HEALTHGRAMS

By Dr. Manton M. Carrick State Health Officer.

Vaccination is without doubt one of the greatest blessings which ever came to the human race.

Faulty cooking is one of the greatest evils under which our race lives.

Flies are not only a nuisance but are one of the means of disseminating typhoid fever, cholera, and diarrhoea among human beings, and surra and anthrax among horses and cattle.

The perfumes of Araby and the laces of Spain cannot give to a baby the charm to be found in a tub of soft water and a cake of bland soap.

The food we eat, the liquid we drink, the air we breathe are, and always will be, fundamental factors in the maintenance of health.

Any one having venereal disease, knowing that he has it, and communicating that disease to another is a potential destroyer of life and therefore, in fact, a murderer.

The functions of the health officer are not only to look after sanitation of the water, milk, food and air, but should also include an interest in reducing the mortality by co-operating with the medical profession in securing proper hospital and home facilities for the care of the sick.

The nurse at the bedside has become a necessity in present day civilization. There was a time not so long ago when practically every woman was not only a housekeeper for the well but a housekeeper for the sick.

It is my prediction that the future statesmen will be that group of men whose thoughts are given to measures for the attainment of healthy citizens. They will regard the child, even before it is born, as worthy of their best thought and constructive legislation and will attempt to make true in fact that oft-used statement "that all men are born equal," at least insofar as this can be done by making it possible for all citizens to have proper food, clothing, housing and other environmental conditions.

PROUD OF OUR ADVERTISERS

Alpine Avalanche. On a recent trip east the writer carried a few copies of the Avalanche and on the train nearing Kansas City he had been reading a copy which was left in a car seat while he went into another coach.

The writer visited other coaches in the train and managed to leave a copy of the Avalanche in each one for the passengers to peruse.

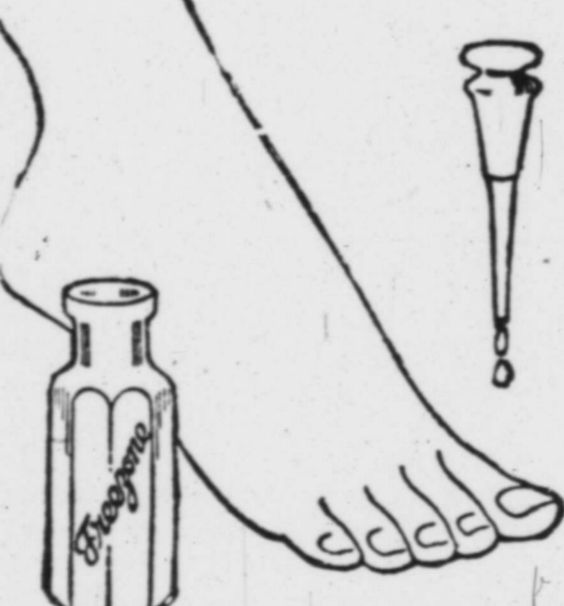

The remark of the reader in the smoking car, put the writer to thinking. A town or city is judged by strangers by the newspapers and the condition of the town is judged by the advertisements. In short, the newspaper of a town is the best barometer of the business of the town and strangers seeking locations for homes or business, first get a copy of the paper printed in the section they contemplate going to, and then judge of the availability of the place.

On more than one occasion the Avalanche has been complimented on the amount of advertising it's columns carried, and these compliments have come from big city papers and from individuals. The Avalanche is, and justly so, proud of it's Alpine advertisers: proud to exhibit itself and speak in loud tones saying: "Alpine business men are alive, pulling on the bit, up and coming. Alpine business men are of the material that make for success, that make cities and prosperous communities, and they will yet make Alpine just what the stranger in the car judged it to be—a place of 10,000, or more."

The Avalanche is proud of it's Alpine advertisers; proud of it's advertising in general.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or horn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

DRILLING REPORT

Corrected to May 19th, 1921.

The following drilling report was compiled and furnished The Enterprise by W. A. Bennett, and is accurate, according to best information, and will be of much interest to the public.

Table with columns: Company, Well, County, Sec., Township, Block/Depth, Remarks. Lists various drilling operations and well statuses across different counties and townships.

The above list does not include many shallow wells in the Toyah field, and only those in actual operation in the Pecos Valley field. I know of no oil field that at the same stage of development (20 months) that had so many active operations, and the fact that migratory or seepage oil has shown to a remarkable amount proves beyond question that the big pools are surely here, and it is certain that some of these operations will go into them when they get deep enough, which may be anywhere from 2500 to 4000 feet. Grant Oil Company, Pecos County, putting on power to pump 29 wells on one line.

CHEERFUL WORDS

For Many a Pecos Household.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove helpful to hundreds of Pecos readers.

Mrs. J. B. Prewit, Pecos, says: "It has been quite a few years since I have needed Doan's Kidney Pills, but before I tried them I had a pretty bad case of kidney trouble. I had sharp pains in the small of my back and severe headaches. I am glad to say Doan's Kidney Pills brought me the relief I wanted. Since then whenever I have felt any soreness across my kidneys a few of Doan's have fixed me up in fine shape." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Prewit had.

"LET THE GALLED JADE WINCE: OUR WITHERS ARE UNWRUNG."

The article which appeared in Wednesday's issue of the Toyah Basin News, under the caption, "What is the Matter with Toyah?" while commended by many readers has been found fault with by others on the ground that it is not the province of the Chamber of Commerce to interfere, in any way, with the men or groups of men who have entered the field either for the purpose of handling acreage or to spend the money of clients or associates for development purposes. One correspondent even goes so far as to say that it is none of the business of the Chamber of Commerce or its officers or directors if those who were in the business of selling acreage did fail to make good in the matter of paying rentals or otherwise carrying out their contracts with those to whom they made assignments of permits, as the legal maxim, "caveat emptor" (let the purchaser beware) still holds good and if the buyers allowed themselves to be swindled it was their own fault in that they were not careful to see that all provisions of their bargain were carried out.

The Chamber of Commerce holds to no such doctrine. It believes a crook is a crook and that a crooked act should not be condoned or glossed over. It will admit that all purchasers of oil lands or leases or assignments of permits should have exercised the same degree of caution they would have exercised in case of the purchase of anything else they might have bought in the course of business but it refuses to admit that the men in the guise of permit holders or oil brokers who took money and gave nothing in return for it though pretending to do so are anything but crooks and it believes they should be given the treatment crooks deserve.

The Toyah Basin Chamber of Commerce has fought the crooked dealers in permits and leases who flocked to this field as they flocked to every other oil field in the world and it has succeeded in driving them from Toyah, at least, and it has spoiled their plans in many other sections of the country in which they have attempted to operate. Unfortunately the Chamber of Commerce, active though it has been, did not succeed in circumventing all the crooked schemes which had been put afoot.

The crooks are gone but their victims are still damning the field, forgetful of their own failures to do what they should have done in the matter of protecting themselves. The Chamber of Commerce was able to save many of those who applied in time but it did not and could not even attempt to save those who did not make known the plight in which they found themselves. That was not the fault of the organization.

There is still time for many permit holders to investigate their status and if they have not been protected to take steps toward securing themselves against loss. The Chamber of Commerce will be glad to do what it can in the way of furnishing information which may be of value to those who want to know where they stand and what is necessary to be done to save them from loss.

But, notwithstanding the troubles caused by the crooked dealers who flourished during the boom of a year ago, Toyah is all right. That there is oil here in both deep and shallow fields, has been demonstrated. It is found in both fields in paying quantities, only waiting to be developed along business like lines by men who have the money and who will be intent upon developing oil rather than finding "suckers." The latter genus is extinct and the man, or aggregation of men, who persists in looking for them will simply waste time "Thar ain't no sich animile, no mo'."

The man who will finance the right kind of a refinery for Toyah and who is possessed of the organizing ability which will enable him to secure the co-operation of the owners of oil properties, will not only build up a paying business for himself but he will do more to advance the interests of the community and the oil fields than all the "boomers" of the past have been able to do.

Toyah was never riper for development than she is at the present moment and those who come intent upon investing for legitimate purposes will find the people, including the Chamber of Commerce, responsive and ready to give every assistance in their power.—Toyah Basin News.

DR. CARRICK GIVES VIEW ON TYPHOID

Austin, Tex., May 15—A warning against the dangers of typhoid infection has been issued to summer vacationists by the State Board of Health. It is said that there is greater danger from typhoid in the country districts and summer resorts than elsewhere, due to polluted water supplies, impure milk, and the presence of the typhoid-bearing fly.

"The tendency to have confidence in the purity of a water supply is too often a misplaced confidence," said Dr. M. M. Carrick, State Health Officer. "Two simple methods by which water may be made safe for drinking purposes are by boiling and by hypochlorite treatment. The last named method is simple, inexpensive, and highly efficient. Get a few ounces of the best quality of chloride of lime and prepare a stock solution of one teaspoonful to one quart of water. Keep in a tightly stoppered bottle, and add one teaspoonful to two gallons of the water to be drunk. Allow to stand uncovered for 20 minutes before using, then bottle and keep on ice."

The State Health Officer, in speaking of the often times dangerous milk supply of summer resorts, gave directions for pasteurizing. "Take a nail a little shorter than a milk bottle place a saucer in it and stand the bottle of milk (cap on the bottle) on the saucer. Pour water into the pail until one-half of the bottle is submerged. Then place the pail and contents on the stove and bring to the boiling point. When the water begins to boil, remove bottle of milk from pail immediately, and cool as rapidly as possible."

"Flies are known carriers of disease," said Dr. Carrick, "and they thrive in summer resorts because of the frequently imperfect system of garbage and waste disposal. Swat the breeding places by sprinkling kerosene daily over the garbage, using chloride of lime in the privy vaults, and by pouring kerosene down the drains occasionally. Screen doors and windows, and use fly traps such as a poison made of one teaspoon of milk, one teacupful of water, one tablespoon of formaldehyde, and five drops of ordinary bluing. Pour some of this solution in a saucer in which a one-inch cube of bread has been placed, always keeping a surplus of liquid in the saucer."

The most efficient guard against typhoid infection, according to Dr. Carrick, is the anti-typhoid vaccination and every vacationist should start this treatment three weeks before leaving home, three inoculations—seven to ten days apart—being necessary for immunity. He also warned against the malaria-spreading mosquito, and urged that kerosene be put on the surface of swamps, pools, cisterns, barrels, or other quiet waters where "wigglers" are found.

PIANO RECITAL BY CLASS OF MISS SMITH

The record attendance at the three last musical programs given in Pecos reflect the undisputable fact that our people are feeling the stimulus of higher ideals in music, and the art is being taken more seriously by both performers and audiences. The last symphony concert and the two home recitals are evidences of how our home folks will attend and with appreciative approval enjoy the efforts of the ambitious youngster, as well as of the finished artist. The recital by the pupils of Miss Marie Smith was given last Friday evening at the Baptist church. The program opened with a chorus of young ladies, which was well rendered. These ladies were rehearsed and drilled by Miss Warren Collings and the number was given in a manner which did credit to the class and teacher. Later in the program the same chorus rendered one of Trotter's most popular songs, "In Old Madrid," with pleasing effect.

Willie Leeman was first to open the instrumental numbers and her perfect technique and masterful execution showed the results of conscientious study and application. Her "Dance Caprice" and later on the program "Sounds from the South" by Fritz Spindler, were interpreted perfectly and her playing is very far in advance of her age.

Hettie Lois Randals followed with two numbers by Schmolli, and for a beginner played exceedingly well. Evelyn Leeman, younger sister of Willie, fully sustained the reputation of the Leeman family for musical talent. Little Helen McKellar sang "I Promised Not to Tell" to the delight of the audience. "Grottesque Reel," played by Katherin Dean, and "Dorothy" by Winnie Duncan were pleasing and well played. A duet, "Mazurka," by Sartoria, played by Jane and Catherine Dean exhibited perfect ensemble practice and was appreciated.

"Hunters' Life" interpreted by Donald Runyon, the only boy in the class, was well rendered. Floy Vickers played Beethoven's "Für Elise" with feeling and expression. A song, "Patter of the Shingles," was the crowning number for little folks. The singers, who also acted the song, were Nora Hines Krauskopf and Wallace and Nell Anderson. This number elicited a pandemonium of applause and the tots were obliged to answer to an encore. "Snow Flakes" played by Jane Dean, "Valse Characterique" by Dorothy Sisk, "March of the Flower Girls" by Mary Stine were numbers which required and, showed attentive study by the performers, elicited deserved recognition and held the attention of the audience. A duet "A Winter Frolic" by Floy Vickers and Winnie Duncan was a pleasing feature of the program. The last three numbers were more difficult of execution and were all deserving of especial mention. Virginia Runnels played "Goodnight" by Nevin, Myrtle Ruhlen, a "Polonaise" by Chopin and Mrs. Ben Randals "Country Gardens" by Grander. It would be difficult to specialize on the program which was well arranged and well rendered and it was voted a credit to Miss Smith's method and more particularly to her patience with young children.

Most all of the pupils were young enthusiasts and as it is well known to teachers that each child in itself is a separate problem requiring some special theoretical training, it is remarkable that the entire program was given in a manner so delightfully entertaining that adverse criticism of a single number is hardly admissible, and neither stage fright nor timidity was scarcely noticeable even in the youngest pupil.

It may be said that a child who loves music will eventually broaden its mind and develop it musically. Proper cultivation of the art will tend to increase that love, and the study will become more than superficial. It is to be hoped that all of these young pupils will some day be recognized as artists of ability.

LIGHTNING TEARS TREE TO PIECES DURING STORM

The rain of Monday night was a good one in Pecos and other parts of the county, yet much of Reeves county is still dry and the cattle are getting thin in flesh and weak.

The rain in Pecos lasted for two or three hours and at times was heavy and accompanied by a terrific electrical storm. As evidence of the latter a large tree in front of the Baptist manse was struck and torn to pieces. Lightning appeared to have struck one of the topmost limbs which was splintered to the body of the tree and from there on down the bark was only stripped in places and a considerable hole made at the tree roots.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BIRTHDAY PARTY

One of the most delightful affairs ever known to the babes of Pecos, was a party given Wednesday, May 11, by Mrs. Jack Hubbs celebrating the ninth birthday of her daughter, Miss Louise. Over fifty children were present. From four o'clock until seven spent one of the most enjoyable afternoons possible.

Many games, dear to the young were played. But the most interesting feature of the afternoon was the "chewing gum picture" contest, where each child was provided with a piece of gum, a tooth pick and a card and given instructions to draw or shape out of his chewing gum a picture on his card. After many earnest efforts and much fun Miss Lottie Furr was given first prize, a tennis ball, and Miss Fay Lewis Deering, the booby, a large stick of candy.

After this came the cutting of the birthday cake, Miss Ella Louis Jones getting the dime and Miss DeEtte Green the button. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Those assisting Mrs. Hubbs during the afternoon were: Misses Winnie Duncan, DeEtte Green, Willie Leeman, Grace Hubbs, Mrs. Ollie King and Mrs. Eathel Haygood.

THEATRE PARTY

The Misses Ludie and Emma Clyde Stewart entertained with a theatre party last week. The guests were:

Misses Amy Langham, Evelyn Slack, Cecelia Stratton, Grace Duncan and Mattie Lee Wilson. After the theatre the party were served with banana splits at the City Pharmacy.

The guests were conducted to the apartments of the hostesses, at the Michigan, where some of them spent the night. All report a very enjoyable evening and expressed thanks for the entertainment and hospitality.

MRS. RATLIFF AND MRS. SPARKS HOSTESSES

Mrs. E. Casebier of Ft. Stockton was the honor guest at a delightful bridge party Thursday given at the Ratliff home in Barstow by Mrs. Guy Ratliff and Mrs. Ralph Sparks.

During the afternoon punch and confections were passed and at tea time a dainty ice course was served.

Mrs. Casebier was presented with a lovely guest prize, first prize going to Mrs. John Howard and consolation to Mrs. Dorothy Heard.

Bidden to this affair were Mrs. Scudamore of Natchez, Miss., Mrs. H. B. Prickett of El Paso, Mrs. Wingate, Mrs. John Howard, Mrs. J. W. Moore, Mrs. Marion Hudson, Mrs. E. G. Weyer, Mrs. J. E. Starley, Mrs. Ira Bell, Mrs. Earl

Bell, Mrs. Mable Beauchamp, Mrs. Don Bell, Mrs. W. W. Dean, Mrs. Dorothy Heard, Mrs. Monroe Kerr, Mrs. Edith Cassaday of Pecos, and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard and Mrs. Moore of Barstow.

BUNK PARTY

A delegation of young society buds had a glorious time Saturday night at a bunk party held at the residence of Mrs. Tom McClure. The bevy of beauty and mirth attended the theatre and afterwards invaded the McClure residence. Mr. and Mrs. McClure were absent and had turned over the home to the following to do with as they pleased: The Misses Jane Looby, Buena Payne, Amy Langham, Grace Duncan, Warren Collings, Novella Wilson, Ora Pruett and Lucy Ligon. Victrola music was enjoyed and The Enterprise guesses the young ladies at least kept time with their feet. Breakfast was served Sunday morning and the entire party attended church. The young ladies report the party a success and express thanks to Mr. and Mrs. McClure for making the social and home enjoyment possible. Tom reports he could not discover that any one had been in his home.

BUNK PARTY

A bunk party was given by Miss Grace Duncan in honor of the Misses Emma Clyde and Ludie Stewart, this week. The ladies attended the theatre and then returned to the Duncan residence. While refreshments were being served it is said a "spook" gained access to the home and distributed a generous supply of shelled corn in the beautifully arranged couches. A serenade was attempted at a near residence and the vocal efforts were rewarded by a shower of water. When the party had driven out the mysterious ghost peaceful slumber was in order. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Duncan were: Misses Clyde and Ludie Stewart, Jane Luby, Novella Wilson, Warren Collings, Lucy Ligon, Cecelia Stratton and Amy Langham.

SUNRISE BREAKFAST

A gay group of the younger set motored to Clay Point Saturday morning for a sunrise breakfast.

Following a swim an appetizing breakfast was served to Mrs. Monroe Kerr, Mrs. Scudamore, Miss Ruby Mae Beauchamp, Mattie Lee Wilson, Mildred Carson, Callie DeRagy, Kathleen Kite, Mary Ellen Coon, Ruth Slack and Wickliffe Hefner, Woody Cowan, Edmund Caroline, Francis Warn, George Ross, William Kerr and Walter Rhulen.

MRS. HARRY WOODS ENTERTAINS

The bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Harry Woods on Friday was one of the smart functions of the season. Rainbow sweet peas were used in decor-tion and a rainbow color scheme was carried out in the other appointments.

Mrs. Woods was assisted in serving a delicious two course menu by Mrs. Clay Slack, Mrs. Dorothy Heard and Miss Novella Wilson.

Refreshing punch and bon bons were served during the games.

Seven tables of players were at this charming party.

DANCE

Miss Grace Duncan entertained a coterie of young people with a dance last evening. A delicious punch was served during the entire festivities, and the refreshments consisted of cake and ice cream.

Those besides the hostess who enjoyed the whirl of terpsichorean evelivement were: Buena Payne, Jane Luby, Amy Langham, Evelyn Slack, Warren Collings, Ora Pruett, Mattie Lee Wilson, Mildred Carson, Phil Pryor, Woody Cowan, Edwin Meyer, Bob White, William Kerr, Mr. Strike, Joe Glover and Reuben Johnson.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

EDDY COUNTY, N. M., CITIZEN POISONED

Word was received here Monday evening of a terrible tragedy which occurred in the afternoon of that day in the vicinity of Lakewood, John Murrah, an old resident of that section of the county being poisoned, his death occurring at about one o'clock. Details of the horrible affair are about as follows:

John Murrah was riding about his ranch and going to the ranch house for a drink, about noon or shortly after, he secured the same from a pail which stood in the house. Immediately after swallowing the water, Mr. Murrah realized that he had been poisoned, and from appearances took some salt for an emetic, but realizing evidently that such action was futile, mounted his horse and rode to the Shafer ranch about a mile and a half distant.

Calling Mrs. Shafer to the door, he told her of his predicament and asked her for something to make him throw up, and she gave him some grease, as he said he was poisoned. He was unable to dismount without assistance, but was helped into the porch where he gave the details of the affair, telling Mr. Shafer to send down to the ranch and get the water before any one else got it. He died shortly after in great agony.

Dr. Boatman, county health officer and Dr. William Glazier, were called and responded immediately and held a post mortem when it developed that death was caused by strychnine poison. The stomach was almost empty, showing that the deceased had not eaten any dinner. The water from which he drank, together with the stomach, was sent to a toxicologist, Dr. Clarke, at Albuquerque, for an analysis. The deceased was about fifty years old and left a wife and two children, who live in Lakewood.

A coroner's inquest was held before Judge Dauron, justice of the peace for that precinct, and a verdict was rendered in accordance with the above facts.

The whole affair is one of the most dastardly and atrocious in the history of the county which already has a bloody record, and people are justly incensed over it. A fatality seems to follow the family, the father and three sons having fallen by the assassin's bullets. But one brother survives, Will Murrah, who resides on a ranch near Lakewood, and whose wife is a daughter of Mrs. John Murrah.

Since the above was written, we learn that the brother, Will Murrah, was arrested and brought to jail, where he now is, charged with the crime. The date for the examining trial has not been set.

The funeral of John Murrah was held Tuesday morning, with burial in the graveyard at Lakewood, where others of the family are interred.

The crime is one of the most horrible ever committed in this county and people are regarding it as such. A gentleman and his family, passing the ranch the day previous to Mr. Murrah's death, stopped there a few moments and regards it as providential that the little girl did not ask for a drink as was her custom whenever the car stopped.

We were reliably informed that some of the water from the pail from which Mr. Murrah is supposed to have drunk, was tested on a dog and one ounce which was injected into the animal produced death in less than five minutes, the dog dying with every symptom of typical strychnine convulsions.—Carlsbad Current.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVEN CO-OPERATIVE WAREHOUSES DO $100,000,000 BUSINESS

There are at the present time in Texas 127 warehouse companies organized under the Market and Warehouse Law for co-operative marketing, according to T. W. McBride, Director of the Warehouse Division of this Department.

"It is interesting to note the enormous marketing business handled through these organizations," said Judge McBride, "Reports of financial conditions filed in this office, according to the provisions of the law, and examinations made by warehouse examiners are a reliable basis for our estimate that an approximate business of $100,000,000 has been handled through them during the past year. This is irrespective of the $5,000,000.00 worth of marketing done directly through the Marketing Division of the Markets and Warehouse Department during the same period."

Judge McBride further states that these organized groups of farmers have marketed all kinds of farm products from citrus fruits of the Valley to maize and kaffir of the Panhandle. The versatility of the marketing work is shown by a report of a warehouse company in Medina County which lists its marketing activities as follows:

"$15,000.00 worth of poultry; $145,000.00 worth of cotton; $30,000.00 worth of corn, and $10,000.00 worth of oats, an approximate total business for the year of $200,000.00."

This, according to the warehouse director is one of the smaller warehouse associations operating under the supervision of his department, several of them doing an annual business in marketing of between $1,500,000.00 and $2,000,000.00.

CROP PROSPECTS IN TEXAS

Reports received from correspondents of the Texas Industrial Congress indicate a decided reduction in the cotton acreage ranging from 20 to 50 percent, and probably averaging 30 percent for the State. Cool nights and unfavorable weather have retarded the growth and planting of cotton and the crop is now from a week to ten days late.

Prospects for a good yield of wheat and oats have been improved by recent rains. Wheat in the Panhandle is looking especially good. Corn is making fair progress, and is up to a good stand in most sections. Some damage to both corn and cotton from cut-worms is reported. Potatoes in south Texas are now being harvested. The acreage in rice has been cut 50 percent it is estimated, and the progress of the crop has been delayed by unfavorable weather conditions. The truck crop in south Texas is reported good, and moving freely; some shipments have been made to New York by water via Galveston. The east Texas tomato crop, though retarded by unfavorable weather, promises a good yield. There will be a greatly increased production of watermelons.

With the exception of apples, of which there will be a 50 percent yield, fruit in west Texas has been killed by cold weather; in north Texas the fruit crop has sustained some damage, while in east Texas it is reported safe.

Recent rains in east and south Texas, and in some portions of west Texas, have greatly improved the ranges; and livestock generally is said to be in good condition. A greatly increased production of hogs, lambs and calves is noted.

THE TOWNSEND HIGHWAY BILL

Washington, D. C., May 19.—"The difference between the Townsend Highway Bill and the Dowell good road Bill is that the former provides cross country trunk lines or boulevards for those who have the money and time to idle away in long distance tours while the Dowell Bill would furnish more local roads available for farm-to-market purposes and which are of service to all the people." This statement was issued here by the American Farm Bureau Federation shortly after Congressman C. C. Dowell of Iowa had introduced his bill.

"The Townsend Bill plans to tax communities so heavily through which the highways pass that the local money for road building will be exhausted and the greatest amount of traffic the local nearby travel—will be forced to wallow in the mud. It specified that all highways built under the federal aid shall be 66 feet wide and have a wearing surface of not less than 20 feet. To build such boulevards in some parts of the country would be wasteful and economically not justifiable and a few miles of it would absorb all of the local or state funds available. These boulevards would be built through desert, mountainous country, or where travel is more frequent.

"The farmers are equally as interested as the city dwellers in good roads and highways over which they can run their automobiles both for business and pleasure. Farmers own and operate fully 50 per cent of the automobiles and trucks in this country, the total of which now exceeds 9,000,000. The farmers are interested in a road program that takes into consideration the development of the road system of their state and at the same time makes provision for inter-country and inter-state highways, as provided in the Dowell Bill."
