PECOS GETS REDUCTION IN INSURANCE KEY RATE

A new rate book for Pecos has just been received by all Pecos agents from the State Fire Insurance Commission, showing a third decrease in the past year in the key rate for Pecos, this last reduction being from 44c to 38c in key rate.

This reduction, according to the W. W. Dean insurance agency, was made on account of having a partially paid fire department, which change was inaugurated by the city government some months ago, and this being the third change in the key rate within a year, required the issuance of a new rate book, as the very material changes in key rates necessitated corresponding change in exposure changes on business properties.

The new rate book shows a very substantial reduction in rates in the business section of the town, and according to Mr. Dean, will in a measure off-set, and in some cases more than take care of the loss of good fire record credit.

The key rate of 55c was reduced about one year ago to 53c, and again reduced in June to 44c, and this reduction now making a total reduction of 17c in about one year. These several reductions were brought about by the following: From a new survey by an engineer of the Fire Insurance Commission; inauguration of partially paid fire department; teaching of fire prevention methods in the public schools of Pecos, and the installation of the new chemical engine, value of each cause being in order named above, according to Mr. Dean.

This reduction comes at a very opportune time, just when the 9 percent can no longer be deducted for good fire record credit, and gives Pecos a very favorable key rate, when compared with other towns of this size.

Fincombing the Country for Tax Money

If there is any article or industry that has escaped some form of special taxation, or is not yet listed for special favors of this kind, will the discoverer kindly notify the politicians in Washington and receive a reward? Congress is searching diligently for something new to tax or for some new form of taxation whereby extra dollars may be taken from the people. Already the Nation is staggering under a load of debt, the result of war, but even so, our politicians talk glibly of a billion dollars and with the utmost sangfroid, discuss ways and means of collecting it.

Extravagance in government and the resulting heavy taxation has brought about the downfall of many Nations in times past, and history may repeat itself. Just how long the citizens of this country will continue to lick stamps and pay a tax on every article they buy and on their every movement, without uttering such a vehement protest that its echoes will resound through the halls of Congress, is yet undetermined, but it is safe to say that thousands of voters have already determined to do their part at the polls to bring about a peaceful revolution in the conduct of the economic affairs of this Nation. Office seekers are yet going to have to do more than just talk economy in government. They are going to be forced to make good, or to seek some other means of livelihood.

The Government is not only extravagant in the expenditure of tax money, but even more so in making its tax collections. It is costing millions of dollars annually to gather tax money into the treasury. The Internal Revenue Department today is becoming one of the most expensive divisions of the Treasury.

The tax burden, however, comes not altogether from the sum total of the money turned into the public treasury or the expense in collecting it. The people of this country are paying out enormous sums of money every year as an indirect result of our system of taxation. A 10 percent tariff on any article means a 40 percent tax on the consumer. It costs the people of this country $400,000,000 for every $100,000,000 collected for Government use, and for every $1,000,000 in bonds issued the people pay $2,000,000 in interest before the date of maturity and still owe the principal. So complicated are the income tax blanks furnished business men that every business institution is forced to employ an expert at a cost of from $100 to $1,000 or more annually in order to furnish the Government information on which the tax can be based. And so it is all down the line. There never has been a time in the history of the country when the tax gatherers were more numerous or more insistent than in the year of our Lord, 1922.

LEGION MINSTREL REHEARSALS DEVELOP PEP IN GREAT CAST

Black faced minstrels and pretty girls will entertain Pecos on Tuesday, March 14, at the Rialto Theatre with a performance labeled as the "Legion Follies."

The program for the event is being rapidly whipped into shape at the club rooms under the library, the Legion boys being aided in the cast by a number of talented people who are not members of the organization, and the stage that evening will present a number of new faces who have not heretofore appeared in Pecos amateur events.

I. J. Sims, veteran of several minstrel shows will serve as interlocutor, or "Electrocutor," as most of the dark end-men insist on calling him, and four end-men will bandy jokes back and forth and appear in special numbers. These end-men, are: Dr. William Faye Meredith, W. Earl Bell, M. E. Erlenbach and Herbert Prickett.

A male chorus of ten voices will appear in the minstrel numbers, and among the soloists will be: Ralph Williams, Charles Young and Donald Bell.

During the second half of the program an Arabian scene and a cabaret setting are being prepared. Among those who will appear in special numbers in this section of the program are: Misses Ora Pruett, Wain Collins, Hazel Sparks, and Mrs. Sam Johnston, and Mrs. Dan Campbell, and Mr. Donald Bell. A chorus composed of Misses Aileen Love, Mable Smith, Mattie Lee Wilson, Evelyn Slack and Mesdames Herbert Prickett and Walter N. Sutherland.

The performance will be given for the benefit of the American Legion building fund. The local Post has recently completed a club house just south of the City Hall on which a small amount is owed, and it is believed that this amount can be cleared up by the proceeds of the performance.

Pecos Has Some Weather Herself

Decidedly the coldest weather of the winter hit Pecos Monday night and held it in a grip of ice and snow well up into Wednesday night, the snow falling at intervals during the period. The snowfall lacked moisture however, or at least it was of that "dry" variety that left little trace of its falling upon the ground.

According to V. L. Cory, who keeps a record of local temperatures by government instruments at the experiment farm, reports that the thermometer registered 14 degrees above zero as the maximum low temperature for Tuesday, 11 degrees for Wednesday, and 7 degrees early Thursday morning.

According to this authority the reading for Thursday morning established a new record for cold weather in March in the nine years that the local station has recorded observations, the next coldest period being in 1914, when 11 degrees above zero was registered.

But at that the Pecos country came through smiling, and with great sympathy for the sections of the country which were more exposed to the frigid rigors of the storm.

Pecos to Have Modern Ice Cream Plant

Another industry revived for Pecos is found in the announcement of Crowds-Neiderkorn interests of the purchase of the Payne ice cream plant which is to be enlarged to a capacity which will enable it to take care of all home consumption of ice cream as well as furnish it to patrons abroad.

According to the plans of the company the plant will be in operation within the next thirty days. The operation of this plant will open another avenue to local dairymen for the disposition of their milk, and this feature naturally commends the enterprise of the promoters to the encouragement of the community at large.

At a time in our National life when the most rigid economy should be practiced by Nation, State, County and City, we find our chosen representatives suggesting and urging new expenditures of money and fincombing the country for more tax money with which to meet obligations. Careful selection of candidates for office in the coming elections is in order. If there are any real statesmen left in the country, let the voters send them to Congress and to the State Legislatures. —Farm & Ranch.

FARM BLOC GETS DIRECT MARKETING

Here is shown President Harding signing the Capper-Volstead bill which makes legal co-operating marketing by farmers. It is the first signal victory for the Farm Bloc in Congress. This new law permits farmers to pool their crops and sell direct to consumers, thus doing away with the middleman's profits.

CLEM CALHOUN WILL GO TO EL PASO TO PRACTICE LAW

There is widespread regret in Pecos and this section of West Texas in the announcement of Clem Calhoun, present county attorney of Reeves and Loving counties, that he will within the next few days remove from this city to El Paso.

The friends of the young man and they are legion in Pecos and West Texas, will be rejoiced however, to know that his removal means the following of a goal which leads to a larger field, for at El Paso he begins the practice of his profession under the most auspicious circumstances, in his association with Judge John L. Dyer, one of the most successful attorneys of the Southwest.

Mr. Calhoun has made an enviable record in his profession since he "hung out his shingle" in Pecos only a few years ago. Teaching school at intervals in order to finance his study of the law, he was at last sufficiently advanced in the science to devote all his time to its practice, and was shortly thereafter appointed county attorney, vice Judge J. A. Drane, resigned.

His candidacy and subsequent election to the office is history of which his many friends helped to indite a page, cementing ties which will bring at the young man's heart strings for many a day.

By natural succession in the ambitions of Mr. Calhoun, he launched a candidacy for the office of district attorney of the 70th judicial district, and started to shell the hustings with his usual vigor. It must have been difficult for him to choose the right "fork" in the road, when he was confronted with the opportunity to go to El Paso, or pursue a political ambition which had some well groomed taproots.

It is the intention of Mr. Calhoun to resign his incumbency of the office of county attorney on the fifteenth of the present month, and the departure of himself and his estimable family will follow soon after.

Pecos expects this young man to make a great success in his profession, and congratulates him that he has the hardihood to seek a field where only grit and brains will receive the larger rewards. No one who has ever surveyed the slant of Clem Calhoun's jaw will question his determination, and that he is possessed of a cool, clear intellect chastened by hard study is the verdict of any array of counsel that has ever measured wits with him.

PECOS BOYS LOSE TO EL PASO
The Pecos High School Boys Basketball team were defeated by El Paso Highs in a game played at El Paso City on Friday of last week. The game was played to determine the bi-district championship the Pecos Highs having been victorious over the 11th district.

The locals were outclassed; but played a splendid game against the handicaps which attended their engagement in this fast company.

TOYAH-BELL WILL RECEIVE SHOT IN QUEST OF PRODUCER

It was September of last year that Pecos and all those interested in the oil test being made here, were thrilled to the nth degree by the spectacular demonstration of the Toyah-Bell well, being operated then by the Ramsey Oil Co., when a volume of gas was uncovered which had enough pressure to raise the tools weighing a ton and a half to an elevation of 350 feet, where they were jammed and served as a cork to the passage for some time before they could be dislodged.

Oil precipitately rose in the hole to an elevation of more than a thousand feet. The depth on this occurrence was below the 4000 foot level.

But the well did not "blow in" a commercial producer. Instead the constant pounding of the drill appreciably increased the oil in the hole, until it stood at 3,000 feet, then it came over the top of the derrick with such frequency that it ceased to be a spectacle to Pecos people who visited the location.

The hole is now approximately 4540 feet. And she still flows at intervals of several heads daily, sometimes making in one single head as much as 50 barrels. Only this week in swabbing the hole after a shutdown of a couple of days on account of the cold weather, the hole belched out columns of oil which leaves no doubt as to the vicinity of a great oil basin which has all but been tapped for a mammoth producer.

But naturally this kind of a situation cannot be tolerated forever and a day. It is wearing to the patience and the finances of any but a John D. Consequently the heads of the company have come together in a determination that now is the opportune time to resort to a shot of nitroglycerine which should open a crevice to the impervious formations now holding the oil reservoir in leash. With a log showing something like 200 feet of oil-bearing sand it looks like a safe bet to place a few thousand dollars more in this expedient.

To this end, those abroad having large interests and investments in the field at large, have been apprised by telegram during the week of the desire of the operators to make a test shot. Today there were responses from these telegrams from many quarters, placing various amounts of money at the disposal of the owners for this purpose. At noon Friday more than a thousand dollars had been received from this source.

This afternoon at four o'clock the citizens of Pecos have been called together in a mass meeting to further the financial program for the bringing in of this well. It is estimated that approximately $3,000 will be required to determine the results of a shot of nitroglycerine.

The results of this mass meeting cannot be forecasted, perhaps, but it is safe to predict that Pecos citizens will show their faith in the field by subscribing to the limit of their ability, in spite of the fact that the development work of the past two years has been a drain upon the financial resources of the community. But this is the history of all heroic efforts to develop the resources of a commonwealth, and Pecos has never faltered in its purpose to do its dead level best in any matter affecting the general wealth of this great domain.

The financial feature provided for, it will require several days perhaps to prepare the hole for the shot, as the casing will be pulled above the producing sands, no small task within itself.

RIVER WELL NO. 2
River Well No. 2 in Ward county, being drilled by the Haskell-Owens interests, is drilling below 3,000 feet in a dark brown lime formation. Mr. Owens is here to personally direct operations, and the test is being watched with the greatest interest, as it is expected that oil bearing sands should be picked up in the neighborhood of 3500 feet.

WILLOUGHBY NO. 1
C. H. Willoughby, president of the Willoughby Petroleum Co., has established his headquarters at the well until the lime formation struck last Saturday has been drilled through. He says there is nothing to create excitement; the well is not making any gas or oil, but the formation is encouraging and warrants the closest attention. The lime is very hard and cuts the drill bit rapidly.

BELL NO. 1
The report from the Bell No. 1 shows drilling in alternating blue and black limes and limes of considerable sand, all of which are said to be saturated with oil. The production however from these formations are

PINAL DOME WELL YIELDS RICH POTASH SAMPLES

Potash ranging in percentage from 3.3 to 16.1 of the salt formation found in the Pinal Dome Oil Corporation's Loving county well is shown in the report of the U. S. Geological Survey just issued. This report also speaks of a rich deposit of this mineral in the McDowell well north of Big Spring, but states that a more complete analysis is now being made of the formations there.

The formations found in the Pinal Dome are understood to be the thickest potash formations ever found, and as they were obtained after the samples had been allowed to soak in the drilling water of the well, and after the cut up formation had been churned by the bit, there are prospects that a core drill test will prove the percentage to be much higher. Formations in the German mines show from ten to 16 percent on core drill tests.

PECOS FLU EPIDEMIC NOT AS VIRULENT AS FIRST SCOURGE

There are not many families in Pecos who have not had one or more members stricken with influenza within the past two weeks, and it is estimated by some who have made investigation of the matter, that right now there are probably 75 to 100 cases within the city.

While there have been some very sick people with the malady, and the number stricken appears large, yet it should not be construed that it is fashionable to contract it. The epidemic here, and from reports in many sections of the country, has not been of the virulent type that carried thousands to their graves in the first visitation of the scourge, in fact there has been only one death from it in Pecos this winter, according to the information of this paper.

The cold spell of the week is said by some authorities as having retarded rather than served as an aid to the spread of the epidemic, as it has been a dry cold of such intensity as to make it very uncomfortable for the little "yerns."

Local health authorities are preaching plenty of fresh air in combating the malady, advising those who are outdoors to garb themselves in enough clothes to keep warm without getting overheated.

of negligible quantity. The plant still continues to operate from gas power produced by the drilling hole.

PECOS-ANGELES WELL
Ciphers don't amount to much unless properly supported in a denomination of figures, but the failure to annex one in the drilling report of this well in last week's Enterprise made its report ridiculous. The well is steadily drilling at below 1,000 feet, instead of 100 feet as reported last week. O. S. Sh... is here on the ground to direct the work and there is no loss of time around this location.

SPENDING MONEY AT HOME BUILDS UP LOCAL INDUSTRIES

By Lyndsay D. Hawkins

In order to get a clear conception of the essential character of money we should say not, "How many potatoes will a dollar buy?" But "How many dollars will a bushel of potatoes buy?" The fact that money is used as a means with which to facilitate trade does not prevent it being as much a commodity as potatoes or corn, and therefore as obedient to the law of supply and demand as those of any other commodities.

The rule that about the amount of money a nation requires to transact its business remains in that nation for that purpose may be projected to have a closely similar application to communities within that nation. And the same reasons which teach that money will leave a nation for more attractive fields apply with equal force to instruct us that it will leave a community when that community does not need it or when other communities offer it more or better inducements.

It should be taken, however, as a cardinal principle that the amount of money in a community is not the measure of the wealth. The material wealth of a community is determined by less fickle standards. A community is richer in which the people own their own homes but are in debt for them than the one in which they do not have homes but are out of debt by a measure not merely of the difference in the value of the lumber in a house and in the lumber yard or in the forest, and of the difference in the value of the stone in the house and in the quarry, together with the enhanced value of land consequent upon the building of these homes.

Business activity is determined by three things, namely, the amount of money in circulation, credit, and the amount of material wealth that is on the market for exchange. Where money is the established medium of exchange the amount of material wealth that is on the market for exchange must necessarily be small and therefore inconsiderable. Credit depends upon the ultimate ability to pay money, so we may conclude that provided there is enough material wealth for the purpose of trade (and there always is in an established community) business goes on or is hindered in proportion to the amount of money in circulation. As money in circulation is an evidence of business activity so money at hand to be put in circulation is an incentive to business activity. And it is imperatively necessary to the business health of a community that it keep within its precincts as much money as possible, or certainly that it do not permit artificial influences to drain it of its cash and thus paralyze its business until natural influences shall have remedied the mischief the artificial influences have wrought.

The most sinister of these artificial influences is the practice of sending away money for articles which do not take its place with material wealth. To illustrate: Suppose a farmer to be in need of a garden hoe. His local hardware dealer will sell it to him for a certain price, but if he finds after calculation that by sending to a distance for the hoe and paying the express charges he can save an amount worth considering, he has proved that his hardware dealer wants an exorbitant profit and he is justified in ordering from a distance because he has replaced his money with an article which contributes to production. The hoe, by producing something which is a requirement of the community from which it came, will eventually retrieve the original outlay with interest. But suppose he wants something for which he has no great need, as a box of cartridges. Even though he finds after calculation that he can obtain them from a distance at as great a proportionate saving as in the instance of the hoe, he is not justified in ordering them from a distance and to do so is a sin against the business prosperity of his community, because, in the place of his money, which is irretrievably lost to the community, he puts something that at least does not minister to production, to say nothing of its destructive capacity.

Likewise, money may be spent at home and find its way to distant parts to the great inconvenience of a community. Traveling circuses and shows which by their glamors and pageantry hypnotize an otherwise sane populace are an unspeakable nuisance to the financial interests of a community. What do they leave in the place of the money they take away? Aside from the money paid out for their necessary consumption while in a community, which is totally incommensurate with what they take away, the community retains as a monument to their expensive advent only what it may have received of inspiration; and the sad reflection is that too often those who are most eager to disgorge themselves of their share of the community's cash are those who suffer most from its absence. A southern negro sold his heating stove to obtain money with which to attend a circus, and when remonstrated with it explained: "Boss de winter am a long way off, and de show am here today."

Spending at home when the money remains at home can never be a sin against the financial interests of a community, however profligate the spending may be, but to spend away from home indiscriminately or to spend at home when the money will be lost to the community either tends to retard business or to force men into the extremely difficult task of substituting for money, the natural instrument of commerce, some unnatural and ill-credentialed commodity. It is not difficult to see that if fifty men in a community owe five dollars and one of them has five dollars with which to pay his debt, the same five dollars can be made to discharge all fifty debts, but if the five dollars is lacking and some other commodity is not, even though one debtor is willing to take payment of his debt in that commodity it is not at all likely that the others would be nearly so willing, and forty-nine debts must go unpaid. It is love of money, and not money, that is the root of evil.

BOY SCOUT OATH AND LAW POINTS TO HIGH GOAL

The coming together of twenty-five boys of Pecos who obligate themselves to conduct their lives according to the Scout oath and law, will not only have a salutary effect upon the careers of these boys, but the city will be better for their having lived here. Moreover, they will honor their fathers and their mothers in being good Scouts, an ideal which is constantly held before them.

Every boy in Pecos who is eligible to membership ought to count it a rare and great privilege to join the band, and make resplendent the virtues for which the organizations stands.

The Enterprise herewith submits the Scout Oath and Law, which, if adhered to, will make a towering man among men of every boy who subscribes to it:

Scout Oath and Law.
As a scout the boy willingly adopts as real and vital the universally accepted principles of life set forth in the scout oath and law.

9. A Scout is Thrifty.—He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best use of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay, but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.
10. A Scout is Brave.—He has the courage to face danger in spite of fear, and has to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the jeers or threats of

In The Matter of County Finances In the Hands of M. A. Durdin, Treasurer Of Reeves and Loving Counties

Commissioner's Court Reeves and Loving Counties, Texas, In Regular Quarterly Session, February Term, A. D., 1922.

We, the undersigned, as County Commissioners within and for said Reeves and Loving Counties, and the James F. Ross, County Judge of said counties, constituting the entire Commissioners' Court of said counties, and each one of us, do hereby certify that on this 13th day of February, A. D., 1922, at a regular quarterly term of our said Court, we have compared and examined the quarterly report of M. A. Durdin, Treasurer of Reeves and Loving Counties, Texas, for the quarter beginning on the 14th day of November, A. D., 1921 and ending on the 13th day of February, 1922, and finding the same correct, have caused an order to be entered upon the minutes of the Commissioners' Court of Reeves and Loving Counties, stating the approval of said Treasurer's Report by our said Court, which said order recites separately the amount received and paid out of each fund by said County Treasurer since his last report to this Court and for and during the time covered by his present report, and the balance of each fund remaining in said Treasurer's hands on the said 13th day of February, A. D., 1922, and have ordered the proper credits to be made in the accounts of the said County Treasurer, in accordance with said order as required by article 867, Chapter 1, Title XXV, of the Revised Statutes of Texas, as amended by an act of the Twenty-fifth Legislature of Texas, at its regular session approved March 20, 1897.

And we, and each of us, further certify that we have actually and fully inspected the affidavit of Walter Browning, Cashier of Pecos Valley State Bank, the County Depository, showing to Reeves County at the close of the examination of said Treasurer's Report, on this 13th day of February, A. D., 1922, and find the same to be correct; and the Clerk is ordered to record same in Commissioners' Court Minutes in full.

Witness our hands, officially, this 13th day of February, A. D. 1922.

SARAGOSA PLANTS TREES
Saragosa school and community at large joined in a great picnic at the school grounds on Washington's birthday. The adults and the larger children spent the greater part of the day in building a fence around the school grounds and putting out ornamental trees. A program was rendered by the school children after a delightful basket dinner had been served.

To Stop a Cough Quick take HAYES' HEALING HONEY, a cough medicine which stops the cough by healing the inflamed and irritated tissues. A box of GROVES' O-PEN-TRATE SALVE for Chest Colds, Head Colds and Croup is enclosed with every bottle of HAYES' HEALING HONEY. The salve should be rubbed on the chest and throat of children suffering from a Cold or Croup. The healing effect of Hayes' Healing Honey inside the throat combined with the healing effect of Groves' O-Pen-Trade Salve through the pores of the skin soon stops a cough. Both remedies are packed in one carton and the cost of the combined treatment is 30c. Just ask your druggist for HAYES' HEALING HONEY.

MYSTERIOUS PAINS AND AGES
Makes Life Hard to Bear For Many Pecos Women.
Too many women mistake their pains and aches for troubles peculiar to the sex. More often disordered kidneys are causing the aching back, dizzy spells, headaches and irregular urination. Kidney weakness becomes dangerous if neglected. Use a time-tried kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. Hosts of people testify to their merit. Read a Pecos case:
Mrs. M. D. Jester, says: "I was in bad condition and it seemed I could get no relief. My kidneys acted irregularly, and I was in great pain. I was all tired out and could hardly get around. After using different remedies I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon put me on my feet. Doan's regulated my kidneys and I felt better in every way. I wouldn't be without them."
Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jester had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The wagon that goes to town empty an' comes back loaded with canned goods and town-killed meat, belongs to the farmer that won't be farmin' long.

"Dry rot" comes in the tendency to lurk and lounge around. The idler is afflicted with it. The hanging on the street corners, without intelligible reason is the evidence that the "dry rot" has begun its work.

The reflection of a town is in its people. Just what a town is its people make. It can get no higher or sink to lower depths than the people themselves.

It takes both time and expense to get news for a newspaper. Bear in mind that every item, every local, and every line in a newspaper costs something and then you will realize that running a newspaper is not a bed of roses for the editor and publisher.

THE AUTO LIZARD.

When two girls go sauntering on the streets and two boys come driving along in a touring car, the girls watching for a ride and the boys looking for something of this kind—and then the girls get in bad, what else can you expect?

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922 We all seem to agree that New Year's resolutions are good for the soul, so why should we stop at New Year? What's the matter with a few spring resolutions, for instance: I do hereby promise myself that from this time on I will insist on having my own way, because if I get it the world is likely to be upside down in ten minutes.

ABOUT TEXAS WEATHER.

We've had about the finest weather so far ever seen in Texas, while the people who have gone to California to avoid the rigors of our climate, have encountered floods and things which have tested their vitality and endurance to the limit.

PECOS AND THIS SECTION OF THE PECOS VALLEY has been visited the past winter by numerous Californians, and invariably they comment favorably on the special brand of weather which has been dispensed here during their stay.

A REAL OPPORTUNITY.

It is hoped that the passing of Will H. Hays into the movie world will not slow up the government effort to develop air communication with the millions of the American people resident in our rural districts.

There is something impressive but also perhaps pitiable in noting the curious thousands of fad followers in thickly populated cities "listening in" to great broadcasting stations sending out their educational discourses and ragtime concerts while the welfare of the nation awaits the rapid and widespread transmission of useful information to the farmer.

AN UNCULTIVATED EMPIRE. Reference has been made in another editorial this week of the frequent visits of Californians to the lower Pecos Valley this winter, probably no less than a hundred having been here the past month, looking after their investments in the oil field.

PROSPERITY'S RAINBOW. Federal Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, has sent a thrill through the nation in his report to Congress on the general business outlook. Summed up, he says the United States is facing an era of prosperity of longer duration than the country ever has known.

HOW IT SPREADS. Commenting on the trend of business, the Financial World makes the following observations: "Business cannot be helped by talking about how to improve it. When the Rotary Club, an organization of enterprising business men, uses the billboards to spread the only real tonic for good times and urges business to buck up and force trade, it pursues a sensible course."

No one but the man who raises poultry and eggs for the market in Scurry county knows what a big benefit is being derived from this source of income. If you are not already engaged in this line of work on a business basis, get busy and do so right away. If one-tenth of the thought and time given to politics, gossip, the weather, prices and the like were devoted to the pushing of poultry, cattle and hogs, Scurry county would soon be at the forefront of counties in the country. Now is the time to be getting ready for chickens and turkeys. Let the Chamber of Commerce know your wants along this line and they will be glad to put you in touch with reliable breeders. Scurry county's poultry crop should run hundreds of thousands of dollars for 1922. Are you going to try and do something for yourself this year, or will you let your dollars get away from you without anything to show for them? What about a few turkeys around the place to raise from this spring.—Snyder Signal.

"I HAVE BEEN FOLLOWING"

"Your Advertising And Believe You Are Giving Small Investors a Square Deal."
And He Is Now Paying a Nice Sum Monthly.

WILD-CATTING IS HELL

To say the least. A wild-catter suffers and endures insults, he is called a crook; a grafter; a fool; crazy; in fact he is anything but a MAN in the eyes of the Investing Public simply because they cannot distinguish him from the fake promoters and plain grafters.

Real Wild-Catters are first, last and all the time men who risk their own money (and by that I mean money they have earned and not promoters' commissions and fees taken out of money you have entrusted to them) men who are thrilled and enthused with the business; men willing to work night and day without pay; men who give their stockholders a square deal; men who will be pennyless if they drill a duster. Wild-catters are Men; Real Red Blooded Men of Courage and Sterling Character, the true pioneers of almost every field and the FATHERS of all big, quick riches made in oil.

I AM A WILD-CATTER

And when known and recognized as such, the fact that I am giving small investors; the poor people, a square deal will be no longer be doubted. I just recently refused to mortgage the assets of the company yet by so doing the opportunity of securing $50,000 was sacrificed.

I refused to betray the confidence of my friends. The company is free from debt, a fact every stockholder is proud of. My friends, like myself, are poor but we are struggling on as do all poor people and wild-catters. Our bank account is small but we can truthfully say, we owe no man. We own something over 3,000 acres of leases; our well is down almost 600 feet on what I know to be the greatest structure I have yet found in Southwest Texas. We have a few thousand dollars in the bank and EVERY MAN KNOWS WHERE AND HOW HIS MONEY IS BEING SPENT; KNOWS HE IS GETTING A SQUARE DEAL; KNOWS THAT ALTHOUGH POOR WE HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY OF QUICKLY BECOMING WEALTHY BY BRINGING IN THIS WELL AND SELLING IT.

The Willoughby Petroleum Company belongs to the stockholders. Every stockholder is a cog in the wheel. I do not want anyone to say, "I took a shot with Willoughby," but want you to feel and know that some of the responsibility of our success rests upon you; help by standing up for Willoughby, the wild-catter and your own rights and interests in the company. I want you to be a booster and not dead weight. I want to make you wealthy and do it quickly and by protecting you, by giving you stock, dollar for dollar, which pays for bringing in the well; by giving you free leases out of the company's 3,000 acre drilling block and by your actually helping to drill the well you are preparing, by your cash co-operation and boosting, to at one jump come into your own. It is the wild-catter's friends who OPEN AND OWN THE OIL FIELD FIRST. IT IS THEY WHO BECOME RICH.

Of the Toyah Bell No. Two is inserted to show you the possibilities of the Pecos Field. Intended to help correct the idea many have that all done or said is bosh and to help establish the confidence the FIELD ITSELF SHOULD ENJOY.

That column of oil shooting skyward confirms the Repeated Statements Of Many World Famed Geologists That a Great Oil Field Exists.

I am called crazy and a fool but the oil shown in this picture was located by my magnet. While I do not get the credit of having drilled this well no living man can discredit the fact that my magnet located this, the First Gusher Oil In the Pecos Country.

You as a Willoughby Petroleum Company stockholder, (and, remember, none but stockholders) are getting the use of this magnet which records, by far, a greater volume of oil where we are drilling. Think what it means to be helping drill this well; you own your stock and free leases that should easily make you ten for one surrounding our well on the Great Comanchean Cretaceous Structure shown last week.

THE ARKANSAS CITY DAILY NEWS FEBRUARY 24, 1922

"If Humphrey's oil properties continue to produce as they've started, his income this year will be $35,000,000.00. A year ago he didn't have enough money to develop his first well."

Right now I haven't enough money to quickly develop our first well. What did you have one year ago? Have you more today? What more will you ever have following the old rut? Come out of it NOW.

It is because I am a wild-catter; because times are hard; especially because the poor people, the small investors want an honest chance to do better; a chance to enjoy the profits from oil and receive a fortune from a small investment that I am giving five acres free with each 100 shares of stock and that any one however poor may have this chance I started the monthly payment plan.

I want the confidence and co-operation of those who want to become wealthy; people who have confidence in the Pecos Field and in me; people who can pay $5.00 or more every month with which we can rapidly complete our Willoughby No. One Well; people who are willing to help open a 3,000 acre field all our own from which we can share the millions of dollars just as are the friends of the wild-catter who only a year ago opened the Mexia field and tapped A FLOW OF THE LIQUID GOLD THAT PROMISES A FLOOD OF $35,000,000.00.

Here is the poor man's chance. Grasp it! A Real, Live, Persistent, Determined, Hard-working Wild-Catter's Offer. We Are Headed Straight For The Millions. To share them you must act NOW.

TEXAS ADMITS IT'S BIGGEST, GREATEST BEST THING GOING

Texas goes after things in a big way and the manner in which she has gone out for the empire state championship is at once astonishing, startling and rather embarrassing. Texas, apparently, has never heard that there was another empire state in the Union. Texas pays no respect to age and history. So far as history is concerned, it started when Texas went into business.

Texas has prepared a brief which proves the state believes in advertising. The brief was written in Laredo, Texas, and is being circulated in a perfectly cold blooded manner by an official body. It runs along as follows:

"Texas occupies all the continent of North America, except the small part set aside for the United States and Canada. Texas owns the north of the Rio Grande, the only dusty river in the world; also the only one, with the possible exception of the Trinity, which is navigable for mud cats and pedestrians.

"Texas is bounded on the north by twenty-five or thirty states, and on the east by all the oceans in the world except the Pacific, and on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and South America, and on the west by the Pacific ocean, milky way and the real side of the universe.

"If Texas were chopped loose from the rest of the United States at the Panhandle it would float out into the ocean, as it rests upon a vast subterranean sea of fresh water.

"Texas is so big that the people in Brownsville call the Dallas people Yankees and citizens of El Paso sneer at the citizens of Texarkana as being big snobs from the effete east.

"It is 150 miles farther from El Paso, Texas, to Texarkana, Texas, than it is from Chicago to New York City; Fort Worth is nearer to St. Paul, Minn., than it is to Brownsville.

"The chief occupation of the people of Texas is trying to keep from making all the money in the world. The chief pursuit of the people of Texas was formerly Mexican bandits. But now it is land buyers, steers and Texas crop records.

"The United States with Texas off would look like a three-legged Boston terrier.

"Texans are so proud of Texas that they cannot sleep at night. If a Texan's head should be opened the map of Texas would be photographed on his brain. This is also true of his heart. Unless your front gate is eighteen miles from your front door you do not belong to society as constituted in Texas. Mrs. King's gate is 150 miles from her front door and she is thinking of moving her house back farther so that she will not be annoyed by passing automobiles and peddlers.

"Other Texas landlords have whole mountain ranges and rivers on their ranches. One Texan has forty miles of navigable land on his farm. If the proportion of cultivated land in Texas were the same as Illinois the value of Texas crops would equal that of the forty-seven other states.

"Texas has enough and to supply every man, woman and child in the world with a tract of five by twenty feet, and have enough left over for the armies of the world to march around the border five abreast.

"Texas grows enough alfalfa, if baled and built into a stairway, to reach to the pearly gates.

"If all the hogs in Texas were one hog he would be able to dig the Panama canal in three roots.

"If all the Texas steers were one steer he could stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, one hind foot in the Hudson bay, the other in the Arctic ocean, and with his horns punch holes in the moon, and with his tail brush off the mist from the Aurora Borealis.

"If all the cotton raised in Texas annually were made into one mattress all the people in the world could take a nap at one time.

"Texas is rightly named the Garden of the Lord, and if all the Bermuda onions grown around Laredo were made into a necklace, it would encircle the globe."

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR LYNCH DAVIDSON WILL NOT OFFER FOR RE-ELECTION

Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson gave to press representatives today the following statement:

"It is not my intention to be a candidate for re-election to the office of Lieutenant Governor of Texas. I make this announcement because good and substantial men over the state have expressed their desire to me to become a candidate for that office, but are unwilling to announce in the event it was my purpose to offer for re-election. It is only fair to them that I now announce my intention not to run for re-election.

"The consideration and confidence given me by the people of Texas invokes my deepest gratitude. The office has given me opportunity for some splendid constructive work. Whoever is chosen to the office will find it a post of importance and one voters should be careful to fill with a man capable, not only of being Lieutenant Governor, but of being Governor of this State.

"The people of Texas, the legislative body and the Texas Senate particularly, have made it a pleasure to me to fill the office of Lieutenant Governor. Four years of public service, first as Representative from Harris county, then State Senator from the sixteenth district, and next Lieutenant Governor, has brought to me the realization that never before has the service of able men been so much needed in the affairs of state and nation as is the case today."

Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson indicated the possibility of being a candidate for the U. S. Senate, and said he would only be prevented from doing so by pressing business demands. He emphatically reaffirmed the doctrine so many times before expressed that every man of ability and capacity, and particularly the outstanding business man of the day, should subject themselves to the call of the people, and the people should call them to active participation in the affairs of government. And stating further, in proof of his belief in that doctrine, he was at all times open to any demands made upon him by the people of Texas.

Manna From Skies

Manna which fell from the skies last year near Jerusalem has been received in the U. S. by the Department of Commerce. It was sent by the Syrian Bishop of Jerusalem. The manna is a grayish-white substance which fell during the night like dew and was gathered by placing sheets under trees from which it was shaken when the rising sun had dried it on the leaves. It is supposed to be the same substance that fell for the Israelites in the wilderness.

Wool Supply Can Not Meet Demand

Washington, March 2.—Many wool importing countries of the world have regained a normal pre-war consuming basis and are converting raw stocks into finished goods at almost the pre-war rate, the Department of Agriculture announced last night. The supply in the principal consuming countries

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose Of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble.

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses /you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

"is less than has been recorded in some time," it was announced, "and is insufficient to meet present demand," their inability to obtain stocks to be ascribed by the department to "the unsettled economic conditions throughout the world."

Cattle Stocking is Advised by Agent

The time is ripe for persons with land capital to begin stocking cattle and reap the benefit of the rise in values that he thinks is certain to come in the summer or fall, is the opinion of W. V. Galbreath, general live stock agent for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, who returned from San Antonio Saturday, where he found heavy movements of cattle. However, he declared, Monday that the shipment of livestock were due to local conditions in that section; that they were being sent out to grass.

"If a person has land and grass," Galbreath asserted, "he can now buy his foundation stock at the lowest possible price and that price is bound to advance before fall, giving those who do buy now a profit."

Another factor which the livestock agents think adds to the profitable investment in livestock is the fact that the ranges are more or less depleted and that people have not yet returned to their normal consumption of meat. Consumption of meat will grow, he said, and in time all the ranges will be restocked.

Uncle John's Poem

THE RIGHT MEDICINE.

When it comes to stoppin' crime, Law will do it, every time! Might have called the Kaiser's bluff, if we'd jes' had laws enough. Needn't had to go an' fight, if we'd kept the law in sight.

Every time they steal a car, throw a statute on the bar. Every yeggman, poor or rich, dreads the Law more than the itch. Every crook that's got half sense, shoots the leadin' evidence, swipes the goods with dirty paws,—runs away—an' dreads the laws!

Pile the Laws high on the shelves, where they can enforce themselves. Makes no difference who's the clerk, Pass the laws an' let 'em work. Legislatur' settin' there, hears the cry from everywhere, tellin' of the country's need, heaps of new-laid laws to plead! Ort to pass a million bills, which would cure our social ills. Keep 'em comin' thick an' fast, hammer hard, until they're passed!

Let enforcement stand, divorced. Laws ain't made to be enforced. Never mind the fools' complaint, makin' fuss because they ain't. When ther's crime, remove the cause,—all we need is, Laws—More Laws!

DIVIDE HONORS IN SPORTS

Our boys who went to Pecos Monday for the tennis tournament and to play a basketball game, returned Wednesday. They played three games of tennis and were victorious in two, but were defeated in basketball. The Boy Scouts were organized, thirty-three being accepted for membership in that organization. Mr. Rawlins, who went down for the express purpose of assisting in that work, is much encouraged over the outlook for a fine troop of Scouts at that place. He says that almost without exception the business men and prominent men of that section are behind the movement and it starts out with excellent prospects.

Mrs. Wheat's Mother Dies of Pneumonia

Mrs. E. G. Tatum, aged 65 years, mother of Mrs. J. J. Wheat of this city, died at the Wheat residence in Pecos Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock following an illness of a week of pneumonia.

Mrs. Tatum's home was at Monahans, where she had lived for 20 years. She came to Pecos a short time ago to be in the home of her daughter for a few days, and was stricken with influenza, following which she contracted pneumonia.

Deceased leaves a husband, three daughters and two sons to mourn her untimely death. The body was shipped to Monahans Thursday, where funeral services were held at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheat requests The Enterprise to express their thanks to friends and neighbors who so kindly ministered to the mother during her illness.

A WINNING TRIO

Cows, sows, hens—a trio whose money powers are being generally recognized. Let's work to the end of increasing their tribes throughout the Panhandle and Plains and the entire southwest. Their increase means a "cash basis" for the operations of many who have previously been in debt. Isn't it worth far more than it costs, to put milk cows, brood sows and hens on every farm in this territory.—Amarillo News.

IRA J. BELL HOME AFTER PROLONGED STAY IN NEW YORK

Ira J. Bell returned to Pecos Friday after spending three months in New York City where he has been engaged in associating capital for some extensive development work in the Pecos oil field and the potash possibilities of West Texas.

Mr. Bell has participated in the formation of the Surety Petroleum Co., whose personnel is comprised largely of eastern capital, who propose to engage in the development projects noted above.

Mr. Bell is directing head of the Bell interests in the Pecos field, being the pioneer operator of the well which bears his name.

"P" WELL WATER NEARLY 100 PER CENT PURE BY TEST

An analysis just completed of the water in the "P" well, on the Finley & Anson ranch which is some sixteen miles from Pecos, shows that if Pecos ultimately secures its water supply from that source it will be soft and pure beyond the question of a doubt.

The analysis has been made by a noted chemist at Boston, Mass., and shows that the specimen submitted yielded a test which lacked only one twenty-fifth of being 100 per cent pure, which is about the 'nth degree in perfection according to human standards of computation.

There are a very considerable quota of Pecos town builders who will never be quite content until the city has tapped this supply of soft water and made it available for domestic and industrial uses, and this test as to the purity of the supply is but another step toward its culmination.

The project is receiving the careful investigation of the local Power and Light Company, with the hope that sufficient interest may be awakened among the town builders to put the proposition over.

CAMP GROUNDS FOR TOURISTS

The newly established tourist camping grounds in Pecos now present some of the modern conveniences of travel, following the erection of a camp house which has been equipped with running water and heating facilities.

The improvements, while not pretentious, will serve as reminder to automobile tourists that Pecos appreciates these visitors who throng our highways. The appointments for the camp grounds were installed through subscription of local business men.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Smith of Chicago, who have been visiting Judge Jas. F. Ross and family for the past three weeks, left for their home today. Mr. Smith represents the J. Rosenbaum Grain Co., who have extensive properties in Toyah Valley consisting of cattle and ranches.

Presiding Elder J. C. Jones, of the Roswell district of the M. E. church, was in Pecos Friday of last week and held the second quarterly conference for the local church. He also preached to an appreciative audience Friday evening.

Second Installment of Lambs to Market

J. W. B. Williams and Sol Mayer left for the Kansas City market the first of the week with a shipment of lambs which they have fed during the winter. They were accompanied on the trip by W. W. Stewart.

The offering in this shipment is expected to yield a better return than that derived from a shipment of nearly a month ago, when these gentlemen sold a string of lambs at a net profit of $5.00 per head. But they were more than satisfied with the results of their first sale, albeit now they could obtain a far better price for the output.
