

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL CONTINUES; TO CLOSE NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT

The revival which began in the Presbyterian church and moved to the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. Trigg A. Thomas, D. D. from Kansas City, Mo. and Mr. W. G. W. W. from Birmingham, Ala., accomplished great good in Pecos. The gospel and spiritual preaching of Evangelist Thomas and the stirring songs of singer Warrimire have touched the lives of numbers and turned them toward Christ. There have been many decisions for Christ and the church and better life during the revival, and the spiritual life of the entire community has been greatly quickened. The prayer and fellowship movements have touched the entire city in a marvelous way. All business places have been closed for the day services and many men as well as women have been attending the meetings and especially for them. The Win-Club composed of the young people of Pecos have done mighty things for the spiritual life of many. Great interest is being taken in this Club, and it is growing in numbers each meeting. Friday morning Dr. Thomas will preach on "The Fellow Who Got Married"; Saturday night on "The Unpardonable Sin."

Three Great Meetings Sunday
At 11 a. m. "God's Unspeakable Gift." At 4 p. m. "The Meanness of Pecos." All men and boys only cordially invited. Sunday night Dr. Thomas will give his great sermon on "The Value of the Soul" as a closing service of the big revival. Services held by the Methodist church, and the evening hour will be 8 o'clock.

Monday night the Win-One-Club will enjoy a watermelon feast, the date to be announced later. These evening services will mean much to our hearts, homes, town and the glory of God; then may we all come with prayer in our hearts and praise on our lips, and the blessing shall be ours and the glory of God's—

LOCAL OIL NEWS

The Trans-Pecos Oil Company was successful Saturday in pulling eleven joints of 12 inch casing that collapsed in their six weeks ago. Numerous tools were used during that time without success. On several occasions it was almost decided to drop the rig, abandon the hole and lose the rig. However, not discouraged by repeated failures, B. J. O'Reilly secured the services of Nick Graham, a driller of many years experience in the oil fields of this and other states, who rigged up a device which will pull 12 1-2 inch casing and with the assistance of heavy hydraulic jacks, lift the casing and brought it out. The horsepower gasoline engine at this well worked perfectly since installed and water troubles have been eliminated. There is a fine showing in the well and in the course of a few hundred feet more nothing of interest should materialize. The Trans-Pecos well is situated on section block 34, Ward county, about one mile from the Soda Lake well of the Arpits Company.

A. G. Trees, secretary of the Texas Syndicate, is in Pecos to take charge operations in the field. Trees has just returned from a trip to El Paso and Fort Worth, where he purchased a new light string of tools for their operations that they are going to drill shades or China, and the Enterprise states in him as he is a hustler and is backed by all with whom he comes in contact. A well is being drilled at beyond 800 feet and is in fine shape, having had a showing of oil and gas, which satisfies the company that they will get a well within the next three hundred feet. There are also making arrangements to drill well No. 2 on their holdings in Anson county. This location is on a well structure and is attracting the attention of many companies, and has a very bright future.

Fire Department

A meeting of the Pecos volunteer fire department on Tuesday, the 14th of September, members elected to membership organization: B. H. Hubbs, Lawson Center, Lawson. Guards: Warren, H. Murray. (Hudson). Tackles: G. Ross, Bryan. Ends: Wheat, Caroline. Backs: Rahlen, half. Mounts, half. Cowan, quarter. B. Ross, full. Substitutes: Camp, Hudson, Ross, Krauskopf, Todd and Moran. Football is a new game in the West-Texas high schools and it is the interest of school patrons to turn out tomorrow and encourage the locals in their first game of the season.

CHICAGAN INSPECTS PECOS OIL PROPERTIES

Benjamin L. Getman of Chicago was a pleasant visitor at the Enterprise office the forepart of the week. Mr. Getman was on his way to California on account of his health and stopped off in Pecos to investigate his holdings in the Pecos oil fields. He has quite a lot of acreage—some on the Dixieland anticline, which he visited. Mr. Getman says leases and acreage in the Pecos oil field finds a ready market in Chicago at the present time and that he has many others in his home town have the utmost faith in the Pecos field and firmly believes it will soon be one of the greatest proven oil fields in the country.

ON SECOND THOUGHT

Toyah Basin Oil News.
BERNARD GETTING BETTER.
The mother and daughter of Ernest Bernard, who were called to his bedside in Hotel Dieu, in El Paso, last week, returned to Toyah on the noon train and report that he is well on his way to recovery. Miss Bernard says that the cause of the anxiety at the time she and her grandmother were called to El Paso was a fear that Mr. Bernard was developing pneumonia as one of the results of a bruised lung. Happily the sick man passed that crisis and has so far recovered that his mother and daughter have returned home convinced that he will be with them in the reasonably near future.

There is an unconfirmed rumor current in Toyah that the difficulties of various sorts with which the Tom Owens well has been beset during the past few months have been adjusted and that work on both Owens wells on section 2, block 91, and on section 16, school block 92, will be resumed within a very short time.

OUT FOR THE COIN.

W. B. Collins and A. B. Tinnin left for Seymour, Texas, this afternoon to compete for the prizes offered by the chamber of commerce of that city to those who excel in roping and riding in the carnival of cowboy sports which will be staged in that city Thursday and Friday of this week. Messrs. Collins and Tinnin will join George Daniel and G. Porter Fancher in Seymour, they having proceeded to that point immediately following the tournament held in Midland last week.

IN THE FIELD.

C. W. Waddington has sent a team and wagon to the Magnet well on section 14, block 59, to be used to haul water for use in the boiler and in the camp kitchen. Owing to continued rains trucks are useless over the muddy roads in the vicinity of the well.

The Lubbock-Pecos well, a deep test being made on section 16, school block 72, Reeves county, had reached a depth of 65 feet, Tuesday night. This well is a new hole as the hole first started went bad and a removal of the rig was forced. Frank Pylant is the driller.

A new rig has been moved to section 15, school block 59, Reeves county, by the Q. C. Drilling Company, where a battery of wells will be drilled for J. E. Quaid and associates.

CLOUDBURST NORTH OF TOWN.

The northern and northwestern sections of the city have been under water for the past 24 hours following a cloudburst over the high ground in the vicinity of the Cargill ranch. Mr. Cargill said that morning that a tub in the yard at the home ranch, well away from where it could be affected by cave drip, had more than eight inches of water in it after the passage of the storm cloud, though it was empty when the rain began to fall. The dike built along the northwest line of the city for the purpose of turning storm waters into the T. and P. reservoir is broken in a number of places and permitted the flood to invade the best residential section of the city. Cellars are filled and the streets are almost impassable for anything but horse-drawn vehicles.

BROUGHT BACK THE MONEY

W. B. Collins, A. B. Tinnin and A. B. Cooksey returned from Seymour, this morning. George Daniel and G. Porter Fancher are expected to return from the same city tomorrow morning. The Toyah men covered themselves with glory as participants in the cowboy sports staged in Seymour last week and brought back an aggregate of $405.00 in the form of prize money captured, as follows:

Ad. Iddings won first prize, $25.00, for goat roping the first day of the meet and A. B. Cooksey won second, $10.00. The second day W. B. Collins won second, $10.00 at goat roping and A. B. Tinnin won third, $5.00. A. B. Cooksey won first,

NEW DEEP TEST TO BE PUT DOWN SOON

Arch Bell, son of Ira J. Bell, who has been on an extended trip in the north at Chicago and other points, is expected to return this week and will immediately start work in locating a deep test well in subdivision 6. A new rotary rig has been purchased for the work and it is expected that drilling operations will start at an early date.

$100.00 for the best average at goat roping; Ad. Iddings won second, $50 and W. B. Collins, third, $15.00

At steer roping, George Daniel won first, $25.00, the first day and A. B. Tinnin won second, $10.00. The second day A. B. Cooksey won $50.00 for the best average and A. B. Tinnin had to split second with another roper giving him but $5.00. Mr. Cooksey also won a pair of boots.

At horse racing George Daniel's Rocky won one, bringing his owner $50.00 and A. B. Tinnin's Paint won another, netting his owner the same amount.

Mrs. J. C. Frayrar, wife of the agent of the Texas & Pacific at this point, has returned from a visit with friends and relatives at Buckner, Ark.

GOING TO SUL-ROSS

Miss Elmore Ohndler will leave tomorrow for Alpine, Texas, where she will enter Sul-Ross normal. Miss Chandler holds a certificate to teach in the public schools of the state but she desires to increase her knowledge of pedagogy through a year in attendance at the newest and most up-to-date of the normal schools of Texas.

SAYINGS OF SOLOMON

Communities, like individuals, should put their first foot foremost. The philosophy which found expression in Carlyle's "Sartor Resartus" (the tailor retailed) the philosophy of good clothes, is as applicable to cities and towns as to men and women. Even Shakespeare was not unkindly of the value of a "good front." In "Hamlet" "The Immortal Bard" makes Polonius say to his son who is about to leave the parental roofree or whatever they had in those days, after advising him to put money in his purse and to dress well; "Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy; neat but not gaudy; for the apparel oft proclaims the man." So with cities the outward appearance is, oftener than not, an index to the character of the men and women making up the population.

Verily I say unto you, be not deceived by the wails of the unfit, the improvident, or the incompetent who are in the habit of pitying themselves and who are prone to attribute their failures in everything they undertake to the dishonesty of business partners or associates or the extravagance or unfaithfulness of a wife or the waywardness of a son or daughter. Beware of the man who spends his time making alibis for himself. Nothing ever happened to anybody to which he did not in some degree contribute and the earlier in life that truth is brought home to you the better it will be for you.

Spend no time listening to the man who insists that the human race is going to the demitition bow-wows. He speaketh not the truth. There are more honest men and more virtuous women in the world today than there ever were and the proportion is increasing every day. Time was, perhaps, in the "good old days" maybe when men were honest and women virtuous through fear. Not so now. With the increased use of the bath tub and the tooth brush has come an increased self respect to human atoms and many men who would be worse are deterred from following their natural bent by a desire to stand well with themselves as well as with their neighbors. At that, if it is true, that a man or woman is kept from treading the primrose path of dalliance through mere fear let us rejoice and be glad that there was some influence to keep them straight. In the meantime remember the divine injunction regarding the mote in thy neighbor's eye while there is a beam in thine own. In other words, watch your step.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETINGS

The American Legion meets every Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in their rooms over the First Nat'l. Bank building. All visiting Legionnaires welcomed.

BELL WELL MAKING 10 BARRELS PER DAY

The Bell No. 1 discovery well of the Pecos field is still flowing a good ratio of oil and is estimated to be making about ten barrels a day. However it has been discovered that the output has been flowing by heads and the ratio of oil and water varies from day to day. When the measurements were taken before they were taken from an elbow in the pipe that connects the pump with the tank. Later a test was made from the tank and it was found that there was not as much oil as it had been supposed. It is a surety now that the water has been shut off and in the opinion of competent oil men it only remains a question of time until the well will be throwing pure oil back into the tank. It is believed that three more weeks will be required to get all the water out.

Evidence of much gas has been shown by the action of the pump; when the gas flow is strong the valve refuse to work freely and nothing much comes up but water but when the gas lets loose the oil comes out by heads and is almost pure lube.

Interest hinges around the final outcome of this well and the oil enthusiasts all seem confident that it will again make a real well in a short time.

While the Bell company has been centering its efforts with the No. 1 well it has also been busy with the other two tests and the drill has been pushed down carefully to avoid the troubles experienced with the original well. The other two tests are expected to come in before long.

NEW HOTEL TO OPEN IN PECOS BY OCTOBER

L. E. Cash was in El Paso this week purchasing furniture and paraphernalia for The New Hotel upstairs west of the Leader Cash.

Mr. Cash says he has purchased only the very best of everything and that those who sleep in his beds will find no better in the El Paso Del Norte or anywhere else. This new rooming house is fitted with electric lights, rooms with private baths and baths for all other rooms together with free lavatories and toilets where you do not have to drop a nickel in the slot to get in.

The New Hotel has thirty rooms so Mr. Cash informs the Enterprise and will be modern in every respect and will be open to the public about October 1st. The rates will be reasonable and Mr. Cash assures the Enterprise that with the cooperation of our home people he will corral and hold over night all those who have been passing our city up for better accommodations.

"Toyah Lube"

The Enterprise has received complimentary a gallon jug of "Toyah Lube" from Jess Knight of the Panhandle Power Company of Toyah, and is testing it out on the several fine machines in the Enterprise office. The editor used this same "Lube" for several years on his job presses while in Toyah as it came from the well. He is now trying the refined product and firmly believe it will come up to the standard of the best lubricating oils. He believes it strong enough that he has purchased two more gallons for the same purpose and when it is possible to get the home product which is as good or better and at a lower price, the Enterprise will certainly patronize home industry.

DECISION RENDERED ON RED BLUFF DAM

F. W. Dent, exhibit manager for the El Paso Military Carnival to be held in October was in Pecos this week. He extended an invitation for Pecos farmers to enter exhibits at the Carnival from this territory.

Mr. Dent is also connected with the reclamation service of the United States and attended to some irrigation matters in connection with that service while here. He stated that the New Mexico attorney had rendered a decision refusing the filing of a site for the power plant made on the Red Bluff dam reservoir. The attorney stated that all legal difficulties for the government filing on the site had been removed and a request has been made by the Attorney General of Texas for the grant but nothing has been heard of it as yet.

TOYAH PASTURES NEED MORE CATTLE

There is more than mere madness or desire to bring revenue to Toyah, in the seemingly frantic efforts of the Toyah Basin Chamber of Commerce to advertise to the cattle raisers of the southwest that there is grass enough on the ranges tributary to this city on which to pasture and make fit for market, from 20,000 to 25,000 head of cattle in excess of the number now being pastured.

Conservative cattlemen, members of the Toyah Basin Chamber of Commerce, hold to the opinion that fully twice as many cattle as indicated by the secretary of the organization in his correspondence with outside cattle raisers and chambers of commerce in cattle growing sections.

However, taking the smaller number as a basis of computation it will be admitted that if 25,000 animals, which if not pastured at Toyah or somewhere else where there is an abundance of grass, would be sold as canners at four cents a pound, can be made to gain in flesh from 150 to 200 pounds each, the food supply of the country will be augmented by millions of pounds and the cattle raiser will be benefitted not only by the greater weight of his animals but by the greater price he will be able to command for the beef into which they may be converted.

In the condition in which the herds of less favored regions now are and the necessity with which many growers find themselves confronted with regard to keeping themselves afloat, financially, thousands not to say ten of thousands of cows which should be kept for breeding purposes, are being sold as canners at prices which will not begin to cover the cost of raising. This works a present and a prospective hardship on the cattlemen involved. They also lose money on the cattle they sell and have no cows left with which to restock their ranges.

If these cattle could be pastured for three or four months on the lush grass of the Toyah ranches they would put on from 150 to 200 pounds of flesh, each, and if 25,000 of them are so pastured would add between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 pounds of beef to the food supply of the country and of the world.

The Chamber of Commerce has taken up the matter with the manager of the Federal Reserve System (11th district) at Dallas and with the branch bank of that system at El Paso, with a view toward making them acquainted with conditions and with the hope that they will come to the relief of the cattle growers of the southwest and make it unnecessary that they should make the sacrifices they are now being compelled to make.

To permit the luxuriant growth of feed which covers the grazing districts of Reeves and Culberson counties go to waste while there are so many cattle, in less favored sections of the cattle raising sections of the southwest being sacrificed and their owners ruined financially, would be an economic wrong which it is not believed the men who have it in their power to avert will sanction when their attention is directed toward it.—Toyah Basin Oil News.

BIG SHIPMENTS CANTELOUPES

Crated canteloupes by the carload have been going out of Pecos the last few weeks and are demanding the highest market price. The soil seems to be particularly adapted to this crop and the valley farmers are reaping a rich harvest now.

PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION ARE PERFECTED BY LEGION

After several meetings of the Central Committee in charge of the American Legion Armistice Day Celebration and a general meeting of the local post of the Legion on Wednesday evening, plans for the two day celebration, November 11th and 12th, have been completed. Arrangements have been made for a football game between Pecos High School and Midland College on the morning of the 11th; and a big barbecue at noon, followed by a real Wild West rodeo in the afternoon. On the second day there will be a base ball game between the Army and Navy teams in the morning, and the wind-up of the rodeo in the afternoon. At night on both days the American Legion Carnival will hold forth, and Pecos people are promised a real opportunity for plenty of innocent amusement.

The Pecos Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the plan of a big celebration for Armistice Day, and the Legion has called on the businessmen of Pecos for assistance in handling the barbecue. The remainder of the program will be handled entirely by the Legion men, with the exception of the Rodeo, which is under the direction of Albert Cooksey but will be backed to the limit by the Legion.

Arrangements for the barbecue have been placed in the hands of three committees: a "Beef and Barbecue Committee" conducted by Sid Cowan, H. T. Collier and Sid Kyle; a "Serving Committee" conducted by Mrs. B. R. Stine, Mrs. J. W. Moore, and Mrs. Tom McClure; and a "Finance Committee" presided over by S. C. Vaughan, Walter Browning and O. T. Norwood. The Finance Committee is to raise funds for the barbecue only. The expense of the remainder of the celebration will be borne by the Legion.

Plans for getting a good band here for the entertainment are under way and if materialized some real music is assured.

GRID-WARRIORS ARE PREPARED FOR ENEMY

After going through a grueling two weeks of hard practice the Pecos High School eleven are ready for the game with Fort Stockton here tomorrow.

Coach Davenport sent his men through a hard scrimmage last night and has grounded up their weak points until he believes them in perfect condition.

Twenty-five men have been answering the call for football players and the eleven who will line up against Fort Stockton tomorrow at two-thirty o'clock are the pick of his grid-warriors. Although having but two weeks in which to get in trim for the game the men have been working hard and it is believed that they will bring home the bacon.

Coach Davenport is an old Washington Lee varsity man and also played with a Missouri squad several seasons and it is evident that he will turn out an enthusiastic bunch of pigskin chasers.

The men who will line up against Fort Stockton tomorrow are:

Center: Lawson.
Guards: Warren, H. Murray. (Hudson).
Tackles: G. Ross, Bryan.
Ends: Wheat, Caroline.
Backs: Rahlen, half. Mounts, half. Cowan, quarter. B. Ross, full. Substitutes: Camp, Hudson, Ross, Krauskopf, Todd and Moran. Football is a new game in the West-Texas high schools and it is the interest of school patrons to turn out tomorrow and encourage the locals in their first game of the season.

Uncle John Prewitt returned Saturday from California where he spent the summer. His friends say he looks several years younger than when he went away and he is now and reports a most enjoyable trip.

LEGISLATURE WILL MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION TUESDAY

The legislature is called to convene in special session at 11 o'clock September 21, by Governor Hobby.

Governor Hobby stated he had called the legislature to give consideration to the subject of reorganizing the general election November 2, 1920, to prescribe limitations for voters; to prevent discrimination among voters in the exercise of their franchise; and to consider and act upon such other matters as may hereafter be presented.

Governor Hobby said in a statement accompanying the proclamation:

"I shall urge the legislature to pass a law giving all those who have not paid poll taxes fifteen days in which to pay a fee, or tax, equal to the poll tax which those voters who have previously qualified, have paid.

"I shall further urge that all funds derived by the state from the collection of such fees shall go to the available school funds. Under this plan all voters will vote in the November election on an equal basis.

"I accept the attorney general's interpretation of the nineteenth amendment as applying to general elections in Texas.

"Therefore, I convene legislature because in my judgment it is a great emergency, one which can be dealt with only by immediate action on the part of the state's legislative authority.

"Without legislative action, opportunity is afforded for fraudulent voting, and the possibility of such a thing should be avoided by statute."

About 750,000 persons in Texas have qualified themselves to vote in the November election by paying the poll tax, and at least 2,500,000 persons are of voting age in the state, under the attorney general's construction of the nineteenth amendment.

All will be permitted to vote regardless of whether they have paid a poll tax. The governor contends that should be avoided because it is unfair.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Theford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. ALWAYS ASK FOR THEFORD'S.

Valuable Potash Is Believed Found In Well at Pecos

What is believed to be valuable deposits of potash, the substance used in many articles and which forms one of the principal ingredients of gunpowder, have been found in the Pecos valley, southwest Texas, in the well of the Toyah Bell-Oil Company, about five miles from the Bell discovery well, according to L. M. White, Texas manager of the company, who has just returned from the field.

The potash was found in a salt bed deposit at about 785 feet from the top of the well. The formation was 265 feet deep. Samples of the potash have been sent to the University of Arizona for examination and testing.

Mr. White was unable to say what would be done in case it was found the samples tested rich in potash. Such a find would, it is believed, be extremely valuable. Potash is mined by the circulation of boiling water through the formation. The water is then drawn to the surface and evaporated, the potash remaining.

Mr. White stated that E. D. McMahon, who is connected with the Toyah-Bell companies, has closed a contract for 80 acres of leases on proven stuff in the Sledge pool, Warren county, Kentucky.—Texas Oil Gazette.

THE PRESS MOST INFLUENCES OPINION AND ACTION

The newspapers reach into every home. Their voices are heard in every hour. Much that they print is chaff, or unimportant, and goes to waste, and may be worth no better end. But with the multitude of journals, which utter not only the thoughts of the editors but also the myriad of facts and testimony upon which intelligent people form conclusions and act, newspapers are the chief source of information and education in current matters.

The director of the school of journalism at one of the greatest, live universities in America—Talcott Williams of Columbia—says that this presidential campaign will be won by the circulation of newspapers and not by the circulation of money.

"The newspaper furnishes," he said, "the only universal reading of the many. The newspaper no longer waits on men or on parties. Two journalists are today the candidates for president, named by the two parties which divide the destiny of the republic.

"The newspaper man's new duty is to foresee the future and its issues, and to prepare the public for them."

"The business of a newspaper, he said, "is to be able to unravel financial riddles; to know where the facts can be obtained; to appreciate their influence upon public opinion and to guide public opinion into wise channels by being wiser than the opinion of the many."

None of them may always be wiser than the many. But take them as a whole they are looked to and used by the people more than are books and campaign speeches. The absorption of information from editorials, advertisements, news and reports of current conditions has increasing effect. The intelligent public discards much, accepts much.—Albuquerque Journal

Welcome Everybody

West Texans are cordially invited to come to El Paso during the week of the exposition and military carnival early in October and bring their families with them. Here is a fine opportunity to get acquainted with El Paso and find out what a real town is like.

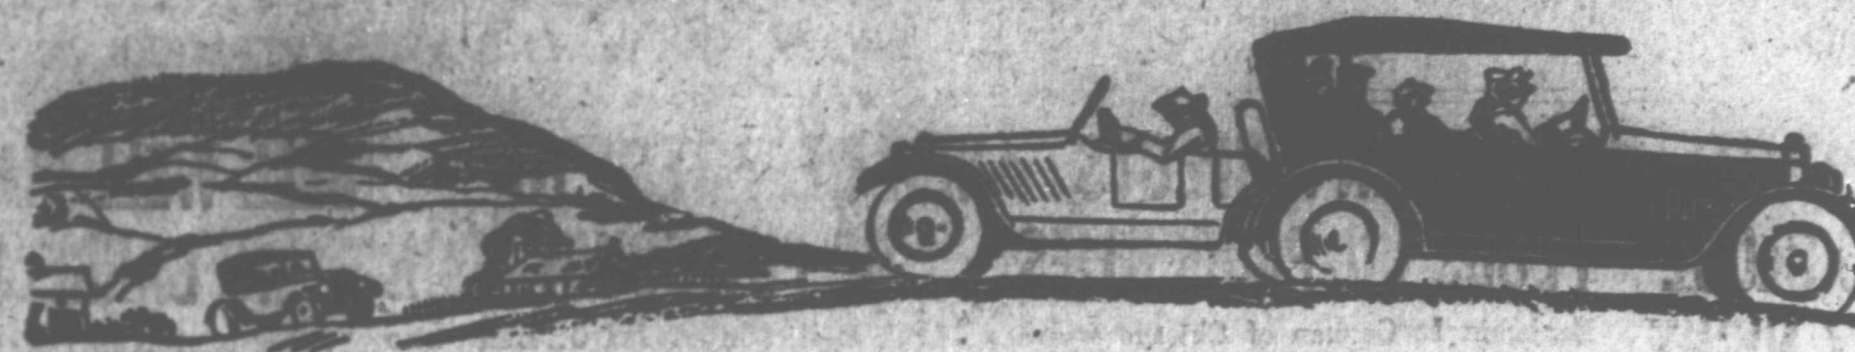

There'll never come a better chance to put on exhibit here some of the things West Texas produces. Let Toyah and Pecos bring on samples of their oil, that the world may know what it's like. Let the farmers show their best livestock, for the grass has had a chance during the past year. There are lots of things grown in West Texas that a lot of people in El Paso don't know about. Here's an opportunity to see who's got the best cotton.

The West Texas chamber of commerce will make no mistake in having an exhibit here, for it is a large and representative body and can work hand in hand with El Paso. There'll be nothing little and stingy about this show that's coming off here. It's for everybody and everybody else.—El Paso Herald.

Cotton Seed Prices

Range from $20 to $26

Cotton seed is now selling at prices ranging from $20 to $26.50 a ton, wagon loads, at the mills at different points in Texas, according to figures issued by the United States Bureau of Markets. The only reason for the difference in price at various points is the variation in supply and demand, according to officials of the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers' Association. As a general condition the mills do not buy the seed by the wagon load, purchasing it usually in earload lots from the gins, to which the farmers sell it. Mills in North Texas have not begun operation on a large scale yet, owing to the lateness of the crop and the delay from the rains, it is believed.

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representative of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

SARAGOSA NEWS

Wynn Hamilton, assistant superintendent of Sol Mayer Farms, has gone to San Angelo for a week's visit.

T. P. Tucker and W. L. Connally went to El Paso last week to secure some Mexican laborers to pick cotton.

Miss Mary Holbert, an employe of the Western Union at El Paso, was here Friday visiting her parents. She left Saturday for Fort Worth, having been transferred to that office.

Last Monday afternoon Harold Forbess had his hand quite severely injured while working at the well of the Saragosa waterworks. A piece of pipe fell, striking him on the hand. He went to Pecos and Dr. Bryan dressed the injured member, finding no broken bones. He said with proper care the hand would be all right within a week or so.

Mrs. R. L. Baker is visiting Mrs. Beauchamp in Pecos this week.

Fred Holbert left Monday for El Paso, where he will join the navy.

Albert Forbess of Colorado, formerly in the garage business here but now representing the Moline Tractor Company, is here visiting Harold Forbess.

The drill bit for the El Paso-Saragosa oil well, after much delay, has arrived and it is presumed work will commence immediately.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC gives regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Proprietors, Groves, 200 Broadway, New York.

LIFT CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

Doesn't hurt! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off.

When Frezzone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never again tender or irritated.

Farmers Should Know Grades of Hides—
Can Market Them to Better Advantage

There is no magic formula for simplifying distribution. Improvement in methods can only come from careful study of the routes followed by each kind or class of commodity in its "long, long trail" from producer to consumer.

This fact is recognized by every student of present economic processes and likewise has been taken into account in the studies of marketing problems carried on by the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture. One of these specific problems which the department's specialists have studied and regarding which they offer definite recommendations that involve a real saving to consumer and producer, has to do with the marketing of hides, a by-product from which almost every farmer can derive profit if he will give it proper attention.

The first need in the present situation is familiarity on the part of the producer of country hides with the recognized grades and classes of hides and skins. Such an understanding will enable him to prepare and dispose of his products much more intelligently and profitably. But even if he should produce the best quality of hides and skins, the small producer is at a disadvantage compared with large producers like the packers, for example, because the latter handle large quantities of hides and sort and grade them according to the demands of various tanners. The extremely scattered sources and the comparatively small individual production of country hides and skins makes it impossible for country producers to sort and classify their product in marketable lots.

Nevertheless, many features of the present methods of marketing country hides can be improved since these methods support expensive nonessential profit-absorbing intermediaries which operate, possibly unintentionally but inevitably, to suppress this branch of the industry and to discourage the quality of workmanship displayed. Three principal methods of marketing domestic hides and skins prevail at present, as shown by studies made by the Bureau of Markets. The one in which the farmer, ranchman, and local butcher usually participates is needlessly complex and costly. The hides which any one of these individuals has to sell are usually disposed of either to a junk dealer or a local buyer. These men, in turn, sell to a traveling buyer. The latter passes on his goods to the large hide dealer, and this dealer sells to a broker or a tanner's buyer, from whom the collected skins are finally disposed of to a tannery. Thus there is maintained a long, circuitous distribution system that adds needlessly to the final cost.

Contrast this system with the direct methods which the packers are able to employ. Each packer having a large assortment of hides is able to grade and classify his output so that he can dispose of it advantageously to a hide broker or a tanner's buyer direct. From these men the hides go direct to the tanner. Thus various intermediate agencies and their profits are eliminated.

So simple a distribution system is, of course, impossible for the small producer. However, experience has shown that the farmer and ranchman and the local butcher in dispense with the junk dealer and the traveling buyer, and in some cases, with the local dealers as intermediaries in the distribution system. When the producers negotiate directly with the large hide dealer, the latter sorts and classifies the hides and is in a position to share with the producer a part of the saving which the simpler method makes possible. At the same time a lowering of prices for the final product will be the tendency, since distribution cost will be less. The use of a local dealer as intermediary between the producer and the large hide dealer in some cases is advisable, since he is in position to handle sorting and classifying.

Either of these simpler methods suggested for the producer of country hides—going direct to the large dealer or through a local dealer—approaches more nearly the packer's method and represents a decided improvement over methods now prevailing. Such consignment marketing, however, presupposes mutual confidence and fair dealing by both producer and dealer and, unfortunately, this does not always exist. Another obstacle to the establishment of the packer's method is the producer's preference for ready cash. Many producers prefer to accept any price obtainable from local buyers, such as general stores, produce

THE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, headache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend? John DeRacy, Pecos, gave the following statement October 28, 1915: "I was troubled for a long time with my kidneys. My back was weak and lame and hurt me a dull constant ache. I was tired and had dizzy spells and headaches. Black spots often seemed to float before my eyes. I was also bothered with my kidneys acting irregularly. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. I got some at the Pecos Drug Store, and it only took two boxes to cure me. I haven't been bothered since."

LASTING RESULTS.
April 7, 1919, Mrs. DeRacy said: "I needed Doan's Kidney Pills since I recommended them in 1915 for the cure they gave me has lasted. I have been in good health."

at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

dealers, junk collectors and traveling hide buyers rather than consign their products to distant car-lot dealers in central markets. The place that traveling buyers or agents occupy in an improved system of distribution is a matter on which one can be less specific, since opinions of the trade differ as to the practicability of traveling hide buyers or agents of large hide dealers.

Already country producers of hides are coming to see the saving that results from the simpler system briefly indicated here and are making contracts with large dealers in whom they have confidence and who in turn see that it is the part of good business to respect and foster this confidence. Farmers and others interested in putting this important side line on a more profitable basis are invited to communicate with the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, which will supply them with full information regarding the best methods of marketing hides, as well as instructions for proper skinning and curing.

Sends Greeting to the Cotton Men in Session

Edwin T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, sent the following greeting to the members of the American Cotton Association at their meeting in Columbia, S. C., recently:

"I send greetings to the officials and members of the American Cotton Association, farmers and business men, gathered at your meeting in Columbia today. Southern farmers deserve great credit for the faith, courage, and energy with which they have maintained crop production with a short labor supply, an unusually late spring, high costs of production, and economic pressure to reduce prices of farm products. I urge upon the farmers of the South a continuation of their program of safe and sane farming.

"This involves production of sufficient food and feed to make the farmers of the South self-sustaining, the growing of more legumes and practice of crop rotations to maintain soil fertility, increased production of pure-bred and high grade live stock, the growing of cotton as a surplus cash crop, better farm management and use of better farm machinery and equipment, to the end that production shall be more efficient and economic; and improved methods of storage, handling, and marketing of cotton and other crops, to the end that agriculture in the South may be permanently profitable. In all this work the American Cotton Association and the farmers of the South may count upon the hearty co-operation of the United States department of agriculture."

HEAVY RAINS GIVE TOYAH BOUNTIFUL PASTURE LAND

Toyah, Texas, Sept. 23—Recent heavy rains have caused such a luxuriant growth of grasses, weeds and other forms of forage on the hundreds of square miles of range tributary to this city that ranchmen are trying to secure cattle for pasture. It is estimated that from 20,000 to 25,000 head of cattle, in addition to those now on the ranches will be needed to make use of the immense crop of forage now covering the surface of the earth in this vicinity. The growth of "filaree" is particularly heavy and will furnish abundant pasturage for many months. The Chamber of Commerce of Toyah has appealed to the Chambers of Commerce of New Mexico and the Panhandle of Texas to acquaint the cattlemen of their respective section with the fact that pasturage may be had at Toyah and to urge them if in need of pasturage to write the secretary of the Toyah organization. About 3,500 head of cattle principally from the Panhandle already have been shipped to Toyah pastures to be wintered.

THE MORTGAGE

I had a mortgage years ago, on my pretentious home; and worry and its brother, Woe, were camped upon my dome. I couldn't keep a smile on straight, but oftentimes I wept; I tasted mortgage when I ate; and dreamed it when I slept. It spoiled for me the Sabbath day, when I sat in my pew; the choir, in singing, seemed to say, "when mortgages are due." It cast its shadow on my door, and like a raven croaked; it took the zest from every chore, and spoiled the week I smoked. They took away my House of Pride, by means of writ and sic; and since then its been occupied by one who's idly rich. And he is welcome to it all, stone steps and tufted floor, he's welcome to the stately hall and varnished cellar door. I have a cabin of my own in which I chirp all day, and do not owe a single bone to any human jay. No mortgage flaps against the pane when winds are blowing keen; no mortgage makes me pause again when I'd buy gasoline. Oh, better in a culvert dwell, and owe no man a red, than vainly try to be a swell, with mortgage overhead.—Walt Mason.

Low-Cost Mileage—in Goodyear Tires for Small Cars

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower rate of cost.

Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is fully apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to very cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they are built to deliver exceptional mileage at low cost and consistently do so.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, Dort or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires—for true Goodyear mileage, value, economy.

GOOD YEAR

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared for The Enterprise by the First National Bank in St. Louis.

The flow of imports from Europe is showing a continued, steady increase. Our total imports for the month of July amounted to $537,170,000, which compares with $43,746,000 for July of last year. The increase in imports was not from Europe alone, although Europe contributed the major portion. Imports from all the other Grand Divisions with the exception of Africa show an increase. In July, 1919, Europe sent us goods and commodities to the value of $58,640,000, whereas in July of this year she sent $118,864,000 worth of merchandise, the increase in value being practically double that of the previous year. Practically all the principal countries of Europe contributed to this increase.

For the first seven months of the present year, in comparison with the same period of the previous year, our imports from England increased from $118,000,000 to $355,000,000; imports from France, from $46,000,000 to $202,000,000; imports from Italy, from $15,000,000 to $51,000,000; Greece and Spain being the only countries that did not contribute materially to the growing volume of imports flowing from Europe to America. The increase in imports from practically all the Grand Divisions is considerable. From the other nations of North America during July we imported $193,923,000 of merchandise, which contrasts with $100,327,000 for July of last year. This gain resulted almost entirely from our trade with Cuba, the increase in sugar importations being primarily responsible. Our importations from South America during July of this year totaled $72,720,000, which compared with $56,303,000 for July, 1919. Importations from Asia during July total $124,618,000, compared with $108,736,000 for the same month of last year. Our trade with the Orient, particularly China and Japan, was very heavy during the first few months of this year; however, recently there has been a change. Imports from China during July of this year were less than last year, and those from Japan about the same as those for July, 1919.

DUTY OF SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS

The Solid South along with the rest of the country, and the Southern Democrats along with other Americans, have greatly profited by the wise and able Democratic administration of the last eight years.

The Democrats are drawing their money from the body of the people. They cannot use some and will not use others of the methods of raising money adopted by the Republicans.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is carrying a full page ad in the Herald. The money could not be spent to a better advantage to that town if getting Big Spring in the eyes of the public is desired.

West Texas now shows just how she suffered from the three years drouth that spread over that section a few years ago. West Texas has had her natural growth as has other sections. In many places now when the census figures are announced, these small towns and in many cases counties, show a decrease in population within the past ten-year period.

The Echo was never more correct. When the census was taken ten years ago West Texas was filled with four and eight sectioners who took up state school land. The drouth came and continued and most of these sold out to the cattlemen and left the country. Many of them are returning and many others are here developing the great oil fields.

Senator Harding, who is being sponsored by the Republicans for the next President of the United States, has declared against the business of the South. In so many words, Senator Harding says, "Do away with the Federal Banks, do away with government aid to drouth sufferers, do away with Federal aid to the cattlemen and the sheepmen and the cotton raiser."

It appears that when a fellow gets away the game. It is the same with politics. Ballgates made such a noise during the recent campaign that the Enterprise had begun to believe he had a good chance of winning. Now the Texas republicans are spreading the he-cow all over the country trying to make believe they will elect a republican governor.

WHEN GOV. COX WAS PRINTERS DEVIL

J. E. Black, who was working on the Middleton Signal when "Jimmie" Cox entered on his newspaper career in 1887, tells this story to the Springfield (Mo.) Leader: Cox was put to work and as usual with a "devil" was given all the hardest jobs and was the butt of ridicule by his fellow workers.

ONE BURDEN THE CITY HAS TO BEAR

Times certainly have changed and the boys have changed with them. Twenty years ago a boy was willing to spend a year, sometimes three learning a trade. Do you see them doing that now? Not much. A lad strikes you today, for a job, and if you suggest that he work for a week or a month for "experience" he'll give you a laugh.

There isn't a business in Fairview today that isn't yearning for one of the old-fashioned boys who will treat his elders with politeness and take an interest in his work beyond waiting for the clock to mark up quitting time.

LET ME HAVE THESE RICHES

When my legs grow weary at the end of the road and I stop to rest in the shadows till the break of eternity's morn, I want to leave great wealth behind. Silver and gold? Ah! No! To others wiser in the ways of the world such gifts must go.

glittering with a real and a serving citizens. What some have done there is much satisfaction in farming our own land. There is much pleasure in beautifying the home grounds, planting orchards and making substantial improvements. This is worth more than the hardships and the difficulties one may have in paying for a farm.—Texas Farm and Ranch.

TENANTS BUYING HOMES

There has never been a better time to buy and pay for homes than the present. It is quite true that land is higher now than it has ever been. Will it ever be cheaper? That question cannot be answered. It is safe to say that it is worth more now than it has ever been.

Suffice it to say that tenants have nothing to gain in waiting for cheaper farms. While everything proportionately higher than prices farmers get for their products, it is a fact, nevertheless, that crops and animals are bringing higher prices than when lands were cheaper.

AN ORDINANCE

To Amend Chapter XVIII of the Revised Ordinances of the Town of Pecos City, Texas, of 1920, Relating to Delinquent Taxes and the Method and Manner of Proceeding to Enforce Collection of same.

Article 1. That in enforcing collection of delinquent taxes, due and owing to the Town of Pecos City, or hereafter to become due and owing to said city, the attorney representing said city, may, in his discretion, in filing and prosecuting any suit for the collection of delinquent taxes, bring an ordinary suit for such taxes and to foreclose the lien of the city upon property subject to such delinquent taxes; and in such suits it shall not be necessary for all or any of the laws of the statute of Texas to be followed or obeyed, which relate to delinquent taxes, or to delinquent tax suits, except that the defendant shall be cited in the manner required by the laws of the State of Texas; provided, however, if the attorney representing said city, elects to do so, he may follow the requirements of the laws of the State of Texas relating to delinquent taxes and delinquent tax suits in so far as the same are applicable in tax suits by a city incorporated under the general laws of this State.

Old Timer Visits Here
 Capt. J. T. Tucker, now of Pecos, but for many, many years a citizen of Merkel and Taylor county, was here this week to look after the splendid farming interest he maintains in the Mulberry Canyon community, and to incidentally meet and shake hands with his numerous friends.
 Capt. Tucker, who is not only a pioneer in Taylor county, but a native Texan, who came to Taylor county and settled in the Mulberry Canyon in the year of 1879, forty-one years ago. Long before the T. and P. built out of Fort Worth even. During the days of populist political popularity he represented Taylor and three adjacent counties in the Texas legislature.
 Although a man 75 years of age, the captain is in fine health and is able to go about as he pleases.—Merkel Mail.

MARY (WILLIS) TUDOR.
 Our community has again saddened when the news was spread Monday morning that Mrs. Chas. Tudor was dead. She had been ill for about ten days and confined to her bed for a week, but her condition was not thought to be dangerous until a few minutes prior to her death.
 Mary Willis was born near Richmond, Madison County, Kentucky, April 3, 1874. She was married to Chas. W. Tudor November 22, 1893. Mr. Tudor came to Pecos in the latter part of the year 1895, and Mrs. Tudor arrived in February, 1896. Since that date they have had their home in Pecos. David K. Tudor, the only surviving child, was born soon after the arrival here, and has grown to manhood in Pecos.
 Early in life she made a confession of her faith in Christ and became obedient to Him. She was a charter member of the Church of Christ, in Pecos, and up to the time of her death was active in all the affairs of the church, faithful and true. She was a good Christian woman, than which no higher tribute can be paid. She was also a member of the Eastern Star lodge and of the Merry Wives club.
 Awaiting the coming of two sisters from the east, the funeral services were not held until Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted at the Church of Christ by her pastor, Homer L. Magee. The large number of friends present, together with the many and beautiful floral offerings gave evidence of the esteem in which she was held.
 A loving wife, mother, and sister; a faithful friend, a congenial neighbor, has gone to take her place in that "mysterious realm" of the dead. But thanks to "God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ," the dead shall hear his voice and live. Let us look to that day of final victory, and be ready to join in the victor's song.

JOHN MOORE.
 Uncle John Moore, who has been feeble in mind and body for many months, quietly closed his eyes in the last sleep, Saturday morning, at the Orient Hotel. So far as is known he had no blood relatives living. His only uncle was killed in the battle of Winchester, Va. He was born in West Virginia, (the exact date not known) and served during the war in the Confederate army. After the war he came to Texas. He was found by the roadside sick, by Mr. Winan, grandfather of Mrs. R. S. Johnson, taken into the home and cared for. Since that time, or for about fifty-five years, he has made his home with some of the family. He had been with Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Johnson since 1882. When a young man he made a confession of faith in Christ and lived a quiet, peaceful life to the end.
 Funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson, Sunday, September 19, at 9 a. m., conducted by Homer L. Magee, and the body was laid away in Fairview.

EVA MAY HAYES.
 Little Eva May Hayes, age three years, one month and one day, died at her home at 12 o'clock Friday, September 17, following the accident that morning at 9 o'clock, when she was accidentally struck by a car. She was the second little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hayes. She was beautiful and much-beloved, not only by her parents and sisters, but by all who came in contact with her, for she was amiable and light-hearted, radiating sunshine all about her—a little angel lent to earth for just a season.
 The funeral services were held at the home Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Teague, Baptist pastor of Toyah. Burial was made at Fairview cemetery immediately after amid a large concourse of sorrowing and sympathizing friends of the family. There were many floral offerings, mute testimony of love. The bereaved have the deepest sympathy of the entire community. The following beautiful lines seem most appropriate at this occasion:

Little footsteps soft and gentle
 How we'd love to hear their trample,
 As we heard in days of yore,
 Tiny feet that traveled lightly
 In this weary world of woe.
 Now she sleeps beneath the grass and daisies
 In dreamless perfect peace.
 Sweetly the angels carol
 Tidings from the loved one far.

And will be our guardian star
 Little footsteps now will journey
 In the world of sin no more,
 Never they'll press the sand banks lightly
 Mother weep not, father grieve not,
 Try to smooth your trouble o'er,
 And think of her as sleeping;
 Not as dead, but gone before.

CLYDE CALVIN
 Calvin Clyde, little three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hart of Toyah died Friday night at the home of Tom's sister Mr. and Mrs. Will Cowan in Pecos after an illness of several days of throat trouble. Calvin Clyde was a bright chubby little fellow and his death is much regretted. This is the third baby that Mr. and Mrs. Hart have lost.

The blow is a severe one and the bereaved parents have the deepest sympathy of their many friends in which the Enterprise joins. The little body was carried to Toyah Friday afternoon and there laid to rest by loved ones and sympathizing friends.

The little nine months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Noling returned to the God who gave it life on Tuesday and the body was laid to rest that afternoon in Fairview cemetery. The precious darling was not allowed to remain here to be contaminated by sin and the soul was returned to its maker as pure as when it came. The bereaved have the heartfelt sympathy of all.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
 Whereas, it has pleased God in his Wisdom to call from this home to the home above, the beloved wife of our brother, D. J. Moran.

Therefore, be it resolved by Pecos Lodge No. 388 Knights of Pythias, that we tender to brother Moran, and the surviving children, our heartfelt sympathy; and ask them in their sorrow to remember that "As Sunset Veiled in Night is off, the Beginning of a New Born Day" so is this parting here below, only the beginning of that reunion above, there to dwell with God Forever More.

Be it further resolved:—
 That we furnish a copy of these resolutions to brother Moran, one to the family of Mr. Hart, her father; one to the Pecos Enterprise to publish and that a copy be spread on the minute book of Pecos Lodge No. 388, Knights of Pythias.
 Respectfully submitted,
 V. O. Haris

DEPORTATION OR DEATH SOON AS TROOPS LEAVE IS ALLEGED FRAME-UP

The following Associated Press dispatch from Austin under date of September 22, will give an idea of the situation at Galveston as seen by Governor Hobby:
 Threats have been made to the effect that when troops have been withdrawn from Galveston workers now on duty there would be run out of town or killed, said Governor Hobby today in a message to the Legislature. He continued:
 "That this result would obtain is the belief of well informed people who are on the ground. I would not have entertained even the thought of removing the troops without providing means of protection in place of the troops. This means has been temporarily provided by an agreement between the city authorities of Galveston and a committee of Galveston citizens and myself.
 "In submitting for your information the circumstances and conditions necessitating the sending of troops to Galveston, I would say that the question is whether the best interest of the State should be served or whether that interest should be subordinated to a local controversy. Any issue with respect to labor organizations or open shop organization is not involved and I stand ready to protect either or both within the law so long as that protection is not incompatible with the public welfare, but all must obey the law. The channels of trade effecting the life and business of Texas and affecting the living conditions and the occupation of all the people must be kept open and I shall exert the full limit of the State's power to accomplish that purpose.

PECOS MAN TO WED
 The announcement of the coming marriage of Donald S. Bell, son of Ira J. Bell and wife of this city, to Miss Helen Fischer of St. Louis, Mo., was received this week.
 The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents in St. Louis and will be attended by relatives from here. The couple will spend their honeymoon in the South after which they will return to Pecos to make their future home.

COTTON PALACE AT THE INTERNATIONAL SHOW AT EL PASO

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 23.—A "Cotton Palace", the first in the West, is to be a feature of the International Exposition and Military Carnival to be staged at El Paso, October 4 to 9. The palace, erected entirely of cotton and showing the products of the cotton fields of the Rio Grande valley around El Paso, is to be erected adjoining Liberty Hall, around which the exposition will center. This is the first year that much cotton has been grown in the El Paso valley. Seven gins will be operated this year to care for the crop. Last year one gin cared for it all.

The exposition is to consist of an exhibition of the things people out in this vast empire produce with their hands and hearts and brains, so that everybody may know more about what the other fellow is doing and more about how what he is doing sizes up with the other things around him.

There is to be a military carnival, which will show the marvelous work the 8,000 men at Fort Bliss have been doing under the skillful care and guidance of General Robert L. Howze and other officers.

From the far, palm-lined shores of the Mexican Pacific will come contributions to this exposition and carnival. Besides the things Mexico has to offer the world will be shown the products of the mountain lands of northern New Mexico and Arizona, where snows rest eternally on the highest hills. There will be oil from the plateaus of Texas and cotton from the valley of the Rio Grande, made fertile by the recent construction of the $10,000,000 Elephant Butte irrigation project. From the shops and factories of El Paso will come the handwork of labor and the finished dreams of managers. And from the mines of New Mexico, Arizona and Mexico will come the metals and the chemicals the marts of the world are crying for.

To see these things that men and women have made with cunning, careful hands great men will travel many hundreds of miles and be guests. For convenience the exposition is to be in El Paso, for like a gentle bond, this city unites the two republics and is to house the celebration. But as a matter of fact, it is as much Mexico's celebration as it is America's, and it is to be as much Arizona's as it is New Mexico's, and it is as much the party of the whole Southwest as it is of El Paso.

Newspaper editors from all over the Southwest are expected to be here and will be extended special courtesies. The retailers of the Southwest will be here and will have their railroad fares refunded according to the amount they purchase from El Paso jobbers. And everybody else, whether they buy or not, will be welcomed to see the exposition and the biggest military carnival ever staged in America.

As special guests big men from both republics are expected to be here. There will be several generals of the United States army. There will be governors of states. Invitations have been sent to the governors of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. Governor W. P. Hobby of Texas has already said he would be here. There will be governors from states in Mexico. Provisional President Adolfo de la Huerta has wired that he would either come or send a big cabinet officer to represent him.

All of the big exhibits will center around Liberty Hall, which is part of the mammoth court house building in El Paso, one of the finest buildings in America, architecturally. The exhibits will be those of manufacturers, jobbers, retailers, miners and farmers of both countries. There will be scores of amusements, including carnivals, shows and the big military performance at Fort Bliss.

Arrangements will be made so that getting to Juarez will be easy for everybody. The big exposition is to last five days, and every day promises to be full of interest and enjoyment from start to finish.

Red Cross Junior Roll Call Begins When School Opens

Practical service, not money, will be the basis of membership in the junior organization of the American Red Cross, according to an announcement made yesterday at Southwestern division headquarters of the Red Cross in St. Louis, which sets the date of the fourth junior roll call as beginning with the opening of school and ending on Thanksgiving day, when the adult roll call closes. Under the new scheme it is expected to enroll every child of school age in the division, which comprises Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

No membership dues will be asked of the juniors, nor will they be solicited for funds, but instead must give a pledge of practical and useful personal service when called upon. The plan provides that each school room subscribe to Junior News, the junior publication, at a cost of 45 cents a year. All pupils in the room then become automatically members of the Red Cross if they agree to give service. The service consists of making toys for war orphans in the devastated areas abroad, establishing beds in hospitals for children and in general extending a practical helping hand to playmates less fortunately situated in their respective communities.

U. S. Is Faced by a Grave Shortage of Competent Nurses

With an alarming shortage of competent trained nurses in the country, the American Red Cross has launched an intensive effort to recruit young women for the nursing profession, according to an announcement yesterday at the southwestern division of the Red Cross, with headquarters in St. Louis. A grave situation would instantly arise at any time should a serious epidemic strike the country or any large sectional area. In the event of an outbreak similar to the recent influenza epidemics, the nursing personnel would be inadequate to meet the demands for nurses and the public health would be menaced, it was declared.

The Red Cross will work in close cooperation with the three largest nursing associations of the country in the campaign to turn out more trained nurses and every inducement will be offered eligible young women.

Large numbers of girls have left the nursing vocation and have entered other professions or have gone into business. The training schools for nurses are getting less and less pupils and this, it is said by Red Cross officials, is due to a misconception that the life of a nurse is one of hardship or drudgery. Steps will be taken to remove this conception and portray the opportunities of the nurse in the true light, it was announced.

An Age-Old Swindle

During the last few weeks the newspapers have had much to say of a "get-rich-quick" scheme that has just come to grief. The methods that were employed were identical with those of many earlier bubbles, not one of which ever failed to bring ruin to throngs of innocent and credulous victims. They differed only in the pretended basis of the scheme. The "financier" in question professed to have discovered a way of making immense profits by dealing in foreign exchange, and pretended to be willing to share those profits with anyone who would invest money to him. He promised a definite profit of 50 per cent on the notes he gave in return for the "loans."

The basis was plausible. It is a fact that the funds and currencies of many European governments are very cheap just now. Should those governments and their people recover their financial stability, pounds sterling, francs, marks and lire will ultimately be worth much more in American dollars than they are now. Those who buy now and can wait, for years perhaps, will make money. What made the scheme successful until the exposure and collapse were these conditions: a bold, plausible and unscrupulous leader; a pretended plan of speculation that was too intricate for any expert to understand thoroughly; and a large number of men and women ignorant of business, easily deluded and hopeful of getting something for nothing. Whether the leader in the scheme bought any exchange is immaterial. He certainly could not so use more than a fraction of the millions he received. By carrying out his promises to early investors he drew in more victims, whose money he used to redeem his early promises.

Exposure does not put a stop to such swindles. When the latest one is forgotten the next will find plenty of victims among the men and women who are greedy to get something for nothing and who are nothing and who are ignorant of the laws of finance. You cannot persuade such persons that they are trusting to promises that cannot possibly be kept. The repeated success in the early stages of the same swindle is due to the constantly replenished crop of men and women predestined by greed and ignorance to be victims.—Youth's Companion.

Japanese Boy Sets Pace in Patriotism

Going hungry for a whole month in order to save his money for wounded American soldiers was the method adopted by "Jimmie" Oti, a 10-year-old Japanese boy of Seattle, Wash., to express his appreciation for the work done by the fighting men of his adopted country, according to a report received yesterday at Southwestern division headquarters of the American Red Cross in St. Louis.

Telling no one of his plan, Jimmie did without his school lunches for a month and dropped the pennies saved into a box. When the box was filled he turned it over to his teacher, telling her the money was to be given to the Red Cross to be spent for the wounded service men.

OIL DEVELOPMENT IN PEARLING INVESTMENT IN THE TEXAS OIL FIELDS

The following taken from last week's Big Spring Herald will give an idea of what is going on and the status of the various wells in that section of the state:

The task of overhauling McDowell well No. 1 of the General Oil Company is now under way and all needed material is available to put this well in shape when the collapsed casing is removed. The work of removing the pump rods and tubing was started Tuesday and the casing will be drawn from the well as rapidly as possible.

McDowell well No. 2 of the General Oil Company, drilling in the red beds at 785 feet.

McDowell well No. 3, underreaming 12½ inch casing in water sand at 648 feet.

Neal No. 1 of the General Oil Company, underreaming 8¾ inch casing in water sand at 1485 feet.

Read No. 1 drilling in blue lime at 2460 feet. Work was held up Wednesday due to a fishing job but the bit was recovered and drilling restarted Thursday.

Work on Roberts No. 1 of the General Oil Company which was drilling in gray lime at 1623 feet, has been temporarily suspended waiting arrival of ten inch casing. The formation above the lime showed a tendency to cave.

At Sand Hill No. 1 of the General Oil Company, a fishing job is in progress and the efforts to clear the hole are going to prove successful. The drill stem which had fallen to one side of the well made it a mean fishing job but the pipe has been righted and caught with a fishing tool. As soon as they loosen the stem by drilling around it with a rotary shoe they expect to clear the hole.

Work on the derrick for Schaefer well No. 1 of the General Oil Company is now in progress and will probably be completed by Saturday night.

Material for another derrick is enroute but the location is not yet announced.

The Underwriters Oil Company are rigging up their T. and P. well No. 1 to place same on the pump. When swabbed last week this well made an exceptionally fine showing and oil is said to be standing 2000 feet in the pipe. This well is now attracting much favorable notice.

The Underwriters Oil Company is moving timbers to a location one-half mile northeast of the discovery well, T. and P. No. 1, to sink another well. This test will be on section 28 of the Morrison ranch.

Work on their other test on the Smith land six miles west of Colorado is progressing satisfactorily.

The Cole Petroleum Company is making preparations to drill on section 19, block 28, T. and P. survey. This test well will be in Mitchell county about four miles northwest of the Underwriters' T. and P. No. 1.

The Uranian Oil Company, drilling northwest of Gail, in Borden county, is now drilling at about 1000 feet and everything is moving along nicely.

THE OUTLOOK FOR FALL IS BRIGHT

With the hot weather rapidly coming to a close, the operators in the various oil fields of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas, are preparing for an intensive drilling campaign during the fall months. There is little doubt but that within the next few months entirely new fields will be discovered, not only in Texas, where wells are drilling in over 130 counties, but also in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The operators have had a difficult time during the summer months. The railroads have been unusually slow in delivering supplies and added to this the lack of water has been the cause of many rigs being shut down in Texas this summer.

The heavy rains throughout Texas of the last few days have relieved the water shortage situation, but on the other hand has put the roads leading from railroad centers to the oil fields in such a condition that although the drillers are now able to keep the boilers going, they are still unable to obtain the necessary materials with which to drill the wells. This is particularly true in the strictly wildcat fields of the state.

With the coming of cooler weather, however, the drillers will not be working under such severe handicaps, and as soon as the roads are in such a condition that the heavily loaded trucks may pass over them, the drills will again be pounding their way in search of a paying oil sand.

The prospects were never brighter for the oil industry than they are now. The companies which depend upon popular subscription to obtain the necessary money to drill wells have again regained the confidence of the people, generally due to the "fake promoter" having left the Texas and Louisiana fields for districts in which he is not so well known. The profits made thru an investment in an oil company which makes a success are so large that the person with only a small amount to invest will continue to buy oil stocks, and to the writer's knowledge he will have a much greater chance of getting dividends than he had last year this time, when promoters from all parts of the United States were maintaining headquarters in Texas. The goats have been separated from the sheep, and in the writer's opinion the present promotion companies will give their stockholders more than a fair run for their money.

The oil industry has been hurt by the fake promoters that were engaged in the business early in the game, but those days have now passed and the public has been educated to such an extent that they do not believe everything they read from some New York broker concerning this particular company or that one. They now look for advertisements of those brokers and oil companies "closer home," and regardless of the fact that the money situation is still somewhat tight, there is little doubt but that the money needed to exploit the oil fields of the southwestern part of the United States, especially in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma will be supplied them this fall.

It is safe to assert that 90 per cent of the bankers of the United States have made personal investments in oil and these same men may talk to their depositors from morning until night to urge them to put their money in a savings account and play it safe. A person having not less than $200,000 could possibly live on his "4 per cent" income but, any less than that amount and the income would not be of great value to the one who had the savings account.

The writer does not believe in any one putting every cent he has in any one oil company or any other security, but few people will fail to make a good profit if they invest part of their surplus money in several different oil companies. It will be hard to pick six or eight losers and not a single winner.

We look for many new fortunes to be made out of the oil industry during the fall months.—Texas Oil Ledger.

DODSON TELLS THE HORROR OF CALOMEL

You Don't Need to Sicken, Grip, or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated. You feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.

Reduction in Prices on Ford Products

The war is over and war prices must go. Effective at once, Ford Cars, Trucks and Tractors will be sold F. O. B. Detroit at the following prices :

- TOURING—Regular $440 touring, with starter...$510
- RUNABOUT—Regular $395 runabout, starter...$465
- CHASIS.....$360
- COUPE—With starter and demountable rims....$745
- SEDAN—With starter and demountable rims....$795
- TRUCK—With pneumatic tires.....$545
- TRACTOR.....$790

The Ford Motor Company makes this reduction in the face of the fact they have on hand orders for immediate delivery 146,065 cars and tractors. The company will suffer temporary loss while using up the material bought at high prices. They are willing to make the sacrifice in order to bring business back to a going condition as quickly as possible and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country. Henry Ford says:

"The war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interest of all it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to a regular pre-war standard."

We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency and service and eagerness to fill your order.

W. A. Priest, one of Winkler county's most prosperous stockmen, was a business visitor in Pecos Tuesday. Mr. Priest says that in times of yore it took him all day long and a hard day's drive at that to come to Pecos and another to return, but now, since the automobile has been brought into service he can come to town, look after business and chat with friends for two or three hours and return home before dark.

Uncle Joe Preusser and son Philip, of Toyah, were business visitor in Pecos Monday.

T. F. Slack has just returned from a trip to Tempe, Arizona, and says everything is lively and booming in that country.

H. Huelster of Toyahvale was a business visitor in Pecos Tuesday and left the wherewith for a year's subscription to the Enterprise. Mr. Huelster is one of Toyahvale's prosperous and progressive citizens.

J. J. Pope was over from Toyah the early part of the week looking after business matters.

The people of the Christian church will begin a big revival next Sunday. Note their big ad in this issue.

The Pecos Auto Company announce a big reduction in Fords and Fordson Tractors in this issue. Henry Ford is the first of the big automobile concerns to go back to pre-war prices and has set a precedent which will gladly be noted by the public. Note their advertisement in this issue of the Enterprise.

Dr. J. A. Daniel of the Toyah Valley Sulphur Company, informs the Enterprise that his company has completed the erection of a warehouse, bungalow and commissary and office buildings at Orla. Their machinery is constantly arriving for their refining plant and will be ready for erection at an early date.

A card was received Thursday of this week announcing the arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Brown at Cisco, Texas, on September 17, 1920, of Thomas Edward Brown, Jr. The young gentleman weighed eight and a quarter pounds upon his arrival. The many Pecos friends of Mr. and Mrs. Brown extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Colwell and son Ernest left Wednesday for Hamlin for a visit to their son Bee and wife and their daughter Florence, who is in Hamlin with her brother attending school.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Williams of Clyde arrived Tuesday for a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Mitchell Lawson and family.

Charleen Burns has gone to Midland, where she has entered the Christian college.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Harberer of Hereford were here this week for a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. R. Hines.

Lee Ligon and son Robert have gone on a prospecting trip in the southern part of the state.

Mr. Abe Parker of Austin, a Confederate veteran and one who bears the markings of an old Southern aristocrat, is here on a visit to his cousin, Mrs. Earl Ligon.

Misses Jewel Cowan and Carrie Glover left Tuesday for Austin, where they will again be in school at the State University.

Miss Vera Hines and her husband were here from New Mexico this week on their honeymoon. Details of the wedding will appear next week.

Mrs. Sid Kyle and son Mac left Monday for Dallas, where she will place Mac again in the Terrell school for boys. Mrs. Kyle will probably spend the winter in Dallas with Mac.

Misses Nell Kerr, Mildred Obitz and Hazel Berry visited Saturday and part of Sunday with home folk, returning to their work as teachers in the El Paso schools Sunday afternoon.

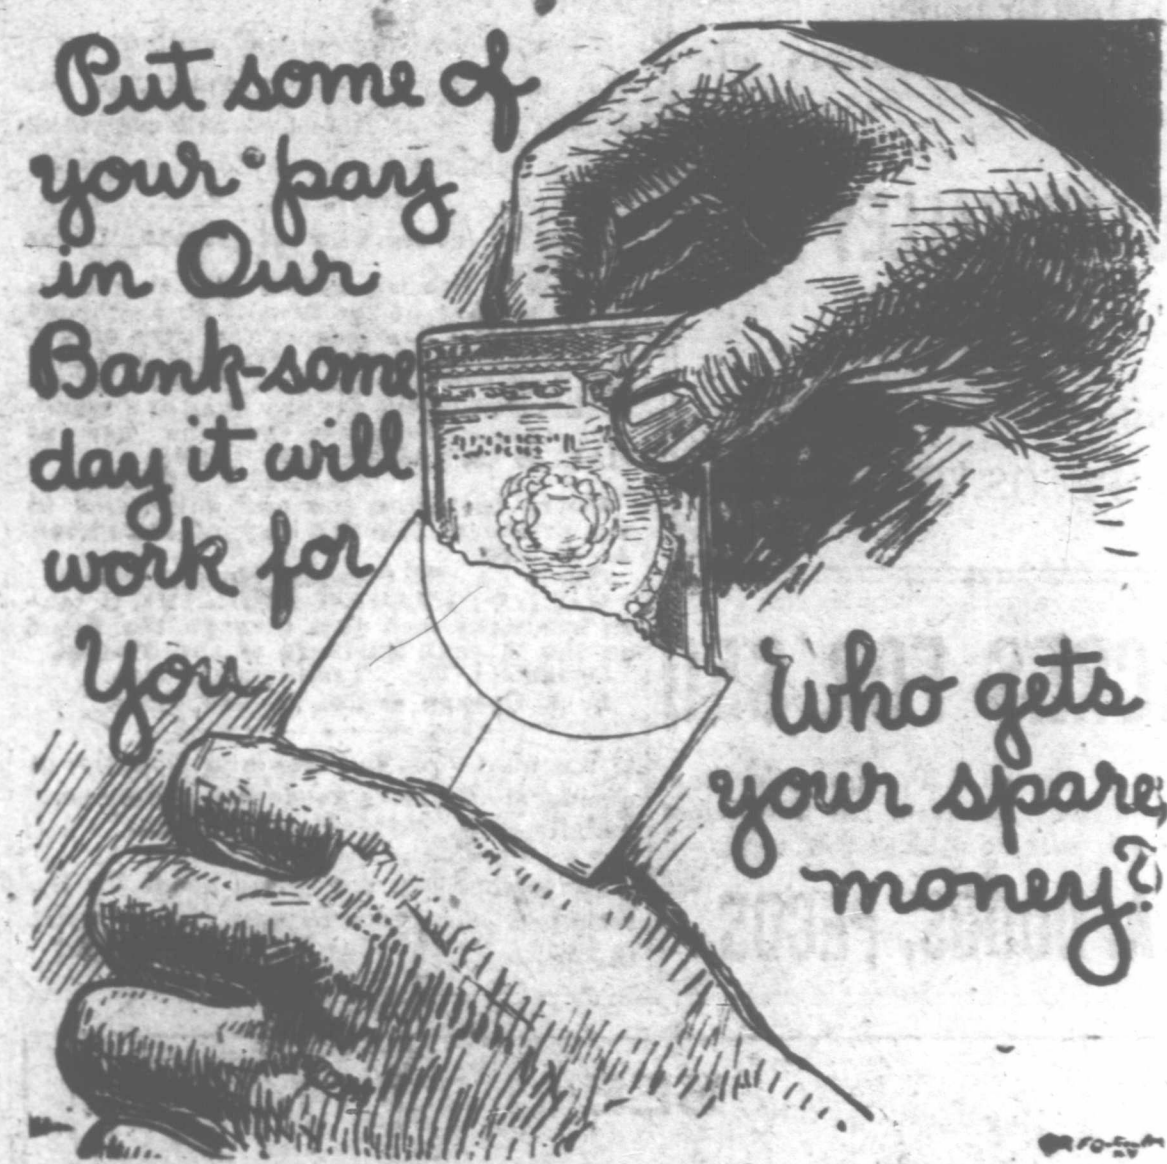

Mrs. H. E. Curtis is at home from a visit of several weeks to her son O. Curtis at Hereford.

Mrs. D. A. Dodds expects to leave in a short time for the north for the purpose of interesting purchasers for the large list of properties she has listed for sale. Mrs. Dodds has some 3500 acres of farming lands—mostly irrigable land—both improved and unimproved, besides pasture lands on her lists. She requests the Enterprise to state that all who desire to sell either farms or pasture lands to list with her at once as she will leave at an early date. Mrs. Dodds has had unprecedented success in the sale of Reeves county lands, owing, probably, to the fact that she has well-trained agents in the North and is an exceptionally fine worker herself.

Jerry Ashworth and G. B. Gunn have just finished painting the home of the Enterprise family and they did a very satisfactory job. The home now looks bright, new and clean and in the pleasure it gives to say nothing of the preservation of the house, it is well worth the expenditure.

W. M. Taylor came in yesterday from his truck garden 7,000 feet above sea level in the Guadalupe Mountains with a load of truck. His last visit was about a year ago. Since then he has visited his old Virginia home and has decided to return there permanently and will probably leave some time this fall.

T. A. Leonard, brother of J. T. Leonard, who spent several months in Pecos, and both interested in the Citizens Oil company has been in Pecos for several days in the interest of his company.
