MANUFACTURERS NOW USING APPLES TO THE LAST SEED

The thoroughness with which the apple is now worked over and utilized by some manufacturers makes it comparable with the packing-house pig that leaves only a futile squeal. The apple is not transformed into such a variety of products as the pig, but all are useful, and when the last of the series has been made hardly a smell is left.

SO THAT THE PUBLIC MAY KNOW THE FACTS

The public utility company of today takes the public into its confidence much more fully than in the past, so that the public may know what its profits and losses are. It also takes the public much more largely into its corporate membership, the stockholders in such corporations in the United States now running into the hundreds of thousands, thus distributing their ownership widely among all classes of people.

For these reasons the masses are coming to realize more clearly their own relation to such utilities, and the necessity that they shall receive fair treatment at the hands of the public. Their source of income is the money which they charge for the service rendered. If in a spirit of hostility they are subjected to unduly heavy taxes the only way to meet this added charge, granted they are managed with fair efficiency, is to increase their charges for service. If their charges are arbitrarily placed by law at too low a figure they can continue to live only by economies which necessarily impair quality of service.

Friction of this kind between the public and the utility inevitably works injury to both sides. The public does not get the kind of service it needs the company does not make a reasonable profit, and the steady enlargement of facilities called for by growing population does not come; because friction and lack of fair profits will not attract new capital into the enterprise. When for a time some great public utility is abruptly put out of commission we realize what a help it is, and what an undesirable inconvenience it is to be deprived of it. Service of this kind is a two-sided arrangement in which neither side can long profit by anything except friendly understanding, mutual confidence, and mutual fairness.—Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch.

HIS PASSING FANCY.

There was a man who fancied that, By driving good and fast, He'd get his car across the tracks Before the train came past; He'd miss the engine by an inch, And make the train hand sore, There was a man who fancied that— There isn't any more. —Carnegie Tech. Puppet.

THE COTTON OUTLOOK

In its issue of last Monday, the Wall Street Journal says: 'On Friday, June 9, October cotton ran up to 22.25 cents a pound. Fifteen cents is the lowest at which that future in this crop has sold; in April its lowest was 16.86, and by the first of June it had reached 19.95 cents. These increases mean nothing less than a belated realization that the supply of cotton this coming year will be small. The market may yet be called upon to see that a crisis in the raw material situation is in the making.

'There is nothing new in the situation. All the factors that combined to excite the market on Friday were visible months ago. They are only somewhat more developed now than then. At the time the market was starting at a huge surplus of old cotton there was an actual shortage of five years' production amounting to 15,000,000 bales as compared with the pre-war period. This represented a great vacuum in consumption which must be made up later. The world is now making up for lost time, and its consumption of cotton in the year ending with next month will almost reach the highest point of pre-war days. This means an increase of 2,000,000 bales in the year's consumption.

'What seemed like a mountain of old cotton a year ago is vanishing. All the cotton raised last year was used up two months ago, and the reserve is being cut into. By the end of July it should be down to 4,500,000 bales of American grown. World needs will call for 13,000,000 bales, besides a carryover larger than what will be on hand this year. The acreage of last year was 31,500,000. Estimates this year range from 2 to 8 per cent more. The largest estimate would mean 34,500,000 acres. In the five year ending with 1920 the average yield per acre was 163 pounds. An average yield on that acreage would not amount to a year's consumption.

'But can anyone hope for a yield to the average before the weevil covered the whole belt? Last year a combination of drouth and weevil reduced the yield to 124 pounds an acre. This year the weather has favored the pest from the start. The crop is late and the insects are increasing. But against all this, the yield must be better than average to produce enough to keep the mills of the world running until another crop is picked.

'These are the cold facts. It is better for the market to face them squarely now than to be surprised at possible developments later in the season.'

The Wall Street Journal is right in saying that "it is better for the market to face the facts squarely now than to be surprised at possible developments later in the season." It is going to be necessary for the world to pay a fair price for cotton during the coming season. And boll weevil or no boll weevil it was necessary that such a situation should be brought about in order to restore fully a safe basis for the production of cotton. There need be no fear that the world is going to be compelled to go naked because of a cotton famine. What the Wall Street Journal called a threatened "famine" earlier in the season is going to be merely a second crop below normal, and that is precisely what was needed to pull the South out of the situation it had been plunged into through the extreme depression in the cotton price. We shall be able to plan next Spring's planting on a safe and sound basis. The South has successfully met the situation which was created by the immense carryover of last year.—Star-Telegram.

HOMIE PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

'Every now and then we hark back to the old copy book and remember the lines on the top. Who forgets "Example is Better Than Precept" which means "Teach by doing things not by saying things?" Here's a whole bunch of us acting as wise as owls teaching the young what to do, telling them all sorts of things they don't believe because we don't carry 'em out ourselves. The reason we don't carry 'em out is because we have grown old and that is the greatest crime of all. Every man seems to wish he could start out in life with the knowledge and experience of middle age. Why not? We can't get the experience of age in child life but we can drag back the simplicity an' truth of child life in the middle age. Mohamet can always go to the mountain.

THE WILDCAT

Jack Tolman in Texas Star.

We had a "hunch" that oil was there
And so we hired a good "Rock-Hound"
Who said he thought "the prospect fair"
When he had viewed the country round.

We got the leases very cheap,
The terms were liberal as could be,
And then we let a contract—deep—
Which covered each contingency.

At least we thought it covered each
And everything which might occur—
Its twenty pages made a "peach"—
Though "lacking all interpreter."

At last the derrick stills were hauled,
And then it rained a solid week
And all the trucks and teams were stalled.

At crossing over Rocky Creek
You never heard about the strike
They pulled, up on the N. G. P.,
Because the "workers didn't like
To work from nine till half-past three."

But it delayed us for ten days
And then we found we'd only four
To get "rigged up" and lights a blaze
Beneath the "pot" and start to bore.

We used three shifts, eight hours each,
And worked each second-day and night—
With every aid of them and speech,
And "spudded in" by candle-light.

The lessons all were walking round
And betting that we'd not succeed
And they'd recover all their ground
And get a million for a deed.

We fooled them, though, and "turned the trick"
Before we started for "the hay,"
Though some were very nearly sick
And some slept for a night and day.

Thus having met our obligation,
We fired her up and "balled the Jack"
And "showed the hole" to "beat creation."

Without a thought of looking back
You never saw a drilling rig
That worked like ours forty days
And then we hit a boulder—big
And tough and angled twenty ways.

Of course we "jumped a collar" and
We promptly ran an overshot,
And pulled the bit up through the sand
Although we very near got caught.

We overhauled and straightened things
And started in to drill again;
But soon the engine broke its rings
Just as we had another rain.

Somehow the fuel oil gave out
About the time we "jumped" once more;
And we were stuck, beyond a doubt,
And everyone got mad and sore.

We fished with overshot and spear,
With taper-tap, slip-socket, hooks,
And special tools both new and queer,
And even some got out of books.

At last we "hooked her" good and tight
And "rigged nine lines" to make a pull—
The boiler blew up out of sight,
Although the water-glass was full.

Of course we knew we had a jinx;
So got another crew outright.
A driller who looked like a Sphinx
And dandy "roughnecks" strong and bright.

We tried to "side-track"—tried to "shoot"—
Tried every trick five long weeks more;
And then we skidded thirty foot
And once again began to bore.

For twenty days and twenty nights
There wasn't nary slip nor hitch,
And then a "twister" broke our lights
And piled the derrick in the ditch.

Nothing dismayed, we built anew
And tightened every screw and bolt,
And once again we got a crew
Who swore they'd stand for any jolt.

God bless their tough old leather hides!
They put her down and set the "eight"
Then took some nearby girls for rides
And didn't get to camp till late.

Drilling around three thousand feet
We had a first-class show of gas,
Then hit a rock! Joy was complete—
The great big strike would come to pass!

Five days, five nights, five feet were made
And then the drill dropped twenty feet—
We pulled and cored. She "showed a shade"
Of "color" when we gave her heat.

A screen was set; connections fine—
To choke her when she "blew" were set;
A bailer and a bailing line
Were all the things we had to get.

When we "test out" tomorrow morn,
Will she show B. S., salt, or oil?
We'll either wish we weren't born,
Or else to Paris hike to spill.

L'Enoy.

If you don't weaken, it's the life;
If you have nerves and thews of steel
And really care for woe and strife,
The "wildcat game" is quite ideal.

CAREFUL CROSSING CAMPAIGN NOW ON

Under the auspices of the American Railway Association, there was inaugurated on June 1st, and to be continued until September 30th, 1922, a "careful crossing campaign" its slogan being "cross crossings" cautiously. This has for its purpose the prevention of or reduction in the number of highway crossing accidents involving railroad trains, vehicles and pedestrians, throughout the country.

Co-operation in the plan has been assured by the United States Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the National Highway Traffic Association, National Safety Council and numerous other organizations.

Such a campaign is necessary and timely, as shown by the following facts: In thirty years our country's population increased 67 percent. Crossing accidents increased 345 percent in fatal and 652 percent in injury cases. In 1920 automobiles were involved in 76 percent of all crossing accidents. During that year 1,791 persons were killed and 5,077 injured. Of the latter number 116 died subsequently from injuries sustained at railroad crossings within the United States.

There are, two ways to reduce or entirely stop such accidents. The first in the public mind is, elimination of the crossings. This is impossible. There are 251,939 highway crossings on class 1 railroads alone (railroads with revenue of over $1,000,000 annually) in the United States. Of this number 399 were eliminated during 1919. At the same rate of elimination it will take 629 years to dispose of these crossings if no more are added. All the men and money available would not be sufficient to remove the crossings in a life time.

Conservative estimates of the average cost of elimination fixed the figure at approximately $50,000 per crossing. This means $13,000,000.

It is evident the immediate question must be met by a method other than the elimination of the crossings in good condition for travel; give reasonable notice of the existence of such crossings; and see to it that the railroad employees do their full duty in warning of the approach of trains.

The railroads have learned the value of organized effort for safety, through the reduction of deaths of employees on duty from 4,354 in 1907 to 2,573 in 1920, notwithstanding a larger force of employees in service during the latter year. Railroad employees as a whole have unquestionably attained a higher degree of care in performance of their duties.

As education in and discussion of safety matters are responsible for the gratifying results obtained in employ cases, it is logical to assume that education of the public to the exercise of a high degree of care when approaching and passing over railroad crossings, will likewise have a good effect in reducing crossing accidents.

While it is true the railroads have a direct interest in checking these oft-times most distressing accidents, yet in the first and last analysis, it is the public itself which suffers the pain, the mutilation, and the passing to the Great Beyond, in addition to bearing the financial burden.

The railroads feel warranted in expecting that right thinking people throughout land will lend their actual and moral support to this humane and laudable campaign.

We do the very best of Printing.

SEASONABLE STUFF

The season for vacations is upon us once again. The business, shot to pieces, has produced an extry strain. A feller's got to get away to rest awhile, you know, so the most important question is, where's he goin' to go? With Europe shot to pieces, an' her scenery gone to smash—besides, the rumpus didn't leave an overplus of cash. There ain't the old inducements for to breast the ocean's foam, an' it really ain't desirable to go so fud from home. The question grows perplexin' as they often will, ye know,—the hours keeps drawin' nigher, but—where are you goin' to go?

Well—there's the Rocky Mountains, fairy-ladders to the skies—or, the Northern Lakes, is callin' from a perfect Paradise. You can rest in Eden's Gyarden on our whole Atlantic coast—or journey to the Sunny South, the land I love the most. Go where the Old Pacific colls the Californy Belle—or, drift around the Yallerstone, where heaven flirts with hell. Yosemite, the fairyland, or Florida, the Queen—or up among the Catskills to a place you never seen. You can tackle Arizony where the Canyon splits the earth,—and none of 'em will cost ye more'n a tenth of what it's worth! Huh,—talk about vacations—it drives me to despair, when I think about the idiots that's allers askin' "Where?"

CHINA

Last two or three years, we've harbored grave feats—for China. In fact we shed tears till they filled up our ears,—for China. We mourned till we're sick, at "The Rape of Shantung" and howled in disgust that the rapers ain't hung, while political bally-hoos dolefully sung—of China.

I've figgered myself, that we ort to reform—old China. And I mighty nigh cussed, when the Jap took a swarm—to China. I pictured the Chink with a foot on his neck, while the ravisher gobbled his little brass check,—then I sent up a howl, to the echo, by heck,—fer Chinney!

Right now—when the mourners could bring her relief—old China—she ups an' declares she ain't got any grief—dear China! She's gentle, and stupid, and chronic, and stale—she don't mind the crupper that's under her tale,—And the tears we have shed, somehow didn't prevail—in China!

Two Paint Facts That You Should Know

WHEN you dip a brush into the average paint and spread it on a surface, you find it takes a lot of brushing to make it cover evenly. Also, that no matter how careful you are, it still shows the brush marks, or little ridges.

Between every one of those ridges is a thin streak. Therefore, the paint film is only as strong as those thin streaks.

Now, dip your brush into a can of Lowe Brothers High Standard Paint and spread it on the surface. You will be delighted to see how thoroughly it covers. Further, it will level up and dry with a smooth surface, without any ridges or thin streaks.

Doing that, you can easily see why High Standard costs less per job. It cuts down the cost of painting. And because it forms a uniformly thick film, it lasts longer, and looks better as long as it lasts.

Come in and ask for details and literature.

TIME TO BUILD YOUR HOME

If figures talk at all, they are now shouting to those who contemplate building homes to get busy and let their contracts. Moreover, they tell the same story in every state in the Union.

Great volumes of money have been released for building purposes, as forecast some months ago in this newspaper. The result is building activity is found in all sections of the United States.

The price of materials has taken a considerable tumble, and while wages remain high, nevertheless, the readjustment has been downward rather than upward.

Editor Hibdon of the Pecos Enterprise announces that he intends to stop work at least for a while—provided he can make disposition of all or a part interest in his printing business.

Good chance is right. According to this editor's way of thinking the one wish some money, a good supply of printing knowledge and energy can get the best deal in a good paying business in West Texas.

All very interesting, but perhaps the cause of the trouble may be found in those who conduct the colleges rather than in the young gentleman who attend them.

PUBLIC PAYS THE PRICE OF APATHY

The steel kings are cautious, businesslike, and deeply interested in psycho-analysis. They always study the mental reaction of the people.

coal strike the present is not a propitious moment to ask for more money. Eventually, of course, the coal strike will result in an advance in steel prices. That is a foregone conclusion. But a tilt in prices now would react unfavorably, and so the great captains of the industry grit their teeth and await "der tag."

GREAT SYSTEM OF HIGHWAYS PLANNED FOR UNITED STATES

A system of highways that will serve the whole country and will be far superior to any other in the world is being mapped out by Federal and State engineers. It is estimated that the system will comprise 180,000 miles of road.

Many States have already adjusted difficult problems with their neighbors. As an example the system sent in by Nebraska showed a big gap in an important road along the northern boundary.

Perhaps ill health and reverses and worries are responsible for the barber's and elevator man's state of mind, which looks past the beauties and sees the faults in everything, anticipating troubles that never come.

ANGEL WANTED THE MONEY

Certain it is that worries and troubles and ailments can not live and thrive in the same atmosphere with that floor clerk who sent me to my work with a song in my heart.

ANGEL WANTED THE MONEY

It may be pretty hard on the fellows who want to buy guns to shoot prairie dogs and rabbits, but it is splendid thing for the millionaire who makes the gun. The Senator has forgotten about that, and while he is traveling out to gather in the world market we will toil and sweat and work and labor and keep the wolf from his door.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared for The Enterprise By The First National Bank in St. Louis.

Current trade of the United States with South America is more uniform in distribution and shows a better undertone than for some time. Balance ever since the commencement of the present fiscal year has been favorable to South America.

In April, 1922, all the leading South America countries showed an export balance against the United States except Argentina and Uruguay. The adverse Argentine balance was not much more than $1,000,000; that of Uruguay, less than $400,000.

America has increased imports of South American unrefined copper from Peru, but has bought less than half the amount imported from other South American countries in 1921. Tonnage of chilean is much heavier than a year ago, that of cattle hides a little less. Receipts of Peruvian cotton are 40 per cent larger. Coffee imports are a fifth less. An important movement has developed in Argentine fur. Receipts of the more costly industrial metals are double those of a year ago.

Ten months' imports fell $216,000,000 or not much less than 50 per cent under a year ago. The decline is thus far greater in dollars than tonnage. Against this decrease American exports contracted $336,000,000 or 69 per cent. It was the severest of all declines except that in our much smaller trade with Oceania.

Compared with a year ago exports of condensed milk are one-half less; of leather manufactures 86 per cent less; of leaf tobacco 60 per cent less; aggregate of cotton goods approximately 10 per cent less. Coal exports to Argentina, Brazil and Chile do not run 25 per cent of last year's tonnage. There has been a less but substantial decline in mineral oil sales. Losses in exports of basic steel products run from a third to a half of the 1921 tonnage and to greater decreases in shipments of steel rails and barbed wire.

We believe in Tanlac and so will you if you try it.—Pecos Drug Co. (Advertisement)

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

On Monday the 19th instant the democratic executive committee met at the court house as per announcement in The Enterprise and went over the work there outlined.

Charles Tudor, chairman, was present and presided; Edgar Patterson of Balmorea, another member, was in attendance and E. B. Daniel of Toyah acted instead of the committeeman from that place who was absent—making a quorum. No endorsements were made and the pledges sent out by the state committee were rejected and on the statutory pledge—"I am a democrat and will support the nominees," etc., will be required of the voters in the primary election July 22.

The expense account was figured to be about $250 to $300 and state offices were assessed at $50 each while county officers were assessed at $25 each.

The name of candidates contesting in this election were drawn for places of the ticket.

There will be two voting places in Pecos, one at Toyah, one at Saragosa, one at Balmorea and one at Porterville.

The announcements appearing in the Enterprise were all drawn as they appear and only the name of Hamilton for justice of the peace.

ENGINE BREAKS DOWN BUT SERVICE REMAINS SAME

The crank shaft of the big Diesel engine at the plant of the Pecos Power & Ice Co. broke Wednesday and put that part of their machinery out of commission at least for the present. The managers at once secured a boiler from the old Zone well which has been installed and few of our people knew that anything out of the usual had occurred at the plant. The management states that this break will not interfere in the least with their efficient service or with the making of ice.

They report that they will be making distilled water or crystal ice in three days more, which later news will be received with pleasure by our people since the ice now in use is unfit to be used in the milk or tea.

EMPEROR OF JAPAN BUYS AMERICAN GAS HEATERS

A recent telegraphic order by the Emperor of Japan to an American manufacturer for two automatic gas water-heaters resulted in considerable editorial comment in the newspapers, among them the New York World, which has this:

"The emperor of Japan has cabled to Pittsburgh for a number of instantaneous water-heaters. No doubt by this time those handy little burners are already on their way to the Mikado's palace in Tokio. From the comfort-loving West to the luxury-loving East the little water-heaters must naturally follow in the wake of the American bath tub. That same bath tub, once an object of derision, then of envy, may be found almost anywhere on the face of the earth with or without plumbing. So if the culture of America has not yet made itself felt in the world, the comforts of America have. To show the world how to get water and heat, gas and electricity, by the turn of a screw or the push of a button is something. And after all, culture and the bath tub are not so far apart as might appear."

HOUSTON EDITOR LIKES ELECTRIC TRAFFIC SIGNAL

The mayor is receiving all kinds of letters complimenting him on the installation of the electric traffic signal. Motorists universally seem pleased with it. There is a reason that goes right to the human nature of all of us. It has gotten rid of the traffic officer who made a lot of gestures with his arms and moved his lips while we were trying to make a noisy motor get in action. We didn't know whether he was cursing us or whispering sweet love thoughts.

Of course, we know the little green and red lights are controlled by a policeman up in a tower. But he can't see us and we can't see him. Anyway, we are obeying the lights and not the cop, and the lights won't get mad. They won't bawl us out. They won't get red with us. The lights never talk back. We like the little lights and we are going to do our best to cheer them.—Houston Press.

SIX HUNDRED GALLONS OF LIQUOR HELD BY SHERIFF

The Dallas News contains the following interesting article: Over 600 gallons of corn and rye whisky, captured during raids, is being held at the county jail as evidence. Sheriff Hanson says the liquor will be poured in the gutter when it has been used as evidence at trials.

A large room full of stills and other paraphernalia captured by Deputy Sheriffs during raids is being guarded. It is the plan, at present, to break to pieces the stills and sell them as junk after the trials are held.

STORY HOUR PROGRAM FOR NEXT WEEK

The story hour programs for the children given every Wednesday at five o'clock at the school building are still attracting new children and new interest at each meeting.

Next week's program is as follows:

Intermediate, story by Mrs. W. N. Sutherland; Junior, story by Miss Poe; Primary, story by Miss Anna Boles; Kindergarten, stories by Mrs. J. M. Garner, Miss Viola Ward and Miss Carrie Glover.

Spanish American children, story by Mrs. John Hibdon.

These children are responding nicely in attendance and interest in their story hour programs. An interesting story that was enthusiastically received was told last week to them by Mrs. W. W. Dean.

NONE OF WIFE'S BUSINESS WHERE HUSBAND GOES

Los Angeles, June 17.—Friend Husband doesn't have to tell Wife where he's been when he comes home at 4 o'clock in the morning.

This momentous question was settled judicially, once and for all, in an opinion handed down recently by Superior Judge Edwin F. Hahn of Los Angeles, in the plea of Marjorie B. Reed for a divorce from George G. Reed. By implication, no more is Friend Husband obliged to cuckoo seven times when he "barefoot" into the house: just as the clock sounds his doom with four fearful strokes. He needs fear no more conjugal strife or curtain lectures. He need not waste a nickel calling up Wife about 6:30 in the evening to tell her that he won't be home to dinner, or until late because of "an important business conference."

That night of which Marjorie complained, "he stayed away without explaining to me"—why that night might have been spent in Los Angeles on business, Judge Hahn declared from the bench.

There's always a fly in the ointment, however. Judge Hahn denied complete emancipation, absolute "rights for men," when he said "a continuous course of this kind might be sufficient to constitute cruelty," and as usual, ground for a divorce.

In spite of Mrs. Reed's testimony that her spouse left her and her two children destitute on a ranch at Lancaster and went off "somewhere," she was denied the decree she sought.

FLIES A MENACE TO HEALTH

Flies are a menace to both comfort and health, and before they become numerous about the house and barn, every effort should be made to destroy their breeding places. Flies breed in filth, trash and garbage. For that reason special attention should be paid to the stables and feed lots. Do not let manure accumulate; keep the yards clean and the weeds in fence corners mowed. Destroy every breeding place that can be found and the work will be paid for in comfort and health insurance.

While fighting flies give some attention to low places. Destroy old cans and other receptacles that will collect standing water. Drain low places and sprinkle liberally with crude oil. By doing so you will rid yourself and family from the mosquito pest; which, while not as dangerous as the fly, does transmit the malaria germ, and in addition, creates more discomfort than any insect found in the southwest. Flies and mosquitoes are both enemies to man and livestock.—Farm & Ranch.

Wanted all the chickens and eggs I can get.—J. W. Moore. 44-4f.

CHURCH DETRACTORS

It is an easy matter to criticize. Any fool can find objections. Any idiot can strike a match, light a fire, which will consume a mansion. Many people were born in the objective case. They never escape their cradle. They spend their days kicking, objecting, and complaining. They are just common, offensive, ever-present, irradiated nuisances. They are constantly talking about the church, what she is doing, what she ought to do, what she is not doing. They work incessantly at the business of trying to detract from the church influence and power.

First—They say the church is declining. But they do not tell you that they are looking at a few fallen trees only and not at the whole forest. Of course, there are dead trees in the forest. Of course there are dwarf growths in the great garden of vegetation. They ought to be there. That is the place for them. There are objectionable, or bad people in the church who by their lives are misrepresenting the church and reflecting upon their own membership. But they are not the whole church. They are a very insignificant part of the church.

There are hypocrites in the church. There are hypocrites in every department of life. But there are fewer hypocrites in the church than in any other department of life. The word hypocrite means, playing a part. There are very few actors in the church. There are heretics in the church who have followed the rationalistic teachings of demon-directed German professors, and have strayed away from the spiritual doctrines of the infallible Word of God. They are very few in number, however, compared to the great body of Christians.

Second—They say the church is pauperized. But they do not tell you that those who have refused to support the church are among the rationalistic heretics. They are the real ones who have under rationalistic teachings become so materialistic that they would rob the church of her sacred vessels for their own banquet of selfishness and blasphemy. Such heretics are the real defrauders and detractors and exploiters of the church. The real saints of God are giving more money today than ever before in the history of the church. They are supporting the whole program of Christian evangelism.

Third—They say the church is not spiritual. But they do not tell you that the worldly and unrighteous in the church are the disciples of the rationalistic teachers of the infamous doctrines of the demon-created cults that are today thriving upon the credulous and the silly minded. Such are a disgrace to the church because they have given up the spiritual for the worldly, the selfish and the sordid things of life.

Fourth—They say the church is not paying her ministers. But they do not tell you that the only ones who are refusing to support the ministers are the hypocrites, the Bolsheviks, the Socialists, the heretics and the infamous Germanized rationalists who have crept into the church without the wedding garment. Such are the only ones who are refusing to support the Gospel, pay the ministers, or give him his due place. Such are the coldhearted, irreverent detractors and prevaricators of the church life, influence, and service. They are void of every sense of spiritual obligation. Such members are a curse to the church. But they are not the whole church. They are but an infinitesimal part.

The church and her spiritual members are better, stronger, more hopeful, more prosperous, and more generous today than ever before in the history of the world. Let the infamous church detractors take notice. Their doom is approaching.

HYPOCRISY ON THE HIGH SEAS

In the midst of the hubbub about liquor-selling upon ships owned and manned under Federal management two things stand out. One is that the legal department of the United States has given as its opinion that liquor-selling on a United States vessel on the high seas is illegal and in violation of the Constitution. The other is that the Shipping Board is selling liquor notwithstanding that opinion and notwithstanding the laws and the Constitution of the United States. The only decisions that have been brought to bear on the case have been in support of the opinion of a Democratic Department of Justice to such an extent that the present Attorney General has felt bound to uphold that opinion as his own.

But the legal phase of the question, and even the arrant contempt shown by the Shipping Board for the rulings of the Attorney General's corps, are as nothing compared to the moral issue involved. And this issue is infinitely larger than the personal morality involved in taking a drink or "leaving it alone." The issue involves the sincerity and integrity of the Government of the United States with regard to its own laws. It is difficult to conceive a standard of hypocrisy which could compare with that involved in a continuation of the present situation. Indeed, the only step beyond it is one which has actually been proposed, namely, that of forbidding any foreign ship to come into an American port with liquor aboard, while at the same time permitting American ships to be floating palaces of Buechus, once they are beyond the three-mile zone. Under this scheme the only ships which could bring liquor into our ports would be the vessels of the only great Nation on earth which has solemnly outlawed alcoholic beverages.

How can we expect the bootlegger and the rum-runner to respect the authority of the Government when the Government is bootlegging in violation of the policy adopted by its constitutional method laid down for the expression of the deliberate will of the people? If the Government itself makes a jest of its own edicts, who shall take its laws in earnest? Can we with one Treasury and one tax-gathering power at the same time endow law on the land and lawlessness on the sea? Or is the Constitution, as Mr. Lasker seems to assume, to be obeyed only where it is not unprofitable in dollars and cents to do so? These are some of the questions that have set responsible persons at Washington to running around in circles over this matter, we are told. And yet a child could answer them all.—Dallas News.

"—!!—!!—!!"—Clergyman

Clergyman—"Not and stay in the ministry."—Motor Life.

INTERESTING ITEMS IN PECOS COUNTY OIL DEVELOPMENT

Though to the casual observer there is very little interest being manifested in the development of oil in Pecos county at this time, there is still definite signs of "pulse beats." Lease brokers state that there have been inquiries for considerable tracts of large acreage during the past few days and they feel that there is evidently some hope that drilling will be revived to something like its former activity.

W. B. Troy returned to Fort Stockton the latter part of last week, and immediately upon his arrival put his crew to work giving his rig on section 20, block 140, T. & St. L. railway survey, a thorough overhauling. This work was completed Wednesday morning and drilling again resumed. Mr. Troy states that in his opinion it will be useless to endeavor to cut off the heavy flow of water encountered just before he suspended operations, until they are sure that the last of this stratum has been passed. This flow will retard drilling but very little and in that it will carry out all cuttings and render bailing the well unnecessary, it will save some time.

Reports were current on the streets Wednesday that T. W. Greer had finally made arrangements to clear up some difficulties he had encountered in his operations, and that it is probable that he will return to Fort Stockton in the near future and again resume drilling.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

WHY

HOME TRADE FALLS OFF

It Always Slumps When Business Is Unbusinesslike

Most business men have this failing—they are swept off their feet when business booms.

We hit prosperity. Then starts the trouble. Everybody buys everything in sight and the merchants are caught in their own trap. They start advertising to beat the band. A riot of selling follows, the merchants OVER ADVERTISE and OVERSELL THE MARKET. Demand for goods keeps up and then comes the trip to the bank to borrow—for expansion. Then What? shortage and rising prices—a riot of buying before prices tilt to the top and a wild spree of advertising to keep the game going.

Suddenly there comes a halt. Buying slows up, and timid unbusinesslike merchants curtail advertising and the buying halt continues. Then advertising is stopped and business becomes stagnant.

When trade needs no stimulus the merchants buy space like drunken sailors, but when trade needs a strong push, they contract.

If business spent one-third the money in advertising when trade is booming, and three times the money when trade is poor, business would find stability.

Now is the Time to Advertise Extensively

Don't throw chips on a blazing fire. The wood is needed when the fire is low. Advertising now means a real service to the buying public. The people want to know where and what they can buy economically.

Merchants Get Busy.

WILL STUDY EUROPE'S TRADE CONDITIONS

Col. Michael Friedsam, head of E. Altman & Co., New York, was selected by President Harding to investigate the trade condition of Europe. Colonel Friedsam, when head of the Fair Price Commission, was once asked how the people might know when they were getting fair prices, and instantly replied, "Read advertising."

NOT A POSITION FOR EVERY MAN OR WOMAN BUT A REAL MAN OR WOMAN FOR EVERY POSITION IS WHAT THE WORLD IS DEMANDING TODAY

Whether times are good or bad, qualified, determined young men and women succeed. As evidence of that fact, Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, in spite of the recent depression is placing its graduates with the best Banks, Wholesale Houses, Manufacturers, Law firms, Lumber offices, Oil Supply Houses, Automobile concerns and many other lines of business in practically every Southern State. A practical Business Training that carries with it prestige and influence will secure for you a good position within a few months. One year ago, pessimism was paralyzing the country. Today enthusiasm is inspiring it. Trained men and women win in business, and it will not take you long to train if you attend the right school.

The Tyler Commercial College offers you an opportunity that no other business college in this section can offer. We teach the famous Byrnes Simplified Shorthand, the most modern and practical system in use today. It is so simple that one can become a better stenographer with it than with any other system, in just half the time and at half the cost. The merit of this system is largely responsible for the fact that this institution is the largest business training institution in America.

Would you eat with a wooden spoon? Then, why study the old, didn't take them long to train, did it. Every ambitious young person should be optimistic and begin training for a real position.

Isn't it always the trained men and women that win? It is so in every walk of life. Trained men and women won the war and it long tiresome systems of shorthand that require the learning of hundreds of rules, exceptions, word-signs, etc., and from three to four months hard study on the text-book alone, when you can master the principles of the Byrnes Simplified in one week, then have nothing but practice for speed.

We give you anything you want in any department of commercial training and save you much time and money. Most Thorough, Complete and Practical courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Cotton Classing, Telegraphy and Business Administration and Finance to be had.

CALOMEL USERS TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Tracherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation.

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Arthur Hayes and children are spending this week in Barstow visiting relatives.

M. M. Leeman and family left Thursday for the ranch where they will spend a goodly portion of the summer.

Mrs. O. T. Norwood and two children spent the day Wednesday and Wednesday night in Barstow as guests of Mrs. Gene Sweatt.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Slack are rejoicing over the arrival at their home on June 14th of a 7 1/2 pound daughter. All are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. David Tudor left last week for a visit to Mrs. Tudor's parents, and other relatives at Dublin.

Miss Hazel Berry came down from El Paso Sunday for a visit of a few weeks to her cousin, Mrs. M. W. Collie and family.

Miss Jessye Heard and Miss Myrtle Rhulen returned home Friday from Denton where they were in school at C. I. A.

Miss Ella Cummings, sister of Mrs. H. N. Lusk, and Mrs. Whitaker, both of Oklahoma City, arrived Sunday for a visit to Dr. and Mrs. Lusk.

Pot Wadley was in town today on business. Pot is one of our prominent ranchmen and has hit it hard during the drought but is of the kind that never quits.

Mrs. C. J. Magee came in the early part of the week from Chicago, where she has been teaching, for a visit during the summer to her husband and our good dentist, Dr. C. J. Magee.

The Pecos White Six played Alpine Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and came home in defeat not winning one game. This is the first time they failed to come home with some trophies.

Tommy Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, who has attended school the past year in Dallas, is now on an outing with his grandfather, in the Ozark Mountains. In July he will be in a military training camp in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wendt are the happy parents of an eight pound daughter, born to them on June the 14th, and now John appears to be as happy as the fond parents, and is glad of the fact that he is "grandpa."

The greater part of the male population of Pecos has been in Barstow this week attending the trial of the Meadows murder case. It is a serious case and is attracting many people who are interested owing to the awfulness of the crime.

A letter from Mrs. Sid Kyle is to the effect that Sid is now in a sanitarium at Pasadena, California, under changed treatment and is showing marked improvement. All of which will be received by the many Reeves county friends of the family with pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Browning, Jr., and little daughter, Mildred, returned Tuesday from Lampasas, where they had been for a visit to Mr. Browning's parents. Mr. Browning came that way after attending a meeting of the State Bankers at Waco.

Evy Boles was in town the fore-part of the week buying supplies and looking after the interests of his friends. Evy is a good fellow and one who is becoming convinced that goats and sheep will pay better returns in this country than cattle and intends to eventually turn his fortune in that direction.

Mrs. E. F. Wells and Mrs. Harry MacTier, Jr., and baby son, Frank Wells MacTier, of Toyah who have been in Pecos for the past six weeks where the baby has been under treatment left Thursday, Mrs. Wells returning to her home at Toyah, Mrs. MacTier and baby going on to El Paso in company with her sister, Mrs. Harry Arant, who had been their guest a few days.

Ernest Goeth, traveling for the Palmer Paper Co., was a visitor in Pecos Wednesday and took an order from the Enterprise for something like $200 worth of stationery. Among this lot will be something new in the line of birth announcements to which the attention of the public is invited. The Enterprise keeps always on hand a good stock of all staples and many lines of the newest novels in the stationery and printing line. If in need of printing—any kind so it is printing—call on the Enterprise.

Judge J. A. Buck who now lives in Santa Ana, California, writes the Enterprise editor that he will leave about the first of July for Canada, via San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and back by Yellowstone Park and probably will be gone about two months. "You will please, therefore, until further notice, cease to send the Enterprise. Let all issues come that will reach me not later than July 1st." It is presumed that he will take along the wife and boys since they will not be there to read the paper and his, or their, many Pecos friends hope they will have a most delightful trip as they undoubtedly will.

Last week Lee Ligon recovered a fine horse due to Enterprise advertising. A two-it ad in the Enterprise want column did the work.

Roger Sullivan and Miss Maggie Mitchell were united in the bonds of Holy wedlock on Wednesday of this week by Rev. J. M. Garner at the parsonage. The happy couple left that day for Santa Rita, N. M., where the groom has employment.

W. C. Edmondson, who conducts one of the local meat markets of Pecos, left this week for Metz, Missouri, for a visit to his father and other relatives in that city. He states that he will be gone probably a month.

R. S. Johnson of the Orient Hotel has just had the old porch torn away from the front of his hotel and a new one put up the full length of the front. This will add greatly to the looks as well as the comforts of the guests.

Rev. S. E. Wilson came in the early part of the week from Oklahoma where he has been on the road selling oils and will be at home for a few days. He states that the country is probably a little better than this but it is nothing to brag about at that.

Judge J. F. Meier of Balmorhea, and justice of the peace in that precinct for years, was a Pecos visitor this week and in attendance upon the meeting of the democratic executive committee. The Judge is one of the old citizens of that portion of the county and one of its most substantial and respected citizens. While here he called at the Enterprise office and set his subscription dates up two years.

There will be a Rally Meeting of the Pecos Valley Association of the Baptist church at Fort Stockton today, Saturday and Sunday. It is expected to be a big affair and will be attended by members of that church from all over the Association district. Those of Pecos who left this morning for the meeting are: Rev. and Mrs. Garner and children, Mesdames G. C. Parker, E. L. Collings, and Gid Rowden. There will probably be others in attendance from Pecos whose names the Enterprise could not get.

It is said that not in a long time has Barstow had, as many visitors as this week. They are there from all along down the line and nearly all of the population of Andrews county are there in attendance upon the Meadows' trial. Many of them brought their bedding and are camping, or are prepared to camp in case it was found necessary. At any rate they were determined that nothing should deter them from remaining and attending the trial, which is one of the most horrifying cases to be heard in this section of the state. It is attracting widespread attention. Secretary Sutherland is over there reporting the trial to the daily press of the state.

THE CHURCHES

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Last Sunday there were 166 at Sunday School, about 35 at League, a meeting of the Junior Missionary Society, and pretty nearly a full house at both morning and evening preaching.

In the morning there was one profession of saving faith and two united with the church. In the afternoon at Quarterly Conference one young man was recommended for license to preach. At the evening service, preaching by Rev. J. C. Jones, presiding elder, there was a fine spirit manifest and real interest shown in the coming protracted meeting and its aim, and the good attendance and interest remind me to say that there is no need for any great decline of church activity through the summer months. What was done last Sunday can be more than duplicated almost any Sunday. Other activities do not very materially decline, and church activity has declined during vacation times for only the last six or seven years according to date at my command. On the other hand there is every reason for us to bestir ourselves as never before:

First—We have our own plus the work of any who may have left town for the summer.

Second—The souls of men are as precious as ever, and the enemy even more active than at many times in the past.

Next Sunday morning I shall use a bomb from the battle front of God's fight for Israel. Read Isaiah, chapter 1, verses 1-20. At the 8:30 p. m. hour I wish to preach on the great gospel theme, "Saved By Jesus Christ."

I believe that Christianity is the only satisfying prospect for the whole world, Pecos included, and that as in the past God has mightily wrought when He has had man's faith and faithfulness co-operatively so now we shall see the salvation of men from the mad rush of lust and greed if we but get right with God.

L. L. THURSTON, Pastor.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

There will be all regular services at the Baptist church Sunday. We had a good crowd and an interesting service last Sunday, and want to make it even better on the 25th. The Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. are holding up well for summer. Come and help.

The pastor will be in Fort Stockton Friday and a part of Saturday attending a rally meeting, but will be in his pulpit Sunday.

The public is invited to attend any and all of the sermons.

J. M. GARNER, Pastor.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

There will be service at the First Presbyterian church next Sunday, June 25, both morning and evening. Sunday School at 9:45. Morning service at 11:00. Subject "Sacrifice." Evening service at 8:30. Subject "The Christian Duty." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

WILL MAKE SWIMMING POOL AND PICNIC GROUNDS

County Clerk S. C. Vaughan this week closed a deal whereby he becomes owner of the Mitchell place north-west of town two or three miles. This is one of the best known places in the county, having been used as a picnic grounds since the town was in its swaddling clothes. There are springs and flowing artesian wells and the finest lot of beautiful shade trees which make it an ideal camping and picnic ground. Sully proposes to make this his home at some future date and will at once begin some improvement in the way of clearing the ground. Later on he will make a large swimming pool which will surpass anything in this section of the county and add many other attractions which will make that a popular resort.

Sully is getting old, he says, now past fifty which is young for many of us older guys, but old for him and he is beginning to think of declining years and will make this a place where he can live in comfort and make a living as well when he is too old to do hard labor. Sully has proved that he knows how to improve a place by the way he has improved his present home which is not only one of the most comfortable and conveniently arranged in town, but is equipped with all the conveniences of a modern home, including his own light plant.

How about your eyes? If they are not right see Monroe Slack and have him fit you a pair of glasses. The machines in use tell the whole story without having to ask a lot of questions, therefore children can be fitted just as accurately as the grown-ups.

WILL ALWAYS CALL PECOS HOME SAYS VETERAN LADY

There are few, if any, women who visit Pecos mere beloved or more deserving of being beloved than Mrs. J. F. Christian who has been here for some weeks visiting Pecos friends. There is probably not a home in Pecos where she is not welcome and few, very few, where the occupants do not deem it a privilege to entertain her. Mrs. Christian spent twenty-three years in Pecos and during all that time was active in church work and at all times made herself agreeable and obliging. For forty-eight years she has been a member of the church and for forty-eight years she has grown in grace and while the face shows wrinkles it shows the power of the gospel in reducing those wrinkles to a lovable, sweet face which shows culture and refinement and that of love and peace. Mrs. Christian was born in Arkansas and left that state with her parents at the age of thirteen years, and from that date she lived in Palo Pinto, Jack and Parker counties, moving from Mineral Wells to Pecos, where she and her husband both endeared themselves to our people by their upright, christian lives as few people do. Mr. Christian passed away seven years ago last March and since that time Mrs. Christian has lived mostly with a daughter in El Paso. She is now feeble in body but strong in the faith and love for her God and her friends. She says she will always look upon Pecos as her home and when the end comes expects to be planted in the Pecos cemetery. She has retained her membership in the Pecos Methodist church and says she will do so as long as she lives or "until they turn me out."

MARRIED JUNE 7TH

Wednesday afternoon, June 7th, Mr. William D. Glenn, a young business man of Buenavista, and Mrs. Zama Tatum, of Imperial, were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage, Rev. Reuben Smith officiating.

The contracting parties will make their home at Buenavista.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

SIDE THOUGHTS

"One sinner destroyeth much good."—Not because he wilfully plans to do it, but because his influence so results whether he so chooses or not. It is just the old rule of cause and effect or of seed and fruit.

What a terrible harvest some of us must reap in the hereafter. Will there be a host pointing fingers of despair in our faces and hissing curses upon us for leading them to the gates of hell?

The folly of the ostrich in thrusting its head into the sand and presuming that its whole body is thus hidden from its pursuers is not greater than man's refusal to weigh the consequences of his actions because the consequences are deferred for a season.

If some of us were fortunate enough to get to Heaven, we would have a hard time explaining why we did not attend prayer meeting.

EARL COLLINGS WINS MONEY

In the contest for a name for the barber shop recently purchased from Mr. Chris Ritz and for years known as Ritz Barber Shop, Earl Collings won the money by the suggestion of the most suitable name adjudged by the committee.

In the future it will be known as Brocat Barber Shop. And according to Brocat's statement to the Enterprise practically all the votes cast were clipped from the Enterprise. If you want results and want the public to see your ads use Enterprise space.

THERE is no reason why you should endure a single corset discomfort. We promise you comfort such as you never knew before if you will permit us to fit you with a Gossard Front Lacing Corset. Gossards are moderately priced, launder faultlessly and wear much longer.

The 5 Corset Worries

- 1—Too high in the bust—pushes figure up.
- 2—Too long in the skirt—cuts into limbs.
- 3—Too tight above waistline—shows ridge under shoulders.
- 4—Too loose through hips—rides up never in place.
- 5—Too cheap—bones break, steel bends.
