KLUXERS SENTENCED TO PEN

Oklahoma has succeeded in being the first state to secure convictions carrying penitentiary sentences for Ku Klux floggings. Three men entered pleas of guilty at Tulsa last week for participation in flogging an old man and drew two years each in the penitentiary.

The entire country is suffering from disturbances occasioned by the operations of this most illogical organization—the north, south, east and west each has its local problem. Women have been flogged, men have been beaten and tarred, friendships of a lifetime have been broken and worse than all, in many places peace officers, courts, and grand juries have become tools of the "invisible empire."

We fully agree with the sentiments expressed by state and defense counsel in the Tulsa-Broken Arrow cases, that the three men who have drawn penitentiary sentences are dupes of men higher up while those responsible for the disorders go free. We reproduce herewith their pleas to the court for the minimum penalties for the three men:

Immediately after the three prisoners had stood up and entered pleas of guilty to the charge of rioting their attorney began his plea for judicial clemency.

His clients, he declared, were not half as guilty of flagrantly violating the law as the officials of the Ku Klux Klan, who he charged inveigled unsuspecting young men into their order, take their money, and then help them paralyze law enforcement.

He was followed by Assistant Attorney General King, who explained that as the prisoners had voluntarily confessed their membership in the Ku Klux Klan and their connection with the flogging of Wagner he wished to recommend that they be given the minimum sentence.

"I deplore the situation that brought this about; it is not these men who are responsible for this state of affairs—they were misled and beguiled into an insidious order that has sought to and has now covered the country, disseminating hatred and teaching the men to use the lash. They are hard working men; they make no money out of this order which has paralyzed the arm of the law in many of the courts of our country," declared Attorney Crossland.

"It is a sad spectacle to see these three young men who have pleaded guilty to an information charging them with riot," he said. "They stated that prior to the time this act was committed (the flogging of Ben Wagner) they had joined what is known as the Ku Klux Klan, or the invisible empire.

"They said that on the evening this old man was whipped one of the party told them Wagner mistreated his family and another said he tore up a Bible and that they were going to whip him.

"One of the defendants, and possibly two, could not bear to view the spectacle while the lash was being applied. Another could not bear to see the whipping done so he turned away and escaped.

"They went into the Ku Klux Klan without knowledge of what they were doing. I want to ask you to give these men the lowest penalty possible under the statute, because it is not right that they, being the dupes, should have to suffer for these things when they are taught by men of intelligence who ought to know better."

CALOMEL GOOD BUT TREACHEROUS

Next Dose may Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugstore and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

A TONIC

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is simply Iron and Quinine suspended in syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs QUININE to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. Destroys Malarial germs and Grip germs by its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect. 60c.

INSECT CONTROL BY FALL AND WINTER MEASURES

Did the cutworms get your early cotton? Did the webworm take the cotton leaves in the spring?

Did the weevil get some of the squares? Did the boll worm bore through and destroy the bolls?

Did other insects attack your cotton and other crops?

What was the part worth that they destroyed?

What did you spend in poison and other methods of control?

What are you going to do about it next year?

Did you know that the insects named above, and many others, can be controlled in the fall and winter in large measure, and the chances of a crop the next season increased, just by plowing and harrowing, measures that add little to the expense of making a crop?

Ask your county agent about these things, or write the Extension Service Entomologist.

Watch future issues of the Extension Service Farm News for other information about these pests and their control by fall and winter measures.

A state-wide clean up move will start soon; get ready, and when the word comes to go, why, let's go!

NEVER NOTICED BEFORE

Judge: "Aren't you ashamed to be seen in this court room—a man of your seeming ability to appreciate the better things?"

Prisoner: "Now that you ask me, judge, I believe this blooming place does need a little paint and fixing up."

Man: "What kind of eyes do you like in a man? Do you like brown, blue, black or gray eyes?"

Said: "I don't care what color eyes they have—so long as they have 'greenbacks.'"

COTTON PICKERS

Information comes to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce that Mr. C. W. Woodman, Superintendent of the United States Farm Labor Bureau, with headquarters in Fort Worth, feels sure there will be 2500 to 3000 cotton pickers, now working within a radius of 125 miles of Fort Worth, who will be available for West Texas within two or three weeks.

Further information is given that fully 1500 more will be available for this same section within three to four weeks.

Mr. Woodman is anxious to have information from West Texas as to what price per 100 pounds will be paid cotton pickers, whether transportation would be advanced, approximately how many families will be needed, and also arrangements to take care of as many single hands as possible. Other information will be helpful as to whether single hands or families are desired and provisions for taking care of either class.

Mr. Woodman has asked the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to furnish this information as speedily as possible and interested parties are therefore requested to communicate directly with Mr. Woodman's office in the chamber of commerce building, Fort Worth, Texas.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known in the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—Adv.

SLIGHT COLLISION

H. C. Bryan, grower of the famous Pecos Valley cantaloupes, and Will Hudson, of the Pecos Drug Company force, had a slight collision Saturday,—in fact, Mr. Hudson's car was badly torn from the accident.

Mr. Bryan was driving west from the Orient Hotel, and Mr. Hudson was heading toward the depot intending to make the turn at the end of the street, and both cars reached the post at about the same time.

The cars locked hubs, forcing the Hudson car into the curb, bending the radius rods, one fender, and ruining a tire. The Bryan car was not injured.

"Gold! Gold!"

Back in the '40's it took months for the thrilling news of California's gold strike to cross the continent. Today, a few hours after so important a discovery, the entire story would be known to newspaper readers through the country.

In the early days, news spread by word of mouth. Today, the telegraph and telephone speed the message in to the newspaper office, it is rushed into type, the paper is printed and shortly the news becomes public property.

There are two kinds of news in the paper. One consists of the affairs of other people; their saving, doing and what they're going to do; things that have happened, may happen and didn't happen.

The other kind of news is about your affairs. That's the part you'll find in the advertisements. There's a lot of valuable news there about things you want or will want; things that have to do with your own personal comfort, convenience and every-day efficiency.

Every advertisement carries a personal message to some one. Many advertisements carry messages of vital interest or value to you.

That's why you can't afford to miss the advertisements.

Read them. The advertisements are decidedly valuable to you.

The Community That is Eager to be Better is Destined to be Bigger

Path to Public Good Will

Progressive American railroads have come to realize that the best way to cultivate the good will of the public and to take insurance against misunderstanding of railroad problems is to talk directly to the public through the advertising columns of the press and especially through the weekly newspapers, which directly reach travellers and shippers along the railroad line.

They have come to sense the fact that statements made in authoritatively signed advertising must be truthful, because the public can so easily check up anything that may be misleading. Following the progressive lead of the Long Island Railroad, this policy has now been adopted by the largest railroad system in the south, the Southern Railway System.

"The Southern serves the south" is the well-known slogan of this great railroad, with 8,300 miles of lines extending into every southern state. The Southern recognizes that its own prosperity is inseparably bound up with that of the south, and its published announcements in the advertising columns of the newspapers, it is expected, will bring the Southern and the communities it serves closely together.

Unquestionably, other systems should follow this general plan of talking frankly to the public, though there are evidences that some roads still cling to the hope of putting special messages across by means of free publicity. As a fact, there is nothing so beneficial, nothing so honest, as frankly signed, paid advertising, when the good will of the public is sought.

The Long Island and the Southern are to be congratulated for their forward vision.

$1,000,000 A Week for Chewing Gum

The people of the United States spend upwards of one million dollars a week for their chewing gum, and the habit is still growing.

The value of the product turned out of the factories of America is a little more than double that of the pre-war year 1914, which was the first year the Government condescended to notice the chewing gum industry.

The girls of this and other towns, when they sat in the movies and chewed their gum while their favorite star made love in alluring twilight, little dreamed the effect they were having on the prosperity of their country. Dignified England laughed at her, and her "deplorable chewing habit," but while the sedate Briton was consciously in the mood of depression he was unconsciously falling by the wayside. The year 1920 saw the British flapper, really the original of the species, consuming American gum to the tune of $1,120,000 wholesale value. And so the story runs. France in the same year took $383,000 worth, and other European countries consumed proportionate quantities. Only the consumption of Germany was small, the total figure being $260. The amount of the capital invested shows beyond doubt that the habit has come to stay. Perhaps no industry has shown a more remarkable growth. Certainly no industry presents a more potent argument to prove the telling effect of advertising.

RICHARD LLOYD JONES SAYS

Hike and Learn

No man can KNOW the earth who has not walked upon it. The boy who drove a tow-mule along the Erie Canal knew New York as no boy can who today rides from Albany to Buffalo on the Empire State Express.

Indians reckoned time by nights (as we do by days), a place was so many nights away. The night measured their march.

Walk from night to night across the plains and lay your day's experience upon the map of Africa and you will just begin to sense the lonely vastness of the Sahara's sands.

Life's goldconda is found by tired feet. Get next to earth if you would know it. The youth who is carried reaches manhood handicapped. He has to learn how to march while the battle of life is on.

Ruskin said that the children of the rich often get the worst education of protection, whereas the poor often get the best education for nothing, because they get into the common school of hard knocks.

A tired leg makes the whole world real. It will make a sunset glorious. It is a kind school that sets a boy down in the middle of a wild wood and tells him to walk out.

Privately we commend the Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls. Many parents who approve of the "hike" would be the first to protest against its adoption as part of the school curriculum.

Privately conducted they call the "hike" wholesome and a helpful recreation. Publicly conducted they would call it imposition and unwarranted hardship.

Our private impulses are generally right. Our greatest difficulty is that we have not yet learned to do our best things together.

The campfire warms the hearts and enriches the memories of comrades as no well-regulated steam radiator will ever do.

YOUR BELIEF

You are constantly confronted with the question, What is the matter with political parties, churches and individuals?

It matters little how many answers you give to the question, you will be compelled to recognize this fundamental answer, namely: The serious defect today is the lack of a deep, abiding, controlling, dynamic belief, "as a man thinks, as a man believes, so is he."

You haven't any political parties today, because the only politics we have in America is the politics of the "ins" and the politics of the "outs."

Where is the man who believes more in the constitution than he believes in anything else? Where is the man who will fight and die to establish the principle of representative government?

The same is true with the average church. Men ought to be willing to fight for their creed, fight for their belief, teach and practice their doctrines of orthodoxy and of personal righteousness.

The same defect is manifested in the individual.

Why are so many young men drifting? Because they are not anchored to a belief. No man has ever risen to power and position who hated dogma, who spurned doctrine, or who disbelieved. There is no permanency nor power in unbelief; there is no greatness, or prestige, or influence in disbelief.

America needs men who believe in something, who will never yield to expediency, who will never surrender to compromise, and who will never fall a victim to the blandishing smiles of Mr. Adjustment.

Things are right or wrong. They cannot be both. No one will ever amount to the snap of a finger until their life is controlled by a great belief. The greatest of all is belief in God, belief in Christ, belief in the Holy Ghost, belief in the infallible Bible. Let these four great beliefs constitute your creed. You will become impregnable.

Etiquette

What & When to do it

By A. Leda

Any questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to A. Leda, care of this newspaper.

Some readers from Genevieve, Mont., have written me a letter asking for the answers to certain questions. Therefore I shall devote this article to their interests, and it may interest others also.

Dear A. Leda:— "What is the proper way to refuse a man a dance when you have not yet the next taken and do not wish to be rude?" Simply say this, "Thank you, but I do not think I'll dance this number. I feel a bit tired." That is all that is necessary.

Dear A. Leda:— "What is the correct way to entertain a young man when he makes an afternoon call? This all depends on the ability of the hostess. You have often heard the phrase, "over the tea-cups." Well that means five o'clock tea. When that hour arrives, serve your friend with some light drink such as tea or lemonade. A few small cakes or crackers should go with the drink. This gives a delightful chance to talk and get acquainted, but if this becomes tiresome, try a little card game that both know. If your caller prefers to go out, have a croquet game, tennis, or take a long country walk. Afterwards bring him in to have a "little tea." A very pleasant afternoon may be passed this way.

Dear A. Leda:— "Should one unfold their napkin immediately they are seated at a table, or wait until served?" A guest may put their napkin in their lap as soon as the hostess has taken hers from the table. This is usually immediately. The "unfolding" consists in opening the napkin just once and laying lengthwise across the lap. Never unfold a napkin entirely.

Dear A. Leda:— "If you are a guest at dinner and spill your glass of water, what should be done or said?" An apology to the hostess is all required. "I am very sorry to have been so very clumsy," or words to that effect is sufficient. If there is no maid, take your partly folded napkin, lay across the wet spot and leave it there. If there is a maid, let her attend to it.

THE WORLD'S BEST SALESMAN

The Home Town newspaper as we know it in North America is the world's greatest salesman.

Every day, everywhere, it is carrying the great message of commerce, bringing buyer and seller into profitable contact.

The sales it makes per year total in the billions.

Its customers are in every home, every office, every farm.

Its cost per sale is less than any other salesman, for not only is it the world's greatest salesman in VOLUME but also in EFFICIENCY.

The biggest problem in merchandising today is high selling costs. Newspaper advertising, sent on the job of looking for sales where buying habits offer profitable opportunities, is the surest means of keeping down this vexatious item.

Merchants of Pecos, we are offering you the services of the World's Greatest Salesman every week in the year.

The Pecos ENTERPRISE IS A GOOD PAPER

Poem by Uncle John

Some folks may think a bride in June is sweeter'n any other bride—while others claim the harvest moon hold virtues not to be denied. . . . Still others, that become engaged from courtship in the reg'lar way, would like to have their waddin' staged along about Thanksgivin' Day! If nuptials on an April morn endows the bride with smiles an' tears, December's bride might dwell forlorn—with frosted heart, for fifty years. . . . And so—with every mouth—we hear some hoodoo in its call or threat—and that's the reason now—I fear—that some of us ain't married yet! Facts is, there ain't no certain law that governs Cupid in his game; most married folks that I have saw, were tied up, pretty much the same way. . . . And, while the scientific mind explores the matrimonial pulse, we mighty nearly always find that dates don't figger in results. If fellers fail to grab their peach till July, . . . There's bliss enough in married life fer lads and lassies, one and all—and, even a plain or common wife is better'n havin' none at all. . . .

ANNOUNCEMENT

To our patrons and the public:

In view of the fact that the welfare of Pecos and her people was, and is, our first consideration, we believe it our duty, as well as our privilege, to discontinue our picture show during the union revival meeting, now being conducted at the Methodist church by our local ministers, assisted by Rev. Hollifield.

Beginning on the night immediately following the close of these meetings, we will continue our free entertainment, consisting of motion pictures and music. We have made arrangements for an educational picture each Friday night, and will do our best to furnish a class of entertainment on that occasion which will be especially beneficial and entertaining to the school children.

To all school children let us suggest that you devote all the time necessary to master your studies before giving the Free Picture Show or any other amusement any consideration whatever. Make the most of this school year. Show your parents and teachers how you appreciate their sacrifice and effort on your behalf by being diligent to the work you have undertaken. Personally I do not want or expect your patronage at our show when it interferes with your school work. At all other times you will be most welcome.

FREE PICTURE SHOW,
J. W. May, Manager.

THE CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Church of Christ meet every Lord's Day at eleven o'clock, Barstow, Texas.

BAPTIST CHURCH
We are looking forward to a good day Sunday. The folks are about all in from the ranches and are ready for some real work in church life. Miss Levensusky, our state elementary worker in Sunday school training, will be with us and will conduct a training school next week. We hope to have a large school. We know it will be a good one, for Miss Levensusky is an expert in her line. She will be assisted by the pastor who will teach a class in "The Seven Laws of Teaching." Let all who are interested in this work please report to the pastor as soon as possible.

We hope to make Sunday a record breaker in Sunday school attendance. Don't fail us. We have a class for every one and you will be at home with us. The B. Y. P. U.'s should have a good attendance also.

Permit me to say that the training school will in no way interfere with the meeting that will be in progress at the Methodist church. If the school had not been arranged first and cannot be changed due to other engagements, we would not have it. We will throw our support to the meeting and do all in our power to make it a success. There will be no night services at our church due to the meeting. Let's make all of the other services the best possible. All are invited.—J. M. GARNER, Pastor.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.
