

MOTOR HOME BURNS — An Akron, Ohio family was headed to California for Christmas when their motorhome caught fire and burned here this morning. One person was hospitalized, one treated and released and two children unharmed in the blaze. The top photograph shows the home, which was a total loss, and the bottom photograph shows the volunteer firemen extinguishing the blaze.

Fire spoils holiday of traveling family

Their Christmas holiday turned into a disaster for a family from Akron, Ohio, this morning when a fire completely destroyed their motorhome and almost consumed the family in flames. Vernon Louis Dowdy, 441 Ellen Ave. in Akron, Ohio, had pulled up on a Camm Butane north of town with a 1973 Dodge Cruiser and filled up the fuel tanks. They had filled two butane and one propane tank and were ready to drive when suddenly the entire trailer went into flames. Dowdy told Deputy Whitten, "I don't know what happened. I just stopped and grabbed the kids and got them out." Mrs. Dowdy burned her feet since she had her shoes off and Dowdy had burns to his left hand and arm. Their three and eight year-old children escaped unharmed. The Dowdys were treated at the Hogan Hospital and he was

Best Texas youth awaits sentencing

SKELL, Texas (AP) — While a Texas youth awaits formal sentencing for murdering his brother, prosecutors will be deciding whether he'll stand trial in connection with the shooting deaths of his father and mother. A jury Saturday assessed a 45-year term for Roy Glenn Swink, 17, for convicting him of the murder of a 4-year-old brother Royce at their apartment home. Swink killed Herman Swink, the father, 38; and Ilene Swink, 27, the mother. Swink was 16 when the killings took place Jan. 24, but was tried to stand trial as an adult. An appeals court upheld that conviction.

Dollar nosedives after oil price hike

ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates (AP) — The decision by OPEC to jack up oil prices by 14.5 percent next year sent the U.S. dollar into a nose dive on currency markets today. But the head of the oil cartel defended the increase as a move designed to help the world economy.

Some specialists estimate the price boost, coming in four stages, will mean a rise of 3 cents a gallon in American gasoline prices by late 1979. "The oil price hike is part of the measures to correct the world's economic situation," said Rene Ortiz of Ecuador, secretary-general of the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Ortiz did not spell out in detail how the price boost would benefit the world, except to say OPEC countries "have got responsibilities and tasks toward the coming generations and toward development of their countries and finding alternative sources of energy than oil when it is exhausted."

After the OPEC oil ministers announced the price increase at the end of a two-day meeting Sunday, President Carter issued a statement saying it would hurt efforts to reduce inflation and urging OPEC to reconsider. His chief inflation-fighter, Alfred Kahn, called it "terribly injurious."

The United States gets 37 percent of the oil from OPEC nations.

The effect on the U.S. currency was swift. The value of the dollar fell against all major currencies this morning, including a 2 percent drop against the West German mark, to 1.868 per dollar.

The 13 ministers decided to put the increase, OPEC's biggest since early 1974, into effect in stages: 5 percent on Jan. 1, raising the present base price of $12.70 per barrel to $13.33; 3.8 percent on April 1, increasing the price to $13.84; 2.3 percent on July 1, raising the price to $14.16, and 2.7 percent on Oct. 1, pushing the price to $14.54.

Informed sources said two days of maneuvering and intervention by Abu Dhabi's ruler cleared the way for the OPEC decision.

They said the host to the OPEC winter meeting, Sheik Zayed bin Sultan, and his oil minister, Mana Said Otaiba, were the leading mediators between Saudi Arabia, which wanted to continue the oil-price freeze, and Libya and Iraq, which called publicly for increases of up to 25 percent.

Government, industry officials say

Boost will feed inflation, hurt oil-producing nations

NEW YORK (AP) — The decision to boost the price of crude oil 14.5 percent — nearly double earlier predictions — will feed inflation in the United States and could hurt the 13 oil-producing nations economically, say government and industry officials.

President Carter said Sunday that the increase will hurt efforts to reduce inflation and maintain a world economic recovery. He said the oil-producing countries share the responsibility for the success of economic programs.

"We regret this OPEC decision and hope it will be reconsidered before the next steps take effect," Carter said in a statement.

"It obviously is serious," said Alfred Kahn, Carter's chief inflation fighter. "I'm very unhappy because I think it will be terribly injurious to us and — in the long run — to them."

Energy Secretary James Schlesinger, who had urged the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to freeze the price of crude oil, said: "It is a substantial increase, larger than we had hoped. It could have major impacts not only on trade balances but also on the rate of inflation."

The general estimate of increases in the prices of gasoline and heating oil in the United States is about 3 cents per gallon.

But Schlesinger predicted the OPEC increase would raise the price of oil imported into the United States by about 4 1/2 cents a gallon, and boost the price of gasoline at the pump by 5 to 6 cents a gallon a year from now.

As of Nov. 1, the average price of gasoline was 66 cents a gallon.

"This is hardly a minimal increase," said Schlesinger, speaking on ABC television's "Issues and Answers" Sunday. "It could have a major impact not only on trade balances, but on the rate of inflation, on the performance of the industrial economies."

Government and industry officials said the U.S. inflation rate — currently about 9 1/2 percent — will rise by one-half to three-quarters of a percentage point because of the OPEC decision.

The OPEC action was also expected to lead to higher utility rates.

Action/reaction: Fire calls data

Q. Recently we had a fire at our mobile home in Midway. I dialed '0' to get the operator for the emergency. The operator connected me with the Big Spring Fire Department, which promptly told me to call the sheriff's department because the department could not help me. About two weeks ago, a diesel truck caught fire on IS 20 about a block from my house and there was a Big Spring fire truck at the scene. I would like to know the difference between my house and belongings and the truck?

A. Alvie Harrison, Big Spring fire chief, says he is compassionate with your problem but that the rules are not very flexible governing the area protected by the fire department. When the call was received on the burning truck, the location of the fire was not given and a Big Spring unit left the station assuming it was within the city limits. Once out of the station, it went on to the fire. When your call came in, the location of the fire was given and it is in an area beyond the boundaries protected by the Big Spring Fire Department. The Big Spring city council set the policy, not Harrison or the local fire department. Harrison said the Big Spring Fire Department can respond to calls outside the city only in cases where all county fire equipment is tied up.

Police officer slain in battle

MISSION, Texas (AP) — Hidalgo County Sheriff's deputies have made no arrests in the aftermath of a gun battle that left a Mission police officer and a restaurant owner dead and the owner's son wounded.

The victims were identified as Fulgencio Velasco, 28, a 4-month veteran of the Mission police force, and 41-year-old Jose Cruz Lopez. They were pronounced dead on arrival at a South Texas hospital, authorities said. Joel Lopez, a son of Jose, was wounded in the shooting and remained hospitalized in McAllen, Texas, Sunday night.

Police said Velasco and his partner, Fidencio Alaniz, answered a disturbance call at the Cabrito al Pastor Restaurant about 10 p.m. Saturday just before the shooting began. Authorities declined to be specific, but said a family disturbance was under way when police arrived.

New York Auction houses involved in Old World feud

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of New York's biggest auction houses are embroiled in an Old World feud, fought with high prices, dazzling art, and new marketing devices.

There is much at stake in this "gentlemen's war," when the gavel bangs down in the New York salesrooms of "modern" Sotheby Parke Bernet or "conservative" Christie's.

The two houses have met before on European battlefields. Now the American art market has become worth $150 million a year in sales — and millions in profits. There is so much activity in auction houses that the New York Times has a special "auction room" reporter.

Both houses trade on the glamor of the art world, using every means to compete. They advertise sales as if they were Broadway openings, print glossy catalogues that are available for $5 or $10, stage previews and cocktail parties at which prospective buyers can meet the auctioneers in one of the 11 galleries at Sotheby Parke Bernet's Madison Avenue offices, or at Christie's smaller Park Avenue ones.

Gutenberg Bible fetched $2.2 million, a world record auction price for a book. Last season, Sotheby Parke Bernet got $2,735,000 for a collection of impressionist and contemporary art assembled by Californian Sydney Brody.

For decades, New York has been the center of the art market. Today, with the dollar losing some of its might as an international currency, art dealers from abroad jostle with each other in New York, then do very well with their merchandise back home.

"Since the devaluation of the dollar, Japanese and German dealers come to all auctions in New York and later sell the pieces for a higher price abroad," said Gray Boone, editor of The Gray Letter, an art trade publication. "That is pushing the American market."

Sotheby Parke Bernet has been in New York since 1964, when the prestigious art auction house Sotheby's of London paid $1.5 million for Parke Bernet, an American firm that was barely surviving. It was one of Sotheby's riskiest buys, but it paid off.

Sotheby Parke Bernet's size has increased tenfold, and figures provided by the company show sales this last season (1977-1978) in North America at $112 million. Worldwide sales increased 47 percent, to $302 million, in the same season.

With a reputation for recognizing quality art and with its staff of highly trained British art experts, Sotheby Parke Bernet Inc. established itself as the leader.

Meanwhile, its aristocratic rival in London, Christie's, had been keeping a small office in New York since the late 1950s. It wasn't until the spring of 1977 that it opened a salesroom in New York.

The newcomer is doing well. Its first season's sales here were $33 million, and it expects to make $1 million profit this year. But Sotheby Parke Bernet remains the leader, in profits and crowds — about 300,000 people are said to attend its galleries every year.

Christie's tries to capitalize on its smaller size. In a sales pitch similar to one it uses in Europe, it claims it can give more personalized attention to the cultivated seller and buyer.

PREPARING TO FLY — Ken Kelleff, from Boulder, Colo., prepares to start a replica of the first Wright Brothers' plane at Kitty Hawk, N.C., Sunday during ceremonies commemorating the 75th anniversary of the first flight. Kelleff got the nose of the plane skyward on this third attempt.

Difficulty at take-off

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — If you're 2 years old and you fly on Delta Airlines, you have to have a ticket. And if you have a ticket, you have to sit in your seat at takeoff. Unless your mother is willing to tell a fib or a friend calls the Federal Aviation Administration.

The friend is Dave Wells of Littleton, Colo., who heard about an unidentified woman who wanted to hold her sickly 2-year-old — a 19-pound boy — in her arms at takeoff. Delta officials told the woman to tell the flight crew the boy was less than 2. She refused, and it took Wells' call to the FAA to win permission just before the Saturday night flight.

Ski slopes being bugged

SHERBURNE, Vt. (AP) — The electronic bug has found its way to the ski slopes of Vermont. Officials at the Killington ski area say that for the past three weeks they have been using the device to combat the theft of skis.

Project coordinator David Langlois said Sunday that he and his fellow employees have been installing the transmitters — about the size of quarters — inside expensive skis. Then they put the skis in racks near the lifts or against buildings.

Teens better off at home

NEW YORK (AP) — An unmarried girl who becomes pregnant at 16 or earlier is usually better off if she stays at home with her parents than if she moves out on her own or gets married, according to Family Planning Perspectives magazine.

Parents provide financial and psychological aid and help care for the infant, the report said. The girls are more likely to complete their educations, get adequate jobs and avoid going on welfare than teen-agers who leave home with their babies to live alone or with husbands, said the report, issued Sunday.

One human victim of rabies

ATLANTA (AP) — Of the 3,182 cases of rabies reported in the United States last year, only one victim was human, the Center for Disease Control says. Of the rest, 2,736 were wild animals and 445 were domestic animals.

Union leaders face showdown with mayor

CLEVELAND (AP) — Union leaders representing Cleveland's 10,000 civil servants braced themselves for today's showdown over layoffs with Mayor Dennis Kucinich while local bankers considered suing the city for defaulting.

Kucinich was to meet with the representatives of 17 publicemployee locals to outline a schedule for layoffs of 35 percent of the city's workers. He said the brunt of the program would fall on the police and fire departments, sanitation and street repairs.

Two unions representing Cleveland's 1,875 police officers have promised to fight the layoffs in court.

"The city is going to be one hell of a jungle if he (Kucinich) lays off half the police and firemen," said David Isaacs, a pharmacist at an all-night drugstore here.

LAMESA — The 1978 Dawson County United Way campaign is 91 percent complete. The goal this year was $48,900, which means $4,300 needs to be raised before the campaign goes over the top.

The UW committee, headed by Special Divisions Chairman Willard Forsythe, will start a telephone campaign this week in efforts to raise more money.

Proceeds from a "cook-in" at Mr. Burger Drive-In will also go into the UW reservoir of funds.

A recent UW telethon raised $3,160.20 for the United Way.

Howard College celebrates Christmas at annual dinner

Howard College celebrated Christmas Saturday night at their annual Christmas dinner when they heard the Choirers, presented service awards and enjoyed a Yuletide dinner.

The Choralists, led by Ken Sprinkle, have presented special music for the event for five years and this year selected a favorite number from each of the programs to present to the crowd of faculty and wives or husbands at the event. Harlen Thurston was pianist for the group.

Guests of honor were the board of trustees, with those attending including Mr. and Mrs. K.H. McGibbon, Mr. and Mrs. Don McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. James Barr, Dr. and Mrs. P.W. Malone and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Warren were unable to attend.

A former board member, Otis Grafa was in attendance scheduled meetings to consider how to collect on the debt.

"Sooner or later we will have to file suit against the city," said Roger Hipsley, a Central National Bank spokesman. "But we don't want our action to be construed by the public as the banks starting to shut down the city. We are not pulling the rug out from under the city, we are not going to tag property (for seizing)."

On Friday, Cleveland became the first city to default since the Depression when Kucinich and the council failed to agree on the mayor's plan to raise taxes, or the council's suggestion to sell the city-owned light company.

The council views the 46,000-customer Muni Light as a drain on the treasury. It has not generated its own electricity since the spring of 1977. A sign on the plant, "Power to the People, Muni Light, Dennis J. Kucinich, Mayor," is illuminated at night with electricity purchased from the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

City Council President George Forbes said he would meet with business leaders to try to persuade them to make early payments of $12 million to $15 million in real and personal property taxes.

The plan would not solve the city's long-term financial crisis, but Forbes said it would help pay salaries of workers. Kucinich threatened to lay off and could carry the city through February or March.

Pressure plays throughout the city are in evidence. Bankers claim legal action should pressure the mayor and city council to mend political fences and work together.

U.S. to maintain pacts through private firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, through establishment of a private corporation, fully intends to maintain all existing agreements with Taiwan except for defense pacts, government officials say.

A crash program is underway to provide for the least disruption in relations with Taiwan after the United States extends formal diplomatic recognition to mainland China on Jan. 1, State Department officials said.

Herbert J. Hansell, the department's chief legal officer, said Sunday that the Carter administration intends "that all existing agreements with Taiwan, commercial, cultural and others will continue in effect except for termination of the defense treaty."

The key mechanism to accomplish this, said one official who asked not to be named, will be a private corporation empowered by Congress to conduct business on Taiwan. One name being considered is the Asian-American Services Corp.

The new corporation would be patterned after the association Japan set up on Taiwan after breaking off formal relations with the government there in 1972.

President Carter announced Friday that the United States would sever diplomatic relations with the Nationalist Chinese on Taiwan and establish relations with Peking instead.

Communist Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping will meet with Carter in Washington in January and the two nations will exchange ambassadors March 1. Additionally, Carter said the U.S.

government would terminate the defense treaty with Taiwan at the end of 1979.

However, U.S. officials said the private corporation would be used as a way to keep some 50 other agreements, including a lucrative trade arrangement, in force.

"After all the papers are shuffled, we will continue to conduct — on a non-official basis — a whole spectrum of relations with Taiwan," Hansell said.

Officials stressed that the administration is anxious to preserve booming U.S.-Taiwan trade, which is projected at $7.4 billion this year.

Learning credit rights important for women

By The Associated Press
The recent settlement of a court case involving a major New York department store chain highlights the importance of women learning their rights when it comes to getting credit.

The Equal Credit Opportunity Act of 1975 prohibits creditors from discriminating on the basis of sex. The law also makes it easier for married women to establish their own credit ratings.

Last month, the Federal Trade Commission announced an agreement in the first court test of the law, a case involving Bloomingdale's. The FTC alleged that the store violated the law by failing to consider such things as child support and alimony payments and income from part-time jobs when considering credit applicants. It also said Bloomingdale's did not comply with rules requiring the store to tell rejected applicants exactly why they were turned down.

Bloomingdale's did not admit in the settlement that it had violated the law. But the chain and its parent, Federated Department Stores Inc., agreed to pay a $50,000 civil penalty in the case. Bloomingdale's also agreed to contact all rejected applicants whose rights may have been violated and invite them to re-apply.

A study conducted earlier this year by Commercial

Credit Corp., a Maryland-based lender, indicated that credit awareness among women may be growing, but it also showed that problems remain.

A sample of 2,080 women was selected from among more than 31,500 women who requested a company booklet on credit. Almost 700 of those questioned responded to the survey.

About 80 percent of those answering said they had applied for credit in their own names in the past two years. More than half of them said they had been turned down at least once, but only one-third of the rejected applicants said they had asked for and received an explanation as the law requires.

The law applies to all those who regularly extend credit, including banks, finance companies, department stores and charge-card issuers.

Among the highlights of the law are these provisions: A creditor may not discourage you from applying because of your sex or marital status. He or she may not, on the basis of sex or marital status, refuse to grant you a separate account if you are a credit-worthy applicant. If you apply for an account on your own, the creditor may not, in most cases, ask you your marital status. You cannot be denied the right to open an account in your maiden name.

A creditor may ask and consider to what extent your income is affected by obligations to pay alimony, child support or maintenance.

A creditor may consider information about your spouse only if your spouse will be using or will be liable for the account or if you are relying on your spouse's income or property.

Weather No snow forecast for Christmas Day

By The Associated Press
With only a week left 'til Christmas, Santa Claus' reindeers still have no snow on which to make their gift-delivering approaches.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy over the state today, and the weatherman pegged the high temperature to range in the 60s throughout Texas — with some readings climbing into the 70s in the Rio Grande Valley. Minimums ranged from the upper 30s in the Panhandle to the lower 50s in the extreme southeast.

A trace of light rain was reported in El Paso and also in the lower Rio Grande Valley before midnight. Some light fog was reported along the lower Gulf Coast. Wind was light, except in the panhandle, from the southwest.

Proposed cuts in federal spending worrying states

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Carter planning cuts in federal spending, state officials are increasingly fearful they may be left holding a bag of programs they can't abandon and yet can't pay for.

Kentucky Gov. Julian M. Carroll, chairman of The National Governors Association, says the concern is that federal belt tightening may end up being only a shift of costs from Washington to state capitals with the states then forced to go to the voters for new taxes.

Governors and state legislative leaders say administration budget advisers have told them domestic spending in the 1980 fiscal year — which begins Oct. 1, 1979 — probably will be slashed by about $13 billion to meet Carter's goal of pruning the federal deficit below $30 billion.

The Administration is still preparing the budget recommendations, which will be announced in late January, and has not given details of the cuts proposed.

But state officials say they believe most of the cuts will come in the nearly $85 billion now funneled to the states to pay for everything from highway beautification to caring for the elderly.

These programs often are administered by the states but carry strict federal restrictions and guidelines which would keep many of them from being arbitrarily discontinued without separate federal action, say staff members of the governors association.

Although the governors support Carter's push to reduce the federal deficit, Carroll said the only way states can avoid absorbing extra costs is for them to be given more flexibility in administering the programs — that is, reduce the federal strings attached to them.

However, any loosening of federal strings on the federal programs would reverse a decade-old trend of increased federal control and is expected to meet stiff opposition from Congress in those areas where changes require congressional approval.

W. Bowman Cutter, associate director of the Bureau of the Budget, told complaining state legislators recently that the administration favors many of the changes they propose, but cautioned that a shift "frequently runs contrary to policy decisions imbedded in law."

There are nearly 500 programs run by the states with federal money and strict federal guidelines and they accounted for about 75 percent of the $85 billion distributed to the states, says the governor's association. The rest of the money is in the form of block grants, which have fewer federal controls, and federal revenue sharing.

"Now we know how Dr. Frankenstein felt. He created a monster, and he couldn't control it," said Tennessee Rep. John Bragg, vice chairman of the National Conference of State Legislatures.

Idea of greening up deserts ridiculed

Many people reason the world could solve all its food problems if the desert tracts in the Third World countries could be turned into green, fertile land but a researcher in the Soviet Union says such ideas are doomed to failure.

ALREADY WATER is being brought to arid areas along parts of the Saharan border near the Mediterranean but the Russian expert says the plan merely upsets the ecological balance of centuries of evolution.

The result, according to Dr. A.G. Babayev of Turkmen, is not new life but greater death.

"The water-bearers would be guilty of killing with kindness," is the way Dr. Babayev puts it.

Babayev says that years of parched conditions had led plants and animals to adapt to a situation in which water was required in only the scantiest quantities.

To channel water under such conditions would be as disastrous to the environment there as it would be elsewhere to withhold water, ac-ording to Babayev. In effect, the desert would simply 'drown,' with far-reaching consequence.

Trees such as the saksaul, which is a basic fuel for desert tribes, would succumb quickly. And although desert trees can be wiped out easily, they take an exceptionally long time to grow.

SIMILARLY, DESERT animal species which have become not only used to arid conditions but dependent upon them would be threatened and possibly obliterated.

It proves once again that there are purpose in all of God's planning and that "all of God's creatures are still of Him a part."

The world likely would be better served if water could be available in areas which has everything else needed to grow crops — climate, soil and know-how by the people to get maximum production from the combination. One such area is West Texas, where a shortage of water is a constant worry.

Great reunion

Carla Walker

Being separated from people you love brings home just how important they are.

Johnnie and Myrtle Walker, my father's uncle and aunt, helped to raise my father as he was growing up and so I was lucky to have both my grandmother, Lois Black, and another set of "grandparents" as well as Johnnie and Myrtle.

and Myr." as Becky calls them, think of as closer to a great-grandchild than a great-great-niece.

Johnnie and Myrtle flew back to Houston early on the morning of Sunday, Dec. 10, but I think the trip home did us almost as much good as it did them.

UPON ARRIVING at the Houston airport, however, Johnnie found that he had taken the wrong keys with him. They had to break into their car — doing some damage to the vehicle in the process — and then pay to have a set of keys made.

It was a rotten beginning for what turned out to be a good week, and the incident is almost funny to Johnnie, now that it is in the past. The doctor at M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston gave Johnnie an excellent report, saying that although he did have a "lesion" on his vocal cords, it was responding well to the treatments.

For friends wishing to send cards to Johnnie and Myrtle, they are staying at Center Pavilion Room 906, 1700 Holcombe Blvd., Houston, Texas 77030.

Because of heavy advance flight booking, Johnnie doesn't think they will be able to come home for Christmas, so it looks as if the Christmas party for the immediate family will be in January, when they return home for good.

And, as much as we'll all miss them at Christmas, delaying the party until January is an insignificant price to pay to have Uncle Johnnie healthy again.

China's human story

Evans, Novak

TACHING, China — Tensimn between a generation of state-imposed conformity and the new stirring toward personal freedom in China helps explain the response of a 17-year-old girl to controlled but significant changes here.

We were taken to visit the immaculate cramped quarters of a six-member family living and working with a half-million other Chinese at the Taching oil fields. The head of the family was a smiling, archetypal "model worker" who as a driller helped open these fields in the late 1950s but now does the lighter work of watch repairing. After some perfunctory sloganeering from this worker, we asked his eldest child, 17, about her plans after finishing middle school.

"Whatever the state wants me to do," she replied automatically. We persisted: surely, you must have some desire of your own. She giggled. Then after brief hesitation, she said: "My father repairs watches, and I would like to work making watches."

THAT MAY SEEM a modest statement of independence, but it could not have happened mere weeks ago. In the presence of important cadres from the oil fields, this simple girl was revealing something important: she has ambitions and desires of her own and is not a mere pawn of the state.

The brave Chinese who put up wall posters in Peking calling in Jimmy Carter to investigate human rights in China (and pasted them up again after they were torn down) are the tip of the iceberg. Beneath them are untold millions whose personal lives were disrupted more than the outer world imagines by China's last decade of political tumult and now are cautiously seeking a less fettered existence.

Apart from dramatic wall posters and the regime's headlong rush toward industrial modernization, the human story of China is the quiet, gradual removal of the Maoist Straitjacket. While Western diplomats fear this may be followed by open repression, the needs of Teng Hsiang-ping's government are geared to liberalization. Teng is committed to the West and a shakeup of the immense bureaucracy — goals that run counter to Red Guard dictatorship.

Nothing better illustrates this than the regime's decision, unprecedented for a communist country, to send young people to Western universities. Students in the U.S. and Western Europe will soon reach the thousands.

Simultaneously, Peking University and other Chinese colleges are experiencing their own transformation. Closed down for five years by the Cultural Revolution and then constricted intellectually for another five years by Maoist radicals, the universities have been reborn.

Their students are now selected by nationwide competition, and the Cultural Revolution's requirement that middle school graduates must work in the countryside before continuing their education has been quietly dropped. Peking University students are prominent among the young people who gained the world's attention with their demonstrations for free speech.

The University's English reading room offers uncensored U.S. newspapers and magazines. One foreign ministry interpreter accompanying us was reading that old anti-communist periodical, the Reader's Digest. Another interpreter was deep into the final (and overtly anti-communist) volume of Winston Churchill's memoirs. At the Hsi Tan wall of posters, young Chinese told us how much they enjoy the Voice of America in "special English" (limited vocabulary, slow delivery).

WESTERN CLASSICAL music and ancient Chinese opera, banned from China for over a decade, are back.

What about those foreign miracle drugs?

By Paul E. Ruble, M.D.

Dear Doctor: This may not be exactly a medical question, but it is one that puzzles me and some of my friends. Why is it one hears so often about new drugs and cures that are not legal in this country, but which are used abroad? I hear of people traveling thousands of miles to get them. I am thinking specifically of one treatment that is supposed to prolong life and health, which is available in Switzerland. Why can't it be brought over here? — Mrs. P.S.

It is, indeed, a medical question of the highest importance. First of all, the goal of any medicine is the improvement of health and prolongation of life. But I doubt there is any single drug or treatment that, in and of itself, does this — no fountain of youth all wrapped up in a neat little capsule.

Your question arises frequently in my mail. What about this wonderful ulcer drug in country A, or the new, miraculous wrinkle-remover in country B? Why aren't they on our drugstore shelves? They are not available because the people we have appointed to screen and evaluate them have not seen fit to approve them for use. They have not been shown to be effective for the purposes stated, or are considered unsafe or, at any rate, not proven entirely safe.

Drugs undergo detailed and, for some, seemingly endless laboratory tests, first by the manufacturers, then by the government. There may be long series of field trials in which patients volunteer to act as human guinea pigs. Thus, it may be years before a new medicine finds its way to the pharmacist's dispensary. The fact that patients who might benefit are temporarily denied access to the medicine is an unfortunate necessity.

It seems to me to make sense for our own officials to be at least as cautious about foreign products as they are about those from our own manufacturers. The classic and dramatic example of how caution serves us well lies in the thalidomide episode. Thalidomide is a chemical that was used widely in Europe in the 1960s as a sedative and hypnotic. It had backers here, too, but questions were asked in our federal laboratories and the red light went on. The chemical, you will recall, was later found to cause tragic malformations of babies of mothers who had used it.

Dear Doctor: I don't know if you've ever had a problem like mine, but I hope you can help me. I am 23 years old, married, and have a 16-month-old child. The problem is I have no desire for sex whatever. I love my husband very deeply, but sexual desire just isn't there for me. My husband has been told by a doctor that he has above-normal desires, so you can see the problem. Is there something that could help me? Is there a drug that could stimulate my sexual desires? My doctor says there is nothing physically wrong with me. I've thought about counseling. I had a couple of bad sexual experiences when I was young. What do you think? — W.H.

It's the rare doctor who has not encountered a young lady with your problem. You seem from your letter to be a sensible and sensitive person. I would advise you to follow your instincts concerning counseling. Given the unfortunate sexual experiences in your youth, psychiatric help might well be a key to unlocking your natural desires. I would advise you to mention this factor to your personal physician. Because such counseling varies widely in dependability and professionalism I suggest you let him recommend someone to help you.

Dear Doctor: I have a hiatal hernia, and am 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing 210. My doctor told me I would have to lose 50 pounds before they could do surgery. After that, he said, I may not need surgery anyway because I would not be bothered. Please tell me if this is correct. — B.T.

Couldn't have stated matters any better than that. This is sensible advice. The loss of flab in the upper abdominal area (where the gullet hernia is) may relieve pressure sufficiently to ease your discomfort.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: What do you think the Bible means when it tells us to pray without ceasing? I don't see how that's possible. — W.P.G.

DEAR W.P.G.: Prayer is one of the greatest privileges of the believer in Jesus Christ. Because of what Christ did for us on the Cross, you and I have access to God Himself. Christ has opened the door to heaven for us — not only for our eternal life, but for our prayers right now. "Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has gone through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God... Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need" (Hebrew 4:14, New International Version).

There are not limits on the privilege of prayer. Though our sins may draw us away from God, God is always willing to listen to His children. From God's side, we can "pray without ceasing" (1 Thessalonians 5:17), for God never gets weary or tired. "He that keepeth these will not slumber"

(Psalms 121:3).

But what about "praying without ceasing" from our side? Is it possible? If you think of prayer only as speaking to God, then it would not be possible to pray continuously. We have other things that God has called us to do. But prayer is not just an action; it is also an attitude. It is an attitude of trust and commitment. In other words, we not only commit all things to God, but we continue to trust Him to do His work. We can "pray without ceasing" as we live our lives in complete trust in God.

I suspect, however, that prayer is not as real or as common for many of us as it should be — either as an action or an attitude. The verse you quote is a command, and it should convict us of our prayerlessness. Remember Paul's statements: "Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your request to God" (Philippians 4:6, NIV). Let this be our goal in prayer as we learn to trust God for everything.

WASHINGTON — For 30 years, Robert Griffin has been an obscure General Services Administration official who has gone virtually unnoticed in Washington. Yet he has developed such high connections that, when he stubs his toe, House Speaker Tip O'Neill howls and President Carter applies the bandage.

This has not prevented a Justice Department task force, however, from cautiously investigating Griffin's conduct as the power behind the scenes at the scandal-scattered government housekeeping agency.

Administrators have come and gone, but Griffin has remained in the catbird's seat: Not until it got too hot for comfort at General Services did Carter take Griffin under his protective wing as a $50,000-a-year White House aide.

THE PRESIDENT SCURRIED to Griffin's rescue at the first sound of enraged bellowing from O'Neill. The Speaker has treated Griffin with the same protective tenderness that a grizzly bear might show a favorite cub. So Griffin has not been added to the growing list of White House associates who are under federal investigation.

The appearance of Griffin as a White House muckamuck upset Jay Solomon, the conscientious new General Services administrator, who has been trying to clean up the mess he inherited. He was thwarted at first by Griffin who, as deputy administrator, was less than enthusiastic about exposing the hidden scandals.

In a showdown, Solomon succeeded in kicking his deputy out of the agency. But instead of landing on the sidewalk, Griffin wound up in a more exalted position at the White House. This eventually led Solomon to complain privately to Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., that Griffin was using his White House influence to sabotage the General Services expose.

Chiles heads the Senate investigation of the GSA scandals. He quietly checked out Solomon's complaint and reported back that he could find no evidence of White House interference. The president also reassured Solomon that the White House fully supported his clean-up effort.

HERE, MEANWHILE, are the shadowy areas that Justice Department investigators are exploring. It should be stressed that they have not yet reached any conclusions.

Griffin has been on the General Services Administration payroll since the agency was created in 1949. He has been responsible for property management since 1961. More than any other individual, he should have detected the long-festering corruption. The investigators want to know why he failed to take corrective action.

Griffin's executive assistant, Peter Mollica, has made a dramatic gain in his personal fortune. Investigators say his net worth soared in two years from $50,000 to $1 million. He has opened his books to the Justice Department and investigators are now checking into the sources of his wealth. They are also investigating rumors of a financial link between Griffin and Mollica.

Albert Petrillo, a General Services personnel officer, has testified that Griffin wanted him to demote William A. Clinkscales Jr., the agency's chief investigator. Petrillo quoted Griffin as telling him that Clinkscales was "too aggressive in some of his investigations and actions." Griffin has disputed the testimony in an affidavit.

—Memos have floated to the surface, linking Griffin with retaliation against General Services Administration whistleblowers. His lawyer also took action to obtain papers from Griffin's GSA office. The Justice Department resisted on the grounds that his papers may be of value to the investigation.

It is hardly becoming of a White House aide, drawing down $50,000 a year from the taxpayers, to be less than 100 percent cooperative with an investigation into the mismanagement and corruption of a government agency.

FOOTNOTE: MOLLIKA acknowledged that his sudden prosperity is under investigation. He said he is providing the Justice Department with every scrap of paper available on his finances. "Every penny is accountable," he said. "I have absolutely nothing to hide." He said our figures on his net worth are "inaccurate," but acknowledged that he has increased his holdings substantially. "I have a lot of callouses on my hands," he said. "That is how I have increased my net worth." He denied any financial link with Griffin. "That is a dry hole," he said. Griffin refused to talk to us.

BLACK DISCONTENT: Jimmy Carter's reputation as the shining exemplar of the "New South" doesn't impress some of his black Georgia neighbors.

We sent our associate Tom Rosenstiel to the Plains area last week and he talked with black community leaders, including educators, clergymen and farmers. They said Carter's well-publicized appointments of blacks to state jobs were token moves made after he had decided to run for president.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor: I can't think of a better way to reach all those people who have helped me than through the newspaper.

Christmas is almost here and we all try to do our part to help someone. Can you imagine children helping children?

My students had a benefit Christmas show Sunday, Dec. 10. The donations taken in at the door were spent on toys and clothes for unfortunate children. My kids gave all that money and shopped themselves for what they thought others would enjoy. We took five cars and distributed the toys to families around town.

The children sang Christmas carols and presented their gifts of love. It was one of the most rewarding things we could have done. To see those children giving to others and making sure they would have Christmas was the best present ever!

I say 'thank you' to all my wonderful students, their families and friends. I am so very proud of them. I also want to thank members of the Herald for all the publicity arrangements they've contributed the past few weeks. I think the paper has been exceptional.

Thank you for all the gifts, the help and the encouragement everyone has given me and Faulkner Talent World during my first year.

Tis the season

with Marj Carpenter

There's something special about the Christmas season in Big Spring.

They have lots of parties around here and everybody seems to find it the season to be jolly.

Some of the traditions that have become established here have included the punch party held each year by the Green Thumb Garden Club. This year it was at Myra Robinson's and it was highlighted by the wooden wall tree which she has that features miniature wooden characters and toys from all over Europe.

This includes a particularly fierce looking nutcracker and a happy Pinocchio that changes noses, depending upon whether he is lying or telling the truth.

The Ladies Golf Association at the Big Spring Country Club also has a punch party and this year held a very beautiful style show and dance. Not only does Big Spring have some of the most beautiful models around when they parade forth in Swartz fashions, they also had a beautiful decor with pink-toned poinsettias that were auctioned off at the end of the beautiful program.

One of the most unselfish gatherings is that of the Shriners which is held for handicapped children. It was at the Brass Nail on Saturday and again the little folks were given a scrumptious meal, a lot of good entertainment and a big present from Santa Claus. Dave Brazel has been in charge of this event.

Roger Brown along with Ben Bancroft and Bob Miller started one heck of a tradition with his Luckenbach party last year and there are many others that are annual celebrations such as Carrol Choate's barn dance and many others.

There's no way to comment on all of them, but mentioned these few as typical of the season. Every church in town has special activities and every Brownie troop, Girl and Boy Scout troops, women's clubs, men's clubs, companies, and the entire gauntlet. It's a lovely way to celebrate the season and it's something I'm really going to miss about Big Spring.

The truth is that more and more entertainment has become an American way of life as we have more and more conveniences to cut down our work load.

I was looking over the "Recept for washing clothes" brought to me by an old timer recently. I'll spell it like they have it, we're liable to change it around and spell it correctly for a change.

It's kind of like a wedding story I remember that said, "After the vocalist sinned 'I Love You Truly', the bride, carrying a bouquet of lilies of the valley and Stephen Otis, entered on the arm of her father wearing a floor-length gown of pewdese."

The correction went something like this, "In the Moore-Schaffer wedding, the vocalist did not sin but sang. The bride did not carry Stephen Otis into the wedding but rather a flower called stephanotis and her dress was made of peau not pew."

But back to the wash tubs:

1. bild fire in backyard to het kettle of rain water.
2. set tubs so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is pert.
3. shave one hole cake lie sope in bilin water.
4. sort things, make 3 piles. 1 pile white, 1 pile cullord, 1 pile werk britches and rags.
5. stur flour in cold water to smooth then thin down with bilin water.
6. rub dirty spots on board, scurb hard, then bile, rub cullord but don't bile, just rench and starch.
7. take wite things out of kettle with broomstick handel, then rench, blew and starch.

8. spred tea towels on grass.

9. hang old rags on fence.

10. pore rench water in flower bed.

11. scrub porch with hot, soapy water.

12. turn tubs upside down.

13. go put on cleen dress, smooth hair with side combs, brew cup of tee — set and rest and rock a spell and county blessings."

So, since I didn't have to do all that this week to put on the washing, I had lots of time to work and move and go to Christmas parties — out where I love to ride that fence.

After retirement man works at plant for free

EAST BERLIN, Pa. (AP) — When Lewis Smith retired 18 years ago, he said he didn't want to just sit down and die, so the 83-year-old handyman still visits his old plant almost every day and works for free when he's needed. Doing odd jobs at the Penn Wood Products Co. here is his way of showing his appreciation for the "wonderful way they treated me" during the 15 years he was employed by the firm.

"They treated me good all the time I worked for them," said Smith. "Some places, the bosses are always pushing you. That wasn't the case here."

Smith, a widower since 1965, said the voluntary work also helps him keep going in his old age and he recommends similar activities for other retirees.

"You get more tired from sitting in a chair than you do from working," he said. "A lot of people who retire just sit down until they die. I didn't feel that I would want to do that."

Smith, who lives on the outskirts of this south-central Pennsylvania town, said he took a job with what was then Penn Wood Heel Co. in 1945 after selling his plumbing business.

Since retirement, Smith's visits to the plant range from a couple of hours to half a day. "If there's anything to be fixed, I fix it for them," he said.

Hazel Hoffmann, Penn Wood's office manager and a 35-year employee of the firm, described him as a master craftsman.

"There isn't anything he can't make," she said.

Air travel survey results

Industrial Growth and Development

Thought you'd like to know the results of the Chamber Survey on AIR TRAVEL. First, we sent the questionnaire to all Chamber members. Then, it was published in the "Herald" and emphasized our radio stations. To date, we've had 145 responses.

Those responding indicated they had collectively made over 5500 flights to or from the Dallas — Fort Worth during 1978. This, by itself, is enough to justify scheduled air line service into the Big Spring Airport.

The majority favors early morning flights to the metropolplex and late afternoon or evening flights returning. Approximately, 20 percent of the flights would be to or from Love Field in Dallas.

The information will be used in further negotiations with several airlines and progress reports will be made as the situation develops.

The Special Committee headed by Tom Ivey and Bob West express their appreciation for the response. SHOP THE BIG SPRING AREA FIRST

Dear Abby

Give Yourself For Christmas

DEAR ABBY: I'm having a hard time deciding what to do for Christmas. I live about 40 miles from my parents' home, but I don't want to go home for Christmas because it is a depressing time for me. My parents go to church regularly, but they don't act like good Christians. All Christmas means to them is a pretty tree, lots of presents and good food. But it means so much more to me.

I don't want to stay where I live because the people I live with have the same attitude about Christmas. It's all presents and food. Most of my friends are expecting a gift from me and I can't afford any.

I was thinking of leaving town for the day, but I can't afford a hotel room.

Can you give me some advice on what to do? I hate this time of year. It's so depressing.

YOUNG AND UNHAPPY

DEAR YOUNG: Get in touch with a nursing home, a veterans' hospital or a children's institution, and offer to visit those who have no one to visit them. You don't need to bring presents. Just bring a cheerful attitude, a happy face and a willingness to listen and chat awhile.

Offer to write letters, read, make a phone call or run an errand.

When you do something for someone else it's impossible to feel depressed. Try it; it really works. Then write to me and tell me what kind of Christmas you had. I care.

DEAR ABBY: Last year I was criticized for handing out my Christmas cards instead of mailing them to the people I work with.

Abby, with postage as high as it is these days, I didn't see anything wrong with trying to save a few pennies.

Do you think I was cheap for handing out my cards? That's what I was called.

ELLIE

DEAR ELLIE: How a greeting card is delivered is immaterial as long as it gets there.

DEAR ABBY: I don't have a problem but I do have a statement I would like to make.

You said that the sex drive in a person is very strong, and is second only to the desire to survive.

Well, I don't believe I can go along with that, Abby. There are a lot of people in the world who manage to live without sex. For example, monks, nuns and priests. And also some very fine unmarried people.

JEROME IN PINE BLUFF

DEAR JEROME: And some very nice MARRIED people, too!

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple do-your-own-thing ceremony, get Abby's new booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

TWEEN 12 and 20

Keep two-timer but see others

By Robert Wallace Ed. D.

Teen-agers say it best, so I'd like to introduce our teen guest writers for this week. Vickie Palmer, 16, of Nashua, N.H. and Phil Collins, 16, who hails from Fresno, Calif., will give guidance to Barbara of Cedar Falls, Iowa, who writes:

Dr. Wallace: Help! I am going with this guy who is a very nice person. We enjoy each other's company and get along great.

Recently, his old girlfriend showed up and wanted to get back together with him. He still has feelings for her, but also likes me. He wants to keep seeing me, but also wants to see his old girl friend.

Should I leave him or stay in the ball game and wait it out? I like him very much, but am confused. — Barbara

Barbara: Continue to see him — that is, if you have the time when you are not seeing Fred, Robert, Thomas, John... — Dr. Wallace

Hi Barb: This is Vickie here, and I'm glad Dr. Wallace gave me the chance to help a fellow Hawkeye. Even though I live in New Hampshire, I was born in Burlington, Iowa.

By all means "stay in the ball game," but don't compete for this guy's attention. He likes you because you're you. Stay that way. But when he is seeing his ex-girlfriend, you could be seeing a tall handsome young man. — Keep Truckin', Vickie.

seeing your guy even though he has strayed back to an old girlfriend.

Just the reverse happened to me. My girl broke up with me because she went back to an old boyfriend. We still dated and eventually got back together, but not for long. Once I got her back, my ego satisfied, I dumped her! — Be good, Phil.

If you would like to become a teen guest writer, please write to me in care of this newspaper stating your age and sex.

$7 million to Soviet consul

Cult attempts transfer of money

MATTHEWS RIDGE, Guyana (AP) — A Guyanese police official says the Peoples Temple tried to transfer more than $7 million of its funds to the Soviet consul in Georgetown just before the mass suicides and murders at the Jonestown jungle commune.

Assistant Police Commissioner Skip Roberts told a coroner's inquest Sunday that couriers from Jonestown were to have carried letters to Swiss banks in Panama and Venezuela ordering them to transfer funds in temple accounts to Feodor Timofeyev, the Soviet consul in the Guyanese capital.

Roberts also reported that a total of $935,167 in U.S. currency and $62,000 in Guyanese money have been found in Jonestown.

Roberts read the letters into evidence for the inquest into the deaths Nov. 18 of the Rev. Jim Jones and more than 900 American members of his cult. The panel, which heard five days of testimony, is expected to announce verdicts on the causes of death Wednesday.

"I believe the letters are original and I doubt that the instructions reached the banks," Roberts told a reporter after the two-hour hearing. "I expect the money is still there."

Two of the letters instructed two Swiss banks in Panama to turn over more than $7.04 million in time deposit accounts to Timofeyev when the accounts matured in 1979. Another, addressed to Timofeyev, advised him of the transactions and told him when to expect the money.

Roberts read a similar letter of instructions to the Union Bank of Venezuela, but the amount of the deposit there was not given.

Documents found in Jonestown told of overtures by Jones to the Soviet Embassy to move the colony to the Soviet Union, and American authorities in Guyana have confirmed that Timofeyev visited Jonestown in November.

One of the survivors of the murder-suicide rite, Tim Carter, testified last week that he was one of three men sent from Jonestown with orders to deliver a suitcase containing money and letters to "the embassy." He said he opened the suitcase and found a letter inside to the Soviet Embassy in Georgetown.

Eagles make the playoffs

By the Associated Press
The Philadelphia Eagles and Coach Dick Vermeil have made believers of their skeptics ... and gained a National Football League playoff berth for the first time since 1966.

"Our goal when we came to training camp last July was to win nine games," Vermeil said Sunday. "People said, 'Hey, nine games? You're just not going to get it done.'"

The Eagles finished the 1978 season with exactly nine victories (and seven losses) Sunday, beating the New York Giants 20-3.

Their record was good enough to qualify for one of two wild card playoff berths in the National Football Conference. The Eagles will open the playoffs Dec. 24 against the NFC's other wild card team, the Atlanta Falcons, also 9-7, at Atlanta.

The Miami Dolphins and the Houston Oilers, the wild card teams from the American Football Conference, also will meet Dec. 24.

The playoffs continue Dec. 30, with Miami or Denver, the AFC West champion, at Pittsburgh, the AFC Central winner, and Atlanta or Minnesota, the AFC Central champion, at Dallas, the NFC East winner. The second round will be completed Dec. 31, with Houston or Denver at New England, the AFC East champion, and Philadelphia or Minnesota, at Los Angeles, the NFC West winner. The reason the second-round games are not locked in is because of an NFL rule that no division champion may play a wild card team from its division in the second round of playoffs.

The conference championship games will be played Jan. 7 and Super Bowl XIII Jan. 21 at Miami.

Minnesota and Atlanta backed into their playoff berths over the weekend. The Vikings became the NFC Central champions for the sixth year in a row despite a 27-20 loss to Oakland, while the Falcons reached the playoffs for the first time despite a 42-21 loss to St. Louis.

Minnesota and Green Bay, a 31-14 loser to Los Angeles, both finished with 8-7-1 records, but the Vikings were division champions because they were 1-0-1 against the Packers. Atlanta was assured a playoff spot Saturday when Chicago defeated Washington 14-10.

Other NFL weekend scores included: Pittsburgh

21, Denver 17; Dallas 30, New York Jets 7; San Diego 45, Houston 24; Cincinnati 48, Cleveland 16; New Orleans 17, Tampa Bay 10; Detroit 33, San Francisco 14; Buffalo 21, Baltimore 14; Seattle 23, Kansas City 19.

In tonight's nationally televised contest, Miami, 10-5, entertains New England, 11-4.

Raiders 27, Vikings 20
Oakland, 9-7, built a 21-0 advantage with the help of touchdowns 17 seconds apart by Charles Phillips and Fred Biletnikoff, then withstood Fran Tarkenton's passing barrage which produced three touchdowns.

Cards 42, Falcons 21
St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart completed 20 of 40 passes for three touchdowns and scored twice, his first TDs in three years, as the Cardinals wound up 6-10 after an 0-8 start.

The play of Los Angeles quarterback Pat Haden and running back Cullen Bryant did in the Packers. The oft-maligned Haden passed for one TD and scrambled 24 yards to set up another, while Bryant rushed for 121 yards and two TDs.

Bears 14, Redskins 10
Stete Schubert's 73-yard TD run with a punt return and Walter Payton's 44-yard yard scoring scamper won it for Chicago, 7-9.

Lions 33, 49ers 14
Detroit Coach Monte Clark savored the game ball after the Lions, 7-9, riddled crippled San Francisco, the NFL's worst team, with a 2-14 record. "This is the ball I really wanted," said Clark, who was fired as San Francisco's coach after the 1976 season.

Dexter Bussey ran for two touchdowns and Benny Ricardo kicked four field goals for Detroit.

Bills 21, Colts 11
The Bills' Terry Miller ran 60 yards for a touchdown and became the 10th rookie in NFL history to rush for more than 1,000 yards. Miller gained 123 yards, for a season's total of 1,060.

Cowboys 30, Jets 7
"This is the time of the season to get momentum," said Dallas running back Tony Dorsett after the Cowboys, 12-4, tuned up for the playoffs by trouncing the Jets, 8-8, for their sixth straight victory.

Chargers 45, Oilers 24
The Oilers obviously weren't prepared for Dan Fouts' passing. Fouts hit 21 of 40 passes for 369 yards and four TDs as San Diego finished 9-7, including 8-4 under Don Coryell. Houston was 10-6.

Bengals 48, Browns 16
The Bengals, 4-12, won their third straight game as Ken Anderson passed for two touchdowns and ran for another. Pete Johnson set a Bengals' record with 160 yards rushing.

Saints 17, Bucs 10
New Orleans quarterback Archie Manning enjoyed himself against injury riddled Tampa Bay, 5-11, completing 25 of 36 passes for 250 yards and the game-winning TD, a 1-yard flip to Henry Childs.

GAMES OF LEAPFROG — San Diego Chargers' Jerome Dove (48) and Houston Oilers' wide receiver Robert Woods (42) leap over fallen teammates Pete Shaw (44) and Ken Burrough (00), respectively, for a pass near the Chargers' end zone in Sunday's NFL game in Houston. FUMBLE — Tony Dorsett of the Dallas Cowboys looks at his fumbled handoff in the first period of Sunday's NFL game with the New York Jets at their Shea Stadium in New York. Dorsett recovered the ball. At rear is the Jets Shafer Suggs. Dallas won 30-7.

Dolphins are motivated for Pats

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins finally found motivation to go all out for tonight's game against the New England Patriots. A victory would put Miami's first-round playoff game against the Houston Oilers in the Orange Bowl before a packed audience of hometown fans.

Ironically, it was the Oilers who gave the Dolphins something to shoot for in the 9 p.m. EST nationally televised game (ABC-TV). The Oilers needed to beat San Diego in its final regular-season game Sunday to force the Dolphins to go to Houston for the playoff game on Christmas Eve.

But Houston, despite playing at home, lost to the Chargers 45-24, leaving it up to the Dolphins to decide whether Houston fans will see their first pro football playoff game ever to be played in the Astrodome.

Miami Coach Don Shula must decide whether to go with his power players, including quarterback Bob Griese and running back Delvin Williams, against New England or save them for the playoffs.

Williams was still "probable" Sunday night, nursing a knee injury that has plagued him for more than a month.

However, there is strong rivalry between the Dolphins and the Patriots, who are the American Football Conference Eastern Division champions. The Patriots plowed through the Miami defense in the closing minutes of their last encounter two months ago for a stinging 33-24 victory.

Computer still humming

The computer is alive and well and humming in Dallas. There was a time during

Pastorini is battered

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini, who had played every down for the Oilers all season, left Sunday's game against San Diego in the fourth quarter with a knee injury.

Pastorini, who already was playing with a sore elbow and broken ribs, did not return and Oiler Coach Bum Phillips said he did not know what his quarterback's status would be for Sunday's American Football Conference playoff game against the Miami Dolphins. "I did not consider putting him back in although he wanted to go back," Phillips said. "We won't know anything on him for 24 to 48 hours. We were hoping we could win the game and maybe the war, but if Dan is hurt bad, we may have lost both."

Pastorini, who has been in a love-hate relationship with the Oiler fans much of his seven-year career here, did not return to the game after completing a two-yard touchdown pass to Tim Wilson with 13:38 left in the game.

This National Football League season when the Dallas Cowboy hardware looked like so much software, and it seemed as if someone had folded, spindled or mutilated one of the cards.

Shucks, folks, it was nothing more than a momentary malfunction, according to Coach Tom Landry, who remembers the 6-4 record and the funny looks his club was getting.

"When you're the champion, you feel like you ought to win," said Landry. But when the Cowboys didn't win as frequently as might have been expected in the first 10 weeks, people started writing them off. What they forgot is that the season is 16 weeks long.

In the last six games, Dallas has recovered. The Cowboys strung a half-dozen consecutive victories, outscoring their opponents by an awesome margin of 184-

61. Sunday's 30-7 demolition of the New York Jets was right in character.

"We like to start fast," said Landry, "because if you don't, you can be out of it in a hurry. And we like to finish fast, because this is the time of year when you want momentum working for you. In between ... in between, we were not too good."

That's a fair assessment. Consecutive midseason losses to Minnesota and Miami following a 6-2 start had the computer in a quandary. "Other teams were playing at a greater level of intensity than we were," said All-Pro cornerback Cliff Harris.

Aggies take on Kentucky

By the Associated Press
The giant-killing Texas Aggies will be the underdogs again this week in the tough Wildcat Classic at Lexington, Ky., but as far as "dogs" go Coach Shelby Metcalf's battlers have more bite than bark.

Just ask nationally ranked Nevada-Las Vegas and San Francisco how the Aggies dogged it in the Golden State Classic.

No. 15 ranked Nevada-Las Vegas fell 101-99 Friday night then the No. 19 ranked San Francisco Dons took a 68-65 beating Saturday night in the finals.

The Aggies, who have won eight games in a row after an opening loss in Anchorage, Alaska to North Carolina State, will be playing in a tournament Friday and Saturday nights with No. 6 ranked Kentucky, No. 10 ranked Syracuse, and No. 18 ranked Illinois.

Guess who the Aggies get in the opener? Yep, defending nationally ranked Kentucky which should be in a good mood after an upset loss to Indiana.

"I guess we'll be the dogs there, too, but we're looking forward to it," said Metcalf. "We shouldn't go up there scared."

He added "I don't know a thing about Kentucky."

There were two other tournament champions from the Southwest Conference over the weekend, Texas Tech and the University of Houston.

Texas Tech gunned won Western Illinois 83-81 after tripping Oklahoma State 85-83 Friday night to earn the title of the Birmingham Classic. Tech is 7-1 overall.

The Houston Cougars rolled to the Bluebonnet Classic championship with a 105-92 victory over Southwest Louisiana after defeating Pan American 107-95 in the first game. Houston is 4-2.

Arkansas mauled Centenary 77-57 to remain the SWC's only unbeaten team with a 4-0 ledger.

Texas upped its record to 5-2 with a 68-58 victory Saturday night over Hardin Simmons. Baylor (4-3) dropped Stephen F. Austin 87-56 while Southern Methodist (3-5) fell to Kansas 71-64 and Texas Christian (2-5) dropped a 69-65 encounter with Robert Morris College.

Rice (3-5) lost both its games in the Bluebonnet Classic, falling 75-72 to Pan American Saturday night.

The SWC is now 40-24 against outside competition.

MARAVICH EVERYWHERE — This double exposure shows New Orleans Jazz guard Pete Maravich in action in his team's 104-96 loss to the Golden State Warriors in the National Basketball Association game Sunday night.

McAdoo leads Knicks

By the Associated Press
They say you can get Bob McAdoo out of bed and he'll hit a jump shot for you. Get him out of sick bay, and he might hit several. Which is what happened Sunday.

On the missing list from for 12 games because of a bruised toe, the New York Knicks' sharpshooter came back with a vengeance, scoring 41 points to lead his team to a 111-105 National Basketball Association victory over the Atlanta Hawks.

In other NBA action, the Portland Trail Blazers defeated the Denver Nuggets 123-110; the Philadelphia 76ers stopped the Los Angeles Lakers 103-96; the Cleveland Cavaliers trimmed the Seattle SuperSonics 101-91; the Milwaukee Bucks defeated the Chicago Bulls 117-101; the San Diego Clippers took a 116-110 decision over the Phoenix Suns and the Golden State Warriors stopped the New Orleans Jazz 104-96. Trail Blazers 123, Nuggets 110.

Tom Owens scored a careerhigh 35 points, including 15 of 15 from the foul line, to pace Portland over Denver. T.R. Dunn's field goal with 8:13 remaining put the Trail Blazers ahead 38-37 and they never trailed after that.

76ers 103, Lakers 96
Henry Bibby scored six points in the last 74 seconds to lead Philadelphia past Los Angeles. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's hook shot with 2:13 remaining tied the game at 94 before the 76ers outscored the Lakers 9-2 in the final two minutes with Bibby leading the way.

points and Austin Carr added 19 as Cleveland beat Seattle. The Cavaliers ran off 12 points in a row at one stage — including the first eight of the final period — to build the game's biggest lead at 87-70.

Bucks 117, Bulls 101
Reserve Junior Bridgeman scored 22 points to lead Milwaukee past Chicago. Led by Artis Gilmore, the Bulls scored the first 12 points of the game and led 28-27 at the end of the first quarter.

But Milwaukee's Marques Johnson scored nine of his 19 points in the second period to boost the Bucks into a 59-48 lead with 1:08 to go before halftime.

Sam stays

CINCINNATI (AP) — Declaring that "Sam is a winner," Cleveland Browns' owner Art Modell announced that he has given head Coach Sam Rutigliano a new five-year contract running through 1983.

Modell, who made the announcement after the Browns fell 48-16 before the Cincinnati Bengals in their final game of the season, said Sunday's scoreboard didn't change anything.

"When you've got a winner, you make sure you keep him. Sam will be a great, great coach, if he isn't already, and he's deserving of this kind of support from me," Modell said.

Modell said he had decided to give Rutigliano the extension three weeks ago. The Browns finished 8-8 for the season under Rutigliano in his first year as a head coach in the National Football League.

Hess to savor season

McALLEN, Texas (AP) — Angelo State Coach Jim Hess pulled no punches after his team won the inaugural City of Palms Bowl and took home the NAIA Division I championship trophy.

"We'll savor this game and this season for a long time because we really had to work for it," said Hess.

"Nothing was handed to us." Angelo State held off a late challenge from Elon College of North Carolina for a 34-14 victory.

"What makes this win even better is the fact that we were picked to win it all before the season and we performed well under the pressure. I never thought it would be possible to go the entire season without a loss," said Hess.

The Rams from San Angelo, Texas, took the Lone Star Conference championship on the way to their first NAIA Division I championship and ended the season with a 14-0 record. Elon finished at 11-2-1.

Grady takes third

Grady cagers took third place in a four-team tournament in Wellman over the weekend.

The boys' varsity fell to Southland, 73-37 in first round play, with Southland outscoring the Wildcats in all four quarters. Alex Perez and Ronald Chee were high point scorers for Grady with 13 and 12 respectively.

Sawyer each had nine points in the final game. Grady goes into action again beginning 6:30 p.m. Tuesday when both teams travel to Grandfalls.

Perez and Chee were again leading basketmakers with 18 points apiece. Jimmy Mitchell scored 12, and Leland Key sank for 10 points to enter the double figures column.

The girls also lost to Loop, 50-31, with Loop dominating the scoring in each quarter. Dobbie Romine and Shirilla
