WHAT IS

LAX-FOS

LAX-FOS IS AN IMPROVED CASCARA A DIGESTIVE LAXATIVE CATHARTIC AND LIVER TONIC

LAX-FOS is not a Secret or Patent Medicine but is composed of the following old-fashioned roots and herbs:

- CASCARA BARK
- BLUE FLAG ROOT
- RHUBARB ROOT
- BLACK ROOT
- MAY APPLE ROOT
- SENNA LEAVES
- AND PEPSIN

In LAX-FOS the CASCARA is improved by the addition of these digestive ingredients making it better than ordinary CASCARA, and thus the combination acts not only as a stimulating laxative and cathartic but also as a digestive and liver tonic. Syrup laxatives are weak, but LAX-FOS combines strength with palatable, aromatic taste and does not grip or disturb the stomach. One bottle will prove LAX-FOS is invaluable for Constipation, Indigestion or Torpid Liver. Price 50c.

DRTINKLE'S LIVEREZE FOR CONSTIPATION AT YOUR DRUGGISTS

EXPRESSIVE OF HARMONY AND OF SOLIDITY

The chief characteristic of this pretty bungalow is its symmetrical appearance. There is not a harsh or counteracting line in its design. The whole presents such harmonious appearance that it invariably attracts most favorable comment. Concrete floored front porch with mat brick balustrades, capped with stone; the steps being flanker with stone capped brick buttresses. The long roof lines are broken by a beamed dormer window.

The interior is well arranged. Large living room and dining room room, extra large closets throughout. Kitchen is served with all modern built-in conveniences.

A Better Home—A Better Day's Work

"A better home—a better day's work," said DeWitt C. Page, president of the New Departure Manufacturing Company of Bristol, Conn. "We have found that it is just as essential for our workmen to have good homes as it is for them to have good food and a good place to work. We want our workers to know that we have a real interest in them, and in their welfare. To be sure that they had comfortable home is the reason why our company purchased three acres of ground on which we are erecting over one hundred modern, attractive homes, each one different in design and appealing to the individuality of our employees. These homes may either be purchased or rented, in both instances the price is based upon the cost of the ground plus the improvements, we are not making a profit."

Another large corporation in Indianapolis purchased one of the large hotels, remodeling it so that their unmarried employees might have comfortable quarters.

Due credit should be given the founder of this movement for "Better Homes for Workers"—the late C. W. Post, whose modern and attractive homes for his workers were the butt of many a joke from fellow manufacturers many of whom in after years followed Mr. Post's example.

"Many a strike and three-fourths of the labor troubles in America could be averted if more manufacturers and corporations would provide their employees with modern, comfortable homes, not for a profit but at cost," said the late C. W. Post in an address before the American Manufacturing Association.

A prominent manufacturer of a nationally used article said: "Speeding up production can only be accomplished by workmen who have pleasant, comfortable homes; solve the home question of your employees, and they will solve your production difficulties."

Better housing for wage-earners is not the idle theory of sociologists, but a part of the scientific management of a modern business.

Better homes will make better workmen, more modern homes in Pecos will increase our industries.

A Word to Mothers

There seems to be more than the usual number of children suffering from measles, whooping cough and other children's diseases this spring. Do not neglect any cold, for a cold weakens the system and makes a child more liable to attack of more serious ailments. Foley's Honey and Tar relieves coughs, colds and croup. Sold by the Bozeman Drug Co.—Advt.

Not Very Often

As an Englishman was driving in a motor car, and passing a house in the suburbs on the outside of which were two dogs carved out of granite, he asked the driver how often the dogs were fed.

Pat, who was driving, arose to the occasion and astonished the Englishman by the coolness of his reply: "As often as they bark."

Cut This Out Is Worth Money.

Don't Miss This—Cut out this slip, enclose five cents to Foley & Co. 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill. writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs, cold and croup; Foley Kidney Pills and Foley Cathartic Tablets. WEAK WEARY WOMEN

Alcohol blights environment. Children subject to its influence become half-made men, rickety and stunted in mind and in soul. All posterity sleeps in the olms of those who live in America today and yet we maintain a trade to poison life itself for little children yet unborn. It is our flesh and blood that will pay in misery one hundred years from now.

Learn the Cause of Daily Woes and End Them

When the back aches and throbs. When housework is torture. When night brings no rest nor sleep. When kidney disorders set in.

Women's lot is a weary one. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Have proved their worth in thousands of cases.

Read this woman's testimony.

Mrs. W. H. Wolcott, Main St., Midland, Texas, says: "I used to be troubled quite a bit with my kidneys. At times my back ached and was weak. I felt tired and languid and my kidneys were not acting right at all. It only took a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills to cure me and I have not been bothered any in the last year."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mrs. Wolcott. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

Use "Gets-It," Lift Corn Right Off

Shrivels, Loosens—and It's Gone!

"Just like taking the lid off—that's how easy you can lift a corn off your toe after it has been treated with the wonderful discovery, 'Gets-It.' Hunt the wide world over and you'll find nothing so magic, simple and easy as 'Gets-It.' You folks who have wrapped your toes in bandages to look like bundles, who have used salves that turned your toes raw and sore, and used plasters that would shift from their place and never "get" the corn, and who have dug and poked at your corns with knives and scissors and perhaps made them bleed—just quit these old and painful ways and try "Gets-It" just once. You put 2 or 3 drops on, and it dries at once. There's nothing to stick. You can put your shoe and stocking right on again. The corn is painless, shriveling death, it loosens from your toe, and off it comes. "Gets-It" is the biggest selling corn remedy in the world today. There's none other as good. "Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co.,

City Council Holds Session

The City Council met in session Monday afternoon with the Mayor, J. E. Starley, and council Ed Vickers, Ralph Williams, S. M. Prewit and A. G. Taggart present, as were also councilman-elect M. H. Schermerhorn, and Ben G. Warner, secretary. E. L. Collings, presiding judge at the election held on Tuesday, April 3, for the election of two councilmen for two years, made his report, showing that A. G. Taggart received 67 votes, M. H. Schermerhorn 56, Ed Vickers 26, and Jerry Ashworth 1. The two first named were declared elected and the mayor administered the oath of office to them.

A. G. Taggart was elected as treasurer and his bond fixed at $5000. He was further requested to audit the books of the town and compensation, in addition to the $10 a month as treasurer, would be fixed.

The judges and clerks of the election were allowed $2 each for their services in holding the election.

The bids of The Times and The Enterprise to publish the 1916 delinquent tax list were passed over to the next regular meeting for further consideration.

Communication from the Fire Department relative to the purchase of some new equipment was read and discussed. It was ordered that Mr. Williams be authorized to arrange for the purchase of a converted Ford truck with accessories, such truck to be used to pull a trailer pump and to carry hose. He was also instructed to purchase a trailer pump from the Northern Fire Apparatus Co., conditional on the company's demonstration of its equipment. It was further ordered that the fire house be put in repair as to the doors and fastenings and the chemical truck be overhauled and strengthened.

No further business appearing the council adjourned to meet next Monday evening.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD. IN 1917.

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe now half-way into its third year, and, whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest to many for months to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Pecos Times together for one year for $1.65.

B. Y. P. U.

A most enjoyable hour was spent last Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church with the young people of the different churches. A movement was begun to have similar meetings occasionally which will be a great deal of pleasure to us in the future.

The next B. Y. P. U. program will be devotional, and Mrs. Tom Lewis is chairman. We trust she may be with us, for she has been kept away recently on account of the illness of her children with measles.

Pardon me, please, but let me urge that each one who comes to the Union be on time promptly at 7 o'clock next Sunday evening. It means a great deal to everyone for people to be on time at their meetings, and you remember our motto: "Do your best, do your part."

Rheumatic Pains Relieved

"I have used Chamberlain's Liniment for pains in the chest and aliveness of the shoulders due to rheumatism, and I am pleased to say that it has never failed to give me relief," writes Mrs. S. N. Finch, Batavia, N. Y.—Advt.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU DEADLY SICK.

Stop using dangerous drug before it salivates you! It's horrible!

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.—Advt.

Specialists of the Department studying the production of concentrated fertilizers have worked out methods for producing ammonium potassium phosphate, potassium phosphate, and ammonium phosphate. These processes will be patented for the benefit of the people of the United States.

HOME PROTECTION

Too much stress cannot be put upon this phase in the light of present events. The move should have the moral support of every citizen worthy of the name. None should sneer at the idea of organization for such protection. No one has the least information of just how serious a condition we will be called upon to face, therefore preparations for adequate protection of our families should be carried on with an earnestness based, not upon fancied danger, but of the real. Every able-bodied man should willingly become a member of the guard for home protection. The response of our citizens during the week has been gratifying, and shows that the seriousness of our position is appreciated. Should the United States be invaded it will be through border country south of us, and Texas will be the Belgium of the conflict if we are not prepared.

Fight or Farm!

A flag, the Stars and Stripes, should be in evidence at every home in Pecos. Get yours and display it.

Reading of the atrocities of German submarine warfare, it is easy to grasp the difference between kulture and culture.

Our patriotism may not run as high as Colonel Roosevelt's but we are perfectly willing to take a chance at anything for home and family protection.

We care not what the cause of the war, we know that our country is facing a crisis, so neither by word nor act will we deter anyone from offering his services in any capacity whatsoever. Like the immortal Decatur, our sentiments are "Our Country, right of wrong."

From Chicago comes word that women are to wear trousers during the war. This will insure an extra supply of petticoats which may be worn by the slackers who are already reported puzzling their little brains to find means of avoiding military duty.—El Paso Morning Times.

In regard to the "The Times Pulpit" we wish to state that this space is paid for by the inch by one in no way connected with the paper. "The articles are not signed" some say, but we beg to differ. John and Paul are well known characters, and we are promised more from others just as noted.

We are out of patience with the party declaring he is against conscription. The first order is for a half million volunteers. The country must have this many, and any coming up to the requirements may enlist without the least force. We stated, however, that our country MUST have these men.

Those who should know tell us that it will be the conservation of our resources that will win the world war, and we have no reason to doubt their statements. It behooves us then to take to that vacant patch and plant something, don't matter much, just so you can eat it. Don't be like the fellow that says he would rather go to war than farm.

The women of Pecos, not to be outdone by the men will organize instanter. As always, their duties will be of the mercy order—aiding and caring for sick and wounded should the occasion arise. The object and other information regarding this organization, will be found in an article signed by a committee of these noble women in this issue. What other incentive is needed by the men than the proffer made by these women? Do your part, man!

Congressman Smith has just been appointed as judge of the recently created U. S. Court of Texas. The appointment is a source of pleasure to Mr. Smith's many friends in this section of the country. He has been the staunch friend of West Texas during the 14 years of his service to the 16th District, securing much needed legislation for this part of the country, especially in matters pertaining to irrigation. The Times congratulates the judge upon the appointment. He will make his home in El Paso.

During one of the wind storms this week the school building was disturbed to such an extent that the plastering was shaken loose from the ceiling crashing down on the head of an unsuspecting pupil, inflicting a gash requiring several stitches. To say the least about the incident, it's first hand evidence that some kind of work should be done on the building. Also it is a source of gratification to know that the people are aware of the building's condition, and by an overwhelming vote last Saturday provided means to remedy these unfavorable conditions. Hard thing to smother progress.

A glance at recent issues of the daily papers leave the impression that the war is nearing its close with Germany the logical losers. This fact seems to be borne home to those at the head of affairs in the Empire, hence the tactics they are using to embroil the entire world. During the past week the declarations of South American Republics has been a source of great relief to America. It now remains for Mexico to get out in the open and speak up. Until this is done our eyes must be wide open and our mouths tight shut in the presence of those who do not raise their visors.

Col. Roosevelt is making strenuous efforts to be allowed to raise a regiment, not for home duty, but for active service on the European firing line. Teddy wants the Stars and Stripes represented at the glorious finish, and as part payment of the great debt we owe France for aid during the Revolutionary War. The Colonel believes in making his word good, anyway. The El Paso Morning Times, commenting on the colonel's action, states that the movement has the support of many staunch patriots, and adds: "We sincerely hope the wishes of Colonel Roosevelt will find favor in the eyes of the administration and that he and his division of American soldiers may soon be carrying Old Glory into the cultured precincts of Hohenzollern and Hapsburg, shedding the luster of its gracious influence in a and benighted by the machinations of despotism: that in the very prime of his distinguished existence this illustrious citizen should be his gallant countrymen, may stand at a raised don and battle for the Lord."

When you speak of a section of the country which offers opportunities every community in America is ready to come forward and claim that it is that section.

However, the opportunity and the degree of welcome depends upon the man seeking it. Every community is eagerly hoping for some new man of creative ability to come among them; some man who can take their latent possibilities and make more out of them; some man who can start a new business, can make a failing one succeed, or even make more prosperous an already going concern.

Men of resourcefulness and energy will find, of course, some communities better adapted to their special activities than others; and yet they will also find America fairly strewn with opportunities for them.

But it is to be noted the opportunities these communities offer newcomers are seldom ready-made opportunities. It is merely a field, often an undeveloped field, for grit and creative brain stuff. It is a chance for the man who thinks to set the wheels of industry and profit spinning by his own thoughts.

Some Good Advice "Don't think too much of your own methods. Watch other peoples' ways and learn from them." This is good advice especially when bilious or constipated. You will find many people who use Chamberlain's Tablets for these ailments with the best results, and will do well to follow their example.—Adv't.

When a plaster wall or ceiling is so badly cracked that it will not do to paint or even paper the surface, cover it with strong muslin or light canvas. Use a strong paste made of flour in the ordinary way with a little glue added to give it stronger holding qualities. Press out any air bubbles that may occur and make the surface quite smooth. Either water or oil colors, as well as paper, may be applied to this surface, and it will make a very smooth and a sure job.

To Patriotic Women and Girls of Pecos

None of us wish to think that the solemn warning given to the people of Texas by Governor Ferguson, that "Texas may become the Belgium of the North American Continent" will prove true, but the times are rushing swiftly, and we cannot be dilatory in Preparedness.

The men have their Rifle Club and Home Guard. As one of our physicians aptly remarked, "If we need the guns we will need first aid." This same physician has offered on behalf of himself and partners to help perfect an organization to administer first aid.

A number of women and girls have expressed a desire to benefit by this, and also become members of a Women and Girls battalion of the Pecos Home Guard. Those wishing to enroll may telephone their names to the office of Drs. Camp, Bryan & Lusk, or to Mrs. J. Oscar King, and your name will be placed on the list and you will be notified of the time and place of the first meeting.

This is not obligatory upon you, neither conscription nor a call. If you feel the spirit that emanated from the martyrs at the Alamo, you Texans so rich in your heritage of bravery and sacrifice will wish to do your "bit", to face the issue that may confront us before many more months, with hands ready to do the work that may come to us.

During their stay here they made many friends who are glad that Mrs. Smith was so much benefitted and trust that they may return in the not far distant future for an extended visit.

Entertain Pupils With An Easter Egg Hunt

Last Saturday afternoon the teachers of the First and Second Grades of our school, Mrs. Yoe and Miss Sadie Collings, respectively, entertained their pupils with an Easter Egg hunt at the home of the former.

The kiddies greatly enjoyed the scramble and search for the beautifully colored eggs deftly hidden on the grounds about the house. After a long hunt the youngsters partook of the many good things prepared in advance for them, consisting of ice cream, cakes, sandwiches, candies and fruits.

After satisfying the hearty appetites with which children are blessed, the little ones left for their homes, first thanking their teachers for a very pleasant time, loaded with many many trophies of the hunt, among which were lots of candy eggs.

New Mercantile Establishment for Pecos.

There will be started within the next few weeks a new dry goods, notions, boots and shoe store, which will occupy the building vacated some time ago by the El Paso Store.

The proprietors are B. A. Tolliver and Geo. W. Kreutz, both from Barstow, they having recently been burned out over there. Before the uprising in Mexico they were in business down there.

Mr. Tolliver was formerly in the real estate business in Pecos and is well and most favorably known by a large number of our older citizens, and one and all trust that the new firm may have a successful business.

Both families have moved over and are occupying two of the A. W. Wright houses on Plum Street between Fifth and Sixth. The Times heartily joins in welcoming these two families among us.

Mr. and Mrs. Zack Carr of Barstow Lose Baby

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Carr, of Barstow, died and was buried at that place Wednesday afternoon. The cause of its death was dysentery, following an attack of measles.

WHERE THE WEST BEGINS.

Out where the handclasp's a little stronger,
Out where the smile dwells a little longer—
That's where the West begins.

Out where the sun shines a little brighter,
Where the stars of snow are a little whiter,
Where the ties of home are a wee bit tighter—
That's where the West begins.

Out where the skies are a trifle bluer,
Where the friendships of men a little truer,
Where the petty things of the day are fewer—
That's where the West begins.

Out where a cheerier breeze is blowing,
Where the bread of the Nation is in the growing;
Where there is more of reaping and less of sowing—
That's where the West begins.

Out where the world is in the making,
Where fewer hearts in despair are aching,
Where there's more of giving and less of taking—
That's where the West begins.

Where there's more of singing and less of sighing,
Where there's more of giving and less of buying,
Where a man makes friends without half trying—
That's where the West begins.

Former Pecos Boy To Be Honored at Flag Raising.

A flag pole which will be erected on the Peter Smith school grounds will be dedicated to Leroy Shuman, formerly a pupil in that school, and a boy scout at the time of his death, and a reporter on The Star-Telegram. Officials of the Parent-Teacher Association of the school announced Thursday that Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shuman had donated a flag pole for the grounds as a memorial to their son, and at the same time plans for a celebration of which the flag raising will be a part, were announced by the officials of the association.

The flag for the school was donated by the Woman's Relief Corps, with the proviso that the school should raise it. Officials of the Parent-Teacher Association were planning for a carnival to buy the flag pole when Mrs. Shuman made the offer.

Boyway Price's Boy Scouts, of which young Shuman was a member, will act as a guard of honor and stand at attention while the flag is being raised.

The celebration will be held Friday of next week.

The flag will be raised by a pupil to be selected by the vote of the seventh grade students of the school. The Texas Christian University orchestra will play during the celebration and a carnival will be given after the flag raising ceremony, drills, dances and other events are over. The program will begin at 5:30 p. m. and continue for an hour. The carnival will then be started. —Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Leroy was formerly a Pecosite and attended the Pecos schools. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Shuman in Pecos are pleased to hear of this token of honor and remembrance to be shown their departed son.

Constipation and Indigestion These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest at night and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has felt like a different person.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezezone applied directly on an aching, tender corn or callus stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezezone tell him to get a small bottle for you at his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Advt.

PROFESSOR'S PROPOSAL

By J. LENDRUM KING.

A vague, indefinable air of depression, quite out of keeping with the usual vivacious repartee, hung over the dinner table at which were seated Helena Rider, her son Herman, a professor in the academy, and Leonore Claymore, their guest since the sudden death of her father.

The professor cleared his throat, and for the third time during the meal asked the girl on what train she was leaving. Her answer was invariably, "Seven-fifty in the morning." The professor coughed, and, rising, went to the library to finish his cigar alone. Leonore looked up to find Mrs. Rider regarding her intently.

"Child, why don't you put off going until next week?" asked the elderly woman.

"You are so kind, Mrs. Rider," answered the girl, "and I don't want to go to Aunt Elmida's, but really I cannot impose upon you any longer."

Together they rose from the table to join Herman in the library.

Herman switched on the lights as they entered and pulled forward a chair for his mother. They sat silent, all thinking of the one thing—that Leonore was about to leave them. She had been with them but a short time, but she had brought a marked change in the home.

What would life be like when she had gone away? He tried vainly to think of something to say.

The girl broke his train of thought by rising abruptly. "I have some packing to do," she said, and left the room hastily.

"I wish she would stay," said Mrs. Rider when she was out of hearing.

"So do I," seconded the professor. "Can't you induce her to remain?"

"No, she seems to think that she should go," answered his mother, dolefully. "You know, her father before his death, arranged that she should live with her aunt, and, of course, the aunt is very anxious to have her. I have a suspicion that she means to marry her to that worthless son of hers. He is willing, if only to get the money the girl has. It would be a shame to have that happen."

He sighed deeply, but did not speak. "I wish you would marry her, Herman," she continued hesitatingly. "She is the only girl I know whom I would like to have for a daughter."

A hopeless smile flitted across the young man's face. "I would be willing, mother," he answered, "but I am not the sort of a man a girl like that marries. It would be something like hitching a trotter up with a draft horse."

"You are only five years older than she is," returned the mother stoutly, "and I—I believe she would if you would ask her. She blushes when I speak of you."

"I—I shouldn't know how to ask her."

"I'm going to send her down here," decided the mother suddenly. "You just ask her," and she was mounting the stairs before he could remonstrate.

It was but a few minutes until he heard the girl coming slowly down. "Did you want to see me?" she asked, hesitating in the doorway.

"Why—why, no," he stammered, utterly confused. "That is—won't you sit down?"

"Your mother said you wanted me," she said.

"I do," he answered, boldly making the plunge and then feeling his courage deserting him.

"I am awfully sorry you are going away," he continued lamely, unable to think of anything else he could trust himself to say.

"Are you?" she returned simply.

"I—I know we haven't made it very pleasant for you here," he temporized. "We—we aren't very lively, I suppose."

"Oh, that is just what I have liked about it. It is all so quiet and home-like."

"Why do you have to go?" he questioned.

"I can't stay here all the time."

"Not if you had a—reason to?"

"But I have no reason."

He felt that the case was becoming desperate.

"Leonore, I—listen Leonore," he began again, trying to speak evenly. "I—I want you to stay. We need you here, mother and I. She needs some young person with her, someone to talk to and to keep her mind diverted, someone to—make this a real home."

"Really, Herman, I—I can't stay any longer," she reiterated.

"But we both want you to stay," he persisted. "Won't you stay?"

The girl considered the question a minute in silence. "No, Herman," she said at length. "It really wouldn't be right for me to stay any longer. I couldn't live here all the time, anyway. People might talk."

"Talk," he repeated, mystified. "What for?" Then suddenly her meaning dawned upon him. "That—that is what I mean, Leonore," he said quickly. "I don't want anybody to have a right to talk."

"Why—why, Herman I don't understand you," she said, rising. "What do you—"

"I love you, Leonore. I want you to marry me," he said, grown suddenly brave, taking her in his arms. "I—I—mother wants you to marry me, too," he clinched the argument. "Will you stay, now?"

"Yes," she said. "I'll marry you for your mother's sake."

Said notes are secured by deed of trust on Sections Nos. 2-26 in Block 70, Public School Land in Reeves County, Texas, which deed of trust provides that in case of non-payment of said note the grantee or his assignee was empowered to sell said property according to law and out of the proceeds arising therefrom to pay the said notes and costs and expenses of proceeding, the surplus, if any, to be paid to the grantor named therein, defendant Fred Brasted, Samuel Atwood being named as trustee in said deed of trust which was filed for record in the county clerk's office of Reeves

Dear Editor: "I sent for a box of Dr. Pierce's 'Anurie' Tablets for my husband, and he has been greatly benefited by them. Will be glad to recommend it." (Signed) Mrs. E. D. MINES.

NOTE.—Dr. Pierce, who is director and chief physician at the Invalids' Hotel, and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has been testing this wonderful medicine for the relief of over-worked and weakened kidneys. The relief obtained by sufferers from rheumatism, lumbago, etc., has been so satisfactory that he determined to place "Anurie" with the principal druggists. Statement of Ownership
Statement of the ownership, management, circulation, etc., required by the Act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of The Pecos Times, published weekly at Pecos, Texas, for April, 1917:
State of Texas,)
County of Reeves,) ss

Before me a notary public, in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared E. J. Moyer, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the manager of The Pecos Times, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the name of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager is: E. J. Moyer, Pecos, Texas.

2. That the owners are: W. H. Browning, Jr., Trustee for Pecos Valley State Bank and other creditors; J. G. Love, Trustee for Pecos Valley State Bank and other creditors, addresses of both being Pecos, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: Pecos Valley State Bank, Pecos, Texas.

4. The two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also, in cases where the stockholders or security holders appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

E. J. MOYER, Manager.

Glad to Learn of It
Coughs that follow the La Grippe, or any deep-seated hacking cough will weed down the strongest man or woman if allowed to continue; C. Smith, 1421 12th St. Augusta, Ga., writes: "I got one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and my cough and cold is about well. I was glad to learn of a great medicine like that." Sold at Bozenman's Drug Co.—Adv't.

Had trouble Four or Five Years
Many people suffer from bladder trouble when they can be quickly relieved. W. J. Furry, R. F. D. 2, Salem, Mo., writes: "I was bothered with bladder trouble four of five years. It gave me a great deal of pain. I took different medicines but nothing did me any good until I got Foley Kidney Pills." Sold by Bozeman's Drug Co.—Adv't.

The tender nature of the young alfalfa plants requires that the soil be in excellent tilth at the time of planting. Many of the failures to obtain a good stand may be traced directly to the improper condition of the seed bed. The aim should be to get the soil finely pulverized, thoroughly compacted, and comparatively free of weeds. The surface 2 or 3 inches should be fine and loose, and below this it should be sufficiently firm to favor the capillary movement of water, yet porous enough to permit a good drainage and free circulation of air through the soil.

Persian Grain.
The great arid wastes of Persia would lead one to believe that the country does not produce sufficient grain to supply the needs of its population. Such, however, is not the case, and considerable quantities of grain are exported each year. The principal grains grown are wheat, barley and rice. Corn is planted in small quantities, but is only used for roasting ears. Oats and rye are seldom sown. Except along the Caspian coast, Persian agriculture is dependent almost entirely on irrigation. The agricultural implements used in Persia are of the most primitive kind. Plows are made from forks of small trees with the addition of a share of iron. It is stated to be doubtful, however, whether the yield of grain would be greatly increased by using modern plows, as there is no sod and this crude implement seems to stir the soil fairly well.

Ballad Early Form of Newspaper.
The ballad, or that form of it which is associated with the broadside, was one predecessor of the newspaper as a commentator on events. It was written for the people and sold to the people. Printed on poor paper and passed from hand to hand, copies of early ballads were seldom preserved. Fortunately several men of the seventeenth century began to make collections of ballads, and the copies of broadsides printed before 1700 that are now in existence are supposed to number about 10,000. Soon after 1700 the printed form of the ballad was changed, the "black letter" disappearing, but the ballad continued as a chronicler of happenings and a commentator on political, military and other public events until the middle of the nineteenth century, and in the United States as well as England the "topical" song of today perpetuates the satirical function of the ballad.

Quiet Enjoyment.
One of the arts of life is to be able to sit still and to enjoy. To the hurried people it is an art almost unknown. The reason is that their hurrying keeps the springs of being troubled. Even in those moments when they are forced to be still they feel hurried. The truth is that hurry has become part of their nature. They sometimes reach the state where it seems impossible for them ever to know peace. The only peace they can achieve is a kind of self-forgetfulness in hurry. The more hurried they are the greater their illusion of freedom. Their hurry is like drinking or taking a drug.

Lengthen the Life of Necktie.
A great many people who are users of four-in-hand ties are more or less bothered by the tie's becoming useless after it has been worn a few times. Take the wide end of the tie with seam up and lay it flat upon a table. Then thrust in the finger and seize the lining. Take the silk cover in the other hand and pull it over the lining, about half of its length. A hot iron is then run over the lining to straighten it out.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Light Within Us.
To the little child darkness has a corporate existence; it is not that which we know it to be, the absence of light. When afraid he will exclaim, "Let out the darkness." The man who is afraid reverses truth, and can only cast out the phantom by flooding the corners of his spirit with that light which is in reality within him, ready to drive out and make non-existent the darkness that he fears.

He Spoke Right Up.
"It is said," he remarked, reflectively, "that women's hands are growing larger." "Well?" she returned, inquiringly. "Yes," he asserted. "And the worst of it is that there is every likelihood that this tendency will continue." "Yes?" she said, in the same inquiring tone. "Yes," he repeated. "You see, driving, and golf, and tennis, and other sports that women have recently taken up are responsible for it." "In that case," she said, with a glance at her own dainty hands, "you'd better speak quickly if you want a small one." He realized that it was the opportunity of a lifetime, and he spoke promptly.

Monopoly Always Feared.
Probably the word "grocer" originally meant "one who sells by the great, or utters his commodities by wholesale, and they trace it to the French word "grossier." An act entitled 37th Edward III c. 5 was directed "against grocers engrossing merchandizes"—that is to say, against the absorbing or monopolizing of trade. Here there appears to be an early instance of hostility to the running of great stores. Blackstone, the legal authority, distinctly states that engrossing was the "getting into one's possession, or buying up large quantities of corn or other dead victuals with intent to sell them again."

Just a Bit Touchy.
A young lady who was one day walking in some camp meeting grounds was accosted by a pious sister, who said to her impressively, "Do you love Jesus?" The girl made no immediate reply, whereupon the good woman, who kept step with her, continued to love Jesus?" until, somewhat irritated by her persistency, the young person turned around in haste and exclaimed, "Of course I do!" "Well," said the other, mildly, "I am glad if you do, but you needn't be so touchy about it."

War Time Farming.
War means higher prices for food, unless more is raised. Wheat is $2 a bushel, corn is $1.30 and bacon is 30 cents a pound, and the tendency is still upward. The United States will soon have a million men under arms. That means more men taken out of production. Many people in Texas will go hungry before another winter ends unless extraordinary efforts are put forth. The fate of the nation—the issue of the war—depends upon the food supply even more than upon the supply of men, arms, and ammunition. Therefore, increased food and feed is a matter of both self-interest and national welfare.

It is not too late to plant. Peanuts, kaffir corn, milo maize, sorghum, June corn, Sudan grass, peas, and all staple vegetables are in order for April, May and June. It is folly to assume that our entrance into the European war will end it speedily. It may last a year or two years. The South fought for 4 years. The Central Powers are somewhat crippled, but they are by no means exhausted. The submarine warfare continues with no sign of abatement. By fall there may be no ships for anything but food and feed stuffs. In that case our cotton will bring little or nothing. Even at good prices it will not go far in buying food and feed at war prices.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that supplies of all things to eat throughout the world are short and growing shorter. Argentine wheat is a failure and none will be shipped from that country. The world's herds of cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry are being consumed faster than the natural increase. These facts constitute an alarming situation which will increase as the war continues, and will continue a long time after the war closes.

Famine is worse than war. Every back yard and every vacant patch should yield something for man and beast. CLARENCE OUSLEY, Director of Extension, A & M College of Texas.

Some Good Advice
"Don't think too much of your own methods. Watch other peoples' ways and learn from them." This is good advice especially when bilious or constipated. You will find many people who use Chamberlain's Tablets for these ailments with the best results, and will do well to follow their example.—Adv't.
