Cotton-Plow-Up Delayed When Permits Fail to Arrive

The cotton-plow-up campaign which was scheduled to begin the first of this week has been delayed, due to the fact that the permits issued by the government in Washington, have not arrived—but they are expected any day now.

Permits are being issued at the rate of forty thousand per day in Texas.

Mr. Jenkins who is in charge of the work in Callahan county, representing the government, says, out of the 880 agreements sent in from this county, only one was returned for correction. This one being a case where a farmer gave his yield at one-half bale per acre, whereas his neighbors all gave the yield at one-third bale and the agreement was sent back with the request that it be changed and put on a basis with other farmers in the community, which was done.

All agreements have been accepted by the government and all cotton pledged must be destroyed. Some farmers will graze their stock on the cotton to be plowed, and some plan to cut the cotton stalks and put it up for hay. Mr. Jenkins says this is permissible, but in each case the stubble must be plowed up after the stalks have been cut or grazed off, before payments will be made.

Most farmers will plant the acreage in feed. Seed can be bought for 2 cents per pound and 2 pounds of seed to the acre is recommended by the government and 5 pounds is the maximum; at this rate the cost of seed per acre would not be over 10 cents per acre and the total expense to farmers to plant the acreage in feed will be small.

Mr. Jenkins asks The Star to say that when the permits to plow-up are received by him he will immediately send same to the local committeemen in each community who inspected the crops, from whom the farmers will receive their permit.

Later:

FLOW-UP PERMITS RECEIVED
Ross B. Jenkins, director of the government in the Cotton Plow-Up campaign came in just as The Star was ready to go to press and informed us that he had received a copy of the permit to plow-up the cotton pledged the government and that copies were being mailed out last night to all local committeemen and should be in their hands by noon today.

Mr. Jenkins directs that all farmers go to their local committeemen and read the permit before plowing up his cotton as there are certain clauses therein that the farmer should thoroughly understand before plowing up his cotton.

Are You Interested In Growing Rose Bushes?

Mr. Ross B. Jenkins, of A. & M. College, who is in charge of the government work in the cotton-plow-up campaign has been requested by a number of ladies in Baird to give some instructions on the culture and care of rose bushes. Mr. Jenkins says he will be glad to give these instructions and will meet with the ladies at any place and time they might suggest. Mr. Jenkins says that the coming month, August, is the best time for budding rose bushes for spring planting.

We are very much interested in the culture of flowers ourselves and we suggest that a meeting of all interested in this work to be held in the County Court room at an early date and notice be given to all who are interested as to the date.

Nothing adds more beauty to a home than a well kept yard and flower garden. We have good soil here and abundance of water and with a little work and careful planting, we can have many beautiful yards in Baird.

Cotton Stalk Hay May Add Millions

A hundred million dollars in added wealth for cotton farmers is seen as a potentiality if they can find ways and means of curing the immature cotton stalks they have agreed to destroy under the Government plan.

Cotton stalk hay is the mean to attain the wealth, says J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture in Mississippi, who bases his proposal on analyses made here last week by Dr. W. F. Hand, state chemist, which show cotton stalks at the present stage to be richer in crude protein and fat than alfalfa.

Dr. Hand's analysis was made of cotton grown in the vicinity of State College. His report on the content of the stalks shows:

Water, 10 per cent; ash, 10.57; crude protein, 17.31; fat, 4.0; crude fiber, 15.46; nitrogen free extract, 42.63.

Alfalfa hay, Dr. Hand says, compares as follows:

Water, 8.6 per cent; ash, 8.6; crude protein, 14.9; fat, 2.3; crude fiber, 28.3; nitrogen free extract, 37.3.

Many Callahan county farmers plan to cut the cotton pledged the government for hay, or let their stock graze it off, Mr. Jenkins says the cotton is tender and all the protein is now in the leaf and will make fine hay.

Increase Enrollment In N. T. A. C.

Arlington, Texas, July 26.—With brightened prospects in agriculture and industry, officials at the North Texas Agricultural College here are expecting a large increase in enrollment in the agricultural and mechanical divisions of the college. With twelve-cent cotton and high-priced wheat looming as certainties, letters of inquiry being received here indicate that enrollment in the college from rural communities will be doubled this fall.

That the college may do its share in assisting the new deal, the heads of the departments of agriculture and mechanics are working out plans to enable students interested in learning scientific farming or electrical trades to earn a substantial part of their college expenses while attending school. Details of the plan may be obtained by writing to the college registrar.

Nothing Can Stop the President's Program, Asserts Johnson in Talk To Nation Out- lining Recovery Plan

Washington, July 25.—An estimate that between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 workers would be re-employed before Labor Day was made last night by Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator of national recovery, as he told the nation that 'nothing can stop' President Roosevelt's economic program.

The key man of the administrations program for better times addressed the nation just 24 hours after his chief had appealed for support of the program, and during the interim some 10,000 replies had poured into the White House pledging support.

'Nothing will even hamper the president's program,' Johnson said in his address. 'The power of this people once aroused and united in a fixed purpose is the most irresistible force in the world.'

'Unity and powerful purpose are not frequent in a democracy. They are possible only when two essentials are present—an elemental human aspiration and a leadership toward which it can turn.'

Success Assured

Johnson said the response to President Roosevelt's address presented 'A cross section of employers, great and small, so thorough as of itself to insure success.'

'It is the most inspiring thing that has happened in this country since the war,' he added.

Intermingled with his appeal for continued support, Johnson warned against strife between employers and workers.

'We can't do this job in an atmosphere of sniping and suspicion' he asserted. 'There is no doubt at all that as soon as this law was passed some companies which had never before thought it necessary to consult their own workers about conditions of employment went about the hurried organization of company-dominated unions with something less than seemingly haste and, in a few cases, with questionable statements to the men as to what the recovery act really requires.'

False Starts

'Neither is there the slightest doubt that the workers in many industries were circulated with equally questionable statements that men could not get the benefits of this act without joining some particular union. This jumping the gun was equally bad on both sides. It was unwise, unfair, highly provocative of discord, and directly contrary to the president's purpose in this great effort to put people back to work.'

'There is no doubt that a small amount of real racketeering is also going on—efforts to incite workers from a basis of outright bolshevism—actions that are as vigorously condemned by our own labor leaders in this organization as they are by industrial leaders and by the administration as a unit.'

'It is public conscience and opinion that is being appealed to and the point I want to make to that is that when this whole country is making a united effort to take the cure of the past four years off the backs of the whole working element of this population is a poor time for misrepresentation, accusation, bickering and sniping over motives, intent and proper purpose.'

Warns on Price Hikes

'The administration warned that speculative price increases before purchasing power is built up is the best way to kill the goose that lays the golden egg, and as most business men will agree, that is a pretty sickly looking goose right now.'

He said the program for setting general minimum wages and maximum hours of work for all industries and business means that employers will have to take on more people to do the same amount of work and that the cost of business will be increased.

'Of course the consuming public will eventually pay for this,' he explained. 'All the president asks of you is that you lean over backward not to mark up prices one cent further or faster than you have to to absorb these actual increased costs.'

'Of course there are ways to beat the rules of any game. We know what they are. We are not issuing regulations about that. We are just asking people in this crisis, in very general terms, to rise above these cheap little ingenuities, and to join with to

Baird Well Represented At Cisco Sunday

Sunday was Baird Day at Lake Cisco and judging from the number of tickets issued at The Star office Friday and Saturday there was a good crowd from Baird there. Mr. Hardin the courteous manager of Lake Cisco Amusement Company left sixty tickets at The Star office to be given those who wanted to go to Cisco and all of these tickets were handed out in a very short time and we wrote something more than two hundred passes.

Community Garden Is Clear Of Weeds

A force of men working on the RFC force this week have cleaned off all of the weeds in the Community Garden across the street from The Star office and hoed the June corn and blackeye peas, which are looking fine.

The fire boys have watered the garden twice and the rain some ten days ago gave it a fine start.

Mr. L. J. Brian, our genial baker, is in charge of the work at the garden which is sponsored by the local Lions Club.

People who want to get vegetables from the garden should see Mr. Brian and help in the work.

beat the depression and not to beat the rules of the game.

Bigger Business

'On this price raising business there is another thought. It is a lot easier to secure profits through bigger business than it is through higher price.'

'In spite of the very best the president may be able to plan and his men to carry out his plans, if we don't get purchasing power to the proper level and do it now, if the proper level and do it now there isn't going to be any bigger business. There is going to be less business.'

'Prices are away ahead of purses right now. The only way anybody has yet suggested to get purses ahead of prices is the plan of the president.'

'All that is needs to start a flood of business is to take away the fear of unemployment and get a little money into the hands of the people that need things and this is the way to do it,' the administrator said.

'Of course the plan bears harder on some people than it does on others. So does everything else in life. This is not the time to complain about that.'

'This country understands all this. It approves all this. It is at last aroused. The president's recovery drive is on its way. It is an irresistible march. The unemployed are already going back to work and labor day has been set as the great adjective.'

While business in Baird will not be effected as in larger towns, our business men will, we are sure, endorse President Roosevelt's plan and will cooperate in every way with him in this effort to better condition.

Sheriff Favor 3.2 Drinks, Pro Repeal

Without a dissenting vote the Sheriff's Association of Texas at San Antonio adopted a resolution favoring repeal of the eighteenth amendment and legal sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

The vote was taken by more than 200 delegates to the convention after State Senator Willie Hopkins of Gonzales had delivered an address urging the convention to go on record in favor of repealing the eighteenth amendment and legalizing the sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

The convention went on record as favoring the four-term of office, for straight salaries for sheriffs and for abolition of the fee system.

Several Thousand People Attend Cross Plains Annual Picnic

Cross Plains held their fiftieth annual picnic Wednesday and several thousand people assembled in the city park on the banks of Turkey Creek, where the first picnic was held in the summer of 1883.

Mayor S. P. Collins officially opened the golden jubilee celebration with an address of welcome and a brief resume of the history of Cross Plains during the past fifty years.

A free rodeo was staged near the picnic grounds which was sponsored and paid for by local civic clubs of Cross Plains. There was a carnival, base ball and other amusements.

A number of Baird people attended the picnic.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Next Sunday is the Lord's Day. Where two or three are gathered together in His Name He promises to be in their midst. Let's not disappoint Him. I shall preach here Sunday morning for the last time until September. The subject will be 'The Foolishness of God.' Don't form an opinion concerning the title till you have heard what God says on the subject. So far as I know the Apostle Paul is the first to discuss the subject.

As for the Bible Study at ten o'clock we make the following plea: All elders, deacons, teachers and member of classes, and visitors are urged to be on hand. Of course that leaves out none. Maybe the following suggestions will help: Get up as early Sunday as you do any other day in the week. Prepare just as rapidly for the day's worship as you do for a week day's work. Don't let anything hinder you that would keep you away from your business or your farm work; To be brief, just be as interested in the Lords work as you are your own. Each one who follows these rules will find him self present for the Bible Study and all other meetings of the church at the exact time. No he will not even be one minute late.

Herd of Wild Horses Being Walked Down

About forty head of wild horses are being walked down on the Opp ranch, 8 miles west of Fort McKavitt. A negro boy, relieved by the cowhands on the ranch, keeps incessantly after the wild horses never permitting them to rest. The process continues until the horses are tired out and submit to the halter. They will be moved to other Opp ranches. It is one of the last collections of wild horses in the state.

Charley Frank Lambert Gets Trip To Grand Canyon

Charley Frank Lambert, on of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lambert, who is with the United States Army, stationed at U. S. C. Camp, F. 4, A. in the Apache Indian Reservation near Springville, Arizona, has been seeing the sights in Grand Canyon the past week. The trip being given him with seventeen other boys as the winners in a rock drilling contest in their camp. The boys are building roads in the mountains and Charley Frank is with the rock drilling force, drilling holes to use dynamite for blasting away rock for the road bed.

Charlie Frank says he likes the mountain country fine. He says he has seen lots of beautiful country, tall pine trees and snow capped mountains, also wild turkey, deer and other wild game and many beautiful wild flowers.

Their camp is comfortable arranged having hot and cold shower baths. The meals are well cooked and in abundance. Charlie Frank says his only objection was that they did not have as much sweet stuff as he had been used to and that the boys have to do their own laundry work.

He says the work in the forest is interesting, their boss or guide in this work is an Indian. The boys are often called out to fight forest fires. The nights are quite cold the boys finding several wool blankets comfortable, he said.

Charlie Frank says they have been told they will leave Arizona sometime about the first of September probably be sent back to some Texas camp for the remainder of the time.

Roland Hall, Morris Enstam, and Bruce Thompson, all of Baird, are also in this camp, with several other boys from Callahan county.

The Danger Of Governmental Relief

The new farm bill is swinging slowly into action. The government will undertake to balance production and demand, to improve the farmer's financial condition, to ease the burden of mortgages, and to rise the prices of his produce.

While this may be temporarily beneficial it will be temporarily harmful, if the farmer as an individual, comes to depend on government to solve his problems and smooth his path. That is always the trouble with governmental aid measures, no matter how carefully they are drawn—they are apt to create a feeling of dependence in the beneficiary that leaves him helpless when aid has been taken away.

The wise farmer will recognize the bill for what it is—an effort to carry him through a critical period, and give him a hand in straightening out his troubles, so that he may stand on his own feet thereafter. Lasting farm progress comes from the farmer's own effort. It must be the reflection of his own will, his own aggressiveness, his own courage, if it is to be permanent.

During the next few years there is one agency that will be of vital importance—the farm cooperative. It is the agency through which the individual farmers, in company with his neighbors, may fight his own battles and win his own victories. Long after governmental relief is no longer necessary, the cooperative will remain. No matter how often we may change our ideas of what attitude government should take toward the farmer, the cooperative idea is fixed and will not be dislodged. And this is the time for farmers to work their hardest in advancing the interest of their cooperatives.

Two Birthdays

Two men of widely different types each of whom has been prominent in the world's news for a long time, will reach important milestones in their life journey this month. Benito Mussolini will be 50 years old on July 29, and Henry Ford will be 70 on July 30. Both rose from humble beginnings.

In early life Mussolini worked as a common laborer, but managed to obtain a fair education. He fought as a corporal in the World War until he was wounded in February, 1917. In 1919 he founded the Fascist to suppress Bolshevism, and by 1922 it had 4,000,000 members. It demanded that Mussolini head the government and he was made premier by the king on October 30, 1922, since which time he has been Italy's dictator. His rule has been stern, but on the whole beneficial to the country.

Henry Ford had only a common education and began as a machinist's helper, later becoming chief engineer of one of Edison's companies. He was a pioneer in the automobile field and employed more than 100,000 persons at the height of production before the depression, at which time he was reputed to be worth a billion dollars or more.

There is a world of inspiration in a study of these two men, who by their own efforts have risen from obscurity to commanding places in their respective spheres of action.

Texas Industrial Activities

Eighty men were put back to work with the resumption of operation of all still at the Cosdon refining plant at Big Spring.

Justin McCarty, Inc., Dallas dress manufacturers, announces plans for enlarging its capacity and increasing its workers to 250.

Clary Neal Gin Company, Rogers, Texas, has received its charter. Capital stock $10,000. Incorporators: J. E. Clary, W. H. Neal and Ellen Neal.

Texas has twenty-four industries with annual production in excess of $10,000.00 and sixty-two with annual production of $1,000,000 each.

New breweries are projected at Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston and Galveston in anticipation of the legalizing of 3.2 beer in Texas after the election of Aug. 26.

Texas portland cement plants increased their production for May, 1933 by 60 per cent over that of May, 1932 according to reports to the University Bureau of Business Research.

Total income for Texas for 1933 is now estimated at $2,000,000,000 by Stuart McGregor, industrial editor of the Dallas News, with $1,400,000,000 of it to come during the remaining six months of the year.

Of the 100,072,476 pounds of carbon black exported from the United States last year, Texas accounted for 80,000,000 pounds as well as 80 per cent of the domestic production of that important commodity. The bulk of Texas production came from the Panhandle gas field.

One hundred and fifty-one new Texas corporations were chartered during May, an increase of 23 percent over the total of April, according to the University Bureau of Business Research. Twenty-two of the new corporations were for manufacturing purposes.

The new Dodge-Lackey Geography ranks the Magic Valley of Texas with California and Florida in the production of citrus fruits, commenting also on Texas peaches, which have, it says gained an international reputation. It also mentions the fact that Texas produces about half the peacans grown in the United States.

Economical Highlights

A short time ago the rules and regulations of procedure under the new Federal Securities Act (designed to protect American investors against worthless stock issues, dishonest and misleading investment claim) were made public. Restrictions are strict, definite, decisive. Underwriters must file with the Federal Trade Commission full particulars before they can sell new securities. Statements will be studied by Commission accountants; thereafter the Commission may either permit the sale or cause the securities to be withdrawn. Registration statement will be open to public inspection and copies will be furnished at moderate costs to interested parties.

Any sales prospectus issued by the security sellers must likewise be filed. It will be studied with a view to determining whether it omits any information necessary to decide the value of the offering, whether it is misleading, not sufficiently clear, etc. In case radio broadcasts are to be used in promotion these, too, must be given Commission approval. A large amount of technical information will be required by the Commission when registration is made. It includes: Names and addresses of all persons owning more than ten per cent of any class stock of the security issue; remuneration exceeding $25,000 paid by the stock-issuer during past year and to director officer; the estimated net proceeds to be derived from the security. Commission costs will be borne by a registration fee of one-hundredth of one per cent of the maximum aggregate price at which the securities are proposed to be offered.

Thus, the new bill is more sweeping in its requirements than any similar measure we have ever known. The strictest state 'blue sky' law pales by comparison. What effect so drastic a law will have on legitimate promotions where there is room for honest difference of opinion in making statements and reports, remains to be seen.

As the always vivid Frank Kent said in the Baltimore Sun, the extraordinary thing of the moment is that recovery has come before the recovery program has gotten started. None of the three billion public works dollars have been spent. The first agreement under the Industrial Control Act has just been signed, and has not yet had time to produce results. The vast farm plan is still in the prospective stage. Yet business is looking up—all kinds of business, in all parts of the country. The psychological effect of bills designed to aid recovery unquestionably mere a factor in getting wheels in motion.

Domestic prices recently reached the highest level in close to two years. Current upward movement has been sustained in more than a decade. In 66 business days the Dow Jones average of 40 corporations bonds rose 14.33 to 87.86. Particular business items of interest follow.

POSTAL RECEIPTS—Reports from 50 cities show improvements of 13.65 per cent in June as compared with previous June.

BANK DEPOSITS—Substantial gains made in second quarter.

POWER PRODUCTION—Is making steady and sharp advances.

CAR LOADINGS—About 25 per cent better than last year at this time.

RAILROAD EARNINGS—Expenses are down and gross revenue up, presaging greatly improved net income showings.

STEEL—At highest point since April 1931, exceeding 50 per cent of capacity.

WHOLESALE PRICES—Steady advances registered week by week. Recent gains included farm products, fuel, lighting, metals, building materials, household goods, etc.

STOCK OF GOODS—Stock of finished good in hands of distributors are still low, and active demand will be reflected in restocking.

EMPLOYMENT-PAYROLL—Showed moderate increases recently. More aggressive advances expected in near future.

They're beginning to talk already about the next Congress, which convenes January 3rd for its first regular session.

Tax changes, reciprocal tariffs, bankruptcy revision, veterans benefits war debts—here are a few of the principal economic-social subjects that will be thrashed out. It is an open secret that Mr. Roosevelt is not through with his program—he got much out of the last Congress, and he will ask much from the next. He will doubtless have introduced a sweeping revolutionary banking bill, which will eliminate state and private banks. Another prospective proposal of vast importance is a transportation act to bring railroads, highway carriers, barge-lines and air vehicles under centralized regulation. Again, it is believed that the securities bill, drastic as it is, will be made still more rigid and fool-proof.

IN ANSWER TO A LADY'S LETTER

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas—bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours—the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy.

As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has cut down their repair business 50 per cent.

As to price with quality,—judge for yourself.

As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of shop in Oklahoma:

On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day—the Ford V-8 gave 18.8 miles per gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

That should answer a lot of questions.

Chevrolet Leads All Other Cars In June Sales

With dealers reporting the best June retail sales—78,564 units—since 1929, the Chevrolet Motor Company in the first six months of this year accounted for more than 67 per cent of its domestic puoto of 450,000 cars for 1933, H. J. Kilgler, vice-president and general sales manager announced today.

Retail deliveries reported by dealers for the first half totaled 304,962 new cars and trucks compared with 253,225 in the comparable period last year, Mr. Kilgler stated.

Reported June sales were 80 per cent ahead of last June and 20 percent ahead of May this year even exceeding the 78,117 units sold in June, 1931, and the 73,700 sold in June of 1930.

Despite a slow start in the first quarter due to bank moratoria and generally unsettled conditions the Chevrolet executive said that in the second quarter retail sales have shown a constantly growing gain over last year, the greatest margin of increase occurring in June with its 80 percent jump over June of last year.

While registrations for the first six months are not yet available, Mr. Kilgler announced that for the year through May, his company had titled in the passenger car field, 175,000 units as compared with 167,000 for the next two leading makes combined, indicating a third successive year of leadership. In four of the past six years and again so far in 1933, Chevrolet leads in sales.

This year, is the first since 1923 when the country was pulling out of the effects of the post-war depression that Chevrolet sales in June have gone ahead of May or April, normally the peak months of the Chevrolet year, Mr. Kilgler stated. He added that the June mark was reached with no change in the condition of new car stocks in the field, and only slight increase in used car stocks.

OBITUARY

It has again pleased our Heavenly Father to enter our midst and take from us our beloved neighbor and sister in Christ, Mrs. Joe Jones.

Esther Adella Eubanks was born July 25, 1897 in Alabama. She came to Texas, with her parents Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Eubanks when a small child.

She had lived in our community most of her life; to know Della was to love her, we will miss her smiling face and cheerful words as we meet from time to time. We wonder why she was taken from us just in the prime of life but some day we will understand.

Della was married to Joe Jones

July 22, 1917 to this union were born three little girls. She was converted in 1917; Joe was also converted at that time. He was in the army and Della wanted they join the church together, so they were both baptised into the Admiral church Aug. 23, 1925 and Della was a faithful member until her death May 8, 1933.

We tender our sympathy to the bereaved husband, three little girls, mother, father, and sisters and friends. May they ever be comforted by Him who death all things well. Were it not for the hope beyond the grave life would be bitter to most of us and our grief almost harder than we could bear. Weep not for Della, but follow her example in life and be prepared to meet her in the beautiful beyond.

Committee,
Miss Sallie Sanders
Mrs. Addie Phillips
Mrs. Dulce Higgins.

STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

— neither strong enough, nor safe enough, nor quiet enough for the body of a quality car like CHEVROLET

STEEL BODY plus

HARDWOOD REINFORCEMENT equals

STRONG, SAFE BODY BY FISHER

There is only one type of body construction which Chevrolet will permit on the chassis of the cars it builds: That's the type which every test—and every experiment—and every experience has proved to be the safest, strongest, and best. Not steel alone, because steel alone is not enough. But a Fisher body of steel reinforced by hardwood! The very same kind of construction used on practically all the highest-priced cars in America.

If you're thinking of buying a new low-priced car, better watch this matter of bodies, and watch it carefully. Insist on steel reinforced by hardwood! Fortunately, the only low-priced car with this preferred type of body is also the only car with a proven live-in-head six; with Fisher Ventilation; Cushion-Balanced Power; a Starterator. That car is Chevrolet—America's most economical automobile.
