On Co-Operative Marketing Plan

The Farmers' Union is the pioneer force in the campaign for cheap money, warehouse facilities and a financial system adapted to the business of farming. The Union has always stood for the best interests of the farmer and realizing that the task was so monumental as to require the combined effort of all forces, the Farmers' Union, some four years ago, blew the horn and called all hands together to build more warehouses and supply cheap money, and as a result the farmers, the business men and the statesmen, are now shaking hands over a bale of cotton. While the work has only begun, sufficient progress has been made to fully justify of co-operation adopted by the Union and on behalf of the Texas I want to thank all agencies now engaged in assisting the farmers in the cotton marketing problem.

we have made reasonable progress in the plan now under way, which contemplates that the business men and farmers build the warehouses; the State stores and validates the receipt and the banker provides the money at a low rate of interest. The State announces ready and the warehousemen, with an able corps of assistants, has its problems well in hand, and the bankers have declared a willingness to advance money not to exceed six per cent.

Warehouses now existing have gone under State supervision, and new ones are being constructed, but no warehouse system can be made a success without sufficient storage capacity to handle the crop.

The present warehouse system is swung around co-operation and it is the duty of the Texas farmer to assist in constructing warehouses and to patronize them when they are built. No warehouse can succeed unless the farmers surround it, for no business can prosper without patronage. The farmer and business men must come to the aid of the system and I make a plea to the farmer, for he is the beneficiary of the movement.

We have just passed through the greatest slaughter in crop prices ever known in the history of the cotton industry. The loss to the Southern planter was greater than that of the freeing of the slaves during the Civil War, and the European conflict is by no means over. The phantom of low prices hovers around every cotton field in Texas ought to encourage the farmer to deeds of commercial valor. Look upon the face of your babe in the cradle; look upon the woman who stands by your side, then look your duty squarely in the face. Lay aside the petty differences that so often beset you, awaken from the lethargy of indifference that steeps your mind in poverty and arouse thoughts from their dumb cradles and be up and doing with a determination that wins, and rally around the Union, for there is no other road to success except through organization.

The Only Way to Defeat Mail Orders

Mail Order houses have been a thorn in the side of local merchants the country over for many years. They have been denounced by business men and attacked in editorials time and again, but each annual statement shows more business done and better profits than than the year before.

People may be exhorted to trade at home—to support home industry—until doomsday, but unless the local stores in the smaller cities throughout the country adopt the same methods that have made the mail order business so profitable, these pleadings will be in vain.

Advertise! Advertising is the basis of the success of these big concerns and the manner in which the Houghton (Mich.) Mining Gazette points out the failings to those merchants who complain most against mail order competition, will be interesting to many. After referring to the periodical denunciation which mail order houses receive, the article says:

"But the mail order houses go right along doing more and more business just the same and notwithstanding. They are now planning on a nationwide newspaper campaign to follow up their catalogue business. Business men cuss them and try various and divers means of attacking them. But abusing the mail order houses never is an argument. Saying mean things about them is making friends for them. Talking about supporting home industry doesn't get very far because the average business man who talks about patronizing home business usually buys more or less of his own personal necessities somewhere else. There is only one way to compete with the mail order house and that is to do business the way he does it. Don't ask for sympathy because you carry a lot of bad accounts on your books. Clean 'em up. Don't complain about his prices when you can meet them. Meet them and let your public know that you are meeting them. Do your advertising and do it more efficiently than he does. His once a year catalogue isn't in it with daily announcements of prices. We are not suggesting that you run one big advertisement for a week or anything like that. But make your advertising valuable by its very attractiveness, its continuity, and the plain statement of goods and prices. We can show you dozens that are doing it every day in the Gazette. They are not sitting in the rear of the store kicking about the mail order houses and the ungrateful public. They are putting in some time each day getting a good, straight-from-the-shoulder advertisement ready to print in the morning. They are discounting their bills. Their business is good. They look prosperity and they show it, too. They are making money and thinking about what sort of an automobile they will buy next. They are beating the mail order people because they run their business right, keep their collections up to the minute, beat the mail order prices, and tell the people about it all the time. The last item is the most important of all."

Poultry Outlawry

Wonder if anybody in town is bothered with anybody else's chickens? A number are trying to make their places attractive by growing flowers. We do not blame them for getting a little vexed when the neighbor's chickens make their efforts vain. It is the neighbor's duty to keep the chickens up.—Kaufman Post.

If anybody's chickens are running at large in anybody's town, somebody is being bothered by them. Just as woman's sphere is home, so is the chicken's sphere the poultry yard. For a lady to permit her fowls to overrun neighbor's premises while she is on the hustings or breasting a card table, or mobilizing at the movies, is to commit a trespass upon good manners and good morals. The rooster no more than the bulldog, the hen no more than the cow, has a right to become a marauder; and for the owners of any sort of live stock, whether quadruped cattle or biped hens or husbands, to permit their journeyman property to journey into other people's reservations is to be guilty of violating the code of good breeding no less than the code of goodfellowship.—State Press in Dallas News.

Tailor Says, "Most Delightful"

Most tailors suffer from constipation. G. W. Roberson, Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "I find Foley Cathartic Tablets the most delightful, cleansing cathartic I have ever taken." They keep the stomach sweet and liver active, and drive away biliousness, bloating, headache, dullness and other results of clogged bowels. Sold Everywhere.

The Newspaper as Conscience Keeper

(From an address by Percy Andreae, vice-president American Association of Foreign Language Newspapers before the International Press Congress, Panams Exposition, San Francisco, California.)

"I believe that the paramount function of the Press is that of Keeper of the Public Conscience. There was never a time when men as well as women were so fiercely intent upon appealing, on this or the other ground, to the public conscience, and assuming to speak in its name, as they are today. And who is to distinguish, amid this babel of tongues wagging in the name of the public conscience, which voice is truly the voice of the people and which is not? All kinds of fads and fashions of thought have had their day in this world of ours. They have swept occasionally in violent gusts over the multitude, and we have heard men, again and again, as they bent their heads to the storm, pass the word to each other: "Behold the mighty whirlwind of public opinion;" until another such gust has swept from the opposite direction and successfully contested the passage of the first.

It is the incessant conflict between these contrary winds of alleged public opinion that does more lasting damage in our day than even these colossal social upheavals which occasionally result from the clashing interests of race and race. Not because the conflict of human opinions is in itself injurious, for we know that it is not, but because, when opinions, however honest, masquerade in a false guise, they are misleading, and perplex and bewilder the public conscience instead of clarifying and strengthening it.

Who, then, is better qualified than the trained and experienced newspaper editor, to point the distinction between the mere passing winds that bend and twist the public mind for a fleeting moment and the real storm-wind that originates in the public mind itself, searching it to its uttermost depths, and giving it a new and lasting shape?"

BIG GASOLINE EXPLOSION AT ARDMORE

SCORES OF FIRES STARTED BY BURNING FLUID WHICH RAGE UNCHECKED FOR HOURS.

THIRTY-FIVE KNOWN DEAD

Spark from Workman's Hammer Ignites Escaping Gas From Leak in Tank Car, Explosion Follows.

Ardmore, Okla.—At least 35 persons were killed, 200 other were seriously injured and property valued at approximately $500,000 was destroyed as the result of the explosion of a tank car containing 250 barrels of gasoline in the Santa Fe railroad yards here Monday afternoon. Of the bodies recovered 15 were negroes. Many were burned and mangled beyond recognition.

The tank car was standing near the Santa Fe freight office in the business district, and the terrific force of the explosion wrecked many buildings and threw burning gasoline in every direction. Scores of fires were started by the scattering of the blazing fluid and these raged for five hours before being put under control.

The city was under martial law at night, and by the dim light of lanterns, scores of workers were digging in the smoldering ruins for bodies and digging out injured and those held prisoners under wrecked buildings.

Caused by Spark From Hammer.

The explosion was caused by a spark from a workman's hammer, which ignited the gasoline fumes as they escaped from a leak in the tank car, as two workmen were repairing the tank. Suddenly one of them struck it with a hammer. A spark from the blow ignited fumes escaping through a small leak. There was a terrific explosion, followed by many smaller ones. The workmen were blown to pieces.

The shock shattered the Ardmore railroad station used by the Santa Fe, Frisco and Rock Island railroads. The Rock Island freight station and scores of other buildings quickly took fire from the flying liquid.

Main Street a Roaring Furnace. The flames spread rapidly until an entire main street appeared a roaring furnace. Thirty freight cars in the yards were destroyed. The pall of smoke hanging over the whole city prevented rescues from doing effective work.

Among the buildings destroyed were the railroad station, Swift & Co., Pennington Wholesale Grocery company, Whittington hotel, Maddin & Co., dry goods, and DeWitt Cigar company. Not a building on Main street escaped damage, either as a result of the force of the explosion or of the fires following. The publishing plants of the Daily Ardmoreite and the Statesman were badly damaged.

All school buildings, business houses and residences within twelve blocks of the business district bear evidence of the explosion. Practically every window in the city was shattered by its force.

KATY GOES INTO RECEIVERSHIP.

Action Is Result of Friendly Agreement Between Creditors and Company.

St. Louis, Mo.—The Katy railroad system, embracing the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, a Kausas corporation, and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway of Texas, Monday went into the hands of a receiver.

This change, affecting a system with an aggregate mileage of more than 3,800, was brought about by independent orders filed in the United States district courts in St. Louis and at Dallas and was a result of a friendly agreement between certain creditors and the management of the two companies that comprise the Katy system. Charles E. Schaff, president of both roads, was named sole receiver of each.

As a result of these court orders four of the great railway systems connecting the middle west with Texas gulf ports are now in the hands of the federal courts—the Rock Island system, the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain, the St. Louis & San Francisco and the Katy.

Americans Attacked by Haitian Rebels

Capt. Haitien.—In an attack by Haitian rebels on an American force about two miles from Cape Haitien, 40 Haitians were killed. Ten Americans were wounded. The rebels have refused to disarm and the Americans are marching on Haut de Cap, in the plain of the north.

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

The place of light commissioner of Fort Worth has 26 candidates in the race.

The cotton market made continuous advances last week, reaching new high records for the season on both spots and futures and closing $5 a bale up.

Much road work is being done in Kaufman county. This work is preparatory to the improve road-building to begin soon, for which a $300,000 bond issue has been voted.

R. L. Penick, president of the Central West Texas Poultry association, announces that the annual show given by that association will be held in Stamford Nov. 25-29.

The Mexia commercial club has closed a deal to establish a pottery there at once. This plant will give employment to about 12 men and the plant's capacity will be about 15 cars per month of jars, jugs and crocks and cooking vessels.

William Jennings Bryan will lecture in Dallas on the night of October 2 under the auspices of the Dallas Press club. Mr. Bryan's subject will be "The War in Europe and Its Lessons for Us." His lecture will be delivered at the city hall auditorium.

J. T. Wells has about completed a sweet potato house at Longview that will preserve 5,000 bushels of sweet potatoes. This is in addition to the Cochran 40,000 bushel house, which is being rapidly filled. It is estimated 300,000 bushels of sweet potatoes will be shipped from that place between now and next summer.

Little Marie Osborne, 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon T. Osborne, who were residents of Dallas up to a few months ago, is now playing moving pictures. Attracted by the beauty and expressiveness of her face, the representative of a film concern closed a contract with her parents, agreeing to pay her $30 a week.

Dr. R. E. Vinson, president of the Austin Presbyterian Theological seminary, received a telegram from Mrs. T. R. Sampson at Denver stating that all parties have returned from the search for the body of Dr. Sampson, who was lost in the mountains near Estes park, Colorado, three weeks ago, and that further search had been abandoned.

The A. & M. college celebrated the most auspicious opening in the history of the college when the doors of the institution were thrown open to 1,000 students at the beginning of the 1915-16 session. Not only is the attendance larger than on opening weeks of previous years, but the student body is composed of more advanced students than ever were enrolled in a freshman class before.

The department of labor has made public the results of an inquiry into the union scale of wages and hours of labor for 93 of the principal trades in 41 of the leading cities of the country in May, 1914. The average rate of wages per week for all cities taken collectively was higher on May 1, 1914, than on May 1, 1913, for 75 of the trades reported; in 17 trades there was no change and in only one trade was it lower.

Consigned to Vera Cruz, Mex., 100 bales of cotton were sold in Waco last week for over $6,000, or a fraction more than $60 a bale.

There is an unusual activity in the Healdton oil fields and producers are making few statements of their intentions, for the reason that they are inclined to be obedient to the rules of the corporation commission and they do not know what that body will do with reference to price fixing and storing of oil.

Damage estimated by operators and business men at $500,000 was caused by the heaviest rainfall ever recorded in Joplin, Mo., for a similar period of time. Seven inches of rain fell in eight hours.

Applications for state aid and an apportionment of the $500,000 appropriation made by the legislature for the purpose of raising the standard of rural schools in Texas will be considered at the October meeting of the state board of education.

EUROPEAN WAR HAPPENINGS

Everything Important That Could Be Confined to a Small Space is Here Found.

Russian ships have sunk a German submarine which has been operating recently in the Black sea.

The greatest war budget in the world's history has been introduced in the house of commons by Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer as another step toward financing the war, which is now costing Great Britain nearly $25,000,000 daily.

It is announced that French forces had occupied Ruad island, in the eastern Mediterranean, west of Crete and two miles of the Syrian coast. The population of the island is about 4,000. The inhabitants cheered the French. Ruad was a Turkish possession.

Premier Asquith, it is announced, has appointed a special committee of the cabinet to be charged with the general oversight of the war. The committee will act as a sort of executive committee absorbing the functions of the cabinet's Dardanelles committee.

Ambassador Penfield at Vienna has been instructed to make clear to the Austrian government informally that the United States must insist on the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador here, and that his departure "on leave of absence" would not be satisfactory.

The battleships Wisconsin, Ohio and Missouri are to be transferred from the first line fleet to the reserve because of lack of trained men, it was said at the Philadelphia navy yard. The pressing need for more men for the newer dreadnoughts was given as the reason for the withdrawal of a large number from each of these ships.

Gen. Cecil A. Lyon, one of the receivers of the I. & G. N. railroad has announced that early next year through passenger service from San Antonio and Houston to St. Louis will be reduced from 28 to 24 hours and only steel sleepers will be used on the run.

After being held hostage for about 18 months, Luis Terrazas, Jr., son of Gen. Luis Terrazas, together with his son, Guillermo Terrazas, has escaped from Chihuahua City, according to official Villa advices. After the migration of the Terrazas family to the United States, Luis Terrazas, Jr., was caught and held hostage for the political activity of the family in the United States and incidentally for a ransom of $500,000 demanded of Gen. Terrazas on a threat to kill his son.

In connection with the $1,000,000,000 loan being negotiated by England and France, figures compiled by New York financiers show that the national debt of all countries at war has increased more than $18,000,000,000, bringing the grand total of what the countries now owe to about $42,500,000,000. The war is costing England over $16,000,000 daily. France is spending $390,000,000 per month, Russia $360,000,000 and Germany $500,000,000.

The northwestern Louisiana oil field operations, which earlier in the month were stimulated by two advances in price were given additional stimulus during last week on account of the completion of a large well by the Gulf Refining company in the Hart's Ferry district. This well is the largest producer completed in Caddo in many months. At first it looked like a mammoth well, good for more than 25,000 barrels a day, because during the first 14 minutes it filled a 250-barrel tank.

A body that came ashore at Cloakilty, on the south coast of Ireland, has been identified as that of Mrs. Josephine Bruguiere of New York, one of the victims of the Arabic disaster.

Heavy demand for gasoline is given as the principal reason for another 5c advance in the price of Northwestern Louisiana oil, being the third within the last few weeks. The new price for the main production is: Caddo 75c, DeSoto 65c, Red River 55c.

Enormous shipments of zinc ore, lead ore and zinc and lead bullion are being received at the border at El Paso almost daily from the zinc and lead mines in Villa territory. During the last week 30,000 bars of lead were imported in one shipment, which reached the border in a solid ore train.

A passenger train of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico railroad was wrecked three miles south of Sinton. Despite the fact that all cars save two turned over, there were no injuries. The train carried two car loads of United States soldiers and these were the two cars that did not leave the tracks.

At a meeting of the commissioners' court at Waxahachie, a bond issue for $121,000 was authorized for drainage district No. 2, Ellis county, on the Trinity. The construction of levees there will protect about 12,000 acres of land from overflow.

Sunday, Oct. 27 will be labor day at the state fair at Dallas. Organized labor and its friends, and supporters are expected to visit the fair from all parts of the state. An interesting program is being arranged and will take place between 1 and 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the coliseum.

Noble county, Okla., has commenced the erection at Perry, the county seat, of a new stone court house to cost $100,000, which will succeed the old frame structure which has served the purpose of a court house since the county was first organized.

A new world's record for egg laying competitions was established when lady Eglantine, a White Leghorn, laid her 287th egg in 300 days at the Delaware college agricultural experimental station, Newark, Del. The average hen lays about 70 eggs a year.

Control of the Baldwin locomotive works in Philadelphia has been obtained by Charles M. Schwab of the Bethlehem Steel company and the Dupont powder interests, according to apparently well authenticated reports. According to the reports, the locomotive works will be reincorporated and converted into a plant for the manufacture of war munitions.

An international crisis of grave possibilities arose Saturday when 200 to 300 Carranza soldiers, led by a Carranza officer in full uniform, covered from entrenchments on the Mexican side the retreat of 70 to 80 Mexicans who early in the day raided the town of Progreso, sacked and attempted to burn the unguarded store of Florencio Saenz, a Mexican, and killed one American soldier and wounded another.

The entire Twenty-eighth infantry will leave Galveston for Dallas Oct. 5, to appear there in exhibition drills during the state fair. Unless orders to the contrary are received the Twenty-eighth will return to Galveston after the fair although there is an undercurrent of opinion that the regiment may proceed to the border from Dallas.

August Uehlinger, Lee Riggs, Tom Dunn, Ed Castleberry and Henry Stevens, convicted in the federal court at Corpus Christi of conspiracy against the United States in corrupting an election at which congressmen were voted for, have been sentenced. Uehlinger, Castleberry and Stevens were each given a year and a day at Leavenworth and cash fines of $5,000. Riggs and Dunn were given six months in the Victoria county jail and cash fines of $2,500 each.

Work has been completed on the fifteen mile extension of the shell road from Port O'Connor to Bloomington, this completing 40 miles of shell road at an expense of $160,000.

The Midvale Steel company, one of the largest of the so-called independent concerns in the country, has been sold by the interests which founded the plant nearly a half century ago, to purchasers whose identity has not been disclosed. The sale price approximates $19,000,000.

Prince Frederick of Thurn and Taxis, son of Prince Lamoral, was killed while fighting in the Dniester region in Russia, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger. He was 41 years old.

There were 1,076 wells completed in the oil fields of the United States during August, exclusive of Wyoming and California. The total amount of new production was 97,850 barrels of oil, while 155 of the wells completed were gassers and 248 were dry holes.

ALLIES SUCCESSFUL IN BIG OFFENSIVE

ROUT GERMANS FROM THE ALONG FRONT OF TWO MILES—CAPTURE 200

FRENCH CAPTURE

Berlin Admits Loss, But Says of Ground Was Voluntarily Donated 4,000 Yards.

London.—Twenty thousand wounded German prisoners and wounded on both sides, numbers of which as yet there is no mate, is the toll taken in the drive of the Anglo-French, which have begun a great movement against the German trenchments along the line western war zone from the Swiss frontier.

Two distinctive operations, the first, one north of Arras, other in the Campagne region, there has been an incessant bombardment along almost the front.

Both the British and French have been successful, carrying on extending over a distance of a half mile, and it is reported that the advance is continued, the ground in a large measure has been held and consolidated.

Berlin Admits Retirement. The Berlin war office admits retirement of the German forces at various points, but minimizes results of the engagements.

The British and French have also taken eight guns, a number of machine guns.

At the same time British and French hand Belgian territory heavily bombarded the German positions on the coast between Zandvoort and Nieuport.

The offensive, which resulted in French and British victories Saturday morning. For several days there has been an almost continuous bombardment with large guns, particularly in the sectors where infantry attacks took place.

French Make Biggest Gain. The French, who have made important gain to his credit, made chief onset around Parthenay, four and Suippes in Champagne where in December they made considerable gain of ground. Saturday, however, backed by tremendous artillery fire, they made possession of more territory than had retaken from the Germans the latter dug themselves in a battle of the Marne.

According to the French, the Germans were driven out of their trenches over a front of varying in depth from a mile to two and a half miles. French, in this engagement, captured 12,000 prisoners. Apparently no advantage is being pressed still. The French communicated only the briefest mention of operations.

The importance of this offensive in the fact that every yard of ground taken in this region weakens the German position around Verdun, which the Germans might be compelled to retire should the French succeed in making any further gains.

French Regain Trenches. The French also have regained Souchez and trenches east of "labyrinth" in the Arras region, which was the scene of much fighting earlier in the year. The Germans had built up what is considered almost impregnable fortifications.

This attack was made in conjunction with the British, who on either side of LaBasse, the attack south of the canal was complete success. Trenches of length and about 4,000 yards depth were taken at this point.

This push forward gives the French possession of the road from LaBasse, which was used by the Germans for moving troops and supplies north and south and to outflank the German troops and hold the town of Lens.

British Give Up Captured Ground

North of the canal, the British, though they fought all day Saturday, were unable to hold the ground and had to fall back to the positions which they had left in the attack, however, according to one purpose, as, according to Marshal French, German forces were sent to check this movement giving the British south of the canal an opportunity to consolidate new positions unmolested.

exclaimed Mrs. Royalty. "I hate the man!"
"So do I!" growled Rosamund. "I think he ought to be horsewhipped!"
"Well," said Carolyn, "I must say I agree with you both. I consider Hall Bonistelle is a perfectly conceived and admirably rendered cad!"

At this moment the door swung open and, humming a jolly tune, in-walked Hall Bonistelle. There was a trio of "Oh's!" in soprano, mezzo-soprano and contralto as the ladies caught sight of him.
CHAPTER IX.
He came in with a smile, but, at first glimpse of his visitors, it faded swiftly into a look of terror. But Hall was game; he pulled himself together and smiled again. It was with a fairly credible expression of affability that he exclaimed: "Well, this is an unexpected pleasure!" He went from one to another offering his hand, then he drew off his gloves and looked his guests over anxiously. The atmosphere was like that before a thunderstorm.

Then he drew a breath of sudden relief. Flo die was entering. Flo die was smiling. Seeing that smile, he seemed to come to himself, as if after a disturbance. "Oh!" said Flo die, "are you back already? I was so busy I didn't hear you."
"Yes, I forgot my watch. You know I've got to have it repaired. I'll get it now." He turned to the ladies with a new enthusiasm. "I'm awfully sorry I'm in such a hurry, but I've got a lot to do this afternoon."
Flo die appeared nervous. "Miss Gale is waiting for me to do her proofs, you know," she said. "I've finished the others, Mr. Bonistelle. I think the ladies will excuse you; I can attend to them, all right!" She walked slowly back to the stockroom, giving him a meaningful glance as she left.
"Oh, yes, don't wait, Mr. Bonistelle," said Mrs. Royalty.
"Well, I'll have to go then, I suppose. Make yourselves quite at home, ladies; I'll be back in a minute." He left impatiently.

Carolyn thought a moment. "Say,
we've got so much to talk over, we can't discuss it here. Hall may be back any moment. I'll tell you. Wait a moment!" She walked up to the stockroom door and opened it. "Miss Fisher!" she called.
Flo die appeared, wondering what she could be wanted for.
"I say, Miss Fisher, couldn't we go into the reception room for a while?
We've got some things to talk over.
About the party tonight, you know."
"Why certainly," was Flo die's reply.
"The studio's being decorated, but the reception room is all ready, and nobody will disturb you. Go right in."
"Come on!" said Carolyn, turning to the other ladies. "We'll have it out right now, and decide on everything." She led the way in.
Hardly had they disappeared when Flo die emerged again. She took a step toward the door they had left ajar, and listened. Then she sat down at her desk, smiling.
"So far, so good!" she thought. Her scheme had worked perfectly. It was not for nothing that Flo die had watched women, laughed at them, analyzed them and filed them away in her mind. But now, what? Was she any nearer to getting Hall for herself?
Dubiously she considered her prospects. She was as intensely concentrated on the effort as the tiger waiting to leap on her prey. All to be seen of it, however, was a little, quaint,

gray-eyed girl, painedly bending
over her accounts.
It was not many minutes before Hall
came in, thoughtfully winding a gold watch. He looked about, surprised.
"Where are they? Gone?"
"Oh, no," said Flo die. "In there!"
She nodded toward the reception room.
Hall walked toward the door and looked in. Flo die watched him sharply. "Say," he said finally, turning to her, "there are three mighty nice girls, did you know it?"
"H'm," mumbled Flo die.
"They're all so sweet—by Jove, I hardly know which one I like best!"
he went on. "They're charming; don't you think so?"
Flo die was very busy writing in a little book. "Yes," she said without looking up.
"No, but really, Flo!"
"Oh; yes; really."
"By Jove, I hardly know which one I do like best!" Hall peeped into the reception room again curiously,
through a narrow slit in the doorway.
"Well, you can't marry them all, can you?" Flo die looked up now, biting
the end of her penholder viciously.
"No, that's the deuce of it. I almost wish I could."
"Mr. Bonistelle!"
"Well, then, I've got to jilt two of them. I wonder which one will be

Table Takes Root in Yard.
S. S. Wisser of Reading, Pa., had a unique experience with a willow wood table which he placed in his yard several weeks ago. From this experience he is convinced that the year 1915 will bring bumper crops.
Wisser discovered a few days ago
that the table had sprouted and had begun to bud and shoot. When he tried to remove the piece of furniture
he found that the four legs had taken root in the soil and the table is now
a part of the vegetation of the yard.
Should he now wish to remove the table he will have to dig.

"Dar wouldn't be so much need of human folks was as patient an' for-bearin' towards an animal as dey is towards machinery."

the lucky girl! Of course it all depends upon what they say to me tonight."
He stopped suddenly and turned to Flo die. "Say, what are they talking about in there, anyway?"
"Oh, I don't know. Clothes, I guess."
Flo die held her breath.
"By Jove!" His face changed swiftly. "Oh, pshaw, though, nice girls
don't go about telling their love affairs, do they? What the deuce are you laughing at?"
"Oh, no!" said Flo die. "Nice girls never get as intimate as that. On all subjects that concern the heart,
Mr. Bonistelle, women are invariably as silent as the grave!"
He looked hard at her. "That's evidently sarcasm. Say, I'm worried!"
He walked anxiously back to the door and looked in again. "By Jove," he exclaimed, "this is getting on my nerves. Lord, if they should find out!
See here, what were they talking about while they were in here waiting? D'you know?"
She looked up ingenuously, and replied, "Oh, I was in the stockroom, printing proofs. They were all alone
here in the office."
"Well, I wish to goodness you had listened. I'd hate to lose four millions of dollars on account of them.
See here, Flo, I can't stand this. I feel as if I were smoking a pipe on top of a barrel of gunpowder. There may be an explosion any minute. You can't tell what may touch it off—why,

DOG FISH TRAINED FOR WAR
"Ike the Inventor" Offers Them to the Government to Bark at Submarines.
A man who described himself as Isaac Blake, better known as "Ike the Inventor," walked into the Brooklyn borough hall, says the New York World, and unfolded a brand new scheme for protecting American ships
from attack by submarines.
"I live down at Hook Creek," said
Ike, "and I own a lot of dogfish, which I have tamed and trained. If the government will hire them, I will send out a pack of my sea hounds to escort any American vessel bound for the war zone. When the ship reaches there, my trained dogfish will go ahead of her scouting for submarines. Spotting an undersea boat, they will come to the surface and bay lustily."
"The man on the bridge, thus warned of danger, will change the course of his ship so as to elude the submarine.
To prevent the submarine from following its prey, my dogfish will bite and otherwise harry it until it is driven off.

Famous Flower Market.
Rio de Janeiro is noted for its flower market, which is but a short distance from the point where every train in the city passes. This market is kept entirely by men in European clothes—Portuguese-speaking individuals who seem to have inherited the Portuguese love of flowers. The most magnificent dahlias I have ever seen were in the shops of Sao Paulo, Brazil.—Exchange.

Chinese Salt Wells.
Salt wells in China have been operated for hundreds of years, and in the Tzelingching district, especially, have built up a prosperous community. In some cases the wells are 300 feet deep. The salt is obtained in the form of brine, which is raised in bamboo tubes by means of crude derricks, the motive power for which is furnished by water buffaloes.

to leave until they're out of here. I don't care how long they stay! I don't dare to, till I see what happens.
I'll go into my room now, and you call me when they're gone, will you?" He waited on the threshold of the studio.
Flo die nodded assent. "All right!"
"And," he continued, "if anything breaks, you give me the tip and I'll get out the back way!" He left, grinning sardonically.
As soon as he had gone Flo die rose and tiptoed to the half-open door. She watched and listened, now, with far more interest than she had displayed before Hall. Inside, the voices rose and fell in animated conversation:
Mrs. Royalty's always sentimental and reproachful, Carolyn's high and merry, Rosamund's a surly contralto note. Flo die's face changed from hope to fear, from hatred to mirth.
She was so absorbed in the scene that she did not notice when the hall door opened, and Mr. Smallish entered, bearing a newspaper.

He stared at her, then coughed.
Flo die whirled round and faced him.
"Oh!" she stammered. "How you frightened me, Alfred!"
"I beg your pardon, Miss Fisher.
But say, did you know what they got in the paper about Mr. Bonistelle?"
He displayed an afternoon edition.
Impatiently, Flo die snatched the sheet from his hands. "Oh, dear!
What was it about?"
At this minute the three ladies entered the room, all talking at once.
At sight of Flo die and Alfred they grew silent.
"Why, it said how Mr. Bonistelle had inherited—"
"Oh, never mind!" Flo die exclaimed excitedly. "That's a lie, anyway." She tried to carry the paper to her desk,
glancing terrified at the ladies.
"What is it?" Carolyn demanded.
"Is there something about Mr. Bon-istelle in the paper?"
Alfred bowed. "Yes, miss, he's come into a lot of money, it seems—"
"Alfred!" cried Flo die, "you go downstairs and see if those ice-cream
freezers have come yet."
"Yes'm!" Then he turned again to Carolyn. "It was on condition he—"
Flo die in her excitement had dropped the paper. Quick as a hawk, Carolyn picked it up. She scanned it swiftly. "Here it is!" she cried in triumph: "Eccentric Millionaire's Queer Bequest—Nephew Will Get Four Millions If Married in Haste—A Good Chance for Some Nice Girl! Well, isn't that disgusting!"
"Go on!" cried Rosamund and Mrs.
Royalty angrily.

Mrs. Royalty exclaimed.

Mint Leaves in Plum Jelly.
This year when you are making
plum jelly, try this plan:
Get some fresh mint, and while the jelly is cooking, add some of the mint leaves to it. Pour the jelly into the glasses so that a few leaves are in each. The mint gives a flavor and point to the jelly that makes it especially delicious with roast lamb or other meat.

Minced Chicken, Cream Sauce.
Put into a saucepan one tablespoonful of butter, one gill of stock and two tablespoonsful of stale bread crumbs and stir until boiling. Then add one pint of cold chicken, chopped fine; a teaspoonful salt, a dash of pepper and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Remove from the fire and add two well-beaten eggs; fill into small greased molds, stand in hot water and cook in the oven 15 minutes. Serve hot with a cream sauce made from rich milk, thickened to the consistency of cream. Very nice.

Delicious Lemon Pudding.
The juice and grated rind of one lemon, one cupful of sugar, the yolks
of two eggs, three well-rounded table-
spoonsful of flour, one pint of milk.
Mix the flour and part of the milk to a smooth paste, add the lemon, sugar,
yolks of eggs well beaten and rest of milk. Line baking dish with rich pastry rolled about one-quarter inch thick. Bake in good oven. Beat whites to a stiff froth, add two tablespoonsful
of sugar, spread over the top return to oven to brown. Serve cold.

HINTS FOR THE COOK
SOME BETTER WAYS OF DOING
KITCHEN WORK.
How To Do Away With Lumps in Making Cocoa—To Keep Rice and Macaroni From Becoming Mushy.
Instead of mixing cocoa with boiling water to dissolve it before putting it into the cocoa pot, try mixing the dry
cocoa with an equal amount of granulated sugar and then pouring it into the boiling water in the pot, stirring all the while. This does away with the lumps that usually have to be fussed over, and also a mushy cup.
The kettle should be given frequent baths, else lime and other salts will settle on the bottom, which may then be dissolved off into the boiling water,
making it "hard."
To heat water very quickly set a broad, flat saucepan over the fire and cover to keep in steam.
A small zinc-covered board, about the size of a rolling board for pastry, is invaluable for setting hot dishes, pots, etc., upon. This preserves
the kitchen table top, and leaves room
on the stove for other things.
To prevent a roast from becoming fat soaked, set it upon a rack in the roasting pan. But keep the surface of the roasting pan covered with fat to prevent it from burning. Fat is better used here than water, as water utterly changes the character of the meat.
Cold meats may be attractively
served by removing first all gristle, bones and skin and excess fat and then cutting into thin strips or slivers.
Warm indirectly by pouring over the meat any desired hot sauce.
To keep every grain of rice separate and distinct, cook it in a pot of rapidly boiling water with the lid off.
Cooked in a double boiler with the lid on makes the rice mushy. Macaroni should be cooked same as rice.
To soften hard tissue of dried vegetables like peas, beans and lentils, cook in soft water. Otherwise add baking soda to ordinary water in the proportion of one teaspoonful to two quarts of water.
If string beans are not freshly gathered from the garden, it will improve
them to prepare them for cooking,
then let them stand for an hour or more in cold water before applying heat.
Dried apples, apricots, prunes, etc.,
should be soaked overnight in cold water before cooking, so as to "plump" them and soften the dried tissue.
Try "caramel sugar" as a dressing for mush, griddle cakes, sauces for puddings, icing for cakes, etc. This is made by cooking the sugar in a pan until it browns nicely or makes caramel. This may be made into a sirup by the addition of water and bottled for future use.

Pickled Walnuts.
Wipe 100 walnuts, prick with a large needle and put them in a jar, sprinkling as you lay them in with the following spices, mixed: Cloves, allspice, nutmeg, whole pepper and sliced ginger, of each an ounce; one-half pint mustard seed, four cloves
of garlic and a stick of horse radish.
Then add two tablespoonsful of salt
and sufficient boiling vinegar to cover the whole. Cover the jar and tie closely.—Mother's Magazine.

THE TOYAH ENTERPRISE TO PASS

With the issue of next week, Friday, Oct. 8th, the Toyah Enterprise will be a thing of the past. The paper which will thereafter bear the name of "The Enterprise" will be published in Pecos after possibly one week's lapse of time necessary in moving. As regards the policy of the paper, its hopes and ambitions in the future its readers will be advised in our next and last issue of "The Toyah Enterprise." Those who may desire job printing in the near future are urged to call in and place your orders before the material is packed for shipment, and the work will be promptly done and delivered.

Mr. Geo. A. Plummer was here one day this week to have his sulphur locations changed to conform to a ruling recently made by the Commissioner of the Land Office. Mr. Plummer was led to believe, from a letter from the Commissioner, that the five claims to which one individual is entitled, could be surveyed in a solid body, and would be accepted in that form, but on further consideration it was decided that each claim had to be applied for and surveyed separately. It seems that all kinds of obstacles are being placed in the way of developing the sulphur deposits in this and Reeves county, and why this should be so, it is hard to understand. When anyone, who is financially able to carry out such an enterprise as the development of the vast sulphur ing county, should receive the encouragement of every citizen of this section of the country, and officers of the State, who have the administration of the law pertaining to the mining industry.—Van Horn Advocate.

E. A. Humphries has sold his stock in the Reeves County Mercantile Co. to Finley Holmes, and retired from the business. This was made necessary on account of Mr. Humphrie's health, he thinking it best to be out of doors more. Mr. Humphries informs the editor that he has purchased a bunch of fifty cattle which he will put on his ranch and look after them. He will not move out on the ranch, however, but will remain in town and run out occasionally to look after his stock.

Mr. Humphries is a good business man and has many friends who will regret to learn that he is out of the mercantile business.

To visit our interesting and instructive exhibit at the Texas State Fair, Dallas; and Louisiana State Fair of Shreveport. We invite all our former students, their friends and those contemplating entering a business training school to visit our booth in the Exposition Building and see our splendid exhibit which has won first honors at these state fairs. Our exhibits this year will be more extensive than ever before; it will be interesting and educational to old and young. We will have demonstrations on some of the most modern office appliances which are taught in our school. Speed demonstrations in Stenotypewriting, Shorthand, Typewriting, Business Administration and Finance, Penmanship, Cotton Classing and Telegraphy. A visit to our exhibit will show you why we have the largest school of the kind in America, when you are shown clearly why it is that we can make you a more practical and thorough stenographer in three and one-half months with the Byrne Simplified Shorthand or Stenotypewriting than other schools teaching other systems can in seven months, and why it is with our original copyrighted systems of Bookkeeping and Business Training that we can give you both a course of Bookkeeping and Business Training in less time than other schools can give you a more theoretical course of Bookkeeping, and why it is that our practical department of Telegraphy, the largest in the United States, with a loop of the Cotton Belt train wire, giving every message to our students that goes from Mt. Pleasant to Waco; every station blank and record book that is used by Western Union or Cotton Belt Railroad, turns out practical operators and station men; and that we place our graduates into good positions.

From present indications we will easily enroll 2,000 students this year.

Whether you are going to attend one of these Fairs or not, write to-day for catalogue and read what we guarantee to give you, what our former students say we have given them, and what their employers say of their efficiency. Address: Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

GETTING A START

By
NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, Jr.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

THE COMPLAINER.

You are not altogether satisfied with yourself, with others, with your environment, with conditions. Nobody is satisfied. Neither you nor anybody else will ever be completely satisfied. Full satisfaction leads to stagnation. The satisfied man is a fool, intoxicated with his own satisfaction, never sober enough to do more than stagger along the road of life.

The complete optimist is no better than the contented pig in the well-kept sty.

Regulated dissatisfaction, dissatisfaction based upon fact, is a forerunner of success.

There is, however, a wide gulf between legitimate dissatisfaction and that which consumes the chronic complainer, the disreputable knocker, and the everlasting kicker.

Life is made up of affirmatives and negatives. One without the other is incomplete. The two properly blended are part of the composition of success. The habitual complainer is an enemy to himself, and he is despised by all with whom he comes in contact. He is a failure at the start, and will be a failure as long as he indulges in chronic dissatisfaction.

Conversely, the complete optimist is dangerous to himself and a menace to society, because he does not know enough to get out of the ruts or to keep from stumbling into holes.

Dissatisfaction has a value only when it spurs one on to better effort. When it deadens one's faculties, as it often does, and takes the gimp out of him, so to speak, it is an evil of the most virulent form.

Nobody likes the constant complainer. He has no friends. He does not occupy any position of responsibility, and he never will. He cannot manage himself or command others. He has no respect for himself and nobody respects him. He is no better than a dead log floating on the stream, accomplishing nothing and serving only as a menace to navigation.

Everybody has troubles, and while every decent man is willing to help others, he cannot afford to give more than a part of his time to listening to complaints, and he should not give any of his time to those which are not legitimate ones and which he cannot assist in remedying.

Keep your troubles to yourself or confine them to your immediate friends. Ninety per cent of trouble doesn't appear. It exists wholly in the mind.

Don't make a specialty of worrying. There is real trouble to worry about, and enough to keep you busy.

Kick when there is something real to kick at. You will strain yourself and sprain your leg if you kick at nothing.

WHEN IT RAINS, LET IT RAIN.

It was raining hard, and the wind was driving sheets of water against the window panes. The lecture room was filled. At the appointed hour the professor entered. Mounting the platform, he remarked dryly, "Gentlemen, when it rains, let it rain." Whereupon he immediately left the room.

In these few words were both a lecture and an object lesson, and the students never forgot the occurrence.

When it rains, let it rain. Why not? If it wants to rain, it will rain, and all the ingenuity of man cannot prevent the downfall. If it did not rain part of the time, the world would tire of sunshine. Contrasts are necessary to progress.

The good would not be good if it were not in competition with the bad. Continuous enjoyment breeds stagnation.

Suffering has its place, and so have worry and discouragement.

The great navigator, who, in the glory of his power, stands upon the bridge of the ocean greyhound and steers his ship through mountainous waves and the wind of the tornado, would not be happy or satisfied piloting a flat boat on a calm and placid river.

If the Road of Life were smooth and without handicaps, men would be like animals, without ambition and without incentive to master both themselves and the conditions in which they found themselves.

When it rains, let it rain. Do not be concerned in stopping the rain, but be ever anxious to meet the downpour and to devise means for protecting yourself against it.

The brave man, the man who wins in every kind of strife, does not try to get rid of trouble, but, rather, arms himself to meet it. He accepts the night as well as the day; he loves the storm as well as the calm; he uses disaster, if it must come, as an experience of extreme value in the race of his life. He has no patience with monotony. He is strenuous as well as cautious, and when he conquers trouble he is proud of his ability to win.

No success worth while ever occurred on a smooth road. Men of power reached their positions because their paths were strewn with disaster and they had opportunity to use the ability which Nature gave them and which they developed in danger as well as in safety.

When it rains, let it rain. Don't think of the wet of the rain, but concern yourself with meeting it, protecting yourself against it. Do not allow it to wet your ambition or to soak your energy.

When it rains, let it rain. When trouble comes, let it come. When disaster meets you, do not turn your back upon it, but face it like a man. If these things were not necessary for the development of the human race, the all-wise Creator would not have permitted them to exist.

Learn life's affirmatives by not avoiding its negatives. There would be no affirmative unless opposite it were a negative.

When it rains, let it rain. It will.

FINDS NEW RACE OF INDIANS

Explorer Who is Investigating Brazil Writes That Savages Worshiped Him as God.

Albert Lang, who is exploring the sources of the Amazon for the Brazilian government, has informed F. N. Dellenbaugh, secretary of the Explorers' club, of the discovery of a new tribe of Indians, 1,000 miles from civilization, between the headwaters of the Cairary and Moju rivers. Mr. Lang gives a picturesque description of the savages, who, he says, took him for a god, embracing his feet to show their devotion. Their tools, he writes, are of stone, and their ideas so unusual as to suggest their belonging to another age. The Jewish cast of their features might lead one to infer that they were of the lost tribes did not their ignorance of iron and writing argue against it.

"I am sitting in a maloca (hut)," writes Mr. Lang, "of a curious tribe of genuine savages, arriving here after taking my six-man canoe above the headwaters of the Cairary and Moju rivers, fighting our way through five dangerous rapids to get here. After 15 days' search I got in touch with a virgin tribe, which can be so described because they are wholly untouched and unspoiled by civilization. They use stone axes and by their aid, have cleared away some 30 acres of jungle, and so blunt are these tools that the trees look as if they had been chewed off."

NATIVES HARD TO EDUCATE

France Has a Problem in the Work It is Doing in the Society Islands.

On the theory that who can add two and two to make four possesses the beginnings of an education, the French Colonial authorities have caused the neat gray school buildings of Tahiti, Society Islands, to be embellished with an imposing signboard bearing the legend: 2 plus 2 equals 4. Steeped in inherited superstition this simple symbol of erudition is regarded with reverent awe by the native Tahitians. To them it epitomizes the ascendancy of the dominant Gaul.

Nude, save for the ubiquitous red and white calico pareu (knee-length skirt), the lithe brown youths and maidens of this tropical paradise present a grotesque appearance at the modern school desks patiently grappling with the three R's. Marvelously quick to learn, these "sons of the sun" are even quicker to forget, and in a majority of cases, after laboriously acquiring an education, they cast it aside like an outworn garment and return to the old life of ease in the grass-thatched huts under the spreading palms. The pomp and circumstance attending the opera bouffe rule of the French colonial "administration" appeals strongly to the native taste, and if the government is lax and inefficient, the ever lighthearted and childlike islanders find little fault.

CHECK NEEDED TOUCHING UP

Bank Cashier Handled the Subject Diplomatically, But Sensitive Mr. Brushly Was Annoyed.

"This check of yours," said the large-hearted cashier to Brushly, the impressionist painter, "is drawn exceedingly well, and in composition seems to be pretty nearly perfect; but it lacks background, Mr. Brushly. But for that it would be a work of art. Your foreground is charming, but just a trifle too—well, shall we say too fanciful?"

"I don't know what you are driving at," growled Brushly. "I suppose you know what you mean, however. What kind of a background would you suggest?"

"Cash!" said the cashier. "A work of art like this, calling for the payment of $50, is not wholly convincing with a sketchy little overdraft of $2.89 on deposit to provide the necessary contrasts in light and shade and to give the thing what we might call balance."

Whereupon Brushly, like the self-respecting man he was, snapped his fingers under the impudent fellow's nose and transferred his overdraft to the trust company across the street.—Judge.

Some office holders get up and howl about the burden of holding a political office, but never think of resigning.

Fame is a bubble, but it is just as well to allow someone else to blow yours for you.

Hardly Complimentary.

A New England housewife one afternoon received a call from a hobo to whom that morning she had given some doughnuts.

The knight of the road doffed his ragged headpiece and with great civility addressed her thus:

"Madam, this morning you gave me three doughnuts. Would it be asking too much to request a fourth?"

"I'll be glad to give you another," said the woman, as she prepared to wrap one in a newspaper. "So you like my doughnuts, do you?"

"It isn't that, madam," explained the hobo. "You see, some friends of mine down in the meadow wish to have a game of quots."

Poor Father.

Ernest P. Bicknell, the national director of the American Red Cross, was talking in New York about the splendid work that his organization is doing in Belgium.

"We are supplying the Belgians," he said, "with $12,000,000 worth of food a month. We are also supplying food to the inhabitants of Poland, whom Germany has taken over."

"We have a good deal to do, eh? We are like the father who said:

"At last, at last, I've got my five daughters off my hands. Now to put my five sons-in-law on their feet."

Knew His Father.

A school inspector asked a class of small children: "If I had three glasses of beer on the table, and your father came in and drank one, how many would be left?"

"None, sir," answered a very small boy.

"But you don't understand my question," said the inspector, and he repeated it again.

Still the boy gave the same reply. "Ah, my boy," exclaimed the inspector at last, "it is clear you don't know mental arithmetic."

"But I know my father," said the boy, promptly.

Visitors Excepted.

"I seldom see a large automobile standing in front of a pretty bungalow that I don't feel sad."

"You are not envious, I hope?"

"No, indeed. Experience has taught me that about nine times out of ten a motor car at the curb means a mortgage on the house."

Savin' 'Em.

"The old saying about true love never runs smooth wasn't true in their case. They never had a single quarrel during their engagement."

"No, they were saving them all up for their honeymoon."

Hard to Tell.

Gibbs—I tell you, no man can fool my wife.

Judge's Retort Set Courtroom Ring and Gave Lawyer Something to Think About.
City Magistrate Krotel, who is famous for a characteristic brand of humor, occasionally manifested tolerances from the bench, but a cruel shaft loosed upon a best young attorney this week. In the preme enjoyment of a crowded courtroom, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star, a young attorney was prosecuting a case where the maintaining of a nuisance was alleged. The Magistrate Krotel did not appear to be particularly pleased with His numerous objections because of a consistently controversial "If you please," he said, "I would presume to instruct the honorable in a question of law, but I am content to observe that I doubt—in the present case only, of course—if the properly conceives of what a nuisance."
"You are mistaken, sir," was the response from the bench. "This man has never had a more clear and plain idea of what constitutes a nuisance than in the present case. In the present time. And for that measurable way, the court stands sir."

"DEAR MOTHER:— A good thing to send would be a package of Grape-Nuts, or something of that kind that is not expensive or heavy and is of good food value. Your son, WILL."

From a Canadian soldier at the battle front; reprinted from the Renfrew (Ont.) Journal.

Wherever hardships are endured, wherever big deeds are accomplished, there food is demanded that provides maximum of value in brain- and body-building material with minimum of bulk.

In this respect no other food equals

Grape-Nuts

In building the Panama Canal thousands of brain workers as well as brain workers kept themselves fit and in trim by eating Grape-Nuts dry from the package.

Not only does Grape-Nuts supply all the brain- and bone-building, nerve- and muscle-making elements of choicest wheat but also the rich nutriment of malted barley.

Grape-Nuts is highly concentrated nourishment in compact form—always ready, crisp and delicious—thoroughly baked and packaged to keep indefinitely, anywhere.

Wherever time is precious and sound nourishment vital you'll find Grape-Nuts.

A. F. KREAMER, 1574 Electric Avenue,
Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down
feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness,
or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pink-

ard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are con-

Where It Was Appropriate.

Lord Kitchener, it is said, is very pleased with the result of the present temperance move.

"We are all temperate now," said
his lordship recently.

"To get drunk is an unheard-of thing
among gentlemen. If a gentleman ever gets drunk nowadays he has, you may be sure, a remarkable excuse to offer." To illustrate his point Lord Kitchener told this story:

A major, after a fancy dress ball at Simla, came home drunk and his shocked wife said to him:

"Aren't you ashamed to return from the ball in that condition?"

"Don't blame me, my dear," said the major; "you must remember that the character I assumed was that of a sponge."

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS MY WAY

Just Once! Try "Dodson's Liver Tone" When Bilious, Constipated, Headachy—Don't Lose a Day's Work.

Live up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel, because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver,
which causes necrosis of the bones.
Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning, because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working,
your headache and dizziness gone,
your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and cannot salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel
is almost stopped entirely here.

No Cause for Alarm.

A young preacher who was staying at a clergy house was in the habit of retiring to his room for an hour or more each day to practice pulpit oratory. At such times he filled the house with sounds of fervor and pathos and emptied it of almost everything else.

A well-known bishop happened to be visiting a friend in this house one day
when the budding orator was holding forth.

"Gracious me!" exclaimed the bishop, starting up in assumed terror,
"pray what might that be?"

"Sit down, bishop," his friend replied. "That's only young D— practicing what he preaches."

Too Noisy.

"Oh, I did at first, but this street's got so noisy I can't sleep a wink at night now."

THE TWO BUTTES IRRIGATION SYSTEM

in Southeastern Colorado is the only completed Carey Act project in the State.
It is one of the most perfect in the United States. It was built for the farmers under the supervision of the State of Colorado. The soil and climate are especially adapted to alfalfa, wheat, corn, oats, barley, and to dairying, poultry, livestock, and irrigation guarantees the result. We want men who will work and develop and make homes not speculators. A new country with a world of promise for the industrious farmer or stockman with limited resources. Lands for sale cheap and on easy terms. Do not wait until a railroad advances prices beyond your reach but write at once.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

J. J. Brown

On Farmers' Union Invites Co-operation.

Co-operation is a mighty word that is ringing from ocean to ocean, reverberating from field to factory and echoing down the corridors of business. It is the slogan of the Farmers' Union, the guiding star of progress and the corner-stone of a new civilization. No man or organization can prosper without co-operation. Mr. J. J. Brown, president of the Georgia Farmers' Union, in his annual address, extending to the business interests an invitation to co-operate, said in part:

"The time has come when it is absolutely necessary for the business men and the farmers of this country to get together and stand for the best interests of our country, in order that we may change the conditions that now exist in the handling and marketing of farm products. For that reason the Farmers' Union is holding public meetings throughout the country and we are cordially inviting the business interests to co-operate with us in our efforts to build up our agricultural interests.

At the beginning of the government, from eighty to ninety per cent of all the wealth of this country was in the hands of the farmers. Since that time they have gradually lost in the great race of life until today the farmers of this country own less than thirty per cent of the wealth. And while the farmers of the United States produced last year ten billion dollars' worth of new wealth, they received, in round numbers, about forty per cent of this wealth, while those who manipulated and speculated in their product received sixty per cent.

What would you think of the merchant who, knowing the cost of his goods, would allow a consumer to walk into his store and tell him at what price he must sell his calico? My friends, that is exactly what we farmers have been submitting to for the last half century. We do not blame the merchant, neither do we blame the man who takes advantage of the infamous system of marketing our products, thereby making millions of dollars in a business called legitimate, but we farmers are to blame for submitting to such outrages.

I believe in scientific farming, intensive farming, diversified farming, and every kind of good farming. I swallow the hog and hominy proposition. But all these things are matters of putting the cart before the horse and the whole farming machine simply cannot get anywhere. We must meet the basic economic conditions first, then add to them, these other things.

We've had one palliative plan after another given us from every source under the sun, but until we organize and demand, as organized, enlightened citizens demand and obtain, we may expect the tidal wave of failure to engulf the entire South and the land of our inheritance pass from us forever."

THE VOICE OF NOW

It is the printed page which deals most intimately and with the greatest detail in the movements of the present. It is THE VOICE OF NOW proclaiming to the world the things that are happening today. The Government of the United States is NOW gravely concerned in certain aspects of the war in Europe and had thrust on it several serious international problems which are NOW in the process of solution. The American farmer is NOW interested in this titanic struggle, for his interests are being affected by it today and will be tomorrow, and he wants to keep in close touch with it NOW.

EVERYBODY is interested in the cotton crop from the time of its planting to the days of its harvesting and marketing. They want to know "the NOW" in all that pertains to the great Southern staple; they want to know "the NOW" of all other agricultural markets, the latest in modern farming, the facts of the warehousing problem, and all else that pertains to the progress of the times in every theater of life.

The tens of thousands of men and women who know The Semi-Weekly Farm News know it is "THE VOICE OF NOW," telling in direct and positive tones of what is going on at home and abroad.

The South's Greatest Newspaper Semi-Weekly Record

FORT WORTH, TEXAS

In this day of progress the man who would succeed must be informed about the world's doings. The local paper gives him local information which is needful, but it cannot cover the whole field. Hence the man who would keep step with the march of the times will take a general newspaper also.

The Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record has taken front rank among the great publications of the South and West. It is specially prepared for the reader who has not the time or the opportunity to read a daily paper.

First of all, it is a newspaper. The Record believes that the people of the country and the village are as much interested in current events as the people of the city.

In the next place, it carries features suitable for all members of the family—women and children as well as men.

Last, but by no means least, the Record's editorial policy comprehends the economic welfare of the farmer and stock raiser. The Record is an acknowledged leader in the discussion of public questions in their relation to agricultural production.

In subscribing through this office you can get the Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record together with the Toyah Enterprise, both papers one year for only $2.30. Accept this remarkable offer today.

STATE FAIR AMUSEMENT FEATURE.

Dallas: New, novel and up-to-date, with splendid attractions, describes the Amusement Park offerings at the 1915 State Fair, Texas, which begins in this city Saturday, October 16.

C. A. Worsham, who is at the head of this big carnival attraction, achieved a national distinction for producing clean, entertaining and some shows.

Among the prominent ones for the State Fair may be mentioned the society horse show, where no less than seven trained and educated are the participants in a monster program, headed by Miss E. and her equine paradox, "Arabia," the Mecca for all those who enjoy and wild animal acts. Here Mlle. La Rose, the interpid trainer of lions, will show them off to a real advantage. Other features will be an extensive menagerie filled with strange and curious animals and birds from all parts of the globe.

The auto stadium is a place where thrills will be produced at the rate of one per second. Here four riders, one of them a woman, Mlle. La Rose, the vivandiere of the Chasseurs D'Afrique of the French Army, will drive high power racing autos around a perfectly perpendicular wall with death at every performance. Mlle. Marie and three other will attempt the globe of death at one and the same time and their performance is hair-raising to a degree.

The Miracle Girl with Miss Etta Louise Blake in the title role is an exceptionally good attraction, devoted to mystery, mirth and music. Her poses will be found to be most artistic, the singing and other specialties, and the big spectacle, "Pharaoh's Daughter," exceptionally interesting and worth while.

Among the other features may be mentioned Zetta and her queens; "Neptune's Daughter," with Miss Lillian Cooley, famous in the leading role; the Phillipino Midgets; Princess Carite, a delightful entertainer; A Trip to Mars; Crystal Tangle and Crazy House.

Mr. Worsham brings to the State Fair a high-class musical attraction—the famous Jameson Band of forty trained musicians and vocal soloists.

In other words the carnival end of the State Fair this year will be well produced, well fitted and well managed.

Cavalry, artillery, air scouts and polo teams from the United States Army will, it is believed, form a big encampment in the race track during the run of the State Fair. This will be a big feature with as a splendid army program will be assured. The program will be different from that which created so much interest last year. Artillery exhibitions by the aerial branch of the army, cavalry drills will be realistic war presentation that will be both educational and thrilling.

Let Other Folks Do All the "Kneecapping" You Help Us Boom Our Home Town

PERHAPS you have never heard of Daedalus. Maybe the name of Talos is just as strange to you.

Well, it doesn't make any difference.

The point is that one of these two ancient gentlemen invented the SAW. Pliny says Daedalus did. Apollodorus gives the credit to Talos.

It happened this way: Talos (or Daedalus, if you prefer) found the jawbone of a snake and employed it to cut through a piece of wood. Then he formed an instrument of iron like this thus gave the world the first saw.

And the good old universe has been sawing wood ever since.

WE ARE SAWING WOOD RIGHT HERE IN TOWN NOW. ALL WE ARE WORTH. WE ARE TRYING TO ATTRACT NEW INDUSTRIES AND NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISES HERE.

You are interested in this movement, and so is this paper. This paper has been in the front in every effort to attract blood. We have GOOD STORES and BUSINESS CONCERNS here NOW, but we are GROWING, and we want NEW ENTERPRISES that BRING MONEY to town. MAKE MONEY here.

You can help along in this boosting crusade by keeping in touch with this paper. Read it yourself. Send it to your relatives or friends. We think we deserve your support. You are helping through publicity to build up the town.
