

Mr. Wheat Farmer. Build Your Home In FRIONA and Enjoy Life!

The Friona Star

Beautiful Your Home and Town With FRUIT and SHADE Trees!

DEVOTED TO THE INTEREST OF FRIONA AND PARMER COUNTY.

VOLUME 5—NUMBER 29. FRIONA, PARMER COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1930. $1.50 PER YEAR

MEN AND MATERIAL ON GROUND FOR CONSTRUCTION OF FRIONA'S NEW MUNICIPAL WATERWORKS

Our people have been patiently waiting for the coming of the municipal water system for the past few months and it now seems that there will be something doing along that line with the beginning of the coming week. A representative of the Devlin Engineering Co., Mr. Harper, with Mrs. Harper, arrived here Wednesday and reported ready for the work of superintending the work of installation. On the same day Mr. McEade of Amarillo arrived stating that he will have his drilling outfit here and installed by the end of this week and purposes to have the well completed within the coming week. Word has also been received from the Sherman Machine and Iron Works, of Oklahoma City, to the effect that that concern will have all necessary equipment and materials on the ground ready for operation by the time the well is completed and the prediction is that Friona will have a first class water system in operation by the first or middle of April.

REVIVAL NEXT WEEK

The revival meetings announced in the Star two weeks ago to be held in the Baptist church by Rev. Eaves, were postponed on account of the illness of the preacher. However, Rev. Eaves is so far recovered that he has announced the series of meetings for next week, beginning Sunday night, February 9. He will speak on the topics as originally announced, as follows: Sunday night, The divine origin and authority of the Bible which grinds to cracker dust modern evolution. Monday night, The fall of Adam and universal depravity of the human family. Tuesday night, The universal atonement with a universal gospel. Wednesday night, The new birth or what is the water in John 3:5? Thursday night, All true believers in Christ have eternal life before baptism and before membership in the church. Friday night, The oldest church in the world and where it came from. Saturday night, The origin of the name Christian and the unscriptural use of the term. Sunday morning, Do something religious by bringing all the old people out and let us have a service in honor of the old soldiers of the cross. Sunday night, Rev. Eaves will preach on the redemption of the human soul, using a large chart in connection with a chemical illustration which will please and surprise you. Everybody invited and your coming will be greatly appreciated.

CAFE OPENING

Mrs. L. A. Martin who has been busily engaged the past few weeks remodeling and equipping her building on Main street for a cafe announces that she will have her opening on Saturday of this week February 8. This cafe will be a first class fully modern eating house, all fully equipped with new furnishings and newly decorated paint and trimmings and will be an honor to the business interests of the city.

Mrs. Martin has had charge of the Friona Hotel for the past several years and her reputation of food and plenty of it, has spread throughout this section of the Panhandle and her new location will fully up to her reputation and her patrons will have no cause for complaint in any way.

SMALL BOY INJURED

Bobby Conaway, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lange, was badly burned Sunday afternoon while playing with some other children near the home of J. R. Roden. These little folk had been playing with some gasoline and some of it got on Bobbie's clothing and when fire was started with the other gas it soon spread to that on the little fellow's clothing and had it not been for the presence of Prof. J. W. Casey he would probably be burned to death. Prof. Casey as soon as he saw the fire ran to the boy and rolled him in the dust until the fire was extinguished and Bobbie's life was saved. Although he was severely burned he is reported as recovering. Prof. Casey had his hands burned rather badly.

CLEANING ESTABLISHMENT MOVED

During this week J. D. Curry, proprietor of the Friona Tailor shop moved his equipment from the barber shop building on the west side of Main street to his new location on the east side of the same street between Sixth and Seventh streets. He is working up quite a reputation in his business as a cleaner and presser of clothing and his patrons will find him fully installed in his new location.

MAY HAVE POULTRY SHOW

The boys in Prof. Heath's agriculture class are promoting the idea of a poultry show sponsored by the school. This is a result of Prof. Heath's work with the boys and in the event they go on with the show, should receive the unstinted support of the community in their endeavor. The boys plan to hold the show with the aid of their teacher.

STORK-O-GRAM

Born to Mrs. J. A. Wiley at her home northwest of Friona, a son, Robert, Saturday, February 1.

WANTS THE STAR

The Star is in receipt of letters from Mrs. Hamline Lyons of Clearwater, Minnesota, and Mrs. W. B. Morris of Fairfield, Iowa, each enclosing checks for a year's subscription to the Star.

Mrs. Lyons was formerly Miss Catherine Stevens and was a teacher in the Friona school. Needless to say these two subscriptions are highly appreciated and the papers go out as requested.

S. F. WARREN IMPROVING

Selden F. Warren, who has been at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warren here in town for the past few weeks suffering from some ailment of the heart, is reported to be gradually improving. Mr. Warren was seized with an attack of influenza during the early part of the winter, but being rushed with farm work, he kept on going and trying to work until he was positively forced to quit. The disease seems to have affected his heart mostly and he has been confined to his bed for several weeks. He experiences no pain while lying down, but when he attempts to get out the heart becomes so affected that he must lie down again. His friends are truly rejoicing to learn that his condition is improving.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Meets each Lord's Day at high school auditorium. Bible study at 10:00, preaching at 11:00 each second and fourth Sundays. Young people's meeting at 6:30. Preaching at 7:30 each second and fourth Sunday. A welcome awaits you. WILL M. THOMPSON, Minister.

W. M. S. REPORT

The W. M. S. of the First Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Will Osborn February 4, and the afternoon was spent quilting, except for a business session called by the president. Misses. Crowe, McElroy, VanPelt, Brookfield, Parr, Key, Hamlin, Beyer, Osborn, Reed, Brooks, Maupen, Ruth, Johnson, Furlong and the hostess, Mrs. Will Osborn and daughter, Miss Theima, were present. Every member is requested to be present at the next regular meeting at the church Tuesday, February 11 at 2:00 o'clock. Important business meeting. REPORTER.

MAKING GOOD WITH INSURANCE

E. H. Gischler, local representative of the Harvester Life Insurance Company, is making good at his job of writing insurance for his company. Mr. Gischler started in this work about a year ago, without experience of any kind in this line of work, but has kept steadily on the job until he now occupies a front rank as a producer of business for his company.

He has had several creditable mentions from the company for his outstanding accomplishments in sending in business, and was very near the front in the recent contest put on by the company for the greatest amount of business written during a specified time limit. See his ad in another column of this issue.

Texas Utility Man Here

Fred H. Oberthier, Jr., of Hereford, local manager for the Texas Utilities Company at Hereford and Friona, was a business visitor in Friona Monday morning and while in town favored the Star office with an appreciated call.

Sunday evening something went wrong with the high line leading into Friona and a part of the town was in darkness for a while, and as soon as Mr. Oberthier was notified of the fact, he and his helpers left their comfortable fire-sides and hied hither at once to locate and remedy the trouble. Owing to the darkness, however, they were unable to locate it, and after working faithfully until after midnight were obliged to give it up until daylight.

Accordingly they were here by the time it was light Monday morning and it was found that the trouble was not in town, so the crew started following the line southward until the trouble was located, when repairs were soon made.

Mr. Oberthier says it is the purpose of his company to furnish the best service to its patrons that it is possible to render, and that the night is not too dark nor the day too cold for them to start as soon as notified to the place of the trouble to repair any damage to the system and restore service at once.

Judge I. R. Kelso, president of the Texas Utilities Company, always instructs his men to let nothing stand in the way of giving service to the company's patrons, and that is just what Mr. Oberthier proposes to do with the part of the system under his jurisdiction. The Texas Utilities owns one-seventh of all the high line in the state of Texas and is therefore one of the most able and efficient companies within this state, and Friona is indeed fortunate to have so able and willing a company to serve it.

VISIT EL PASO

R. T. Gischler and Henry Gischler left overland for El Paso on Tuesday. The elder Mr. Gischler who is here visiting his brother, John Gischler, is a native of Canada, and while so near the southern border of our country took occasion to visit it and to cross this southern boundary into Mexico, thus crossing both the north and south boundaries of the United States during his visit. Mr. Gischler plans to return to his northern home in the near future.

MRS. McELROY REPORTS FIRST HATCH

The first hatch of chicks for the season in Friona was reported this week by Mrs. McElroy who set two hens with 17 eggs each and hatched 29 chicks.

Of the 17 eggs under one of the hens, two were broken in the next few days after they were set and she hatched the other 15, while the other hen hatched 14 of the 17, but every one of the eggs proved to be fertile.

The eggs were from the doctor's celebrated strain of Barred Rocks and to say that Mrs. McElroy is proud of them is expressing it very mildly. Here's hoping she may succeed in raising the entire broods of 29 to full maturity.

ILLINOIS MAN VISITS HERE

E. L. Simpson of East St. Louis, Illinois, arrived here Wednesday afternoon for a visit with his mother, Mrs. M. E. Simpson, and other relatives.

Mr. Simpson spent a few months here about eight years ago, so he is not an entire stranger to the Plains country. He likes Friona and the country well and says he can easily see that both the town and country have been developing and that Friona has made decided growth since he was last here.

Mr. Simpson left East St. Louis for Friona via the Pickwick stage line, but when he reached Vinita, Oklahoma the roads had become so bad that the Pickwick shipped its passengers by rail to Tulsa and thence to Oklahoma City and from there to Amarillo by rail. On reaching Amarillo he was again transferred to the stage, by which he reached Friona.

CAR WRECK

During the past two weeks there have been two car wrecks near Friona and in each instance Friona people were concerned. One wreck happened Saturday night, January 25, about three miles east on Highway 33, and the other Saturday night, February 4, about four miles east on the same road. On the first occasion the car was driven by Dan Etheridge and was the result of a defective steering gear. The car turned completely over and was badly damaged but the occupants were not seriously injured.

The other crash came on account of falling headlights which happened just at a curve of the road. The car continued straight ahead, crossed the bar pit and hit a telephone pole. In this case the car was badly wrecked but none of the occupants were seriously hurt.

NEW AGENCY IN FRIONA

J. M. Sanderfer one of Friona's highly respected citizens, states that he has secured the sole agency for the Lunsford Perco-Steam washer for Parmer county and will have his headquarters here. He feels sure this machine will save many steps and much backache for the lady of the house who does her own laundry work.

LAZBUDDIE NEWS

The increased enrollment in all grades of school since January 1 has made it necessary to hire another teacher. We feel we are especially fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Georgia King, of Canyon, who holds a degree from the college there, has had nine successful years in teaching and comes to us highly recommended. Miss King began work Monday morning. All requirements of the state department of education for classification of our high school have been complied with. We are asking affiliation with the state and hope to have that granted soon. The school board is to be commended for its liberality in equipping libraries and science laboratory. Both have been adequately refurnished to meet the requirements of the state. The school teams played several games last week. The boys defeated Progress 26-6 and held the strong Farwell and Bovina teams to 26-15 and 29-24. The girls lost to Farwell 14-7 due to the fact that two regulars were unable to play. Both teams will be in the county tournament at Bovina Friday and Saturday. Show your interest in your school by attending the tournament. Friday night is the regular time for the meeting of the P. T. A. The Parmer County Singing Convention which was to have been here the second Sunday in February has been postponed until the second Sunday in March. Everyone remember the change and be here. Superintendent and Mrs. Haskins and G. C. Foreman attended the meeting of the Parmer County Teachers Association which was held in Friona last Saturday week. There are quite a few absentees from school due to mumps. We trust all of them will soon be able to be with us again. Miss Faye Cheyne was a business visitor in Lubbock last week end. Miss Christine Shaw of Lubbock spent last week with Miss Cheyne. They were childhood school mates and have always been very close friends.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH

Work was begun Monday on the basement of the proposed New Methodist church building, which the congregation will erect here during the coming season.

The main part of the building will be 40 by 72 feet, with a full sized basement which will be the first unit of the structure. This will contain the large auditorium with two or more Sunday school rooms and will be so arranged that other units may be added from time to time as the needs of the church demand. The walls of the superstructure will probably be of concrete blocks, according to Rev. VanPelt, the pastor.

The Methodist church has had the most rapidly growing congregation in Friona during the past several years, and the present building which was completed about four years ago, has long been too small to properly accommodate the needs of the congregation.

METHODIST REVIVAL

The annual revival services of the Methodist church will be held beginning on March 20th, with Rev. P. E. Yarborough as revivalist. Rev. Yarborough is pastor of the Methodist church at Stratford, Texas, and has had considerable experience in evangelistic work. He comes highly recommended for the work, and as a man of most genial and cheerful disposition, but absolutely earnest and serious in the pulpit and in all his religious discourses. These meetings will continue for one or more weeks and to all of them the general public will be most heartily welcome.

BAPTIST W. M. U. REPORT

February 10: Subject, The world at our door. Leader, Mrs. Burton. Song. Scripture reading, Leader. Prayer, Mrs. Wedel. Appeal of home mission board, by Dr. Lawrence, Mrs. Truitt. Prayer for the stranger within our gates, and for all Evangelistic work therefor, Mrs. Rosde. Talk on our negro American neighbors, Mrs. Dilger. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dixon and all members are requested to be present.

WORK ON GAS LINE PROGRESSING RAPIDLY; BIG CREW BEING USED BETWEEN FRIONA AND BLACK

Messrs. Hanchey, Robison and Scovell, of the West Texas Gas Company passed through Friona Thursday morning while enroute to Bovina and made the Star office a short visit.

Mr. Hanchey of Amarillo is president of the company and Messrs. Scovell and Robison are local superintendents at Hereford and Canyon respectively. These gentlemen stated while here that their trunk line between Hereford and Clovis will reach here from Hereford within a few days, the pipe line crew being between Friona and Black at the time they were here. The company has two construction crews at work all the time and are now at Littlefield and Alhambra and as soon as the Amberst crew is through at that place it will be removed to Friona which will be within the next four weeks. Work of laying the mains here will then be started and they confidently expect to have the mains laid in town ready to supply gas within the next five weeks.

NEW BUILDINGS

E. S. White is having a roomy addition built to the south side of his residence on Washington Avenue. The new addition will comprise a room ten by eighteen feet with an enclosed porch on the east.

C. M. Jones has just completed a new two room house in the east part of town which will be occupied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harry who expect to take possession the last of this week.

Jess P. Wilson has under process of construction a new residence building in the east part of town which will soon be completed if work progresses as rapidly as it has since the building was begun a few days ago.

D. H. Meade contemplates construction of a residence building on Main street in the McMillen-Fergus Addition, on lots just north of his home.

Work on the M. A. Crum business building at the corner of Main and Seventh streets has been progressing rapidly the past week owing to the favorable weather conditions.

NEW TOURIST CAMP HERE

Information from good authority has reached the Star office to the effect that S. J. Sanders and B. E. Sanders have purchased the Friona flour mill and land adjoining and will convert it into an up-to-date tourist camp. The building which houses the machinery will be converted into tourist rooms, all nicely and moderately equipped as soon as the machinery can be removed. Other buildings for camping and sheltering cars will be erected on the ground where free gas and water will be furnished and electric lights will be installed, thus making it one of the most modern in the country. Friona has had a good camp ground which has been kept busy all the time, but it is reported too small to accommodate the demand for such an institution and the promoters of the new enterprise will find a demand for their services that will utilize all the space at their disposal.

REPORTER.

H.A.T.E. BY ARTHUR D. HOWDEN SMITH

CHAPTER XII—Continued

Two more broadsides smote the privateer in the interval required to tack out of the danger zone, and when she recovered her raking position the Badger continued to fall her with several heavy guns that could be aimed forward.

The Badger was a dreadful sight, her remaining sails split and tattered, her rigging awry, her upper works largely demolished. And she looked to be somewhat down by the head.

Fellowes examined his own ship, received hasty reports from his officers. Five men wounded, three killed. No damage worth mentioning aloft, except for the foremast. The hull sound, the well dry.

"Well board," he decided, and a murmur of assent expressed his hearers' opinion. "Mr. Noggle, I'm turning over the ship to you. I shall be on the fo'c's'le with the marines. Mr. Spencer, you'll remain aboard, and fight the batteries, if necessary. Mr. Breed, I'll have you take the sta'b'd watch after the marines. That will be all, gentlemen."

Fellowes clung to a forestay, atop of the Centurion's bulwarks, peering into the furry smokeclouds that swirled and trembled to the throbbing cadence of cannon and musketry. Behind him the fo'c's'le was crammed with men. Tom Grogan, hefting an ax in a knotty fist, crouched at his captain's feet.

"Can ye see her, messmate?" he croaked anxiously, barriers of rank forgotten.

"Not yet—Ah, there's her main-truck!" A wild cheer announced that others had seen it, too. The Long Tom thundered brazenly, the la'b'd battery boomed by divisions, and the concussion blew the smoke upward to expose the Badger's hull, rolling sluggishly like a wounded whale, half a cable's length distant.

"Hard over, Mr. Noggle," Fellowes halted the sailing master. "Ready, you grapnel men!"

The privateer slid easily around the sloop-of-war's bow, poking her bowsprit into the tattered boarding nettles aft of the forechairs. Grapples jangled across the narrow belt of water, and slowly, very slowly, the two vessels ground together, broadside guns muzzle to muzzle, gun crews stabbing at each other through the ports, smallarms rattling in a savage crescendo.

From his perch Fellowes looked down upon the Badger's shattered deck. Scores of hostile faces scowled up at him. His eyes coolly scrutinized the Britishers for his enemy's face. And misgiving stirred in him, for Colishawe was nowhere visible. Curry, the first lieutenant, and a midshipman were the only officers in sight. The Badger was a shambles, although her crews were still unbeaten, surging forward to meet the Americans when Fellowes jumped among them.

Cuffee had lingered for one more shot with the Long Tom, and leaped from the hot breach of the piece to the brig's bulwarks, yelling his war cry. A second leap carried him over the heads of the boarders, fighting to widen their foothold on the Badger's fo'c's'le, and into the midst of the enemy, who, for the first time, recoiled from the negro's cutlass and terrible, scarred face—"Grogan's nigger!" "Gawd, 'ere's Cuffee!" The old superstitions were aroused—"He'll tear ye viv his teeth!" "A man-eater, lads!"

The resistance commenced to weaken. Still as numerous as the boarders, the Badger's crew suffered mainly from their dearth of officers, which became an absolute lack after Joe Doak had bayoneted Mr. Curry and Tom had disposed of the lone surviving midshipman. Where was Colishawe? Fellowes asked himself again. The Britishers would have been leaderless, if it hadn't been for Bob Clinch. The bosun was indefatigable, wielding a gory boarding pike, shouting hoarse admonitions to his followers.

But one man's steadfastness couldn't overcome the driving power of a crew who knew they were victorious, plus the superstitious fear engendered by Cuffee. Clinch, himself, realized this latter factor, and bravely sought the negro in personal combat—vastly to Cuffee's delight.

"Tan as saah. Bob! Cuffee goin cut yo' nose fo' eat." "No nigger deserter can stand up to me," growled Bob, thrusting desperately. "Ere's daylight in ye."

But Cuffee parried the pike with a single blow of his left arm, and raked his cutlass point down the uncarred side of the bosun's face. Poor Clinch, blinded by the flow of blood, staggered and would have fallen if Tom Grogan hadn't caught him.

The capture of Clinch disheartened the Britishers. They had kept together for as long as the mainmast, close ranks fairly impenetrable; but now, as Cuffee whirled into them, backing and bowing, parrying strokes with his bare hand, fled teeth gleaming ferociously in the shiny black mask of his face, a score of Americans wedging after him, they developed a tendency to scatter into isolated groups, which surrendered as rapidly as they were surrounded. Fellowes was leading an attack upon one of these groups when a pistol cracked behind it, and the ghost of a quarter-deck voice pealed languidly above the click-clack of steel:

"I'll shoot every man who tries to touch that flag!"

The startled bluejackets dodged right and left, flinging their weapons from them, and there, propped against the break of the poop, lay Colishawe, his eyes blazing in a face drained of all color, his body, from the waist down, a bundle of soggy bandages. Near by sprawled one of his sailors, dead, the smoking pistol in his hand telling its own story. While the Americans watched, he dropped the weapon, and selected another from a row convenient to his grasp, cocking it and shaking the priming in the pan as carelessly as though not an enemy was in sight.

Fellowes was embarrassed, uncertain how to act, mistaking the idea of violence against a wounded foe. But Cuffee was not so compunctious. The negro stole aft along the port bulwark which brushed the pistol from Colishawe's hand, and then, before the Englishman could replace it, kicked the remaining weapons out of reach.

Colishawe had been wrenched around by the blow, and a trickle of blood began to seep from his bandages; but not a muscle twitched in his face, and his one indication of feeling was a curious glance at Fellowes. The Long Islander was more at a loss than ever. He had obtained his supreme objective. Here, before him, lay the man who had flogged him, wounded, defeated, at his mercy. The Badger was his. He had humiliated Colishawe as much as he had dreamed of doing. And the words that came to his lips were consolatory!

"Sorry you're wounded. What can we do for you?"

"Nothing, thanks," answered Colishawe. "I'm done for."

"Oh, no! My surgeon—"

"Have him spend his spare time with my men who need it." The Englishman's tone was inflexible, but Fellowes began to detect a slightly hesitant quality in it, a hidden weakness. "Our Scotchman was bowled out."

"But won't you let me have a look?"

"No use. My legs are pulp. One of your d—n twenty-four pounder shot." Fellowes looked awkwardly. He hadn't envisaged this ending to his quest. Suddenly he heard Colishawe speaking again.

"I say, you're a stickler. That was a well-fought action. Used your head. Did you, by any chance, plan that battery for me?"

Fellowes nodded. Colishawe frowned, plucking at the bandages around his thighs.

Flags of the Confederacy

There were four Confederate flags. The first was selected by a committee of six persons of the Confederate congress. This flag did not meet with the approval of the people, as it too closely resembled the Union emblem. The second flag was designed by Edward G. Hancock in October, 1861. But as this was a battle flag it was not satisfactory, as the people wished a national emblem in addition to one for battle. On May 1, 1863, the Confederate congress selected the third flag. This also was disapproved for two reasons: The first, because it had too much white and resembled the flag of truce; and second, because it was too similar to the English white ensign. Finally on May 4, 1864, the national Confederate flag was approved.

World Flood

The ancient tradition common among all primitive peoples of a world-wide flood is now thought by scientists to have been sound. The cause of the ocean's rise may have been the melting of the ice-cap at the North pole at the end of the last Ice age, which occurred about 20,000 years ago. According to Sir Edgeworth David, famous Australian geologist, the level of the entire ocean would be raised about fifty feet if the whole Antarctic ice barrier melted. Practically every seaport town would then be under water.

Outline of Success

Our definition of success is unorthodox. We claim that any man who is honest, fair, tolerant, kindly, charitable of others and well behaved is a success, no matter what his station in life.—Jay E. House, in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

PARTY FROCKS FOR TINY TOTS; SMOCKS FOR HOME AND OFFICE

TO BE very sheer, to be very, very, yes, very short, to be effectively lace-trimmed, to be exquisitely hand-worked, to be daintily colorful, thus does fashion outline the future for tot's party frocks.

While dresses for very little girls are to all appearance exceedingly simple, when it comes to decorative detail they are exquisitely wrought. To appreciate to the full the beauty of the frock in the picture, it should be seen in the original. This little affair of chiffon is accordion pleated, falling straight from the neck. Rows of fine lace edge the collar, the hemline and the tiny puffs which make a pretense of serving as sleeves. Sleeveless or with mere suggestions of sleeves in the way of shallow puffs or tiny capes, also interpret latest trends in modes for the diminutive fair sex.

The shower of pretty narrow ribbons falling from the left shoulder of this lovely chiffon frock, stresses another characteristic style feature of the newer lilliputian modes. All sorts of ribbon furberlows will beautify little girls' dresses this season.

Another point in the styling of wee frocks is the presence of yokes, some round, some pointed, many inset into the dress, others achieved by smocking, shirring and tucking. Collar treatments also, as observed in the little model pictured are repeated again and again.

Considerable elaboration is bestowed upon hemlines, not only are they scalloped and pointed but they are embroidered and handworked in all sorts of original ways. At times insets of contrasting color are interwoven with hemstitching or hand-embroidered motifs accent their presence. Amusing animal and figure designs are frequently applied on the hems of play frocks. Many little frocks are hemmed with contrasting bands, such as pale blue, pink or maize organdie bordering white swiss or printed dimity or other patterned fabrics.

Very cunning are the ensemble costumes which designers are styling of crepe de chine for youngsters. This ensemble idea offers no end of fascinating possibilities. A particularly interesting costume consists of frock, coat, and bonnet of pale green crepe de chine, the same braided in self-colored patterning carried out in self coloring. Mothers who make their little folks' clothes will do well to make a note of the ensemble vogue. The thought applies to wash materials for playtime hours as well as to dress-up silks.

A SMART SMOCK

Little girls' dresses developed in white dimity, lawn, or batiste, display delicate hand embroidery, such as is usually associated with infants' wear, which all goes to show that what with such a quantity of ornate handwork to be done on clothes for the little folks of the household, mother's leisure hours will turn out to be a myth and a delusion.

Colorful Smocks.

Buy 'em or make 'em, smocks are the things for home and office wear. The new smocks are as gay as the flowers of spring and as modern as "lines" that are different can make them. And their materials? Well, here's mentioning a few of the swankiest—wide wale pique in pastecolors, also printed pique, basket weaves, cottons, washable flat crepe, rayon alpaca, printed broadcloth as well as plain, printed batiste, rayon pique, honeycomb weaves, pongee, cotton, reps, printed dimity, rayon shantung, both printed and plain, cretonne, of course, and there are others too numerous to mention in one brief paragraph.

However, if you insist on a lengthier list compile it yourself by putting this and that together, for fabric combinations make up a considerable part of the smock program this season. That two materials are better than one, is evidently the idea of the designer of the smock pictured below. In this instance pale green rayon pique is trimmed with printed shantung. A slightly fitted-in waistline, double-breast fastening, a flared hemline, are three outstanding style items which enter into the fashioning of this charming model.

It seems that solid colors in pastel tones are preferred for smocks this season with flowery and modernistic prints used in a trimming way. It is along these lines of using contrasting

JULIA BOTTOMLEY (© 1935 Western Newspaper Union.)

Don't run into debt as long as you can find a stone wall to run into.

Millions use Red Cross bluing. Large bottle 10c. All good grocers sell it.—Adv.

A tactless man says, "All babies look alike to me," at the wrong time and place.

Retain Your Good Looks

How frequently a woman thinks, "Am I still attractive?" How much thought and study she devotes to her looks! That's natural. A woman hates to think she is growing day by day less charming and attractive. DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION helps to preserve in a woman the charms and health of youth. It contains no harmful ingredient. This splendid herbal tonic is sold by all druggists in both fluid and tablets.

Write to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., if you desire free medical advice. For 10c Dr. Pierce will send you a trial package of tablets.

Life's Possibilities

What is past is past. There is a future left to all men, who have the virtue to repent and the energy to atone.—Bulwer-Lytton.

Denver Boy is a Winner

Every mother realizes how important it is to teach children good habits of conduct but many of them fail to realize the importance of teaching their children good bowel habits until the poisons from decaying waste held too long in the system have begun to affect the child's health.

Watch your child and at the first sign of constipation, give him a little California Fig Syrup. Children love its rich, fruity taste and it quickly drives away those distressing ailments, such as headaches, bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness, feverishness, fretfulness, etc. It gives them a hearty appetite, regulates their stomach and bowels and gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act normally, of their own accord. For over fifty years, leading physicians have prescribed it for half-sick, bilious, constipated children. More than 4 million bottles used in a year shows how mothers depend on it.

Mrs. C. G. Wilcox, 3855 1/2 Wolff St., Denver, Colorado, says: "My son, Jackie, is a prize winner for health, now, but we had a lot of trouble with him before we found his trouble was constipation and began giving him California Fig Syrup. It fixed him up quick, gave him a good appetite, made him sleep fine and he's been gaining in weight right along since the first few days, taking it."

To avoid inferior imitations of California Fig Syrup, always look for the word "California" on the carton.

A useful trade will be taught in the penitentiary; but better learn one before.

"Always in Good Humor" says Bill "and my Folks, too"

YOUNG BILL FREEMAN, Jr., of 707 South Street, Key West, Florida, has started in early telling the world his secret of health. "I don't know that I would have been the cause of divorce," writes Bill, through his mother, "but certainly the first three months of my life my mother was a nervous wreck, and so was I. I never saw my father because he didn't like my disposition—and every day it was a fight at our house—either castor oil or an enema, and I was just about ready to quit home."

"Finally, they started in giving me a half-teaspoonful of Nujol night and morning. I am five months old now, and I take Nujol every other night, which keeps me so well regulated that I am always in good humor, and so are my folks."

How simple it is, after all. No drugs, no medicines, no irritating cathartics. Just simple and natural lubrication which our bodies need as much as any machine. Nujol is not absorbed by the body. It is non-fattening; it can form no habit; it cannot hurt the smallest baby. What it does is keep our bodies internally clean of the poisons we all have and which, unless they are swept away as regularly as clock work, give us headaches, make us feel sick, low in our minds, blue, down on the world.

Nujol is as tasteless and colorless as pure water. Start this very night and see how different you will feel

Acidity

The common cause of digestive difficulties is excess acid. Soda cannot alter this condition, and it burns the stomach. Something that will neutralize the acidity is the sensible thing to take. That is why physicians tell the public to use Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this delightful preparation can neutralize many times its volume in acid. It acts instantly; relief is quick, and very apparent. All gas is expelled; all sourness is soon gone; the whole system is sweetened. Do try this perfect anti-acid, and remember it is just as good for children, too, and pleasant for them to take. Any drug store has the genuine, prescription product.

PHILLIPS Milk of Magnesia

Mothers... Watch Children's COLDS

COMMON head colds often "settle" in throat and chest where they may become dangerous. Don't take a chance—at the first sniffle rub on Children's Mustrerole once every hour for five hours.

Children's Mustrerole is just good old Mustrerole, you have known so long, in milder form. Working like the trusted masseur, this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other ingredients brings relief naturally. It penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain.

Keep full strength Mustrerole on hand, for adults and the milder—Children's Mustrerole for little tots. All druggists. CHILDREN'S MUSTEROLE

People devoting their time "to the public service," sometimes aren't asked to.

William A. Freeman, Jr., who licks the spoon in preparation for licking the world.

after a few days. It costs but a few cents and it makes you feel like a million dollars. You can buy it at any drug store in a sealed package. With millions of people all over the world keeping well with Nujol there is no reason why you, too, should not be joyous, full of pep, with the happiness that comes of good health. Get a bottle today.

STOP THAT ITCHING

Apply Blue Star Ointment to relieve Skin Irritations, Itching Skin or the Itch of Eczemetic conditions, Tetter, Ringworms, Itching Toes, Poison Oak and as an Antiseptic Dressing for Old Sores, etc. Ask your Druggist for BLUE STAR OINTMENT. SELL MAGIC CLOTHS to keep windshields, windows, mirrors, clear of rain, snow, frost, sweat. Wholesale $1 do. Retail 14c. McNamara, 164 So. Broadway, Oklahoma City, Okla. Buy Certified, Northern Grown Cotton planting seed of proven merit. Washita's Heavyweight Big Ball, $1.75 per bushel Cordell, Okla. Write New Cordell Oil for quantity prices. W. N. U., Oklahoma City, No. 5-1930.

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC. Malaria Chills and Fever Dengue. It is a Reliable, General Invigorating Tonic.

CAP AND BELLS

SCARCITY OF CLOTHING
 "Huh!" said Johnnie, who was entertaining the young lawyer sis was setting her cap for, "you have got some clothes on. Who loaned 'em to you?"
 "Loaned them?" he snapped. "Nobody loaned them to me—they belong to me."
 "That's funny," remarked the kid. "Dad said you lost your suit in court and your shirt in Wall street."

UNKISSABLE

He—You were just made to kiss.
 She—I never saw the fellow yet who could make me.

Romping Initials
 The printer said, "I'll have to go and study up my radio."
 As letters strangely strike my eye
 They look to me like so much "p!"

That's Right!
 Al Fruch, the caricaturist, recently submitted a picture to a magazine editor in which Father Time, along with the regulation hourglass and scythe, is depicted with a loosely rolled umbrella under his arm.
 "What's the idea of Father Time carrying an umbrella?" queried Ye Editor.
 "You forget," replied Al, "that boy survived The Deluge!"

He'd Lack the Nerve
 Jones—So work is piling up at the office and you're short of stenographers? Why don't you engage your wife to help you out evenings?
 Smith—Man! Do you think I dare dictate to my wife!

Sure Death for His Patients
 Patient—Does it really ever happen doctor, that a person is buried alive?
 M. D.—I know this much, that it'll never happen to any of my patients.

A CONSIDERATION

"How in the world did she come to fall in love with a drug store clerk?"
 "Well, she can get her hair nets for nothing."

The Ostrich
 The ostrich may be queer as sin,
 But do not notice that;
 For he has put a feather in
 Full many a lady's hat.

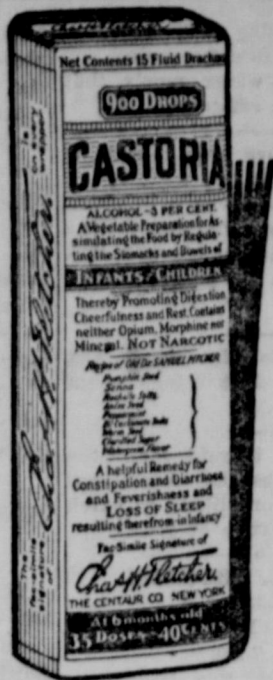

Grand Luck
 First Artist—Did you hear about De Long's luck? He sold a painting.
 Second Artist—Do you call that luck?
 First Artist—You'd say it was if you'd seen the picture.

Different
 Joe—Here's a cigar, if you want it, but I thought that you had sworn off smoking.
 Jim—No, just sworn off using tobacco.

A Fair Offer
 The Judge—You are charged with breaking into a cigar store and stealing $40 from the cash register. Have you anything to offer in your defense?
 The Culprit—I'll split the loot fifty-fifty with you.

Prepared
 "Fancy, Harold is dead. Such a clever man. He knew four dead languages."
 "Well, he can use them now."—Kariakuren, Oslo.

When Babies CRY

Babies will cry, often for no apparent reason. You may not know what's wrong, but you can always give Castoria. This soon has your little one comforted; if not, you should call a doctor. Don't experiment with medicines intended for the stronger systems of adults! Most of those little upsets are soon soothed away by a little of this pleasant-tasting, gentle-acting children's remedy that children like.

It may be the stomach, or may be the little bowels. Or in the case of older children, a sluggish, constipated condition. Castoria is still the thing to give. It is almost certain to clear up any minor ailment, and could by no possibility do the youngest child the slightest harm. So it's the first thing to think of when a child has a coated tongue; won't play, can't sleep, is fretful or out of sorts. Get the genuine; it always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package.

Old shoes made new for less than a penny a pair

Scuffs disappear. Clean, uniform color returns. More than 50 shades for 50 cents. Black, brown, tan, white and neutral.

BARTON'S DYANSHINE SHOE POLISH

That's Different
 Perkins—I suppose, when you were out hunting big game, you potted a leopard?
 Hunter—No; but I spotted one.

Some fool men would rather lose a friend than an argument.

The Same People
 Our research department has finally discovered what becomes of those people who live through a summer saying, "It isn't the heat, it's the humidity." They are the ones who all winter keep telling you, "It isn't really so cold, it's the wind."—Judge.

Saved White Settlers

From Indian God's Wrath
 The great Pacific coast would yet be a red man's playground had it not been for the intercession of Jack Woodman, an Athabaskan Indian, now a tottering old man. He recently told the story to a student who is looking up various matters of interest concerning the Indians of the Pacific coast. Jack says that tanbark is sacred, or rather was considered so, in the old times, to the god Negechu, and it was the habit of the early settlers to tear the bark from the trees and ship it away. Jack says that one day he encountered the god with fire in his eye, and he told Jack that the white men had offended him by their wanton ways in the forest, so that he said he was going to cause a great flood and wipe away all the white people on the Pacific coast. Jack says that he begged Negechu to refrain from this and explained that the whites were ignorant and did not understand what they were doing. He finally convinced the angry god of his error and appeased him in behalf of the white people so that the flood never took place.

The Lucky Company

Earl Carroll, the New York impresario, discussing the havoc that the movies have done to road companies, told a story.
 "A Colorado town," he said, "had been visited one winter by a number of road companies that were very much out of luck. All these companies had left, in fact, without paying any of their bills.
 "Well, one terrible winter day a new company arrived by the afternoon express, and as they got off the train one native was heard to say to another:
 "I bet that's a first-class company, George. Look, they all got overvotes."

Varying Birth Rates

The birth rate is higher in Japan than in European countries. In Japan about 33 births occur yearly in each 1,000 of the population. In Great Britain the number has fallen to 17.3; Belgium, 18.9; France, 18.8; Germany, 20.7; Italy, 27.8; Norway, 19.7.

Specialize

It is impossible for a man who attempts many things to do them all well.—Xenophon (430?-350? B. C.)

Needless Suffering

The next time a headache makes you stay at home—

Or some other ache or pain prevents your keeping an engagement—
 Remember Bayer Aspirin! For there is scarcely any pain it cannot relieve, and relieve promptly.

These tablets give real relief, or millions would not continue to take them. They are quite harmless, or the medical profession would not constantly prescribe them.

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. To colds that might so easily be checked; to neuritis, neuralgia; to those pains peculiar to women; or any suffering for which Bayer Aspirin is such an effective antidote.

For your own protection, buy the genuine. Bayer is safe. It's always the same. It never depresses the heart, so use it as often as needed; but the cause of any pain can be treated only by a doctor.

BAYER ASPIRIN

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacium, Germany

Hanford's Balsam of Myrrh
 Since 1846 has promoted healing for Man and Beast
 All dealers are authorized to refund your money for the first bottle if not suited.

STOP COUGH QUICK!
 SPECIALISTS' PRESCRIPTION
 One swallow of Mentodene ends cough in 1 minute. Amazing discovery of 3 New York specialists. Quickest relief ever known for coughs or colds. No "dope." Safe even for babies. At all druggists.

"For You"

Theodford's BLACK-DRAUGHT
 for CONSTIPATION, INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS

The Friona Star

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.
 JOHN W. WHITE, Editor and Manager
 NUNN-WARREN PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC.
 PUBLISHERS
 Also Publisher of THE HEREFORD BRAND, HEREFORD TEXAS.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
 One Year, Zone 1.....$1.50
 Six Months, Zone 1.....1.00
 One Year, Outside Zone 1.....2.50
 Six Months, Outside Zone 1.....1.50

Entered as second-class mail matter, July 31, 1925, at the post office at Friona, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

COGITATIONS and APHORISMS of JODOK

Well, it just seems like those city dads of ours have kept pouring it on that water system proposition until it now seems that its realization is in sight.

They are assured that by the time the well has been drilled the machinery and supplies will be on the ground for the completion of the work.

This being true there is no reason why our people shall not have an abundance of water by spring time for watering their lawns, gardens, flowers and shade and fruit trees and thus help in making Friona the prettiest town on the Plains.

Do you know I think every mother's son of us ought to pitch in and join hands with the committee of the Friona Woman's Club in its Home Beautiful contest by entering the contest.

Further rumination presents the fact that every effort we make in trying to win in this contest by having the greatest advance in beautification in our own premises, we have at the same time added to the general beauty of our town, which should give each of us a share in the glory of having builded a beautiful city on the beautiful Plains of a beautiful country.

There is another thing which has come under my observation. It is that I hear almost every day someone asking as to what the city will charge its patrons for the water they use.

Do you know I cannot see just why such a question should be asked or where that plays any part in the affair.

It is not as though the money paid for this service was going into the hands of some disinterested party or parties who are nothing for the welfare of the city or safety and convenience of its citizens.

It seems to me it should be enough for all patriotic citizens to know that the money paid for water is going to help their town in paying for a water system that will supply all of its people with water for domestic use and also for fire protection.

For this reason alone every citizen who does not have water of his own, should be ready to connect with the city's mains for his supply of water as soon as the mains are laid and bled with water, or even before they are filled with water. You will be supplied with a meter which will tell

SUNSET STAGE LINES
 Amarillo, Clovis, Santa Rosa Division
 Busses Leave Friona:

For Texico, Clovis, Melrose, Fort Sumner and Santa Rosa: 11:25 a. m., 4:55 p. m.

For Hereford, Canyon, Amarillo, 2:15 p. m., 7:50 p. m.

Connections at Clovis at 11:30 a. m., 6:45 p. m. for Portales, Roswell, El Paso, Artesia and Christad. Lubbock, Plainview and Tucumcari. Connections at Santa Rosa at 3:00 p. m. for Las Vegas, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Hot Springs, Gallup, Holbrook, Flagstaff, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland, Oregon, and Denver, Colorado. Connections at Amarillo for Pampa, Borger, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, St. Louis, Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls, Plainview and Lubbock.

Antonio is as follows: 100 pounds wheat bran, 100 pounds gray mash, 100 pounds yellow corn meal, 100 pounds meat scrap, 60 pounds ground oats, cracked or ground, 35 pounds mineral mixture, 25

Ticket Office: City Drug Store

Back Home
 by A. J. Dunlap

*Back Home is a wonderful country,
 Where somehow the valleys and streams
 Are tangled with friendships and loves
 That live in ourancies and dreams.
 Back Home is the country of childhood
 Where life opened wide like a scroll,
 Where hope and ambition awakened,
 And flowers bloomed first in the soul.
 Though new friends and scenes may absorb us,
 New countries invite us to roam,
 There always will linger a longing
 To visit the Old Town, Back Home.*

city dads, nothing will be done by the city to interfere with any other source of water supply that may now be in existence.

"Love me, love my town," is my motto.

It is not always the fellow who spits the most fire in his talk that sets the wheels of progress afire with motion.

One cannot do his friends any good by saying bad things about his enemies.

I have heard it said that "the early bird catches the worm," but I think he is more likely to catch a bad cold this time of year.

P. T. A. PROGRAM

Program for Monday evening, February 10, at 7:30.

Invocation, Rev. Van Pelt.
 Song, for children personally.
 Play: Pupils of Miss Jennings.

Introduction of Mrs. J. M. Crain, district president of P. T. A., by Prof. Conway.

Address, Why P. T. A., Mrs. J. M. Crain.

Tribute to the Founder, Mrs. D. W. Hanson, president Friona P. T. A.

Song, Girls glee club.
 Lighting candles on birthday cake
 P. T. A. Song, Assembly.

This month is the 33rd anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers Association, and organizations all over the country will observe this anniversary with special programs.

Mrs. J. W. Crain, of Claude, Texas, district president, has consented to be with us for our Founders Day program and address us on the work of the P. T. A. There will also be other interesting features. Orchestra music will be furnished during the social hour following the program and refreshments will be served.

All patrons and friends of the school are cordially invited and urged to be present.

JUNIOR B. Y. P. U. PROGRAM

Scripture reading, Alfred Wedel.
 Taking care of our bodies, Maurine Massengale.

Our bodies are God's temple, Edith May Frost.
 Enemies of the body, Douglas

Short.
 Improper eating, Eugene Dixon.
 Late hours, Geneva Massie.
 Uncleanliness, Geneva Massie.

Cigarettes, Alta Standiford.
 Whiskey, Wilson Womack.
 Poem, I would be True, Kay White.

DID YOU SEE

—Those splendid hats we told you about last week! Well, we are just keeping our stock up on these hats, and we just want to tell you they are the hat for the man who cares how he looks. See us for Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Vanette Hosiery, Hamilton Brown Shoes, Fresh and Cured Meats, Groceries and

GREAT WEST FLOUR ALWAYS.

RUSHING'S GROCERY

A nice new stock of fast color HOUSE DRESSES, PIECE GOODS AND CHILDREN'S SILK DRESSES JUST RECEIVED

"You're Right Bill!"

WE THINK AND TALK

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR

—And never forget to remind the buying public that IT is the best buy your money can make. Economy of purchase price and up-keep, speed and ease of operation. SEE ONE AT THE

WILKISON CHEVROLET COMPANY

J. C. Wilkison, President.

We are always Ready

To serve you with the best of foods and dry goods. We have a nice assortment of serviceable House Dresses to fit and please you. Our line of Hosiery and Underwear are the peer of any. Peters shoes are unsurpassed. For your bread and pastry you should always use

Harvest Queen and Everlite Flours

T. J. CRAWFORD

He's a Booster!

The local druggist is far more than a vendor of the thousands of items in his store. His personal activities are just as varied and extensive as his merchandise. He does all sorts of things for his customers. He answers calls at all hours of the night to dispense remedies to relieve pain or sickness. He looks after the comforts and needs of his patrons in every way possible. In fact, he is

YOUR DOCTOR'S RIGHT HAND MAN

He carefully compounds his prescriptions and carefully follows his directions. WE ARE HERE TO SERVE YOU.

CITY DRUG STORE

J. R. Roden, Proprietor.

"M" System Store

WE TAKE

A Great Pride In Our Sanitary Meat Market

—Where we are prepared to supply you with the best there is in

FRESH AND CURED MEATS

Our Stock of fruits and vegetables is Fresh.

Anything You Need In Groceries

YOU MAKE THE SELECTIONS

Drs. Heard & Wiltshire

Office In Bank Building
 Every Thursday.

DR. R. R. WILLS

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
 FRIONA, TEXAS

Office Located In Maurer Building

DO NOT FAIL TO SEE

"CORPORAL EAGAN"

HOME-TALENT PRODUCTION
 SCREAMS OF LAUGHTER

Under Auspices of Hereford Post, American Legion

HEREFORD, FEBRUARY 13 AND 14

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

YOUR APPEARANCE

—Is largely what you make it. Your complexion should never fade. Your hair should always be beautiful. Your form and nails should always be neat—IT IS UP TO YOU—SEE US ABOUT IT.

Bella Donna Beauty Shoppe

Curb Stone Land Agent

When in the market for a good cheap piece of land, do not fail to see the CURB STONE MAN. Any time a bargain is sold in land, it is always sold by the CURB STONE MAN. List your land with the CURB STONE MAN—if it can be sold, I believe he can.

R. L. CHILES

THE CURB STONE MAN, FRIONA, TEXAS
 Office, Both Sides of Main Street.

SATURDAY

GET A DOLLAR SURPRISE PACKAGE—EVERY ONE GUARANTEED TO BE WORTH THE MONEY—OTHER FREE MERCHANDISE ON THAT DAY

Case Combines and Tractors

Rockers $ 2.75
 Aladdin Lamps $10.50
 Aluminum Pails $.79
 DeLaval Separators $55.00

Blackwell's Hardware & Furniture

"THE STORE WITH THE ORANGE FRONT"

Seeing Is Believing!

—Just step into our Shoppe and see for yourself that we are handling the very goods you are wanting and in need of.

QUALITY, PRICE AND STYLE
All Are to Your Heart's Desire.

Edith's Fashion Shoppe

Star Brand Shoes

LEE OVERALLS AND PLAY SUITS

SALLY ANN BREAD
(Made with Milk)

GROCERIES—DRY GOODS

F. L. SPRING

If You Pine for Pine

WE HAVE IT

If you prefer Fir, it is here.

Full Stock Building Materials

We are always busy but never too busy to look after our customers.

Rockwell Bros. & Company

LUMBER

O. F. Lange

Manager

CLASSIFIED

FOR SALE—A few genuine Mammoth Bronze turkeys, Bird Bros. strain. Toms, $10.00, Hens $6.00. MRS. R. L. CHILES, Friona, Texas. 20-tfc

FOR SALE—Single Comb Rhode Island Red eggs and baby chicks. This flock has been mated for egg production. Eggs from the flock $5.00 a hundred. Chicks from these eggs $17.50 a hundred. Place orders early. S. F. WARREN, Friona, Texas. 29-tfc

FOR SALE—A good farm under cultivation; located southwest of Friona in the colony at Rhea. Also have quarter section improved land, very reasonable price. Write E. W. HACKMAN, 1302 W. Wildwood Ave., Fort Wayne, Indiana. 29-2p

FREE—Write to Box 757 asking Mrs. Ligon for a free demonstration in your home of the new SPEEDO can opener. 29-1p

WANTED—A job on a farm or ranch, or looking after cattle, or will farm on shares. H. H. ROBINSON, Sudan, Texas. 29-2p

FOR RENT—Front bed room with hot water and bath. See J. W. CASEY, Friona. 29-2c

FOR SALE—Three room house at Black. See R. P. CONEWAY at Hillside Hatchery, Hereford. 29-1c

FOR SALE—Barred Rock eggs, from Park's laying strain, sired by cocks from Dr. McElroy's flock. J. W. FORD, Friona. 29-1p

FOR SALE—Some very fine full blooded White Holland turkey hens, One of the best strains. Price $3.50 each. A. S. CURRY, Friona, Texas. 23-tfc

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The Friona Star is authorized to announce the following persons as candidates for election to the various county offices under which headings their respective names appear, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary Election in July.

For County Judge:
JOHN ALDRIDGE, Jr., of Farwell, (Re-election).

For Sheriff and Tax Collector:
A. B. SHORT, of Friona.
W. L. VENABLE, Bovina.
W. W. Hall.
W. D. (Bill) KIRK

For County Treasurer:
WALTER LANDER

For County Commissioner, Precinct Number 1:
D. H. MEADE, of Friona. (Re-election).
J. W. M. ALEXANDER

EPWORTH LEAGUE PROGRAM

Sunday, February 9:
Subject. Directed recreation as a means of evangelism with boys and girls.
Leader, Thelma Osborn.
Scripture reading.
Song.
Introduction, Leader.
Joy of the game, Juanita Boggs.
Poem, Youth, Forest Osborn.
Kinds of play, Daisy Dee Parr.
Code of the good sport, Juanita Crow.
What our play tells others about us, Edith Brookfield.

MONEY TALKS

SPEND ALL YOU EARN

—and there is no considerable barrier between you and distress.

—As you advance in years the hazard you run increases, for it involves the comfort and happiness of your family.

—The years of strength should be made to contribute to the years of declining power to execute and earn.

—START NOW—GET THE HABIT!

FRIONA STATE BANK
FRIONA, TEXAS

FREE USE OF BOOKS

These books may be secured by all who wish them at the Friona school library. Issued every school day from 9:00 a. m. until 4:00 p. m. They are the books of the State Traveling Library and are secured through the courtesy of Friona public school and the P.-T. A.

FRIONA WOMANS CLUB

The Friona Woman's Club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon, February 5, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Wilkison with 23 members present, when the following program was given:

Response, Current events.
Paper, Cotton and rayon mills, Mrs. J. R. Roden.
Reading, Short story, Mrs. F. T. Schlinker.

Paper, What Texas is doing toward its forestry problems, Mrs. V. E. Weir.

After the program the club adjourned to enjoy the delicious refreshments of sandwiches, tea, cookies and grape jello served by the hostesses, Meses. S. F. Warren, Grant Musick and J. C. Wilkison.

The next meeting will be held February 12 at the home of Mrs. Dixon, Meses. Dixon and Truitt as hostesses.

L. G. Symson spent from Friday until Sunday evening in Amarillo with Mrs. Symson who is teaching at Pampa.

The little girl's mother was very religious and also a strict dietitian.

One day her aunt asked her:

"What makes your curls so pretty?"

"God, spinach and carrots," was the unexpected reply.

Drugged.

They laid him out on the police station floor and the cop who had brought him in stood by while the doctor examined him. Finally the doctor arose and said:

"That man's been drugged!"
The cop went white and shivered. "That's right, sir, it's my fault. I drug him six blocks."

Robert: I've a question to ask you.

Leo: All right, shoot.
Robert: If a boy is a lad and the lad has a stepfather . . .

Leo: Well?
Robert (walking away slowly): Does that make the lad a step-ladder?—Exchange.

MARVELETTE THEATRE PROGRAM

Next Week

"Duke Steps Out"

WM. HANES and JOAN CRAWFORD
WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY NIGHTS, FEBRUARY 12-13

"One Hysterical Night"

Starring REGINALD DENNEY
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHTS, FEBRUARY 14-15
OUR PICTURES ARE AS GOOD AS THE BEST!

The Mirror.

A backwoods mountaineer one day found a mirror which a tourist had lost.

"Well, if that ain't my old dad," he said as he looked into the mirror. "I never knowed he had his pitcher took."

He took the mirror home and stole into the attic to hide it. But his actions didn't escape his suspicious wife. That night while he slept she slipped up to the attic and found the mirror.

"Hum-m-m," she said, looking into it, "so that's the old hag he's been chasin'."

Star Advertisers are sincere in their efforts to make buying easier for you. Read their messages.

Call On Me for Demonstration of the LUNSFORD PERCO-STEAM WASHER
I have the sole rights for Farmer County
J. M. SANDERFER

I Am Still In

The race for Sheriff, and am in to WIN, and I will sincerely appreciate YOUR SUPPORT AND INFLUENCE.

A. B. SHORT

FREE TRIP TO WICHITA

The Cleaner-Baldwin Combines

People are offering this wonderful trip to all who chose to make it

SEE GALLOWAY & BLEWETT
Local Representatives, for Particulars

SAMPLE MACHINES NOW ON EXHIBIT AT

B. T. Galloway

Friona HARDWARE Texas

Where a full line of parts will be stocked and kept constantly on hand.

WHEAT GROWERS

Call and Investigate these Wonderful Grain-Saving Machines.

Gas Appliances

—It pays to buy the kinds that have stood the test of actual use in homes, and are acknowledged by their owners to excell all others. We have the most complete stock of gas fixtures, appliances and equipment in Hereford, and the practical, every-day excellence of their use has made them favorites in Hereford.

Automatic Water Heaters, Quickmeal Ranges With Lorraine Regulators, Reznor and Ironton Space Heaters

BOTH CIRCULATING AND OPEN TYPES

Streu Hardware Company

PHONE 48

HEREFORD

WHY?

Do 98 Per Cent of the People Who Own

John Deere Tractors and Implements

Buy More John Deeres?

THERE IS BOUND TO BE A REASON—ASK US TO PROVE IT!
SALES AND SERVICE—JOHN DEERE AND RUMELY

F. N. Welch

DEALER

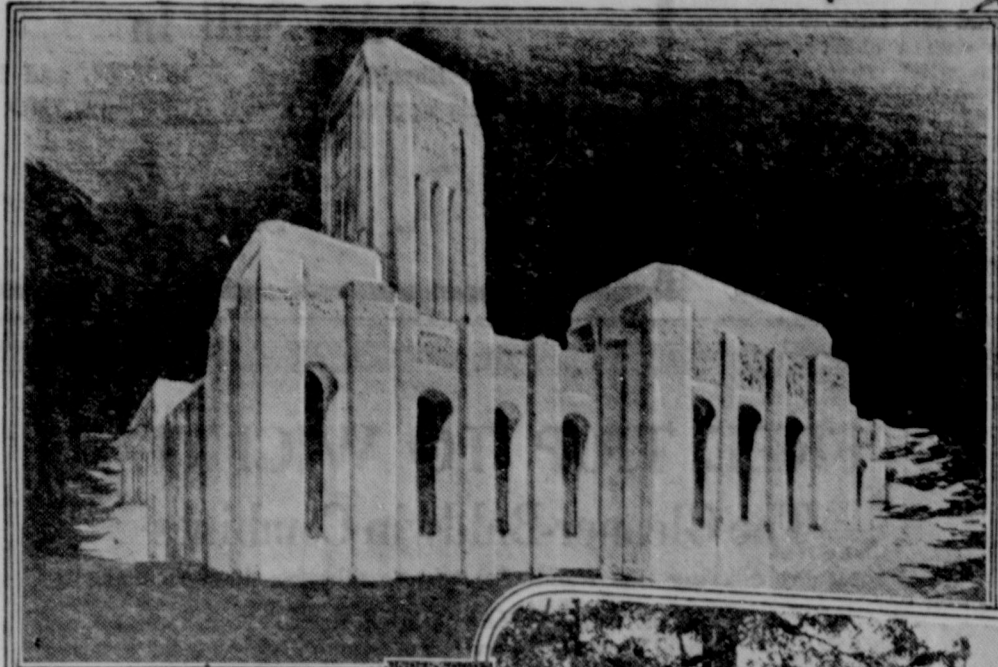

A. B. Short

IN CHARGE OF PARTS AND TILLAGE LINES

... "I say, Brother, how do you keep warm?" ... "Why, I'm all steamed up over that February Sale of Florsheim Shoes ... Only $8.85 a pair ... Ain't that hot?"

MAURER'S

A New Lincoln Memorial

PROPOSED LINCOLN MEMORIAL IN SPENCER COUNTY, IND.

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

FOURTEEN states in the Union and some thirty cities have Lincoln memorials of one sort or another. Kentucky, which gave him birth, has one of the most imposing—the magnificent temple at Hodgenville, where is enshrined the rude log cabin in which he was born on February 12, 1809. Illinois, which first sent him into public life and gave him to the nation as its President at one of the most critical periods in its history, has a score or more reminders of his greatness. But it is a curious fact that the state in which he lived during fourteen of the formative years of his life for a long time did not have a single memorial erected in honor of Abraham Lincoln.

That state is Indiana, to which he came at the age of seven. It was in Indiana that he got most of his little schooling; it was there that he earned his first dollar; it was there that he first met with the neighboring youth in a country cross-roads store, first read the newspapers and got in touch with the outside world, first began to discuss politics, first took part in public debates and first read law. The soil of the Hoosier state was particularly dear to him because it holds the body of the mother who bore him and that of his only sister who was married, lived and died there.

The only exception to the statement that Indiana was strangely laggard in honoring a man whom she could properly claim as one of her greatest sons is the fact that more than fifty years ago, after vandal hands had cut to pieces the first marker erected by citizens in Spencer county over the grave of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, another and more imposing marker was erected there by Clement Studebaker of South Bend. So it is especially appropriate that his daughter, Mrs. Anne Studebaker Carlisle, should be the president of the Indiana Lincoln Union, which is now engaged in the work of raising a fund of more than a million dollars to erect on Indiana soil a national shrine to commemorate the lives of Lincoln and his mother.

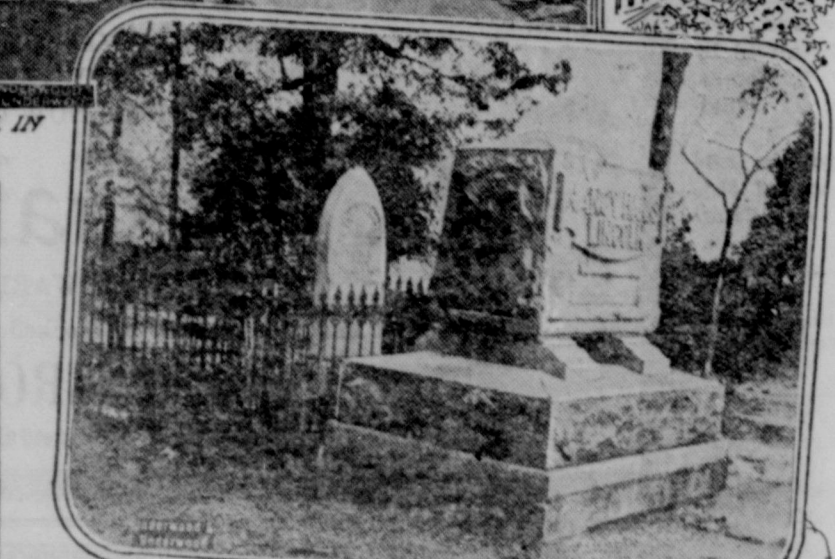

Three years ago, on Mother's day, the executive committee of the union held memorial services at the grave of Nancy Hanks Lincoln and pledged itself to the patriotic task. On that occasion, an aviator zooming low over the grave and cabin site, dropped this message:

TO THE MANES OF NANCY HANKS LINCOLN

The men and women of today are here beside your grave.
Among the guarding trees, to make their vow, your name
Shall never die. And to their praise, add our tribute, from the sky.
We are the artificers of the past, whose handicraft
Has gained the praise of men. With stone and clay
With brush and pen, we wrought, to leave expressions of the truth we found.
But you—You dared to take
A living child, a plastic infant mind, to mold
Into a soul of love, an instrument divine. Your genius
Used an art that ours was mean beside. To you then,
Master Artist, we send our word of praise.
Through devious paths that masked the way,
You led with kindly hand, a child into the light of truth. And made an honest man.

The memorial will include the spot where the Lincoln cabin stood and the grave where his mother lies buried. It is intended that it shall in all respects typify the pioneer days when Lincoln was a youth. The plans of Frederick Law Olmstead, landscape architect of Brookline, Mass., which have been adopted, include the complete restoration of the area with appropriate markers, a magnificent memorial hall and the pioneer atmosphere of native trees and shrubbery, with a small body of water and a clearing.

The proposed national memorial will link the three states of Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois in the perpetuation of Lincoln's life and labors preparatory to his great destiny. It also honors the memory of the pioneer mother who gave him to the world.

NANCY HANKS LINCOLN'S GRAVE

The story of that pioneer mother is one of the most appealing in all American history. "A backwoods madonna," Dr. William E. Barton calls her and in his book, "The Women Lincoln Loved," published by an Indiana publishing company, Bobbs-Merrill of Indianapolis, he gives this graphic word picture of her life, and her death, in the state to which is given the privilege of caring for her grave:

Southern Indiana was then a wild region, and the settlements back of the Ohio river were few and sparse. There were at first no regular church services, no physicians, no schools. Perhaps Thomas Lincoln did not regret the absence of schools so much as Nancy did. There is no reason to believe that he opposed such education as his children were able to secure, but apparently the mother was more intent on the securing of an education for her children than was the father. Abraham and Sarah had attended school portions of two terms in Kentucky. They had learned to spell and had begun to read, but there were no schools in their neighborhood in Indiana during Nancy's lifetime. If Abraham and Sarah learned anything more, they learned it from Nancy, or from Dennis Hanks, whom the Studebakers had sent to school in the old Baptist meeting-house on Nolin, and who claimed, with some apparent reason, to have grounded Abraham Lincoln in the elements of his education. There were very few books in the home of Thomas Lincoln and Nancy Hanks, and the same condition prevailed in all other homes in the neighborhood.

For two years Nancy Hanks Lincoln dwelt in Indiana, and saw some approach to comfort in the conditions of her home. Gradually the cleared area of land and "deadening" around the cabin widened, and the acreage of corn increased. The stock of poultry and hogs grew, and the "pitching times" while not pushed far back into the woods, were not at the door as they were at the beginning. Conditions appeared to promise a reasonably comfortable future for the family.

Abraham Lincoln was old enough now to look with more possibility of appreciation on this mother of his, and to estimate somewhat her qualities. She was now approaching the age of thirty-five. She was about medium height and had a slight stoop as though predisposed to consumption. She weighed about a hundred and thirty pounds. Her complexion was dark, and her face was thin and sallow. Her forehead was unusually high, and all her relatives commented on this feature of her appearance as belonging to and exhibiting her intellectual nature. She was usually cheerful, but her face in repose was sad. At times she displayed a marked tendency to mirth, but she had moods of melancholy.

Abraham had a boy's limitation of judgment; perhaps he did not appreciate these qualities so fully in his youth as he did later, but we have no reason to suppose that he was wholly blind to them. She was a good mother to him, and he knew it. She was ambitious for him, and desired that he should have the opportunities which both she and her husband had missed.

The autumn of 1818 brought to southern Indiana a terrible sickness, afflicting both man and beast. The cattle were first to suffer from it, contracting the disease from eating the foliage of snake-root, and as it was found to be their milk that carried the illness to their human owners, it was called "the milk-sickness." A number of the people in the neighborhood where the Lincoln lived contracted the disease and died. Levi and Nancy Hall died, and so did Thomas and Betsy Sparrow. Two uncles and aunts, one couple being her foster parents, were swept away as with a flood.

Then Nancy herself contracted the disease. There was no physician within 25 miles. We have the testimony of a neighbor who was an eye-witness, that Abraham and his sister were faithful in waiting on their mother, and doing what they could for her. "She struggled on," says this neighbor "a good Christian woman, and died on the seventh day after she was taken sick. The mother knew that she was going to die. She was very weak, and the children leaned over her while she gave her last messages. Placing her feeble hand on Abe's head, she told him to be kind and good to his father and sister. To both she said 'be good to one another,' expressing a hope that they might live, as they had been taught by her, to love their kindred and worship God." Thus, at the age of thirty-five, on October 5, 1818, died this madonna of the backwoods, the mother of Abraham Lincoln.

LINCOLN CABIN IN INDIANA

Doctor Barton then tells how Abraham assisted his father in sawing out the planks from which he made the coffin, how they buried her on the hill beside her foster-parents and how no funeral sermon was preached over her grave until months later, when Rev. David Perkins came that way and conducted services. First there was an opening hymn with David Perkins "lining out, two lines at a time," then a "simple and heart-felt eulogy of the dead" and a stern admonition to the living" and finally a closing hymn—"with it rose the courage and faith of those who sang."

Then came the word of blessing, and Thomas Lincoln took the hands of his two weeping children and led them back to his desolate home. The feet of millions of pilgrims have walked and will walk that path. They will stand within the granite temple that now encloses the log walls within which, at Hodgenville, the maternal pain of Nancy Hanks gave to the world her son Abraham; and they will tread reverently through the leafy aisles of the State park at Gentryville, where a massive granite stone now marks the spot which Abraham Lincoln in his boyhood watered with his tears.

He loved his mother while she lived, and he loved her memory afterward. It was a pathetic memory, and had in it elements concerning which he was properly reticent; but as to his inheritance through her of the qualities which he deemed to be some of the best within him, he spoke with deep feeling. "God bless my mother. All that I am or hope to be I owe to her." Although in this utterance, her son spoke of the mental traits he thought himself to have inherited from her, rather than her direct influence over him, it was of her mind and character he spoke when he said that however unpromising her early surroundings might have been "she was highly intellectual by nature, had a strong memory, accurate judgment, and was cool and heroic."

To him, as he looked back upon it from the standpoint of later experience, it seemed her life had been a tragedy. But we are not sure that she so regarded it. She had sad experiences, and times of depression, but she had lived and learned and loved. She had known the joys of wifehood and motherhood. She had never suffered hunger or neglect. Always there were those who cared for her and for whom she cared. To her it may not have seemed that hers had been a sad life; and she left that which permanently brightened the life of humanity.

Though the world has acclaimed Abraham Lincoln as one of the greatest men who ever lived, they were simple people, this mother and this son. So the simplicity of his character is stressed by the architect, Thomas Hibben of Indianapolis, in his design for the main building of the proposed Lincoln memorial.

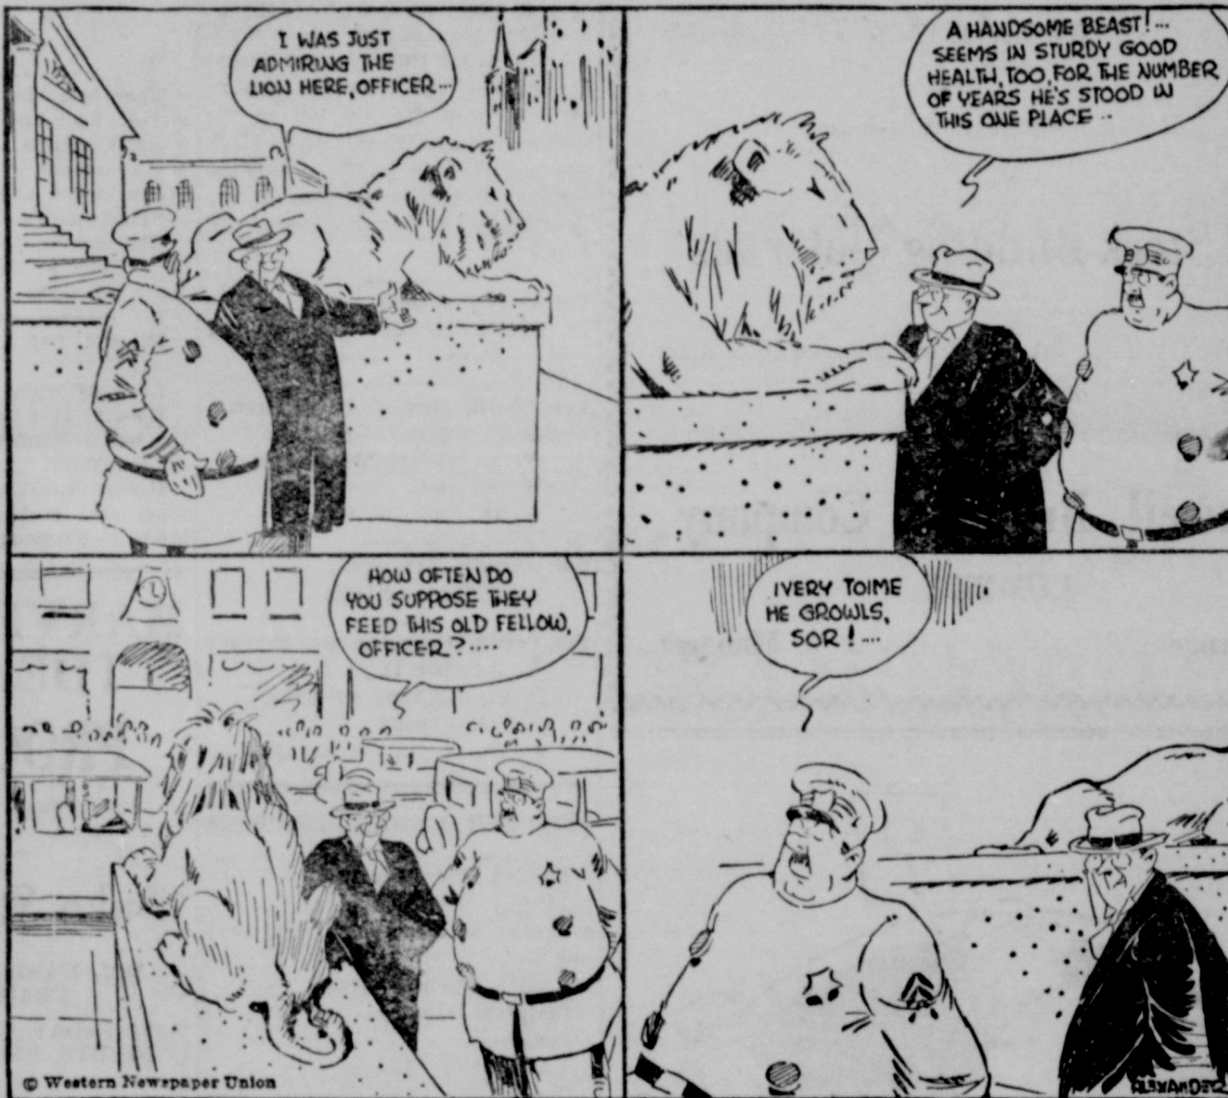

OUR COMIC SECTION

Along the Concrete

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

A Stranger Bait's a Cop

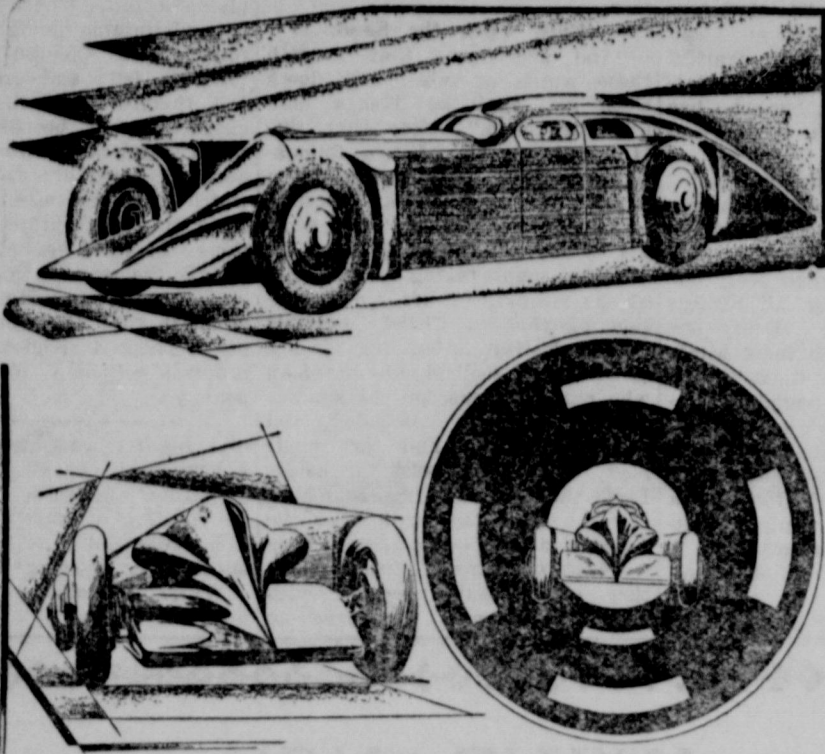

THE FEATHERHEADS

Disappointed in Felix

Autos to Make Fast Speed Safe

Above is shown the artist's conception of what the automobile will be when transportation requirements will demand ten years from now safe speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour over Superhighways.

What manner of automobile will rule the roads ten years from now, successfully competing with airplanes that cruise far overhead and land on tops of skyscrapers with utmost security?

Behind a screen of deepest mystery, one of the great automobile manufacturers of the United States is evolving just such an automobile. It will not be ready for several years, probably, and by that time it is anticipated that roads suitable for safe speeds well in excess of 100 miles an hour will extend the length and breadth of the country.

Wind pressure, which now fights against speed, will be the friendly gull that will make these great speeds safe. To this end, every feature of the mystery car is being tested in the whirlwind of super wind tunnels, designed after exhaustive research by ventilating engineers. Powerful fans provide hurricanes beyond any that were ever loosed by nature in her wildest moods.

Under the pressure of a wind which, if developed by the car's own motion, would represent a speed far in excess of 100 miles an hour, this mystery model hugs the ground and is held steady against all stresses and strains of the road.

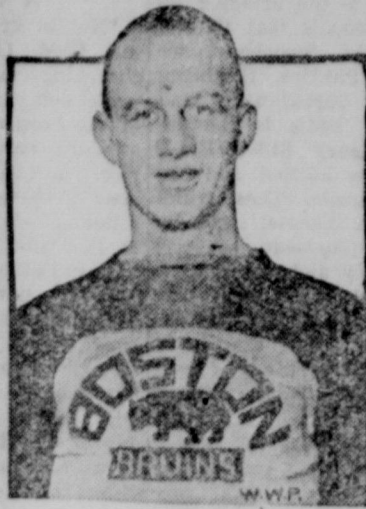

As scientists know, a fast moving object acting on still air causes it to present almost the characteristics of a solid, and this fact is being utilized to the utmost in the development of the car of the future. Instead of exerting a pressure that tends to lift the car from the ground as in the case of most present-day models, the wind pushes down, exerting tremendous pressure and making it impossible for the car to turn over while traveling at high speed. This tends to make speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour really safer than the slower speeds, and with good roads built to equal the capacity of the car, will bring about a new era of fast automobile transportation.

Some idea of how this works can be obtained by looking at the "Golden Arrow," the racing car of Maj. H. O. D. Seagrave, who established a record of 231.2 miles per hour on the sands of Daytona Beach, Fla.

So far this car represents the farthest advance in turning wind resistance into "wind assistance" ever seen in the United States. The scoop-like prow presents an area against which the wind forms a terrific pressure. The gently upward slope transfers this back pressure into a downward pressure which holds the car against the road. Careful streamlining prevents counter-acting pressures against the rest of the car.

Hockey League Star

Eddie Shore, defenseman extraordinary of the Boston "Bruins," leaders in the National Hockey league, and the idol of the Beantown ice fans. Eddie is regarded by many followers of the exciting sport as the most valuable man in the league, and although he plays a defense position, he is equally adept on the forward line.

"Outside" Referee Plan of Navy Boxing Pastime

Naval academy boxers will try an innovation during the winter season in engaging in contests while the referee sits in a chair outside the ring.

The idea, according to Lieut. Com. Frederick G. Reinicke, graduate manager of athletics, is to supply cleaner boxing, especially in doing away with undue clinching. It is felt, he said, that a boxer is more apt to clinch when he knows that there is a third man ready to separate them. Under the "outside" plan, the referee will merely tell the boys to break.

Strike Webb, veteran boxing coach at the academy, regards the plan with abounding favor.

While the "outside" method will be a novelty to American boxing fans, it's old stuff to British followers of the sport. Not only at amateur bouts, but at professional ones as well, the referee squats on a chair beyond the ring's confines. He enters only to toll out the count when a knockdown occurs. He does not even enter the ring in case of a foul, simply awarding the fight to the fouler.

Comfort for Fast Riding

According to Professor Low, an English scientist, it will be possible to drive 200 miles an hour in a completely enclosed automobile in the future. The vehicle will consume only half the gasoline cars require today, will be fitted with radio telephone and television, and will be so easy to operate that a driver can see and speak to his friends at home traveling. Folding wings, he says, will eventually be fitted to cars, thus enabling motorists to make continental and transatlantic trips.

For the Notebook

Even with a brand new battery, trouble will sometimes develop, causing a broiling, crackling sound in the receiver.

Junior Tennis Champ

William Jacobs of Baltimore city college, who was crowned the new national junior indoor tennis champion, as the result of his five-set victory, scored over John Richardson of Dartmouth, in the final round of the tournament, held at the Seventh regiment armory, New York. Both men unlearned a brand of tennis which stamps them as likely defenders of America's reputation on the courts.

College Baseball Game Is in Pretty Bad Way

College baseball, according to the report made to the National Collegiate Athletic association by its baseball committee, is in a pretty bad way. The committee, of which Prof. Edgar Fauver of Wesleyan is chairman, stated: "During the three years the committee has made a study of the situation of baseball in the colleges it has not found its position good or improving."

This committee favors a new set of rules to cover college baseball, rules which will in no way differ from the present rules in reference to the technical part of the game, but with those portions deleted that refer to fines and suspensions as applied to the professional game.

The committee advised that a code of good sportsmanship be included in the rules. It was also advised that the game as played now by the colleges be speeded up, that the players run back and forth to the bench between innings instead of ambling leisurely back and forth as they do now.

Three Stages of Frequency

Three stages of tuned screen grid radio frequency amplification are embodied in a new set. A power stage uses two 210s in pushpull. The tuning device is arranged to permit close separation of stations.

How Toe Hold Should Be Applied

Dick Shikat, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, demonstrates the correct way to apply the toehold from behind.

Honey Quite Useful During Zero Weather

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Another agricultural product finds a new use. This time it is honey. Honey, mixed with water, has been tested as an antifreeze solution by private motorists and state agricultural colleges. Practically all reports of these experiments have been favorable, says James L. Hambleton, apiculturist in charge of the bee culture laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The proper proportion of honey to water varies according to the lowest temperature expected, says Mr. Hambleton. Where zero weather is expected, equal parts of honey and water are commonly used. Such a mixture begins to form slush at zero, however, and a greater proportion of honey is required for best results at lower temperatures. In the northern part of the United States and in Canada a mixture of three parts of honey to two of water, or even two to one, may be best. A quart of alcohol added to each three gallons of the mixture will improve the circulation.

To make the solution, use a cheap grade of extracted honey, stirring it into hot water. Heat the mixture to a boil and skim off the scum. If alcohol is used, stir it in and boil from three to five minutes. Fill the radiator and maintain the level by adding water as needed.

Mr. Hambleton cites a number of advantages of the honey mixture. Because it boils at a higher temperature than water there is no loss from evaporation, and it is necessary to add only water from time to time. Honey solutions expand much less than water when freezing, and when in proper proportions they do not freeze solid but form a slush. This tends to eliminate the danger of bursting radiators. Furthermore, says Mr. Hambleton, some motorists may find it advantageous for use in the summer when long steep grades or heavy pulls are encountered, for it not only freezes at a lower temperature but boils at a higher temperature than water.

When honey is used as an antifreeze mixture it is important that all gaskets, pump packing, and hose connections be tight. A slight seepage around the hose connection is not serious, but any considerable quantity leaking into the engine may cause considerable difficulty. Should honey reach the cylinders and valve heads, it will carbonize, making it necessary to remove the engine head and clean out the residue.

Interesting and Timely Squibs of Various Sports

The West Point basketball team will visit Columbus to play Ohio State university on February 22.

The St. Louis Browns may build a new ball park in Tulsa, Okla., a farm for the major league club.

Never permit children to play in or around the car.

Keene Fitzpatrick, Princeton football trainer and track coach, has been engaged in coaching forty years.

In running eight yards for a touchdown against Oregon, Clyde Crabtree, of Florida, reversed his field twice.

Port Arthur has won the amateur hockey championship of Canada and the Allan cup three times in the past five years.

Be sure "dimmers" really dim; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare.

Eddie Vacheresse is in charge of boxing at West Virginia. The Mountaineers are trying the sport for the first time.

Bill Zitzmann, sold by Newark to Cincinnati several years ago, is again back at Newark, his old club having repurchased him.

The city council of Atlanta, Ga., has abandoned the graduated speed law and fixed 30 miles an hour as the maximum speed in the entire city.

Bernard L. (Dutch) Eberts, former Catholic university athlete, has been admitted to the Southern Conference Football Officials association.

James Parker Coombs, Brown university, '07, is believed to have been the first football player who went into action minus his stockings.

The percentages of women driving automobiles is increasing steadily in the United States. This fact has influenced the use of colors and added to the beauty of design in cars.

Steve Drozdo of Elizabeth, N. J., recently scored 279, 298 and 300. Just 23 pins of a possible 300, in three games of bowling. The record of 879 for three games was established in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1921.

Attempting to Eliminate Road Crossing Accidents

A new apparatus which has been put into use by the German government in an attempt to eliminate the danger to automobiles at the railway crossings. The signals are worked by light. Generally the white light is flashing. When a train comes near it makes a contact on the rail which changes the light to a red flash.

tired every morning?

Get poisons out of the system with Feen-a-mint, the Chewing Gum Laxative. Smaller doses effective when taken in this form. A modern, scientific, family laxative. Safe and mild.

INSIST ON THE GENUINE
Feen-a-mint
FOR CONSTIPATION

FEEL GOOD?
Most ailments start from poor elimination (constipation or semi-constipation). Intestinal poisons sap vitality, undermine your health and make life miserable. Tonight try NR—NATURE'S REMEDY—all-vegetable correctives—not an ordinary laxative. See how NR will aid in restoring your appetite and rid you of that heavy, luggy, peevish feeling.
Kid, safe, purely vegetable—at drugstore, only 25c
FEEL LIKE A MILLION, TAKE

NR TO-NIGHT
TOMORROW'S LIGHT

A sufficiency of playgrounds would cut in half the number of cases of child delinquency, declares the president of the Playground association.

Refuse substitutes. Demand Red Cross bluing. Large bottle 10c. All grocers.—Adv.

Producing something for people to eat is a precarious business. There are always so many doing it.

OLD DOCTOR'S IDEA IS BIG HELP TO ELDERLY PEOPLE

In 1885, Dr. Caldwell made a discovery for which elderly people the world over praise him today!

Years of practice convinced him that many people were endangering their health by a careless choice of laxatives. So he began a search for a harmless prescription which would be thoroughly effective, yet would neither gripe nor form any habit. At last he found it.

Over and over he wrote it, when he found people bilious, headachy, out of sorts, weak or feverish; with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy. It relieved the most obstinate cases, and yet was gentle with women, children and elderly people.

Today, this same famous, effective prescription, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the world's most popular laxative. It may be obtained from any drugstore.

Three Generations Endorse It

"When I was a young single girl I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because my mother did and she gave it to me. After I married I took it before my children were born and afterwards, and I have eight living children. I am now a grandmother and still take it and still recommend it when any one is tired and run-down."—Mrs. Alfred Iverson, St. Edwards, Nebraska.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

Mary Graham Bonner
COPYRIGHT BY WESTERN PUBLISHING CO.

AULD SCOTIA

They flew over Ireland, then the North channel, and to the south, just below the North channel David could see the Irish sea. It looked rough and wild but David liked it, and as they flew up along the west coast of Scotland David thought he had never seen such wild water.

There were great rocky, small islands scattered everywhere. How rocky they were! There didn't seem to be any people around, not even Map people, and only the great waves and rocks were playing so madly together.

The waves dashed over the rocks, hit against them with all their might, until it seemed as though the rocks would break with the great force of the waves, but no, the rocks were too sturdy for that.

David felt that neither would ever win—both were so strong, and perhaps this was why they enjoyed playing together—they were so evenly matched.

Wilder, wilder grew the sea, more and more the waves pounded over the islands. The air pilot Wind was becoming much excited, too. It could be seen that he liked this. He roared and shrieked with delight.

"That's the way, Waves! Don't waste any time. That's it, Rocks, don't let the waves get the better of you."

And then David met a gentleman named Old Scotia.

He was most interestingly dressed and he was friendly at once.

"You see my home is all, all over this country of Scotland, and Geo said I could give you a fine breakfast. I have it all ready."

So David sat down, there in the very heart of the Scottish highlands and Auld Scotia handed him his breakfast from a covered basket he had brought with him. He had a big bowl of porridge—and though he wasn't always so fond of porridge at home the air had made him so hungry that he enjoyed it. Then he had finnan haddock and a lot of toast and marmalade and a cup of tea. While he sat and ate, Auld Scotia sang to him from time to time, rattling Scottish jigs and dances, and told him strange old tales of legend and history.

What a Treat It Was.

Now and again pheasants and grouse rustled the leaves and let themselves be seen, while at times the mist came down over the hills and David did not wonder it wanted to come down and see so unusual and rugged and beautiful country.

Such a big breakfast as he ate, and then he wandered around the Scottish part of the Magic Map. He went down through the Grampian mountains and picked up a glorious cairngorm stone, and he wandered west and a little south to Greenock along the River Clyde where they were making boats, and he felt he would like to be a boat builder. He passed near Glasgow and saw the sun come out and the mist at the very same time and then came rainbows, lovely rainbows, everywhere, one after the other.

He went through the Trossachs to the east, skirting the highlands, and he was told that Trossachs meant "Bristling Country." How they did bristle with grand old scenery and beautiful lakes. He saw Ellen's Isle and Loch Etrine and Loch Lomond and Rob Roy's cave and remembered poetry and books they had read in school where the scenes were all laid right here.

Then he saw the Firth of Forth and the Firth proudly told him that his name meant a narrow arm of the sea, and that he didn't want a wide, ungainly arm, but just the narrow one that he had.

Edinburgh was a fine city, too, with a castle built high over the city, and he went across the bridge of the Firth of Forth with its great stone and steel strength rising high over the water.

But more than anything he loved the moors and the heather, the untamed hills and the little simple cottages, and the shaggy cattle and the delicate yet sturdy wild roses. What a treat it was, he thought, to have wandered about, quite by himself in Scotland.

And then Wind, his air pilot, came.

Bobby's Appetite

Father—It's a funny thing, but Bobby seems to eat twice as much chicken every time we have visitors.

Mother—Why is that, Bobby?

Bobby—'Cos that's the only time when we have chicken!—Passing Show.

International Sunday School

Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

FEBRUARY 9, 1930

WARNINGS AND PROMISES
(Temperance Lesson)

MATTHEW 7:12, 15-27

GOLDEN TEXT: Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.—Matt. 7:19.

Introduction.

Lyman Beecher used to say that every sermon should end in a "snapper" that is, should close with a strong personal application of the truth that has been discussed. The Sermon on the Mount certainly meets this test of a great sermon. The concluding portion of the sermon begins (Matt. 7:1-11) with a warning against censoriousness. The Christian is not to pass harsh judgment on others, or Christ will be compelled to pass heavy judgment on him on the last day. Two illustrations are given. First, the wooden measure with which grain is measured out, to customers; make it a generous one, for they in turn will use it to measure their own commodities which you are purchasing. The second illustration is that of the mote and the beam. Harsh criticisms find fault with others for trifling faults comparable to a bit of dust in the eye, while their very harshness is an over-powering defect comparable to a great beam thrust into their own eye.

Your Father Who Is In Heaven.
The key-note is the word "Father," and Christ's blessed argument is from our human fatherhood to a divine fatherhood. Earthly fathers are imperfect, and yet if a son asked a father for a flat cake of bread, the father would never think of giving him only a flat round stone in the shape of the cake; and if the son begged for a fish to eat, the father would not give him a snake looking somewhat like a fish. Is not the God who made fathers and planted father love in them, himself far better, kinder and more loving than the fathers he has created? Can we not trust him to give to his children fully, freely and wisely? And if there is anything which he sees is not best for us, do we really want him to give it to us?

The Golden Rule and Temperance.
"All things therefore." "Therefore" shows that this verse sums up what has preceded. "Whatsoever ye would that man should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them." That is rightly called "The Golden Rule," because it is the supreme and comprehensive rule of the moral life. "Only the Golden Rule can bring the Golden Age."—Francis E. Willard. Maxims somewhat similar to the Golden Rule are to be found in Jewish and heathen writers, but they are couched in the negative. "The grand summary of all their teaching amounts to this: 'Whatsoever evil ye would not that men should do to you, do ye not such evil to them.'"—Rev. Wellesley W. Bowditch, D. D.

What seller or buyer of liquor would like to have his own boy or girl made a drunkard? Yet he will do all he can to make some other father's child a drunkard? What woman who ridicules the Eighteenth Amendment would willingly see her own husband borne to a drunkard's grave? Yet she is perfectly willing that drunkards graves should be filled by other women's husbands. The Eighteenth Amendment is simply the Golden Rule put into our national Constitution.

False Prophets.

"Beware of false prophets." A prophet is primarily a public teacher; the word means literally "one who speaks forth." It may also mean "one who fortells." A false prophet is a false teacher, a "blind guide" to the kingdom's entrance, leading many astray. "Who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves." There are many false prophets among the "wets." They pretend to be greatly concerned about the purity of our national Constitution, and deeply shocked because an iniquitous "summatary law" has been forced into that noble document. They paint and picture of the condition of lawlessness into which the country has been plunged by the prohibition amendment.

By Their Fruits.

"The only test of a religion worth anything is the bringing together of the peoples that the religions have made. Somebody once said to Wendell Phillips, 'Hinduism is as good as Christianity,' and Phillips replied, 'India is the answer.'—Rev. Henry Stiles Bradley, D. D. Know alcohol and the saloon by their fruits. These fruits are sickness and disease, incompetence and unemployment, poverty, and misery, idleness and insanity, licentiousness and crime, the corruption of the body politic, the destruction of the home, the death of the soul. Every kind of evil finds its rich soil in the liquor business.

A Good Tree.

"Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit." The good tree of prohibition is an outstanding example. It has brought unexampled prosperity to the United States, in spite of the World War, the heavy taxes, and the loss of many foreign markets. There has been an enormous increase in savings bank deposits, in life insurance, in new buildings, in the purchase of automobiles and radio sets, in all the comforts of life. There has been a wonderful decrease in diseases due to alcoholism and in cases of destitution due to liquor. Children in the public schools are better fed and better clothed. The fruits of the tree of prohibition are so blessed that with each year the hearts of the people are more firmly bound to the reform.

A Crucial Test.

"Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven." "Not profession, not calling on the name of the Lord as an empty form, not outward service, nor formal service, nor numberless prayers—none of these is the essence of true religion."—Rev. Edwin W. Rice, D. D. "But he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven." "We are not all so situated that we can perform the great achievements that immortalize a few historic characters, but there is not one of us, not the humblest, who cannot imitate Christ every day of our lives. There is not one of us who has not a brother, or a sister, a friend or a schoolmate, whom we cannot make better as well as happier. Every day calls upon us for sacrifices of small selfishness, for forbearance under provocation, and for the subjugation of evil propensities."—Horace Mann.

Depart from Me.

"And then will I profess unto them." In spite of all their good deeds, Christ is obliged solemnly to condemn them. "I never knew you." They, therefore, had never known Christ, in spite of all their professions of Christianity. "Depart from me, ye that work iniquity." There is not merely a negative religious state, but it was positively wicked. As in the parallel passage, Matt. 25:30, 46, they are banished forever from the presence of Christ. It seems indeed strange and terrible that men can have sound beliefs and lead corrupt and outwardly fruitful lives, and yet be utterly alienated from the Saviour; but who has not seen illustrations of the sad truth?

The Two Builders.

In closing the Sermon on the Mount our Lord gathers up all its teachings in a short and striking parable which applied to every one of his hearers, and to all readers to the end of time. "Every one therefore that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them." The hearings is never enough. Church-going is a duty and a privilege, but church-going in itself will never save a soul. Bible-reading is a help to the spiritual life and a great joy, but Bible reading in itself does not constitute one a Christian. Religion is obedience. Religion is a life. Each one is building up his character; and the only way to build well is to build upon a rock, the rock of Christ's teaching and Christ's example."—Alfred Plummer.

Built Upon the Sand.

"And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man." Note that this is not a parable of two foundations, as it is often called, but a parable of two builders, one wise and the other foolish. "Who built his house upon the sand." "A heedless man, taking no thought of the meaning of life, the revelation of God in Christ, and his eternal destiny, is building his life structure as foolishly as the man who puts his house on the sand.

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house. Lives that go down in the world's storm do not fall until after the foundation has been softened; then a blast overthrows them, which they should have resisted with ease. Young men who come to the city and go wrong never do so until after the foundations have been cut from under their feet. It is never the final blast that explains a fall. There is a process of undermining going on long before."—Prof. Claud B. McAfee. "And it fell; and great was the fall thereof." In the end every character will be disclosed; the secret rottenness which the world never dreamed of; the worldliness which was concealed under the show of philanthropy; the ambitions which hid behind the evils of piety; the secret things will be made manifest. He alone will stand in that day who has turned his moral and religious belief into practice."—Bishop W. Boyd Carpenter.

A teacher was giving his class a lecture on charity.

"Willie," he said, "if I saw a boy beating a donkey and stopped him from doing so, what virtue should I be showing?" Willie (promptly): "Brotherly love."

STAR THEATRE

HEREFORD, TEXAS

Program

SATURDAY
FEBRUARY 8

Monday and Tuesday
FEBRUARY 10-11

"Pointed Heels"

Look What a Cast:

WILLIAM POWELL
FRAY WRAY
SKEETS GALLAGER
HELEN KANE

Plenty of comedy, singing and dancing.

Watch for the Greatest Special that has ever been made

"Rio Rita"

MONEY TALKS BY YOUR CASH

I am your money, a good fellow, always at your command. I have a lot of good cents, which I always use to your best advantage at E. B. Black's, says Your Cash.

E. B. BLACK Co.
We Are Satisfied With Small Profits

Don't just ask for "Motor Oil"

"Take-a-chance" oil in the engine sends many a good car to the scrap heap before its time has come. That's why it is so important to use a full-bodied motor oil—a highly refined oil—like TEXACO, the clean, clear, golden motor oil. We have the right grade for your car.

TEXACO MOTOR OIL

TEXAS COMPANY
Friona, Texas

It Goes Without Argument

THAT AN ACTUAL TEST OF ANY PRODUCT SERVES BETTER THAN THE MOST ACCURATE DESCRIPTION

That is why the user of Magnolia Gasoline knows its real value better than the one who merely hears some one tell about it. Just try out this wonderful force-giving fuel in your own tractor or car and be fully convinced of its merits.

Magnolia Petroleum Co.

J. C. WILKISON, Agent
FRIONA TEXAS
Wholesale Only.

DELCO-LIGHT PRODUCTS

Announcing

It is with a great deal of pride that we announce our appointment as Delco-Light and Frigidaire Dealers for

Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer Counties, Texas

Every effort will be made to maintain the high standing of Sales and Service that is characteristic of Delco-Light and Frigidaire dealers throughout the world. For information as to how Delco-Light and Frigidaire products may better serve you, communicate with or see us.

Blythe Bros.

PHONE 340. HEREFORD, TEXAS

FRIGIDAIRE

Report to Stockholders

THE HARVESTER LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY has made consistent progress in all departments during the 3½ years of its history, as shown by the chart below.

The $9,684,000 Insurance In Force, written on the lives of 5,018 Texas citizens, is composed of over 96 per cent permanent types of insurance (whole life and endowments), and less than 4 per cent of term insurance.

A 1929 renewal record of over 82 per cent indicates the character of Harvester Agents; while the Excess Protection to Policyholders (Capital and Surplus), now over $1,000,000, adds financial strength to an already solid foundation.

Financial Statement

JANUARY 1, 1930

ASSETS		LIABILITIES
First Mortgage Loans	$ 311,056.16	Net Legal Reserve	$ 196,391.00
Bonds and Stocks	800,312.50	Other Liabilities	6,646.58
Cash in Banks	44,761.56	Reserve for Taxes	7,000.00
Policy Loans and Premium Notes Within Reserve	8,432.74	Excess Protection to Policyholders:
Net Uncollected and Deferred Premiums (Secured)	33,353.00	Capital Paid up	$500,000.00
Accrued Interest	9,765.47	Net Surplus	507,183.85
Real Estate	9,540.00
Total	$1,217,221.43	Total	$1,217,221.43

Year	Assets	Legal Reserve	Number of Policyholders	Insurance In Force	Income from Premiums	Net Gain from Investments
1926	$ 468,000	$ 4,900	343	$ 852,000	$ 23,000	$ 12,000
1927	$ 975,000	$ 32,000	1,582	$3,339,000	$ 82,000	$ 29,000
1928	$1,019,000	$ 92,000	3,285	$6,526,000	$152,000	$ 71,000
1929	$1,217,000	$195,000	5,018	$9,684,000	$221,000	$106,000

Harvester Life Insurance Company

Telephone Building :: Dallas

DIRECTORS:

J. B. Adoue, Jr. Geo. W. Jalonick E. R. Brown
Ira T. Moore Geo. W. Jalonick, Jr. K. N. Haggood
L. Blaylock

This ad was carried in the San Antonio Light, The Dallas News, Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Houston Dispatch

E. H. GISCHLER

Local Representative