Mrs. E. M. Coker arrived from San Antonio today, where she had been called to the bedside of her mother who had been very ill, but who is now much improved.

You seldom see a Marfa woman wearing a veil any more. When they don't want to be recognized now they wear short skirts or bob their hair.

Buck Casner will move his family into their new home next Monday. He recently bought the Albert Karstedeik home in West Marfa and had the property remodeled and put in first-class shape.

Thanksgiving day is coming, so you'd better start right now trying to think of something to be thankful for. Here's hoping things will turn brighter for us all by the time this day approaches.

PUBLICITY INFORMATION RE-TRANSCONTINENTAL AIRSHIP FLIGHT

The United States Army Airship C-2 now being conditioned at Langley field, Hampton, Va., will start on or about September 1st, on the first Transcontinental Airship flight attempted in this country.

The route of flight of the Transcontinental Airship C-2, including the points at which stops will be made after leaving its home hangar at Langley Field, Hampton, Va. are: Akron, Ohio; Dayton, Ohio; St. Louis, Mo.; Lawton, Oklahoma; San Antonio, Texas; Marfa, Texas; El Paso, Texas; Yuma, Ariz.; Los Angeles, Calif. and return over the same route, a one way distance of about thirty-five hundred miles.

The flight will be commanded by Major H. A. Strauss, A. S. and his crew are:

Captain George W. McEntire, A. S.; Lieut. O. A. Anderson, A. S.; Lieut. Don L. Hutchins, A. S.; Mr. Sergeant William A. Fitch, A. S.

Staff Sgt. August G. Albrecht, A. S., all of whom have had wide experience in handling and flying airships of all types.

The Airship C-2 is one-hundred and ninety two (192) feet long, carrying a crew of six men and is powered with two Wright motors of 150 H. P. each, which enables this Airship to travel sixty miles per hour. Possibly the reader recalls that a few weeks ago this airship made an all night cruise from Washington, D. C. to New York City and return, proving the practicality of airships to fly at night and remain in the air for long hours.

Lieut. James C. Chick, A. S., advance officer of the Transcontinental Airship flights, arrived in Marfa on August 31st and made arrangements for the landing and care of the C-2 upon its arrival at this station, leaving the following day for El Paso.

It is the opinion of officers of the Air Service that the route as outlined will no doubt in the very near future be used extensively by transcontinental commercial airships of the rigid and semi-rigid type, and will in all probability necessitate the location at or near the city of St. Louis, a large station for the mid-continent landing point of those Giant Commercial Airships, plying between cities from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific coast and return.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO ENTERTAIN

will entertain the teachers of Marfa. The Parent-Teachers Association in and the visiting teachers with a tea at the Community House Wednesday evening, September 7th. All members of the Association, patrons of the school and friends are cordially invited and urged to come.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Jim H. Evans, proprietor of the Cash Grocery, was stricken with a heart attack in the early part of the week and is confined to his bed in a serious condition.

For the first two days after the attack his family and friends were very uneasy for he was in a bad shape, but at this writing he has improved considerably and will no doubt get well.

DESTRUCTIVE CATS

Marfa seems to be overrun by a multitude of house cats that have brought havoc among many homes in our city the past few weeks.

Hardly a day passes without the report of some damage done by these pesky cats.

Just recently a tramp cat, and a black cat at that, entered the home of ye editor and devoured three canary birds and singers, in less time than it takes to tell the story. The cat was an absolute stranger on the premises, having never been seen before nor after the raid on the bird cage in our home.

A few days later while Mrs. John Griffith attended the Baptist campmeeting, a stray cat devoured one of her pet canaries, only leaving a few feathers to tell the tale.

A few weeks ago Ham Rogers was the proud owner of 65 little chicks that he nursed and cared for like the old mother hen herself. He began to miss two or three a day, so he laid in wait to find out what it was that carried away his chicks, and the very first watch he saw a cat leaving his chicken house with two chickens in his mouth, so he executed the thief with a load of shot. The next night he killed another cat, but the chicks continued to disappear just as before, so he continued his watch from day to day until he had killed seven cats, but he had only six chickens left out of the sixty-five, which he finally sold to a neighbor.

Among the other Marfa folks who have suffered by these cats were Mrs. Lizzie Grosson, where they played havoc with about fifty chicks.

Hans Briam reports the loss of from one to three a day. George Harper had the same trouble until he killed a number of cats. K. C. Miller also experienced the same trouble; and many others.

Never has this condition existed before in Marfa as long as we have lived here, and this has been quite a few years, but we attribute the trouble to the Government wood where hundreds of cords of wood are stored and where these cats thrive without interference.

After the kittens get large enough they venture into town and play havoc with the young chickens and birds wherever they come in contact with them.

The cats in every instance were as could be and always made a fast getaway unless shot down with a rifle or shot gun.

At least two dozen cats have been shot the past few weeks and still reports are current of more damage being wrought by them daily.

It behooves every owner of canary birds and small chicks to be on their guard and when they can, to use their pump shot gun and help rid the city of these murderous varmints.

ODD FELLOWS SHOW APPRECIATION

The I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 64, of Marfa, Texas, presented Dr. A. G. Church with a very fine gold Elgin watch at last Tuesday's meeting, in appreciation for the services he rendered the organization.

The watch is decorated on the outside with the emblem of the order, while on the inside the watch is artistically engraved with the Doctor's name, also the name of the local lodge presenting the gift, also the date, etc.

Dr. Church has been untiring in his efforts to build up the I. O. O. F. Lodge and the brother members all regret to see him leave Marfa however they realize that even though he moves to Alpine with his good family, he will be a visitor to the local Lodge that he worked so hard to build up.

The Marfa Odd Fellow Lodge now has sixty members, composed of the very best citizenship of Marfa, and there is never a regular meeting of the order that is not attended by a full house.

The citizens of Marfa are delighted with the return of the lights on the court house. Credit for this is due our sheriff, Jeff Vaughan, who is the custodian of the court house and who is taking mighty good care of the property.

ROBBED ON TRAIN

The many friends of Lucius Hurley will be glad to learn that he regained consciousness after being in a dazed condition for several days, caused by being sand-bagged while en route from San Angelo to Del Rio, Texas.

His father was called to Del Rio to his bed-side last week and found him in a serious condition, but could not account for his trouble. After regaining consciousness on Monday he told his story of how someone threw a coat or something over his head just after leaving Ft. Stockton en route to Alpine.

At the same time he was hit, and remembered nothing until he came to himself.

He had about $50.00 in his pocket, which had been taken by the attackers.

What puzzles Lucius is how he managed to make connection at Alpine for Del Rio, and how he was able to find his way to his store in the condition he was in.

He has absolutely no memory of the assault or of his travels after the coat was thrown over his head on the train while he was dozing, just after they had left Ft. Stockton.

He is again able to be up and about, with no visible signs or effects from his experience.

HISTORY CLUB

The Marfa History Club met with Miss Jacobs Tuesday afternoon. The last lesson of this year's course was led by Mrs. R. S. McCracken.

Many interesting papers and selections were read.

At the close of the program, tempting and delicious refreshments were served, consisting of chicken salad, wafers and iced tea followed by a cantaloupe sundae. Everyone present enjoyed the delightful hospitality of Miss Jacobs and her charming mother.

The non-member guests for the afternoon were: Mrs. Roote, Mrs. Barelay, Mrs. McLaughy, Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Fitzgerald; Misses Beite, Erickson, Simms and Avant.

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. J. A. Simpson entertained the Marfa Bridge club last Thursday afternoon at her home.

Quite a few of the members were present and all enjoyed the afternoon very much.

Four tables were arranged for the players. After the games delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

GIRL SCOUTS MAKE HIKE

On Thursday afternoon the Girl Scouts hiked out to the Matthews ranch home, accompanied by their captain, Mrs. Bessie Mabry, and camped out for the night.

They had a fine time cooking their meals—camp fashion—enjoyed a swim and had an all-around jolly time, that they will long remember.

School to Open Monday

On Monday morning, September 11th the Marfa Public Schools will open for the Fall and Winter term.

The school buildings are all being put in shape so that there will be no hitch in the program as outlined by the Superintendent, J. E. Conner.

All the children of the second grade are requested to be at their class room on Monday, September 11th, a week ahead of the regular opening date, for special instructions.

It is important that the parents of children who are to go into the second grade will see to it that they be at the school house promptly on the morning of September 4.

Prof. Conner feels very enthusiastic over the prospects of the coming school term and says he will be assisted by the very best teachers that could possibly be assembled to conduct the work.

Most of the faculty that taught last term will again be employed, however there will be a few new teachers to take the place of those who have resigned. The names of these we have failed to learn, but we do know that Prof. Jesse Blackwell will have charge of the Mexican school. Prof. Blackwell comes highly recommended as a very capable instructor and will no doubt make us a good principal for this school.

JOINT TEACHERS INSTITUTE

On Monday morning, September 4th, at 9 o'clock, the Joint Teachers' Institute, covering Brewster, Jeff Davis, Terrell and Presidio Counties, will convene at the Marfa High School Auditorium and remain in session all week.

A very interesting program has been prepared by ex-officio County Superintendent K. C. Miller, Secretary Jesse Blackwell and Prof. J. E. Conner, covering each day's work, both morning and evening.

Several prominent instructors engaged and the very best attention charged and the very best attention will be given the children while attending this school.

As we go to press we hear that Cousin Bill Eastoring of Ozona, Texas, has bought an interest in the Alpine Avalanche printing office, and will take charge next Monday morning.

HENRY W. SCHUTZE - Editor

If long skirts should come back into style there'll be more darned stockings worn than there have been for two years.

This Government of ours is going to be more successful when it quits making new laws and starts enforcing a few of the Ten Commandments.

We also recall that there wasn't so much meanness in the world when all we used gasoline for was to clean clothes. It's the joy ride that has caused many a young heart to ache.

It is also well to remember that you don't have to go in swimming to have a shark pull your leg. In Marfa it was a widow that pulled the leg of quite a few business houses this week. Cheer up, let's live and learn.

Sometimes about all the early bird gets is hungry. Its sure the truth in Marfa, for the earlier a working man gets up the longer he has to suffer, no matter how much he works he can't make enough to make ends meet.

Can you remember the time when the women in crossing the streets of Marfa brazenly lifted their skirts half way to their shoe-tops? Well, from all indications, these times will soon be with us again, for fashion says that this Fall the style will be ankle length.

If you live right you won't have to worry about what the newspapers say about you nor whether there is a Klu Klux Klan organization in your home town. It's the person who has a guilty conscience that worries about the trifle matters.

We used to say of some of the Marfa girls that "they put everything on their backs," but we can't say it now, the way that some of them dress.

Two things touch the average Marfa man's heart—the photograph of an old sweetheart and a dime found in an old pair of pants that you wore during the days when money was plentiful.

Our advice to the men of Marfa is to never argue religion. If you get the best of it the other fellow tells everyone you are going straight to hell because of your belief. Live a Christian life and do some good for someone whenever you can and let them talk who will.

preside at this Institute. Among them will be Pres. R. L. Marquis of the Sul Ross Normal, Alpine, W. A. Steigler, S. M. Melton, J. E. McCalmont and others.

There will be many visiting teachers present during the week, and everything is being done for their convenience while in our city.

New Fall Samples. J. L. Taylor & Co., Tailors of the better class. Wm. Harper, Agent.

J. R. Nash has leased the Sample home in the northeast part of town and moved his family there Thursday.

W. H. Cardwell has returned to Gonzales, Texas, where he expects to remain until October to look after his farming interests there.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Aiken and little son are expected to arrive in Marfa from Arlington, Texas, today, to visit a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Aiken.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Morrison have moved to Sanderson, Texas, where they will reside in the future. Mr. Morrison has accepted a position as engineer at the power plant at that place.

SIMMONS COLLEGE

Simmons College suffered a serious loss in May when Cowden Hall, its only hall for men, was destroyed by fire. The college faces the problem this Fall of taking care of the men attending the institution, in private homes. The citizens of Abilene responded generously and nobly, however, and every young man entering Simmons College will have the privilege of staying in good private homes.

Plans are being drawn for the erection of a modern hall for men to cost $150,000. Work on the proposed building will begin about the middle of January, 1923.

Simmons College has two halls for women—Mary Frances Hall and Smith Hall. Both of them are practically full already. Those who expect to have accommodations in either of them would do well to seek reservations early.

The plant of Simmons College has had a most valuable addition made to it for the coming year. The Fine Arts Building, construction of which was begun about twenty months ago, will be completed and opened for use. It will be devoted to Fine Arts, Pianoforte, Voice, Expression, Public Speaking and Painting. The building is one of the most beautiful in design, finish and appointment in connection with any college in the Southwest.

Indications now point to a large registration in Simmons College this Fall. The plant and equipment will not accommodate more than 700 at one time. To the end that those who expect to enter Simmons may not be disappointed, the College authorities have put on a campaign among former and prospective students, urging that everyone who expects to enter for the Fall term register by mail in advance.

FORM PARTNERSHIP

Mrs. L. L. Lockley, who has conducted a millinery and ready-to-wear business in Marfa for several years, has taken in as a partner Mrs. Dorothy Mitchell who is now in charge of the business while Mrs. Lockley has gone to market to purchase her Fall stock.

The new firm expects to make extensive improvements and will carry a full and complete line of merchandise for the ladies.

S. D. Miller and C. E. Kent have formed a partnership and opened up a tin shop, which will be managed by Mr. Miller. They will be in a position to do all kinds of plumbing and repair work. The firm name will be S. D. Miller & Co., and their shop is located just in back of The Livingston Undertaking Parlors.

ported by that group of able administrators such as has seldom, if ever before, been assembled in a single administration.

We commend the policy and achievements of the present national administration in reducing national expenditures and establishing a real budget system, calling a great and successful international conference which made great and practical strides toward international disarmament and peace without the surrender of the liberties or the national identity of the United States and increasing the efficiency in administration of government, providing for disabled veterans and the dependents of those who sacrificed their all for the country; and enacting an emergency tariff law which has made the farmers and the stockmen of Texas millions of dollars by increasing the market price of their products.

RESOLVED FURTHER:—

That we because of the superior ability and the party loyalty of Judge C. O. Harris of San Angelo, Texas, we the 16th Congressional

Work for our home town.
Beautify it. Improve it. Make it attractive.

The best advertisement of your business, is the town you live in.
Towns get reputations as well as men. Make your town talked about all over the nation. It will thus draw people. And where people come there is prosperity.

Rid your town of one eyesore after another. Clean up the vacant lots and plant them in gardens.
Make a cluttered yard a disgrace.
Make public opinion hot for those who will not help.

The city whose main street is dirty, sordid looking, cluttered, uninviting, suffers much. Such a city wants to be cleaned, recreated, made a thing of beauty, so that people will come for miles to see it.

The World War, the Treaty of Peace and the Protective Tariff and all such things are important subjects; but what's the good of cleaning up the world unless you sweep your own doorstep.—Ex-day for her home in El Paso after

HIKING DOWN THE LONG BROWN PATH

Vacationists With Shelter Tents and Tin Cow Learning to Walk All Over Again.

Oh! It's not the pack that you carry on your back
Nor the rife on your shoulder,
Nor the five inch crust of khaki-colored dust
That makes you feel your limbs are growing older;
And it's not the hike on the hard turnpike
That drives away your smile, Nor the socks of sisters that raise the blooming blisters—
It's the last long mile—
—Plattsburgh Marching Song.

Stringing out from the suburban transit terminals of New York every Sunday and holiday goes the army of khaki-clad hikers. There may be an automobile for every twenty of the country's population, but a host of city folks disprove the theory of a future leg-enfeebled citizenry and are learning to walk all over again.

To the more casual minded, the hike is just exercise, but to those who catch its real significance the hike means a great deal more. It is the cheapest form of recreation and therefore appeals to those living in crowded districts and unable to avail themselves of the more expensive amusements. And these people, be it noted, are just those the country is so anxious to have spread out and settled in the farming sections. The hike, indeed, has possibilities as a real starter for the "back to the farm" movement.

Doughboy and Boy Scout Lead Way

Just a brief survey of the rollicking groups which move off from the outlying terminals on holidays establishes a few general types. There is the ex-service man and his friends who will hear from him the story of more serious excursions on the muddy roads of France. He tightens a strap here and another there on the blanket roll adjustment or the "shelter half," in which the commissary is packed for the mid-day feast by the roadside. Expert directions come from him on the method of slinging the pack so it will not feel so heavy or interfere with the free body movement. He will pass along the information gained in his army days, of how that same pack was evolved after numerous experiments to find the easiest way of carrying the heaviest load. With results he now compliments, but which he characterized when a doughboy as a "blankety-blank total failure."

Then there are the boy scout parties, adept at everything pertaining to "shanks mare" traveling and wood-craft. The ex-service man and the boy scout are pioneers in the hiking game. Listen to one of them right off the train and making ready for a twelve mile jaunt: "Get that canteen over the side, Jimmie, and it won't keep bouncing off your leg every step. Is it filled? Well, then, we drink. How about the eats? Let's check 'em off. You got the spuds, Bill; the bacon Jimmie. Who has the coffee and the Borden tin cow?"

"Right here," announces a freckled comrade of the road, patting his knapsack. "Snatched the mocha and the can of milk when Sis wasn't looking."
"Well, then, let's go," snaps the commander of the expedition.

This party is traveling light for real distance. Another must expect to make a shorter hitch or else be counting greatly on its power of endurance. Perhaps the camp is not far off because the group is equipped for an over-night stay with heavy blanket rolls, hatchets, lanterns, canvas wa-terpails, rubber ponchos, kettles, pots, new fangled firestand, etc., etc. The blankets are laid out for a better packing of the bags and cans of food.
When the party commences to load up the members bristle all over with camp tools and equipment.

Back to the Farm

The veteran from the crowded city tenements has found a new territory to roam and one almost unknown to his associates. He is introducing them to this newly discovered land and teaching them how to be independent of any transportation but their own good legs and of any subsistence but what they can carry and prepare.
"Walk and cook your own," is his motto.

Who will say the heaven thus fermenting in the city crowds will not bear fruit in a keener appreciation of country delights, especially as these are added to by increased comforts on the farm. With his radio hitched up, the farmer listens in on the best entertainment the country has to offer. Modern home devices wipe out many hardships formerly imposed upon isolated dwellers. There is, in short, a rapid cutting down of the differential between farm and city life.

In the meantime, knowledge must precede a true appreciation of what the country holds, and this is what the hike supplies. There is more appeal in one apple tree in blossom than in reams of printed matter put out to induce the citizen of the city to change his abode to the country. The hikers constitute a growing army, equipped with bacon, spuds, coffee and tin cow for merely a day's outing but nevertheless seeing sights that make them yearn to be among them all the time. It is not too much to assume that the army may one day recruit the open places.
