PECOS SCHOOL NOTES.

The High School Keeping-Up Club, which was organized for the purpose of keeping up with world affairs, met in open session last Friday afternoon. The first numbers to be given was a piano solo by Ora Pruett but owing to her absence, this was omitted. The program was as follows:

Reading—"Causes of the European War." Jewle Cowan.
Reading—"How the Seventy-five Was Saved to France," Lola Hines.

Piano Duett—Warren Collings and Nell Kerr.

Reading—"A New Sea for World's Commerce," by Sybil Bowie.

Jokes—"A Handfull of Chestnuts," Hill Hudson.
"Inventions and Discoveries" Lloyd Mitchell, Thos. Wheeler and Hilliard Camp.

This was the first program given by the club, and every one present declared it to be interesting and instructive. The programs which follow will have to be very good to reach the standard set by this one.

After some delay the apparatus for playing volley-ball has arrived, and the younger girls are now practicing enthusiastically under the direction of Miss Donnelly.

The members of the High School football team have been practicing faithfully during the last few weeks, preparing for the game with the Pecos All Stars which is to take place Monday, October 23. There will be some good yelling during this game, as Jane Looby, the yell leader, has been drilling the High School pupils.

There have been six tardies and twenty absences in the entire High School this week. Most of the absences is due to the fact that a number of the students are attending the Expositions in El Paso.

The seventh grade has two new pupils this week, Flossie Moore and Rufus Taggart.

Billie Prewit has been absent from the seventh grade this week on account of sickness in the family.

Ruby Eggleston has been promoted from the Fifth to the Sixth grade.

Col. Thomas Springer was in yesterday from his ranch near Crystal Water after a load of supplies. He made The Times office a visit and handed us the "necessary" and we have set his name ahead another year on our list. Mr. Springer informs us that the range and cattle are in fine shape out his way, also that the drillers were still going down with the oil-test well at Crystal Water, and that the flow seemed to be on the increase.

try has ever witnessed thus came to a close, having lasted five weeks.

"Bro. Adair is a man of strong and forceful personalities, and a soul winner indeed. He is powerful in the pulpit, and a general of forces. He is unflinching in his attacks on sin, zealous in presenting the claims of Christianity, and the simplicity of his faith in God and his power and guidance is marvelous!" — Pierce Clark, Pastor M. E. Church.

"The Lockett Adair meetings have closed but not ended. The effect of this great meeting will go on even for a year. This meeting was one of the greatest meetings—if not the greatest—ever held in Central West Texas. Great because of its numbers won for Christ, which was the wonder of all. Great because of the class of people he reached and won. Great because of the large number of men brought to the Master—strong men, from different walks in life. Great because of the spiritual indifference he had to overcome.

"Lockett Adair is one of the most earnest preachers I have ever heard, and he is not only earnest, but he is honest. It is not put on for the occasion—he means it. Lockett Adair fights SIN, not the sinner. He is tactful, tells the truth, but does not offend. He is absolutely impartial in his dealings to all—treats all alike." — B. F. Stallings, Pastor Church of Christ.

We could go on giving hundreds, even thousands of good items from all over the country about the work done by this good man but time and space forbids. Suffice to say that he is one of the greatest soul-winners in the evangelistic work in America.

One and all are urgently invited to come out and hear him during these meetings in Pecos. If the tabernacle is in readiness there will be a practice of singing Saturday evening at 7:30, and also union services will be held there Sunday evening.

Sells and Delivers Yearlings.

Mrs. W. L. Ross delivered last week to Hood Mendell, of Pecos county, 403 head of fine yearling steers.

They were brought down from her New Mexico ranch and delivered to the buyer about fifteen miles below Pecos and the price paid was $32 per head.

Here to Attend Pecos School.

Shela and Rufus Taggart arrived in Pecos Monday with A. G. Taggart, their brother, and will live at his home and attend the Pecos High School this year. They are a pair of bright looking young men and The Times joins our people in extending a hearty welcome to them.

REEVES COUNTY FAIR A SUCCESS

This Has Been the Most Successful Fair Ever Held In Reeves County.

The Sixth Annual Reeves County Fair goes down in history as the most successful ever held in Pecos, in many ways. The races were splendid, there being many close outcomes; the agricultural department never was better, and attracted much attention. The woman's department surpassed all previous efforts, the ladies bringing together an exhibit that would have compared favorably with any of like kind anywhere. The poultry house, also, was nicely filled, and indicated that interest in the raising of good breeds is being cultivated by our people. Large crowds gathered each day to witness the goat roping and broncho busting. All other displays and features that go to make up a first-class fair were duly represented, while last, but far from least, was the carnival, which, judging from what we heard of it, was one of the best and cleanest that has ever been in Pecos.

Much credit is due Mr. Eberstadt for his untiring efforts and for the great interest that he took in the work of getting things in shape to make the Fair the success it was, also to his able assistants, who should also be heartily thanked for their part. One and all vied in making it a grand success. Below we give Mr. Eberstadt's financial report in condensed form:

To T. Y. Casey, president, and members of the Board of Directors of the Reeves County Fair Association:

Gentlemen:—
I beg to submit this, my report of the 1916 Reeves County Fair, showing herewith all funds received and expended, showing the issuance of 261 checks, with stub of each check and itemized statement on the back of each check, every check signed by E. B. Eberstadt, secretary, and approved by S. E. Eberstadt, and countersigned by T. Y. Casey, president. Also beg to report that I have on file a receipt of each and every account recorded in ledger, itemized, and showing number of check by which the same was paid. Each and every account and premium was paid by separate check. I also have a complete record of each and every transaction of the Fair for this year.

Respectfully submitted,
S. E. Eberstadt, Secretary.

BUSINESS MEN GO TO EL PASO

They Chartered a Pullman For the Trip—Twenty-Three Take the Car Will Return Saturday.

Pecos will certainly be well represented at El Paso this week. There were twenty-three went in a special car and about the same on the regular sleeper. The following is the personnel of the gentlemen: T. Y. Casey, manager of the Pecos Mercantile Co.; T. H. Beauchamp, vice-president of the First National Bank; M. W. Collie, manager of the Tri-State Telephone Co.; Geo. D. Coon, proprietor of the City Bakery; S. E. Eberstadt, secretary of the Pecos Valley Commercial Club; I. J. Sims, manager of the Hardware Department of the Pecos Mercantile Co.; Dr. C. J. Magee, dentist; W. H. Browning, Jr., Cashier of Pecos Valley State Bank; B. T. Biggs, real estate agent; W. A. Hudson, attorney; J. A. Drane, County attorney; D. W. Bozeman, proprietor of the Pecos Drug Co, the Rexall Store; Tom McClure, pharmacist with the City Pharmacy; R. L. McKnight, irrigation farmer; R. S. Johnson, proprietor of the Orient Hotel; M. H. Schermerhorn, manager of The Texas Company; I. T. Kesler, proprietor of the Pecos Bottling Works; W. L. Glasscock, manager of the dry goods department of the Pecos Dry Goods Co.; C. A. M. Pitts, Woody Cowan, Jim Prewit, Jr., Hilliard and Keith Camp.

A banner was placed on one side of the car with the following upon it: "Pecos, Texas—'City of Team Work,' all Boosters for El Paso." On the rear of the car was placed the following: "Pecos, Texas, Business Men's Special."

Mr. LaSalle, the "soft water man," also went up with them in the special, and E. L. Collings, of Vickers & Collings Grocery, went up on the regular sleeper.

This is certainly a live bunch of boosters and will do their very best to put Pecos on the map in a more prominent way than it has heretofore been in that section of the state.

Wm. Ross Receives Nomination to West Point.

William Ross, son of Judge an Mrs. J. F. Ross, has been notified that he has been nominated as a cadet at West Point Military Academy.

He was one of the 1915-16 graduates of the Pecos High School and this is a most worthy nomination and we feel sure that he will qualify and receive the appointment, for he is one of our very best young men, studious, and a hard worker at whatever he goes at.

He will be examined in March and receive his appointment in June.

Have Been Busy Dipping Cattle

E. P. Stuckler manager of the U ranch, was in Pecos on Wednesday for a short stay among his numerous friends, and also to look after some business matters for the ranch.

He informed us that they had so far dipped 6800 head of their stock, including a large number of strays in their pastures. They have about 500 steers which they are going to ship out next week that they will dip again before loading them out.

Ed also reported that they and nearly all the ranchers in that part of the country will have a very short calf crop, only 40 per cent, which was principally caused by the dry spell in the spring and summer.

Home From Their Long Trip.

B. W. Van Deren, wife and family arrived in Pecos last night from their long trip up to Oklahoma and Kansas, on their way to their home at Balbrhea. They visited most especially with the home folks at Great Bend, Kansas, but also visited numerous relatives and friends at other places in Kansas and Oklahoma.

They left about two months ago in their auto—a Mitchell—and have traveled over 4000 miles in making the trip, and enjoyed it very much.

Mr. Van Deren informed us that it has been very dry the last season in the sections he has in, and especially so in Central Oklahoma and Southern Kansas.

THE TIMES, ever progressive, has added a feature that we feel sure will interest those of our readers who contemplate building a home. On this page will appear, each week, The illustration of a home, and, occasionally an interior. A wide range will be covered, so no matter what your taste regarding how a home should be, you will find just what you want. The reading matter, too, will be of a nature that has to do with the home.

Modern Homes Enhance Value.

The difference in price in the ground value of "Progressive Hill," and the "Mossback Row" is the difference in the appearance of the improvements thereon. The ground of "Progressive Hill" was worth no more than "Mossback Row" until two or three modern, cozy home were built, then it advanced in price.

Modern homes enhance the value of real estate (ground value). It's an erroneous idea that attractive homes cost any more than the stereotyped, all-built-alike variety.

Modern, distinctive looking homes may be built without adding a dollar to the cost of construction. A famous landscape painter was asked how he mixed his paints: "With brains," was the direct reply. So we must mix the construction of our homes with brains.

A PRETTY BUNGALOW.

This exceptionally attractive Aeroplane bungalow would demand attention anywhere. Its charming design makes it distinctive and individual. The general color scheme should be dark with light trimmings.

Like other bungalow types, which we get from California and the South, this home is arranged to catch every stray breeze that is stirring, especially is attention paid to the ventilation as noticed by the grouping of the large windows. This type of bungalow is adapted to our climate.

Large bed room on the first floor is suitable for a guest room. Two good sized sleeping chambers upstairs—one accommodated with neat boudoir. A bath room convenient to all parts of the home. Generous closets throughout.

Breakfast alcove with Pullman effect is an attractive feature. Lavatory with toilet downstairs easily accessible.

No matter how modest a home considered, the recreation and enjoyment exercised in the planning and building of a home will look like a large investment, just a matter of brains with building.

One should not forget the fact that the enhancement of value depends to a large extent on the improvements. So a wise idea then to build and standardize the homes so that everyone in the community will benefit. Building of homes without a shadow of a doubt modern homes enhance values; the Progressive will endeavor to show every way the building of modern, attractive homes in Pecos. It's money in pockets.

To All Friends of Education.

Notwithstanding the fact that there is a general and a widespread awakening of public interest in behalf of the new educational amendment known as House Joint Resolution No. 30, to be voted on by the people on the 7th of November, much work yet remains to be done by the friends of the schools to insure its adoption at the polls. The aroused determination on the part of the country people of the State, however, to demand as good free school opportunities for their children as are now enjoyed by the children of the cities and towns, and the disposition on the part of the people of the cities and towns to help the country people secure such privileges for their children augur well for the amendment.

The amendment proposes no tax of itself but extends democratic principles of self-government by allowing the voters of any district to tax themselves not exceeding one dollar on the hundred dollars valuation of property for the support of their own schools and by allowing the voters of any county to determine by popular vote if all the property of the county is to be taxed not exceeding 50 cents on the hundred dollars valuation of property to support the schools of the county.

The country schools have been handicapped, as compared with the city schools, for the lack of money. I have never begrudged the city schools one cent of their money. On the other hand, one reason why I am supporting this amendment is that it enlarges the opportunities of the cities to increase the support of their own schools. The fact remains, however, that if the country children ever come into their own in the matter of securing an adequate common school education, we must have more money for the country schools. It is idle to say that a six months term of school with seven grades of work in a restricted course of study carried on in a ramshackle school house without libraries or laboratories, on a bleak and desolate school ground is adequate to country children's needs. The county tax provided for in this amendment will go a long way toward overcoming these defects.

Twenty-one states now provide for a county tax for the support of schools. The proposed amendment does not in any way interfere with the present State Ad Valorem Tax for schools, nor does it interfere with the present methods of support of common and independent school districts but it does provide that a tax may be voted on all the property of the county for the support of all the schools of the county, the proceeds of which shall be apportioned to all schools of the county on a per capita basis. This proposition is democratic, just and equitable and should receive the unanimous support of all friends of the schools.

Sincerely,
W. F. DOUGHTY,
State Superintendent.

A Successful Small Irrigator.

Mr. W. K. Estes of Scurry County, is the irrigator who wrote about his small plant, and how he made a bad start, and from the bad beginning worked out a scheme that was successful. Such experiences as his furnishes further reason why the large land owners desiring to sell, or groups of business men financially able to take over and develop large tracts, should get busy for their immediate benefit and the good of the community.

He started with a plant giving only 40 gallons per minute, and which, with the rainfall, barely took care of ten acres. But a concrete and rock reservoir 50x60x6 feet gave him 131,000 gallons storage capacity, which more than doubled the area he was able to water.

As, from open furrows, the evaporation is enormous, estimated as high as 50 per cent of the water applied, Mr. Estes now proposes to counteract the loss by underlaying his land and thus save nearly all of the water he raises. He also proposes to discard his pump-jack and gasoline engine, installing in their place an air-lift pump. His lift is 80 feet, and he is raising 20,000 to 25,000 gallons of water at a cost of $1.00. He believes in small irrigation for Western Texas, and plans to increase the capacity of his plant. He speaks briefly of crop results from his operation but hoping to get fuller statement from him, will defer for the present.

University of Texas Growing Bigger.

During the opening week of the University of Texas, about 2,650 students registered in all departments, an increase of 200 over the same period for last year. Based on last year's figures the total attendance for this year will reach 3,000 students. The increase has come mainly in the Department of Medicine, and the schools of journalism and business training and domestic economy. A fact that shows a growing desire for a practical education. Nearly one thousand of the total number of students who have registered are young women; twenty-nine of these women are studying journalism, twelve are studying law, and a number are studying such subjects as architecture, medicine, and business training and about 250 are taking the course in domestic science.

For the months of May, June, July, August and September of last year 799 students registered for college courses in the University of Texas by correspondence. During the present session in the same number of months the number registered for correspondence instruction is 990. Besides this, seventy women's clubs representing more than one thousand persons, are studying courses under the direction of University of Texas professors. Through these correspondence courses it is becoming more and more possible to take the University to the people.

Among the students of the University of Texas for the present term is one young man who walked a hundred and fifty mile to Austin, arriving at the University with only $8 in his pocket. He has already enrolled in the University and has secured a position where he is earning his board and other expenses. Another young man is living in a shack near the University which he erected at a cost of $14, and here he intends to spend the entire school year. In recent years students have been known to ride into Austin on the bumpers of freight trains. One of them came 400 miles on horseback. Two others floated down the Colorado River 450 miles in a canoe; and still another rode 150 miles on a motor-cycle. Nearly fifty per cent of the students belong to the self-supporting class and more than one hundred during the present session have secured employment through the bureau run by the Young Men's Christian Association of the institution.

Loan Fund For Students.

The Ex-Students' Loan Association of the University of Texas has organized a campaign to raise $100,000.00 to assist needy students through the University. In addition to the former students who have accepted membership on the committee, several prominent Texans including Dr. E. P. Wilmot, of Austin, Royal A. Ferris of Dallas, and O. S. Carlton, of Houston, have signified their intention to co-operate actively in assisting to secure the needed funds. Local committees are being appointed in every populous county in Texas, so that the entire state of Texas will be covered up in canvass. Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls is chairman and directing head of the committee.

During the first three opening days of the University of Texas the University "Co-op" sold books amounting to $14,300. The business was transacted by nine student clerks, who during the three days had waited on 5,720 customers. The books are sold at a price very little above cost, no one receiving any share of the profits except the student helpers and business manager. All dividends of the Co-operative Society go into the capital stock, the funds being held in trust by a Board of Trustees, none of whom receive a cent of salary nor any portion of the dividends.

President R. E. Vinson, of the University of Texas, has set himself the difficult task of attempting to know personally the 2,400 students already enrolled at Austin. He has reserved Saturday of each week for the reception of students in his office. On that day no appointments will be made with members of the faculty, his entire time being devoted to meeting and chatting with the students. Later on in the year he expects to devote two days of each week to this purpose.

4 New Refinements

MAXWELL Motor Cars are now equipped with a new and improved windshield, still longer and more flexible springs, wider seats, deeper and softer cushions, dashlight, gasoline gauge, and other equally important refinements.

To the generous value heretofore present in the Maxwell product, these extra improvements have now been added.

This is in line with the Maxwell policy—not to change the Maxwell in any essential detail, but to continue improving it so that it will always be a standard, recognized product, constantly abreast of the best practices of the industry.

Notwithstanding the superlative and sometimes confusing claims that are made in behalf of various automobiles, we restate our sincere conviction that Maxwell Motor Cars offer more real value per dollar than any other car in the world.

This too, is the belief of the thousands and thousands of Maxwell owners. And these beliefs are supported by actual and tangible facts. We actually know that within the entire history of the automobile business, no motor car—in any class or at any price—has equalled the Maxwell in honest dollar-for-dollar value.

And if you will examine a Maxwell, ride in it, compare it with other cars, consider its splendid record, reputation and past performances, you too, will know it.

Call or phone for a demonstration.
