Over in Oklahoma one of the business concerns using a great many wagons had been considering the question of axle grease.

Apparently no conclusion could be reached from the statements of competitive sellers of the products, so the company decided to make a test.

Two NEW wagons which had just been delivered to the company were selected for the test. To one wagon a competitive grease was applied on both front and rear wheels, Texaco grease being used on the other.

They were set to work. In five days the competitive grease was done, the spindles got hot and a new application was required.

IN NINE DAYS TEXACO GREASE WAS STILL GOOD, SPINDLES IN PERFECT CONDITION READY FOR ONE MORE DAY.

Texaco service on wagons is like Texaco service on anything else, ready to give unusual value to the man who uses it.

Take advantage of Texaco quality by buying the Red-Star-Green-T oils. Made in Texas.

It is the printed page which deals most intimately and with the greatest detail in the movements of the present. It is THE VOICE OF NOW proclaiming to the world the things that are happening today. The Government of the United States is NOW gravely concerned in certain aspects of the war in Europe and has had trust on it several serious international problems which are NOW in process of solution. The American farmer is NOW interested in this titanic struggle, for his interests are being affected by it today and will be tomorrow, and he wants to keep in close touch with it NOW.

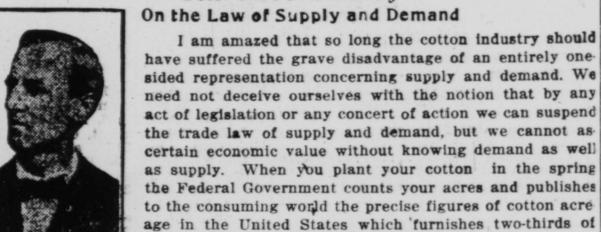

EVERYBODY is interested in the cotton crop from the time of its planting to the days of its harvesting and marketing. They want to know "the NOW" in all that pertains to the great Southern staple; they want to know "the NOW" of all other agricultural markets, the latest in modern farming, the facts of the warehousing problem, and all else that pertains to the progress of the times in every theater of life.

The tens of thousands of men and women who know the Semi-Weekly Farm News know it is "THE VOICE OF NOW," telling in direct and positive tones of what is going on at home and abroad, the production and thereby constitutes two-thirds of the productive influence upon the cotton market. The government reports the condition of the crop and continues month by month to report its condition until the crop is picked and then it begins in September to count and report the bales that are ginned and continues to count and report the bales every month until the ginning is concluded. So that from the time the crop is planted until the last bale is ginned the buying world knows by accurate official representation the acreage, the condition and output from month to month, and yet at no time does the producing world know the condition of the consumption of the product.

Those of us who have been laboring in this field have made repeated efforts by formal communication and by personal interview with congressional and administrative officials at Washington but have been utterly unable to obtain the desired results. I am compelled to state this blunt fact, not in any captious spirit but for the purpose of demonstrating to you that relief in this important particular must come through the cotton states themselves. We Democrats have talked so long about State sovereignty as a negative quality in resistance to the encroachments of the Federal Government and as a bulwark against the usurpation and the tyranny, actual or potential, which follow from the concentration of political power in the hands of the Federal government, that we have forgotten the positive qualities of State sovereignty. We have lost sight of the fact that the State possesses all powers except in so far as it has conferred certain powers upon the Federal Government and in so far as the sovereign people have reserved certain powers to themselves. Sovereignty in the political sense means state omnipofence within the limits of human endeavor. Except as to the limitations I to which I have already referred, the sovereignty of the State is as complete and as boundless as the sovereignty of the monarch who assumes the divine right of kings. In an emergency of this kind, the State is warranted, and, indeed, under the very obligation of legislation, this body is commanded to conserve the public welfare by any device of legislation that does not palpably offend the Constitution.

PECOS—THE TRADE CENTER

Why is Pecos the center of trade There must be some reason or se of reasons why Pecos is the center for commercial activity in this section of the country. Perhaps the following facts hav a bearing on th subject:

orable lot, who at all times have the E. R. Cox, left Wednesday for Balinterest of the people in mind. If such a condition is not an inducement and a drawing card that invites the people to come to this section, we do not know what it would take to draw, unless it be a newspaper of the caliber of The Pe cos Times, the paper that these same merchants advertise in, telling the people what they have, knowthat The Times is the best paper published in the west and has the largst circulation of any paper between Fort Worth and El Paso. Marfa, 550 head of 3 and 4-year The Times is a great news gatherer old steers delivery to be made about giving the news every week while August 1st. it is fresh, when it is physically possibly to do so. Regardless of the howl of hard times, this paper has steadily increased its subscription list, and at the present writing has more paid in advance subscribers than ever before in its history. Why shoudn't business men advertise in its columns if they wish to build up their trade?

Pecos is the county seat, and has a fine courthouse and jail-the lat ter empty most of the time-and more concrete sidewalks than many mountains. When the parties rea city twice her size. A fine lot of councilmen who are busy at all times looking after the sanitary condition of the back yards and alleys as well as the front. Pecos has been chosen as the site of one of the best county fairs in the whole state, and jjust now is preparing for the 5th annual celebration of this great educational feature, the dates being set for September 15-18, inclusive, 1915. Through its columns, on behalf of the management, we invite all who are not residents of this God-given sppot, Reeves County, to come and help us celebrate, and incidentally see what we are doing-the unlimited resources that are ours.

These are but few of the tings that go to make Pecos a center of attraction and a drawing card to those who live in the surrounding instrictions to enforce this law. territory.

Genuine Paprika is NOTa Kind of Cayenne Pepper

the they look alike, most of 13 have a sort of general impresion that Cayenne (Red) Pepper nd Paprila are made of pretty much the same thing, only that per hotter than the other. And the difference in the "burn" tem comes from the way ney re made or by putting somehing jato the Haprika to sweeten

The best Cayenne is ground from or a leat come all the way from est laures. Of cour e, some of the lower grides of Cayenne come from jamaica, South Amer-Menico and our own South, but when we speak of Cayenne we refer to the choicest, most pungent and finest flavored, such as White Swan Red Pepper. The real Paprika though comes trom Spain or Hungary and has no Cayeane mixed with it. It is en entirely different pod than Caycane and is used to flavor with its own delightful and distinctive taste, mild and sweet, while Cayenne is used primarny to make. things hot. And yet though so discrent it belongs to the rell pepper family. Therefore, it is possible to use ordinary red perpers in making a so-called Paprilla and to call it by a name similar to this and be within the letter of the law It is more hot then toxtyyet it might pass for Paprila. Here again you must buy your Paprika under the brand of a copany whose standing and integri. are both beyond question, if you are to be certain of getting a Paprika that has the real and delicie. flavor that only the best can have We guarantee to you that Whit Swan Paprika is genuine and un-adulterated—packed to preserve all flavor and goodness.

Your grocer sells White Swan Red Pepper and White Swan Paprika -both of distinguished quality, purity and strength.
