EL PASOANS IMPRESSED BY VISIT TO PECOS FIELD

On the invitation of Alfred Tinally, president of the Sunshine Corporation, a party of El Paso people spent Sunday in Pecos making a tour of the Pecos oil field.

As the Enterprise understands it, the object of the excursion was to see just exactly what was being done in the field, the impressions of the party to be made public, for the benefit of the corporation's stockholders generally. Many who composed the party are large stockholders in the concern.

Among the visitors were: D. T. White, Charles E. Stevens, M. S. Franklin, E. W. d'Allemand, Robert Weller, Breedlove Smith, T. W. Scales, R. H. Towns, W. W. Bridgers, John M. Todd, John Hamilton, Arthur Hinton (of the Los Angeles Times), Roy D. Barnum, R. E. Miesse, Lew H. Davis, mining expert for the El Paso Times, and Mr. A. Tinally.

The trip began at the Laura Well, now famous all over the country, and the visitors found the work being pushed, night and day. The machinery was working smoothly under the guidance of Gallagher Bros., expert drillers. While at the site the visitors saw the drill drawn from the hole and the sand bucket lowered several times in cleaning out. A strong gas odor permeated the inclosure and those who own stock in the corporation felt good when they saw the oil showings in each bucketful as the well was slushed. The well is now drilling at between 1100 and 1200 feet.

A visit was made by the party to the site of the Victory well near Quito. Here they found a standard rig completed, machinery installed, crew shacks built and everything ready for drilling on the arrival of boilers that are en route. In this section Mr. Davis explained conditions that show these holdings are located on the main oil structure or anticline.

The last site visited was the King well, a couple of miles south of the Laura well, which is being drilled by a company composed mostly of Pecos men. The promotion of this latter was on the strength of the oil findings in the Laura well at the 800-foot level. It is their intention to develop this shallow oil when reached, and according to several, it is believed a 100-barrel well will be brought in.

The party as a whole were in high spirits after the inspection, and from conversations with some, the report taken to El Paso will be a glowing one, and calculated to revive the faith of any that may be wavering.

While here the party were guests of Mr. Tinally, who entertained them in the evening at his home. The arrival of the party, in the opinion of the Enterprise, was most opportune; the report they make will be based upon things actually seen, and will do much to strengthen the idea long held by the Enterprise—that Pecos is the next big oil field of the country and we had just as well get ready for its advent.

GETTING HOME IS BEST EXPERIENCE

One by one the boys from Reeves county who answered their country's call, are coming back to mother, wife and sweetheart. They are unanimous in declaring that being home again is the greatest and most pleasant experience of all, and their broad smiles don't belie the statements, either.

With two or three exceptions, all the boys who left Reeves county were in the 36th and 90th divisions, whose deeds make one of the brightest pages of history, and about the best reason why Bill the Hun is chopping trees in Holland, and the rest of the herd are about to sign a treaty that will leave them toothless and clawless for years to come.

Among those whose arrival was noted last week and this, are:

Tom McClure, who trained at Camp Bowie, being attached to the hospital corps. In France, Tom got up against the real thing, but it didn't spoil his disposition in the least, and he is as blinking happy as ever. He arrived Friday.

On Saturday Clyde Simmons returned home. Clyde was in the first squad drafted from Reeves, being sent to Camp Travis, where he was assigned to the mounted police, and says his entire stay, both at home and overseas, was one continued round of action, and those acquainted with the duties of an M. P. will not doubt that. They were practically at war with Germany and their own men all the time.

J. C. Wilson arrived Wednesday morning, bringing with him an honorable discharge from the army. J. C. served in France with the famous 90th, being away about eighteen long months, and his broad smile was proof that he likes Pecos better than France. He left on the Santa Fe in the afternoon for Carlsbad, N. M., where a welcome royal awaits him at the parental home. He will return to Pecos Monday and assume the duties of head bookkeeper at the Pecos Mercantile Co.

Preston Glover alighted from No. 1 yesterday morning, to fall into the arms of home folk watching for his arrival. Preston was all through the melee with the 90th, and says if there is any of the boys happier than he is to get home he'd like to see them. Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Smith are unusually happy these days. Their son, Carl Smith, who served in the 144th Hospital Corps, with the 36th Division, returned Saturday. He served in France during the hottest campaign that finally won the war, and The Enterprise congratulates him and his parents on his safe return.

Homer Christian is another of our Pecos boys who returned recently from France and is now at home on the farm north of town. Homer says he is glad to get back, you bet, and had enough excitement while in France to last a life time.

YOUNG MAN IS VICTIM OF RIVER

Jimmie Woods, 15 years of age, is the latest victim of the Pecos river, being drowned while in bathing with some other boys on the V-Staple range at a point known as the Rock House.

The boy had been engaged to wrangle horses at the round-up and with the chuck wagon had made camp at the Rock House Friday evening. After everything was attended to Woods and some other of the boys went in bathing, Woods wading in the shallow water, being unable to swim. Suddenly he stepped off into a hole twenty-four feet deep, according to witnesses. The water being very swift, it soon became evident to his watching companions that he was drowning, and futile attempts were made to rescue him. One of the boys caught hold of his hair but the struggle against the current was too much and he was forced to let go. This was the last time he was ever seen.

Sheriff Kiser, on the receipt of a message that the boy had not been recovered, left Pecos Saturday with a party of ten, supplying them with ropes and drags and after a systematic search that covered the river bed for ten miles, failed to recover the body.

A number of surmises as to why the body has not been found are rife, but Mr. Kiser is of the opinion that it became wedged in the rocks that fill the river at that point or is buried in the sand. His reason for the latter deduction is that while the hole in which the boy was drowned Friday was twenty-four feet deep, on Saturday registered but six feet in depth being filled in with sand.

The incident is to be deplored and sounds a warning of the treacherousness of the Pecos river during the rainy season.

The relatives of this young man have the deepest sympathy of the community.

VISIT OF FLYING CIRCUS TO PECOS IS DELAYED

The flying circus, composed of twelve DeHaviland planes, due to visit Pecos last week, was delayed and finally postponed until the end of June by a series of accidents which proved fatal to at least three of the aviators. Near Del Rio one of the planes caught fire in the air and went into a nose-spin, throwing the observer out and burning the pilot beyond recognition. Two other planes were damaged, injuring occupants, one reported as having died en route to the hospital.

Secretary Norwood of the chamber of commerce received a letter the first of this week from Lieut. Col. L. W. McIntosh, commanding the squadron, saying that Pecos will be visited the latter part of this month, but instead of twelve there will be but eight planes, and their stay will last four days.

Exact date will be wired later.

MATERIAL HERE FOR STANDARD RIG

Two carloads of huge timbers, sufficient for the erection of two derricks, were received this week, by a local lumber concern, and though the Enterprise could not ascertain to whom they belong, it is certain that they will be moved onto one of the many well sites in this vicinity and another deep test started.

FORMER MAYOR HERE ON VISIT.

E. C. Canon, attorney, and one-time mayor of Pecos City, surprised the natives by alighting from No. 25 Sunday. Mr. Canon resides at Waco, practicing law there, and looks as if the good people of that city have been treating him well. Judge Canon said he hatched up a little business excuse so he could make us this visit.

GRAVEL FROM REEVES FOR THE BANKHEAD HIGHWAY

The site of the the county's gravel pit in the vicinity of Saragosa is the scene of activity these days with a crew on hand at all hours loading the gravel that will be used in grading that section of the Bankhead National Highway that crosses the Monahans sands.

This stretch of road has been the bane of travelers for many years, and necessitated a detour of forty miles from the main route along the Texas and Pacific to avoid the inconvenience of traveling over it, and was the cause for the lack of interest exhibited in that section regarding good roads building, as the problem was thought to be unsolvable. Bankhead engineers have tackled the problem and with the aid of the fine gravel found in Reeves county will soon overcome all obstacles and by winter that stretch of road will be open to the tourist.

During the past week and this 50 cars of gravel were loaded out from the Reeves county pits and used on the highway. It is estimated that over one thousand in all will be used.

AIRCRAFT PROTECT MEXICAN BORDER

Residents along the Mexican border cannot but be relieved by the recent action of the war department ordering a mobilization of airplanes at vantage points to protect life and property should any reprisals be attempted on account of the Juarez incident.

Digging the holes out of the rocks with small doses of T. N. T. will do more to bring them to their senses than will any amount of tolerant argument.

DELIVERS STEERS TO ESPY BROS. AT FT. DAVIS

Jim Prewitt and Joe Billingslea were in Pecos the forepart of the week, coming in from the Duncan ranch in the Davis Mountains. They report that they have just finished gathering 250 head of steer yearlings from the Duncan range which were delivered to Joe Espy at Fort Davis. The consideration per head was confidential.

PECOS VISITED BY FINE RAIN LAST FRIDAY

One of the finest rains that visited Pecos and immediate vicinity in many a day fell last Friday afternoon. The rain, as far as could be learned was local, and while it rained but a short time the downpour was heavy and it left things bright and fresh.

The reports from the country indicate that rain would be very welcome, though not absolutely necessary just now. The country is in fine shape, farmers are expecting a bumper crop in all lines, with the possible exception of the fruit crop, and this lacks a whole lot of being a failure; merely damage, in some sections by hail.

This week ushered in the really first hot waves of the season in this section of the country, but while the days are hot, each night brings its cooling breezes from the east.

CHICAGO MAN HERE LOOKING OVER OIL SITUATION--WILL DEVELOP

Herbert C. Johnson, of Chicago, arrived in Pecos Tuesday, over the Santa Fe, and will spend several days here looking the situation over, and to gather, first hand, details regarding the oil development in this section.

Mr. Johnson, with other Chicago parties, own considerable acreage in Ward county. He has been a reader of the Enterprise for many years and the items concerning the Pecos oil fields has put him on edge. He informed the Enterprise that he will look the ground over thoroughly with a view to some definite action, intimating that if everything is favorable, Chicago capital can be interested in securing a deep test on the holdings in this vicinity.

Mr. Johnson is a pleasant gentleman to meet, and stated that this is his first visit to Pecos, and our little city impressed him very much.

BOOSTER TALK BY JUDGE STARLEY

Judge Starley left the latter part of last week for Wichita Falls, where on Saturday he addressed the representative people of that city at a meeting held to stimulate action on a proposed irrigation system for that section. Mr. Starley has made a specialty of irrigation law and is retained as attorney for the big Wichita Irrigation Project.

Judge Starley's speech, in substance, follows:

We today inaugurate a new stage of the development of our wonderful endowment. We have here a legacy of wealth in natural resources surpassing all other favored gifts of nature within my knowledge. Situated at an ideal elevation above sea level, with a climate and natural surroundings conducive to good health and vigor, with unlimited wealth of fertile soil, of pure running water, and natural drainage, and underlaid with a store of oil and gas, we have had placed in our hands the raw materials of health, wealth, happiness and progress. And we are charged with its preservation and development.

Each of us owe to our Creator, ourselves, our fellows, our country and those to follow us the duty of doing his part individually and collectively to preserve the endowment and develop it. He who labors to preserve nature's endowment and to develop this new material into the wealth of good health, of producing fields, of ideal communities and beautiful cities and to build the foundation of all—happy homes—fulfills a high mission and lives a useful life. As we have here this wonderful endowment and opportunity we may if we will build a model community of productive farms, of schools and of churches—and homes—and sitting in its center a large city. We will make of it a model of which Texas will be proud and one other less favored places will undertake to imitate.

The Wichita valley is well known for its resources and for the fact that it is most fortunate in having a progressive people. When the present plans of improvement and development are accomplished it will be conceded the first place among the State's progressive communities.

We will soon have a system of permanent good roads leading from the shadows of the cities' fast growing skyscrapers throughout a beautiful valley of irrigated farms aggregating over one hundred thousand acres, with good crops insured, with an ample reserve fund—five hundred thousand acre-feet of stored water. Oil and water don't mix—but it is a fact that water will be of greater permanent value in enhancing our property values than has oil. Your lands a few months ago had a value of $25 per acre. They are now worth many times as much because of the discovery of oil underlying them; and will be given a further and continually increasing value as agricultural land by reason of the construction of an irrigation system backed by ample storage. What that value will be I will not say, because the statement would seem extravagant. I know, however, such lands in California, far from the nation's centers of population, are worth as high as $1,500 per acre. I know that lands no better in Central Texas that often have too much water and often too little are worth $200 per acre. I know your lands with good drainage and stored water will be worth several times as much as that. I know that you will have here a model community, with good roads, fine railroad facilities, a city market at your door and others within a few hours distance. I know that this condition will create a lively demand for the farms which will add more to their value.

Able engineers assure us that this may be accomplished at a cost of $30 per acre for the irrigation system.

I estimate the individual farm charge to build ditches, borders, etc. will not exceed five dollars per acre. You will not feel this charge of $30 per acre, however, because you will have thirty years to pay it, at 5 per cent interest. You will pay it by paying not to exceed $1.50 per acre per annum and you will pay an additional charge of fifty or seventy-five cents per acre for the maintenance of the system and the delivery of the water. You will pay a total annual charge of $2 or $2.25 per acre, but that does not cost you anything, because you increase the returns on your farm products many times the cost. You say that sounds like a Eutopia—too extravagant a good thing to be true—but I assure you that it is the truth.

You already have all the elements of this wealth in fertile, well-drained farm lands and an ample supply of pure water. All you need is to build a dam to hold the water until you need it, and a canal to carry it to your farms. You could not do this by yourself, but by community cooperation you will do it. You have employed an engineer to determine its feasibility, practicability and cost—an engineer who is a specialist in such work—and you have employed an attorney to advise you how to organize and carry out the plans. Both assure you that you can do it, and what the result will be.

Back of this you have the assurance of Mr. J. A. Kemp, president of the organization, that he has spent much of his time and means for twenty years studying the matter, and that he knows it can be done.

Mr. Nat Henderson, secretary, and an able directorate of your successful citizens, gives you the same assurance.

It is said of these gentlemen who have been successful in building a wealthy, progressive city out of a struggling village, that they have never started an enterprise until they were sure they were right, and have always gone ahead to success—a good omen—and a good assurance that we will have the benefit of sound business judgment to guide us to success now in building here an ideal community which will increase our individual wealth and happiness—one of which Texas will be proud.

TRADES TRIP TO MIDDLE WEST

An invitation to the counties of West Texas to participate in the excursion to the middle West, displaying the resources of West Texas, is to The Enterprise, an opportunity that should not be passed up by Reeves county.

It is a plan by which a special Pullman exhibit car train will be assembled at some convenient point in West Texas. The train will be equipped to take care of from 150 to 200 business men and farmers of West Texas, a Pullman berth being provided for each. There will also be a buffet or club car. In addition to the Pullmans and club car, there will be attached to the train two agricultural exhibit cars and one car equipped as a miniature theater, in which will be shown motion pictures of the agricultural, livestock, mineral and industrial interests of West Texas.

Every county and every commercial organization in West Texas will be given an opportunity free of cost to furnish part of the agricultural and mineral exhibits, products from each county or locality being properly tagged as from said county or locality. Also each region of West Texas will be properly represented in the motion picture.

The itinerary of the excursion includes the principal cities of Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma. The party will be guests at practically every point along the route and second only to the importance of advertising this great section of Texas, will be the entertaining features of the trip. The trip will cost about $175 per person, and every chamber of commerce in West Texas will have an opportunity to send one or more representatives. The probable date of the trip will be September 3 to 24.

O. T. Norwood, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, has received literature relating to the proposed excursion, and when seen this week stated it was his opinion that much good will result from it, and that the matter would be placed before the members at the next meeting, Tuesday, July 1.

The move has the unqualified support of the Enterprise, and will be keenly disappointed if Reeves county is not represented in the excursion. An exhibit could be sent from this county surpassing any yet made up, and would include wheat, cotton, alfalfa, watermelons, cantaloupes, all kinds of fruits and vegetables, and a generous exhibit of the oil produced in the shallow wells of the county.

Another advantage would be to offset the disadvantage of the recent drought, during which West Texas was advertised as "poverty stricken" and in a condition that would take twenty years' time to recover from. The fact of the matter is that nearly all of the territory has recovered in the short space of a year, and an exhibit such as planned by the West Texas chamber of commerce will be an ocular demonstration of that fact.

LOOKING OVER TOYAH VALLEY

A. P. McCollum, from Runge, and W. L. Brown, from Jourdonton, arrived here the first of the week and left for the Toyah Valley on a prospecting trip. At this season the valley is in prosperous condition and there is no doubt that these gentlemen will be favorably impressed.

George said things were in fair shape up there and the one thing to make him happier than he now is would be a sixty-day rain. The condition of H. L. Grandma Newell and her granddaughter, Miss Ruth Newell, returned home Wednesday evening from a six-week visit with her sister at Cumby, Texas. Mrs. Newell made the trip in hopes that her health would be benefited by the change, and is delighted at the result, as she gained eleven pounds while gone. She reports an overabundance of rain in that section of the State, quite a great deal of illness among the people, and sums up by saying that Pecos looks good enough for her.

TAKE DAUGHTER TO EL PASO FOR MEDICAL TREATMENT Dr. and Mrs. Jim Camp left for El Paso Tuesday evening, taking their daughter Elizabeth with them where it is understood she will be placed in the hands of a specialist as she is suffering from an affection which will, in Dr. Camp's opinion, necessitate an operation. It is hoped by the many friends of the family that the little lady will be benefited by the treatment. Our little ladies made an earnest appeal for "water" last Friday and their prayer was answered by one of the finest rains to visit this section in many a day. It drowned out the rally scheduled at night, which was duly postponed one week. The City Market barbecues meats daily and can save the house wife a lot of worry. STILL ON
MAP, THANK YOU

No matter the resources, conditions or environments, a live citizenship is the main factor in keeping a town's name before the public, and a visit to Toyah the first of the week, impressed this fact upon the writer's mind very forcibly. If he expected to find inaction, deserted streets and business houses he was agreeably disappointed at the sight that greeted his arrival, even at an early morning hour. There was hustle and bustle

"FAKE" ASPIRIN WAS TALCUM

Therefore Insist Upon Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Millions of fraudulent Aspirin Tablets were sold by a Brooklyn manufacturer which later proved to be composed mainly of Talcum Powder. "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" the true, genuine, American made and American owned Tablets are marked with the safety "Bayer Cross." Ask for and then insist upon "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" and always buy them in the original Bayer package which contains proper directions and dosage. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

everywhere, and at the morning train a goodly number was on hand to welcome home some returning soldier boys. Rumor led to the belief that oil was uppermost in the minds of Toyah's people. Not so. Oil, with its dreams of wealth and luxury has taken second place to the National pastime—baseball. The folk over there have long since passed from the fan stage, and are now full-fledged bugs. They declare they have the best team in this neck of the woods, but don't know to which one the honor belongs, their first team or the scrubs. It's like this: The first team can leave the home pasture and put up an A1 brand of ball with any team along the route, but at home the scrubs take them to a clearing with religious regularity. Hard one to figure, isn't it? And just when you are about to figure the decision in favor of the lowly scrub-team you are reminded that they have no uniforms, which is some item in favor of the first team. At that, Toyah has a ball team that's out for the championship of West Texas or the Pecos team's scalp—they will be satisfied with either. Don't think from this that the oil boom isn't booming. It is. Everyone to whom this subject was broached expressed faith in the Toyah field eventually becoming the greatest oil field of Texas. That this faith is not assumed is evidenced by the keen interest manifested. Two El Paso concerns have moved there this week and simultaneously opened oil exchanges, one in the building west of the Owl Drug Store, the other in the Youngblood Building. The area of oil development is fast spreading to the territory west of Toyah, the latest project being a well by El Paso parties in the Tatum pasture near San Martine. This well, it is understood, is being drilled on the recommendation of an "oil wizard," who, with an instrument of his own invention, which it is claimed will locate the oil and its exact depth from the surface. At this spot, he claims the oil is 31 1/2 feet deep. W. M. Hopper, expert driller, will dig the well. Though many are dubious in this instance, the outcome of the test will be watched with keen interest. Baseball and oil, however, do not interfere with the town's regular businesses. "Business is fine," was the universal verdict when the query was put along this line, with the single exception of the deputy sheriff, Frank Seay. But he's not kicking, and said his time was being filled in nicely at present rustling beaves for the big barbecue. The "drouth" he said put the county's boarding-house out of business. The Owl Drug Store, opposite the depot, seemed to be doing a thriving business for such an early hour, but the rush was laid to force of habit—all must have their "morning's morning" kick of no kick, and the one cent added for war tax seemed to give some a chance to kick anyhow. So on, down the line; all were busy and seemingly happy and prosperous, even to "old friend" J. B. Young, notwithstanding the fact that Mrs. Y. monopolized the front end and waited on all the pretty girls while the males were his portion. At that he had only one kick, that being that he had missed The Enterprise for several weeks, but this item was patched up satisfactorily and once more the horizon was clear. On bidding him adieu, he murmured something about "Four violets," or it might have been roses—some kind of bottled flowers—but we didn't get it good. Young has a fine clean-cut stock in his establishment, and is doing nicely. At the Reeves County Mercantile Company, F. A. Bessire's general store, the signs showed that business is sure enough good, and that Toyah is still doing business at the same old stand. Her bank, the Citizens State, has a substantial amount on deposit, and its present condition shows plainly that the cattle industry in this section is prospering. H. A. Schrock, one of the pioneer settlers of Toyah, who now resides at El Paso, but still owns considerable interests in this section, is here this week, visiting friends and looking over his holdings. Will and Joe Frost arrived home Wednesday morning, and received a hearty welcome from the citizens. They have seen service in France, and were luckily assigned to the same outfit. They were driven to the ranch home north of Toyah where a warmer welcome awaited them. No citizen of these United States gave up their boys with greater pride than did Uncle Joe Preusser and his good wife. Equally true is it that we were happier than they at the arrival Tuesday of Ed Preusser, one of the sons that went through the thickest of the fighting in France. Ed brought his "tin lid" with him, and he will always prize it highly, for in it is a deep dent made by one of the fragments of a "sip soom" that would have meant taps for Eddie had the hat been elsewhere but on his head. A revival is now in progress at the Presbyterian church, Bro. Farley of El Paso, doing most of the preaching. Two services, one at ten a.m. and the other at night are being held daily. Ed Ray was in from the ranch Wednesday, going to Pecos on business in the afternoon.

REEVES COUNTY FARMERS MEET TO ORGANIZE

The committee of organization met Tuesday night with all members present. Mr. Verhalen made a report of his Dallas trip, where he attended the Cotton Exports Finance Corporation. Following the report there was a warm discussion as to what form of organization was best for our individual needs, and the vote when taken was unanimous for a County Farmers' Union. The committee will at once arrange dates for organization with the State Secretary of the Farmers' Union. Notice of these dates will be sent to bona fide farmers of Reeves county.

TWO DAYS OF BARBECUE
A. W. Hsieh was over from Toyah yesterday, accompanied by his son, Floyd. Hsieh says Toyah's barbecue will hold but two days instead of three as chronicled elsewhere in this issue—July fourth and fifth. The correction is gladly made.

Life looks bright to Mr. and Mrs. Gid Rowden at present. Their son, Albert, fresh from France arrived yesterday afternoon, and is with the home folk for a visit.

HAY AND WHEAT BEING SHIPPED FROM VALLEY
Train load shipments of Toyah Valley products are the order of the day. That country is experiencing one of the best years in its history at the present time, and with the possible exception of fruit, which was damaged slightly, there will be bumper crops in everything. Alfalfa, while king in the Toyah Valley, is by no means the limit of that fertile section's productiveness. Cotton is being raised on large scale, and this year finds the farmers taking a keen interest in raising wheat, one car of which was shipped from there on the 22nd instant. Later on the fruit, watermelons, cantaloupes and grapes will be ready for the market. Shipments of alfalfa noted recently are as follows: June 17, 10 cars; June 22, 14 cars; June 24, 13 cars. The hay is of the famous pea-green variety and finds a ready market in northern and eastern Texas. On the 24th Wright & Hayes loaded and shipped a car of horses, consigned to parties at Abilene.

EVERY DETAIL FOR BIG RALLY AND BARBECUE AT TOYAH COMPLETED

Those in charge of the big three-day celebration, to be held at Toyah July 3-5, are "resting on their oars," satisfied that no detail to make the affair the biggest thing ever pulled off in this neck of the woods has been overlooked. For three weeks the various committees have been at work, and every feature for the entertainment of the huge crowd will be provided, the main event being a barbecue in which the center attraction will be well-roasted beaves, goats and mutton.

As one of the men in charge of details said: "It's a good thing that Toledo is a long way from Toyah, or Willard and Dempsey would sure have some opposition on the Fourth of July. We are going to pull off some stunt, believe me, and if all Texas comes, we'll take care of them."

That's the way most of them feel about the matter, and Toyah's way of doing things on a large scale is a matter of common knowledge, and her hospitality is proverbial.

A dearth of good music is felt in this part of the country, and realizing this, the committee has secured the services of a band from El Paso, and lovers of good music (which includes nearly all of us) can enjoy this feature to the limit. For the benefit of the bugs and fans, baseball for all three days will be provided, and though the committee reports a scarcity of umpires, it will be open season on them, and you can kill as many as you wish. The Toyah team is practicing hard for the series and expect to at least make their opponents know they have had a ball game.

Where is the human that didn't enjoy watching the antics of nimble goats in the roping contests of past years? This institution, it seems, has come to form a part of these celebrations, and without it the affair would be incomplete. The country has been ransacked and a herd of wild and wooly goats will be on hand for roping contests, in which every cowboy in the country will compete, and a look at the herd now penned convinces the writer that they will have to swing their biggest loop to land their nanny.

A huge platform will be erected in the grove near the roundhouse, and dancing will be a continuous feature during the celebration.

Many in Pecos are arranging their affairs so as to be present at the big rally at least part of the time.

THE HUN AND THE TREATY OF PEACE

There was no apprehension on the part of the United States government that the treaty as presented to Germany would be signed by that nation. The final bluster and seeming refusal to accept the terms was expected, and to prove that no complications were anticipated, our boys were being returned and discharged as fast as practicable.

After the treaty, however, comes the question of disposing of kaiser Bill and his cohorts responsible for the carnage of blood and misery. He reclines in Holland and that country cannot see its way clear to give him up without conflicting with its constitutional law. That the kaiser should face a tribunal of "justice and not a mere institution of vengeance" is the opinion of London papers, and the Pall Mall Gazette, quoting the Bishop of Winchester along this line, says:

"Such a statement displays a grave misapprehension both of the aim and of the duty of the Allies in this regard. They are not in the least concerned to inflict upon the ex-kaiser a merely personal punishment. But they are bound to have it established that international morality can not be violated with impunity, and that international obligations can not be broken without adequate steps being taken to vindicate them. The remorseless abhorrence of all free men, and the inevitable verdict of history upon his offenses, might well suffice for the personal punishment of William Hohenzollern if only his personal punishment was required. But what is required is much more than that, and it can not be obtained unless he is brought publicly to the bar of international justice."

Anyway, Bill has something coming to him, and the allied nations will not be content to write the last chapter of war history until he gets it.

SOLDIER AND HIS PRE-WAR JOB
Strenuous efforts have and are being made all over the country to see that the returning soldiers—the heroes of yesterday, are not the hoboes of today, and those with the least spark of justice, to say nothing of patriotism, cannot but applaud the efforts of government along this line.

That success is crowning the move is evidenced by a communication from Arthur Woods, assistant secretary of war, to the Enterprise, which states that between 70 and 80 per cent of honorably discharged soldiers have returned to their pre-war jobs.

The communication also states that the war department has prepared beautiful citations that will be presented to employees and business men who have given discharged soldiers their old jobs, and requests that those who have done so make the fact known and receive the citation.

The Enterprise is aware that several employers in Pecos is entitled to these certificates, and should send for them. They are things of beauty, and will be appreciated.

A Way Out-The Best and Most Practicable

It is a fact that our citizens are anxious to have a city waterworks system, for many are now using private systems at considerable cost for installation and upkeep.

The city of Pecos cannot issue bonds to extend the present system, unless the present laws of the State are changed.

How are we going to get it, then?

Just simply by organizing a corporation of home people with a capital of say $20,000. After this stock is all in and a charter issued, the corporation can issue bonds in a similar sum which, in the opinion of many, will, taking into consideration the system as it now stands, give Pecos a system of waterworks for private and public use, that, from a monetary standpoint can hardly be measured.

To those who buy stock in the corporation it will work two ways: They will enjoy all the comforts sure to follow the installation of the system, and will receive dividends from the investment. It will only be a matter of a few years when the city will again be in shape to take over the system, if the corporation elects, and the stockholders, in such event, will get back, in dollars and cents, their original investment.

Two dollars per month for each water user is the maximum rate figured to make the thing a go. Several who are now connected with the city's main pay twice that much and do it cheerfully.

Can enough patriotic citizens be found to buy stock to the amount of $20,000—stock that gives returns and preserves the principal? When it is known that several years ago our people GAVE $15,000 to swing a doubtful soft water proposition, The Enterprise believes it can be done.

Can 200 water-users afford to pay $2 per month for water? Cheerfully.

The home-owner can afford to pipe and install the system, saving excess insurance rates and making his folk happy.

The rent-house owner, if he has any sense, will take advantage of the opportunity to enhance the rental value of his property.

BARSTOW PREPARING HEARTY WELCOME TO RETURNING SOLDIERS

The Fourth of July in the good year 1919, is going to be long remembered if plans of our good neighbors at Barstow don't miscarry, and you may be sure they will not, with one of the liveliest committees, aided by abetted by the good ladies, is on the job.

The day will have a double significance at Barstow. Not only will the anniversary of the independence of these United States be celebrated, but it is planned to celebrate the return of Ward county's heroes, who played a big part in the closing chapters of the world war on the Meuse River and in the Argonne Wood. The affair will be just an old-fashioned barbecue, six beeves and a supply of mutton being slated for the sacrifice of thanksgiving for the safe return of the soldier boys to their wives, mothers and sweethearts. Good fellowship will be the order of the day at this grand reunion, and Barstow, with open arms, sends forth the invitation: "Whoever will, may come, and help make merry." Music for the occasion will be secured, and those who desire may "trip the light fantastic" from morn till morn. There will be no let-up in the merry-making, understand that. The grounds at the court house, where the celebration will hold forth, under the shade of the stately cypress trees, will be in charge of the Red Cross ladies, who will serve ice cream. This, however, as all other items, will be free to the soldiers. Lemonade, great tubs of it, will be yours for the mere helping yourself. Proceeds of sales made by these good ladies will be applied to the cause of mercy they represent.

Most of the Ward county soldiers will be home by the Fourth of July, quite a number of them now being at Camp Bowie, from which point they will be discharged. The boys served with the 36th and 90th divisions, and so far as the writer knows, the county was one of the few who will leave none behind to sleep in France, notwithstanding the fact that the boys were in the thick of the fiercest fighting and contributed, in deeds, one of history's brightest pages. Ward county, our hats are off to you for the deeds of your sons—sons of West Texas. They, with others, proved that the stock that made Texas, first an independent republic, and later, even now, the greatest among free States, has not been spent. Everybody invited to take part in this great home-coming celebration and help Barstow welcome her sons.

BOLSHEVIST AND AMERICAN LABOR

Districts removed from the centers of population do not take much stock in the stuporous issues transpiring at the present time. Pecos, for instance, has no fear of the impending crisis, but nevertheless, isolated as we are, the influence will be felt. A note of optimism is being heard above the din, and labor, aware of the fact that it has been duped into mere disloyalty in many instances, is cutting loose from the influence of the Red element. That the laboring classes—those who are loyal Americans—are awake can be seen by the following denunciation in the Trade Unionist, Washington, D. C.:

"Bolshevism will not invade America, because there are too many people who have seen it first. It won't come here unless the vast preponderance of the people want it—in that event, if the nation goes mad and bites itself, we shall have it. That will not happen. "Bolshevism is antisocial—it is anarchy. "It is a menace to the organized labor movement. "The workers of America do not want it—and they must prevent it. "The antidote for the poisonous propaganda must come from an enlightened labor movement. That is the task of the American labor press."

From the Cleveland Citizen, as follows: "We are sane and must keep so and show the world that we are honorable and upright; that our faces are set against any and all schemes to belittle and set at naught the institutions and the established laws of our country. Those institutions make mistakes—grave ones sometimes. All human agencies do. "Those laws may seem unjust, but we have our inalienable right to vote. Let us not seem to show ourselves unworthy. We have striven hard to show that we are in no way allied to the cause of socialism. Let us show that we can not be railroaded into a thing like this. It had its inception outside our bounds; let it remain there. "All of which proves that the idea of the country going to the dogs is all wrong, and that ideals for which our sons died will maintain."

Final Effort to Awaken Citizens to Importance of Move

Rain prevented the holding of the mass-meeting called for last Friday night, and it was postponed one week.

To say anything more than has already been said on the subject is, to The Enterprise's way of thinking, superfluous. In the last issue practically every phase of the situation was covered, and the disadvantages of the present inadequate water supply was pointed out. The menace of a fire in which YOUR home may be blotted off the town map was pointed out. The danger of epidemics that may fasten upon YOUR loved ones and take them from you is eminent under conditions as they exist today, and the outlook for the future discloses even worse conditions, if such can be.

About the only evidence not included in last week's issue of The Enterprise was that of our local physicians. The omission, however, was intentional, as it would seem an insult to the intelligence of our readers to try to prove something they already know, namely: that the health of the people generally is endangered by existing conditions. With this knowledge before them, it is strange indeed that their cooperation is lacking to put over a project that will make Pecos a desirable place in which to live and the home life what it should be.

A waterworks system is the only solution for that greatest of all disease-breeding places—the open closet. A city like Pecos, with its reputation for progressiveness, should be ashamed of the fact that such a condition endures. Double should be that shame, in view of the fact that mains for sewerage system were laid several years ago, covering the greater portion of the city.

Strangers have been looking the town over the past week, trying to secure living rooms. One eastern man was complaining Sunday morning that he had paid $3 per day for a room and 75 cents for meals. He wanted to remain in Pecos for several days and felt that this price was exorbitant. Nothing will check the growth of a town quicker or kill it deader than the lack of good hotel accommodations or the charging of unreasonable rates. This is a problem for the chamber of commerce and if the above be found true, some action should be taken to better conditions along this line.

With any kind of an oil boom Pecos would be blown up so far as taking care of the public is concerned. This would be no bad time to advocate the erection of another hotel and good rent houses. A good rent house with home conveniences has always been hard to find in Pecos. They are always occupied at good rentals, sufficient to pay good and sufficient dividends on the investment.

Pecos needs a first class gas engine man who would come when needed. Such an one could be busy all the time and command his own salary. As it is it is the hardest matter to get one at all and never for several hours after you have either fixed the trouble yourself or lost enough time to have half paid for a new engine.

Pecos is certainly situated most favorably. A big barbecue on each side of us for the Fourth of July. Start in either direction and you will eventually wind up among a crowd of merry-makers. Which reminds The Enterprise that Pecos seems to have overlooked the item of welcoming her returned soldiers, or at least no such plans have been mentioned publicly. Our citizens made merry in wishing them godspeed, and surely the feeling then should be discounted by the emotions felt at their safe return. Then it was a feeling of pride; now it is one of thanksgiving. Won't somebody start something?

"Ain't Nature Wonderful?" A year ago and West Texas was advertised to the four corners of the earth as "poverty stricken," and as much in need of relief as sufferers in the Galveston and San Francisco disasters. Today it blossoms like the rose. All sections seem to have forgotten such a thing as a drouth existed; bumper crops will be garnered in the fall, and over a goodly portion hover a halo of liquid gold, that will forever defy want. The stockmen, too, have recovered much of their losses and the ones that hung on when the clouds were thickest will be amply repaid in another year such as 1919. And the world in general is smiling today. Real peace has come, and with it the mists that at times blurred the horizon will roll away; the term bolshevik will no longer be heard, labor unrests will be smoothed, and the new era will indeed be with us. You bet, it's sure wonderful.

About all that can be said anent the waterworks system for Pecos has been said. The time for argument is past. The thing must be settled at the meeting tonight, or at least so far advanced that the committee will have heart enough left to continue their work. Two conditions are before the people from which to choose: A water famine, possibly, or at least a supply insufficient for comfort or health—a condition that will ever be a menace and a drawback to community growth; the other is a system owned and controlled by you, that means health, comfort, and a volume of civic improvements that will make Pecos what it should be—the Best in the West. Folk, this is your business and not The Enterprise's nor any individual's. It's up to you!

METHODIST CHURCH

At the Methodist church Sunday morning at 10:50, and in the evening at 8:15, the Rev. Frank Seay of the Southern Methodist University of Dallas Texas, will preach. Mr. Seay is a strong and interesting preacher of power. Our church is fortunate in having him with us next Sunday. The Epworth League at 7:15 p. m., a good program arranged. The Junior League in the afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.

FORMER PECOS GIRL MARRIED

Pecos friends of Prof. and Mrs. F. F. Mace, this week received cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Winifred, to Mr. David Louis Thompson of Dallas, on June 5th. The family resided in Pecos for over a year, Mr. Mace being superintendent of schools here. Miss Winifred has many friends among the younger set of Pecos, who will congratulate her and wish a long, happy life.

MISSIONARY TEA

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met in social session Tuesday afternoon at the delightful home of Mrs. H. N. McKellar, Mrs. T. B. Pruett, Mrs. Tena Adams and Mrs. McKellar being the joint hostesses. An impromptu program of music by Mrs. C. J. Magee and Miss Ora Pruett, and readings by Mrs. O. T. Norwood was given. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

CATFISH, HUNT YOUR HOLES

There unloaded from No. 1 yesterday morning one of the most inveterate of Pecos River fishermen, and the only surprising thing to The Enterprise is how he remained away as long as he did, for it's a cinch the lure of 40-pound cats was strong in his breast and made his fingers itch more than once during the year or so he has been gone. "Dad" Baker is the man, and he's looking younger and as chic as you please. If any miss Uncles John Prewit and Jerry Ashworth during the next few days you'll find them in some nook on the Pecos with friend Dad as the third conspirator again the finny tribe that makes the Pecos famous.

Dad said he came on business, but if you ever watched him fish you'd know what he means.

REV. KNIGHT SAYS OPERATION ON CHILD IS SUCCESSFUL

Letters received by friends from Rev. W. A. Knight are to the effect that the operation performed on his daughter at Dallas is a success and that the specialists are of the opinion that the little lady will walk as well as other children when discharged. Bertha May, the daughter, has been a cripple for many years and her condition has been the cause of much anxiety to the parents. This good news will not only relieve them but will be welcomed by their friends in Pecos and other sections of the country.

WILL VISIT IN KENTUCKY

Mrs. A. D. Linton and little daughter, Martha, left last night for Fulton, Ky., for a visit with her parents and other relatives in those parts. She goes expecting to be gone three months, but A. D. says it will probably be a shorter time. He admitted to the editor that for the past twelve months he has brought up every argument under the sun to convince her that a lengthy visit would be hazardous to them both. The Enterprise hopes the mother and little lady may have a most delightful visit and that they will not allow the ardent appeals of A. D. to mar the pleasure of their visit in the least. A. D. is hard enough to handle even with his wife to watch him part of the time, and he will be worse with her away, but if Mrs. Linton will leave it to The Enterprise we will keep him reasonably straight if we have to put him in jail part of the time.

WILL ATTEND NORMAL SCHOOL IN COLORADO

Miss Sadie Collings left Monday evening, via Fort Worth, for Denver and Bowlder, Colorado. She expects to be gone six weeks during which time she will attend the State Normal and endeavor to keep cool while she studies.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Cole Baird and little daughters, Mary Joe and Betty, of Glendale; Mrs. J. C. Baird, Miss Mollie Baird, Mrs. Bythell C. Baird and little daughter, Barbara, and Mr. and Mrs. Jes May.—Pomona (Calif.) Progress.

Miss Helen Duncan was the delightful hostess Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock to a goodly number of her young friends at a 42 party. After a number of interesting games delicious refreshments of ice cold punch and cake were served.

A MOONLIGHT PICNIC

A moonlight picnic was enjoyed on Wednesday night at the Mitchell farm by the following young folk: Misses Mary Lee Richburg, Ollie Mae Murray, Annie Wright, Mabel Smith, and Caroline Glover; and Messrs. A HOUSE PARTY

A house party of four, Misses Irene Prewit, Aileen Love, Novella Wilson and Carrie Wadley, went to Porterville Wednesday and returned Thursday. They were the guests of Mrs. Will Meyers and reported a most delightful time.

BUNK PARTY

Miss Ora Pruett was the hostess Tuesday night at a bunk party. We met at her home at 8:30 p. m., went to the movies and afterwards to Miss Jane Looby's, where dancing, candy-making and various stunts were indulged in. At the late hour of one o'clock we proceeded to Mrs. A. G. Taggart's where inviting-looking beds were spread on the lawn. After carefully hiding all our wearing apparel we piled in, but not to sleep. Ghost tales, typical of bunk parties, and jokes kept us wide awake until far into the morning, when, finally, with a last unearthly scream, we closed our eyes to sleep the sleep of the weary and heavy-laden. Our slumbers were soon interrupted by a call for breakfast, and after a short spin in the cars we went to Mrs. Pruett's and ate a very enjoyable breakfast. Those surviving to tell the tale the morning after the night before were Misses Looby, Prewit, Love, Berry, Wilson, Murray, Wright, Wadley, Glover, and Ora Pruett.

When is a Truck Commercially Right?

More than 50,000 Republics ride upon the world's highways. They have proved by actual performance that the YELLOW CHASSIS TRUCK is commercially right. They have proved under practical conditions to be both unusually serviceable and very economical.

The benefit of this "50,000-Truck Experience" is offered with every Republic Truck made. No other truck has this experience behind it and it is this road experience which in the last resort proves the Republic's ability to serve so well.

GRAND REPRESENTATIVE

TOM L. BLANTON OF TEXAS

The following special from Washington is certainly evidence of the fact that Blanton's bunk has borne fruit, it, however, for only ornamental purposes; a kind of prickly pear fruit, as it were:

A few days ago Tom got on one of his economy rampages and pointed out wherein all kinds of kinfolk and deadheads were on the list. In all of which Tom is eminently correct. But about this time the fact was sprung to the effect that Tom, the Texas Toaster, had quite a list of his own kinfolk on the payroll. Tom went over to the republican league and played ball for awhile, and the noble bunch that represents Texas in the lower house took great umbrage and unanimously handed Tommy the marble heart of unrequited love. It is just a case of a bunch of burrs kicking each other around, and except for the amount of disgust and amazement it is calculated to produce is absolutely worthless.

The following telegram is just a little finale of the farce—that is, it is the finale to date:

Representative Blanton of Texas was again in the limelight in the house today when he arose to a point of personal privilege to answer an article which appeared in the Washington Post today.

The article quoted Representative Stevenson of South Carolina as saying that Mr. Blanton's tendency to nepotism continued a monopoly which would justify proceedings under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Blanton said that only three of his sons had been on the half payroll.

Representative Carter, democrat, of Oklahoma, asked Mr. Blanton how many sons he had and he said four.

"Do you mean to say that you have one son not on the federal payroll?" Carter asked.

The chamber rocked with laughter, Blanton also denied he was guilty of nepotism, and when Representative Rayburn of Bonham attempted to ask him if his actions would not constitute nepotism if done in Texas, Blanton would not yield to the question.

Riled by the hot shots from Representatives Stevenson of South Carolina, Blanton accused Stevenson of an incorrect statement of his mileage, "That is not true, and if you make the statement I will hold you personally accountable," Stevenson said.

Blanton advanced a step or two toward Stevenson, and members began to get on their feet, but Blanton went no farther.

The Washington Times editorially bitterly criticized Blanton's actions on this occasion.

Blanton was out of harmony with all members of the Texas delegation when he voted with the Republicans for an immediate merchant marine hearing.

MRS. JIM KING HOLDS OPEN HOUSE TO KIDDIES

Mrs. Jim King was hostess to a bevy of young misses on Monday afternoon from four until six o'clock, honoring Miss Edna Moran, who celebrated her tenth birthday.

Needless to say the children enjoyed themselves to the limit, engaging in various games, creating appetites whereby full justice was done to the delicious refreshments of cake and punch that were served.

The honoree received many tokens of appreciation, coupled with good wishes for many returns of this happy occasion.

Those who attended this delightful party were Floy Vickers, Mary and Vivian Wilson, Lucile and Nora Slack, Josie and Letha Prewitt, Mary Macee, Virgie and Myrtle Cowan, Callie DeRacy, Beatrice Sims, Winnie Duncan, Edith, Della May, and Helen Hudson, Mamie and Ada Merle Moran; J. Mrs. R. E. Miller and daughter, Corrinne, left Monday for Long Beach, Calif., where she will spend the summer with relatives. Mrs. Miller, during the winter suffered a stroke of paralysis, which for a while threatened serious consequences, but has finally recovered sufficiently to make this trip, which her friends know will do her good and hope for a complete recovery to health and strength.

ELMER WADLEY SAYS HE'S UNLUCKY RANCHER

Elmer Wadley was a visitor in Pecos for a few hours Monday, looking cheerful and happy which, however, is characteristic of Elmer. When asked how things were at his Salt Draw ranch he said: "Dry as a bone—but cattle and stock are doing fine. We had enough rain to start things growing, but have not had near as much as has been reported in other sections."

Clem Calhoun arrived in Pecos the first of the week, deciding to locate here and practice law.

Mr. Calhoun, before joining the army, was principal of schools at Toyah, and has many friends there who will be glad to hear of his return to this section.

Entering the service as a private, Mr. Calhoun was soon promoted to a lieutenancy. He is a hard worker and ambitious, and his friends wish him success in this new field of endeavor.

He is already comfortably located in offices in the Syndicate building, where he will be glad to meet his old friends.

BACK TO PECOS FOR REST.

Bill McDermott, who for the past two years has been employed in the office department of the Midland Brass Works at Fort Worth, came home Sunday for a much-needed rest and visit to his parents.

Bill is looking drawn from a recent siege of typhoid fever, and says he will probably remain here all summer. Bill is a fine young man and he has the right idea in coming here for his recovery, for the air and climate of this section is a panacea for all ills.

IMPROVING FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN WRECK

R. P. Hicks returned to Pecos Monday afternoon after a visit to his son, Troy, at Fort Worth. Mr. Hicks states his son is improving rapidly from injuries received in the wreck near Ranger two weeks ago. The most serious injury was to the boy's foot, which was crushed between some woodwork and splinters driven into it. Luckily, no bones were broken and with the removal of the splinters only a short time will be needed to make him all right again.

Mr. Hicks was impressed with the flourishing condition of the country east of here.

COOKE LOCATES IN FT. WORTH

A. G. Wilm, employed in the office department of the Pecos Mercantile Company, returned Monday from Fort Worth, where he accompanied Clay Cooke recently. Mr. Wilm is a brother of Mrs. Clay Cooke. He said he left Cooke comfortably settled in the big city, where he will engage in the practice of law.

Attorney Cooke is a good lawyer and a hard fighter for the interests of his clients, and Pecos friends trust he may have as liberal a practice in Fort Worth as he enjoyed in this section of the country.

Mr. A. H. Schock of Hall county, is demonstrating what irrigation means to that section. A pumping plant costing $7,000 is taking care of 150 acres planted to a variety of crops, mainly for feeding purposes. It may be well to suggest that a $7000 plant and 150 acres under irrigation on every farm are not necessary to render Western Texas safer. If handled for half its possibilities, the right man could hardly be starved out on ten acres under irrigation, where the land is as good as most of it in Hale county.

New Voiles Silks and White Goods at Bessire's Store, Toyah.—(Advertisement.) 43-3t

In Guadalupe Valley recently, judging by the straw and the stand, the writer began to guess a few wheat fields as high as 40 bushels per acre. But more careful examination of the heads showed that they were not long enough or heavy enough to make it. The trouble might be in the seed. We should say there is plenty of lime in the soil. Probably 150 to 200 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre would make the heads larger and heavier, increasing the yield far beyond the cost of the dope, which is the cheapest constituent of a complete fertilizer. Will not some one in the valley try it on an acre or two next season, and report results?

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

ANOTHER SLAP AT OUR AMERICAN WOMANKIND

A bill has been introduced into congress to adopt the "Liberty calendar." This would give thirteen months instead of twelve, all 28 days each, with New Year's day extra and not counted as a week day. The weeks would each contain only six days instead of seven, and Monday would always be the 1st, 8th, 15th and 22nd. If adopted there would be no necessity for printed calendars, as every one would know the day of the month by the day of the week. Why not adopt it?

The above is the latest freak from the brain of a dreamy legislator. When the ladies awake to the fact that the calendar year proposed eliminates leap year with its sacred privilege that women may propose to the mates of their fancy, the Enterprise has a hunch the gentleman will get a rude awakening. Timid bachelors may take up arms, too.

DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW RECEIVES KNOCKOUT

After October, one more pastime will be denied the American people, that of running the hands of their clock backward and forward at stated intervals.

The plan was adopted as a war measure, to speed the production of foodstuffs and war material during the summer months, but, like everything else, had its friends and its enemies, but the Enterprise feels that its repeal will cause no serious flurry to one side or the other.

The Beauty of Truth

"Beauty is truth; truth beauty.
That is all ye know on earth
And all ye need to know."

So says John Keats, in his "Ode to a Grecian Urn."

Beauty lies in the natural—the simple—the real. Artificiality is not art—it is the grossest betrayal of an artistic ideal to strain and extend and elaborate it beyond nature.
