> TOYAH BOOMING AGAIN Jesse Knight of Toyah, here Wedthe first time in months.

With two power pumps, werking unison, on a beam for seven continuous hours Saturday, the Grant. well No. 1, gave forth ninety barsrels of high grade lubricating oil with an asphalt base; and superintendent E. E. Newby, who is in direct charge of the pumping, is not only elated but amazed at the remarkable showing being made by the well, as it surpasses anything within his long years' experience in the oil game, he states.

The well-only fifty feet deepwas drilled by the Grant Oil corporation on section 19, block 140, T. & St. L. railway survey; and with the showing of oil which rose over the tope of the casing, power pumps were installed and after five days pumping the oil flow has perceptibly increased, rather than diminished, and it. is now anticipated that when more powerful pumps are installed there will be a radical increase in the volume of production, which will now exceed 300 barrels per day, when one the pump continuously.

With the showing this well is make ing no field could present more alluring prospects. It is not the purpose of Fort Stockton citizens to luridly color the oil field picture of Pecos county, but they do have an earnest desire to give the outside: world a clear conception of actual existing conditions pervailing in Pecwork, with Fort Stockton the indusaround which revolves all activities.

At this time there are ten wells: within the county, in process of drilling; and inasmuch as they are scattered over a large area—all of which has been surveyed and re-surveyed by variant corps of geologists of wide repute and accredited ability-it is naught more than reasonable for one to visualize Fort Stockton as the center of a forthcoming oil field of wonderful productivity.

The structures, the formations, the domes and sands are here; and those four things alone are sufficient topersuade the experienced oil man to engage in active drilling operations, firm in faith that where all of those almost infallible things exist, asevidence, oil is not far distant. In Pecos county, however, it is not necessary for the investor in the oil game to back his judgment on themute testimony of structures, domes, formations and sands, supplemented by the oral and written opinions of geologists and old-timers in the oil game. COUNTRY VS. CITY LIFE

Life in the country is far from being as rosy as the imagination of ten paints it. Life in the city rarely comes up to expectations. While there is more or less solitude, much hard work and various discomfort. incidental to country life, there is also freedom of action, independence defective hearing, enlarged tonsils, of thought and an opportunity for a closer relationship with the Creator. Here men can think clearly.

Their wits are not sharpened at the expense of sound reasoning. They gain their livlihood by the exercise of both the mind and the body, and contribute real service to human kind. Men in the country are producers, not consumers.

Cities are necessary as factors in the modern inndustrial scheme. Without industrial centers, producers of food would have to revert to the of eggs, use Dr. LeGear's Poultry Prescrip- methods of pioneers, working with tion, which tones up the system and stimu- crude implements, wearing homespun and living entirely within and for themselves. Industrial centers have made possible the many labor-saving devices used on the farm and have created for the producer the markets which provide an outlet for surplus food and fiber. In order to They must satisfy you, or your dealer will attract workers and to retain an efficient force of trained men, manufacturers not only pay high wages, but have found it to be an advantage to provide other attractions. They have provided baseball grounds and tennis courts, swimming pools and gymnasiums. Libraries, music, pensions and free insurance are some of the other inducements offered along with short hours of labor.

These are the attractions that the country must compete with, the most important of which is the rate of pay and the hours of labor. Before making the change from country to city, do not be deceived as to the comparative advantages offered. Of what benefit is a short day and high wages if you must spend every dolhar received to meet the demands of the landlord, grocer and the numerous other tradesmen? Expenses multiply in the city. There is no way of avoiding them. One pays what is demanded to the extent of his ability and unless he holds up his end, he will find himself crowded out and trampled upon. He is bound by rules, and regulations. He is hampered by city conventions, and in many cases he loses his initiative. When the letters were opened at the end of thirty days it was found that most of them had been answered by the passage of time and required no further attention.

"If we could only lock up all the world's diplomatists, statesmen, deep thinkers and leading doctrinaires for year and go about our business without further interruption, we should find when we let them out that we had no need for panaceas. It was this composite imitation Moses that promised us Utopia and gave us Russia, that started out to lead us to Altruria and landed us in the wilderness. Now the world needs a regular Moses that is strong on law and order and that knows the route thru the Red Sea-a leadership of fact, work and example.

"Some people believe that the old moralities are outworn, the old standards outgrown. They prattle of the new dawn and larger life. The essence of their creed is leadership without fitness, bread without sweat, play without work, gains without losses. A practical demon of their theories would be interesting if one could view it from a distance. After each attempt to beat the game, man has had it ground into him that natural laws are unbeatable and has gone back to those principles on which all moral and economic progress has been based. In fact, so well agreed have we always been in our periods of sanity on these first principles that we have come to call them the obvious-and to believe at times that we are superior to them. COTTON TO BE STORED FOR RAISE IN PRICE

"It is folly to dump cotton in large quantites upon the American market, which is already glutted to the satisfaction of all those who prey on the cotton industry," said Wellington Brink, editor of The Cotton Grower, in an interview. "Speculators and buyers could wish for nothing better than to have a great deal more cotton added to that which is already choking the channels of our marketing system. But, on the other hand, it is the heighth of foolishness to keep large quantities of low grade cotton unsold when there are such ready markets to be found overseas. Furthermore, every bale of low grade cotton that is held over until next year will represent a liability.

"The answer to the whole puzzle lies in cooperative shipping and selling of cotton to European mills, eliminating the usual middleman and ignoring the markets on this side of the water. It is to the interests of every farmer who desires to see a fair deal for himself and his neighbor either to attend the Waco conference to be held November 16th, or to send his representative. There have been thirty-six Presidents of the United States and the shirty seventh has been made by the hallots of the winning party at the polling places of the republic.

In a democracy the majority rules that is controls the government and directs the ship of state. Those who constitute the majority of the awinning political party assume the mesponsibility, make the laws or syssems and go before the people at the proper time with an accounting of their stewardship.

We are all Americans. We are al proud of republican institutions, democratic form of government, There are those who believe in a trong centralized government, the rale of the representatives of powerful interests and there are those who believe in a form of government just the opposite where the many shall fictate and there shall be no special privileges or special laws.

Old Glory is the flag of all. It is the flag of all. Is is the flag of the mighty as well as the flag of the many. There is one flag, one country, one constitution, one heritage, one destiny and one finish for all, regardless of political affiliations, creeds of worship, class or condition

It does carry with it that in a democracy it is proper that the majority should govern until such time as that majority has reduced itself to a minority which has been the rule of political action in this and every other republic ever founded or created by

America was forced to throw the weight of its influence, its money and its arms in the world war and the entrance of America into that war saved the so-called democracies of Europe from the beak and taloons of The black eagle of the Hohenzollerns and forever crushed the military machines builded by divine-right-torule emperors and banished beyond The pale of civilization the menace of the Sword Stranglers of liberty, humanity and democracy.

That war cost America $30,000,-1000,000. It cost the lives of 200, 4900 heroes of the most democratic and greatest of nations. It turned the world of civilization topsy turvy. It made conditions abnormal, it smashed systems or policies of government and it piled a debt upon the world at large of $250,000,000,000.

After every period of destruction of and by the sword comes a period of constructive energy to repair the damage inflicted by the sword, to to the wealth of the world that which place it holds in this nation today here of the pations periodically to pay the cost of war and to restore has been destroyed in a real carnival of blood which in this instance was caused by mad ambitions of militarist despots to reduce neighbor nations to serfdom and to conquer the world for purposes of spoilation or to gratify their crazed lust for power and territory.

the way that was first blazed by American valor and the road of safety for all time that was builded by American patriotism and genius. All Americans should face the future. All Americans should build for the future.

Leaders come and go. Idols rise and fall. Political organizations win today and lose on the morrow. Principles never die. Ideals of government live on forever. Democracy is imperishable.

Its champions live in every clime as they have lived throughout the ages-its destiny is to rule the world. Its seed was planted by the Son of the Living God 2.000 years ago, and in less than decade champions of democracy have witnessed the passing of monarchial despotism in all the hoary and historic countries of the world, including Asia, the cradle of the Aryan race.

"THE LEAGUE IS DEAD"

The editorial paragraphers on the Dallas News are hard to beat and there is no question as to the logical conclusions portrayed. President elect Harding has declared the League of Nations dead and in the face The News has the following to say: son will have charge of the music.

The League of Nations came into existence as a functioning body when the first session of its assembly began Monday in Geneva. Its council has been in session several times. Its secretariat has been discharging the routine duties devolving upon it for a year. But all the work of both these bodies has been preliminary. $1.90. O. J. Green & Co. The assembly is the supreme authority of the league, even though its functions are less numerous than those of the council, and the council could do little until it should be able to proceed under the direction of the larger and more authoritative body. Now that body has assembled for the first time, and has supplied itself with that which it has heretofore lacked, a president. Thus its organization is completed; thus it begins FOR SALE - Winchester 25-35 Carbine

War has come to be the greatest menace civilization has known, the most ruthless scourge of human happiness that has been born of the follies of man. To prevent the occurrence of war is the task and mission of the League of Nations. Failure or success would alike be momentous. It were idle to speculate on the probable outcome of this experiment. FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared for The Enterprise by the First National Bank in St. Louis.

"The Economic World" reports that, according to the monthly compilation of "The New York Times," transactions in stocks on the New York Stock Exchange for the month of October, 1920, aggregated 13,-613,562 shares, as compared with 15,316,737 shares dealt in during September, 1920, and with 36,886,-384 shares bought and sold during October, 1919. The month's business in stocks this year, therefore, is considerably less than one-half that of the same month a year ago. The heaviest single day's trading in stocks in the course of October, 1920, was on October 1, when the shares dealt in aggregated 919,647; the highest full day's trading was on October 19, when the transactions amounted to 363,909 shares. For the ten months ended October 31, 1920, the total transactions amounted to 177,945,-079 1-2 shares, as compared with 258,639,307 shares bought and sold during the corresponding months of In marked contrast with stocks, dealings in bonds on the New York Stock Exchange during October 1920, were at a decidedly high level, the total par value of the bonds bought and sold during the month being no less than $331,723,050, compared with a total of $486,477950 par value in Sept., 1920 and with $308,024,-000 in October, 1919. The largest single day's total of bonds bought and sold during Oct., 1920, was $20,-271,350 par value on Oct. 5, and the smallest full day's transactions in doubtedly need a full-one-third of 182,800, par value, compared with the day to commune with God and $2,723,170,500 for the corresponding 10 months of 1919. "Dummy" Dairy Cows Giving Pure Whisky

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 13.—Two 'dummy' cows, stabled in the stalls Citations in the War of a real dairy farm, giving instead of milk, high-grade imported whiskey drawn from a 500-gallon tank, submerged in the Savannah river, a short distance away, constitute what local officers believe to be the most complete smuggling apparatus ever uncovered in Georgia. Both the cows and the tank were destroyed yesterday afternoon in Chatham county by representatives of the United States Marshal's office in conjunction with county officers from Chatham.

LAXITY IN EDUCATION

Is education among the things that have suffered in the general let-down since the armistice? While the hasty intellectual training of candidates for a commission was going on we heard much of the marvels of intensive courses, and of the new appetite with which undergraduates swallowed stiff doses of trigonometry and oth-In the course of the examination er unpalatable subjects without ever troubthe officer asked Cax if he was cited ling to ask, "Why should I?" But Prof. for anything and with the same slow Arthur Gordon Webster of Clark University, writing in the Scientific Monthly, expresses serious doubts as to the present temper in regard to education. The trou-"But what's this scar?" exclaimed ble, he thinks, lies with the community, examining officer, cutting Cox's with the fathers and mothers who do not statement short and indicating a insist that their children shall do anything place where it looked like he got hit that requires exactitude, stick to it, and not let up till it is done.

This, it is to be hoped, is precisely the criticism which the community itself most frequently makes. It is complained, for example, that the graduate of high school Cortlandt Bleecher said at a New or college, after smattering many things, can not be trusted to add a column of figures or to copy a letter correctly. Applying to a college professor of mathematics for an undergraduate who could do some simple work with a calculating machine for a bit of research in physics, Professor "Very sorry, sir, but we're so over- Webster was told, "There is not much crowded that I'll have to ask you to use, because nobody nowadays learns to a room with another gentle- do anything carefully and get an exact result." It is the same thing that complaining parents says, but whereas parents blame the teachers. Webster blames the

He holds them responsible, that is to say, for the prevalent notion that the chief object of going to school or to college is to "You'll have your night's rest com- have a good time; a college is looked upon, according to one of his colleagues, as a country club somewhat marred by attendance at recitations. Intellectual at tainments count for little because in this, country the only criterion of success is the amount of money that a person has made." There is no such respect for scholarship as in France, and this is why French students are three years or more ahead of their American contemporaries; the only thing that a French father wants is that his son shall become a distinguish man. The life of the French student may be dreary, but they "produce the goods." "They do not go out for the team, they do not go out for the crew, for the paper, or for the gleg thing really good," the customer ob- club, or for the theatrical profession. Whether or not this is among the things that they order better in France, the French way is equite obviously the way to get results. Rapid and sustained progress can come only through hard, steady work; if America takes things more easily it is sure to be left behind. But is America prepared to take education with such seriousness and to make the necessary sacrifice? Would efforts to set and enforce such public, or even of the "old-grads?" Would Feeling the need of recuperation, colleges which should ruthlessly suppress business, and enforce severe standards for "But," cried the hotel proprietor, admission, continuation and graduation be able to keep going? It seems obvious that for the present and for a long time to come the strenuous intellectual discipline found ledge, for longer years than you've in France can not be applied in this country, and the blame, if any blame is to be American people rather than with the educational system. In education as in everything else, a country gets what it sufficiently wants; America at present shows no most desirable on the market. Men who have not been handling cattle little realize what the cow man is up against today. Leather is higher and harder to get than ever before yet there has been a tremendous slump in the price of hides, until the lowest price in the history of the country now evails. At the present prices, i. does not pay to skin

Last week it is understood Elmer Jones brought in a fine hide which he sold for less than two dollars and turned around and paid $40 for a pair of boots. There was enough leather in the single hide to make several pairs ofb oots and no sane man can be made to believe that the profiteer did not come in for a large at some point in this transaction.
