'Good progress' made in SALT talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter said today "good progress" is being made toward reaching a strategic arms limitation agreement with the Soviet Union, but issues remain to be resolved before he and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev will meet to conclude a treaty.

"As we approach a time when we are sure the items have been resolved that are still under negotiation, at that time we will have a summit meeting," Carter told a nationally broadcast news conference.

When he meets with Brezhnev, Carter added, they will discuss the whole range of issues involved in U.S.-Soviet relations.

Carter was asked about reports that an agreement is imminent and could be reached at an upcoming meeting between Secretary of State Cyrus R.

Vance and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

"We've made good progress on SALT," Carter said.

He said a joint statement on the Vance-Gromyko meeting would be made later today in Washington and Moscow.

On other matters, Carter said:

—He has not yet decided whether to seek removal of federal price controls on gasoline, adding that Energy Secretary James Schlesinger and Alfred Kahn, chairman of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, are reassessing the prospect of lifting the ceiling in view of the nation's inflation problems.

—He does not view the Dec. 17 deadline for agreement between Egypt and Israel on a peace treaty as a "now or never proposition." Carter did say, however, he believes meeting the deadline is important insofar as it would indicate the ability of the two Mideast nations to honor a commitment.

—The estimated $650,000 the Democratic Party spent on its mid-term convention in Memphis, Tenn., was a good investment. "I think the conference was worth the money," he said. "I believe it was very important for me as a president as well as for the Democratic Party, to have my successes and failures" argued openly.

—The frequent playing of the national anthem does not downgrade its symbolism. "Whenever I hear the playing of the national anthem, I am stirred," the president said.

—He has reached a decision on whether to seek a second term, but declined to disclose it. "Later," the president responded, when asked if he would share his political plans with the public.

—He is concerned about "the growing investment of the oil companies in the competitive sources of energy supply." Carter apparently was referring to petroleum company investment in alternative energy sources such as coal and uranium.

—The "plusses completely outweigh the minuses" where the last 11½ months of his administration are concerned. In tongue-in-cheek fashion, however, Carter preceded the assessment by noting that he is a "completely non-biased analyst."

—Differences between himself and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., "are minor." Carter said he believes some variation of views on particular issues, such as devising a national health care policy, is good for the Democratic Party.

—He said "Congress will be the ultimate judge" of whether his fiscal 1980 budget is fair and adequate for all elements of society. "I have not changed my goals," Carter said of his budget preparations. "I am going to have an adequate defense and I am going to cut the budget deficit to below $30 billion."

CARTER COMMENTS — President Carter conducts a news conference Tuesday in Washington.

Troops roll through Tehran

More violence in Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The army returned to Iran's main streets after two days of huge nationwide demonstrations against Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi in which five persons were reported killed in Isfahan and property was damaged in other cities.

The tanks and columns of troops rolled back through Tehran Monday evening, restoring the 9 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew and the ban on public demonstrations after hundreds of thousands of fist-waving Iranians streamed through the streets chanting "Down With The Shah!"

The Tehran demonstrations were peaceful, but official sources said at least five persons were killed and many others wounded in the main square of Isfahan when troops opened fire on thousands of rioters after tear gas failed to disperse them.

The sources said the crowd turned violent during a protest march, damaged banks and public buildings, including the headquarters of the secret police, SAVAK, and tore down statues of the shah and his father, Reza Shah, who founded the Pahlavi dynasty in 1925.

Marchers in the cities of Yazd, southeast of Isfahan, and the holy city of Mashhad, in northeastern Iran, also attacked banks and public buildings and tore down statues of the shah. On Sunday the rioters stormed the Hyatt Hotel in Mashhad, wrecked the ground floor and tried but failed to set the hotel's nightclub afire, sources said.

Oil industry sources said the Ashura period exacerbated the 9-day-old oil workers' strike and that production was down to 1.3 million barrels daily, compared to 6 million normally. One source said he expected output would remain at 1.3 million-barrel level until the weekend before it picks up. The strike is costing the government $60 million a day in lost exports. A 15-day oil strike last month cost the shah's treasury more than $1 billion.

Moslem religious leaders are fighting the shah because of his Westernization program, which they claim is eroding traditional Islamic values. Leftist political leaders have joined forces with them after years of ineffective protests against the shah's 37-year authoritarian rule, secret police repression and official corruption.

"We will continue until the victory is won!" opposition leaders proclaimed to a huge throng massed about Tehran's towering, arch-like Shayad Monument, the symbol of the shah's rule.

They demanded "the fall of the dictatorial monarchy," establishment of an Islamic republic headed by Ayatullah Khomeini and "an end to foreign exploitation...by imperialists of East and West."

Many of the marchers on the 5½-mile route through Tehran carried placards reading, "Criminal Americans Go Home" or "Iran Will Become Another Vietnam." An estimated 6,000 women and children among the 41,000 Americans in Iran have fled the country in the last two months, along with 9,000 other foreigners.

The official Pars news agency estimated 400,000 persons took part in the Tehran march Sunday, but other observers said the count was closer to a million. There was no official estimate of the size of Monday's procession but it was at least as big, underlying the hold of the shah's Moslem foes on the masses.

Khomeini, head of the Shiite sect to which the shah and 90 percent of Iran's 34 million people belong, is directing the opposition campaign from Paris. Jordan's King Hussein, also a Shiite, arrived in the French capital Monday for a three-day visit.

Decision looms at FCC hearing

Who gets unicom system?

By JAMES WERRELL

What may have been a routine ratification hearing became quite a bit more during today's regular meeting of the Big Spring City Council.

The council was to consider an emergency reading of a resolution ratifying an application by Airport Manager Harry Spannaus to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) for a Unicom system to be operated by the city.

According to City Attorney James Gregg, Spannaus' application was probably approved during a joint meeting of the council and the Big Spring Steering Committee. No minutes of such an action were to be found, however, and today's ratification of the application was required before the city could continue its pursuit of FCC licensing.

A Unicom system, which was described at one point in today's meeting as "a sort of CB radio for pilots," is presently operated by Trans Regional Airlines at the airport under a temporary license. Only one Unicom system is allowed to operate in any airport, according to FCC regulations.

Both the city and Trans Regional hope to be that operator, and the question will be settled at an FCC hearing in Abilene, Feb. 6.

At today's meeting, Bob Miller, local attorney representing Trans Regional, addressed the council for nearly 30 minutes on behalf of his client. He also produced three witnesses to testify in favor of the Unicom system now operated by the airlines.

Miller contended that a Unicom operation by the city would be an intrusion by government into private enterprise.

"This shouldn't be a government function. It is an intrusion into private enterprise," said the attorney. "Trans Regional can provide nearly round-the-clock service at no cost to the city, seven days a week. The city would provide service from only 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., five days a week, and would have to provide an employee on the city payroll to handle the duties," he added.

No city officials commented on Miller's presentation during the meeting, Gregg and City Manager Harry Nagel later explained that the council meeting was not a proper forum for such an exchange because the question is under litigation.

"We are limited in replying to the statements made by the attorney representing Trans Regional. He used it as a forum for himself, and knew we wouldn't reply," said Nagel. "We (the city) have applied for a license because we feel that the city will better serve the public, and that we can be fairer to all of the fixed-base operators at the airport."

The resolution failed to pass on an emergency reading, with Councilmen Ralph McLaughlin and Bill Henkel voting against it. It did receive a majority vote, however, which constitutes passage on a first reading.

The second reading will take place at the next regular meeting of the council in January. In the meantime, a closed meeting between the council, John Burgess, local attorney representing the city in the case, and city officials will be held to brief the council on the city's intentions.

The final go-ahead was given at the meeting for the increase of rates by Big Spring Cable T.V., Inc. According to company officials, the new rates will become effective Jan. 1, but if customers wish to pay for a year in advance, they may do so at present rates with a five percent discount.

The council also passed the first reading of an ordinance amending the city's electrical code. Designers of the new code explained that it has been "streamlined" with a number of excess ordinances removed.

In addition, it was stipulated that those wishing to take the test to become a master electrician must first serve four years as a journeyman. The previous code had specified only that one must be 21-years-old to take the test.

"This won't be retroactive, though," explained Gregg. "Those who are now journeymen are eligible to take the test. The new rule will apply only to those who become journeymen after this new ordinance is passed."

The meeting was also the scene of service award presentations to two distinguished members of the Police Department.

Mayor Wade Choate presented a 15-year pin to Detective Avery Falkner, and a 10-year pin to Lt. Claude Morris.

Falkner, a resident of Big Spring for 43 years, joined the force June 30, 1963. He was promoted to sergeant in 1966, and became a detective in 1974.

Morris, another longtime Big Spring resident, became a patrolman May 16, 1968. He became a detective in 1971, a sergeant in 1974, and a lieutenant in 1976.

In other business, council members:

—Gave permission to advertise for bids for new water valves to be installed by the city under the downtown area.

—Appointed Alice Haynes, a nurse at Medical Arts Hospital, to the Emergency Medical Service Advisory Council.

—Awarded $4,175.07 to Blum's Jewelers for expenses incurred when a water line broke and flooded parts of the store.

—Denied a claim for damages by Benny Cantrell, who said that the City Water Department had mistakenly turned on the water in his home. Investigators for the city disputed the city's liability and the extent of damages claimed.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Sharing gate

Q. Are big league baseball teams more generous in sharing the gate with visiting clubs than other professional athletic leagues?

A. No. NFL clubs are required under existing rules to give 40 percent of the gate, after 15 percent has been deducted for stadium rental and other expenses. Major league baseball teams get 20 percent of the net in road games, which is the reason all teams like to play in Los Angeles, Boston and Yankee Stadium. NBA and NHL visitors get none of the gate when on the road.

Calendar: Basketball meeting

TODAY

Anyone interested in participating in industrial or church league basketball should meet at 6 p.m. at the YMCA.

Meistersingers and a group of local musicians will present Antonio Vivaldi's "Gloria" Mass at 8 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church.

All parents of children in the Title 1 program from kindergarten to eighth grade are invited to a Parent Advisory Council Meeting at 4 p.m. at the Goliad Middle School.

The College Heights PTA will sponsor its Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. in the Goliad Gymnasium.

The YMCA Women will meet at 6 p.m. at Furr's Cafeteria for their annual Christmas dinner. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Jane Upton.

Chamber of Commerce fun breakfast sponsored by Citizens Credit Union. Open to the public, Howard College Cafeteria, 6:30 a.m. Reservations at the chamber office by noon Monday.

The Big Spring School bands will present a concert at 7:30 p.m. in the Big Spring High School Auditorium. The choir will present a concert at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

Offbeat: Back and forth

When the Doyle Fowlers moved to Big Spring 21 years ago, they kept all the Christmas cards they received that year and sent the same cards back to the same people the following years.

They have continued the practice and two couples still send the same old cards back and forth. This year, they received the original 21-year-old card from John and Mildred Bentley of Tyler and from the Harold Gilmores in Big Spring.

Many traditions such as this would put the greeting card people out of business in a hurry.

Tops on TV: Part 2 of movie

Part 2 of an NBC movie, "A Woman Called Moses," can be seen on Channel 2 starting at 8 o'clock this evening. It stars Cicely Tyson and Robert Hooks. In this episode Harriet (Miss Tyson) repeatedly returns to the south to help slaves escape via the "underground railroad." CBS will offer a movie called "The Jordan Chance" at 8 p.m. It stars Raymond Burr and Stella Stevens. In it, an attorney tries to prove the innocence of a woman imprisoned for murder.

Inside: Grand jury to decide

A GRAND JURY will decide the fate of the Snyder man who was driving the truck that collided with a McCaulley school bus killing four students. See page 8-A.

RAPID BIRTH RATE and growing immigration have resulted in the advancement of the Hispanic race. See page 8-B.

Outside: Colder

The forecast is fair today and colder Wednesday. The high for today is in the upper 50s and the low for tonight is in the mid 20s. Westerly winds will blow from 10 to 14 mph today and northerly 10 to 14 mph tonight.

Menard residents have severe gas shortage

MENARD, Texas (AP) — Residents of Menard have appealed for state and federal help for a severe natural gas shortage that has hit the west-central Texas community of 3,000 persons.

Gas service is sporadic. Mayor Macy Haygood said it has been reduced to almost nothing at peak times, such as early morning and after 5 p.m.

The Menard county hospital and nursing home was without gas for about five hours Friday. The gas went out again at 3 a.m. Saturday and didn't come back until 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

The natural gas well which provides the city's gas is almost depleted, and it will take about $100,000 — money the town doesn't have — to build a pipeline to a second well.

Haygood said he called officials with the Texas Railroad Commission and also the offices of U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger, U.S. Sen. John Tower and Congressman-elect Tom Loeffler for help.

"We need emergency money from the federal government — we don't need money next year, we need it now," Haygood said. "This is the first really cold spell. As the weather gets worse, we'll just be in worse shape."

Residents have gone to electric heaters, butane tanks and extra blankets to fight the temperatures that have dropped as low as 13 degrees in the past week.

Blimp-like silver butane tanks stand beside many of the houses in Menard. City councilman Dan Feather said some of the hook-ups were done as temporary measures, and he and Haygood both said they fear faulty hook-ups may cause an explosion.

Switching to butane would be difficult for the hospital, since the facility is located in a fire zone and the boiler is in the basement — rather than above ground level as butane fuel boilers are required to be.

Hospital patients are allowed to use electric heaters and blankets, but state regulations forbid their use in nursing homes because of the hazard of fire.

Connie Elliott, a nurse at the nursing home, said it has been too cold inside for the staff to give patients proper care.

"It's too cold in the rooms to bathe the patients. And besides, there is no hot water half the time."

"These poor old folks can hardly stand it half the time. They're also cold natured, but there's not anything we can do except try to keep them warm."

In 1976, Menard took over operation of the gas company serving the community. Fixing the badly leaking gas lines left Menard $200,000 in debt, and now that the pipes are patched, the gas well is nearly depleted.

Tom Hill, an official in the gas utility section of the Texas Railroad Commission — the state agency which oversees energy resources — said Menard will have to file a written request with the commission before a second pipeline can be approved.

Haygood said if the money to build the pipeline doesn't show up, Menard will have to close the gas company and default on its loan.

In the meantime, the city is trying to cope. But it's not easy when the mercury dips down to 13 degrees as it did Friday night.

But residents said they are tired of being cold, of not having hot water, and of not being able to cook.

A spokesman for the W.R. Lovelless Butane Co. estimated that about 20 new customers converted to butane in the past month.

Redding, Hurt on annual tour

Jack Redding and Bob Hurt are representing Big Spring on the annual West Texas Industrial Tour, which will include visits to New York and New Jersey this year.

An estimated 40 people are making the tour, including eight from Midland. The group will meet with business and industry executives who might be interested in expanding to the West Texas region.

Redding is chairman of the Big Spring Industrial Team while Hurt is an IT member.

The two plan to return to Big Spring Thursday.

Other communities represented on the tour are Odessa, Abilene, Amarillo, Lamesa, Lubbock, Mineral Wells and San Angelo.

At Kennedy Airport Bandits steal $5 million

NEW YORK (AP) — Bandits who used guns, handcuffs — and perhaps inside information — to pull off the theft of $5 million in cash from Kennedy Airport may be able to spend the loot as easily as they pulled off the daring heist, authorities say.

"It went off like clockwork," said one official. "It was wellplanned, well-organized and well-executed."

The bandits — said to number five by police but put at seven by some witnesses — breached security at a Lufthansa Airline cargo hold early Monday and made off in a black van with jewels and sacks of foreign and U.S. currency that had been flown from Frankfurt, Germany, for transfer to the Chase Manhattan Bank and the Federal Reserve here.

Bankers call the cash "old money" — not easily traced and readily negotiable.

Karl Koepcke, a Lufthansa spokesman, put the value of the jewels at $300,000.

"They were so well prepared that they even had enough handcuffs for all the employees," said John Connolly, a spokesman for the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, which runs Kennedy Airport.

If the $5 million figure is confirmed, it would be the largest cash theft in U.S. history — topping the $4.3 million loss at Purolator Security in Chicago in October of 1974. The famous 1950 Brink's robbery in Boston netted $2.4 million — and a 1971 theft at the Hotel Pierre in New York totaled about $5 million in jewels and cash.

The thieves overpowered and handcuffed 10 workers in making their way into the vault of the German airlines without tripping an alarm, authorities said.

The precision, early morning heist left many questions unanswered.

How did the thieves pick a bonanza night for the theft, how did they know to bring handcuffs for every guard, how did they reconnoiter the hangar and its security system and — the biggest one of all — where did they go?

Dumping operation loses attempt to resume business

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A brine dumping operation has lost an attempt to resume business on Whalen Lake in Andrews County.

The Texas Railroad Commission unanimously rejected Whalen Corp.'s request Monday. The commission also went against recommendations from its oil and gas division staff.

Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Jon

Newton and John Poerner left stand a seven-week ban on use of the playa lake. Environmentalists and the U.S. Interior Department claim oil sludge accumulates in the lake and kills waterfowl.

Wallace and Poerner indicated they wanted the lake cleaned before the disposal ban is lifted. The commission has yet to make a final ruling on use of the lake.

Wire supplies may be short

AUSTIN — With wintery conditions prevailing throughout most of the state today, abating wire shortages may well be the farthest thought from most Texas ranchers' minds.

But while Harvesttime 1979 seems a long way away, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown advises that now may in fact be the best time to round up wire supplies for the upcoming season.

Oil well operators use the lake to get rid of brine that is a by-product of drilling operations. Without a disposal facility, Whalen said many operators would have to shut down.

The corporation offered, as part of an interim solution, to install equipment to remove oil from brine before discharging it into the lake. The company also said it would conduct beach clean up operations, limit oil discharge, reduce operation hours and increase inspections.

Reservation receives trees

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — More than 70 garlanded Christmas trees — a gift of a New England chamber of commerce — arrived at Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in time to brighten the Sioux tribe's holidays.

"They're really beautiful to look at," tribal spokesman Tim Giago said of the trees, trucked in Monday by the Manchester, N.H., Chamber of Commerce. Giago said the gift was made after Manchester Mayor Charles Stanton learned the nation's second-largest Indian reservation looked barren at Christmas — a favorite holiday among the Sioux, who have a ceremonial tradition for gift-giving — because there are few fir trees on the 2.8 million-acre reservation.

Uranga freed here on bond

Ricardo Artemio Uranga, Route 2 Box 162 A, was released on bond Friday afternoon. He was arrested early in the morning hours of Dec. 1. Uranga was later charged with three counts of theft and a marijuana possession felony. Bond was set at $100,000 by Justice of the Peace Bob West.

Smoke ordinance approved

CLEVELAND (AP) — An ordinance requiring all homes in Cleveland to install smoke detectors by March 1 was approved by City Council 32-1 and sent to Mayor Dennis J. Kucinich.

Council Majority Leader Basil M. Russo said Monday Cleveland would be the first major city in the United States to require smoke detectors in homes. In 1977, he said, 369 residents were killed or injured in fires that caused $11.7 million damage. The ordinance provides fines of $25 to $100 for violators. A companion measure to allow the fire chief to sell smoke detectors to the public was defeated.

Council meets Thursday, 7

COAHOMA — The city council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The public is invited to attend the session. The budget will be reviewed, including water works, revenue sharing funds and other pertinent items.

Modification of heating plan OKed by committee

The Big Spring Steering Committee, called into session at noon Monday, has given its blessing to a Cotton Machinery Company proposal to modify the heating system in Building 1101 in the Big Spring Industrial Park at a cost of $13,800.

79 vocational nursing students

Capping ceremonies for the class of '79 vocational nursing student will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m., in the Howard College Auditorium. Twenty-three student nurses will receive caps.

Modification of heating plan OKed by committee

The company will amortize the cost of the modification by a reduction of rental at $250 a month for four years.

A contract to that effect will be drawn by City Attorney Jim Gregg.

The committee also voted to offer John Burgess and Bob Moore a contract to rent Buildings 1110, 1111 and 1112 (formerly used as ammunition compartments by Webb AFB).

The contract would include an escape clause which would enable the city to fulfill a commitment to an aircraft firm in event that industry assumes an option to begin operations here. In addition, the contract would include option clauses after the first year.

Harry Spannaus, manager of the Big Spring Industrial Park, was also authorized to

Modification of heating plan OKed by committee

lease the old Webb AFB motor pool to a Redmond, Wash., firm identified as Petroleum Technology Corp., for a period of two months. The rent will be paid in advance.

Spannaus was due to meet with officials of a firm identified as Science Applications who wanted to discuss the possible rental of the old wooden dormitories at the industrial park.

Five bids tabled

Five bids on a new Howard County warehouse were tabled at the Commissioner's Court meeting Monday. Commissioners plan to build such a building near the county maintenance building north of town to protect road equipment used only in certain seasons of the year.

Commissioner Bill Crocker estimates the cost at $14,000 to $16,000.

An open meeting public hearing on the Revenue Sharing Fund was approved.

Tax consultants Pritchard and Alsbot will be questioned regarding the cost of putting the oil roll on the computer.

The library's request to clean the carpet was tabled.

A request from District Clerk Peggy Crittenden for office equipment was tabled.

J. R. Broughton's bond for his position as Public Weigher was approved.

A letter from the Big Spring Emergency Medical Service Advisory Council was discussed. The council's request for the purchase of a defibrillator named the Jaws of Life was tabled. The $1,200 equipment is used to free wreck victims from their cars.

A resolution from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation was approved.

LOTS OF SPIRITS — Barbara Bezeau applies revenue tax stamps to a long line of Canadian Club whiskey bottles Monday at the Kiram Walker distillery in Windsor. The Distilled Spirits Council of the US in Washington says nearly 10 million more gallons of alcoholic beverages are sold in the US during December than any other month. In December of 1977 54.6 million gallons were sold. After six years of aging at this plant, the bottling is done at the rate of 285 bottles per minute.

Music special at Kentwood

The country-western music special at the Kentwood Center, 2905 Lynn Drive, will be held starting at 7 p.m., Saturday.

Furnishing the music will be the Twin Fiddlers String Band. Joe Dunn and Tom Castle are featured.

Accident hypothermia is wintertime threat

Winter and cold weather bring many health hazards, ranging from broken bones to frostbite. But for the elderly, even mildly cold weather can trigger a potentially fatal drop in deep body temperature, known as accidental hypothermia.

Because accidental hypothermia can occur indoors in mild temperatures of 60 degrees F. to 65 degrees F., it may be necessary to keep temperatures in homes and other places where the elderly live above 65 degrees F.

Those vulnerable to accidental hypothermia include: the very old (over 75); the elderly living in substandard housing; those living alone and having infrequent visitors; those taking certain drugs such as phenothiazines, commonly prescribed for anxiety, agitation, and nausea, and those with chronic illnesses, especially diseases of the veins or arteries.

When body temperature falls to between 90 degrees F. to 95 degrees F., the elderly person needs the care of a physician, who should be called immediately. Until he or she arrives, keep the victim warm with several blankets. A physician will know how

Police beat Crash causes blackout

The same incident that made electricity and lights go out in part of Big Spring early this morning made lights go on at the Big Spring Police station.

Pat R. Rodriguez, 301 NE 11th, was lucky to escape injury when the vehicle he was driving went out of control and cut a 50 foot utility pole in half at 7:45 a.m. today in the 1000 block of W. 3rd.

The accident caused electric service in many parts of town to go off for a few moments, and also set off a number of burglar alarms causing lights to start flashing in the radio room of the Big Spring Police Department.

"It really scared me," said rookie dispatcher Jeanette Rutherford. "I looked up and the alarm board looked like a Christmas tree. I was glad to find out what caused it."

Kenneth Murphy, 1503A Sycamore, reported at 8:22 a.m. today, that his car had been stolen sometime during the night. At 8:57 a.m., the car had been located by city crews. It had apparently been abandoned by the thief at 12th and Scurry.

Big Spring Cable Television, 2006 Birdwell, reported that the front glass door of the business had been shot out by gun carrying vandals between 6 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. Monday. Damage amounted to $150.

Food stamps and cash in the amount of $145 were taken from the residence of Mary E. Threats, 23 Northcrest Apts. between 11:30 p.m. Friday and noon Saturday. The loss was discovered Monday.

Horace Earl Puckett, 610 Elgin, reported that his residence was ransacked between 8:30 a.m. and 6:45 p.m. Monday but nothing was taken.

A screen window and glass window were broken out at one residence, and a storm window and screen at another residence were broken out, both by rock throwing vandals. Luis Martinez, 1500 W. Cherokee, reported that the vandalism to his residence must have occurred between 6:45 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Monday, while Troy Newton, 2001 Morrison, reported that the incident at his home had to have occurred between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday. Value of the damage in each instance was $30.

Leslie Gilmore, 111 Kentwood Apts., reported that a spare tire and wheel valued at $30 was stolen from a vehicle parked at the residence between 8 p.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. Monday.

Barbara Ann Pittman, 1314 Elm, reported that she was assaulted around 7:15 p.m. Monday at her residence.

Four fender benders were reported Monday.

Vehicles driven by Carl E. Davis, Hobbs, N.M., and Brenda Patterson Burnett, 1603 E. 3rd, collided at 4th and Nolan at 8:14 a.m.

Falkner given probated term

Earl Falkner, Box 26, Big Spring, pled guilty in 118th District Court Friday afternoon to a forgery charge. He received a five year probated sentence.

SEVEN DIE IN FIRE — Firemen remove body of one of seven people, including two children, who died early Tuesday morning in an extra-alarm fire at a four-story brick apartment building on Chicago's Southwest Side. An eighth person was critically injured in the blaze.

Reservation receives trees

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — More than 70 garlanded Christmas trees — a gift of a New England chamber of commerce — arrived at Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in time to brighten the Sioux tribe's holidays.

"They're really beautiful to look at," tribal spokesman Tim Giago said of the trees, trucked in Monday by the Manchester, N.H., Chamber of Commerce. Giago said the gift was made after Manchester Mayor Charles Stanton learned the nation's second-largest Indian reservation looked barren at Christmas — a favorite holiday among the Sioux, who have a ceremonial tradition for gift-giving — because there are few fir trees on the 2.8 million-acre reservation.

Smoke ordinance approved

CLEVELAND (AP) — An ordinance requiring all homes in Cleveland to install smoke detectors by March 1 was approved by City Council 32-1 and sent to Mayor Dennis J. Kucinich.

Council Majority Leader Basil M. Russo said Monday Cleveland would be the first major city in the United States to require smoke detectors in homes. In 1977, he said, 369 residents were killed or injured in fires that caused $11.7 million damage. The ordinance provides fines of $25 to $100 for violators. A companion measure to allow the fire chief to sell smoke detectors to the public was defeated.

Uranga freed here on bond

Ricardo Artemio Uranga, Route 2 Box 162 A, was released on bond Friday afternoon. He was arrested early in the morning hours of Dec. 1. Uranga was later charged with three counts of theft and a marijuana possession felony. Bond was set at $100,000 by Justice of the Peace Bob West.

Council meets Thursday, 7

COAHOMA — The city council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The public is invited to attend the session. The budget will be reviewed, including water works, revenue sharing funds and other pertinent items.

Modification of heating plan OKed by committee

The Big Spring Steering Committee, called into session at noon Monday, has given its blessing to a Cotton Machinery Company proposal to modify the heating system in Building 1101 in the Big Spring Industrial Park at a cost of $13,800.

79 vocational nursing students

Capping ceremonies for the class of '79 vocational nursing student will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m., in the Howard College Auditorium. Twenty-three student nurses will receive caps.

Modification of heating plan OKed by committee

The company will amortize the cost of the modification by a reduction of rental at $250 a month for four years.

A contract to that effect will be drawn by City Attorney Jim Gregg.

The committee also voted to offer John Burgess and Bob Moore a contract to rent Buildings 1110, 1111 and 1112 (formerly used as ammunition compartments by Webb AFB).

The contract would include an escape clause which would enable the city to fulfill a commitment to an aircraft firm in event that industry assumes an option to begin operations here. In addition, the contract would include option clauses after the first year.

Harry Spannaus, manager of the Big Spring Industrial Park, was also authorized to lease the old Webb AFB motor pool to a Redmond, Wash., firm identified as Petroleum Technology Corp., for a period of two months. The rent will be paid in advance.

Spannaus was due to meet with officials of a firm identified as Science Applications who wanted to discuss the possible rental of the old wooden dormitories at the industrial park.

Deaths Tiny Griffith

A one-time resident of Big Spring, L. E. (Tiny) Griffith, 66, of Andrews died at 1:25 a.m. Sunday in an Andrews hospital.

Services will be at 2:30 p.m. today in Means Memorial Methodist Church in Andrews, with the Rev. Keith Wiseman, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in Andrews Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Griffith was a native of Jamestown, N. Y. He moved to Andrews in 1953.

Survivors include his wife, the former Maleese Perry; a daughter, Lynn Maleese Sutton of Dallas; and a grandson.

Mr. Griffith was a sales engineer for Dow Chemical Co., for 26 years before retiring.

J.D. Quigley

Services for J. D. Quigley, 83, who died at 1:20 a.m. Monday in a local hospital are still pending with Nalley-Pickley Funeral Home.

Cheer fund adds $60 in gifts

Three additional gifts have arrived at the Herald for the Christmas Cheer Fund, proceeds of which go toward the purchase of food baskets for needy families at Christmas time.

The Questers Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church donated $25, as did the Wesley United Methodist Men's Class.

In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Dunn gave $10, in lieu of Christmas cards.

Checks can be made out to the Christmas Cheer Fund and forwarded either to the Herald or to the Salvation Army.

Leroy Cole

Services for Leroy (L. C.) Cole, 47, of Gretna, La., who died at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in a New Orleans, La. hospital will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Nalley-Pickley Rosewood Chapel with Rev. Bob Lee, of Dallas, and Rev. E. G. Newcomer, retired Baptist minister of Big Spring, officiating.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Palbearers will be Bob Kimzey, Rubin Reavis, Don Karns, Wayne Rock, Sgt.

Choices for commissioner narrowed to staff members

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe's choices for railroad commissioner have narrowed to staff member Andy Keever and Rep. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, sources say.

Briscoe has been expected to make the appointment early this week.

The resignation of Commissioner Jon Newton, effective Jan. 1, opened up the vacancy Briscoe must fill. The new commissioner will serve through the 1980 general election, when voters will choose someone to fill the remaining two years of Newton's term.

Newton resigned to avoid any appearance of a conflict of interest after his wife received a share of family-owned land where natural gas has been discovered.

The commission regulates the oil and gas industry.

Keever currently runs the branch of Briscoe's staff that deals with screening potential appointments to state boards and commissions.

He would say only that Briscoe has not made a decision on whom to appoint.

Nugent, 54, has been elected to nine, two-year terms in the Legislature, serving a district that includes Briscoe's home county of Uvalde. He currently is chairman of the House Transportation Committee and sponsored Briscoe's bill last session raising state funding for highway construction.

Nugent said he asked Briscoe for the appointment after Newton announced his resignation last Thursday.

"I know I am being considered. That's all I know," Nugent said.

If appointed, Nugent apparently would have to divest himself of a number of oil and gas stocks and mineral interests.

Nugent's latest financial disclosure statement under the state's ethics law indicates he owns shares of Can Del Oil, Ltd., Lear Petroleum Corp., Inter States Oil Co., Southern Union Gas Co., Supron Energy Corp. and Exxon Corp. It also shows fractional interests in mineral production from 308.24 acres in Galveston County and 1,235 acres in Kerr County.

STATE REP. T.H. McDONALD

Mesquite rep dies Monday

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — State Rep. T.H. McDonald, D-Mesquite, collapsed at the Capitol Monday night and died a short time later in a hospital.

The 79-year-old representative was nearing the end of six years in the Legislature. He did not seek re-election and was to have left office Jan. 1.

Capitol security guards said the representative told them he was cleaning out his office, and when Patrolman W.R. Simpson went to "check on" him earlier Monday afternoon, the guard found McDonald "looking like he was asleep in his chair."

But he "roused up" when Simpson called his name, the guard said.

McDonald went to the Capitol security office shortly before 7 p.m. and asked to be taken to Brackenridge to have a medical prescription refilled. As two officers escorted him, he collapsed just outside the Capitol.

He was taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead about 7:30 p.m.

Local speech team wins third place

Police detective shot while serving warrant

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A police detective and a man being served with an arrest warrant were shot to death late Monday in a barrage of gunfire that broke loose in a north Fort Worth home.

Another officer, who was reportedly wearing a bullet-proof vest, was hospitalized with a gunshot wound in the abdomen.

Detective Jim F. Chadwell, 40, was dead on arrival at Peter Smith Hospital at 11:52 p.m. Monday. He had been shot in the head and leg.

Officer David S. Hunt, 23, was reported in stable condition with the abdomen wound.

Richard Urias, 22, died of multiple gunshot wounds in a pool of blood in the bathroom of his home, a small-caliber pistol beside him.

Police said Urias was in the bathroom when Chadwell and Hunt knocked at the front door of his residence and told an 18-year-old brother that they had a warrant for Richard's arrest.

Shortly after the officers entered the house, according to an officer who accompanied Chadwell and Hunt, the officers were fired upon.

Police refused to say what the warrant alleged.

In the house during the shooting, the third officer said, were Urias, his parents and three brothers, ages 18, 10 and 9.

Joel Urias, 10, said the two officers came into the living room, drew their weapons, stationed themselves behind furniture and began firing at the bathroom door.

Police disputed that and said the officers began firing only after they were fired upon.

Elaine Brown is winner in oratorical contest

STANTON — Miss Elaine Brown, a student at Big Spring High School, was the winner of the 1979 Governor Action Youth Tour contest held Monday evening in Stanton.

Miss Brown was presented an all-expense paid trip to Washington D.C. by Caprock Electric Coop Inc., sponsor of the annual speaking event.

Eight students from four area high schools participated. This year's subject was a five to eight minute talk on "Energy Conservation in My Home."

Miss Sandra Kuykendall, also of Big Spring, was named alternate winner and would be entitled to the trip should for some reason the winner not be able to participate.

Other contestants were Keith Hull, Stanton; Lani Kay Frerich, and Janet Hoelscher, Garden City High; Cathy Kregar, Midland High; Brenda Clay and Nancy Gonzalez, Big Spring High School.

Whooping cranes seen in area

Two rare whooping cranes have been spotted this month in the Big Spring area, according to Bebe McCasland, local environmentalist.

One was sighted northwest of Big Spring, two miles east of the microwave tower near the Andrews Highway. This sighting occurred Dec. 2.

The other sighting took place just Sunday, four miles of Elbow, according to Mrs. McCasland.

"This is the migratory season for the cranes, and the whoopers usually travel with the sandhill cranes," she said.

The whoopers, who have made the endangered species list, are distinguished from the sandhills by their white color with black wingtips, and larger size.

People don't always mean what they say

Never in the history of this country has as much emphasis been placed on balanced diets and nutrition. Mention is made of it in almost every newspaper you read, on the radio and over television.

Getting people to think about it and do something about it are two different things, however. Fast food places are prospering as never before and many of the grocery carts being pushed around today are filled with junk foods, even though the recommended food is there for the taking.

A RECENT SURVEY revealed 77 percent of the consumers have a greater interest in balanced diets than ever before. That same survey, however, betrayed the fact that two out of every three of those people have eaten some rapidly prepared food at least once in the past six months, despite their admitted knowledge that the nutritional value of a home-cooked meal is greater.

We are a people obsessed with the idea of good health. We take up jogging hoping to strengthen and lengthen the performance of our hearts, yet the survey shows we are a society where 44 percent of the shoppers must feed one or more members of their families who are overweight and only one in four actively seeks information on diet and weight control.

In all justice to the person preparing the meal, he or she, no doubt, gets tired of hearing other members of the family complain about meals that they insist are bland and unappealing.

The conflicts just don't seem to make sense. The survey shows that the average consumer is deeply interested in obtaining more nutrition for the dollar — to eat better for less money.

In spite of that interest, the undying commitment to nutrition isn't borne out.

THREE OUT OF every four consumers concede they either eat whatever they like and don't worry about it or they make only a casual approach at balancing out their meals. It they come off their diet, their conscience doesn't nag enough to get them back on it.

Those committed to the fight of starving off physical miseries should realize that knowing the value of good nutrition is only half the battle, that they will not succeed until they take their own advice.

In other words, many people talk a good game, but refuse to play it according to the rules.

Memorable week

Around the rim

Marie Homeyer

Although it's not any where near time for a vacation, with the advent of cold weather, my mind has been returning to the summer vacations that I have spent romping on the Gulf Coast, skiing across lakes and other summertime activities.

The one that sticks out most in my mind was the time my family went to Harlingen, a town in the Rio Grande Valley. It stands out because that was the first time I can remember my dad closing down his barbershop on a work day. There were always weekend trips that substituted for "real" vacations, but this was the first time he had actually taken a full week away from work.

ON THE WAY there we stopped in 3ishop, Texas where my mother had spent her childhood. We stayed at the home of the family my mother used to live next door to. They showed us the old school and church that my grandfather had preached and taught at and where my mother had gone to school. They were in the process of tearing it down, but it still had a lot of its "personality" left to overwhelm me at the age of 10. And, my mother and her friends had lots of memories to tell. It was a very good way to learn about my mother's childhood from someone other than herself.

In Harlingen, we visited the former minister of our church in Navasota. He and my dad were golfing buddies. The town was beautiful. Palm trees lined the major avenues. I remember being awed at the sight of them because I had only heard of palm trees growing in Hawaii or the Pacific. He took us to the coast, the first time I had ever been. This was an adventure in itself. I recall being frightened by the seaweed that would get caught in between my toes or the seaweed that would drag across my legs.

Then there was the time we visited my aunt in San Antonio. She took us to a nearby river that was so clear you could see the outlines of ever rock that lined the bottom of the river. It was very chilly also. My younger brother proved to be the brave one in the family when he tried to play Tarzan and swing into the river from one of the ropes attached to a tree on one of the banks. They tried to get me to do it, but there was no way.

WE ALSO WENT to a state park there. It was a picnic. I got about as scared there as I have ever been in my life. I was about 13 or 14 at the time and I tried to swim across the lake (not really a lake, but not really a swimming pool either). It was further across than I thought when I started. I got so tired about halfway across that I thought I wouldn't be able to make it to the other side. I ended up floating a ways until I got my second wind and was able to swim the remainder of the way.

Then there were the weekends at Lake Livingston skiing. Some friends of our family own a house that is built only 100 feet from the lake. If not skiing, we were in the water clowning around. I learned to ski on that lake and it wasn't easy. The boat was so powerful that it jerked me out of the water and before I had time to recover my balance I was back in the water again. But, I prevailed, and learned how to ski. I still am not very good at it because I don't get to do it often enough. But I do enjoy it.

Jordan's cancellation

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — The sudden cancellation of Hamilton Jordan's speaking date before the Foreign Policy Association here last week has raised questions whether the State Department interceded against his appearance.

Officials at the department deny any such intercession, but skeptical outsiders, particularly hardliners on Capitol Hill, are not so sure. The background is brief: invited to talk on the evening of Dec. 5 about the foreign policy role of American citizens before 200 members of the nationally-known FPA, Jordan promptly accepted just before Thanksgiving. But four days after invitations were mailed — including some to the State Department — he cancelled.

The cancellation apparently was not based on any sudden conflict involving a presidential summons for Jimmy Carter's top White House aide. Although insiders at both the FPA and the White House were circumspect, it appears that Jordan's cancellation was based on concern that this was the wrong time for any free-wheeling discourse about U.S. foreign policy — a subject that has come to fascinate Jordan and on which he takes a harder line than many officials at State. That harder line is evident in Jordan's strong support for increased defense spending.

CONGRESSIONAL CRITICS of the State Department have been quietly urging national security adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski for months to speak out more loudly when he thinks Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and his aides act too soft on Moscow. Now these same critics say that Jordan may be moving closer to the relatively headline views of Brzezinski, causing State to assert its own primary role as Carter's foreign policy spokesman.

MI-6 SHAKEOUT? A new resolution adopted by the British Labor party is causing rising apprehension in the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) that the top-rated British foreign intelligence service, known as MI-6, may be headed down a disastrous course.

The resolution calls for a Freedom of Information Act patterned precisely on the U.S. law that now applies to the CIA. That move to open up the CIA to public inspection was the result of intelligence abuses and the demands for "reform" following the Watergate and other scandals. Hostile foreign intelligence services make frequent, anonymous use of the act to study the CIA's inner workings.

But British intelligence has suffered no loss of confidence such as the CIA endured. Indeed, CIA operatives look to MI-6 with longing eyes and consider it perhaps the best single intelligence service in Europe. There is similar confidence in MI-5, the British counterpart to the FBI which handles counterespionage and domestic security.

Although the principal backing for applying a U.S.-style Freedom of Information Act to British intelligence comes from the powerful left wing of the ruling Labor party, it also has supporters inside the Conservative party. Prime Minister James Callaghan, a hard-headed political pragmatist, is cool to the idea. Intelligence insiders here hope Callaghan will stop it.

REAGAN EXPANDS Ronald Reagan is about to tap a top aide of conservative Republican Sen. Jesse Helms for a high-level post in Reagan's unannounced 1980 presidential campaign.

At a quiet breakfast meeting between Reagan aide Michael Deaver and Helms aide John Carbaugh at the Madison Hotel here Nov. 30, no final decision was reached about Carbaugh joining Reagan's presidential campaign staff. But the strong possibility was left open that he would be hired as an across-the-board, top-level troubleshooter.

Question: How does one perform a stunt like this?

Answer: Ver-r-r-r-y carefully.

Coffee can lower blood sugar

By Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Dr. Ruble: How long does the caffeine in coffee affect an individual? I like coffee very much, but if I drink more than two or three cups a day I become tense and restless and do not sleep well. If I stop drinking coffee it takes me a few days to relax and return to my normal self. Does the caffeine effect me that long? Or is there some other problem that causes my restlessness? My doctor says the effects of drinking coffee always wear off within a few hours. I am 69, retired, happy and in good health. — J.W.H.

The mild stimulation from the caffeine in a cup of coffee ought to "wear off" within an hour. Of course, the more you drink the longer the effect, perhaps a few cups of coffee prior to retiring remaining in the system up to three hours. Another point often overlooked, however, is that caffeine does have the effect of lowering blood sugar, which if not replaced can have lingering effects. This may disturb sleep and make a person jittery long after the caffeine has lost its stimulation effect.

Dear Dr. Ruble: I have been on a low-carbohydrate, high-protein diet for about a month. It consists mainly of a half cup of heavy cream, one and a half pints of whole milk, at least five or six tablespoons of butter or margarine, and lots of eggs. My cholesterol is a bit high. I have also gained about five pounds and am afraid I'll gain more. I am weak and sleepy all the time. Any comment will be appreciated. I am to see my doctor next month. — F.K.

This sounds like the high-protein diet for weight reduction. If so, I suggest you get off of it and onto a more sensible one. The idea of this diet is to allow the body to "burn up" fats rather than carbohydrates, which are all but eliminated. Theoretically, that is precisely what happens, but the excess "burning" of fats can create a condition called "ketosis," (key-TOE-sis). Some of the undesirable effects are calcium loss, dehydration, weakness, nausea, kidney failure or kidney stones (rarely), gouty arthritis, and possibly artery hardening in some individuals.

I don't doubt that continuation of this unwise plan will bring the weight loss you want, but the sacrifice of vital nutrients is, in my opinion, too great. My own program, as listed in "Lost Secrets of Reducing," can accomplish weight loss with out danger of sacrificing any vital nutrients. For a copy, send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me care of this newspaper. Another deficiency in such a diet as you are trying is that it does not develop sensible eating habits, which are important for long-term results.

Although "lower in carbohydrate and high in protein" this program is high in fat which is why you are gaining weight. Also why your cholesterol is high. Such programs are usually low in common sense.

Dear Dr. Ruble: My husband has lost 50 percent of his eyesight due to deteriorated retinas. His eye doctors say there is no help for him. Recently a friend heard that his condition can be cured by special surgery to restore the retinas. It is called a "welding process." My husband is 82, but in quite good health otherwise. Would you know of this new development? — Mrs. C.F.

There is little to be done for deteriorated retinas. The procedure your friend referred to is used in cases of detached retinas, in which the retina becomes loose. Laser beam surgery has been used for years in reattaching retinas. Sorry that I cannot be more encouraging in this.

Dear Dr. Ruble: What is the harm to the body of drinking beer every day (12 to 18 cans) for seven days and not putting a bit (I mean not a bite) of food in your stomach all that time. Only coffee in the morning with cream, then beer the rest of the day. The person I'm talking about is a male, 38, and in good health as far as he knows. How long can one's body stand this kind of treatment without something happening? — N.P.C.

Not long. I suppose that if he were on a desert island with his only nourishment an enormous cache of beer, he could survive indefinitely from the nutrients present in it (grains, etc.) but this person is an alcoholic and needs help.

Dear Editor, I'm appalled at the rudeness of Big Springer's during the 1st annual Community Christmas Program.

A program was handed out at the door and I'm assuming most of the adults could read. Then why did so many parents of 2nd & 3rd graders get up and leave as soon as their child's performance was over?

I wonder how the 4th & 5th graders felt when the curtains opened to so many empty seats. But did it stop there. Not! As soon as the 4th & 5th graders finished, there was another exodus.

The program was still not over. A few people stayed for the puppet show and as soon as it was over (you guessed it) another exodus. A handful of people stayed for silent night and the closing prayer.

I realize 1 1/2 hours of Dallas Cowboy time is hard to give up, so why didn't they just stay home to begin with. For myself, I want to thank everyone who participated in this Christmas Program. They gave their time, talent and themselves to provide a enjoyable time for many rude Big Springer's

My answer

Billy Graham

Dear Dr. Graham: Our son will be released from a mental hospital soon. My husband says that it is for him to go out on his own, since he is 22. I think we should let him live with us, at least until he is better. Do you have any advice? — W.T.

Dear W. T.: I hesitate to give you a firm answer, because there may be many factors your letter has not mentioned. I am sure you will want to talk with your son's doctors very carefully about this question.

Generally speaking, you should know that both the Bible and modern psychology attest to the importance of loving relationships in a situation such as this. Your decision (and the son's as well) should not be based on what might be more convenient for you, but what is best for your son. Whether he chooses to return home or set up his own living arrangement, he should know that you love him and want to do what you can to help him. Even if he does not live with you, you and your husband will want to help him in any way you can.

I hope you also will help your son spiritually during this time. Your letter does not indicate if you and your husband have ever really turned your lives over to Jesus Christ. If you have never taken that step of faith, I urge you to come to Him and ask Him to help you in every situation you face, including this one. You and your husband also can share the good news of God's love with your son.

Pray that God will give you real wisdom as you seek to help your son. God is concerned about your son also, and I believe He may want to use you to help your son at this important time.

WASHINGTON — Three years ago, a blinded and maimed prisoner cried out to us from a Cuban prison. Tony Cuesta smuggled letters to us about the brutal prison conditions, knowing he would be punished for it.

"I am sure that I will never leave this prison alive," he wrote, "and there is nothing anyone can do about it." But miraculously, Cuesta did leave the prison alive, and he walked into our office the other day like a ghost from the past.

The indomitable Cuesta has been fighting against Cuban dictators — first to oust Fulgencio Batista, then to overthrow Fidel Castro — since 1958.

CUESTA'S PRIVATE WAR against Castro almost ended in May 1966, when the commando pulled the pin on a hand grenade to destroy himself and his burning boat rather than surrender to Castro's patrol boats.

His suicide attempt was a grisly failure. The grenade blew off his hand and blinded him, and he was thrown into one of Castro's infamous political prisons.

Despite primitive medical care, hunger, harassment and brutality at the hands of Castro's prison guards, Cuesta managed to survive. He also managed to keep fighting. He conducted clandestine religious services in the prison, and he smuggled out letters of protest to us.

His personal battle is won, but Cuesta has a new cause to fight for: the freedom of the prisoners still languishing in Castro's prisons. He told us he won't rest until the remaining 3,500 political prisoners have been released and permitted to come to this country.

The biggest obstacle is not Castro, who has suddenly become more lenient, but the United States. Cuesta is outraged that the Justice Department won't permit the Cuban prisoners to enter en masse, but insists on screening each one to weed out Castro agents and common criminals.

The department until recently had been processing about two dozen cases a month. Then Attorney General Griffin Bell announced that prisoners would be processed at whatever rate Castro chooses to release them. This should increase the rate to about 400 a month.

At the same time, Bell has approved the mass admission of 21,875 refugees from Southeast Asia and another 1,000 from Lebanon. They'll be brought here en masse, while the Cubans are processed one at a time.

TOXIC GREENERY: Every year, more than half a million children are poisoned by items found in the home. Surprisingly, plants are the leading household poisoners. Toddlers who balk at spinach apparently have no hesitancy in sampling leaves from Mommy's potted plants.

A memorandum prepared for Rep. Harry Waxman, D-Calif., describes the situation: "Plant poisoning in humans is a serious problem — particularly among children," the memo states. "Although the most conscientious parents may keep drain cleaners and bleach under lock, they may unknowingly allow their children to come in contact with a more innocent-looking poison — the household plants."

WHILE MOST ACCIDENTAL plant ingestions are not serious enough to require hospitalization, some victims are severely affected, the report notes. Among the common domestic greenery the memo cites as hazardous are philodendrons, elephant ear, azaleas, dieffenbachia, castor bean and oleander.

INSECURITY AT SEC: Wall Street is buzzing with rumors about bureaucratic disgruntlement at the Securities and Exchange Commission under its controversial chairman, Harold Williams.

Reports have been circulating about infighting between the staff and Williams, who is regarded as a brilliant but indecisive executive. Now we have documentary evidence that staff members in the agency's largest division, Corporation Finance, have become disenchanted with the boss.

"The Division generally believes that it does not have the support and backing of the Commission in general and the Chairman in particular," says a confidential internal draft report that was slipped to us.

Attorneys in the division, which oversees securities regulations, believe Williams has "little regard for the Division's work" and is "searching for opportunities to reduce its resources," according to the report.

Corporation Finance chief Richard Rowe disputes the report as "inaccurate." And SEC Executive Director Benjamin Milk, stressed that the report did not reflect the "unanimous feeling" of SEC staffers.

Hearst Corp. buys Midland newspaper

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — The daily newspapers at Midland and Plainview soon will become the ninth and 10th U.S. newspapers owned by the Hearst Corp.

Helon Allison, majority owner of the Midland Reporter-Telegram and the Plainview Daily Herald, made the announcement Monday.

With her were John R. Miller, president and chief executive officer of the Hearst newspapers, and Frank A. Bennack Jr., executive vice president of the newspaper group.

The Midland Reporter-Telegram, which has a circulation of 21,000 daily and 23,000 Sunday, was published by Mrs. Allison's husband, James N. Allison Sr., from 1940 until his death in 1975, when he was succeeded by his son.

The Plainview Herald has a daily and Sunday circulation of 10,000 and has been owned by the Allison family since 1975.

James Allison Jr. died last August. The Hearst group operates eight other newspapers: the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner & Chronicle, the Baltimore News American, the Boston Herald, Albany (N.Y.) Times-Union, Knickerbocker (N.Y.) News-Union-Star, San Antonio Light and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

"After careful evaluation, I am very pleased to announce the selection of the Hearst Corporation as the new owners of our newspapers," Mrs. Allison said.

"I am thoroughly convinced that Hearst's commitment to continue the highest standards of journalistic quality and service to Midland and Plainview will do honor to the record of responsible publishing established by my husband and in recent years by our son."

Women's appeal to cost less than first thought

An appeal will be filed in New Orleans Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals by two female Howard County deputy sheriffs, Bernice Nail and Rachel Shaffer, their Odessa attorney, Gerald Lopez, has informed The Herald.

Federal District Judge Leo Brewster ruled in Abilene last week against the two women, who had claimed discrimination in pay scales.

Lopez cited Brewster's written opinion which made mention of an "old-fashioned" concept of law enforcement.

"The judge thinks you ought to ride a horse and carry a gun to be involved in law enforcement," said Lopez. "Law enforcement is made up of many parts."

Howard County's attorney will be Malcolm Schulz of Abilene, according to Hooser. Lopez declined to say what the source of his financial support is for the suit but did say that he was funded from private grants.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make more concrete plans for the future. If you anticipate any travel make reservations in plenty of time. Be extra cautious if you travel by car.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your obligations and plan for greater well-being in the future. Be more willing to cooperate with loved ones and be happier. Avoid the gossipier who wastes your precious time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be more cooperative with partners and come to a fine understanding, accomplish more. A situation turns up that requires tact in handling.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Tackle chores and finish them efficiently. Then rest and be careful of your diet; restore energies. Think along constructive, helpful lines.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan now for future recreation. Do some work on a special hobby. Take time to listen to your radio and be better informed.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) The oncoming full moon will make it easier now to handle both home and community affairs well. A fundamental situation can be made to work for you. Use common sense.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You get some confidential data that will be more valuable than you think. Production can be improved considerably now with associates.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make as many payments as you can on what you owe; make collections so that your financial position is improved. Have necessary discussions with kin.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Talk over with partners how to operate more profitably in the future, have more harmony. Take care of an unpleasant situation intelligently.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study your work and schedule it well so that it becomes easier and more profitable. Do something to improve health. Take no risks with reputation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have fine ideas how best to commercialize on your finest talents. Planning recreations early in the day is wise. Later you get excellent results.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take time to improve conditions at home so they become more ideal, satisfying. Show that you are loyal to kin. Don't permit others to undermine your intellect.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have the power to think problems out to the right conclusion and will be able to express himself or herself with others and understand and coordinate mutual ideas that will bring success. Pill no good as afterthought

By Robert Wallace Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: About a week ago I made love with my boyfriend. If I take a birth-control pill now would it eliminate my chances of being pregnant?

Please answer this because I know other girls want to know. — Confused, Fullerton, Calif.

Confused: To be an effective birth control method, the "pill" must be taken before sexual contact. Such birth control pills should be prescribed by a competent physician.

Dr. Wallace: I never thought I would ever be writing a letter like this, but if sharing my problems helps one teen, it's worth it.

I'm 20 and was married two years ago. Now I'm faced with a bitter divorce and custody trial. A week ago my husband took our son and hid him. Last night I got him back, but the terror and pain I experienced will never be forgotten. Neither will the pain of being left alone to raise two children.

Teens, life isn't a bunch of roses, so please be sure before you think of getting married. — Janet, Ontario, Ore.

Janet: Thanks for sharing your experience.

GLITTERING EVENT — Dazzling the night life in 1979 will be fashions ranging from ultra-feminine black lace gowns to body-draping black satin pants worn with sequined tops. Lots of glitter, color and individuality will mark the new year's looks. The many moods of 1979 fashions were previewed by the public during a disconcerted style show presented by Swartz and the Ladies Golf Association at the Big Spring Country Club Saturday evening. Modeling the fashions were association members, from left, Ann McCann, Sherry Sparks, Ann Turner, Gayle Cowan, Cheryl Lane, Jan Iden, Marilyn Newsom, Paula Duncan, Paula Talbot and Barbara Hall. Furs and daytime fashions were also featured.

Tired of Being A Xmas Turkey!

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago you ran an article about a woman who never cooked her own Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner. Instead, she went to her mother's or her mother-in-law's. She wrote to say that she wishes now that she had done her own holiday dinners.

That letter was terrific. If you could publish it again, it would be a great help to a lot of people.

I am a grandmother who wishes my married children would cook their own holiday dinners and invite me as a guest.

PAID MY DUES

DEAR PAID: It wasn't hard to find, and here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for years, and around holiday time someone always asks, "Should we go to his mother's or to my mother's for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner?" Your answer has always been: "Why not alternate?"

Abby, my husband and I struggled with that problem for years. We resolved it according to your suggestion. Both sets of parents lived nearby, and it seemed the only fair thing to do. So, for 22 years, we spent Thanksgiving and Christmas in their homes instead of our own.

It never dawned on us until this year — now that our children are ready to strike out on their own — that we never developed our own holiday traditions. We always went to Grandma's for the holidays. She insisted on doing all the cooking herself, then complained for months about how much work it was and how tired she got. When we, her daughters and daughters-in-law, asked if we could bring something for dinner, she wouldn't hear of it. When we brought food without asking her, she refused to serve it, so we finally gave up.

I realize now what a high price I've paid over the years for peace in the family. I wish I hadn't.

Abby, please urge young marrieds to dare to have their own holiday celebrations in their own homes. Suggest that they invite their parents and grandparents, who might even be relieved to be finally free of the burden of entertaining three generations.

DOING MY OWN THING

DEAR DOING: Thank you for an excellent letter. Perhaps it will inspire others to do their own thing, too. It makes a lot of sense.

DEAR ABBY: With Christmas nearing, I have a question that has puzzled me for years. In signing Christmas cards, whose name comes first? The husband's or the wife's? I've always signed our cards, "Fred and Mary." Last year someone said they should have been signed, "Mary and Fred." What do you say?

STILL PUZZLED

DEAR STILL: At the risk of being labeled a sexist, I say ladies first.

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for all Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (25 cents), self addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Party fetes social workers

The annual Christmas party of the Big Spring State Hospital social workers was held Friday evening at 8 p.m. at the Coors Hospitality room.

Refreshments of chips and dips, as well as beer were served at the gathering. Gag gifts were exchanged by everyone attending.

Highlighting the evening was a formal presentation to Jake Glickman. The presentation of an Oklahoma license plate was made by W. C. Ernest.

Scouts will wrap gifts

Gift-wrapping need not be a dreaded chore this year. While you Christmas shop, let Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 360 wrap your packages for you.

The troop will be posted by the east entrance of Montgomery Wards at Highland Mall each Saturday before Christmas. For late shoppers, they'll be available from 3-9 p.m. Dec. 18-20, 5-9 p.m. Dec. 21-22, and 10 a.m.-9 p.m. Dec. 23.

Funds raised through the gift-wrapping project will be used to help fund Girl Scout service projects and troop events. This is the fourth year that the troop has participated in the project.

Any girls ages 14-18 and in the 10th grade are eligible to join the troop and should contact the Girl Scout Office, 3-1364.

Old Bronc Rider

with Marj Carpenter

Clay Bedell, 85, really is a sure-enough bronc buster. He has broken thousands of wild horses.

And the only time he ever got broken up himself was when a horse fell on him on a bridge.

"I guess I learned how to fall, because I was thrown off broncs over and over and over," the old cowhand recalled.

He started busting broncs when he was 16 years old. "I left Dad's ranch in Glasscock County and went to work for W.R. Settles at $20 a month," he recalled.

"After all, it was time to be getting out and making a living. I was the fifth child and the oldest boy, but there were ten of us in all. And it was time for me to get out in the world and make a little cash," Bedell related.

Settles was the man who built the Settles Hotel when oil came in on his ranch and then hit the Depression years and lost everything he had.

Bedell recalled that his first assignment was to break 18 head of horses that John Marchbanks had ridden for a couple weeks, then "turned them over to me."

Bedell also recalled that John and his younger brother, I.V. were the best bronc riders around.

He recollected, "Breaking horses was big business. J.T. Davis used to raise hundreds of wild horses down around Sterling and then sell them at so much per head. Then the bronc riders would take over. It was all in a day's work," Bedell stated.

Bedell recalled years ago when he was sleeping at a cow camp. "One of the group robbed the train going up the grade into Stanton," he recalled. "The camp cook said he knew who did it because he knew who's saddle blanket was wet with sweat, but the rest of us never were quite sure."

Bedell laughed about a cowpoke that got the last laugh on some jokers down around the Big Spring depot.

They had handed him a sack that they said held a badger. He had been bet that he wouldn't let the badger out of the sack and when he carefully opened the sack, it held a chamber pot instead. Everyone roared with laughter.

The cowpoke didn't say a word, but a few days later, he brought a sack and when the crowd gathered to watch him open it, he suddenly panicked and shot blanks into the crowd. The bunch didn't know they were blanks and three men fell as if dead. "That crowd scattered fast," Bedell laughingly recalled.

Bedell said one time he was around a serious shooting down at Coahoma. "I had just ridden into town and rode a horse right through the middle of two groups lined up to have a gun battle. The gun battle occurred right after I rode through," he related.

Bedell has run lots of short trail rides and one time recalled during 3,000 sheep and 300 head of cows in the same trip.

He leased a ranch in Glasscock County for many years and raised eight children. He said they are now scattered everywhere and he even has one in Alaska and one in Algeria. There are 17 grandchildren.

Bedell retired from cowpunching and breaking horses in 1943 and then worked for Continental Oil 17 years. He also lived in Arkansas eight years before coming back to Big Spring.

And Clay Bedell, who arrived in 1900 when he was five, recalls this area when there weren't many fences to ride, but he did lots of riding.

State agency has power to match federal funds

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A state agency has authority to match federal funds to build a sewer system for a farm labor camp, Attorney General John Hill ruled Monday.

The city of Raymondville has applied for $80,000 in federal funds for the sewer system, which must be matched by $20,000 in state funds. The grant would be channeled through the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

Ben F. McDonald, executive director of community affairs office, requested Hill's legal opinion in the matter. McDonald said his department previously has not committed state funds for reimbursement of construction costs.

The attorney general said state law creating the TDCA gives the agency authority to "expend state funds for the construction of a sewer system to be owned and operated by a city government."

Good News From Happy Camping

BIG SPRING, TEXAS — Sometimes it's hard to know how to react when this nation sets another record. As the Wall Street Journal states, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics now tells us that the consumer price index hit the 200 mark in October, meaning that prices are now twice what they were in 1967. This astounding fact prompted me to compare Mobile Scout's prices of eleven years ago to those of today.

Surprisingly, we are off the mark. From 1967 through our most recent price revision of November 6, we have averaged about a 70% increase, which is 30 points below the consumer price index. One other point, the 1968 models had smaller square awning windows, 20 lb. bottles, single holding tanks, no converter, no Thermabond floor, and even a front awning was an option. There still is a bargain somewhere, and especially at Happy Camping, 2801 West FM 700.

Grand jury to decide fate of Snyder truck driver

ROBY, Texas (AP) — A grand jury will decide whether a 21-year-old Snyder man will be charged in the deadly collision Friday of the truck he was driving and a school bus taking basketball players to a tournament.

Fisher County Attorney Rudy Hamrick said after he and District Attorney Frank Ginzle heard the evidence they decided to present it to grand jurors because it is "quite a serious matter."

The truck driver, William Clarence Dixon, 21, has been convicted of 13 traffic violations since May 1975 — including seven convictions last year, according to Texas Department of Public Safety files.

The accident at the intersection of U.S. 180 and Farm Road 611, 11 miles west of Roby, killed four McCaulley High School students and injured 21 other persons. Several are still fighting for survival in area hospitals.

Department of Public Safety files show that Dixon was charged with being a habitual bad driver, and a hearing was set for Jan. 3, 1978.

However, an Abilene justice of the peace dismissed the complaint when the mailed court summons was returned marked undeliverable, said DPS spokesman Richard Fought.

"This is the normal procedure in most incidences," Fought said. "When the mail is not received by the individual, the judge will dismiss it."

Witnesses to the accident

Third vehicle may have been hit by sniper

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Irving police say a third vehicle may have been hit by sniper fire that killed a 12-year-old boy and a 43-year-old man in two other cars on a busy freeway.

Irving police said Monday a woman, who read accounts of the expressway slayings, reported her pickup also was hit by gunfire Saturday.

"The pickup had its tires shot out about the same time and about the same location," said Irving Police Captain Joe Lowe. "We now believe there were numerous shots fired out there."

Lowe said he sent more detectives to the area Monday to look for spent cartridges and other possible clues.

He said police theorize the gunman fired from three different locations in the vicinity of the Valley View bridge over Texas 163 near the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

told police the truck ran a stop sign and flashing red light on the farm road and rammed the bus broadside, splitting it in two.

Besides the deaths, six persons were critically injured in the twisted wreckage, including Dixon. Three persons were still listed in critical condition early today at an Abilene hospital.

Kathy Wilkerson, 16, remained in very critical condition, while high school principal Doyle Bell and Darren Jeffrey, 14, were listed in critical condition. Miss Wilkerson's sister and Jeffrey's cousin were killed in the crash.

The school bus was carrying the girls' and boys' basketball teams from McCaulley, Texas, to Hermleigh, another West Texas community about 40 miles away.

McCaulley High School has been closed until Jan. 2 because most of the 33 students in high school were involved in the crash.

Services were held Sunday in nearby Sylvester for Lolita Perales, 17. Funerals were held Monday in McCaulley and Sylvester for Bonnie Pippin, Rita May Wilkerson and Michael Britt Jeffrey.

"It's one of the things they don't teach you in college. You just don't know what to do when all of your students are hurt or killed," said a McCaulley school teacher who asked not to be identified.

Hawk Queens host 16-team tourney

A high school girls basketball extravaganza will get under way at 9:30 a.m., Thursday, in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum on the campus of Howard College.

The tournament is hosted and operated by the Hawk Queens basketball team in the interest of promoting girls' basketball on the high school level.

There will be eight games per day with action provided by sixteen teams from a wide geographical area. It will actually be two tournaments in one. There will be two divisions playing separate brackets and playing to divisional championships.

Hawk Queens ranked nationally

Coach Don Stevens of the Howard College Hawk Queens was notified by phone Tuesday from National Junior College Headquarters in Hutchinson, Kansas that the Hawk Queens are ranked 17th in the nation, in the second weekly poll of the young season.

In the first weekly poll the Hawk Queens were not among the top twenty teams. On the strength of their 10-3 win-loss record, and calibre of competition, have become the first Howard College Women's Basketball team to be nationally ranked.

The complete top twenty rankings will be released later this week.

Division I, large school division, will consist of teams from Big Spring High School, Midland High, Odessa Permian, Odessa High, San Angelo Central, Fort Stockton, Snyder High, and El Paso Parkland.

Midland shoots down Hawks

MIDLAND — The Midland College used outstanding overall team play and hot first half shooting to overwhelm the Howard College Hawks by a score of 102-77 Monday night in spacious Chaparral Center.

Midland College, paced early by leading scorer Luis Alvarado, jumped to a quick 11 point advantage nine minutes into the contest to establish control of the contest. The host Chaparrals then used some outstanding passes that resulted in numerous wide open 15 foot jump shots to increase their lead over Howard College to 47-29 at halftime.

The second half was a fast break affair, as the Hawks tried in vain to put themselves back into the game. The Hawks came within 14 points on one occasion, but Midland used their overall team quickness to thwart every Hawk comeback attempt.

Alvarado paced the winners with 16 points, while four other Midland College players also scored in double figures. They were Henry White and Tim Shelby with 14, and Cullen Mayfield and McGill with 12 each.

Howard College's Linwood Hines came off the bench to lead all scorers in the game with 21 points. Allen Bonds added 17 for the Hawks.

Howard College coach Harold Wilder had words of praise for Hines and was not surprised with the play of Midland College. "Linwood came off the bench and played a good game. He played well offensively and also did a good job rebounding. I knew Midland was good. Their game with Western Texas should be a real shootout."

Howard College is now 0-4 in conference play and 5-7 on the year. Midland is 4-0 in conference and 11-3 on the year.

division, will consist of teams from Forsan High School, Coahoma High, Stanton High, Klondike, Denver City, Eola, Slaton, and El Paso Burgess. Games in the two divisions will be played on an alternating basis.

A feature attraction of the tournament is the Friday night clash between the Hawk Queens and Weatherford College. Game time for this game has been changed to 8:00 p.m.

Bengals claw past Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The road to the Super Bowl gets bumpier for the Los Angeles Rams, who hardly resembled champions in losing 20-19 Monday night to a Cincinnati club already looking forward to the 1979 season.

ODESSA PERMIAN quarterback Vic Vines (20) prepares to throw a pass in Mojo's 28-0 romp of Plainview in Lubbock last Saturday. Plainview's Richard Pena applies pressure to Vines. The Panthers continue their quest for the state championship this Saturday in a semifinal match at Texas Stadium against Plano.

"We sure did not play like a championship team," commented defensive end Jack Youngblood. "We are tired, beat up and everybody is hurting. We just made too many mistakes."

At one point, thanks to a penalty, the Rams had six plays inside the Bengals' 4-yard line and had to settle for a field goal.

That, said Bengals Coach Homer Rice, was one of two factors that brought the upset in the nationally televised contest.

The other was a pass play from Ken Anderson to Isaac Curtis on third down with 17 yards to go. Curtis caught the throw for a 19-yard gain and four plays later Chris Bahr kicked the winning 42-yard field goal.

"We really have worked on this second half of the season and we have become a good team, as good as any team going into the playoffs," commented Rice, who termed himself "a happy man."

The Rams failed to clinch the home field advantage for both rounds of the National Football League playoffs. They are sure to host the first but the second remains in doubt.

"What we did against Cincinnati makes it difficult," said Rams' Coach Ray Malavasi. "But it gives added incentive for us against Green Bay on Sunday."

If the Rams beat Green Bay and survive the first round of the playoffs, they would host the National Football Conference championship game, with the Packers going to the Super Bowl.

"Now we have to win against Green Bay," said quarterback Pat Haden. "We just could not get untracked."

Los Angeles takes an 11-4 record against the Packers while the Bengals won their third game of the season and second in succession.

Garden City JHS sweeps Coahoma

GARDEN CITY — Garden City Junior High swept both of their games with Coahoma last night.

The Garden City girls won their first game of the year with a 26-20 victory over Coahoma. Staci Wilkerson led the Garden City assault with 14 points, while P. Riddle was high point girl for Stanton Coahoma with 10. The Garden City boys completed the sweep with a tight 36-34 win over their counterparts. Billy Kelso was high point man for Garden City with 14 points, while Bryan Walker led Coahoma with 12. The Garden City boys now have a record of 2-2.

Forsan, Stanton JHS split

FORSAN — Forsan and Stanton Junior High School split their games Monday night. The Forsan girls extended their record to 5-0 with a 36-28 win over Stanton. Forsan was led by Gina Strickland and Vicki Baggett with 12 and 10 points, respectively. Graves was high point girl for Stanton with 10 points. The Stanton boys forced the district rivalry race into a three-way tie between Stanton, Forsan and Coahoma with a 39-31 decision over Forsan. Scott Church triggered the Stanton charge with 14 points, while Forsan's Lewis Boeker took honors for Forsan with 22.

COTTON BOWL QUARTERBACKS Joe Montano of Notre Dame and Danny Davis of the University of Houston pose last week for picture takers in Rockefeller Center in New York Center.

Cowboys approach peak

DALLAS (AP) — Randy White says the best is still yet to come. "We can still play a lot better," the star Dallas Cowboy defensive tackle said Monday after Sunday's 31-13 National Football League whipping of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Leon Fuller on Okie list

A former Big Spring High School coaching aide, Leon Fuller, is one of four men being considered for the head coach job at Oklahoma State University. Fuller now is defensive coordinator at Texas University in Austin. The others who are in the picture at Oklahoma State are Jimmy Johnson, Joe Morrison and Grant Teaff. The latter is head coach at Baylor University and formerly coached at Angelo State University.

"We are attacking teams now," said White. "We are getting the other teams into positions where they have to take chances. We're getting them in second and 15 and third and 20 situations."

"Now, that's where a defensive lineman can take off and disregard the run."

White said it was difficult to compare the current Cowboy team with the squad that won the NFL title last year because of a different schedule and other factors.

But he said "from an attitude point we are pretty close to last year's team. We have a lot of confidence." White, playing only his second year at tackle, said he felt he was playing better than he did last season.

"I'm better but I can't be satisfied," said White. "I'll make quarterback traps then I think of some running plays I should have stopped."

He added "the lack of experience hurt me early this year."

White has been particularly devastating during the Cowboys' playoff stretch run.

"Harvey (Martin) came back from his injury and they started double teaming him so that left me free a lot," said White. "He creates a lot of problems for the defense. His knee is almost 100 per cent well again."

White and Martin were voted the co-winners of the Most Valuable Player award in the Super Bowl last January at New Orleans.

Martin said recently "Randy is playing just great this year. He should be the Defensive Player of the Year."

Asked about Martin's statement, White grinned "Oh, Harvey is always boosting me for something."

White was asked how long he thought it would take him to learn Coach Tom Landry's complicated "flex" defense.

"I'm getting it down pretty good but there are only two people who fully understand it—(defensive coordinator) Ernie Stautner and Tom," said White.

LOSS LEAVES TIE — Green Bay Packers quarterback David Whitehurst (17) is sacked by Chicago Bears' Alan Page (82) during the third quarter of Sunday's game in Chicago. Green Bay lost to Chicago 14-0 leaving the Packers tied with the Minnesota Vikings for first place in the Central Division of the NFC.

Can Wilt come back?

By The Associated Press
Will Wilt Chamberlain make a comeback with the Chicago Bulls? That such a prospect can even be seriously considered is mind-boggling.

Consider the impact such a move might have: Would the Baltimore Colts, searching for a backup quarterback to Bert Jones, crank up Johnny Unitas' passing arm?

Would the New York Yankees, anxious to unload some of George M. Steinbrenner's dollars on a designated hitter, pull Joe DiMaggio away from his

Bobby Knight suspends trio

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three Indiana University basketball players have been dismissed from the team and five others are on probation in an apparent dispute with Coach Bobby Knight, according to a report published Tuesday.

The Louisville Courier-Journal said in Tuesday's editions it learned of the squad shakeup late Monday from Kit Klingelhoff, assistant sports information director at Indiana.

The newspaper said the three players dismissed were guard Tommy Baker of Jeffersonville, Ind.; swingman Don Cox of Indianapolis and forward Jim Roberson of Rochester, N.Y.

coffee-maker? Would the Montreal Canadiens, eager to lock up their umpteenth Stanley Cup, refuel the Rocket, Maurice Richard?

And if Chamberlain did make a comeback, would the Boston Celtics bring back Bill Russell? He'd be perfect as a backup player-coach for Dave Cowens.

Actually, it's hard to imagine that the 42-year-old Chamberlain, who once scored 100 points in a game and averaged 50.4 points per game for the 1962 National Basketball Association season, would want to risk tarnishing his reputation with a comeback. But stranger things have happened, and if the money is right and Chamberlain needs a few extra bucks, who knows?

"If anybody in the world can do it, Wilt's the one," said Chicago Coach Larry Costello.

Lopez lived abnormally

NEW YORK (AP) — The monumental success Nancy Lopez enjoyed as a rookie on the women's golf tour last year was counterbalanced by the uncompromising demands of publicity and fame.

Though a string of five consecutive tournament titles helped win her Player of the Year honors from the Ladies Professional Golf Association, it also made her a prisoner of the spotlight.

"I lived out of a suitcase," she said Monday after accepting the award. "I took all my meals in my hotel room. I would have to go to the course two hours in advance every day to practice."

"I was so busy I didn't have a chance to think," she said of a season in which she won nine of 25 tournaments, $189,813 in purses and compiled an average of 71.76 per round — best in LPGA history.

"I couldn't get used to people making such a big deal out of me," she recalled. "I felt like two persons."

"I tried to close everything out of my mind and play as well as I could. I just let it happen, and I think that's the secret — don't push to win; just let it happen. And it will."

She'd like it to happen 10 times this year and repeat her five-tournament winning streak. But she won't allow herself to compete in as many events.

"I don't intend to play a tournament unless I am rested and feel I can win it," said the 21-year-old Lopez. "I will refuse to put in an appearance just for appearance's sake — especially if I am very tired."

Lopez has another kind of an engagement. She plans to marry Tim Melton, a television broadcaster from Harrisburg, Pa., on Jan. 6.

"It won't be easy, but we are both determined to make it," said Lopez, who met Melton during the Hershey, Pa., tournament last year.

The Roswell, N.M. native expects the upcoming season to be "much more relaxed."

"Everything last year felt like a dream to me. I was so busy and on such an emotional high, I felt I didn't even know myself."

Little All-Americans named

By The Associated Press
Frank Hawkins, a sophomore running back from Nevada-Reno, has been named to The Associated Press College Division All-America football team for 1978 along with junior wide receiver James Warring of Eastern Illinois, junior guard Tyrone McGriff of Florida A&M and 19 seniors.

McGriff is one of four repeaters from last year's team. The others are center Frank Bouessa of Lawrence, defensive end John Mohring of C.W. Post and defensive tackle Jesse Baker of Jacksonville State.

In addition, defensive end James Haslett of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, a 1976 first-teamer, made the squad again after missing too many games with an injury a year ago.

The select team, familiarly known as the Little All-America, is composed of players from the NCAA's Division I-AA, II and III plus the NAIA.

Hawkins was the top rusher and scorer in the NCAA's new Division I-AA with 1,445 yards and 15 touchdowns in 10 games.

Here is The Associated Press College Division All-America football team for 1978:

First Team
Offense — Dan Ross, Northeastern, 6-4, 235, Senior, Everett, Mass.

Wide Receivers — Randy Jordan, Boise State, 6-2, 200, Senior, Oakland, Calif.; James Warring, Eastern Illinois, 6-4, 180, Junior, Miami, Fla.

Tackles — Jon Borchardt, Montana State, 6-5, 250, Senior, Minneapolis, Minn.; Billy John, Texas A&M, 6-4, 245, Senior, Carrizo Springs, Texas.

Guards — Bruce Kimball, Massachusetts, 6-2, 260, Senior, Rowley, Mass.; Tyrone McGriff, Florida A&M, 6-1, 280, Junior, Gifford, Fla.

Center — Frank Bouessa, Lawrence, 6-3, 220, Senior, Kaukauna, Wis.

Quarterback — Jeff Komlo, Delaware, 6-2, 200, Senior, College Park, Md.

Running Backs — Jerry Aldridge, Angelo State, 6-2, 210, Senior, Jacksonville, Texas; Frank Hawkins, Nevada-Reno, 5-11, 198, Sophomore, Las Vegas, Calif.

Defense — Jim Haslett, Indiana, Pa., 6-4, 230, Senior, Avalon, Pa.; John Mohring, C.W. Post, 6-4, 235, Senior, Locust Valley, N.Y.

Tackles — Jesse Baker, Jacksonville State, 6-5, 265, Senior, Conyers, Ga.; Robert Hardy, Jackson State, 6-2, 250, Senior, Tulsa, Okla.

Middle Guard — James Curry, Nevada-Reno, 6-3, 222, Senior, Chowchilla, Calif.

Linebackers — Jerry Lumpkin, Northern Arizona, 6-0, 201, Senior, Scottsdale, Ariz.; Tim Tucker, Troy State, 5-10, 195, Senior, Enterprise, Ala.; John Zamberlin, Pacific Lutheran, 6-2, 235, Senior, Tacoma, Wash.

Backs — Mike Betts, Austin Peay, 5-10, 180, Senior, Centerville, Tenn.; Dennis Duncan, Weber State, 5-11, 183, Senior, Fullerton, Calif.; Bill Moats, South Dakota, 5-11½, 176, Senior, Sioux Falls, S.D.

SWC crunches foes

By The Associated Press
Southeast Missouri Coach Carroll Williams had an easy explanation for what happened to his basketball team when it clashed Monday night with the Arkansas Razorbacks.

"We got killed. We were in awe. We are a small school. Our gym seats 2,000 and the fans sit on their hands. It's not like playing with 8,000 fans that scream and yell when the ball is thrown in," Williams said.

Sidney Moncrief's 22 points and 13 rebounds carried Arkansas to a 90-51 victory, the third triumph in as many outings for the Razorbacks, who made it to the national semifinals last year.

"We played them because we wanted to play the best, and we also wanted to play one of the best players in the country — Moncrief," Williams said.

"I'm impressed with Moncrief as a player and as a person. When Sidney got untracked, it became a rout."

In other Southwest Conference basketball games Monday:

—Texas Tech freshman David Little beat the buzzer with a pressure jump shot to give the Red Raiders a 69-67 victory over Northeast Louisiana;

—Brad Branson and Billy Allen paced Southern Methodist to a 68-64 victory over previously unbeaten Vanderbilt; —Elbert Darden canned 24 points and triggered Rice's 100-75 runaway over Doane College of Nebraska.

Little and Tommy Parks came off the bench to pick up a dragging Red Raider offense. Northeast Louisiana, whose Calvin Natt is expected to be the No. 1 NBA draft pick, hit 27 points to lead all scorers, and the Indians took an early 27-20 lead.

You can do it!

Proper insulation in your home can help hold down your heating and cooling bills.

And installing that insulation isn't all that hard. You can learn to do it yourself with Texas Electric's free booklet on insulation. It's one of a series we're offering to energy-conscious homeowners who want to make their homes energy efficient. Even unhandy people can make their ceiling into effective barriers against summer heat and winter cold.

Other booklets in the series cover caulking, weatherstripping, storm windows, ductwork, and general maintenance. Just call us, or ask for the booklets on the comments section of your electric bill. See how easy it is to make your home energy efficient.

Fastest growing minority Hispanics may outnumber blacks

Calle Veinticuatro, like many Latin American sidestreets, smells of frying bananas and throbs with music. Women in woven shawls pause to chat near gaudy murals and graffiti condemning "imperialism." The street — officially, 24th Street — is in San Francisco. But it is no less Latin than parts of New York's "Loisaida" — Lower East Side — or sections of many major U.S. cities. The United States is the fourth largest Spanish-speaking nation in the Americas. And, because of rapid immigration and a high birth rate, "Hispanics" may outnumber blacks within a decade. The country has perhaps 20 million people of Hispanic descent. Eight million are Mexican-Americans, mainly in the Southwest, but there are several million Puerto Ricans, nearly a million Cubans and emigrants from a score of nations. Also, there may be 8 million illegal aliens. And Hispanic community leaders, so far a small and disparate group, have begun in earnest to work toward building national political clout to match the numbers. "It could take us a generation to get together," says Sal Baldenegro, a Mexican-American activist from Tucson, Ariz. "But we are trying, and we have made some real progress." Many leaders, like Baldenegro, agitated loudly for change during the early 1970s, organizing national campaigns and regional parties. "We found that we first had to organize our own communities locally, and most of us are now busy down at the grass roots," said Baldenegro. "We still have no real national leaders except someone like Cesar Chavez, and he is occupied with the farmworkers." Voter registration drives and issue-oriented campaigns have made Hispanics a major force at local and state levels in the Southwest, New York and Florida. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. courts the Mexican vote. In 16 states, ballots are in Spanish as well as English. In Washington, five Hispanic congressmen make up a "Brown Caucus," and President Carter has appointed a number of Hispanics to key jobs. There is also a national magazine for Hispanics, Nuestro, with articles printed in Spanish and English. In many ways, however, the Hispanics have remained a silent minority at the national level for several reasons. Though bound by language, Roman Catholicism and a common respect for tradition, Latinos tend to keep within national and cultural groups. When a Puerto Rican airman married a Mexican woman in Tucson, the bride's mother complained, "I just don't approve of these mixed marriages." Said a Cuban in Chicago, with its large Mexican-American enclave: "Yes, I feel good when I hear Spanish, but those aren't my people. I'm a Cuban, not a Latino." Even within subgroups, backgrounds vary widely. Many families have roots here predating Independence and, having dissolved in the melting pot they helped to season, feel no attachment to newcomers. Of the more than half the Hispanics here who came in their own lifetime, many are not inclined to make waves. A number have no documents and could be deported. Others choose to be conservative. "A lot of these people are better off here than they were at home," said Luisa Tezquerro, a San Francisco teacher whose family came from Nicaragua. "They just aren't angry." The bitterness that helped unify blacks is less acute for Hispanics. "Latinos were persecuted terribly, but you have to be a specialist in history to know about it," says Tucson educator Lupe Castillo.

Also, there are differences on basic issues. Many Mexican-Americans and Cubans want fully bilingual programs in the schools so their children won't forget their heritage. But others say that their children already know Spanish and should concentrate on English. At the same time, there is much to bring them together. Statistics show Hispanics are the lowest paid, poorest housed and least educated ethnic group. The latest figures show their unemployment 3 per cent over the national average — even without counting illegal aliens. Twenty-seven per cent of Hispanic families were earning less than $7,000. For non-Hispanic families, the figure was 16.6 per cent. Only 40 per cent of Hispanics have finished high school, compared with 46 per cent of blacks and 67 per cent of whites. Such problems as police brutality and discrimination cut across the divisions. Cultural expressions — like music, theater and art — meld different Latin backgrounds. Sports heroes and tycoons and artists inspire new pride and set goals overlapping national backgrounds. The National Council of La Raza — the Race — a loose grouping of Hispanic organizations, met this year with the theme: "Several Styles: One Voice."

Mistrial declared

COLORADO CITY — A mistrial was declared in the attempted murder trial of Aubrey Gene Williams of Snyder in the 32nd District Court. The mistrial was declared by Judge Weldon Kirk and the trial will be rescheduled. Williams was indicted by the Mitchell County Grand Jury July 17 in connection with the stabbing death of Girlie Ann Williams. District Attorney Frank Ginzel told the court that he was responsible for the error which caused the mistrial.

Remember when prime lending rate was less than 2 percent

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you remember when Wall Street brokers made more than Wall Street lawyers? Rhetorically posed, the question sometimes is used to suggest the vast changes occurring in the securities industry, where regulators have been pressuring for change, and brokers' commissions have been cut.

Department reports, the Northeast produced $217.9 billion of income to $215.7 for the South. In 1976: the South $400.1 billion, the Northeast just $339 billion.
