HONOR TO WHOM HONOR BELONGS

Over 300 at Anniversary Dinner at Oriental.—James Collins and Others on Program.

October 12th, has, by common usage and law, been declared to be a legal holiday in honor of Christopher Columbus, the discoverer of America, on the 12th day of October, 1492, and the celebration of this day has been kept up as an annual holiday by numerous lines of businesses and by religious orders, and more especially by the Catholic. The Knight of Columbus and Catholics combined and made this a great rally day in Dallas last Tuesday by the closing up of banks and some of the large mercantile companies, a description of which is reported below, taken from the Dallas News:

More than 300 men and women attended the Columbus Day banquet and dance given last night at the Oriental Hotel under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. An 8-course dinner was served and responses were made to the following toasts: "The President of the United States," the Honorable J. J. Collins; "The Honor dus Columbus"; "Christopher Columbus," Raymond E. Roehl; "American Citizenship," E. J. Davoren, State Deputy. M. Murphy, toastmaster.

Grace was said by the Rt. Rev. Father B. H. Diamond. All of the city commissioners were among the guests.

When introducing Mr. Collins, Toastmaster Murphy proposed a toast to President Wilson. Every one stood and drank the toast.

Arrangements for the banquet were made by George T. Burgess, grand knight of the Dallas Council, E. J. Davoren and William O'Connell.

The banquet hall was beautifully decorated with American beauties and other flowers.

"It is indeed a pleasure to lay aside our business cares at least once a year and contemplate the great achievements of Christopher Columbus," said Toastmaster Murphy. "I want to express in behalf of the Knights of Columbus appreciation for the increasing attention being paid to the discovery of this wonderful land of ours."

During his talk Mr. Collins said: "The basic principles of Christopher Columbus rested upon the cardinal foundation of this country—freedom and equality," he said. "It is forces of this order that bind us together for progressiveness and development and mutual protection."

Mr. Collins told about the despotic rules of many of the Kings and Emperors of the old country and depicted the subjection of the people.

"The prayers of those who have suffered under the lash were finally heard and at last the persecuted of the old country came to America, and declared themselves free from the rule of tyrants and set up a democratic government with a constitution embodying equality of the voice in government and religious freedom," said Mr. Collins.

He explained how the war in Europe resulted in the declaration of liberty and how the victory for the United States resulted in the establishment of a government guaranteeing to each citizen the inalienable privileges of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. He paid a tribute to George Washington and recited incidents to show that he was great as well as first in the

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Once again we are called upon to review the life and recall the memory of a departed brother. Sunday October 3rd, three p. m., the Death Angel came and took the spirit of one more of our brothers to the God who gave it.

Brother Thomas J. Hefner was one among the first to be made a Mason in this lodge. Now he has answered the call of the Supreme Grand Master from labor unto rest, where he will find refreshments in the Mansions of the blest.

Our Brother was born in Fayette County, Texas, March 31st, 1858, where he spent the days of his early youth. After enjoying the common school advantages, he entered Trinity University, a Presbyterian College at Tehuacana, Texas, finishing in 1882. Brother Hefner married Miss Annie Morgan at Tehuacana, December 25th, 1883. He was licensed to practice law at Breckenridge, Texas some time in 1884. He moved to Pecos, Texas, December, 1885, where he at once entered into the practice of law with Mr. A. M. Walthall as partner. Shortly thereafter he was appointed County Attorney, which necessitated his resignation from this partnership. After serving some years as County Attorney, he was elected to the office of County Judge, which office he held continuously from 1896 to 1910, fourteen years.

To Brother Hefner and wife were born nine children, three girls, Etta May, Willie, who died some years ago, and Clara. The sons are, Clifton, Robert, Charles, Burette, Wycliffe, and Balsler, all of which are still living. May they be as noble men as was their father.

A more loyal and devoted wife we do not know. Through all of the suffering and confinement, in his home, of Brother Hefner, she suffered with him.

A true, lawful and abiding brother, loyal indeed to all his friends, to his lodge to his family, and to his church and his Master. So firm his faith, so true his love, so cheerful with him.

SAYS LIQUOR IS NEARING ITS HEAD OF UNION.

President of W. C. T. U. Says That the Prohibition Sentiment is Sweeping the World.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 11.—There was a note of triumph in the address with which Anna A. Gordon, the president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, here today, greeted the first business session. Her address came after a report of the executive committee and the appointment of credentials and other committees.

"Looking backward over the past 20 months and forward to the great year of 1916, one might epitomize the temperance movement in retrospective and prospect as a movement of victorious yesterdays and confident tomorrows," said Miss Gordon.

"Those months chronicle an unprecedented number of prohibition victories. The temperance transformation of Russia; the anti-liquor measures in effect in German, French and English military circles; the complete abolition of alcohol in the United States Navy, and in the Panama Canal zone; the outlawing of the liquor traffic in Virginia, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Arkansas, Idaho, Iowa, Alabama, and South Carolina; the majority vote for state-wide prohibition in both branches of the Utah legislature; the triumph of the enemies of the saloon in a large number of counties and cities; the upholding by the United States Supreme court of the constitutionality of the prohibition provision of the Indian treaties—making one-fifth of Minnesota dry; the victorious prohibition elections in 45 of Minnesota's counties; the battle royal for prohibition in the District of Columbia; the total abstinence regulation enforced by many railroad and industrial corporations; the decrease at the rate of $1,250,000.00 a month in the internal revenue collections on distilled spirits despite the fact that wines are paying high tax rates as a result of the emergency war tax law enacted by the last congress; the enactment in prohibition states of stricter enforcement of laws; the discussion of total abstinence and prohibition by press and popular magazines, and the too marked decrease in liquor advertising; the growth of the anti-alcohol sentiment in the medical world—these with the endorsement of National Constitutional Prohibition by hundreds of influential organization and the out-spoken declarations of men prominent in official and political life of the United States and of other nations in favor of prohibition and total abstinence, have given a marvelous impetus to the movement for the banishment of John Barleycorn from the business, the social and the political life of the civilized world."

The speaker said that all White Ribboners were praying for the success of the cause at the polls in Ohio next month and in Vermont next spring.

TEXAS GOES ON A DEFICIT: GENERAL REVENUE GONE.

Austin, Texas Oct. 11.—The state of Texas went on a deficit today, the general revenue fund becoming exhausted, according to the announcement of the state treasurer J. M. Edwards, who also added that from present indications the state will remain on a deficit until about February 15, 1916.

Soon after opening the state treasury department today it became evident that the funds in the general revenue would not last during the day, and this afternoon there were no more funds available to pay current warrants.

Provision has been made however to meet all special warrants, that is warrants for special appropriations, also school warrants and Confederate pension warrants.

ALL CONVENIENCES NECESSARY TO WORK.

Aids in Maintaining Health and a Sunny Disposition, Which Does Much to Make Home Pleasant.

If the city housekeeper with all the modern improvements at her command requires system in her work, how much more necessary for the one who is compelled to do without such aids as can be obtained by getting all available labor-saving utensils and studying the approved methods of others who are successful housewives? She ought to secure help whenever she can. If she can have for herself the best kind of a cookstove, fireless cookers, steamers and other up-to-date appliances, she will not only save herself many steps, but will simplify her work to a degree that she would not otherwise dream of. She would, too, preserve much of the youth and beauty of her girlhood. This is impossible if forced to follow the plans and use of the same utensils and appliances that her grandmother used.

She should also study the art of sparing herself and conserving her strength and energy even to the extent of neglecting some things that she otherwise would be glad to do. Of course, this is not meant that she should on any account shirk any work that is of vital importance to the upkeep of her home, but it is meant to include such things as are not really necessary to be done at a certain time, or that should deserve such pains and effort as she would be able and willing to devote to them could she do so without jeopardizing her strength or her health. Sometimes for example, she might postpone for an hour or so the making of a bed the dusting of a room or other similar work until she feels that it would fatigue her less or until she is rested from the tasks already performed.

Many women make the mistake of feeling that it is necessary that they stand while doing all the work in the kitchen or elsewhere. There are many things that can be done while sitting and the housekeeper who is not as strong as she might be should take advantage of this and sit while doing them. Why should not a woman, for instance, sit while washing or drying the dishes using a high chair or stool. This she could do also while preparing vegetables for cooking. She could have also while thus at work a foot-stool on which to place her feet, as it will be found very restful. The fact that there are some who will call this practice laziness does not at all make it true. She is foolish.

THE PROPER SILO FOR TEXAS USE.

By H. G. Harvey.

It is of vital importance that every farm in Texas be equipped with a silo but it is equally important that the proper materials be used in its construction. Approximately 57 varieties of silos have been given a fair trial by the farmers of Texas in their diligent effort to systematize agriculture in this state and in some instances our farmers have paid dearly for their experience. A silo not adapted to the climatic and other natural conditions which exist in Texas is worse than no silo at all and the farmers of this state who contemplate erecting silos should study carefully their construction and adaptability to Texas conditions and select the kind best suited to their needs.

Some of the leading silo authorities of this state have been requested to state their views as to the best and most serviceable silo for Texas use and their opinions will appear in this paper from time to time. When asked to address the farmers of Texas on the subject of tile as a silo material, Mr. H. G. Harvey of the Texas Kalamazoo Silo Company, of Fort Worth, which has constructed all kinds of silos in every Texas locality, said in part:

"I consider the Tile Silo the only proper silo for Texas use. For absolute permanency and best results we recommend only silos made of Texas tile for successful operation in this state and our approval is based upon 42 years of testing and investigation.

The Tile Silo possesses every feature of every other silo without one drawback. Its peculiar construction affords a double air space and perfectly takes care of all atmospheric and temperature changes that come suddenly and unexpectedly in Texas.

The Tile Silo will withstand all internal strain with a good margin of safety besides and provides a construction that is frost and fire proof. It never requires any paint. The hoops never require tightening. It needs no anchoring against the wind. Its weight is sufficient to hold it and the surface is so smooth that there isn't the slightest toe-hold for the wind. It will practically never deteriorate in quality and it is absolutely indestructible. The Tile Silo is the most practical one for the Texas farmer to consider. It is the best material for silo construction for Texas conditions, Texas climate and Texas needs.

Because of the peculiar conditions in this state the Tile Silo is absolutely successful in other parts of the country may fail utterly in Texas due to climatic conditions unfavorable to the habits of the material of which they are built. We did not solve the silo question in Texas until we began constructing a Tile Silo made from Texas clay."

Shall It Be an Autoloading or Pump Gun?

THERE are many kinds of Autoloading and Pump guns—some to be had at very low prices.

But it is typical of sportsmen that the great majority prefer Remington-UMC Pump and Autoloading guns in the hands of the average man.

If you shoot at traps or in the field, go to the Remington-UMC Dealer in your community and let him show you these guns. You will know him by his display of the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—Sportsmen's Headquarters—and he knows the difference in guns.

MESSIAH'S KINGDOM.

Glorious Day of Divine Favor Near.

The period in which sin is permitted has been a dark night to humanity, never to be forgotten; but the glorious day of righteousness and divine favor is soon to be ushered in by Messiah. He, as the Sun of Righteousness, shall arise and shine fully and clearly into and upon all, bringing healing and blessing, which will more than counterbalance the dreadful night of weeping, sighing, pain, sickness and death, in which the groaning creation has been so long. "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

TO RESIST THE ATTACK—of the germs of Consumption, Scrofula, Grip, Malaria, and many other diseases—means fight or die for all of us. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the germs, if the liver is inactive and the blood impure.

What is needed most is an increase in the germ-fighting strength. To do this successfully you need to put on healthy flesh, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spot," or soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself.

It cures troubles caused by torpid liver or impure blood.

LIBRARY NOTES.

The beginning of school, marked a decided decline in the number of books loaned by the library. During the month of August 526 books were loaned, but during the month of September only 358 books were borrowed.

Twenty-one new books were added during the month of August, and the Library purchased 31 books in September. This makes a total of 1145 volumes now in the library. Sixteen new cards have been issued to borrowers since the last report was made, making a total of 414 people who borrowed books. Many of these borrow several books a week and some of the younger readers borrow a book a day.

Readers at the library will hereafter be able to find the latest copy of their favorite magazine on the reading table. The purchasing committee have decided to subscribe to the Literary Digest, the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, etc. Any suggestions as to magazines desired by readers will be welcomed by the committee.

The Twentieth Century Club are studying Texas History, and have borrowed from the State Historical Library many volumes on that subject. The books are on the West shelf and are accessible to all readers while they are here. The local library association is a member of the State association and has access thereby, to books in the state library at Austin. Anyone wishing to obtain reference books from the State library may consult Mrs. Looby, the local librarian, and the loan may be secured through her.

A complete library of musical reference books is to be found on the north shelves, and near by will be found a fine lot of books on the subject of Domestic Science and Household management.

The students of Shakespeare also have a complete list of reference books in their line.

The ways and means Committee have secured a number of fine engravings and photogravures which are for sale at the library. An exhibit of these etchings is being arranged for the holidays, and it is hoped that many will take advantage of the opportunity of obtaining a beautiful copy of a standard painting for a gift to their friends.

ful his hope, that he had as one of his most favorite songs, which was sung at his funeral: "There'll Be No Dark Valley, When Jesus Comes to Gather His Loved Ones Home."

Brother Hefner was initiated and entered apprentice, September, he passed to the degree of a Fellow-Craft, October, and was made a Master Mason, December 29th, 1894. Being true to his obligations as a Master Mason, he was found worthy and received the R. A. M. and Council degrees January 23, 1900, in Pecos, Texas, Chapter No. 218. Brethern, his life is worthy of our emulation. He was loyal to his lodge and to every true and worthy brother. By his conduct, loyalty, and his life, he said: "I swore to help with generous care

All those in sorrow hidden;
The brother on the darkened square.

The mourner with disheveled hair,

The orphan doomed, alas, to stray,

Upon a cold and wintry day,

While tears gush forth unbidden.

I swore to deal in honesty

With each true heart around me,

That honor bright should ever be

Unbroken bond twixt you and me

No wrong, no guilt or cruel fraud

Should ever loose the noble cord

By which my vows have bound me.

I swore the chastity to shield

Of woman true and tender,

Of Mason's widow, wife and child,

His mother, sister, undefiled;

Make Mason's homes like that above,

I am their sworn defender.

I swore to guard the portals close

Of the Masonic Temple,

And purge the quarries of their dross,

And build the mystic walls of those

Of bodies perfect, honest hearts,

Of minds mature in moral arts,

By precept and example."

And to each of us personally, Brethern:

"These are your vows: be they your

Cares;

And may such aid be given,

In answer to your honest prayers

That you may ever do and dare

All God's gracious laws enjoined,

So when, at last, evening shade declines,

You, also, may be found in Heaven."

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR BELONGS

hearts of his countrymen.

The democracy of America drew to this country the oppressed of all nations and all races and made sons of freedom out of subject, he said. He outlined and praised the Monroe Doctrine and explained how it was another great step toward freedom.

"President Woodrow Wilson sits upon the throne we built for him, and we selected him as our ruler voluntarily. We claim greater triumphs in peace than we do in war. We believed we had a right to fight whenever we went to war, and we can see good results from each and every carnage of warfare in which this country has been engaged.

Mr. Collins delineated the contrast between the destructive war in Europe and the peaceful and prosperous condition of the United States. He called president Wilson the greatest statesman of the day, and praised him for maintaining our peaceful relations with all nations.

The Honorable Hutton W. Summers, Congressman of the 5th Texas District, said:

"Columbus is due the credit of bringing civilization to America, and the wonderful resources of a new world to the residents of Europe. No one can appreciate properly the value of the discovery of Columbus."

He explained that congested Europe needed an outlet for its residents and needed additional trade territory. The world needed a place for the development of the individual. Man had reached the stage where he needed and demanded political and religious freedom and equality.

"The United States crowned man its King and Woman its Queen," he said. "This country has taught the world a wonderful lesson in democracy. Columbus, the undaunted, with his little ships, sailed out on the unknown sea to find America, after wandering about among the courts of Europe meeting with much disappointment. The birth of Christ is the only event in the history of the world that excels in importance the discovery of America."

Raymond E. Roehl called Columbus the pioneer of the crusaders of liberty. He was a man of destiny and he was most excellently fitted for the great undertaking of discovering America. Mr. Roehl then praised Columbus for his perseverance in the face of ridicule and disbelief and discontent.

"He was a crusader," said he, "he wore a cross on his chest and his first act in America was the erection of crosses. He stood for the principles of religious freedom and religious tolerance.

"You, Knights of Columbus, are the crusaders of 1915. When you are called upon in defense of the rights of freedom, in all things, meet them not with the sword, but with charity, tolerance and justice."

E. J. Davoren, responding to the toast of "American Citizenship," called George T. Burgess the best grand knight in America. He also praised the work of R. V. Shirley of the Dallas council.

"Before me," he said, "is the greatest possible assemblage of all American citizens. My definition of a good citizen is one who lives according to the dictates of Jesus Christ and of our democratic Constitution."

The banquet closed with the singing of America, all standing.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT LUNCHEON.

A delightful 1 o'clock three-course luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Warn, on October 9, 1915, was the occasion of much charm and surprise. From beneath each tasty place-card another prepared forth to disclose the following: "MISS DOROTHY WARM MR. JOHN H. HEARD. November 2."

Eight covers were laid, and each was marked by a single white carnation. The color scheme was strikingly carried out in green and white. The table was centered with beautiful white carnations tucked in with delicate ferns, and profusion of fragrant white flowers with green foliage stood up from cut glass jardiniere about the reception and dining rooms. Those who enjoyed the hospitality were Misses Dorothy Warn, Stella Weyer, Warren Collings, Lillian O'Connor, Gladys Prewit, Jane and Marian Looby, and Mrs. S. C. Heard.

Miss Irene Prewit graciously assisted in serving the dainty courses.

NOTICE—CLEAN YOUR FLUES
 This is the time of year to have your flues and chimneys inspected and repaired before you build a fire and burn up your house and possibly your neighbor's.
 Do not build a fire in your stove in which your flues have not been used since last Spring as you know that the spring, summer and fall winds vibrate your house and possibly cause the flues to shake sufficiently to crack them at the roof or ceiling.
 Such cracked flues may cause you to lose your house and contents by fire. A little precaution in time may save your property. See that all the soot and lint is cleaned out before using, as this soot and lint will catch fire and if there is a faulty place in your flues you are more than likely to have a fire. The larger portion of the fires we have are caused from faulty flues and this can be avoided by having your flues inspected and repaired.

KNOW THY STATE

THE SILOS' RELATION TO TEXAS AGRICULTURE.
By H. G. Harvey.

The silo in Texas is proving to be as important a factor in agriculture as the plow, and the present rapid construction of this agency of prosperity indicates that it will soon become as common on the farm. Fifteen silos are being constructed in Texas every day in the year and we now have about 15,000 in this state. There are 418,000 farms in Texas and there should be at least one silo on every farm. The farmers of this state should make a careful study of this modern farm equipment and its relation to Texas agriculture—No one knows the silo and its advantages better than the men who make them.

In discussing the possibilities of the silo in Texas, Mr. H. G. Harvey, who is the directing head of the Texas Kalamazoo Silo Company, at Fort Worth, said in part:

"During the last fifteen years the population of the United States has increased 12,000,000 but the production of beef animals has decreased 18,000,000 head in the same time. Cattle raising has dropped off in Texas to a greater extent than in any similar area of the United States, the reason is that most Texas farmers and stock raisers have been under the impression that grazing was necessary to the proper feeding of market cattle. It is not the case. The Texas farmer simply has not looked into the feeding question the way Northerners have. He merely took the position that cattle could not be profitably grazed in Texas, which was quite true and stopped at that.

By a proper feeding system the Texas farmer can produce better beef and at a lower figure than the Northern feeder can ever hope to attain.

The feeding of silage constitutes the proper system—it is self evident that the Northern farmers are raising beef and raising it profitably. Is it not a fact that there would be a good profit in it for the man who could raise beef for less than the Northern feeder and get just as much for it?

In Texas we have an advantage over the Northern farmer. We raise cotton. Cotton gives us seed and seed gives us the meal that is so greedily sought by the Northern feeder to feed with his silage.

There is not a farmer in Texas who cannot raise a better silo crop in the forepart of the season than any other crop he could produce, fill his silo with it and raise a succor crop on the same ground later in the year.

Silos would enable the farmers of Texas to fatten almost an unlimited number of cattle instead of limiting the herd as at present. He could feed his cattle through instead of selling them as he does now, getting little or nothing for them. Silos have proved invaluable in weaning calves. A calf can rustle through a hard time and live but he invariably shows the mark of his rustling in a stunted growth. Silage will make him a better steer and put dollars onto his frame that will return in welcome form.

Silos are the solution of the livestock problem in Texas just as it has proved to be in the North."

weeks previous to the return hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there is no newspaper published therein, if not, then in any newspaper published in the 70th Judicial District, but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 70th Judicial District, to appear at the regular term of the District Court of Reeves County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Pecos, Texas, on the fourth Monday of November, A. D. 1915, the same being the 22nd day of November, A. D. 1915, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of October, A. D. 1915, a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1587, wherein Aronson is plaintiff, and Zipporah Aronson is defendant, and said petition alleging suit for divorce on the ground that the defendant on or about April 2, 1901, voluntarily left the bed and board of the plaintiff with the intention of abandoning and has not since said time returned to plaintiff; and on the further ground that the plaintiff and defendant have lived apart without co-habitation for a longer period than ten years prior to the filing of this suit.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Pecos, Texas this the 5th day of October, A. D. 1915.

THE SELECTION OF FOODS

Knowing Just What Food is and What it is Supposed to Do Will Help Much.

Understanding the constituent elements of food, what it is and what it is supposed to do, can prevent food-dangers. There is nothing else that can, since if one does not know what he should have, he does not know what to buy nor how it is to be cooked. The possession of this knowledge however puts one in a position to know what is needed and how it should be prepared for eating. Scientists have worked on this matter until the store of information on the subject is now sufficient to make one feel safer in his selection of food, and knowing more what he needs. It is necessary to know how to live in a more wholesome and proper way and under right environment, in order to live with good health and to live happily. Human development depends upon the life supply and the needs being supplied. Food production needs to be of the provisions human lives can flourish upon, and distribution such as will reach all humanity.

"I see a man has just been arrested for a crime committed in the year 1870."
"That kind of news makes me so nervous."
"Why so?"
"When I was a young man I played the cornet."

The Voice of Now

It is the present, the today, the NOW in which we are interested. Shakespeare wisely says:

"Tomorrow never yet
On any living mortal rose or set."

It is the printed page which deals most intimately and with the greatest detail in the movements of the present. It is THE VOICE OF NOW proclaiming to the world the things that are happening today. The Government of the United States is NOW gravely concerned in certain aspects of the war in Europe and has had trust on it several serious international problems which are NOW in process of solution. The American farmer is NOW interested in this titanic struggle, for his interests are being affected by it today and will be tomorrow, and he wants to keep in close touch with it NOW.

EVERYBODY is interested in the cotton crop from the time of its planting to the days of its harvesting and marketing. They want to know "the NOW" in all that pertains to the great Southern staple; they want to know "the NOW" of all other agricultural markets, the latest in modern farming, the facts of the warehousing problem, and all else that pertains to the progress of the times in every theater of life.

The tens of thousands of men and women who know the Semi-Weekly Farm News know it is "THE VOICE OF NOW," telling in direct and positive tones of what is going on at home and abroad.

LUNG REQUIRE PURE, WARM MOIST AIR.

Nasal Passages Perform All of the Duties Demanded By Nature. Important to Babies.

The mode of the entrance into the body of air we breathe must be of the utmost importance to health and it may be well to consider for a moment how nature provides for the proper performance of the important function by the construction of the nose. In the first place it is essential that the outside air should be prepared in some way before it is fit to gain entrance to the delicate structures of which the lungs are composed.

The first necessity is that the air should be warmed. This is essential, for the difference of temperature between the ordinary air and the lungs is very great, especially in cold weather. Then it must be purified, for there are all manner of foreign bodies, apart altogether from the active bacteria which are present in the air, and would do untold harm if introduced into the lungs. And, thirdly, the air must be moistened, dryness having no place in the interior of the body at all.

The warming of the air which is of all things important where babies and young children are concerned is done by nature in the nostrils, where those little hairs which perform so usefully a process of filtering throw it to whirl about by the warm walls and afterwards through warm passages the walls of which wind about in complicated fashion, so that the air is getting warmer all the time. There is a wonderful system of regulation for the rich warm blood which acts as the heating agent of these walls, a fuller supply of course being present when the air outside is cold than otherwise, so that under all circumstances it reaches those delicate lungs at just the right temperature.

The changing of dry air into the moist condition is performed by a good many minute glands situated in the membrane lining the nasal cavities, which hold a watery secretion emitted as it is needed to charge the air with just the right amount of moisture.

It is, therefore, by the proper use of the nose as the agent of inhalation that the air reaches the lungs duly warmed, moistened and purified. Moreover, it is only by the nose that these necessary ends are reached, for when breathing is accomplished by the mouth it passes absolutely unfiltered and unmoistened into the lungs, and virtually unwarmed; for there is no arrangement whereby its journey is delayed sufficiently for it to be warmed to anything like the proper temperature, even when it is fairly warm to start with, and nothing like time enough to affect it when it is really cold, with the result that the chilly blast are always hurting the bronchial tubes and striking the fragile lungs in blasts of hastily gulped down air.

The subject is mentioned here to emphasize the importance of the proper use of the nose as a respiratory organ in children. Babies and small persons generally are naturally susceptible to cold. The delicate membranes and tissues inside have no more become hardened to adverse conditions than has the exterior. Life in the world, does, to a greater or less degree, accustom the human organism to adverse conditions, but such powers of resistance can only be gained by time and practice, and the little child has had the advantages of neither. It is, therefore incumbent on those who have charge of it to protect it from influences and dangers to which, from its very weakness and immaturity, it must readily fall a victim.

Emperor Nicholas of Russia has the distinction of being the first ruler to establish a government department of sports. It bears the name of the department of physical culture and is under the direction of a cabinet member.

Talks With the Boys

By J. L. HARBOR, IN THE VISITOR.

THE BOY WHO IS NOT BACGED UP.

I once heard two boys talking about another boy whom they knew. The boy had seemed to be doing well in some position in which he was, and the other boy said: "Why shouldn't he do well with a rich father to back him up? If you and I had such backing we could do as well."

"Yes, George" said the other boy "and we can do just as well without anyone to back us up—believe me, we can. Good backing isn't everything. When you come to the last analysis, it's the chap himself who has to do the trick that makes him a failure or a success. Being backed up isn't everything."

I felt like stepping up to that boy and saying: "You are right, my boy. All the backing up a boy can have will be of little avail if he has not certain qualities of his own. The fact is that too much backing up is often a hindrance instead of a help to a boy. He will develop faster if he is thrown on his own resources. If you will take the trouble to inquire into the matter, you will discover that the vast majority of the successful men of our country were never backed up by anyone. They had to do their own backing. I doubt of some of them would have achieved the greatness they did achieve if they had been constantly backed up by some one and thus been deprived of the development that comes from being thrown on one's own resources, and being compelled to think and act for one's self. I believe that too many a promising life has been completely spoiled by too much backing up. This is often the case with rich men's sons. Let no poor boy envy the son of a very rich man. One has only to look about him to discover the utter failures some of the sons of rich men have made of themselves. One may also discover instances of rich men's sons working as hard as any poor man's son does. Many of the idle rich young men have a wholly unused capacity for usefulness because they are the sons of rich men who foolishly supply them with money and allow them to live in idleness. I have just been reading the life-story of a man who never had any backing up, excepting that which was supplied by his own fixed determination to be a success in life. Although his widowed mother was so poor she had to make a "bound out" boy of him by apprenticing him to a tailor when he was ten years old and he was not even allowed to go to school, he rose to the distinction of becoming the president of the United States. His name was Andrew Johnson. If you want to read an inspiring illustration of a boy of the South who rose from utter poverty and obscurity to that of the highest office within the gift of his fellow-countrymen, I advise that you read the life of Andrew Johnson, a man who could not write until his wife taught him to do so. Discover if you can, the backing up that he had, except that of an undomitable will. The boy of today who thinks that he has no chance because he lacks the money or influential backing of friends might come to feel that if he can get along without this kind of backing if he will read the lives of Andrew Johnson or the life of that other great son of the South Abraham Lincoln. I have all the years of my own manhood been in constant association with boys and young men. I have watched the rise of many a poor boy to a position of successful achievement and a place of honor and influence in the community, and I have come to the definite conclusion that it is a good thing for a boy not to have too much backing up. I do not know but that I agree with Benjamin Franklin when he said in the terse way in which he said things, that the best thing for a boy was kick out of doors. Given this kind of backing the boy must either sink or swim, live or die, according to the amount of pluck and energy he has. The high-spirited boy, the genuinely manly boy asks no backing up beyond that he can himself supply. I know a man beyond sixty years of age who has gone through life constantly seeking some one to back him up, in this enterprise or that, that he was sure that it would result in tremendous financial success if he could only have the right kind of backing in carrying it thru. He is a poor man today and much of his time is spent in discoursing on the great fortunes he might have made if he could have had the proper backing. Like most people constantly looking for some one to back them up this many is a visionary, and he is lacking in most of the traits of character on which success in life depends. The boy who thinks that he cannot succeed without a great deal of backing up is making an admission of his weak points. The very best of backer up that a boy can have is just one person, and that person is himself.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you. (Advt.)

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Groe's

The Old Standard Groe's Tasteless Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS.

We had a good day last Sunday, 190 in the Sunday school, a fine congregation and two additions to the church.
By a large vote last Sunday morning it was decided to begin the revival services next Sunday morning. The pastor is to do the preaching and every body is expected to help.

It is earnestly desired that the meeting shall prove a decided blessing to all of our churches and to every home in and around Pecos. While the meetings are to be conducted under the auspices of the Baptist Church it is not expected nor desired that the Baptist Church alone shall be helped. We crave the salvation of the lost of our town regardless of the church they may afterward join.

We sincerely request that the choirs of the other churches come and take their places on the platform and feel at home. We expect to make the music a special feature of the meeting under the direction of an experienced singing evangelist.

Our motto for the meeting is: "A place for everyone. Something to do for all and nobody embarrassed."
Yours for the winnow of the lost

Mr. Jep Taylor Miles and Miss Ruby Marigold Chastain, two popular young people of our younger set, surprised their friends last Sunday night when they were quietly married. The wedding took place at the Methodist church immediately after the congregation had been dismissed and had left the building. Rev. J. C. Jones performed the ceremony. The groom is employed at the Pecos Mercantile Company and during his short stay among us has made a host of friends.
The bride is the daughter of Dick Chastain and is highly esteemed by all. The New Era joins in extending congratulations.

We are pleased to publish the above item from the Marfa New Era as Mr. Miles is well and most favorably known to most of the citizens of Pecos, having grown up to young manhood here.

The Times joins with the citizens and friends in extending congratulations and wishing the happy young couple long life, happiness and prosperity.
