The Great American Bird

(With apologies to the Eagle).

Turkey Raisers, Listen!

Saturday, November 18th, 1916, has been set aside in Pecos, as Turkey Day. On that day all raisers of the great American bird all invited to come to Pecos with the products of their labors, where they will find a ready market for same, being paid in cash, on the spot, the highest market price, for same. Those in charge of arrangements for that day have been receiving communications from interested parties, nearby and afar off, which leads to the conclusion that over 1000 turkeys will be brought to Pecos on Turkey Day. Many valuable prizes will be given to parties bringing turkeys, independent of the prices paid for the turkeys.

This may aptly be styled the last call for your turkeys, for the big event will be pulled off ere another issue of The Times reaches many in time to load up and get here. So, get busy, load up your turkeys, bring them to Pecos on Turkey Day. You will reap the benefit of the prices of the good market that will be established, and will help make a success of the first great Turkey, and perpetuate the institution for the benefit of those coming after you.

GREAT THROGS HEAR LOCKET ADAIR AT THE TABERNACLE

Last Sunday Night Sees Nearly Every Available Seat Filled With Attentive Listeners as Preaches Delivers Famous Sermon, "The Wages Of Sin Is Death."

Great interest is being manifested in the Lockett Adair revival going on at the tabernacle each night. Visitors from all nearby towns and many from a distance are present at these services, and all indications point to one of the greatest meetings of the kind ever held in the West.

On Sunday night the capacious building was taxed by the great crowd that gathered to hear the evangelist, and their coming was rewarded by hearing one of the best sermons delivered from a local pulpit.

The subject of the discourse was "The Wages of Sin Is Death," and from this text found in Romans 6:23, the evangelist brought a powerful message to his hearers. A resume of this stirring message follows:

"The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. No man can serve two masters. The question that comes to us tonight is plain. Will I work for my damnation and board myself, or accept the free gift of God—eternal life? It is bad enough to go to hell, but for a man to work for the devil all his life and then have to go to hell is Hell! When a man hires for work, there are three questions he asks: 'What do you want me to do? How long do you want me to work? What will you pay me? For whom will you work, God or the devil? I come to the devil and ask him: 'Mr. Devil, what do you want me to do?' He says: 'I want you to swear, steal, drink whiskey, gamble and seduce homes.' And I want to say, boys, that playing marbles for keeps, is gambling the same as women playing for prizes or niggers shooting craps. 'How long do you want me to work?' 'From the time you are a baby in your mother's arms throughout life, to death and through eternity.' What will you pay?' He answers: 'My wages is death!'

"Let us put some witnesses on the stand.

"Pay day is sure to come and you can't beat the game. Listen to the evidence. Sin has built every jail; it has forged every lock, and has built every penitentiary. Sin plays no favorites, it gets the purest and the best. I do not try to preach men out of hell, I try to preach hell out of men. Sin makes hell. Go to the insane asylum and ask the embecile and the incompetent, and the scientific answer comes that nineteen per cent of all insane are there because of sin. I go to the hospitals and see the paupers in the paupers' ward,

THE SOFT WATER BONUS IS RAISED

Two Meetings Held Last Friday—Acceptance Wired Mr. La Salle.

A meeting was called last Friday afternoon at the Commercial Club for the purpose of raising the balance of the bonus asked for the installation of a soft water system in Pecos.

A large number of the business men were present, and it was stated that this was the last opportunity, for some time at least, to secure soft water, that those behind the proposition had wired for the answer now, and it was up to the people to secure the system, or let it go, maybe never to have another such chance. The voice of the meeting was to not let the present opportunity pass, and the meeting was full of suggestions as to how to raise the balance. Many plans were presented only to be pushed aside for others, until the fertile brain of Judge Ross hit upon a plan that, as you shall see, culminated in a glorious success. He suggested that permission be secured from Lockett Adair and party to use the tabernacle at the close of the services in the evening, and also told the meeting that if the request was granted he would guarantee to raise the funds at this meeting. Judge Hudson rose to remark that he would guarantee the use of the tabernacle, as he and Bro. Adair had been boys together.

Judge Hudson talked with Bro. Adair, who readily agreed to the proposition, and at the close of his services, he announced the arrangements, and what the meeting was for, closing with a talk that would do credit to a life-long resident of Pecos, stating that in all his travels, which are extensive, he had heard much of Pecos, and that the only knock he ever heard directed toward our fair city, was in regard to the water. Forcibly did he emphasize his remarks, and truly showed that not only was he interested in our spiritual, but our moral welfare as well, by donating $20 towards the raising of the funds needed.

$2,000 was the sum needed. A little over $13,000 had previously been subscribed. Did it come? You should have been there, and seen the thing done in the Pecos way. It came in dribbles of $5, $10, $15, and so on, up to $100 and $200, and in a comparatively short time stock was taken, and it was found that but $350 was all that was needed of the original sum. Before anyone had a chance to say a word, Jack Love started home, saying he was sleepy and that if they let him go he would guarantee the balance, and to wire Mr. La Salle to "GET BUSY."

It is unnecessary to state that the result called for applause and all went to home and rest, feeling satisfied in the fact that Pecos and the Pecos spirit of doing things was once more vindicated. We feel that this move is one of the biggest yet undertaken when results that are bound to accrue are considered, and the proposition is being taken care of by our best lawyers and business men, who promise that work to start at the earliest possible moment, and will be pushed to a rapid completion.

Cotton Being Ginned From Reeves County Soil.

Couch & Glover are sure busy these days ginning cotton raised in Reeves County. So far they have ginned 280 bales averaging 565 pounds.

During the time that they were unable to gin on account of a break-down, at least 250 bales were ginned at Barstow.

This will make, up to date, 545 bales, and at the price for cotton and cotton seed, it will bring into Reeves County over $60,000, and there will be from one to three hundred more bales.

Reeves county cotton will average a higher grade all the way through than any other county in the state, and we look forward in the future when there will be thousands of bales instead of hundreds raised in Reeves County.

Stock Shipped In and Out This Week.

Messrs. Tippet and Browder shipped out from Saragosa last week, on Friday, 2 cars of horses via the Pecos Valley Southern and the Texas & Pacific, to Cisco.

Tuesday one car of horses was shipped out by Mr. Meadows, to Oklahoma City.

J. N. Williams shipped one car of stock hogs to Quinlan, Wednesday.

Wednesday 2 cars of cattle were shipped out from Riveron via the Santa Fe and Texas & Pacific to Fort Worth.

J. C. Jones shipped in from Big Springs, Thursday over the Texas & Pacific, 3 carloads of sheep. They were shipped out to Saragosa on the the Pecos Valley Southern train, where they will be put on alfalfa.

J. W. Wheat, was up from the Big Valley on Wednesday and Thursday on business. He reports things down there in fine shape.

and ask them why? The answer comes, sin. We go to the city of the dead; seventy-five per cent of the tombstones are pointing toward Heaven, crying out for vengeance like the city of Ninevah.

"The wages of sin is death. First, death to the physical man. It is a scientific fact that any amount of whiskey weakens a man's endurance. I saw a chief of police who was a specimen of physical manhood. I begged him to give his heart and life to God. He said: 'No, sin will not hurt me.' A few months afterwards I found him a greasy, dirty pauper. In a few months the temple of the Holy Ghost destroyed. Death to the mental man. When a boy I knew a man who had been a colonel in the war. He was gifted as an orator. He died a pauper. Death to the moral man. I once saw the hoodlum wagon drive up to the station and the first one to be taken out was an old man brought in for theft. I looked at this man and thought, there is a man whom some one should have been proud to call father. The next was a woman, young in years but old in experience. Sin had fastened its hellish grip upon her and robbed her of its virtue. As I looked at her I thought here is a woman some man should be glad to say, 'She is my wife.' The third one to be brought out was a little child, known as Little Midget, the biggest hotel thief in Texas. And I thought sin, not satisfied with the old manhood and young womanhood, claims for its victims the precious childhood of our country. The last to be brought out was an old woman for drunkenness. Perhaps she had a drunken husband or son. Sin is not satisfied with the old manhood, the young womanhood and childhood, but must fasten its vulturous claws upon the motherhood.

"Death to the spiritual man. Can't picture the devil too hideous. As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. An officer can tell a criminal by looking at him. You can tell a drunken man by looking at him—and by smelling him, too."

Lockett Adair closed the message of the evening in a most dramatic scene. He pictured the devil in all his heinousness and hideousness, in his terrible struggle to get the fairest and the best. When the struggle seems almost over the devil about to win in his business of wrecking wives and homes and children, he pictured in graphic word pictures the rising of the Star of Bethlehem in the East. With a sweeping climax the devil dis-

WOODROW WILSON IS REELECTED

Vote So Close in Many States It Has Been Hard To Get Accurate Returns.

We give below the very latest as to the results in the election Tuesday.

It is thought the the Democrats will have a majority in both the Senate and House of Representatives, but the majority is greatly reduced.

This is the line-up as it appeared at 6 o'clock yesterday evening in New York, based on reports to the Associated Press, though not in every case the official count:

Sure For Wilson.

Alabama, 12, Arizona, 3, Arkansas, 9, Colorado, 9, Florida, 6, Georgia, 14, Idaho, 4, Kansas, 10, Kentucky, 13, Louisiana, 10, Maryland, 8, Mississippi, 10, Missouri, 18, Montana, 4, Nebraska, 8, Nevada, 3, New Hampshire, 4, North Carolina, 12, North Dakota, 5, Ohio, 24, Oklahoma, 10, South Carolina, 9, Tennessee, 12, Texas, 20, Utah, 4, Virginia, 12, Washington, 7, Wyoming, 3. Total 260.

Sure For Hughes.

Connecticut, 7, Delaware, 3, Illinois, 29, Indiana, 15, Iowa, 13, Maine, 6, Massachusetts, 18, Michigan, 15, New Jersey, 14, New York, 45, Oregon, 5, Pennsylvania, 28, Rhode Island, 5, South Dakota, 5, Vermont, 4, West Virginia, 8, Wisconsin, 13. Total 243.

California with 13 and New Mexico with 3, a total of 16, are probably for Wilson, while Minnesota with 12, is probably for Hughes. The probable final results are: Wilson 276; Hughes 255.

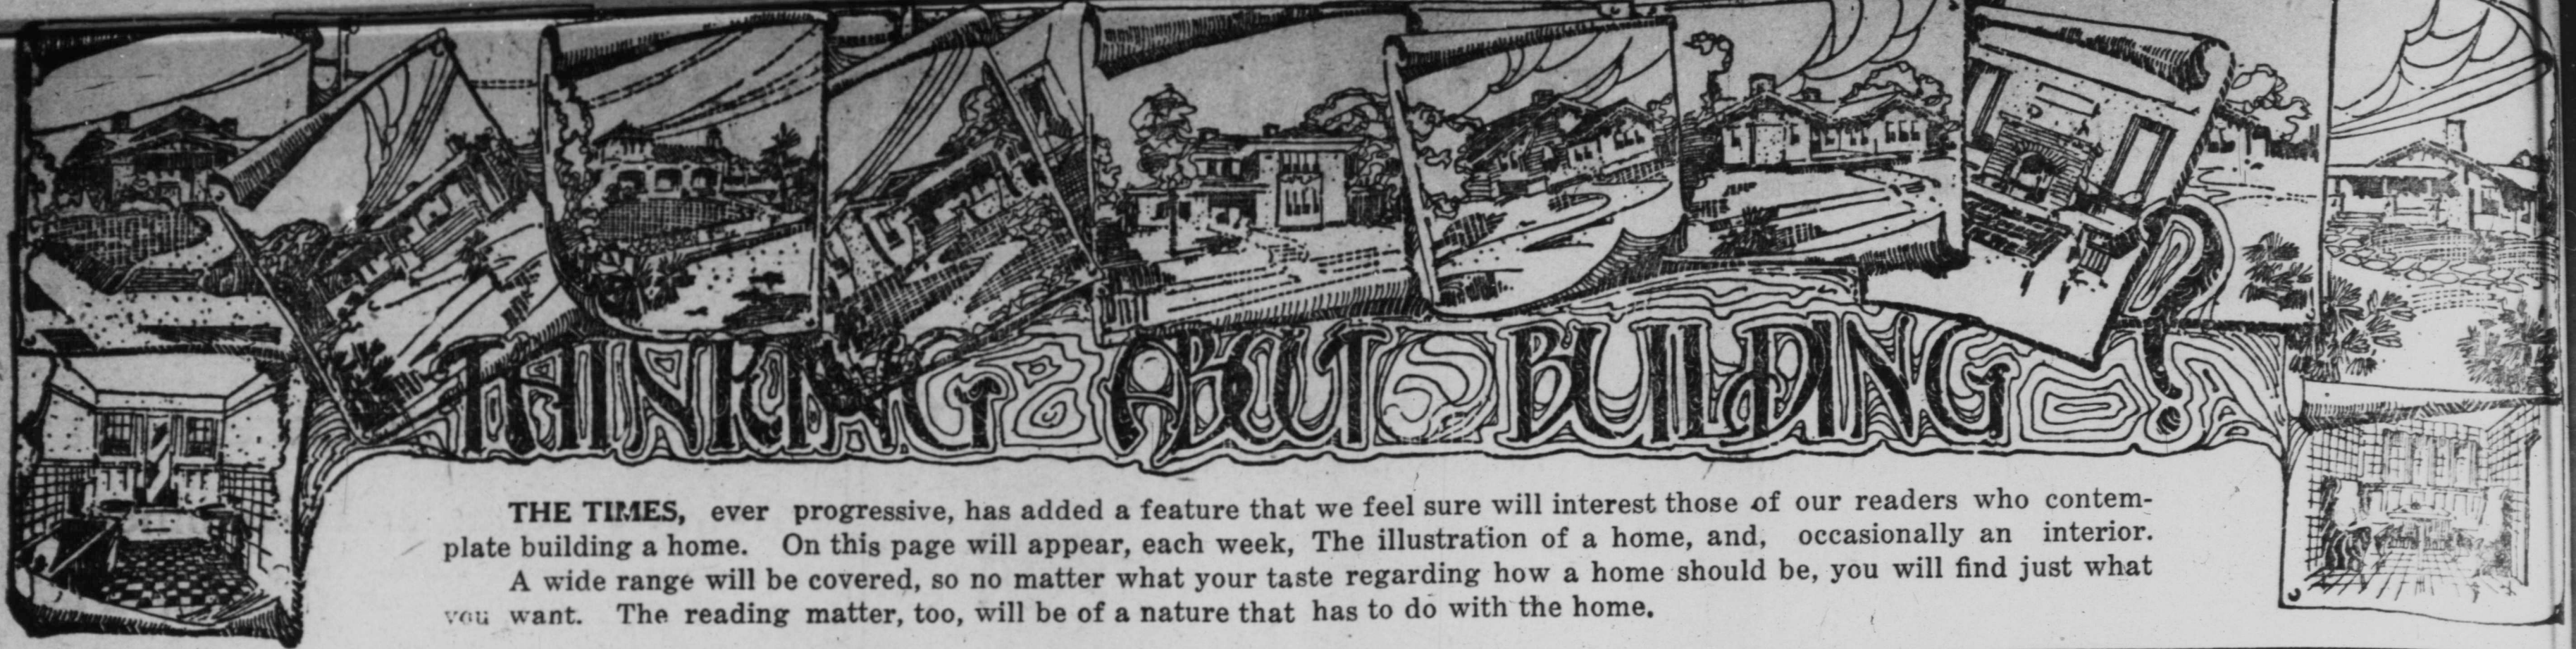

Two telegrams received this morning, one stating that Wilson carried California, the other stating that New Mexico also went for him. It is possible that these figures may change just a little but undoubtedly Woodrow Wilson will be re-elected as the Nation's chief another four years, which is good news to nearly everybody in this section.

Returns From the County

The returns of the county are slow in coming in, and until this morning only four of Reeves County's boxes had been returned with the following results:

Pecos—Votes polled 274. Democratic 183, Republican

THE TIMES, ever progressive, has added a feature that we feel sure will interest those of our readers who contemplate building a home. On this page will appear, each week, The illustration of a home, and, occasionally an interior. A wide range will be covered, so no matter what your taste regarding how a home should be, you will find just what you want. The reading matter, too, will be of a nature that has to do with the home.

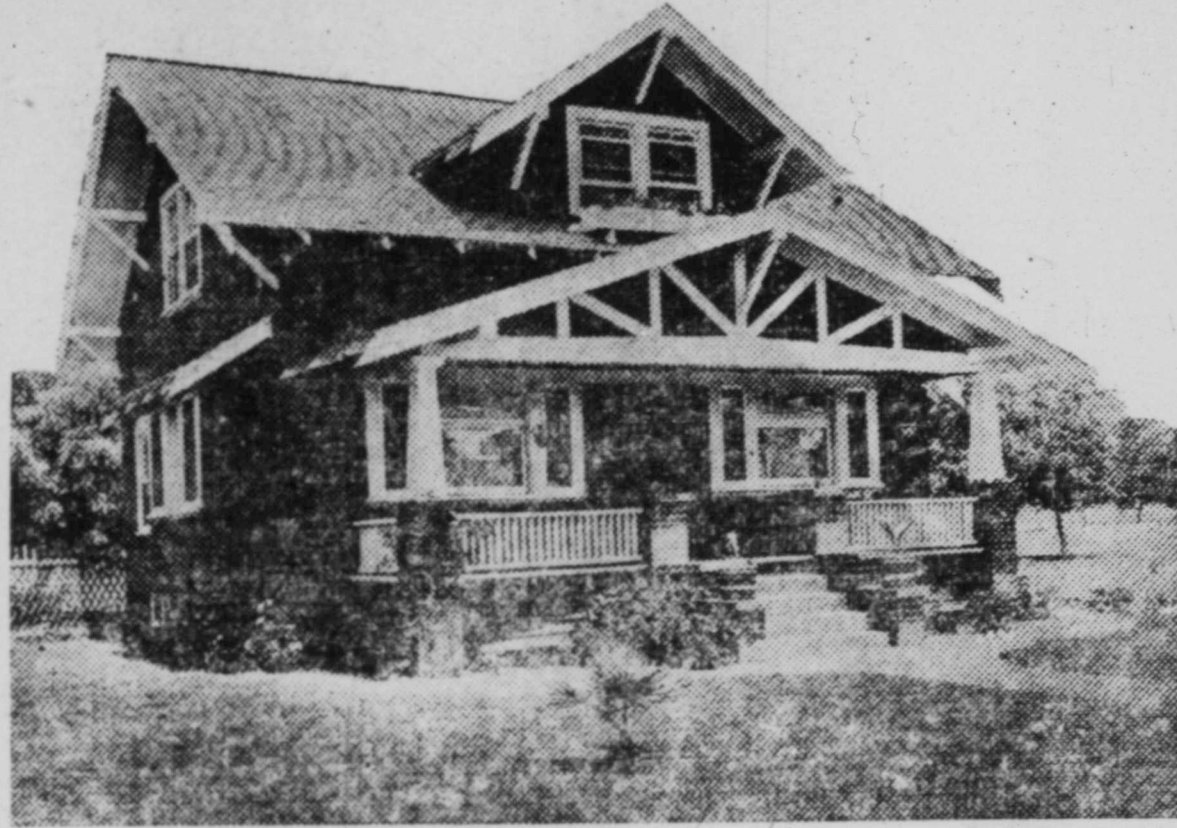

Modern Homes Create and Maintain Civic Pride.

Modern home building is an incentive to civic pride. The success of any civic attractiveness movement depends upon the co-operation of the people as a whole.

Noticeable has been the lack of interest displayed by those whose homes were unattractive and antiquated, just as noticeable has been the change displayed when one built a new modern home. It was the building of that home which created the desire to have the whole town look like the surroundings of their homes.

In former days no attention was paid to making the low or medium priced homes attractive and harmonious. Only the very rich was privileged to have homes. All of the rest existed in mere houses—four walls with a roof. There was no intermediate between palace and hovel.

With the advent of the cozy bungalow and the attractive 2-

ECONOMICAL TWO-STORY HOUSE.

This house will appeal to a man who wants to build a two-story house economically, lumber cuts to even sizes and is all carried in stock.

Balcony in rear of second floor affords airing space for bedding which is very essential for two-story houses. Two bedrooms upstairs, both having in them large closets. Well lighted sewing room well protected from sun by projecting gable.

Living and dining rooms in beam ceiling. Living-room has built-in window seat in alcove and wide colonade opening leads into dining room which has a commodious built-in buffet. Bath room easily accessible from first floor bedroom. Built-in cupboards and sink make kitchen work a great deal handier. Screen porch adjoining kitchen gives convenient access to back yard.

story homes the minds of the masses naturally turned to the beautifying of their own surroundings. When this was accomplished the contrast between their domain and the streets, public square, and the grounds of the Court House, City Hall, etc., were so great that they took it upon themselves to make the whole town look like a park. Thus the modern home building has accomplished a miracle in a few short years.

The illustration here is a true portrayal of a modern story and a half bungalow. Attractive, distinctive and practical in interior arrangement yet medium priced and within the reach of the home builder. It would do credit to the streets in your city. It sends the dawn of a new era in home building. It is a home to the average home builder that one decision could be to be "Let's build a home and enjoy comfort and convenience together with beauty."

Be Thrifty.

Lack of thrift is an American sin. The Saviour, in the gospel miracle where he produced an abundance from almost nothing and provided for the thousands in the wilderness has taught a lesson of thrift when he indicated that they gather up the fragments that nothing be lost.

Thoughtless, reckless waste is sinful. Economy is the use of what we have, whether it be little or much, and is vital to the properly developed person of Christian character. The food for our tables, the clothing for our backs, the means for providing for any of our interests or our pleasures must be conserved. Even though we have plenty, others may not have enough, and it is not our privilege to recklessly waste what we call our own.

In point of fact, everything we have is of God, and we are but stewards. It is, therefore, our duty to use our possessions whether they are in goods, in talents, or in time, in such a way as to make them count most for the benefit of the entire world to the glory of God. Parents should train their own children in thrift. Children, themselves, should cultivate habits of economy in the use of whatever they may have at hand.—Selected.

LAST CALL FOR TURKEY DAY

Next Saturday Pecos First Big Turkey Day Will Be Fitly Observed.

Every man, woman and child of Pecos and surrounding county are cordially invited to hear the magnificent band that will perform in Pecos, next Saturday, November 18th—Turkey Day. The band will be composed of 1000 members, at least, and will render that old favorite barnyard lullaby, entitled "Gobble! Gobble! Gobble!"

Reports are coming in from all section of the country, as far north as Jal and Eunice, N. M., and these reports are indeed favorable, and it is safe to state that we will have not less than 1000 turkeys here on Turkey Day. I have been to all parts of the surrounding counties, and I have counted droves of from 50 to 150 turkeys that will be brought to Pecos on that day. There are in fine condition, too, and it will be a great treat to see 1000 turkeys in one bunch. In order that the public may enjoy this grand sight we will erect a large cage on Oak street north of the fountain; the cage will be 50x100 feet, and as fast as the turkeys are brought in and weighed, they will be turned loose in the cage.

We will have the buyers on the ground and when your turkeys are weighed you will be paid cash for same on the spot. We are in correspondence with poultry dealers from all parts of Texas, and we already know of several that will be here. The entire lot of turkeys will be sold to the buyer who will pay the highest price for same.

Again do we wish to impress this fact: That Turkey Day was instituted but for one purpose, and that, to encourage the raising of turkeys in this particular section of the country, and to procure a market for same. The expenses incurred by the Commercial Club in working up the proposition is donated cheerfully, it nor its secretary, nor any other officer receive a penny in commissions or otherwise. On Saturday, November 18th, it will be a strictly business transaction between the buyer and the seller. The man who has the turkeys and the man who wants them.

Turkey Day was not instituted for Pecos or Reeves county alone, but for the whole surrounding country, so no matter where you may live do not hesitate for a moment, but bring your turkeys to Pecos on Turkey Day. They will be paid for by the pound. If you have but one turkey you will get as much per pound for it as the man who brings a hundred and it doesn't cost you one penny to sell the turkey.

The market is advancing every day and the prospects are that by the 18th, turkeys will bring the highest price that has been known in years. The buyers will buy every turkey, paying the market price for same, and by shipping such a large number will enable us to get a much better price than usual. The prospects are that we will have a carload, and carload prices are always higher than shipping by express, so this will be the best chance that will be offered for shipping turkeys, and we certainly trust that parties owning turkeys will show their appreciation of our efforts by bringing them in next Saturday, November 18th,—Turkey Day.

THRONGS ATTENDING THE MEETING

appears, the angels sing and the souls of men shout, "Re-deemed by the Blood of the Lamb."

The subject of the sermon delivered Monday night was, "Not Ashamed of the Gospel." Tuesday night, "Some Things Which Cause Us to Lose Faith" Wednesday night, "Blind Bartimeus." Thursday "Why Our Prayers Are Not Answered."

Each of these subjects were handled as only one who is well versed in the work could do it. Much good is being accomplished by the ladies and the men's prayer meetings each day and also by the children's and young peoples' services.

Including last night's services there have been about 25 conversions and reclamations.

PECOS SCHOOL NOTES.

Dr. Sandifer, president of Simmons College, visited the school last week. He talked on the future life of boys and girls, telling some of his own experiences. The High School enjoyed his speech very much and they will welcome him at any time when he may visit the school again. Mr. Wall, a member of the Lockett Adair party, was also a school visitor Tuesday morning and the pupils enjoyed a good talk in which he bade them, especially, to always "keep sweet." He has promised to return and sing for the school some time in the near future.

Tuesday was election day in the High School as well as in the United States and the pupils, including the seventh grade, were introduced to the mysteries of voting. The polls opened at twelve-thirty, and closed about five. When the ballots were counted, it was found that Mr. Wilson received 79 votes, while Mr. Hughes received but 7.

The Pecos High School football are expecting to play a game against Big Springs next Saturday, but at the present writing it is undecided whether or not they will go.

There were nine absences and three tardies in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades during the week.

invited into the yard where dokaking was enjoyed. Mrs. M. A. Grisham will next be hostess to the club. Last Tuesday evening as dark was slowly descending, many wierd and ghostly figures might be seen wending their way toward the O'Keefe home, where a delightful Hallowe'en party for the young people was in progress. The spooks were invited into the parlors which were dimly lighted and decorated with pictures of witches, bats, black cats and other suggestive Hallowe'en emblems. Here were many delightful games enjoyed by the young folks, but the most interesting was a journey through Spookland, when all were told to take hold of a line and were led in dark and gruesome passages from which issued unearthly shrieks and groans. This was followed by a trip to the witches field at which place old Dame Fortune huddled over her ghost-fire handed to each a written prophecy concerning their fate. Next a visit was paid to the old Witch who held the key to the "Fountain of Youth" and each one was given a draught of her wonderful brew which she promised would keep them eternally young. The old Witch who gave the password to "Spookland" was then visited and after reclining in her cozy old arm chair she whispered to you the word "Black Cat." Mrs. O'Keefe then invited all into the front yard, which was brilliantly lighted with jack o' lanterns and ghost fires where delicious refreshments of cake and hot chocolate was then served, after which all proceed on a ghost walk. The spooks dispersed at the stroke of twelve, thanking Mrs. O'Keefe for the very pleasant evening, one and all voting her home to be one of the most delightful haunts of ghosts.

Announcement Party.

Social life, with its usual quiet, was given thrills of interest last week, when the engagement and approaching marriage of one of Pecos' most popular young ladies, Miss Vernon McCarver, was announced, at a beautiful appointed musical matinee, given by the sisters of the bride-to-be Misses Florence and Mildred McCarver, at their home, on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The entertainment suite was lovely in decorations of white chrysanthemums and ferns. The program for the afternoon being Wagner's Opera "Lohngreign", was thought to be just a wee bit too suggestive although the announcement was kept sub rosa, and added all the charm of a genuine surprise when the happy event was made known.

The story of the opera was told in a most delightful manner by Miss Florence McCarver. Mrs. Woody Browning, in her pleasing style, sang "Ye Wandering Breezes." Mrs. J. E. Starley added greatly with a solo, "Elso Dream". This was followed by a beautifully rendered trio "Faithful and True" by Misses Sadie, Warren and Nannie Mae Collings.

The moment of intense interest was reached when to the melodious strains of "Mendellsohn's Wedding March" the door of the dining room slowly rolled back, and as the last note died away, the guests gathered around the beautiful table, elegant in all its appointments, lace spread, a lovely cut glass bowl filled with handsome white chrysanthemums and ferns, resting on exquisite lace of yellow adorned the center, while from the chandelier hung streamers of white satin ribbons caught in place on the table with graceful sprays of ferns and chrysanthemums. The guests places were marked with sprays of ferns and chrysanthemums and bearing a dainty card which read:

Mr. Henry Denton Coydell
Miss Vernon McCarver
November 25, 1916.

Gleaming waxen candles burning from brass candlesticks gave a jeweled like effect on the merry party as showered congratulations and happy felicitations on the charming bride-to-be.

A dainty and exquisite refreshment plate was passed, consisting of delicious ice cream and angel food cake.

As the candles burned low, the guests took leave of the hostess and honoree their only regret being that her marriage takes their beloved friend to a distant home, for life promises a journey through rosy paths for the happy couple, she being so charmingly endowed with voice and manner, and he professionally prominent.

The members of the Euterpean Club were guests for this lovely affair, Miss Vernon being one of the club's charter members.

On Her Announcement Lay.

You who are young and slim and tall,
Whose voice has yet the lilting call
Of childhood in it, and the glee
Of happy days that used to be
And in the gray deep of whose eyes
The sweetness of our Southern skies
Shines warm—it was ordained above
That one day you should fall in-love.

It was ordained above that you
Sweet as a white rose gemmed with dew,
Should love and should be loved, and go
Where blossoms bend and the boughs bend low,
Intolove-enchanted land
With your true love, and hand in hand,
And heart to heart, walk there with him
Through all the years, till stars grow dim.

There's little those you love can say—
There is more in a clasping hand,
To make you know they understand,
Than there could ever be in speech—
And their hand and their hearts outreach
To wish for you life's blossomed ways,
And love and gladness all your days.

Hallowe'en Shower.

Bible Class No. 6, of the Baptist Sunday school, gave a surprise Hallowe'en shower, complimentary to one of its members, Mrs. May Bean, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Bean through her short stay among us has endeared herself to very member of the class, and it was a perfect delight to plan this pouncing for her on the eve of her going to housekeeping.

A big basket filled to overflowing with necessary groceries, linens, etc., all so essential to the first steps of housekeeping, was entrusted to two "spooks" (Mrs. Sam Means and Mrs. J. W. Brooks) who "When the shadows creep, And night is deep; When all is hushed And mortals sleep."

These spooks bestirred themselves and wending their way to the cottage of Mrs. Bean where they presented the basket on behalf of the class. A little verse pinned to a big bouquet of flowers explained the visit. It read:
This Hallowe'en pouncing we are going to give you
Is nothing novel, nothing new;
But the members of Sunday school class No. 6
Fell on this plan—of using the witches—
To help you get ready to begin making stitches.

The entire class had planned to go in "spook" attire and add to the pleasure of the occasion, but the revival being in progress, just these two representatives of the class were sent.

The class is surprised to know of its having a poetess, and feel justly proud of the little original verse, although she is rather timid as yet, and declines to publish her name, but—she is a poet if the world doesn't know it, and at Sunday school her face you will always see, and the first of her name is the letter "C".

Mothers' Club Meeting.

The first Friday in each month is the regular meeting day for the Mother's Club. On last Friday a group of most enthusiastic mothers gathered in the High School auditorium. The president, Mrs. W. A. Hudson, had quite a lot of items for discussion.

A course of study in Public Health, compiled by the American Medical Association, was decided upon.

Plans for serving dinner on Turkey Day was then fully discussed. The club is in debt for the recent improvements on the playgrounds of the school lawn, and will use this occasion to raise funds for this indebtedness and to promote further improvements.

Join the Mothers' Club—be a regular member—what is so dear to our hearts as that which is for the benefit and welfare of our children.

And if you haven't a turkey gobbler, you can at least gobble turkey, Saturday, November 18.

The next regular meeting is December 1, and they especially desire your aid in the next and most important things undertaken.

Will Hold Bazaar.

The ladies of the Christian church will hold a bazaar on December 8 and 9. Fancy work and many useful things, as well as lots of good things to eat will be on sale. The place to buy your Christmas gifts. Full particulars will be given later.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

With the exception of black ink, all raw materials used in manufacture of a newspaper have advanced in cost, during the past twelve months approximately 100 per cent. This means that it will cost your publisher practically double to supply you with a newspaper the coming year.

Under stress of these unusual conditions, The Star-Telegram has been forced to increase its "Bargain Days" rate from $3.25 to $3.65. An increase of 40c per year (3 1-3c per month) or 12 per cent. Based on the conservative estimate increase in production cost of 100 per cent, under this price the division of added expense will be as follows:

Increased expense to The Star-Telegram 88%
Increased expense to The Reader 12%

This situation means that after "Bargain Days" the regular rate of $6.00 per year must be strictly enforced. We have battered the price to the very bottom in order to protect our Annual Subscription Cheap Rate Period, which has been in effect since the establishment of The Star-Telegram.

Do not take chances, save the $2.35, by ordering before Bargain Days expire. Take advantage of the $3.65 rate.

The high standard of The Star-Telegram will be maintained as long as there is a Star-Telegram regardless of any war burdens.

Talks With the Boys

By J. L. HARBOUR, IN THE VISITOR.

About The Boy Who Cannot Make Good

The number of boys who can not make good is small, while the number of boys who do not make good is very much larger than it should be. Why is this? One does not have to look far in some cases in order to discover why this is true. In nearly all cases it is the boy's own fault when he does not make good. I do not mean by this that it is the boy's own fault when he does not become rich and famous. A very small per cent of the boys do this. None of them need to do it in order to make good in the best sense of the term. Riches and fame are never necessary to the best success in life. It is natural that every boy should want them and try to secure them; but if they elude the boy, he still has a chance to make a great success of his life. One of the most successful men I know is now a man of fifty-five years, with a salary of one hundred dollars a month, and I doubt if he ever has a larger salary. His whole life has been devoted to good work and his thousand of friends regard his very name as a synonym for the word goodness. I do not know of any man who exerts a wider influence for good. Although he has always been a comparatively poor man, he has made good.

Of course the boy in the great world of business wants to make good. It is right that he should want to do so. Why does he fail when failure is his portion? I believe that his failure is sometimes accounted for by the fact that he puts self-interest first. He is devoted more to his own interests than to the interests of his employer. Often he wants an increase in salary before he has a right to expect it. I know two men in a certain big commercial house. Both have been with the house six years. In that time one of the men has had his salary raised four different times, while the other man is receiving exactly what he received when he began to work for this house. Why is this difference in the salaries of the two men? It is simply because the man who has such a large increase in salary has always had the interests of the firm at heart. He has always been on the lookout for opportunities of doing things that will increase the business of the firm. He is noted for his agreeable manners and for his willingness to do anything that will help the house no matter whether it is his business to do that thing or not. He has never defined the scope of his duties too sharply. No one ever knew him to decline to do a thing on the plea that it was "not my business" to do that thing. No one ever knew him to grow sullen if he had to do work overtime now and then. No one ever caught him looking at the clock and counting the minutes until the closing minute should come. No one ever heard him complain because he had to work so hard, and again and again has he been known to go out of his way to oblige the customers of the house. There are patrons of the house who always ask for him when they come to the house on business errands.

I believe that many boys of today are making good because they know the value of being patient and polite and obliging, and because they are free from a kind of harmful self-interest that makes them care for nothing but the salary they find in their pay envelopes Saturday. They have the satisfaction of knowing that they have honestly earned the money in that envelope. The boy who is willing to be paid for shirking at every opportunity will never make good. He will see other boys promoted while he remains where he is, if he does not lose his position entirely.

The boy who makes good is a boy who refuses to live in the present alone. He has no use for the past unless it is to retrieve some of the mistakes he made in it; but he is tremendously interested in the future. He realizes that it is rich in opportunities. He refuses to be satisfied with the present. And there is a spirit of growth inside of him that makes him determined to press on to greater achievements each year. The boy who is lazily and sluggishly inclined to "let well enough alone" to the extent of not trying to do any better than he is doing at present is the boy who will never make good.

Only the strictly honest boy can make good, and to his honesty he must add truthfulness. One of the cleverest men I ever knew has lost position after position because of his untruthfulness. A lie may serve for a time, but nothing but absolute truthfulness will win in the long run. Let a man once achieve the reputation of being untruthful, and every one will regard him with suspicion. The very fact that witnesses in every court of the land have to solemnly swear under oath that they will "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth" is in itself proof of the fact that there is a great deal of falsehood abroad in the land. Addison says in one of his couplets:

"Falsehood and fraud
Shoot up in every soil,
The product of all climes."

No boy can allow these two evils to shoot up in him if he hopes to make good in the world. There are golden opportunities for the ambitious boy of today, but the conditions of success are much the same as they have been since time began. One cannot evade these hard-and-fast conditions. One cannot simply be lazy, self-centered, dishonest and untruthful, and at the same time make good. It is well for the boy that this is true.

"Goodnight Corns! We Use 'Gets-It!'"

3 Drops in 2 Seconds. That's All. "GETS-IT" Does the Rest. Never Fails.

"Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can find to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes up with bandages into a package that fills their shoes full of feet and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use salves that cut right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use plasters that make the corns bulge, or pick and gouge at their corns and make the toes bleed. Funny, isn't it? "GETS-IT" is the simple, modern wonder for corns. Just put 3 drops on. It dries instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn, callus or wart loosens and comes off. Millions use nothing else. "GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a box. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Matching For Drinks Is Violation of Gambling Laws.

Matching coins for five-cent drinks is held by the court of criminal appeals to be a violation of the gambling laws of the State. The court accordingly affirmed three cases out of Fisher County in which the appellants were charged with having matched to see who would pay for the drinks.

The appellants were Pat Wilson, Carl Ellis and Silas Glasscock. They were each of them fined $10 in the trial court and this was affirmed.

Associate Judge Davidson dissented and will file his reasons later.

Took the Hurt Out of Her Back

Mrs. Anna Byrd, Tuscomb, Ala., writes: "I was down with my back so I could not stand up more than half the time. Foley Kidney Pills took all of the hurt out." Rheumatic pains, swollen ankles, backache, stiff joints and sleep disturbing bladder ailments indicate disordered kidneys and bladder trouble. For sale by Pecos Drug Co.—Adv.

That on or about the first day of January, A. D. 1916, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, situated in the County of Reeves, State of Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit: All of Section 31, in Block 2, H. & G. Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Survey, except Lot No. 12 of said survey, which lot No. 12 had by plaintiff theretofore been conveyed to one Joseph Kinstler; that on or about said date, to-wit, January 1, 1916, the defendants, John B. Dandridge, Spencer B. Pugh, E. Leslie Cole and Trans-Pecos Land & Irrigation Company, unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and unlawfully withhold from him the possession thereof to his damage in the sum of $15,000.00.

Plaintiff further alleges there is of record in Book 26, at page 581, of the Deed Records in and for Reeves County, Texas, a certain pretended deed, which purports to have been executed by plaintiff to the defendant, F. G. Spanjer, and purporting to convey to said Spanjer Lots Nos. 1 and 2 of said Section 31, Block 2, H. & G. N. R. Co. Survey, in Reeves County, Texas, according to a sub-division of said section, which two lots contain in the aggregate 60.80 acres, and that the record of which purported deed shows date on or about July 11, 1910, and purports to show that plaintiff acknowledged same before the defendant, Spencer B. Pugh, a Notary Public of Cook County, Illinois; plaintiff alleges that said purported deed is a forgery; that he never executed the same, nor did he ever authorize any one to execute the same for him or in his behalf; that he did not acknowledge such deed before said Spencer B. Pugh; and that he did not know of the execution of said purported deed until long after the same had been placed of record in Reeves County, Texas, and that the record of said deed is a cloud upon plaintiff's title to said lots 1 and 2.

Plaintiff further alleges that he is informed and believes that each and all of the defendants herein are claiming and asserting some right, title or interest in and to said section of land, by way of liens, contracts of ownership, and the plaintiff alleges such right, title or interest claimed or held by any of said defendants is inferior and subordinate to plaintiff's title to said property, and said defendants, and each of them, are made parties hereto in order that their claims, and each of them, be forever barred, and that plaintiff's title be quieted as to all of said defendants. Plaintiff prays judgment against all of the defendants for the title and possession of said land and premises; for writ of restitution, for damages and costs; and that said deed purporting to convey Lots 1 and 2 of said section to the defendant F. G. Spanjer, be canceled, set aside and held for naught, and the cloud upon the title of his property by reason thereof be removed, and for such other relief, special and general, in law and in equity, as he may be entitled to receive.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

KEEPING GOOD ROADS GOOD.

Amply Provisions For Maintenance Should Be Part of Improved Highway System.

Keeping good roads good is the most important task in connection with the improved system of highways, once the construction work is completed. In the United States in the past, this task usually has been neglected, the improved roads in many instances being allowed to deteriorate until they became almost impassable, when they were, at heavy cost, rebuilt. That States and counties are now coming to recognize the need of careful and thorough-going maintenance, however, is indicated by studies of county road systems in different sections of the country recently made by the office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering of the Department.

While some of the eight counties in which extensive studies were made were found to have no provisions for the maintenance of roads and others were found to pay for upkeep of the roads out of bond-issue funds, thus creating a debt that would outlive the temporary improvement by a good many years, two counties in widely separated States were found in which maintenance conditions were practically all that could be desired. In Mississippi, it was found, there is a State law requiring that a special annual tax of at least 1 mill shall be levied for the upkeep of all roads constructed by means of bond issues, the fund to be kept separate from all other funds and to be used for maintenance only. Instead of deterioration taking place on the roads of some of the counties in other states on which examinations were made, it was found that in Lauderdale County, Miss., roads, built several years ago, and maintained from the special fund, have actually improved since their completion.

The county roads of Franklin county, N. Y., it was found, are maintained with a contribution of 50 per cent by the State and under indirect State supervision. As a result of this system, the roads have been kept up to their condition on completion. While provisions for maintenance were on the whole not satisfactory in the counties of the other States in which studies were made, this condition since has been remedied in Virginia by the passage of a State law providing that an annual tax of not less than 3 per cent of the amount of bonds issued shall be levied to provide a maintenance fund for bond-built roads. The existence of a regulation tending to lessen damage to roads and so reduce maintenance costs was revealed by the studies in Spotsylvania County, Va., where the county supervisors had passed an ordinance placing a relatively low limit on loads that may be hauled on wagons fitted with narrow tires and a considerably higher limit on loads for the wide tired wagons. As a result most of the wagons using the roads of the county have been fitted with tires ranging from three to six inches wide.

Don't Snub.

Don't snub a boy because of his physical disability. Milton was blind. Don't snub a boy because he chooses an humble trade. The author of "Pilgrim's Progress" was a tinker. Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretending. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log-cabin. Don't snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name. Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes. When Edison, the inventor of the telephone, first entered Boston he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches, although it was in the depth of winter.—Selected.
