The paper is being handled by the Chamber of Commerce.

"TWO HEADS ARE BETTER THAN ONE."

STATE PARK TRIP TO BE HELP TO WEST

The inspection of the Davis Mountain country for the purpose of determining the advisability of establishing a state park there has taken on a size many times larger than the original expectations of the originators of the movement, and appears to have grown into one of the most helpful movements ever inaugurated in West Texas.

Civic and commercial organizations in the western section of the state are vying with each other to secure a visit of the legislative committee, and Pecos may be considered fortunate in being one of the most important stops of the entire trip.

The exact number that will reach here is not as yet known, although those in charge of arrangements are endeavoring to determine the number, in order to make the proper arrangement. From the latest information obtainable the party of legislators will probably reach Pecos over the Texas & Pacific on noon at 1:05 Wednesday, September 21, and Pecos will have the opportunity to entertain the visitors at luncheon. Arrangements are being made to serve Pecos Valley melons to the legislators as a feature of the menu.

Tom Slack, of the North Texas Trust Company of Fort Worth was in Pecos on Thursday and reported that there was considerable interest in Fort Worth regarding the park proposition. Mr. Slack is a member of the committee from the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce which will entertain the committee while in Fort Worth.

Letters of indorsement from prominent men over the state are being received by members of the committee in charge of arrangements. One letter from J. M. Radford, president of the wholesale grocery firm of that name in Abilene states:

"If everybody in Texas knew the Davis Mountains as well as I do they would all vote toward converting these mountains into a State Park, Game Preserve and Playground. There is no scenery in Texas that is equal to the Davis Mountains, nor any place that would be as good for the purpose in this state. Just think what a boon it would be to those South and East Texas fellows to go to the Davis Mountains and camp for a couple of months where they could breathe the fresh air and keep cool. They would go home feeling like new men and women."

The party is expected to arrive in Pecos in a special Pullman over the Texas & Pacific after visiting the Palo Duro canyon at Amarillo. After a meal in Pecos and an auto trip over the city the party will be taken to Saragosa over the P. V. S. and from that point will make the trip through the Toyah Valley country by automobile and to the mountains. Arrangements have been made for a large number of horses to go to the rougher places in the mountains, in order to save wear and tear on tires and cars.

Just how many automobiles Pecos will be called upon to furnish for the start of the trip will be determined by the sizes of the party, but due to the prominence of the guests, a number of local business men have already volunteered to accompany the party in their cars. It is probable that other cars will be needed, and arrangements to make the trip can be made through the Chamber of Commerce.

SHERIFF CAPTURES ALLEGED FORGER

Sometime during the oil boom in the spring of 1920 a man held a cashier's check payable to D. V. Jackson for, it is understood, $81.50 on an Eastland bank. This was presented to the Pecos Valley State Bank for payment and refused until it was properly endorsed by the payee and H. L. Lewis of Pecos.

The check came back unpaid by the Eastland bank and Mr. Lewis had to make good. The authorities, as well as Lewis have since that time been keeping a lookout for the man and waiting an opportunity to place this offender in custody. On Monday of this week a car drove on the streets of Pecos and at once Lewis recognized one of the three as the man whose check he had endorsed and paid and called in the Sheriff to take his man. One Joe Smith is now held in the county jail on a warrant for forgery. He flatly denies any knowledge of the transaction or ever having been in Pecos before except on the train, but Lewis and several others here declare he is the same man who was here at the time and who fished $81.50 from Lewis.

It is hard to get away from your sins and when within the jurisdiction of Sheriff Kiser you'd better look out for he will get you sooner or later.

ANNOUNCE WEDDING
Pecos friends and relatives have received announcement of the approaching marriage of Ray McKellar Camp and Miss Mary Ruth Wilhite which will take place in the First Christian church at Midland, at 8:30 o'clock, on the evening of September 21st.

Ray is the eldest son of Mrs. Jo Camp and was reared in Pecos where he has many relatives and all those who know him are his friend. A small volume could be written about his educational advantages and devotion to his mother but that had probably better be left for another occasion.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilhite and was also practically reared in Pecos where she has many admirers. She is accomplished in many ways.

They will make their home in Fort Worth.

RETURNED HOME FROM VACATION

Jno. F. Grogan and family returned Tuesday morning from their summer's vacation. They visited their old home in Hamilton and Jonesboro and later went on to Corpus Christi, Beville, San Antonio and Austin. Miss Jewell Malone of Beeville, niece of Mrs. Grogan, came back with them and will spend some time here.

John says they all had a most delightful trip from start to finish. From Austin they came via the Old Spanish trail and he says it is fierce, "should I see anyone directing another anywhere by the Old Spanish trail," said Grogan "I would be tempted to insult him."

They are all glad to get back to West Texas.

BRINGS IN BIGGEST CATFISH OF YEAR

Young Bell this week brought in a catfish which he caught up the river which tipped the beam of the scales at 56 pounds and is probably the largest fish caught out of this part of the Pecos river in the past year or so. It was a monster and viewed by most of our male population before he shipped it to a friend down the road.

This fish was caught with hook and line, and Mr. Bell states, with a small hook at that.

LEGION BOYS NAME STATE DELEGATES

Delegates to the State Convention of the American Legion were elected Wednesday evening at a special meeting of the Richard Briscoe Post in the club room, which only seven members attended. Charles A. Young, Barney Hubbs, Commander W. W. Dean were named delegates and Ben Briscoe, R. E. L. Kite and W. N. Sutherland, were named alternates.

The convention will be held on September 26-27 and 28.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MET LAST MONDAY

The Parent-Teacher Association met in call session Monday afternoon at the Baptist church and made arrangements to serve lunch in the domestic science rooms to the members of the Teachers Institute that will convene in the high school building next week. Committees for the various duties have been duly appointed and the work will be done systematically. A nominal charge will be made which goes to the Parent-teacher association fund.

TWO PUBLIC LECTURES DURING THE INSTITUTE

There will be two interesting lectures given during the teachers' Institute next week. Prof. H. W. Morelock will give an illustrated lecture on a popular subject at the Methodist church Tuesday evening at 8:30 and Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Austin, will give a public address on a current problem of interest. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Everything in Readiness For The Institute.

The stage is set for what is predicted to be the best institute in the history of Pecos. The teachers will begin to arrive Sunday. The program which was published last week has several interesting features. The public will be interested in some of them. One of the special attractions will be the visit of the State Superintendent, Miss Annie Webb Blanton, who will arrive Thursday noon. Miss Blanton will lecture to the teachers in the afternoon and to the general public in the Baptist church at 8:30 in the evening. An invitation is extended to all to attend both of these lectures.

Other persons who will appear on the program during the week and will render interesting parts are: Dean E. D. Jennings of Texas Woman's College, Fort Worth; Prof. H. W. Morelock who is this week the conductor of the Panhandle Institute where nineteen counties unite and 800 teachers are in attendance; Mrs. Otto Hanscom, primary expert and graduate student in Columbia University, New York City; President R. L. Marquis of the Sul Ross State Normal at Alpine.

The Parent Teachers Association are playing the roll of entertainers. At a meeting held last Monday committees were appointed to make all necessary arrangement for the reception and entertainment of the teachers. Committees were appointed to secure homes, solicit cars to meet the trains and to supervise the lunches which the association is going to serve to the teachers each day at the school house. Lunches will be served all the teachers in the Domestic Science room at noon for a small charge. This in particular will be a great help to the teachers, Thursday evening after the lecture by Miss Blanton a reception may be tendered to all teachers. The details have not been determined. The committee on homes are having no trouble in finding places for the teachers. The great difficulty they are encountering and will find is the difficulty of giving each home a teacher. There are enough homes offered to accommodate double the number of teachers and some will as a result not get teachers. The committee indulges the hope that no one will feel hurt and that their offer was not appreciated. The most striking feature is the great number of homes offered for the home teachers during the winter. There are eight or ten teachers to locate and there are five times that many calls.

DALLAS FIRM TAKES PORTERVILLE FARMS

The farm lands of the Pecos Valley Alfalfa Land & Oil Company in the Porterville District will be placed under cultivation by the new owners, the United States Home Builders of America of Dallas, who took over the properties this week.

A. A. Cocke, attorney for the new home owners, was in the Pecos district this week and made a trip over the Barstow and Porterville district accompanied by Secretary Sutherland of the Chamber of Commerce and others. Mr. Cocke was very much interested in the alfalfa proposition. He will make a report to the officers of the company in Dallas before definitely deciding how much of the land will be cultivated.

TEACHERS TO MEET PECOS ON DIAMOND

Acceptance of a challenge from the Pecos business men for a ball game on the electric lighted court back of the Methodist church has been made by Superintendent P. J. Rutledge on behalf of the visiting teachers at the institute to be held here next week, and the game will be played on Monday night at 8 o'clock. Seats will be provided for the many visitors. This will be the first of the social program plans for the visiting teachers.

The business men's team is to be managed by Walter N. Sutherland and O. T. Norwood, who are busy arranging their line up. As the teachers have five athletic directors on their program, the local men will probably step into some pretty stiff

TOYAH BELL NEARS 4200 FOOT MARK

Exceptionally hard formations have prevented a great deal of footage being made by the drilling operations in the Pecos territory during the past week, although work has progressed steadily.

In the Toyah Bell No. 2, in Southern Loving county, a depth of nearly 4200 feet had been secured late in the week and the drill was working in a hard flint like formation, that showed considerable bituminous material.

The condition of this well is such as to cause the utmost optimism on the part of the management, and the latter seems determined to thoroughly test out the bituminous formations at that great depth.

Due to the depth, it is believed that when the pool is found that the production will be large, but as the depth can be obtained in the Toyah Bell formation at comparatively little cost, a big field will undoubtedly then be opened up.

OIL SHOWS UNDER SHUT OFF IN MALITA

Continued oil showings after a water shut-off had been secured in the Trans-Pecos Oil Company's well in Ward county has created considerable interest in acreage in that vicinity. It will be remembered that two weeks ago the Trans-Pecos found some live oil in the hole, but due to runny sands and water in the hole at that time the crew was unable to handle it. The sands and water have been shut out and the drill has since been working in al lime and shale formation in which the oil shows strongly, and B. J. O'Reilly, the manager, is confident that a paying production will be found a little deeper in his well.

The well appears to be in competent hands, and better progress is being made now that the sands have apparently been passed up.

FISHING JOB KEEPS PINAL DOME BUSY

A fishing job at the Pinal Dome Corporation's Loving county well has kept the crew busy all week, and while the tools are yet in the hole new devices are being tried, and the management seems confident of its ability to clear the 2150 foot hole and resume operations in the near future.

NOTICE TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The classification of the high school students must be perfected before the opening day of school. The classes are so large now that it will be necessary to have sections. The number of students will be limited in each section. In addition to assignment to sections many students need to clear up minor points about their work this year. If such students will see me at my office hours, special attention can be given any matter but if you wait until the opening day of school many things by the very nature of the case must be settled arbitrarily.

On the first days of school the teachers and superintendent must deal with the entire room and not the individual. I will be in the office at the school building every day of the week beginning September 12th, from 4 to 5. Who must come: All last year seventh grade graduates, all last year freshmen, all wishing to take examinations or remove conditions, etc., and any new students who have never attended school in Pecos. Who need not come: All the grade students who were in school here last year and were promoted without conditions to the next grade. When do I wish you to come: At the hours named above during next week.

COMMISSIONER A. W. HOSIE IMPROVING

That County Commissioner A. W. Hosie who recently had a slight paralytic stroke is improving and in a fair way to recovery will be good news to his many friends all over West Texas. A postal card from Mrs. Hosie received last Friday reads as follows:

Editor of Pecos Enterprise—
Mr. Hosie is in El Paso now under Chiropractic treatment, is so far improved as to be able to walk anywhere over town, and feeling fairly well. Expect to be here 60 days. Will you please change my address to 607 N. Oregon, as he enjoys reading The Enterprise so much. He is able to read now.

WHAT DOES THE REAL FARMER LOOK LIKE, ANYHOW?

THE OLD CARTOONIST'S IDEA OF HIM

The city newspaper cartoonist likes to picture the farmer a chap with billygoat whiskers and a corn-cob pipe.

But the new cartoonists are beginning to see that even if there ever were the extremes we used to see in the papers, there is a new farmer developing.

The new cartoonist has noticed that the new farmer has a good deal in him of the type of the alert business man of the growing cities. He may go around the farm in overalls just as a pepperful city man goes about in short sleeves and old suit, but when he is away from the business, he is pretty up to date. Cartoonist Plumb herewith presents the old and new.

GOVERNOR CUTS A BIT OUT OF CLAIMS

Austin, Texas, Sept. 8.—Three bills were signed by Governor Neff today, one was vetoed and another allowed to become a law without his signature. Among those signed was the one amending the Dean liquor law for the purpose of making easier convictions under that statute.

Another slash was taken at appropriations when he cut $175,315 out of the miscellaneous claims and accounts bill before signing it. The third bill signed was one appropriating $175,522 to pay land notes held against the prison system.

The Governor vetoed the bill increasing the maximum salaries of the three highway commissioners from $1,000 to $1,500 a year and filed with the Secretary of State without his signature the bill prohibiting relatives of officials and employees of eleemosynary institutions from operating stores which furnish supplies to such institutions.

Amending Liquor Laws.
The Dean law as amended by the bill which received executive approval today relieves the State of negating exceptions in indictments for violation of the law thus the burden of proof that liquor is used for medicinal, mechanical, scientific or sacramental purposes now lies upon the defense and not on the State, as has been the case heretofore. The bill also amends the law so as to make the transportation, purchaser of liquor not an accomplice in the act of sale, when the purchase, possessor or transporter is a witness in a trial for sale of liquor. The section of the Dean law which prohibited purchase of liquor is entirely repealed. Hence it is now no longer a violation of the State law to purchase liquor, but those who advocated passage of this bill believe it will hereafter be extremely embarrassing for the seller and consequently much more difficult for a purchase to take place.

The bill also contains a section taking away the benefits of the suspended sentence from those over 25 years of age who are convicted for violation of the Dean law.

Legislation of this character was requested by the Governor in his message to the first called session of the Thirty-Seventh Legislature. A bill with a similar purpose was sought by the Governor at the regular session, but was defeated in the House. The bill passed was introduced by Representative Morris of Medina and amended by Representative Crumpton of Bowie. The bill goes into effect Nov. 14, 1921, or ninety days after adjournment of the first called session.

Big Item Cut Out.
The miscellaneous claims and accounts bill signed today carries a total appropriation of $314,884. As it came to the Governor's office it carried $480,199. The largest single item stricken out of this bill by the Governor was one amounting to $175,000 to refund franchise taxes paid by foreign corporations on capital, surplus and undivided profits not used in Texas only during the years 1907 to 1917, inclusive, under State statutes declared unconstitutional in the case of Crane Company vs. Looney. Four other smaller items aggregating $315 were vetoed, making the total cut $175,315.

The $175,522 appropriation for the prison system signed today notes included $135,522, to pay land notes maturing between July, 1921, and September, 1922 and $40,000 to pay the balance on the Blue Ridge farm. The finance committee had originally asked for $875,000 for the prison system.

LONDON SCHOOL BOY'S COMPOSITION ON COLUMBUS

Columbus was a man who could make an egg stand on end without crushing it.

The Kings of Spain sent for him and asked: "Can you discover America?" "Yes," Columbus answered. "If you will give me a boat."

He got his boat and sailed in the direction that he believed America was. The sailors mutinied and insisted there was no such place as America, but presently the pilot came to him and said:

"Columbus, land is in sight."

"Well, it's America," Columbus said.

When his boat neared the shore Columbus saw a group of natives.

"Is this America?" he asked them.

"Yes," they replied.

"I suppose you are Indians?" Columbus went on.

"Yes," the chief answered, "and are you Christopher Columbus?"

"I am."

The Indian chief turned then to his companions and said: "The jig is up. We are discovered at last."—Paris Pele-Mele.

REVERSES

To live that when reverses come you have in brine a decent sum. There is no more absurd mistake than that of blowing all we make.—Twas but a little while ago that every gent had lots of dough; the worker drew a princely hire, and I wore out a costly lyre beseeching him to save the man while it was coming by the ton. Some wise boys listened to my rede and salted down their chicken feed but nine gay fellows out of ten just threw away the iron men; and when the boom went up in smoke the cold

"Normalcy" is on its way and will soon be here. The business men of Pecos say "business is picking up" and "times are getting better."

With the marketing of the alfalfa seed crop and the enormous honey crop and the splendid cotton crop there is no reason why Reeves county should not be prosperous.

Old King Cotton is again coming into his own and the farmers are happy and wearing the broad grin. At cotton bringing as high as 22 cents at some points in Texas why should they not smile?

Within the past two weeks two auto-casings have been stolen from W. D. Cowan as well as other items from others, so The Enterprise is informed. Besides these thefts a lot of other disgraceful and ungentlemanly conduct has been indulged in which is revealed by the court records. Pecos is not so bad, with all this, but so much of this is being done—much of which appears to be without the reach of the law—until some of our best citizens are really talking of the K. K. K. and tar and feathers. It would be a terrible thing for such a thing to occur in our fair city, but the best citizens of our town who have sons and daughters to raise, have a limit to their endurance.

The killing of James McNeal, Fort Worth service car driver, last week by two or three young men, ages said to be 14, 20 and 21, is one of the most horrifying yet to blot the name of our fair state. "We did it because we wanted his money and car to go to Denver" is the only excuse Forrest Dawson of Weatherford, one of the criminals, gives. While McNeal was giving the boys a ride one from the back seat struck him on the head several times with an iron pipe. The car was abandoned after they found they could not wash the blood stains from it. It is had enough to have one slip up behind and slug one but the limit is reached when it is planned out to ask a favor and then take advantage of the confidence imposed and slug from behind an unsuspecting friend. Young or old, such should not be allowed to exist on Texas soil.

ENFORCING THE LAW

Sid Hatfield's explanation that he "does not pose as a gunman" was entirely unnecessary. Hatfield is city marshal of a mining town in West Virginia, where a strike is going on. The operators sent thirteen detectives to the town, and they were carrying pistols. Hatfield said it was against the city ordinances to carry pistols, and asked the Mayor for warrants to arrest the thirteen detectives. He got the warrants, and undertook to serve them. After the smoke cleared away, it was found that seven of the thirteen detectives were dead. It was unnecessary for Hatfield to say he did not "pose." Certainly he was in action, with no time to pose.—Marshall Messenger.

Sid wasn't one of these fellows who are all the time saying that you can't enforce the law without public opinion to back you up. Sid figured that what an officer of the law needs to enforce the law is backbone and he estimated that his spinal column was stiff enough to stand the strain. It was a straight shooting officer with a straight backbone can create a little public opinion, if necessary, when the law is plain and the violation of it is arrogant. Most of these officers who are complaining about inability to get the "co-operation" of the public are really held up by their fear of the consequences of doing a little "operating" on their own hook. Any man who enforces the law with a weather eye out for his re-election is likely to be a poor enforcer of the law. It is the man who does what he knows is his duty, let the bootleggers fall where they may, who gets the dirty work cleaned out. Public opinion does make the law, but public opinion has nothing to do with a man's oath to enforce the law as he finds it on the statute book. If a public official proves false to that oath he is forewarned, though he have all the public opinion in the country to endorse him. When public opinion interferes with a man's oath to the point where he can't live up to it, it is time for him to resign and move out of the country. Come to Texas.—State Press in Dallas News.

BE AN OPTIMIST

Optimism is a great heaven. It goes hand in hand with faith and contentment and generosity. It is a valuable medicine for many of the ills of life, it drives away the blues. Who ever heard of a grouchy ill-tempered person having optimism or faith, or contentment, or any degree of generosity? And so, as optimism radiates the cheerful feelings of life it makes those who possess it more welcome wherever they go.

Optimism might be carried to excess, but so long as it is accompanied by faith and work, with emphasis on both, it is not likely to be inappropriate at any time. Optimism is better than worry, for the latter is certain to affect the moral adversely while the former adds to both the courage and endurance.

Be optimistic and "carry on." The man was never defeated until he threw up his hands and quit. The true optimist does not admit defeat. He may stumble once in a while and have a few falls, but little things like that merely add to his zest of life and he takes a new task and goes on his way more determined than ever.

An optimist may make enemies. Evil and the ways of darkness never did like an optimist. He has too many good qualities to have much in common with them. They have a substitute for optimism that they call a "jolly good fellow," who has optimism when bouyed up with artificial stimulants, be they liquid or otherwise, but who has not the stamina of the true optimist.

The world at large and especially the good people in it like an optimist and will honor him much more readily and with a greater enthusiasm than they will the pessimist who shows a lack of faith, both in himself and in others. Be an optimist.—Fort Worth Record.

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

What is perhaps the most significant incident in the history of Mexico since Maximilian's troops were defeated fifty years ago, is contained in the announcement that from Sept. 12 to Oct. 12 of this year an International Commercial exposition will be held at Mexico City to which various nations are invited to contribute exhibits. * * * To Mexico, this forthcoming exposition will be what the centennial exposition at Philadelphia in 1876 was to the United States of that day, the first thing of its magnitude ever held in the country. The United States should see to it that no effort is spared to co-operate with Mexico in making this exposition a thrilling success. America's nearest neighbor is the land not of tomorrow, but of today. Time for American interest to be manifested in Mexico is now and to be manifested unselfishly and generously. Great industrial and commercial interests of the United States should be represented at this exposition in Mexico City. No plans should be omitted to make American exhibits there at once interesting and impressive. Opening in mid-September and continuing till mid-October, the exposition should attract the highest and best of American travelers in quest of a place and a people that are equally charming. Mexico City is, at any season of the year, delightfully quiet. From the Rio Grande to the Isthmus of Tehuantepec there is scarcely a stretch of fifty miles of country that is not invested with distinct charm for the beauty-loving American. Industrially, commercially or agriculturally, Mexico is to the average American who looks southward with discerning eyes little less than an El Dorado, a place where dreams come true and the joy of living is at once keen and sustained. To those who may be privileged to visit this forthcoming exposition at Mexico City there is in store a succession of revelations that will promptly dissipate prejudice and tend to knit with ties of social and commercial concord the people of Mexico and those of the United States.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MRS. R. B. GRIFFITH

Mabel Hughes Griffith, wife of R. B. Griffith, sports editor of the Breckenridge (Texas) Daily American, and herself a member of the staff of the American, died on Friday, August 26th, at 8 a. m., at St. Paul's Sanitarium, Dallas, Texas, from spinal meningitis following typhoid fever. She contracted typhoid at Breckenridge early in June and spent eight weeks in the Baptist sanitarium at Dallas, had apparently almost recovered and left the sanitarium for the home of a friend; but a few days later the spinal trouble manifested itself and she was taken to St. Paul's. She was unconscious for several days before her death, and suffered very little.

The remains were brought to Greenfield, her former home, on Sunday, and funeral services were conducted by Mrs. S. M. Crank at Ebenezer Presbyterian church on Monday at 2 p. m., attended by a large gathering of friends, after which interment was made in Greenfield cemetery, she having often expressed a wish since leaving Greenfield that when her work was done she might rest here, where many of her most cherished friendships were formed.—Greenfield (Mo.) Vedette. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith were both employes of The Enterprise in the spring of 1920. Mrs. Griffith was very pleasant and agreeable, a hard worker and withal a very fine little lady who made many friends while in Pecos who will join The Enterprise in sincere sympathy for Mr. Griffith in his bereavement.

Uncle John's Poem

THE STRUGGLE OF GENIUS

I long have harbored the intention, to give the world a great invention; I felt that I should be a power in brightening the passing hour,—that I might be a big promoter, instead of being a third-rate voter. . . . Few men acquire the needed riches to keep themselves in tailored breeches,—too many men, content with clerking, might prosper if their brains were working. . . . Full many a gem works in the sewer, that might invent a patent skewer and line his nest with softest Eider, and soak his pelt with orange cider.

And so, I monkeyed some with science, to give the needed self-reliance, and studied watts and multi-plexes, and waterways from here to Texas. I hung around the soda-fountains, and figured how I'd conquer mountains, and turn 'em into cyclone cellars, and rent 'em out to common fellers.

I turned my thoughts to pests an' dangers, to which the multitude are strangers, an' labored to produce protection, which didn't have no imperfection. A thousand badly needed fixtures,—a million hopeful, helpful mixtures, all helped to keep my thinker addled till all my dreams of wealth skedaddled, and I was left in bad condition, an overstocked of dead ambition.

Thrice happy he, and most contented, the chap who never has invented, and if he tries, he's sure to rue it; some other fool will beat him to it.

Yr. own Uncle John.

ETHEL ANNIE M'COMBS

The death angel has again appeared and plucked a most beautiful flower and transplanted it into the garden of God where it will never again know death. The instance is that of Ethel Annie McCombs, beautiful little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Green McCombs who was taken ill Thursday of last week at their mountain home in the Gadalupes. She was carried to Carlsbad, New Mexico, where expert physicians were summoned and an operation for appendicitis was made Monday at three o'clock. She rallied but in a few hours the crisis came and at eleven o'clock, her beautiful spirit winged its way back to God and O, the loved ones left behind are so heart broken, the chords so torn and bleeding, but there is a silver lining to these dark clouds and it is found in the promises of the Blessed Jesus. The Jesus whom Ethel Annie delighted to hear about and whose sayings, as taught to her by her mother and teacher, she loved to quote and to talk about Heaven. Ethel Annie was born November 3rd, 1914 passed into eternity September 5, 1921.

She is survived by her adoring parents an affectionate brother, Jack, many other relatives and friends without number. The body was brought to Pecos Thursday accompanied by the parents, the brother, aunt, Mrs. J. G. Love and daughter, Miss Aileen, Mrs. Ethel Reynolds and son, Heard, Uncles Charles and Add Owen, Miss Gladys Eakin of Carlsbad and Miss Marie Barton, the idolized teacher of Jack and Ethel Annie. Funeral services were held Thursday morning at eleven o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Heard, uncle and aunt of the deceased. Rev. J. M. Garner, pastor of the Baptist church had the service in charge and was assisted by Rev. Fred B. Faust of the Methodist church and Rev. H. L. Magee of the Christian church. Burial was made in Fairview Cemetery beside that of a little brother who had passed on some years ago.

The mound was piled high with beautiful and fragrant flowers, mute testimony of love and sympathy from sorrowing friends. The pall and flower bearers were the following little girls, prettily dressed in white: Janice McKellar, Opal Palmer, Vivian Wilson, George Johnson, Nora Hines Krauskopf, Nancy Camp, Helen Hudson, Letha Prewit, Florence Johnson, Christine Browning, Jewel and Norabel Hollebeke, Mable and Mildred Ruhlen.

The Enterprise extends to Mr. and Mrs. McCombs, Jack and to the other relatives its deepest sympathy in this their great bereavement.

GRADUATE SELLS PAPERS THEN LANDS JOB

Armand T. Gaudreau of Boston graduated from the University of Maine last spring. The other day he appeared on Boston streets, wearing college cap and gown—and selling papers. He said he was doing it because he would rather eat steak than doughnuts. The silver lining to it all was in the many offers of suitable jobs which came as the result of his courage in going through with the drastic act.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Enterprise By The First National Bank in St. Louis.

That the war has changed us from an importing to an exporting nation is no where more conclusively shown than in the figures of sugar exports, which have been issued by the United States Customs Department. Only a year ago, fifty countries sent sugar to the United States.

HOUSEWORK IS A BURDEN

Women's lot is a weary one at best. But with backache and other distressing kidney ills life indeed becomes a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have made life brighter for thousands of women. Read what Mrs. J. H. Shepherd, Baird St., Midland, Tex., says: "Quite a few years ago I had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I had a great deal of trouble with my kidneys and back. At times my back would feel so sore and lame, the least work would be a drudgery. I would have headaches and on stooping over, I would get so dizzy, everything would turn black in front of me. I was caused a lot of inconvenience to the too frequent action of my kidneys, and I was all played out, with no ambition to do anything. I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me entirely. I haven't been troubled since." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Shepherd had. Frost-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ITCH! Money back without question if HUNT'S GUARANTEED SKIN DISEASE REMEDIES (Hunt's Salve and Soap), fail in the treatment of Itch, Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter or other itching skin diseases. Try this treatment at our risk. CITY PHARMACY

Now, for the first six months of 1921, the United States sent sugar to forty-four countries, thirty-two of which produce sugar, and twenty-four of which sent sugar to us last year. Even Cuba, "the world's sugar bowl" received 4,000,000 pounds of our sugar during this period.

The largest importers are Great Britain, 162 million pounds; Greece and Italy, 106 million pounds; France, 26 million; Spain 35 million; and Mexico, 15 million. The total exports for this six months period are 423 million pounds.

Exports for the six months ended December 31, 1920 were only 160 million pounds as compared with the exports for the following six months ended June 30, 1921 of 423 million pounds. In other words there has been an increase of 263 million pounds or 165 per cent.

Besides the exports of refined sugar, about 150 million pounds of raw sugar have been re-exported from the United States during this period.

SUCH CAN NEVER TEACH.

The "Modern" school would drop Latin in defiance of the validity of recent proof that it should not only be retained but begun earlier in the course as a sure producer of correct linguistic sense. It would drop the English classics and have the child's "interest" fostered by certain magazines that exploit sentimentalized, parochial domesticity, or economic success and undiluted mediocrity. It would label all traditional school exercises "stunts," yet would foist on the public an educational mill given over, body and soul, to the most pronounced exhibition of the real meaning of "stunts." It glories in the achievements of science, and ignores the achievements of ideas. It would have our young people remarkable examples of "do," but ignores the age-long truism that before a man can "do" he must first "be." It forgets that real advancement means renunciation and reversion, not renunciation and revolution. It would fill the school with pedagogically trained teachers and forget the sad truth that many such, lacking personality, a sense of humor, common sense and the real teaching sense native only to the born teacher, can never teach, no matter how fine the school and equipment, the amount of money spent or the superior quality of the student body.—New York Times.

NOTICE TO FORD OWNERS

Why You Should Use Only Genuine Ford Parts

CONNECTING RODS

Genuine Connecting Rods are made from Vanadium Steel forgings, with bearings of high pressure babbit containing not less than 85 percent tin. This high quality babbit together with special casting method imparts to the bearing a Brinnell hardness of 30 capable of withstanding heavy wear.

Imitation con rods are generally made from carbon steel forging which are inadequate to bear the constant, side stresses imposed on a connecting rod. The result is a bent rod and a knock in the motor.

Genuine Ford con rods when worn may be exchanged by us for a charge of $1.00. New con rods sell for $1.75.

AXLE SHAFTS

The following analysis shows the relative value of the material used in both genuine and the average counterfeit Axle Shaft.

	Genuine Ford Axle Shaft	Counterfeit Axle Shaft
Composition	Chrome Vanadium Steel	Carbon Steel
Tensile strength	170,000 lbs. per sq. in.	45,000 lbs. per sq. in.
Elastic Limit	150,000 lbs. per sq. in.	40,000 lbs. per sq. in.
Reduction of area	55 percent.	50 percent.
Hardness	320	100

Tests have proven that the average life of a Vanadium Shaft is three times that of a carbon steel shaft.

These comparisons apply in a relative degree to every Vanadium Steel part. Wherever strength is essential Vanadium Steel is used to insure it. The best of steel is vastly improved by that treatment. The Ford Motor Company have the most complete up-to-date heat treating equipment in the world where each piece of steel is scientifically heat treated to bring out the physical properties required, for the work it is to perform.

To insure getting Genuine Ford Parts bring your car to us to be repaired.
