DAVIS MOUNTAIN LOCATION IS GIVEN EVERY CONSIDERATION

Every consideration is being given the location in the Davis Mountains offered to the Public Health Service as a site for one of the hospitals for ex-service men, according to a letter received under date of June 29, by the Chamber of Commerce. The letter is as follows:

Walter N. Sutherland,
Secretary, Chamber of Commerce,
Pecos, Texas,
Dear Sir:

Your letter of June 22 has been carefully noted by the Consultants on Hospitalization who desire to assure you that every consideration is being given the location offered by the people of Reeves county. Should it be found necessary to call upon you for additional data, please be assured that we shall not hesitate to do so.

Very truly yours,
Consultants on Hospitalization,
WILLIAM CHARLES WHITE,
Chairman.

The board has selected six locations for temporary hospitals, although additional buildings have been ordered for some of these points. It is understood that these locations were selected because of the need for immediate accommodations, and because the buildings at these points offered such accommodations now.

The location in the Davis Mountains is offered as a site for a permanent hospital.

The Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce is the latest Commercial body in the State to endorse the plan for a State Park in the Davis Mountains. Resolutions to that effect were passed at a recent meeting of the executive board of that organization.

The large number of visitors at the recent Fourth of July celebration at Balmorhea who requested to be directed to the various points of scenic beauty in the proposed park area attested to the general public interest in this proposition, and it is probable that the state legislature will take recognition of this fact in their special session beginning July 18.

Representative W. W. Stewart of this district is planning to introduce a resolution asking that a committee be appointed to investigate the plan for the park. It is very probable that this committee will not have an opportunity to report back at this session of the legislature, but that a thorough investigation of the park site can be made, and plans prepared for a park bill at the next session.

The local Chamber of Commerce has secured the aid of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the two largest commercial organizations in that state, and it is very probable that the plan will meet with success.

Should the park be located in this section, that fact would bring large numbers of tourists to this territory, both from within and from without the state, and would probably result in the erection of a resort hotel in the mountains. It would also bring a large number of wealthy people to this territory, who could be shown the many development opportunities, and would result in the full advantage being taken of the irrigation opportunities of the Davis Mountains water shed.

DR. MAGEE HOME FROM POST GRADUATE COURSE

Dr. C. J. Magee returned home from Chicago last Sunday. He has been taking a post graduate course at the Northwestern University. He visited his mother at Tronto, Can., while on the trip and believes conditions are a little better in Canada than over here. Mrs. Magee who is a valued adjunct to the educational systems of the Chicago public schools will return to Pecos in about ten days.

BACK FROM THE FIGHT —

REEVES COUNTY CELEBRATES FOURTH AT BALMORHEA

Practically all of Reeves county and many from adjacent counties and from a distance were in attendance upon the big barbecue and rodeo at Balmorhea on July 4th and many remained over for the 5th and 6th which was equally as entertaining as was the 4th.

Those from Pecos say the Legion boys of Balmorhea gave an efficient service in the way of feed and entertainment as did the boys over seas on the battlefields, and when this is said that is taken as the very last word for it is impossible for mere human beings to serve more willingly or efficiently. The rain on the third settled the dust and put the ground in first class order and many who attended from Pecos, say they never had a more enjoyable time at any barbecue. The barbecue was as fine as could be and fit for the kings and all else to make the dinner complete and a success from every view point was of the very best, in super abundance, and served orderly and in a manner becoming those good people in the very best agricultural and fruit growing part of Texas.

Pecos was practically deserted on the 4th, most of our population being in attendance upon the big celebration and so far as The Enterprise knows not a place of business in the entire town was open on that day.

The Enterprise correspondent at Balmorhea was evidently too busy or from the effects of one over feed, too indolent, to give us an account of the sports of the occasion, but it is hoped that by next week he will have sufficiently recovered to give a full report.

JOY RIDERS APPROPRIATE CAR

Monroe Kerr's Ford coupe was parked at Balmorhea carnival in front of the telephone exchange. It had been driven to the carnival from Pecos by his son William and T. B. Prewett, Jr. When the young men looked for the car to come home in it was gone. It was reported stolen to Sheriff Kiser who flooded the adjoining towns with wires. The car was evidently taken by some young would be high roller who probably took his gladder for a joy ride. It was found in the road the next morning about one mile from Balmorhea.

W. S. Mitchell, Misses Daisy Sellers and Jo Ella Kellogg of Sulphur Springs, arrived this morning via automobile for a visit to the family of J. G. Murray. Miss Kellogg will visit friends in Marfa while in this part of the state.

FOURTH JULY CELEBRATION AT WEBB COURTNEY'S RANCH

A nice little crowd of about 35 friends and relatives began to drop in to the ranch second and third and by the time the Fourth came they were ready to do justice to the good dinner that was ready. Barbecued beef, pickles, salad, cakes, good coffee, lemonade ice cold, lots of fine peaches. Two items not to be left out was the attendance of grand-mother McKerny, 86 years old who went in an auto for the first time. The meat was barbecued by S. A. Shellenburger an old hand at barbecuing. Every one tried to behave so as to get another invitation in 1922.

All reported a dandy time, we shook our No. 11 just enough to keep in practice. Here is good luck to Mr. editor, bet you had a good time the Fourth too.—Contributed.

EPWORTH LEAGUE OUTING

The members of the Epworth League and a few others loaded up provisions and bedding early Monday morning and hied to the Davis Mountains for a few days outing. They pitched camp toward evening under some spreading trees near the river in beautiful Lympia canyon, the scenery of which is as magnificent if not quite as imposing as that of the Rocky Mountains. Juper Pluvius the floods came, the party had to wade out of water knee deep and push the cars to higher ground. The night was spent at one of the beautiful McCutchen homes in the canyon where true western hospitality was dispensed. The second night was spent at the hospitable summer home of Judge James F. Ross on Toyah creek. Notwithstanding the rains, high waters and other handicaps the party reports a most delightful time in viewing the scenery, kodaking, climbing the mountains, in following Indian trails and in exploring caves. The personnel of the party were: Rev. Fred B. Faust and family, O. T. Norwood and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Waugh, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wendt, Misses Anna and Edna Boles, Alice Leeman, Myrtle Ruhlen, Lia B. Hines, Veda Pringle and Mary Ellen Coon and Messrs. Donald Runyon, George Kistler, Raymond Norwood, John Hibdon, Jr., and John Mann.

T. H. BEAUCHAMP LEAVES FOR OLD HOME

FINANCIAL AID TO BE ASKED FOR WARD COUNTY ROADS

Governor Neff will be asked to include in the budget of measures for consideration at the next special session of the legislature, one providing that appropriations above the present limit may be made by the state to assist poor counties in the construction of state highways.

W. W. Stewart for Ward and other counties has been requested to urge the governor to request some assistance from the state, with special mention of Ward county. Unless such action is taken a series of gaps in the improvement of the Bankhead highway, the leading state artery to El Paso, will be deferred for eighteen months before relief can be expected. Ward county is not in position to fill in one of these gaps. It has considerable mileage and a low valuation. It has already furnished its proportion for the construction of 28 miles of highway; but its bonding power is now exhausted, its valuation on account of conditions is less than at the time the bonds were voted, and it has 12 1/2 miles of impassable sand over which a road must be constructed.

So far as communication with other parts of Texas reached by state highway No. 1 is concerned, this gap presents almost as serious a problem and as necessary of solution as if the Grand Canyon of Colorado lay across the route.

CATTLE MARKET AND NEWS

The following is the latest market report on cattle wired to H. F. Anthony, Pecos by Daggett-Keen-Commission Company of Fort Worth: Fort Worth July 7th 1921.

Cattle 2100, including 600 calves. Market slow generally steady. Yearlings 25 higher, calves stronger; heaves 2.50 to 3.25; stockers 2.00 to 4.00; cows 2.00 to 4.00; canners 1.00 to 2.00; heifers 3.00 to 6.50; bulls 1.00 to 3.00; calves 1.00 to 6.35; yearlings 3.50 to 6.00.

Anthony sold for J. E. Wilcher of Odessa a bunch of registered Hereford bulls to Julius Eisenwine of Pecos.

Henry Shack has been relieved from duty as cattle inspector and H. F. Robinson of Midland has been appointed to cover the field from Big Spring to Toyah on the T. and P. Mr. Robinson was formerly field inspector for the association and the change is made to reduce the expenses of inspection.

J. G. Hall Live Stock Commission dealers, from El Paso is in Pecos. He returned today from Liberal, Kansas, and reports rain during the entire trip.

BELL DISCOVERY WELL AGAIN PRODUCING OIL--OTHER OIL DOPE

An excellent showing in the Bell No. 1, and the announcement of the early start of a new operation in the Pecos territory features the oil news of the past week in the Pecos territory.

The oil in the Bell well, the second found within a week, stood for fifty feet in the hole on Thursday after the bit had penetrated four feet into an oil saturated lime, but indications at that depth indicated that the drill was about to pass through that oil formation.

The first showing was had at 1890 feet last Friday, when about two feet of oil bearing formation was passed through. This yielded a small quantity of oil. At 1900 the bit struck the latter showing, and several bailers of a high grade green oil, apparently of high grade gasoline content was bailed from the hole.

Drilling operations were stopped except for the daylight shift in order to more thoroughly analyze the formations, and bailings were frequent.

The general belief of the operators and the crew is that these showings are not the production that may be expected, but that they are indication of bigger production below. There was considerable gas with the second showing, and its condition was such that it was believed that a good well could be obtained by shooting the thin stratum if necessary.

Chris A. Jensen of the Syndicate of that name in Chicago, was here early in the week and announced that he expected to start operations on section 34, block 54, township 1 of Loving county within thirty days. Mr. Jensen while here made a trip over the drilling territory. Before his arrival in Pecos Mr. Jensen had been through the Burk Burnett, Ranger, Necessity and plans to ship one of these standard outfits into this field soon.

J. R. Crain and a crew of drillers representing Cook & O'Brien of Amarillo were in Pecos early in the week securing camp equipment for a drilling operations which it is understood they are to start in eastern Ward county on the Sherman & O'Brien ranch. The exact location was not announced. It is understood that part of the equipment had reached Monahan and that it was to be taken to a point about seven miles north of that town.

Elsewhere in the field drilling operations are being pushed. The Pinal Dome in Pecos county is drilling below 2300 feet in rock salt and lime formations, very similar to that of the River well in Ward county which is at approximately the same depth, in similar formation. Indication in both wells are that the salt formation will soon be passed up.

The Pinal Dome in Eastern Loving county has had difficulty in shutting off the water and has made but little progress during the past ten days. The hole is down 900 feet.

The Toyah Bell No. 2 has been drilling steadily although the exceedingly hard formation found between 3300 and 3400 feet has made it necessary to spend practically the whole week in negotiating the 100 feet. The drill has been working in lime formation at that depth.

The Helen S. of the Texas Drilling & Development Company has resumed drilling below 1,000 feet, and has made some hole in brown and grey limes.

The lost drilling stem and set of jars in the Laura were removed on Monday, the Fourth being fittingly celebrated by the accomplishment of this task, and the tools have been working in the hole since, reaming down the hole to ten inch down to the depth of 2250 feet. President Alfred Tinaly of the Sunshine Oil Corporation announces that the ten inch hole would be carried to 2500 feet or further, and that the 8 1/2 inch casing would be carried down to 3200 feet or better. It is the intention of the company, he said, to push the hole down to 4,600 feet if necessary to get oil.

The Trans-Pecos has been steadily working and is drilling in blue shale, lime and sand, and making what B. J. O'Reilly, the field manager, announces as satisfactory time.

Mechanical difficulties have delayed operations on the Toyah Shallow Oil Companies operations on the Cowan ranch and near Saragosa.

TRANS-PECOS OIL COMPANY

There is no cessation of operations at the "Malite" well of this company. The formation continues to show the earmarks of a good well.

The depth reached and the existing conditions necessitate a reduction in size of the hole and a string of 8 1/2 casing has been ordered.

The heavy rains and bad roads have not in any way interfered with work at this well and we are daily expecting a report from this property that will please the community at large.

THE FOURTH BRINGS PLENTY OF MOISTURE

The Fourth of July brought with it more than the usual amount of rains this year which appears to have covered pretty well all of West Texas. On the Fourth, however, J. Pluvius had the good grace to wait until the day was most fittingly celebrated and did not send the rain until late in the afternoon and at night. Light showers also fell on the 5th, 6th and 7th and seldom if ever, has the range conditions been better than now. The grass is fine and the ranges are soaked to the very bottom.

All our stockmen need to make a of the payments on money borrowed killing this year is a stay or extension and better prices for cattle. Everything else is already provided to make our stockmen not only happy but prosperous.

TEXAS' COTTON CROP

By F. N. Gray, Cotton Statistician, Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture.

The Texas cotton acreage under cultivation June 25, preliminary estimate, is 9,199,000, as compared with 12,265,000 acres, the revised estimate of acreage in cultivation a year ago, being a decrease of 25 per cent.

The condition of the growing crop on June 25, was 72 per cent of a normal condition, as compared with 71 on May 25, 1921, 71 on June 25, 1920, and 79 the average condition for the past ten years on June 25.

A condition of 72 on June 25 forecasts a yield per acre of about 140 pounds and a total production of about 2,665,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, not including linters, allowing the usual 1 per cent for abandonment of acreage.

Comments on Acreage and Condition.

A reduction of 25 per cent, means that there are 3,066,000 acres less planted to cotton in Texas than last year. This great reduction was brought about chiefly, by the organized work of many interests concerned, for the following reasons; 1. Because of the prevailing low price; 2. The unstable commercial conditions affecting cotton and the fear of over production, considering the large amount of last year's production not having as yet entered into consumption. However, aside from the almost universal prompting to reduce acreage, there were other limiting factors, such as the protracted drought in the western belt at seeding time, followed by torrential rains and the early prevalence of boll weevils in other important districts. Under the enforced conditions, farmers have either let their lands lie idle, or have planted more largely to other crops.

The average proportions compared with last year's planted acreage, found by districts, are as follows: Northwest 65; North 71; Northeast 78; West Center 78; Center 78; East 75; South 81; Southeast 63. Total 75.

There is an improvement over the condition of May 25. Under favorable weather influence, nearly all large producing districts made rapid progress and the crop had no backsets until the 22nd of June, when a tropical storm brought an excess of rainfall, covering wide acres for several days duration. This stopped the cultivation, which was then well in hand; tended to promote grassiness; caused shedding in many instances and augmented the number of boll weevil now prevalent and working injury in a number of districts. With the recent heavy rains in all parts of the State, there is now sufficient moisture in the soil to make a crop, without additional rain. This is viewed as an asset and in some counties where injury was wrought by the storm.

The plant, while generally a little late, is very healthy in condition, attaining to too rank a growth, in localities of certain counties. What is mainly needed, is dry hot weather to check the growth and aid in the control of weevils. In the south portion of the State, barring the effects of the storm in a few counties the condition is very good. Cotton is fruiting remarkably well and little or no weevil ravages have been reported. Calcium arsenate is being used more largely in this district, than any other, as was done last year, when a bumper crop resulted. As yet, comparatively few are dusting with this effective poison in other districts, but it is expected, as the season advances, its use will become general, despite the cost, which is a bagatelle compared with the beneficial results to be attained.

Acreage and Condition in the United States.

The acreage as reported by the Bureau of Markets & Crop Estimates, as of this date, for the United States, is 26,519,000 as compared with 37,048,000 planted last year, showing a reduction of 10,524,000. LITTLE DECLINE IN ADVERTISING LIKELY

Banker Regards Subject As Of Interest To Public As A Whole

Newspaper and magazine advertising in the United States is unlikely to suffer any very considerable permanent loss in volume, according to James L. Clarke, second vice president of the National Bank of Commerce in New York. In the July number of Commerce Monday, the bank's magazine, he presents a comparison of total advertising lineage for the last ten years with bank clearings outside New York, an accepted index of business activity. The comparison shows that both follow the same general trend, he points out, and that the unprecedented growth of advertising during the post-war boom period was primarily the result of business activity rather than of extraneous causes.

"There is a popular belief that the passing of the abnormal conditions of recent years may result in a marked and permanent reduction in advertising of every sort," Mr. Clarke declares. "In an era of sweeping and widespread changes in the course of business activity, the relation between the volume of advertising and the volume of business thus becomes a matter of more than mere technical interest. Broadly viewed, the subject is important not only to publishers, advertisers and advertising men, but to the community as a whole.

Would Have Profound Effect. "Any great decrease in the volume of advertising would have a profound effect on the number and distribution of both newspapers and periodicals and on the interchange of opinion which they so greatly stimulate. Many publications would necessarily be discontinued, while those which survived would reach fewer readers because the loss of advertising revenues would make necessary large increases in subscription rates."

Mr. Clarke cites statistics compiled by Printers Ink and the New York Evening Post on newspaper and magazine advertising, which he has plotted as a graph, together with the figures on bank clearings. He continues:

"Comparing the curves representing New York City newspaper advertising and total magazine advertising, it will be noted that the seasonal variations in both classes of advertising occur together and with extraordinary regularity. Not only do the fluctuations in newspaper and magazine advertising occur at the same period, but they are substantially similar in extent.

"Although the volume of newspaper and magazine advertising in the United States tends to follow in general the trend of business activity, this study of total advertising lineage emphasizes the remarkable stable character of the volume of advertising. The general upward trend in the volume of advertising continued without substantial interruption from the earliest date for which satisfactory data are available until the autumn of 1920.

"During 1919 and the early months of 1920 there was a considerable gain in both newspaper and magazine advertising, particularly in the former. This increase followed a period during 1917-18, when a rapidly rising price level and the stimulation of war activity very considerably increased bank clearings throughout the country so that this index of general business during those two years tended to rise faster than the volume of either magazine or newspaper advertising.

Conditions in 1914.

"In the summer of 1914 the sudden catastrophe of the European war reacted swiftly on nearly every form of business activity, with the result that bank clearings throughout the latter half of the year were substantially below the average of the preceding year. The volume of advertising also decreased, magazine advertising to a somewhat greater degree than bank clearings and newspaper advertising in slightly less proportion.

"During the latter half of 1920 and the first months of the current year, business was again faced with a period of sudden and profound readjustment. Bank clearings outside of New York City, which reached a total of over $18,000,000,000 in October, 1920, fell to less than $13,000,000,000 in February, 1921. The volume of magazine advertising declined in accordance with the usual seasonal fluctuations during the fall of 1920, but much more precipitately than in previous years. The volume of newspaper advertising followed the normal seasonal variations and decreased proportionately less than bank clearings.

Curtailement Improbable.

"There appears to be no reason to believe that the notable increase in periodical advertising during 1919 and 1920 was influenced to any great extent by federal taxes, or was the result of any factor other than the stimulus of business activity.

"The experience of the last ten years and especially that of the periods of depression in 1914-15 and 1920-21, seems to demonstrate that the place of advertising in the present economic system is thoroughly well established, and it seems improbable that there can be any very considerable permanent curtailement of its volume."—The Dallas Morning News.

DRILLING REPORT

Corrected to June 22, 1921.

The following drilling report was compiled and furnished The Enterprise by W. A. Bennett, and is accurate, according to best information, and will be of much interest to the public.

Table with columns: Company, Well, County, Sec., Township, Block, Depth, Remarks. Lists various drilling operations across different counties like Reeves, Pecos, and Culberson.

The above list does not include many shallow wells in the Toyah Valley field, and only those in actual operation in the Pecos Valley field. I know of no oil field that at the same stage of development (20 months) that had so many active operations, and the fact that migratory or seepage oil has shown to a remarkable amount points beyond question that the big pools are surely here, and it is certain that some of these operations will go into them when they get deep enough, which may be anywhere from 2500 to 4000 ft. Get at Oil Company, Pecos County, putting on power to pump 29 wells on one line.

AN INFORMATION BUY AND SELL GUIDE TO BE LAUNCHED AT EL PASO SOON

Realizing the great necessity in formulating a plan whereby the stockmen throughout these United States may have a more direct way of finding a market for their products by dealing more directly from buyer to seller and realizing that there are many millions of dollars wasted every year in useless expenses attached to the livestock industry in the purchasing of cattle railroad fares, extra feed bills, etc., there has been a plan, now being executed to quite a degree of success, to save the buyers and sellers thousands of dollars annually. At El Paso is a publication known as the Buyers and Sellers National Livestock Guide which will make its debut shortly to the livestock industry. Its organization is so complete and its makeup so simple that it is taking by storm many of the breeders, buyers and sellers who are interested in this present day industry and all the problems which confront it.

The Buyers and Sellers National Livestock Guide will revolutionize the industry. It will create a demand for its service. It covers the field of operations so thoroughly and systematically and functions so regularly that a man either in the market for cattle or having cattle for sale can find an outlet for his wants in every part of the country where this industry exists. In other words they are receiving listings of cattle to be sold, location of ranch, condition of cattle, grade, class and all information pertaining to the livestock in book form which will be published twice monthly. Along with this plan we will suppose that a man wanting to buy cattle reads the Guide. He instantly turns to its pages and finds there just what he wants. In that way he comes directly in touch with the man he is going to deal with and eliminates all transactions and unnecessary charges of driving over the country and finding the man. He eliminates in many cases transportation charges, commissions, yardage and railroad fares in going over the country and finding the grade of cattle he wants. This information is right there and plenty of it.

The boys who are going to publish the Buyers and Sellers National Livestock Guide have been associated with the cattle industry for many years and feel that they have devised a plan of untold benefit that will prove a blessing to the industry which at this time is in dire need of such a medium. A minimum charge of $10.00 per year for this service is placed as a subscription price. You make your sale and that is the end of it. You are entitled to one-half inch advertising in the Guide each month free of charge for twelve months each year and every two weeks.

Letters of encouragement from all over the breeding ground are coming in daily and the man who stops and thinks a little can see that the more he thinks along these lines, the greater the possibility of such a clearing house of information. It will pay for itself many, many times if it alone saves a ticket in going from the North to the Southern sections in search of stuff to put on grass throughout the corn belt and blue grass sections. A little card dropped to the Buyers and Sellers National Livestock Guide might prove of untold benefit to you boys, for the originators of this plan have information, vital to your interests, at all times.—El Paso Livestock Journal.

LIST OF PUBLIC LANDS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION.

Austin, Texas, July 2.—The Land Commissioner has received for free distribution a list of the public lands to go on the market Sept. 1, next, under the competitive bidding system, there being about 500,000 acres mostly in the extreme western part of the State, but with enough small tracts to cause it to be scattered among 115 counties. Most of this land is located in the counties of Andrews, Brewster, Culberson, Hudspeth, Pecos, Presidio, Reeves, Terrell, Upton, Ward, Webb and Winkler.

No settlement is required on this land and as many as eight sections of 640 acres each may be purchased by one person though a person who has already acquired eight sections can not buy any of this offering.

All of this land has been declared forfeited for failure to pay interest due Nov. 1, 1917, and is subject to retention and recovery by the delinquent owners by the payment of the interest any time before Sept. 1, next, therefore not all of it will be available for sale as the interest will be sure to be paid in some instances and the land taken off the market.

Oil and gas rights on this land will revert to the owner thereof upon the expiration of present permits thereon, if there are any, otherwise they pass to the owner of the soil upon its purchase from the State. All other minerals are reserved to the State. The minimum prices are said to be rather high and bids must equal or exceed same, otherwise they will not be considered.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Enterprise By The First National Bank In St. Louis.

The Treasury Department's latest statement of the money in circulation and of the stock of money in the United States on June 1st 1921, was unusually interesting. It showed that the country's stock of gold on that date was the largest on record up to that time. Furthermore, it revealed that in spite of the increase in the stock of gold the amount of money in actual circulation was lower on June 1st, than it was on May 1st. This decline was due to a sharp decrease in the amount of Federal Reserve notes in circulation. The total amount of money in circulation on June 1st, was $5,983,258,293, a decrease of $87,629,821 from the total of $6,070,880,114 in circulation on May 1st, of this year.

On the other hand, the general stock of money in the United States on June 1st 1921, was $8,073,757,253, exceeding that of May 1st, which amounted to $8,040,936,478 by $32,800,775. Since June 1st 1920, the total stock of money in the United States increased $269,208,869. The stock of gold in the United States on June 1st was $3,175,037,198, an increase of $85,357,416 from that of May 1st. Since June 1st, 1920, the total stock of gold in the United States increased $511,306,840.

While the volume of Federal Reserve notes outstanding has been declining recently there has been an appreciable increase both for the past month and for the past year in the amount of outstanding national bank notes. On June 1st, 1921, the total national bank notes outstanding was $740,593,359 as compared with $723,816,352 on May 1st 1921, an increase for the past month of $16,777,007.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarette aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

PROSPERITY AND ADVERTISING

The Enterprise has been preaching the doctrine for years that prosperity and advertising go hand in hand. It is a fact as old as the hills, but too many of our people, while believing in a way, fail to act.

"Newspaper publishers intensify their ways and means of advertising whenever business men lessen theirs. When business is dull many industries shut down, but when business is dull live newspapers push out with greater vigor than ever before.

"The spirit of patriotism for business is as vitally important to the nation's welfare as was the spirit of patriotism for the war four years ago. The slacker then was a coward.

"Business, at the beginning of 1921, faced three primary obstacles to the conduct of affairs on anything like a normal plane. Commodity prices were still in many cases, grossly inflated.

"Without advertising England could not have raised its mighty volunteer army; without advertising the United States could not have found 20,000,000 bond buyers.

"The power of all-pervading, all-compelling advertising work, literally alive with the fire of truth and enthusiasm, would quicken every heart beat, would thrill every American, would stimulate the young to deeds of achievement in the business world to match the achievements and the glory of the battlefield.

"Then down with the pessimism of the faint hearted camp followers, and up with the flag of optimism!

"Onward with 'sound the charge,' through every well tested and proven advertising method and we would soon see a mighty army of a nation of 105,000,000 people putting to disastrous rout every faint heart, every preacher of pessimism in bank, in office and in factory!

"Why advertise when there is no business to be had? Say others. Because the only way to create business is by advertising.

"It isn't so long since the country road was the safest place we knew. Old Dobin smiled with his pie-faced load, where the sweet wild-roses grew. But now, we shiver in dire alarm, as we prod our faithful donk—And we jump the fence, from bodily harm, at the sound of the devilish honk.

"I used to love to gather the flowers that garnished the old rail fence, when lovers lane was a matter of hours, and the perfume stole my sense. But gosh, here lately, the flowers is dead, from the weight of the horrid dust, where the dam road hog with the bullet head must beat the record or bust!

Oh, the country's full of automobiles,—they're increasing every day. . . . When I hear their toots, and honks, and squeals, I reckon they've come to stay. . . . From the thunderin' truck to the pussy-foot Liz, the country's entirely filled. It's only by luck, and watchin' my biz, I ain't long ago been killed!

WHO GETS THE CHAMPAGNE?

We note the following sad complaint from France, told in a cable dispatch from Paris:

"That French grape growers and wine merchants are greatly disappointed at the slow increase of wine shipments to the United States since the war; that only 8,000 more bottles of champagnes were shipped here during the first five months of this year than during the corresponding five months last year.

"We suppose some doctor will remark that the champagne was for sickness. But how about the millions of bottles of wine that were in storage when prohibition went into effect? Is that all gone? And who consumed it? Moreover, if it is still in storage why add 55,000 to it in five months?"

"There has been a great deal said that prohibition is for the poor man and not for the rich man. It behooves our enforcing authorities to see to it that this law applies to everybody.

Congressman Hudspeth—that's the name of the highest priced Angora Billie in the United States—and especially those who know a good Billie or buck, are of the opinion that there could not have been a better name selected for the Ward Angora than Congressman Hudspeth. This goat was bred and raised in Sutton county by John A. Ward, one of West Texas's most famous goat men.

A parrot who had been taught to say "sic 'em!" had escaped from his cage, and was perched in the upper branches of a tree when two dogs came along. The parrot said "sic 'em," and the dogs began to fight. Pleased with the result he kept on saying "sic 'em!" and climbed down through the tree so as to get a better view of the fracas. Finally he got down to the ground, and said "sic 'em!" again. One of the dogs suddenly turned his attention to the parrot and shook a few thousand feathers out of him. The bird climbed back into the tree and thoughtfully remarked to himself: "The trouble with me I talk too damn much."

"PEP"

(By Grace G. Bostwick.)

Vigor, vitality, vim and punch— That's pep!

The courage to act on a sudden hunch— That's pep!

The nerve to tackle the hardest thing,

With feet that climb and hands that cling,

And a heart that never forgets to sing—

That's pep!

Sand and grit in a concrete base— That's pep!

Friendly smile on an honest face— That's pep!

The spirit that helps when another's down,

That knows how to scatter the blackest frown,

That loves its neighbor and loves its town—

That's pep!

To say "I will"—for you know you can—

That's pep!

To look for the best in every man— That's pep!

To meet each thundering knock-out blow,

And come back with a laugh, because you know

You'll get the best of the whole darned show—

INSIDE DOPE ON THE TOYAH-BELL NO. 2

First—We are drilling just about 3,400 feet.

Second—The crew is paid for drilling to 3,400.

Third—We have no further funds with which to pay them below this depth.

Fourth—Many have written and promised to send money that have not done so to date.

Fifth—Many have responded and made it possible for us to drill almost 300 feet since my first call under this heading.

Sixth—We will continue drilling from this date until Saturday, July 16, 1921, but unless we have received enough money to pay the balance due on the derrick and all other actual expenses in connection with the well we will, on Saturday, July 16, 1921, shut the well down and stay down until we do get enough money to clear all bills and continue drilling without being forever harassed for money.

Seventh—I, as trustee for the Pecos Natural Oil Company, wish to say that my relentless efforts will continue until this well has been drilled to 4,000 feet if it is humanly possible, but I will not again knowingly allow the company to get behind with its obligations.

Eighth—You may be afraid of me as a grafter but, my friends, you know that your fear of me is but dim when I tell you that this well will be shut down Saturday, July 16, 1921, if you don't help finance it. I have shot squarely with one and all, have asked you to cooperate and a few have done so nobly, but it is as much to your personal interest to see this well completed as it is for the Pecos Natural Oil Company or myself. We are broke and cannot carry your invested money in lands, leases and oil stock further. Do you want to make something on your investment in the Pecos Valley? Will our well, the Toyah-Bell No. 2, benefit you if we are forced to shut it down? We have kept faith with the land, lease, royalty and oil stock owners who have invested money in this Pecos Valley and struggled along all the time being for co-operation and now will you kindly come to the rescue as you have allowed us to run behind with our obligations as far as we have credit. We are not begging nor coaxing you to do this. You owe it to yourself, the Pecos country and to us. It is due the three of us and just as we must pay our bills so must you pay this or we cannot proceed after the date named above.

Kindly remit by post office money order of bank draft if possible as all checks must be accepted for collection and this routine causes some delay. We will issue you one share of stock for every dollar received. Make all money payable to the Pecos Natural Oil Company, mail to C. H. Willoughby, Pecos, Texas, and remember this call is for real co-operation and must be acted upon promptly and substantially for we have no choice in the matter. Our bills must be paid and we will continue operations at the well until Saturday, July 16, 1921, to further prove that what we are doing is trying to bring the Toyah-Bell No. 2 in. If you will get out and hustle like we are doing you can convince a few of your friends to co-operate with you and us. It takes money to make money and an oil well to make you rich. Help us all you can.

C. H. WILLOUGHBY.

The State of Texas County of Reeves.

Whereas, by virtue of authority vested in me, as trustee, named and appointed in a certain deed of trust, recorded in Volume 21 on Pages 338 and 339, Trust Deed Records of Reeves County, Texas, executed and delivered to me on the 31st day of August, A. D. 1918, by H. H. Johnson for better securing the payment of eleven certain promissory Vendor's Lien Notes, ten of said notes being for the sum of $250.00 each, and one of said notes being for the sum of $450.00, more fully described in said deed of trust, and being also more fully described in a deed from the First National Bank of Stephenville, Texas, to H. H. Johnson, which deed is recorded in Volume 44, on pages 18 and 20 of the deed records of Reeves County, Texas. Said notes executed by H. H. Johnson and payable to the order of the First National Bank of Stephenville, Texas, at Stephenville, Texas, and numbered one to eleven, respectively. All of said notes have been paid except Note No. Eleven, which fell due on the first day of June, 1921, and being for the sum of $450.00, and bearing interest from date until due at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, and after due at the rate of 10 per cent per annum. The interest was paid on this note up to the first day of December, 1920, and the full amount of the principal of said note, together with interest thereon from December 1st, 1920, is now past due and unpaid. Said notes were given in part payment for the purchase money of the 320 acres of land described below.

And whereas the said, The First National Bank of Stephenville, Texas, is the holder and owner of said note No. 11, (It being the only note of said series of notes which has not been paid), and the said H. H. MEET 'UNCLE JOHN,' FOLKS

Of the few men in America today who are writing human interest, homey poetry, Dr. John J. Gaines is excelled by none. Quaintly musical, full of the human tone, disdainful of the "highbrow," they strike the responsive chord that is so charming to the ears of the great mass of American people today.

This is the man and this is the poetry that will entertain our readers through the Autocaster service, in which this newspaper holds an exclusive franchise. We will, therefore, publish a poem, or prose poem, by Dr. Gaines regularly during the next year. Watch for it.

Dr. Gaines ("Uncle John") resides and thrives at Excelsior Springs, Mo., which he describes as being as high to the center of the earth as you can drive a stake.

Unlike other well-known newspaper poets, Dr. Gaines is country made, country bred, and continues in the country town life. Our readers will soon realize that he is one of them—a plain American citizen.

SHOPPING IN BATHING SUITS.

San Angelo Standard. Numerous complaints from horrified citizens of Christoval recently against the capering of "bathing beauties" about the streets of that town has led to the issuance of an edict against such conduct by Frank L. Duckworth, sheriff. "Somebody's always taking joy outa life," quoth the street curb lizzard as he read the sad news. Now Mack Sennett would have about as much luck scoring a hit with his most chic array of bathing beauties in Christoval as a one-legged man at the Olympic Games.

Christoval boasts of one of the best bathing pools to be found in any of the Conchos and the spot is the attraction for a large number of bathers from all over this section. The bathers, however, have recently begun to overstep the bounds of propriety, according to the sheriff, and have slipped into the habit of climbing out of the water and parading down the main street of Christoval, producing thrills and shocks in the populace.

A pretty form is well and good so long as it is displayed only at the water's edge, in the opinion of the residents of Christoval who made the complaints. But they term it indecent to go shopping in swimming attire.

Those who frequent the Christoval pool are bemoaning the fact that since the issuance of the sheriff's edict they must confine their activities to the river bed, not daring to venture far from the banks lest they be immediately pinched and landed in the "cooler."

But the bathers are not the only persons affected by the order. There are those about Christoval who were not shocked by the activities of the pretty bathers, in fact they seemed to enjoy their capers. There is sometimes joy in swimming, they say, even if one is not in the water and this joy the sheriff's order has killed entirely.

DOGS DIDN'T IN.

TEREST RUSSELL.

The San Antonio Express says:—Lee Russell is telling a story on a San Antonio man that would be a credit to any man living anywhere. Russell and this man, who shall be referred to as John Doe, were standing on a corner at Del Rio during the convention when an auto carrying two beautiful women came slowly by, making a turn on the inside. A big, fine Boston bull pup occupied the back seat, sitting up alive and alert to see and be seen to best advantage. John Doe gazed fondly on the dog until the auto went by, then turned to Russell with "Wasn't that dog a dandy?" Russell says that both women spoke to this man, John Doe, and that he never saw them at all—had eyes only for the dog. The women were strangers to Russell and he is vexed within an inch of his life because his friend did not see who they were. Russell is a man that likes to go out in the world and make new and interesting acquaintances. It is indeed a pity that it can not be said that more of our men when they are away from home, do not carry themselves as did Mr. Russell's friend. There would be much more happiness in our homes if this were true.

THE QUITTER.

The oil business is not the only one that is going through a somewhat dull period. In former times, when the oil business was a little off, other lines were good, but now it seems that a quiet spell has fallen on practically all.

It is predicted that as soon as the export trade picks up, and especially when the tax on Mexican crude is set, that the oil business will be, as it always has been, the quickest to respond.

Then we will look back and wonder why we ever made so much noise about the slight depression of a short period. In the meantime, those with old feet, a wishbone instead of a backbone, will be weeded out, and it will be better for all of us.

There are numbers and numbers of oil men and institutions in the oil business that will emerge in excellent shape, and will make greater profits than ever, for the simple reason that their cost figures have been put on a correct and sound business basis.

The oil business has a bright future, and it is predicted, speaking of the law of supply and demand, that the big companies will soon have all available storage filled with crude; then they will have ample oil to sell, and they will boost the price. Keep a stiff upper lip, work, then work some more. The future of oil is assured, oil is king today.—Oil World.

BEATS THE COST OF FEEDING.

Live Stock Journal. Three cars of cattle were consigned to the Denver yards recently routed by Pueblo, Colo., by Paul Slater of Odessa, Texas. It was an unlucky shipment from all angles, proving a loss to the stockyards in not getting the charges of feed received from all stop over shipments, but giving the cattle an outing which does not generally come to a bunch of cattle and adding a little experience which the bovine does not generally have.

These cattle had just reached Pueblo when the flood came, necessitating the turning loose of all cattle in the yards. They were scattered to the four winds but were latter gathered on the hills surrounding Pueblo, and every one counted and found to be intact. Mr. Slater then routed these cattle to Kansas City and there disposed of them.

Tales of floods during the early trail drives are numerous and account many experiences of the old timers who made the long drives, and the experience Paul Slater had with this shipment will recall vividly the reminiscences of the fore-runners who used to make the drives right through this very section. From the time those cattle were shipped until they reached their destination, twenty-two days elapsed.

A CONFEDERATE BATTLE PARK

It is not likely that any sentiment in the North will begrudge to the Southern people the Confederate battle park that is to be established on the field of Manassas—or, as the Union armies, following their habit of naming battle-fields from streams, mountains or other natural features rather than from towns or villages, prefer to call it, the field of Bull Run, sponsored by Virginia, and with the expense of improvement falling apparently in large part upon a private association, the Manassas Park will undoubtedly come into being, and will prove a worthy companion memorial to the great battle reservations set up by the United States Government—to Gettysburg, to Antietam and to Chickamauga. And that the Manassas Battle Park will not attempt merely to vaunt the victory over the forces of the Union that was won there is made apparent by the announced intention of the organizers of the movement to dedicate it "in memory of the brave dead of both armies."

Bull Run, or the brushy district between Centerville, Groveton and Manassas Station, was, as everyone knows, the scene of two Confederate victories over the Union forces. The first of these was so overwhelming that a hostile foreign critic, "Bull Run" Russell of the London Times, proclaimed to the world that in it "the bubble of democracy had burst." That, in the opinion of the world at large at the time, was to have been its effect. But the bubble of democracy was not yet quite ready to burst. Nor would it probably have burst even if the victorious Confederates had not been almost demoralized by their victory as the Union troops were by their defeat—not even if Johnson and Beauregard had been able to press on to Washington and seize the national capital.

What happened at the first battle was that the incompetence of the command and the total inadequacy of the organization of the Union Army were demonstrated, forcing the men of the Union to make at least the wholly serious effort that was necessary. The South brought better commanders, and to a great extent better soldiers, to the initial struggle than did the North. The Southern soldiers were for the most part men accustomed to the use of guns, and better adapted to life in the open than the men of the North. In the qualities of mobile leadership they had at least a year's start of the men of the North. In a distinct sense, they taught the art of war to their opponents. Even a year later, when Union and Confederate armies again met on the same field, the balance of competence had not been brought up.

For many years the story of the panic of the Union troops at Bull Run quite overtopped the record of the desperate fighting that brave Union soldiers did there. Somehow there was a tendency to lose sight of that it was natural no doubt, in view of the wild helter-skelter of the fight which took place back to the Potomac. But those who now propose to make a memorial of the battlefield to the brave men who fought on both sides are well advised. There was fine fighting on the Union side as well as on the Confederate. Not only Syke's battalion of regulars, but all the raw Massachusetts and Rhode Island troops, and several regiments from the West, fought desperately and well, with heavy losses. Before the arrival of Johnston's 4,000 men from the Shenandoah Valley the fate of the battle indeed hung in the balance. It was the splendid onset of this all but exhausted force attacking the Union flank that turned the struggle into a rout. And it was to the immortal credit of the Northern democracy that the very vastness of the defeat, even the spectacle of thousands in flight, and the appalling record of death and capture, spurred the men of the North on to offer themselves, by hundreds of thousands, for new and more glorious battles. For every man who ran away from the fight at Bull Run, thousands came forward to volunteer, bringing eventual victory as their gift. In view of all that it means, the whole country might properly join in establishing and beautifying this Confederate battle park.—Boston Transcript.

HEALTHGRAMS

By Dr. M. M. Carrick, State Health Officer.

The only good fly is a dead fly. Good health means good business. Bad health is bad business.

We've whipped the Germans. Now let's whip the germs.

Beware of the dastardly "D's"—Dirt, despair, disease, dampness, death.

Health without health is mockery. Tuberculosis kills more persons every year than any other preventable disease.

If Saint Peter demanded a birth certificate, a whole lot of people in Texas would never gain admission to Heaven. Is your baby registered?

The worry habit is bad for both mental and physical health. Don't worry.

Muffle the cough; smother the sneeze and expectorate not in public places.

Many mothers who would be shocked at the very suggestion of "farming out" the baby, actually farm their infants out at home by turning them over body and soul to hired help.

Many parents lament their inability to give their children "bigger opportunities." There is no occasion for such lamentation in regard to outdoor life—the "biggest opportunity" for the child to acquire health.

Children's first teeth should be retained and kept in good condition as long as possible. Moderately delayed second teeth prove to be better developed and more serviceable.

If you had rather live than die, roll up your sleeves and swat the fly.

The State Board of Health is not for the exploitation of men, but for the safety of all mankind. Its sole object is to save human lives; perhaps yours, perhaps your neighbor's. Every individual has a value to the state; therefore it is the duty of the state to safeguard the life of every human being.

The best service the local newspaper can render to its community is to co-operate with every local agency for the suppression of preventable diseases. The general health of the public should be the first consideration of all men. Strong, healthy children will form a sturdy race of men and women upon which to found future generations.

CURRENT NEWS OF WEEK IN THE FORT STOCKTON OIL FIELD

Fort Stockton Pioneer.

The Twin Cities Oil & Gas company, drilling on the Kokernot ranch, near Hovey, southwest of Fort Stockton is engaged with a fishing job.

Dave Humphrey has finished the moving of a standard rig on the Troy well location, section 20, block 140, T. & St. L. railway survey, and expects to be ready to resume drilling by July 4th.

Harve Bordner came in from San Angelo yesterday. He says that he hopes to resume drilling of the shallow test on the Sherbino ranch, section 55, block C4, G. C. & S. F. railway survey, very soon.

The Grant Oil corporation is awaiting the arrival of a specially constructed pump which will be installed in the Wonder well and, in the meantime, is engaged in drilling the Mirado well to lower levels.

Bower, Hale & Lamb, working a star machine on section 24, block 26, university lands, are said to have a showing of oil at the depth of 1,200 feet, which makes the operators feel highly encouraged.

James P. Nash, a representative of Philadelphia men who contemplate making heavy investments in the Fort Stockton field, in the event Mr. Nash renders a report of approval, is here investigating conditions. Mr. Nash has been operating in the Breckenridge field for the past two years and is a man of experience in oil matters. While he has, at the time, only a superficial knowledge of conditions here he says the Fort Stockton field presents a most fascinating appearance and invites development work, with which he expects to become identified, if his judgement prevails.

The Texas-Top Oil company which is working on the Baker-White ranch, section 11, block Z, T. C. railway survey, has made hole with a standard rig to the depth of 2,960 feet, and is now in lime with encouraging prospects.

A. F. Luse, a Fort Worth oil man and broker, is here making locations and concluding negotiations, entered into some time ago, for the drilling of three wells. Mr. Luse expects to have things under way within the next ten days.

Drilling on the Devlin ranch, section 208, Burleson survey, by the Final Dome Oil company is proceeding with unabated vigor, with the hole down 2,230 feet, the drill bit working in a lime stratum, after having coursed through an almost interminable stratum of rock salt.

The Polk Prospecting company, operating a national machine a quarter-mile south of the Grant Oil corporation shallow wells, section 18, block 140, T. & St. L. railway survey, is down with its hole to the 1,200 foot level, in a gray lime, with gas pressure steadily increasing and everything looking favorable. Manager Mason does not expect to enter into oil short of 1,700 feet, although he would not be in the least surprised to encounter it at any point ranging from 1,400 to 1,700 feet. For some time past this well has been looking exceedingly good and it begins to take on the color of a "sure thing" for oil.

WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Pecos resident's example. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. R. E. Miller says: "Several years ago my back was weak and lame and ached constantly. My kidneys acted too often and that annoyed me very much. It didn't take many boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills to cure me."

Mrs. Miller gave the above statement October 27, 1913, and OVER THREE YEARS LATER on April 7, 1919, she added: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly. They are fine. I use a few of Doan's occasionally and they keep my kidneys in good condition."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Miller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Chicago, Ill. 45-tf

W'AT DO MEAN, HANDICAP?

There is a lot of fun in the world if we will only look for it, says Sunny Jack Guiney, who is now in the Massachusetts Hospital School, at Franklin Park. He finds happiness. He went out and pitched a winning game for his school's ball team the other day, every member of which is a cripple. "Just forget to be sorry for yourself-for awhile and get all the happiness you can, no matter how bad everything may seem," says Jack between throwing strikes.

MILLION BALE COTTON POOL AMONG MEMBERS IN TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, June 29.—Two hundred and fifty thousand bales of cotton will be signed on one day in binding contracts, Thursday, June 30, according to C. O. Moser, Secretary of the Texas Farm Bureau which is establishing a million bale cotton pool among its members in Texas.

So sure is the organization of success that Aaron Sapiro, celebrated California marketing authority is coming Thursday to pilot the new organization in securing its chapter and establishing its marketing machinery. Sapiro is best known for his connection with the California prune growers although he is attorney for more than a score of co-operative selling associations composed of growers alone.

To date the organization work for the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Growers Marketing Association has been conducted in 127 counties. Every section of the State has been thoroughly prepared, Grayson county was the first big county to obtain its full quota, having signed about 26,000 bales in the pool. Nueces county is said to have already signed 40,000 bales. Ellis county is also in the 40,000 bale class having put on one of the most intensive campaigns in the State. Ford county in northwest Texas is the first to get its full quota, having signed it complement June 27. Cottle county in the same section has also completed its quota in the campaign and both counties are continuing the drive. Hall county also took an early lead and is one of the most completely worked sections in West Texas. Jones Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Runnels, Coleman, McCulloch, San Saba and Brown are other West Texas counties where the campaign has been especially strong. Jones county wired a report early in the week that it had secured its full quota of 30,000 bales but this has not been officially announced as yet. Brown county had one hundred men at work last Saturday on a complete canvass of the county. Promise of full quota is made by leaders here.

In east Texas Bowie county is leading the field although Red River county, where long staple grows, promises to deliver its full quota to the million bale pool. Gregg county signed more than fifty per cent of its quota before the final drive known as "Victory Week." Every store in Titus county closed June 27 to help in the drive. In central Texas Bell and Travis are the leading counties.

Contracts are also coming in rapidly from Williamson, Bell county business men are assisting in the drive which is very thoroughly planned. In South Texas Wilson county had secured more than ninety per cent of its quota before the final week of the drive. Karnes county promises to go over the top. Jackson had signed 10,000 on June 20. Many other sections are just as busily at work but had not reported their progress up to June 29 in such a manner that an authoritative statement could be given out.

EFFICIENCY

The word efficiency is yet in its infancy. Only within the last few years has it been used to any extent. It was first applied when it was discovered that a particular workman could do a job, not only better than the average man, but could do it in less time with a greater degree of accuracy.

Skill, speed and accuracy are responsible for the coining of this word efficiency, and they are made possible through the employment of the latest types of machinery.

TWO WAYS OF DOING A THING

THE NEW WAY

A $6,000 Linotype machine that casts new type for every job and advertisement.

Does the work of four men.

Equipped with 32 different faces of type that can be changed on a minute's notice.

Also casts ornamental printing material, rule, border, etc.

Metal saw that cuts machine products into any design and measure.

LATEST MODEL MACHINE MADE

THE OLD WAY

When printing was done by hand it required six times as much time as by machinery.

Type was laid in cases, became worn, the printing surfaces scratched; rules were bent, nicked and battered and in a few months the office could not possibly do first-class work. Neither could they afford to buy new.

The Linotype has done away with this method.

REASONS FOR QUALITY PRINTING

THE two Linotype machines in THE ENTERPRISE office are capable of handling any work that falls to them in the shortest possible time—with no exceptions. The now Model 14 is one of the best equipped machines in the State—this is fact.

Without the machines we would have to employ four times as much labor, our floor space increased and additional rent; we could not give you new material with every job; our methods of production much slower, but everyone knows the difference between machine and hand work—it is a short story: Either the hand work costs you much more or the job is done in a haphazard way to meet the low price of the machine work.

THE ENTERPRISE has the only machines in the county and the best skilled workmen on the market.

MARRIED

Harold Wendt and Miss Bessie Wolf were married Sunday evening at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Norwood where Miss Bessie has made her home for some time. Rev. Fred B. Faust, pastor of the Methodist church of which both the contracting parties are members performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Harold is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wendt, successful farmers and highly respected citizens living a few miles south of town. Harold is a quiet unassuming young man of good habits and is industrious. Miss Bessie is a splendid young woman, modest, and a practical house-keeper. They are at home at the Wendt farm where there are good crops growing on this highly developed irrigated farm. The Enterprise extends congratulations and wishes for them much joy and prosperity.

BEN HERSHEAL PALMER, JR.

Ben Hersheal Palmer, Jr., little son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Palmer, passed away Saturday, July 2, at about twelve o'clock after a few days illness. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the residence by Rev. Fred B. Faust, pastor of the Methodist church, immediately after which interment was made in Fairview cemetery. The mound above the little body was piled high with beautiful flowers. Ben was a bright, cheery, and beautiful little fellow and had endeared himself to all who knew him. He was the idol in the hearts of his fond parents, and also of his grand parents Judge and Mrs. Ben Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bucholz who loved him so dearly. He was the only child in the home therefore his going leaves them so lonely. He would have been three years old August 26. While the hearts of his loved ones are torn and bleeding, we must think of little Ben as a beautiful flower transplanted in the garden of God, and remember he will know no more sickness and will never know sorrow. He will be the beacon light of a bright and shining star in the galaxy of the sainted in Heaven to his loved ones. The Enterprise extends to the bereaved deepest sympathy in their hour of grief.

Brownwood Bulletin: The reduction of wage scale by the railroads will have a harmful effect upon business unless it is accompanied by a corresponding reduction of freight rates. There are some hundreds of thousands of railroad workers whose earning capacity is of great importance in the nation's general industrial scheme; and to reduce their earning capacity without reducing the prices of commodities which they must purchase and consume means a slowing up of business that should be avoided by a reduction of freight rates. Business should be stimulated rather than discouraged.

MILLIONAIRE FARMER WHO WORKS

Howard Parmenter, of Wayland, Mass., is first a farmer, then a millionaire. He likes his farm—so much so, that he wears overalls, a slouch hat and gets up at five o'clock every morning. In fact, he works longer and harder than any hand on the place, despite the fact that his father—Johnathan Parmenter, the original overall millionaire—left him his large fortune.
