PECOS BOOSTER BUNCH IN EL PASO

Delegation of Business Men Attend Exposition and Are Royally Entertained.

"Pecos, Texas—City of Team Work—All Boosters for El Paso." With flaring, thirty-foot banners attached to the sides and rear of their special Pullman, and wearing bright yellow badges with the same reading matter as the above, the live Pecos boosters boarded their car Wednesday afternoon at 3:35, El Paso bound. At every station along the road the flashy banners attracted a great deal of attention.

The drawing for berths was the crowd's first diversion after leaving Pecos. The older men in the party were informed that they could select their berths before the drawing but no one wanted to be classed as an old man, so all participated in the drawing. Secretary Eberstadt passed around the slips, and, strange to say, the last one in the hat, which fell to him, was for the lower berth in the drawing room.

The first call for supper in the dining car was the signal for twenty-five or more to make a break at one time, the conductor saying that it was the best bunch of eaters he had had in a long time. Morris Collie originated a little stunt known as A. B. C. etc, and W. H. Browning it seems was well initiated into the little game.

At 9 o'clock promptly the order was given for lights all out, and in just a little while the Pecos bunch were all in dreamland. Did I say all? Yes, all but two, and those two had to, just had to, stay up and see that the car was spotted right in El Paso. Seven o'clock, El Paso time, all up, and all were ready for the first day. First a good breakfast and then for the Chamber of Commerce, where Secretary Eberstadt went to interview Secretary Fraser. Not a one knows what was said between them, but one thing strange, most of the fellows were wearing the yellow badges hidden, but after the interview, you could see yellow badges everywhere. Why? The order to meet at 3 p. m. was given and the party separated, all promising not to get run over by an automobile.

Collie and Browning: "You will have to excuse us boys, but we have an engagement to dine at the El Paso del Norte." And the bunch cried out Paso del Norte, Paso del Norte!

Casey and Sims: "I am sorry, but we have an engagement to lunch and dine at the Paso del Norte."

Eberstadt talks a friend out of a Stetson hat and a dinner at the Rotary Club, and the nerve of the fellow to get up and boost Pecos. He, however couldn't muster sufficient nerve to come in front of the bunch under that Stetson hat, but expressed same home to Pecos.

All who could find the way to the Chamber of Commerce, met there at 8 o'clock, and in making a report of the morning's doings all said that they had spent the time shopping for their loved ones at home. As guests of Secretary Malcolm A. Fraser, and chaperoned by our own H. LaSalle, we took in the great Exposition. After this it was dinner at the Sheldon, Zeiger and Paso del Norte, and every one were guests of the business men of El Paso. Picture shows and the Exposition, and to hear the Mexican band, filled out the evening. F. B. Rogers, Immigration Agent of the T. & P., and Mr. Clark, of the T. & P. joined the bunch in the evening. At 10 o'clock the car was reached and in thirty minutes all were asleep. Some of the boys were inclined to talk in their sleep, but as everyone was asleep, no one knows what was said. General opinion pointed to Tom McClure as the guilty one, but we were unable to prove it on him, his defense being an alibi.

Friday we were invited to visit the general offices of the Tri-State Telephone Company, as the guests of the general manager, and were chaperoned by Morris Collie, who has to have a guide in going about El Paso. The party were taken all through the large building and given souvenirs. Sims, Drane and Eberstadt, as the guest of Messrs. Ridge & Taylor, travelling salesmen, and great friends of Pecos. They visited Fort Bliss, and were treated to an auto ride over El Paso. They say that the Fort Bliss trip was the greatest trip they ever had.

More dinners, bigger dinners, and better dinners at the Sheldon and the Paso del Norte, and then a sight-seeing auto tour to Juarez, Mexico. Schermerhorn, Magee, Bozeman, Pitts, Biggs, Eberstadt, McClure and Glascock purchased a Pierce-Arrow car for their personal use, and believe they used it. They were chaperoned by a former Pecos good fellow, Howe. Beauchamp was passed several times by the different fellows, but he was too occupied to see any one. Did I say any one? Well, I didn't mean it.

Casey and Eberstadt say they were invited to the El Paso Chamber of Commerce

LOCKETT ADAIR.

WILL BE HERE FOR SUNDAY EVENING

Lockett Adair and his helpers will be here in time to start in the revival at the tabernacle next Sunday evening.

The song service will begin at 7:30 and preaching promptly at 8 o'clock p. m.

It is very much desired that everybody who can will assist each evening in the singing, and, in order to avoid confusion will go to the choir directly upon their arrival at the tabernacle. This special invitation is to everyone who will help, and in helping the others you will be helped.

It is desired that all the autos and other vehicles park on the north and east sides of the square.

Come out everybody and make this one of the greatest meetings ever held in West Texas.

Rev. Moore preached a splendid revival sermon at the tabernacle Wednesday evening, and Rev. Key followed last night with a splendid sermon. Rev. Walker will occupy the pulpit at the evening hour tonight. You are earnestly urged to come out.

Small Wreck on the Santa Fe North of Pecos.

Last Saturday morning the Santa Fe train upon which the officials were riding was in a small wreck about eleven miles north of Pecos, a short distance out from Patrole.

The train was running so slow that when it struck a burro which was on the track the engine ran over it instead of knocking it off. The engine and water car were derailed and the passengers somewhat shaken up, but not hurt, and the damage was comparatively light.

One of the Pecos Valley Southern's engines was sent up to assist in clearing the track and getting the engine and water back upon the track which was done by nearly twelve o'clock, and the engine went on up to Carlsbad alone, while the water car and specials were brought back to Pecos, and went out on the regular train.

Dr. H. N. Lusk to Locate in Pecos Again.

We were informed yesterday that Dr. H. N. Lusk was going to move back to Pecos and locate for the practice of medicine. He will be taken into partnership with Drs. Camp & Bryan.

Dr. Lusk and his estimable wife formerly resided in Pecos and have many friends who will be glad to welcome their return among us. He is a most successful practitioner and has been very successful in his work.

They are expected to arrive today from Goldthwaite where he has been for some time, moving there from Toyah.

The Times heartily joins the citizens of Pecos in wishing them well.

Wm. McCutcheon and R. W. Coffey of Toyahvale were in Pecos Monday shaking hands with their numerous friends.

Hardin Ross' New Saddle Stolen Monday Night.

Monday night a sneak thief entered the garage at the Ross residence, helping himself to Hardin Ross' new saddle, and also took the bridle. Hardin had only used the saddle about a week or ten days it being a very nice one, costing him about $75.

We understand that so far, no trace of the saddle or the bridle have been found. It is hoped that the thief will be apprehended and the stolen property returned to the owner. There is altogether too much pilfering going on around over the country, and the people will have to be more watchful and assist in catching this class of undesirables and have them put where they will not bother other people's things.

Santa Fe Officials on Visit to Pecos.

A number of Santa Fe officials made Pecos a visit last Friday while on their inspection of the line from Amarillo down, on their special cars and train.

The following was the personnel of the visitors: R. J. Parker, general manager of the Western lines, this being his first trip; F. J. Evans, superintendent; C. C. Dana, general freight agent; W. C. Reid, the general attorney; F. M. Bisbee, chief engineer; Willard Keen, roadmaster. They were well pleased with the general appearance of things, especially in the vicinity of Pecos.

H. W. Hinkle returned from a short visit at Dallas, Tuesday on the belated No. 5. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hinkle. She had been visiting in that city with the home folks since Mr. Hinkle went to market in July. We are pleased to say that she is much improved in health which is good news to their many friends.

GOBBLE! GOBBLE! GOBBLE! GOBBLE!

The Next Big Event For Pecos Is Turkey Day—Saturday November 18th.

Knowing the great possibilities of poultry raising in the Pecos Valley, and wishing in every way to encourage and awaken the farmer to the fact that they have heretofore been overlooking a source of income that is one of the main reliances in other parts of Texas, a reliance which is proving to be one of the most important the farm affords, and one from which can always be drawn the ready cash, the Pecos Valley Commercial Club has inaugurated this first great Turkey Day for Pecos, Texas, to be held Saturday, November 18th, 1916, and on this day guarantees to have a buyer who will give the highest market price for every turkey that is brought to Pecos. It matters not where you live, bring in your turkeys and get your cash.

The live and progressive business men of Pecos offer the following valuable prizes, to be given away at the Fountain, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, of Turkey Day, November 18th.

Special offer: "I want to buy the biggest turkey brought to Pecos on Turkey Day, and will pay $10 for it."—W. E. Hamilton, Contractor.

The secretary nor any member of the Commercial Club, nor any business firm of Pecos will get a penny for services, or in the way of commissions for working up Turkey Day, or for handling the turkeys on that day. Whatever the market price is on Turkey Day, it will be paid by the purchaser direct to the seller, and there will be no middle man to rake off a big commission.

I beg the support of every man, woman and child to help me boost and advertise Turkey Day. Talk it to your friends in person, phone and wire to them, and get them to bring in their turkeys on Saturday, November 18th, and when you meet anyone say, "Gobble! gobble! gobble!" then tell them all about it.

For further information, call on, phone, or write
S. E. EBERSTADT,
Secretary, Pecos Valley Commercial Club, Pecos, Texas.

In Memoriam.

Sudie Bliss Collins was born in Jackson, Madison County, Tennessee, August 5th, 1846, and departed this life at Pecos, Texas, October 16th 1916, being a little more than seventy years of age at the time of her death.

She was married to John W. Prewit on September 20th, 1864, and to this happy union five children were born, one dying in infancy. The others, S. M. and J. C. Prewit, and Mrs. Stella Manahan, of Pecos and Jim Prewit, of Winkelman, Arizona, together with her husband, were present at the time of her death.

At an early age, Mrs. Prewit confessed her faith in Christ and was baptized by Elder Joseph Pritchard. She, with her family, has been a resident of Pecos for many years, her quiet, unassuming manner of life, her devotion to her Lord, and her ministries to her neighbors and friends, is abundant evidence of her Christ-like character. She was a faithful wife, a loving mother, and a true friend.

For more than two years she had been an almost constant sufferer, and she realized that it was only a matter of a short time until death should come. To the very last she retained her cheerful disposition, bore her sufferings without a murmur and, until confined to her bed, was found at her place in the house of the Lord, and those who did not know never suspected the suffering through which she was passing.

Such a life is of untold value to any community. Wherever her life touched it has had an influence for good. Truly it can be said of her that she rests from her labor, and her works follow her. We shall miss her, but we shall not forget her.

To the husband, the children and grandchildren, and to all who mourn, we can give no better words of consolation than to commend you to Him who was the source of her comfort during all her days.

HER PASTOR.

First Bale of Cotton From the VH Ranch

A bale of cotton which was raised on the VH ranch was ginned and marketed in Pecos the other day and netted $114.

It was the first bale ever raised on this ranch and was raised by a Mexican who lives out there.

The lower Pecos Valley is certainly one of the best sections in the United States for cotton raising.

THE TIMES, ever progressive, has added a feature that we feel sure will interest those of our readers who contemplate building a home. On this page will appear, each week, The illustration of a home, and, occasionally an interior. A wide range will be covered, so no matter what your taste regarding how a home should be, you will find just what you want. The reading matter, too, will be of a nature that has to do with the home.

A Community Is Judged By It's Homes, Always.

It is the homes in a city that index its prosperity.

The business district soon loses its freshness and attractiveness in the indiscriminate mass of brick and mortar,—glaring signs and noisy autos—a sight tiresome to the eyes and wearisome to the nerves.

But,—In the residence sections is where one forms the opinion whether they would like to live in that particular city or not.

Modern homes portray character and individuality. Radiating cheerfulness and contentment, creating an inspiration for emulation, a standing invitation to become a part of that community of city. An assurance of neighborly neighbors, for who would like to live in a city where they would not have good neighbors.

A PRETTY CONVENIENT HOME.

With this house as your home you may depend on having plenty of room for any social gathering. Upon entering you step directly into the living room, wide-spaced opening also lead into the dining room. Conservatory of generous size adjoins the dining room connected by three pairs of beautiful French doors.

Breakfast room is conveniently located between the dining room and kitchen, having entrance from both rooms. 5 sleeping rooms, one downstairs and each of comfortable size. Plenty of closet room throughout the house. Basement provides space for heating plant and fuel bins, old furniture, etc. A northeast front lot is especially suitable for this house.

tentment, creating an inspiration for emulation, a standing invitation to become a part of that community of city. An assurance of neighborly neighbors, for who would like to live in a city where they would not have good neighbors.

Cities with modern homes are the cities with the highest of morals, so modern homes better a community morally.

The illustration herewith is one of the latest creations in modern homes, inexpensive, convenient and dignified. One which will harmonize with surrounding homes, yet with a distinctiveness which lifts it out of the rut of just an average home.

More About the Small Irrigated Patch.

A given water supply will irrigated a great deal more ground if stored, than if put on the land direct from the pump, and do it more evenly, use it will go on the land with stronger head.

Among the few small irrigators in Texas, obtaining their water from wells or rain water tanks, there is not much system about their operations. Generally speaking, each irrigator has a scheme of his own which he works out the best he can from his knowledge, or from such information he can get from other sources; naturally, many mistakes are made.

However, should the business people of our Western Texas towns follow my suggestion and prepare irrigated-dry-farm-pasture places for settlers, their business training would cause them to work out an economical and safe system under which to operate. For one thing, they would enlist the services of an expert in the installation and operation of small irrigation plants, thereby avoiding the mistakes which are often caused by the individual irrigator on his own plans or suggestions from the others who often know but little of such things.

Along this line, one of these small irrigators in writing me of his experiences, his ups and downs, in working into small irrigation, said: "Some of my greatest mistakes, causing my greatest, was in not knowing how to begin, and from listening to every pump and engine man who came along. They all have got the very best machinery made, and just what you need, till they get your money."

If I felt that enough people might be interested I would send copies of this letter to our newspaper friends, by way of showing the evolution of a successful small irrigation deal, from a bad start. The point

Used It Eleven Years.

There is one remedy that for many years has given relief from colds, coughs, croup and whooping cough. Mrs. Chas. worthy of emphasis, however, is the fact that primarily, and incidentally for the good it would do their town and section, would avoid his mistakes. There is a matter relating to tank irrigation which I shall briefly mention. In damming arroyos to hold storm waters, the water usually covers too much surface, causing too much loss by evaporation, and where there is a good clay bottom, it is better to make the tank narrower and deeper.

CAUOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK.

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you. (Advt.)

Watch for Band on Wild Duck

If you kill or capture a wild duck bearing an aluminum band around one leg, having a number on one side and on the other a statement requesting that the United States Department of Agriculture, or the Biological Survey, be notified you are requested to send this band at once to the Bureau of Biological Survey, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. This band, if accompanied by a statement as to date, place, and circumstances under which the bird was taken, will be of service to the survey in its efforts to determine the longevity of individual ducks, and the routes of migration of the species. The bands are being attached to considerable numbers of wild duck of several species, which have been cured of duck sickness prevalent around the Great Salt Lake in Utah, and there released. The department is particularly anxious to secure reports of these birds to determine their complete recovery from this malady which has killed hundreds of thousands of ducks in Utah.

Our Jitney Offer—
This and 5 Cents

—Don't miss this. Cut out this slip, enclose with five cents to Foley & Co., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup. Foley Kidney Pills, and Foley Cathartic Tablets. For sale by Pecos Drug Co.—Adv.

How Catarrh is Contracted.

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. A good many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain Cough Remedy, judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere.—Advt.

The Buddha's Eyes

By FRANK FILSON

(Copyright, 1916, by W. G. Chapman.)

"Yes, old Colonel Hartley had quarreled with his son, but I am not satisfied that the will was his. He was of the sort of man to leave everything to his Indian butler."

"Ram Gus had been with him for years. The signature has been verified by all who knew the colonel."

"I shall run down to Haverham, with your permission, and make an investigation."

The lawyer shrugged his shoulders. James Pyne was an old Indian acquaintance of the late colonel, and his friend's shocking death had depressed him greatly. The circumstances were as follows:

Colonel Hartley, living in retirement near Haverham, with his Indian butler, Ram Gus, had quarreled violently with his only son, Arthur, over the girl whom Arthur had subsequently married. He had cut him out of his will. The will seemed to be genuine. Even Pyne, after examining the signature, was compelled to accept the general opinion to this effect.

But he believed the colonel had made another will, that Ram Gus had murdered him and stolen it. The colonel had dropped dead in front of his great bronze Buddha, eleven feet high, which occupied one end of his library. The Buddha was supposed to bring sudden death to anyone who owned it. The colonel had taken it from its shrine in Amritsar.

Pyne, arriving at the house, found Ram Gus in full possession. He explained briefly that he had come to investigate the circumstances of his master's death. Ram Gus, a surly fellow in a turban and frock coat, sneered maliciously.

"The doctors' certificate was apoplexy," he said. "Am I under suspicion?"

"Yes," answered Pyne frankly. The butler shrugged his shoulders. "Stay as long as you like," he said.

The investigation meant everything to Arthur Hartley, and his wife, a pretty, brown-eyed girl, who, at Pyne's request, had taken up their abode in the village. Pyne spent days investigating, with the following result:

The Buddha was set back against the wall. There was no mechanism by which a person, concealed there, could discharge a bullet. And the examining physicians had satisfied themselves that there were no marks of violence.

The room next to the library, used as a pantry by the butler, had been recently repapered and painted, and at the time of the colonel's death had been empty, Ram Gus having moved his pantry to a little unused chamber across the hall.

Doctor Gummidge, who, with his son, had certified to the cause of death, informed Pyne that it was undoubtedly cerebral apoplexy, the temporal artery having broken, leaving a small round stain at the front of the ear, due to suffused blood.

The net result was nothing. And yet Pyne became more convinced that Colonel Hartley had been murdered. He stood alone in the library, looking into the shining, inscrutable eyes of the Buddha, which seemed to whisper hints of something diabolical. He entered the renovated pantry and sounded the wall. There was only lath and plaster. The painter stated that he had only papered and painted; the wall had been absolutely uninjured.

Pyne was almost in despair when a chance remark of a townsman gave him a clue. Three years before a party of Veddahs, the aborigines of Ceylon, had been on show in London, and the authorities had brought them for a day to the colonel's house, to have him talk with them about certain matters of the contract which the interpreter could not understand. Colonel Hartley had been a linguistic expert, and the Veddahs, who were now back in Ceylon, were delighted with the result of their journey.

Pyne felt the clue—but he did not see it.

"Ram Gus, I am satisfied that you had nothing to do with the colonel's death," he said to the butler. And Ram Gus, who had watched him with uneasiness which he could hardly conceal, suddenly thawed out.

"It is hard to be suspected of having caused the death of a beloved master," he said.

"Very sad, and very unfortunate," answered Pyne. "Well, I shall leave tomorrow, after pronouncing my opinion in the presence of Mr. Arthur Hartley. You will not object to my bringing him here?"

"Not at all," answered Ram Gus, grinning all over his black face.

That night, when Ram Gus was sleeping, Pyne crept downstairs and verified certain suspicions which had become already a moral certainty. The next morning, when Arthur Hartley arrived, with his wife, the three confronted the butler.

"I have discovered the murderer," said Pyne suddenly, and noted the start the butler gave. "Come this way."

He led them into the unused pantry. He had stripped the section of paper from the wall adjacent to the Buddha in the next room. There was a tiny circular hole in the plaster, too small to have been noticed by the paper-hanger. Inserting a blade of grass, Pyne pushed it clear to the end.

Ram Gus, who had remained in consternation at the door, gave a sickly smile and sat down on a kitchen chair which was in the room.

Pyne led the others into the library. He went up to the Buddha and pressed the beady red eyes. They fell backward upon their tiny hinges, revealing—the end of the grass blade at the back of the right eye.

"Here is where Colonel Hartley was standing when he met his death," said Pyne, taking up his position on the floor. He was killed through the right eye. He was observed from the next room through the left eye, by means of a slender tube."

"But how was he killed?" questioned Arthur Hartley, thunderstruck.

"By an overdose of curare," answered Pyne. "It is a drug well known to the Veddahs of Ceylon, and discharged with fatal effect by means of a blowpipe. Here," he ended, taking a little reedy tube from his pocket. "is the blowpipe, which I discovered inside the head of the Buddha. The butler had left it there—and but for the Veddah clue I should never have suspected its existence. The blowpipe discharges a dart impregnated with poison, so tiny that it passes into the flesh and is immediately hidden like a thorn. The end of the barb can be broken off. That accounts for the suffusion of blood on the temple."

He led them back into the pantry. Ram Gus was still in his chair, in the same position that he had adopted when he sat down.

"I am authorized to arrest you, Ram Gus," said Pyne, touching the butler on the shoulder.

But Ram Gus made no answer, only his head drooped, and he suddenly toppled to the floor. Then they saw, upon his forearm, a tiny, circular mark as of suffused blood. And Ram Gus' forearm was already almost cold.

When the Tibetan Bathes.

Near the ancient wall across the road at Yatung, Tibet, there are some remarkable hot springs, the water in some cases registering boiling point.

Many Tibetans congregate around these springs to bathe, and the water, which is highly charged with sulphur, is considered specially efficacious in cases of skin disease.

Bathing is a simple process on the part of the Tibetan. All that is considered necessary is to scoop out a depression in the deposit round any spring, and this, filled with water, makes the bath. A tent is sometimes thrown over it, and the whole family—men, women and children—sit for hours in the steaming water, and they look a different color after a prolonged immersion, the process removing several layers of dirt.

Mental Process.

"You must admit that I am one of the thinkers of the day."

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne; "but some men manage to think so thoughtlessly."

PROFIT BY THIS.

Don't Waste Another Day.

When you are worried by backache; By lameness and urinary disorders—

Don't experiment with an untried medicine.

Follow Pecos people's example.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here's Pecos testimony.

Verify it if you wish:

Mrs. W. E. Sheppard, Plum St., Pecos, says: "About two years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I found them satisfactory in every way. I had fierce headaches and black spots floated before my eyes, often causing dizziness. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good, reliable medicine, and anyone who is troubled by their kidneys should get a box at the Pecos Drug Co."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Sheppard had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

When You Take Cold.

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a common cold. You should take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of your cold as quickly as possible. You are not experimenting when you use this remedy as it has been in use for many years and has an established reputation. It contains no opiates or other narcotics. Obtainable everywhere.—Advt.

Thousands Behind

Three to fifty per hour on high—that's the speed report we get from owners all over the country.

And 20 to 25 miles per gallon of gas is the economy report.

A corking good car—

A price that makes it the greatest value on the face of the earth—

That combination has kept the factory thousands of cars behind sales for weeks and weeks.

But we're getting them in right along. Better see us about yours today.

PECOS BOOSTER BUNCH IN EL PASO

banquet and left the crowd. However, they were forgiven when they explained that they boosted Pecos at the banquet. It took them some time to get acquainted, but they knew everyone before they left the banquet table, and who is to blame?

Collie and Browning were at the Exposition all alone, and I actually felt sorry for the boys and left the bunch I was with and joined them, and tried to console them in their lonesomeness.

The last night on the Pullman a quartette was organized with Browning, Collie, McClure and Eberstadt, and they entertained the crowd with some delightful songs, emphasis on the delightful. While the quartette rested their voices, Judge Drane had the floor. His stories, labeled "When I was a Boy," were so touching that tears were visible in the eyes of everyone. A provost guard paid us a visit right here, just as Schermerhorn was explaining the whyfore of the high cost of gasoline. Browning was trying to make a loan; Biggs couldn't sell any real estate, and McClure was trying to explain was he said in his sleep the night before. Drane accused the crowd of touching him for his watch, and said: "Boys, I don't care about the watch, but only want to know what time it is." Being informed that the hour was 10, he said "Good night, gentlemen. "Bozeman will now explain why he sells Rexall." Casey didn't have a word to say, not a word. Haughton then came in to break the glad-some news that Ward County had won second prize at the Exposition. Of course, we all spoke a complimentary word to Haughton. Pitts didn't have much to say, but believe me, when he spoke he said something. I wasn't feeling very well when I left home, and I had promised not to stay up late, no, indeed, and boys,

I wouldn't break that promise for anything. Looking at Drane's watch and seeing it was 10:30, I bade the party a good night. Soon good night was said by all, and everyone was off to bed.

On board the Pullman, Fabian, at the Union Station in El Paso, 5 a. m., the entire Pecos bunch was sleeping sweetly, when Tom McClure from the upper berth in the drawing room, in stentorian voice, said: "Say, cut out that loud talking down there, I want to sleep." Schermerhorn in the lower berth in the drawing room, said, "No, I want to know where Eberstadt is"

Eberstadt, who was fast asleep, on hearing his name called, and thinking it was the conductor wanting orders for the Pullman, said, "My name is Eberstadt." "Well I've been looking for you since Thursday. What are you going to do with that banner on the side of the car?" "You can have it, we don't want it," said Eberstadt. "Say, let us cut out the foolishness and get down to business. We want damages for the tacks used in the car when you tacked on your banner." "Why, we bought this car," said Eberstadt. "Well it don't roll until you fork over $25." "Well," said Eberstadt "The entire bunch don't mind remaining over another day as guests of the Pullman company." "Well, I want to treat you right; I'll cut it to $5.00." "I'll be as liberal as you, and cut it to $2.50," said Eberstadt. It was finally compromised. Ask the parties to the transaction.

The trip home was spent in more singing by the quartette and the entire bunch joined in the chorus. At Van Horn we picked up Beauchamp, who says he went over there to talk business. Mind you to talk business. First call in the dining car. Collie and Browning suggested that we study the blue backed speller, and learn the A. B. C, etc. Haughton enjoyed his dinner.

"Pecos, Pecos," cried the brakeman and the bunch who were glad to be back, to the tune of "Tipperary," sang: "I'm glad to be back in Pecos City, It is a dear spot to go; I'm glad to be back in Pecos City,

To the dearest girl I know." The following composed the Pecos party: T. Y. Casey, T. H. Beauchamp, R. S. Johnson, W. H. Browning, Jr., D. W. Bozeman, M. H. Schermerhorn, I. J. Sims, Tom McClure, W. R. Glasscock, C. A. M. Pitts, M. W. Collie, I. T. Kesler, Dr. C. J. Magee, J. A. Dran, W. A. Hudson, H. LaSalle, R. L. McKnight, Geo. D. Coon, B. T. Biggs, Woody Cowan, Jim Prewit, Jr., Hilliard and Keith Camp, and S. E. Eberstadt.

NEXT PRESIDENT MAY BE NAMED BEFORE ELECTION.

8,000 Rexall Druggists to Take Straw Vote—Results Will Be Announced Election.

The results of the November election, and the name of the next president of the United States may be published in The Times before the polls open. This announcement is made by the National Association of Rexall druggists whose members, numbering 8,000 are now taking a straw vote of over 2,500,000 people from all walks of life and covering every state and Territory in the Union. By special arrangement with D. W. Bozeman, a member of the Rexall Association in Pecos, the results of the Straw Vote will be published in this newspaper.

The fact that the members of the Druggists' Association operate stores in towns and cities ranging in population from 100 to 6,000,000 and scattered all over the country, and that they serve a public comprising all classes, agricultural, industrial, commercial and professional, gives to this poll a representative character.

This straw vote is the largest ever taken and the first of its kind to be conducted by a national commercial organization but the drug men have perfected a system for receiving and recording the ballots, that is equalled in scope by only that of the National government. From their headquarters in Boston—the United Drug Co.—the 8,000 members of the Rexall Druggists' Association, are supplied with the results. These results are mailed or telegraphed to Boston at the close of business each day. At the Association Headquarters the ballots are tabulated, and the final vote will be placed in the hands of the 8,000 Rexall druggists before election day, for simultaneous publication in the Rexall Stores, and in the leading newspapers of every city and town in the United States.

Watch this newspaper for later returns.

Rifle Club Shoot.

The scores represent the number of hits made out of a possible 50, the first column at 200 and the second column at 300 yards, rapid fire, Oct. 19:

Richburg	36	31	67
W. W. Camp	40	35	75
Breen	42	32	74
Kiser	36	37	73
Middleton	41	37	78
Scores made October 20th:
W. W. Camp	49	47	96

HONESTY FIRST PARTY POLITICS AFTERWARDS

Hon. R. B. Creager, of Brownsville, Texas, Republican Candidate for Governor

IN FAVOR OF—

- Retention of Robertson Insurance Law.
- Submission where demanded by a majority.
- Amendment of Warehouse Law.
- Abolition of many useless State Offices.
- Abolition of the useless Office of County Treasurer.
- Woman's Suffrage—As a matter of Justice.
- Lower Taxes, and lower governmental expenses.
- Amendment of delinquent tax law.
- Governor obeying constitution as to salary limitation.
- Placing all public officers on a strict salary basis.

AGAINST—

- Dishonesty in and out of office.
- The appointment of incompetents for political reasons.
- Paying out public funds for private purposes.
- The collection of excessive back tax penalties.
- A candidate accepting campaign funds from corporations.
- "Personal representatives," "social secretaries" and other illegal appointments at public expense.
- The Terrel Election Law.
- The fee system.

Do You Agree With Mr. Creager?

For every dollar property tax-payers paid the state in 1908 the paid $7.10 in 1915. For every dollar the CORPORATIONS paid the state in 1914 they paid only 52 cents in 1915.

WHY

Unnecessary Political Offices. "Juncketing" trips, Panama Exposition trips, "Social Secretary," "Personal Representative," chauffeur, gasoline, feed, groceries, etc., etc., etc. If you vote for R. B. Creager for Governor of Texas, you will call a "halt" on such bills being paid out of the tax money. The constitution of this state provides, "that the salary of the Governor shall be $4,000.00 and no more. WE CAN HAVE A SOUND Y MORAL AND SUCCESSFUL COMMUNITY ONLY UNDER AN EFFICIENT AND HONEST GOVERNMENT.

VOTE FOR R. B. CREAGER FOR GOVERNOR

and for the balance of the Republican Ticket—State and National. Let us have the "House-Cleaning" Texas so badly needs. IF YOU VOTE FOR GOVERNOR FERGUSON YOU APPROVE HIS ACTS.

College Station Representative Here This Week.

A. H. Leidgh, agronomist, visited the Pecos experimental station this week and checked up the property and what had been done the past year, and considering the many drawbacks encountered, the report was very satisfactory.

He had been out to the Elephant Butte system and attended the Exposition at El Paso, studying the soil improvement work, and also assisted in some of the judging at the Exposition. He arrived Monday and left Wednesday. The Times acknowledges a call and had the pleasure of meeting him and trusts that he may come out here again soon.

Birthday Party.

Misses Callie DeRacey and Evelyn Slack entertained Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, with a garden party on the lawn of the DeRacey home. The occasion was the celebration of Miss Callie's 12th and Miss Evelyn's 13th birthdays.

The Buster Brown contest was among the many diversions for the afternoon, each guest, blindfolded, was to pin his nose back in place and Miss Leila Kiser was the most fortunate and received for her "accuracy" a box of bon bons, while Miss Gladys Grafius, pinning her nose (?) a long ways from home won a large stick of candy.

The apple contest proved to be the most amusing. Hang from the trees on long cords, large, red, luscious apples, and each guest was given a walnut to be opened, which contained a tiny bell with a number attached. The numbers were matched to form couples for the contest—biting the apples with hands tied. Oh, it looked so easy, but only Miss Mary Lou Prewit and Miss Ruth Lewis succeeded in getting a taste of one.

These popular young hostesses were the recipients of a beautiful collection of gifts, and in their sweet and gracious manner placed one more delightful party on the list.

Refreshments of delicious chicken sandwiches, punch and cake, were served to 75 guests.

Twentieth Century Club.

The Twentieth Century Club held a most interesting meeting in the club room of the library Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, with Mrs. Max Krauskopf as leader.

This club has for the past year made a diligent study of Texas history, and the following program was given:

1. Roll Call with current events.
2. The French in Texas under LaSalle, by Mrs. Hugh Roberson.
3. Founding the Mission San Francisco, by Mrs. Jno. Lilley.
4. Esleta (Texas Flower), by Mrs. Love.

Musical.

One of the rarest musical treats of the season was that given by Mrs. B. R. Stine, complimentary to the Euterpean Club, Tuesday evening at the jewelry store, to hear Grand Opera on the handsome Victrola.

The music club has for the past year made an extensive study of Grand Opera, and were fully capable of appreciating every number on the programme.

Mrs. M. H. Schermerhorn in her interesting manner, gave an interesting and instructive sketch of each opera before it was played, which made it doubly interesting.

The store had been seated for the comfort of the guests, and it is said they sat spellbound through the entire evening, and are very much indebted to Mrs. Stine for this very delightful affair—for it very few who have the opportunity to attend "Grand Opera."

Baptist Tea.

Mesdames Woody Johnson and Sam Means were hostesses to the Baptist Ladies Aid Society, Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. Woody Johnson.

(Details of the tea will be given in the next issue).

Merry Wives Club.

In the absence of the leader and hostess, Mrs. J. W. Moore, the Merry Wives Club met on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the library with Mrs. H. H. Johnson as leader and hostess. The following program was given:

- Roll Call, with quotations from Longfellow.
- Lesson—Longfellow.
- Reading—"Paul Revere's Ride," by Mrs. H. H. Johnson.
- Mrs. G. B. Rowden will be the hostess next week.

Personals.

Mrs. J. E. Starley will entertain this evening with a bunco party, complimentary to "Miss Pecos," and attendants, a complete account of which will be in our next issue.

Mrs. Woody Browning and little daughter, Mildred, are visiting Mrs. Browning's parents in the Davis mountains.

Mrs. H. B. Link, enroute from Lampasas, to her home at Las Cruces, N. M., spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Brooks, before returning via El Paso, where she will join Mr. Link and remain through the entire Exposition. Mr. Link having charge of the Las Cruces interests at the Exposition.

Mrs. C. J. Charske and little son, Johnson, have gone for a few days visit to parents and daughter in Dallas, and to take advantage of the Fall wine there.

Mrs. Tom Levy is the guest of Mr. Levy's father at Alvarado, Texas, for a short while, and intends visiting the Dallas Fair before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cooke have returned from the Exposition at El Paso.

"Miss Pecos" and Attendants Royally Entertained.

"Miss Pecos" and attendants of whom Pecos is so justly proud, selected by Mayor Starley, to the International Exposition at El Paso, were the recipients of many lovely affairs while the guest of that city.

Their gayeties had its beginning Thursday when "Miss El Paso" and attendants escorted "Miss Pecos" and attendants thru the Exposition, stopping for tea in the Mexican tea room. Here, while sipping tea and partaking of delicious ice cream and cake, they were entertained in a pleasing manner by Miss Garrett (the blind girl) who gave wonderful vocal selections, playing her own accompaniment. Beautiful rose buds were favors for this party.

The guests and attendants then enjoyed auto rides over El Paso, and then the Exposition again, Thursday night.

Friday morning was taken up with visits to the principal buildings and auto rides to points of interest together with a visit to Camp Stewart.

Friday afternoon, 5 o'clock, "Miss El Paso" poured tea to the visiting queens only, in the lovely rooms of the Toltec Club "Miss Pecos" (Miss Leota Beauchamp) looked charming in a handsome afternoon frock, of green taffeta and georgette crepe, with picture hat to match, as she went to pay homage to the "Queen of Queens," "Miss El Paso."

Friday evening the climax of social affairs was reached, the being the "Del Norte Ball" at the Paso del Norte Hotel.

The guests for this occasion were all the queens and attendants, prominent men and military officers.

The ball room was most inviting in decorations of smilax ferns, and autumn tints. Music for the dance was furnished by a military band, and was, indeed, a rare treat to music lovers.

Delicious ices were served on the roof garden throughout the ball.

Pecos' Queen and attendants were chosen from among the prettiest and most attractive of Pecos belles, and they were indeed a picture of loveliness, in their evening gowns. Miss Leota Beauchamp was superbly dressed in a gown of turquoise blue with silver trimmings and carried pink rose buds and ferns.

Miss Nell Kerr wore a combination of pink satin and marine.

Miss Hazel Berry wore pink taffeta; Miss Sadie Collings wore green georgette crepe over green satin, and carried yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

Miss Nannie Mae Collings was dressed in white crepe-de-chine, with trimming of white and carried yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. Miss Bernice Richburg wore pink satin with handsome lace trimmings.

Miss Mildred McCarver was dressed in pink crepe-de-chine with trimmings of gold lace and white fur.

Miss Florence McCarver wore a lovely dress of dresden taffeta with black velvet garniture.

Mrs. J. E. Starley wore pink chiffon over lavender satin.

Mrs. J. W. Parker wore embroidered yellow satin en train.

Saturday morning was filled with joy rides over the city, and to Juarez, Mexico, with a lunch at high noon at Sheldon Hotel.

Mr. LaSalle (the soft water man) gave an auto party Saturday afternoon, complimentary to "Miss Pecos" and attendants.

A most pleasant finale was an exclusive dinner party at the Campbell's Cafe, given by their old school friend, Miss Grace Evans, of Valentine, who is attending school in El Paso, and took this opportunity of meeting with her Pecos friends again.

This merry party returned home Saturday night, having without doubt, with the charming personality with which each is endowed, indelibly stamped the name of Pecos forever on the minds of social El Paso.

Going to El Paso to Attend the Shriners.

Harry Woods of Pecos and A. V. Johnson of Balmorhea, leave today for El Paso where they will attend a special meeting of the Shriners.

This will be the largest class ever initiated in that city, there being over one hundred in the class. The army men up there will do all the work, and they expect about six hundred members to be in attendance.

After completing the work there will be served a fine barbecue, and the entertainment to close will be a vaudeville and boxing contest.

If you want to buy anything, read the Pecos Times.

Talks With the Boys

By J. L. HARBOUR, IN THE VISITOR.

The Boy Who Never Gives Up

"Never Give up. There are chances and changes, Helping the hopeful, a hundred to one; And, through the choas, High Wisdom arranges Ever success, if you'll only hold on.

Never give up; for the wisest is boldest, Knowing that Providence mingles the cup, And of all maxims, the best, as the oldest, Is the stern watchword of "Never give up."

All of which is merely a poetical way of saying that a boy must have a tenacity of purpose if he hopes to succeed in life. He will never get on in the world if he lacks this power. Many of the failures of life may be attributed to the fact that men have not held out as long as they should, getting restless under the slow progress and want to take up something in which their progress toward the goal of success may be more rapid. Or it may be that they are not proof against the discouraging things of life. A wise man of long ago once wrote these true words: "The longer I live the more certain I am that the great difference between, between the feeble and the powerful, the great and the insignificant, is energy—invincible determination, a purpose once fixed, and then death or victory. That quality will do anything that can be done in this world—and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities will make a two-legged creature a man without it."

While journeying across the continent last fall I fell in with a sturdy, wholesome-looking fellow who told me later that he was thirty-one years old. He had had to "shift for himself" since his fifteenth year, and he was well versed in hardship. When I asked him what he had done to earn a living at fifteen years of age, he said: "Well, I had to do anything I could get to do at first and take such pay as I could get. I did all sorts of things up to the time I was twenty-one years of age, and then I made up my mind that I would never in the world get anywhere if I didn't hit upon something and stick to it. About that time I drifted out to the mining regions of Alaska. Some books on mining had interested me, and one day I made up my mind that I would become a miner and stick right to it until I had become a success at it. From that time on about all I read was books on mines and mining, and by the time I had worked my way out to Alaska I was about as well up on mining as any other person of my age, and I was ready to make a practical application of what I had read. For more than about two years I barely made enough to live as a miner and prospector, and I felt enough like giving up many a time; but I was bound to hang on. One day I made a lucky strike, no great one, but enough to fill me with a new determination, and I kept on. Another year and more went by before I had any more luck, but I would not give up. It would be a longer tale than you will care to hear if I tried to tell you of all the ups and downs I had before a young fellow and I who had gone into partnership, made a lucky strike that has made us both comfortable for life. Often I had fairly to grit my teeth and say, I 'won't give up,' and now I am glad that I did."

I believe that hundreds of the most successful men in all the world have again and again had also to grit their teeth and say "I won't give up" before success came to them. Nothing is so hindering as a vacillating purpose. Stability is sure to reward those who have it to a high degree. Perseverance has been called the right hand genius, and I know that men of undoubted genius have sometimes been failures in life because they lacked the good quality of perseverance. Men of small ability have at time been more successful in life than real geniuses because the men of small ability have had so much more pure grit than the geniuses have had. I rather like the terse term of "pure grit." It implies so much steadfastness, so much sheer determination.

Have you ever read how Milton, the great poet, who became stone-blind, met this affliction bravely and uncomplainingly, and how he wrote of it,

"Yet I argue no Against Heaven's hand or will, nor bate a jot Of heart or hope; but still bear up and steer Right onward?"

The only way to achieve success in life is to "steer right onward" without deviating from one's course. The vacillating, the shilly-shally person will never get anywhere, and one might write on his tombstone: "Here lies a man whose life was a failure because he would not hold on."

San Angelo, Texas.

The management of the San Angelo Fair are sparing no expense to make this year's Fair one of the greatest in the history of the city. Elaborate preparations are made to entertain the visitors. Thrilling aeroplane flights, loop-the-loop etc., by the "Florida Fool;" goat roping, broncho busting, fancy shooting; five free acts daily in front of the grandstand. Grand parades and pageants. Worthwhile shows on the streets. Fine horse and motorcycle races, poultry, kennel and all lines of live stock and agricultural exhibits will be on display.

The Fair will be held Oct. 31st, Nov. 1, 2, 3, 4. Railroads offer exceptional low rates on tickets sold on Oct. 30th, with return limit Nov. 5th.

The Secretary will furnish any information desired upon request.

Easier To Stop Now.

It is easier to check a bronchial cough now than later. Coughs grow worse the longer they continue. Foley's Honey and Tar stops tickling in throat allays inflammation and irritation, restores sore and discharged membranes to healthy condition, opens congested passages, and affords longed for relief. For sale by Pecos Drug Co.—Advt.

—Neuralgia of the face, shoulder, hands, or feet requires a powerful remedy that will penetrate the flesh. BALLARDS SNOW LINIMENT possesses that power. Rubbed in where the pain is felt is all that is necessary to relieve suffering and restore normal conditions. The prices are 25c, 50c, and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by City Pharmacy.—Advt.

Show Day Is Coming.

"When the show comes to town" is what people are saying to each other these pleasant days, and THE show that they mean is the Cole Bros.' Big World-Toured Shows and Trained Wild Animal Exhibition, which is greater and bigger than ever this season as the Cole Bros. are now offering their new, big, giant three-fold show combined in one. This colossal organization will exhibit in Pecos, Friday Nov. 10.

This mammoth amusement enterprise with its myriad of high class performers and train loads of most valuable beasts of the jungle, offer the cleanest, grandest and most instructive entertainment ever presented in this city. Everything imaginable in the way of trained animals—domestic and wild—is given, from the smallest of monkeys to the largest elephant. No show on earth exhibits finer specimens of high school high jumping horses. An interesting performance by Shetland ponies appeal to the children. Among the hundred arenic acts are astonishingly clever accomplished acrobatic exploits; equilibristic feats of strength, acts of deftness and dexterity; difficult ladder balancing acts; also an innovation is being presented this year in the way of a novel dancing exhibit, participated in by a number of perfectly formed young women. The Nymphs of the Statues—the act beautiful, has aroused unprecedented enthusiasm. The Cole Bros. have left nothing undone in their efforts to present the finest show in the world. The mile long parade, starting at 10 o'clock, a. m., tells the story. Nothing finer has ever been shown than this glittering pageant of unsurpassed grandeur; the gilded chariots, the shining coats of blooded horses, the satin robes of the riders. This is a show to which you will take your wife, your mother or your sweetheart; this is the show that gives you what it advertises—the show that pleases.—Advt.

Make the Most of Prosperity.

Every man should keep fit these days and make the most of his opportunities. No man can work his best handicapped with disordered kidneys and bladder, aching back, swollen joints and stiff muscles or rheumatic pains. Foley's Kidney Pills pay for themselves a hundred times over in health improvement. For sale by Pecos Drug Co.—Advt.

THE STATE OF TEXAS. To the sheriff or any Constable of Reeves County,—

Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon E. Leslie Cole, R. A. Dewess, Trustee for M. J. Zollman, M. J. Zollman, a feme sole, Clarence B. Scott, John A. Treuthart, Hattie O. Cooney, and husband, P. A. Cooney, Annie R. Cooney, a feme sole, L. M. Fairbanks, Z. M. Scifers and R. G. Werner, by making publication of this citation one in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 70th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 70th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Reeves County, Texas, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Pecos, on the 3rd Monday in November, A. D. 1916, the same being the 20th day of November, A. D. 1916, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 28th day of August, A. D. 1916, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 1647, wherein Frank Eisen Bockius is Plaintiff, and John B. Dandridge, E. Leslie Cole, R. A. Dewess, Trustee for M. J. Zollman, M. J. Zollman, a feme sole, Clarence B. Scott, John A. Treuthart, Hattie O. Cooney, and her husband, P. A. Cooney, Annie R. Cooney, a feme sole, L. M. Fairbanks, Z. M. Scifers, Theron Miller, F. G. Spanjer, Spencer B. Pugh, R. S. Johnson, R. G. Werner, Joel N. Levin and Trans-Pecos Land & Irrigation Company, are Defendants, said petition alleging that all of the first above named defendants reside outside the State of Texas.

That on or about the first day of January, A. D. 1916, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, situated in the County of Reeves, State of Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit: All of Section 31, in Block 2, H. & G. N. R. Co. Survey, except Lot No. 12 of said survey, which lot No. 12 had by plaintiff theretofore been conveyed to one Joseph Kinstler; that on or about said date, to-wit, January 1, 1916, the defendants, John B. Dandridge, Spencer B. Pugh, E. Leslie Cole and Trans-Pecos Land & Irrigation Company, unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withhold from him the possession thereof to his damage in the sum of $15,000.00.

Plaintiff further alleges there is of record in Book 26, at page 581, of the Deed Records in and for Reeves County, Texas, a certain pretended deed, which purports to have been executed by plaintiff to the defendant, F. G. Spanjer, and purporting to convey to said Spanjer Lots Nos. 1 and 2 of said Section 31, Block 2, H. & G. N. R. Co. Survey, in Reeves County, Texas, according to a sub-division of said section, which two lots contain in the aggregate 60.80 acres, and that the record of which purported deed shows date on or about July 11, 1910, and purports to show that plaintiff acknowledged same before the defendant, Spencer B. Pugh, a Notary Public of Cook County, Illinois; plaintiff alleges that said purported deed is a forgery; that he never executed the same, nor did he ever authorize any one to execute the same for him or in his behalf; that he did not acknowledge such deed before said Spencer B. Pugh; and that he did not know of the execution of said purported deed until long after the same had been placed of record in Reeves County, Texas, and that the record of said deed is a cloud upon plaintiff's title to said lots 1 and 2.

Plaintiff further alleges that he is informed and believes that each and all of the defendants herein are claiming and asserting some right, title or interest in and to said section of land, by way of liens, contracts of ownership, and the plaintiff alleges such right, title or interest claimed or held by any of said defendants is inferior and subordinate to plaintiff's title to said property, and said defendants, and each of them, are made parties hereto in order that their claims, and each of them, be forever barred, and that plaintiff's title be quieted as to all of said defendants.

Plaintiff prays judgment against all of the defendants for the title and possession of said land and premises; for writ of restitution, for damages and costs; and that said deed purporting to convey Lots 1 and 2 of said section to the defendant F. G. Spanjer, be canceled, set aside and held for naught, and the cloud upon the title of his property by reason thereof be removed, and for such other relief, special and general, in law and in equity, as he may be entitled to receive.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Pecos, Texas, this 13th day of October, A. D. 1916. (Seal) Willie-de Woods, Clerk of the District Court, Reeves County, Texas.

Citation By Publication.

The State of Texas, ) To the sheriff or any constable of Reeves county, greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon M. Brown, and the Unknown heirs of M. Brown, E. H. Matlocks, and the unknown heirs of E. H. Matlocks by making publication of this citation once in each week for eight consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District court of Reeves county to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Pecos, Texas on the third Monday in November, A. D. 1916, the same being the 20th day of November A. D. 1916, to answer a petition filed in said court on the 20th day of September, A. D. 1916, in a suit number on the docket of said court No. 1657, wherein M. Brown, the unknown heirs of M. Brown, E. H. Matlocks, and the unknown heirs of E. H. Matlocks are defendants, and on Harrison is plaintiff, said petition alleging that the plaintiff, Tom Harrison is the lawful owner, seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, situated in Reeves county, Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit:

Lot No. Five (5) in Block No. Thirty-five (35), in Pecos, said Reeves county, Texas that said plaintiff and his grantors have had continuous, peaceable adverse and exclusive possession of said premises, using and enjoying the same and paying taxes thereon and claiming the title thereto under deeds duly acknowledged registered and recorded for a period of more than ten years prior hereto. That the defendants M. Brown, S. D. McWhorter and E. H. Matlocks and the unknown heirs of the said M.

Brown, and of the said E. H. Matlocks are setting up and alleging some claim, right, title or interest in the said premises and are unlawfully disturbing the said plaintiff in the peaceable possession thereof and are clouding the title to the plaintiff's above described property.

Said petition prays judgment of the court that the defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that plaintiff have judgment for the title and possession of said above described land and premises; that the cloud cast by the said defendants upon the plaintiff's title be removed and set aside, and that the right, title, interest or claim if any the said defendants have, in and to said property be forever barred; for damages and costs of suit and general special relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Pecos, Texas, this 20th day of September, A. D. 1916. (Seal) Willie-de Woods, Clerk District Court, Reeves County Texas. 9-22-39-8

"See How That Corn Comes Clear Off!"

"GETS-IT" Loosens Your Corns Right Off, It's the Modern Corn Wonder—Never Fails.

"It's hard to believe anything could act like that in getting a corn off. Why, I just lifted that corn right off with my finger nail. 'GETS-IT' is certainly wonderful!" Yes, "GETS-IT" is the most wonderful corn-cure

"It's Just Wonderful, the Way 'GETS-IT' Makes All Corns Go Quick." ever known because you don't have to fool and putter around with your corns, harness them up with bandages or try to dig them out. "GETS-IT" is a liquid. You put on a few drops in a few seconds. It dries. It's painless. Put your stocking on right over it. Put on your regular shoes. You won't limp or have a corn "twist" in your face. The corn, callus or wart, will loosen from your toe—off it comes. Glory hallelujah! "GETS-IT" is the biggest selling corn remedy in the world. When you try it, you know why. "GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by all the best druggists. Prepared by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

ANURIC!

The Newest Discovery in Chemistry.

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, it's simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric," which is 37 times more potent than lithia to eradicate uric acid, or even write Dr. Pierce for a large trial package (10c).

COSTLY STREET-CAR TICKET

Brought One Thousand Dollars in Toronto for the Benefit of the Red Cross Society.

Many unusual contributions have been received by the various local Red Cross societies and patriotic funds in Canada since the war began. From Indians in the far North to the children in back-country schools, the Canadian public has taken a generous interest in this necessary wartime work, although the gifts they have sent have almost as often as not been in some other form than money.

Into the office of the Manitoba Red Cross society there came one day in April a small box of anemones, each flower carefully packed in wet cotton. A letter inclosed with them explained that they had been picked out on the prairie by some school-children, who wished them sent to the "Red Crossers" and sold for the fund. Their desire was carried out, and the dainty spring flowers, first blooms of the season in the prairie country, sold readily for $3, which went into the treasury with many larger but certainly not more fragrant gifts.

In a campaign for the patriotic fund in Toronto one of the teams reported among its collections a single street-car ticket, which evidently had been contributed by some moneyless well-wisher. The suggestion was made that it be auctioned off among the members of the executive committee, then in session, who included some of the wealthiest men in the city. The bidding began at once, and in a few minutes it had gone up to $1,000, at which figure it was "knocked down." It was perhaps the highest price ever paid for a street-car fare.—Youth's Companion.

"Why, yes, dear; it's just lovely. But I sometimes think how dreadful it would be if the poor should ever take-up visiting us."

CRUISER FIRES LAST SALUTE.

The guns of the historic cruiser Boston sounded for the last time when they shot forth a salute to the cruiser Marblehead upon its arrival from San Francisco to become the training ship for the Oregon naval militia, the Spokane Spokesman-Review's Portland (Ore.) correspondent writes.

The Boston has been stationed here for several years. Its machinery long since went into disuse to such an extent that it can no longer navigate under its own power. It now is to be scrapped.

The Boston was in Dewey's famous fleet at Manila and is said to have fired the first shot in the battle of Manila bay, opening on the Spaniards by mistake before the Olympia did. When Dewey returned to the United States after the war he used the Boston as his flagship for the trip.

Idea Quickly Catches On. Hilda Jensen rushed up to Officer Cohen.

"Officer, that man is following me!"

"Faith, then, I'll folley th' man an' see why he's folleyin' ye!" spoke Officer Cohen, who had been a member of the force for some time.

A crowd of small boys, seeing a policeman following a man, started in pursuit and followed the policeman. At that a crowd of men, seeing a crowd of boys, followed the crowd of boys.

The rest of the city, observing all these people following one another, took the procession for a parade and soon had the sidewalks roped off and themselves lined in dense banks behind the ropes to enjoy the spectacle.

The board of education, hearing of a parade, declared a holiday and thousands of children ran trooping out of the schools. Catching the infection, banks closed and general jubilation reigned.

When Officer Cohen caught up to the strange follower of Hilda Jensen, it developed that he had only been endeavoring to return her handkerchief, which she had dropped, but that time it had once again been demonstrated that all an idea needs in this dear old country of ours is a good start.—Puck.

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Some baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.
