C. E. Schaff
On Railway Investments

President Wilson recently referring to our railroad problems said in part: "They are indispensable to our whole economic life and railway securities are at the very heart of most investments, large and small, public and private, by individuals and by institutions. There is no other interest so central to the business welfare of the country, as this. No doubt, in the light of the new day, with its new understandings, the problem of the railroads will also be met and dealt with in a spirit of candor and justice."

When the first citizen of the land stresses the importance of understanding and dealing justly with the railroads, certainly the American plowmen can venture upon a study of the problem. C. E. Schaff, president of the M. K. & T. company, when asked to outline the relation of the public to railroad investments, said in part:

It may be said that the railroad world is encumbered with a lot of securities which exist only in the popular fancy. For instance, because there have been a few so-called 'railroad magnates' whose names have figured prominently in finance, many people have come to believe that the railroads of this country are largely owned by a few rich men. As a matter of fact, the ownership could be further from the truth. Out of the colossal sum of twenty billion dollars of American railroad securities, less than five per cent is now, as has been, in the hands of these men who have figured prominently in the newspaper headlines—while the other 95 per cent is in the hands of over a million investors, large and small, who in many instances have put the savings of a life time into these securities in order that they might have a competency for old age. When, therefore, the value of these securities is depressed or purchase destroyed, the hardship is a hundred-fold greater upon thousands of every-day citizens, than upon the handful of financiers, good or bad, who have figured prominently in railroad circles.

Hundreds of millions of dollars of the assets of our great life and fire insurance companies, savings banks, trust companies, educational and fiduciary institutions are invested in railroad bonds—and the moment, therefore, that the soundness of these bonds is called into question the financial solidity of these myriads of institutions—directly affecting the welfare of millions of policy-holders and bank depositors—is gravely menaced. During the last several years, many millions of dollars representing depreciated values, have been taken off the books of concerns like those enumerated above. American railroad bonds have become a vital part of the very wool and fabric of the nation. Continued efficiency is absolutely essential to the smallest community in the land.

Blindly striking at the railroads our blows fall not merely upon thousands who have committed no wrong, but, in the last analysis, upon ourselves. We should remember how interdependent we have come to be in this mighty republic of ours—that each is, in truth, becoming more and more his brother's keeper, and that we need to act and think circumspectly, lest in our mistaken haste we destroy those who, like ourselves, need whatever of this world's goods the toil and sweat of years has bequeathed to them."

Midland County Fair and Fat Stock Show

Exhibits of Cattle, Horses, Poultry and Agriculture as Fine as Can be Found Anywhere

The editor visited the Midland County Fair and Fat Stock Show Wednesday, and although it rained practically all day the attendance was fairly good and all in attendance had a splendid time, and were well repaid for the money expended and the time spent. The race track and polo grounds were boggy and therefore there was nothing doing in that line, but the exhibits were all under shelter and one's eyes could have feasted upon them alone for a whole week.

In the poultry department there were almost every breed of fowl and they were as fine as can be found anywhere. There is nothing better at any of the fairs.

The agricultural exhibit was simply grand and the editor never saw anything better in that line anywhere. It is useless to try to name the different kinds of products in this exhibit, for almost anything you can imagine that grows in the ground was there in its perfection.

The grand climax of the whole exhibit was entered in the live stock department—really in the cattle department. There, heretofore, and then some more heretofore, and black muleys and durhams, probably as many as 200—and every one a winner. While it was impossible to give each a blue ribbon, it occurred to the onlooker that each and every one should have had two or three.

Midland county is noted for its fine cattle, but they will have to be seen to be appreciated. There are no finer cattle in the world than there is in West Texas and Midland evidently has the cream of the whole west.

They had some very fine horses, too, but the cattle were the center of attraction and well deserved the attention given them.

The Midland Fair has been handicapped this year by the weather, but, notwithstanding this is probably the best fair ever held in West Texas.

HORSES TO TRADE FOR FEED

A good team of gentle match horses, work anywhere, either single or double. This is a good heavy team and worth the money. Will trade them for almost any kind of feed—grain, hay, cottonseed, etc. See or write D. H. Mitchell, Toyah, Texas.

Schools May Bar Children

Common colds are contagious and boards of health in many cities are considering barring children with colds from school. Foley's Honey and Tar is an old and reliable family medicine and frees children from coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Parents may save trouble by giving before school opens. Sold everywhere.

West Texas Goes Wet With Heavy Rains

At intervals all during the week it has been raining gently over Reeves county and last night (Friday night) probably the finest rain of the year fell. From the best information the Enterprise is able to obtain this morning the rain was general all over West Texas and was heavy enough to put the best season in the ground it has had for a year. Here in Toyah the rain was not heavy but it rained nearly all night, and at times pretty hard, and put all the way from four to six feet of water in the big T. & P. reservoir.

While the rains are late coming, if the frost will hold off for a while there is yet time to make grass and plenty of it. This should also start the weeds and make a good winter pasture.

The stockmen are happy and the ground is soaked.

Little Maxine Sparks Passes Away

Mrs. Hibdon received a telegram Sunday announcing the death on that day, the 19th instant, of little Maxine Sparks, the little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Sparks of Kiowa, Kansas, but who formerly lived here and who have many friends here who deeply sympathize with them in their great bereavement.

Maxine was an unusually bright and beautiful baby—just a sunbeam lent to earth for a few fleeting years—she is now with God on the other shore and is a beacon light to her loved ones. Other it can be said, in the language of the poet—

"Ere sin could blight, or sorrow fade,
Death came with friendly care;
The opening bud to heaven conveyed,
And bade it blossom there."

Injured in a Runaway

Last Saturday when Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Patterson, accompanied by little Herbert Meier, were returning from the Reeves County Fair at Pecos to their home at Seven Springs ranch, in going down a mountain side the buggy tongue broke, the horses became unmanageable and ran away, overturning the buggy and spilling the occupants. Mr. Patterson sustained a broken leg—the limb being broken near the ankle and being a serious and very painful wound. Little Herbert's leg was broken near the thigh, and Mrs. Patterson escaped uninjured. Dr. Wolverton of Balmorhea, and Dr. Camp of Pecos, were called and dressed the wounds.

The little boy is doing nicely and will soon be well again. Mr. Patterson is recovering more slowly.

Little Herbert Meier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier and took the prize at the baby show at the recent Reeves County Fair for being the most perfect three year old baby on exhibition.

Sulphur Deposits are Pronounced Rich

Judge T. R. Owen Thinks Enough Sulphur in Rustler Field to Glut World's Markets

The following article from the pen of Judge T. R. Owen appeared in last week's Van Horn Advocate and is interesting reading, inasmuch as Judge Owen is one of the finest engineers in the country and his word is authority in the mining world. The article follows:

"I have recently surveyed 23 mining claims covering sulphur deposits in the northeastern part of this county for Mr. Geo. A. Plummer of Port Arthur, and his associates and in surveying these claims I was compelled to walk over a large area of the sulphur deposits which cover a large portion of the northeastern part of Culberson county. From what can be seen of the out-crops of these sulphur deposits, and exposures of the ore made by shallow prospect work, it looked as though the market of the world could be glutted from these fields, especially if they are worked by the process now being used in Louisiana.

"In the very near future Mr. Plummer expects to install such a plant as the Louisiana Sulphur Co. is now using, which will cost about $370,000, on the claims he has recently located, and when this plant is fully equipped and put in commission it will produce from 100 to 500 tons of pure sulphur per day.

"The Louisiana Co. is now extracting sulphur from a depth of 1000 feet below the surface. The deposits here are so rich, practically on the surface, that Mr. Plummer thinks it will not be necessary for him to sink his steam and discharge pipes deeper than 50 or 100 feet to produce sulphur enough to supply the market of the United States.

"In addition to the sulphur locations made by Mr. Plummer, Messrs. Dancy and Troxel have made a number of locations on fine out-crops of Sulphur in the Culberson county field. The old Virginia claim, located about two miles southwest of the Plummer claims, is being prospected by local parties and is showing rich deposits."

FIVE FOUND GUILTY IN ELECTION FRAUD

NUECES COUNTY CASES ON TRIAL AT CORPUS CHRISTI ARE BROUGHT TO END.

SIXTEEN OTHERS ACQUITTED

Jury is Unable to Agree in Case of Walter F. Timon, County Judge and Principal in the Trial.

Corpus Christi, Texas. — With a court room stripped of spectators, in order to avoid a demonstration, five defendants in the election fraud cases, which have been on trial before Judge Walter T. Burns, in the Corpus Christi division of the United States district court since Sept. 6, heard verdicts of guilty brought against them Friday afternoon. The jury was in deliberation on the case 11 hours and 30 minutes.

With 18 of the 41 defendants dismissed on motion of the district attorney and a special charge to acquit District Judge W. B. Hopkins from the overt act with which he was charged, the jury in reality had but to consider 22 defendants in the case. All these 22 were acquitted of the alleged violations of Sec. 19 of the penal code, in which they were charged with a conspiracy to restrain persons from liberty of voting as enjoyed under the constitution. This embraced two counts in the indictment.

GUILTY OF THIRD COUNT.

On the third count the jury found August Uehlinger, county clerk of Nueces county; Lee Riggs, constable; Henry Stevens, large property owner; Ed Castleberry, saloon man and political worker, and Tom Dunn, former city secretary, guilty of a conspiracy to defraud the United States by voting unqualified electors for two congressmen at large from the state of Texas, and one congressional representative from the fifteenth district. Sixteen defendants were acquitted of this charge.

The most surprising feature of the report was the statement that the jury had disagreed on the case of Walter F. Timon, principal in the trial, and that no verdict was reached. The county judge of Nueces county and has strong political influences. He will be given a new trial, probably with a change of venue, although the court has not stated where.

Ruthless Slaughter by Turks Charged.

London.—Viscount Bryce, formerly British ambassador to the United States, has sent a plea that America try to stop the slaughter of Armenians. "The Turkish government has been carrying out with relentless cruelty a plan of extirpating Christianity by killing off Christians of the Armenian race," says the viscount. Accounts from different sources agree that the Christian population is being deliberately exterminated, the men of military age being killed and the younger women seized for Turkish harems.

South Well Fortified Financially.

Washington.—The deposit of $15,000,000 in gold in the federal reserve banks at Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas to expand their credit resources, together with the large excess credit reserves carried by the national banks in the cotton states, creates a strong feeling of confidence among treasury department officials that the south is well fortified in a financial way to assist the southern planter in financing his cotton crop. Members of the federal reserve board place a value of $800,000,000 upon this year's crop.

Dumba Makes Reservations.

Lenox, Mass.—At the Austrian embassy here it was stated that Dr. Dumba had asked for reservations on the Rotterdam which sails from New York Sept. 28. It is not certain, however, he will sail on that date. As to safe conduct it was asserted the fact of asking for reservations on that ship was tantamount to the statement that he had been granted such, as he would not have taken the step otherwise.

World's Cereal Crop Large.

Washington.—Big cereal crops this year in nearly all of the world's chief agricultural countries are forecast in cable reports received at the department of agriculture from the international institute of agriculture at Rome. The total 1915 production of cereals in countries included in previous reports, plus Canada and Asiatic Russia, are estimated at: Wheat 3,134,000,000 bushels, rye 1,033,000,000, barley 1,089,000,000, oats 3,499,000,000.

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

The McLean country in Gray county is shipping five to eight carloads of watermelons daily.

Wichita Falls will soon have its entire fire department equipped with motor-drawn apparatus.

Clifton Mill and Elevator company has been incorporated, with a paid up capital of $25,000. Storage capacity for 50,000 bushels of grain has been provided.

The Henrietta Window Glass company has let the contract for a steel building for its factory, the approximate cost to be $27,000, and it is to be completed in six weeks.

With 40 Texas counties, several from New Mexico and one from Oklahoma signed up for the Panhandle fair to be held at Amarillo Sept 21-25, prospects point to the best fair ever held in the Panhandle.

Contract has been awarded by the treasury department for installation of a passenger elevator in the public building at Amarillo, Texas, to be completed by April 12, at a cost of $3,192.

The town of Rankin, a new town on the Orient railroad west of San Angelo, is enjoying a building boom. A new $15,000 school house, a $60,000 hotel, a general mercantile store and a number of dwellings are now under construction. Rankin is the largest town in Upton county.

In the great fields of prairie hay around Collinsville, Afton and other points in northwestern Oklahoma the second and heaviest crop of this hay in eight years is now being harvested. It is said at least 1,000,000 tons of prairie hay will be shipped from this belt the coming winter.

"The people of the state of Texas not only of the rural communities but of the cities as well, should get rid of rats. Kill them whenever possible and destroy their breeding places. Stop feeding them from open garbage cans. When a rat finds it is starving it will leave that place." This is the advice of Dr. A. L. Lincoecum, assistant state health officer.

The county commissioners at Marshall have awarded the contract for completing the expenditure of the $300,000 for the building of good roads. The two previous contracts let were for the completion of the roads to the five-mile limits, according to the original agreement with the people. It now begins to appear that the whole fund will not be exhausted by the present contracts and that a half-mile or more may be extended onto the nine main roads.

Extensive sulphur deposits in the eastern part of Culberson county are reported to have been leased by Houston men. This deposit is almost pure sulphur, and it is estimated that the deposit contains 1,500,000 tons of this commodity. It is in such condition that it can be treated at a low cost and will make a fortune for the men who develop it to its capacity.

Paving activities in Denison have opened up again after a few months' lay-off and the city commission has ordered paving put down on Sears street for six blocks, and in the 700 block West Main street. Improvement districts have been created in different parts of the city for laying curbing and sidewalks, and citizens generally are complying with the order, and many hundred feet of concrete walk with curbs are being laid.

The Texas Telephone company of Waco has purchased ground for the new building which will be used when the Texas company absorbs the Southwestern exchange there. The property has a frontage of 62½ feet with a depth of 150 feet.

One set of quadruplets and 52 sets of twins were born in Texas in July according to the monthly report of the state registrar of vital statistics. The total number of births was 4,975 and deaths numbered 2,260.

The compress at Dublin has just finished a considerable addition to its shed room and the number of bales of cotton now protected from sun and rain is about double what it has heretofore been.

A mineral well has recently been opened up on the C. A. Reynolds place, on the edge of Irving. An analysis of the water has been made and it is stated to have remarkable curative powers. There is talk now of building a local sanitarium.

The Whole Truth.
The reputation of children for telling the truth about their elders was enhanced in Massachusetts recently when Governor Walsh, attending the dedication of a public building, addressed a number of pupils in the elementary grades. By way of giving his youthful audience an object lesson in various forms of patriotic service, the governor pointed to his military aid, who was in a gold-laced uniform, and asked: "Who is this man?"
"He is a soldier."
"What does he do?"
"Fights for his country."
"Who am I?"
"The governor."
"What do I do?"
"Nothing," chorused the children, who, incredible as it may seem, had not been coached beforehand.

SYNOPSIS.

Miss Bonistelle, artist-photographer, pre-paring the day's work in his studio. Her, his assistant, reminds him that his business is in bad shape. Mr. Doremus, attorney of the peace, calls and informs his Uncle John's will has left $10,000 on condition that he marry his twenty-eighth birthday, which is midnight that night. Mrs. Rena calls at the studio. Hall asks her to marry him. She agrees to give answer at the party that night. Miss Dallys calls. Hall proposes. She agrees to give him an article. Rosamund, artist, art director, calls at the studio. She, too, defers her answer until the evening. Flodie tries to get a certain way out of the studio but he is obtuse. Jonas Hassing, a man to the millions in case Hall marries on time, plots with Flodie to have Hall's marriage to any of the women before midnight. Flodie intends to have Hall's three intendeds come to the studio as if by chance. Rosamund comes in first and com-

CHAPTER VII—Continued.

Rosamund flinched, but recovered to "Well, then, what answer did you give him, I'd like to know!" "Oh, she replied, finally, "I don't want to throw him down too far. You know, I said I'd let him wait, so that I could break it gently." "So did I!" Rosamund, impatient, scrambled upon Carolyn's shoulders. "But I don't intend to break him very gently, after this!" Carolyn reflected grimly. "I don't want to make it just a little hard on him, don't you think? We might as well torture him a bit—if possible. The question is, how to do it." She contemplated Rosamund, musing on the matter. "I don't understand it at all!" Rosamund complained. "Why in the world would a man act like that?" "My dear Miss Gale, I don't know. I can't tell you what they'll do. I think you know them—you think they're perfectly safe—years go by, and they seem perfectly human and rational—and then—piff! They explode. A man yet has ever solved the mystery." "Rosamund's suavity was perfect as he looked at Carolyn or pragmatical-ly, "Why you let Hall Bonistelle go with you, wasn't it! Say, he has shocked you awfully!" "See here!" said Carolyn firmly, putting her hand on Rosamund's shoulder. "There's no use in our bickering this. Don't you realize that we're in the same boat? Now, you don't want to marry Hall. I'd be sure, though, before I go further." "You needn't worry," cried Rosamund. "You can have him, so far as I'm concerned!" Carolyn couldn't keep from smiling. Rosamund was too much for her. "Oh, thank you very much; but I have other plans for him. And we ought to find out what in the world he's up to." "You suppose it could possibly be a joke?" Rosamund asked anxiously. "It looks to me," said Carolyn, regarding Rosamund with a look of derision, "as if somebody had slipped something or something into his coffee. It may be a disease. Incipient insanity, perhaps. No doubt he's going proposing to everyone today."

Carolyn paused. The door was opening. Mrs. Royalton entered.

CHAPTER VIII.

Mrs. Royalton, in an almost too-vivid shade of purple, was, in contrast to the two rather excited women already there, calm, cool and confident. Things were going very well with Rena Royalton; she had a man in her pocket. Rena was getting on; thirty-five had struck its warning bell; if she were going to be married again, why not now? Wasn't Hall Bonistelle handsome? Wasn't he well born and bred? Rena had thought him over, and decided to accept him. She entered, therefore, in a most becomingly amiable state of mind, lofty and somewhat detached. To Carolyn she gave a smiling but suspicious, "Why, hello, Carolyn! You here?" and to Rosamund the quick, unconscious tribute due the natural blonde. Her eyes returned to Carolyn, a little troubled. "I didn't expect to see you again so soon, my dear!" she said. Rosamund, meanwhile, was staring at the prototype of the portrait which had started the discussion of Hall's intimacies. Carolyn, noticing, introduced her. Rosamund, however, did not interest Rena Royalton so much as did Carolyn herself. "Where is Mr. Bonistelle?" she asked. "Oh, he's out—as usual," said Carolyn. "I expect Miss Fisher will attend to you, though." Mrs. Royalton shrugged her shoulders. "Miss Fisher will hardly do for what I want," she said. "I'm afraid I'll have to see Mr. Bonistelle himself." Rosamund frowned, but Carolyn only raised her eyebrows. "Oh, well, I expect Hall will be back before long," said Carolyn. Mrs. Royalton, placid as a cow, eyed her for a moment, then remarked slowly, meditating, "You call him Hall, don't you! I hadn't known you were so intimate." "Oh, Lord, yes. I always call him Hall," Carolyn was beginning to be amused. Rosamund tossed her head and crossed her feet, watching the newcomer sharply. "Well," said Mrs. Royalton, primly ironical, "I'm delighted that you know him so well, my dear!" "Well, now I come to think of it, Rena, I don't know that I do know him quite so well as I thought, after all." She exchanged a smile with Rosamund, who laughed aloud, harshly, causing Mrs. Royalton to turn and stare at her. "I'm afraid I fail to see the joke," she said laughingly. "But of course Hall Bonistelle isn't at all the sort of man one sees through at a glance, you know. He's deep; a very subtle person, in fact. However," she smiled complacently, "I flatter myself that I understand him a little better than I did." Carolyn shot her a suspicious glance. "Why?" she demanded. "Made any recent discoveries?" Mrs. Royalton deliberately nodded up and down, and smiled cryptically. "Oh, I don't know—I fancy he has something on his mind—in fact, I know he has—there's a—well, a sort of crisis—yes, I suppose he would appear a little excited—but of course I really have no business discussing it." "What in the world are you talking about, Rena?" Carolyn exclaimed. "Why, I'm talking about Hall Bonistelle, of course!" "Well, you're not saying much." "Never mind, Carolyn, dear, it isn't because I haven't anything to say! You don't expect me to go about repeating things he has said to me in confidence, do you?" "Oh!" said Carolyn, narrowing her eyes, "then Hall has been confiding in you, too, has he?" By this time Rosamund was hard on the scent, having almost caught up to Carolyn's suspicions. She said nothing, but her eyes were hot and shining, as she scrutinized Mrs. Royalton's face. "See here," said Carolyn, now thoroughly interested, "I don't see why I haven't a right to know. I'm a pretty good friend of Hall's—you know that—and I think you ought to be able to trust me." "Well, it isn't only trusting you—" Mrs. Royalton looked significantly at Rosamund, sulkily listening. "Well, I declare!" said Carolyn calmly, "Rena Royalton, either you're making an awful fool of yourself, or else Hall Bonistelle has actually—" She got no further. Flodie, head up, with a busy air, bustled into the room, carrying a handful of prints. She stopped suddenly, with a fine imitation of surprise, and gazed at Mrs. Royalton. "Oh, Mrs. Royalton!" she exclaimed. "Why didn't you let me know you were here? I've got your proofs all ready for you. I think they are splendid!" She handed them over, and approached Carolyn with two other proofs. "Here are yours, Miss Dallys. I'm sorry to have kept you waiting so long." She returned to Mrs. Royalton. "Oh, how I dread to look at them!" that lady was saying. She was, nevertheless, perusing them hungrily. Carolyn meanwhile had stridden across the room to Rosamund, and the two girls conspired as Mrs. Royalton lost herself in her portraits. "Oh, I don't like that one— . . . Really? . . . Why, I look a hundred years old! . . . There! That's more like me. . . . Which one do you like best, Miss Fisher? . . . No, do you? Why, I think it's awful. My eyes are so hard to take right; you don't get the soul in them, somehow. . . . Oh, I think I ought to try another sitting, don't you? . . . Say, where is Mr. Bonistelle, anyway?" There came a ring at the telephone. Flodie jumped to snatch up the receiver. "Hello! . . . Yes. . . . Why, what's the matter? . . . Oh, naturally. . . . Wait just a minute, please!" Flodie stopped and held her hand over the transmitter. "Oh, Miss Dallys, would you and Miss Gale mind not talking quite so loud for a minute? I can't hear very well." There was a long pause, and the three women, all studying Flodie's face, saw a dozen different expressions pass over it in quick succession. Then she spoke again: "Really? Oh, you know, Mr. Bonistelle—well, personally, I loathe them. . . . Oh, I don't know, but a big diamond is so funny, somehow. . . . What? . . . Oh, yes, I know. . . . Oh, but it's awful to pawn that! Why, it was your father's, wasn't it? . . . Well, of course you know best. . . . Oh, didn't you? Well, I might send it by the janitor. . . . Where did you leave it? . . . When will you be here? . . . All right, good-by!" Mrs. Royalton and Rosamund still sat as if entranced, but Carolyn Dallys rose impatiently now, and glanced about, as if in search of an excuse. The room was tensely charged with electricity. It was evident that in another minute the explosion must come. But, first, how to get rid of this important, busy little Miss Fisher? Flodie herself answered the unvoiced question. Wasn't she as desirous as any of them to bring the thing to a head? Yes; so she must fly and leave the field of battle clear. Still smiling, she disappeared into the stockroom. She left the door ajar. Mrs. Royalton rose, with a self-conscious smile. "Well, Carolyn," she said, "I suppose I'll have to tell you, now. It is most unfortunate that Miss Fisher wasn't more discreet in her conversation. But so long as she has let the cat out of the bag, I might as well inform you that the ring she was talking to Hall about is for this finger!" She held up her left hand, her thumb pointing to her third finger. Carolyn, with a whoop, fell into Rosamund's arms, and the two laughed until they cried. Mrs. Royalton stared as if they had suddenly gone mad. Then she exclaimed angrily, "I'd like to know what there is to laugh at! I don't see anything particularly amusing in the fact that I'm going to marry Hall Bonistelle!" "Oh, don't you?" Carolyn gurgled. "Miss Gale, do you see anything funny in it?" "Funny! It's a scream!" Rosamund shouted with mirth. "Who'll be the next one?" "Oh, the more the merrier!" cried Carolyn. Rena Royalton drew herself up proudly. "I think you're exceedingly impertinent!" she replied. Carolyn dried her eyes on a lace handkerchief. "Rena," she said, still giggling, "I don't know whether it's too true to be funny, or too funny to be true. But you ought to be in on this joke, really, my dear. It will interest you strangely!" "Well, I don't call it a joke. It's an outrage!" cried Rosamund. "Say, Miss Gale," Carolyn turned confidentially, "d'you know, we ought really to form a society of the survivors, you know. Rena's the oldest, and we'll elect her president!" Mrs. Royalton stared from one to the other, her temper rising. Finally she remarked cuttingly, "I must say, Carolyn, I always thought you were a lady!" and she walked swiftly toward the door. "Oh, don't go yet!" Carolyn called out. "You've got a laugh coming to you, too, Rena. You haven't heard our news yet?" Mrs. Royalton trembled on the threshold. "Your news? What d'you mean?" "Listen here," said Rosamund, walking over to her coolly. "Hall Bonistelle proposed to Miss Dallys at ten-thirty this morning and he proposed to me at a quarter to eleven. Now, what time did he propose to you?" Mrs. Royalton put out a hand trembling with appeal. "Carolyn!" she implored. Carolyn nodded unsympathetically. Mrs. Royalton dropped into a chair, speechless, and burst into tears. Carolyn walked up to her and laid a hand on the heaving purple shoulder. "Brace up!" she said, "it won't hurt but a minute! See here, Rena, were you carried off your feet by his wild wooing, or did you take notice of the time?" "Why—here this morning, Carolyn," Mrs. Royalton sobbed, "I left just before you came. It was—it was before that." Her tears poured forth afresh. Carolyn nodded to Rosamund. "Make it ten-fifteen, then. I expect he proposes every quarter of an hour, rain or shine." "But I don't see," said Rosamund, "if she accepted him, why he ever proposed to us!" (TO BE CONTINUED.)

SOME COOKERY HINTS

IDEAS THAT MAY BE OF VALUE TO THE HOUSEWIFE.

How the Ideal Custard Should Be Made—Mayonnaise With Just the Right Flavor—Best Way to Serve Cucumbers.

The best custards ever made have not been baked on the oven floor. The tried-and-true method to make the delicious custard is one quart of fresh milk, scalded in a double boiler. No more nor less than four eggs beaten and stirred into one cup of granulated sugar. Always lemon extract with a pinch of nutmeg for the delicate custard. It kills the egg flavor. Now, here is your secret, place it in a pan of boiling water in the oven, cover your baking dish, bake it just one-half hour in a warm but not too hot oven. Insert a silver knife in the middle of the custard. If it comes out clean, the custard is done, otherwise the ingredients stick to the knife.

Of all the professional secrets hardest to obtain for the delicious mayonnaise this was the hardest. That unmistakable "tang," the tasty snap, though hidden with other condiments was found to be nothing else but cucumber. No, you could not taste it, for it was blended with the mayonnaise. The cucumber is grated for the purpose. Then, think of it, the vinegar used. Ordinary vinegar? Yes, but prepared with brown sugar, boiled with spices and churned into a white foam with one-half its bulk of olive oil. For potato salad this mayonnaise, mixed with the cucumber and hard-boiled eggs is, really, one of the finest flavored salad dressings known to the chefs who dislike to make known their professional secrets.

Have you seen the cucumber sliced, but in half and decorated with slices of red radish? Very pretty. Score the rounded side of the cucumber into one-eighth inch sections, but do not cut through the cucumber. Place the flat or cut side of the cucumber on the dish, slice the red radishes, leaving on the red rim. Insert these slices of radishes between the slices of cucumber, alternating the red and white; garnish with parsley, small pickles, small flecks of beet, and serve with salad dressing.

A delicious luncheon dish is known as "Devils on Horseback." Plump cardines are used. Each has a little hammy tum tum and is served on a deep fat and served on buttered toast.

Don't Lose the Pie Juice.

To keep the juice in the pie, instead of using the cloth strips, which spoils the edge of the pie anyway, have the bottom crust larger than the pan. Cut the apples into sections. Before putting them in, cover the bottom of the pastry with half the sugar. One cupful of sugar to a good-sized pie will not be too much if the apples are sour. Lay sections of apples all around the edge. Fill in the middle. Add the rest of the sugar. Roll out the top crust to fit and lay on. Wet the edge all around and turn up over the top crust. Press down with the fingers, then mark all around with a fork. Make a hole in the top of the pie and wet all over with cold water. The oven should be fairly hot for the first 15 or 20 minutes. Then the heat may be reduced so that the apples may cook thoroughly. It will take about 40 minutes to bake a good-sized pie.

Cooking Steak.

To cook steak, have a nice red fire, not too hot, or it will scorch meat. In a few minutes remove broiler, and if steak has changed color turn other side, then change again. Have sharp knife and cut a little piece; if center is bright red and no sign of raw meat, remove and put piece of butter on it and eat, the sooner the better.

Mashed Potatoes With Onions.

To four or five cupfuls mashed potato, add one cupful boiled onions minced to a pulp, one tablespoonful butter, one tablespoonful milk, some salt and pepper. Beat lightly together and before serving brown the top for a moment in the oven.

A Good Way to Clean Pans.

To clean pans that have scorched food adhering to them, sprinkle dry baking soda in them and let them stand for a while. They then can be quickly and readily cleaned.

Apple and Suet Pudding.

Two cupfuls of chopped apples, two cupfuls of chopped raisins, one cupful of sour milk, one cupful of molasses, one cupful of suet and flour enough to make a stiff batter.

Begin by putting one teaspoonful of soda in the milk, then add a little grated nutmeg and cinnamon and a pinch of salt. Stir the suet into this mixture and then put in the flour a small quantity at a time. Boil tied up in muslin.

"Hello! . . . Yes. . . . Why, What's the Matter?"

Carolyn, I always thought you were a lady!" and she walked swiftly toward the door.

"Oh, don't go yet!" Carolyn called out. "You've got a laugh coming to you, too, Rena. You haven't heard our news yet?"

Mrs. Royalton trembled on the threshold. "Your news? What d'you mean?"

"Listen here," said Rosamund, walking over to her coolly. "Hall Bonistelle proposed to Miss Dallys at ten-thirty this morning and he proposed to me at a quarter to eleven. Now, what time did he propose to you?"

Mrs. Royalton put out a hand trembling with appeal. "Carolyn!" she implored.

Carolyn nodded unsympathetically. Mrs. Royalton dropped into a chair, speechless, and burst into tears.

Carolyn walked up to her and laid a hand on the heaving purple shoulder. "Brace up!" she said, "it won't hurt but a minute! See here, Rena, were you carried off your feet by his wild wooing, or did you take notice of the time?"

"Why—here this morning, Carolyn," Mrs. Royalton sobbed, "I left just before you came. It was—it was before that." Her tears poured forth afresh.

Carolyn nodded to Rosamund. "Make it ten-fifteen, then. I expect he proposes every quarter of an hour, rain or shine."

"But I don't see," said Rosamund, "if she accepted him, why he ever proposed to us!"

coral which abound in many parts of it; or, possibly, to the fact that its upper course was one of the boundaries of Edom, "the red." No Biblical scholar of any repute has ever asserted that the sea took its name from the overthrow of Pharaoh.

Would Hardly Call It a Privilege.

"I noted a new meaning of the word 'privilege' the other day," said J. Fuller Gloom. "The article said it was a man's privilege to pay for a woman stranger's meals on short railroad trips. Personally I do not see, with the customary high prices on a dining car, how anyone could consider the paying anything more than an extreme effort."—Kansas City Star.

Misleading Audience.

"Why doesn't you, Bliggins make more progress in his studies?" "He doesn't get the proper kind of encouragement. His father doesn't take any interest in what the boy knows about the classics, but is enthusiastic about the way he can play accompaniments on the banjo."—Washington Star.

Improving the Camp Meal.

Condiments That Should Never Be Forgotten When Party Goes on an Outing.

A well-filled box of spices will be fully remembered at every camp. If somebody is thoughtful enough to pack it and see that it reaches its destination, for even the best food can be rendered appetizing by judicious seasoning, and the appetizing dainties of camp fare may be improved by spices that bring their flavor.

Of course, you will remember to along salt and pepper, but if you have the taste immortal Lave the last of the year. A box of paprika, too, will give at tasteless moments a pleasant surprise, while lemons and garlic will worth their weight in gold at all times. Remember the following things well: onion juice, herb bouquet, a flask of whisky or brandy. A spoonful of the last may be put in unadorned meat soups instead of sherries which is more bulky to carry. Tomatoes always live up a canned

Live Stock Was Cheap in 1194.

The increased cost of living, though the increase is by no means so great as we might have expected, lends an interest to a volume just issued by the Pipe Roll society. From the introduction one gathers an idea of prices in 1194. Certain land was to be stocked and a price for each class of stock was fixed. Oxen figure at four shillings, cows a shilling less. Farm horses were also four shillings a head, pigs were a shilling, and sheep stood at sixpence. Incidentally the book proves the antiquity of the familiar fine of 40 shillings, for it records its imposition as long ago as 1185 on one who had overthrown a pillory.—London Chronicle.

Red Sea Colored by Weeds.

The drowning of Pharaoh and his host in the Red sea had nothing to do with its name. It takes this from a peculiar reddish color remarked at certain seasons of the year in parts of this sea, due to marine plants, or to reddish animalcules, called by sailors "whale feed," which float on it like scum; or to the reefs of red

My Smile.

Our smile still holds its wonted place, due east and west across our face, and sometimes it seems half inclined to reach around and tie behind. We cannot dance, nor can we sing, but we can tote a smile, by jing! Sometimes we push it from its place, but that is when we shave our face, and when we have done shaving, then, our smile is on the job again. Worms may kill our tomato plants, hot irons may scorch our Palm Beach pants, laundries may spifficate our shirts and fix our collar so it hurts, a neighbor's dog may kill our cat, but our smile stays right where it's at, and being such a happy cuss makes the old world smile back at us. Misfortune cannot get your goat if you have got a smile to tote.—Judd Mortimer Lewis, in Houston Post

A Great Opportunity for Young Men

The demand for telegraph operators was never so great as at the present time. The largest telegraph school in America—equipped with over a hundred sets of instruments, miniature train systems, a train wire of a main line of railroad, all telegraph and freight blanks, tickets, in fact everything just as complete as found in the best equipped railroad offices, the best practical teachers to be obtained, thoroughly experienced in commercial and railway telegraphy, station and freight work—the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, is unable to any way near supply the demand upon it by the railroads and telegraph companies for operators. So far this year we have had thirty per cent more bonafide calls for graduates than we have had students to take up the study of telegraphy. Just as surely as a young man will complete our course of telegraphy and station work, just so surely will he be placed in a good position. The same is true where our course of bookkeeping, shorthand, stenotypewriting and cotton classing or business administration and finance is completed.

Write for free catalogue. Our students are on all the leading Southwestern roads, and are holding high positions in the commercial world.

A STATE FAIR PRIZE WINNER.

Dallas, "The Show Window of Texas Industries"—that's the 1915 State Fair of Texas in an nutshell. The State Fair begins Saturday, October 16, and closes Sunday, October 31.

All of the important activities of the State will be represented as never before—agriculture and kindred industries; livestock and the dairy interests; manufacturing—in fact, a splendid array of exhibits mirroring the progress of Texas and the achievements of her people.

The State Fair will furnish an education so practical and so broad as to appeal to all—and particularly does this apply to the splendid exhibits now being prepared by the University of Texas, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, the College of Industrial Arts; and other educational institutions of the state.

The girls and boys of the State are interested in judging contests and in the prizes offered for boys' and girls' club work; and in the splendid building housing the textile, culinary and fine arts departments there will be much to interest the women and girls of the State.

County exhibits filling to overflowing a mammoth building; three thousand head of registered stock; twenty-five hundred blue-blooded fowls; ten acres of machinery and implement exhibits; an automobile show of 1916 models; a fine art exhibit valued at more than $100,000; an industrial arts exhibit that will interest the housewife; a superb showing of styles and fashions in women's wear, millinery, jewels; in fact, something to interest every man, woman and child in the state—this gives some idea of the 1915 Exposition.

Offerings in the livestock department are the richest of any in the country. This year approximately $20,000 in premiums and specials will be awarded for exhibits of cattle, horses, sheep and swine. All of the big organizations in the country with livestock men as members are offering special premiums. Applications for stalls and pens received indicate that the display will be mammoth in proportion.

The dairy and creamery interests will be represented in three divisions—dairy cattle, dairy demonstration and dairy products departments. The awarding of the American Jersey Cattle Club's special premium for the best Jersey cow, get of sire, breeder's young herd, grand champion bull and grand champion female; the twelve days' competitive dairy test for butter fat; and educational displays and lectures dealing with the dairy and creamery business.

A staff of experts from the A. and M. College will spend their time at the Fair giving attention to helping Texas farmers with their home problems. The A. and M. exhibit for the coming Fair is being entirely reorganized.

The South's Greatest Newspaper
Semi-Weekly Record
FORT WORTH, TEXAS

In this day of progress the man who would succeed must be informed about the world's doings. The local paper gives him local information which is needful, but it cannot cover the whole field. Hence the man who would keep step with the march of the times will take a general newspaper also.

The Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record has taken front rank among the great publications of the South and West. It is specially prepared for the reader who has not the time or the opportunity to read a daily paper.

First of all, it is a newspaper. The Record believes that the people of the country and the village are as much interested in current events as the people of the city.

In the next place, it carries features suitable for all members of the family—women and children as well as men.

Last, but by no means least, the Record's editorial policy comprehends the economic welfare of the farmer and stock raiser. The Record is an acknowledged leader in the discussion of public questions in their relation to agricultural production.

In subscribing through this office you can get the Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record together with the Toyah Enterprise, both papers one year for only $2.30. Accept this remarkable offer today.

EUROPEAN WAR HAPPENINGS

Everything Important That Could Be Confined to a Small Space is Here Found.

During the last quarter of the year the expenditures of the French government probably will run in excess of $13,000,000 a day.

Official announcement was made in the house of commons that the total of British sea casualties up to Aug. 21 was 18,000 officers and men killed, wounded or missing.

Negotiations for the purchase by the Russian government from the Canadian Car and Foundry company of 3,000,000 shrapnel and high explosive shells at a cost of $52,000,000 have been virtually completed it was stated.

"The recent great successes by the Germans on the eastern and western fronts and the last Zeppelin raid on London have caused another outbreak of anti-German feeling in the city," says the Overseas News agency.

The first order the British government placed with the Canadian manufacturers for field artillery guns and howitzers amounted to $65,000,000, according to a report from Toronto, Ont.

Official announcement is made that Russian torpedo boats had sunk, near Sinepe, a seaport of Asia Minor, on the Black sea, an entire fleet of sailing vessels laden with munitions of war. The crews of these vessels were taken prisoners.

In the Dardanelles the British losses have totaled 87,663 up to Aug. 21. The British submarine E-7, operating in those waters, which the Turks claim to have sunk, is admitted by the British admiralty to have been missing since Sept. 4.

Russia is now well supplied with munitions and her allies, who have been supplying her, are now able to turn their attention to their own armies, and in consequence there is no cessation in the artillery engagements which have been so marked in the west for several weeks past.

An Italian engineer, Louis Rota, has solved the problem of holding an object motionless in space. Rota is credited with having constructed an apparatus which, by the action of electric currents, can be elevated to a height of 2,000 to 3,000 feet and kept motionless, and propelled in any direction at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

A good deal of importance is attached to the decision of Russia to call to the colors the reserves of the territorial army. The Russian senate has been instructed to fix the ages and numbers of the reservists. Should the age limit be fixed at 35 years, this fresh call would mean the possible addition of 8,000,000 to the Russian armies.

The British prize court has condemned the greater part of the American products forming the cargoes of four steamships. The products, valued at $15,000,000, are declared forfeited to the crown. All the goods, consisting principally of American meat products, are confiscated, with the exception of a small proportion which the court released to claimants.

Damage estimated by operators and business men at $500,000 was caused by the heaviest rainfall ever recorded in Joplin, Mo., for a similar period of time. Seven inches of rain fell in eight hours.

Definite steps have been taken by San Angelo capitalists toward organizing a company for the construction of a fine tourist hotel. It is proposed to have the new hotel cost at least $200,000 and when completed it will be a modern structure in every way.

The Austrian government intends to recall Ambassador Dumba for consultation, according to intimations given to Ambassador Penfield when he delivered the note from the United States asking for the return of the ambassador to Austria. Such an arrangement, which is in accord with Dumba's own request for recall on leave of absence is satisfactory to the American government. It is understood, however, that Ambassador Dumba would not return when his leave expired.

Formal recognition has been accorded by the United States to the new government of Haiti, headed by President d'Artigueyave.

Northwestern Louisiana oil field developments during the week past closed were featured by an advance in prices, the second increase in more than a year, which has greatly encouraged the operators.

Secretary Daniels has ordered all submarines of the F-4 type out of commission until a thorough examination of them can be made. His action was taken upon the report of the board of inquiry investigating the sinking of the F-4 at Honolulu on March 25, which ascribes the disaster to a battery explosion.

In announcing to the state department the arrival at the Azores of the Fabre, liner Sant' Anna, from New York for Italy, American Consul Schultz stated that 18 fuses had been found on the ship and that many explosions had occurred before she reached the Azores.

The central relief committee, appointed by the Galveston commercial association to care for destitute cases directly after the Texas coast storm, announced that they had settled bills for supplies bought during the storm to the amount of $12,000 and that contributions to the funds of the committee continued to come in.

Following a formal demand of the attorneys for the state for the production of August A. Busch, W. J. Athens, O. Pagett, J. E. Weeden, Fred Helling, Jr. and Otto Wahrmond as witnesses, which defendants were unable to meet, further hearing of the brewery suit by agreement of counsel was postponed until Nov. 15.

Two battles between Mexicans and American troopers, with the Rio Grande as the line dividing the opposing forces occurred Friday. The first continued for fifteen minutes and occurred two miles from the Brownsville business district and the city limits. The second took place 45 miles above Brownsville near the Donna pumping plant, and continued about an hour and a half. No American soldiers were killed or wounded in either battle, while in that near Donna, 10 Mexicans are reported to have been killed.

Bandits along the Mexican Northwestern railroad have threatened the lives of all foreigners, particularly Americans, according to reports received in El Paso. These advices state the threats were made because Chavez brothers' band were fired upon by Villa soldiers when they went to receive the ransom demanded for Edward Ledwidge, commissary agent for the railroad and other companies of the Person interests. Only half of the $10,000 ransom demanded was delivered to the bandits. Ledwidge was fired upon by his Mexican guard, but reached the train of rescuers unharmed.

Quicksilver mines of western Texas are profiting from the European war along with the copper companies of Arizona and New Mexico and the lead companies of Mexico. At Tellingua, in Brewster county, quicksilver is being mined and shipped in quantities and good prices are being obtained for the valuable metal. The Chisos Mining company, 90 miles from Alpine, is putting in additional machinery, is sinking new shafts and preparing for a long run. A 35-ton furnace has been installed and the company expects to double its output during the present year. This company already has a 20-ton furnace which is being operated night and day and the additional furnace will more than double the capacity of the quicksilver mines.

Ore continues to be shipped from the Allamore and other copper districts of western Texas to the El Paso smelter. The Jarrell & Hackett mine in the Allamore district has just made a big shipment to the El Paso smelter and the ore ran high in silver and copper, according to the local agents for the company. This property is located near the railroad and is one of the most valuable in the Allamore district, as the bottom of the shaft is said to be banked with almost pure silver-copper ore.

It is announced that a wealthy woman resident of New Zealand has offered to make the colony a free gift of one of the most valuable pieces of mining land in the island, the only condition being that all profits from the sale of minerals shall be used for the support of wounded soldiers. The land offered contains principally an ore called scheelite, yielding tungsten, which is used principally in hardening steel. The deposit according to mining engineers, should yield 30,000 tons of the metal, worth about $75,000,000.

Makes Rapid Headway

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended by pain, use Doan's Kidney Pills at once. No other kidney medicine is so well recommended.

A Texas Case

W. E. Stirling, R. F. D. No. 4, Box 1-A, Georgetown, Texas, says: "For ten years, I had kidney trouble. I had to get up often at night to pass the kidney secretions and my back was so weak that I could just about get around. When I tried to straighten up after stooping, a knife-like pain seized me. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me and the cure has lasted."

GETTING RID OF INVENTOR

How General Miles Handled Wild-eyed Man With Bulletproof Army Coat.

When General Miles was at the head of the army he used to be continually besieged by cranks with pneumatic firing guns, dirigible war balloons and other martial inventions. But the general would weed these cranks out with admirable speed. An inventor in his office one day tells of a curious incident in this relation.

A card was brought in and laid before the general.

"Oh, send him in," said Miles. "His business won't take more than a minute or two."

So in came a wild-eyed, long-haired man twisting his soft hat nervously in both hands.

"General," he said, "I have here"—and he took out a small parcel—"a bulletproof army coat. If the government would adopt this—"

"Put it on; put it on!" said General Miles. And he rang the bell. The clerk appeared as the inventor was getting into the coat.

"Jones," said the general, "tell the captain of the guard to order one of his men to load his rifle with ball and cartridge and—"

"Excuse me, general, I forgot something," interrupted the inventor. And with a hunted look he disappeared.

It Made a Difference.

"How far is it to the next town?" the motorist asked the farmer along the road.

"'Bout ten miles as the crow flies," said the farmer.

"Yes, I know," said the motorist, "but, you see, the crow's riding with me today."

Telephone lines are to be extended to Tromsø, Norway, 200 miles north of the arctic circle.

Stability of United States.

The Constitution of the United States of America was adopted in 1789. In that year the French revolution began. Since 1789 Europe has been remade. Among the nations four stand out as ancient—England, Russia, Denmark and Spain. Yet in the past century and a quarter those countries have lived through governmental changes that show beside the stability of the United States rule as exceedingly large and significant "shifts."

He Took a Chance.

"It's a good thing you had accident insurance, isn't it? That fall must have laid you up for two weeks."

"I know, but it doesn't help me out in this case."

"And why not?"

"Why, it carried a clause forbidding me to engage in any extra hazardous occupation."

"Well, you weren't, were you?"

"Yes, I was trying to sell Jones some life insurance."

So Friendly.

The women who called just because they couldn't get out of it were met at the door by the maid.

"My mistress is taking her beauty sleep," she said.

"How long does it take her?" asked one of the women.

"Oh, less than half an hour."

"She looks it," said the other woman in a whisper to her friend. Then they left their cards and trotted along.

Mutual Benefit.

"Why do you send your wife and daughters to the seashore while you stay at home?"

"We're all more comfortable," replied Mr. Cumrox. "Mother and the girls hate to see me in a wilted collar, and I'm very much annoyed by their bathing suits."

Some Town.

"We're a growing town," said the leading citizen of Painted Post.

"I don't know," said the traveling man, "there aren't any more people here than there was last year."

"I know that," said the proud resident, "but the Smith twins put on long pants last week."

So Paw Says.

Little Lemuel—Say, paw, what is a leading citizen?

Paw—A leading citizen, son, is a man whose example it isn't always safe to follow.

Naturally.

"Wasn't that a terrible fight among the animals in the zoo?"

"Yes; one of the keepers told me it was a beastly row."

What Women Will Do.

Suppose you tried to think fashion never could do. You have fixed on furs in summer the final impossibility? WON'T MIX Bad Food and Good Health Won't Mix.

The human stomach stands much abuse but it won't return good health if you give it wrong food.

If you feed right you will feel right, for proper food and a good mind is the sure road to health.

"A year ago I became much alarmed about my health for I began to suffer after each meal no matter how little I ate," says a Denver woman.

"I lost appetite and the very thought of food grew distasteful, with the result that I was not nourished and got weak and thin."

"There was no one to shoulder my household burdens, and come what might I must bear them, and this thought nearly drove me frantic when I realized that my health was breaking down."

"I read an article in the paper about some one with trouble just like mine being benefited by Grape-Nuts food and acting on this suggestion I gave Grape-Nuts a trial. The first dish of this delicious food proved that I had struck the right thing."

"My uncomfortable feelings in stomach and brain began to disappear and in a short time I was again myself. Since then I have gained 12 pounds in weight through a summer of hard work and realize I am a very different woman, all due to the splendid food, Grape-Nuts."

POLISH CAPITAL

DEPENDENT WRITES OF THE HARMS OF CRACOW.

Many Beauties, and Its Citizens Refined and Gentle—In the Market Held in the Great Square.

It is true that cities, like houses, have characters of their inhabitants. Somebody said that Berlin has a rich, well-fed woman who has everything that money can buy, but never the unpurchasable charm. Now, Cracow is her like. She is like a lady of ancient times, happy race conscious but untroubled by her great sorrows; she is elegant, distinguished, simple. Small as it is, it is the heart of Poland in Poland's days of freedom, as was its capital.

The object of this little article is to relate the tragic history of Cracow, but just to give a brief glimpse of the simple life in beautiful Cracow before the war began.

In the middle of the town is the market square where stands the splendid church of Our Lady. There is a covered market, where the stalls are usually kept by Jews, but in the country the peasants from the country bring their milk and cheese, vegetables and poultry.

When we visited Cracow shortly after the outbreak of the war was over, we were impressed by the burdens borne by people of a little higher rank than the peasant. These burdens were mostly geese—white, long-necked, squawking geese. Every other woman and child seemed to be carrying a goose. Sometimes they were carried under the arm of the purchaser. Often under each arm, sometimes in a carpet bag with long neck protruding and the bright eyes eagerly searching the passers-by as though enjoying the novel ride. Sometimes a basket contained as many as three geese and sometimes they were strung ceremoniously over the shoulder of the owner, their legs tied together and their necks craned up to prevent a rush of blood to the head. Now and then a stout lady would pass with a goose in the ample bosom of her dress or coat, only the head of the fowl showing under her chin. The geese were generally treated with consideration and respect, children stopping to caress their snaky necks. It was hard to believe that these pets were destined for the pot on the morrow. To be sure there were other things for sale besides geese; rolls of golden butter and leaves of cheese folded together.

In another part of the great square is the vegetable market, with its green and purple cabbages, cauliflower and Brussels sprouts; salsify, onions and dried mushrooms on long strings worn like a necklace over the necks of the vendors.

On a goose market day in Cracow the center of the stage belongs to the goose. A few abashed hens were offered for sale or a lonesome turkey, but they seemed to feel they had no right there, and were ready to hide their heads.

In the center of the square sat the public weigher with his scales. If an old lady felt that she had been given short weight for half a pound of butter she brought it to him to weigh, and he even took a hand in the disputes about the size and quality of the geese.

The people that you see in the streets of Cracow are beautiful to look upon. They do not look rich, but they know how to wear worn clothes with a kind of natural elegance. Then their faces are expressive, clean cut and they know how to walk and stand, they are not rude, but dignified. What is to be the destiny of these clever, refined, unfortunate people we do not yet know.—Exchange.

Citizen's Duty. A categorical imperative may be added into these homely terms. No one may do that which, by all, would destroy society. In other words, the individual must not when the gaining of his own happiness involves an injury to the happiness of others. It is better to do his part to bring the happiness of all to hell fire.

Health Note. It is capital for us all, and especially for the woman who works much talent and initiative. You will be handicapped in life unless you have your share of health. If you have not health for your business to expend every minute of your surplus time acquiring

CALOMEL IS MERCURY, IT SICKENS! STOP USING SALIVATING DRUG

Don't Lose a Day's Work! If Your Liver Is Sluggish or Bowels Constipated Take "Dodson's Liver Tone."—It's Fine!

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick, you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and cannot salivate. Give it to your children! Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

NEW CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Woman Who Had Suffered for Many Years Is Cured by Bolt of Lightning.

The medical faculty was put to shame by a bolt of lightning which the other night struck the farmhouse of Charles A. Burdick, on Washington Ridge, says the Berlin (Conn.) correspondent of the New York Herald. The electric bolt destroyed articles in all the eight rooms of the house and did damage exceeding $1,000, but it cured Mrs. Burdick of rheumatism, from which she had suffered for many years.

Mrs. Burdick was about to put wood in the kitchen stove when the bolt struck her, knocking her down and rendering her unconscious. One of her feet was on zinc beneath the stove. The lightning took a nail out of the sole of her shoes and her foot was severely burned. Dr. Thomas Mulligan of New Britain soon revived her.

Today Mrs. Burdick, although suffering from the burns on her foot, was free from rheumatic pains. She does not think the price her husband must pay in repairs to the house too high, but Mr. Burdick is discreetly silent.

FOUND HEALTH IN CARDUI

Oklahoma Lady Says She Visited Four States Seeking Health, But Did Not Find It Until She Took Cardui.

Henryetta, Okla.—Mrs. Anna Hileman, of this place, says that she suffered for 8 years with headache, backache, and other complaints caused from womanly troubles, and that she had been to Colorado, Dakota, Missouri, and Kansas seeking health and never found it until she took Cardui. She says she was given up and was told that she had cancer and was confined to her bed for three months.

She further says: "We then moved here and after moving here, the druggist here in Henryetta, Okla., told my husband about Cardui and gave him a Birthday Almanac, and I read the testimonials and began taking it, and could see after I had taken the second bottle it was doing me good, and so I have kept it up. I would not do without it in the house. When I feel tired and nervous after doing a hard day's work it seems to rest me and make me feel fresh."

Today I am a well woman and I know that Cardui has cured me. I can do all my own work and washing and house cleaning now without ever giving out. I have several friends right here in town who have been unable to do their work for years but are now up, since taking a couple of bottles of Cardui. I weigh 140 pounds, and am always well. When I commenced taking it one year ago, I only weighed 100 pounds.

All druggists sell Cardui, the woman's tonic. Try it if you need a remedy of this kind. Get a bottle today.

HE ASKED THE RIGHT MAN

Railroad Man Has His Curiosity Satisfied in a Startling Manner.

A Louisville attorney and a railroad man who has his "stop-over" here went to a theater the other night. The railroad man saw a flashily dressed, red-faced, sporty-looking individual sitting in one of the boxes.

"Who is that tough person sitting in the box?" the railroad man asked pleasantly. "He looks like a drunken burglar."

"That," said the attorney, "is my cousin."

The railroad man gasped a couple of times before he could get a grip on himself. Then a smile spread over his face as he remarked:

"Well, I went straight to headquarters for information, didn't I?"—Louisville Times.

HAD PELLAGRA; IS NOW WELL

Ringgold, La.—Mrs. S. A. Cotter, of this place, writes: "Will say that I am perfectly well and the happiest soul on earth. Wish every pellagra sufferer could know of your great remedy. I know how to appreciate health and sympathize with those that are not so blest as I. Am growing stronger, gaining in weight and can do anything I ever could. Oh, I know I am well of that horrible disease, and my heart is full of rejoicing. I feel that I have come out of a dense cloud into the blessed sunshine. God be praised! He has spared my life for some good, and I feel that I have just begun to live."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side, for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

On the Law of Supply and Demand

I am amazed that so long the cotton industry should have suffered the grave disadvantage of an entirely one-sided representation concerning supply and demand. We need not deceive ourselves with the notion that by any act of legislation or any concert of action we can suspend the trade law of supply and demand, but we cannot ascertain economic value without knowing demand as well as supply. When you plant your cotton in the spring the Federal Government counts your acres and publishes to the consuming world the precise figures of cotton acreage in the United States which furnishes two-thirds of the production and thereby constitutes two-thirds of the productive influence upon the cotton market. The government reports the condition of the crop and continues month by month to report its condition until the crop is picked and then it begins in September to count and report the bales that are ginned and continues to count and report the bales every month until the ginning is concluded. So that from the time the crop is planted until the last bale is ginned the buying world knows by accurate official representation the acreage, the condition and output from month to month, and yet at no time does the producing world know the condition of the consumption of the product.

Those of us who have been laboring in this field have made repeated efforts by formal communication and by personal interview with congressional and administrative officials at Washington but have been utterly unable to obtain the desired results.

I am compelled to state this blunt fact, not in any captious spirit but for the purpose of demonstrating to you that relief in this important particular must come through the cotton states themselves.

We Democrats have talked so long about State sovereignty as a negative quality in resistance to the encroachments of the Federal Government and as a bulwark against the usurpation and the tyranny, actual or potential, which follow from the concentration of political power in the hands of the Federal government, that we have forgotten the positive qualities of State sovereignty. We have lost sight of the fact that the State possesses all powers except in so far as it has conferred certain powers upon the Federal Government and in so far as the sovereign people have reserved certain powers to themselves. Sovereignty in the political sense means state omnipotence within the limits of human endeavor. Except as to the limitations to which I have already referred, the sovereignty of the State is as complete and as boundless as the sovereignty of the monarch who assumes the divine right of kings. In an emergency of this kind, the State is warranted, and, indeed, under the very obligation of legislation, this body is commanded to conserve the public welfare by any device of legislation that does not palpably offend the Constitution.

Henry N. Pope
On Waste in Cotton Marketing

Henry N. Pope, lecturer Texas Farmers' Union, when asked to estimate the annual loss due to improper methods of marketing the Texas cotton crop said in part:

"The waste in cotton marketing begins at the gin and it follows the product through every step from the gin to the mill and it aggregates an enormous waste which could be prevented, amounting to not less than five dollars per bale. Samples taken from the bale by the cotton buyer amount in the United States annually to 100,000 bales, which is known to commerce as the 'city crop'. At normal prices, that cotton is worth $30 per bale making a total of $6,000,000 per year. Experts calculate that savings for cotton can be provided at a cost of $1.50 to $2.00 per bale for the permanent structure. This loss, amounting to $5,000,000 occurs annually and the saving of this item alone within two or three years would provide all the cotton warehouses that the South can possibly use at the time of its greatest need for storage and with the largest crop that it can possibly produce, for cotton will move continually from September to March and at no time, nor under any circumstances, would there ever be more than one-third or one-fourth of the total crop under shelter.

As a consequence of the cutting of the bale for the sample, the cotton must be repacked at the compress. The ragged condition caused by much sampling and exposure in the gin yards, or in the back yard, or in the cotton yards, or on the railroad platform, or elsewhere, from the gin to shipside, results in an accumulation of dirt and trash in 'plackings' on compress platforms and in cotton yards in increased insurance, in damage from exposure, in increased fire hazards and the deduction for the tare which always exceeds the actual weight of the bagging and ties by ten pounds at least—I say that these several items of waste and graft amount in the aggregate to a sum not less than five dollars per bale, every cent of which is calculated in advance by the purchaser, and is deducted from the price which the spinner pays the farmer. None of this appears in the bill of lading but is all in the transaction and it all accrues to the loss of the producer.

The next process is official grading of the cotton sample. In my judgment the farmers are losing from fifty cents to one dollar per bale by the grading of the cotton buyer, who naturally will give himself the benefit of the doubt in order to protect his own business with the mill. A cotton buyer, uncertain as to whether a bale of cotton is strict, middling or middling fair, will buy it at the lower grade rather than the higher. We must allow that there are many dishonest men in the cotton trade, as in other vocations, and that a large number of them will take advantage of the farmer's ignorance and possibly grade the cotton much lower than its actual grade."

GREAT POULTRY SHOW.

Dallas. The poultry exhibit at the State Fair of Texas this fall will in every way be indicative of the importance of this thriving industry. The big building at Fair Park which houses the poultry division has been thoroughly overhauled. New coops have been installed, especially the coops large enough to take care of "flocks"—a new classification this year. A flock will consist of one male and eight females. The usual generous premiums are offered for individual birds and for pens. The Texas Barred Rock Club offers a special prize of $25 this year for the best dark and light Barred Rock exhibited.

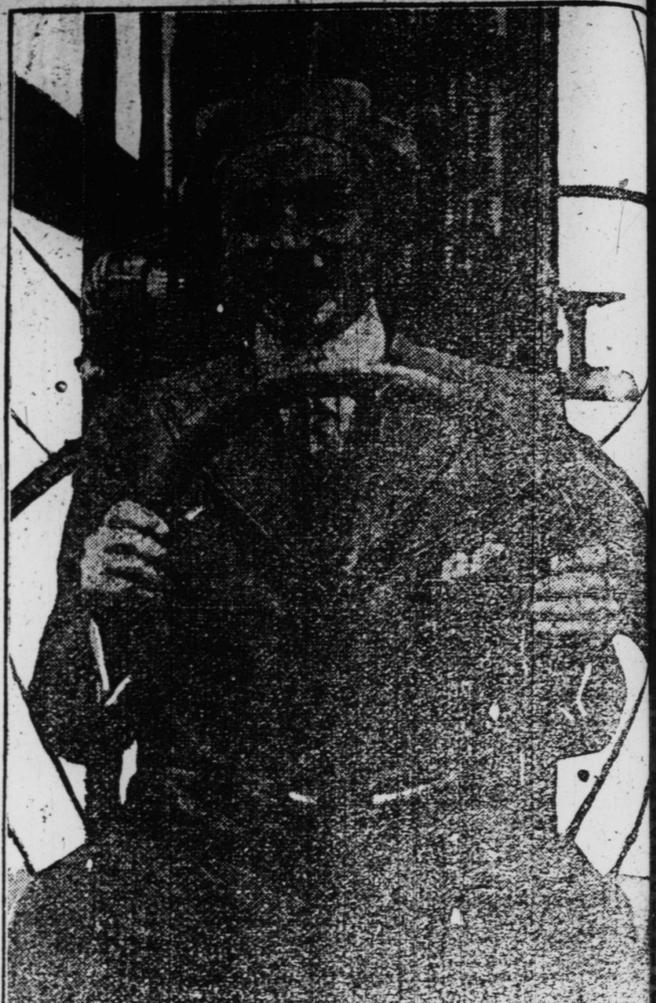

MADE-IN-TEXAS EXHIBIT.

Dallas. A new feature for the State Fair of Texas this year is the Made-in-Texas exhibit. Displays of Texas manufactured products covering more than 40,000 square feet of floor space will be a big boost for home industry. In several of the exhibits machinery will be in actual operation making the products on exhibition. Texas factory products are equal in quality, price, desirability and usefulness to those made outside the State. The Made-in-Texas exhibit was decided on to impress visitors with this fact.

POLO TOURNAMENT ASSURED.

Dallas: This city will be the Mecca of polo enthusiasts during the run of the 1915 State Fair of Texas. Assisted by Captain A. J. Edmonds, the "father of American polo," the State Fair management has arranged for a series of games to be played the first and second weeks. Crack teams from civil life and from the United States Army have already entered—some of the best players in America are assured. Polo will be played on the big athletic field at Fair Park.

Polo is a popular game with all lovers of outdoor sport. It requires courage, keen and active thought, and expert horsemanship. It is now a part of the curriculum in the mounted service of the United States Army.

WORLD'S GREATEST AVIATOR TO FLY AT STATE FAIR.

Dallas. Art Smith, the most daring aviator of all time, has been engaged to make flights each day and on six nights during the run of the 1915 State Fair of Texas. This "comet of the air" has recently been gaged to make flights in every phase of flying at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

At the State Fair of Texas Smith guarantees to put on "all his raising thrillers. In his contract he promises, among other sensations, the following: Ten straight up and over loop-the-loops in absolute success from an altitude of about 2500 feet; roll-over loops, finishing within 200 feet of the ground—causing the machine to roll over sideways, wing over until upside-down, and finishing by diving and leveling to right-side vertical drop from about 2000 feet down to landing; wing slide in which the machine is rolled sideways until the wings point up and down, the machine then falling sideways, tail slide, in which the machine rolled sideways until the wings point up and down, machine flown straight up until it "stalls," then falling backward, tail looping-the-loop at 1000 feet with hands off the steering wheel and arm outstretched; and flying upside down with hands off wheel and arms stretched.

Smith's night flights are especially sensational when he loops them not less than a dozen times, his machine all ablaze with brilliant fireworks.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS"

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It happened this way: Talos (or Daedalus, if you prefer Pliny) found the jawbone of a snake and employed it to cut through a piece of wood. Then he formed an instrument of iron like it and thus gave the world the first saw.

C. E. Schaff
On Railway Investments

President Wilson recently referring to our railroad problems said in part: "They are indispensable to our whole economic life and railway securities are at the very heart of most investments, large and small, public and private, by individuals and by institutions. There is no other interest so central to the business welfare of the country, as this. No doubt, in the light of the new day, with its new understandings, the problem of the railroads will also be met and dealt with in a spirit of candor and justice."

When the first citizen of the land stresses the importance of understanding and dealing justly with the railroads, certainly the American plowman can venture upon the study of the problem. C. E. Schaff, president of the M. K. & T. company, when asked to outline the relation of the public to railroads, said in part:

It may be said that the railroad world is encumbered with a lot of "railroad magnates" which exist only in the popular fancy. For instance, because there have been a few so-called 'railroad magnates' whose names have figured prominently in finance, many people have come to believe that the railroads of this country are largely owned by a few rich men. As a matter of fact there could be further from the truth. Out of the colossal sum of twenty billion dollars of American railroad securities, less than five per cent is now, or ever has been, in the hands of these men who have figured prominently in the newspaper headlines—while the other 95 per cent is in the hands of over two million investors, large and small, who in many instances have put the savings of a life time into these securities in order that they might have a competency for old age. When, therefore, the value of these securities is depressed or perchance destroyed, the hardship is a hundred-fold greater upon thousands of every-day citizens, than upon the handful of railroads, good or bad, who have figured prominently in railroad circles.

Thousands of millions of dollars of the assets of our great life and fire insurance companies, savings banks, trust companies, educational and fiduciary institutions are invested in railroad bonds—and the moment, therefore, that the soundness of these bonds is called in question the financial solidity of these various institutions—directly affecting the welfare of millions of policyholders and bank depositors—is gravely menaced. During the last several years, many millions of dollars representing depreciated values, have been charged off the books of concerns like those enumerated above. American railroads have become a vital part of the very woof and fabric of the nation. Their continued efficiency is absolutely essential to the smallest community in the land.

In blindly striking at the railroads our blows fall not merely upon thousands who have committed no wrong, but, in the last analysis, upon ourselves. We should remember how interdependent we have come to be in this mighty republic of ours—that each is in truth becoming more and more his brother's keeper, and that we need to act and think circumspectly, lest in our mistaken zeal we destroy those who, like ourselves, need whatever of this world's goods the toil and sweat of years has bequeathed to them."

Midland County Fair and Fat Stock Show

Exhibits of Cattle, Horses, Poultry and Agriculture as Fine as Can be Found Anywhere

The editor visited the Midland County Fair and Fat Stock Show Wednesday, and although it rained practically all day the attendance was fairly good and all in attendance had a splendid time, and were well repaid for the money expended and the time spent. The race track and polo grounds were boggy and therefore there was nothing doing in that line, but the exhibits were all under shelter and one's eyes could have feasted upon them alone for a whole week.

In the poultry department there were almost every breed of fowl and they were as fine as can be found anywhere. There is nothing better at any of the fairs.

The agricultural exhibit was simply grand and the editor never saw anything better in that line anywhere. It is useless to try to name the different kinds of products in this exhibit, for almost anything you can imagine that grows in the ground was there in its perfection.

The grand climax of the whole exhibit was centered in the live stock department—really in the cattle department. There, heretofore, and then some more heretofore, and black muleys and durhams—probably as many as 200—and every one a winner. While it was impossible to give each a blue ribbon, it occurred to the onlooker that each and every one should have had two or three.

Midland county is noted for its fine cattle, but they will have to be seen to be appreciated. There are no finer cattle in the world than there is in West Texas and Midland evidently has the cream of the whole west.

They had some very fine horses, too, but the cattle were the center of attraction and well deserved the attention given them.

The Midland Fair has been handicapped this year by the weather, but, notwithstanding this is probably the best fair ever held in West Texas.

West Texas Goes Wet With Heavy Rains

At intervals all during the week it has been raining gently over Reeves county and last night (Friday night) probably the finest rain of the year fell. From the best information the Enterprise is able to obtain this morning the rain was general all over West Texas and was heavy enough to put the best season in the ground it has had for a year. Here in Toyah the rain was not heavy but it rained nearly all night, and at times pretty hard, and put all the way from four to six feet of water in the big T. & P. reservoir.

While the rains are late coming, if the frost will hold off for a while there is yet time to make grass and plenty of it. This should also start the weeds and make a good winter pasture.

The stockmen are happy and the ground is soaked.

Little Maxine Sparks Passes Away

Mrs. Hibdon received a telegram Sunday announcing the death on that day, the 19th instant, of little Maxine Sparks, the little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Sparks of Kiowa, Kansas, but who formerly lived here and who have many friends here who deeply sympathize with them in their great bereavement.

Maxine was an unusually bright and beautiful baby—just a sunbeam lent to earth for a few fleeting years—she is now with God on the other shore and is a beacon light to her loved ones. Of her it can be said, in the language of the poet—

"Ere sin could blight, or sorrow fade,
Death came with friendly care;
The opening bud to heaven conveyed,
And bade it blossom there."

Injured in a Runaway

Last Saturday when Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Patterson, accompanied by little Herbert Meier, were returning from the Reeves County Fair at Pecos to their home at Seven Springs ranch, in going down a mountain side the buggy tongue broke, the horses became unmanageable and ran away, overturning the buggy and spilling the occupants. Mr. Patterson sustained a broken leg—the limb being broken near the ankle and being a serious and very painful wound. Little Herbert's leg was broken near the thigh, and Mrs. Patterson escaped uninjured. Dr. Wolverton of Balmorhea, and Dr. Camp of Pecos, were called and dressed the wounds.

The little boy is doing nicely and will soon be well again. Mr. Patterson is recovering more slowly.

Little Herbert Meier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier and took the prize at the baby show at the recent Reeves County Fair for being the most perfect three year old baby on exhibition.

Sulphur Deposits are Pronounced Rich

Judge T. R. Owen Thinks Enough Sulphur in Rustler Field to Glut World's Markets

The following article from the pen of Judge T. R. Owen appeared in last week's Van Horn Advocate and is interesting reading, inasmuch as Judge Owen is one of the finest engineers in the country and his word is authority in the mining world. The article follows:

"I have recently surveyed 23 mining claims covering sulphur deposits in the northeastern part of this county for Mr. Geo. A. Plummer of Port Arthur, and his associates and in surveying these claims I was compelled to walk over a large area of the sulphur deposits which cover a large portion of the northeastern part of Culberson county. From what can be seen of the out-crops of these sulphur deposits, and exposures of the ore made by shallow prospect work, it looked as though the market of the world could be glutted from these fields, especially if they are worked by the process now being used in Louisiana."

"In the very near future Mr. Plummer expects to install such a plant as the Louisiana Sulphur Co. is now using, which will cost about $370,000, on the claims he has recently located, and when this plant is fully equipped and put in commission it will produce from 100 to 500 tons of pure sulphur per day.

"The Louisiana Co. is now extracting sulphur from a depth of 1000 feet below the surface. The deposits here are so rich, practically on the surface, that Mr. Plummer thinks it will not be necessary for him to sink his steam and discharge pipes deeper than 50 or 100 feet to produce sulphur enough to supply the market of the United States.

"In addition to the sulphur locations made by Mr. Plummer, Messrs. Dancy and Troxel have made a number of locations on fine out-crops of Sulphur in the Culberson county field. The old Virginia claim, located about two miles southwest of the Plummer claims, is being prospected by local parties and is showing rich deposits."

FIVE FOUND GUILTY IN ELECTION FRAUD

NUECES COUNTY CASES ON TRIAL AT CORPUS CHRISTI ARE BROUGHT TO END.

SIXTEEN OTHERS ACQUITTED

Jury is Unable to Agree in Case of Walter F. Timon, County Judge and Principal in the Trial.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—With a court room stripped of spectators, in order to avoid a demonstration, five defendants in the election fraud cases, which have been on trial before Judge Walter T. Burns, in the Corpus Christi division of the United States district court since Sept. 6, heard verdicts of guilty brought against them Friday afternoon. The jury was in deliberation on the case 11 hours and 30 minutes.

With 18 of the 41 defendants dismissed on motion of the district attorney and a special charge to acquit District Judge W. B. Hopkins from the overt act with which he was charged, the jury in reality had but to consider 22 defendants in the case. All these 22 were acquitted of the alleged violations of Sec. 19 of the penal code, in which they were charged with a conspiracy to restrain persons from liberty of voting as enjoyed under the constitution. This embraced two counts in the indictment.

GUILTY OF THIRD COUNT.
 On the third count the jury found August Uehlinger, county clerk of Nueces county; Lee Riggs, constable; Henry Stevens, large property owner; Ed Castleberry, saloon man and political worker, and Tom Dunn, former city secretary, guilty of a conspiracy to defraud the United States by voting unqualified electors for two congressmen at large from the state of Texas, and one congressional representative from the fifteenth district. Sixteen defendants were acquitted of this charge.

The most surprising feature of the report was the statement that the jury had disagreed on the case of Walter F. Timon, principal in the trial, and that no verdict was reached. Timon is county judge of Nueces county and has strong political influences. He will be given a new trial, probably with a change of venue, although the court has not stated where.

Ruthless Slaughter by Turks Charged.
 London.—Viscount Bryce, formerly British ambassador to the United States, has sent a plea that America try to stop the slaughter of Armenians. "The Turkish government has been carrying out with relentless cruelty a plan of extirpating Christianity by killing off Christians of the Armenian race," says the viscount. Accounts from different sources agree that the Christian population is being deliberately exterminated, the men of military age being killed and the younger women seized for Turkish harems.

South Well Fortified Financially.
 Washington.—The deposit of $15,000,000 in gold in the federal reserve banks at Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas to expand their credit resources, together with the large excess credit reserves carried by the national banks in the cotton states, creates a strong feeling of confidence among treasury department officials that the south is well fortified in a financial way to assist the southern planter in financing his cotton crop. Members of the federal reserve board place a value of $800,000,000 upon this year's crop.

Dumba Makes Reservations.
 Lenox, Mass.—At the Austrian embassy here it was stated that Dr. Dumba had asked for reservations on the Rotterdam which sails from New York Sept. 28. It is not certain, however, he will sail on that date. As to safe conduct it was asserted the fact of asking for reservations on that ship was tantamount to the statement that he had been granted such, as he would not have taken the step otherwise.

World's Cereal Crop Large.

Washington.—Big cereal crops this year in nearly all of the world's chief agricultural countries are forecast in cable reports received at the department of agriculture from the international institute of agriculture at Rome. The total 1915 production of cereals in countries included in previous reports, plus Canada and Asiatic Russia, are estimated at: Wheat 3,134,000,000 bushels, rye 1,093,000,000, barley 1,089,000,000, oats 3,499,000,000.

Wichita Falls will soon have its entire fire department equipped with motor-drawn apparatus.

Clifton Mill and Elevator company has been incorporated, with a paid up capital of $25,000. Storage capacity for 50,000 bushels of grain has been provided.

The Henrietta Window Glass company has let the contract for a steel building for its factory, the approximate cost to be $27,000, and it is to be completed in six weeks.

With 40 Texas counties, several from New Mexico and one from Oklahoma signed up for the Panhandle fair to be held at Amarillo Sept. 21-25, prospects point to the best fair ever held in the Panhandle.

Contract has been awarded by the treasury department for installation of a passenger elevator in the public building at Amarillo, Texas, to be completed by April 12, at a cost of $3,192.

The town of Rankin, a new town on the Orient railroad west of San Angelo, is enjoying a building boom. A new $15,000 school house, a $60,000 hotel, a general mercantile store and a number of dwellings are now under construction. Rankin is the largest town in Upton county.

In the great fields of prairie hay around Collinsville, Afton and other points in northwestern Oklahoma the second and heaviest crop of this hay in eight years is now being harvested. It is said at least 1,000,000 tons of prairie hay will be shipped from this belt the coming winter.

"The people of the state of Texas not only of the rural communities but of the cities as well, should get rid of rats. Kill them whenever possible and destroy their breeding places. Stop feeding them from open garbage cans. When a rat finds it is starving it will leave that place." This is the advice of Dr. A. L. Lincoecum, assistant state health officer.

The county commissioners at Marshall have awarded the contract for completing the expenditure of the $300,000 for the building of good roads. The two previous contracts let were for the completion of the roads to the five-mile limits, according to the original agreement with the people. It now begins to appear that the whole fund will not be exhausted by the present contracts and that a half-mile or more may be extended onto the nine main roads.

Extensive sulphur deposits in the eastern part of Culberson county are reported to have been leased by Houston men. This deposit is almost pure sulphur, and it is estimated that the deposit contains 1,500,000 tons of this commodity. It is in such condition that it can be treated at a low cost and will make a fortune for the men who develop it to its capacity.

Paving activities in Denison have opened up again after a few months' lay-off and the city commission has ordered paving put down on Sears street for six blocks, and in the 700 block West Main street. Improvement districts have been created in different parts of the city for laying curbing and sidewalks, and citizens generally are complying with the order, and many hundred feet of concrete walk with curbing are being laid.

The Texas Telephone company of Waco has purchased ground for the new building which will be used when the Texas company absorbs the Southwestern exchange there. The property has a frontage of 62½ feet with a depth of 150 feet.

One set of quadruplets and 52 sets of twins were born in Texas in July according to the monthly report of the state registrar of vital statistics. The total number of births was 4,975 and deaths numbered 2,260.

The compress at Dublin has just finished, a considerable addition to its shed room and the number of bales of cotton now protected from sun and rain is about double what it has heretofore been.

A mineral well has recently been opened up on the C. A. Reynolds place, on the edge of Irving. An analysis of the water has been made and it is stated to have remarkable curative powers. There is talk now of building a local sanitarium.

The Whole Truth.
 The reputation of children for telling the truth about their elders was enhanced in Massachusetts recently when Governor Walsh, attending the dedication of a public building, addressed a number of pupils in the elementary grades. By way of giving his youthful audience an object lesson in various forms of patriotic service, the governor pointed to his military aid, who was in a gold-laced uniform, and asked: "Who is this man?"
 "He is a soldier."
 "What does he do?"
 "Fights for his country."
 "Who am I?"
 "The governor."
 "What do I do?"
 "Nothing," chorused the children, who, incredible as it may seem, had not been coached beforehand.

Would Be Interesting.
 "Did you hear about Mrs. Wombat's party?" inquired one lady. "Mrs. Piffle is invited."
 "Here's an interesting point," said another. "Mrs. Flubdub isn't invited."
 "Dear me! And did you hear how Mrs. Soandso snubbed Mrs. Van Squawk?"
 "Hum!" remarked a passing editor. "Judging by the interest the women take in the same, I think I had better get out a column of social activities."

Why Just in the Movies.
 "There's one thing in the movies; you can always tell what's coming after the picture of the man at home with his wife bending over him waiting to light his cigar."
 "Why, I never noticed. What does come next?"
 "A picture of the man writing a check."

Her Chances Good.
 "It's a case of love at first sight."
 "Well, maybe it will work out all right. I took four years to select my husband, and look at what I got."

What to Do for Itching Skin
 Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning, skin eruptions are easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. It proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians prescribed it constantly for years. Resinol stops itching instantly; almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. The ointment and resinol soap are bought at any druggist's, and at all expensive.

Good Bye Dirt!
 Here Comes Richards' Magic Washing Stick

RICHARDS' Magic Washing Stick

is one of the most wonderful inventions of the age. It is absolutely unique. Never before has there been speed without harm. Never before have women had anything which REALLY made dirt disappear as quickly, as harmlessly, as EASILY as with this extraordinary dirt loosener. It does HOURS work in MINUTES. It positively will not fade colored clothes—shrink or harden woolen, and will not rot or weaken lace curtains so they tear easily, but keeps them STRONG besides absolutely clean.

3 Sticks for 25c—less than 2c a washing
 Sold by all Druggists and Grocers everywhere. If yours doesn't handle it, show him this ad—he'll get it for you. Or send 25c in stamps to A. B. Richards Co., Sherman, Tex.

A Great Opportunity for Young Men

The demand for telegraph operators was never so great as at the present time. The largest telegraph school in America—equipped with over a hundred sets of instruments, miniature train systems, a train wire of a main line of railroad, all telegraph and freight blanks, tickets, in fact everything just as complete as found in the best equipped railroad offices, the best practical teachers to be obtained, thoroughly experienced in commercial and railway telegraphy, station and freight work—the Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, is unable to anywhere near supply the demand upon it by the railroads and telegraph companies for operators. So far this year we have had thirty per cent more bonafide calls for graduates than we have had students to take up the study of telegraphy. Just as surely as a young man will complete our course of telegraphy and station work, just so surely will he be placed in a good position. The same is true where our course of bookkeeping, shorthand, stenotypewriting and cotton classing or business administration and finance is completed.

Write for free catalogue. Our students are on all the leading Southwestern roads, and are holding high positions in the commercial world.

A STATE FAIR PRIZE WINNER.

Dallas, "The Show Window of Texas Industries"—that's the 1915 State Fair of Texas in an nutshell. The State Fair begins Saturday, October 16, and closes Sunday, October 31.

All of the important activities of the State will be represented as never before—agriculture and kindred industries; livestock and the dairy interests; manufacturing—in fact, a splendid array of exhibits mirroring the progress of Texas and the achievements of her people.

The State Fair will furnish an education so practical and so broad as to appeal to all—and particularly does this apply to the splendid exhibits now being prepared by the University of Texas, the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, the College of Industrial Arts; and other educational institutions of the state.

The girls and boys of the State are interested in judging contests and in the prizes offered for boys' and girls' club work; and in the splendid building housing the textile, culinary and fine arts departments there will be much to interest the women and girls of the State.

County exhibits filling to overflowing a mammoth building; three thousand head of registered stock; twenty-five hundred blue-blooded fowls; ten acres of machinery and implement exhibits; an automobile show of 1916 models; a fine art exhibit valued at more than $100,000; an industrial arts exhibit that will interest the housewife; a superb showing of styles and fashions in women's wear, millinery, jewels; in fact, something to interest every man, woman and child in the state—this gives some idea of the 1915 Exposition.

Offerings in the livestock department are the richest of any in the country. This year approximately $20,000 in premiums and specials will be awarded for exhibits of cattle, horses, sheep and swine. All of the big organizations in the country with livestock men as members are offering special premiums. Applications for stalls and pens received indicate that the display will be mammoth in proportion.

The dairy and creamery interests will be represented in three divisions—dairy cattle, dairy demonstration and dairy products departments.

These three features are of special interest to dairymen and dairy cattle breeders; the awarding of the American Jersey Cattle Club's special premium for the best Jersey cow, get of sire, breeder's young herd, grand champion bull and grand champion female; the twelve days' competitive dairy test for butter fat; and educational displays and lectures dealing with the dairy and creamery business.

A staff of experts from the A. and M. College will spend their time at the Fair giving attention to helping Texas farmers with their home problems. The A. and M. exhibit for the coming Fair is being entirely reorganized.

E. G. Hudson's Statement

E. G. Hudson, merchant of Chamblee, Ga., says Foley Cathartic Tablets are the "best on earth" for a thorough cleansing movement of the bowels without the slightest inconvenience or sickening and no bad effects. They certainly do relieve indigestion or constipation quickly and liven up the liver. They make you feel light, free and energetic. Sold everywhere.

Newspaper Man Recommends It

R. R. Wentworth of the St. James (Mo.) News, writes: "A severe cold settled in my lungs. I feared pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar straightened me up immediately. I recommend this genuine cough and lung medicine." Right now thousands of hay fever and asthma sufferers are thankful for this wonderful healing and soothing remedy. Sold everywhere.

Did the Old Man Good

Geo. W. Clough of Prentiss, Miss., is seventy-seven years old and had trouble with his kidneys for many years. He writes that Foley Kidney Pills did him much good. He used many remedies, but this is the only one that ever helped him. No man, young or old, can afford to neglect symptoms of kidney trouble. Sold everywhere.

The South's Greatest Newspaper Semi-Weekly Record FORT WORTH, TEXAS

In this day of progress the man who would succeed must be informed about the world's doings. The local paper gives him local information which is needful, but it cannot cover the whole field. Hence the man who would keep step with the march of the times will take a general newspaper also.

The Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record has taken front rank among the great publications of the South and West. It is specially prepared for the reader who has not the time or the opportunity to read a daily paper.

First of all, it is a newspaper. The Record believes that the people of the country and the village are as much interested in current events as the people of the city.

In the next place, it carries features suitable for all members of the family—women and children as well as men. Last, but by no means least, the Record's editorial policy comprehends the economic welfare of the farmer and stock raiser. The Record is an acknowledged leader in the discussion of public questions in their relation to agricultural production.

In subscribing through this office you can get the Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record together with the Toyah Enterprise, both papers one year for only $2.50. Accept this remarkable offer today.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY, IT SICKENS!
STOP USING SALIVATING DRUG

Don't Lose a Day's Work! If Your Liver Is Sluggish or Bowels
Constipated Take "Dodson's Liver Tone."—It's Fine!

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad; stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick, you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones.
Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and cannot salivate. Give it to your children!
Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

NEW CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Woman Who Had Suffered for Many Years is Cured by Bolt of Lightning.

The medical faculty was put to shame by a bolt of lightning which the other night struck the farmhouse of Charles A. Burdick, on Washington Ridge, says the Berlin (Conn.)
correspondent of the New York Herald. The electric bolt destroyed articles in all the eight rooms of the house and did damage exceeding $1, 000, but it cured Mrs. Burdick of rheumatism, from which she had suffered for many years.

Mrs. Burdick was about to put wood in the kitchen stove when the bolt struck her, knocking her down and rendering her unconscious. One of her feet was on zinc beneath the stove. The lightning took a nail out of the sole of her shoes and her foot was severely burned. Dr. Thomas Mulligan of New Britain soon revived her.

Today Mrs. Burdick, although suffering from the burns on her foot, was free from rheumatic pains. She does not think the price her husband must pay in repairs to the house too high, but Mr. Burdick is discreetly silent.

FOUND HEALTH
IN CARDUI

Oklahoma Lady Says She Visited Four States Seeking Health, But Did Not Find It Until She Took Cardui.

Henryetta, Okla.—Mrs. Anna Hilleman, of this place, says that she suffered for 8 years with headache, backache, and other complaints caused from womanly troubles, and that she had been to Colorado, Dakota, Missouri, and Kansas seeking health and never found it until she took Cardui.
She says she was given up and was told that she had cancer and was confined to her bed for three months.

She further says: "We then moved here and after moving here, the druggist here in Henryetta, Okla., told my husband about Cardui and gave him a Birthday Almanac, and I read the testimonials and began taking it, and could see after I had taken the second bottle it was doing me good, and so I have kept it up. I would not do without it in the house. When I feel tired and nervous after doing a hard day's work it seems to rest me and make me feel fresh."

HE ASKED THE RIGHT MAN

Railroad Man Has His Curiosity Satisfied in a Startling Manner.

A Louisville attorney and a railroad man who has his "stop-over" here went to a theater the other night. The railroad man saw a flashily dressed, red-faced, sporty-looking individual sitting in one of the boxes.

"Who is that tough person sitting in the box?" the railroad man asked pleasantly. "He looks like a drunken burglar."

"That," said the attorney, "is my cousin."

The railroad man gasped a couple of times before he could get a grip on himself. Then a smile spread over his face as he remarked:

"Well, I went straight to headquarters for information, didn't I?"—Louisville Times.

On the Law of Supply and Demand

I am amazed that so long the cotton industry should have suffered the grave disadvantage of an entirely one-sided representation concerning supply and demand. We need not deceive ourselves with the notion that by any act of legislation or any concert of action we can suspend the trade law of supply and demand, but we cannot ascertain economic value without knowing demand as well as supply. When you plant your cotton in the spring the Federal Government counts your acres and publishes to the consuming world the precise figures of cotton acreage in the United States which furnishes two-thirds of the production and thereby constitutes two-thirds of the productive influence upon the cotton market. The government reports the condition of the crop and continues month by month to report its condition until the crop is picked and then it begins in September to count and report the bales that are ginned and continues to count and report the bales every month until the ginning is concluded. So that from the time the crop is planted until the last bale is ginned the buying world knows by accurate official representation the acreage, the condition and output from month to month, and yet at no time does the producing world know the condition of the consumption of the product.

Those of us who have been laboring in this field have made repeated efforts by formal communication and by personal interview with congressional and administrative officials at Washington but have been utterly unable to obtain the desired results.

I am compelled to state this blunt fact, not in any captious spirit but for the purpose of demonstrating to you that relief in this important particular must come through the cotton states themselves.

We Democrats have talked so long about State sovereignty as a negative quality in resistance to the encroachments of the Federal Government and as a bulwark against the usurpation and the tyranny, actual or potential, which follow from the concentration of political power in the hands of the Federal government, that we have forgotten the positive qualities of State sovereignty. We have lost sight of the fact that the State possesses all powers except in so far as it has conferred certain powers upon the Federal Government and in so far as the sovereign people have reserved certain powers to themselves. Sovereignty in the political sense means state omnipotence within the limits of human endeavor. Except as to the limitations to which I have already referred, the sovereignty of the State is as complete and as boundless as the sovereignty of the monarch who assumes the divine right of kings. In an emergency of this kind, the State is warranted, and, indeed, under the very obligation of legislation, this body is commanded to conserve the public welfare by any device of legislation that does not palpably offend the Constitution.

On Waste in Cotton Marketing

Henry N. Pope, lecturer Texas Farmers' Union, when asked to estimate the annual loss due to improper methods of marketing the Texas cotton crop said, in part:

"The waste in cotton marketing begins at the gin and it follows the product through every step from the gin to the mill and it aggregates an enormous waste which could be prevented, amounting to not less than five dollars per bale. Samples taken from the bale by the cotton buyer amount in the United States annually to 100,000 bales, which is known to commerce as the 'city crop'. At normal prices, that cotton is worth $60 a total of $6,000,000 per year. Experts calculate that storage for cotton can be provided at a cost of $1.50 to $2.00 per bale for the permanent structure. This loss, amounting to $5,000,000 occurs annually and the saving of this item alone within two or three years would provide all the cotton warehouses that the South can possibly use at the time of its greatest need for storage and with the largest crop that it can possibly produce, for cotton will move continually from September to March and at no time, nor under any circumstances, would there ever be more than one-third or one-fourth of the total crop under shelter.

As a consequence of the cutting of the bale for the sample, the cotton must be repacked at the compress. The ragged condition caused by much sampling and exposure in the gin yards, or in the back yard, or in the cotton yards, or on the railroad platform, or elsewhere, from the gin to shipside, results in an accumulation of dirt and trash in 'pluckings' on compress platforms and in cotton yards in increased insurance, in damage from exposure, in increased fire hazards and the deduction for the tare which always exceeds the actual weight of the bagging and ties by ten pounds at least—I say that these several items of waste and graft amount in the aggregate to a sum not less than five dollars per bale, every cent of which is calculated in advance by the purchaser, and is deducted from the price which the spinner pays the farmer. None of this appears in the bill of lading but is all in the transaction and it all accrues to the loss of the producer.

THE VOICE OF NOW

It is the printed page which deals most intimately and with the greatest detail in the movements of the present. It is THE VOICE OF NOW proclaiming to the world the things that are happening today. The Government of the United States is NOW gravely concerned in certain aspects of the war in Europe and had thrust on it several serious international problems which are NOW in the process of solution. The American farmer is NOW interested in this titanic struggle, for his interests are being affected by it today, and will be tomorrow, and he wants to keep in close touch with it NOW.

EVERYBODY is interested in the cotton crop from the time of its planting to the days of its harvesting and marketing. They want to know "the NOW" in all that pertains to the great Southern staple; they want to know "the NOW" of all other agricultural markets, the latest in modern farming, the facts of the warehousing problem, and all else that pertains to the progress of the times in every theater of life.

The tens of thousands of men and women who know The Semi-Weekly Farm News know it is "THE VOICE OF NOW," telling in direct and positive tones of what is going on at home and abroad.

GREAT POULTRY SHOW.

Dallas. The poultry exhibit at the State Fair of Texas this fall will in every way be indicative of the importance of this thriving industry. The big building at Fair Park which houses the poultry division has been thoroughly overhauled. New coops have been installed, especially the coops large enough to take care of "flocks"—a new classification this year. A flock will consist of one male and eight females. The usual generous premiums are offered for individual birds and for pens. The Texas Barred Rock Club offers a special prize of $25 this year for the best dark and light Barred Rock exhibited.

MADE-IN-TEXAS EXHIBIT.

Dallas. A new feature for the State Fair of Texas this year is the Made-in-Texas exhibit. Displays of Texas manufactured products covering more than 40,000 square feet of floor space will be a big boost for home industry. In several of the exhibits machinery will be in actual operation making the products on exhibition. Texas factory products are equal in quality, price, desirability and usefulness to those made outside the State. The Made-in-Texas exhibit was decided on to impress visitors with this fact.

POLO TOURNAMENT ASSURED.

Dallas. This city will be the Mecca of polo enthusiasts during the run of the 1915 State Fair of Texas. Assisted by Captain A. J. Edmonds, the "father of American polo," the State Fair management has arranged for a series of games to be played the first and second weeks. Crack teams from civil life and from the United States Army have already entered—some of the best players in America are assured. Polo will be played on the big athletic field at Fair Park.

Polo is a popular game with all lovers of outdoor sport. It requires courage, keen and active thought, and expert horsemanship. It is now a part of the curriculum in the mounted service of the United States Army.

WORLD'S GREATEST AVIATOR TO FLY AT STATE FAIR.

Dallas. Art Smith, the most daring aviator of all time, has been engaged to make flights each day and on six nights during the run of the 1915 State Fair of Texas. This "comet of the air" has recently Beached Beachey in every phase of flying at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. At the State Fair of Texas Smith guarantees to put on all his raising thrillers. In his contract he promises, among other sensational stunts, the following: Ten straight up and over loop-the-loops in absolute safety from an altitude of about 2500 feet; roll-over loops, finishing within 300 feet of the ground—causing the machine to roll over side-ways, wing over until upside-down, and finishing by diving and leveling to right-side vertical drop from about 2000 feet down to landing; wing slide in which the machine is rolled sideways until the wings point up and down, chine then falling sideways, tail slide, in which the machine is rolled sideways until the wings point up and down, machine flown straight up until it "stalls," then falling backward tail loop-the-loop at 1000 feet with hands off the steering wheel and arms outstretched; and flying upside down with hands off wheel and arms stretched.

Smith's night flights are especially sensational when he loops-the-loop not less than a dozen times, his machine all ablaze with brilliant fire-

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It happened this way: Talos (or Daedalus, if you prefer Piny) found the jawbone of a snake and employed it to cut through a piece of wood. Then he formed an instrument of iron like it and thus gave the world the first saw.
