TOYAH-BELL GOES OVER THE TOP

PECOS WILL CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

A tendency towards larger farms, alfalfa hay as the main agricultural product of the Pecos Valley irrigated land, is indicated in the government's census report of the three counties in the Pecos commercial territory.

Although the number of farmers operating their own farms, has decreased by 125 in the ten year period and the number of tenant farmers has increased by 51, an increase of about 75 percent is shown in value of the lands, an increase of 2,048 acres is shown in the number of acres under cultivation.

Three times as much alfalfa hay is now grown in the valley than was the case ten years ago, while a much greater increase has been shown in the cotton acreage and yield, where ten years ago but a little over one-fourth a bale was raised on an average on 3,035 acres. The figures for 1920 show that nearly a half bale average was maintained for the valley with one of the most difficult years as regards water supply for some time. The yield for 1920 on 14,874 acres was 5,968 bales.

The value of lands and buildings for 1920 is given as $12,168,483 in comparison with $7,682,448 in 1910, while the area of lands under cultivation is given as 35,892 acres in 1920, and 33,844 in 1910.

The number of cattle in the three counties has increased about 14 percent in the ten years period, there being 49,657 head in the counties at the time the census was taken and there being 41,943 in the same area in 1910.

The decadence of the horse and that animal's replacement by the automobile is shown by these census figures, which show that where in 1910, 4953 horses were used on the ranches, only 2852 were in use in 1920. The number of automobiles in use was not given.

These figures are for the counties of Reeves, Loving and Ward, which touch the Pecos River, and the area of which would be benefited by the construction of the Red Bluff Reservoir for which the U. S. Reclamation Service is to make a survey next month.

U. S. GEOLOGIST TO LOCATE HERE

Drac D. Christner, field representative of the U. S. Geological Survey has resigned his position and will come to Pecos next week to open an office for geological work.

Mr. Christner has acted in an advisory capacity for the Ramsey interests in the Toyah Bell No. 2, for the past several months, and his success in fortelling the formations, has made a local reputation that should stand him in good stead.

Mr. Christner sent in his resignation immediately after the first flow of gas in the Toyah Bell sent the tools 350 feet high in the hole, as he was convinced at that time that the Toyah Bell would prove to be a wonderful well. He visited the well on Wednesday, and repeated his declarations made some time ago that the well had opened up the biggest pool in Texas.

Mr. Christner will be succeeded in Government work by H. W. Hoots, who has been traveling over the territory with him for the past several weeks.

BAPTISTS CLOSE SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL SUNDAY NIGHT

Sunday night brought to close a most successful two weeks series of revival services held at the Baptist church. The preaching was done by Dr. T. V. Neal, pastor of the first Baptist church at El Paso who is a man of unusual ability and possesses a pleasing personality and whose sermons were the gospel truth delivered in a clear cut and most convincing manner. The music directed by Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Reynolds of Fort Worth, both of whom are artists in their line, was of a superior quality and a strong drawing card during the meeting. The day services were well attended and at night the house was overflowing. There were forty-five additions to the church, besides the rekindling of the fire of zeal for the cause of Christ in many others. It is hoped that this trio of consecrated talents will return to Pecos at some future time and hold another revival.

HALLOW'EEN IN DIFFERENT COUNTRIES

Hallow'een, or the eve of all saint's day, is celebrated on the last day in October by most of the countries of the world. The Celts and Yutons are the principle countries that celebrate it as we do or as a time of sport and merriment. Most of the other countries celebrate it as strictly a religious festival. In Southern Europe especially are the festivals of a religious nature.

In the celebration of Hallow'een perhaps no country is more serious during this festival than Italy. Why should she not be serious? Does not it pertain to the dead and is not death serious? The Italians believe that the dead come to earth and mingle with the living and no one knows but what the person standing by him is a spirit. On Hallow'een the people put on mourning attire and go to an all-night service at the church, but before they go, the hearth is swept, the chairs put to their proper place, and a banquet is set on the table for the dead when they return. If, when the occupants of the house come home, the food has not been eaten, evil is in store for the house. The whole of all Saint's Day is spent in religious services. As the people pass on the streets, bells are rung to remind them to pray, and all day long the "Miserere" is heard. The skeletons are dressed up, the funeral vaults are visited, and the inscriptions read and reread on the tomos. The graves are decorated with flowers, because the ancients crowned the dead with short-lived blossoms to signify the brevity of life.

In Spain some of the same customs are present as in Italy. At dark on Hallow'een cakes and nuts are taken to the graves of relatives and placed there to bribe the spirits not to disturb the vigils of the Saints.

Germany celebrates the first and second of November as Hallow'een and they also visit the graves and tombs of the dead. The graves are decorated with flowers and lights, and this is done in order to obtain the good will of the departed spirits. The ghosts are driven away from the church by striking a key or wand against the pier. An all soul's divination in Germany is for a girl to go out on the street and ask the first young man she meets his name. Her husband's name will be the same. To obtain a wish one must go alone to a church, walk around it three times, and make a wish. This wish will be fulfilled.

The Belgium children build a shrine, with a figure of the Madonna in front of their homes, at which they worship. People in Belgium spend what money they have, and beg money of other people to buy cakes with. As many cakes are eaten, that many souls will be saved from purgatory.

Leaving Europe and going to Asia, we must not overlook China. They fear the spirits of the dead and the dragons of the air. One good spirit is Feng-Shin, who flies just over the house-tops and blesses the people in every house. If he has to turn out of the way for an extra tall building the owner of that building misses his blessing. On this occasion, as in most other ones, ancestral worship is the principle feature in China.

In Japan shrines are built and masques are held for the ghosts. To see one of the ghosts, or spirits, one must take one hundred rush lights and place them in a large lantern memorize one hundred lines of poetry, and after repeating each line, extinguish one light. A spirit will appear and you may confer with it concerning your future life. When these spirits wish to return to their abiding place, the Japanese send lighted straw boats down the river and the spirits are supposed to return in these.

The Arabs believe that the spirits return to earth, but they call their spirits Djirms. Tehes Djirms, or geni, come from the fire and look like men or beasts, some are good, some evil, some horrible, and some beautiful. These spirits appear and disappear at will, and the true Arab stays under cover on the night when they are abroad.

"Ha! They are on us, close without! Shut tight the shelter where we live: With hideous din the monster rant, Dragon and vampire, fill the sky."

Hugo, "The Djirms." Most of the other countries believe that spirits are abroad and the principal custom is that of finding ones future husband or wife—Mary Stine.

With the hotels filled, the streets nearly crowded, and a larger gathering at the Toyah Bell No. 2 every day, Pecos seems to be on the eve of entering upon a period of big oil development that will emphasize the energetic efforts of the past two years.

That the gushing forth of the Toyah Bell No. 2 has proven the field beyond doubt is the expression gained from the large number of visitors who have viewed the well in action during the past week, while the big expenditure of money made by the management in laying pipe lines and securing storage before drilling in indicates a full confidence that the well will prove a wonder.

Pecos awoke Tuesday morning to learn the startling but very welcome news that the Toyah-Bell had lived up to expectations after the setting of casing and had sent a column of oil up to the crown blocks at 6:45 o'clock that morning, and that this flow had lasted for four to five minutes.

At two o'clock that afternoon the well repeated its performance, although the flow did not reach quite as high a point due to the heavy wind prevailing. This wind carried the flow well to the side of the derrick, but there was no doubt but that the flow was just as strong as at the morning gush.

The morning news brought a parade of automobiles to the well and although some contented themselves with viewing the oil on the derrick and on the weeds and ground on the windward side where it had been sprayed and returning to Pecos, many remained on the ground all day and were rewarded by seeing the derrick drenched three times.

Following the two o'clock flow the swab was placed in the well with the view that the well might clear itself of the sand and water that had accumulated at the bottom. The first swab brought forth a big column of oil which was followed by a flow of several minutes, and as the swab was being lowered for the second trial, a rush of oil passed it and went to the crown blocks of the derrick.

Twice in the following night the oil gushed forth from the well. The swab was not lowered below the 500 foot mark from the top on that occasion due to a fear of the part of the crew that they would not be able to handle the well if it was sent to the bottom, and it was lowered a greater distance each time in an effort to find out how far it could be lowered with safety.

The constant use wore out the rubber on the swab and additional ones were ordered by wire. During the delay the bailer was run frequently to keep the water bailed from the bottom and to test the well.

Following each bailing, and each swabbing the well seems to fill up again immediately, and there is no doubt but that the tools have touched a big reservoir of oil.

The general belief is that the tools have just touched the top of the oil sand. It will be remembered that after the big flow of gas which forced the tools up in the hole and caught them, that drilling was finally resumed, and that the bit penetrated about five feet of exceptionally hard formation, and at the bottom of this formation dropped for a few feet into what appeared to be very loose formation. The opinion of the drilling crew and the management is that the bit had touched the real oil sand at that time, and it was after that time that the best showing was had in the well.

This is at a depth of about 4365 feet. The sand has been reported by several oil men and geologists as being of the true Pennsylvanian origin, and therefore is expected to be of exceptionally long life and to have big production. It comes out in the form of pebbles about the size of a pea or bean and is commonly known in oil parlance as "sugar loaf sand."

Use of the bailer has shown that the hole had filled up 12 feet during the period when the casing was being set and that this had increased to twenty feet by Thursday morning. While some caveins undoubtedly occurred when the casing was being lowered due to small particles of rock being knocked from the sides of the hole, the increase in the stuff at the bottom indicates that sand is being carried into the hole by gas pressure.

A desire not to bring the well fully in before all arrangements are complete for storing the oil and handling it through the pipe line has been expressed by Blayton Ramsey, who has had charge of operations, and an effort to bring the well in will not probably be made before about the middle of next week unless conditions at the well make it advisable.

One car load of the four inch pipe line arrived on Tuesday and was rushed to the well, and had been strung along in place by Wednesday night. The nipples had not arrived until Thursday noon, and they were then rushed out to the well and operations begun in string the pipe line together.

Four additional cars of piping and loading rack supplies are yet to come. They had been shipped from Ranger early in the week.

On their arrival they will be rushed to the well, and laid as rapidly as possible. The pipe line men will only be able to work from one end of the line, as it would be a very difficult job to connect it in the center, if worked from both ends, and would require considerable machine work on the joints and consequent delay.

Tankage is understood to have been ordered from Cisco and to have been loaded about the middle of the week, and was to be rushed here as rapidly as the railroad could handle it.

The five and three-sixteenths inch casing was set late Monday afternoon, and the well was not touched during the night. Watchman Bacon was the man who discovered the original flow. He was in the derrick when he heard the rumbling in the casing, and saw the oil rise over the top of the casing, and by little jumps of

CASING ARRIVES FOR TROXEL WELL

A carload of tubing and casing for the Troxel well arrived in Toyah Wednesday night, while J. L. Greenleaf and other members of his party from California arrived the same night and the following day to take charge of operations with Messrs. Parker & Hancock.

In addition to the development of the Troxel well by means of the pump the new capital interested is reported to have made plans to sink shafts for the shallow lubricating oil which first started the search for deeper oil in the Toyah territory. The oil is found at depths of around ninety feet in the vicinity of the Troxel deep test, and the new men believe that by the use of shafts that a large enough catch basin can be formed to make this production pay even with the present price of crude oil.

Included in the car is understood to have been sufficient casing to reach to the bottom of the well, sufficient tubing and a pump to operate. This is to be installed as soon as the work can be completed. It is reported that oil is standing 170 feet or thereabouts in the 1950 foot hole, and as a huge hole must have been caused at the bottom of the well by the big shot of nitroglycerin fired a few weeks ago, it is believed that the oil is collected there in sufficient quantities to make the well a pumper of perhaps from fifty to one hundred barrels.

Many wells in the California fields at greater depths are pumped with profit with a production of from thirty to fifty barrels per day, and the Troxel oil is of a very high gravity, and has a gasoline content sufficient to make it worth considerably more than the California product.

PECOS GIRLS WIN HONORS IN COLLEGE

The name Pecos appears to be a winner wherever and whenever used. Pecos products of whatever nature are natural winners.

To further justify the above statements in addition to the many laurels won by Pecos in the past it will be noted with pleasure that Miss Francis Wingate Hubbard, daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, now in attendance upon Baylor University at Belton was recently chosen as president of her class of some 200 young ladies.

Miss Mozelle Bryan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Bryan, was at the same time elected secretary of the class. The fact that these two young ladies, both Pecos girls, were selected from among so great a number of students is a distinct honor, of which the entire population of Pecos is proud.

LITTLE MISS NANCY CAMP UNDERGOS OPERATION

Nancy Camp, the little five year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jim Camp, was taken ill the latter part of last week and Sunday it was discovered that it was necessary that an operation be performed for appendicitis, which the doctor did Sunday at four o'clock and the little lady is getting along nicely, which is good news to the many friends of the family.

PINAL-DOME COMPANY'S REPRESENTATIVE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Goodwin of Santa Maria, Calif. are here for a stay of some length during the development of the Pinal Dome Corporation's properties in Loving county. Mr. Goodwin is connected with the corporation in an official capacity. They are spending some time in Pecos, Fort Stockton and at the lease.

OIL MEN FILL ALL ROOMS IN HOTELS

The Chamber of Commerce will again operate a rooming bureau according to Secretary Walter N. Sutherland.

The announcement was occasioned by the situation in Pecos Wednesday night when all of the rooms in the three large hotels were taken, and one man slept on an improvised cot in the laundry room of the Pecos Hotel and several slept on cots in the sample room of the Orient. There was additional beds in some of the smaller hotels and rooming houses, but if the oil men continue to arrive as they have been during the past few days the residents will again be called upon to house the visitors until conditions cause the construction of a sufficient number of new places to accommodate them.

OIL FIELD SHOWS MUCH ACTIVITY

Active operations are being carried on elsewhere in the field.

The Pecos Angeles has set 12 1/2 inch casing at 723 feet and is drilling five miles southwest of the Toyah Bell. Five miles to the west of the producer the Dixieland Syndicate has fished one of the three lost slips from the Bell No. 1, and is working in an effort to loosen the other two.

The Pinal Dome Corporation is making rapid time on their Loving county well, having drilled to a depth of well beyond 2900 feet and at last report had been working in a very pure rock salt formation which was found underneath some anhydrite. It will be remembered that the Toyah Bell passed through considerable of this alternating anhydrite and salt formation.

William J. O. Mara of the Hawk-eye-Pecos Oil Company has succeeded in having his crew loosen the pipe which had been set in the well to 685 feet, and is to drill down to 1200 feet with an eight inch hole before setting additional casing.

W. J. McCarthy, president of the Trans-Pecos Oil Company returned to Pecos this week called by the actions of the Toyah Bell. His company has drilled to beyond 1100 feet and is making good time.

A road is being cut to the location of the Willoughby No. 1 on the Cowan ranch, and the machine was being hauled to the location late this week.

CONSOLIDATED SULPHUR COMPANY OFFICIALS HERE

The following item appeared in the El Paso Herald of Wednesday regarding a company which shipped considerable sulphur ore from the Culberson county field last fall:

Plans are being made to reorganize the Consolidated Sulphur Company from the inside, and start operations in the Culberson county fields within a short time, according to J. L. Swan, of Cleveland, Ohio, vice-president and director, and George A. McCoy of Minneapolis, Minn., a director, who were in Pecos on Wednesday.

The two were met by E. Barner, the field superintendent for the company and went out to the company's properties on that day for an inspection trip. It is understood that additional properties containing the sulphur ore are to be purchased.

The company has moved its headquarters to 352 Arcade Building, Cleveland, Ohio.

Messrs McCoy and Swan will return to Pecos later in the week after visiting the Toyah Bell well.

a foot or so at a time attain a height of about eight or nine feet when it let loose and went to the top. The flow lasted four or five minutes Mr. Bacon said.

The water in the hole comes from a small leak in the original 610 feet of casing. This leak gave a supply of several barrels a day, just about the right amount for drilling purposes, and as it saved the necessity of hauling water for the purpose no effort was made to shut it off. The water was kept out of the hole up to the time the casing was set but during the four day period it was impossible to bail and considerable seeped in. The unsettled conditions at the bottom of the well caused by the gas, and the amount of oil above the water makes it difficult to get the water out, although it is not believed to be holding back the well.

RESOLUTION IN HOUSE TO UNSEAT BLANTON

Washington, Oct. 25.—Expulsion from the House of Representatives of Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat of Texas, was called for in a resolution introduced today by Representative Mondell, Republican leader.

The ground for the move to expel was publication in the Congressional Record, as part of an extension of remarks by Blanton, of an affidavit relating to a row at the Government Printing Office, which affidavit was characterized by some House members as obscene and unfit for transmission through the mails.

In Blanton's absence, consideration of the resolution was deferred until Thursday. The resolution offered by Mondell follows:

Text of Resolution.
"Whereas, Thomas L. Blanton, Representative from the Seventeenth District of the State of Texas, did on Oct. 4, 1921, ask unanimous consent to extend his remarks in the Congressional Record upon improvements in the Government Printing Office, which consent was granted by the House; and,

"Whereas, under such permission, the said Thomas L. Blanton did insert and cause to be printed in the Congressional Record for Saturday, Oct. 22, 1921, grossly indecent and obscene language unworthy of a member of the House of Representatives, contrary to the rules of the House, derogatory to its dignity and in violation of its confidence, therefore be it:

"Resolved, that the said Thomas L. Blanton, by his conduct as aforesaid, has forfeited all rights to sit as a representative in the Sixty-seventh Congress and hereby is expelled and is declared to be no longer a member of this House."

His Office Notified.
Upon the conclusion of the reading of the resolution, Mondell announced that Representative Blanton's office had been notified it would be introduced.

"But he did not answer to his name," Mondell said. "Is the gentleman from Texas present?" he asked.

"This is a very serious matter," the Republican leader continued, "but it does not appear to be seemly to proceed with its consideration in his absence."

Vote on Thursday.
Mondell then gave notice that it would be called upon tomorrow, but on suggestion of Representative Garrett, Tennessee, Democrat leader, the time for a vote on the resolution was fixed for noon Thursday.

Another resolution for Blanton's expulsion was prepared by Representative McLaughlin, Republican, of Nebraska, and was about to be dropped into the House hopper when McLaughlin was informed that one would be presented by Mondell.

The Nebraska's resolution charged that publication of the offending affidavit in the record "made it unmailed," and also made members of Congress "liable to criminal prosecution and punishment" if they knowingly had caused it to be mailed.

Texas to Meet.
Announcement was made that the Texas delegation would meet tomorrow to act on the Blanton case. There was a suggestion from Democrats that the resolution of expulsion be amended to censure only.

Inquiry at Representative Blanton's office as to the Congressman's whereabouts brought forth that he had gone to Wheeling, W. Va., to make an address. The Representative, whose home is in Abilene, is serving his third term in Congress. By a strange coincidence, today is his birthday.

A succession of spectacular clashes on the floor has marked the career of the Texan in the House. Last week, after Blanton bitterly had attacked union railroad men for "declaring war on the people of the United States," by planning to strike, Representative Burke, Republican, of Pennsylvania, formerly an active member of the conductors' brotherhood, charged he had made false statements and, in the resultant clash, the words "har" and "arty dog" were passed.

Summers Case Also.
The House was thrown into wild confusion one day last Spring when Representative Summers, Democrat, of Texas, charged that Blanton knew when he sent reports back to Texas that if it was not for him Congress would have voted to increase the salaries of Senators and Representatives, that the statements were "false as hell."

Members of the House repeatedly cheered Summers while he was attacking his colleague. Representative Blanton has a reputation for demanding more roll calls than any member of the House.

TEXAS FARM BUREAU IS A SUCCESS

Dallas, Texas, October 27.—Although the Texas Farm Bureau Federation is hardly a year old it points with pride to the long list of achievements in the State. There are 128 organized counties at the present time.

Following are 16 definite things done in the last 12 months:

1. Established largest growers cooperative marketing association in the world under the name of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association which has a credit of $29,000,000 and which is selling cotton for its members from two to three cents a pound above prices being paid farmers not in the association.

2. Established wool marketing association which will handle practically one million pounds of wool this year.

3. Secured the enactment of model cooperative marketing law by Texas legislature which makes possible true cooperation under sanction of law.

4. Cooperated with other farmer's organizations in backing diversification campaign in order to keep from having too great a cotton acreage in Texas.

5. Secured pink boll worm legislation to protect the interests of farmers and to save the cotton crop of the State.

6. It has assisted South Texas members in the formation of cooperative hay association which has brought increased profits to the growers. We have sold hundreds and thousands of dollars worth of hay to the government and to other consuming buyers.

7. Organized district watermelon exchange at Hempstead and Weatherford. These growers have received more for their crops than any other melon shippers in the State. A state exchange is to be formed this year.

8. Organized Cooperative Alfalfa Association at El Paso, which has brought its members from $5.00 to $7.00 a ton for alfalfa more than unorganized growers received.

9. Assisted in the formation of a temporary marketing organization for sweet potatoes.

10. Secured uniformly high prices for cotton seed throughout the State by forwarding marketing information to all County Farm Bureaus.

11. Increased price of oats from 8 to 15 cents per bushel in counties where buyers were underpaying growers.

12. Increased price of peanuts from 15 to 25 cents a bushel where growers were not receiving full market price.

13. Established Farm Bureau Mutual Fire Insurance Department through which members may secure insurance at rates 25 per cent less than current premiums.

14. Cooperated with the American Farm Bureau Federation in its various efforts to secure agricultural legislation before Congress.

15. Has under way organization of marketing system for wheat, watermelons, milk, peaches and other farm products.

16. Has assisted in the establishment of many county cooperative enterprises.

CHAMPION STEER ROPER DEAD
The San Angelo Standard of last week gives the following brief history in regard to Joe Gardner, champion steer roper, which will be read with interest by The Enterprise family and preserved by friends of Mr. Gardner:

Joe Gardner, 44 years old, champion steer roper, died Sunday at an El Paso sanatorium after an illness of a month, according to El Paso Herald. He was buried Monday in Evergreen cemetery. Mr. Gardner was born near San Angelo and is recalled by the old timers here as having taken part in several contests at fairs here when the fair grounds were located on the Willis Johnson ranch east of town.

Mr. Gardner began roping when he was 18 years old. He soon outclassed the boys in the San Angelo section, however, and went out for a world championship. He had competed in contests in American, Australia, Spain and England.

Last year he won the world's champion title at Chicago. He had ridden with Clay McGonnigal, former world's champion and Tom Mix, Will Rogers and W. S. Hart, now appearing in motion pictures. His last range work was to drive a herd of cattle from Gallup, N. M., to Sierra Blanca, Tex., a distance of 400 miles by trail and wagon road. He lived at 4005 Trowbridge street in El Paso.

Surviving are: his widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner; a brother, Alexander Gardner, and two sisters, Miss Mattie and Miss Johnnie Gardner. He was a Shriner and a member of the Masonic lodge at Sierra Blanca, Texas.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Enterprise By The First National Bank In St. Louis.

An analysis of the exports of lumber from the Pacific-Northwest for the first six months of 1921, compared with 1920 is very favorable. The total export from Washington, Oregon and British Columbia for the calendar year 1920 was 719,000,000 B. M. feet, with Europe as the largest purchaser. China was almost equal to Europe, with Australia a close third. For the first six months of the present year, the total was 295,000,000 B. M. feet. The bulk of this movement was in April, May and June. Assuming that these figures referred to represent 50 per cent of the year 1921, the export movement for the year would approximate 600,000,000 B. M. feet which is a fair comparison with the 1920 shipments.

The movement of lumber from Pacific Coast ports has acted as a stimulant to Oriental trade in general and has kept all of the ocean-going vessels very well supplied with freight one way.

The exact figures of exports from the state of Washington to Japan were as follows:

In 1920 (calendar year) Japan purchased 52,434,550 B. M. feet; during the first six months of 1921, 49,676,735 B. M. feet. Chinese imports were: Calendar year 1920, 47,118,939 B. M. feet; first six months of 1921, 162,473 B. M. feet.

There was a great raffing off in trade between the Pacific-Northwest and European countries when comparing this year's figures with 1920 totals, although this was partially offset by the increase of shipments to the Philippine Islands. These Islands purchased more lumber during the first six months of 1921 than they did during the entire twelve months of the calendar year 1921.

PHOENIX HOST TO HIGHWAYS

Special to The Enterprise.
Birmingham, Ala., October 27, 1921.—Hon. Bennehan Cameron, of Stagville, N. C., President of the Bankhead National Highway Association and one of the largest cotton farmers of North Carolina, is in Birmingham, attending the American Cotton Congress, and conferring with J. A. Rountree, Director General of the Bankhead National Highway Association, in regard to the official programme and plans of the sixth annual convention of the Association, which will meet in Phoenix, Arizona, April 27 and 28, 1922.

He is also here for the purpose of discussing the details of a Pathfinding Commission, which will start at Mount Pleasant, Texas, on the main line of the Bankhead Highway, and inspect the proposed route of the Texas to Mexico City Division of the highway, from Mount Pleasant, through Waco, Austin, Corsicana, Laredo, on to the City of Mexico. President Cameron is quite enthusiastic about the new route of the Bankhead Highway, and looks forward with a great deal of interest to seeing the highway built from Washington, D. C., to Mexico City.

President Cameron is a member of the North Carolina Senate, and was formerly a member of the State Highway Commission of that State. He ranks as one of the leading good roads advocates of the United States, and is deeply interested in the building of the Bankhead National Highway.

TENDENCY TOWARD LARGER FARMS

Preparations are being made by the Chamber of Commerce and the Richard Briscoe Post of the American Legion for a program on that day.

A program of sports for which prizes will be offered by local merchants has been arranged for the early morning, the events to take place on Oak street just south of the fountain, and permission of the city authorities has been asked to rope off that street for these events.

The athletic program scheduled to start at 9:30 a. m., and close by 10:45 which time the citizens are asked to go near the fountain for a short program in honor of the soldier dead. The stores and offices will be asked to close for this short program, which will come to an end following the few moments of silent prayer for those who died in the Great World War.

In the afternoon the Midland College football team will play the Pecos High School, and in the evening the young people are arranging a dance.

An attractive list of prizes have been offered by the merchants for the athletic events the list of which will be published in The Enterprise next week. The merchants are also planning to offer a number of attractive bargains for the shoppers that day.

A feature of the program will be a turkey and chicken shoot to be held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, with Ed Doty in charge. Rifles and pistols will be used.

The list of athletic events to be run off include the following:
For boys 16 years and under.

Sack race, egg and spoon race, three legged race, 100-yard dash.

Girls—Potato race.

Free for all—Three legged race, 100-yard dash.

Fat man's race, 200 pounds or over.

50-yard dash—Men over 50 years.

Willoughby No. One Well

Recorded Five Times Larger Than Toyah-Bell

Yes "recorded," by my oil magnet. Many know that this magnet alone was my sole and only hope in drilling the Toyah-Bell. The drill went straight into the GUSHER OIL at the Toyah-Bell and my Number One Well the Magnet positively records FIVE TIMES LARGER PRODUCTION.

BELIEVE OR STAY POOR

After almost one hundred wells had been drilled in the Pecos Country I came here and took over the drilling of the Toyah-Bell which found the liquid gold. Just one well and a few months to open the field. While the Toyah Bell field is being developed I am going to open what the magnet records as being as large a gusher as I have ever worked over at Ranger or any place else. If you want in on the next really big gusher field "be convinced."

One Hundred Dollars Bring Fortune

This is no idle talk. It has brought a young fortune to many and will do the same again when the Willoughby Petroleum Company brings in its first real gusher. All those big quick fortunes were made by the companies bringing in a big well and selling out.

SELL OUT AND DIVIDE

Who cares anything about being all greased up taking care of a lease, marketing or refining the oil? What I want is money. That is what everyone wants. The large oil companies are entitled to the oil and will pay handsomely for a big well and a lot of leases. We have 1,280 acres of leases and are most surely hoping for and expecting to bring in a real Texas Gusher. When we do WE WANT THE MONEY. WE WILL SELL AND DIVIDE THE PROFITS. $100.00 in the Hog Creek Oil Company paid back $13,500.00. $100.00 with the Burk-Waggoner paid $15,000.00. The Fowler Farm Company paid around $19,000.00 on the $100.00 risked just because they GOT A BIG WELL AND SOLD OUT AND DIVIDE THE MONEY.

THIS MAY BE "AN OLD SONG"

Call this "an old song" or what you may. We are going to drill the well and sell out and hundreds of thousands will NOT BE BENEFITED ONE DIME if we pay ten thousand dollars for every one hundred invested. We are not attempting to "change any man's mind." If you have cold feet, no nerve and no money you will die poor. We risk our own money and time, and work like the devil knowing that we have the Wild-Catter's chance to make a cold MILLION. My work on the Toyah Bell No. Two, the well that was actually "drilled" to below 4300 feet, to find the oil speaks for itself.

The company has a 1,280 acre drilling block, is capitalized at $200,000.00 divided into 200,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each and those who buy these shares and help me bring in my first gusher will be called "Lucky."

NERVE, NOT LUCK, TO TAKE THE GAMBLER'S CHANCE WITH THE WILD-CATTER BRINGS HOME THE THOUSANDS

ENVIRONMENT.

Environment has a lot to do in the lives of both old and young and a safeguard should especially be thrown around our young people that they may grow up in the right kind of an atmosphere. The young man or young woman who has no energy has something wrong with their physical being which needs correcting. If they have the needed energy they must have some way of exerting it and will find a way. These are the ones who eventually grow up to be our leaders. If they have had the proper environment they make men and women fit to be leaders, but if not they become corrupt and a menace to the community and nation.

Of course, it will cost some money, but it is worth every cent it will cost and then some, for Pecos to have a gymnasium and have the proper instructors and care taken that it is run after a fashion which will build character as well as brawn. That this is needed is proven by the fact that the "Punch Bowl" is growing daily in popularity. The Enterprise has no thought of condemning the "Punch Bowl" nor asserting that its surroundings are not good, but it does wish to go on record as saying right here that such places of amusement should be under the direction of christian gentlemen and ladies and that those who attend should be taught to be strong in character as well as in body.

In years past West Texas children who had never seen a garden (that was some time since) wondered "when the can would grow around the tomato." Recently in a Sunday School class little David Butler, who is an unusually beautiful, bright and lovely little man of about five years of age, was telling the story of Jonah and the Whale. He knew the story well and told it in an interesting manner, but when he stated that the party "went out to sea and a sand-storm came up" it left no doubt as to the environment under which he had been brought up—he is truly a West Texan.

KU KLUX LAWLESSNESS INJURIOUS TO TEXAS

The reputation of the entire citizenship of the State of Texas suffers from the lawless activities of the Ku Klux Klan. Oil investors of the North and East have become frightened over the safety of their investments, due to the lawlessness of the gang in several parts of the State, culminating in a murder in McLennan county. These investors are asking their Texas debtors to explain the apparent collapse of government in certain sections of the State, where officials have failed to uphold the laws and stood aside while acts of lawlessness were committed by masked men.

At a meeting of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, held at Dallas, October 18th, a resolution was presented by the president of that body, J. S. Cullinan, of Houston, rectifying the lawless acts of the Ku Klux Klan in various parts of Texas and calling upon the Governor and judges of the State to curb the members of the Atlanta organization. A copy of the resolution was sent to the President and members of congress.

Mr. Cullinan, who is one of the best known men connected with the oil industry in the United States, came to Texas at the opening of the Corsicana oil field and has been exceedingly active in the development of that industry in Texas. He has been instrumental in bringing more capital into Texas than perhaps any other man in the State.

The Houston Chronicle and the Dallas-Galveston News have been endeavoring to enlist the aid of the same element in Texas to avoid this very condition, pointing out in editorials and news articles the danger of an economic boycott against the State by reason of the creed and race prejudices engendered by the Klan advocates.

These Texas papers explain that Texas has vast natural resources, but the money for their development must come from the north and the east. In this respect it is different from other Southern States. Georgia, for instance, has few natural resources that need development, and hence its citizenship can go on a creed or race hatred spree any time they wish without much attention in the outside world. White-robed mobs can parade until their feet ache and the investing public manifests no interest, because Georgia has nothing to attract investors. The same is true of most of the other Southern States.

But Texas in the southwest is different. This State has natural resources, and its citizens invited outside capital to come in and assist in developing these resources. The citizens of Texas cannot go on prejudicial drunks and set the laws aside without attracting the attention of those people who have money invested in the State and who naturally look to the officers of the State to enforce the laws. When these officers "lay down on the job" or join the lawless element in acts of violence, the outside investor becomes fearful about the safety of his properties and seeks protection to which the law entitles him from the officials of the State he is going to appeal to the Federal officials, and that is just exactly what is happening in the case of Texas at this time.

The people of Texas know that these acts of the mob are committed by a small percentage of the citizenship of the State, but the stories of the Klan activities are carried by the press associations to the entire country and the people outside of the State fail to distinguish between the law abiding element and the mobs, and hence the reputation of the entire citizenship suffers.

In many small towns of Texas a spirit of suspicion exists that is harmful of civic growth. This spirit of distrust was created by unscrupulous lecturers whose object was to stir up political and religious prejudice, and race hatred. A portion of the secular press of Texas has done great work in exposing and unmasking such characters whose activities are characteristic of the Ku Klux Klan. In some of the larger cities, ministers and educators have deprecated the venting of religious spleen, but some of the country press of the state and ministers in smaller cities and towns rather encourage and favor it, and the result is that Texas is feeling the effects—the State is under suspicion itself, and northern and eastern investors feel that the machinery of law has broken down, or at least is badly out of order.

It is to help correct this impression and stir the high officials of Texas into action that the Texas Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as protesting against the Klan and its members continuing their reign of terror in the various parts of the State.

And it is time that some such action was taken. When district judges are threatened for instructing their grand juries to investigate and indict persons guilty of violence; when such judges are referred to as "gun men" by an avowedly Klan sheet just started in Houston; when masked men paraded in defiance of law and shot down officers who attempt to stop them and clergymen are spoken of in an insulting and slurring manner, it is only too evident that something is wrong in Texas. The members of the State Chamber of Commerce, composed of and officers by the leading business men in Texas, propose to find out what is the trouble and apply the remedy. Texas cannot afford to permit a lot of irresponsible fanatics to jeopardize her commercial and industrial life.

Anyway, Alpine will be the gateway to the State Park in the Davis Mountains. It is the only town with "striking distance" of the proposed park that has two railroads. This will be a big factor in the opportunities Alpine will have to benefit from the establishment of this playground.—Alpine Avalanche.

You have another guess coming Bro. Koonce. Pecos is not so very far away and has three railroads and not two. However, this may be, all adjacent towns will be greatly benefited by the park and just so it is established we should all be satisfied. It is for the people of Texas and will not be established alone for the benefit of the towns surrounding it.

Ballinger has been selected as the next meeting place for the Executive Board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held on November 15th. The Young Men's Business League of Ballinger is making arrangements for an interesting entertainment program and will provide facilities for an efficient meeting. J. A. Drane of Pecos is a member of this Board and will doubtless attend this meeting.

B. RAMSEY HURT

B. Ramsey, Manager of the Toyah Bell, sustained a severe cut on the head which required three stitches to close Wednesday when a door to the derrick blew against him and knocked him against a pillar which had a nail in it and which caught him.

He was brought to town and the wound dressed and expects to be out tomorrow.

U. S. MAY AID SALE OF RED BLUFF LANDS

Assistance of the Federal government in settling any areas that may be put into cultivation as a result of the construction of the proposed Red Bluff dam is provided in the Smith-McNary bill now before congress, providing a sum of $200,000,000 over a period of three years to be advanced to irrigation districts for construction purposes.

These provisions are to the effect that all lands in excess of the maximum area to which a water right is given shall be placed in the hands of the Secretary of the Interior under such terms as shall have been agreed upon, and that the secretary of the interior shall first recognize offers or filings on these lands made by ex-service men and women and next filing made by the general public for the purchase of these lands.

The bill provides a period of five years during which time these lands may be advertised and sold by the government, and at the end of that time any unsold lands must be disposed of by public auction.

The provision limiting the number of acres of water rights to be held by any one person is contained in practically all government reclamation projects, and ruled at the time the Colorado project was put in on the Pecos River north of Pecos. This provision, which limits the area to 160 acres, is made in order to secure the settlement of the land by individual farmers, and does away with the suspicion that the government has agreed to the wish of any big and selfish interest in advancing them public monies for the improvement of their lands.

Copies of the bill have been received by the Pecos Chamber of Commerce, along with a letter from Congressman Hudspeth, in which he expressed his approval of the contract entered into by the Pecos Valley Water Users Association which provides for a geological survey of the Red Bluff Reservoir site sometime the latter part of November or in December.

In this letter to Secretary Walter N. Sutherland, Mr. Hudspeth says: "I was very anxious to have this survey made as early as possible for I believe that within three months the Smith-McNary bill will become a law and I hope that our project will be one of the first to come under it. If this bill passes, and it has as strong backing as any bill that I know of ever having been presented to congress, for it has the personal endorsement of the President himself, then I feel sure that the reclamation of arid lands is a completed proposition, for with a loan of two hundred and fifty million dollars, the director of reclamation here states to me that every proposed project that is feasible can be carried out and completed."

The financial plan presented in the Smith-McNary bill is as follows: Bonds are issued on the land for the estimated cost of the project.

These bonds are taken over by the Reclamation Service and sufficient money advanced from the Reclamation fund to pay the cost of construction.

tion. These bonds must be of sufficient amount to pay the interest cost during the period of construction, while provision is made that interest charged does not run until the money is actually advanced for construction use.

The bonds are then turned over to the Farm Loan Board and held until the value of the acreage improved under the project become twice the value of the bonds, at which time the bonds are offered for sale on the open market. The money received for the sale of these bonds will then be placed in the reclamation fund and used for other projects.

Section 9 of the act provides: "That until the indebtedness of the United States under a contract for the construction of a project has been discharged, unless otherwise provided therein, the management and control thereof shall vest in the district."

A requirement is also made that eighty per cent of all acreage in the district shall be held in tracts of the maximum area or under by the time the contract is let for the construction of the reservoir, and that the owners of the excess lands shall have agreed with the secretary upon the price, terms, and conditions upon which he may sell their excess holdings to settlers.

The requirements for the bonds are that they shall "run for a period of not exceeding twenty-five years, bear interest at a rate to be fixed by the secretary not exceeding five per cent payable annually, and be issued in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000."

Section thirteen deals with the provision limiting the area to be held by any one person. This says: "The secretary, in entering into a contract with a district for the construction of a project, shall establish a maximum area of land which may receive a water right. A maximum area shall not exceed one hundred and sixty acres, and the excess acreage in the district shall be sold in farm units of a size as will, in the opinion of the secretary, support a family, at prices and on terms and conditions contained in the contract with the district. No contract affecting the land made during a period of five years from the date of sale shall be valued without the approval of the secretary, unless full payment of the purchase price of such land shall have been made."

Provision is also made for preferential employment of ex-service men and women in the construction work on the reservoir.

TAMPA IS HIT BY HURICAN OFF GULF

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 25.—Tampa, Fla., was today struck by a ferocious tropical hurricane, which has forced water from the Gulf of Mexico over the banks of Tampa Bay, which flows into the town and has inundated a section, according to advice here.

Electric power has been cut off and the city is entirely without street car service and lights. Higher tides are expected, it was declared here in private advices.

Warn Of Hurricane.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 25.—The local weather bureau in issuing a special warning at 9:30 o'clock announced a "severe hurricane" in the Gulf on the southwestern coast of Florida. Shipping was advised to take all possible precaution because of dangerous easterly to shifting winds.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend? Mrs. John DeRacy, Pecos, gave the following statement October 28, 1915: "I was troubled for a long time with my kidneys. My back was weak and lame and hurt me with a dull constant ache. I was tired and languid and had dizzy spells and headaches. Black spots often seemed to float before my eyes. I was also bothered with my kidneys acting irregularly. I heard a lot about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. I got some at the Pecos Drug Co., Inc., and it only took two boxes to cure me. I haven't been bothered since."

LASTING RESULTS.
On April 7, 1919, Mrs. DeRacy said: "I haven't needed Doan's Kidney Pills since I recommended them in 1915 for the cure they gave me has lasted. I have been in fine health."

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The social activities of the season, which bids to be gay, were ushered in Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Frank Cavet and Mrs. Roy Wilcox, two of Pecos' most charming young matrons, entertained at the home of the former with the ever delightful game of "42". The witches with their brooms and other signs and symbols, the artistic handwork of the hostesses, decorated the score cards, the walls and other available places and were visible reminders of the season of Halloween with its mysteries and ghostly walkers.

Fifteen tables were prepared where a number of lively games were played after which a delicious one-course luncheon was served.

The following is the list of the invited guests: Mesdames Pat Fulgin, Add Owen, H. B. Frikett, W. W. Runnels, J. B. Howard, Lillian Butler, C. B. Jordan, C. J. Charske, Charles Young, W. N. Sutherland, W. P. Meredith, G. C. Parker, P. J. Rutledge, M. L. Roddy, Monroe Kerr, Dorothy Heard, Carl Smith, Ethel Reynolds, G. B. Finley, L. W. Anderson, Will Cowan, Roger White, Ralph Williams, J. W. Moore, B. R. Stine, Monroe Slack, Oram Green, Chas. Manahan, Tommy Levy, J. W. Brooks, D. W. Bozeman, Walter Browning, H. T. EPWORTH LEAGUE PARTY

The Epworth League met at Miss Ida B. Hines Thursday evening at 8 o'clock for a Halloween frolic. As the ghosts assembled there was stifled screams and awful moaning.

The noise subsided as they gathered into a darkened room, sitting upon the floor; then came the direful ghost stories. After this couples were ushered into a weird room where lights were low and a witch sat stirring her broth at a large cauldron. She stirred her brew unmasked—and told their fortunes as she saw her visions from the vapor that arose from her cauldron. The spookie victims listened to their fates. One fellow was told never marry but live in a haunted house and his only companions were to be cats and owls. After this they bobbed for apples, the younger ones being most successful.

An ear of corn was hung up while all marched around, took a look then guessed how many grains the ear contained. Raymond Norwood gave best guess, his prize being a large piece of pie. Miss Nina May Noles came second her prize being an extremely small piece of pie. John Hibdon, Jr., won booby prize just a piece of pie crust.

Several games were played all the while music furnished by Mrs. Mary Boatright, Miss Wille Ruth Hines and Donald Runyon help to keep up the merry pitch.

From a lovely decorated table, covered with black and orange hangings etc., refreshments of punch and pumpkin pie were served which every one greatly enjoyed. There were about 30 present. The party broke up about midnight, every one declaring they had a fine time.

Will try to have another party soon.

CLAY M'GONIGAL DEAD

Relatives were through Pecos today with the body of Clay McGonigal who died at his home at Sacaton, Ariz., Tuesday by coming in contact with a live wire.

They were en-route to Lovington, N. M., where the body will be interred. He is survived by his wife and one son, his parents, prominent and old time cattle people of this country, sisters and brothers. He was thirty-eight years old and his untimely death is much deplored.

Mr. McGonigal was one of the best ropers in the country. He and Joe Gardner, who died in El Paso a few weeks ago were friends and equally prominent ropers. Mr. McGonigal is a brother of Mrs. Sid Kyle, who with the widow and son and another sister, Mrs. Alfred Boyd, accompanied the body to Lovington, New Mexico. The Enterprise extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved.

W. R. JOHNSON PASSES AWAY

W. R. Johnson passed away Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert Garrett where he had been brought in from his home at Saragosa the day before for medical treatment. Mr. Johnson had been ill for about ten days, the trouble was clotted blood on the brain and all was done by skilled physicians known to give relief but to no avail, the last clear call came and his spirit winged its way back to the God who gave it. He was only thirty-eight year of age, just in the prime of life.

He is survived by his wife and seven children, was a kind husband, a loving father and a good neighbor. Mr. Johnson was converted early in life and became a member of the Christian church, but the pastor, Rev. H. L. Magee, being ill, the funeral services were held at the Baptist church and conducted by Rev. C. R. Teague, pastor of the Baptist church of Toyah and old friend and much beloved by Mr. Johnson and family. Rev. J. M. Garner, pastor of the Pecos church assisted in the services. Burial was made at Fairview cemetery by the Masons of which order Mr. Johnson was a member. He was also a member of the W. O. W. lodge and the Odd Fellows lodge. There were many floral offerings, mute testimony of sorrowing friends. The Enterprise extends condolence and deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

J. W. BROWN DEAD.

J. W. Brown died Saturday night at the Santa Fe hotel of heart failure. Deceased had lived in Pecos for a number of years and was a quiet, unassuming man who attended to his own business and therefore few if any of our people know much about his history.

From insurance papers it is learned he was 54 years and six months of age and has four sons and a daughter, whose whereabouts are unknown. The body was laid to rest in Fairview cemetery Tuesday.

CALOMEL USERS

TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Trecherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation.

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

LIFT CORNS OR

CALLUSES OFF

Doesn't hurt! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off.

When Freezone removes corns from the feet or calluses from the bottom of feet the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated. (Advertisement)

President J. T. Orr announced that the cash business fund of the organization is now $950,000. When the association started in business it had $150,000 to work with.

The $40 a bale advance now being sent out to members of the association is supplied by Texas banks and the raising of the sum from $25 to $40 is credited to the good work of Sloan Simpson, Treasurer of the association and trustee for the banks.

BANKHEAD HIGHWAY DISCUSS PROGRAM

Birmingham, Ala., October 25, 1921.—Active plans are being worked out at the headquarters of the United States Good Roads Association, the United States Good Roads Show, and the Bankhead National Highway Association, in Birmingham, for the annual conventions of these three organizations at Phoenix, Arizona, during the week of April 24 to 29, 1922.

The railroads have become interested in giving the cheapest rate possible to Phoenix and return.

J. A. Rountree, Director General of all three of these organizations, is now arranging for a delegation of the above organizations, as well as a special committee from Arizona, to go to Washington and extend invitations to President Harding, vice-president Coolidge, and at least three cabinet officers, to go to Phoenix next April.

Every effort possible will be put forth to have the ablest and most influential men in attendance at the next meeting of these associations.

PERSONAL

Mrs. L. M. Tucker, associated with the Los Pecos Syndicate, arrived here Thursday morning and went direct to the field where she saw the Toyah Bell shoot over the top. She and her son, Owen Divers, are on their way to Los Angeles, Calif., where they will be connected with the main office of the Los Pecos. This Syndicate is preparing to put a standard rig on their well No. 1 where they now have a hole down 920 feet with excellent showings.

P. A. Gates, of San Antonio, who is in the wholesale grocery business there, came in early in the week and is looking over the oil field in which he has interests. He has only the highest praise for The Enterprise for the way it handles the oil news and says it has done more for the oil field and Pecos than any two other interests in the town.

W. R. McDermott came in from Fort Worth the early part of the week for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Ben Qualls. Mr. McDermott says he notices very perceptibly the difference in the cool nights of West Texas and the sultry ones of Fort Worth.

J. J. Pope of Toyah was a business visitor in Pecos Thursday.

J. T. Lanehart of Jal, N. M., was a business visitor in Pecos Thursday and advanced his dates another year. He has a dairy herd and goats and says his neighbors raised a fairly good crop this year.

Arch W. Bell, field manager for the Los Pecos Syndicate and Owen F. Divers associate, are going to the Pinal Dome well today, to see the actions of the Clarke Gasoline Engine in view to installing one at the Los Pecos well No. 1.

Roy B. Barnum and Arthur R. Thompson have formed a copartnership and will sell oil leases and lands in the Pecos Valley. Mr. Thompson came in this week from Los Angeles and Mr. Barnum has been here for some time. They are reliable and know the country and will make a strong team.

Mrs. Beulah Wilson is at home from California where she visited the last two months.

Mrs. Carrie Rice will arrive Saturday from Bloomington, Ind., for a visit to her daughter, Mrs. S. C. Muek.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Krauskopf and children left Pecos Thursday of last week in their new Dodge for Cisco. In the vicinity of Loraine the car turned turtle. Max suffered a broken arm, Mrs. Krauskopf bruises about the head and back and was unconscious for some time. The children suffered minor bruises. They all were carried to Cisco Tuesday and are doing as well as is possible. Their many friends in Pecos are solicitous of their welfare and look forward to their recovery and return home.

Joe A. Elliott, scout for the Texas Company, and John Meredith, scout of the Atlantic Oil Company, paid a visit to the Toyah Bell No. 2 on Wednesday, saw the well swabbed, and were much impressed with the prospects.

Miss Vannie Ingle, who recently resigned her place as Deputy County Clerk, has been employed by the Pecos Abstract Company.

Dr. W. B. Lynd was a business visitor in Dallas the forepart of this week.

FOR SALE—I have a few hundred shares of stock for sale in the Pecos Natural Oil Company—The company that brought in the Toyah Bell. See me at W. W. Hubbard's office—C. H. Willoughby. 1t

H. J. Morlang, division superintendent for Texas for the Oil Well Supply Company, accompanied Mr. Hoakins, their representative in Pecos to the field on Thursday and made an inspection of a number of sites which have been brought forward as prospective locations for a supply house for their company in Pecos.

The exceptional interest that the gushing forth of the Toyah Bell has caused in the oil world can be gauged by the number of inquiries by wire and by mail that have been received by local men and organizations asking for additional particulars.

The Chamber of Commerce has received a very large number of inquiries, some of them from large oil companies.

After a visit to Mrs. J. R. Hines and family for several days, Mrs. Nellie L. Gantt has returned to Balmorhea where she is visiting her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. F. Gantt and little grandson, J. F. Jr.

Mrs. Ed Otto returned Monday from a few days visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. C. McMillian at Clovis, New Mexico.
