

JORITY WILL ELECT JUDGE

Democratic Executive Committee of Reeves County held its meeting as required by law Monday, one of its most important rulings being that the statute will be adopted for the next month. This means the second primary will be held on Saturday in August. It is an event that no single candidate gets a majority of all votes on July 25. The names of two candidates receiving the greatest number of votes in the primary will be submitted at the second primary which will be held on the second Saturday in August. The one receiving the greater number of votes in the primary will be declared the nominee. While this rule is in its application, it is to be noted that there are more than two candidates in no race but that the county judge will make that of the sole item of interest in the primary.

This is the first time in the history of Reeves county that this provision of the statute has been used. There are five men out for county judge, and sentiment was apparently for the majority stipulation. Three of the candidates were present at the meeting of the executive committee and were consulted, and it was the opinion of the committee that it would be desirable, but that the election of the second primary would be held since it would have to be held by the two candidates making a race. This objection was met, however, by some of the committee men who expressed the opinion that the election officers should not doubt be glad to serve without remuneration when acting under the conditions, and that the statute was adopted without a dissent.

WHITE MAN'S PRIMARY.

One of the most important matters discussed by the committee was the question of a resolution that in the primary, "only legally qualified persons" be allowed to vote. The resolution printed on the ballot of course, care for the election of the voter. The resolution was adopted without a dissent, so that Mexicans and negroes will not participate in the primary. This issue has been the subject of much debate and discussion in the past, and this will be the first time that the "Lilly White" primary in Reeves county.

One of the other business transactions of a routine nature, the candidates on the ticket had been determined, and the result of the primary estimated. The ballot will not be as long this year as two years ago. Those present at the meeting of the committee were C. H. Lockett, Toyah; S. E. Paragosa; T. J. McIlvain, county, and R. N. Sewell.

BRITONS DINE

WITH COL. ROOSEVELT

WILL BE ANSWERED

On June 15.—After a month's wait the United States has at last replied to Japan's demand for the California anti-alien law. Secretary Bryan has announced that the United States will answer the demand.

of August 26 last will be as soon as the matter is discussed. Answer to it was the discussion of other matters adjusting the differences that in his statement referred to an attempt at the negotiation of the issue by some congress to confirm the Japanese now in the town and lease land, and a new treaty looking to recognition of the rights of Japanese to naturalization.

The Japanese ambassador here has been actively pressing this subject on the state department recently in order that when the Japanese parliament assembles next month, Baron Kato, the premier of the new cabinet, may be able to report progress.

VANDERBILT TRUSTEES

WILL OUTLINE PLANS
Nashville, Tenn., June 15.—The session of the board of trustees of Vanderbilt University, which began today, promises to be of widespread interest, in view of the controversy with the Southern Methodist church. It is understood the board will make a statement with reference to the conduct of the university, control of which was vested in the board by recent direction of the Tennessee supreme court. There are eight vacancies on the board to be filled. One whose term expires at this time is Chancellor K. H. Kirkland.

Attorney J. C. McReynolds, who is a member of the board, is here for the meeting.

PRESIDENT SIGNS THE

TOLLS EXEMPTION BILL
Washington, June 15.—President Wilson today signed the Panama tolls exemption bill. There was no ceremony at the signing. Assistant Secretary Forster was the only person with the President.

Wilson signed the bill with a quill pen used by President Harrison in signing the international copyright law in 1891, and by President Taft in signing the Panama treaty, the Lincoln memorial bill and the act incorporating the National Institute of Arts and Letters. The pen is the property of Robert Underwood Johnson of New York.

SENDS IN FIVE NAMES

FOR RESERVE BOARD
Washington, June 15.—Nominations of Charles S. Hamlin of Boston, T. B. Jones of Chicago, W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, Ala., Paul Warburg of New York and A. C. Miller of San Francisco, to be members of the federal reserve board, were sent to the senate today by President Wilson.

The members of the federal reserve board were nominated to serve the following terms: Hamlin, two years; Warburg, four years; Jones, six years; Harding, eight years, and Miller, ten years.

Thomas B. Jones, a Chicago lawyer, has been selected for the governorship, but with the coming of Hamlin to the board it was thought that plan might be changed and the governorship might go to the Boston man.

Hamlin is an expert in finance, who served as assistant secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland, and returned to the treasury department soon after President Wilson took office as the assistant secretary in charge of customs.

The appointment of John Skelton Williams to be comptroller of the currency, left vacant the office of assistant secretary in charge of the treasury finance bureau and Hamlin was appointed to that place which put him logically in line for promotion to the secretary's office itself. President Wilson, it is said, has been reluctant to appoint Hamlin to the reserve board because he felt he was needed in his present position.

PUMPING PLANT IN OPERATION

Jno. McBirney informed a Pecos Times representative that he now has his pumping plant in operation. It is located about four miles northwest of Pecos and he has a 240-acre tract.

His well was drilled recently and they struck water stratas at 39, 62, 92, and 175 feet and then he had them go on down to 182 feet. His pump furnishes 1000 gallons per minute and he is irrigating a ten-acre tract which he has prepared. He expects to put in the balance of his place as fast as possible.

Mr. McBirney has faith in this great Pecos Valley of Texas and is putting in his money to demonstrate the fact, and expects to have one of the best farms by next year that there is in the valley.

He also informed us that it was only five days after planting the seed that his crops commenced coming up.

The Times is pleased to see such men locating among us and our wish is that Mr. and Mrs. McBirney's best hopes may be far exceeded in the results of their labors.

ENTERTAINMENT WAS BIG SUCCESS

The Pecos Fire Department again upheld its reputation for providing first class entertainment for the people of Pecos, at the Pecos opera house Thursday night, when a mixed program was presented. A large audience waxed enthusiastic over every number offered, and encores were the rule. A neat sum was realized, to be added to the fund being raised for the entertainment of the Panhandle District Firemen's Convention to be held here during the Reeves County Fair, September 1-4.

The work of the fire boys was set off and made most attractive by the star offerings of some eight or ten young ladies of more than ordinary talent and charm. Without exception they proved equal to the occasion, and delighted the audience with their singing, their acting, and their fancy steps. There has been no professional attraction in Pecos during the last year that offered as much for the money as was provided Thursday evening.

The character song, "I Want a Bungalow Where the Red, Red Roses Grow," opened the program after a select bunch of films had been shown. The curtain rose on a pretty scene. Misses Pruett, Collings and Jones were seated in swings all festooned in red roses, while Messrs. Cole, Williams and McChesney in natty summer garb did the swinging as well as helped in the singing. The heavy encore that brought them back to repeat a portion of the song was eloquent of the appreciation of the crowd.

Cap Weyer and Patti Benjamin in their "Quarrel" captivated the hearts of all in the house. The little tots were trained well as to singing and personation, and the audience held its breath to catch every word from the fresh, sweet child voices, and called them back heartily. The clarinet duct of Messrs. Cole and Miller was enjoyed heartily and revealed the fact that in these two Pecos has an addition to her musical talent little suspected heretofore by most people.

Perhaps the chorus was the star attraction of the evening. Certainly few things could be more charming than their bloom and grace, and the sweet freshness of their voices. They are Misses Agnes Jeams, Warren and Nannie Mae Collings, Mildred McCarver, Stella Weyer, and Colon Prewitt and it is to be hoped that they will often favor Pecos audiences with their choruses.

A comic reading by little Miss Ivan Krauskopf followed, she taking the part of a little girl, and closing with a "Query of Cupid," that has puzzled older folk. She, too, did her part with spirit and talent.

Billy Miller's saxophone solo closed the first division of the program very pleasantly. The big Dutch-looking instrument is new here as a solo piece and its introduction was a most favorable one. "Our Aunt Robertina" was the one-act skit which closed the evening. Its plot was a tangle of errors and its presentation was filled with fun for everybody. The cast, too, was an all-star one, the briefness of it preventing anyone from getting too much of the limelight.

All in all the evening was one of the most pleasant that the people of Pecos have ever experienced, and it is to be hoped that this same aggregation will call the public at as early a date as possible to enjoy another treat of this sort. Following is the cast of characters for "Our Aunt Robertina":

- Mr. Aspen, a retired merchant—Mr. Ralph Williams.
- Gladys, his daughter—Miss Collings.
- Aunt Robertina, a notable personage—Miss Pruett.
- Robert Aspen, an English cousin—Mr. John Cole.
- Emily, a maid—Miss Dorothy Somes.
- Phibbs, the butler—Mr. Hal Dane McChesney.
- Tramp—Mrs. Earl Collings.
- Chorus Girls—Misses Jeans, Collings, McCarver, Weyer, Prewitt.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF PECOS

On Wednesday, June 10, about fifty enthusiastic citizens met at the library building and organized themselves into the Carnegie Library Association. After the adoption of a constitution, the following officers were elected:

- President, T. Y. Casey.
- First vice president, H. B. Link.
- Treasurer, Mrs. B. R. Stine.
- Second vice president, Mrs. W. R. Hankins.
- Recording secretary, Mrs. J. C. Wied.
- Corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. C. Warn.

The president appointed Mayor Canon, Dr. Moore and Mrs. C. M. Wilson as members at large to act with the officers to form an executive board for the transaction of business. Mr. M. W. Collie, chairman of the ways and means committee, was also made a member of the executive board.

A popular subscription has been circulated to obtain funds for the payment of a permanent librarian. The city council have money at hand to pay for all necessary entry books, cards and other stationery.

The Civic League have about $40 with which they intend to buy reading tables and chairs for the library.

The Merry Wives, besides the large number of books they have already contributed to the library, have $10 on hand with which to buy periodicals, etc.

The Enterpean Club have purchased a piano to be placed in the club room of the library.

Mr. R. D. Gage, who has so generously contributed many books recently sent another large chest of miscellaneous volumes.

The Mother's Club has obtained the services of Mrs. R. W. Hindley to conduct the Saturday afternoon Children's Story Hour. The story hour is one of the features of our large city libraries, that we are especially fortunate in obtaining for Pecos.

The board divided the city into quarters at the intersection of Willow and Fourth streets, and appointed leaders for each quarter as follows:

- Southwest quarter—Mrs. E. C. Canon.
- Northwest quarter—Mrs. R. R. Smothers.
- Southeast quarter—Mrs. Jack Love.
- Northeast quarter—Mrs. Sam Prewitt.

These women are busy organizing their forces for the collection of books, magazines and other material for the library.

The association would be grateful for the donation of books, old and new magazines, children's picture and story books, relics of the early days of Texas, Texas-Mexican or Civil War relics of historical value; subscriptions to magazines or money to help the good work along.

The board are endeavoring to get everything in shape to open the library to the public by July first, and will be grateful for a prompt response to their call for aid in collecting material.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

With this issue of the paper we have the pleasure of publishing the announcement of Will P. Brady for re-election to the office of District Attorney of the seventeenth judicial district, a position which he has so faithfully filled with honor to himself and credit to the people of the district. Mr. Brady as prosecuting attorney has never been reticent as to his duties as such attorney. Mr. Brady is so well known in every county in this district that it would be useless for us to undertake to say anything in his behalf if the people will only look to the records in every county in the district and compare the number of convictions compared with the number of acquittals you will find that his record is second to none as a prosecuting attorney. Judge Brady has the endorsement of most every lawyer in every county in the district.

BROKEN LEG.

Mr. C. M. Hall of Coyoosa was out riding over his ranch last Friday morning and his horse fell with him and he had the misfortune of getting his left leg broken just above the ankle. He has suffered considerably but at present is getting along as well as could be expected. Mr. Hall was moved into town and is now at the home of Mr. McIlvain.

THREE MORE SUBIA LETTERS

May the 22nd, 1914.

Hon. O. B. Colquitt, Governor, Austin, Texas.

Dear Sir: I herewith hand you petition of the Mexican population of this town asking for a commutation of the sentence of Fernando Subia from death to life time in penitentiary. I may add that there is being circulated a petition of the same kind here among the whites, and same will be sent you within the next 24 hours.

This man ought not to be hung. He was crazy drunk when he shot Moorhead, and was snatched up and tried while feeling here was simply fearful against him.

Kindly look into this matter, and if possible spare this man's life. I am very respectfully, (Signed) J. B. GIBSON.

Personal. May 26th, 1914.

Hon. O. B. Colquitt, Governor of Texas, Austin, Texas.

Dear Sir: I am going to write you briefly in behalf of one Fernando Subia, a Mexican sentenced here to hang on the 29th inst., for killing one T. Y. Moorhead. I believe, sincerely, this is a case where commutation of sentence ought to be given. The statement of facts, showing the evidence in the case, is on file in the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin, and perhaps the Pardon Board has a copy of the testimony adduced at the trial.

The killing was unpremeditated, the Mexican was a good friend of Moorhead's and his family, frequently playing ball with and amusing the children of the deceased. Under the evidence, he was practically insane from drink at the time he shot and killed Moorhead, and under the old law, before the degrees of murder were abolished, could only have been convicted of second degree murder. I believe that it was never intended by the founders of our law that a man should suffer the death penalty except for premeditated murder, which was not the case in this instance.

The defendant Subia is exceedingly repentant, is not of a defiant nature, but continually expresses his regret, sleeps little and eats little and shows his great regret and sorrow for the crime he committed. I was a good friend of the deceased, have not represented in any manner the defendant, and am only writing you this letter in the interest of mercy and humanity.

He probably would not have been given the death penalty save for the fact that a special term was held and he was tried immediately after the crime was committed, when public excitement ran high, and before he and his family had time to employ an attorney, being defended only by appointed attorneys, who made no particularly strong fight for his life.

I believe the death sentence should be commuted; I trust you will at least stay the execution until you can thoroughly consider the matter. Yours very truly,

CLAY COOKE.

Pecos, Tex., May 28, 1914.

Hon. O. B. Colquitt, Governor of the State of Texas, Austin.

Your Excellency: I am writing you with reference to the matter of the sentence of Fernando Subia, who is to be hanged here Friday of this week. If I were to consider policy or personal feeling in the light of the attitudes of a few months ago, I should hardly attempt such a communication. There is no doubt, of course, of his guilt so far as the commission of the offense is concerned; but as to premeditation, I cannot say so much.

Mr. Moorhead, whom he murdered, was one of my closest friends; having his office here with me. For this reason it is difficult indeed for me to ask the commutation of sentence which alone, coming from your hand, may save his life.

On the other hand, it has fallen my lot to translate the letters of Subia, as I did those of Martinez. I have had full opportunity to see the workings of remorse and repentance that he has shown in all his writings, and, in the light of the evidence produced in the case (I also acted as interpreter during the trial) coupled with all that he has written, I hardly believe that his killing was premeditated, but rather the result of a drunken and foolhardy impulse planted within him by another Mexican, who accompanied him, and whose animus against Moorhead was undoubted.

I would not say that the execution of the death warrant in this instance would be injustice—the life of my good friend so abruptly cut off prevents my doing that—and it may be that sympathy has beclouded my better judgment in the matter; yet I believe that I would be glad to hear that Your Excellency had commuted the sentence to one of life imprisonment.

I would not have you think that I am writing this letter for any but personal reasons, or from the fact that I am secretary of the Commercial Club and a long-time resident of this county that I would attempt to impute an interest or an influence to this letter other than that borne by my own unofficial signature. I know several men of prominence who would be glad, too, to see a commutation prevent the execution day after tomorrow, but I would not attempt to name them, for I have not asked them for permission to do that.

There is everything to make this case different from that of Martinez. The circumstances surrounding it; the spontaneity of the act; the open admission; and most of all the spirit that he has shown since then have made me (however reluctantly) change my views of the case, so that I would be glad to hear of your commuting the sentence—though of course I could not blame you if you decide not to interfere.

I trust that this letter will not serve to make your task additionally onerous, for I try to appreciate the responsibility that you must feel in such a matter, and I assure you that I shall not be one to criticize, whatever the action that you may or may not take in this instance.

Yours very respectfully,

H. B. LINK

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

Department of State.

I, F. C. Weinert, Secretary of State of the State of Texas, do hereby certify that the attached and foregoing are true and correct copies of a letter received from H. B. Link of Pecos, Texas, to Hon. O. B. Colquitt, Governor of Texas, and a letter from Clay Cooke to Hon. O. B. Colquitt filed in this department with reference to commutation of death sentence of Fernando Subia, and which are now a part of the record of this department.

In testimony whereof, I hereto signed my name officially and have caused to be impressed hereon the Seal of State, at my office in the City of Austin, Texas, this 16th day of June, A. D. 1914.

Mrs. Keasler was in a car driven by her 18-year-old son. They were en route from their home at Mineral Wells to a place in East Texas on a visit. Two friends were also in the car.

THE PECOS TIMES WILL PUBLISH DELINQUENT TAX LIST.

The Pecos Times has been awarded the contract of publishing the Reeves county delinquent tax list for 1914.

The Commissioners Court instructed the county clerk to inform all the publishers in the county that the tax list would be let to the publisher making the lowest bid.

The county clerk mailed to each of the publishers a notice stating that if they wanted to bid for the publication of the delinquent list that they must have their bid in not later than last Saturday, and accordingly the Toyah Valley Herald, the Toyah Enterprise and the Pecos Times sent in their bids. But the Pecos Times was just a little bit under the lowest bidder and therefore we were the winner.

RULINGS BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Austin, Tex.—The county attorney at Cleburne was advised by the attorney general's department today that upon proper petition the commissioners court may determine the number of public weighers to be appointed or elected for a justice precinct and may appoint public weighers or provide for the election of one or more for such precinct, and where two weighers are appointed for the same precinct the same number should be elected at the next general election.

In a justice precinct having a duly qualified public weigher it is not unlawful for other persons to weigh for the public, except factors and commission merchants.

The railroad commission was advised that in estimating the maximum amount of bonds that may be issued by a railway company, all prior encumbrances must be taken into consideration at their face value.

MALE STENOGRAPHERS AND TYPEWRITERS IN DEMAND

The United States civil service commission announces that while it has difficulty in securing sufficient female stenographers and typewriters to meet the needs of the departments at Washington, the supply of male eligibles has not been equal to the demand. Young men who are at least 18 years of age and who are willing to accept the usual entrance salaries, which are $840 and $900 a year, have excellent opportunities for appointment. While the entrance salaries are low, advancement is reasonably rapid to those meriting it. The examinations, which any competent stenographer should be able to pass, are held each month in the year, except December, at the principal cities of the United States.

Full information in regard to the examination may be secured by addressing the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C.; or the District Secretary, post-office, Boston, Mass.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Atlanta, Ga.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Chicago, Ill.; St. Paul, Minn.; Seattle, Wash.; San Francisco, Cal.; Custom House, New York, N. Y.; New Orleans, La.; or Old Custom House, St. Louis, Mo.

GIVES HISTORY OF VANDERBILT

Bishop Candler Tells How School Was Lost to the Methodist Church by Decision of Tennessee Court.

(Lawrenceville (Ga.) News-Herald.)

Editor News-Herald: In your issue of May 28th you print an article concerning "The Methodist Church and Vanderbilt" which contains several erroneous statements which might be injurious if not corrected; and I feel sure you will be glad to know and publish the exact facts in the case.

1. You say with reference to the charter of Vanderbilt University with which it was founded, "The same mistake was made in the charter of Emory College, and the day may come when the trustees may defy the wishes of the church and the mandates of the conference." This is incorrect. The charter of Emory College requires that the members of the board of trustees be members of the Methodist church; this is not true of the Vanderbilt board upon which there are several men who are not members of any church. Again, excepting the three alumni trustees, the members of Emory's board must come from the patronizing conference, vacancies from north Georgia being filled from north Georgia, vacancies from south Georgia being filled from south Georgia, and vacancies from Florida being filled from Florida. Moreover, the trustees of Emory College must be confirmed by the conferences from which they are chosen. Emory College is firmly anchored to the church by a legislative charter.

2. Again you say, "The trouble with the bishops in their case against the trustees is that they acted prematurely and too hastily." The trouble with this statement is that it was penned too hastily and inconsiderately. The bishops did not act on their own motion at all, but by direction of the general conference of 1906 appointed a commission, composed of five able lawyers to investigate and report to the general conference of 1910 what were the legal relations of the Vanderbilt University to the church. Before that commission (which was presided over by the chief justice of Kentucky) the board of trustees was represented, and its authority was thus recognized and accepted by the board. The commission found against the contentions of the board of trustees. When the report of the commission was laid before the general conference of 1910 it was referred to the standing committee on education, and the chancellor and other representatives of the board of trustees appeared before that committee, and the president of the board of trustees was invited to address the general conference on the subject. Nevertheless, the report of the commission was adopted by the general conference, and the bishops were ordered by the conference to defend the findings of the commission in the civil court if the board of trustees resisted the findings of the commission. In this the bishops had no option. When the findings of the commission were ignored by the board of trustees, the bishops brought suit in the chancery court, after a most patient and thorough hearing of the case, sustained every one of the findings of the commission. The board of trustees took an appeal to the supreme court of Tennessee, and while that appeal was pending, Mr. Andrew Carnegie came forward with a proposal to give $1,000,000 to the medical department of the Vanderbilt University, paying down in cash $200,000, and suspending the payment of the rest ($800,000) until the court should decide if the Vanderbilt university was or was not a denominational institution. The chancery court had decided that the bishops were common-law visitors to the university, and, as they vetoed the acceptance of the Carnegie gift on the terms mentioned in Mr. Carnegie's letter. But the supreme court of Tennessee reversed the decision of the chancery court of Davidson county and Mr. Carnegie has paid his $800,000 to Vanderbilt University. It is difficult to see wherein either the bishops or the general conference "acted prematurely and too hastily." The case has stretched over eight years, and every step has been taken under the most competent legal advice.

2. Again you say, "The charter, we presume, was granted by the legislature of Tennessee, and it has the power to amend it in conformity to the reasonable wishes of the owners of the institution, etc." The charter was not granted by the legislature of Tennessee, such charters under Tennessee law being granted, at the time Vanderbilt was founded by the chancery court. No legislative charter can be granted for such institutions in Tennessee. If a new charter was obtained in Tennessee as the law now stands (the law having been changed since the institution was founded) it would have to be obtained by the unanimous petition of the board of trustees to the secretary of state, and then a charter of the most general character only could be secured. Besides all this, the supreme court has held most amazingly that the Methodist church did not found and has never owned the Vanderbilt University. This decision is an outrage upon justice and equity, but it the decree of a lawful court to which the church must as a law-abiding body submit.

So you see Vanderbilt is lost to the church, and for no fault of the church or its bishops. How much Mr. Carnegie's million has had to do with alienating this property from the church it would not be proper to say, lest one be guilty of contempt of court, an offense which a good man does not wish to commit legally or morally.

It may be doubted if the patronizing conferences, by whom the Vanderbilt University was originally founded, can do better in the courts than the representatives of the general conference. Doubtless the decision of the supreme court in the case will control in the federal courts if the case should be brought before those tribunals.

I may say two things in conclusion:

1. The bishops have been only titular plaintiffs in this case, obeying and representing the general conference as its executive officers. They have no other relation to the case, although a different impression has been made by publication in the press dispatches with the manifest purpose to deceive the public.

2. An effort is being made by certain great boards, endowed by the trust magnates and having headquarters in New York, to control higher education in the United States. Concerning one of these boards, of which Mr. Andrew Carnegie is a member and with which the Carnegie board is in close alliance, the "Outlook" (Dr. Lyman Abbott's paper of which Mr. Roosevelt is the "contributing editor") said a year or two ago: "With this financial power in its control, the general board is in position to do what nobody in this country can at present, even attempt. It can determine largely what institutions shall grow, and in some measure what shall stand still or decay. It can look over the territory of the nation, note the places where there is a famine of learning, and start new educational plants of any species it chooses, or revive old ones. It can do in many ways what the government does for education in France and Germany. Its power will be enormous; it seems as if it might be able to determine the charter of American education. The funds it holds represent only a fraction of the amounts which it will control; by giving a sum to an institution on condition that the institution raise an equal or greater amount, it will be able to direct much larger amounts than it possesses." The capturing of the Vanderbilt is perhaps a case in point which illustrates what the Outlook said was the purpose of these parties. The Methodist bishops are not the parties deserving of censure in the case. Yours respectfully,

W. A. CANDLER.

PRIMARY DISTRICT RULINGS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Austin, June 11.—The attorney general's department today announced six important rulings bearing on the general election law in connection with the primaries to be held July 25.

The rulings follow:

1. A person who will have resided in the county six months before the November election and who has been a bona fide resident of this state or more than a year last past, is eligible to become a candidate for a county office, to be voted for at the coming July primary.

2. District candidates whose district is composed of more than one county, cannot get their names on the official ballot after the expiration of the first Monday in June. If the district comprises only one county, candidates can get their names on the ticket by making publication not later than Saturday before the third Monday in June.

3. Where a district is composed of three counties and the candidate for representative did not file his application with the district chairman, but before the expiration of the third Monday in June filed his application to have his name placed on the official ballot with the chairman of the respective counties composing the district, this was held to be a compliance with the law, and the candidate's name should be placed on the official ballot in each of the counties composing the district, citing section 191 of the Texas election law.

4. Where the executive committee of the county desires to send the election supplies to the presiding judges in the election precincts by parcel post this was held to be regular and permissible by law, but that the duty was upon the executive committee of the county to see that the election supplies reached the proper authorities in the various precincts of the county.

5. Where the application of a candidate to have his name placed upon the official ballot in a district composing more than one county was placed in the mail before the expiration of the first Monday in June, but did not reach the chairman of the district until after the expiration of said day, it was held that the name of this candidate should be placed upon the official ballot and that it would be the duty of the chairmen of the district to certify his name to be placed upon the official ballot of the several counties composing the district.

6. The department held that it was necessary for a man to have resided in the state twelve months and in the county six at the time he offers to vote in order that he may be a qualified voter with reference to residence. It would not be sufficient to entitle him to vote where he will have been in the county six months at the general election.

RULING ON SCHOOL BONDS.

Austin, Tex.—A new and important rule was made by the State Board of Education today in the purchase of bonds. In order that school districts which are handicapped by lack of funds may obtain the most benefit from the policy of the state board in purchasing school bonds, it adopted a resolution to the effect that the purchase of bonds in counties which have a permanent school fund will hereafter not be considered.

Preference will be given to counties having no permanent school fund and to those where the commissioners' courts have invested the funds in their own school bonds, instead of with some bond and investment company. By following this policy, the board believes that the commissioners courts will cease the practice of investing the school fund in other than school bonds in their own counties.

The board authorized the payment of $65,000 on bonds previously purchased and not wholly paid for. It also authorized the purchase of the $29,000 in bond issues which will also be paid for on the installment plan.

Austin, Tex., June 15.—Governor Colquitt was back at his desk today from his Dallas trip. He is now outlining his work so that he may leave within the next few days on his 20 days' campaign tour of the state in behalf of James E. Ferguson's candidacy for governor. Facts On Temperance

Our prohibition friends are fond of saying that the world would be far better off if the "curse of drink" were wiped out of existence.

We agree with them. But the "curse of drink" means intemperance—drunkenness.

Beer is not conducive to drunkenness, although the association of ideas is so close in the minds of some people that they make no discrimination whatever, and either ignorantly or thoughtlessly, they hold beer fully as responsible for drunkenness as anything else. The fallacy and injustice of this assumption are at once apparent to any fair minded person who considers these facts:

Beer is essentially a drink of temperate people and is the best friend of true temperance. It contains so small a percentage of alcohol as to render it absolutely harmless if taken in moderation.

Many eminent divines who have made a close investigation of saloon conditions and the liquor question in general, declare that the moderate use of beer and light wines should be encouraged rather than discouraged, because they recognize the great truth that moderate indulgence is the only way by which true temperance can be promoted and lastingly maintained.

Rev. Dr. Parkhurst of New York, says:

"I am decidedly of the opinion that the more wine and beer there is produced in this country and the more freely it is transported from state to state, the less whiskey will be used and the smaller the amount of drunkenness."

Can, then, any right thinking person suppose that a light beer—a truly healthful, mild and harmless beverage—is an enemy to mankind—that it can in any way be construed as the "curse of drink?" Yet the prohibitionists assert that it is and they would, therefore, abolish it. But in so doing they would but magnify the evil, drunkenness, they are trying to suppress. —Paid Advertisement.

A CROOK ARRESTED.

T. C. Tabar, city marshal of Deming, New Mexico, wired City Marshal E. B. Kiser last Saturday to be on the watch for a man passing himself as Dr. Durand, and that he would give $25 reward for his arrest.

Late Sunday evening Marshal Kiser had the man locked up in the city jail and immediately notified the marshal of Deming that he had his man, and Tuesday the marshal arrived from Deming on No. 6. Mr. Kiser met him at the T. and P. station. They went to the police station. Deming officer recognized the doctor as the man wanted.

Marshal Kiser turned the man over to him and Mr. Tabar left on train No. 3, Wednesday morning for Deming, where the prisoner is wanted for violation of the law at that place.

At first the doctor refused to return with the officer, but later changed his mind and consented to go along.

The Equalization Board was in session Wednesday to examine the tax list and make such changes as they thought should be just an equal assessment, reducing some assessment and raising others.

There are some cases that a board could not place a just and equal assessment, for instance, in a case of personal property that, when new, it would be valuable, but after having been used for a long time and had become worn and run down it could not be sold for one-half of its original value.

"HIS HOUSE IN ORDER."

Judge Thomas L. Blanton, a candidate for Congress in the district, hails from the proud little city of Abilene, the city of which its people delight to boast as being an educational and religious center, and which boasts of having as high a type of citizenship as any place in the United States. Judge Blanton's ambition to sit in the Halls of Congress is a commendable one, and if he could go forth into the other counties of the district with a practically solid endorsement from his home people, no doubt he would be a formidable opponent for Judge Smith. The people of the district, knowing the reputation and the high character of the people of the city of Abilene, would listen with a ready ear to a candidate coming from that city fortified with its endorsement.

But such is not the case. Not only do the people of Abilene refuse to endorse Judge Blanton, but, on the contrary, a decided majority of the democratic voters there have endorsed his opponent, Judge Smith of Colorado.

A man is usually what his neighbors say he is. That is especially true after he has lived and held public office among them for many years. Daily association and oft repeated opportunities of communicating lend accuracy to the estimate of those among whom we live and move and have our being. In every day life, and in the courts of our country, we take as true and correct a man's reputation among the people of his community.

Contrast the situation in Abilene with that prevailing in our little city of Colorado, where Judge W. R. Smith has resided for a quarter of a century—a people, too, who, like those of Abilene, are noted for their high standards of morality and citizenship; in this portion of his constituency Judge Smith's fellow townsmen hasten to give him their hearty and practically unanimous endorsement to his candidacy.

When, twelve years ago, Judge Smith made his first race for Congress, he was little known outside of the Thirty-second judicial district, in which Colorado was centrally located; but the good people of Colorado rallied unanimously to his support at that time; they sent out and carried out the word to the 58 counties of this congressional district that Judge W. R. Smith was an honorable and upright man; that he was a man of ability, who would represent the district well in the lower house of the American congress. The people of the district believed what we of Colorado told them, they elected Judge Smith to Congress, Judge Smith made the word of the people of Colorado good, and today, while Colorado remains the same and is unanimously for Judge Smith, he is not dependent upon his home town for a clean bill of health, for all the counties of the district give endorsement.—Colorado Record.

THE SAYINGS OF AN ADVERTISING GENIUS

(By W. Holt Harris.)

The lack of advertising made Poe starve at 40.

The true aim of advertising is to attract permanent buyers.

Advertising made Homer great thousands of years after he was born.

To the domestic economist the advertising columns are financial sections.

Advertising is the peddler who brings the ware of the world into the home each day.

Advertising is as much a part of modern life as electricity, antiseptic surgery or trolley traction.

Advertising began when the eager merchant went out on the street and button-holed the pedestrian to get his attention.

THE SPIRIT OF VACATION.

Every person who plays a full part in the keen struggle of modern life, deserves a vacation, says Leslie's Weekly.

True. There is neither man nor woman who can keep the twentieth century pace full fifty-two weeks a year. Human endurance, like unto charity, attains its limit. Overtaxing the energy of man is correspondingly similar to overloading a machine of delicate, intricate and irreplaceable parts.

Remember the man who sat down on the safety valve? There was a blow-up. Man is no lesser than his creation; vacation, therefore, is his safety valve.

Travel has become the accepted way of spending vacations. Tourists flood east, west, north, south and Europeward. But to the attraction-hunter, to the searcher after rest or pleasure, the hunter for mountain-top breezes or hot springs, the land of Texas holds out glittering, yet honest welcome.

The resources of the state are not alone industry. Texas has fifty-seven varieties of climate a thousand parks as nature placed them, lands abounding with game, rivers choked with fish, and the thunder of the tide on her boundaries.

Texasland is vacation land.

DEBT, DIRT AND THE DEVIL.

Sam Jones said that Dirt, Debt and the Devil were the three great enemies of mankind. We reckon Sam was right. There are others, perhaps, but this trio is strong enough to keep the average man busy. Dirt covers and contains a conglomerate mass of evil, in which is included weeds, garbage, waste matter of all kinds, mosquitoes and flies, with the accent on the fly. The homeless fly is a harmless fly. Dirt makes his home. No dirt, no home, no fly. Quod Erat Demonstrandum.

We have a speaking acquaintance with the second in this trio of evils and take it from us, it is some warisome. Debt makes wrinkles on the otherwise smooth and handsome countenance of many a person on both sides of the proposition. Debt is a two-edged sword, which sometimes cut to the quick, both borrower and lender. Debt is a habit which, if indulged in often enough, will abrade the disposition, and cause cofts to grow on the conscience. As to the last named, we cannot speak except from hearsay, as we have had no experience or acquaintance with him.—Mineral Wells Hustler.

INDIGESTION AND CONSTIPATION.

"About five years ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets after suffering from indigestion and constipation for years without finding anything to relieve me. Chamberlain's Tablets helped me at once and by using them for several weeks I was cured of the complaint," writes Mrs. Mary E. McMullen, Phelps, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

BREACH WITH CARRANZA OPEN

El Paso, Texas, June 17.—Pancho Villa's men are today in charge of every office in Juarez, civil and military. Men appointed by Col. Ornelas, a Villa lieutenant, are in charge of the telegraph office and the office of information is closed. Perez Abreu, who conducted it, is said to be in El Paso. Few changes were necessary, as practically every civil and military official in the town was a Villista. L. V. Anaya, the mayor, was not in his office today. He is a Carranza adherent, it is said.

Col. Tomas Ornelas, garrison commander, would make no statement today. Absolute silence is being maintained by every man in an official capacity in the border town relative to events of Tuesday evening. All are either ignorant of what is taking place or profess to be so. Col. Ornelas says he has nothing to say. Villa has evidently ordered a strict censorship in effect.

He made an announcement today that the Spaniards may return to Torreon, supposed to be a sop thrown to public opinion in this country.

Villa's officials dispossessed all Carranza officials in Juarez Tuesday evening without bloodshed. That the expelled Spaniards could return to their homes and ranches in the Torreon district without fear of violence and without being in danger of another expulsion act, was a statement made in Juarez Wednesday morning by Lazaro de la Garza, Villa's commercial agent.

As suddenly and quickly as he captured Juarez from the federals last November, Villa took complete possession Tuesday night of the railway and telegraph between Juarez and Torreon. Carranza adherents in charge of civil offices in villages and towns in Chihuahua were supplanted without a moment's warning by men loyal to Villa. The change was made without bloodshed and with few arrests, so far as can be learned.

The move took place between 6 and 7 o'clock Tuesday night. The first inkling of it came when Col. Tomas Ornelas, commander of the Juarez garrison and a strong Villa man, led a squad of soldiers into the telegraph office and ordered that all papers be left where they were. A. de la Torres, director of the office and a Carranza appointee, was permitted to depart unmolested. Wednesday morning three new telegraph operators were busy over the keys and a man appointed by Ornelas was in charge.

Next door to the telegraph office is the office of information, conducted by H. Perez Abreu, a Carranza man. Into this room the Villa soldiers were led by an officer who ordered that nothing be removed from it. No violence was offered Perez, who remained in the office with his staff of assistants.

Then the soldiers spread quickly through other offices in the customs house and the building was soon under "martial law." Most of the civil officials in the customs service are Villa supporters, but several suspected of being in sympathy with Carranza did not appear for work Wednesday morning.

At the same hour, according to reports reaching the border today, similar scenes were being enacted in Chihuahua, Jimenez, Parral, Santa Rosalia and other cities between the frontier and Torreon. The state is almost wholly in sympathy with Villa, which accounts for the absence of violence.

NEW BRIDGE ABOUT FIVE MILES NORTH OF PECOS

The Commissioners Court was in session Wednesday and during their session granted the petition signed by O. Mitchell and 108 other citizens asking that a bridge be erected across the Pecos river near the old adobe bridge above Pecos.

The Bridge and Steel Construction Company of El Paso are drawing the plans and specifications and as soon as they are received bids will be advertised for and the contract awarded at the regular July session of the Commissioners Court.

This is one of the best moves that our citizens have made in many moons and will be greatly appreciated both by the Pecos people and those up the river, as well as Loving and Winkler county citizens. Let the good work go on.

REUNION OF AN OLD TEXAS FAMILY.

Three brothers and two sisters, J. M. Hedgecoke of Oude, New Mexico, W. P. Hedgecoke and S. M. Hedgecoke of Plemons, Texas, and Mrs. Rose L. Haynes of Lubbock, Texas, and Mrs. J. B. Cole of Pecos, Texas, have been enjoying a reunion this week at the home of Mrs. Cole. For several years they have been meeting at each others homes and have agreed to keep the meeting up each year. They are all native Texans, having been reared in Grayson and Denton counties. Their parents came from North Carolina among the early settlers in North Texas. They were of the sturdy frontier families and reared their children on the great broad prairies where they learned to love the freedom, contentment and independence so characteristic of the sons and daughters of this mighty commonwealth. Their meetings are simple and informal. They chat like children together and repeat the history of the old home and fireside while smiles and tears mingle as they recall the story of the vanished years.

All of them have their families of children and grandchildren, making in all a large number. Among them there reigns the lofty spirit of true honor and morality. Their manner of life is plain and unpretentious, yet happy and joyous. They are all useful citizens in their respective communities and enjoy the love and confidence of their fellow citizens.

J. M. Hedgecoke is engaged in the mercantile business at Ende, New Mexico. W. P. Hedgecoke is a druggist and has a store at the county seat of Huteson county, and is also the county surveyor. S. M. Hedgecoke is district clerk of his county. Mrs. Haynes is a teacher in the public school at Lubbock, where her husband is the county judge. Mrs. Bernice Churchill, daughter of S. M. Hedgecoke, attended the reunion with her father. She is postmistress at Plemons.

All these visitors declared themselves pleased with Pecos and their entire visit. They meet next year with Mrs. Haynes at Lubbock.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Reeves County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Andrew Moses by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 70th judicial district, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Reeves county, Texas, to be held at the court house thereof, in Pecos, on the second Monday in July, A. D. 1914, the same being the 13th day of July A. D. 1914, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 27th day of February, A. D. 1914, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 442, wherein W. C. Welborn is plaintiff and Andrew Moses is defendant, and the cause of action being alleged as follows: That on July 1, 1910, defendant purchased from plaintiff an undivided one-fourth interest in section 249, block 13, H. & G. N. R. R. Co. survey, Reeves county, Texas, paying part cash and agreeing to pay one-fourth of a note for $2,922.67, executed by plaintiff and one Carson, one McQueen and one Shiba, payable to W. S. Benson, March 1, 1912. That while said note was payable to W. S. Benson on its face, in fact plaintiff possessed an interest therein amounting to $417 due to plaintiff by Benson, as commission for the sale of said section of land. And it was agreed between plaintiff herein and Benson that plaintiff was to receive said sum when said note was paid March 1, 1912.

Plaintiff alleges that when said note came due defendant did not pay the full sum of said note to Benson, but stated to Benson that he had settled with plaintiff in regard to same and deducted from sum of $417.00 from said note, paying Benson the balance.

Plaintiff alleges that defendant has never at any time settled with him in re his interest in said note nor paid him any part of same. Plaintiff prays for judgment against defendant for his debt, principal and interest and costs of suit, etc.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITION

Dallas, Texas, June 13.—The fair weather over the state since June 1 marks a wonderful improvement in the crop outlook, and in spite of the lateness and handicap caused by the wet spring, present conditions justify the expectation of normal yields in some crops in the eastern half of the state that were almost despaired of a month ago. The drying out of the fields and opportunity to use the harvesters has resulted in the cutting of nearly all the wheat and oats in Central and Northern Texas; and farmers are finding that while their yields are not so good as were hoped for they are much better than was expected. It is not thought that the government estimate of 16,500,000 bushels of wheat will be realized, but the state will produce and market not less than 13,500,000 to 14,000,000 bushels if there are no further unfavorable conditions to offset the present outlook.

The conditions as regards oats are hardly so favorably as for wheat. In the Plains country a greater than normal yield will be made, but farther south in the small grain country the condition of the crop, owing to the excessive rains, becomes less good. The oat crop in South Texas is practically a total loss owing to damage from rains and rust; however, taking the state as a whole, a yield of from 21,000,000 to 24,000,000 bushels of oats may be expected as against last year's yield of 31,000,000 bushels.

The harvesting of the small grain crop will make 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 acres of land available for further use and farmers should break, harrow and plant these fields to soil renovating crops, such as cowpeas, peanuts, soy beans, and other nitrogen gathering legumes, which can be plowed under for humus in the winter or used as pasturage for livestock, or both. The loss arising from leaving such a great body of land lying idle and subject to washes in the fall rains is a great one to the farmers and business interests and should by all means be changed into a gain from livestock and increased fertility. Cotton, corn, kafir or milo should not be planted on the stubble lands.

The U. S. Crop Reporter places the condition of the Texas cotton crop at 65 per cent of normal, the lowest for many years. Considering the back set from excessive rainfall, and the April freeze, the failure to replant full acreages in many cases, and the weedy condition of the crop, this estimate is justified. But the business men and farmers of Texas should remember that the unfavorable outlook will be and is being materially changed for the better by better weather conditions, the replanting, and the cultivating and hoeing that the cotton has been getting since the estimate was made. The lateness cannot, of course, be made up, but the other unfavorable factors can be and are being measurably changed for the better.

The corn on the uplands in North and South Texas is in very fine shape and promises good yields. The loss in the lowlands through overflows can yet be made up to a very considerable degree by planting kafir, milo, Spanish peanuts, or other heavy yielding, quick maturing crops. The corn crop, with average weather conditions henceforward, should not be less than 100,000,000 bushels, which is approximately 65 per cent of last year's yield; with one or two good rains about the time of forming the ear, the crop should be very much better than 65 per cent, although it will be considerably later than that of last year. The corn and cotton should receive frequent, shallow cultivation until they have matured, to preserve all the moisture now in the ground.

The almost total loss of the oat crop in South Texas, so far as the effect on business conditions is concerned, is made up in part by the marketing of good berry and cabbage crops earlier in the season and the fact that by June 1 more than 1800 carloads of onions had been sold from that section at better prices than the growers have received before. As to feed, the loss of the oat crop can be offset by heavy acreages of kafir, milo, fetarita and the hay crops, which can still be planted and may be expected to make good yields with the thorough soaking the ground has received.

The East Texas tomato crop has suffered like all the other crops, but the clear, fair weather of the past two weeks has raised the outlook from a 65 per cent yield to a much more favorable prospect. It places a normal production is expected. The early cantaloupes and tomatoes in the Houston district, where a rainfall for May of 45.17 inches was reported, were water-soaked and of a very poor quality, but with a clearing of the weather there has been a corresponding increase of quality. The South Texas potato crop was reduced to about a 40 per cent yield. Rice that was planted before April 1 will make good yields, but this was but a small acreage. Indications are for a rice crop about equal to the poor crop of last year, or 9,500,000 bushels.

Generally speaking, the crop conditions and outlook over the state are 10 to 20 per cent better than on June 1, owing to the cessation of general rains permitting the farmers to resume their work.

The berry crop of Northeast Texas, about 60 per cent of normal, has been marketed, and early peaches are coming in. There will be few peaches for shipping as compared with former years, probably 10 to 20 per cent, as the Texas demand will about take up the supply. The cotton and corn acreage will be reduced by 15 per cent. These crops are getting active cultivation at this time and rounding into shape in a very encouraging way. The cessation of the rains at the end of May stopped wholesale losses from rust in the small grain crops at the beginning, and the wheat and oats are now mostly harvested. The acreage of grain sorghums will be larger than that of last year.

Northwest Texas.—The wheat and oats crops are in fine shape, and harvesting is beginning. Practically every county north of the Texas and Pacific railway and west of the Fort Worth-Gainesville branch of the Santa Fe reports a larger acreage and better yields of wheat with little damage resulting from rain and hail. The wheat crop in Northwest Texas should be about 130 per cent of last year's crop; the oats much less, say 110 per cent. The corn and cotton crops are in good shape, and from present indications will make average though somewhat late yields. There will be practically no fruit in this section of the state. The ranges were never in better condition, and the cattle industry is in correspondingly good shape. Crop conditions in Northwest Texas are relatively much better than in any other section, taken as a whole.

Central Texas.—Hard hit by the incessant spring rains, the 1914 crop of Central Texas has received damage that cannot be wholly made up. The oat crop suffered considerably from rust before the cessation of the rains, and the wheat to a less degree. In Bosque, Comanche, Erath, Hood, Hamilton, Johnson and Somerville counties the yield will be no better than that of last year on a larger acreage; in Bell, Milam, Travis, Williamson, and other south central counties, the yields will be from 40 to 60 per cent. In a few counties on the western side of this section, Lampasas, San Saba, and McCullough, the small grain crop will be two to three times as large as in 1913. Corn and cotton prospects are also good in these three last named counties, but elsewhere in Central Texas the damage to corn and cotton runs up to 50 per cent. A considerable acreage of the damaged territory has been replanted since June 1 in feed and forage crops. The wheat and oat crops in Central Texas may be figured at about 65 per cent, the cotton at about 70, and the corn at 75 per cent.

Southeast Texas.—This section, lying lowest in the state, has received the greatest rainfall and the greatest damage. The Houston branch of the Weather Bureau reports a rainfall of 15.47 inches for May, more than three times the May average for 32 years. This unusual condition has covered parts of a dozen counties lying from northwest of Houston eastward to Sabine and northward along that stream. The damage to the corn, cotton, potatoes, truck, and berries since April 1 has been heavy, the field crops having been washed out as fast as they were planted. However, the crops are being replanted again since the cessation of the rains, and there will be a fair acreage of corn and cotton. The rice yield is expected to be little, if any, smaller than for 1913, and the potatoes are hardly half a crop. As one goes south from Houston the crop conditions improve. In the Corpus Christi country the conditions and outlook as regards corn, cotton, and the grain sorghums are stated to be very fine, better than for years, with slightly increased acreages. The beginnings of trouble from the boll weevil are reported in Liveoak and Bee counties.

Southwest Texas.—This section, devoted mainly to livestock growing, is in fine shape. The wool clip is 250,000 pounds greater than that of last year with a good demand for every pound. Cattle ranges are in fine shape, and a number of full Great crops of truck have been mar-
