60 years and older should begin within a month, according to Bill Hall, Director of Community Development in Big Spring.

The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission approved a grant to finance the program, which will benefit the elderly in five counties, Howard, Martin, Dawson, Borden and Glasscock.

The program is part of a nationwide effort which seeks not only to provide a nutritionally adequate meal, but also break the isolation in which many older persons find themselves.

Carolyn Ford, who has been a rehabilitation coordinator and housing counselor with the Big Spring Office of Housing and Community Development, has been named as director of the nutrition program.

"The only eligibility clause complete meal if they are the only one who will be eating," Ford explained. "Many times, loneliness is a big contributor to poor eating habits, and that is part of the reason for the program."

"We hope that the companionship afforded by a congregate meal setting, and eventually, recreational activities will do as much good as the nutrition itself," Ford said.

One meal site is already operational at the Lamesa Senior Citizens Center. In Big Spring, meals will be served at the Senior Citizens Center in the First Presbyterian Church, 7th and Runnels, until a larger facility can be obtained. Plans have been made to utilize a depot in Stanton for the third site of the meals program.

Plans also include an information and referral center to provide senior citizens with a central location to learn about social services and programs available throughout the five-county area. Regular visits to the center will be made by representatives of these various agencies.

For more information, contact Carolyn Ford at 267-1696.

Rain slows cotton harvest

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Another cold front swept through Texas at midweek, triggering rain in some locations and slowing the cotton harvest in western sections.

Prior to the latest cold weather, cotton harvesting was making rapid progress in the South and Rolling Plains and Far West Texas. Up to 40 percent of the crop has been harvested in some counties of the South Plains, the state's top cotton growing region, said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Along with the cotton harvest, some harvesting of sugar beets continues in the South Plains while the sugar cane harvest remains in full swing in the Rio Grande Valley. Some fall vegetable harvesting is also active in the Valley along with the citrus harvest. Most of the state's peanut crop is in except for a few fields in the Coastal Bend and Southwest Texas. Part of the soybean crop in the Coastal Plains remains to be harvested.

Pecan harvesting remains active over the state, noted Pfannstiel, although this year's crop is short. Best yields are being reported in western sections, and the quality of the crop is good. Price to producers are good.

With the increase in colder weather and still limited grazing from small grains, cattle feeding has increased over much of the state. Recent rains should help small grains and winter pastures in eastern and southern areas. Small grains and crop stubble are providing good grazing for stocker cattle in the plains, with stockers continuing to move into the area.

Texas ranchers continue to accommodate deer hunters in large numbers, said Pfannstiel. Deer are in good condition over western areas.

Reports from district Extension agents showed the following conditions. PANHANDLE: About 80 percent of the sorghum crop has been harvested, with yields generally below average. Most of the crop is being harvested at high moisture levels. Cotton harvesting is active, and some sugarbeets are still being harvested. Stocker cattle continue to be shipped into the area to graze wheat and crop stubble.

SOUTH PLAINS: Cotton harvesting is in full swing as weather permits. About 40 percent of the crop is in some dryland counties. Quality of the crop remains good. About 65 percent of the sugar beet crop has been harvested. Wheat is making good progress. Livestock and range conditions are generally good.

ROLLING PLAINS: The cotton harvest is active now that the area has received a killing frost; however, the crop will be short. Pecan harvesting continues. Stocker cattle continue to move into the area to graze wheat fields. Cattle on native pastures and ranges are in good to excellent shape.

NORTH CENTRAL: Harvesting of cotton, peanuts and soybeans is about complete except for a few scattered fields. Small grains have improved some from recent rains but need additional rainfall. Harvesting of a short pecan crop continues. Cattle feeding remains active due to limited grazing.

NORTHEAST: Pecan harvesting is active although the crop is short. Many producers are fertilizing winter pastures to boost grazing. Livestock are in fair condition, with markets remaining strong. Cattle feeding is active.

FAR WEST: Cotton harvesting is active. Recent freezing temperatures defoliated the crop to speed up harvest operations. Pecan yields are good and producers are receiving good prices. Small grains as well as range forages are making good growth. Cattle, sheep and goats are in excellent condition due to good grazing conditions. A lot of fat deer are being harvested.

WEST CENTRAL: Cotton harvesting has increased following the area's first killing frost. Sorghum harvesting is about complete, with the crop short. Harvesting of a fair pecan crop continues. Small grains are making good growth due to recent rains. Livestock are in fair to good shape.

CENTRAL: Although much of the area received good rains in recent weeks, moisture is still short in a number of counties and is limiting small grain growth. Low stock water is still a problem in some locations. Cattle are in fair to poor shape, with feeding active. The peanut harvest is complete while the pecan harvest continues to make rapid progress.

EAST: Small grains are making excellent growth due to improved moisture conditions. Some wheat and oats are still being planted.

COTTON TOP — It may look like the icy fingers of winter in the trees around Roman Nose State Park near Watonga, Ok., but that white stuff is really cotton from the common cottonwood tree. A nearby grove of trees sprays out the white fluff as part of the seed pods. Everything get coated downwind including the other trees.

Insensitivity hurts Clayton

JIM DAVIS

Harrie-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — House Speaker Billy Clayton hurt his hopes of becoming governor when he told a racist joke to a meeting of Austin lawyers.

Clayton's office shrugged off questions about the joke saying "he didn't mean anything by it."

But the telling of the story which stereotyped all black youths as thieves showed an insensitivity on Clayton's part to the feeling of blacks.

Clayton said that Texas A&M had asked the Southwest Conference to change the rules to have footballs painted green and silver. The reason was that no one ever heard of a black boy dropping a watermelon or a hubcap.

It is not the first time Clayton has run afoul of minorities.

In 1971, he introduced a bill to make it a crime for a school or teacher to teach bilingual education after the third grade without the specific advanced permission of the state education agency.

Clayton has made no secret of his desire to be governor. And the election of Republican Bill Clements was greeted with almost as much glee by Clayton backers as it was by Clements backers. The Clayton supporters saw Clements' election as catapulting Clayton into the lead among conservative Democratic gubernatorial hopefuls in 1982.

But Democratic candidates in Texas don't stand a chance without the active support of black and Mexican-American voters.

Clements believes low voter turnout in minority areas was one of the primary reasons for his victory over John Hill.

And, he thinks that blacks and Mexican-Americans consciously didn't go to the polls because they saw little difference between he and Hill.

During his four years as governor Clements will work hard to improve Republican standing in minority areas.

If any Democrat is going to have a chance to beat Clements in 1982, he or she is going to have to show more sensitivity towards minorities than Clayton showed in telling the joke or introducing the anti bilingual education bill.

***
Jon Newton's resignation from the Texas Railroad Commission was a shock to Capitol observers.

When Gov. Dolph Briscoe appoints Newton's successor, he will have appointed all three members of the powerful commission.

Newton is the only member who was first elected to the RRC, rather than being appointed. His decision to resign was because he saw potential conflicts of interests.

Natural gas was discovered on his wife's property. Newton believed the conflict would still be there, even if he put the holdings into a trust.

Too few elected officials are that cognizant of potential conflicts, and Newton should be saluted for his decision.

He deserves other plaudits. He more than any other commission worked hard on gas utility matters — decisions on the gas rates Texans pay.

He made good campaign promises to balance rules which weighted in favor of gas utilities. And, he worked hard to bring an end to the mess known as the Lo-Vaca Gathering Co.

We hope that his successor is of the same calibre.

Christmas a time for cookbooks, old customs

By REBECCA TAYLOR, Reference Librarian, Howard County Library

Note: The Library will have a fine free week through Saturday the 16th of December.

Christmas time in most households is a time of gift giving, but it is also a time of Fabulous Feasts, Celebrations and Parties.

Fabulous Feasts, by Madeleine Pelter Cosman, is an unusual cookbook. It's first tells of medieval feasts and customs, then presents over 100 recipes taken from medieval manuscripts. The recipes range from the sublime to the ridiculous. A few examples are, "Honey", a simple onion and parsley omelette, Mulled Cider, "Fesant and Gelye" baked pheasant or chicken with herbed jelly, and even the famous "Four and Twenty Singing Blackbird Pie".

Celebrations, by Becky Stevens Cordello, is a modern book of recipes, menus, games, and decorations. Recipes for such traditional favorites as plum pudding and fruitcake are found in this occasion handbook.

In "Parties for all Seasons," recipes are given for holiday party foods from Irish Coffee to English Toffee.

Other books in the library take up individual phases of holiday festivities and feasting. "The Art of Table Setting and Flower Arrangement," by Sylvia Hirsch is thorough in coverage from informal to very formal elegant dining. For those who will be serving drinks, the "House and Garden's Drink Guide", by Collette Richardson, gives recipes for drinks and also tells in detail what types of wines, beers and liquors to serve with various foods.

"Poultry and Game," by Robin Howe, is an excellent guide for preparing the sportsman's catch, but it also does nicely for such 'store bought' items as duck, goose, turkey, etc.

For those who are serious about sweets at this time of the year, "Maid Heaters Book of Great Desserts," and Paul Villiard's "The Practical Candymaking Cookbook", are excellent choices. Both these books have one thing in common; the recipes range from as simple to as sophisticated as you might wish for your holiday entertaining.

COFFEE TIME for cowboy Stubby Pringle (Beau Bridges) as rancher's wife Kim Hunter serves him a steaming cup in this scene from "Stubby Pringle's Christmas" (NBC-TV, Dec. 17, 7-8 p.m., EST). The Hallmark Hall of Fame production also stars Julie Harris, with Chill Wills, Strother Martin and Edward Binns. Burt Brinkerhoff directs. Gilbert and Joseph Cates are executive producers and Peter Dohanos is producer.

'Mary of Nazareth' to be presented at the Globe

"Mary of Nazareth," a Christian play by Agnes Sanford will be presented at the Globe of the Great Southwest December 15, 16, 17, 22, 23, & 24. Showtime is at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday's 15th, 16th, 22nd & 23rd and at 2:30 p.m. Sunday matinees the 17th and 24th. Admission is $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for students and senior citizens. This is the last play of the season and the last chance to use your 1978 season ticket.

The Globe presented "The House of Saul" by Agnes Sanford in the summer Shakespeare Festival 1978, and this play was featured on Christian Broadcasting Television Network in September this year. Mrs. Sanford is the author of fifteen religious books, but only two dramas.

The play, Mary of Nazareth, is a romantic fictional play about the reactions of Joseph and Mary's nurse and Thaddeus, a young handsome desert merchant who is in love with Mary. The idea of the Son of God being born of a lowly maiden was astounding and even more so that a virgin should conceive and be with child. Only by the heavenly intervention of an angel does Joseph come to know the truth and believe Mary's strange story. The Angel of Annunciation has already informed Mary that the child she is carrying is of the Holy Ghost.

Beautiful music has been composed for; the Angel, Mary, Joseph, and Thaddeus to sing making Mrs. Sanford's drama a musical play. Fern Crowley of Odessa has composed this music. This play would be an excellent one for Church and school groups during the Christmas Season.

The cast is; Janice Archer — The Angel of Annunciation, Lamar Casparis-Thaddeus, Ida Kennedy-Hannah, Rene Hollander-Mary, Bob Childs-Joseph, Don Whitmire-1st servant, Sam Fletcher-2nd servant, Terry DeLoach-3rd sergeant and Jimmy Finch as the stage manager.

Bridges fits image in Christmas story

At first glance, Beau Bridges seems every inch the young cowboy he plays in "Stubby Pringle's Christmas" on the Hallmark Hall of Fame (NBC-TV, Dec. 17). He's lean and tan, rides expertly, plays guitar, moves easily in Western gear and speaks the cowboy lingo fluently.

But Bridges, whose youthful looks belie his considerable acting experience, has a thoughtful, introspective side. It enables him to analyze a script, study motivations and get right under the hide of any character he plays.

"Stubby Pringle's Christmas" is a story about a cowboy who misses the Christmas dance in town because he stops to help a poor family of homesteaders prepare for the holiday.

Bridges, who plays Stubby, said the story is not just about somebody being a good Samaritan at Christmas.

"It's a typical human failing to believe that some future objective of ours will make us happier than we could be in the present," said Bridges. "Our anticipation often becomes so great that we lose the opportunity to enjoy the moment."

That is the theme of "Stubby Pringle's Christmas." "All year long this cowboy thinks about the fun he'll have at the dance," he explained. "But a new situation arises and he adapts to it. He's happy helping the family get ready for Christmas."

And Bridges is happy, too, about starring in this Christmas tale of the open range written by Jack Schaefer, the author of "Shane."

"We have a beautiful, simple story for the whole family," he said. "We've got the one and only Julie Harris, a great supporting cast and a real actor's director" in Burt Brinkerhoff.

Hollywood-born Bridges comes from an acting family (he is Lloyd Bridges' son) and has appeared in 14 films since 1968. His recent TV credits include "The Four Feathers," "The President's Mistress" and "The Runner Stumbles."

During the filming, Bridges was able to contribute several creative touches to scenes in "Stubby Pringle's Christmas."

'A Christmas Carol' opens soon in Midland

Discover the real spirit of Christmas with crotchety old Ebenezer Scrooge, as Midland Community Theatre presents the very special holiday story, "A Christmas Carol," onstage December 20th-23rd, at 7:30 each evening.

Story of fugitive slave to be told in special

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The little-known life of fugitive slave Harriet Tubman and her fight against slavery is vividly told in the two-part NBC movie "A Woman Called Moses."

Mrs. Tubman, remembering the woods lore she learned from her father, escaped north to freedom in the 1850s, only to return south again and again to free her fami and other slaves. The price on her head reached $40,000 and a slave hunter was employed just to capture her.

"Suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces faith, and faith in the end surely will not let us down," she said. Mrs. Tubman risked not only her freedom but also her life in her struggle against the yoke of slavery. That yoke is graphically illustrated in an emotionally wrenching scene in the first episode. Cicely Tyson, who stars as Harriet Ross Tubman, is harnessed to a wagon by a smirking planter and told to pull it like a mule. He calls all the guests from his Sunday morning party, and they revel and dance and sip champagne as they watch her humiliation.

Citizens Credit Union announces Money Rate Certificates

Citizens Federal Credit Union is now offering Money Rate Certificates to credit union members at rates up to .25% above the current discount rate on Treasury Bills. These new certificates are issued three business days after auction of the T-Bills, which is usually Monday of each week.

Yearbook sales extended

By LYNDON MARQUEZ
 Karla Simpson, yearbook editor announced this week that the period of time during which the 1979 annuals may be bought has been extended. The publisher of the yearbook did not require the number of annuals to be printed until after the first of the new year.

Karla suggests that to be assured of receiving one, it should be paid for in advance. Only a limited number of extra yearbooks will be ordered and will cost the buyer an extra amount.

By paying only $9.50 now, you can beat the rush and worry of getting one when the yearbooks arrive next fall. Contact Mrs. Haislip in the SHS library or any annual staff member to buy your annual.

If you think about it, $9.50 is not a whole lot of money for a lifetime full of memories. Business manager, Leah Flanagan suggests that a pre-paid annual makes a good Christmas present.

The Buffalo Round-up staff is printing 1979 picture calendars for only $2.50 each. They will take whatever picture (black and white only) that you desire and print it, plus the calendar, on a colored posterboard will cost you $1.00 extra.

You can make arrangements to buy this calendar by contacting any of the annual staff members — Elvia Acosta, Lee Byrd, Leah Flanagan, Victor Gonzales, Leah Johnson, Jennifer Jones, Karla Simpson, Kristi Turner or Mrs. Haislip.

The SHA band entertained on Thursday, December 7 at the courthouse right next to the Christmas tree when Santa Claus came to town. The band performed Christmas music from 6:30-7:00 p.m. and Santa Claus was in front of the bank from 5:30-6:30. Everybody came down Thursday and got into the Christmas spirit with the band.

Several F.H.A. members participated as hostesses on Saturday, December 2 at the opening of the new Martin County Museum. The girls — Laura Clardy, Gergeann Herzogg, Jennifer Jones, Rosandrea Marquez, Nancy McCalister, Leticia Mendez, Natalie Mitchell, and Kristi Turner — helped serve the meal after the dedication.

Lana McKenzie, president of the SHS Home Economics Cooperative Education class, reported that the class will be working on Christmas door decorations and favors of all sorts for the residents of Stanton View Manor starting on Monday, December 11, and continuing through Friday, December 15.

MEGAPHONE REPORTERS — Melinda Corwin, left, and Bronwyn Allen are the reporters from Goliad Jr. High. Melinda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Corwin. She is a member of the band, band treasurer, a member of the honor roll and she also takes piano lessons. Bronwyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen. Bronwyn is manager of the A volleyball team and a member of the honor roll.

Wheat harvesting in good shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although it will be at least six months before the 1979 winter wheat crop is ready for harvest, most of it looks in "fair to good" shape across the country right now.

says the Agriculture Department. Earlier this fall, dry soils in much of the South and the Great Plains had delayed the development of newly planted wheat, the department's Crop Reporting Board said Friday.

"The Great Plains began accumulating moisture early in November, and later in the month eastern areas of the nation received significant amounts of precipitation," it said.

Winter wheat makes up about 75 percent of total U.S. annual wheat production, with springplanted varieties making up the remainder. Wheat planted this fall will be harvested next summer.

The department will issue a report Dec. 21 that will show how many acres of winter wheat farmers planted for 1979 and the first estimate of next year's harvest.

Farmers in 1978 were required to set-aside part of their cropland in order to qualify for federal price supports on their wheat. The program is aimed at curbing the rise in U.S. grain surpluses and has been continued for the 1979 crop.

Meanwhile, the report Friday included revised figures of 1978 production of wheat and some other grain crops that were harvested earlier this year.

Total wheat output for 1978, including winter and spring kinds, was listed at nearly 1.8 billion bushels, down 12 percent from the 1977 harvest of almost 2.04 billion bushels.

The revised estimate was virtually the same as the previous one issued by the board in October showing the 1978 wheat crop at about 1.79 billion bushels.

SBA declares Howard County disaster area

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has added 75 counties to its 1978 drought disaster declaration, announced Alicia Chacon, SBA Regional Director.

All 75 counties were declared as disaster areas due to 1978 crop losses caused by extreme drought conditions. This brings to 111 the total number of Texas counties declared as 1978 drought disaster areas by SBA.

The Small Business Administration makes low-interest loans available to producers who suffered drought damage to 1978 crops and resulting financial hardship. Farmers and ranchers in counties adjacent to these 111 declared counties may also be eligible for SBA's Physical Disaster Loan Program.

The following formula is used by SBA in calculating the amount of eligible loss on crop damage: Acres planted X established normal yield X percentage of loss X market price — recovery equals eligible loss.

Interest rates on SBA Physical Disaster Loans are three percent on the first $250,000 and 6% percent on remaining amounts. Terms of the loans are based on repayment ability.

Loan Applications are available at SBA's Disaster Offices, as follows. Office hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Loan applications can be made through the SBA office, 720 Texas Avenue, Lubbock 79401 or the County Judge's office 301 Oak Street, Abilene 79601.

The deadline for returning physical disaster loan applications is March 6, 1979. The deadline for economic injury loan applications is June 6 next year.

Counties added to the SBA Drought Disaster Declaration include Howard, Dawson, Martin, Scurry, Borden and Glasscock counties.

Aggie geographer has modest proposal

COLLEGE STATION — A Texas A&M University geographer has a modest proposal.

She wants Third World cities to plant fruit trees and food-bearing shrubs in open areas so citizens can add to their nutrition by simply walking over and picking it off the branches.

The idea, explains Clarissa Kimber, is to get local authorities involved by planting stock that is hardy, ornamental, inexpensive and a semipermanent supply of vitamins and minerals.

Unlike Swift's modest proposal, her's has an air of practicality. Why can't a tree be a source of nutritious food as well as a beautiful or provide shade?

Dr. Kimber's colleagues in the worldwide professional society, the International Geographic Union, received the concept warmly at a recent meeting in Nigeria, where she presented it.

She believes that individual dooryard gardens supplemented with fruits, leaves and nuts free for the taking can significantly affect nutritional levels in the cities of emerging nations where formerly rural populations find they have to spend much of their money on carbohydrates just to fill their bellies.

Many of the native shrubs and trees do nicely with cultivation but can live under neglect, says Dr. Kimber, making them almost cost-free for the cities and a theoretically permanent source of food for urban citizens no matter how often the faces in the neighborhood change.

Forty Texas' delegates named to National Cotton Council

RIO HONDO — Forty cotton industry leaders will serve as Texas' delegates to the National Cotton Council in 1979.

Selection of the delegates was announced today by Reed Lang, Rio Hondo producer, who is vice chairman of the state unit.

Among the group are Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, and Wilbur Braden, Midland, producers; Jerry Harris, Lamesa; ginner; Ross Hargrove, Colorado City, cooperatives.

The Council, which was formed in 1939, is composed of 292 delegates representing all segments of the industry in the 14 major cotton-producing states. Its programs focus on legislative and regulatory matters affecting the entire industry, and its overseas arm — Cotton Council International — works to develop foreign markets for American cotton.

RECOVERED PROPERTY — This welding equipment, which belongs to Seminole farmer Darrell Jeffcoat, was reported stolen earlier in the week. Howard County Sheriff Deputy Benny McCartney received a call reporting that a Big Spring resident had bought the equipment unaware that it was stolen. The equipment was turned in to the Sheriff's Department later that afternoon.

Named to Who's Who in World New honor for artist

Terry Patterson, an accomplished artist in Big Spring, received a new honor this year when she was selected to Who's Who in the World in the 1978-79 edition.

She also is in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in American Art.

A native of Big Spring, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gregory and attended Howard Payne College, Texas Tech and took private art tutoring in 1958.

59. She married Richard Patterson, Dec. 16, 1940.

Their children include James Richard and Joanna. She taught art at Howard College from 1955-70 and has had one-woman shows at the college, at the Laguna Gloria Art Museum in Austin, the West Texas Museum, at the Women's Club in Midland and Austin, the Bank of the Southwest in Houston, Sand Hills Museum, Monahans; South Plains College and exhibited in more than 300 group shows in Hanover, Germany, Texas, New York City and other locations.

Her art is represented in collections in the Smithsonian Institute, Laguna Gloria Art Museum in Austin, Grumbacher, New York City, the Fine Art Association building at Austin, at Forsan High, Big Spring High, Cosden, the Howard County Courthouse, Groebl Oil, Howard College, and many other locations.

She has done complete murals and also has done a portrait of President Lyndon Johnson. She has served as an officer in the Big Country Art Association and helped found the Big Spring Art Club. She served that organization as president, vice president, art chairman and worked in many other capacities.

She also served on the governor's Fine Arts Committee in 1958-60 and has been the recipient of over 200 state, and national awards including two at the Dallas Fair, the Grumbacher Award of Merit, Texas Fine Arts Citation, National Honor Award, and others.

She is active in the American Business Women's Association and once was vice president. At one time, she was director, regional director and trustee of the Texas Fine Arts Association.

She also has illustrated a book by A. Smith. It's not easy to keep up with Terry. She travels a lot. Just recently, she was in California painting. In between she sandwiched in a wedding for her daughter and a new grandchild by her son.

But she still managed to paint. Because Terry really loves to paint and she puts a lot of feeling into her work.

There is a lot of Big Spring in her art, but she also has a large number of paintings in many other locations. And to her the biographical nomination of Who's Who in the World was just another honor.

RENOVATING POTTON HOUSE GROUNDS are afternoon students of the Big Spring High School Building Trades class. For the past month, these students, along with the morning class, have been busy reconstructing the three-holer outhouse, left, getting the well into shape, center, and making sure that other structures on the grounds are in tip-top shape for the Dec. 16 and 17

Journey through the past awaits public

By EILEEN MCGUIRE
Family News Editor

If you haven't visited the Potton House recently, then you haven't seen all that there is to see.

The ongoing project of restoring the turn-of-the-century home has been labored over by interested citizens for several years now, but will never really be finished.

With each new improvement comes further discoveries about the way the Pottons lived. And each new addition to Potton House memorabilia brings the residence a little closer to the recreated dream home that once housed one of Big Spring's earliest railroad families.

The home, which has attracted tourists from within and without the community since its official opening about this time last year, was built in 1901 by Joseph and Mary Potton, natives of England.

When they first came to Big Spring in 1891 where Joseph began a career as Master Mechanic of the T&P Railroad, headquartered here, the community was little more than a tent town.

But Joseph and his young family apparently envisioned a great future in the young town and railroad, for he commissioned S.B. Haggart & Son of Fort Worth to design and construct the Victorian "mansion" that impressed the townspeople then and continues to impress visitors today.

The dream home, rented to others until the Pottons took up residency, was built as an investment and retirement haven. In 1912, Joseph and Mary and their three children, Mary, Lillian Mae and William Ball, moved in.

After the deaths of her father, mother and sister, the home became the possession of Mary Potton Hayden and her husband Henry. Their three children and the orphaned daughter of Lillian Mae were reared in the home.

Until the time that the home became a restoration project, the home continued to be cared for, though vacant, by the Hayden children, Mrs. Loy Acuff, Mrs. Everett Lomax and Joe Hayden.

Visitors who attended the Grand Opening of the home last December may well remember that the restoration was far from complete. The inside of the home was, for the most part, bare of furnishings, while the buildings on the grounds were all but piles of rubble.

That picture has changed drastically through the efforts of various groups and individuals in the community and the public is now invited to leave 1978 and take a brief walk through the early 1900's during the second Open House on Dec. 16 and 17 from 1 to 5 p.m.

The atmosphere of the home has changed along with its looks since the last open house. Furniture from the 1910 era, some of which are original Potton pieces, are arranged in rooms in the fashion recalled by Mrs. Lomax and Mrs. Everett. Personal effects of the Potton family — photographs, clothing, toys, china and other treasured relics — lend a true Potton personality to the home.

Carla Walker

OLD TIME ORNAMENT — Mrs. R.E. Dobbs, pictured, is the owner of this 60-year-old Santa Claus which she has loaned to the Potton House for its Christmas tree. The ornament has been a part of her Christmas since she was a tiny girl, she said. The tree, decorated in old English style, will be graced with some of the original Potton family decorations and others' decorations from that era during the two-day Open House. An old-time punch recipe will also be served to those who attend.

PIECED WITH PATIENCE — Discovered buried beneath the site of the original outhouse were these pieces of fine French china. Along with the discovery came the realization that the outhouse was the Potton's 'garbage disposal.' The china is being pieced back together by patient workers including Mrs. Winston Wrinkle, left, and Mrs. Bill Shepherd. Dining accessories at the Potton House also include a collection of the Pottons' everyday silver made by G.R. Wallace Company in 1836.

PLAYING POTTON — About the time the Pottons moved to Big Spring in 1891, the buggy pictured above was the popular mode of transportation. Pat Reeves, decked out in authentic Joseph Potton clothing, stands beside the vehicle which has been loaned by Robert and Sherry Wegner to the Potton Home and will be on display during the Open House. Below, Reeves helps Mrs. Don Newsom with a 1920's black satin coat. The ballgown worn by her, embellished with elegant black lace, was brought to America by Mary Potton when the Pottons left England. The derby worn by Reeves, still has the original price tag in it — $3.50. According to Polly Mays, there were two things Joseph was never without — a mustache and his derby. The Pottons also had a pet St. Bernard who Potton was often seen with. The huge copper collar worn by the pup is among the treasured memorabilia at the Potton House.

And in keeping with the holiday season as well as with history, the home features Christmas decorations of the era.

The grounds, too, have been in the process of transformation. One of the most curious renovations is the outhouse which must have been a type of status symbol for the old-time family for it consists of not the usual two holes, but three.

The original building, torn down long ago by order of the city, has been recreated to the exact dimensions recalled by the Pottons' granddaughters. The work on it and the barn, which has been newly roofed and sturdied, was done by students of the Big Spring High School Building Trades classes.

Other outside improvements included digging out and re-cementing the base of the well.

During the course of reconstructing the outhouse, an interesting discovery was made about life in the early 1900's. In the midst of the digging process, it was found that garbage, for which there was no sanitation service back then, was disposed of via the outhouse.

Discovered among bones and other wastes were pieces of fine china that had evidently been broken and then disposed of by the Pottons. The pieces were retrieved by Polly Mays, president of the Howard County Historical Commission and a leader in the Potton House project. Like jigsaw puzzles, the china has been labored over and pieced back together. The collection is by Theodore Havalad of Limoges, France.

New discoveries, additions enhance Potton House flavor

Work and items are still needed as the Potton House is continually developed into its original appearance. Among the items needed most at the current time, according to Mrs. Mays, are rugs and an old pitcher and basin of the 1910's era. Mrs. Mays also expressed a desire for an old tricycle or toy wagon to make the presence of children more apparent.

Hoped for in time for the Open House are Christmas tree lights of that period — the single strand, small base, thin tapered type. And since all loaned objects are returned to their owners upon request, it is conceivable that furnishings will need to be replaced from time to time. If you have in your possession authentic furniture or other household articles from the early 1900's, that you are willing to loan, the Potton House Board would like to know of their whereabouts in the event that the need for them does arise.

The Potton Home, Big Spring's tribute to the past, continues to attract tourists who may view it from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Large groups may contact Mrs. Mays, 3-0511 or 7-6192 to assure that the home will be manned for their tour.

A donation of $1 is all that is charged for a historical walk through the Potton Home. All proceeds are used to fund the restoration project.

Much more than your dollar's worth will be offered during the Open House tour which will feature continuous music as well as refreshments including an old-time punch recipe.

The dollar you spend next week will be used for the biggest need right now, securing the barn which will house a 90-year-old buggy. The buggy, now in storage, is being restored by Friend Talbott and will be available at the Potton House site during the Open House.

Enjoy an hour or two of yesteryear during Open House Dec. 16 and 17. The home has been especially warmed up for you by Mrs. Floyd Mays, hostess; Mrs. Bill Shepherd, general entertainment chairman; Mrs. Jimmy Moorehead, decorations chairman; Mrs. Bob Lewis, food chairman; and Mrs. Jim Baum, publicity chairman.

MERRY CHRISTMAS — Susan Lewis, chairman of the Open House Food and Drink Committee, decorates a duplicate of the 1886 wood-burning stove that once helped to keep the Pottons' home warm. Christmas decorations are scattered throughout the house and include wooden figures as well as the fragile balls which have been preserved through the years by the Pottons' granddaughters, Mrs. Loy Acuff and Mrs. Everett Lomax. Refreshments at the Open House will include gingerbread Potton Houses to eat or keep.

Check belts and hoses before automobile trip

COLLEGE STATION — Check the condition of automobile belts and hoses before starting a trip, advises Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Look for cracks, peeling, splitting or glazing on belts for the fan, alternator and power steering, the specialist says.

With the engine off, turn the belts and visually examine the underside. Also, check them for proper tension.

A glazed fan belt may slip causing overheating of the engine. A glazed, slipping alternator belt can result in a lack of proper battery charge which could lead to an expensive battery replacement even though the real problem is a defective belt.

Failure of the power steering belt will result in loss of power steering.

Check for swelling or bulging, cracks (especially near the hose ends where clamps are fastened), and extreme softness of hoses.

Make visual checks with the engine running, but stay away from moving engine parts. Turn the engine off before feeling the hoses, she emphasizes.

Also, listen for squeals or grinding noises coming from the water pump — they may signal impending failure.

DECEMBER CEREMONY — Mr. and Mrs. Agapito Cerda, 1414 Woods, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Juana Maria, to Humberto Padilla Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Humberto Padilla Sr., 1407 Mesa. The ceremony will be held Dec. 23, in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church. The Rev. Bernard L. Gully will perform the ceremony.

Leather, suede garments require special care

COLLEGE STATION — Leather's "fashion look" for fall will take special care, a clothing specialist advises. Smooth leather and suede with its textured look need different care techniques, according to Nancy Brown with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. However, both will last longer if given the proper care, she adds. Garments made of smooth leather do not require much care. Let smooth-leather garments dry naturally and wash off spots with warm water and soap then wipe dry with a clean camp cloth. Suede requires more care. These garments need frequent brushing. Use a dry bristle brush or a rubber sponge to prevent dirt from settling in the nap. Art gum eraser or emery board can remove stains usually. If suede becomes wet, allow it to dry away from heat — and rub it with a terry cloth towel to bring up the nap.

Date Ignored Her Stop Sign

DEAR ABBY: I went on a blind date with this fellow who was recommended by a friend. He was very nice-looking and his manners were good, but you can't tell anything these days by looking. Well, he took me to a drive-in movie and he was just too fast for me, so I asked him to take me home after the movie. He had other ideas and headed for a country road.

When he stopped at a stop sign, I jumped out of the car. He didn't even try to stop me. He just drove off and left me. I was about 20 miles from home, and I didn't have any money so I thumbed a ride with a truck driver who was nice enough to take me to my door.

When I got home my father was raving mad. He said I took a terrible chance thumbing a ride home with a stranger. Yet I couldn't have walked all that way, and I wanted to get away from the guy. Was I wrong?

MAGGIE IN MESQUITE, TEXAS

DEAR MAGGIE: No girl should leave the house without enough money to make a telephone call. If you haven't a parent to call in case you need transportation, call a friend or relative. Or call the police department! Young ladies should not thumb rides with strangers, neither should they be walking alone at night. Play safe. ALWAYS carry enough money for transportation home.

DEAR ABBY: I do not drive an automobile, and all my friends know it. Now, Abby, it stands to reason that I have to depend on my friends for transportation to club meetings, church doings, and other social events. So why must I telephone my friends and have to beg a ride?

Since they are well aware that I attend all the things they do, wouldn't it be much more gracious if they were to call me and offer a ride? When I call and ask them for a ride they are always courteous, but I really would appreciate it if I didn't have to call and beg.

DOESN'T DRIVE IN OMAHA,

DEAR DOESN'T: Most people (even the most gracious) are too preoccupied with their own business to guess who needs transportation. Don't be so sensitive. If you need a ride, call someone you think is going and ask for a lift. If you are prompt, pleasant and don't inconvenience the driver by taking him out of his way, you'll always be a welcome rider. (P.S. Have you ever shown your appreciation to those who have consistently chauffeured you by giving them a small gift?)

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that mothers are so much stricter with their daughters than they are with their sons? My mother watches us girls like hawks, but she lets my brothers do just about anything they want. My friends tell me it's the same at their house. I think this is very unfair.

SUSIE IN ST. PAUL

DEAR SUSIE: It all averages out. The fathers are usually stricter with the boys.

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

Mistletoe, poinsettias decorative but deadly

LONG GROVE, Ill. — Kissing under the mistletoe is fun. Setting out poinsettia plants for Christmas is decorative. Eating either plant is deadly.

These Yuletide traditions are poisonous plants. Eating mistletoe berries can be fatal to both adults and children, while one leaf of the poinsettia is all that is needed to possibly kill a child. These plants are not the only ones that can be fatal if eaten. Others, such as azaleas, hyacinth and rhubarb, are included in the pamphlet "Silent Menace in and around Your Home," published by the Kemper Insurance Companies. The pamphlet also outlines dangerous concoctions that can be made with ordinary household chemicals.

Economist gives talk on energy

Sandra Killough, home economist for Texas Electric, gave a program on Home Energy Management Thursday when she met with the Elbow Home Demonstration Club, at the home of Mrs. Joe B. Evans, hostess.

Mrs. Evans presented the devotional of the Christmas story from Luke.

Mrs. Killough conducted a quiz on energy used by household appliances and equipment and explained some ways to save dollars on electric bills.

She stressed better insulation of the home, and proper care of appliances and equipment. Members were urged to conduct a Home Unit Audit of energy used and to cut down on waste of energy.

White elephant Christmas gifts were exchanged and Mrs. Jack McKinnon won the door prize. Plans were made to help at the 4-H Stock Show concessions.

The county Christmas coffee will be held Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Alton Underwood from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

The home of Mrs. Herman Fowler will be the site of the Jan. 4 meeting.

Mrs. Cass Hill gives program on Bible plants

The home of Mrs. B.M. Keese, 1719 Yale, was the site of the Planters Garden Club meeting Dec. 6 at 3:30 p.m.

Doris Guy, president, presided, and roll call was answered by a "Christmas greeting."

Reporting from the Garden Club Council was Mrs. C.R. Mood. She revealed that Mrs. Odell Womack reported on the South Zone meeting that was held in Midland in November. The South Zone meeting will be held in Big Spring November, 1979.

Mrs. Paul Guy reported that she, Mrs. B.M. Keese, Mrs. J.O. Murphy, Mrs. J.A. Ethridge and Mamie Roberts put up Christmas decorations at the V.A. Hospital on the third floor, and west end of the first floor.

A program on Bible plants for American gardens was given by Mrs. Cass Hill.

Bible plants can be arranged for both beauty and religious meaning. Plants mentioned in the Bible are the living link between us and the people of those distant times. The onion, dill and mint of our present day lives were also a part of the everyday lives of the Bible people.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 3 at 700 E. 12th, 3:30 p.m., in the home of Mrs. J.O. Murphy.

Stars review bells' meaning

Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star met at the Masonic Temple Tuesday evening with the Worthy Matron Candy Andrews presiding.

The Message of the Bells was presented by Grace Kinney program chairman.

Ollie Layman told the members that ever since the 6th century when bells were invented they have been used on many occasions. There were first used to summon folks to worship, and then they were used to call the people of the country side together to tell them the news of birth, of death, of fire, of war, of destruction. Later they rang out to tell gaudy and happiness. The tolling bells told of sorrow and grief.

Ms. Andrews said at this season of the year glad Christmas bells ring out bringing their message of Peace on Earth, Good will toward men.

Dorothy Hull said the blue bells ring out for courage, the blue of sky and sea, the blue of tiny shy flowers which teach fidelity. Be clothed in this difficult color of blue and faithfulness will ever abide in you.

Thelma Powell told the members that the yellow tells of constancy. This yellow, gorgeous, and gay points to honor and justice, not always an easy way.

Ina Stewart said the white rings out for loyalty. This white so clean and pure, crystallization of all colors it will forever endure.

Elva Biffar explained that the green tells of immortality. The green of grass and tree sends rays of hope to travelers, a guide for you and me.

Thelma Helton said the warm red bell rings out for love and tells of fevency.

Doris Mason led the members in singing "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day."

Ms. Kinney concluded the program by saying, "You've heard the chiming of the bells, what a wealth of teachings their harmony foretells. Through the years of life ahead, may their golden notes be spread till the echo call resound from all folks the world around."

The worthy matron thanked her protem Iris McGlothlin.

The worthy matron introduced Cassie Slegar, Grand Representative from New Hampshire to Texas; Katie B. Floyd, Deputy Grand Matron, District 2 Section 8; Mary Seates, Chairman Benevolent Service Committee, District 2; Earnestine Winterrowd, Chairman Bulletin Committee, District 2; Lona Bradley, Rob Morris Anniversery, District 2; Nina Truit, Sharing is Love Committee, District 2; Margie Baker, Friendly Fellowship Committee, District 2; Floy Star, Norma Grant, Grace Kinney and Margaret Crum members of the Chapter Caring Committee, District 2 Section 8; and Steve Baker, Masonic Strength Committee, District 2.

After the meeting the guests were invited to attend the Past Matrons' Christmas Special in the Banquet Room Refreshments were served to approximately 85 members by Elva Biffar, chairman, Grace Kinney, Vi Ballou, Alphone Gressett, Helen Segrest, and Doris Mason with the assistance of all Past Matrons.

The XYZ Club meets regularly at the fellowship hall of Wesley United Methodist Church from 6-9 p.m., twice a month on the first and third Thursday evenings. A covered dish meal is always served. The membership is not exclusively Wesley members, but all adults over 50

Miss Cole, Phillip Moore wed in Saturday ceremony

The wedding vows of Dianne Cole and Phillip Baxter Moore were solemnized Saturday afternoon at Birdwell Lane Baptist Church. The Rev. Jack Collier, pastor of the church, officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Nile Cole, 1615 E. 16th and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Moore, 1906 Main.

The couple stood before an archway entwined with greenery, topped with white doves and accented with a 15-branch spiral candelabrum adorned with white votive cups. Completing the scene were two baskets of white gladioli, enhanced with pink roses and burgundy ribbon. Pews were marked by greenery topped with votive cups and pink bows.

Performing the bride's selections were Mike McGee, pianist; Charles Parham, organist; and Margaret McGee, soloist.

The bride was attired in a floor-length gown, fashioned by her aunt, Mrs. Milton Lewis. The gown, made of white satin crepe, was accented with tiny tucks along the bodice and satin-covered buttons and long sleeves. A tie belt fitted the dress. Adding the finishing touches to the bride's ensemble was a two-tier nylon tulle veil, embellished with French lace.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses cushion pompons and stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Cheryl Oren of Big Spring. She was attired in a floor-length gown of burgundy Qiana jersey and carried a nosegay of pink and burgundy trim roses tied with matching streamers.

Robert H. Moore III, Big Spring, served as best man. Ushers were Don Osborne, Hank Pope, Big Spring; and Herman Wright, uncle of the bride, Dallas.

Flower girl, Cheree Newton, wore a floor-length gown of burgundy Qiana jersey. Her headpiece was adorned with pink and burgundy silk roses. Miss Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Newton, carried a white basket filled with rose petals.

MRS. PHILLIP BAXTER MOORE

Serving the couple as ring bearer was Chadd Harbour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Harbour. He carried a heart-shaped silk ring pillow.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Moore were honored with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a pink floor-length cloth, and accented with a white lace overlay. The centerpiece, of pink and white miniature carnations and matching ribbon, was entwined with greenery on a silver branched candelabra with pink tapers. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

White Satin bells topped the four-tiered cake over a cascading fountain with crystal supports and dividers. Lisa McCutchan, Brenda Stevenson and LeaOma Harbour served at the bride's table.

Covering the groom's table was a pink floor-length cloth accented with a burgundy overcloth. A gold coffee service and appointments were used. Cheryl Newton served coffee while Brenda Daves served a chocolate cake in the shape of a book. A pink and burgundy centerpiece enhanced the table.

Serving as a registrar and distributing the rice bags was Tonya Stevenson. Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bradley and Malia Bird, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Cole, Romance, Ark.; Allen Cole, Biloxi, Miss.; Charles Grizzard, San Marcos; Eddie Grizzard, Texarkana; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Haire and Brenda Daves, San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wright, Dallas; and Mrs. E.M. Dennis and Debbie Dennis, Fort Worth.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, and is employed at the State National Bank. The groom is a graduate of Big Spring High School, and the University of Texas at Austin. He also is employed at the State National Bank.

Following a wedding trip to Cloudercroft, New Mexico, the couple will make their home in Big Spring.

Mail gifts by Dec. 12

The familiar seasonal tune tells it all: "there's no place like home for the holidays." And those who can't make it home for Christmas probably will be sending packages of every shape and description.

For the non-travelers, Dec. 12 stands as a very important pre-Christmas date, because it is the guideline set by the U.S. Postal Service for sending local package mail to assure delivery before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Britton take wedding trip to Ruidoso

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Britton are on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., following their 7:30 p.m. wedding Friday evening at the United Pentecostal Church.

The bride, the former Leta Beth Hodges, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hodges, Big Spring. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Luther Britton, Hobbs, N.M.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Michael Mullins before an altar decorated with candelabras embellished with fern and decked with yellow carnations. A flower arrangement of yellow carnations and white rose buds also enhanced the altar scene, as did a unity candle decorated with fern.

Jerri Burden, accompanied by Shirley Mullins on the organ was vocalist for the ceremony.

The bride chose to wear a chapel-length gown of white crepe, featuring an empire bodice with pearl buttons and white lace. The front of the dress was pleated and fashioned with embedded white lace flowing to an A-line skirt and falling into a full-length chapel train. Enhancing the bride's attire was a veil of fine silk adorned with lace.

Miss Hodges' bouquet was a cascade of white rosebuds with baby's breath decorated with white lace and ribbon.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Liz Hodges, Big Spring. Her dress was of green soft crepe and accented with lace down the front. She carried a nosegay of white daisies and rosebuds.

Bridesmaids were Barbara Hodges, sister-in-law of the bride, Hobbs, N.M.;

Vickie Britton, sister-in-law of the groom, Hobbs, N.M.; Liza Drogan, Big Spring; and Esther Strain, also of Big Spring. Their dresses featured yellow soft crepe, empire-style gowns with lace in the front.

Each attendant carried a nosegay of white daisies with yellow rosebuds. Baby's breath, white lace, and yellow ribbon also decorated the bouquet.

Serving the groom as best man was Spencer Emrick of Hobbs, N.M. Groomsman were Ricky Welch, Walter Hodges, Tommy Britton, brother of the groom, and Danny Drogan. Jim Hodges was the usher.

Tim and David Hodges, twin brothers of the bride, served as trainbearers.

Serving the couple as flower girls were Tammy Drogan and Jo Ann Edmonson. Candelighters were Nathan Hodges, brother of the bride and Steve Drogan.

The Dora Roberts Community Center Blue Room was the site of a reception honoring the couple following the wedding ceremony.

Decorating the bride's table was a white lace tablecloth. The table was topped with a three-tier cake with yellow and green flowers. A flower arrangement of baby's breath, yellow daisies and white carnations on a five-branch candelabrum completed the bride's table.

Enhancing the groom's table was a German chocolate cake atop a green table cloth.

The hostesses for the event were Reba Bryans, Judy Hinshaw, and Wanda Wassons.

The bride is a graduate of Hobbs High School, Hobbs, N.M., and presently works at Malone-Hogan Clinic. The groom, a graduate of Hobbs High School, is employed by Price Construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Britton plan to make Big Spring their home.

TWEEN 12 and 20

Why wed man Dad's age?

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I read about your disapproval of young girls who go with older guys. Personally, I'm 15 and I love a guy who is 34 and he loves me.

My parents don't know about him because they would "blow their minds" if they knew. Love is beautiful. Why do you put it down? When I become 18 we are going to get married. He lives about 400 miles away and we write to each other every day.

Please answer this question. Why do you think it is so bad for a girl to love someone who is older? — Marsha, Tacoma, Wash.

Marsha: I never said it was bad to love anyone. I just happen to believe that a 15-year-old girl, generally, should not be spending time planning to marry a guy who is as old as her father.

Remember, I said generally, and there are very rare exceptions.

Dr. Wallace: What do you think about a newspaper that sponsors G-rated movies for children at a local movie theater, but who blatantly neglects teen-agers who would also enjoy seeing a few favorite films at reduced ticket prices? Don't you agree that the newspaper should begin a series of mature G movies for us teens? — Mike, Van Buren, Ark.

Mike: I think it's great that a newspaper sponsors G-rated movies for children.

Why not have a favorite teacher or counselor stop by the newspaper to see if something can be arranged for teens. I'm sure if it can be done, the newspaper will do it!

But to answer your question: Yes, I think the newspapers should also include teens when sponsoring movies.

Dr. Wallace: I am a good high school athlete with a big gripe. I had to stay in second grade two years because I had trouble adjusting to school. Because of this, I cannot participate in athletics because I am too old.

I was 19 before school started this year and because of this the state high school athletic association said I cannot play high school athletics. Now the college scouts can't watch me play, thus jeopardizing my chances to play college ball.

Why do states have such stupid rules? — Jamie, Scranton, Pa.

Jamie: In your case, I can sympathize with you. Each state sets its own age limit regarding high school athletics. The rule is there to stop older and more physically mature boys from participating against boys of lesser maturity.

Sex fraternization stopped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has ordered a crackdown on sexual fraternization between male and female soldiers of different rank because of an increasing number of incidents of inappropriate relationships. The move follows a study that reported a "creeping advance of sex fraternization throughout the Army" and said man-woman relationships — particularly dating between officers and noncommissioned officers and enlisted women — are causing serious discipline and morale problems as the role of women in the Army grows.

The report, issued in May, includes "socialization, courting and marriage" as examples of fraternization. It has been learned that Army headquarters last month sent out a message instructing all commanders to "counsel those involved or take other action as appropriate" in cases of relationships which can "reasonably be expected to undermine discipline, authority or morale."

The directive said commanders should act "if relationships between service members of different rank cause actual or perceived partiality or unfairness, involve the improper use of rank or position for personal gain" or are otherwise detrimental "to good order and discipline."

There was no indication in the message of what would constitute "appropriate" action. One Army source, who asked not to be identified, said that "it's been dropped in the lap of the commanders."

Army officials said they have no statistics available that would bear out the message's reference to an increasing number of "inappropriate relationships."

There was no public announcement of the new Army order. The other services have issued nothing similar.

The message on "relationships among superiors and subordinates" makes no specific reference to sex, but Army officials confirmed the new order grows out of the many-faceted study that evaluated the impact of women in the Army.

There are now 56,000 women officers and enlisted soldiers in the Army, which totals nearly 769,000. Plans are to increase the number of women in uniform over the next five years.

PLANS REVEALED — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Halfmann of Garden City announce the engagement of their daughter, Diann Elaine, to James Victor Cmek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cmek of Miles. The couple plan to wed Feb. 3 at the St. Lawrence Catholic Church, St. Lawrence, by the Rev. Bernard Benevirsis, pastor.

50 miles of lights make Kansas Christmas bright

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — What looks like Seville, Spain, has 152,000 multi-colored Christmas lights and draws hundreds of thousands of visitors each year?

"The lighting was so popular that nearby residents began to place colored bulbs in front-yard trees and shrubbery — a practice that gradually spread to the entire nation," she said.

It's Kansas City's Country Club Plaza, with its half-century tradition of celebrating the Christmas season by outlining its Spanish architecture with a spectacle of lights and color. According to Plaza officials, this year's Christmas lighting will require almost 50 miles of electrical wiring throughout the nine-square-block Plaza shopping district.

The Christmas lighting began in 1925 with a single strand of lights above one shop's doorway, and Plaza spokeswoman Catherine Reynolds believes that it was one of the first outdoor Christmas lighting displays in America. She gives credit for the idea to the late Charles S. Pitrat, an executive of the J.C. Nichols Company, developers of the Country Club Plaza.

Tetanus cases decreasing everywhere but in Texas

COLLEGE STATION — Texans need a "booster" in tetanus immunization.

For the last several years, reports reflect a drop in the incidence of tetanus nationwide, reports a health education specialist.

However, Texas reports don't echo this drop, says Carla Shearer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. In 1975, 102 cases of tetanus were reported in the United States; 16 of those were in Texas.

The reports for 1976 and 1977 show a nationwide decrease to 75 and 77 cases respectively. However, for those same years, Texas reported 12 and 16 cases respectively.
